FUTURE WEATHER VITAL FACTOR

Heavy Rains Have Hampered Planting Of Crops In South

ATLANTA, March 31. (AP)—Down South where the sugar cane grows it has been raining heavily—much too heavily.

In between the cane fields of Louisiana and Florida and northward along Dixie's sprawling cotton belt the rain also has come down in torrents. The same was true in the more northerly states of Kentucky and Virginia where grain, livestock, tobacco, peanuts and fruits are major crops.

The weather was wet, very wet, when the year began. It stayed that way for weeks and months. It was especially bad early in February. By mid-March in Georgia, livestock were dying of pneumonia. Fields were unplowed, roads were sodden and miry.

Finally, the spring sun did shine. But the farmers and their helpers were from two weeks to a month behind with their spring work.

Now farm hands and owners are busy all day and part of the night, eager to make their full contribution to the nation in such things as:

Cotton, tobacco, peanuts, peaches, watermelons, citrus fruits, strawberries, yams, broilers, apples, sugar cane, rice, fresh vegetables of many varieties, Irish potatoes, beef, pork and some grain and corn.

These and dozens of other items for the nation's pantry, wardrobe and what have you—they are the products of the farm men and women of the southland.

And what are the prospects for 1948? Well, it's hard to say. It will depend on the weather from here on out. It will depend on how well Dixie's farmers fare in the age-old battle with bugs, plant diseases and such problems as help machinery and fertilizer—to name only a few.

Generally, the outlook is from fair to good, depending, of course, on developments.

Tobacco, a tremendous money crop in seven southern states, will be grown this year on a greatly reduced acreage.

As for standard agricultural output, the South as a whole has long been a deficit area in meat, poultry and dairy products and feed-stuffs necessary to yield them. Leaders have preached a change, partly as a soil saving measure and partly as sound economy.

A sweeping movement towards more self-sufficiency in this respect now appears from Virginia to Louisiana. Old-time cotton farmers, especially in the hilly areas, are seeding fields to clovers, alfalfa, grasses and other legumes, developing pastures, grazing cattle herds and feeding poultry flocks. Reforestation of eroded, worn-out lands is booming.

But cotton is still king over most of Dixie.

Robert Stevens, in 1830, made a wooden model for America's first all-metal railroad rail. Later, as president of a New Jersey railroad, he experimented successfully with it.

New York City Plans Defense

NEW YORK, March 31. (AP)—Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallender has alerted key officials of the city's wartime civilian defense organization "to prepare for any eventuality."

Wallender announced the alert orders yesterday, one day after Fire Commissioner Frank J. Quayle disclosed that he had ordered partial revival of the war-born Fire Auxiliary corps.

"This does not mean that an emergency is imminent," Wallender said. "We are merely taking a realistic point of view, in view of reports of world conditions that are being printed in the newspapers."

From other city departments came these reports:

The health department effected a disaster mobilization plan some 60 days ago, Commissioner of Health Harry S. Mustard said.

Hospital aid plans are being worked out with the help of the city's medical societies, Dr. Edward M. Bernecker, hospitals commissioner, reported.

Meanwhile, Dr. Marcus D. Kogel, general medical superintendent of the city's hospital department, told the Queens Medical society last night that an atom bomb dropped, without warning on New York City would kill at least 100,000 persons outright, and result in the death of thousands of others from panic accidents and radiation.

LUFKIN, March 31. (AP)—The second paper-making machine installed at Southland Paper Mills, Inc., began production yesterday, E. L. Kurth, mill president, said. The mill is at Lufkin. Kurth said full production on the new machine would be delayed ten days or two weeks until a turbine used to drive the mill's expanded bank or pulpwood grinders is installed.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles, so the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, knobby, fretful, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains very special and potent attracting ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is 888 Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people 888 Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of 888 Tonic from your drug store today. 888 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Keyed TO BETTER LIVING... the home that is wired for Full Use of Electric Service!

There's a lot of thinking and planning being done now which will result in the building of many new homes and much remodeling and modernizing of existing homes during the coming spring and summer.

Right now, while all this thinking and planning is going on, is the time to make sure that the house you build, or the one you remodel, will be wired to provide for FULL USE of your electric service.

Without adequate wiring—enough circuits to provide plenty of outlets and switches for your electrical appliances without overloading and electric wires large enough to carry the increased load—your whole plan for making FULL USE of your electric service may be upset. Electrical appliances can efficiently do their job of saving you time, money and work only when they have an adequate wiring system from which to operate.

When you plan to build, remodel or add new electric appliances, consult your electrical contractor-dealer, architect or builder about adequate wiring.

Dodd Declares Men Must Learn To Live With Each Other Or Die With Each Other

Asserting that the world cannot live "half blighted and half bloated," Dr. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church in Shreveport, La., told Rotarians at the concluding session of the 127th district conference here Tuesday that "we have got to learn to live together, or die together."

The address of the internationally known minister who has a record of 25 years membership in Rotary International, climaxed the last conference of the present 127th district, and resolutions expressed regret but acknowledged necessity for partition of the territory.

Dr. Ira Wood, Littlefield, was presented as governor-nominee of the new 127th district and W. B. Todd, Fort Worth, of the 128th, which will be the east half.

Retiring District Governor J. F. McCulloch, Stamford, presented awards to the Abilene club for outstanding aims and objects program, to Lubbock for outstanding club service, and Canadian for conference attendance. Ironically, the Canadian members, having a long way to go in returning home, left in toto before the award was announced.

On behalf of the district, O. B. Sellers, Fort Worth, presented Mr. and Mrs. McCulloch with a 100-piece sterling silver set, observing that the governor's "humble, gracious manner has made him a huge success." Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haas, Omaha, Neb., also were presented with mementos of the conference, responded that they had never experienced "such hospitality and generosity as here in West Texas."

Among resolutions adopted were ones expressing appreciation to the Big Spring club for its entertainment and to McCulloch for his service as governor; thanking Haas for coming as representative of Rotary International's president; division of funds among the new districts; assessment and division of the $1 per capita conference tax and authorizing a conference financial statement.

Final figures showed 485 registrations from 54 of the 64 clubs of the district.

Dr. Dodd spoke at the all-conference luncheon in the Settles ballroom. Scoring what he called the confusions of the "militarists, press jingoists and greed-ists" for "creating hatreds," he said it was time that Rotary exert its powers as an international binder and lubricant. "We must begin at the base," he declared. "We must teach understanding to our children, and if we do not achieve it in our time, perhaps there'll be understanding in the next generation... There's understanding when we manifest the spirit of service. We in Rotary have got to live up to our ideal of service."

"I'm not concerned about the atom bomb," he cried, "but I am concerned with the character of the people who own and control the atom bomb."

Speaking of understanding, he felt that "we cannot buy good will; we must earn it through service, and the sooner we come closer to the living God, the closer we shall be drawn together in common brotherhood."

CAP Will Search For Missing Pilot

DALLAS, March 31. (AP)—One hundred Civil Air Patrol planes plan to take to the air Friday for a two-day search for a Dallas pilot missing in East Texas since last December.

Col. D. Harold Byrd, Texas wing commander of the CAP, said a final systematic search would be made for Pilot Eugene Holstein before spring leaf growth hides the ground.

Holstein disappeared after low ceilings prevented him from landing his plane at the Houston airport.

Group Steers Clear Of Civil Rights

BEAUMONT, March 31. (AP)—Delegates attending a district meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy here yesterday refused to go on record concerning the Truman civil rights program.

Dissenters said that such political matters are barred by the organization's constitution.

A motion condemning the civil rights program was made by Mrs. A. W. Lightfoot of Beaumont. She said she believed the matter was not constitutionally barred and that she would pursue it at a state convention in San Antonio in October.

The motion was ruled out here by Mrs. Whit Boyd of Houston, chairman, and Mrs. J. H. Dunavan of Houston, state president.

Service Earns What Money Can't Buy

Out of the Rotary conference just concluded here has come a dominant thought—repeated and repeated—that good will and understanding cannot be bought; they must be earned through service.

Surely, this is not a new thought nor a revolutionary one. It is so logical that it gains immediate mental acceptance because it simply recognizes human nature.

Yet in practice the story is quite different. For instance, this is the thing we have been trying to say in pointing out that it is not necessary or even wise to blow whistles every time we send a new batch of credits or goods abroad, or to stamp "gift from the U.S." on every grain of wheat.

For a time there was a very strong demand that the U.S. do a lot of breast beating about its aims, for it has been detected that many recipients did not know whence they came and because communities sought to gain some of the glory that might have been ours.

Unhappily, some of the support for the ERP is based upon the hope of buying gratitude and votes and democratic inclinations. To be sure, money and the goods it represents will be vital in the process of rehabilitation, but how much better would it be if the government and the people whom it represents would act with the idea of friendly and constructive help, to lift up for the sake of brotherhood and humanity. In such an attitude, we would earn what we cannot buy with all the plans in the world.

when the soil is broken, it must be given great care, else it will fester and dissipate. In virgin state, the centuries have put vegetable or organic matter into the soils. These serve as binders and as conduits for absorption. As we rob the soil by constantly drawing out without replacing, the organic matter leaves much more rapidly than even the essential mineral content.

The soil loses the substance which once caused it to cling together and to drink in moisture. The cycle is vicious for as it becomes impervious to moisture, chances for recapturing organic matter are diminished. Such soil is sick unto death.

So we need to take care of this resource. We will always have some wind, and perhaps some drifting, but we can, by sensible practices, reduce the amount of soil erosion by wind. If not, in a few decades, we may as well drift with the wind, too.

Necessity Of Curbing Soil Erosion

The editorial writer has an accepted formula with two alternates at his command, namely to either point with pride or view with alarm.

With sinuses clogged, eyes smarting and everything gritty, we thus view Tuesday's sandstorm with alarm.

In West Texas we have a way of joking about this phenomenon. In our looser moments we tell tenderfeet that we actually have a fondness for them. Nobody really does, however, but what most of us do accept them as an inevitability.

There's really nothing funny about a sand or duststorm, no more than there is about a person with violent sneezes or a dog with running fits. They are symptoms of an ailment.

The affliction might be called civilization, for it certainly brought the plow. But civilization presupposes that men ought to have enough intelligence to know that

Bogota Meet Is Of Vast Importance

The Inter-American conference which is opening today in ancient Bogota, Colombia, is regarded by many diplomatic observers as the most important meeting of its kind since the initial session at Washington in 1890 when the Pan-American union was organized.

Its importance lies in: (1) The world crisis caused by the fight between bolshevism and democracy calls for an overhauling of hemispheric solidarity; (2) Latin America has the urge for economic and political development.

So the 21 republics are hopeful of making the Inter-American system the strongest association of peace loving nations. It is recognized that the going may not be easy, for there are numerous controversial problems.

If we needed any other indication of its importance we should have it in the fact that not only Secretary of State Marshall but

Secretary of Commerce Harman will attend and Secretary of the Treasury Snyder will be on call.

There are many subjects on the agenda, but in the main they can be summed up under three objectives:

1. To increase economic cooperation.
 2. To reorganize the 58 year old Pan-American union as a regional branch of the United Nations.
 3. To set up machinery for settling disputes among American nations.
- In short, the conference is aiming at the creation of what has been described as the "little United Nations" of the Western Hemisphere.
- From the standpoint of the Latin American countries the economic aspect is the most important. They have come to the time when they want to develop their industries, whereas their economy thus far has been based on their role as suppliers of raw materials for the big industrial nations.

This economic urge naturally involves outside capital, and that presumably would come largely from the United States.

Another issue is the demand in important Latin American quarters for abolition of colonialism. Involved in this are the claims by Argentina and Chile to Antarctic territories which Britain also claims her own. Then there is the red hot dispute between Guatemala and England over British Honduras which Guatemala claims. Indeed, the argument involves all the colonial possessions of Britain, France and the Netherlands, including the West Indies, and such big areas as the three Guianas which now are largely undeveloped but undoubtedly possess vast riches.

Navajos Own Treasure Of Uranium

WASHINGTON.—It now looks as if the poverty-stricken Navajo Indians, trying to scratch a precarious living from the wastelands of Arizona and New Mexico, may own one of the most priceless pieces of property in the U.S.A.

For some time our chief worry in the production of atomic energy was the fact that all uranium deposits lay outside the United States. However, it now appears the Navajos have been tending their pitiful flocks above a hidden atomic treasure. For, upon the Navajo reservation in the upper corner of Arizona and New Mexico, the Vanadium Corporation of America has been quietly extracting uranium.

Further details regarding this operation must remain a military secret. However, one amazing fact can be revealed. So far, the Navajos haven't received one penny for the uranium taken from their land. Instead, the profits have been raked in by the Vanadium corporation.

The price which the atomic energy commission is paying the Vanadium corporation for uranium is also secret, but a member of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy predicted that the metal may become almost as precious as diamonds. Since the richest deposits are all outside the United States and could be cut off in case of war, this domestic supply becomes all the more valuable.

But the Navajos, sitting on one of nature's jackpots, so far haven't been able to collect a cent. Reason for this again is largely obscured by secrecy, and only part of the story can be told within the limits of national security.

For one thing, uranium does not exist in its pure form on the reservation but must be extracted by a by-product from vanadium. The only leases to dig for vanadium on Navajo territory—six in all—are held by the Vanadium corporation. These leases specify that the Indians will be paid 10 per cent royalty on all mineral compounds, except vanadium compounds. In the latter case, the royalty is stipulated as 10 per cent of the vanadium oxide, a metal used to toughen steel. Since uranium is part of the raw vanadium ore until processed, the company conceivably might get away with paying royalty only on the comparatively valueless vanadium oxide, not on the other raw vanadium out of which uranium comes.

However, the Indian service takes the view that uranium is a separate metal apart from vanadium, therefore is subject to the full 10 per cent royalty fee. But the amount of uranium taken from the reservation is unknown to the Indian service which hasn't any record of a single royalty payment to the Navajos for uranium. Yet the Vanadium corporation is known to have been extracting it for several years.

The Vanadium corporation declined all comment on the grounds that its uranium project is top secret. But the Atomic Energy commission informed this columnist that on the amount of royalty payments no secrecy is involved.

LEWIS WILL FIGHT
John L. Lewis has told close friends that he is set to go to the Supreme Court to test the constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley labor act.

Lewis firmly believes that the Taft-Hartley provision compelling workers to return to their jobs by injunction—if a strike endangers the nation's welfare—is unconstitutional.

Therefore, if an injunction is obtained against Lewis's striking United Mine Workers members, the mine labor boss intends to fight it right up to the Supreme Court.

"This is not so much a fight against mine operators," Lewis told an intimate. "It's a fight against the Taft-Hartley act. I want a showdown and I won't give up until I get one."

MACARTHUR'S CENSORSHIP
When Harry Truman was chairman of the Senate War Investigating committee he came near blasting one piece of wartime censorship. If he had, it would have cast a somewhat different light on one of his present political opponents—Douglas MacArthur. But he didn't.

War-time censorship sometimes operated in a peculiar manner. The manner in which U.S. planes were caught napping and burned on the ground at Pearl Harbor was known to the world and the military commanders responsible were severely reprimanded. But the manner in which General MacArthur's bombers were also caught napping at Manila and burned on the ground was censored.

Three hundred planes, sent to Manila at great sacrifice to U.S. Air Force in other areas, were lost as a result. MacArthur had been demanding that planes be sent him instead of going to beleaguered England, at that time unmercifully pounded by Nazi air attacks.

But though MacArthur had a special warning that the Japs were attacking, while Pearl Harbor didn't, he left his 300 planes helpless on the ground.

The Truman committee, discovering this fact, devoted two paragraphs to it in a quarterly report dated March 4, 1944. The copies of the report were in type and circulated confidentially to committee members, when three senators—Hatch of New Mexico and Connally of Texas, democrats; with Ball of Minnesota, republican—objected. Truman yielded to their objection and withdrew the criticism of MacArthur.

The two censored paragraphs read: "Censorship is an insult to the patriotism and intelligence of the American people. In the past, it has led to many unwise acts, such as the concealing of facts known to the enemy, and even the dissemination of distorted information. For example, the Japanese knew perfectly well our airplanes in the Philippines, but for two years the war department requested that it be kept secret from the public that 300 planes were destroyed on Philippine airfields a number of hours after the attack on Pearl Harbor was known.

"The loss was only recently made public, and there is at least a suspicion that part of the reason for requesting the committee to consider the information 'secret' was the desire to avoid recrimination by the public of the loss of 300 planes which would have been so valuable to the defense of the Philippines."

MERRY-GO-ROUND
Quoth Ex-Congressman Maury Maverick after returning to San Antonio following several months in Los Angeles: "I love my worst Texas enemy more than my best California friend."

Payne Ratner, ex-governor of Kansas, recently dropped in to see Capt. Howard Yeager, efficient aide to Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Louis Denfield, asked Yeager to use his influence with his father-in-law, Roy Bailey, publisher of the Salina, Kans., Journal, in favor of Sen. Arthur Capper. Ratner admitted Kansas didn't have much of a choice between Capper and his G.O.P. primary opponent, Andy Schoepel, but claimed Capper was the lesser of two evils. Replied Captain Yeager: "My job is the Navy, not running my father-in-law's politics."

Big Spring Backs Barnum

At one time or another in our lives, all of us have been mad. The more immune our position and dignity ought to make us, the bigger fools we make ourselves.

But in a community, one might think the pooling of many minds would discern the bug under the chip when confronted with a false scheme or false individual. Alas, it is not so.

Many years ago, I do not remember just when, there drifted into Big Spring two young men. Professing to be German ex-patriates, they worked their way into the confidence of a minister. They were, according to the story, exchange students from Germany. Nobody thought to ask if there was an exchange program going on with the Germans after Hitler came into power. It was in the middle of the depression and these characters were fresh and different and so they were welcome.

That, perhaps, is why they were invited to appear before all the service clubs. One of them, a Herr Fischer (even a fishy name) made little talks about the gymnasium (the German elementary school); how there was no co-education in his land; how they loved culture and the arts. Then he and his companion would play the piano, dwelling at great length and strength upon the basso profundo so that the uninitiate could not discern the crimes being committed on the treble.

Well, there was scarcely a meal at which these cheats were not feted. By the end of the week, such interest had been generated that it was announced that Sunday afternoon they would be presented in concert at the city auditorium (and we were faithfully reporting all this stuff, too). In addition, several churches booked them to say a few words from the pulpits that evening. At the concert a few of our music teachers smelled a musical rat in the renditions and said so. As I recall, it was Nell Frazier who muttered something about "fraud," and natives looked daggers at her.

The end of the story came that evening. The two appeared at the churches, excused themselves in each instance to hurry to another. But each time they took with them the evening offering and a supply of overcoats taken from church offices and ante-rooms while the naive congregation continued worship. Fischer and pal skipped town and were never heard of again. Neither were the offerings and overcoats.

The community had learned a lesson though, and it held for most of five or six years. Then came a Mr. Sampson who palmed himself off as representative of some fruit company, and thus got before the Lions club. Diet was his specialty, and in the space of a few minutes this silver-tongued soul re-established the bowels as the center of health. The Kiwanis club grabbed him up while he was hot, and perhaps some of the other clubs. Each time, Mr. Sampson, sold his arm had been twisted, after the doctors listened and looked and said it sounded phony, but the people all said they were just jealous.

And sure, enough, in a few days, here came warnings from some service club international offices warning them about this gastronomical humbug. Alas, he had gone.

So, we wouldn't say it won't happen again. The only thing of which we can be sure is that if some one raises a voice in righteous protest, the 95 per cent who are gullible will hoot them into silent submission until they have been hoodwinked. . . . but for good. —JOE PICKLE

Women On March Again

By ARTHUR EDSON (For HAL BOYLE)

WASHINGTON (E)—Women, bless them, are on the march. They want a new amendment to the Constitution—an equal rights amendment. And since women are persistent creatures, they may get it.

This amendment would declare: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state on account of sex."

Maybe you thought women had equality now, or possibly even more so. But there are 1,000 laws which set women apart from men. Some states limit the hours, and the places, a woman can work. In some towns a woman can't teach school if she marries.

Many states have different ages at which a boy and a girl can marry. In New Hampshire, for instance, a girl may marry at 13, while husbands under 14 must be thrown back.

An amendment would wipe out all these differences. Obviously not all women want to do this. They say these are protective laws, and that if the amendment were passed, women would lose more than they would gain.

These objectors would prefer to have a commission set up to look into the whole problem. The national woman's party doesn't agree with this at all. It says it has the support of women's organizations with a combined membership of 11,500,000.

Small item in an election year, the party thinks the amendment has a chance to pass Congress. Two years ago the amendment got a majority vote in the Senate, but lacked the two-thirds edge needed for proposed constitutional amendments.

Even if Congress approves, three-fourths of the states must say, "Me, too," before it becomes legal. Members of the national women's party appeared before a house judiciary subcommittee recently, and I dropped around to hear the arguments.

A little old woman, as perky as a Jenny Wren, was speaking. "I had five children when my husband died," she was saying, "and the oldest child was seven. I have made my own way, as a ticket taker on a railroad."

"Let me tell you that we working women don't want any special privileges. We don't want any protection."

"We working women can take care of ourselves."

She sat down, two women rushed up and kissed her, and Miss Anita P. Politzner, national chairman of the party, obligingly scribbled the little old lady's name for me.

"Mrs. Mary Murray of Brooklyn," wrote Miss Politzner, "fine woman."

Jessel Takes Film Part

HOLLYWOOD (E)—George Jessel, who has been producing pictures for the past few years, is going to appear before the camera for a change.

The comedian, now producing "Burlesque," plans an independent picture on the life of songwriter Fred Fisher and he'll also make an appearance in it. Jessel's last film work was during the transition from silent to sound. At that time, he was set to do the Warners film version of his stage hit, "The Jazz Singer." But disagreements arose and a guy named Al Jolson did the picture.

Betty Grable and Harry James decided not to buy a beach ball room, reasoning that the lame condition of the band business would make it a shaky venture. Harry has given up touring for awhile, devoting his time to local weekend dates and his air show.

Ty Power is a busy lad these days, this time with picture making. He was en route to Sun Valley for "That Wonderful Urge" locale the unfinished Irish picture tions. Then he returns to complete a fourth title in coming year. After finishing the two comedies, he heads for Rome and "Prince of Foxes" (if all goes well in Italian elections).

The Nation Today—James Marlow

John L. Follows Shakespeare School

WASHINGTON (E)—John L. Lewis... quotes the Bible, Shakespeare and Plato with ease. . . . A Washington paper said that on Sunday. And on Monday big John came through. He wrote note:

"Sir: . . . no action has been taken by this writer or the United Mine Workers of America, as such, which would fall within the purview of the oppressive statute under which you seek to function. Without indulging in analysis, it is a logical assumption that the cavilings of the bar and bench in their attempts to explicate this infamous enactment will consume a tedious time."

What he meant was: "I'm staying away because I haven't done anything—and neither have my miners—that's covered by the law. The lawyers will chew up a lot of time splitting hairs over what that law means."

But John, who pulls on the language like taffy, stretched it out. It was his way of telling the President's fact-finding board he wouldn't be around to talk about his tiff with the coal mine owners.

The Taft-Hartley law, now nine months old, says the President can set up fact-finders when there's a big strike in a big industry.

But John says his miners are not striking, they're just not working. And he doesn't like the Taft-Hartley law. So he took a crack at it in his note.

But what about Shakespeare? Some of the words in John's note were good enough for Shakespeare.

Like "tedious," John used it. So did Shakespeare in Richard II.

When John failed to appear Tuesday, the fact-finders got a Federal judge to order John to tell the court why.

John was being good Shakespeare when he used "statute" instead of law. Shakespeare used it in "Measure for Measure."

No other labor leader has tested the Taft-Hartley law the way John is doing now. If he doesn't show up in court, or his lawyers for him, the judge can make him an example — by jailing him for contempt.

It's a lead-pipe cinch Plato would have been unhappy about John's style. The Greek philosopher said pretty plainly: "Beauty of style and harmony and grace and good rhythm depend on simplicity."

And even though John's a student of the Bible, when he wrote that note to the board he must have forgotten that the book of Micah said:

"Write the vision and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it."

You can't run and read John. But who's John writing for: The board, the public or the miners? Maybe it's the miners.

They have plenty of time to sit down and read him. They're not doing anything right now.

Train Wreck Kills 50 To 70 Japanese

TOKYO, March 31 (AP)—Between 50 and 70 Japanese were reported killed today in a train wreck near Osaka.

Kyodo news agency said 50 Japanese had been killed. The U. S. Eighth Army later boosted the figure to 70, and said the wreckage still was being probed for bodies. Details were confused also.

Kyodo said the wreck occurred between Wakaeiwata and Hanazono on the Nara-Osaka line. It added that an electric connection broke and the train crashed when the brakes failed.

The Eighth Army reported that the electric train was stopped at a station near Osaka and was hit by a speeding express.

Rites Are Slated For Hamby Infant

West Virginia Takes School To Its 'Homebound' Children

By The Associated Press
CHARLESTON, W. Va. — At least 337 boys and girls in West Virginia dislike school vacations. They are the "homebounds" who get their learning in small doses from traveling teachers.

Infantile paralysis, heart trouble, whatever the cause, they're too sick to go to school. But their illness is physical, not mental. Their eagerness to learn is governed only by their physical strength.

That's the story told by H. Cliff Hamilton, Supervisor of the State Division of Elementary Schools. Taking school to children who are unable to attend classes is a growing thing throughout the United States, Hamilton says. West Virginia, he adds, "is leading the movement." It is a cooperative project of state and counties, limited at present only by the amount of money available. Last year there was $25,000. This year, there's $40,000. More could be used, Hamilton says. The state supplies the money. The counties supply the teachers.

For some of the stronger boys and girls the teacher may arrive twice a week, an hour at a time. For others, it may be half an hour, four times weekly. The controlling factor is the strength of the child. The lessons may be those of the first grade or of the senior year of high school.

Hamilton says "homework" must not be such as to overtax a child's strength, despite the desire of the youngsters for bigger and bigger assignments. "Tests," with their attendant tension must be kept to a minimum. But most of the homebounds who recover sufficiently to attend regular classes find they are abreast of the work.

Of the 123 teachers, 12 are full-time and 111 are part-time. The full-timers may have 12 youngsters under their supervision. The part-timers have one or two in the neighborhood.

Even with increased appropriations this year, it was necessary to say "no" to some applicants for the second semester, Hamilton says. But the per capita cost is less than for youngsters in regular classes.

Meeting Slated On Conservation

Members of county, state and government agricultural agencies will meet at the AAA office, Third and Scurry streets, at 1:30 p. m. Friday to make final recommendations on the 1949 agricultural conservation program.

Represented at the session will be the county committee, community committees, county agent, soil conservation service, U. S. experiment station and county farm bureau.

Committeemen of Community "A" are W. B. Puckett, Sam F. Buchanan and B. O. Brown while those attending as representatives from Community "B" will be H. O. Phillips, P. E. Little and B. M. Newton.

The county committee is composed of Willis Winters, R. D. Anderson and M. A. Loudamy.

SA Leader Inspects Local Youth Center

Maj. William Pike, secretary of Salvation Army work for young people in Texas, arrived here Wednesday morning for an inspection of young people's and youth center activities.

He was to spend the day in checking on facilities and program. At 8 p. m., Maj. Pike was scheduled to address a meeting of the united soldiers and friends of the Salvation Army in the Dora Roberts citadel.

RADIO THAT PRINTS NEWS

Miami Herald Starts First Automatic Facsimile Paper

MIAMI, Fla., March 31 (AP)—The Miami Herald announced today the start of the first fully automatic facsimile operation in the country. It is a radio that talks, writes or draws pictures—all by remote pushbutton control.

The operation is unique in that the Herald is the only newspaper which has developed and is offering complete automatic receiving sets, controlled by pushbutton from the studios of WQAM-FM in the Herald building.

Facsimile is the transmission of news and pictures by FM radio, and the automatic printing of these by special attachments to the home radio. Facsimile operations began in November, but the fully automatic phase started only two weeks ago. Five receivers have been placed in hotels, a utility company and a bank.

The sets, owned by the Herald has 77 receivers on order. All are to be modified in the newspaper's own laboratories.

Facsimile stations are operated by the Philadelphia Bulletin and the Philadelphia Inquirer. The New York Times has completed demonstrations prior to starting operations. Altogether, 54 newspapers have ordered equipment.

An attachment to the home radio, taking up about as much space as a record player, delivers a continuous series of pages 8 by 11½ inches on which are printed news and photographs.

Four facsimile editions are delivered daily, totaling 20 pages. The Herald uses the news report and wirephotos of the Associated Press for its transmissions.

Pleads Guilty To DWI Charge

William J. Smithe, taken into custody by members of the city police force Tuesday on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants, entered pleas of guilty to two charges in county court this morning and paid fines totaling $175 and costs.

Smithe was fined $75 and costs on the DWI count. He was also charged with carrying a dirk on his person and hit with a $100 fine by Judge Walton Morrison.

In other cases, Joseph Hollett Edwards, picked up by the city, was fined $100 and costs on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants while Jesus Mendoza, accused of theft, was fined $25 and sentenced to 20 days in jail.

Mendoza was accused of stealing a quantity of clothing.

Jeannette Mirsky, Author Of Book On Arctic, Has Never Been There

By ADELAIDE KERR

Jeannette Mirsky has never lived in an igloo or explored north of Buffalo. But she has written a history of Arctic exploration—"To the Arctic!"—which explorer Vilhjalmar Stefansson calls "The best so far written." It is a gripping colorful tale of Eskimos, ice, dogs, sleds and kayaks from the days of the Greeks and Vikings through Frobiisher and Hudson to Ellsworth and Schmidt.

Miss Mirsky, a Barnard College graduate and daughter of a New York dress manufacturer, started on the project partly because she soaks up news print as a sponge soaks up water. One morning, while racing through the newspapers, she read of the death of a famous arctic explorer and went to the library to read more of his exploits.

Other stories of northern exploration fascinated her and eventually she read for four years—eight hours a day, six days a week.

Then she wrote 300,000 words about what she had read and sent them to a publishing friend. The friend wired: "I'm keeping the bundle; now write the book." It was published in 1934 as "To the North" and withdrawn when explorer Frederick Cook threatened libel action. After Cook's death, it was brought up to date and reprinted recently for the first time.

"Air power has made the Arctic the Mediterranean of the twentieth century world," Miss Mirsky says, her hazel eyes sparkling. "The three major powers—the United States, the U. S. S. R. and the British commonwealth have land abutting on it. Its present holds the future of the world."

"We hear much talk of arctic warfare these days. But before we can conquer an enemy there we need to conquer the country. The problems of doing so are terrific."

"The Russians are much further awake on this than we are. They have colonies living and working in the arctic. They are exploiting the minerals and forests. There are towns and tremendous lumbering centers, where once there was nothing. They are studying the problems of Arctic dwellings and are growing green vegetables in hot houses—all with the idea of greater comfort in Arctic living. They are also cultivating the northern people and learning from them."

Miss Mirsky (now the wife of a New York dress manufacturer, Edward Ginsburg) is a friendly, vivacious, fresh-cheeked woman with a lively interest in "what makes the wheels go around." The research she did on Eskimos in her work on the Arctic, aroused her interest in primitive peoples. So, in 1935 she delved into study of anthropology at Columbia University.

Two years later went to Guatemala for several months' study of women and children in a small Indian village near Coban.

During the war years she lived in Greenville, South Carolina, where her husband's business was located and wrote "The Westward Crossings," published in 1946. It is a story of North America from the time of Columbus to Lewis and Clark.

While living in the south Miss Mirsky became interested in the inventions of Eli Whitney (originator of the cotton gin). So her next project will be a study of the effect of Whitney's inventive genius on life in the United States. It will be made under a Guggenheim fellowship which Miss Mirsky received in 1947.

Big Spring Rebekah Lodge
Members of the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 had their quarterly social Tuesday evening in the IOOF hall.

Two demonstrators were present for the evening.

Approximately 100 persons were present.

Enforcement Stressed In Safety Addresses Before Lions Club
Education, engineering and enforcement—with more emphasis on the latter, is needed in Texas to combat a rising tide of accidents, speakers before the Lions club said Wednesday.

Roy Reeder pointed out that traffic accidents last year accounted for 2,000 deaths in Texas, 60,000 injuries, and an $80 million property damage. Total accidental deaths stood at 3,000 for the year and the economic loss at $170 millions.

In traffic and industrial mishaps, 85 per cent of the mishaps are caused by 15 per cent of the people, Jack Y. Smith said. J. H. Greene presided and lauded the address of George T. Thomas, county attorney, at the recent state safety conference.

Music was furnished by Larry Evans, cornetist, accompanied by Mrs. Willoughby.

Lion Pouters Out As March Goes Quietly
The lion having petered out in a day-long dust storm Tuesday, March exited today like a lamb.

Where sustained winds approaching 80 miles per hour threw up a heavy dust pall until late Tuesday night, Wednesday dawned clear and comparatively still.

The storm was conceded to be the worst in many years, possibly since the choking days of the dust bowl ravages.

Chief damage, however, was to sinuses, morale and disposition. Unseen but probably real nevertheless, was damage to farms from erosion.

San'a, capital of Yemen, is a city of miniature skyscrapers, some reaching seven stories in height. These have been a traditional style of architecture since before the time of Christ.

A Roman slave, when freed, wore a ring of iron; gold rings were badges of citizenship.

High Heel Slippers Make Spring Plans
Plans were made for the spring formal to be held May 7 in the American Legion club house by members of the High Heel Slipper club Tuesday evening in the home of Ellen McLaughlin.

The bathing beauty review which is to be held in May was also discussed.

Nancy Hopper is to be the next hostess.

1905 Hyperion Club
The 1905 Hyperion Club will meet in the home of Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, 108 Cedar Road, on Saturday at 3 p. m., instead of with Mrs. E. B. McCormick as originally announced.

Rainbow Girls Are Having Silver Tea
Members of the Order of Rainbow for Girls are having a silver tea in the home of Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Jr., 1804 Runnels from 7-8 p. m. Thursday evening.

The tea is to be in honor of the founder of the Order and the proceeds are to be used for benevolent institutions supported by the Eastern Star and Masonic lodges.

All present and former members of Rainbow, their mothers and others interested in the Rainbows are invited to attend.

South Ward P-TA Will Hear Louise Horton
Louise Horton is to give a health talk as the guest speaker at South Ward Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon at 3:30.

Musical selections will be given by Jolene Reynolds, Reba Jennings, Jane Watson and Rodna Mae Lamb accompanied by Mrs. H. M. Jarratt.

An executive meeting will be held at 3 p. m.

WHAT GIVES 'ROUND TOWN

By Leatrice Ross

Over-the-weekend traveling: Roy Collins got in Sunday evening at the completion of a week-long tour of Texas textile mills by the textile engineering class at Texas Tech. Among mills inspected were those at Sherman, Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston, and New Braunfels.

Helon Blount and Kay Tollett spent part of the week and through the Easter holidays on a five-day tour of Mexico, including such points as Monterrey and Sattilo.

B. B. Lees and Harold Berry recently attended the Varsity Carnival at the Texas University campus. Queen of the carnival, by the by, was a Delta Delta Delta girl—she being a sorority sister of Helon Blount's. Commodore Ryan, employed by the T & P in Fort Worth spent the weekend at home.

What's doing with the Army and Navy men: FC 3-c Tunney Goodson, who with the crew of the USS McKean has been in Japan since August 1947, will leave the Nip isles toward mid-April and is to arrive in San Diego some two weeks later. Cpls. Richard and Robert O'Brien, vets of some 15 months in Japan, are due in the States April 9. They will be met at San Francisco by their sister, Mrs. Marie Haynes.

S I-C Dann Padgett and wife, Betty, left Tuesday for Litchfield Park, Ariz., where Dann is stationed. He has been home on a 30-day pass, during which time he and Betty, a Gatesville girl, were married. Among familiar faces from out-of-town spotted here this weekend: Martha Lee Frazier, Strawn; Hardie Matthews, Lubbock; Toar Bryan, Lubbock; Jackie Rayzor, Houston; Stewart Smith, Odessa.

Disa and data: Quickly all our friends are being picked off by the matrimonial pixy. This week it's LaRue Brown and Hoss Rankin. Date has not been definitely set. Pat Holcombe was here during the weekend from Fort Worth.

Claire Yates and Junior Gay hosted a private party at the Park Inn in behalf of Bill VanCrunk, who left today for Odessa and a job with Shell Oil Co. Among couples who were present at the affair: Betty Baker, Arthur Franklin,

Trinity Church Has Youth Meeting

The Trinity Baptist church, East 4th and Benton streets, is sponsoring a Youth Fellowship Friday evening at 7:30 p. m.

The speakers are to be youthful preachers, aged 14 to 19. They include Billy Don Inram of Crane, 14; Arthur Smith of Sweetwater, 17; Edgar Tatum, Jr., of San Angelo, 17; Milton Stewart of Midland, 15 and J. D. Osbrone of San Antonio, 19.

Osborne, who is going to Mexico as a missionary this summer, will remain until Sunday and speak Sunday morning on Missions in Mexico. Sunday is the regular monthly Sunday Day at Trinity Baptist church.

All Teen-agers of the city are cordially invited to attend the meeting Friday evening to hear the young ministers.

Walter Phillips
Word has been received here that Walter Phillips, employed by Hemphill Wells, is resting comfortably following bone surgery in the Gaston hospital in Dallas yesterday.

Women now find 2-way help for old problem
What to do for woman's oldest problem, functional monthly pain? Many a girl and woman has found the answer in CARDUI'S 2-way help. You see, CARDUI may make things lots easier for you in either of two ways: (1) started 3 days before "your time" and taken as directed on the label, it should help relieve functional periodic pain; (2) taken throughout the month like a tonic, it should improve your appetite, aid digestion, and thus help build up resistance for the trying days to come. CARDUI is scientifically prepared and scientifically tested. If you suffer "at those certain times", get CARDUI today.

Meet Reviews Sharon Ridge Pool Growth

Rapid growth of the Mitchell-Scurry crude producing area known as the Sharon Ridge pool was reviewed Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Sharon Ridge Operators and Royalty Owners association, held at the Snyder country club.
Two members of the Texas Railroad commission, Ernest O. Thompson and Bill Murray, were at the affair, both speaking briefly. It was Murray who recited statistics showing that Sharon Ridge had grown from six wells to 443 from 1938 to 1948, with production jumping from 700 barrels to 131,870 monthly. There are now 51 different operators in the field.
Thompson's talk renewed his stand for free enterprise in the oil industry, with an absolute ban against government controls of any kind. "Give oil men the pipe and the price incentive, and all other problems of the industry will disappear," he said.
Several hundred oil men, including representatives from Snyder, Colorado City, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Abilene, Midland and Austin, were served a supper, courtesy of Coffield and Guthrie, operators of the pipeline serving the Sharon Ridge area.
C. T. McLaughlin, president of the Sharon Ridge association, presided for the session. Thompson was introduced by Joe Stinson of Snyder, and Murray by Frank Kelley of Colorado City.

Markets

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, March 31. (AP)—Stocks pushed actively higher today in a resumption of Tuesday's market rally.
Buying orders came in sufficient early volume to put the quotation ticker tape behind floor transactions for brief periods.
Selected steels, motors and rails led the way, and some of the oil and copper issues tacked on further gains. Advances of fractions to more than a point were noted in many issues.
Operations on the trading floor again were reported near normal on the third day of the financial workers' strike.

Warning Is Issued Fire Engine Chasers

More rigid measures may be taken if residents do not cease the practice of following or trying to beat the fire engine to fires, Mayor G. W. Dabney warned Wednesday.
He appealed to drivers of cars to give fire-fighting equipment the right-of-way in all instances. Part of the difficulty, Chief H. V. Crocker told the mayor, was from people chasing after the trucks. They thus block police cars, those of electricians and others whose emergency service is required at fires.
So far only appeals and warnings have been issued, but the mayor said that it was possible that legal action would be taken if the practice did not cease.

JoyCee Group Will Work With 4-H FFA

A committee of five was named Tuesday by Lloyd Wooten, president of the junior chamber of commerce, to work with 4-H and FFA advisory committees on rules and regulations for the next 4-H and FFA show.
Wooten will be chairman of the committee, serving with Henry Bugg, H. W. Wright, Bill Cox and Harvey Wooten.
Jaycee members were reminded that April 6 is the last day to withdraw reservations for the state convention in El Paso.

Martin Well Has Water On Test

Stanolind No. 1 Mabee, north-west Martin county wildcat, was shut down for rig repairs after a drillstem test from 12,330-80 feet in unidentified lime.
The tool was open one hour and 15 minutes. Recovery was a 3,000-foot water blanket and 2,190 feet of brackish water with no shows of oil or gas.
Operator representatives say they have not officially determined identity of the present formation. Rumors in some quarters were that the zone was in the top of the Ellenburger, but these have not been verified.
Sun No. 2 Arledge in north-central Coke county, ran a one-hour drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 6,912-23 feet.
Recovery was 23 feet of drilling mud and 300 feet of sulphur water with a slight trace of oil. The test will plug back, run casing through the Marble Falls section and dry to develop an oil well from that zone. It carried some signs of porosity and some oil stains, but not as much as was found in the No. 1 Arledge which was the discovery well to the southwest.
In the Jameson area of north-west Coke, Sun No. 6 Homer H. Jameson was at total depth of 7,082 feet, likely in the Ellenburger and was taking a drillstem test.
Sun No. 1 Central National bank, trustee, stepped out from the initial producer in the Jameson south field, was at total depth of 6,738 feet in lime, thought by some to be the Marble Falls, and was to take a drillstem test from 6,705 to bottom. A core from 6,722-38 feet returned five feet of porous lime with good oil odor.

Students To Visit Local Industry

Some 40 students of the Lenorah school will spend Friday visiting several industrial concerns in Big Spring. A. C. Fleming, principal, has advised the local chamber of commerce.
The students will make the trip in a bus, and they will be accompanied by three members of the school faculty and several room mothers.
The chamber of commerce is making appointments for the group to visit several establishments during morning and afternoon tours.

Firemen Called Out On Three Alarms

City firemen were called out on three alarms Tuesday, but little property damage resulted.
At 11 a. m. a short circuit in wiring on a city-owned vehicle caused a fire in the 1600 block of East Third street, and at 3 p. m. a short circuit resulted in an alarm at the W.O.W. Hall, 106 East Second street. Damage was confined to the wiring in both instances.
A trash fire early last night in the 100 block of Lancaster street caused no damage.

Abbott, Gideon Win Tag Match

In a slam-bang finish, Bill "Ace" Abbott of Abilene and Eddie Gideon, the Springfield, Mo., strong arm, teamed up to douse Johnny Carlin and Gorilla Pogi in defeat in Monday night's Australian tag match at the Big Spring grapple club. Carlin was substituting for Walter Stratton, whose car broke down somewhere between Amarillo and here, preventing him from making connections. The Abbott-Gideon combine copped the duke in two successive falls. In preliminary matches, Abbott thumped Carlin handily while Pogi and Gideon went to a draw. The latter two did not want to quit

This spring, first thing...

...you've got a date that just can't wait!

So, clear out! Get down the street, where a Conoco Mileage Merchant can drain out dirty, contaminated winter oil and refill with Spring-time Conoco Nth... the oil that OIL-PLATES as it lubricates!

It's like this: When Nth Oil (Patented)* enters your engine, a special added ingredient fastens extra lubricant so closely to metal that cylinder walls and all working parts are actually OIL-PLATED!

Because this extra OIL-PLATING stays up on cylinder walls... won't all drain down to your crankcase, even overnight... a Spring change to Conoco Nth Motor Oil extra-protects from "dry-friction" starts... from power-choking sludge and carbon due to wear!

That's why, for extra-cool, extra-powerful, extra low-cost miles you'd better...

make a date to OIL-PLATE!

Can Black-Draught Help You When You Feel Loggy?

Yes, Black-Draught may help that head-achy feeling if the only reason you feel head-achy is because of constipation. Black-Draught, the friendly laxative, is usually prompt and thorough when taken as directed. It costs only a penny or less a dose. That's why it has been a best-seller with four generations. If you are troubled with such symptoms as loss of appetite, headache, upset stomach, flatulence, physical fatigue, sleeplessness, mental business, bad breath—and if these symptoms are due only to constipation—then see what Black-Draught may do for you. Get a package today.

Softball Team Plans Workouts

Candidates for the Big Spring-Forsan entry in the Texas Softball league will work out at the city park tonight and Thursday, Capt. L. D. Cunningham announced this morning. The workouts will begin between 7:30 and 8:00 p. m. Cunningham said about a dozen players are undergoing training at the present time and stated all others who wanted to try for the squad can report without invitation. The team will probably play a practice game with Stanton Friday night.

Texas Requests Floodway Restudy

AUSTIN, March 31. (U.P.)—Texas has called for a Federal restudy in Texas interests of the proposed Rio Grande floodway, Chamita dam and Chiflo dam project in New Mexico. Gov. Beauford H. Jester wrote Secretary of the Interior Julius A. Krug and Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall that Texas desires "much less reservoir capacity and far greater improved channel capacity" in the projects. "It appears to Texas interests that reservoir capacity has been unduly stressed and channel capacity not fully exploited," the governor wrote. Future events might well lead to a reallocation of storage behind the dams when they come into existence, thereby placing in the hands of others not now responsible for operation of the dams the ability to withhold water due to the provisions of the tri-state Rio Grande compact, or might induce an attempt to revise the Rio Grande compact to provide water now due the state of Texas for expansion of New Mexico irrigated lands inadvicably improved for that purpose," he said. The governor's objection to the project followed reports to him by Texas' official water agencies and their consulting engineers.

Education Board Must Refuse Books

AUSTIN, April 1. (U.P.)—The state board of education will have to turn down a publisher's offer of 10,000 free copies of a book. Advised that the book is not a textbook for any course of instruction, the attorney general held the board may not use state funds for the cost of transporting or distributing the books. The books is a fictional story dealing with the early life and customs of the Quakers in this country.
