NOVEMBER PENSIONS DELAYED.

Austin, Nov. 10.—Orville S. Carpenter acting director of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission after learning that Social Security Board action on the new Texas pension law would be delayed a week, today was back in Austin conferring with members of the State Board of Control and Att. General William McCraw.

Carpenter returned by plane Friday, Nov. 6, from Washington. Although sure that the Washington board would approve the new assistance statute, Carpenter said that the Texas law, as well as the November grant, would not be considered until Nov. 13. He explained that the delay would result in this month's assistance checks not being mailed until about Nov. 20.

"For the Nov. 13 meeting of the Social Security Board we will have available additional legal opinions and statements which will speed approval of the Texas pension law," Carpenter said.

The $7,000 Nov. 1, checks will be mailed to Texas aged the same day that the $800,000 federal grant arrives in Austin, he added.

An Editorial... The Time Has Come

TO TALK OF CABBAGE and KINGS, and OTHER THINGS. And the other things is, quoting "A consolidated program and plan of operation for the prevention and control of wind erosion for the area represented by the Dalhart, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Sherman, Moore, Lipcomb, Hansford and Ochiltree counties Wind Erosion conservation districts in Texas."

Now since you have all that important title and preliminary in mind, let us get down to facts and find out what it is all about.

Remember back last Spring when the wind was blowing our land away, and things looked kinda bad—we all knew that we must start fighting for our prospective wheat crop. It was not a big and serious question of what to do. We did not need a special committee of Amarillo lawyers to tell us that we must get into the fields with tractors and plows and list and chisel the land. Our problem was to get the money to execute the needed remedy. Good old State of Texas came to the rescue and nine counties were allowed all and half of their state taxes as a refund to create the necessary money to carry on the program. It was a life saver.—In Hansford county we would have made some wheat that would have averaged as much as 20 bu. per acre if the hail had not destroyed it. In Moore county and in other counties, the movement proved of untold benefit. This successful operation of the plan was made without the benefit of outside advice from anyone—there simply was not enough time for the dictators of the Panhandle to get in with a plan and blue prints on how the district counties should spend this money. It was an emergency—and for one time in the history of the Panhandle the people of this and the other eight counties had an opportunity to spend their own money without expert advice from Amarillo.

Let us see how our poor commissioners' court was able to face such a terrible situation. The first thing they did was to place every parcel of land in the county "on the spot". The court went thru the necessary legal procedure to make each land owner liable for protecting his land from blowing. When the court had completed this work they decided that since the farmer was to benefit by the program, it would be logical for the farmer to execute the same. A control committee for the county headed by Mr. T. C. Harvey, and Mr. Buzzard arranged for other committees of FARMERS in each community of the county. The farmers themselves placed their own plan in operation—and it proved a SUCCESS—so much so in fact, that not all the funds allotted for the program were used. That's one picture.

Here is the other picture. Some individual or group were not satisfied with the way things were going, and for some cause or other it was decided that a big DISTRICT organization should supervise and plan out just how this said program was to be carried out in the future—and for some UNKNOWN reason the committee was selected and as a result we now have that long high sounding report that includes a budget and blue print of how the farmers are to use their money in the future. Well, since this program has to do with farmers and their land—would you not think that the committee would be composed of the successful farmers of the nine counties involved in the soil and wind erosion district? Would it not be logical that such would be the case—WELL BUDDIE you are WRONG. If the writer is not mistaken, there is not a farmer on this committee of five. This committee is headed by J. O. Guile of Amarillo, a lawyer and a Jeffersonian Democrat, whose organization did everything in its power to discredit the new deal and the fine agricultural program of our GREAT President. He is one of the two men from Amarillo, who are on the committee. The other man is John E. Hill. Here you have an Amarillo lawyer and an Amarillo city farmer, neither of whom reside in the wind erosion district, undertaking to tell you how to successfully protect your land.

You GUESSED it, the other members of the committee are from Dallam, Deaf Smith and Moore counties, and if the writer is not mistaken they are all county judges.

Now boys lets see how we are going to handle this program in the future—under the guidance of the two men who do not reside in the wind erosion district. To be gin with our farmers who made such a miserable failure, did not have but one County Agent and one asst. county agent to consult last Spring, so the committee are recommending a Conservationist, to be added to the pay roll. They must have been running kinda shy on funds because they only allotted six Conservationists to the nine counties, and our Hansford county conservationist will be located at Dumas, where he is to pay $300.00 office rent, $120.00 storage space rent, $25.00 stationery and $10.00 stamp bill.

The total administrative expenditure is budgeted at $13,617.50, and so if there is justification for a penny expenditure, this writer don't

PRESENT RESOLUTION ASKING FOR SELF GOVERNMENT

Some fifteen farmers and other citizens of Hansford county are in Dalhart today, attending the drought meeting called for the purpose of considering future plans for the agricultural program of this section of the state. The Hansford delegation will present the following memorandum to the Great Plains Committee:

Suggestion for a long time agricultural program for Hansford county Texas.

1. We, suggest that all program now in operation be handled through the existing agencies already in the county. We submit that we already have set up the following in the county fully capable of handling an "program for the future": The Extension Service, Agricultural Adjustment Administration thru the county agent, farmers committees, The Extension administration, and The Hansford County Wind Erosion district administered by the commissioners' court. We submit in fact that too many agencies confuse the farmer, and make overhead expenses excessive to the detriment of the real objective, and suggest that activities be consolidated under the existing agencies rather than expanded under new agencies not needed.
2. To encourage the storage of seed on the farm through commodity credit loans to individuals or through loans to cooperatives by the farm credit administration and resettlement administration.
3. The present tentative range program of the agricultural conservation program for the southern region, with its deferred grazing provisions, range building practices of water conserving, cactim, mesquite and cedar reval is recommended together with a continuation of the livestock and commodity loans through the production credit association, the farm credit administration.
4. To establish better crop adaptation and land use, it is recommended that a continuation of the educational work of the extension service based on findings of the experiment station be sustained and combined with the agricultural conservation program. All payments to farmers for carry out improved land use and water conservation practices.
5. We recommend that an experiment station be established in the high plains area of the Texas handle for research work on wheat.
6. It is recommended that a tentative range program be put in effect on January 1, 1937.
7. We recommend that all cultural conservation programs whatever nature be handled through the agricultural conservation program farmers committee not up. The problems in this connection are one and the same as the present farmers organization, assisted by the county agent extension service can handle program to the better advantage by virtue of experience gained.

LARGE SHIPMENT OF CATTLE SATURDAY

One of the largest shipments of cattle in years was shipped out of the city of last week. The shipment amounted to 31 head. The shippers were Coy Hester, Wilmeth, J. D. Patton and Hayden Hart.

The pasturing situation in the state makes it desirable for all who have cattle to sell on the present market. It is reported that wheat prices are getting to be a thin crop.

Relativity Theory Gets New Name Under Nazi Regime

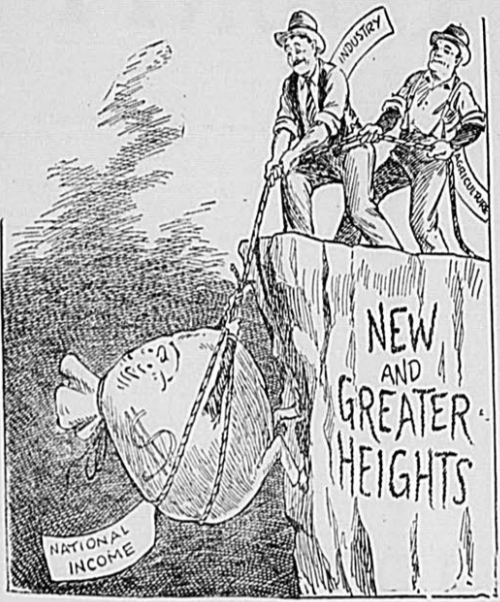

Hitler and his cohorts in the Nazi hierarchy of Germany have decided that foreign words and undesirable personages should be wiped from the language of the country. For this reason Einstein's theory of relativity, formerly known as relativitaets-theorie, has been abolished from the language and supplanted by "Beziehungsanschaunngs-gesetz." Perhaps someone can pronounce the word as quickly as they can understand the theory.

When you read this the new San Francisco-Oakland bridge will have been opened for traffic for cars. There are long columns of statistics proving this bridge to be the longest, the biggest and most costly structure of its kind ever built. ALL'S NOT GOLD

California's multi-million dollar navel orange crop starts moving to market in November, and with it moves a warning to persons of small means not to mistake the gold of oranges for the gold at the end of the rainbow. Each year when it gets chilly back east, Californians get inquiries from friends who think it would be nice to put their small savings in a few acres of oranges and lounge around in the sunshine the rest of their lives.

Quick to caution the 1936 hopefuls, the Pacific Rural Press says: The record of the last five years shows an orange grower needs 20 acres to make a living of from $1,600 to $3,000 net per year. As a general thing the 5 to 10 acre ranch is not enough to keep a man busy or furnish a good living.

Soul and Body is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ Scientist on Sunday November 22. The Golden Text is "The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light." Among the citations which comprise the Lesson Sermon is the following from the Bible: We know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

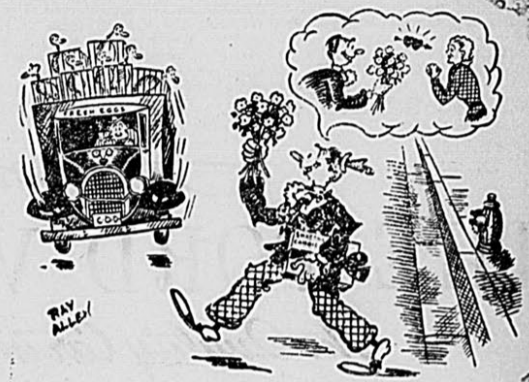

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passages from the Christian Science textbook:--

Much has been said about the day-dreaming driver. But what of the wool-gathering walker? Blessfully, with his mind in the clouds, he steps out into the No Man's Land between intersections. To him, because he sees no danger, there is no danger. But he's due for a rude awakening from love's sweet dream.
Figures compiled by Travelers Insurance Company statisticians show that 4,500 pedestrians met death while crossing between intersections last year. Nearly 75,000 others were injured. This phase of jay-walking alone accounted for more than 25 per cent of all pedestrian deaths and injuries in 1935. If you would live out your allotted span, cross at intersections only, and wait for the signal.

At seeding time the average depth of the soil was 50 inches, moisture, while on the terraced area after the rains, the soil was only to a depth of 29 inches. This field had been terraced previous to the spring rains, in all probability would have been 27 inches deep of moist soil. Instead of retaining the water on the unterraled field, it was lost into a new lake.

COMMON SENSE FARMING.

"The saving of water by terracing and contour farming is common sense farming," says G. L. Taylor, of Stratford, Texas.

Mr. Taylor has 2,160 acres of land under agreement with the SCS at Dalhart, Texas. One thousand two hundred acres were planted on the contour to grain sorghum last spring. Not a drop of the 8.77 inches of effective rainfall this year ran off the land, and because of this, Taylor is harvesting one of the best crops in Dallam county.

Taylor realizes that contour farming takes more time and costs more, but he says "I know that increased yields more than pay for the additional time necessary for contour farming."

Editorial

The annual Red Cross membership drive is now going on in Hansford County. This writer judges the response to this truly humanitarian appeal for funds will be liberal. Hansford citizens contributed liberally to the recent Democratic campaign fund—lets hope we go over the top for the Red Cross as quickly..

One student of the tax problem recently estimated that out of a weekly pay check of $25, as spent by an ordinary American family, about $5.38 goes for taxes. He estimates that hidden taxes force the ticket agent to charge $10.00 for seven dollars worth of railroad transportation. More than $6.75 of the average annual telephone bill goes to pay concealed taxes. When you buy a dollars worth of gasoline, an average of twenty-eight cents goes to the tax collector.

Hidden taxes! Much has been and will continue to be said about them. But the trouble will be the same—it is awful hard to understand that we are taxed when we don't pay a direct tax.

Some folks pay income taxes, and they know how much they are. But all of us pay hidden taxes and none of us can say exactly what they total.

Numerous surveys have been made, however, covering particular things that individuals and families use. One item is that of food, and the survey shows that the average man spends more than a week of his time annually paying the tax on food alone. This man spends 98 days of the year to pay for the food.

Other surveys show that luxuries are taxed more severely—a random guess would indicate that the average working man spends something more than three weeks of his annual working time, working for the government—paying his share of the tax bill. But if it comes to such a comparison—what is time to a man? Can he not well afford to contribute 3 weeks of his time each year in the form of taxes, for the protection he gets from the government—Answer for yourself—sum up the good you individually derive from the various functions of our government.

With only 6 per cent of the world's population, the United States: harvests more than half the world's wheat; has half the world's communication facilities; possesses nearly half the world's railroads and electric power; produces 92 per cent of the world's automobiles; consumes half the world's coffee, half the world's tin, half the world's rubber, three-fourths the world's silk, one third the coal; two-thirds the world's crude oil..

Let us hope that many of the Hansford county farmers are at Dalhart today attending President Roosevelt's drought meeting, which is for the purpose of discussing the future policy of the drought relief measures in the Panhandle of Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado.

Our Hansford farmers leave entirely too much for Amarillo and the bigger more populated sections of the Panhandle to plan. Just today I have been informed that one of the boards of control that has supervision of certain drought relief expenditures is composed of a representative from Moore county one from Deaf Smith county and two from Amarillo. If I am not mistaken, one of the members of this said board of control namely James Guleke, is or was a so-called Jeffersonian Demokrat. The writer cannot verify this statement, but has a faint remembrance of Jim's name being carried in the Jeffersonian Demokrat literature. Mr. Guleke is a smart man, and a loyal Amarillian—but he is not a farmer. He should not be on a farm control board, for that reason. If he is a Jeffersonian Demokrat, he should resign, since these critters are a bunch of folk that criticized the new deal most emphatically. Even if Jim is a good hard working new dealer, the city of Amarillo has entirely too much power on the purely farm committee—for in addition to James, John E. Hill is on this same committee. John is an outstanding worker for new deal legislation—a friend of Marvin Jones, and a real dirt farmer. This writer is for him on any committee he is willing to serve on. This writer is not radically against Amarillo taking the lead—but we do want our local citizens to take part in Panhandle-wide meetings—voice their opinions—then if the five counties of the Panhandle who have been ruling every movement during the past six years—we say if they are smart enough to continue their domination—let's be like the Republicans—take it and like it.

Just noticed a news item in the daily papers where the State of Texas was asking for bids to borrow money so that old age pensions might be paid—the money to be borrowed on short time terms. Do you tax-payer remember when Gov. Allred suggested that this money be borrowed from the highway fund—and do you remember the editorial protest? Just figure it out for yourself NOW whether it would have been better for the state to have used available funds without interest, or is it much better for the government to pay interest and expenses incident to floating a loan?

How are we doing on the old age pension? Seems the people of the state of Texas voted this law, and the state legislature made some bad mistakes at their first attempt to enact the will of the people. Now the terms of the law have been revamped—and the average man does not understand just who is to be paid what and why. The writer remembers one candidate who stated from the platform during his campaign, that sales tax would solve the problem of revenue. When the sales tax was defeated and some suggestions were made as to additional taxes on oil, sulphur, and certain natural resources, control of which is in the hands of a few wealthy—when such ideas came forward, the power at Austin began to cull down the would be old age pensioners—and the tax revenue will come from a source other than rich natural resources.

Salary Raise Offer In Steel Industry Meets Opposition

Several of the major steel companies have offered their employees a blanket raise in wages of 10 per cent and then a pay scale to meet fluctuating costs of living. The workers accepted the raise with the grumble that it was not enough and strong opposition has developed to the living scale agreement. Leaders say that as the rent goes up the workers get the money to pay the increase where he is but he cannot hope to get a better place to live. They talk of freezing the worker into the living standard he now possesses.

Jim Crow Rulings Prevent Meeting Of Educational Unit

The National Student Federation of America scheduled to meet in Dallas recently was forced to forego its convention because it found racial discrimination in existence in Texas. The organization has as its principle that no distinction shall be made as to races or religions. It would seem that before choosing a meeting place the group would study the local conditions.

9. Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.

10. For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.

11. And not only so, but we also joy through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.

The City Of Rome
Rome was the center of the world as no other city ever was before or ever has been since. Paul, throughout his great missionary journeys, had set his eyes on that city as one which he must visit. I must also see Rome, he had said in his own heart. It was not with the step of a prisoner, but with that of a conqueror that he passed at length beneath the city gate. No medals or ornaments adorned his person a chain of iron dangled from his wrist. No applauding crowds welcomed his approach, a few humble friends formed all his escort yet never did a more truly conquering footstep fall on the pavement of Rome, or a heart more confident of victory pass beneath her gates. Rome at this was a city of about two million inhabitants of whom at least one half were slaves. Paul suffered to abide by himself with the soldier that guarded him. This soldier was a member of the Imperial Guard. His left arm was fastened by a light chain to Paul's right arm. The soldiers were frequently changed, and we can well believe that the apostle preached Christ to many of them during his sojourn in Rome.

Paul Confers With The Jews
V. 17. And it came to pass that after three days he called together those that were the chief of the Jews. Paul's heart still is filled with compassion and love for the people of Israel, though they had harassed and bonded him all over the Roman world, had lied about him and had plotted more than once to take his life. He could not go to any of the synagogues in Rome, but he could call the Jews to the place where he was confined. To them he simply explains that he has done nothing contrary to Jewish customs, that the Roman court in Palestine has desired to set him at liberty, because there was no cause of death in him, but that the Jews themselves had bitterly spoken against him and he had determined to appeal to Caesar.

Pauls Sermon To The Jews
It was encouraging to find that among the Jewish population of Rome there were a great number who are anxious to hear Paul preach. They set the day and invited Paul to deliver a special sermon to them. They came to his own house in large numbers to hear him preach. Luke tells us that Paul expounded the gospel to them, testified the kingdom of God, and persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the law of Moses and out of the prophets, from morning till evening. Surely Paul must have preached a great sermon to hold these Jews an entire day. We could wish that such a meeting might have won the entire group to Christ and Christianity. We are told that some of them believed the things that were spoken and some disbelieved.

Paul A Prisoner In Rome Two Years
And he abode two years in his own hired dwelling. It is believed that Paul was tried before Caesar, acquitted and released and that he made another extensive missionary journey, was brought back to Rome, was tried the second time and executed by the command of Nero.

The Results Of Justification
There are seven different results arising from our justification here noted by the apostle. The first is peace with God. This peace is through Jesus Christ our Lord. Secondly we have access unto this grace, this unearned acceptance by God for the sake of Jesus Christ. It is to stand in favor to find entrance without apology, and at any time; to know an entrance into the presence chamber of the Lord. In the third place, we rejoice in the hope of glory. The eternal bliss of the justified is called the glory of God because it is a state of joy, love, majesty, and holiness be-

NUTS AND DOLTS

Attention, drivers! Let's talk about inattention.
High on the list of traffic sinners is the man whose eyes wander all over the landscape when they should be on the road ahead and whose mind, if any, is always on vacation from the business of driving.

God Commendeth His Love To-Ward Us
But God commendeth his own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. The emphasis here should be on the last two words, for us. For a good man some would die; for a merely righteous man hardly any one would die, but for us, sinners, rebellious vile unworthy, ungrateful dead in our sins, Christ, God's only Son would die, an event that could only be accounted for by the fact of God's love toward us.

By DR. J. E. NUNN

Acts 16:24-26
An Ambassador of the Law of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the law of Moses, an out of the prophets, from morning till evening.

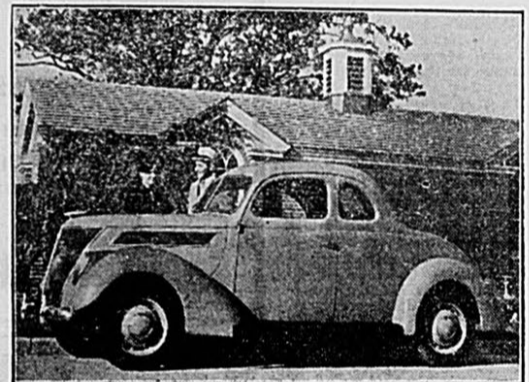

24. And some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.

30. And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all that came in unto him.

31. Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching these things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

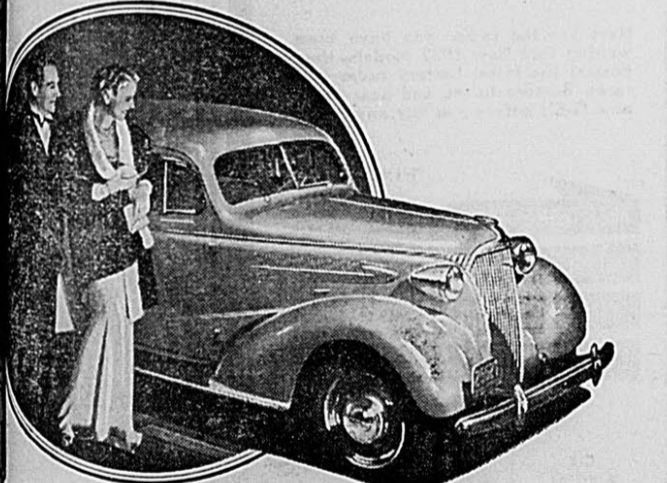

8. But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

marks the car with the Oil-Plated Engine

OFFICIAL COUNT of last year's emergencies handled by the American Automobile Association shows "3,200,000 motorists caught with depleted batteries . . . and 2,000,000 had starter difficulties." Don't let it be you this Winter. Have your electrical system checked, of course. Buy good gasoline. And give your engine the big extra surety of modern Oil-Plating.

Oil-Plating with Conoco Germ Processed oil—patented—leaves a definite Plating of oil on every engine part continuously. . . . Continuously!

Then Oil-Plating is always there to head off wear, not only while you drive, but between times, too. Through hours of cold at the curb or at night—when other oils drain down—your engine remains completely Oil-Plated. For the patented Germ Process actually enables this oil to unite with bearings, pistons, cylinders and other parts, to Oil-Plate them for smooth, slippy, dragless starts. Since there cannot be a moment of "missing oil," the greatest cause of Winter wear is out, as you change to Conoco Germ Processed oil and its exclusive Oil-Plating. Continental Oil Company

For several hundred years great men such as Martin Luther, John Calvin, and John Wesley tried to reform the corrupt religion, that was then existing, only to create new religious organizations. Finally after about 200 such organizations were started great leaders in religious thought rose up and said we are only making things worse. Let's cease to try to reform our existing religion, let's simply restore the religion that existed before such corruption began.

This movement will be discussed at 3 p. m. at the Union church in Gruver—All are urged to attend.
