Bolting factions at Houston, Dallas and Temple held sessions of their own as Texas democrats attended county conventions Saturday to choose delegates from the state convention in San Antonio Sept. 10.

Resolutions "going down the line" for straight party principles were adopted at Howard county's democratic convention, held at 7 p. m. Saturday in the district courtroom.

Reviewing The Big Spring -Week-

Joe Pickle
Big Spring is all set for its annual rodeo—well, technically, is one of the oldest in West Texas, being only slightly younger than the Texas Cowboy Reunion at Stamford.

School authorities are urging new high school students to register early. This is good advice even at this advanced date for all signs point to a substantial enrollment increase.

The drought is getting to the state where no one likes to talk about it. July, said the weatherman, was the driest on record and the hottest since 1918.

Water consumption in Big Spring in July far exceeded the previous record. Totals for the month have not been announced but the figure exceeded 100,000-000 gallons.

While no mention was made of the gubernatorial campaign in the county democratic convention pronouncements Saturday, it is generally conceded that proponents of Dr. Homer Rainey are in the saddle on local party machinery.

Big Spring was the only one of seven stations in the district which reached its quota of enlistments for the army in July. During the month 84 men were shipped from here.

More and more interest is being shown in the Howard County Junior College. This early trend is notable, for it is probable that the enrollment rush will come nearer the time of opening (Sept. 30). One circumstance which may help the college get off to a good

Truman Home To Vote, Not To Mix In Politics, Ross Tells Reporters

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Aug. 2 (AP)—A White House spokesman declared flatly tonight that President Truman will take no further part in Missouri's fifth district turbulent congressional campaign beyond his endorsement of Enos A. Axtell.

President Truman's arrival here that he would "gamble 100 to 1 the president doesn't even see Mr. Axtell" while he is home to vote Tuesday.

Ross said Mr. Truman planned no speeches and no "political huddles."

He came primarily to vote Tuesday in the neighboring fourth district in which Slaughter is not a candidate, and to attend a birthday party tomorrow for his mother-in-law, Mrs. David K. Wallace, who will be 84.

Whatever the president's course while here, he has been made a major issue in the campaign by Slaughter and Jerome Walsh, the third candidate in the fifth district race.

There was little evidence of the undercurrent of campaign bitterness as he greeted hundreds of friends and neighbors on the

Big Nations Ignore Small Allies, Assembly Head Says

PARIS, Aug. 3 (AP)—Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium assailed the Big Four today for ignoring the smaller nations in preparing Europe's peace and for asking the smaller powers for recommendations only after severely handicapping them.

In another phase of the battle between the big and small powers, the Big Four won out by a vote of 12 to 8 when the all-powerful rules committee approved a decision to rotate the conference chairmanship.

Meanwhile, Greece demanded slices of Bulgarian and Albanian territory and served notice on the peace conference that she expects reparations for the "material damage inflicted upon the country" by Italy and other invaders.

Spaak, in a bitter attack on the big powers, said: "The great powers meet together among themselves. They prepare treaties without consulting us, they attempt to impose upon us rules of voting which, in practice, prevent us from securing acceptance for our points of view; they place us before the painful dilemma of accepting—sometimes against our own judgment—what they have drawn up or else destroying an agreement that has been achieved only with difficulty, and then, finally, asking us to make them a few recommendations."

Congress Hopes And Fears For Called Session
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—Wary members of the adjourned 79th congress streamed homeward today, almost all of them hopeful they will not be called back for a special session but with a few urging another meeting and a somewhat larger number fearing it will come.

One well-placed administrationist who would not permit use of his name, however, said he was sure the president is glad the lawmakers are going and that the White House had no notion of calling them back unless something of great urgency arises.

Several other key legislators declared they are afraid he will. In a typical comment to a reporter, Chairman Colmer (D-Miss) of the house economic policy and planning committee said: "I'd be willing to bet we'll be back here by November, if not before, although I hope not."

Mr. Truman said, when he signed the OPA bill, that if economic problems get out of hand he will insist on a special session.

Colman also stated that many members believe the administration will insist on a special session "if by some chance the republicans should gain control of the house" in the November elections.

"Other Crowd Member" Shot
ATHENS, Tenn., Aug. 3 (AP)—A man identified by a spokesman at the McMinn county jail as a "member of the other crowd" was shot in the leg tonight by a patrol of a law and order committee set up by county officers were routed in an election dispute gun battle.

Otto Kennedy, a leader of an ex-GI group which bested an opposing political faction in a six-day battle at the jail Thursday night, said a patrol car drew up to a group of four automobiles south of here and one of the machines blocked the road.

Chamber of commerce directors will hold their first meeting in three weeks Monday at the Setles. Several matters have accumulated for board attention, according to J. H. Greene, manager.

of the conference US Secretary of State James F. Byrnes' promise "to sustain these recommendations made by a two-thirds majority."

The Greek demands were presented by Constantine Tsaldaris, prime minister and chief of the Greek delegation. They came less than 24 hours after Ethiopia asked the 21-nation peace-drafting body to award her Italy's East African colonies of Eritrea and Somaliland.

Tsaldaris also called upon the conference to ratify the decision of the four-power foreign ministers council restoring the formerly Italian-owned Dodecanese islands to Greece.

Application For Lake Filed With Engineers
Colorado City, acting as trustee for four other cities, filed application with the state board of water rights on the upper reaches of the Colorado river.

The application reportedly was filed in Austin by Simon Freese of Freese and Nichols, engineering firm employed to work up preliminary data for the Colorado River Municipal Water association, composed of the applicant, Snyder, Big Spring, Midland and Odessa.

Permission is sought to impound waters with a dam located about six miles northwest of Colorado City for industrial and domestic municipal purposes.

According to the application, the dam would be 2,400 feet long, plus spillway, 103 feet at its highest point, 528 feet at the base and 20 feet at the top. This is calculated to impound 110,000 acre feet of water with a lake surface of 4,400 acres. Average lake width would be 2,700 feet, length 71,000 feet and average depth 25 feet.

Tentative plans call for filing of the permit for action by the state board. In event the allocation of water rights is made, then presumably a water district would be created, an election called in member cities to pass upon the district, and at the same time to authorize issuance of revenue bonds to finance the project.

Estimates are that the cost would approach $10,000,000. The district in turn would lease at annual rentals, equivalent to amortization costs, the current water production facilities of member cities. All water then would be purchased from the district at fixed rates.

After the initial meeting here on June 16, when the CRMWA was formed, representatives of the Upper Colorado River Authority suggested that the CRMWA take its water from the proposed irrigation dam to be erected at Robert Lee.

No formal action has been taken on this, and filing of the application would not necessarily rule this out. However, the action may be an indication that at the moment a separate dam and supply may seem more feasible to the CRMWA.

At the same time in Berlin, the three soldiers in question charged that they were "treated like criminals" during their detention in the American zone, and that the Americans attempted to force one of them "to betray his country and become an American citizen."

Ball Drafts A New Labor Policy Bill For Congress
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3, (AP)—Proposals embracing a new, overall government labor policy designed to reduce the threat of national tieups by industry-wide strikes when it returns, Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said today.

Ball told a reporter that with the help of colleagues of like views he intends to draft during the legislative vacation a rounded program he believes a Democrat-Republican coalition will support.

He said this program will be based on the following major points: 1. Strengthening of federal mediation machinery.

2. Establishing of equal responsibility under the law for unions and management.

3. Amending of the Wagner act to define unfair practices by unions, to ban coercion of individual workers, to modify the closed shop section, to require the labor board to act on the weight of evidence in any case and to provide that unions as well as employers must bargain collectively.

4. Substitution of another set of controls for the government seizure now employed to combat breakdowns in the national economy when industry-wide strikes go unsettled.

Ball said he thinks that after the November elections congressional support for an extensive revision of the labor laws will be strong enough to enact changes in the law despite any presidential opposition.

Truman Asks Agencies Hold Expenses Down

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (AP)—President Truman forecast tonight that a boom-time flood of tax collections he hadn't counted on before would wash out much of the deficit of the current fiscal year.

Thus he pinned his hopes on business prosperity and high level employment—which automatically bring higher tax collection—to better the heavily indebted government's position.

He bolstered those hopes with economy orders to federal agencies that could tighten the strings of the federal purse to the point of affecting veterans and the 48 states.

Boosting both revenue and spending estimates above the peacetime record figures he issued seven months ago, the president said it now appears the government will go into the red by $1,900,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947.

That is less than half the $4,500,000,000 deficit he forecast last January, due mainly to the sudden raising of receipts estimates by a solid $2,100,000,000 to an unprecedented peacetime total of $39,600,000,000.

That jump in the prospective tax take, he added, would have balanced the fiscal 1947 budget and provided a surplus, too, if Congress hadn't voted—with some degree of presidential approval—measures adding $4,400,000,000 to earlier expenditure estimates.

The president set out the cost of that legislation, expressed in billions of dollars, as: terminal leave pay, $2.4; increased pay for military personnel, $0.8; Philippine war damage and rehabilitation, $0.1; Philippine loan, $0.1; increased veterans pensions and liberalized benefits, $0.8; housing, excluding defense housing, net of receipts, $0.2; post office department pay increase, $0.2.

Still further additions arising from program expansions and from outlays deferred from fiscal 1946 gave a net lift, after offset, of $5,500,000,000 to last January's spending estimate and sent the revised total to the peacetime record of $41,500,000,000.

The president's statement indicated he had already headed off or directed cutbacks in spending, mostly by the war and navy departments and the maritime commission. That would have piled at least $4,200,000,000 more onto the spending total.

And it promised he would keep trying "throughout the fiscal year to reduce expenditures whenever and wherever they can be reduced without harm to our security and the general welfare."

Slight Changes In Official County Returns

Beuford Jester picked up an additional six votes as the canvass of Howard county tabulations of the first democratic primary election was completed Saturday by precinct election judges.

Homer P. Rainey, who trailed the Corsicana lawyer in the state-wide race, still led Jester by the comfortable margin of 152 votes, however. He compiled 1646 votes to 1594 ballots marked for Jester.

The canvass also affected the aggregate of L. A. Wood, superintendent of the state department of education, and J. T. Thornton, lone entry in the race for constable.

Revised totals gave Wood 4757 votes, as compared to 4733 on the unofficial returns reported last Saturday. Thornton's 4101 represented a decrease of six votes from the unofficial total of last Saturday.

Voting aggregates of all other candidates entered on the local ballot corresponded to the figures reported in last Sunday's edition of The Herald.

Governors Of Texas --

Culberson, Young And Handsome, Fought Fighting, Held Costs Down

(This is the nineteenth in a series of articles based on the lives of Governor's of Texas.)
By PAUL BOLTON

AUSTIN—Just before the turn of the century, Charles A. Culberson, the nineteenth governor of Texas, was known as "the darling of Texas politics" by Texas boxing fans would hardly agree.

It was Culberson's clash with the followers of the square circle that shows crystal clear the type of man sitting in the Governor's office from 1895 to 1899. In '95, Robert J. Fitzsimmons and James J. Corbett were slated to meet in their World Championship bout in Dallas and the event had had plenty of publicity.

Governor Culberson listened to the protests of women, ministers and others and said publicly that the event would not take place. He termed the fight a "public display of barbarism." However, the Supreme Court ruled that Texas law did not forbid the bout.

Culberson swung into action. He called the legislature into special session. When the legislators went home, it was a felony to stage a prize fight in Texas. Corbett and Fitzsimmons staged their famous fight in Carson City,

CHARLES A. CULBERSON

Gov., and Texas knew it had an unusual man in the Austin mansion.

That wasn't the only time young and handsome Charles Culberson performed dramatically. In 1897, Culberson pulled a new one out of the Texas political hat. He vetoed a general appropriation bill because he thought the bill was larger than the state could afford. The legislature adjourned without passing any appropriation bill. Immediately Culberson convened the law makers in special session. The legislature assembled and sent Culberson a measure cutting $400,000 from the original bill. The Governor signed it and everyone was happy.

Culberson, like monopoly-hating James S. Hogg before him, jumped from the Attorney General's job to that of Governor. Culberson was Hogg's Attorney General while the "young political giant" went about his business of getting laws to regulate and control trusts and monopolies. Culberson was Hogg's right hand man.

To gain the Democratic nomination in 1894, Culberson had the help of the "Maker of Texas Governors"—Col. E. M. House. Culberson was pitted against some strong men for the nomination including the man who headed Hogg's first Railroad Commission, John H. Reagan. It looked like a deadlock in the State Convention in Dallas. The problem was solved by Culberson's followers who had a large majority of the delegates when they succeeded in abolishing the two-thirds rule once and for all.

In the November election, Culberson faced a strong combine of more than an actual majority over the other candidates.

Culberson was re-elected to a second term in 1896.

His two administrations were a continuation of the fight to control trusts and monopolies. The panic of 1899 came along and Texas finances hit a low ebb. The Governor used his veto power many times but always managed to keep both the people and the legislature happy.

Culberson's reign as Governor marked only the beginning of his political career. In 1899 he was elected to the US Senate. The people of Texas sent him back in 1905, 1911 and 1916 and he could have had a fifth term if his health had been better.

That poor health might also have kept him from reaching the pinnacle of political success. Colonel House says that but for the poor health of Culberson, he would have been nominated and doubtlessly elected President in 1912. House says that Woodrow Wilson, as the next most suitable person, was selected.

Culberson and his father, Dave Culberson served an aggregate total of 46 years in the National Congress. It's still the best record in the state. The elder Culberson served 22 years in the house and his son stayed in the Senate for 24 years.

New Students Asked To Register Now

Walter Reed, high school principal, Saturday reiterated his plea for new students to register now in advance of the opening of school on Sept. 3.

He urged that those who will enter the high school (9, 10, 11, 12 grades) for the first time or who did not finish the last semester, or those who anticipated schedule changes, to call at his office in the high school.

He called attention to the addition of a general music course which henceforth will be a prerequisite to credit in band or choral work. Many taking band or choral work may wish to alter their schedules accordingly, he said.

Company D Plans 25th Reunion For August 11

Members of Company D, 11th Supply Train, Rainbow Division, who saw service in Europe in World War I, will stage the 25th of their annual meetings at the VFW hall here Sunday, August 11.

Some 60 of the original 77 members of the unit are still living and most of them are expected to be in attendance.

The company was made up of natives of Big Spring, Stanton, Midland, Colorado City, Snyder, and Sweetwater. The 17th was organized in Big Spring in 1917, left the states for France Oct. 31, 1917, and served 18 months overseas. It returned to this country May 17, 1919, before being broken up and its personnel discharged.

James T. Brooks, now Howard county judge, was a captain in the unit and as such served as its commander. Other Big Spring residents who were members of the company are R. L. "Pancho" Nall, Buck Hull, J. Y. Robb, Cecil Wasson, Roy Carter, Ulnor Powell, Forrest Marchbanks, Perch Woods, and Dr. C. W. Deats.

No formal business session is planned and there have never been any officers named to the remnants of the company. A barbecue at the VFW hall will highlight the day's entertainment.

Judge Brooks, who is mailing out invitations to the members of the group, said the reunion would be open to families of the ex-soldiers.

Riggan Changes Plea To Guilty, Fined

George Riggan, who was released on $500 bond from the county jail after being picked up on an aggravated assault charge, returned to the court house Friday to change his plea from "not guilty" to "guilty."

He was released following payment of a $25 fine and court costs.

First Bale Ginned In Mitchell County

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 3 — First bale of cotton for this season was ginned in Mitchell county yesterday by R. B. Golden, Concrete Gin, Colorado City, who reported the bale earliest for the past 15 years. The cotton, middling, weighed out at 542 pounds the bale and will be sold at public auction with local merchants also making up a cash prize for the grower. R. T. Lopez, farming on land owned by Ed Strain, in the Cuthbert area, planted the cotton April 10.

Younger Children To Learn Swimming

An opportunity will be extended for youngsters under nine years of age to learn to swim this week.

Arah Phillips, athletic director for the YMCA, said that an instructor had been secured for a younger class since the Y classes start at nine. While no minimum age has been fixed, six years has been suggested as the starting figure.

Persons interested in enrolling their children in these classes should call Miss Phillips at 1192 today. Classes may start Monday if sufficient interest is manifested.

City May Obtain Absolute Control Of Airport Soon

The City of Big Spring probably will be able to pursue its claim to permanent control of the Municipal airport within a short time, city officials announced, as the US Engineers prepared to pass jurisdiction of the bombardier school to the War Assets Administration.

The city still is operating the port on an interim permit of entry. However, the temporary agreement also gives first claim to permanent control at such time that the port is turned over to WAA for disposal.

The city also is continuing negotiations for other buildings presently under jurisdiction of the FPA, which, if received would be used for housing. City Manager B. J. McDaniel said. These negotiations also are due to be culminated soon. Included in the properties are buildings not connected with the airport or its maintenance and operation.

County Farmlands Bare Of Crops; Failure Expected In Mitchell Area; Good Rainfall Soon Sorely Needed

Possibility that much Howard county farmland will not be planted to any crop during 1946 increased with continued dry weather during the past two weeks, reports from local agricultural agencies indicate.

Scores of farmers who have kept their fields cultivated in constant preparation for planting in the event of rain probably will hold their land open and have it ready for planting next spring, County Agent Durward Lewter predicted.

The choice of crops which could be carried through to maturity is narrowing rapidly, and by the end of the month all but one or two will be eliminated.

Lewter said some red top cane still could be planted up to August 15, provided rain is received, and peas might have a chance to mature enough for grazing. However, this late in the season, grazing and the soil building benefits are all that farmers could hope to realize by planting these crops.

There is a possibility that hairy vetch, a highly recommended winter legume which thrives in less arid sections, will get a trial in Howard county this fall, Lewter said. Although it grows best in sections which receive more rainfall, there is reason to believe that a fair crop could be grown on some Howard county land, Lewter continued. He cautioned farmers who plan to try it to be sure they get hairy vetch seed, since there are about 10 varieties of vetch, most of which are definitely not adaptable to this area.

Hairy vetch seed usually is high in price, but farmers in many sections harvest their own seed and even sell their excess for profit. Planting in drills, about 40 pounds is required to seed an acre, with 20 to 30 pounds for rows. Hairy vetch can be planted for fall and winter at any time from Aug. 1 to Oct. 1.

The western portion of the county, are said by stockmen to be "in the worst shape they've been in since 1933." Stock water is limited and unless rain comes within 10 days sales and moving of stock to grass will have to continue, the county agent predicted. The western part of the county has had no rain since February.

Crop prospects here are also "on the gloomy side," Roensch avers. Early cotton he rates "good" with late cotton still having possibilities. Both early and late cotton are seriously in need of moisture. An estimated 50,000 acres were planted. In spotted areas good stands are making a showing. In other sections where no rain fell crops were dry-planted or not planted at all.

COLORADO CITY, Aug. 3 — Mitchell County agent Ted Roensch said this week that at least 40 percent of this county's livestock has been sold or moved out due to extreme drought conditions. Range conditions, particularly in

Wildcat Strike Promising In Crockett County

By JOHN B. BREWER

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 3.—Prospects of an Ellenburger discovery in northeastern Crockett county, a Yates sand lime strike in north central Pecos county and a Winkler county Clear Fork pool opener that had shown oil promisingly in the Holt zone attracted most attention in West Texas this week. A 1/4-mile west extension to the northwest end of the Doss (Clear Fork) pool in Gaines county was assured.

Topping the Ellenburger at 7,975 feet, with derrick floor elevation 2,586, Stanolind No. 1-GG University in Crockett sprayed distillate on a 32-minute drillstem test from 7,977-8,005 feet and recovered 300 feet of water-white distillate when the drillpipe was broken down. More lime showing porosity and stains was recovered in coring to 8,027 feet.

The wildcat is in the C SW SW 12-39-U, 12 miles southeast of the Barnhart (Ellenburger) field in Reagan county and 24 miles northeast of the Todd Deep field in Crockett, which has production from both the crinoidal and Ellenburger. Stanolind assumed the deep drilling obligation in purchasing the lease on a block of 2,507 acres at the University Lands auction last November for a cash bonus of $285,000.

Olson Drilling Co. No. 1 E. M. Roots estate in Pecos county seven miles east of Fort Stockton swabbed 12 to 15 barrels of pipeline oil in seven hours from Yates sandy lime and was scheduled to shoot from 2,731 to 2,801 feet, the total depth, with 140 quarts of nitroglycerin. It is in the C SW SE 17-118-2&S.

Ralph Love of Midland No. 1 Sealy-Smith Foundation, 2 1/2 miles northwest of the north Monahans (Tubb) field in southeastern Winkler county, flowed 36.6 gravity oil for 25 minutes at the rate of 20 barrels hourly on a drillstem test of from 5,220-80 feet, believed to be the top of the Clear Fork. Approximately 100 feet of Holt lime showed streaks of pay before sulphur water and oil were recovered from 5,026-75 feet. Drilling may continue to 6,500 feet. Location is the C SW SW 71-A-G&MMB&A.

Attempted completion at 5,224 feet from the Holt was likely at Stanolind No. 8 Sealy-Smith, in section 48-S-G&MMB&A, 1 1/2 miles south of the North Monahans field. It flowed oil at the rate of 20 barrels hourly on a drillstem test from 5,181-5,224.

Humble No. 1 Helen Cunningham, west extension to the Doss pool in Gaines county, C NE NE 7-A24-psl, averaged 13 barrels of oil hourly on a four-hour flow and awaited a potential gauge. It had treated with 1,000 gallons of acid through casing perforations at 7,000-80 feet.

Humble spudded and set surface pipe in No. 1 Irene Elkins, C NW SW 36-5-H&GN, 34-mile northeast of its No. 1 L. A. Vick, Kent county discovery, from the Ellenburger. Pure prepared to start No. 1 E. A. Preston, northeast offset to Stanolind No. 1 Lee Irish, Hale county's first producer, and in the C SW SW 12-DT-H&W.

Skelly No. 1 D. C. Huddleston, southeastern Fisher county Palo Pinto strike, which flowed oil at a rate estimated at 20 barrels hourly on two drill-stem tests, ran casing for completion at 4,405 feet. It is in section 11-19-T&P, eight miles northwest of Trent.

Two Dallasites Beaten In Hot Semi-Finals Of Trans-Miss Tourney

DENVER, Aug. 3 (AP)—Ske Regal, muscular Glendale, Calif., playboy with a scientific game and no nerves, and Charles (Babe) Lind, skinny University of Denver student, fought from behind today to win hair-breadth victories that put them into the finals of the Trans-Mississippi golf tournament tomorrow.

After trailing Earl Stewart, former national collegiate champion from Dallas, Tex., almost the entire day, Regal finally overcame a three-hole deficit to even the match on the 35th and won with a birdie four on the 37th.

Lind, also behind all day in a battle with the veteran Jack Munger of Dallas, moved up into a deadlock on the 30th and at the 36th fired the most spectacular shot of the tourney—a 35-foot chip from a sandtrap into the cup—for a birdie that spelled victory.

"Earl was the toughest golfer I ever met, and I never want to meet him again," declared Regal.

The steady stylist Stewart shot into a two-hole lead on the first lap of the morning round but Regal evened the match on the ninth and both turned with one-under-par 34's.

Stewart, with another 34 on the second nine, gradually climbed back to a three-hole lead. Regal took a 38 on the back nine this morning.

On the 24th, with both men lying 20 feet from the cup, Regal canned a beauty for a birdie three, only to have the Texan step up calmly and duplicate the feat. At the 34th Stewart laid a 150-yard iron shot two feet from the pin and was down for another birdie three, but Regal canned a 15-footer to halve the hole.

They halved the 36th and on the extra hole Regal fired a birdie four to win as Stewart hit his tee shot into the trees and was unable to recover.

Rainwater Paces Cup Qualifiers

Champion Rainwater led eight local linksmen Saturday as the bidding opened for as many positions on Bill Crook's "home" team for the Hall-Gennett Trophy matches Aug. 30.

Rainwater posted a 75. Three strokes off that pace was Sam Hefer while Bob Settlewhite came in with a 79. Others and their scores included Jake Morgan, J. R. Farmer and Gene Anderson, all of whom posted 80's; Joe Black, 82; and Jimmy Moon, 83.

Most of the players of the country club are expected to try for positions on the team. The Big Spring team will be decided on 72 holes of medal play and the matchie wielders have until Aug. 30 to post their scores.

In addition to the eight regulars, two alternates will be picked.

Black-Eyed Peas Studied As Crop For Area Farmers

Howard County Farm Bureau directors Saturday voted to investigate possibilities of black-eyed peas as a fall cash crop for farmers in this area at a meeting in the county agent's office.

Under consideration is a plan for an extensive acreage of black-eyed peas, providing planting moisture is received before the middle of August, with the harvest to be marketed through Gilbert E. Wilson Laboratories, who operate a large cannery at Pittsburg (Tex.).

The letter also will explain possibilities of seeding acreage here to hairy vetch, a fall and winter legume, for grazing and feed.

Other discussion was conducted on the National Farm Bureau Federation's membership goal of a million farmers. The Howard county unit now has 446 members, with the goal set at 480.

Refiners Blast Veterans, 9-5

Pushed to the fore on a long home run hit by Frank "Fat Boy" Barton, the Cosden Oilers went on to defeat the veterans of Foreign Wars, 9-5 and protect their position atop the Muny softball league standings here Friday night.

The Refiners climbed out of their care at the end of a trip from Ackerly, where they had played a game earlier in the evening, to get at the Vets and succeeded in chalking up their second win in less than a week over the Ex-GIs.

Barton picked out a fat pitch delivered him by Peppy Blount and sent it sailing far out into left center field. It was one of the longest hits ever seen at Muny park. The drive came in the third with the baserocks deserted.

L. D. Cunningham rode out a middle inning storm to gain credit for the win.

ABC received a forfeit from Coahoma in what was to be the evening's other contest.

Governor's Race Remains Unchanged

DALLAS, Aug. 3. (AP)—The positions of the leaders in the governor's race remained unchanged today as the Texas election bureau released the virtually complete tabulations by county. The Texas election bureau estimated that all but 3,000 votes cast in the July 27 democratic primary now have been accounted for.

The final count gave Beauford Jester 442,441, Homer P. Rainey 288,640, Grover Sellers 161,557, Jerry Sadler 104,919, and John Lee Smith 100,879.

The last tabulation in the close race for attorney general gave Price Daniel 568,289 and Pat Neff, Jr., 553,371. A total of 1,121,660 votes were cast in this race.

The vote did not exceed the 1940 all-time high in the governor's race primary, as had been expected. The total counted so far is 1,159,715. Two contested boxes in Harris county, plus the uncounted 3,000 votes, would bring this total to approximately 1,175,000 for 1946 as compared with the record 1940 total of 1,189,311.

Week's Business—

Building Permits Over Last Month; Cattle Run Brisk

Building permits for July registered a substantial gain over the previous month's total, at $90,900, but figures still remain far below the monthly average established earlier in the year. Sixty-two permits were issued by the city during July, and most of them were for residential construction and repairs. During the past week, permits totaling $14,260 in estimated costs of construction were granted. The 1946 total to date is $908,376.

Livestock receipts at local auction barns continued at a brisk pace, although considerably lighter than the record run of the previous week. Approximately 2,300 head of cattle and a few hogs were sold. Most of the cattle were shipped to the north, east and mid-west. Prices on most grades were fully steady, with a few registering slightly stronger. Hogs continued an upward trend, hitting $20.50 per cwt.

Warranty deeds still are below the early season average, but remain on a par with the summer pace. The week's filings amounted to $47,080, boosting the year's total to $2,294,188.

Rodeo

there is a need for about five to eight volunteers to help marshal the parade.

A second tour of goodwill and rodeo advertisement, arranged by the chamber of commerce goodwill department, visited neighboring towns east and north of Big Spring Friday. Presenting musical entertainment, clown acts, etc., at each stop, the itinerary included Coahoma, Colorado City, Dunn, Snyder, Gail, Lamesa, Ackerly and Knott. Visited on a previous trip Wednesday were Forsan, Sterling City, Garden City, Midland, Odessa and Stanton.

Big Spring business firms have shown more interest than ever before in the downtown decoration program, with dozens of buildings flying flags and rodeo welcome signs. Any business firms who have been missed and desire to join in the program have been asked to call the chamber of commerce. The chamber then will make immediate arrangements with the American Business Club, which is handling the decorations.

Dodd In Washington To Stir Up Action On College Housing

E. C. Dodd, president of the Howard County Junior college, left aboard American Airlines Saturday evening for Washington, D. C. to seek action on applications for college housing.

The board has in applications for the hospital area at the Big Spring Bombardier School for use as a temporary site for the college. Stamp of approval on the college district's bid for the buildings has been given by the US office of education; however, the green light also must be obtained from the War Assets Administration and Federal Public Housing Administration.

Under provisions of a measure sponsored by Sen. Mead, conversion aid for schools is possible in some instances and Dodd intended to follow up on this angle while in Washington. He was hopeful that he would be given a definite answer regarding quarters for the college, which is to open on Sept. 30.

Remodeling Plans For VFW Building

Details are shaping for extensive remodeling at the VFW home of the Christensen-Tucker Post.

Plans have been drafted for changes which will modernize the plant, supplanting the gable effect of the old Birdwell home with current architectural lines. At the same time the lower floor will be devoted largely to use of members and the second story rearranged to provide for more adequate ballroom space.

Cost of the work has been estimated in excess of $10,000. At the present time, the post is seeking to arrange for materials and to work out financial details. Another step in the process of being effected is incorporation of the post. The VFW home is located at 8th and Gollard streets.

CAA Headquarters To Operate Here Under New Set-Up

Civil Aeronautics Administration headquarters for the West Texas district will be placed in operation in Big Spring on Aug. 9, city officials learned Saturday.

The establishment of new district offices in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana which was announced from Fort Worth last week, will bring the present El Paso office to Big Spring.

J. D. Church, acting engineer of the West Texas district, said that Texas is being given two district offices, due to the size of the state. Headquarters for the East Texas district will be in Austin.

Church, who will head a staff of approximately 13 members, said the CAA district's work with air transportation is similar to that of the department of public safety's function with highway traffic. Church and other members of the district staff have been in Fort Worth attending a CAA course of instruction during the past week.

The Week

start is that senior colleges already are taxed to capacity and generally without any housing accommodations.

Recreational programs are filling a real entertainment need this summer. By the time the season is over, possibly a cumulative attendance of 75,000 to 100,000 will have seen softball games at the park and other playgrounds, and the amateur hour series.

West Side Seeks Adequate School Transportation

Residents in Settles Heights and the Airport addition areas, headed by Rev. Edwin Spears, Airport Baptist pastor, are urging school and city authorities to consider action looking toward economical and adequate transportation for school children.

Rev. Spears estimated that on the basis of religious census, which showed more than 400 children in the territory, that there were at least 150 youngsters of school age in the sections west of town.

Currently, only means of transportation available are city bus schedules or private cars. Fare is 10 cents on the bus, and thus, for three children, a family is required to expend 30 cents a day for school transportation, he said. Because school hours are staggered, some families carrying children to school have been obliged to make three round trips daily.

Only 5 Candidates Report Expenses

July 30, deadline for the office seekers in the first democratic primary election, came and went with only five of the 29 candidates filing final reports on campaign expenditures.

County Clerk Lee Porter said that most of the nominees apparently had no additional expenses to declare after second reports were registered with him two weeks ago.

Last day for first expense report for the second primary election is Aug. 6, Porter said.

Dick Trego Here To Assist Boren

Dick L. Trego of Lubbock has been assigned to the veterans contact office, room 206 Petroleum building in Big Spring, where he will serve as a second contact representative, Robert W. Sisson, Lubbock VA regional office manager, has announced.

Trego is joining Ray Boren in the Big Spring office, which has been open for approximately nine months.

Boren opened the office here on Nov. 13, 1945, and since that time he has handled all contact work with the aid of a secretary-stenographer. Due to an increase in the number of returned veterans in the area and other factors, the VA recently announced that another contact representative would be added to the staff.

Trego has just completed training conducted at the Lubbock regional office.

A World War I veteran, he has lived in Lubbock for 16 years, and had been employed for the past five years with the police department there. Mrs. Trego and their young son are due to join him here this weekend.

Legion Auxiliary Seeks Members

Women of the American Legion Auxiliary of the Big Spring chapter have scheduled a meeting in the Settles Hotel Monday night at 8 o'clock to reorganize and to solicit new members.

Mrs. W. A. Ricker, president, has pointed out that there will be much constructive and necessary work for mothers, wives and sisters of war veterans to do when the Veterans Hospital to be built here is completed. For this reason, these women are urged to attend the meeting and work to build up the organization now, to be ready to meet the demands the hospital will make.

Other officers of the chapter are Mrs. Cecil Collins, treasurer, and Mrs. Pearl Hair, secretary. New officers will be elected Monday.

Those who can not attend are asked to send applications for membership.

Singing Convention Scheduled Today

First Sunday singing convention will meet this afternoon at 2:30 in the Wesley Methodist church, with special music to be furnished by singing groups both from here and from surrounding towns.

J. G. Hendricks, president of the society, will probably lead most of the songs, familiar religious hymns in nature. The meeting is open to anyone who would like to join in the singing.

"And when he kissed me goodnight last night, it changed the course of my whole life—I WAS going to stay in to-night."

Y Attendance Shows Increase; Schedule Listed

Attendance at the YMCA has picked up considerably the last two weeks, Bill Dawes, executive secretary of the Big Spring chapter, has announced. The increase is probably due to a slack in vacationing, Dawes said.

Lined up to serve as sponsors of these clubs are Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, Roy Lee and John Coffee. Others are being contacted. Solicitation of members will begin soon with segregation in the clubs according to age and sex.

FPJ Reconsiders Housing Units For Big Spring

Although the Federal Public Housing Authority indicated late last week that its recent order granting 32 temporary living units for veterans of the Big Spring area might be cancelled, communication from the Fort Worth regional office of FPJ Saturday stated that the request for housing here is being reconsidered, City Manager B. J. McDaniel announced.

The FPJHA had discussed cancelling the proposed project here because several units at Ellis Homes, now being rented to veterans only, had remained vacant for several days. However, a check with Jack Bronson, manager of the Ellis Homes FPJHA project, disclosed that all of the vacant apartments were "zero" units (with no separate bedrooms) and suitable for tenancy by working couples only. Vacancy of these units offers no assistance in caring for veterans with families, McDaniel pointed out.

The 32 temporary units granted originally were to be converted from materials at the bombardier school at FPJHA expense. The application was made by the city after a recommendation was made by representatives of veterans organizations, the chamber of commerce, the US Employment Service, and city officials.

Church Of Christ Holds Revival Meet

The Church of Christ, with Evangelist Raymond C. Kelcy, Lubbock, leading, will enter into the second week of its revival meeting with services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. today.

The open air meeting is attracting large crowds, according to H. L. Newman, minister. Throughout the week services will be held at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. Dan W. Conley is directing music.

Meeting Postponed

Regular meeting of the Big Spring Pastors association, scheduled for Monday morning, has been postponed until Aug. 19. Rev. Edwin Spears, secretary, said the delay was occasioned by absence of several pastors from the city.

Farm And Ranch News

By Wael McNair

Although cattle sales have boomed here during the past few weeks, there still is a good number on hand in the area, according to reports this week. However, there are few in good flesh, and their condition is declining. Some feed stuffs are becoming more plentiful now, but prices are high. Many stockmen are using increasing quantities of hay in efforts to tide over their herds, but they can't keep it up indefinitely. Heavy shipments of hay are arriving here almost daily, but without greenstuff for grazing and feeding supplements, its value over a period of time is problematical. Reports from local auction concerns indicate that animals offered for sale are noticeably "slimmer" week by week.

A. J. Cantrells Feted On Golden Wedding Day

With a reception which began Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock and lasted until 9 o'clock that evening, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cantrell celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary at their home in Gail.

Mr. and Mrs. Cantrell were married in Smithville, Tenn., on Aug. 2, 1896, and the following year moved to Texas, settling in McLennan county. In 1908 they moved to Borden county and have resided there ever since. They settled in Gail in January of 1923, and still make their home there.

Children who attended the Friday festivities included J. L. Cantrell and family of Milwaukee, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Harris, Sr., C. S. Harris, Jr., and Robert Lee of Gail, Mrs. Travis Everett of Fort Worth, Mary Cantrell of Big Spring, Floyd Cantrell of Gail and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brigham, Sylvia and Don of Big Spring. Also present were Ellie Lander-son, a son-in-law from Luther; Mr. Cantrell's sister, Mrs. Betty Troupe of Clayton, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Jewel Reeder and family, a nephew from Clayton, N. M.

Approximately 300 friends and relatives called during the afternoon and evening, with guests coming from Snyder, Big Spring, Harlingen, Houston, Lamesa, Meadow and New Mexico.

The refreshment table was laid with a cloth of ecru lace, and was centered with an arrangement of gold Peruvian lilies and purple asters, flanked with crystal candelabra holding golden tapers. Arranged on the table was a two tiered white cake, on which was placed a miniature bridal couple standing under an archway bearing a golden bell.

Mrs. Everett and Mrs. J. L. Cantrell presided at the refreshment table throughout the reception. Mrs. Troupe received guests and presided at the register, which was a white satin bound book, edged with gold.

Gifts, most of which had touches of gold, were displayed in the Cantrell bedroom, which was completely redecorated and refurbished as an anniversary surprise from their children.

At 6 o'clock dinner was served to about 45 members of the family and guests, and at that time the tiered wedding cake was cut. Pictures were made of the couple and guests throughout the evening.

TEXAS OWNED AND OPERATED

Gay Musicomedy At Ritz Theatre

By this time, the phrase "20th Century-Fox has done it again," has practically become the standard lead on any review of that studio's film musicals. And with good reason too; for, from "Alexander's Ragtime Band" through "State Fair" and "Do You Love Me," Mr. Zanuck's lot has turned out an unbroken succession of truly distinctive musicals with a highly gratifying entertainment score.

With "Centennial Summer," which opens today at the Ritz theatre, it is this reviewer's happy duty to report that 20th Century-Fox has surpassed even itself, setting a brilliant new standard in the musical field. Based on Albert E. Idell's utterly beguiling best-seller, filled with the wondrous music of Jerome Kern, and a glitter with superb performances by an all-star cast, this Technicolor hit is a sheer and unforgettable delight from start to finish.

Producer-Director Otto Preminger has assembled the perfect cast to bring this story to sparkling screen life. Jeanne Crain is starchy-eyed "Julia"; Cornel Wilde is seen as "Phillippe," the fascinating Frenchman who learns about love in Philadelphia; sultry Linda Darnell is Jeanne's man-grabbing sister, "Edith"; William Eythe is "good old Ben"; Walter Brennan is the girls' irascible father; Constance Bennett, their sophisticated aunt, and Dorothy Gish makes a welcome return to the screen as the patient mother. Through their splendid portrayals and with the aid of a superb supporting cast, the amusing romantic adventures and misadventures of this charming Philadelphia family, during the Centennial Exposition of 1876, are unfolded with rare and entrancing excitement.

Jerome Kern's sparkling music for "Centennial Summer" is easily one of the most delightful scores ever written for a movie. Each of the eight scintillating hits brilliantly reflects Kern's wonderful way with a song, his genius in composing the kind of melodies America will always love. Heard in the film are: "All Through the Day," with lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II; "In Love In Vain," "The Right Romance," "Up With The Lark," "The Railroad Song" and "Long Live Our Free America" — all with lyrics by Leo Robin; and "Cinderella Sue," the lyrics for which were written by E. Y. Harburg. Truly, "Centennial Summer's" music is Jerome Kern's crowning glory.

Matching its music and stars, Producer Otto Preminger has given the film a stunning production, that captures the gay and colorful spirit of the era that saw this country's first world's fair. Michael Kanin wrote the witty, fast-moving screen play, based on the best-selling novel by Albert E. Idell.

Put "Centennial Summer" at the very top of your movie list; its rare music-and-story delight provides a truly thrilling and memorable motion picture treat.

APPEALING TURNER, TOUGH GUY GARFIELD — In a scene from their latest dramatic hit, "The Postman Always Rings Twice," opening today at the Lyric Theatre.

Shirley Temple Again On Screen

One of the most entertaining comedies to come out in recent months, "Kiss and Tell," starring Shirley Temple at the State theatre today and Monday, is a pleasant antidote to the overdose of death, disease and disaster in the current run of films.

Anyone who is not amused by the George Abbott production is in a bad way indeed, and had better run, not walk, to the nearest psychiatrist.

It is satisfying to be able to report that Shirley Temple, at 16, still possesses all the charm that made her the nation's favorite at six. She is now, as then, an actress of great natural ability. Richard Wallace's skilled direction, moreover, permits the audience to read the young lady's thoughts at those critical moments when inspiration descends upon her, to the ultimate consternation of her family and to the delight of the audience.

F. Hugh Herbert's film version of his stage success has the same quality which made Booth Tarkington's novels of adolescence so popular. It has the same background, too, a typical American small town. Herbert's humor, however, is more robust and certainly the central situation—that of a 15-year-old girl who leads her family to believe she is pregnant—borders on the risqué, but is handled so deftly, and the characters involved are so wholesome, that there is nothing in it to displease an adult audience.

A misunderstanding between neighbors sets the plot in motion. The daughters of the two families are devoted friends, though one of them is nearly 18, the other still in high school. When the elder of the two secretly marries her friend's brother, a soldier on a 72-hour furlough, and later dis-

Turner, Garfield Star At Lyric

Lana Turner more glamorously appealing than ever before. John Garfield in the most powerful role of his career. A strange explosive love story, an action-packed tale of romance, murder and ironic retribution. That's "The Postman Always Rings Twice," opening today at the Lyric.

This grimly dramatic James M. Cain best-seller is brought to the screen with every emotional and dramatic turn emphasized, co-starring Miss Turner and Garfield in their most significant roles to date.

Maxwell Bodenheim, American poet and novelist, had no formal schooling.

Cotton shipments in the crop year ended July 31 reached 3.3 million bales.

String Instruments Sought By Sheppard

Some 40 young people have indicated that they would be interested in taking necessary instruction at the Salvation Army for organizing a string band. Capt. Olvy Sheppard announced Saturday.

Anyone who has a string instrument, such as a guitar, mandolin, banjo, or any brass instrument, which is not in use was urged to contribute it to the Salvation Army. Instruction will be given at the Citadel, and the band will be organized. Capt. Sheppard urged that contributions be made immediately.

WHAT GIVES 'ROUND TOWN

By LEATRICE ROSS

Great preparations are afoot for Big Spring's annual rodeo, Aug. 7-10. Which, in so many words, means frayed Levi pants, vari-colored shirts, ten gallon hats and other clothing peculiarities are back.

In an acceptable western costume, Jim Bob Chaney, Tip Anderson and Bill Merrick played official rodeo boosters Wednesday and went along with the motorcade to neighboring towns. If you didn't see Bill's performance downtown later that evening, you were spared a shock. For Bill was wholly alien with a be-blacked face, cotton-string-like ebon hair, and tattered and bagging garb. He shuffled into place behind the mike and made with the funny words to rival a Ringling, Barnum and Bailey clown.

Jim Bob Chaney plans to enter calf roping competition along with others of the town, including Ray White and Harry Middleton.

Eve White is home for a few weeks from McKinney (Tex.) school of nursing. While enroute here, Eve stopped in Dallas where Robert Walker was due for a personal appearance. Walker told the audience amusing incidents concerning the filming of "Her Highness and the Bellboy" which show Jennifer Jones also was there for appearances, but Eve only got to catch a glimpse of the star as Jennifer boarded a cab.

Eve will begin a surgery assistant course when she returns to her studies in about a week.

The carnival suffered no lack of attention this week. From atop the ferris wheel the throng was in full view. . . . Noel Hull, Billie Anderson, Don Burnam, Jean Johnson, Bobbie Bobb, Nina Curry, Wilbur Sides, "Legs" Thomas and Gerald Harris plodded the grounds undecided on which ride to attempt. . . . Jean Cannon, Ann Meador, Robert Coffee, Betty O'Brien, Anita Mason, Charlene Tucker and Julia Cochran took in every thing offered. . . . Billy Yater and Loretta Rush sought to make a haul at bingo. . . . Donald Williams, Jimmy Smith, Bob-burg and Harold Berry could not be persuaded that a certain ride would not make them ill.

. . . Keith Slaughter and Ralph Wilson patiently stood and watched George Nell's prowess at knocking over dolls.

Mary Ann Goodson, Marie Thames, Sam and Olney Thurman, Dickie Cloud, Don Woods and Paul Shaffer dined recently in the Dub Thurman home at an ice cream feast for Barbara Thurman. Barbara is an out of town visitor.

Jo Ellen and Martha Wise are in Big Spring sort of by a stroke of fate. The Wise family was enroute to California when their car suffered a breakdown. Now they await a new car or a new motor before they can be off again. The Wises are former residents.

With plans to form a boxing team about seven boys are eager to get underway in the leather-swinging arts, begun this week under trainer Travis Griffin. Among those who can talk of absolutely nothing else we hear Johnnie Hooper, James Thomas, Billy Eppier, Billy Carlisle, Billy Whittington and Donald Webb.

Some of the crowd that virtually obscured the sidewalk around Nathan's on that store's opening day were Dale McComb, Betty Lou McGinnis, Mary Nell Cook and Joyce Jones. Jerry Staha was presented with a coveted watch. Ramona Sneed also came off with a bracelet.

Ramona and Sonia Weaver, Marlene Burnett and Joe Bruce Cunningham are frequent readers in the Howard County library. There is also a surprising number of pre-college students who come in and thumb through the encyclopedias reading up on their chosen fields. . . . Seen every now and then in the Book Stall and other shops are Lina Jane Wolfe, Jo Nelle Sikes and Carolyn Cantrell.

But persons who find their evenings dull and their books dry might take up painting. Like Joyce Reagan for example. Joyce usually paints at night, frequently in the living room. It takes several months to complete a canvas, Joyce says. She also reveals that she is not smitten with any supernatural urge to paint when she sees something. She just paints. . . . Billie Bates is discovered to try her genius in oils, too. She sketches florals on glassware, gives them to her friends. Billie admits that she sometimes yields to inspiration.

Carol Lee Rains comes to us new from Oklahoma. She will be a junior in high school in the fall.

Erynn Wright, Jane Stripling, Mattie Queen, Mary Gerald Robbins, Betty Lou Huett, Jean Pearce, Rose Nell Parks and Ann Curry journeyed to Sweetwater last weekend in a truck, all out for a day of boating, swimming, fishing, and eating. The fish catch was not available.

Mickey Casey is mighty with the commercial these days. Mickey is manager of the Pronto Pup sandwich stand. He is assisted by Jimmy Morehead who in turn is assisted by James Brooks. Don Wilkes' position is unexplained.

Melba Dean Anderson, Tip Anderson, Gil Barnett, Carol Conley, Jim Bob Chaney and Billie Chesel were among those who watched the softball exhibition Tuesday night. . . . After the games several went with Dot Wasson, who offered them hamburgers at her house. Vivien Middleton, Lillian Tamsitt, and Moe Madison were in the group.

Dis-a and dat-a: Nancy Thompson is back in town for a while. Nancy lives in Abilene now. . . . Barry Mason of Harlingen is here to see his cousin, Donald Phillips. . . . Wilma Jo Taylor has been on vacation to Ruidoso. . . . Camille Inkman was in the record shop Wednesday shopping for latest discs.

TRY THIS AMAZING HOME RECIPE TO TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Right in Your Own Home, You Can Lose Pounds of Excess Weight Without Starvation Diet or Strenuous Exercise

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all, and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drug-gist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcenate (formerly called Barcel Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grape-fruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bot-tle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Perhaps you are overweight due to over indulgence in food or the wrong kind of food. With the Barcenate home recipe method, you do not have to starve yourself or go hungry. Just follow the simple instructions given on the label and you should get satisfactory results quickly. The very first pint you make up should show results. Why not win down your figure without a lot of fuss and bother? Try the Barcenate way. Wear your streamlined frocks and slacks gracefully. Remember, if the very first bottle of Barcenate doesn't show you the sensible way to lose weight, your money will be re-fund.

Voters Have Made Their Choice.

Although they will go to the polls again on the 24th of this month to write a final verdict, there is ample evidence that the people of Texas already have made their choice for governor.

Almost unparalleled in this state's political history was the amazing shift of sentiment to Beauford Jester in the last days of the July campaign. There was a marked indecision among the electorate as a whole in June and early July, but when the voters did make up their minds, their minds agreed on Jester.

As a consequence, he emerged far ahead of the field, and had nearly 150,000 votes plurality over his nearest opponent, Dr. Homer P. Rainey. Jester already has been given assurance of John Lee Smith's support in the second primary, and it is a certainty that a big block of the Smith votes will go to Jester. From the nature of the initial campaign, it is reasonable to assume that Jester also will get the bulk of the Grover Sellers vote. Added to his own wide following, these factors make it an odds-on bet that Jester's nomination will be effected on August 24.

There is an additional factor that Jester has campaigned temperately and reasonably, without bitterness and without resorting to demagoguery. He has antagonized no factions, has stirred up no strife, but has preferred to put forward his beliefs as to what would promote the welfare and prosperity of every Texan.

He has made forthright statements of his policies that are sound and achievable, has made no drastic promises that cannot be kept.

In these days of confusion and uncertainty, Jester has remained, throughout his campaigning, calm, determined and confident. All these are factors that count with Texas people concerned with unity and orderly progress for their state.

These are some of the things that put Jester at the top of the ticket last month, and undoubtedly will keep him there through the tabulation of the second primary.

Basis For Molding Public Opinion

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

A backwash of the comeback of Gene Talmadge as governor of Georgia, on a platform of reaction and bigotry, was the forced apology of the editor of a newspaper at Thomaston for certain editorial remarks he had printed on the recent campaign.

The editor had commented: "In the country counties where ignorance and prejudice rule and there is a negro problem, 'Old Gene' got his big votes, but in the city counties where education and enlightenment reign Carmichael piled up a huge vote."

A crowd of men milled around the newspaper office, obviously in an ugly mood, and went away only when the editor acceded to their demand that he apologize.

The Washington Post comments that this "mob action" served to prove the correctness of the editor's opinion, and takes a dim view of the incident as "an organized attempt to muzzle criticism in the worst fascist manner." It "must be viewed as a dark omen of things to come by the 125 Georgia newspapers which opposed Talmadge's gubernatorial campaign."

Ostensibly the "mob" resented the editor's reference to "country counties where ignorance and prejudice rule," and demanded an apology on that ground. The phrasing was unfortunate in two particulars: people resent being classed as yokels simply because they live in the country, and they resent even more being denounced as ignorant and prejudiced.

Had the editor been less careless in his choice of phrasing, he would have been in position to stand up to the mob and tell it to go to thunder. But of course if his phrasing had been more felicitous, there would have been no demand for apology.

We cannot conceive of a man who stands on firm ground, conscious that his criticism has been

Lobbyists Now Forced Out In Open

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two stories on the anti-lobby act which congress passed but which will leave a lot of people wondering.)

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Congress has passed an act to make lobbyists come out in the open. Anyone—individual or organization—who tries to influence congressmen should read this act carefully.

It is so worded that it may cover people who at this minute don't consider themselves lobbyists.

This act is part of the bill which congress passed to modernize itself. But the big question about it is: Who's a lobbyist?

Any lobbyist must register with the secretary of the senate, Leslie Biffle, and with the clerk of the house, South Trimble.

Right now neither Biffle nor Trimble can say who must register.

But Biffle says he believes it is his responsibility—since lobbyists must register with him—to decide who must register.

He says that with the help of lawyers he will try to draw up a clarification of the law and make this clarification known to the public.

Trimble doesn't share Biffle's view. He says he has no intention of trying to decide who must register with him.

He says he believes such a decision is a job for the department of justice which will have to prosecute any lobbyist who fails to register.

Any lobbyist failing to register can be prosecuted in federal court and, if convicted, fined $5,000 and given one year in jail.

If a lobbyist is convicted of violating the law by failing to register, then for three years he cannot do any lobbying.

If he does lobby in that period, he can be prosecuted again and, if convicted, be fined $10,000 and jailed for five years.

A lobbyist—whether an individual, partnership, committee, association, corporation or any other organization or group of persons—who receives money for the principal purpose of influencing legislation must do this:

1. Keep a "detailed and exact" account of all money received. This record must be kept by the lobbyist for two years.
2. Report to the clerk of the house and the senate secretary the name and address of every person contributing $500 or more to the lobbyist.
3. Report to the clerk and secretary the name and address of every person to whom the lobbyist pays $10 or more.

The reports—in No. 2 and No. 3 above—will be made a public record by the clerk and secretary. Men who had a major share in shaping the language of the act say it is aimed at forcing real lobbyists into the open.

They say the language was left unprecise purposely in an effort not to provide loopholes.

But because the language is so general, the department of justice sooner or later may have to prosecute some one, or some organization, and eventually get an interpretation from the supreme court.

The act does make some exceptions—people who can try to influence legislation but don't have to register—but even here the language is not too clear except that it says newspapers are exempt.

Nazis Big Attraction

NUERNBERG, Germany, (AP)—The 21 members of the vanished Nazi hierarchy being tried here for war crimes have become the biggest tourist attraction in Germany.

They don't like it.

At each recess spectators crowd to the railing to get as close a look as possible at the men whose empire has come down to a prison cell and a seat in a courtroom box.

"Look at Hess!" someone exclaims audibly. "Look at Julius Streicher, he's eating a piece of bread!"

Particularly maddening to the defendants are spectators who stare at them through binoculars. This so enrages Alfred Jodl, the lean red-nosed former chief of staff of the German general staff, that on occasion he screws his hands together around his eyes as if he held a pair of field glasses himself and glares back at the offending onlooker, jabbering angrily in German the while.

This performance always brings an audience laugh, and angers Jodl even more.

Their long confinement has broken the cockiness of most defendants. They all have had a chance to tell their stories, and now as the purple or black-robed German defense attorneys present their final summaries, the defendants sit dully or stare moodily around the room.

Hermann Goering remains the most virile, commanding presence, and the one who has won most courtroom respect because of his lack of hypocrisy and his continued allegiance to his dead Fuehrer.

Goering has an almost benevolent profile, but when he turns his head you get a sudden shock as if you had dived into a woodland pool and came up to find yourself staring into the leering face of a satyr. The eyes have a thyroid intensity, the mouth holds a voluptuous cruelty, and the skin of his cheeks hangs loosely over the lost fat.

Physicians have weaned him from the narcotics habit. He sits hunched forward with an American army blanket wrapped around his body. Scatica troubles him.

"He has lost interest," one courtroom attendant told me "since his attempt failed to create a legend around Hitler. He feels the other defendants let him down."

Now when a German attorney speaks disparagingly of Hitler as a man who befuddled his followers and led his nation to ruin, Goering cups his face in his hands and slowly shakes his head.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Attlee Wants US Help In Palestine

PARIS (by cable) — The most important conversation of the entire Paris conference occurred not in the gold-bedecked hall of the palace of Luxembourg, but in a private dining room when Jimmy Byrnes sat down with British Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

Significantly they called in not treaty experts, but President Truman's special Palestine commissioner, Henry Grady; and this is what they talked about:

Attlee proposed to Byrnes that England would play ball with the USA on the plan to unify Germany, provided the USA, in turn, would play ball with Britain on its plan to partition Palestine.

At first, Byrnes winced at this trade. He told the mild-mannered prime minister of England quite frankly that he had direct orders from his boss in the White House against any partition of Palestine. He added, however, that he believed he could convince Mr. Truman of the wisdom of the trade. Tentatively, therefore, Byrnes accepted the Palestine-Germany swap, subject to White House approval.

But he also asked Attlee to name a definite date for moving the Jews out of Europe. Attlee promised action by September and then proceeded to put the heat on Byrnes for an early White House okay on the entire deal.

This puts Truman very much on a spot, since Jewish leaders in the United States vigorously oppose the division of Palestine into separate Jewish and Arab states. On the other hand, Truman doesn't like to repudiate his secretary of state. So he's between the devil and the deep blue sea.

Note—It is believed that Attlee came from London not so much because of Bevin's alleged illness, but to put over this Palestine-German deal. He considers it extremely important.

Official "Leak" Policy

Shortly after Jimmie Byrnes became secretary of state he got Washington newsmen reproaching him by canceling the daily press conferences which secretaries of state had held ever since the days of Charles Evans Hughes and by further refusing to answer questions on such rare occasions as he did see the press.

Almost a year has passed since then—a year in which Jimmie Byrnes has learned a lot. Among other things he has learned that a well-informed public is his best ally when it comes to writing the peace and that he can't get a well-informed public without a well-informed press.

Jimmie came around to this point of view several weeks ago when he established an official "leak" policy. Having discovered that the Russians were "leaking" to the press, the honorable Mr. Byrnes decided to outleak the Russians. To this end, his aides started holding amazingly frank press conferences. Almost nothing was held back. A play-by-play account of all secret sessions was given to newsmen.

Naturally, the Russians heard about this but Mr. Byrnes didn't seem to care much if they did. He was convinced his treaty policy was right and he wasn't afraid to have the world know about it. The climax came this week when the US secretary of state made the unprecedented move of proposing that all meetings of the vital rules committee at the conference here be open to the press. Before the delegates could recover from their astonishment, they were knocked for another loop when M. Molotov supported Byrnes' motion. The Russian foreign minister opined that, since the press had garbled Russia's position on the treaties, it was much better to have the press attend the hitherto secret committee meetings.

Thus was Woodrow Wilson's goal of open covenants openly arrived at. Deserted by its own author at Paris in 1919, the goal was finally achieved by James F. Byrnes at another peace conference in the same city 27 years later.

Intercepted Cable

From the intercepted cable department: Senator Burt Wheeler seems to blame his defeat in the Montana primaries partly to the fact that he was used by the Nazis as a political tool against F.D.R. in 1944. On July 15, one day before the Montana primary, Wheeler sent the following cable to Justice Robert Jackson in Nuernberg, Germany:

"Drew Pearson's broadcast yesterday refers to reports based on Goering testimony, charging a plot in which W. R. Davis allegedly told Goering that Senator Wheeler was another who could be counted on to help defeat Roosevelt and that I used propaganda prepared in Germany in my speeches. Earnestly appreciate an answer immediately to Butte whether any of these allegations are known to you or are a matter of record. (signed) Burton K. Wheeler."

Justice Jackson, busy with his war crimes prosecution, waited two days and then replied inconclusively. The real fact is that the justice department has a large dossier of evidence on various Americans who were used by the Nazis, including not only Wheeler but John L. Lewis.

Though Wheeler is given the benefit of the doubt and probably didn't know he was being made a Nazi tool, his intervention on behalf of Nazi agent George Sylvester Viereck certainly puts him in a class by himself. When this columnist exposed the relations between Viereck and Senator Lundeen of Minnesota, Wheeler attacked this writer on the senate

Conference Voting Line-Up

Here is the first secret vote of the peace conference for and against Russia. You can make a note of this line-up and be fairly sure it will remain exactly the same all during the Paris session, with one exception—Norway. The pro-Soviet countries, as shown by the way they voted on the chairmanship of the rules committee, are White Russia, the Ukraine, Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Norway and the Soviet Union. They will go down the line for Russia on all balloting. The following group voted against Russia and can be counted on to follow that line regularly: Great Britain, China, Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Ethiopia, Greece, Brazil, France, India, the Netherlands, South Africa and the USA.

Belgium, usually anti-Russian, abstained from voting because its man, Paul-Henri Spaak, was up for chairman.

When you see this 13 to 7 line-up you can understand why Russia wants a two-thirds rule instead of majority rule.

Note—the big surprise of recent conferences has been Norway's support of Russia. In the New York United Nations meetings, Secretary General Trygve Lie frequently leaned toward the Russians, especially in the Iran dispute. Reason is that Norway, lying close to Russia, is worried sick over possible invasion. (Copyright, 1946, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Rainey Faces Tough, Uphill Fight: Losers' Supporters In Jester Camp

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll
Austin, Aug. 3—This week, in the aftermath of the first democratic primary July 27, the voters of Texas are realigning themselves in their choices for governor: will it be Beauford Jester or Homer P. Rainey in the runoff?

Thousands of people voted for candidates other than Jester or Rainey in the July primary, mostly for Jerry Sadler, Grover Sellers, and John Lee Smith. The direction in which these Sadler, Sellers and Smith voters go in the next few weeks will determine the winner Aug. 24.

Many of these "losing" voters have had their second favorites for some time already. The Texas Poll has been asking this question in repeated surveys: "Supposing Jester and Rainey are ahead in the first primary—which of the two do you think you might favor in the runoff election—Jester or Rainey?" Here are the results of the latest poll, completed three days before the first primary:

AMONG SADLER'S SUPPORTERS:
70% said they might favor Jester.
25% said they might favor Rainey.

AMONG SELLERS' SUPPORTERS:
77% said they might favor Jester.
13% said they might favor Rainey.
10% said they were undecided.

AMONG SMITH'S SUPPORTERS:
75% said they might favor Jester.
15% said they might favor Rainey.
10% said they were undecided.

Supporters of the other minor candidates indicated their allegiance would be split, Rainey perhaps getting the edge.

The above figures seem to spell out a tough, uphill fight for Homer P. Rainey. His and Jester's campaigns during August, of course, may influence voters into their respective camps. Whether Jester can keep all or most of the people already well disposed toward him remains to be seen.

Identical Twins Get In Trouble In Nylon Lines

People and their problems: Ella Fay Stegall of Dallas gets in a nylon line, waits, and gets her hair. But Betty Ray, her sister, just gets a bawling out from the clerk who snaps, "You can't come through here twice!"

Ella Fay and Betty Ray are identical twins. They make it more confusing by dressing alike. Sometimes it boomerangs, like in nylon lines.

Man Fined On Charge Of Disturbing Peace

H. T. Moore was a more sober but poorer individual when he departed the county jail Saturday morning.

Members of the sheriff's office said he had wrecked the interior of a house trailer in which he was living. When officers picked him up in the west end of town Friday, he told them he had only 11 cents and a few personal papers on him.

His wife, who filed the complaint, thought differently, however, and told police about it. When the authorities approached him again, he readily produced a pay check.

Entering a plea of guilty to the charge of creating a disturbance and drunkenness, Moore was fined $18, including costs, in justice court.

he said recently. "I guess I'll die here."
Two days later he did. Sitting in his chair, chatting amiably with friends, he slumped over and died.

Here 'n— There

Nature has outsmarted some of those who hang out around the east entrance to the courthouse. Ordinarily, fruit on the peach tree there doesn't have a chance to mature, but this year a good crop put out in the top where it can't be reached.

Commissioner John J. Allan, Chicago, commander of the Salvation Army in 11 midwestern states, has been appointed chief of staff of the International Salvation Army by Gen. Albert Osborn. He is the first native born American named to this high post and reports to his post, which is second in command, on Sept. 7 in London. Allan was the first Salvation Army chaplain with Yank forces in World War I and had a big part in shaping the USO in World War II.

The Nashville Tennessean is to feature Francis Grandstaff, prisoner in the Tennessee state prison, in a feature spread scheduled to be released on Aug. 18. Grandstaff has written a cantata entitled "Big Spring" and inspired by the book of the same name, written by Shine Philips, with whom he had correspondence after reading the volume.

Another Big Spring resident has received his discharge from the army. He is Sgt. Charles M. Campbell, 400 Abrams street, who was cleared this past week through the Personnel Center at Fort Sam Houston.

Soviet Political "Climate" Shows Three Trends Evident In Red Regime

By JOSEPH ALSOP

PARIS, Aug. 3—At some moment in the future, as yet unascertained, Moscow will give the answer to the question, "Peace or War?" Most of the foreign ministers of allied nations now assembled here are men who tend to be dwarfed by the vast processes of modern history. But few are stupid. Not one supposes that a solid peace will be secured by this odd peace conference, which is only a phase of the post-war border disputes between the western and Soviet political systems.

That is why American and British foreign policy is based on the expectation—or at least the hope—of a change in Soviet policy which will permit the nations to live in friendship together. And that is why the subject most discussed in the dreary corridors of the Luxembourg Palace is not the course of events at this conference, but the riddle of Soviet aims. You cannot obtain a decisive answer to the riddle, but at any rate you can hear more well-informed speculation than anywhere else in the world. You can hear also a few items of solid evidence which are of more interest than the best guesses.

Item One: The exile of the great Zhukov to the command of the garrison at Odessa is only the most spectacular development in the retreat of the generals into obscurity. Long before Zhukov, Timoshenko had also been exiled to the command of a distant garrison. Rokossovsky, who was already under a political cloud before the war, is now tipped by the wisecracks as a good prospect for public or private extinction. He has talked too much, too often with foreigners, and too critically of the regime. And just to add the correct note of ironic comedy to this grim process, the aged Voroshilov is reported to have been transferred from the sphere of war to that of culture and the arts.

Item Two: The harshness of the new five-year plan is infinitely greater than one has been led to suppose. All sorts of figures are quoted by the diplomats here.

One of these, which is no doubt exaggerated but nevertheless symptomatic, is that the new plan contemplates an allowance of one pound of butter per Soviet citizen per year. The point is that while no detailed figures are available, no one questions that the masters of the Kremlin have embarked on a policy of putting guns further ahead of butter than has ever been dreamed of before.

At the same time, all the evidence suggests that for the present the Soviet state is in a condition of serious military weakness. The facade of victory is there. But behind the facade there are realities, generally agreed upon, of shortages of such essential raw materials as oil and breakdowns resulting from war in many enterprises of vital industrial production.

In addition to the terrible new weapons of total destruction, moreover, there are some types of more familiar armament such as long-range and high altitude aircraft which the Soviet state is only now beginning to manufacture.

Item three: The first item is an aspect of a process of which the second item, intensive rearmament, is in part the purpose. The iron grip of the secret police—the dreaded NKVD which has now been reorganized and given another new name—has been immensely tightened.

This was necessary not only for rearmament but also in order to cure the ravages of war upon the Soviet system as a whole. It is too often forgotten that the Russian stooge of Hitler, General Vlasov, was able to recruit an army of more than one million Soviet citizens to fight against the motherland.

This sort of thing, plus such problems as the disillusionment of the loyal Soviet forces who have seen Europe, plus the Soviet military weakness, adds up to an explanation of the tightened grip of the secret police. As to the fact that the secret police have never exercised their power more ruthlessly, few of the innumerable qualified observers here have any doubt. The regime of iron is harsher than ever before in every respect, from the penalties for indiscrete intercourse with any foreigner to the briskness with which examples are made of those who wander into error.

Such is the current political climate within the Soviet state, as the best qualified men at this reunion of best guessers from all over the world now describe it. It hardly seems to hold out that hope for a change in direction of Soviet policy, towards closer collaboration with the western world, which is the basis of the present foreign planning of the western nations. But whether any such change is possible under the circumstances deserves more careful examination on another occasion.

KEEPING COOL—Four Dallas, Tex., beauties keep cool at a swimming pool at Vickery, Tex., on a sun and a half of ice which later was placed in the pool to cool the water when the thermometer rose to around the 100-degree mark for several days. The girls are (left to right) Evelyn Rohde, Jean Oliver, Joyce Buckmaster and Joy Hamilton.
