Do Your Christmas Thinking Early

THINK—of the people who have never had the Bible.
 THINK—of the blind who want the Scriptures.
 THINK—of the children in Korea who would receive the Christmas story with shining faces and eager hearts.
 THINK—of the refugees from the East Zone of Germany who long for a Bible so they can read again the story of Christmas.
 THINK—of all the presents we give and those we receive.
 THINK—how much shall I send as an extra gift this year so other people can have the Bible.

Successful Hunters

THANK YOU!
 You thank you very much! For you can never know what messages of good cheer are to be found in a BOUTIQUE OF FLOWERS and what light and hope "GET WELL" cards bring to one upon a "sick bed" unless you yourself have had experience with me.
 The flowers come from far and near: from Lodge and Church and individuals as well. All of these, along with the dozens and dozens of cards that come from Faraway, California, Alabama, Mississippi, Oklahoma and from many, many towns and villages of Texas. All of these I see, spelled out to me. We Love You, We Are Praying For You, For All of You, I Thanked God And Took Courses.
 And even now, though I am ever a month out of the hospital, messages of love and sympathy come in almost daily. If such is not enough to bring love, LIFE AND HAPPINESS to a convalescent, I wonder what it would take.
 My earnest prayer is, God BLESS EVERY ONE OF YOU! THIMBLETT & DEVOTELY, "BROTHER LOFTIN".

Spearman Lynx Down Greyhounds 21 To 7 In Outstanding Game

The Spearman Lynx unraveled a terrific bit of football Friday night at their homecoming game, to defeat the scrappy Gravel Greyhounds 21 to 7, in an thrilling football game as you will ever see.

The pregame ceremony saw the crowning of Miss Georgia Buzzard as football queen, and as pretty a queen as you will ever see, inspired the Lynx to play their outstanding game of the year.

The Lynx kicked, with the wind, starting the 1st quarter, and the Greyhounds were forced to kick on 4th down after a series of plays. The Lynx returned the ball to the 45 yard line in Gravel territory, and kicked off a 1st down to the 35 yard line. From here little Bobby Nollner slipped off 23 yards to the 2 yard line, and Peyton Gibson sneaked the ball in the end zone for the touch down. Bobby Nollner passed to Summerville for the extra point.

In the second quarter, with the wind in their backs, the Greyhounds, starting from almost the identical spot, drove 45 yards for their touch-down, with Mitts carrying the last 6 yards around right end into the end-zone. Kenneth Mason ran over the important extra-point to tie up the ball game at half time.

In the third quarter, the Lynx put on their best ground attack of their scoring some 25 yards for the touch-down, with Summerville running 12 yards for the final tally. Nollner drove kicked the extra point.

The Greyhounds tried two downs for 4th down runs in the fourth quarter, and the Lynx line literally stopped them cold, and this accounted for the win in a big way. Although the line-play was terrific on both sides, with Gravel actually leading in the 4th half, with the Lynx 7-7, but the Lynx drove had two penetrations to the Lynx 45 yard line.

The Lynx completely dominated the 4th quarter of play, at which the Hounds Hills moved into the end-zone. The Lynx stopped the Hounds on fourth down, and took over on the 35 yard line. This drive to the Hounds 50 yard line, but were rebuffed back to the 35. Three plays from scrimmage netted 11 yards, but on the fourth down, with approximately 20 yards to go, Peyton Gibson took a sack to Summerville, who established it on the 11 yard line and kicked into the end zone for the touch-down. Nollner established the extra point to make the score 21 to 7.

Rev. Matthew Dogie visited the team at Spearman last week. He will be the pastor of the Central Church in Lufkin, Texas, and the former pastor of the church in Spearman.

Don't Name It

As the Thanksgiving season approaches this country editor is indeed thankful that he either had enough judgment to select the country weekly field or did not have enough "savvy" to make good in the daily field. Men who this writer considered extremely youthful for the responsibilities of their chosen profession (Daily newspaper and Radio work) now look 5 to 10 years older than this writer, even though they are hardly approaching middle age. Take Wes Lizard—a distinguished looking chap, one that should have the sparkle of youth in his eyes, the proud bearing of an athlete—and now with the grind of office deadlines, the responsibilities of his big organization on his shoulders, he sure has a battle to look and feel relaxed. Doubtless he gets a wonderful thrill out of spell-binding talks to service clubs and answering the telephone listener to pointless questions, but it all begins to drain on his vitality.

and there is Bob Watson KNCN radio fame. This writer first met this kid some 5 years ago when we were advertising our Spearman Celebration—and we wondered why the management was robbing the cradle to get announcers and help—but mind you he was the acme of perfection—and this writer thought that in about 10 years he would be developed into a fairly good young business man. Imagine our horror Sunday when Mr. Watson was introduced over TV as "Pop" Watson. He really looked like an old man—but he is still brisk and full of pep, and an ideal Master of Ceremonies for the Quidnow, or whatever they call that game where they ask 4th and 5th grade students questions that their parents couldn't begin to answer.

IT'S the pace that kills—and this writer will be taking life easy 20 years after the youngsters on the Daily field are barred to a crisp.

We sure do have lots to be thankful for in this coming Thanksgiving season. We have a prospect for agricultural production.

IF YOU ARE GOING DUCK HUNTING . . . take a woman along . . . Last week several of the so called best hunters in the county, including Bruce Sheets, Bill Hutton, Oscar Donnell, Hall Jones and Dr. Spiller planned the BIG HUNT FOR DUCKS. The crew got up at 4 a. m. and waited in the damp grass and cool wind until near sunrise. They bagged 3 ducks. In the afternoon Susan Sheets had two of her friends visiting and Bruce had promised to show them how to shoot a 22 rifle. The three girls and Bruce left with rifle and shot gun. Sure enough they spotted a contingent of ducks behind a dam on a small earthen tank. The girls were strictly perfect in making their approach for the kill, and Sheets got a pot shot at the ducks. The girls and Bruce bagged 5 ducks. O. C. Holts daughters said it just proved that if you was a son of a duck hunting you sure take a woman along.

This writer is not in a position to question the validity of the statement, but we notice in the Daily newspaper that the Jackson well was 4 miles from Graver. If it is 12 miles to Graver from Spearman and we have to swing out North to reach the Jackson well, it must be at least 16 miles from Spearman. No wonder that Graverites resented the well being called the Spearman field.

This writer just aint any football analyst—or in other words we can't predict game results. We would not dare have made the prediction before the game, but judging from the fact that Groom beat Spearman 55 to 6, and Groom beat Graver 29 to 7, we had given the Hounds a two touchdown margin—even without Charlie Sanders on their team. The results were exactly reverse—and it shows how much confidence you can place on comparative scores. It won't work.

Washinton News Letter From Congressman Walter Rogers

November 5, 1953
TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th DISTRICT:
 The Washington Social season officially opened: The White House was the setting of the official opening of the Washington social season. The occasion was a dinner at which the President entertained 72 guests. It was referred to as the "Cabinet dinner" and is to be followed by five more state banquets: The Supreme Court, November 17th; diplomatic, December 8 and 15; Vice President's, January 19, and House Speaker's, February 16. State receptions will take place on November 19 for the diplomatic corps, December 1, for the judiciary, January 12, for Department officials, February 16, for military leaders, and February 23 for Congress.
 The President sat at the head of the table. The wives of Secretary John Foster Dulles and Henry Cabot Lodge sat next to him. Directly across the table Mrs. Eisenhower was seated between Mr. Dulles and Mr. Lodge. A six-course dinner was served, with four wines, sherry, red burgundy, sautee and champagne. The meal consisted of cream of almond soup, fried red snapper, roast turkey with wild rice, and a dessert of frozen rum pudding with sliced peaches and butter-scotch sauce. Crabmeat cocktail, celery and olives, a green salad with wine sauce and cheese straws, nuts and bonbons were also served.
 At the conclusion of the dinner, the men retired to the Green Room and the ladies to the Red Room, where brandy, liquors, coffee, cigarettes and cigars were served. All guests were entertained in the East Room of the White House by Fred Waring and 42 Pennsylvanians, in a program styled "Sons of America Loves." This continued until just after midnight.

The Washington social season was officially open. One writer who attended the dinner pointed out that during the dinner one lady wanted to know when she could smoke. The Lady was advised by a uniform waiter of 20 years service that since the President did not smoke, cigarettes would not be in order until after the dinner had been concluded.

Although I am sure Mr. Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, would never complain about the food at the White House, I am equally sure that he would have preferred beef as the main meat course.
 The Recent Elections: Washington has been agog and awit about the recent elections in the East. There has been conjecture as to the meaning of these elections, at which the Democrats gained many offices, including the Governorship of New Jersey and a Home seat in New Jersey that had always been occupied by Republicans. The observations of many alleged political intellectuals have been very interesting. Many—including some of the leading Republicans—analyzed the situation as a repudiation of the present administration, saying that it is the result of the failure of the present administration, to carry out many campaign promises. Other attribute the upheaval as an indication that the people have not been informed and advised as to what is going on. Frankly, I cannot subscribe to either analysis. My observation is that many of the so-called political writers tragically underestimate the knowledge and understanding of the American people. For many years there has been a tendency on the part of many groups inside of political parties to feel that once their party gets in power, they are endowed with the right to concessions, grants, rights and prerogatives to which other citizens are not entitled, and by which the so-called select few can control the American people. For the exercise of these rights is a matter solely within the discretion of those who happen to have the power of majority—a theory that unless you belong to the party in power, you are entitled to little, if any, consideration.

The truth is that the American people are wide awake; they have a full understanding and knowledge of what is going on. They do not believe in political chicanery, 4 and 5 percent deals, influence peddling, or any other practice that smacks of political favoritism. They fully realize that this age-old political disease is not peculiar to one particular party. They want, and are entitled to, fair, honest and efficient government, without favoritism to a select few. When that kind of government is not the order of the day, those in power can expect to be repudiated at the polls. This is not true whether the election be on a local, state or national level. As was once said by Abraham Lincoln, "You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

PEISSANAL SITUATION: Washington is rather quiet, which gives me an opportunity to catch up with the large backlog of work at the office here. Our baby girl, who had the mumps, has recovered and is back in

Washing And T. B. Testing Of The Dairy Cow

Continuous campaign against tuberculosis and T. B. should be carried on to guard the health of the dairy cow and also to realize profit from your Dairy Cow.

If you are keeping a dairy cow to provide milk for your family, you should be especially careful to have her tested for Tuberculosis (T. B.) for Hansford annually.

Blackburn from Dumas is secured to spend a day in county, visiting each individual and performing the tuberculin test on the cow. If you are interested please call your County Agent within the next two weeks. By coming on this, the veterinarian will come to your farm and these tests cheaper and less trouble on your part.

Out Of Town Reader Wants More Pep In Irrigation Well

A Mr. H. Haight, with the PMA at Salt Lake City, one of the many out-of-county readers of the Spearman Reporter comes up with a suggestion that the management of the Reporter put a little pep in the irrigation well that we have featured on the mast-head of the newspaper for many months.

Mr. Haight observes that as long as we did not have sufficient rainfall the "tired" stream of water coming from the pump was all o. k. However, with about 4 inches of moisture recorded, Haight seems to think that the water reserves should be built up to the point that we could turn on the full stream and begin watering the earth. He even sent us a drawing of his idea of how the water should emit from the pump, and if you will look at the mast-head you can see it would look a bit more vigorous if the water was spraying out practically over to the big line of elevators. However, that space represents at least 6 miles... so maybe we had better give the matter some thought before we have water running into the basement of the Equity Elevator from the nearest irrigation well 6 miles away.

Around Gruver

We are sure disappointed at the results of the Spearman Gruver football game. Personally we had expected Gruver to win. The season statistics all pointed to it. Unfortunately for us, statistics do not win football games. Well our Grade School boys did o. k. seeing they were the champs in their division. Ansel Burrus did a good job with the little fellows. It looks like we are going to have a fine High School girls Basketball team this year. So we will still have something to be happy over. Mr. Hudson is doing a good job.

Mrs. A. L. Thoreson and Jennette entertained the Senior Class, their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Eddings, Donnie Thoreson and Dee Allen with a turkey dinner last Thursday. Mrs. Houser Cluck assisted Mrs. Thoreson in preparing and serving the dinner. Of the 18 members of the senior class, fourteen were present. After dinner some time was spent in conversation and several musical numbers were rendered by Patsy Cluck and Viola Dahl. Afterwards, everyone went to the Pop Rally. It was a pleasant evening.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Ledru Jacobs, Vickie and Becky, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carpenter, Clord, Opal and Miss Lois Carpenter of Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs and Charlotte of Chaussen, Mrs. Fern Stewart and Betty, Mrs. Jean Stewart, Vickie, Joe and Susan of Pampa, Mrs. Shell and Mike of Perryton, Emma and Lory and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jacobs.

This 'N That

Around Gruver

An idea is one thing; putting it into words so that everybody will understand it, is another. Most people will sell what they own for a good profit even if the income taxes take most of the gain. The women who lavish affections upon pets will tell you that some of them have more sense than human beings.

It is setting so now that a man finds it very hard to find the time to keep up with his work.

You may have noticed that the man of integrity seldom delivers a lecture upon the virtues of integrity.

Reformation of the human race proceeds slowly and is not helped much by the habit of denouncing the sinners.

Why but you need in Spearman and your dollars will come back to you. Send them away from home and they are gone forever.

People who plan for their future usually succeed better than those who do not, but there is no law which requires you to be successful.

Mr. J. C. Harris and Mrs. Herb McCallan, and two other ladies whose names we do not have, are on their way to San Antonio as delegates to the State Convention of the P. T. A. Mrs. John Ireland, the former Patsy Rorty is a very happy young lady just now. Her husband Leta John Ireland is on his way home from Korea. He will see his little son for the first time when he arrives.

Mrs. Corby Chapman, Lou McCallan to you, is here visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Randolph McCallan. Her husband is in the navy and stationed in California.

We saw several of our college students over the week-end. Jim Fox and Calvin Mitty were home from Lubbock for the week-end. Don Paddy also home from the week-end from Goodwell Okla. Elizabeth Holt was home from Austin for the week-end. We are always glad to see our young people. We feel like we are kids to all of them.

Here is some news. Mrs. Otha Gabel, the former Irene Roper will be associated with Rosalie Hughes in the Rosebud Beauty Shop. Mrs. Gabel will begin her course Nov. 21st. Mrs. Gabel specializes in all of the latest hair-cutting and styling. She is an experienced operator and will please you.

Take Care of Your Skin This Summer

The days of outdoor living with intense sunshine and humid weather are here. They can do cruel things to a woman's appearance, but they need not, if extra care is taken.

Make up your mind, then stick to your determination that you'll come through the summer nicely tanned, glowing with health, rather than burned, dried and lined.

Select Cosmetic Warfare

For summer, it's necessary to have different cosmetics from the ones you use during colder days. Cleansing and lubricating creams are apt to be too heavy for hot weather, so they should be changed for those of lighter variety.

Oily-based foundations and pancake type make-ups you'll find are encouraging to face shine, and such you'll want to change too. Switch to the lighter powder bases that nourish and lubricate, but aren't heavy.

Non-greasy lipsticks, rouge and powders will stay on your face better during warm weather, and they'll look fresh for a longer period. Add a box of quilted cotton squares to your cosmetic kit, too, as they'll be easy for applying make-up, and you can discard them after a single use, and thus keep fresh.

Get your summer cosmetics in the smaller sizes. You may want to change colors often as the season progresses as your complexion deepens and tans.

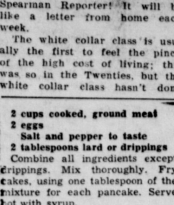

Ward Off Burnings

In spite of all warnings, people get burned and painfully. Do take the warning seriously and plan to get your sun in small doses at first. Skins which have been covered are rather delicate and they burn easily on the first exposures.

If you want to stay in the sun a bit longer, plan to cover up with a lotion which will prevent bad burning. All exposed areas should be covered with lotion before you venture into the sun.

Garments which serve as patterns can be used to check sleeve lengths, collar and cuff sizes and pocket positions. Length for growing can usually be added through trouser cuffs.

Gardens Require Early Protection

Thousands of New Poisons Available

Thousands of new insecticides—bug killing poisons—have been registered with the government in recent years.

Once it was necessary to have two or three kinds of insecticide to protect his plants from insects and disease.

Now there are many more. Some are so effective that they can be used on hand—one to kill leaf eaters, one to kill aphids, and one to keep insects from spreading.

Now all these have been rolled into one. The time to spray is before the damage is done, since nothing can prevent the plant that insects have ruined.

Dusting and spraying are both effective. Dusting has many advantages for the non-experienced gardener. Equipment may be economical, and the dusts come ready for use.

Care should be taken that no part of the plant—whether spraying or dusting—is allowed to come in contact with the eyes.

The 16th annual National Farm Safety Week will be observed July 19-25, the National Safety Council has announced.

The goal of National Farm Safety Week, which has been jointly sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture since its inception in 1944, is to encourage all farm residents to "Farm to Live and Live to Farm" by practicing safety in the home, at work, in traffic and in recreation.

Farm accidents take thousands of lives annually. For the most part they can be attributed to carelessness and neglected repairs of machinery and facilities.

Nothing else the national strength as much as last month hours due to accidents. And this year's slogan is "Farm to Live and Live to Farm".

Basic foods for breakfast should include fruit or fruit juice, cereal, bread, butter and milk. Use citrus fruits or combinations and try the fresh fruits and berries.

Vary the menu with eggs in different forms, poached on whole wheat bread toast, soft cooked eggs with toasted nut bread, scrambled eggs on toasted, buttered shredded wheat, or eggs baked in bolagna cups.

Are variety needed? What about pancakes and waffles at least once a week? Speaking of pancakes, there's a good deal of variety to be found in these, too.

Here's a recipe which uses cooked oatmeal in addition to the usual ingredients. Ham is especially delicious but pork or pork sausage may also be used.

Wrestling In Berger Friday

Roger Mackey of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Carol Krauser of Tarnow, Poland, who created quite a furor in their wrestling match here last Friday night, are coming back for a return meeting this week.

This time they'll be on the top spot, the main event, running two out of three falls to a one-hour time limit. And it is due to rather rough weather.

Krauser, stocky and exceptionally strong, has not been in the best of the county very long, but already he has his sights set on the Southwest States championship, Mackey formerly held the title, losing it in late October to Dory Funk of Unbarner.

Extremely fast for his build, Mackey is in late October, men to pin who has ever wrestled around these parts. His ability to recover from rough treatment and come back to get the upper hand is matched only by his durable stamina.

Friday night's card will start with a "wrestling" match, more into rough stuff for the semi-final, and stay that way through the main event.

Van Kelnitoff, the heavy-handed, blood thirsty Russian, meets clever George Carlin in the semi-final, scheduled for two out of three falls or 45 minutes, and no doubt will be anything but peaceful.

Last year more than 9 million pounds of usable clothing and shoes were collected in the Thanksgiving appeal.

This year the clothing and blankets are ticketed for refugees in Korea, Europe and the Near East.

YOU NAME IT

By Billy Miller

The agricultural situation in the county is looking up! We received that three inches of moisture a couple of weeks ago and we've been waiting for the weather to get some more this winter, because we have missed so many the past winters.

The oil business is picking up. Know of one fellow who sold 50 acres of mineral for $600 dollars, and that is nearly good for a start. We could be setting on top of an unexplored large ocean of oil, and who knows, local oil contacts assure us that Hansford county has good possibilities in this gas and oil business.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LESSON-SERMON

The Golden Text of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body" to be read in Christian Science churches this Sunday is from Matthew: "The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light" (6:22).

The Lesson points out that God is Soul and man is His reflection; that man's soul is God and does not dwell in a material body. Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science says in this passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Rightly understood, instead of possessing a sentient material form, man has a senseless body; and God the Soul of man and of all existence, being perpetual in His own individuality, harmony and immortality, imparts and perpetuates these qualities in man... through Mind, not matter" (p. 256).

Television has come to life in Hansford county.

The transmission stations are getting acquainted with their equipment, and local set owners in Spearman are learning a few tricks. The most important, is height. If you will set up as high as 70 feet, your reception will be good 90 per cent of the time!

Texas Farm Bureau Convention Adopts Proposed Farm Program

The Texas Farm Bureau has adopted a national farm program which is designed to alleviate the surplus problem and insure price stability in the agricultural industry. The plan will be recommended for adoption at the American Farm Bureau Federation convention Dec. 14-17 in Chicago.

The 564 voting delegates to the state Farm Bureau's 26th annual convention Nov. 9-11 at Mineral Wells also recommended the continuation and expansion of the beef purchase program to a point of accomplish the stability at 100 per cent of parity.

Under the farm plan adopted at the convention, the percentage of tillable acres that are resolvable for surplus would be taken completely out of production. However, producers of basic commodities would still retain the right to exert control over their commodities, as they do now under the present law. A system of flexible supports, ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity, would be provided for the non-basic crops if producers favored marketing agreements for those crops.

Statistics show that the overall national over-production averages from 5 to 15 per cent. If, for example, the over-all surplus amounted to 10 per cent, then each farmer would retain 10 per cent of his tillable acres. To be eligible for supports, the producer would have to comply with a soil conserving plan for his retired acreage. Shifting of production from over-produced crops to those in short supply would be encouraged by the price support system. Thus, the plan would bring supplies in line with demand and also enforce good soil conserving practices.

The convention endorsed a compromise plan to amend the present cotton acreage law in the next session of Congress to increase next year's national cotton allotment from 17,910,448 acres to 21,500,000.

Delegates from 123 counties voted to continue supporting wheat at not less than 89 per cent of parity with acreage control and marketing quotas in effect. The Convention delegates recommended increased supports for an expanded research program, both at the state and national levels.

The delegates favored sending food and fiber, instead of dollars, to any country receiving U. S. aid where agricultural products are needed. The group also endorsed reciprocal trade agreements as a means of disposing of agricultural surpluses.
