

DON'T BLAME IT

WILL J. MILLER

This week the Reporter is publishing the annual Thanksgiving issue. It has been the custom for the past 6 years for this writer to rehash Thanksgiving proclamations giving the spirit of the season to the editorial policy of this paper. This year the urge has not been sufficiently great to produce the annual proclamation.

With the world at large hardly the shock of the war scare a few weeks ago, and now in notional turmoil because of barbarism of the Nazi German program against the Jewish people, it becomes apparent to any citizen of the nation that we have much to be thankful for in that we are as far away from strife and greed . . . from military dominance . . . from dictatorial edicts—that to this writer at least, it appears we should nourish no fear of similar problems.

With our people the battle of our nation is the long long fight for IMPROVEMENT. Regardless of the failures, the faults, the hapless personnel of the NEW DEAL GOVERNMENT, the underlying theme of the government is and has been for the past four years, a program of PROGRESS. Where greed stands out in deep relief in the major programs of dictator nations, the American effort is to alleviate suffering, improve the living conditions of all mankind, and march FORWARD towards an orderly existence. That such a program of Utopia would require patience, constant trial of new ideas, and everlasting perseverance was evident at the beginning—and is evident TODAY.

At this Thanksgiving season let us take invoice of our program—and compare it with that of our brother and sister nations.

In America it is common knowledge that no man, regardless of birth or training need starve, or suffer the anguish of seeing his own blood kin in the pangs of hunger, thirst and lack of rainment. In America we are building up a social security that will allow the orderly retirement of our citizenship to an independent COMFORTABLE life in the twilight to their existence.

In America the surpluses of labor, capital and commerce are being diverted, (in an orderly parade) from the channels of greed to preserve a human balance, that all might enjoy the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness.

Contrast this picture with that of the dictator nations and the brother Democratic nations harassed by the constant threat of oblivion from the thoughtless madness of dictators.

In Germany a race of people (God's chosen people) are suffering most every known pain and anguish. Truly this race of people deserve the sympathy and prayers of Christian People. But if we make a deep analysis of the problem, should not the prayers of Christian people go out to a nation—yes a race, that has a background of God-fearing, liberty loving, honest and industry? Should we not consider that this nation of people have been led into the hatred and greed by the madness of their leaders, and when we bow our heads in silent prayer asking the Giver of all good and gracious gifts, to extend mercy and life to the Jewish people: should we not breathe a prayer of forgiveness and change of heart of the German people? The great leader of mankind Jesus Christ used his last normal breath in this world to whisper out the message that has lived for ages, FORGIVE THEM LORD, THEY KNOW NOT WHAT THEY DO.

Without repainting the picture that is in the minds of most Americans at this Thanksgiving season—without further enumerating the ills and political scores of other nations I would like to end this Thanksgiving editorial with the message picked-up from the Spearman Reporter Thanksgiving issue of last year. . . .

I'M THANKFUL

R. E. managed to park Mrs. Lee and Nancy with relatives at Clinton, Oklahoma, while he attended an old grad banquet Sat. night. This writer maintains that any father who will take his young son back to the old Frat house and give him the thrills of a homecoming reunion, is a No. 1 father. That's what Eck did. Bobbie had a good time even though he was a bit frightened when two of Mr. Lee's former classmates made a flying tackle and gave him a creditable homecoming welcome. Incidentally Oklahoma won 21 to 0. Guess however Eck has told this news to everyone.

Night Care of The Skin

The best time for its thorough cleansing is just before bedtime, one should never go to bed with a dirty face. This is a point that you cannot emphasize too much especially youths. A few hints that can easily be carried out are as follows: Bind the back of the hair with a towel, a strip of cheesecloth, or a make-up band. Apply a good cleansing to the face with the fingers starting at the neck and progressing upward. Completely cover the entire face with the cream using a firm motion around the mouth, up the jaw line, on the nose and forehead. Proceed gently, around the eyes. Liquefying cream is generally preferable to the old type cold cream. It penetrates the pores easily, loosening dirt and make-up and wipes off easily. Allow the cream to melt with the body temperature and after five minutes or so remove with cleansing tissue using the same type of movements.

BAND NEWS

Our Spearman Hi Band really put on quite a show last Friday afternoon between halves of the Lynx-Ranger football game. That game, however, ended the season for the Lynx, so the band will do very little marching until next spring.

Basketball practice began this week, so the band also began indoor practice. They will probably play for all home games and maybe some out-of-town games although nothing has been said about it.

Some band members are so interested in the band, contest next spring that they are asking when it is and where and numerous other questions concerning it.

Red Cross Gray Ladies Bring Cheer to Disabled Soldiers

Red Cross Gray Ladies provide small comforts and recreational program for disabled veterans and service men.

SECOND only to its work for the relief of victims of disaster is the Red Cross program of service to disabled veterans and men in the regular armed forces of the nation.

During the past year, Red Cross Chapters and the liaison representatives of the national Red Cross, aided in solving the family problems of 22,000 veterans or their families, and also extended friendly help to 35,000 men of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

This Red Cross program, an outgrowth of World War service, and part of the Red Cross chartered responsibility, is carried on by Home Service secretaries in Chapters; through liaison representatives with Veterans Administration regional offices; through medical social service workers in hospitals; through field directors in Army posts and Navy yards; by the Gray Ladies, a volunteer, trained group who distribute comforts and aid in recreation projects; and through the Junior Red Cross which makes gifts for the disabled.

One of the chief benefits of the Red Cross service is the assistance given to the veteran and service man in obtaining benefits due him under the law, and in support of his dependents pending such claims, or while he is in the hospital.

Book of the Week

The book for this week is "Wuthering Heights," by Emily Bronte. Wuthering Heights is the story of a family, or rather two families, who live at Wuthering Heights and Thrushcross Grange the Earnshaws and the Lintons.

This book deals with the lives of the members of these families until there are only two left. Catherine Linton and Harlow Earnshaw. The Lintons at first were like other people, but when they intermarried with the Earnshaws the strange spell which was on the Earnshaws seemed to fall like a mantle upon them.

The most relentless and cruel figure which I have ever run across in fiction, I found in Wuthering Heights. He is Heathcliff, a person who was adopted into the Earnshaw family when he was very young. He was mean and sullen. He had no scruples whatsoever, and what he wanted he usually got in one way or another. That is, he got almost everything he wanted except one thing—Catherine Earnshaw. The furies and the undescrivable rages he would get into kept the others in constant fear and misery. But he got his just recompense, or in the words of Joseph 'Th' devil's harried off his soul, and he may have his carcass into 't bargain, for aught I care."

Wuthering Heights is perhaps rather morbid and dreary in a place, but altogether it is very interesting book.

Pupils Appear on P. T. A. Program

The PTA held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 8 in the auditorium. A number of the school children appeared on the program. A violin solo by Wilson McClellan was enjoyed by everyone. Lois Buzzard and Billie Jo Sparks played piano solos. Of special interest was the number "Ten Pretty Girls," worked up by Mrs. Gunn and her pupils. The chorus of ten pretty girls was composed of Betty Jean Hill, Pearl Maize, Robbie Joe Graves, Floydau Crawford, Estelle Terry, the five blondes; and Mildred McKay, Velma Ruth Fox, Winifred Hoskins, Jo Anna Mizar, the four brunettes. The saucy red head was Iris Hall. Rosanne Powell was the part. This no-

Lynx Complete Football Season Friday

The Perryton Rangers defeated the Spearman Lynx 47-0 on Nov. 11. The Rangers had the Lynx outweighed and out classed and even though the Lynx fought hard, they were unable to stop the Rangers.

The score is not indicative of the brand of football that was played by both teams. Two blocked punts, a fumble and an intercepted pass indirectly accounted for four of Perryton's touchdowns. The officiating was exceptionally good and both teams played a clean game of football from start to finish, there being very few penalties on either team.

We appreciated sportsmanship shown by the fans from both towns. Approximately 1,200 people saw the game.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Thanksgiving is a practically national harvest festival fixed by a proclamation of the President and the governors of the States and ranks as a legal holiday. The earliest harvest Thanksgiving in America was kept by the Pilgrim fathers at Plymouth in 1621 and was repeated often during the ensuing century; Congress recommended days of thanksgiving annually during the Revolution, and in 1784, for the return of peace—as did President Madison in 1815. Washington appointed such a day in 1789 after the adoption of the constitution and in 1795 for the general benefits and welfare of the nation. Since 1817 the festival has been observed annually in New York, and since 1863 the Presidents have always issued a proclamation appointing the last Thursday in Nov. as Thanksgiving Day.

Boys Start Basketball This Week

The boys started basketball Monday after school. The material looks pretty good this year and we expect to give our opponents plenty of trouble. The lettermen back from last year are Ledru Jacobs, C. P. Archer, Roy Reed, Melvin Shell, and L. M. Womble. There are a good many boys out for basketball and a team worth watching will be picked from them.

The Future Homemakers Of Texas

The F. H. T. club met Thursday Nov. 10. They elected Louise Novak to go with the officers and Miss McClain to Canyon to attend an area meeting. A tap dancing number was given by Doris Jean and Marjorie Ellen Russell. Julia Kerns and Doris Jean gave talks on "Self Grooming" and Fabrics of This Season.

A hay ride was planned for the next meeting, which will be Thursday Nov. 17.

Library Receives Books

The following books arrived this week from the Amarillo Book bindery, where they had been sent for repairs: Joseph C. Lincoln's "Mr. Pratt"; and Cap't Eric; Maurice Thompson, "Alice of Old Vincennes"; Mary R. Rinehart's "The Amazing Interlude"; Emerson Hough's North of 36; J. D. Wyss, The Swiss Family Robinson; Booth Tarkington.

Back-to-the-Farm Experiment Works

DEARBORN, Mich.—This harvest-time scene was photographed at Camp Legion, the 400-acre land tract on which Henry Ford set up sixty-eight youths in a back-to-the-farm movement last spring. Now they are harvesting eighty-six varieties of crops. The experiment has proved so successful and he so pleased Mr. Ford that several new camps are in prospect for next year.

GROUND MEAT MAKES EXCELLENT MEAL

Many of the cheaper cuts of meat can be made into delicious juicy cuts by grinding the meat and making it into a loaf. A combination of two or more meats often make a pleasant blend of flavors. Beef and pork, or veal and pork are good selections. Mild salt pork, diced and fried until light brown and crisp, gives a distinctive flavor in beef loaf. The fat fried out of salt pork has its uses, to Cook the celery, onion, parsley or other seasonings in drippings to their flavor, and use the remaining fat in a sauce to 'bind' the loaf during cooking.

A meat loaf will slice even at the piping stage, if it is bound with a combination of thick white sauce alone or with some other starchy substance, such as bread crumbs, cooked rice, or mashed potatoes.

Measured proportions and thorough mixing of the white sauce with the other ingredients help make the perfect slicing meat loaf. Good proportions are 4 tablespoons flour and 1 1-2 cups of milk and a cup of bread crumbs to 2 pounds of ground meat.

For a meat loaf, mold into a smooth mold on a piece of tough white paper. Lift onto a rack in an open pan. Don't add water and don't cover the pan. Have the oven moderate, as too hot an oven will cause the meat to give up its juices and shrink and harden. For a two pound loaf, total oven time should be about an hour to an hour and a quarter.

New Model City To Be Shown at New York Fair

NEW YORK (Special) — A magic carpet ride through space two miles above "Democracy," the perfectly integrated garden city of tomorrow, will feature the central theme exhibit of the New York World's Fair which opens April 30, 1939.

The exhibit, created by Henry Dreyfuss, industrial designer, will be dramatic in form. It will reach a stirring climax when, out of the distant skies above the floating audience, will troupe marching legions of workers, symbolizing the interdependence of man in modern civilization.

Nearer and nearer they will tramp, until the whole arch of heaven is filled with towering figures, arms upraised, singing the song of tomorrow. As the final strains of this marching air die away, great streamers of colored light shoot forth from the zenith, drenching the sky from horizon to horizon in all the hues of the rainbow.

A Dramatic Show

This dramatic show will be housed in the eighteen-story Perisphere, companion structure to the 700-foot Trylon, which constitute the architectural focus of the Fair.

An entirely new method of projection, utilizing slides instead of film, will be employed to throw the moving figures on the sky. New methods of fluorescent lighting will be used.

The garden city itself will be a model—one of the largest ever built and the first to portray a full-size metropolis catering to a million people and complete in every last detail. This city of tomorrow will serve 1,000,000 people, but no one will live in it. Homes will be in suburban developments. Factories also will be located in satellite towns, and broad green belt areas will circle both city and towns.

Model City Possible

City planners, engineers, architects, landscape architects, airport specialists and other experts collaborated on the design of "Democracy," and so accurate is the model that, according to Mr. Dreyfuss, it could be given concrete reality today were sufficient funds made available. Blueprint drawings have been made not only of street layouts, harbors, airports, athletic fields and civic centers but of traffic and pedestrian overpasses, theatres, hospitals, shops, bridges, dams and apartments.

The entrance to the theme exhibit will be high up on the side of the Perisphere fifty feet above the ground. Access will be by means of the two longest moving stairways ever built in this country. Visitors will enter on two levels and step on to two magic carpets or revolving platforms placed one above the other and moving in opposite directions.

Through the Clouds and in Time for Christmas

THE plane, "The Betsy Lee," had climbed to 10,000 feet. The man at the controls peered through the misted glass at the dense bank of clouds ahead. He had already encountered one squall, and there was a coating of ice on the wings.

Should he turn back, and take the train that would get him home too late for Christmas? Then he thought how disappointed Lucy and the kids would be. Christmas without Daddy. He squared his jaw and muttered: "Bill Parker, you're no quitter; Betsy, we are going through!" He grasped the stick with a steady hand as the bank of clouds loomed closer, and plunged into them.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN Mrs. Lincoln Flung Hot Coffee In Abraham's Face.

Almost a century ago, Abraham Lincoln and Mary Todd were married, in Springfield, Ill., and their marriage proved to be of the most unfortunate and unhappy unions in the history of this nation.

The only comment that Lincoln ever made, in writing about his marriage, was a postscript that he added to a business letter, written to Samuel Marshall, and it is now in the possession of the Chicago Historical Society. In it Lincoln says, "There is no news here except my marriage, which to me is a matter of profound wonder."

William H. Herndon was Lincoln's law partner for a fifth of a century, and Herndon knew Lincoln better than any other man ever knew him; and Herndon said, "If Lincoln ever had a happy day in twenty years, I never knew of it. And Herndon thought that Lincoln's marriage had a lot to do with his sadness."

I once spent three years writing a biography of Lincoln, and while I was writing it, I believe I made as careful a study of the home life of the Lincoln family as it is possible for anyone to make. I carefully examined and re-examined every shred of evidence that is in existence; and I came to the reluctant and painful conclusion that the greatest tragedy in Abraham Lincoln's life was his marriage.

Shortly after he and Mary Todd were engaged, Lincoln began to realize that they were opposites, in every way, and that they could never be happy. They were the exact opposites in temperament, in tastes, in training and desires.

For example, Mary Todd had attended a snobbish finishing school in Kentucky; she spoke French with a Parisian accent; and was one of the best educated women in Illinois. But Lincoln had attended school a total of less than twelve months in his entire life.

Mary Todd was deeply interested in dress and show and ostentation. But Lincoln took no interest whatever in his appearance. In fact, he would sometimes walk down the street with one trouser leg on the outside of his boot and the other trouser leg stuffed in the inside of his boot.

Shortly after they were engaged, Lincoln wrote her a letter saying that he didn't love her sufficiently to marry her. He gave this letter to his friend, Joshua Speed, and asked Speed to give it to Mary Todd. Speed tore up the letter, threw it in the fire and told Lincoln to go and see Mary Todd himself. He did, and when he told her that he didn't want to marry her, she started to cry. Lincoln could never stand seeing a woman cry; so he took her in his arms and kissed her and said he was sorry.

The wedding day was set for January 1, 1841. The wedding cake was baked, the guests were assembled, the preacher was there, but Lincoln didn't appear. Why? Well, Mary's sister afterwards explained it by saying that Lincoln went crazy. And her husband added: "Yes crazy as a loon." The fact is that he did become ill—dangerously ill in body and ill in mind, and he sank into a spell of melancholy so deep and so terrible that it almost unbalanced his reason. His friends found him at daylight, mumbling incoherent sentences. He said he didn't want to live. He wrote a poem on suicide and had it published in one of the Springfield papers, and his friends took his knife away from him, to keep him from killing himself. For almost two years after that, Lincoln had nothing whatever to do with Mary Todd. Then a self-appointed matchmaker in Springfield brought them together behind closed doors and Mary Todd told Lincoln it was his duty to marry her. And he did.

While I was in Illinois, writing that book about Lincoln, I went to see Uncle Jimmy Miles, a farmer who lives near Springfield. One of his uncles was Herndon, Lincoln's law partner; and one of his aunts ran a boarding house where Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln came to live shortly after they were married.

Uncle Jimmy told me that he had often heard his aunt tell this story: One morning, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln were having breakfast in with the rest of the boarders, and Lincoln said something to his wife that displeased her; so she picked up a cup of hot coffee and dashed it into his face. She did it in the presence of other boarders. Lincoln didn't answer her. He didn't scold her. He said nothing, while the landlady brought a wet cloth and wiped off his face and his clothes. Similar incidents probably occurred in the Lincoln household for years.

But let us not judge Mrs. Lincoln too harshly. She finally went insane; and perhaps much earlier her mind was being affected by oncoming insanity.

One of the most beautiful things I know about Abraham Lincoln is the fact that he endured his unhappy home life for 23 years without bitterness, with out resentment and without saying a word about it to anyone. He endured it with Christ-like forgiveness and with a patience that was almost divine.

Hunting Season For Texas Opened Nov. 15

Mid-November ushers in the big hunting seasons in Texas. First on the list is the migratory water-fowl season, opening November 15. Flocks of thousands of ducks and geese now flapping their wings southward migrations are evidence enough that the men who man the blinds will enjoy 45 days of excellent waterfowl shooting this year.

The lengthened season this year as well as the partial lifting of restrictions protecting certain species, is the result of an increase in the duck and geese populations.

Under new federal migratory waterfowl regulations, Texas duck hunters will have a 45-day open season this year compared to a 30 day season in 1937; and in addition may shoot a limited number of species hitherto protected.

The open season on ducks and geese, Wilson's snipe or Jack-snipe, and coot, is Nov. 15 to Dec. 29.

Not only has the open season on ducks and geese been lengthened, but the possession limits have been doubled.

The bag limit on ducks, except the wood duck, is 10 in the aggregate of all kinds, the same as last season, but the possession limit has been doubled to 20 in the aggregate.

This season hunters may take 3 canvasbacks, redheads, buffleheads or ruddy ducks in their daily bag, or an aggregate of three

The choir and Sunday school will meet for practice of the Christmas program on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The second of a series of sermons on the Book of Revelation will be preached on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Gruver Community church. theme "The Glorious Christ" Rev. 1: 10-18.

Gerrit Te Kroney, a brother of Mrs. H. M. TeBeest, passed away suddenly of heart failure last Saturday forenoon. The funeral on Tuesday afternoon was conducted by Rev. H. C. Hjortholm pastor of the Oslo Church. Interment was made in the Oslo Cemetery.

Obituary
Gerrit Te Kroney was born July 23, 1875 at Alten, Holland He departed this life at the home of his sister Mrs. H. M. TeBeest of the Oslo Community, Hansford County, Texas on Saturday Nov. 12. He had thus attained the age of 61 years 3 months and 11 days.

He came to America in 1902 and settled in South Dakota near Clear Lake. He lived there with his mother, caring for her and supporting her by working as a laborer on the farm. Since her death he has made his home with his sister Mrs. H. M. TeBeest. When she and her family moved to the Oslo Community about 4 years ago, he came with them.

Death came suddenly and unexpectedly while he was about his usual daily tasks.

Those who knew him best noted his patient and uncomplaining attitude and his considerate regard for others at all times.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

He leaves to mourn his departure his sister and brother in law Mr. and Mrs. H. M. TeBeest of the Oslo Community and one sister Mrs. Byruntink and two half brothers in Holland and many relatives and friends.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish hereby to express our sincere appreciation and heartfelt thanks to all who by their kind sympathy and helpfulness have sustained us in our late bereavement—the sudden death of our brother and uncle.
The H. M. TeBeest Family.

A musical treat was given the Oslo Community on Thursday evening when the PAMC A-Capella Choir from Goodwell, Okla., under the direction of F. D. Jackson, rendered a concert at the Oslo Church. A large and attentive audience listened to the choir. Many from Gruver drove out for the concert. Everyone praised the singing of the choir and also the solo and quartet numbers. The A-Capella Choir will find a ready welcome in the Oslo Community should they ever favor us again with a concert. The singers were loud in their praise of the supper served them by the sponsoring group, the Brotherhood of the Oslo church. However, they seemed to think that the ladies did the work and they were reluctant to credit the men with preparing the supper. Perhaps they were right about that.

Since he was elected the homeliest man at the program and box supper at the Oslo School a week ago last Wednesday Rev. H. C. Hjortholm has been spending considerable time before a mirror trying to determine whether he really deserved that distinction. He has come to the conclusion that there must have been a mistake and that Gus Olsen, the runner up in the contest really should have been selected. Except for this one mistake, the program and box supper was a decided success. Miss Mary Louise Butler the teacher deserves much credit for the splendid way in which the pupils sang and performed their parts in the program. The boxes brought big prices. Several sold close to the $3.00 mark. One box did reach the mark.

Miss Marie Stedje visited relatives Nov. 11 here.

Miss Inga Reinertsen and Miss Stedje visited in Guymon Saturday.

The trustees of the Oslo church except Clarence Johnson who could not come repaired the well at the parsonage. Ole Knutson and George Johnson assisted them.

New Deal For County Agents

College Station, Texas—County agricultural agents in many counties are relinquishing active administrative duties in connection with the AAA programs and are becoming members of the county AAA committee without vote.

It is believed that the change will occur in about two-thirds of 254 Texas counties by the first of the year, H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, has said.

The farm act of 1938 provides that a county agent may either serve as executive secretary of the county AAA committee or become an ex-officio member of the group. In keeping with the expressed views of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to the effect that farmers should assume a fuller measure of responsibility in the local administration of the AAA many county agricultural agents are shifting from the position of secretary to that of ex-officio board member.

Administrative responsibility in these cases will be assumed by the AAA assistant, who will

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out. Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval and endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

perform the duties of the committee secretary in addition to those he has held as treasurer.

"We want county committeemen and farm people to understand that it is our desire to render the greatest possible service to agriculture by building stronger and more effective extension program and by aiding farmers to make use of the various federal programs in the most effective manner," Williamson said.

"The change in duties will enable our agents to carry a much broader program of work to the farmers in the county." County agricultural agents will continue to head up the AAA programs in the more sparsely settled counties, it was thought, since the employment of AAA assistants there would take a prohibitive cut from farmers' and ranchmen's payments.

Let Festive Outdoor Lights Express Your Pent-Up Christmas Cheer

Soon the shortest days and longest nights of the year will be upon us. But they promise to be the brightest, cheeriest, and most colorful nights of this or any other year.

Galaxies of star-like incandescent lamps will again sparkle from windows, doorways, house roofs, and shrubbery. It is the modern world's way of carrying the Christmas spirit outdoors through a most appropriate medium, light—and for all the world to share.

Each succeeding year over the past two decades has seen the modern vogue — of illuminating one's "Peace on Earth" with gem-like lights — grow into a custom almost as far-reaching and beautiful as the Christmas spirit itself.

This year, new thousands of homes will doubtless swell the countless millions of outdoor lighting displays and so enhance the beauty of the magnificent spectacle that is America at Yuletide — a veritable fairy-land of multi-colored light!

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Curtis of Rock Springs, Wyoming are visiting their parents here this week.

Number 8

That there still is sunshine. That still I can glimpse the blue of the sky.

And, in my stumbling onward way Continue to look up!

I'M THANKFUL For friends

With the kindly smile and the cheerful word

And that I can, at times, Conquer my puny griefs and petty cares, and answer in kind!

I'M THANKFUL That I can steadfastly believe in an ever guiding DESTINY

Which leads the world onward, Though very slowly,

AND I'M THANKFUL That for many blessings great and small, this is indeed a time for Grateful
