

THE EVENING NEWS.

6TH QUARTER
NO 22

Amarillo, Texas, Nov. 22, 1900.

Sulphur, sprinkled in the shoes, is said to be a general preventive of all contagious diseases. It also keeps the feet warm, and will cure ill-scented feet—which is but a disease, and is contagious.

At a decision of the State Synod of the C. P. church at Sherman, the Trinity University at Tehuacana, by a vote of 52 to 43, is to be moved to a more populous community. There will be high bidding all over the state for the institution.

The argument for rebuilding Galveston at public cost "that all Texas is interested" ought to be too old and thin to deceive the people. All Texas is interested also in the State University, A. & M. College, the Capitol, penitentiary, etc., but while all the people are interested they all own them. Same, if the state reclaims the water fronts and other lots in Galveston, the state ought to own them.

The press dispatches this morning inform us "the United States will not yet withdraw its military forces, and break up the union of the allies in China while matters are unsettled." This is fulfilling the prediction of the Amarillo News of six months ago, that if McKinley was elected the country may look for a call of a greatly increased army and probably conscription resorted to. It is of course supposed the supporters of McKinley will respond as volunteers, and not wait to be conscripted.

"On Tuesday last the people of the United States by an unprecedented majority indorsed that policy and practically instructed the president to expedite operations for the suppression of the Tagal rebellion and the organization of a stable government in the islands."

The above morsel is from the Chicago Tribune, a strong McKinley paper, which declared before the election that the only issue was the money question. Now, after the election, it's for "expediting operations." The campaign of deceit is exposing itself.

The call for a convention at Fort Worth to consider what ought to be done for Galveston is being extensively responded to through the Dallas News; and there will be a great gathering there on the 30th inst. And it is well. Our seaport must be kept up; and if kept up by the State let it be for the good of the whole of Texas, and not for a few landlords in that island.

Small pox is prevalent at Corsicana, Terrell, Lockhart, and in Cook county.

There will be a business meeting of the members of the Christian church Sunday morning after services. A full attendance is requested.

To the Public.

Apropos of this small pox scare. Don't get scared. This is a little story:

In 1884 I traveled through Burmah with an English nobleman. One day my companion was suddenly seized with a violent headache and then became very feverish—first symptoms of small pox. A Burmese high priest happening along noticed the condition of the nobleman and made a sign which was answered by the Englishman. We followed the priest. In less than fifteen minutes we had the nobleman's feet immersed in a large basin of hot water—so hot that it made him wince. Inside of ten more minutes the perspiration was pouring down the nobleman's forehead and spine. In twenty minutes time the Englishman's head was as clear as a bell. Why did the Burmese priest do this for the Englishman? Because the nobleman was a Free Mason!

Very respectfully,
RICHARD HUNTER.

State Industrial School for Girls

The business men of Amarillo held an enthusiastic meeting in the parlors of the Amarillo Commercial Club Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of taking steps to secure the location of the State Industrial School for Girls at this place.

Gov. Browning explained the object of the meeting and was chosen to preside. W. L. Evans was selected as Secretary.

After several speeches from various parties, on motion of James L. Smith, it was unanimously declared that the sense of the meeting was that the people of Amarillo use all honorable means to secure the establishment of said institution at this place.

On motion, the Chairman was authorized to appoint an executive committee of eleven men to manage and direct the movement.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again at same place on Wednesday at 3 p. m.

At the appointed time on Wednesday the meeting reconvened with many present who were not there the day before.

The Chairman reported the committee appointed as follows: Hon. W. B. Plemons, James L. Smith, B. T. Ware, W. H. Fuqua, Lon D. Marrs, R. L. Stringfellow, Capt. J. M. Kindred, S. Lightburne, M. C. Nobles, N. Connolly and W. L. Evans. The report was unanimously adopted. After some further discussions and minor motions the meeting adjourned.

The Executive Committee assembled immediately and organized by electing Hon. W. B. Plemons, chairman, and Lon D. Marrs, secretary.

Citizen's Meeting.

Mass meeting of citizens at court house, today, passed resolutions endorsing the Commissioners' Court and City Council in doing all they can to prevent the scattering and for the suppression of small pox in Amarillo. It was fully endorsed that all meetings and congregating of people on the streets, business houses, at churches, and promiscuous visiting of women and children, and that all people in town regardless of age, should be vaccinated at once, and that every business house and private house should be cleaned and thoroughly disinfected.

Wilbur Withey passed away today between 12 and 1 o'clock. A most exemplary young man. He had been ill of typhoid fever many weeks. The city will mourn. Mr. Withey, his father, ill for many weeks of the same complaint, is worse today.

Hon. John H. Stephens, Congressman elect, is in the city today. He returns to Vernon tomorrow, and will repair to Washington to his duties in L. H. next Monday. He looks in unusual good health. He thinks McKinley is going to want many soldiers in the Philippines—and possibly more in China—before the thing is over with.

NOTICE.—W. P. Stewart will be Bookkeeper and Collector now on, at the Amarillo Steam Laundry, of all dues not collected by myself.
11, 22 H. L. UMPHRES.

Mr. Womble said this mild type of small-pox pervaded Deaf Smith country this year, and he heard of not a single death, except one at Hereford, and it was complicated with other diseases. A great many cases were in Armstrong county, and no deaths.

Plenty of ventilation in bed rooms, offices, stores and boarding houses, is a great precautionary measure in minimizing the transmission of small-pox or any other disease.

There is said to be no danger in contracting small-pox in the open air.

The Rangers are guarding the quarantine in Amarillo.

The small-pox in Amarillo, numbering some half dozen cases, seem to be of exceedingly mild type. The Evening News is authorized to say by the City Health Officer that "all the small-pox cases are quarantined, and all patients doing well, and every precaution is being taken to prevent further spread." Read the proclamation in another column.

Have you completed your plans yet for attending the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago? This meeting is from December 1 to 8, and the rate is but one fare plus $2 for the round trip. The selling dates are November 28 and 29, and December 3 and 4, limited to return December 9, with 10 days extension privilege by notifying Joint Agent at Chicago on or before December 9 and payment of $2. See your agent, and prepare for a pleasant trip.

Rev. J. A. Whitehurst has returned home. He has been reappointed to Amarillo by the Georgetown conference. Rev. Whitehurst has done a good work here, and Amarillo can stand the reappointment, if he can. See list of other appointments.

When one man killed the king of Italy the civilized world shuddered. But now that Italian soldiers are arresting honest peasants and farmers by wholesale, recklessly charging them with being accomplices of a brigand, and are shooting them at sight when they resist even to the extent of making a verbal protest, the civilized world is quite complacent. It is not human life, after all, that civilization holds so sacred, but that glamour of divinity which doth hedge a king.—The Public.

New Zealand News Worth Reading

From a very interesting letter to the National Single Taxer from P. J. O'Regan, ex-M. P., Wellington, N. Z., we quote as follows:

I have been struck with the wide differences of opinion prevailing in your country as to the expediency of State ownership of railways, postal and telegraph services, and other public conveniences, the ownership of which by private individuals essentially involves monopoly. With us the subject is not a matter for controversy, as all such utilities are owned and conducted by the state, and the benefits of the system are so many that there is nothing less likely than the state parting with them. Your readers will readily appreciate this fact when they learn that this year the government has made reductions in freights and fares on our railways involving a loss in revenue of about $375,000, including the initiation of a system of cheap trains, whereby urban workingmen are enabled to have their homes in the country. On and after the 1st of January next our postage rates for letters, both within and beyond the country, will be reduced from two pence to one penny.

This will involve an initial loss in revenue of about $400,000 per annum. But in this case, as in reference to the railway reductions, increased business will in due course recoup any deficiency.

Without imposing any other taxation, the government have this year been also able to remit $800,000 in custom duties, notwithstanding the above mentioned reductions in the railway and postal revenue and the cost of dispatching several contingents of volunteers to South Africa. This proves conclusively that the finances of the colony have not been ruined, as opponents predicted they would be, by the adoption of the principle of land value taxation. Of course, we still raise a great proportion of our revenue, from custom duties. But public opinion is surely being awakened to the injustice of the system, and, although it is perhaps too optimistic to predict an early increase in the land value tax, it is certain that the impost "has come to stay," and will be gradually increased.

The system of local option in rating ("rating" is our term for local taxation) continues to grow in public favor—indeed, so far only one instance has occurred wherein the majority declared against rating on unimproved values. At the recent annual municipal conference a resolution was unanimously carried commending the system, which, it is probable, will be made compulsory on all local bodies at an early date.

Since 1898 we have had a system of old age pensions, whereby every person of sixty-five years of age, of reputable character, and in receipt of less than $170 income annually, is granted a pension of $90 yearly. The money for this purpose is provided out of the ordinary revenue. We have also a system of compulsory arbitration for the adjustment of industrial disputes. Courts are set up to try cases under this act, and both masters and workmen must abide the decision of a court. The result has been that since the act came into operation about six years ago there have been no strikes and the workers have almost invariably secured better terms.

The Pecos System

Has opened up a section for cattlemen that has hitherto been given up to the prairie dog and the coyote, and it has now become the home of herds and flocks, rapidly increasing as the years go by. Water has been found twelve feet from the surface of ranges where men perished from thirst in old days. It has made towns out of sidetracks and planted school houses among the sage brush. Let the cattleman patronize an industry that adds energy and success to his enterprise. The great plains should foster an undertaking that makes their products valuable and their cattle available to the market. Never in the history of railroads has such a change been made—a desert transformed into an oasis, a bare plain into a home for the thrifty and productive citizen. The railroad has done it all and is doing it today. Their freight contracts for cattle are far below the average charges usually made by new roads.
