CHENGDU, China, Sept. 26. (AP)—A US army search plane plunged deeper into China's wild and mountainous far west today seeking long-lost American airmen feared captured by the fierce slaveholding Lolas.

On the second day of their mission into the land of cloud-capped mountains, half-savage Mongolian-feared warriors, and pandas, the soldiers were believed to be from five to 11 days' march from their goal.

That goal is the valley of the Chinkiang, which carves its course from headwaters in the world's highest mountains in Tibet.

Missionaries have reported at least eight enslaved whites were seen grinding corn or tending flocks in that region, where few white men save the missionaries have ever ventured.

Lt. Col. Herbert W. Wurtzler and his detachment expected to set up headquarters at a remote Catholic mission and try to learn there if the white captives are US airmen downed two and more years ago on the perilous flight over the hump from India to China.

There will try to locate the captives through friendly Lolo chieftains.

Dr. David Crockett Graham of West China University, who entered the Lolo country 20 years ago, said here that the Lolas probably would demand blankets and salt for ransom because their economy was based on the practice of slavery.

So primitive are communications that no developments were expected to be reported here inside of two weeks.

Reports reaching here said that an intertidal war was in progress somewhere ahead of Wurtzler's party, and this might further delay negotiations for the release of any airmen found.

Schwellenbach To Head Off Shipping Strike

By The Associated Press

Pacific coal ship operators have declined an invitation from Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach to attend a Maritime labor peace conference tomorrow in Washington designed to head off a nation-wide strike by ship engineers.

The new strike threat to the nation's still-groggy waterfront comes this time from the CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, whose 15,000 members man the engine room of virtually all the ships in the American Merchant Marine.

Their leaders now are counting a nationwide strike authorization vote, with first returns showing heavy sentiment in favor of a walkout next Monday unless ship operators grant the men 37 percent wage boost.

Union leaders already have agreed to meet with representatives of the shipping companies on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts in Schwellenbach's office.

But the Pacific-American Shipowners Association last night announced they would proceed to iron out maritime difficulties with meetings on the west coast.

The association's announcement came before it signed an agreement with the AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific placing government-approved wage increases into effect.

New York port members of the Marine Engineers voted 1,084 to 123 yesterday to strike after expiration of contracts with ship operators Sept. 30.

Two Persons Injured Struck By Auto

Mrs. Enid Smith, 303 Johnson, and R. T. Smith, who resides at a local hotel, both received painful injuries when they were struck by an automobile at Third and Nolan streets Wednesday night, the police department reported today.

Medical examination disclosed that Mrs. Smith suffered a broken right arm, broken right leg and cuts and bruises about the head, officers said. R. T. Smith received a broken right leg and other cuts and bruises. They were carried to the Big Spring Hospital for treatment.

According to the police report, both were hit by an automobile driven by Ned R. Hale shortly before 11 p.m.

No arrests were made.

Byrnes Summons Full Session Of Conference

Big Four Attempt To Speed Up Treaty Drafting

PARIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes rapped a gavel made of Utah copper tonight and summoned the peace conference into full dress session in an effort to "facilitate the work" of drafting five peace treaties.

The secretariat general called the session on a notice of less than five hours, apparently because of a deadlock over the proposed agenda for approving the treaty draft with Finland, first of the five European peace treaty drafts to be completed after two months of conference.

The original agenda of the 21-nation secretariat called for a plenary session tomorrow to discuss approval of the Finnish treaty text, but the American, Russian, British and French members were reported to have pressed for an earlier meeting.

The foreign ministers council program to speed the conference has been drafted for presentation by the foreign ministers' deputies, an informed source said. The major point in this program would be a time limit on speeches in commissions to enable the conference to meet an Oct. 15 deadline for completing its deliberations.

In the military commission, meanwhile, the delegates decided to order Bulgaria to disband her armed forces with the exception of a "land army" including frontier troops in a total strength of 55,000 men.

Terry said bodies of two dead had been removed from the wrecked cars, and two more bodies could be seen in the wreckage.

Terry said the cause of the wreck had not been determined, but that it might have been a split rail. He said there are no switches in the vicinity of the wreck.

Ambulances were dispatched from San Bernardino and Barstow, to the west and east, respectively, to remove the injured to hospitals in San Bernardino, about 30 miles away.

Merchants Plan Christmas Sales

By The Associated Press

Heavy rains fell in the southern part of the state from the gulf coast to San Antonio last night. The heaviest fall was at San Antonio, where 3.39 inches, most of it in an hour's time, flooded streets in the northern part of town and caused a small creek in the eastern section to overflow. Yoakum had 2.42 inches of rain, Junction 1.54, Victoria 1.40, Naugatuck 1.24 and Kerrville .45, according to reports to the United States weather bureau.

Elsewhere over the state skies were cloudy and temperatures slightly warmer. High readings were mostly in the 80's yesterday afternoon, and even in the Panhandle lows were around 60 this morning. Muleshoe reported the lowest in the state, with 51 degrees. Amarillo read 60 and Pampa 62.

Skies promise to continue cloudy to partly cloudy, with scattered rains today. Fog was reported over an area from San Antonio to Austin this morning.

Dreamboat's Flight Tentatively Reset

HONOLULU, Sept. 26 (AP)—Col. C. S. Irvine, commander of the army's distance record seeking B-29 "Pacusan Dreamboat," today tentatively set 5:30 a.m. tomorrow, Honolulu time 10 a.m. (CST) for the start of his top-of-the-world hop to Cairo, Egypt.

Irvine said after checking the early weather report that the 10,000-mile flight across the Arctic regions would begin then, weather permitting.

The weather report indicated poor flying conditions over Iceland, and he wished to give it 24 hours to get out of my way."

Meteorologists said they expected the weather to clear up within the next 24 hours to give the Dreamboat clear sailing on its long hop.

Relief Job Huge

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26. (AP)—President Truman told congress today the job of providing relief to war-ravaged lands will not end this year—an apparent indication that additional appropriations may be asked for the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration.

One union leader already has agreed to meet with representatives of the shipping companies on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts in Schwellenbach's office.

But the Pacific-American Shipowners Association last night announced they would proceed to iron out maritime difficulties with meetings on the west coast.

The association's announcement came before it signed an agreement with the AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific placing government-approved wage increases into effect.

Phone Workers Plan To Scrap Federation System

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Plans are being perfected today to scrap the National Federation of Telephone Workers (NFTW) and replace it with a tight national union of unprecedented scope within the nation's communications industry.

Final action on the proposal will be taken at a special NFTW convention in Denver November 4 to 16. The new organization probably will be known as the Communications Workers of America.

The NFTW, a federation of 47 independent unions which claim a combined membership of 230,000 workers in various branches of the telephone industry, authorized the change-over in principle last June. That convention also decided against joining either the AFL or the CIO.

NFTW President Joseph A. Beirne said the Denver convention will be limited to two main topics:

1. The constitution for the new union.

2. The scope of "national level" bargaining with employers—principally the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

For example, Beirne said, the 250 delegates to the special convention must decide which of 23 issues they want bargained on on a national scale. These include such things as wages, the union shop, pensions, vacations, premium pay for Saturday and Sunday work, night differentials and compensation for time spent in handling grievances.

He said there was definite need for expanded health services and for raising teachers' pay, but he did not think the 50th would necessarily be a "spending" legislature.

There will be 83 new members of the house, 78 with no previous legislative experience. He estimated more than half the total membership of the house are war veterans.

The strike weapon would be wielded only by the national officers. Now one affiliate may call a strike, throw up picket lines and shut off telephone service for a whole city or area.

CAPITAL QUIET BESIDE FARM

SHERMAN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Speaker of the House of Representatives Sam Rayburn is beginning to believe that Washington is safer than his quiet, peaceful ranch near Bonham, where he goes to relax from the hectic capital life.

While tinkering with a new power saw yesterday Rayburn was attacked by a bee, which crawled into the speaker's right boot and stung him four times. Dr. Joe Ritter found infection and administered penicillin.

A year ago, Rayburn fell and broke an arm while chasing a "cow" at the ranch.

Rayburn said he will leave soon for Washington to "help a couple of friends get re-elected." He said he would make several speeches in support of democratic representatives whom he did not name.

The following cases were dismissed in district court this morning:

C. E. Gilliam vs. T&P Railroad; J. B. Stevenson vs. T&P railroad, both suits for damages.

The plaintiffs had charged waste oil was loosed on their respective properties. Agreement was reportedly reached out of court.

Roosevelt's Estate Over Million Dollars

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., Sept. 26 (AP)—The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt left a net estate before taxes of $1,095,496, according to the tax appraisal filed here today with Dutchess County surrogate Frederick Quintero by Henry Hackett, an attorney and an executor of the estate.

The appraisal indicated Roosevelt's gross estate was $1,821,887, and was subject to deductions of $736,400 for funeral expenses, debts, and other costs.

Atomic Unit Ready For Vote On Control Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Sept. 26 (AP)—Scientists of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission were ready for a showdown vote today on their report on atomic energy controls, with Soviet Russia holding the key to an unanimous vote.

An informed source said that the report, which contains no recommendations, would come out of the committee regardless of Russia's stand.

The scientific and technical committee of the commission, made up of scientists from each of the 12 nations of the commission, was summoned to meet in secret session at the United Nations headquarters here at 1 p.m. (CST).

Members of the committee were represented as agreed that some final action must be taken on the report, which was adopted after 18 meetings, mostly in August, and which has been awaiting the formal approval of Soviet Russia, for about three weeks.

Prof. S. P. Alexandrov, the Russian scientist on the committee, who came here from the Bikini atomic bomb tests, was reported to have agreed to the scientific committee's report as an individual. But he was said to have informed the committee that he must obtain official approval from Moscow before Russia would be committed to the report—and that official approval so far has not been communicated to the committee.

An informed source said that the report, which contains no recommendations, would come out of the committee regardless of Russia's stand.

This is a strike of organized greed against the American people, he declared in a telegram from his Chicago hospital room to Attorney General Clark. The packers have contended they are unable to obtain livestock subsidies.

As administration supporters split on the question of suspending meat price controls, and a hungry clamor arose throughout the nation, these other developments occurred in swift succession:

1. Rep. Roger (R-Mass.) told reporters after a White House call that President Truman took the stand that Congress had taken price control action out of his hands when it legislated the decontrol board.

2. Mr. Truman himself arrived to see reporters at 3 p.m. (CST) in his regular weekly news conference.

3. The Agriculture Department came up with the report that fewer hogs are going to market now than ever before in modern history. (A similar situation with respect to cattle was reported earlier this week.)

4. The army moved in to take one-fourth of all meat produced by federally-inspected slaughterers.

5. Mr. Truman's press secretary, Charles G. Ross, turned aside with "no comment" reporters' questions about House Majority Leader McCormack's (D-Mass.) proposal that price controls be suspended for 60 days.

Sabath declared in this telegram that big packers, especially those "organized in the American Meat Institute" are deliberately trying to force decontrol of meat.

The inordinate spread between livestock and wholesale prices, he said, "proves that the principal objective is to make more and more profit for owners who already have made tremendous gains from human misery during the war."

I believe also that the refusal of the packers to buy and process meat has deep political motivations and is deliberately intended to embarrass the administration."

Street Car Strike Hits Pittsburgh; Power Still Off

ATLANTA, Sept. 26 (AP)—A terrific blast, which police said they believed was caused by dynamite, early today ripped off the fronts of four business establishments located on the edge of the downtown section. No one was injured.

The explosion tore open the front of a laundry pickup station near the state capitol and blew windows and doors from two delicatessens and a beauty shop.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon at the First Methodist church, at a time to be announced later. Burial will be in the family plot in the Big Spring cemetery.

Eberley funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Mysterious Blast Hits Atlanta

ATLANTA, Sept. 26 (AP)—A walkout by street car operators started today in this strike-harassed steel capital, already in the grip of a power strike now in its third day.

Young Women Present Program At WMS Meet

Young Women's Auxiliary, directed by Mrs. Milton Meyer, presented the third in the series of Season of Prayer programs for the First Baptist WMS at the church Wednesday evening.

Following the week's theme of rehabilitation of rural churches, the program featured a playlet depicting an investment office in which three prospects made investments of money, life services and four years to obtaining a Christian education to make possible the spread of Christian education. In the playlet were Jean Cornelison, Billie Jean Younger, Ruth Hobbs and Patsy Phillips.

Julia Mae Cochran selected as her devotional text, Proverbs 14:15, "The simple believeth every word, but the prudent looketh well into his going." She reminded the worshippers that the world is looking to peace and the solution to many problems. The world's population

Mrs. J. E. Brigham Speaks At First Child Study Meet

Mrs. J. E. Brigham discussed the various phases of the Howard County Junior college with members of the Child Study club when they met for the first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. J. B. Mull, with Mrs. H. W. Smith as co-hostess.

Plans were made for a Haloween party to be given by the club members honoring their children. Mrs. H. W. Smith, program chairman, distributed the yearbooks.

After the meeting a social hour followed with refreshments served from a lace-covered table with a centerpiece of fall flowers.

Attending were Mrs. Zollie Boykin, Mrs. J. E. Brigham, Mrs. John Escol Compton, Mrs. John Dibble, Mrs. E. B. Edwards, Mrs. Roger Hefley, Mrs. Iva Hunnecutt, Mrs. J. B. Mull, Mrs. C. O. Nalley, Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. Charles Watson, Mrs. W. H. Wright, Mrs. Cecil McDonald, Mrs. Joe Pickle and Mrs. A. S. Templeton.

Mrs. H. W. Wright will be hostess at the next meeting and Mrs. Charles Watson will be co-hostess on October 8.

Plans were made for an all day meeting to be held Thursday, Oct. 3, at the church to complete the series of lessons on Isaiah. Plans also were made for the district conference to be held in Coahoma on October 8.

Attending were Mrs. R. Gage Lloyd, Mrs. Dee Davis, Mrs. Harry Hurt, Mrs. R. V. Middleton, Mrs. Charles Watson, Mrs. J. B. Mull, Mrs. L. B. Edwards, Mrs. D. T. Evans, Mrs. A. B. Brown, Mrs. J. C. Going Fishing?
Here's How!

To hear Willie Wells and Basil Strube arguing about trout fishing, you'd think it was more important than the atom bomb.

Willie favors dry flies. Basil pooh-poohs anything but wet flies. Willie swears by a Royal Coachman; Basil won't hear of anything but a Silver Doctor. And by the time it comes to steel rods versus bamboo rods... "IX & *!!".

But on Saturday, each got back from Seward's creek with a catch that couldn't have differed by more than several ounces.

Governors Of Texas

Hillbilly Music Elected Stevenson, Present Chief

Editor's Note: This is the last of a series of articles based on the lives of the governors of Texas.

By PAUL BOLTON
The perspective of time is needed to evaluate the place of Coke R. Stevenson in the roll of Texas governors. At this distance, it may be said:

Growing up in a day when Horatio Alger's philosophy dominated young boys, Coke Stevenson still believes today that "industry, thrift and integrity will succeed as they always have done"—and that phrase is as typically Stevenson as it is Algerish.

Coke Stevenson was a poor boy. Coke Stevenson was a self-educated man; Coke Stevenson worked hard. Coke Stevenson achieved a measure of success; ergo, the poor boy of today not only has a good chance to succeed; he has a better chance to succeed than did the poor boy of yesterday.

What directions history takes may determine the place in it that Stevenson has.

Stevenson believes in the ways of our fathers. "When we stray from the pattern laid out by our fathers, we endanger our whole governmental structure."

Stevenson frowns upon government aid to the individual. "The sinews and soul courage that we have made strong in our youth now at war, we can make soft and flabby in a government order of years."

Stevenson resists government aid to the individual. "Our people... are unwilling for certain bureaucratic chieftains in Washington to issue orders that would paralyze our economy."

Stevenson defends the state against the federal establishment: "When the state properly exercises its powers, the citizens live under a government of laws. When the central government takes control through edicts of boards, the citizen exists under a government of men subject to the caprice of other men."

If a people America should turn back to the governmental ways of yore, Stevenson would stand as one who repeatedly pointed the way at the crossroads.

If the trend toward what some call "liberal" others call "radical" and still others call "communistic" government continues, Stevenson might well be remembered as the last great voice in Texas calling out for status quo.

Stevenson became governor through the capricious tastes of the Texas public, who suddenly developed a liking for hillbilly music.

Hillbilly music successfully pushed an obscure flour salesman named W. Lee O'Daniel into political fame as governor and as United States senator. Stevenson, lately become lieutenant governor, helped make O'Daniel senator.

His help was to take leadership in pushing across the O'Daniel legislative program for a portion of it which was hopelessly lost except for the Stevenson aid. This program was O'Daniel's price to get out of Texas. Stevenson and his colleagues paid that price because they wanted Stevenson in the governor's chair.

His inauguration in 1941 had deep overtones of serenity. One of the best-loved women ever brought to Austin by politics, was slowly dying. But she saw her husband into the Texas governor's mansion.

Fay Wright Stevenson and Coke had come a long way together. Coke was born in 1888 in a Southwest Texas log hut. He always worked. At 16 he was carrying freight (coffins) between Junction and Brady. On the long overnight hops he studied accounting by campfire light. He got a job in a bank—as janitor. He read law at nights, and got his license. And married Fay Wright.

Mariage developed him into one of Junction's leading citizens, county attorney, president of the bank where he started as janitor, development of an abstracting business, a picture show—then in 1926, he decided to run for the legislature.

That started his state political career. He became speaker of the house, then lieutenant governor, then by the many politics which prevailed in those days in Texas, governor. He thereafter was twice elected—the opposition never seriously threatened him and no really strong candidate ever ran against him; and until late in the day, he was a potential candidate for governor, for a third elective term.

He served throughout the war years. What Stevenson's attitude toward the "central government" and particularly its leadership would have been had we remained at peace is purely speculative. But that he chafed against federal restraint is notorious.

"We insist," he said, "that winning the war does not involve the sacrifice of the principles of a government of laws, administered as close to the people as is humanly possible."

At another time he said: "Would it be fair to our young men that while they fight and die in strange lands in the name of democracy we should submit to an internal administration that might destroy the democracy we have?"

Those, of course, are generalities. Specifically, he was an open, frank critic of gasoline rationing and tire rationing. As a rancher, he pushed at meat rationing. Government waste of paper came under his fire.

He became embroiled in the University fight when Homer Price Rainey was unfrocked as president—although he has consistently insisted that his attitude was one of hands off. That was the beginning of the war of political ideology.

Publicly he maintained a hands off attitude during the May 1944 Democratic convention when the group later to be called "Texas Regulars" seized control. Repeatedly his only part in that convention was to espouse the cause of Myron Bialock as national committeeman. That intervention is a matter of hearsay; in any event, Bialock was kept on—is still on.

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 24—With the reopening of the Texas State Fair in Dallas Oct. 5-20 Mitchell County 4-H Club and FFA boys plan their first exhibits of livestock for the current fall season. T. H. Roensch, county agent, will supervise exhibits from both groups. R. E. Post, vocational agriculture teacher at Colorado City high school, is ill and unable to attend the fair and Roensch will be in charge of both groups of boy feeders.

Livestock will be shipped cooperatively and will be loaded out from the Frontier Roundup pens at 5 p. m. Tuesday of next week Oct. 1.

Four 4-H club boys and four FFA feeders have readied livestock exhibits for showing in Dallas in the junior divisions. Judging of junior steers and pigs will begin at 9 a. m. Saturday, Oct. 5; Monday, Oct. 7, at 9 a. m. judging of junior lambs will start.

Among the boys who will enter the statewide competition in various classes is Rolland Fee, who will show two steers in the junior baby beef class. One of young Fee's calves was bred by Winston Brothers of Snyder, the other by the Diamond L Ranch of Ft. Worth. Fee has exhibited at all major shows since he entered 4-H club work and showed the Reserve Champion steer in Sweetwater.

Stuart Henderson, 15-year-old Hyman boy, has two calves to exhibit in Dallas. Henderson won wide recognition last March when he showed the Grand Champion at the colorful Ft. Worth Livestock Show and Exhibition. He will also show one mutton lamb in the Fair ring.

Robert McMillan of Cuthbert will exhibit one steer in the heavyweight division. Glyn Morgan of the Looney community, 4-H'er who showed the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion gilts in the Mitchell County Boys' show for the past two years, will show one fat barrow.

Jimmie Hammond, FFA member who showed the Grand Champion steer in Mitchell County's 1944 show and the 1st heavyweight steer in 1945, will take to Dallas one steer. Charles Smith, FFA feeder, 2nd prize winner when he was a 4-H member, has two calves

Many believe he delayed so long a statement that he would not be a candidate in 1948 because he wanted to be sure a candidate strong enough to defeat Rainey was in the race. He picked Grover Sellers and Beauford Jester to win.

And when Jester won, he said: "I'm at peace with the world... The people of Texas are still a stable citizenship... It's a grand old state."

Week For Physically Handicapped Slated

With the local US Employment Service taking the lead, plans are underway for full observance of the national "Employ the Physically Handicapped" week scheduled for Oct. 6-12.

This will be the second year for the week to be observed.

J. Dayle Wilson, acting manager of the local USES office, said that the Employment Service units throughout the nation are coordinating a program for stressing the employment of physically handicapped persons during the observance.

A large portion of the physically handicapped unemployed is composed of World War II veterans, Wilson reminded, and records show that most of them are valuable employees when given opportunity.

The local office will join with others in the country, beginning Oct. 6, in asking employers to give special consideration to physically handicapped applicants who are qualified.

Early Settlement Seen In Bus Strike

BEAUMONT, Sept. 26 (AP)—Union and company representatives involved in the seven-day-old strike of bus operators in Beaumont and Port Arthur have agreed on an early settlement of differences.

Negotiations are to be resumed here tomorrow morning.

A. F. Steele, International representative of the union, said only three points remain to be settled, including making overtime pay retroactive to May 1, retirement benefits and working conditions regarding promotions in the shops.

A salary boost question will be submitted to arbitration.

Robert McMillan of Cuthbert will exhibit one steer in the heavyweight division. Glyn Morgan of the Looney community, 4-H'er who showed the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion gilts in the Mitchell County Boys' show for the past two years, will show one fat barrow.

Midland First Foo

Junior High 11 Opens Season

Jim McWhorter and his entire squad of Big Spring junior high school football Yearlings showed off for Midland this afternoon where at 7:30 o'clock tonight they open their 1946 campaign against the Midland Bullpups.

McWhorter and his aide, John Malaise, elected to take all 45 boys who have been reporting for practice. Likely as not most of the stragglers will see action since the coaches want to get a look at all the lads under fire.

Big Spring can field a team averaging something like 170 pounds. However, several of the bigger boys have been suiting out but two or three days, and McWhorter figures they won't be ready to play much.

As it stands now James Fannin, Dickie Cloud, Johnny Hooper and Billy Carlisle will open as the starting backfield. Fannin, a red-haired fellow who possesses a nice pitching arm, will probably be the bellwether of the troupe.

Fannin and Cloud each weigh something like 145 pounds while Hooper and Carlisle will balance off at 150 pounds.

In the line: It will be Howard Jones and James Belligo at ends, Victor Woods and either Charles Rainwater or Don Barber at tackles, Earl Rusk and Carol Cannon at guards and Kimble Guthrie at center.

Woods comes in at 175 pounds as does Barber but the weight average tapers off sharply.

Rusk can manage but 120 pounds while both Jones and Cannon do 135. Guthrie's weight is listed at 125 pounds. Belligo pushes the needle to 140 while Rainwater boasts 160.

Woods and Fannin will co-captain the squad.

Midland, which is coached by Kenneth Kearns, got the jump on the Big Springers in practice this season. Last week, the Pups dropped a 25 to 13 decision to the Odessa Colts in Odessa.

Youth to watch in the Midland secondary is Arnold Drake, who cut loose with touchdowns runs of 40 and 15 yards against the Odessans.

Probable Midland starters are Bush and Jones; ends: Cline and Woods; tackles: Kimbell and Blackwell; guards: O'Neal; center: Blane; Iann, Holt and Drake, backs.

Snead Favored In Dallas Show

DALLAS, Sept. 28 (AP)—The nation's leading professional and amateur golfers were to tee-off here today in the opening round of the $10,000 Dallas open.

Sam Snead, British Open champion and defender of the Dallas title, has been stamped as the tournament favorite on the basis of a four-under par score 66 turned in on a practice round yesterday. He will have strong competition, however, in that it is believed that Ben Hogan, National PGA champion who has been vacationing the past two or three weeks, turned in a tally that was five or six under par.

Hogan declined to reveal his score.

In a Tuesday practice round, Snead shot a 62.

Other strong competitors are Dallas' reared Lloyd Mangrum, National Open champion; George Farlo, winner of the Canadian Open; Herman Keiser, who coped the masters title at August, 1945; Jimmy Demaret of Houston, fourth leading money winner of the year; Harold McSpaden and Vic Ghezzi.

Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio; Earl Stewart, Jr.; and Don Schumacher of Dallas, and Jimmie McGonagle of Shreveport La., are among the outstanding amateurs.

Ponies Lose Two Standout Backs

DALLAS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Gilbert Johnson of Tyler and Jack Sharp of Dallas, principal candidates for the tailback position vacated by Doak Walker when he was drafted, have been lost to the Southern Methodist University Mustangs because of failure to pass the required number of subjects for athletic eligibility.

Announcement of the disqualification of the two players was made here yesterday as the Mustangs departed for Philadelphia to open their 1946 football season against Temple University Friday night. Forty players accompanied head coach Maitly Bell on the trip.

Dr. E. D. Mouzon, chairman of the University's athletic council, reported that both players had failed to meet the scholastic requirements in their last semester of attendance at other schools.

Wildcats Face Billies On Buff Field Tonight

Coahoma, Garden City, Forsan and Water Valley rule as slight favorites in the District Ten six-man football program this weekend, which gets underway tonight at Forsan.

This evening's battle pits the Wildcats of Water Valley high school against Homer Barnes Knott Hill Billies, who choose to meet on a neutral field. The Cats looked impressive in last week's winning start against Mertzon at Welch's position.

while the Billies had their troubles in their invasion of Forsan. The Buffs won that one, 61-0, and looked very good in doing it. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Forsan fans will be privileged to see a double header football treat this weekend. Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock their Buffs play Sterling City before the home folks and that may prove to be the best bout in the circuit.

Chesney McDonald's Sterling sextet tied a strong Coahoma troupe at 13-all fast week and many observers are picking them to finish one-two in the league standings.

Coahoma debuts before the home folks in a 3 o'clock game with Courtney's Eagles, who lost a hard fought game to Garden City last week. The Coahomans will be dangerous with Wayne DeVane a constant threat.

Gordon Griggs' Garden City club tangles with Mertzon in a 2:30 o'clock contest at Garden City and should win. The presence of J. C. Pye and Harry Calverly in the GC lineup make the Glasscock county team the favorite.

Hester's Turns Back Modern Cleaners, 2-1

Shirley Colquitt paced Hester's Office Supplies to a 2-1 victory over Modern Cleaners in Women's Bowling league play at the West Texas Recreation center Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Colquitt rang up a 181 in one game for high individual game scoring laurels. She led a team mate, Olive Cauble, who boasted a 171 and chipped that with two other strong games to take high aggregate with 478.

Mary Robertson of the Modern Cleaners boasted second high average with 465.

In other results Youth Beauty Shop rolled over Hartley's Cleaners by a 2-1 count to tie Hester's for the top spot.

Walters Quietens Cardinals After Dodgers Lose, 11-9

Durocher Sends 8 Hurters To Hill But Quakers Win

By The Associated Press

It is doubtful if any major league baseball manager ever bowed out with more satisfaction than William B. (Wilkes) McKechnie, erstwhile boss of the Cincinnati Reds.

McKechnie managed his last game for the Reds last night. He was "fired" three days ago. His final act as the redlegs' boss was to mastermind his hirelings to a 6-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals — an act which might cause the Brooklyn Dodgers — a team Bill admits he dislikes — to nose out the club he formerly managed for the National League flag.

McKechnie knew full well that the Dodgers, who earlier in the season he had accused of "dirty playing" against his Reds, had lost, 11-9, to the Philadelphia Phillies. A St. Louis victory would just about seal Brooklyn's pennant hopes as it would give the Cards a two-game advantage with only 3 games left.

He nominated Bucky Walters, always a tough cooky for the Cards, to pitch. Walters pitched one of the finest games of the season to blank the Birds with seven hits. Twice McKechnie signalled for sacrifices and each time it paid off.

Brockton, showing signs of cracking under the terrific strain of chasing the Cardinals, blew a three-run lead in the ninth when the Phils came up with five runs to win their 11-9 thriller.

Altogether the Dodgers used eight pitcher to set a new league record.

Scoring five runs in the first Innings the Boston Braves deadlocked the Cubs for third place by defeating the New York Giants 5-5. The Cubs lost an 18-inning game to Pittsburgh by the same score when Billy Cox singled in Lee Handley.

Bobby Feller fanned 10 to boost his season's strikeout total to 337, only six short of Rube Waddell's listed record. However Feller once again received poor hitting support from his mates and dropped a 4-1 decision to Joe Haynes and the Chicago White Sox.

Despite Hank Greenberg's grand home run, the Detroit Tigers were beaten by the St. Louis Browns, 8-7, as the Browns' Vern Stephens clouted a homer and two singles.

Joe Dobson pitched the American League champion Boston Red Sox to their 103rd victory with a fine 5-2 win over the New York Yankees.

The Athletics executed a triple play but lost a doubleheader to Washington 6-3 and 14-4.

Oana, Pullig, Perry To Work Exhibition

DALLAS, Sept. 28 (AP)—Three Dallas Rebel pitchers will be used in an exhibition game tonight at Sherman as the Texas league champions meet an all-star aggregation while marking time for the opening of the Dixie Series.

Hank Oana, the league's leading hurler, Tom Pullig and H. K. Perry are scheduled to divide time on the mound.

Proceeds from the game will go into the Dallas club's pennant fund.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

The village should be far better equipped with boxers for the 1947 Golden Gloves boxing show here; a fact Mark Wentz and others have drawn attention to recently.

Captain Olvy Sheppard of the Salvation Army has organized a boxing class and, together with Jimmy Byers and Johnny Cox, will mould a squad that will enter the big January show as a unit. Last Monday, more than 40 boys showed up for the finals of the SA's tournament finals, most of them potential fist fighters.

Too, Travis Griffin has been working with a YMCA boxing class in both outdoor and indoor sessions and some of the members in that class, notably Johnny Hooper, Jimmy Eppeler and Billy Carlisle, are being stamped as future champions.

Last year, the bash party suffered for lack of local entries. Fortunately, enough out-of-town scrappers showed up to save the day. Invitations will go out to all surrounding towns next winter and the "foreigners" will be welcomed. However, the sponsoring organization, the Big Spring Athletic association, is counting on enough local enlistments to carry the tournament.

From all indications, the 1947 mitten convention will run three days. This year it was completed in two.

Bobby Decker, Big Spring's popular baseball second sacker of other years who was switched to the hot corner at Borger this season and managed to hit a robust .350, has earned a tryout with the Little Rock Travelers of the AA Southern Association next spring.

The Little Rock management tried four or five men at third base the past season but none filled the bill. Decker, who was the oldest man in the WT-NM league from point of service, may win the post since he knows his way around a ball diamond.

Bill Scopetone, who had a cup of coffee stop here several years ago and this year was fourth among the WT-NM's hitters, will also join the Travelers in '48.

The wire services will be bringing the fan's attention in a few days to the fact that the national pastime is rounding out its most

Bobby Hollis Switched To Guard Post For Friday Go With Lubbock

In a move to strengthen his line, Coach John Dibrell Wednesday switched Bobby Hollis from tackle to guard and promoted big Eli Cypher to the first string as his Big Spring high school football Steers bore down in practice for their Friday outing here with the Lubbock Westerners.

The transfer was necessitated when Pat Lamb, first line reserve who played four quarters of aggressive ball against Cisco last week, turned his ankle and had to retire from the heavy work.

Hollis should take to the guard spot easily. He's reasonably fast and can pull out and block downfield.

There are indications the Friday game will be a struggle. Scouts say the Plainmen's backfield isn't any thing to rave about but the forward wall is uniform and rugged. Line Coach Herschel Stockton of the Bovines figures his line can hold its own.

Six boys and two girls won first round matches in the ping-pong tournament launched at the Salvation Army citadel Wednesday evening and thus qualified for play in the Oct. 2 second round of competition.

Results, which were decided on the best two-of-three-game basis, included:

J. W. Thompson stopped Murfin Peterson, Gene Gross edged Luke Thompson, Jimmy Montgomery kayoed Jimmy Flowers, Charles Hale halted Charley Franklin, Charles Wright bested Melvin Byers, Dewey Byers decided Garner Thixton, Jeneta Byers ousted Bonnie Byers and Juel Dean Thompson defeated Mary Ann White.

Other matches will be added to supplement next week's schedule. Capt. Olvy Sheppard announced:

Even the Boston Braves, who will finish in fourth place in the National league, attracted 988,109 paying fans to Brooklyn last year. Brooklyn attracted something like 1,700,000. Detroit was way up there. Others passing the coveted mark were the Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox, and Washington Senators of the American league and the New York Giants, Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phils of the senior circuit.

NEW YORK — Quick-freezing, the fast-growing marvel of the food industry, is learning its P's and Q's — particularly the Q for quality.

Rapidly-expanding consumer demands has made the business a seeming Eldorado and has attracted bonanza exploiters who have paid little heed to quality. This get-rich-quick invasion has alarmed industry pioneers who based their first bids for public favor largely upon quality of product and led to increasing cries for standardization.

The trade is not under federal inspection except on a voluntary and incomplete basis. Canners, meat packers and most other food processors are under strict government quality controls, but frozen foods can be watched and prosecuted only for misbranding under the Pure Food and Drug Act. The packer's conscience is his only guide as long as he steers clear of misbranding. Thus, some new "concerns" market packages with no reference to weight, grade or preparation instructions.

What a Survey Showed
Among recent developments focusing attention on the situation were a study by the Consumer Union, moves by the New York State Food Merchants Association and the Western Frozen Fruits Processors Association for quality standardization, and blunt demands by leaders and trade publications within the industry itself.

Indicative of the quality flexibility was the consumer's sampling survey. The survey showed that specimens of both frozen fresh fruits and vegetables as well as prepared dishes varied widely in taste, quality and appearance, not only among brands, but among samples from a single brand.

The frozen food field is being invaded, the study concluded, "by many newcomers with little 'know-how' and less conscience." G. J. Hucker, secretary of the Institute of Food Technology, an international technical research group, pins a "great need" for standards on "careless packers" who have entered the field in the last few years, and adds: "every industry goes through this when it is new."

Frozen Meals Cited
Technologists like Dr. Donald K. Tressler, of Westport, Conn., stress that they greatest need for careful development in the frozen food line is in the prepared dishes where premature exploitation has caused marketing of some products of little palatability.

On the federal level, leadership has been taken by the Department of Agriculture, working with the National Association of Frozen Food Packers. Quality standards have been fixed for about two dozen specific items thus far, and eventually 75 products are expected to be covered.

The standards are voluntary, however, and if a packer wishes to do without them, he is in the clear. The Food and Drug Administration of the Federal Security Administration is investigating the industry, too, getting information on which to propose establishment of grading if it is deemed advisable.

A progressive series of research projects is being conducted around the nation under the sponsorship of the Refrigeration Research Foundation. Kansas State College is studying improved methods of storing pre-cooked frozen foods. Iowa State is preparing a report on poultry freezing. A study at Northwestern covers measuring and controlling humidity and temperature at sub-freezing levels. Michigan State is working on development of penetrating mists to control growth of microorganisms. The University of Texas is studying thermal characteristics of refrigerated foods. Other studies are in progress on separate phases of the highly intricate industry at Oregon State, University of California, Nebraska University and Louisiana State.

H. C. Diehl, of Berkeley, Calif., director of the foundation, comments in this fashion on the campaign for quality.

"The leader in that work is the Western Frozen Fruits Processors Association, a California freezer group. It met recently to discuss a tentative plan for setting industry standards for grading frozen peaches, apricots, broccoli, Brussels sprouts and cauliflower. The different processors will take the program back to their plants for analysis and testing.

"All eight of the foundation's frozen food projects are working on that directly, and all the refrigeration and engineering projects will affect quality indirectly. The industry has had some rapid expansions. It is having one now. In such times every influence gets a lot of newcomers. Some of them see only the big demand and a chance to use new equipment for big production. Every time the industry has done that in the past it has run into trouble."

The responsibility of the retail buyer in development of quality is stressed by others such as John M. Bass, president of Refrigeration Corporation of America. Instead of directing "all the fire" and reject those which are soft or feels that the corner grocers should learn to keep perishable items at proper refrigeration levels — generally zero Fahrenheit.

The housewives too, other trade representatives declared, shouldors, such as canners, will have carefully examine packages, make sure they are clearly labelled, and reject those which are soft or broken.

Little Man's Prospects

One opinion of big packers is given by Edwin E. Huddleston, vice-president of Stokely - Van Camp, who predicts that in 10 years the big and long-established packers

"If shoddy goods provoke the public into voicing its disappointment, government agencies will pick up their ears and then you'll have restrictive laws — you'll have new bureaus in local, state or national governments and needless interference in your operations. Either industry, police itself or it suffers additional government supervision."

Chinaware Gifts To Be Found In Cereal Packages

The Quaker Oats company has good news for Big Spring housewives building dinnerware sets of Mother's Oats chinaware. Premium packages of the wholesome breakfast food—voted America's favorite in a recent independent polling—contain either a breakfast bowl, cup and saucer, dinner plate, or other expertly designed dinnerware which will fit into any table setting. The line is featured at local grocery stores.

For many years a traditional stand-by with mothers whose prime interest is providing a nutritious cereal for their children, Mother's Oats leads natural wheat, corn, and rice cereals in Vitamin B1, food-energy, protein and iron. In addition, Mother's Oats makes delicious breads, muffins, and cookies, thereby easing the baking crisis by substituting for flour. Recipes for using the oats are printed on each package.

Don't Skimp At Breakfast; Make It Quick, Easy

QUICK BREAKFAST . . . But full of nourishment . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

PEOPLE have been saying it for years, but it isn't wasted advice: "Eat a third of your day's intake of food at breakfast."

If you have the doubtful privilege of watching any working portion of America's millions eating at drug store counters of a morning, you know that they haven't heeded the good advice available on breakfasting. And make no mistake, many of us eat at home just as unwisely and unhealthily. Lots of times the excuse for eating a poor breakfast is that there isn't time to do otherwise. Everything is so rushed in the morning. Well, now! For the sake of your health would you get up maybe ten minutes earlier? A good breakfast can be prepared with the expenditure of that many minutes. Here's an illustration:

QUICK BREAKFAST MENU
Wheat Flakes and Melon Balls
Soft Cooked Eggs
Toast
Instant Coffee

As soon as you get up put enough water on to boil for both the coffee and the eggs. Pour out dishes of wheat flakes—or any ready-to-eat cereal. Top these with melon balls which you cut out the night before and refrigerated, well-covered. When the water boils, pour off enough into another pan to cook the eggs, put them in, cover, and stand over very low heat for eight to ten minutes, depending upon how soft you like them. When the eggs are nearly done, make toast. Prepare the instant coffee in a pot, so you can have that second cup without more trouble. You can use anything from a half teaspoon to a full teaspoonful to a cup of water, depending upon how much power you require of your brew! (During this process you will find minutes off here and there to make your toilette, at least partially. Doesn't take much time, all in all, does it?)

There are other quickies, too. You needn't have the same meal every morning. For instance, in the time-saving department, we now know that orange juice squeezed the night before and tightly covered doesn't lose vitamin content! All you do in that morning rush is to pour it out! Have several kinds of prepared cereal handy. There are so many that boredom need never set in. And though you needn't have fruit on it every morning, it does vary the monotony, so have some currants and raisins, dates and figs on hand, and change the taste with one of these occasionally.

Perhaps some mornings you'd like to have French toast for a change. All you need to do for it is whip an egg into some milk, soak the slices of bread in it—turning to coat both sides—and fry them gently in butter or margarine to a golden brown. That doesn't take watching every minute, either. A bit of honey or syrup to top these, and the necessity for any other bread-stuff is eliminated.

T&P Orders Seven Diesel Locomotives

Texas & Pacific Railway company has placed orders for seven 1,000 hp Diesel electric switching locomotives and has approximate delivery dates set for a great deal of other Diesel and streamline car equipment.

Six of the new locomotives will be used in Dallas, completing dieselization of the Dallas yard and industry shipping. This will bring to nine the total of this type of switcher for T&P. Two are scheduled for delivery in October of this year and the others early in 1947.

Four 4,000 hp Diesel electric passenger locomotives, first of which is scheduled for delivery in January 1947 and the remainder in March of the same year, will be the first step in streamline passenger service. Twenty-nine streamline passenger cars are due for shipment in the first quarter of 1947 and 19 sleeping cars by the Pullman car company are due to be ready by April 1947.

Moore Field Buildings Sold To Three Cities

MISSION, Sept. 26 (AP)—Sale of surplus barracks and other buildings at Moore Field to the cities of Mission, McAllen and Edinburg has been agreed upon by representatives of the War Assets Administration and the three valley cities.

The buildings will be re-sold for housing construction with veterans having a 30-day priority for purchase before sales will be open to the general public.

The agreement for disposition of the field buildings was reached at a meeting here attended by Mayors W. D. Woodruff of Edinburg, Logan Duncan of Mission and A. F. Vanney of McAllen, and C. N. Townsend, Jr., of the WAA.

Testing Jar Rubbers

When it comes to testing jar rubbers before you use them for canning, the secret is bend, not stretch them. You should test the ring by doubling it over on itself and pressing it between the thumb and forefinger. If the rubber is a good one, when you let it go, it should spring back to its original shape. Rubbers that are stretched or cracked are prevent an airtight seal on jars, and cause food spoilage.

Onion Stuffing

3 onions
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1/2 cup soft stale bread crumbs
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 egg yolk
Salt
Pepper

Peel and cut onions in slices. Cover with boiling water and cook for ten minutes. Add poultry seasoning; cook two minutes longer and drain. Chop onions and add rest of ingredients, season to taste with salt and pepper. Stuff tightly into pork shoulder and sew or skewer the opening together.

Sweet Potato Balls with Pears

1 pound Seckel pears
Mashed Sweet Potato Cornflakes

Pare and core pears and cook until soft. Shape mashed potato in balls and place a cooked pear in center of each. Roll in cornflakes and bake in oven with roast the last half hour of cooking, basting once or twice.

Angel Parfait

1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons water
2 egg whites
1/2 pint cream
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

Place sugar and water in saucepan and stir until sugar is dissolved, then boil until syrup spins a thread when dropped in cold water. Remove from heat. Beat egg whites stiff and add syrup slowly, continuing beating until light and fluffy. Chill, stirring occasionally. Beat cream until thick; add vanilla and beat into egg mixture. Freeze without stirring in refrigerator.

WTCC Board
Meets Friday

ABILENE, Sept. 26.—The West Texas chamber of commerce is on the move toward the beginning of its annual fall referendum convention season. H. Y. Overstreet, president, has called a meeting of the regional chamber's executive board for Friday for planning and organizing the 1946 referendum, which will start with eight district meetings around the territory to be held during October.

Friday's session will be held at Colorado City, starting at 10 a.m. Frank H. Kelley will be official host.

The group's major job will be receiving and disposing of reports with recommendations as made by the organization's various committees, constituting the proposed essentials of the program of work to be carried on in 1947.

The board also will appoint subcommittees for conducting WTCC's windup clearance meeting, the Directors and Referendum Assembly, to be held at the headquarters building at Abilene in November.

Candy Helps Solve
Sugar Problem

The heavily laden shelves of the preserve closet tell the story of summer canning—but not the near-empty sugar bin tells the tale too. Yes, there will be a parade of jam, jellies, conserves and fruits this winter—but the troubling question of what for dessert tonight is the stickler right now. Ideas aplenty, yes. But a glance at the sugar bin narrows the choice.

That's when the homemaker familiar with peanut confections and the roll they play in dessert making, sails ahead on an even keel. You can have carefree dessert planning moments too—here are some simple recipes that'll give them to you.

Chop peanut brittle and sprinkle on graham crackers. Pop them in the oven until brittle melts. A nutritious candy cookie, nice for a simple luncheon dessert.

Place chopped peanut brittle in the bottom of cup custard. Pour in custard mixture and bake as usual. Insert on serving dish with peanut brittle running over and around baked custard. It makes a custard similar to caramel without the work of caramelizing the sugar.

NEW YORK: Sept. 26 (AP)—The stock market crawled over an irregular path until the final hour when enough support arrived to put leaders generally in the rising bracket and register the third successive average upturn.

While the majority of advances ranged from fractions to 3 at the close, assorted "thin" issues were up 6 or so. A number of losers persisted. Transfers were in the neighborhood of 1,200,000 shares.

Typhus Control Program Speeded

Big Spring typhus control program has been speeded up, with work making progress in both residential and business areas, V. A. Cross, director, said today.

Enough materials have been obtained to keep a four-man crew working for the past few weeks, Cross said, and the supply problem is expected to ease further within the next month or so.

Residential work is progressing slowly, but workers have maintained a more rapid pace in the business area. Cross said inspections of buildings rat-proofed earlier in the campaign have revealed that the work is virtually 100 percent effective.

Policy Should Be Based On Right

The Wallace affair, followed by Marshal Stalin's views on international matters, may leave the world somewhat breathless if not confused.

Mr. Wallace said, in brief, that there was a choice between the belief that war is inevitable and that war would be catastrophic. He held to the latter view and therefore proposed certain courses of action which he felt might be taken in the interest of avoiding war.

Stalin said that there should be a distinguishing between talk of war and the danger of war, which does not now exist. His remarks were reassuring on many points. On others, notably challenging of the wisdom

Peace Conference Very Confusing

WASHINGTON — The Foreign or six nations would be represented at the Paris Peace Conference. The Foreign Ministers' Conference . . . The end on a commission, in others more. In the case of Italy 20 nations . . . The end . . . The end . . . The end . . . Arguments . . . All these commissions have to report back to the full session of 21 nations what they have accomplished. Then all 21 are to vote on whether to accept the commissions' findings.

The conference has not yet voted on anything. Everything so far has been in the commission stage. These commissions are supposed to finish their work by Oct. 15.

And the full conference is expected to finish its work of approving the treaties worked out by the commissions by Oct. 15.

But even though the 21 nations in full conference vote on something, that doesn't mean it has settled anything. For this conference can't finish anything.

It can only, by its vote, recommend to the Big Four foreign ministers what the conference thinks they should do. It's then up to the ministers to agree.

That won't happen in Paris. For the four ministers met yesterday and agreed they'd tackle some of the treaties approved at the conference, at a meeting in New York early in November.

Problem In Brassieres

By TOM REEDY

(For Hal Boyle)

FRANKFURT, Germany, (AP)—

The French supply officer tossed off his glass of Rhine wine, looked out the window and mused:

"Yes, the French Wacs—as you call them—are abolished. We do not have a Wac corps, as such anymore. Would your Wac corps, for instance, be interested in a couple of dozen thousand of rose-colored brassieres?"

No, we said, the Wac supply officers probably would not be interested at all, on account of all the channels the army has to go through to buy things, get signatures, and vouchers, distribute them, balanced quartermaster books and all that.

"That's too bad," the French officer said. "This, I think, is a good buy." He shook his head in said recollection of what obviously was a major problem and mused aloud some more.

It seems that the French Wacs, numbering about 2,000 or so in occupied Germany, had decided that they should be issued blue brassieres as standard equipment and somebody at Baden-Baden, French headquarters, had issued an order to that effect.

The requisition order was placed with a male quartermaster officer. The color made no difference to him, and he sent the order on to Marseille.

At Marseille, another quartermaster officer got to pondering about blue brassieres. They're nuts up there in Baden-Baden, he decided, and put an order in for rose-colored brassieres, thousands of them. The order went through routine channels to a factory at Lyon.

At Lyon, the factory went to work, turning out thousands of rose-colored brassieres.

In Paris, the assembly went to work abolishing the French Wacs. Now, said the French officer:

The quartermaster at Marseille has to explain why in the name of a name he ordered several dozen thousand rose-colored brassieres.

The quartermaster at Baden

Baden can, and does, say "keep me out of it, because I said blue ones."

The factory at Lyons wants to know who is going to pay for the order, and when.

The government, in effect, says don't bother us about it. There aren't any Wacs, so obviously there aren't any official Wac brassieres.

Gart lives a baton's wave from

Radio City, where most of his orchestra leading is concentrated and is content with approximately the same salary as a president of the United States, a position for which he is not permitted to aspire because he was born in Poland.

It was just a little over 25 years ago when John and his father, a noted opera star of his day, came to America for a concert tour which looked to be a happy adolescent sabbatical for young John up to the point where his father had an unfortunate vocal accident which put an end to his singing career. This put a good deal of the breadwinning up to young John, who discovered that his single commercial aptitude was his agile ability at the piano, and he forthwith got himself a job playing good music for silent films.

Gart became a success in that job, but found it a fairly constricted career in small, converted store-fronts which passed as film palaces in those days. But he had a strange capacity for evading cliches, as he brought to his job nothing but his imagination and his pianists, not knowing more than a dozen words of English. He brought a healthy smattering of Beethoven, Chopin, Wagner and Rachmaninoff to his work, and where every other movie house pianist was playing "Hearts and Flowers" while Bessie Barriscale or Tom Mix made elementary passes at their romantic partners, Gart would just as often not play a little "Clare de Lune."

John went from movie house to vaudeville, then to radio. His early broadcasting from a station located in a dumpy elbow-room in the basement of the Majestic Hotel, was a case history. The announcer was everything—producer, director, script writer—and the band, usually a fatal of perspiring claustrophobics, tened fearfully with their manuscripts, eager to get out of their subterranean lair, playing on a single program, such disparate rondos as "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby," and a Bach fugue.

Today, with his eight programs and a highly serious approach to his job, Gart can look back on a strange set of memories, all of which he wouldn't change for Harry James' trumpet.

OPA Foes Now Defend Black Market

WASHINGTON — With the idea of a presidential "emergency" public engrossed with cabinet meetings and the Russian imbroglio, a lot of juicy plums may go to certain business firms who know the ropes in Washington.

Though little-publicized juiciest plums in government repose in the office of the alien property custodian, supposed to protect priceless German property for the taxpayers. One lush company is I.G. Farben, the Swiss-Nazi seized by the United States during the war.

Rumington Rand is now angling to get I.G. Farben. They have hired the son-in-law of statesmanlike Senator Barkley of Kentucky, Bax Truitt, and have done a lot of black-hat lobbying. They have even talked to Senator Mead of New York, former chairman of the Mead Investigating Committee, to ascertain whether the deal would be investigated—if made.

This column will endeavor to report on what finally happens.

Condoning Black Markets

Last spring Republican Senator Harry of Nebraska and other congressmen out to kill the OPA, howled their heads off that OPA was ignoring the black market. Today, as OPA agents are trying to clean up the black market, those very same congressmen and senators are complaining that OPA is too aggressive. Some congressmen actually want to have the OPA call off its agents. Senator Claude Pepper of Florida was mild compared to what Truman said privately about Pepper. His remarks, largely unprintable, reached Pepper's ears and probably scared him on the White House.

The president doesn't seem to realize that he can't sound off against senators one day and then get their cooperation the next. The Civil Service Commission has launched a secret probe as to why West Point-Annals applicants get higher marks when they take examinations in Washington. The commission is also anxious to find out why such a proportion of the lucky applicants who take their exams in the nation's capitol are sons of high Army-Navy officers.

Anti-Lynching Commission

President Truman is considering the appointment of a new White House Commission to make a complete review of lynchings. This was discussed at a recent conference between the president, Walter White of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and James B. Cagney of the CIO United Electrical Workers.

The two men told Truman about several atrocities against Negroes, one of them the case of Isaac Woodard of New York City, a young war veteran whose eyes were gouged out by a policeman near Aiken, S.C.

Woodard was turned over to the police after an argument with a bus driver, who upbraided him for spending too much time in a bus depot washroom. The vet, who served three years in the Army, including 15 months in the South Pacific, had been discharged in Atlanta, Ga., three hours before the incident and was on his way home to New York.

Carey and White reported that Woodward has been held in a South Carolina veterans' hospital ever since the incident and no one has been allowed to talk to him.

"I am familiar with some of these cases," Truman observed, "but didn't realize this brutality was so widespread. I am shocked and horrified by your report."

He added that he realized the lynching problem had not been adequately dealt with by the federal government. largely because the federal government is still hampered by state legal barriers.

Truman himself proposed the report to General Eisenhower, following their return from an inspection tour of our military bases in the Far East.

1. Morale of our far east occupational troops is being endangered by the army's duty in sending wives and families to officers and enlisted men.

2. The army is doing little to set up facilities for the proper housing of army wives and children who want to remain in the Far East.

3. Another demoralizing factor is the shortage of cigarettes and fresh fruit and vegetables.

Eisenhower promises to do his best to see this gets immediately.

PRINCIPLE No. 6

To combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses

—From the Preamble to the Constitution of The American Legion

Every stratum of American citizenship is represented in The American Legion. It will always be a broad and comprehensive segment of American society, wherein the autocrat has no hope of gaining a foothold.

America, composed as it is of all nationalities, races, creeds, as well as all economic classes, has long been called the great melting pot of civilization. In our efforts to help carry out this great experiment in human evolution we must assure all groups that we stand for reason and fairness in all human initiatives.

Individual initiative must not be stifled by any revolution of the human dross; neither can we afford to allow powerful overbearing special privilege groups to autocratically exploit the articulate masses. Our Nation is large enough and rich enough so that all can live happily and well. If we permit autocratic control of one part of our people by another group we thereby nullify all our democratic principles of fairness, freedom, and justice.

Let us remember that we represent a great cross-section of our national life. When we have the opportunity to insist that differences between groups be settled peacefully, reasonably, profitably, fairly, and to both competing parties.

We must do all we can to keep the "American Dream" in the faith and confidence in the worthwhileness of the common man, the hope of opportunity and freedom for the complete, balanced growth and development of each individual according to his vision, abilities, and needs.

ing small grain in this country, since local farmers are trying several systems. Some are planting wheat in double rows, others in single rows and some in drills. Chief interest, of course, will be in the system that works best for grazing, since that is the principal objective of most planting here.

Those statistics on cattle grub damage in Texas revealed at the field day last Friday in Garden City should cause alarm among cattlemen in the state. They indicated that one-tenth of all cattle grub damage in the entire country is sustained each year in Texas.

In growing winter legumes for soil improvement it is important that farmers plant the legume that is best adapted for their particular section of the state. E. A. Miller, agronomist of the extension service, has compiled information based on actual results with all types of legumes that will be useful to farmers in selecting winter crops. Hairy vetch is the top legume in the West Cross Timbers area, and in the Rolling Plains, hairy vetch, hubbard and Madrid sweet clover and winter pea are recommended. Alfalfa, when it can be irrigated, also does well in this area. On the High Plains and in the Pecos and El Paso valleys, the principal adapted legume is alfalfa under irrigation.

Prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers for a number of products dropped during the month ending Aug. 15. According to report from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Austin, this decline in prices offset to some extent the general farm price advances recorded in July. The report showed slight to sharp drops in prices received for grains, peanuts, milk cows, chickens and all meat animals except hogs. The most significant declines were in prices of corn, grain sorghum, beef cattle, calves, sheep and lambs. Sharp advances continued on cotton seed and hogs. During the month, hog prices were at a record high of $20.30 per hundred pounds. The previous record was $18.60 in August, 1949.

Among the foods that are expected to be plentiful in October, according to extension service forecasts, are potatoes, onions, beans, canned citrus juices, fall apples, pears, celery and turkeys.

ing small grain in this country, since local farmers are trying several systems. Some are planting wheat in double rows, others in single rows and some in drills. Chief interest, of course, will be in the system that works best for grazing, since that is the principal objective of most planting here.

Those statistics on cattle grub damage in Texas revealed at the field day last Friday in Garden City should cause alarm among cattlemen in the state. They indicated that one-tenth of all cattle grub damage in the entire country is sustained each year in Texas.

In growing winter legumes for soil improvement it is important that farmers plant the legume that is best adapted for their particular section of the state. E. A. Miller, agronomist of the extension service, has compiled information based on actual results with all types of legumes that will be useful to farmers in selecting winter crops. Hairy vetch is the top legume in the West Cross Timbers area, and in the Rolling Plains, hairy vetch, hubbard and Madrid sweet clover and winter pea are recommended. Alfalfa, when it can be irrigated, also does well in this area. On the High Plains and in the Pecos and El Paso valleys, the principal adapted legume is alfalfa under irrigation.

Prices received by Texas farmers and ranchers for a number of products dropped during the month ending Aug. 15. According to report from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics in Austin, this decline in prices offset to some extent the general farm price advances recorded in July. The report showed slight to sharp drops in prices received for grains, peanuts, milk cows, chickens and all meat animals except hogs. The most significant declines were in prices of corn, grain sorghum, beef cattle, calves, sheep and lambs. Sharp advances continued on cotton seed and hogs. During the month, hog prices were at a record high of $20.30 per hundred pounds. The previous record was $18.60 in August, 1949.

Among the foods that are expected to be plentiful in October, according to extension service forecasts, are potatoes, onions, beans, canned citrus juices, fall apples, pears, celery and turkeys.

Dallas Residents Reveal They Are Allergic To Noise

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

Are you allergic to noise? If you are, this technocratic age must be doing things to your nervous system.

Take Dallas residents who live near Love Field. The big planes moving in and out day and night have them in a dilemma. They want both progress and tranquility, but can't have both.

Silence, says Jean Dubuque, airport manager, is hard to come by in the airplane business. He said research among aircraft manuals reveals that a take-off without engines and propellers is usually fatal. Landing without power and noise have the same result.

C. P. Rison, aviation designer, has solved his problem by sleeping in an air conditioned room. Charles H. Greengrass, a neighbor, has no such room and says the situation is "intolerable. Our street is right on the beam."

Dr. J. S. Pugh said a lot of people are nervous and sick and peevish by the noise and suggested they move the planes away.

"There is so much open space for them to play in out past the northwest highway," he said.

W. W. Wilson thinks some pilot is a girl friend in his neighborhood. "We get a low buzz right down King's highway nearly every day," he said.

Dr. Pugh thought there was a little wooing going on in his neighborhood, too.

The city finally asked the planes to fly a little higher.

A dozen ex-GI students in a special veterans course walked out of classes at a Dallas high school. One reason: The noise of regular students indulging in band practice during class hours.

Supt. W. T. White said other students don't like the sound of the music, either, but said he saw no solution. A band must practice.

There was a lot of noise in the lower Rio Grande during the just-ended whitewing season, too. It was caused by well over a million shots fired from shotguns.

Over 235,000 whitewings were killed, plus an unestimated number doves. A busy man was Marvin Ellin, one of the valley's newest, popular, and conscientious game wardens.

But it wasn't noise that worried the telephone company. It issued an annual warning to hunters against shooting holes in the telephone wires.

Court Releases Funds in Divorce Tie-Up

DALLAS, Sept. 26 (AP)—More than $21,000 has been released to Dr. Wrathe Jr. and Molly O'Daniel Wrathe from their property, frozen pending final settlement Oct. 28 of their divorce case.

The releases were ordered here yesterday by District Judge John Rawlins, on a motion presented by Wrathe, asking $20,000 advance as a business necessity to purchase capital stock and motion

Mrs. Wrathe, for $1,111.61, a difference in a trade in for new car and $418.12 for other items.

TOMORROW'S PLUMBING—

It's Already Tried and Proved

Post-war plumbing is here! For instance:

The mechanical, non-electric little gadget which faithfully gives you hot water at the tap at just the temperature you determine . . .

Sinks of a dozen different kinds—with or without cabinets, dishwashers, garbage grinders, laundry compartments, crumb cups, etc. . .

Compact devices, quickly installed, which prevent noises in plumbing systems . . .

Electric units which prevent water from freezing in certain exposed pipes . . .

Yes, these and other items literally take away the plumbing annoyances which have bothered you in the past. But here's the best part of it all—

None of these products is brand new. All have been in use since long before the war. Therefore, we know from experience not only how to install them quickly, but also that they'll stand up under use and actually bring you better satisfaction from your plumbing.

Rainey Calls On Minority To Keep Watch

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Dr. Homer P. Rainey in his first political comment since his defeat for governor today called on those interested in the people's welfare to keep watch over the officials in power.

"This is the most important function of a strong, intelligent, organized minority," Dr. Rainey declared in a fullpage article in the current Texas Spectator. He noted that recent political events show such a minority exists in Texas.

This minority is a wholesome influence in Texas politics. This minority cannot be laughed off nor can it be disregarded, even by wise-cracking do-nothing governors. It is essential to the maintenance of political balance in this one-party state," the former University of Texas president declared.

As this minority grows in strength, and in its realization of the important place it holds in our political system, a better and more responsible state government will result."

Ultimately, Dr. Rainey believes, a two-party system will result in Texas.

The present one-party system is not only a curse to Texas politics, but it is very unworkable. It is unworkable because it is not in harmony with the political facts. Texas is a tremendous state. Its economic, social, and governmental interests represent widely different points of view. It is impossible for one political party to represent such wide differences. The one-party system, therefore, is being torn asunder by powerful forces within itself and by its inability to hold these forces together.

Texas Legionnaires Get Lobster Dinner

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Texas delegates to the National American Legion convention in San Francisco will eat a lobster dinner next Tuesday night—and the lobsters will be from Massachusetts. The Texas delegation gets the lobsters as a result of gaining more American Legion members for 1946 than did Massachusetts. Herman G. Nahl, past department commander of Texas, had met Thomas F. Nagley of Boston, past department commander of the Bay State, a barrel of Texas pink grapefruit against a barrel of Massachusetts lobsters.

Texas was sixth in the nation while Massachusetts was eighth in 1946 membership campaigns.

Fireworks Circus Goes On Tonight

Under the sponsorship of the Junior chamber of commerce, the novel "fireworks circus" will be presented at 8 p.m. today at Steer stadium.

Gates for the event open at 7 p.m. and a concert by the high school band under direction of Joe L. Haddon is scheduled for 8 p.m. immediately before first of the 20 unique displays is touched off.

The circus theme is maintained throughout the program, all animals and big top characters being in fireworks. There will be elephants, seals, bears, monkeys, clowns, etc., among the score of multi-colored flourishes. An added attraction is an atomic bomb dropping depicted in fireworks.

Proceeds from the program will go toward financing a time clock at Steer stadium, said Bill Cox, Jaycees president. In event of pouring rain, the display is scheduled for Saturday evening.

The name Alaska is derived from an Eskimo word meaning Great Country.

Shortest Cut For Movie Stars To Hit Skid Row

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Attention movie stars: Are you tired ofermine-lined swimming pools, of counting thousand-dollar bills far into the night? Then listen to Bonita Granville.

The art of sliding from stardom to oblivion is herein described by Bonita, who, despite her youth, has done a good job of staying around these many years. Here's the fast route to nonentity:

1. Tell everyone who will listen that you can act rings around Clark Gable or Bette Davis.

2. No matter how much money you're making, ask for more.

3. Don't hesitate to criticize all the big stars and directors.

4. Be as difficult as possible with the cameraman and make-up man.

5. Tear up all fan mail unopened and give the brushola to autograph seekers...

6. Always tell your director how a scene should be played.

7. Date as many people as possible, married or unmarried, and show up at all the night spots.

8. Play Gin Rummy with your bosses and forget to pay your losses.

9. Pick a fight with Errol Flynn.

10. Shun the press and press agents. You'll get so mysterious people will forget about you.

There's no extra charge for this special service, customers. See you on skid row.

Small Grain Planting Heavy In This Area

DALLAS, Sept. 25 (AP)—George W. Jenkins, 36, ex-convict currently facing federal narcotics charges, was wounded by bullets from a sub-machine gun fired into his bedroom by two unknown men early today.

Jenkins' wife narrowly escaped injury by rolling off her bed to the floor.

Jenkins is in a Dallas hospital. He told officers he had been expecting trouble and had been sitting in a chair in his bedroom, two pistols within reach. He would not name those he suspected.

Police quoted witnesses as saying two men drove to the Jenkins house in a late model green sedan. One man got out of the car and walked to the house, peering into a window.

Mrs. Delta Scoggins, Jenkins' mother, said she saw him. She said he walked back to the car, apparently having assured himself of the location of Jenkins' room.

A few seconds later he opened fire with the sub-machine gun while standing in darkness near his car. The two then fled.

Officers said bullets ripped a wide pattern around the window.

Police records show Jenkins was sentenced to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., Nov. 2, 1938, for violation of the Harrison narcotics act. In 1940, he was reported to have escaped from the US prison hospital for narcotics addicts at Fort Worth. He was later recaptured and assessed 18 more months. U.S. narcotics agents said he is now under federal narcotics charges for allegedly making sales to government agents Feb. 21, 23 and 24 of this year.

Some observers believe 7,000 acres or more already have been planted in the county, and the prospects are that this figure will increase steadily during the next few days.

Any estimate on the eventual total acreage still is speculation, however, since more rainfall might cause owners of farms in the sandy areas to withhold any planting until next spring.

Abbruzzi rye also will be given its first general trial in the county, with seed in heavy demand for the past two or three weeks.

Some peas were planted in the northern part of the county. But the acreage is scattering. Although not enough to be of notable commercial value, there is a chance that the local food situation will benefit from the peas.

The activity in the fields has been so rapid since the drought broke that it has been virtually impossible to make accurate estimates of the acreage. However, reports this week from the county agent office tell of heavy planting in the Vincent and Luther areas.

The small grain will be the first crop of the year for much of the land, since the drought was practically 100 per cent effective there during the summer.

Other land north of Knott, where farmers also were unable to plant anything last spring, is being devoted to small grain in large quantities.

Bergstrom Field To Train Reserves

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Bergstrom field officials today were preparing for the probable opening within the next week of a training program for reserve air corps men.

James E. Duke, the field's commanding officer, said beginning of the program is predicated on the availability of personnel and materials. Current plans are to use what equipment and personnel are available at Bergstrom at this time.

The tract to be sold includes 31 warehouses, service buildings, a bakery, laundry and cleaning plant, cold storage plant, and railroad spur.

There is no training field near either point.

The opening of the program, set up on a national basis, has been moved up to Oct. 1 from the previous tentative opening date of Jan. 1.
