Play at Dalhart Friday

Spearman's fabulous lynxing beat the Phillips Black 22-13 at Lynx Stadium last night to jump into a first place tie with Dalhart for the IAA Championship. In the District Championship, Spearman's first place tie will most cinched for the Lynx if they can continue to win; and it is exactly what the Lynx are trying to do!

Amendment elections are much more important than "candidate" elections. We, the people, make our own laws, and had the opportunity to do so Tuesday. No candidate can make a law! But let an election come up with candidates to select, and the polls are busy all day. The few who did vote, ruled that the governor and state officials should not have a 4-year term and that the House of Representatives didn't deserve the lengthened terms either.

APATHY MARKED VOTING

Less than one-third of the electorate in Hansford county went to the polls Tuesday for the most important election held in our State for some time! Approximately 2500 people are eligible to vote in Hansford county, only 338 did!

Hansfordites wanted no part of paying higher per diem to legislators, and voted against higher salaries for the Lieutenant governor and speaker of the house. They also voted against two other amendments—that of enlarging the Veterans Land fund and of giving tax exemption to a Houston charitable hospital foundation.

Additional 5 cents per $100 valuation of their property to pay for new buildings for the overcrowded state colleges. In another effort to improve higher education, they voted for an $85 million bond issue from which loans to college students will be made.

Voters appeared willing to spend money provided they could determine the amount. They voted for the plans which would cost them money.

Hansfordites gave their highest vote of confidence to the retirement of Judges for old age, (209) and the next highest vote for providing loan funds for college students, (204).

The biggest loss on the ballot was 210 against raising salaries for Lt. Governor and the speaker of the house. Total county votes follow: No. 1—189 For, 133 Against (this was College Buildings) No. 2—131 For, 194 Against (Vets Land) No. 3—176 For, 155 Against, (needy aged), No. 4—149 For, 183 Against (4-year terms.) No. 5 183 For 142 Against (teacher retirement.) No. 6—204 For, 125 However, citizens of the county voted to tax themselves an against (student loans.) No. 7—117 For, 207 Against (Houston Charity.) No. 8—209 For, 117 Against (retire Judges.) Notice that 7 and 8 were almost identical, but opposite in opinions. No. 9—115 For, 210 Against, (increase salaries.) No. 10—123 For, 187 Against (4-year terms for Representatives.)

Local Board To Call Married Men By January

According to officials of the local draft board there is still enough available single men to meet the November quota but by December Local board number 99 expects to have their un-married list exhausted.

The November quota for local board 99 is six men. They expect to call some men for physicals from this three county area. Some draft boards are already calling married men with no dependents due to the fact they have already depleted their single-men available.

The list of single men to draw from for the draft quota is fastly being depleted. Much of this is due to the fact so few pass the physical examination. Out of the 19 called through the local board in Oct., 8 passed, and this was the highest percentage passed so far. The number passing examinations has been running at the low rate of one-third.

However, recent information from the State Board revealed that the requirements for both physical and mental examinations has been lowered. This will increase the amount of draft-available men for each board and may put off the calling of married men with no dependents for awhile longer.

Local board authorities stated this week that in two or three months, they will be calling married men for physical exams, which means that by January at Least, draft-age men who are married and have no dependents can expect to be inducted.

Mr and Mrs Don Knox and son Danny, Gier Overland and Miss Linda Webb were among the many Spearman residents to attend the Violin Concert featuring artist Arthur Feidler in Borger October 24.

Estimates Range Up To 150 Bushels On Irrigated Crop

Hansford County's 10 million bushel milo harvest has been dribbling along for the past three weeks because Jack Frost won't cooperate. Farmers need a good killing freeze followed by several days of good drying sun shine, to complete the harvesting.

A report from Spearman elevators, with 1,425,371 bushels already delivered shows the harvest about one-half completed. Milo delivered to local elevators has been testing heavy, which averages 60. The regular US standard bushel weight for Milo is 56 pounds. This places the county's sorghum production average at 120 bushels with several reports of 150 bushels per acre.

According to County Agent Robert Adamson the county's Milo harvest is not in full swing yet. Most farmers report that about half their fields have been cut while the other is just too green still.

This report includes both irrigated and dry land. Some dry land is still too green and that which has been cut has been averaging 40-60 bushels.

What frost we have had has been spotted in the fields making the crazy mixed-up harvest rushing one week and logging to a snail's pace the next. The average killing frost for this part of the Golden spread is around October 29, and at this date flowers still bloom in the back yards with no damage what-so-ever.

This gives out-of-State land owners some idea as to what late irrigated Milo has to go through yet before being ready for the rolling combines.

Hansford County has the largest average of Milo this year than ever something over 110,000 acres. This is due to several reasons, one being that irrigation has increased greatly. Another reason, many farmers did not have a grain-sorghum base, and another important reason is that this Milo crop has proved to be the best crop under irrigation for this county; higher yield per acre, much less vulnerable to situations when wheat and easier to irrigate. With these facts in the farmer's favor he has a crop he can depend on.

Music for the 12 evangelistic meetings will be under the direction of Wesley Boyd of Oklahoma City. His wife will be the pianist.

Natives of Ireland, the Boyds have been in the United States only eight years. Before joining the Graham Association, Boyd was a concert artist.

The Rev. Billy Clarke of Austin will be the organist for the Crusade. Clarke is pastor of the Harris Memorial Baptist Church, in Austin. He was organist for the Baptist World Alliance when it met in Rio de Janiro, Brazil, in 1963.

Over 200 persons have joined the Crusade Choir to sing for the 12 services. The people are from the churches of Spearman, Gruver, Waka and there have been inquiries from persons even farther away wanting to join this choir.

John Lenning of the Graham Association has more than 100 persons in training in classes once a week for religious counseling with people who make decisions for Christ during the services.

Men and women throughout the area are meeting in early morning prayer meetings. The men are meeting each Monday morning and the women meet twice each week in cottage prayer meetings in homes.

More than 90 teen-agers from the area churches are organized into a Crusade group and are matching the adults in work for the Crusade.

To conduct this Crusade a budget of $7,800 has been approved. This money will be used for the Crusade. Only the musicians receive a salary from the Crusade. The evangelist is provided by the Graham Association. Only the money given on the final Sunday service will go to the Billy Graham Association.

The two Sunday services will be held at 3:00 p.m. so they will not interfere with regular church services.

Spearman Home Tour Scheduled For Sunday

The annual tour of some of Spearman's most beautiful homes is scheduled for this Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m.

This is sponsored each year by the Spearman Study Club to raise funds for some of their projects. Tickets for the tour are offered at $1.00 each and may be purchased from Mrs. Jimmy Shieldknight or Mrs. Marcus Larson.

Homes to be opened for the public tour include: Ray Martin, 716 Gibner Dr., Craig Hutchison, 512 S. Endicott, Joel Lackey, 224 S. Barkley, J. L. Brock, 717 Gibner Dr., Dr. Damon Gregg, 302 E. 14th Avenue, A. McElhenny, 724 Gibner Dr., and Rev. Graham Pugh, 1002 S. Barkley.

The tour is from 2 to 5 and you may visit any of these homes between these hours. Hostesses-grain-sorghum base, and another important reason is that this Milo crop has proved to be the best crop under irrigation for this county; higher yield per acre, much less vulnerable to situations when wheat and easier to irrigate. With these facts in the farmer's favor he has a crop he can depend on.

At one of the homes a beautiful fall arrangement will be displayed, and the public will register there for the chance of winning this bouquet, which is given with the compliments of the Spearman Floral Shop.

Spearman 25 Years Ago

WHEN THE WAR STARTED BACK IN 1917

Now before any of the good friends of P. A. Lyon come over and take a swing at me for the apparent slur at our mutual friend let me add the Pal was MUCH A MAN because he had to do a bit of Hoss trading to be the first man from Hansford county to enter the army, representing the first quota Hansford county sent to the first training camp.

The story starts back when many of the friends of P. A. Lyon beat Uncle Sam to the draw and volunteered before the draft law became effective. Pal slipped away to Amarillo and tried to enlist, but some minor physical defect sent him back home. Then came the first quota, and it called for only half a man from Hansford county. P. A. Lyon was listed number 11 in the order for immediate service back in those days and when he learned about the situation he traded around until the local board agreed to send him up as half a man. It worked and Pal went to the first training camp.

Nobody Votes In My Town
By 87776

It is election day. Most of the people in my town's 4,700 population are chronic misfits who could care less. Still, they are called to the polls. And because there are longer, tempers are shorter in my town. Therefore, since arguments are more apt to end in mayhem where I live. The name of my town is Southern Michigan Prison.

Even as breakfast is served a young murderer and a middle-aged burglar come close to blows in a debate on the abilities of Governor Romney. An alert guard breaks it up just in time.

The burglar is serving his fifth term in my town. I know him well. So, after he cools off, I needle him a bit, saying, "I take it you voted for Romney."

"You kiddin'?" he said. "I never voted in my life. I got sense enough to know no matter who's elected, the best John Q. Public's gonna get is the worst of it. The hell with votin'!"

That's sedition philosophy is it? The hell with votin' means down with democracy, your country, your government and consequently every home (where government really begins) in the land. Yet I've voted such sedition myself. It came out something like this: "Couldn't make it to the polls. I had other things to do on election day." The reflection turns me into deep concern and holds me down with this hard and heavy fact: I am stripped of my voting rights for many elections to come. What I feel leaves no room for self-esteem.

I begin to wonder how fellow inmates feel about not being allowed to vote. Later I interview nearly 200 of them. Almost 90% merely shrug or otherwise indicate lack of concern. Eighty individuals admit that they'd never voted. (Could the deeds that landed us here be germane to such disregard for democracy?) Consider three responses to the question: "Did you vote regularly when you were free?"

Alcoholic (doing 1-2 for non-support): "They'd let us off work in time to make it to the polls, all right. But I'd stop at a buddy's house to talk the election over. There'd be a bottle or two around. And somehow, before I considered all the issues and candidates, I'd either too late or I was too loaded to care any more."

Vote fraud fall-guy (age 72, serving 11-2 years): "Election days was gravy days for me. I always voted. Got five bucks a ballot. Sometimes I made fifty-five, sixty dollars."

As for me—well, it's occasionally difficult to face the mirror of patriotism and like what you see. Instead of voting, I've often gone hunting or fishing, attended to selfish matters of assorted kinds. Indeed, I've leaped on every lame excuse in the American voters' book. But the future will offer opportunities to prove my determination never again to take a chance to vote.

In the meantime, what about you? Like many other sheep-blessings in America's full-fashioned freedom, the privilege of voting is never completely appreciated until it is lost. I know. So I must agree with the immigrant who said, "You Americans don't adequately appreciate your system of government because you don't understand what it ain't."

However, our Star Spangled Banner waves best when every thread is intact. Similarly the government it represents needs every vote.
But nobody votes in my town. Nobody may.
What could be worse, patriotically?
Only your town where every adult may vote . . . and you don't.

Homemakers Notes

BY LINDA WEBB, HD AGENT
November 4, 1965

Many homemakers often have questions regarding the cooking of roasts, especially beef since this is the favorite for people in this area.

Some of your questions about oven roasts may be answered in the following paragraphs:
To cook a beef roast, place the roast fat side up on a rack in a shallow pan. A meat thermometer may be inserted into the thickest portion, making sure that the point of the thermometer doesn't touch bone.

Do not add any moisture, and do not cover. Place the roast in a 325 degree oven, and roast until thermometer shows desired doneness — 140 degrees F. rare; 160 degrees F. medium; 170 degrees F. well done.

Roasting schedules serve as guides to tell you when to place the roast in the oven. For example, allow about 24 hours for a four pound rib of beef roast to cook medium done.

Using a rack keeps the meat up out of the juices and allows an even circulation of warm air around the roast to cook the meat uniformly. Rib roasts don't need racks because the rib bones form natural racks of their own.

Using a low oven temperature produces more even cooking, less shrinking and less oven spattering than higher temperatures.

Searing (or browning) a roast before placing it in the oven is not necessary. The old-fashioned notion about searing was that it sealed in the juices. Research has shown that actually the high browning temperature draws out juices, making greater cooking shrinkage.

Oven roasts aren't covered because a cover causes steam to form. The roast will have a steamed flavor and won't be richly browned.

It makes little difference when you season a roast — before or after. The flavoring of the seasonings will penetrate only about 1/8 inch into the meat either way.

Some different seasonings for roasts you might like to try rub the roast before cooking with a mixture of 1 teaspoon each ground ginger and salt, an 1/4 teaspoon each ground cumin. Or, 1 teaspoon dill weed, 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt, and 1-3 teaspoons black pepper. Both are delicious with roast beef.

Letting a roast stand 15 to 20 minutes before it is carved "sets" the juices, which makes the meat firmer and easier to carve.

"Roast beef au jus" is simply beef served "with the juice." Any fat is skimmed off the drippings and the remainder is poured into a gravy bowl to serve with the sliced roast. Sometimes a little hot water is added to the drippings to make them go further.

To store leftover roast beef: if still warm, cool roast uncovered in refrigerator or in a cool room with air circulation. Then wrap the cooled meat loose in two days to enjoy the best eating quality.

He was escorted by Phillip Renner. The senior candidate, Clayton (Clara) Cochran, received almost 2000 votes. His escort was Skipper Robinson. The student council will present to Marty's class (Freshman) one-half of the money he received which will be fifty dollars. Now that the carnival is over, the Student Council will begin working on a new Constitution for SHS.

DATING & MARRIAGE A PANEL DISCUSSION

The Future Homemakers of America met November 1st, and had a panel discussion on Dating and Marriage. This type program was chosen for it's interest to teenagers. Panel members were: Mr and Mrs Joe Grant, Mr L. L. Laws, Mrs. June Porter and Mrs. Dickie Robinson. Members of the class wrote their questions on slips of paper to hand to the panel for discussion.

GLEN BLODGETT IS OUTSTANDING IN F.F.A.

Glen Blodgett, treasurer of Top of Texas District F.F.A., and a Junior in SHS, is an outstanding student in vocational agriculture and FFA. While a sophomore, Glen became interested in Ag and FFA under Mr. Jerry Felder, teacher. Mr. Felder was an outstanding teacher in the "show" field. Some of Glen's main projects in the past have been showing swine and calves. One swine was reserve grand champion and one calf placed second. After the livestock shows are over for the year, Glen uses the money made from his sales to buy registered breeding swine. At the present, he is raising his own show pigs. Mr. Boone, new Ag teacher for SHS this year, is also greatly interested in stock showing. Glen says Mr. Boone has helped him find calves for show, which has aided him tremendously. Glen plans to exhibit his animals in Amarillo, Fort Worth, Houston and the local Fat Stock shows this year.

LARRY HOLT HAS SPIDER WEB PROJECT

Larry Holt, the science student of the week, has started his science project for the annual Fair. He has been working on this for two years. Spider Webs! That is what Larry is working with. He sees promise in scientific analysis of the common spider web and is trying to find the amino acids and their arrangements in the web. Last year Larry entered three Science Fairs, winning a first at Spearman, Superior at Goodwell and honorable mention at Amarillo. He was awarded the special award from the Chemical Rubbering Books.

3RD & 4TH GRADERS TESTED OCT. 26-29

Science Research Associates Tests were given to 3rd and 4th graders Oct. 26-29 for the purpose of finding out whether or not students are able to do the work required of them. Results will help to determine ability grouping, and will help teachers provide remedial and superior work for his students.

NELDA ARCHER IS WEEK'S CHEERLEADER

Nelda Archer, a senior, is cheerleader of the week. This is her second year to be cheerleader at SHS. She has attended two summers at SMU learning the art. Nelda thinks cheerleading has helped her do her share as a student of SHS. She has helped decorate the halls, raise money and serve at banquets when needed. Cheerleading has enriched her life as an individual because she has had the opportunity to meet more people. Nelda is a credit to SHS because of her work and determination to help make our school a little bit better.

HISTORY STUDENTS MAKE EXTRA POINTS

History students in SHS have various ways of making extra grades or extra points. In World History, Mr. Weese gives students the opportunity for extra points by giving reports on "The Theory of Evolution" and "The Olympics". In American History, Mr. Grant lets students give oral reports. Grades received on these reports are considered as test grades. Mr. McGee lets his students read and discuss specified paragraphs for extra points. Oral reports or discussions are not hard, and this is an excellent way to bring up a drooping history average.

MATH CLASSES MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

W. W. Smith, one of SHS math teachers, reports that he is proud of students enrolled in Geometry, Algebra II and Mathematics IV. All classes are working well and making more rapid progress than their counterparts of a year ago.

37 students are in his Algebra II class, 36 in Geometry & 14 in Mathematics IV. Of this number, 27 made a grade of 90 or above the first six weeks. He says this is a record of which the students are justly proud and he hopes for more "80-plusers" this six weeks.

OPINIONS GIVEN ON DRAFT CARD BURNING

Pacifists all across the United States have rallied against and protested the war in Viet Nam. The rallies consist of college students giving anti-war speeches and the burning of draft cards. There are many views concerning this behavior. One soldier (21) fighting in Viet Nam wrote to his parents, "We are fighting two battles against Communism—one in Viet Nam, the other in the United States with these senseless demonstrations".

Many of the students and teachers in SHS were asked their opinions on draft card burning. A few of the answers are stated below.

Toni Morgan—It does no good. Nelda Archer—They have to go sooner or later, this will only cause more trouble. If they don't have any more respect for their country, I don't know whether I would want them to fight for me or not. Mr. Cherry—It promotes disunity to a country rather than unity. This mob action causes disrespect for the law thus destroying the pride in one's country. If this is allowed, what kind of leadership are we headed for?

Nicki Keyser—I don't think they should burn them. We should stay out of other people's affairs and everyone would be better off.

Carla Archer—If these people think that it will aid the smothering of Communism and help our nation stay free they are poor excuses for Americans. Mr. Barker—it is utter stupidity. They are rebelling against authority. This is of no value because they don't need draft cards. There is a permanent record on file.

Ernie Vanderburg—They are getting themselves into more trouble. They should go on and serve because they are going to 'have' to anyway.

Harvey Whitfield—They are not loyal to their country.

DON'T NAME IT

The country editor was never more happy and highly complimented than on Saturday night, while Eddie Faye was serving trick or treat. One lady came in with her children and visited with Eddie Faye. When she learned that I was the country editor, she said she read every line I printed in the paper and thoroughly enjoyed the comments. She said it was just like her father talking I told her that we were in such a bind without mechanical help we often left out the comments. She said to leave out sumpin else. We may just do that in the future. The country editor is all spoiled out with our wonderful and talented radio announcer Coy Palmer. We gathered from the way he started reporting the Phillips Spearman football game that we (Spearman) was in for another defeat. Seems like Coy selected one of the star players of the Phillips team and put in a lot of his time telling us listeners that it was impossible to stop this Phillips player. Recon he was right except when Phillips got down to our 30 yard line. I know Coy Palmer well enough to know he reported the game as he saw it. I know for sure I would never make a football announcer worth a tinkers darn. I am pejudice for the Lynx, and I would explain in detail if we lost ground and shout to the high heavens if we gained ground. That ain't the way to report a game, but it darn shure is the way we report em in the Spearman Reporter. I have to give Coy credit for giving the Lynx players lots of praise as it became apparent they were staging a big upset. It's o. k. Coy long as we won, but be careful in the future. Put all your stress on Lynx winning, and I will phone your sponsors and tell em how much I enjoy the football game. BOY! wudent it be somepin if we could defeat Dalhart and win the district in football this year. The boys are all keyup, and while Texas and even the country editor's almer matter, Baylor are withering on the vine, our Lynx

The Way I 'C' It!

Can you be a "proper Christian" at work and keep your job? Or must there be some compromise with worldly ways? For many it is a struggle. There are some ethically tough jobs. If only the church would recognize this and find ways to support the young politician, or shop keeper, or soldier, instead of wishing all the time that people would go into what are (quiet erroneously) considered the ethically "pure" jobs of teaching and the ministry. It is very easy to say that men and women must wrestle with their problems before the Lord in prayer, and that then it will all become clear. Sometimes it will. Sometimes it will not despite all that some say about prayer giving us all the answers.

God is gracious enough to give to His servants some assurance that they can persevere through the fogs of life; but the fogs do not always disperse after a few hours. It is this kind of reality which the Christian Church should teach us to face, and it is this kind of life which we should be taught to pray about and to relate to the sacraments.

How can you serve God in your work-as farmers, administrator, lawyer, housewife, shop keeper, or teacher? You cannot view the world from the outside. You are to be a Christian in the midst of the world and its sins.

In the work you are doing day by day you are a partner of God in His work of creation and realizing the purpose for the human race. But as we stated, the fogs of life and its storms will strike your life. Often the spirit of compromise will offer its ugly head. How can I keep my job if I don't meet out throat competition, kick-backs, or other underhanded methods.

God may not give you every answer clearly as you pray. But God has offered us strength for each task, and with continued trusting in His Godly ways, you can see purpose in your life, and service to God. God asks you to be a proper Christian at your work. The world says "no, compromise with me." A battle rages. God offers power for your daily tasks. Don't yield to the underworld of sin.

USDA Decides To Leave Barley In Sorghum Program

Barley remains in the 1966 Feed Grain Program and gives county farmers a bigger base for planting milo and a point of substitution with wheat, according to N. F. Renner, Director of the Hansford County Grain Sorghum Producers Association. Renner also said that cross compliance between wheat and feed grains would not be put into effect. He said that under terms of the new Farm Bill that at the "discretion of the Secretary" USDA could have omitted barley from the program and also called for cross-compliance between wheat and feed grain programs. North Plains farmers, working through the Grain Sorghum Producers Association developed and presented information to legislative and administrative farm leaders as to the damaging effects such changes could have on sorghum growers: income and appealed for leaving barley in the program and not implementing cross-compliance.

Barley itself is not a big income factor in the grain sorghum area, but it being left in the program allows the farmer to use it as a feed grain base and pick up extra milo acres and also, if a farmer has no milo base a barley base will give him a point of substitution with wheat which allows him to really grow all the milo he wants up to the extent of his wheat allotment.

Renner said that the Association reported that a wheat farmer must comply with the cotton program to draw wheat payments but that a cotton farmer can participate without being in compliance on wheat or feed grains.

"I give full credit and recognition to the organized efforts by farmers through the Grain Sorghum Producers Association for obtaining these important rulings improving our area income from grain sorghum", Renner said.
