

HIGH WINDS hit the Spearman area Monday, blew all day, all night, and into Tuesday morning. This phone booth was a victim of the wind. Old timers say it was one of the hardest and longest straight wind storms we have had.

The Best Western sign at the Nursanickel Motel in Spearman was holding by one bolt, as the high wind of Monday and Tuesday almost ripped the sign down. The awning at the steak garden cafe was ripped apart and blown away during the wind storm. As we go to press today (Wd.) it is raining and sleeting!

Larry Porter Announces School Board Candidacy

Dear Voter,

I am seeking election to the Spearman School Board. There are three places open this year. I urge you to get out April 5th and vote for those of your choice. I solicit your vote to one of the three places.

I was born and raised in Canyon, Texas, where I graduated from High School and West Texas State University. Before graduating from College, I married Gayle Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moore of Spearman. I graduated from W.T.S.U. in 1960 with a B.A. degree in Business Administration and a minor in Mathematics. After graduation

I worked as a Claim Adjustor and Manager for an Insurance Company for ten years. In 1973 my wife, children, and I moved to Spearman where I am presently engaged in farming.

I have a daughter in High School and a son in Junior High. I feel that Spearman has an outstanding school system and I would like to have a part in keeping it that way. Our children are the future leaders of our community and we must prepare them for their future responsibilities.

If elected to the Spearman School Board I will listen to anyone or any situation with an open mind. In all situations I will think of our children and their education, the need, and the cost to our tax payers.

Once again, I solicit your vote and, if elected, I will do the best job I can for our children, our teachers, and our community.

Sincerely,
Larry Porter

It's census time

If you have not filled in your census form and mailed it back April 1 you are urged to do so at the earliest possible time.

The massive head count throughout the United States is expected to count approximately 222 million people and 86 million housing units.

The original purpose of the census, as stated in the Constitution, is to provide the population totals needed to apportion seats in the U.S. House of Representatives.

The U.S. Department of Commerce's preliminary indications show that Texas will probably gain two seats as a result of the 1980 census findings, and population shifts within the state will result in additional redistricting.

Census figures are also used to guide the distribution of billions of dollars in federal funds to state and local governments and the distribution of additional billions of dollars in State funds.

Two different forms will be mailed. One form will have 19 questions on it, and the other will have 65 questions. One home in six will receive the long form.

While Federal law (Title 13 of the U.S. Code) requires everyone to answer the census, the same law assures that every person's answers to the census will be kept confidential. Only census bureau employees, sworn to secrecy, may see the individual census answers, and there has never been a proven case of a census employee divulging personal information from a census.

President Carter, in a November 1979 letter to the president of The Advertising Council, Inc., stated:

"The Census has become an invaluable tool, providing all Americans with vital, non-personalized facts and figures about our constantly changing society. The information forms the basis for countless decisions made by government, industry, labor, academia, the communications industry and many others."

The first census was taken under the direction of Secretary of State Thomas Jefferson in 1790. Census enumerators, paid from 1/2 cent to 2 cents for every head they counted, traveled by foot, boat and horseback, counting individuals in the 16 existing states and the Southwestern territory.

The first census asked only five questions: number of free white males 16 years of age and older, number of free white males under 16 years old, number of free white females, number of other free persons, and number of slaves.

The count took 18 months, and showed a population of just under four million.

The U.S. census of 1880 showed 1,609 persons in the 26 counties of the Texas Panhandle. Largest population was in Wheeler county, where 512 persons resided. Other counts in 1880 included: Hemphill - 149, Lipscomb - 60, Roberts - 32, Potter - 28, Hansford - 18, Ochiltree - 9, Randall - 3, and Dallam - 0.

Services were held at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church for Mrs. Bertha Lee Jenkins, 86, who died Saturday.

The Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor, and the Rev. Don Wirsdorfer, pastor of First Christian Church, officiated. Burial was in Holt Cemetery by Boxwell Brothers Funeral Directors.

Mrs. Jenkins was born in Erath County and came to the Holt community south of Spearman in 1902. She married B. A. Jenkins in 1910 in Plemons. He died in 1956. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include a son, Philip A. Jenkins of Spearman; a daughter, Mrs. Billie Tevabaught of Claude; a sister, Mrs. Birda Holt of Spearman; four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

HEW Secretary Patricia Roberts Harris predicts that Social Security beneficiaries will receive their full cost-of-living increase of more than 13 percent in July despite the Carter administration's budget cutting efforts.

REJECTS WOMEN DRAFT
President Carter's proposal to register women for the draft was soundly rejected by a House Armed Services subcommittee. Members of the panel said the number of draft-age young men is large enough to fill the needs of all military services in a time of emergency without also calling up women.

PANEL ON GRAIN PRICES
The Senate Agriculture Committee has voted quick, unanimous support for President Carter's plan to get farmers to place more corn into reserves as a way of pushing up prices hurt by the embargo on grain sales to the Soviet Union.

SAYS NO
The Carter administration has refused to give Congress internal details of the United States' switch on a United Nations resolution condemning Israeli settlements in occupied Arab territories. Assistant Secretary of State J. Brian Atwood said a public inquiry into the March 1 vote in the U.N. Security Council could hurt Mideast peace negotiations.

JAPAN POSTPONES AID
TOKYO -- Japan plans to postpone indefinitely $56 million in economic aid to Vietnam because of the uncertain political situation in Indochina.

TO RECEIVE AWARD
KANSAS CITY, MO. -- W. Averell Harriman, a long-time U.S. diplomat and former New York governor, will be awarded the 1980 Harry S. Truman Good Neighbor Award. The Truman award will be presented to Harriman on May 8 during the annual birthday luncheon honoring the former president.

What causes the pressure in a high pressure area? Likewise, in a low pressure area? In other words, where does the barometric pressure come from?

The high and low pressure we so often hear about these days merely refers to the height of the layer of gases above the earth's surface at a given point or in a given area. In other words, if you are in a high pressure area, the layer of gasses above you is very high.

On the contrary, if you are in a low pressure area, the layer of gases above you is very low. The main function of a barometer is simply to measure the weight of the gas above you and it does this by recording an accurate measurement of the weight, or pressure, of the gas pressing down on the surface of the earth, which is the weather.

We talk of inches of mercury because the long-accepted official instrument for measuring the weight (or pressure) of the layer of gas above us has been a mercury barometer in the form of a column of mercury, measured in inches.

So, when we say the barometer reads "thirty inches," we are saying that an official barometer would, at that moment, record the weight of gases as pushing down hard enough to push the mercury thirty inches high in the measuring cylinder.

DOOR STILL OPEN
Secretary of State Cyrus Vance said that the "door is still open" for a negotiated settlement for the release of the U.S. hostages through the U.N. Commission to Iran despite the suspension of its mission.

NASA FUNDS CUT
The White House is considering a $750 million budget cut in funds for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, a cut that would further delay the first flight of the U.S. space shuttle.

STAMPS & STORIES

By Stanley James
Washington Irving has been described as a writer who created living people out of folklore.
Ichabod Crane, Rip Van Winkle and that mysterious gentleman called Diedrick Knickerbocker are only a few of his fictitious characters attesting to this fact.
Born in New York in 1783, he was a lawyer's apprentice at the age of 18 and was able to pass the bar examination five years later. Yet, literature interested him the most.
In 1802 a series of his essays appeared in the New York Morning Chronicle published by his brother, Irving's popular tales about Rip Van Winkle and The Legend of Sleepy Hollow came later. These short stories have endured through the centuries.
The Postal Service issued a stamp depicting the Headless Horseman chasing Ichabod Crane. First day ceremonies were held in Tarrytown, N.Y., where Irving claimed the frightening pursuit had taken place.
The commemorative was issued October 10, 1974--just in time for use on Halloween mail.

Widowhood is a fact of life often ignored; few people are fully prepared to face the emotional, social and financial changes that will take place. Few women, especially, prepare themselves properly for widowhood. Yet, a woman has a three-in-four chance of outliving her husband - by an average of almost 8 years. Widows comprise almost 13 percent of the total population. The average age of today's widow is 56-with the life expectancy gap between men - women steadily widening. Thus there are numerous reasons for women to increase their economic independence. Women need to know the answers to such question as: "What assets are available? When, where and how can any benefits in the spouse's name be obtained? Where are financial records and documents kept? What are the expenses to be incurred in daily living? Taking time to answer these questions together may be the best investment a family ever makes. First, women need to know where the money comes from - what the sources are such as savings, investments, salary, pensions, insurance, or social security. Also it is important to know in whose name these assets are listed. Also, does the status change upon a spouse's death, illness, unemployment or divorce? Some sources may begin, end or continue at different points in time. Know all of these things.

Extension Homemakers clubs will have programs this month on "Dealing with Death and Dying." This includes widowhood, explaining death to children and the emotional stages encountered. Call the Extension office at 659-2030 or 744-2901 for information on meeting dates, times and places. Homemakers clubs are open to all persons regardless of race, color, creed, religion, socio-economic level or national origin.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

An official communication was read from the international asking the club to elect someone from the chapter to be International Coordinator for Beta Sigma Phi's 50th Anniversary. Hazel Shieldknight motioned that the newly elected President Mary Lou Mathews be elected and Donita Lusby seconded it. The motion was carried.

A short business meeting followed. The Founders Day Luncheon was discussed. The luncheon will be April 24 at the Methodist Church at 11:30. It was reported that the Miss Hansford contest will be May 30-31 in the High School Auditorium. The Little Miss Hansford Pageant will be the same night. More details will be forthcoming as the pageant nears.

A discussion was held on the State Convention which will be in Amarillo June 20-22.

There were two nominees for Women of the Year which will be announced at the Founder's Day Luncheon.

Closing ritual was performed. Phyllis Collins introduced the program which was on "Quitting" by Mrs. Bill Traylor of Perryton.

Jackie Pearson served refreshments to: Cindy Schneider, Donita Lusby, Linda Butt, Phyllis Collins, Sheryl Meek, Sharon Cook, Cynthia De Armond, Carolyn Gressett, Judy Nelson, Marsha Pipkin, Lynn Renner, Kari Schumann, Hazel Shieldknight, and Verna Strawn.

The next meeting will be April 10 in the home of Mary Lou Mathews.

Extension Club

The Spearman Home Extension Club met Friday, March 28 in the home of Mrs. W. A. Ellsworth with President Mrs. B. J. Garnett calling the meeting to order by all members repeating the THDA prayer. Mrs. Ferrell gave the devotional which was the reading of the story of Resurrection. The minutes were read by the secretary and the treasurer's report was given.

Roll call was answered by "A Gadget in the Kitchen I Use the Most." Those answering the roll were Mmes: B. J. Garnett, W. V. Hull, Eldon Ferrell, Colleen Shedeck, Viola Hutton, A. D. Vaughn, Bertha Tarbox and Altha Groves and the hostess Mrs. Ellsworth.

Mrs. Ellsworth gave a very enthusiastic and interesting talk about her recent trip to Hawaii. She talked about the beautiful flowers growing everywhere and the interesting buildings including the King and Queen's Mansion and the University. She said she would love to go back. Mrs. Ellsworth then served cherry pie, coffee and tea. The next meeting will be Friday, April 11 in the home of Altha Groves.

New Publication Aimed At Reducing Calf Losses

Cattlemen can prevent some calf losses at birth if they know what steps to take to help the cow, says Layton Barton, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Now an expanded and updated publication has been prepared by the Extension Service that will assist cattlemen in dealing with calving problems, Barton adds.

The publication, "Recognizing and Handling Calving Problems," is authored by John

R. Beverly, Extension animal reproduction specialist. It guides cattlemen through the calving process, instructing them and showing by illustrations how and when to give assistance.

If a cow does not successfully give birth to a live calf, the total management and feed cost invested in her is lost. Research indicates that 80 percent of all calf deaths occur at or near birth and that calving difficulty accounts for two-thirds of these deaths. Furthermore, calving problems are most common in heifers giving birth to their first calves—with more than half usually having calving problems, explains Barton.

"Since the reproductive capability of a cow—that of conception, gestation and parturition—is by far the most important economic factor in cow-calf production, good management of the cow herd is of vital importance. If calving problems develop, cattlemen should be able to recognize these and provide assistance," the county agent says.

The new publication on calving problems should be of value to all cattle producers, Barton adds.

Copies of "Recognizing and Handling Calving Problems" B-1203, are available from your County Extension office or may be ordered from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Department of Agricultural Communications, College Station, Texas 77843.

This hybrid's record for consistency has made it one of the most popular hybrids on the High Plains. In 77 comparisons over the last four years against competitive hybrids, 3184 has shown an average yield of 183.7 bu./A. with a yield advantage of 14.3 bu./A. over competitors. Bred with outstanding drought tolerance, 3184 can adjust ear size and kernel depth to match growing conditions. And strong stalks keep 3184 standing straight for speedy harvest. It's just what High Plains farmers need in a dependable, high-yielding corn hybrid. And its maturity makes it a good companion for 3183.

Push this one for highest yields! In 43 comparisons on the High Plains in 1979, this hybrid averaged 192.1 bu./A. A sampling of yields from 1979 includes 216 bu./A. for Sheldon Rapp at Hooker, Oklahoma . . . 210.4 bu./A. for Larry Kemp of Muleshoe . . . and 196.7 bu./A. for Doyle Underwood at Dimmitt, Texas. 3183 has demonstrated very good standability and ear retention in this area. Excellent drought tolerance helps 3183 maintain outstanding consistency year after year. And it has been especially impressive on gray soils. Plant 3183 along with 3184. Spread genetic risks and get top performance, too.

ARA Opposes Sales Of Pets For Easter

Contending that animals should not be treated as toys and warning parents that their youngsters may contract salmonellosis by handling Easter pets, Jim Barnhart, Animal Rights Association spokesman, said today that ARA opposes the sale of chicks, ducklings and baby rabbits as a way of commemorating Easter.

"Most children certainly don't intend to be cruel," Barnhart, ARA vice president, said, "but these little animals are fragile, very easily hurt, and all too often are quite literally squeezed to death."

Barnhart added that a national organization, the Humane Society of the United States, has estimated that 90% of these baby animals do not survive.

"Most of the time, they are simply bought on impulse, with little thought given to the long term needs of the animal. Although a baby chick is undeniably very cute, it quickly grows up to become a chicken, an animal not commonly thought of as a good pet," he said.

In addition, Barnhart said, there exists a "very real danger" of contracting salmonellosis through handling of animals such as these.

Dr. John Galbreath, regional veterinarian for the Texas Department of Public Health, agreed that handling Easter pets can produce salmonellosis. "I don't like the idea of parents buying little chickens and ducks for their children to play with. I have grandchildren of my own, and I wouldn't recommend that they be given these animals."

"There are between 1500 and 3000 strains of salmonella," he said. "We're finding so many of them that it's just difficult to keep up with them, and they all have some slight variation in the way they attack people."

He added that the major symptoms are cramping, diarrhea, and fever, amounting to acute gastroenteritis. Salmonellosis is ordinarily transmitted through fecal material.

"It can be fatal, but this is rare. Deaths are uncommon except in the very young or very old," he said.

Because of the problems connected with Easter animals, 25 states, perhaps more by now, have laws curtailing the sale of these type pets," Barnhart stated. "Many Texas cities have enacted ordinances to prohibit this kind of thing, but there isn't a state law at this time. We hope to see one in the future."

He suggested that parents consider buying stuffed animals for their children instead of live ones. "Most children will be just as happy with this alternative, and it eliminates needless risk to the animal or to the child. Animals are not toys."

Lubbock passed a city ordinance in 1975 which prohibits the sale of chicks and ducks less than eight weeks old, in quantities of less than 25.

Other Texas cities with such ordinances are Dallas, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi and El Paso.

Select Garden Seed With Care

Attractive and colorful seed catalogs and seed packets on store shelves are great temptations to the impulsive garden buyer, but vegetable varieties and seed must be selected with great care.

Often the success or failure of a home vegetable garden depends on the kind and variety of vegetables selected, emphasizes Layton Barton, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Varieties differ in time of maturity, quality and disease resistance. Such information is usually noted on most seed packets. Some companies also indicate which vegetable varieties are best suited for preservation by canning or freezing.

Choose varieties with built-in resistance to diseases, advises Barton. This added protection can prevent many problems and insure a better crop.

New disease-resistant varieties are continually being developed by universities and private companies. Current listings are available through the County Extension office.

When buying seed, purchase only the amount needed for the current year. This can save money, and you can buy fresh seed next year.

Plan your garden carefully. Measure the length of row to be planted of each vegetable and purchase seed accordingly, suggests Barton. Plan sufficient seed to insure a good stand.

For a larger planting of a particular vegetable, buy larger, more economical packages of seed. Many garden centers, nurseries and feed stores carry seed in bulk which is often more economical.

Thought and care taken in choosing vegetable seed and varieties can produce a better garden and save time and energy later on, says Barton.

"Texas" Readies For Fifteenth Season

The Palo Duro Canyon is a place of awe and beauty. When patrons come to the musical drama, "Texas," they can drive into the canyon awhile, then walk in it awhile, perhaps eat supper in the canyon, before they take their seats to watch the story of people's lives in and near it.

The approach to the abyss is across a wide plain which stretches as far as the eye can reach. Suddenly, the ground seems to open, and the road abruptly begins to drop down into a vision of crags and vistas which one can barely believe. The trip down the winding road paved and carefully graded - sweeps away all connections with everyday life and leads to the canyon floor. The visitor is in a new world, ready to live in a different time and place.

"Texas," the musical romance of the Panhandle, is the story of that time and place told by eighty actors, singers, and dancers. It is the story by the famous playwright, Paul Green, of the people who used to live near the canyon and their trials and joys and uses of the land.

The fifteenth season of the show "Texas," in the Palo Duro Canyon, the place of grandeur where sounds ring from one crag to another, will open June 18 and play through August 23 in 1980. The run will be Mondays through Saturdays and one Sunday, July 6.

The show begins at 8:30 PM. 1,150,000 have already seen it. For tickets and information write "Texas," Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015. It is well to make reservations in advance. On weekends, prices range from $3.50 to $6.00 for adults with half price for children in most seats. Week days are a little lower in prices. Call 806-655-2181 for more information.

Social Security News

Almost every person in the Pampa area who has permanent kidney failure and needs maintenance dialysis treatment or a kidney transplant is eligible for Medicare health insurance, Howard Weatherly, social security manager in Pampa, said recently.

Medicare helps pay for kidney transplant surgery and related inpatient hospital services. It also covers outpatient maintenance dialysis and helps pay for doctors' services including surgeons' services for transplants, outpatient self-dialysis training, and home dialysis equipment, supplies and periodic support services. Medicare also helps cover the costs of a donor for kidney transplant surgery.

To be eligible for Medicare because of kidney failure, a person must have worked under social security long enough to be insured, from 1 1/2 to 7 1/4 years depending on age, or be the wife, husband, or dependent child of an insured worker.

Only the family member with kidney failure is eligible for Medicare; others in the family are not, Weatherly stated.

For people with kidney failure, Medicare protection generally begins with the third month after the month the person's course of maintenance dialysis begins.

Medicare protection can begin earlier if the person takes part in a self-dialysis training program in a Medicare approved facility and the person is expected to complete the training and self-dialyze thereafter. Protection can also begin earlier if the person is admitted to an approved hospital for a kidney transplant.

Medicare generally ends 12 months after a person no longer requires maintenance dialysis treatments or 36 months following a kidney transplant. Medicare can, however, be resumed if the transplant fails.

Anyone with permanent kidney failure who is not covered by Medicare, should apply at the Pampa Social Security Office, located at 125 South Gillespie. The telephone number is 668-3381. The people there will be glad to answer questions about Medicare protection.

Home Eye Test Prevents Blindness

Mitchell McLain, 4, of Taylor marks April. Prevent Blindness Month, by sharing with his young sister Melanie the Home Eye Test that alerted his parents that he has a very serious eye problem known as amblyopia or "lazy eye." If the problem had not been caught in time, Mitchell could have been blinded for life in his "lazy eye." Now, however, with treatment, his vision is rapidly improving.

April is Prevent Blindness Month in Texas and no parents in the state appreciate its message more than do Mr. and Mrs. Larry McLain of Taylor. Their four year old son Mitchell almost became one of the 1,300 Texans who needlessly lose their sight each year. The tragedy was prevented, however, the day that Mr. McLain just happened to pick up at his office and bring home a copy of a little Home Eye Test for Preschoolers distributed by the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness.

Early detection of children's vision problems is a major thrust of the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness programs. In addition to distribution of its free Home Eye Test for Preschoolers, the Society trains volunteer groups to do pre-school vision screening in their local communities and is working with the Department of Health on the implementation of the new state law that requires a vision test for every child entering school as of September 1980. The Society also works to prevent adult blindness with programs on glaucoma, cataracts, and macular degeneration as well as eye safety ones for school, home and industry. It is affiliated with the National Society to Prevent Blindness.

For information on its programs or for a free copy of the Home Eye Test for Preschoolers, write Prevent Blindness, P.O. Box 2020, Houston 77001.

Many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt. -Daniel 12:2

Tip on long life: eat less.

HE IS RISEN

And Jesus was betrayed by Judas Iscariot, had a mock trial of sorts, and was crucified on the cross.

Right before He died, Jesus cried out, "It is finished." He had finished the task which He was born unto this earth to do--that of dying for sinners. "And thou shalt call His name JESUS, for He shall save His people from their sins." (St. Matt. 1:21) "I (Jesus) came...to call sinners to repentance." (St. Mark 2:17)

And the Bible says that you and I are sinners: "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." (Rom. 3:23) "All our righteousness are as filthy rags;... (Isaiah 64:6) "There is none that doeth good, no not one..." (Rom. 3:12) "...there is none righteous, no not one." (Rom. 3:30; We are sinners and cannot help ourselves for we inherited sin from our first parents, Adam and Eve.

Our sins helped to crucify Him. But He laid down His life freely, enduring the suffering and shame because He loved us. God loved us, too "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth on Him might not perish but have everlasting life." (John 3:16) God gave His best to us--His only begotten Son, Jesus Christ who died for us, offering His body as a holy sacrifice in order for us to be forgiven of our sins and thus be acceptable to a most Holy God. We must believe on Jesus who has the power to free us from the wages of sin, which is death, unto eternal life.

Best of all, Jesus conquered death for us after He was laid in the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea, a miraculous thing happened. On the third day He arose! The angel said to Mary Magdalene, Mary, the mother of James, and Salome, who had come to the tomb: "Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: He is risen; He is not here: behold the place where they laid Him. (St. Luke 16:6)

He is risen! We celebrate this at a special time of the season, known as Easter, when things which have laid dormant throughout the winter have become alive--green grass, blossoming trees such as the Dogwood and Red Bud, the Forsythia shrub, flowers such as Easter lilies, Crocuses, and Tulips, and others. Through nature we are aware of the life-giving qualities of a RISEN CHRIST!

He is risen! He promised us in the Holy Bible that we, too, would arise from the grave and then with those who were still alive, would be caught up into the air to meet Him in the clouds and thus to go home with Him to the wonderful Heaven He has prepared for us. (I Thess. 4:16-18)

He is risen! These are three precious words. They mean life eternal to all of us who believe on Jesus as our Savior. He is our King of Kings and Lord of Lords!

Ethanol Plant Planned For Moore County

A $40-million plant to produce fuel alcohol -- ethanol -- from cereal grains may be built in the Schroeter Industrial Park in north Moore County, directors or Northwest Texas Grain Products Cooperative recently decided.

The Board decision on the 20-million gallon a year plant, however, must first be approved by the NWTGPC members in nine northern Texas Panhandle Counties.

That approval could come at an April 10 meeting scheduled in Dumas at the Community Building. The time has tentatively been set at 7:30 p.m. and will be verified by a letter to all members the first week of April. Attendance of the meeting will be limited to members upon presentation of membership cards.

Representatives from several firms, retained by the cooperative, will be at the session, including Arthur D. Little Company, consultant for industrial studies; Martin Ryan Haley and Associates of Washington, D.C., a public and government relations firm, and Leavitt and Associates of Little Rock, Ark., a management specialist firm.

"The Board based its decision on a very favorable study of fuel alcohol by Arthur D. Little Company," says Tommy Harbert, NWTGPC President. "Their study of fuel alcohol production from cereal grains was much more favorable than we anticipated."

The Arthur D. Little firm which is based in Cambridge, Mass., has been retained by Northwest Texas Grain Products Cooperative and several other cooperatives planning fuel alcohol plants as a consultant. The Little Company has an international reputation for its industrial studies.

The plant in Moore County may be located on a 40-acre site at the southern edge of Schroeter Park which is owned by 100 DID, an industrial development group, managed by John Grist.

Jim Dowty, Vice-President of the cooperative, says that the $40-million plant would be a coal-fired operation and would employ from 50 to 60 persons.

When in operation, the plant would use some 7-million pounds of grain -- wheat, corn and grain sorghum -- to produce fuel alcohol. North Plains farmers -- cooperative members -- have contracted to supply over 4-million bushels of grain for alcohol production. The remainder would be purchased on the grain market. The members have also put up some $200,000 in front money preliminary studies regarding fuel alcohol production, a site, and the plant.

"The Board has talked with several investment groups and has a verbal agreement with one for financing," says Dowty. "Representatives of the group met with us recently and assured us a letter of commitment would be issued."

The package offered is on a 90-10 basis with farmer-members of the cooperative coming up with some $4-million for plant construction.

Dowty and Jimmy Wells, Secretary of the cooperative also report that engineering and construction have been narrowed to one or two builders, with one of them "getting high considerations."

"The firm has had four generations of experience in the alcohol industry, building plants for distillers," Dowty says.

He explains that the builder is offering a turn-key job from on-site engineering studies to construction and the training of employees to operate the fuel alcohol plant.

The April 10 cooperative membership meeting in Dumas will detail financing and construction plans as well as getting membership approval.

Warm Weather Brings Greenbug Warning

Texas' 6.8 million acres of winter wheat is beginning to make good growth in most areas. This is despite a dry start, limited growth and little or no grazing during the winter months and recent freeze damage in some areas, according to Leo Witkowski, Chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers Board.

With warmer conditions, however, increased greenbug activity can be expected during the next few weeks, warned Emory Boring III, District III Extension Entomologist. Boring conducts a TWBP-supported Wheat Pest Management Demonstration project. He indicated that increased beneficial insect activity can also be expected. When abundant, the predators and parasites that attack greenbugs can greatly reduce greenbug population.

Where greenbug populations are nearing the economic damaging level, beneficial populations should be evaluated carefully to determine if they aid in adequate control of greenbugs.

As to what constitutes "economic damage," the specialist offered a guide. As wheat increases in height, larger members of greenbugs can be tolerated. Information in the following table is presented as a guide in determining the need for treatment:

The Texas Wheat Producers Board supports research and education programs, such as the Pest Management Demonstration conducted by Boring, through a 1/2 cent per bushel self-assessment on farmer deliveries of wheat at country elevators. Since such activity was initiated by the Wheat Board in 1971, the value of wheat in Texas has leaped from $70 million to over $552 million annually.

The yellowing of wheat in spots within the field indicates the presence of damaging number of greenbugs. The decision to control greenbugs should be based on the situation in the entire field, not just in most heavily infested spots.

Texas' 1979 crop from 5.8 million planted acres, produced a record 138 million bushels. The first official projections for the 1980 harvest from 17% more planted acres was for only 88 million bushels, based on conditions as of December 1, 1979. The next official estimate will be made based on conditions April 1. Some are expecting the production estimate to be based on improved crop conditions since December and the decrease in "graze out" without a government grazing program and the shortage of adequate cattle in the area due to limited winter grazing.

The Texas Wheat Producers Board supports research and education programs, such as the Pest Management Demonstration conducted by Boring, through a 1/2 cent per bushel self-assessment on farmer deliveries of wheat at country elevators. Since such activity was initiated by the Wheat Board in 1971, the value of wheat in Texas has leaped from $70 million to over $552 million annually.

Army Reserve Offers Students Options

"Today's high school senior is being offered more options than ever before by enlisting in the Army Reserve," said LTC Norman N. Ferguson, commander of recruiting activities for Oklahoma and the Panhandle of Texas. Colonel Ferguson added, "It doesn't matter whether the student is planning on further education or getting out of school and going to work. Reserve training can often be tailored to the individual's personal plans."

The Reserve offers training in hundreds of occupational skills, many of which relate directly to a civilian occupation. A student, if qualified, can enlist during the last six months of his senior year with initial military training deferred until after graduation," said LTC Ferguson. "Prior to that training, students attend Reserve unit monthly drills, usually 16 hours a weekend, for which they are paid." The Reserve also has programs designed so as not to interfere with school schedules such as Split Training.

In Split Training, the enlistee can take basic training during the summer following high school graduation, with Advanced Individual Training in a skill deferred up to one year. This allows a student to work during summers and with the Reserve during the school year.

LTC Ferguson also pointed out a new program to interest the college-bound student, the Simultaneous Membership Program (SMP) "which is designed to increase the number of junior officers in the Reserve."

"By enlisting in a Reserve unit and taking basic training immediately after graduating from high school, the college-bound student can be eligible for the Army ROTC Advanced Course at a nearby college offering Army ROTC provided all other requirements are met," explains LTC Ferguson. "SMP cadets receive a monthly subsistence allowance of $100 for Advanced Course Army ROTC and are also paid for attending Reserve monthly drills at a rate equal to at least E-5, sergeant. That comes to about $70 more a month.

"We're looking for qualified, well-motivated people in the Reserve," says LTC Ferguson, "and I feel that we now have better incentives to offer in return for service."

Paul A. Volker, Federal Reserve Board Chairman:

"The message in general is that we would like some restraint on the use of credit cards."

Census Teams Begin April 7

Census teams will fan out the night of April 7 searching for people in this area who have no fixed address, Bill Soule, Manager of the 1980 census office for this area, said today.

Crew leaders will take their teams into charity-type missions, all-night theaters, hostels, bus stations, parks, campsites, motor-home overnight parks, and other places where "floaters" are likely to be found. This is an effort to see that no one is missed in the 1980 Census of Population and Housing.

"It's essential to find everybody," the manager said.

"Fixed address or no, everybody counts in our society. It is especially important to find everyone who may be in trouble. We have to know what kinds of problems the people face in each area. Our society makes substantial sacrifices to help those who need help of one kind or another. It would be tragic if we couldn't direct that help to those areas that most need it.

"And no one has anything to fear by answering the census questions, because the Census Bureau does not divulge information about a particular individual, family, or household. We're the Nation's fact-finder, but the only facts we reveal are totals, averages, percentages, and trends, figures in which no one can be identified."

Those persons with no fixed address are counted as part of the population of the place where they are found.

Twirling Camp Set At PSU

The 8th annual National Baton Twirling Camp has been scheduled at Panhandle State University June 15-20. The camp is open to all beginning and advanced individuals and lines.

Renee and Jean Tarbet will start their 8th year as camp directors. Twirlers will live in the dormitory and eat in the cafeteria. Contests will be held in the talent show, basic strut, modeling, solo routines, downfield, line strut, and line dance twirl.

A Miss Panhandle State University Sweetheart Pageant is held during the week for girls whose ages range from 0-6, 7-9, 10-12, 13-15, and 16 and over. The contestants are judged in modeling-evening dress or party dress, T-Strut, and twirling solo.

Public Hearing Set On Foreign Ownership Of Land

AUSTIN-A legislative subcommittee will investigate foreign ownership of Texas agricultural land at an April 9 public hearing at Amarillo.

The House Agriculture and Livestock Subcommittee on Agricultural Land will meet at 1:30 p.m. in the Seminar Room, Quality Inn on IH-40.

"This hearing is for the purpose of obtaining direct input from Texans affected by foreign ownership of Texas farm and ranch land," said subcommittee chairman Pete Patterson, D-Brookston.

Patterson said foreign ownership of agricultural land is concentrated in three highly productive areas of the state: --upper Texas Panhandle consisting mostly of irrigated wheat, milo and corn production.

--upper northeast Texas in the heart of the state's dairy industry.

--lower Rio Grande Valley, primarily Hidalgo County, center of vegetable and citrus industries.

"Foreign land speculators have contributed to the rising cost of farm and ranch land at the same time they enjoy tax benefits. Unfortunately, Texas does not have a registration law and it is very easy for a non-citizen to conceal his ownership," Patterson said.

In the last session, Patterson and other subcommittee members sponsored legislation seeking stronger registration requirements for foreign owners of Texas agricultural land. "I feel the bill was defeated primarily due to lack of understanding the overall impact of foreigners owning real property or the tax advantages they receive," Patterson said.

At present, 29 states have laws regulating non-citizen ownership of U.S. agricultural land, ranging from simple registration of ownership to an absolute ban and divestiture on holdings.

Other committee members are Dan Kubiak, D-Rockdale; Tip Hall, D-Ponder; Tony Garcia, D-Pharr; Betty Denton, D-Waco; and Agriculture and Livestock Committee Chairman Forrest Green, D-Corsicana, ex-officio member.

FARRAH TURNS THE FAWCETT TO "HOT"

As Jill Munroe, wide-eyed, mahogany-limbed, golden-haired leader of "Charlie's Angels," Farrah Fawcett never cried, never failed, and always smiled. She was a TV detective... and she always got her man—but never in bed.

In her first two films—"Somebody Killed Her Husband" and "Sunburn"—she was still the cool and casually-kidding Farrah.

All that has changed with "SATURN 3," the AFD release opening APRIL 3 at the LYRIC Theatre, which stars Farrah, with Kirk Douglas, Harvey Keitel—and robot Hector, the first of the Demi-God series.

In the science-fiction thriller, described by producer-director Stanley Donen as "closer to the real Frankenstein story than comic strip space adventure," Farrah plays a sensuous, sensual woman whose scenes in bed with Kirk Douglas are as steamy as those in their shower-bath.

She and Douglas are space-scientists, isolated in underground quarters buried deep inside Saturn's third ring. They live in a space-age Eden as they work to find new food for an over-populated, exhausted Earth.

All is idyllic until brooding, intense Keitel shows up via space shuttle, bringing with him the parts for an 8-foot monster robot—and a taste for murder.

He is also a sexual psychopath, who soon zeroes in on Farrah. And since he programs his robot through a direct drain from his own demented brain, the monster "lab helper" soon matches him insanity for insanity.

They both want Farrah. In the worst way.

Where does this leave her? "Terrified," she says. "Harvey is menace enough... but at least he's human. As for the robot... I didn't think anything mechanical could be so frightening. But he's 8 ft. tall, with electronic clamps for hands and laser-beam eyes on waving stalks. When he lifts me up by the wrists and holds me dangling in the air, I'm not just acting scared. I am scared.

"There's no feedback from a robot... and no stopping him. He also bruises people without meaning to."

He is not, obviously, Farrah's favorite co-star.

Kirk Douglas, on the other hand, whom she met for the first time on her first visit to the set, was "marvelous to me. I was very nervous," she admits, "being in a strange studio with ninety or so strangers in the crew... and face to face with a total stranger (Douglas) with whom I was supposed to have an intimate screen relationship."

"Kirk saw it at once and understood right away what I was feeling. He helped me through that first day and he's been helping me ever since."

"He's a marvelous, experienced actor, and such a responsive person to work with."

"You know," she concludes, "before this role I was never allowed to be anything but happy and smiling... this has been a great experience, but it's been exhausting. I feel as if I've been through some kind of emotional wringer."

And with all the space gadgetry surrounding her during the filming, what did she want as a souvenir? "The moonbuggy," she says, lighting up her face with her famous Farrah smile. "I think it's cute... and it could outrun any robots who get strange ideas in the future."

"SATURN 3," an AFD release starring Farrah Fawcett, Kirk Douglas and Harvey Keitel, is a Lord Grade Presentation in association with Elliott Kastner of a Stanley Donen Film. Donen produced and directed the screenplay by Martin Amis from a story by the late John Barry. Director of cinematography was Billy Williams, B.S.C., and music was by Elmer Bernstein. Martin Starger was executive producer.

Farrah Fawcett stars as a scientist trapped in outer space with Kirk Douglas, an 8-ft. monster robot named Hector—and his mad mastermind, Harvey Keitel—in the futuristic thriller, "SATURN 3." The AFD science fiction release opens APRIL 3 at the LYRIC Theatre.

Spring Cleaning

The first maintenance item suggested for a car owner during the Spring season is to wash the car thoroughly to remove dirt and salt accumulated during the winter. After cleaning, the car should be inspected for scratches and those found filled in with touch-up paint (not over rusted areas). Hoses, fanbelts, and underhood wiring should be checked for salt damage, and the exhaust system examined for rust spots. The spring check should include windshield wipers and washer solution reservoir, as spring is a season of rain, mud, and fog. A front-end alignment check is advised after a winter of driving over ice and potholes. Tires need to be examined for cuts, cracks, bulges, and tread wear (the tread's main job being to provide traction on wet surfaces). Tips for driving in the rain include the following: double check for hard-to-see vehicles coming up behind; turn on lights if it is hard to see other traffic; be alert; reduce speed in areas of accumulated water (or whenever it is raining) and once clear of water, lightly apply brake pressure to dry the brakes; if stuck in mud, gently rock vehicle back and forth and repeatedly shift from drive or reverse to second (manual) while applying moderate pressure to accelerator; and check road conditions along a normal route and avoid trouble spots if possible. It is also recommended to keep an adequate distance between one's car and tractor-trailers, to avoid rear-end skidding accidents and to avoid splash and spray. The deteriorating condition of many highways and bridges is outlined, indicating need for extra caution.

And when they were come to the place which is called Calvary, there they crucified him.

"SATURN 3" SYNOPSIS

It is 400 years from today. Kirk Douglas and Farrah Fawcett are scientists—and lovers—in an isolated research station on the third ring of Saturn.

Then a strange, brooding visitor from Saturn headquarters, Captain James (Harvey Keitel), arrives with the parts for the ultimate robot. In several packing crates are the gears, tubes, circuits and tissues that James assembles into Hector, first of the Demi-God series. Hector stands nearly eight feet tall with steel clamps for hands and laser-like eyes on naked stalks.

Programmed through direct "brain-drain" from his creator, Hector acquires a wealth of scientific knowledge. But since his creator has strong homicidal tendencies and an insatiable sexual appetite, the same becomes true of Hector.

As Saturn's moon goes into its 22-day eclipse, cutting it off from all communication with the rest of the universe, Hector's force-fed urges intensify. He wants Farrah. To get her, he must kill Douglas.

To get them both, he must outrun, outrun and outlast his creator. Since no human can match his massive mechanical strength and computer-guided mind, not even James can stop him.

Hector is hungry for satisfaction. And he is on the loose in "SATURN 3."

Farrah Fawcett and Kirk Douglas (in the white space suits) warily lead the black-suited, black-hearted "Captain James" (Harvey Keitel) through a sinister space-station corridor in the futuristic thriller, "SATURN 3." The AFD science fiction release opens APRIL 3 at the LYRIC Theatre.

Easter, 1980

Easter, the principal ecclesiastical event of the year, gets its name from Eostre, a Teutonic goddess, whose festival was celebrated in spring. Her name was given to the Christian festival. It was she, according to legend, who opened the portals of Valhalla to receive the White God and Sun God, representing purity and light.

The Christian observance, this year on the 6th, is a symbol of the Resurrection, and intertwined with religious customs and observances, some dating back hundreds of years before the time of Jesus Christ.

The Easter egg became associated with Easter because eggs were forbidden to be eaten during Lent and on Easter Sunday they were traditionally served. The Easter egg, also dates back to the Egyptians and Persians, and Greeks and Romans, who ate eggs annually in spring festivals.

It's appropriate that Easter comes in the spring, when the renewal of life is apparent. Sunrise services in our churches—an observance of recent origin in most churches—symbolize the Resurrection at sunrise. This practice is observed in practically all churches today as a symbol of hope, inspiration and faith.

April, 1917

In 1917, as some remember, President Woodrow Wilson asked Congress—on the 2nd—to declare that war existed between this nation and Germany. On the 6th Congress met in special session and declared war to exist: this sealed the fate of the German monarchy.

Wilson acted because the German Imperial Government had served notice on all nations earlier that it would enforce a total blockade of England and all ports in western Europe controlled by the Allies. Had that blockade succeeded, the Central Powers would have won the carnage that was the First World War, Russia had surrendered to them in 1917.

It was Germany's last chance to win, and she took it. But unrestricted submarine warfare so repulsed the U.S. public, a wave of sentiment against Germany swept the country; America's young men enthusiastically went off to war to make the world safe for democracy.

But World War I's punitive peace treaty produced World War II—when U.S. submarines, from the first day, did just what a desperate, outnumbered Germany did in 1917!

Scarcely a word of condemnation was heard, an example which shows how times change in only two decades.

The Hope Of Youth

One of the wonders of the world is the eternal independence, optimism and hope of youth.

Battered fathers and mothers, after decades of struggle and work, who have experienced some of life's many obstacles, inequities and heartaches, look on with tender love (mixed with sadness?) at the happy, undaunted free spirit of tiny sons and daughters.

Of course, that's what life is—and today it's better than it was a generation earlier, we say. Today's courageous youngsters, with high hopes and dreams, must learn for themselves in a modern world full of technological wonders and dangers.

Realistically, the best that fathers and mothers can do for children is to give them a good start in life—morally, educationally and nutritionally. And counsel them, when later in life one is asked.

Before that time, looking into those faithful, trusting, still-pure eyes, with all their hopes, obedience and inherent goodness, suddenly a parent finds that his heart is heavy and he must hide his tears. It really should be a life of pink clouds, blue skies, knights and princesses! Too many have stumbled or lost the faith in the past, not necessarily through their own fault or doing, and so, alas, it isn't so, and cannot be.

Germans & Divorce

In Germany, a new divorce law has now been in force for several years. It's impact is of interest to Americans. Germany is not predominantly a one-religion country, as are most Latin European countries. Yet it has by far a bigger percentage of Catholics than the U.S. (40 plus percent compared to 20 plus percent in the U.S.).

Thus, polls reflecting German thinking about the new divorce law show the thinking of Catholics and non-Catholics in approximately equal proportions. And a recent poll there came up with this result: 3 percent of the population is very satisfied with the new divorce law; 40 percent is satisfied; 13 percent is somewhat satisfied; and 20 percent doesn't like the law.

Interestingly, about twice as many men as women believe that the recently-enacted law made divorce too easy to obtain. (One of the features of the German law is that it provides for almost automatic divorce after a separation of five years).

In summary, it seems that the new law, after its first years in being, is backed by a majority. (Only this month it survived a legal challenge in Germany's highest court.) It also reflects a stronger role in divorce proceedings by the state, as apart from the church role, at one time in the past so dominant in Old Europe.

Good Friday

For Christians Good Friday (April 4) is an especially nostalgic day. It's the day Jesus was crucified. And whether one belongs to any church, it's therefore one of the major days of history.

Even for those who doubt miracles, the life of Jesus is greatly admired, and his teachings generally respected and admired. For those millions of faithful, Good Friday, or Holy Friday (which seems a better name for it), is a painful day of faithful observance.

It's followed by glorious Easter, of course, when Jesus, according to St. Matthew's gospel, rose from the grave.

The Planets

Can you name the planets in the sun's solar system? There are nine, counting this earth.

The eight others are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. Mercury and Venus are closer to the sun than earth, but all the others are farther away.

Venus, Mars and Mercury, come closest to the earth in their orbits, in that order. Mercury is by far the brightest of the planets of the system. Venus next.

All can be seen at various times of the seasons at night but Pluto, Neptune, Uranus and Saturn, in that order, are most difficult to locate, often requiring a telescope. In late March, Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn are seen evenings, though Saturn may be less easily discovered.

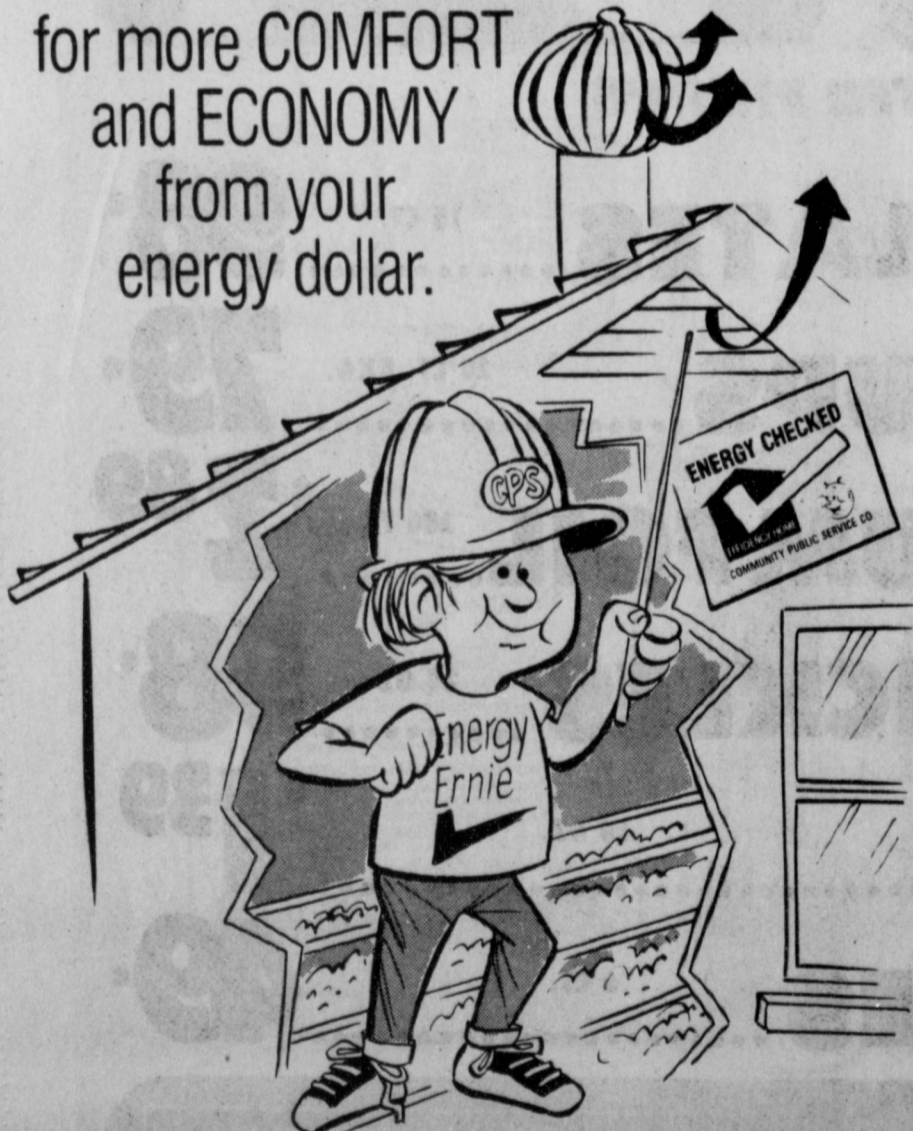

Top Tourists

Recent figures show that the West Germans are the world's biggest tourists—and by far spend more money on touring and traveling than citizens of any other country. Americans spend the second largest total—but since there are but 62,000,000 Germans and 220,000,000 Americans, one can see how tourist-oriented Germans are.

Germans in 1978 (the last year for which figures are available) spent $14.4 billions traveling in foreign countries. Americans spent $8.4 billions. France, Japan and Canada ranked next in tourist expenditures for foreign travel.

The significance in this is that the United States could reap a rich harvest if it catered to German tourism a bit. German-speaking guides and a few brochures printed in German and a little promotion could bring, in time, many billions of dollars into the United States annually. And who needs it? We do.

The HON 90 Series File carries an Underwriters' Laboratories Insulated File Device 350° one-hour label (formerly termed Class D). Samples have been tested by UL and easily passed requirements for withstanding, for a minimum of one hour, effects of a fire that brought temperatures outside the case to 1700°F. Temperatures within the file remained under 350°F. and contents were in good condition. Drawers roll easily on a ten-nylon roller suspension cradle. Each drawer is equipped with a positive spring-loaded follower. The handsome hardware includes a thumb latch to snug closed drawers. Stops prevent accidental drawer removal. For privacy, a plunger lock engaging each drawer is installed in all files. Height and depth dimensions of HON fully insulated files are the same as those of standard letter and legal files, so that they match up compatibly in file installations. You avoid the inconvenience of an over-size unit. Colors: Black, Sandalwood, Gray.
