AA Panhandle earlier in the season and held this lead until the last 9 minutes of the game, when Panhandle took to the air and defeated them 22-20.

Needless to say, this Homecoming game at Stinnett could be the "best" game of the year for the spectators! Coach Sherwood and his Lynx are still having some problems with their offense, but it is much improved! J. J. Jones and Cunningham, along with Newton, will be still nursing bruises, but the team may be close to 100 percent for the game Friday night if they don't lose a bunch of boys in workouts this week!

Boys making the trip to Stinnett Friday night include the following:

The Spearman Lynx will journey to Stinnett Friday night, and be the main feature of the Stinnett Rattlers Homecoming, as they try to improve on their season record against Class A teams! So far, the Lynx have managed to beat one of the best Class A teams in the state, and then were upset by another fine Class A team when Phillips upset them! However, last week, Engineer Sherwood got his "Sherwood Express" going and looked sharp against a real fine Sanford Fritch team!

According to the scouting report, Stinnett may have the best potential team in the tough I-A district. They jumped into a 20-0 lead over

VOLUME 67, NO. 45 THE SPEARMAN REPORTER, SPEARMAN, TEXAS 79081 THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1976

Sherwood is guest speaker on Tues.!

Coach Greg Sherwood was guest speaker at the Spearman Lions Club this week, and he discussed his Lynx football team for this year, and especially the upcoming game with Stinnett this Friday night. Sherwood thinks the Rattlers will be the best team that we have faced this year, and it will be Stinnett's Homecoming, so Sherwood urged everyone to drive to Stinnett Friday night and back the Lynx in this Homecoming thriller.

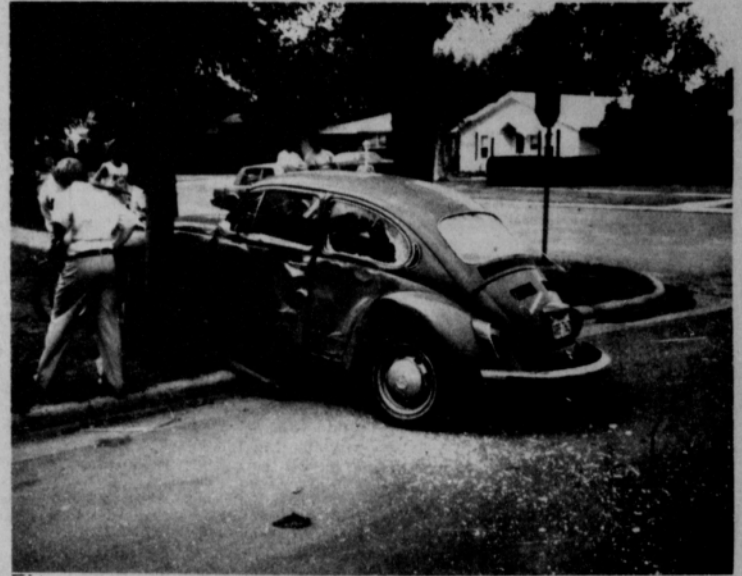

Sherwood discussed his team this year and stated that they are coming along well, and he hopes to be a contender in the district for 1976!

The big coach went ahead to say that Archer received the outstanding defensive award for the number of tackles he made in the Fritch game; Pogue and DeArmond were also named as outstanding defensive players. Boone has been averaging 36.5 yards per punt for this year, and Newton is 3 for 3 at the extra point try for the year. Also mentioned for their outstanding play was Holman for his kick-off chores, and we at the paper want to congratulate Scott Sherwood for his fine leadership as quarterback! And, the big coach went ahead to brag on the school spirit, the entire student body, and the 92 boys in our high school football program. When Coach Sherwood started with his program in Spearman, he had 42 boys out for football.

Sherwood went ahead to thank the town for their fantastic support, and for every courtesy shown the team and their coaches.

This newspaper joins with fans in congratulating the Lynx and the entire student body for their fine sportsmanship and spirit!

Mark Wilson Cited For Bravery

Governor Dolph Briscoe has nominated Mark Wilson of Lubbock for the 1975 Young American Medal for Bravery, saying the youth's "rapid reaction not only saved his family from possible injury, but also guaranteed the safety of officers making the arrest."

The Lubbock man's name has been sent to U.S. Atty. Gen. Edward Levi for national competition with other state nominees. Should Mark win, he'll be the second Texan in as many years to do so.

Mark, who is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Major Lackey of Spearman, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wilson, Jr. of Lubbock, former residents of Spearman, was cited for his action on May 7, 1975 when he found Ruben John Escobedo holding his younger brother, Todd, and their mother, Bobbie Jean, hostage at their Terra Estates home. Mark's father was in London on business.

The family's ordeal began when the gunman grabbed 12-year old Todd about 6 p.m. as he walked from the Wilson home to a nearby barn to feed his quarterhorse. Mrs. Wilson says she first saw him about 2 hours later as he stood a pillow case with eye slots covering his face with a gun at the boy's head and a rope tied around his waist. She at first thought it was a prank until her son told her, "Mom, it isn't funny."

Escobedo, convicted last month for aggravated robbery of Lubbock National Bank, kept the family in a closet part of the night, the Wilsons said.

The next day, they were herded into the bank lobby, the rope still around Todd's waist, the gun still at his head.

Mark asked Escobedo to please take him and leave Todd and his mother at the house, but the answer was no.

Mrs. Wilson later recounted, "he said he would let Todd and Mrs. Wilson out at the edge of town and take Mark on and would shoot Mark in a different place everytime we see a policeman; they'll leave us alone."

About $3,500 was taken from the bank where a silent alarm alerted police, and then Mrs. Wilson was put at the wheel of the family car to begin a sometimes 100 mph chase that ended at the roadblock at Plainview.

"Mother told me a couple of times to try to get the gun, but my hands were tied," Mark said, recalling the robber also had a second gun in his pocket. Finally, he worked his hands loose as the roadblock loomed.

Mrs. Wilson, seeing the gunman's attention was diverted by a helicopter flying overhead and a loudspeaker atop a patrol car following them, tapped Mark on the knee and told him, "When I hit the brakes, you grab the gun."

Mark's thoughts were on Todd. "He had the gun up to my little brother's head. That was the main thing I was worried about. When I grabbed, I pulled it away from his head."

By the time the car stopped, policemen were swarming it, Mrs. Wilson remembered.

The first reward Mark got for getting the gun was trouble. "They saw Mark with a gun and jerked him out of the car and threw him on the ground before we had time to explain," she said.

Mark, now 19, talks of his act in understatements. The medal nomination is "really an honor," he said. His bitterness over the events has faded some with time, said the accounting major at Texas Tech. Reliving the moments at last month's trial didn't really bother him, he said, although admitting he's glad it's over.

He said he was satisfied with Escobedo's 20-year sentence: "I didn't really want him out on the streets, but I didn't want them to send him away forever."

School Board Approves Budget

The Spearman Independent School District Board of Trustees met Sept. 20 for their regular meeting.

Routine business was conducted and two buses were accepted on two buses the school had advertised for sale. Bill Osborne bought both buses. The 1969 model sold at $1456.00 and the 1966 bus sold for $757.00.

The Board approved the amended budget for 1975-76 fiscal year, in the amount of $1,623,323.00. Also approved was the 1976-77 fiscal year budget for $1,678,944.00. The tax rate for the 1976-77 fiscal year is $1.39 per $100 valuation. This rate was decided at a special meeting held on August 31. The Board had previously set the rate at $1.43 per $100 valuation and found they had more valuation than needed at this rate so the tax rate was set at $1.39. The 1975-76 tax rate was $1.44. This will not mean that school taxes will be lower because the property in the school district has been re-evaluated this summer, with valuations raised.

In the superintendent's report to the Board, he advised that the enrollment on Sept. 13, 1976 was 1060, which is up one more than at the same date last year. He also advised the Board that unless new legislation is voted into law, the school district stands to lose $151,221.00 which it received from state funds in the 1975-76 year. This money is disbursed to districts on the degree and experience of faculty members.

The school also receives per capita money from the state permanent school fund. This tax was $184,004.00 in 1975-76 and this money will be available in coming years.

Members of the School Board, Chalmers Porter, Kent Guthrie, Joel Lee Lackey, George Jackson, Clark Mires and superintendent James Cunningham will attend the Texas Association of School Board and Texas Association of School Administrators joint conference in San Antonio, Sept. 25-27.

Monthly Tax Rebates Help Cities

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Wednesday that an analysis shows that his procedure of rebating city sales taxes monthly rather than quarterly has turned out to be a real help to Texas city governments.

Since the monthly rebates began in April, 1975, the Comptroller's Office has turned back to the cities 19 percent of their allocation 60 days sooner and 41 percent 30 days sooner than they would have gotten it under a quarterly system, Bullock said.

"This means these cities can put their money to work faster, earning interest of providing services," the Comptroller said. "The city sales tax money belongs to the cities in the first place and never should have been held in Austin until the end of a quarter."

Bullock mailed checks totaling $56.6 million Wednesday to the 855 cities and towns collecting the one-cent tax as their September rebate.

He noted that city sales tax rebates have totaled $230 million so far this year, nearly 18 percent ahead of the $195 million rebated during the same period in 1975.

The city of Spearman received sales tax payment of $15,076.50 for the period ending Sept. 3, 1976, and the city of Gruver's payment was $4,479.62.

weekend, and all plan to attend the game at Stinnett Friday night and support the big Lynx (varsity) in their game against the Rattlers. This will be Homecoming for Stinnett, and every sport fan in Spearman is expected to attend the game at Rattleville!

Flu Shots Delayed Until Late October

A program to provide free vaccinations against swine flu to all adult residents of Hansford County, and the nation, has lost its footing.

The mass inoculation program, originally set to begin Aug. 1, has now been postponed to an Oct. 1 starting date - maybe even later.

A plan to provide swine flu protection through one-day inoculation clinics, first for the elderly and chronically ill, then to other adults, is also in jeopardy.

"We've already had to delay starting the program several times, because no vaccine has been delivered to us. Our current fall-back date is Oct. 1, but it's so uncertain that we've actually had to put the whole plan in limbo," says Dr. Henry Moritz, director of the Canyon regional office of the Texas Department of Health Resources. The office will administer the High Plains inoculation effort.

"Unfortunately, we're running something of a race against time, and we're behind. We should be vaccinating now," declares Dr. Moritz.

The flu vaccine being prepared for the nation-wide campaign is most effective if administered one to six months before any possible contact with swine flu virus, a timetable which puts the current effort on a narrow time margin.

The race to immunize, already slowed by delayed delivery of vaccine, may be broken down even more if sufficient supplies don't arrive.

"We are now worried that the vaccine may trickle in to us, maybe at a rate of something like enough for 100 vaccinations a day. If that's the case, we'll have to hold a series of small clinics, not a round of massive one-day programs," Dr. Moritz notes.

Swine flu inoculations will not be available sooner, or on an unlimited basis through private physicians, who will get the vaccine from the Canyon public health center, the doctor points out.

"Right now, we're just waiting for the vaccine to come in. When it does, we'll go back around to the local agencies who have volunteered to help and make new plans with them. A lot will depend on how much vaccine we'll get and how soon," Moritz says.

The current hold-up in vaccine delivery may reflect distribution problems - or could be a reflex of unreported delays in production. If manufacturers have run into last-minute production wrinkles, the mass inoculation plan could be in serious trouble.

"We don't know what's holding us up, production or distribution. The Canyon office can't get that information from our state headquarters, because Austin hasn't been given that information by federal officials. None of us knows why the program is being delayed, or when the delay may be ended," Dr. Moritz reports.

Services Held For Sam Condo

Memorial services for Samuel Ernest Condo, 73, were held Sunday, September 18 at 2 p.m. in Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses in Perryton with Andrew Caldwell officiating. Burial was in Ochiltree Cemetery by Boxwell Brothers Funeral Home.

Mr. Condo died Thursday. He was a former employee of the City of Spearman, moving to Perryton in 1974 from Spearman. He was born in Crawford, Okla. In 1928, he married Helen Castle at Canadian.

Surviving are the widow; a son, Joe, of Grand Prairie; a daughter, Mrs. Alice Geske, of Houma, La.; a brother, Ray, of Keota, Okla.; two half-brothers, Sanford Cole of Canadian and Lloyd Cole of Gem City; seven grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Consumer Food News

COLLEGE STATION--Possible beef-price hikes are in predictions for mid-winter, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist.

She recommends that consumers "take advantage of economical prices offered during September and October--on beef chuck roasts, chuck and round steak and ground beef--by putting some extra cuts into the freezer for those days in the not-so-distant future when it seems likely that prices will be higher."

At dairy counters, specials are scattered, but good values are available on sour cream, margarine and cheddar cheese, Mrs. Clyatt said.

Potatoes are one economy attraction at fresh vegetable departments, along with locally grown eggplant.

Other economical choices are cabbage, carrots, hard-shell squash, okra and dry onions.

At poultry counters, some markets continue to feature fryer chickens, while turkey prices are on a gradual increase. However, turkey still offers an excellent protein choice, she added.

"In frozen-food sections, fish packs are adequate to meet demand."

"If it seems that fish filets are comparatively high in price, remember that they are all meat--and no waste, so you can get more servings per

At fruit counters, attractive prices are appearing on several varieties of grapes, as well as cantaloupes and watermelon.

Pears are quite plentiful--and peaches, nectarines and pineapples continue to have various price levels that are usually related to quality and size.

CONSUMER WATCH-WORDS: To compare costs of potatoes--in their various forms--compare the number of equal-sized servings (such as one-half cup) from each unit of sale (such as ounces or pounds).

Figure four half-cup servings from one pound of fresh potatoes and about three medium-size potatoes in each pound.

According to USDA, the spread between cattle prices and consumer beef prices has widened 9 cents a pound since July, 1975, and is now at a near-record spread of 64 cents a pound.

FB Head Sees Crisis In Beef Supplies

WACO -- The president of the Texas Farm Bureau said beef producers are in a crisis situation now that may affect future beef supplies.

"There'll never be a better time for housewives to fill their freezers with bargain beef," the Dalhart grain and beef producer said.

"Many cattlemen will be forced out of business unless there is an upturn in cattle prices soon," said the farm leader.

"There's been a gradual decrease in cattle prices all summer, but the situation in the past three or four weeks has become disastrous," he said.

Chaloupka said there is a disappointing lag in the pass-through of lower prices at the retail level.

"However, beef is selling in the stores for about 13 percent less than a year ago. This is a real bargain, and we want to let the housewives know about it so we can move some of the present glut of beef off the market," he said.

The president of the 190,000-member general farm organization said that efforts are being made by Farm Bureau to bring "more efficiency and fairness" into marketing of beef.

"The American Farm Bureau Federation has asked Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz for a step-up in ongoing investigations into factors affecting the farm price of beef," Chaloupka said.

"For example, we want to know whether or not labor unions are blocking the movement of boxed beef into markets and if so, what effect is the blockage having on beef prices," the farm leader said.

Boxed beef involves the breakdown of beef carcasses at the packing plant and packaging the meat cuts for shipment to retail outlets. It means a savings over shipping whole carcasses and reduces labor costs.

Labor contracts with meat cutter unions either prohibit or severely limit the movement of boxed beef into at least 12 major cities, including Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Houston.

Another issue relating to labor unions involves labor contracts with meat cutter unions which prohibit the sale of meat after 6 p.m. in some large cities.

The Farm Bureau is also asking the U.S. Department of Agriculture to find out what can be done about the lag in "passing through" lower cattle prices at the retail level.

County Agent's Report

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will offer a four-day Financial Management Seminar for Agribusiness Firms at Texas A&M University Sept. 21-24.

Discussions will center around such areas as financial statements, merchandising credit, analyzing business opportunities, time management, capital budgeting, forms of businesses and planning for growth.

General Chairman for the seminar is Dr. Wayne Hayenga, agricultural economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A discussion on "Reviewing Financial Statements" will cover the relationships between an income statement, balance sheet and the source and use funds statement. Then seminar participants will hear about "Analyzing Financial Statements" which will deal with methods of analysis by both borrowers and lenders in interpreting financial performance and how financial controls can be meaningful.

These discussions will be led by Hayenga.

Dr. John Hopkin, Stiles professor of agricultural finance and head of A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics, will discuss "Merchandising Your Credit". He will point out how loan needs can best be marketed and how to manage credit once it is established.

"Analyzing New Business Opportunities" will be the topic of Dr. Bill Vastine, an Extension food distribution economist. He will deal with pertinent financial points in analyzing new market potentials and in doing a financial analysis for starting new enterprises or expanding existing enterprises. Topics covered will include, cash flow analysis, working capital management, and estimating cost and returns for a break-even analysis.

"Time" is always scarce for any business manager and Kenneth Wolf, Extension economist-agribusiness, will discuss "Managing Your Time".

Investing in the most profitable alternatives is a difficult task. Tools to help are capital budgeting techniques such as net present value and payback method. Dr. Richard Trimble, Extension economist-management, will handle this discussion.

Of course, different businesses need different forms of business organizations. Dr. Don Levi, an attorney and professor in the Department of Agricultural Economics, will talk about the two types of corporations, general partnerships and limited partnerships, and explain how each can be used to a businessman's advantage from both a tax and a financial point of view.

"Planning for Growth" will conclude the seminar. Dr. Vernon Schneider, Distinguished Professor of agricultural economics, and Hayenga will lead this discussion.

Past participants in the seminar have included accountants, bankers, farmers and ranchers, machinery dealers, realtors, farm managers, farm equipment and farm supply salesmen, and grain dealers. Five states—Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas—have been represented.

Hayenga invites anyone interested in attending the seminar to contact him for additional information and registration material at the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, Texas, 77843 (713) 845-1861.

Energy Exhibit At Tri-State Fair

The United States Energy Research & Development Administration, Amarillo Area Office; Mason & Hanger - Silas Mason Co., Inc.; and Sandia Laboratories are sponsoring an energy exhibit at the 1976 Tri State Fair. This is the first public showing of the energy exhibit in the State of Texas.

What energy will keep your home warm in the future? What fuel will transport you across the continent? How will we generate electricity for our cities?

Such vital energy crisis issues are presented in "ENERGY". The exhibit describes the major types of energy sources currently being considered for future use, those being utilized now, and what the American public can expect to happen to the standard of living.

Free to the public, "ENERGY" caravans throughout the United States in two 50-foot trailers which are arranged in a "V" pattern and provides over 2,000 square feet of exhibit space. Within the 2,000 square feet of the "ENERGY" exhibit, the visitor may view the means which America may be powered in the future, such as natural gas made from coal, petroleum made from oil shale, breeder reactors which would produce more fuel than they consume, and fusion reactors that would operate on the same principle as the sun. The visitor can operate consoles to test his perception concerning the overall picture of energy use. There are animated exhibits to describe the possibilities for future power—solar, geothermal, fossil fuels, nuclear fission and fusion, and the fresh ideas that could transform sources into reality.

The traveling exhibit is operated by Northwest College and University Association for Science, Richland, Washington.

Girlstown To Celebrate Birthday

Girlstown, U.S.A. at Borger will celebrate her 9th birthday on Saturday, September 25, 1976. The general theme of our Open House, this year, is a rededication of our entire campus to Youth. This is our purpose and during this Bicentennial year, we have chosen to rededicate our campus and ourselves to the youth we have chosen to serve.

We feel that we are very fortunate to have, as our speaker, Mr. Paul D. Belton. Mr. Belton is Vice-President of the Borger School Board, a member of the Board of Directors of the Amarillo Pantex Federal Credit Union, a member of the Borger Optimist Club and a Youth League Football coach. Mr. Belton is also a member of the Borger Cable T.V. Committee. Most importantly though, Mr. Belton is a Deacon and Sunday School teacher for the Bethel

Baptist Church.

In addition, we will crown our Miss Girlstown for 1977. Those girls who are in care will elect Miss Girlstown at Borger. This always causes much excitement and the winner is not announced until midway through our program.

We invite everyone who is interested in Youth to come and take part in our Open House. Our program will begin at 2 p.m. and our bar-b-que will be served beginning at 3 p.m. The bar-b-que will cost only $1 per plate.

Ice cream is easier to serve if it is transferred from the frozen food compartment to the refrigerator shortly before serving; about 10 minutes per pint.

Parents: Don't Let Your Children Burn

EDITOR'S NOTE: Fire Prevention week is October 3-9. This is the second of a five part series by Dr. Gary S. Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, designed to help parents teach their children and themselves how to survive a house fire.

Children must practice fire escape and fire protection techniques if they are expected to react correctly in an emergency. The following is the last of six "fire drills" offered in this series designed to teach children how to survive a fire.

The drill called "Man the Hoses" teaches some principles of fire fighting. Every fireman knows how to put out a fire, and your children can learn elementary firefighting techniques. Although a child will never fight fire extensively, his quick action could save his life or your house.

Stage a small paper or wood fire in the backyard—in a box, barbecue pit or trash burner—where you can control it. Show youngsters how to put it out with a bucket of water or a hose. A coarse spray nozzle is better than a steady stream. If you own a fire extinguisher, and you should, have everyone learn to use it. A practice session is worth the cost of a refill, for an extinguisher is useless unless you know how to work it.

Warn children never to throw water on an electrical fire because of the shock hazard or on a grease fire because it may spatter, spreading the flames. Only an extinguisher designed for electrical fires will work on electricity. To squelch small grease fires, put a lid on the flaming pan or throw on several handfuls of baking soda (never flour; it may explode). For ordinary combustibles such as wood, paper and cloth, water is the surest extinguishing agent.

Teach children exactly what to do if their clothing catches on fire. Let them pretend they

A Background On Voting

NATIONAL ELECTION LAW

Six of the last 12 amendments to the Constitution have concerned voting. The 15th Amendment prohibited voting discrimination by race or color; the 17th provided for direct election of senators; the 19th gave women the right to vote; the 23rd franchised District of Columbia residents; the 24th abolished the federal poll tax; and the 26th Amendment lowered the voting age to 18.

Federal legislation directed at extending voting rights dates from the mid-fifties. Texas was recently included in the Voting Rights Act of 1965, which gives the U.S. Justice Department jurisdiction over Texas election statutes.

STATE ELECTION LAW

The last state legislature approved a comprehensive new voter registration law that is generally acknowledged to be among the nation's best. Bilingual ballots and materials are available in bilingual areas, and registration is accomplished through a simple postcard system. Some controversy has arisen over Texas' inclusion under the Voting Rights Act, with state officials questioning the need for applying the act to a state which already had adequate registration laws.

NATIONAL VOTING

The highest rate of voter participation in the 20th Century occurred in 1960, when 64 percent of voting-age Americans went to the polls. In spite of improvements in registration laws since then, participation declined to 60.6 percent in 1966 and fell to 55 percent in 1972. Our last President was elected by approximately one-third of the U.S. voting-age population.

VOTING IN TEXAS

In 1960, only 41.2 percent of voting-age Texans went to the polls. In 1966, that figure fell to 20.8 percent, and in 1972, 45.3 percent voted. In all cases, Texas has been below the national average in voter participation.

WHO VOTES NOW

Voter participation increases with age until the age of 75, when it begins to taper off. In 1972, the 18 to 24 year-olds participated least, and the 65 to 74 group participated most. Statistics show that people who are registered usually do vote; between 80 and 90 percent of registered voters cast their ballots.

A REGISTRATION TEST

Under revised registration laws, voters who are registered receive a BLUE registration certificate from their county clerk. The blue certificate is the test for registration, as older certificates of different color are no longer valid.

HOW TO REGISTER

Any citizen of Texas can register once he or she reaches the age of 17 years, 10 months, though the age of 18 must be reached to actually vote. Registration applications, which are in the form of easily mailed postcards, are available from the secretary of state or through county tax assessors. A TOLL-FREE telephone bank is in operation at the secretary of state's office to accept requests for registration and materials. The number is 1-800-292-9602.

During September, many food stores in the state will also be distributing voter registration applications. The deadline for registering for the November 2 Presidential election is October 1, 1976.

ABSENTEE VOTING

For Texans who will be out of their hometowns on Nov. 2, absentee voting begins 20 days earlier. Absentee ballots are available from county clerk offices. To make voting more convenient for senior citizens, Texans over the age of 65 may vote absentee regardless of their expected location on election day.

THE VOTER REGISTRATION PROGRAM

Sec. of State Mark White administered the first state-sponsored voter registration project in the spring of 1976, raising the number of registered voters from around 5 million to nearly 5.4 million. The program now underway is more ambitious in scope, encompassing a number of volunteer groups that have

Better Living In Local Area

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 - How high is the standard of living in Hansford County? How does it compare with the standard in other communities?

On the basis of an index rating used by the Department of Commerce, it ranks above many areas in that regard.

During the last decade or so, local families have been steadily upgrading their style of living, despite the periods of self-imposed restraint brought about by inflation and depressions.

Except for the last two or three years, when they held themselves in close check, they have been spending a considerable part of their disposable income for major appliances and for luxuries in general.

It went for such items as food freezers, color TV sets, washing machines, new cars and the like.

As a result, the proportion of local families who are now equipped with such amenities of good living has become much greater.

With respect to freezer units, for example, they are now to be found in some 53 percent of all Hansford County households. In 1960, by way of comparison, only 34 percent had them.

Similarly, there are many more air conditioners in use locally. The proportion of homes so equipped has reached 25 percent, as against 6 percent in 1960.

As for TV sets, over 97 percent of local families have one or more. In 1960 the ratio was 90 percent, the Commerce Department's figures show.

Car ownership has also increased. Approximately 98 percent of families in the area have at least one car, compared with 96 percent previously.

The extent to which people in each part of the country have these four kinds of equipment at their command is taken as an indication of their well-being and their standard of living.

The maximum rating for a community, if every one of its families had all four of them, would be 400. Hansford County has a rating of 273, a marked gain over its 1960 rating of 226.

Elsewhere in the United States, the rating is 240 and, in the Southern States, 258.

As would be expected, the acquisition of expensive durables is directly related to income. When income rises, as it has been doing locally, people tend to spend more in that direction.

There will be no charge of any kind for the courses. Anyone interested should attend a general meeting and registration at: Spearman High School, Room 118, 7:00 p.m., October 18, 1976.

Adult Basic Education Classes Set

The Spearman Independent School District is sponsoring Adult Basic Education classes. The classes are designed for adults who have not finished high school.

Soviet Union Begins Grain Sorghum Study

LUBBOCK, TEX. -- The Soviet Union announced this week that it has begun an experimental poultry feeding project using U.S. grain sorghum.

Soviet agricultural researchers are comparing feeding efficiency and nutritive value of U.S. number two yellow sorghum to corn and to grain components conventionally used in broiler diets in the USSR.

The poultry demonstration, jointly sponsored by the U.S. Feed Grains Council and the Soviet government, is a result of the sales expansion program of Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Dr. J. H. Quisenberry, retired poultry specialist from Texas A&M University, will go to the Soviet Union Oct. 10 to oversee the project. He will be joined later by officials of the USFGC, including President Darwin Stolte of Washington, D.C.

Sorghum to be used in the experiment was shipped in early July by Soviet vessel to the All-Union Research and Technological Poultry Institute experimental farm near Moscow.

Detailed plans for the feeding trial were finalized in Moscow May 10, 1976 at a meeting of Soviet agricultural officials with Dr. Halvor Kolshus, USFGC European director and Dr. Quisenberry. Preliminary plans were prepared by a grain sorghum team headed by Elbert Harp, executive director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and Jack King, GSPA research director, during a series of seminars in Eastern Europe and Russia last fall.

Soviet approval of the first U.S.-USSR feeding demonstration marks another major step in the development of that country as a major export market for U.S. grain sorghum. Soviet purchases of corn last year were equal to nearly two-thirds of the total U.S. sorghum crop.

The sales expansion program began two years ago when the first Soviet trade team came to the High Plains of Texas as guests of Grain Sorghum Producers Association and the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board to study production and utilization of grain sorghum.

Six months later the Soviet Union's leading agricultural officials returned to the High Plains to continue their study. Within a few weeks, the Soviet government requested that a team of sorghum experts come to Moscow to present seminars about the high energy feed grain. That team, which was the first to be invited to Moscow, was told by Deputy Agriculture Minister Boris Runov, "We don't know your sorghum, but we should."

Team members were Texas Tech University animal science professor John Baumgardner and Texas A&M University cereal chemist Lloyd Rooney, and GSPA officials Harp and King.

During their visit to Moscow, the team was asked to prepare tentative plans for the poultry feeding trials in order to demonstrate to Soviet officials the nutritive value and cost advantage of U.S. number two yellow sorghum.

The Beef Market Development Plan will help insure the beef industry's future by:

- Improving the Product
- Providing Better Merchandising Tools
- Enhancing and Informing Consumers
- Protecting Beef's No. 1 Market Position
- Increasing Beef Consumption and Dollar Demand
- Increasing Production Efficiency
- Building Foreign Markets
- Financing Needed Production, Marketing and Nutrition Research

BE INFORMED ABOUT THE BEEF RESEARCH AND INFORMATION ACT:

Q. Who developed the Beef Research and Information Act?

A. This plan was developed by the Beef Development Taskforce (BDT)—an industry-wide committee with representatives from the American National Cattlemen's Association, National Livestock Feeders Association, National Live Stock and Meat Board, United Dairy Industry Association, Competitive Livestock Marketing Association, National Livestock Dealers Association, Central Livestock Markets and American National CowBelles.

Q. Who is supporting this plan?

A. Most beef and dairy organizations have endorsed it—a total of 11 national organizations, plus 10 national breed associations, 15 state beef councils and 45 state cattlemen's associations. Never has there been a program or an issue that had such wide support of cattlemen.

Q. What is the objective?

A. It is designed as a self-help plan under which producers can raise funds for beef research, consumer and producer information, promotion and market development programs. The ultimate goal, of course, is more profit for producers...plus better products and more stable supplies for consumers.

Q. How much money will it raise?

A. It is estimated that the program will raise $30 million to $40 million a year, based on a collection rate of 0.3 percent of sales value. At present, the entire beef industry—the largest segment of U. S. agriculture—is spending only about $4 million on promotion, education and nutrition research, which amounts to only 1-50 or 1 percent of cash receipts.

Q. Why do we need a law to get this job done?

A. Some states now have checkoff programs but they are not uniform. This is an attempt to get a uniform collection so every beef producer pays his fair share. Furthermore, beef is a national commodity and a national program is needed to reach the masses of consumers in the big population centers.

Q. For what will the money be spent?

A. This will be a decision for the Beef Board, to be comprised of beef industry leaders. Initially, they probably will draw on recommendations made in the "white papers," prepared for the BDT by authorities throughout the country. But in the future they undoubtedly will seek professional counsel and meet problems as they arise or as they are anticipated...The BDT visualizes that approximately 60 percent should be spent on promotion (consumer information and education programs), 30 percent on research and 10 percent on foreign market development. But again, this is a decision for the Beef Board.

Q. Will any of the money be used for lobbying?

A. Absolutely not. The law prohibits any of these funds being used to influence legislation.

Q. How will the program help small producers?

A. A long-range program aimed at increasing and improving all facets of beef market development—promotion, education and research—should be of equal benefit to all producers in ratio to their involvement in cattle production. Thus it will help small producers in the same way it helps large producers.

Q. Can we be assured that funds will be properly managed and well handled?

A. The Beef Board (cattlemen) will have ultimate responsibility for managing and handling funds. Since existing cattlemen's organizations will be asked to nominate their best businessmen to the Board, we believe it will be properly managed.

Q. Why is a 68-member Beef Board needed?

A. Although it will be a rather large board, we have a large and diverse industry. The BDT concluded that each major beef state (with 500,000 head or more) was entitled to a member on the Beef Board. In addition, the BDT felt the larger beef states, which will be contributing the most in assessments, were entitled to more representation—one additional member for each additional 2.5 million head of cattle. The Beef Board will select from among its members an executive committee to hire a staff and conduct routine business within the policies of the Beef Board.

Q. Will the program be run by the Government or the Secretary of Agriculture?

A. No. According to the bill, only the Beef Board has authority to develop programs and enter into contracts. The Secretary has the authority of approval only. His responsibility is to see that the program is run by cattle producers in the manner and for the purposes spelled out in the Act.

Q. Could the Secretary of Agriculture appoint people of his own choosing to the Beef Board and thereby control the program?

A. No way. The Bill states that the Beef Board shall be composed of cattle producers appointed by the Secretary from nominations submitted by eligible organizations of cattle producers. The Secretary is not authorized to make appointments from any other source.

Q. Could organizations, which might not work to the best interests of the program, monopolize or dictate the appointment of members to the Beef Board?

A. Not likely. The eligibility of organizations which might nominate Board members is spelled out in the Act, including such factors as nature and size of the organization's active membership, proportion of total membership that are cattlemen, evidence of stability and permanency, ability and willingness to further the aims of the Act, etc. If more than one organization in a state is eligible to nominate, they may caucus to nominate members and alternates for the Beef Board.

Q. Will cow-calf men end up paying most of the cost?

A. Definitely not. The value-added plan was designed so that the cow-calf man, stocker operator, feeder—anyone who owns the animal—will pay his fair share, based on the value that he adds. This plan has been analyzed by accountants, as well as cattlemen, who say it is fair and workable.

Q. How will breeding cattle be assessed?

A. Because breeding animals usually are worth more when young than when slaughtered, they do not fit the value-added concept. Therefore, the Beef Board may adjust the assessment value of breeding animals (until time of slaughter) to reflect commercial market value. Of course, breeding animals will be assessed at slaughter like commercial cattle.

Q. Will meat packers pay assessments?

A. No. The packers' sole contribution to the program will be collecting and remitting the funds to the Beef Board. This is a producers self-help program—financed by producers and administered by producers.

Q. Why not assess imported beef?

A. If foreign beef producers were assessed, they would be entitled to seats on the Beef Board to which U. S. producers would object. Also, beef imports is a political issue and this program, by law, cannot involve politics.

Q. Will farmers be assessed if they have a calf slaughtered at a locker plant and take the meat home?

A. If it is a calf of its own production (if there has been no sales transaction), there will be no assessment. But if someone purchases a calf and has it slaughtered, the slaughterer must collect and remit an assessment based on value of the transaction on fair market value.

Q. Why is the rate of assessment not spelled out in the Act?

A. The Act is enabling legislation, which authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to conduct a referendum to determine if beef producers want a beef development plan. The rate of assessment is published in the order and it is the order on which producers vote. The initial rate is 0.3 percent, which is 30 cents per $100 and which will raise $30 million to $40 million a year. The Act does not set a ceiling, however, stating that the rate shall not exceed 0.5 percent.

Q. Will money automatically go to the National Live Stock & Meat Board?

A. No. The Beef Board, comprised of cattlemen, will determine which organizations to contract with. Anything spent with the Meat Board, the National Dairy Council or any other organization would be on a contract basis, subject to change or renewal by the Beef Board.

Q. What effect will this program have on the Meat Board?

A. The BDT believes this will greatly strengthen the Meat Board or the Beef Industry Council (BIC) of the Meat Board. Reason is that the Beef Board must contract with other organizations and the BIC is the only existing beef organization with the experience and expertise to carry out our promotion and education objectives. Members of the Meat Board agree as they have endorsed and enthusiastically support this program.

Q. Will dairy organizations qualify as contracting organizations?

A. Yes, if their program furthers the intent of the Act. About 20 percent of the beef in the U. S. comes from dairy animals.

Q. What effect will this have on state beef councils?

A. The Act specifies that this program shall not interfere with any existing state beef board or beef council. Up to 10 percent of net assessments (the total calculated assessments less refunds) from each state will be returned to the qualifying state beef council in that state.

This will be in addition to the present state collection, if any, if the state beef council wishes to continue collections. Most states now send a portion of their present collections to the Meat Board, which no longer would be necessary. In addition, some state beef councils should qualify as a contracting organization (for additional funds for specific programs in their states. Therefore, this plan should strengthen most state programs.

Q. Will a producer's wife or children be allowed to vote in the referendum?

A. If the cattle are joint property, there will be one vote per family and either the man or wife may vote. (The same applies to a corporation or partnership—one vote per producing entity.) However, if a wife or child is a bonafide cattleman, independent of the family operation, he or she may vote independently.

Q. How can consumers benefit from such a program?

A. This program will benefit consumers, as well as producers, in many ways. To name a few: Increased efficiencies through market and product research; improved consumer information and education (better know-how in the economics and purchasing knowledge of beef, resulting in savings for the consumer); research in nutrition and health; etc. The success of the program will be in direct proportion to the help that it affords consumers, because informed and happy consumers are vital to the beef industry.

Q. Can a producer get his money back?

A. Yes, simply by writing to the Beef Board and supplying evidence of how much he paid in assessments.

Q. If producers grow unhappy with the program, can they terminate it?

A. Yes, upon request of 10 percent of the number of voters in the initial referendum, the Secretary must conduct another referendum; then he must terminate the order if a majority of those voting favor termination.

Autumn Wedding Unites Couple

Wedding vows were exchanged by Pamela Jean Thomas and Daniel Wayne Ringwelski in a 3:00 p.m. ceremony on September 5, 1976. The wedding took place in the First Christian Church of Spearman, Texas. Pastor Eldon Walter of Dallas conducted the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. James M. Thomas of Spearman and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Ringwelski of Wausau, Wisconsin.

The altar was centered by a 15-branch, arched candelabra flanked on either side by spiral candelabras all holding candle-light tapers and decorated with ivy. A large Victorian-style bouquet of tropical roses, glads and gold daisy poms sat at the base of the arched candelabra. The aisle was decorated with eight chimney glass globe candelabras and nosegays of gold daisy poms and greenery tied with large white bows.

Wedding guests were registered by Linda Stephenson of Gruver, Texas. Guests were seated by Jerry Boatwright and Reagan Baker, both of Spearman.

Mrs. Max Baggerly of Spearman provided the organ music and accompanied Mark Ringwelski, brother of the groom, and Dr. Bertrand Vipond of Crescent City, California. Mark sang "Love Was When" and as the wedding candle was lit by the bride and the groom to signify their two lives being blended into one, he sang "One Hand One Heart". Dr. Vipond sang "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt reverently before the altar.

Attending the couple as Matron of Honor and Best Man were close friends, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hamstra of Berrien Springs, Michigan. They were dressed in the like manner of the rest of the attendants.

Bridesmaids were Roxie Thomas and Valerie Thomas, sisters of the bride and Valerie Ringwelski, sister of the groom. The bridal attendants were dressed in apricot gowns fashioned with long sleeved jackets with front openings fastened with small covered buttons and ruffles at wrist and waist. Their wide-brimmed, apricot hats featured a wide, white band with bow and streamers. They carried cascade bouquets of tropical roses and daisy poms. The flower girl was Mabelle Abrams, wearing a long white eyelet dress with apricot trim and a large apricot bow in her long dark curls. She carried a white basket of rose petals.

The groomsmen, wearing brown tuxedos with apricot shirts and boutonnieres were: Mark Ringwelski, brother of the groom, Robert Snowdon, brother-in-law of the groom, and Rick Rios. Tommy Thomas, brother of the bride, was the Bible boy and was dressed as the groomsmen in brown tuxedo and apricot shirt.

The radiant bride, escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents, wore a lovely, formal length white wedding gown of sheer organza and re-embroidered Venise lace over bridal taffeta designed with high neckline, natural waist, long bishop sleeves and bell skirt with chapel length train. Her fingertipped veil was of imported illusion with a border of matching lace secured by a lace matching coil. The bridal traditions were carried out with "something old" her watch, "something new" her gown, "something borrowed" her grandmother's handkerchief, "something blue" wedding garter, and in her shoe was an antique 1887 Queen Victoria sapphire, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. William Etling of Gruver, Texas. She carried a cascade bridal bouquet of tropical roses and stephanotis with a center corsage of white orchids from which fell streamers of forget-me-not bows of white satin ribbon.

Both mothers chose dresses in shades of green. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Thomas chose a soft and smooth, floor length gown with matching, long sleeved chiffon overblouse which tied at the neck with a large bow. The groom's mother wore a floor length, bright green dress designed with a lace bodice, tight-fitting sleeves, fitted solid colored skirt and matching full length sleeveless jacket. Each mother wore a corsage of white orchids.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church with Mrs. Robert Snowdon and Janice Ringwelski, groom's sisters, presiding at the bride's table. The table was laid with a white scalloped cloth with an over-draped beige skirt accented with brown satin bows. Centering the table was a floral arrangement of tropical roses and daisies. Highlighting the table was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with three large wedding bells set within a heart and tiny decorations in the bride's colors. The table was completed in goldware, gold and crystal punch service, nuts and dainty decorated mints.

The groom's table, also appointed with gold, featured the groom's cake, a large round carrot cake frosted with beige colored frosting, decorated in apricot and brown with words, "Til Death Do We Part". Mrs. Kenneth Noyes, the bride's aunt presided at the groom's table. The bride chose for her going away outfit a solid colored, royal blue, street length skirt and vest with matching print blouse, and wore a white orchid corsage. The newlyweds planned a trip to Florida and the Bahamas. Their new home will be Berrien Springs, Michigan.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Campion Academy, Loveland, Colorado and is currently a junior at Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Michigan, as a Physical Education major. CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."
