Missionary From India Here Tonight

Miss Vida Elliott, missionary from India, now on furlough, will speak in the First Christian Church here tonight at 7:30. Her first message will be given before the Christian Women's Fellowship following a carry-in luncheon at one o'clock this afternoon.

She will also speak at the congregation at a church wide meeting at 7:30 tonight. A cordial invitation is extended to the community to come and hear Miss Elliott tell about the fine program which is being carried forward by the church in India. She will talk on the work being done cooperatively by other communities along with the Disciples of Christ.

Miss Elliott has been principal of the Branch Memorial School in Bilaspur, India since 1929. She was commissioned by the Disciples of Christ for missionary service in India in 1929, and was assigned as teacher in the Woodstock school established for English, Indian and Anglo-Indian children, in addition to teaching she carried heavy responsibilities in the school's religious life.

She is a graduate of Texas Christian University, Ft. Worth with an AB degree and the University of Minnesota with a master's degree; also of the Kennedy school of Missions, Hartford, Conn. with a PhD degree.

She is very definitely an outstanding teacher in Mission schools. The community is cordially invited to take advantage of the opportunity of hearing Miss Elliott and meeting her at the Christian Church tonight at 7:30 p. m.

THEME: A FIRM FOUNDATION
SUBJECT: ROCK
TEXT: 1st Cor. 10:4: And did all drink the same spiritual rink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them; and that Rock was Christ. The geologist that studies the formation of rocks and the chemist that tests out the value of rocks and diamonds what is in them, they go hand in hand in making the discoveries of the deposits that were put in this earth from the foundation of the world for the good of mankind that will resist the erosion of time that is good and pure, strong and enduring through out all ages. Jesus spoke of himself as a rock and his love and power will stand the test when this old world is on fire. Diamonds are the hardest form of rocks and there are ten scales of hardness starting with talc. It will not be necessary for me to name them in their order. But the human race will come under the category of the scale of hardness starting with diamonds and the softness winding up with talc. There is no formation of rock that will resist the erosion of time. Diamonds are kings with all other rocks. That is the reason why Christ compared Himself to a rock. He is King of Kings and there is no power on earth that can resist Him when it comes to strength and endurance. He is the foundation of the world where we can base our hope and faith on Him and in Him and be reassured that He is the rock of ages. He is a builder. He is the corner stone that was rejected by the builders that wanted to build a selfish ambition of ennobling here in this world. Selfish ambitions have crumbled and fallen when nations were built upon a false philosophy of man's selfish ambition. There are still some who will prove what is in any rock of the ten scales of hardness. This same practical test will work as accurately with the human race as it will on rocks if we know how to apply the test to the human mind. The value of a diamond is not determined by the tones. The price is determined by what it is and what it will do and what it will stand under when it is put to the most rigid test that man knows how to test it. The true value of Jesus Christ could not be worked out by mathematicians or the scales of hardness. It is how Christ weighed in with his material and spiritual value in this world. I am sure this man in the human race has weighed in the same notch from Christ's birth to death if they had been on the scales at all ages of Christ. The value of Christ would have to be worked out not the size to determine the true value of a diamond. The perfect shape, color and being a diamond is the scale of the rock that weighs and measures the most valuable diamond in the world. The value of Jesus was to be perfect. What he reached when he stood for and what he did in this life made Him the solid rock, a firm foundation rock. Love and His reaching around the world. Jesus is a rock and is spoken of in both the old and new testament. What a blessed foundation we have to stand on when we put our hope and faith in Jesus Christ! This Rock is not mistaken by people who know Jesus Christ and His Divine love in this world and his saving and keeping power for the human race. AMEN.

arm of faith and take hold of God's promises in this life. The power of God is unlimited. Our wants are unlimited. Wife and I spent the night in an old hotel in Va. over a century old where Stonewall Jackson had head-quarters during the Civil War. We also stood and looked upon his tomb in the old historical burying ground which marked his last resting place. He received his nickname from his comrades when the battle was raging, furiously one of the privates said, "The general is standing and facing the bullets like a stone wall." He is known all over the world in history as Stonewall Jackson. The question was asked over the radio what was his real name. I believe the answer was Thomas. He stood the enemies' bullets and received a name that followed him to his grave. He made the mistake of crossing the lines without first being recognized and was shot during hours, as a stone wall. How wonderful it is for a general to think more of a private carrying out orders than he did of his own men. He congratulated his own subordinate in carrying out orders. His noble and loyal principles stood in his carrying out orders that he did of his own life. This is the spirit of Jesus Christ. He thought more of his servants that will carry out orders than he did of his own life. Jesus was and is spoken of as the Rock of ages. The song writer pictures Christ as the rock when he said "O then to the Church and the gates of hell shall not or will not prevail against it." This Church was not built upon Peter as some would have the world to believe. It was built on Peter's faith. Rock is not only used symof rocks and in caves and see the stalactites and travertine and in the granite quarry and watch the fire fly from drills and the workers cutting tools then we really see what kind of stone that is being quarried. Stone can be so hard and flinty that it will break like glass and it is not worth anything. It can be so soft that it will not stand up under the weather it is exposed to. The best material in a stone for service and beauty is soft enough to be worked and hard enough to stand up under the storms of long winters and hot summers. This is actually what Jesus was. He was rejected by his own people but He became the head of the corner stone. The church of Jesus Christ has a Rock for its foundation. It will stand when this old world is on fire. When some man goes out and takes up a sign on a building "THE CHURCH OF CHRIST" that doesn't spell one thing. A ten year old boy can come along and strip off its name and throw the board down in the dirt on the weather can rot it off the building or the building can burn down or rot and there will be no sign of a house at all. The Church of Christ is a Rock which is Christ and He built that Church on the confession of Peter and Jesus said that "Fish and blood has not revealed this to you Peter but by the Holy Spirit. Upon this Rock I will build my Church and the gates of hell shall not or will not prevail against it." This Church was not built upon Peter as some would have the world to believe. It was built on Peter's faith. Rock is not only used symbolically to represent the strength of the human race but they have played a great part in building civilization that has made history with cities of rock buildings that have withered the storms and showed the ruins of buried cities. The builders pined on and cities were wiped out in wire but the buildings of ancient times still stand as a monument to the builder who blessed the world. The greatest mystery of all mysteries is the pyramids in Egypt. They have stood the rise and fall of great and mighty empires. In modern times engineers are still wondering and are puzzled and baffled how they handled those huge stones and the accuracy they are put in place. The fact they are there is evidence that they had a way to do it and some man had the brains to do it. We haven't made any improvement on brains. The reason for my making this statement is that made in the image of God. There has never been any other mould that man has made in man. We think of everything on the face of the earth coming out with a new model. There was only one model that man was made in and that was in the image of God. A perfect designer and a perfect model man was made in. The existence of God needs no proof. The fact we are is all the evidence we need that God exists. We are like our Heavenly Father and the human race resembles Him in everything that is known to mankind. Take God out of the human race physically, mentally, morally and have the world to believe. It is spiritually that would end the human race. The human race exists by the commands of God to multiply and replenish the earth. The human race could not any more exist within itself than the wind could blow without the power and the love of God to give us all the needed things to keep the human family living and making progress in this world. AMEN. J. H. Nichols

Canned Chicken
Canned chicken can provide many time-saving and delicious dishes for family meals. In addition, quality canned chicken is an excellent source of high quality protein, and a good source of vitamins and minerals. According to the foods and nutrition specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, it is practical to eat chickens at home, particularly the older birds. In a new publication, Canning Poultry, the specialists explain how to can chickens, either with the bone or without the bone. Pictures show step-by-step techniques in cutting the meat from the bone. The advantages in canning boned chicken are in being able to can white and dark meat into each container, meat separately, and getting more meat into each container. However, the specialists say either method is successful provided containers are processed in the pressure canner. The "pack raw and steam method" provides for cooking time in the jar or can before the container is sealed for processing. The "one step raw pack method" eliminates the steaming time and provides for filling each container to one inch from the top and adjusting the closure for processing. Salt is added, but no

Treat Grain Seeds For Smuts And Blights

Planting time for winter grain crops is at hand, and Fred C. Dines, extension wheat marketing specialist, reminds farmers that smut is likely to take a toll if the seed are not treated before planting.

He reports that smut showed up in damaging amounts in many sections of the state during the past wheat harvest and warns it will be worse this year unless precautions are taken at planting time. He lists these as planting the best variety for the section, cleaning the seed to remove weed seeds and smut balls which may be present and chemical treatment of the planting seed. Sinking smut is the disease which should get major attention. If untreated seed are planted which are infested with the smut spores, a good crop of stinking smut will develop next spring in the wheat heads where the grain should be, says Dines. Smut reduces the yield in the field and smutty grain is docked on the market. This smut is hard to recognize in the field except by its foul odor and the somewhat greater color of the infected grain heads. The kernels of the infected plants change to smut balls, and when the grain is combined, these smut balls are broken and millions of black spores are scattered over the healthy wheat seed.

Oats and barley smut, on the other hand, is easily recognized by the black, barren heads in the field. According to Dines, the stinking smut of wheat and also of oats and barley can be controlled by chemical treatment of the planting seed and re-with chemicals. It can be controlled by a difficult hot water treatment, however. Dines suggests that it might be better to get clean wheat seed from growers who were not bothered with loose smut last season.

Helminthosporium blight is a relative new disease which attacks oats. It affects the roots and stems of oats causing weakened stems and later lodging. It can be controlled by the same chemical used in treating seed for protection against stinking smut, however points out Dines, the control may not be as complete as for the smut. Out varieties which are attacked by the blight include some of the Victoria crosses as Pultex, Rustler, Ranger and Victor Grain.

With limited wheat planting again in force, Dines says, producers should use every proved production practice which will enable them to produce top yields as well as top quality wheat and chemically treating the planting seed is of major im-

Every 3 days a new diesel joins the Santa Fe fleet!

A 10-year record of "building new" on the Santa Fe

Christened with California champagne, Santa Fe's first multiple-unit diesel locomotive rolled out of Chicago on Tuesday, May 12, 1938.

It powered the first Super Chief, 39 1/2 hours later it rolled into Los Angeles—and the new age in railroading was born.

There were 3600 "horses" in that one.

Five years later, the first multiple-unit freight diesel rolled on Santa Fe rails.

There were 5400 "horses" in that one.

Today, there is more than 2,100,000 diesel horsepower on the Santa Fe—1524 mighty diesel units.

From 1943 through 1952, a total of 1261 diesel units were placed in service. Better than one every 3 days for a 10-year record!

And still they come! 222 in 1953!

Every diesel added, every mile of heavier rail, makes America's New Railroad a little more completely new. Why? enough new rail has been laid on the Santa Fe in the last seven years alone to reach from Chicago to Los Angeles!

All new—but always the old pride that all this building new costs you, the taxpayer, not one tax penny.

Extension Course Offered Parents
Dr. Emmett Smith of West Texas State College met with the teachers from all of Hansford County in the study hall of the High School in Spearman on Tuesday evening, and plans were made to offer an extension course in Education in Spearman. The class will meet at 4:30 p. m. on Mondays. Credit may be had either at graduate or undergraduate level.

If any of the citizens of Spearman are interested in taking this course, they should call Supt. H. R. Hartman this week. Mr. Hartman has registration blanks. The cost of the course is $21.00.

Dr. Smith stated that a great many parents have taken this course in other cities, not for credit, but for the value received through studying special problems in education as it is related to their own children. It also offers an excellent opportunity to work with the teachers on special problems. A total of 50 people taking the course is required and so far only 22 have indicated they want the course. The teachers would like to have 8 or 10 parents take this course, and at the same time help to assure that we will not fail to get the required number.

HOW OLD ARE FARM PROGRAMS?

Farm legislation providing for ways to bring agricultural production into line with demand. Incentives to increase production of commodities in short supply, and to protect farmers against ruinously low prices, are not peculiar to this generation. As early as 1623 the "Grand Assembly" of Virginia at "James City" enacted a law to see that sufficiency of corn be planted. By 1632 they required planted and tended. These laws were repeated many times. Moreover the "Grand Assemblies" passed laws to control tobacco production. These laws provided for acreage limitations, which in effect provided incentives for producers to shift from crops produced in excess of requirements to other specified commodities for which demand exceeded supplies. The following wording of part of the preamble to a marketing order regulation before the Grand Assembly in 1688 seems modern as 1952: "Whereas the quantity of tobacco made in this country by increase of the number of inhabitants employing themselves wholly to the making of that commodity, and the continued freedom of their unlimited planting has become so great that all markets have become glutted with it, and the value of it reduced to so low a rate that the planter is rendered incapable of subsisting, and the merchant discouraged in his trade."

From 1645 through 1676 the Assembly passed numerous laws providing for export controls and export subsidies. Exports for a time were prohibited on corn, hides, leather, wool, and grain. Export duties and customs were lifted in 1655 on tobacco to encourage export of a surplus. Price controls were also a part of this earlier legislation. In 1631-32 corn prices were fixed at not less than 16 shillings per barrel. The price of tobacco was set at not less than 6 pence per pound. In 1633 tobacco went under price ceilings, but by 1639 they returned to minimum prices again.

A Brief Result of What Has Happened To The Farmer Recently:

Farmers throughout the country have experienced various troubles this year. Most farm products have shared in the decline in farm prices. The index of prices received by farmers as of July 15, 1953, was 259 (1914=100), down about 12 percent from July 15, 1952 index of 295. During this same time the index of prices paid by farmers dropped less than 3 percent from 286 on July 15, 1952 to 278 on July 15, 1953. During this past year the ratio of prices received by farmers to prices paid for products has declined more than prices paid for items used in production, interest, taxes and wage rates during the same period. To state the problem more simply, farm prices have been falling while farmers' costs in effect have been increasing.

The Return To Washington With The Family:

Mrs. Rogers and the children have returned to Washington and the children have re-entered school. I drove them to Memphis, Tennessee and turned the job over to Mrs. Rogers. She has always done a better job than I do, so they made it back to Washington all right. I came back to Amarillo and will be here until around the 25th of September. I will return to Washington for a short stay and be back in October.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hitt of Sloom Springs, Ark. and daughter Mary Jeanne visited with relatives over the week-end. The Hitts were residents of Spearman before they dropped by to visit after a tour of Calisbad caverns.

Don't Name It

Back home after a flying trip to East Texas to pick up a reluctant wife (Eddie Faye) and an enthusiastic grandson (Stevie), and what a welcome to Eddie Faye—that Sunday morning she literally littered up the front of the house where I told Eddie Faye that it was clean and polished and livable. Well anyway, she has had a two weeks rest and a little cleaning of the house went better her too much—

And the look Mr. Thompson made for the big cattle gate up at the top of our stairs WORKS. Fact is that you have to pull up on the gate before you can get it open, even if you know how.

The cotton pickers down state are in the midst of PROSPERITY. The folk already harvested a bumper grain crop—something they seldom ever do—and now the cotton and peanuts are the best since the Republicans took office 50 years ago. There has not been any moisture in two weeks in Denton county—which is SEMPIN—and the folks are paying $2.50 per hundred for snapping bolts—most any sort of a cotton picker can make $10.00 a day if he stuffs in a little stalk along with the cotton—and there are big families that are drawing down close to $70.00 a day. That's not hay.

Where we are praying for rain those silly folks down state are praying for sunshine just a few more days until the cotton and peanuts are harvested. One gin man told me he had a chance to make his best record this year if the rainfall would hold off a little longer. He explained that you could make more profits and get more done if he could gather in the harvest without interruption—and that's what they are doing in Denton county. They have imported a lot of Mexican families to pick cotton and the gins keep rolling day and night.

Here at home we got a situation that is again separate the men from the boys. Unless that moisture arrives soon so we can have some wheat pasture there sure is not a gonna be any prosperity to pass around in Hansford county.

One thing we cannot understand is how the two banks in this county can keep their deposits so high. Gosh with three failures, one would think that even Clay and Bob Thom would be running short of money—but they seem to dig up a pocket of the filthy lucre from somewhere and every time a bank statement is printed Hansford county looks like it should enter be in the prosperity column.

Guess the best thing to do is forget prosperity and concentrate on the Spearman Lynx. This writer didn't expect the boys to be trampled into the ground like they were by Canadian, and we would have bet a red apple that they could win from Texline—and look what happens. May have to go and help ole Mickie out of the hole. We just ain't a gonna lose so many games if I have to give in some of the secret formation of 35 years ago.

Just wonder if Smiling Joe Ogden over at Gruver really did mean what he said about being proud of the Hounds if they held the score below 50. Guess he did, and guess he is still smiling, but bet he is figuring out some new angles—and with Sanders back in the game pretty soon, he is likely to give some one trouble. The Gruver fans have been warning the country editor that the Hounds will lick the Lynx this year. Maybe so—maybe so—and which ever way it goes the country editors team will be a winner—cause he claims both the Lynx and Hounds as home town teams—O THERE.

Something terrible is about to happen. Looks like the annual Elk hunt to Colorado will be minus the Spearman delegation. Doc Kleeberger told the country editor that unless he learned how to eat less and eat slow he (the country editor) is better not make that trip this year. Now ole Bruce Sheets and Willie Hutton are talking of abandoning the hunting trip and substituting a fishing trip to Louisiana. It is a shame and disgrace for these strapping young folk to go soft and try fishing instead of hunting—and see bet before the date (Oct. 13) arrives that the Spearmanites will all be ready to make the annual Bull Elk hunt.

We expect to give you some interesting information real soon about a hunting and fishing trip made by Mr. and Mrs. Coy Holt and Nick Holt. The Holts plus Robert Alexander left for Wyoming last week and were to meet Mr. and Mrs. (General) Van Fleet for an antelope hunt and a fishing trip up at four lakes in Wyoming. General Van Fleet was expected to arrive in New York on the 15th and he and Mrs. Van Fleet were expected to leave immediately for Wyoming. Noticed Mondays paper where the General gave out an interview at Cleveland, Ohio, and I reckon that by now he has already harvested a prize antelope or so, and will be fishing where the fish really fight to get on your hook. Anyway, soon as Coy gets home I will give you the low-down on the trip.

Vernon Brown from Camp Schafie, Ark. is visiting the Claude Gathers this week. He will leave for Korea on his return to Camp.

There are still many people around willing to borrow your money.

The reason for the waywardness of many cocktail party conversants is their inability to stand up under the strain of constant moronic conversation and giggles. It's not enough to be a good
