Lions Enjoy "Stag" Party As Guests Of White House Lbr. Co.

Twenty five members of the Spearman Lion club were guests of the White House Lumber Co. at the White House club near Canadian Tuesday evening for a real feed of Elk steak and all the fixin. Local manager Rip Dalton acted as master of ceremonies and kept the guests enjoying the evening. A member of the White House organization killed the 1,000 pound Elk from which the steaks were cut the past week end.

The White House location on the large Hoover ranch is one of the show places of the entire Panhandle country. Several lakes adjoin the club property and make a most picturesque scene.

Many of the more "He" man type of Lions spent the evening pitching horse shoes and enjoying out door games. A half dozen of the enemy members joined Judge HE Hoover in a game of dominoes inside the club house.

Members present voted the outgoing one of the most enjoyable of the season and expressed their thanks to Judge Hoover, C. E. Tepe, Charlie Calloway, all members of the general office at Canadian.

Traffic Death List Takes Sharp Decline For Aug; Predict Rise For Month Of September

Austin, Sept. — Texas gained its sharpest drop of the year in street and highway traffic fatalities in August when 112 persons were killed by this type of violence, only 83 of which, however, occurred on the open highway—cities and urban traffic accounting for the balance, according to state police statisticians.

Although this was a saving over July of 27 lives, safety officials predicted that the death toll will begin to rise after September's fatalities are counted. There has been a seventeen per cent decrease in death this year compared with the same period in 1937 when an all-time traffic record was made in the killing of 2,043 persons in the calendar year.

The death list for the first eight months of this year has reached 1,027, the statisticians reported.

August records showed that 1,282 persons received injuries in collisions, which was more heartening to state police, for July reports listed 1,454 injured persons. This indicated, safety experts said, that drivers are operating at lowered speeds causing less impact in crashes.

State officers deplored the large pedestrian death rate that reached 25 during August. One hundred twenty-seven pedestrian were injured, many of them critically. Accidents in which only vehicles were involved snuffed out the lives of 38 persons and injured 734. Three were killed while riding bicycles and two at railroad crossings.

With all Texas schools in full swing a sharp warning was repeated by Captain Homer Garrison, Jr., assistant state police director, to drivers, pedestrians and school children to use caution in order to avoid a repetition of the many fatal vehicular assaults in the vicinities of schools last year.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCT. 9-16

AUSTIN — Stressing the importance of continued vigilance on the fire prevention front, Marvin Hall, fire insurance commissioner, today urged State-wide observance of the annual Fire Prevention Week scheduled for October 9 to 15.

"Fire uncontrolled is one of the most serious problems that confronts us today," Hall said. "Each year its heavy toll in life and property is a black mark on the proud name of Texas. Only by constant and relentless vigilance on the part of every Texas citizen can we hope to reduce, and finally to eliminate the costly destruction of this economic enemy number one."

"Active participation in Fire Prevention Week by every Texas citizen will go forward curbing losses and saving lives, and, since fire losses have a direct bearing upon the insurance rates, there are other practical benefits accruing from effective fire prevention."

"Fire Prevention Week is designed for every Texan interested in performing a distinct service to his state, to his community, and to himself," Hall said. "If we remember that the fire that never starts will never get out of control, and keep that thought before us each day of every year, then we will rightfully say that the practice of fire prevention pays big dividends in human lives and happiness."

Mrs. Delon Kirk made a trip to Muleshoe Saturday stopping enroute to see her daughter Martha Delon, student at the Amarillo Junior College.

Hold Executive Meeting Red Cross Directors

Mrs. Mary Bauer, district executive of the national American Red Cross organization was in Spearman Monday afternoon for a meeting with the Hansford Red Cross directors. Plans for the annual Red Cross membership drive were perfected at the Monday meeting.

Hansford directors present at the meeting Monday made official application for a Red Cross nurse service to be made effective in the Spring of 1939. The application is contingent on receiving allotment of funds to aid in the work from the national chapter. Hansford county would provide $250.00 of the necessary amount, and the remainder some $300.00 would be provided by the "Will Rogers" national fund.

Bruce Sheets is director for the membership drive this year and plans appointment of drive captains at Morse, Gruver, Oslo and Hitchland. Directors present last Monday increased the Hansford quota some 100 members for the 1939 drive. It is believed that more interest all over the county can be gained in the coming drive when it is known that Hansford county has made application for the special nurse service in our various schools.

HANSFORD LAKE IN GROUP FOR 1939 PROGRAM

Hansford county's application for a major lake dam to be constructed on Palo Duro creek will likely be approved as one of the five lakes to be included in the 1939 program. Twelve lake sites have been selected by engineers to survey. Five of the locations will be placed on the list for the 1939 program. Since Hansford County has more natural advantages than any county listed in twelve prospective sites. It is expected that our county will likely head the list.

Prairie Chicken Costs Pampan $2. A Bite

MOBEETIE, Sept. 27.—One prairie chicken, killed Sunday just east of here, cost a Pampa teamster $111, or approximately $2 a bite if he got to eat it. Hugh W. Hunter entered a plea of guilty to hunting chicken out of season & was fined $100 and court costs by Justice of the Peace Holliday.

Game Warden Chas. Smith of Canadian, who made the arrest, thinks the fine should be boosted in order that prairie chickens, once plentiful in this area, should have a chance for a comeback.

"We're going to recommend $200 fines for all chicken hunters hereafter," he said.

"There are more quails and chickens in my district than for several years and there is better cover for them," said Smith, who works in nine counties of the Eastern Panhandle. "There has been some quail shooting and we're going to put a stop to that, too."

Mrs. Calvin Hazlewood of Lubbock is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Hix Wilbanks this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wilbanks and J. W. Wallace and Robert Wilbanks were in Amarillo Tuesday.

DON'T NAME IT

WILL J. MILLER

Here's a suggestion to Mr. Chamberlain. Next time you have to settle up with Adolph just use the telephone. If you intend satisfying his ever wish you can save the tax payers a lot of money.

Which comment is entirely out of order, because I do not know enough about the whole situation to rate an opinion.

Fact is the entire USA citizens, and commentators of every kind are showing poor sportsmanship to take so much interest in an affair that we have repeatedly claimed does not concern us.

Either the affair over across the pond is purely a private quarrel that does not concern us one iota, or it is a struggle of Democracies vs. Dictators that demands the whole hearted support of the leading democratic nation.

We of the USA have little right to heap criticism on England because they see fit to mortgage the coming generation with the settlement of this vital controversy. We are mortgaging our own children with debts of all kinds. If, as some commentators seem to think, this little affair over in Europe must be settled some of these days in order that Right must survive and safeguard a world of citizens against Might, then it is high time the USA began assuming responsibility.

Since the war is over, the world series is on, it's time to think of Christmas. Every year the Reporter finds we cannot fill last minute orders for Xmas cards. The assortment is poor, the supply is gone. This year we would like to help our customers. Here is our offer. Come in now and make your choice of the cards you would like to purchase, and we will order out the cards without cost to our customers, and print them making the collection January 1, 1939. That's fair. You do not have to wait until the last minute for your cards. You do not have to spend any of your Xmas money. You get a selection that represents literally 2,000 cards to choose from. Make a mental note NOW to come to the Reporter or phone us for a representative to bring the sample line to your home. The price range is from $1.00 for 25 printed cards up to $40.00 for 100 engraved cards.

Comments from the Amarillo Daily paper relative to the lake program in the Panhandle is very encouraging to people of Hansford. If this writer interprets the article appearing in the paper Wednesday correctly, the government plans a complete survey of 12 prospective lake sites, and plan to select 5 for immediate 1939 construction on the basis of the report from government engineers. That will place Hansford county heading the list. There is no doubt over the Panhandle that the Palo Duro creek has the of the largest water sheds and there are several very appropriate natural lake sites within the county's boundary. The most important consideration at this time is securing a large enough appropriation to justify

Farmers Urged To Make S.A. Applications Now; Time Extended Oct 15

AMARILLO, Texas—Farmers desiring to file application for farm tenant purchase loans under the Bankhead-Jones Act have until October 15 as a result of an extension of time, according to the announcement made here today by L. H. Hauter, regional director of the Farm Security Administration. October 1 was the original deadline.

The extension of time, it was explained, was ordered as a means of giving every farmer interested in making his own farm sufficient time to make application for a loan.

Applications may be made immediately at the nearest county office of the Farm Security Administration. Farm tenants, sharecroppers, farm laborers, or others who obtain or recently have obtained most of their income from farming eligible to apply.

However, only those farmers living in those counties where tenant purchase program is operating this year are eligible to make application. These counties are: Roosevelt and Eddy in New Mexico; Bent and Prowers in Colorado; Wallace and Meade in Kansas; Texas in Oklahoma; and Hall, Hansford, Floyd, Wheeler, and Randall in Texas.

Loans to tenants with which they may purchase their own farms are made for a 40-year period at 3 per cent interest. However the act provides that after five years payment in full may be made at any time. Annual payments of 4.3 per cent of the sum borrowed will cover both interest and principal.

Each county rural rehabilitation supervisor in the above named counties has full information concerning this supervised lending program and interested farmers are urged to contact one of these county offices between now and October 15.

Verna Gall and Janelle seem to have a soft place in their hearts for sand piles. Perhaps certain boys know why?

Yates Injure In Shattuck Football Game

BAND NEWS

The Band has been practicing very diligently during this week. Last week when the Lynx played Shattuck the Band was not present due to a number of reasons.

However, we are going to Canadian this Friday. The game will be played at night, consequently, due to the cool night air we hope to put on a really snappy performance.

We're going to support the Lynx to our best ability.

Cook continually whispers sweet nothings to Crawford. But then you know practice makes perfect.

Clifton, many people are wondering who she was Tuesday night. Shall I tell them.

The Lynx are very downhearted because of losing Leon Yates, co-captain and one of the best players on the team. Leon broke his ankle while tackling an opponent in the Shattuck game. He leaves a vacancy which will be hard to fill.

The Lynx lost to Shattuck 38-13. Everette (Bull) Green scored for the Lynx both times. The boys stopped at Perryton on the way home and saw Perryton beat Mobettie.

MRS. SKINNER'S ROOM ATTENDS CIRCUS

The children in Mrs. Skinner's first grade made paper dimes and nickles in order to pay the admission to the "world's greatest show". The second graders of both Miss Bailey and Mrs. Loftin have built a complete miniature circus. Attractive posters decorated the rooms, announcing "Come See The Circus". Gay clowns can be seen in one ring, and there, also, is a seal. In another ring the bareback riders' brilliant colors mingle with one another.

In the animal tent Zebras with white and black stripes, lazily drink their water. Down through the rows of cages one sees bears, lions, and elephants. Two tiny trick dogs can be seen as they sit in a ring where two elephants are thrilling the sightseers. Everyone is invited to visit the second grade rooms and enjoy the circuses.

Book of the Week

—Betty Morton

"The Bridge of San Luis Rey," by Thornton Wilder, is rather an odd book. The bridge was on the road from Lima to Cuzco, and it had swung over the gorge for more than a century. No one even ever thought about its falling. Why, the bridge of San Luis Rey was protected by St. Louis of France! It couldn't fall but it did and with it went five individuals.

One of the witnesses to the accident was a small red-headed Franciscan monk from northern Italy. He had been about to cross the bridge when the accident occurred. Almost anyone else would have said to himself with joy, "Why in another minute or two I would have been on the bridge but, Brother Juniper only said, 'Why those five? So—Brother Juniper set about investigating the lives of those five, to find out exactly why those particular five were chosen to be on the bridge of San Luis Rey when it collapsed. He worked for six years, knocking at all the doors in Lima, filling scores of notebooks in an effort to establish the fact that each of the five lives which he worked on had been perfectly complete. Well, he did, but the result was publicly burned in the square on a beautiful Spring morning. There was, however, a secret copy of the book which, after many years, found its way

A New Era —By Edward Bradford With the coming of the automobile a new era began. No longer were the roads over the country mere cow paths. New fields for scientific, mechanical, and industrial minds were opened. A vast new unexplored field was opening up. Many people saw its gigantic possibilities; many took advantage of them. A greater degree of speed than heretofore known had been attained. It had ceased to take hours to go short distances, and much greater distances could be achieved because of the endurance of the automobile. Truly with the automobile came a new era in civilization.

The Value of School

—Estella Garnett We learn more than facts by going to school. For example, school is one of the first places that we learn to adapt ourselves to other people's thoughts, ideas, and actions. We may learn many things from the books in our school; but if we do not learn to adapt ourselves to different situations, our knowledge will gain us very little. It is not only the books we study that enlarges our personalities, but it is also the many different kinds of personalities that we find in the different classes of people. Since we associate with these people every day, it is not unusual, therefore that we find ourselves picking up their ideas and actions. When all these ideas and actions are put into one, they form our individual personalities. It can be said then, that we not only learn facts in school, but we also learn how to develop ourselves, which is equally important.

appetite and welcomed the delicious refreshments. The seniors decided that their mothers must be about the best cooks in the world.

JUNIORS

The juniors who didn't attend the party Saturday night really missed something. All the boys tangled up in a real game of basketball, with two or three goals being made. The girls peeked around on the piano and sang. We had lots to eat and drink. There were enough sandwiches, potato chips and cookies for everybody, even Janelle. We had only two outsiders, those being two senior boys. What were they doing there?

Doris Jean and Virginia know. The juniors are sorry about the accident Leon had last Friday.

A certain junior boy is having great difficulty, keeping a senior girl from going to Perryton. Some of you juniors think of some news to write in our column. We need some help. If you have any news give it to J. R. or Ledru. Reports from the junior football players are that they are going to beat Canadian Friday night.

Fire Prevention Week

OCTOBER 9TH TO 16TH

What Will YOU Do to Help...?

FACE THE FACT—that you yourself, either through carelessness or indifference are partially responsible for America's annual Fire bill: thousands of lives, thousands of injuries and more than a half billion dollars in property damage! Face the fact that you have paid your share of that bill in taxes and insurance premiums. Finally, consider the possibility that next year your life, or the life of a dear one, may be numbered among the thousands; that your property may be listed in next year's toll. What are you going to do about it? Certainly there are numberless things you can do. Much progress has been made in the Knowledge of Fire, its cause, and its prevention. Science has contributed no end of equipment both for preventing and fighting fire. MODERN building materials and methods of construction, modern heating systems, fire extinguishers, warehouses, safety deposit vaults and professional garment cleaners all offer means for doing your bit to conquer man's most terrifying enemy. Take advantage of these agencies for your protection. Adopt the precautionary measures suggested at the right. Do everything in your power to lessen the tragic waste of Fire. You owe it to yourself, your family and your neighbors.

- 1. Make sure that your match is out before throwing it away. 2. Extinguish the last spark of your cigar or cigarette. 3. Take care not to let dry waste or oily rags accumulate in some out-of-the-way corner of your house. 4. Build your rubbish bon-fire where there is no danger of spreading, and watch it carefully. 5. Have your electric wiring inspected regularly and repaired when necessary. 6. Avoid using kerosene, benzine or naphtha for cleaning purposes. 7. Watch your heating system and chimney. They should be kept clean and in perfect working condition. 8. Keep matches beyond the reach of your children beyond the reach of any kind of fire. 9. Do not leave your forest camp fire before it is totally extinguished.

HELEN JEPSON
A Darn In Her Stocking Set Her Feet On The Ladder To Fame

Do you like Cinderella stories? Well, here is one that actually happened. This is the story of a little girl who was once called "Fatty," but who grew up to be one of the most beautiful singers of all time. This is the story of a little girl who was so poor she couldn't afford to take music lessons; yet she is now a prima donna in the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York. In 1930, this girl had one radio audition after another; and nobody wanted her. Four years later the radio editors of America voted her the most important new radio personality of the year.

One season while I was broadcasting I often admired a beautiful platinum blonde sitting in the front row of the studio audience—a glamorous blonde with soft brown eyes, a stunning figure, and personal charm. Finally I met her—and discovered she was none other than the famous Helen Jepson, and that she was the wife of George Posselt, the flute player in the orchestra.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of thanking the many friends who were so kind and considerate during the recent illness and death of our Mother. We appreciate your kindness, the floral offerings and words of sympathy.
Signed: Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Jones, Carl Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jones and family, May Jones and children, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Vessels and Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Tucker.

Nevertheless, she gambled on her future and went to Philadelphia. Some of the other two hundred contestants had voices just as sweet and clear and colorful as hers. But she had something they didn't have. She had showmanship, the ability to sell herself, the ability to put her songs across. And then one of the judges noticed that Helen had a neat little darn in one of her stockings and this judge liked girls who had sense enough to darn their stockings. So Helen Jepson won the scholarship.

She and another girl rented a room on the outskirts of the city. They had to walk up five flights; and on cold winter days, they sat on one another's feet and rocked back and forth to keep warm. They lighted candles and put them on the floor and imagined they had a fireplace. They had only fifty cents a day to spend on food, so they cooked their meals over a little gas burner.

Sometimes they had nothing but soup for dinner; but they sang songs from La Boheme and imagined that they were in Paris. Hard ships? Not a bit of it. They were having the time of their lives. One of the things I admire most about Helen Jepson is the fact that success and fame and money haven't spoiled her. She is just as democratic and unassuming now as she was fifteen years ago when she was sweeping the floor and frying pork chops for her father back in Akron, Ohio.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth" (Revelation 19:6).

The SNAPSHOT CLUB
SELF-TIMERS

You can take a picture of the family picnic and be in it yourself by using a self timer.

THE question is often asked, "Is there any way that I can take a snapshot of my friends and include myself in the picture?" There certainly is a way and a simple one. Use a self timer. A self timer is a most fascinating little gadget and almost human in its operation. It is an inexpensive accessory that fits over the metal button, or plunger, at the end of the cable release, which you press to take a snapshot with a folding camera. It cannot, however, be used unless the camera is fitted with a cable release. Here is how it works. First you locate your subject in the finder and at the same time plan the space you will occupy when you step into the picture. Suppose you want to take a picture of a group on a picnic or at the beach. You will have to have the camera on a tripod, table or something solid. Locate the group in the finder—and be sure you can see the spot you will occupy or you may among those missing when the prints are returned. When the lens aperture is set at the proper opening with the correct shutter speed, the same as if you were going to snap the picture yourself, set the self timer for the amount of time it would take you to get your place in the group. Slip the self timer over the button at the end of the cable release and press the little release lever on the timer. It starts buzzing away, you rejoin the group and then—click—it has taken the picture and you're in it. You can purchase a self timer attachment from almost any store that sells photographic supplies. They are not expensive and last a lifetime. Some cameras have a self timer incorporated in the shutter construction, so if you have this type of camera and have never used the self timer you have missed a lot of fun and picture taking opportunities.

Beauty And Health

It's a serious business, this theory and practice of good looks. Far from being a vain and frivolous occupation...

cleanliness and beauty from within; with what one and drinks; with the vital matter of elimination. Plenty of drinking water—the minimum is eight glasses of water a day...

Right Food Necessary Much of this source of beauty is lost at home. Row cabbage, carrots, and apples top the list as foods for better elimination and greater vitality. Milk, at least a pink a day and a quart is better...

It will help your group to understand the relation of food to beauty if you will plan some special study on those foods which vitally effect and improve the condition of the skin...

The outer cleansing of the skin is the next important consideration. This, however, must be suited to the type of skin. A normal skin which reflects good health...

much shine. Coarse pores and blackheads all too frequently develop. For the normal skin the daily care should be a washing with a fine mild soap and warm water...

It Isn't Too Late For Pickles

It is still pickling and relish making time. Green tomatoes as well as cucumbers make delicious dill pickles if you follow the rules carefully.

Of first importance is the brine for the quick fermentation process, and this germination process is as necessary in making the dill pickle flavor as the dill itself. Weigh the salt and measure all other ingredients of the brine carefully.

Standard proportions for dill pickle brine is 1-4 pounds (2 cups salt) one pint vinegar, and 4 tablespoons sugar to two gallons of water. This quantity will make enough for about 12 lbs. of green tomatoes.

Only fresh green tomatoes should be used for dilling, and they should be without blemish and of uniform size. If you are making only a small quantity of dilled tomatoes, it is best to use 2-quart glass for the fermentation process.

Dill will be ready to put up sooner if they are kept fairly warm, 75 to 80 degrees F. Place a layer of the dill and mixed spices at the bottom of the jar or crock. A bit of garlic is sometimes added.

In about two weeks the dilled tomatoes will be ready for use—crisp spicy and well flavored with dill and clear dark green throughout. Now slice the tomatoes and pack them in sterilized quart jars. Add a half a cup of fresh cider vinegar to each, and fill the jar with the dill brine which has been strained, boiled and cooled.

We are also promised better business conditions in this country.
