

Approves Calendar

For the 1980-81 school year, classes will begin Sept. 2 and end May 27, 1981, with the Spring Break coinciding with the week of the Stock Show.

That was the calendar approved by the board of trustees of the Spearman Independent School District (SISD) at the regular meeting Monday night. The board bade farewell to two members of long standing: Paul Hazlewood and Chalmers Porter. They were presented with certificates attesting their dedication through the years to the children of the SISD and the board that guided educational processes for those children.

These ceremonies came after the board had canvassed the votes of the recent school board election and officially declared the winners who were administered the oath of office and seated to begin the transaction of business with the board in regular session.

It was noted that Porter and Hazlewood represented 21 years of service to the children of educational age in the community.

The new members on the board were briefed on procedures -- particularly those of approving and issuing checks and identification of those checks in the material issued to board members prior to each session of the panel.

Ballots were cast for two trustees for the regional service center.

The upcoming school board workshop was announced for April 30 and all members indicated they would attend the all-day session.

The communication agreement with the local chapter of the Classroom Teachers Association was approved and signed by the board and the CTA President Frank Lewis. It was explained to the two new board members that this agreement was an annual commitment between the board and the local classroom teachers group to share-or communicate, if you please-between the two organizations those things of mutual interest and concern.

It was explained that this had significantly cut down on the rumors that, at one time, ran rampant following each meeting of the school board. The agreement and the prosecution of it leaves both groups aware of the issues and decisions of each with no room for rumor anymore.

The board approved and signed a commodities agreement for the school cafeterias, a move that affords--among other advantages--official sanction for Doris Wilde to officially represent the school cafeterias.

Members of the panel were asked to approve an application for travel funds for the four vocational programs on campus. It was first explained that these funds, which were at one time 100 per cent of approved travel expenses, had shrunk to the point where the current application--if approved--would provide less than $4,000 for the four programs of the SISD.

Explanation was that the greatest amount of funds provided for this purpose were being earmarked for the "disadvantaged" student. This, in turn, would result in the largest grants going to school systems in larger cities.

An interesting highlight to this discussion was the recounting of the definition of a "disadvantaged" student provided by the administering headquarters for the program in this area at Plainview.

Take the premise that there are two students in the Vocational Agriculture program of any given school system. One student is the son of the Vocational Agriculture teacher and the other is the son of a local banker. The banker's son is deemed the disadvantaged student!

Since time had already been expended in preparing the application, it was approved for the 1980-81 school term but the board admonished the administration to be prepared next year--should allocations shrink further--to return the application unprocessed. It was felt that, in the face of further dwindling funds, the time required--considerable--by the administration to process the application was not worth the pittance it represented and that the board could take measures to fill the gap in some manner.

The panel approved the employment of Claudine Clark to teach Home Economics for the 1980-81 school year replacing an instructor who is leaving.

The remainder of the meeting was given over chiefly to study of the budget for the next school year.

Sales Up In County

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said, Friday, city sales tax rebates for March totaled $24.1-million--about $10-million less than Texas cities received in March last year.

--Not so at Spearman!

The optional one-percent city sales tax is an excellent indicator of across-the-counter retail sales and the rebate in the city of Spearman for March, 1980, amounts to $6,259.99.

For March, 1979, rebate to Spearman was $5,845.38.

Payment to date for 1980 amounts to $46,841.58. Total for the same period in 1979 was $35,401.30.

Retail sales at Spearman are up 32 percent over 1979!

Similar rebate receipts by the city of Gruver are $9,419.16 for 1980 to date. For the same period last year, receipts were $6,381.99--up a healthy 47 percent.

Perryton is the area example of lower monthly receipts reported. Rebates to that city for March, 1980 total $15,552.35. For the same month in 1979:

$33,991.11. Yet receipts for all of 1980 thus far amount to $127,214.39 against $94,986.15 for 1979.

The increase for the city of Perryton thus far in 1980 is 33 percent.

The story is pretty much the same for the state. Rebate payments from the first of 1980 total $162.8-million against $135.2-million for the same period of 1979.

Bullock said because year-to-date payments are up over the same period last year, it is too early to say whether the decreased MONTHLY payments reflect a downward trend in taxable sales or simply seasonal adjustments.

In any event, by the same figures, even MONTHLY sales at Spearman and Gruver are up over March, 1979.

The city sales tax is collected by merchants and other sales tax permit holders along with the state sales tax and is rebated monthly to cities in which it is collected by the Comptroller's office.

Rotary Auction Set For May 4

May 4, 1980 has been set for the day of the Annual YMCA - Rotary Auction. Members of the Spearman Rotary and YMCA Board of Directors will be soliciting individuals and businesses for items to be auctioned.

Any business or club may make available saleable items for the auction. Machinery, appliances, handcraft items, inventory items, bicycles, feed, fertilizers, grain, trucks, professional services, etc. are good items to donate.

Rotary co-chairmen are Mike Schnell and Jim Benson and co-chairmen for the YMCA are Jim McLain and Carolyn Cummings. Please give these four a call, if you have items for the auction and are not contacted in the next couple of weeks.

Proceeds from the auction go to the youth & community projects of the Rotary and the YMCA building fund.

The auction will be held at the YMCA located at 501 South Hazelwood, beginning at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday, May 4, 1980.

Rites Held

Memorial services were held Monday in the Kimbel Free Methodist Church in Dallas for Minnie Ola Huse, mother of Roy L. "Smoky" Huse of Spearman.

Dr. Rev. Ira Lowe, Rev. Archie Smith and Mr. B. J. Ferrel officiated. Interment was in Laurel Land. Grandsons of the deceased were pallbearers.

Other survivors include four sons, 5 daughters, 27 grandchildren, 35 great-grandchildren, one great-great-grandchild; a brother, and a sister.

Commissioners Hear Revenue Sharing

In regular court session, Monday, Hansford County commissioners heard petitions for participation in revenue sharing funds for the coming year, the county auditor's report and transacted county business that was, for the most part, routine.

Hearings on revenue sharing funds were conducted in the courtroom to allow room for the large number of persons participating.

Requests were presented in behalf of the senior citizens organization, the home demonstration group, the museum and the local ambulance service.

The senior citizens organization with a proposed budget of some $20,000, was chiefly concerned with meeting a projected payroll of $7,000. A CETA program grant expired cutting off the salary of the lady who made the regular calls to senior citizens living alone as well as other clerical and administrative duties. It was noted that, while the radio-thon achieved its goal, the item of unsolicited gifts and donations was one that could not be accurately estimated enough to base a significant budget item upon.

The home demonstration ladies asked for $1,000. A new door is planned for their hall, refurbishing inside with possible a need for new drapes and some type of surfacing for the parking area which was reported to be deteriorating. Money sought was for materials. The women will do the work.

The museum request was for $3,372. This would be used chiefly in maintaining the building and its contents. It was noted that a 1917 wedding dress had been given and it was needful to keep it in a covered exhibit.

The ambulance service requested approximately $1,000 to purchase "dolls" to teach CPR airways first aid for cardiac and other victims for which the treatment is applicable. It was noted that current instruction is being given with borrowed dolls and since there is a certain amount of "wear and tear" in the course of such instruction, it was feared the borrowing time was being rapidly shortened.

All of these requests were predicated on revenue sharing being continued for another year. If it is not re-established, there will be no funds hence no participation.

Commissioners acted to bring participation in workmen's compensation with other counties and other political entities within requested compliance. County Judge R. L. McClellan noted that changes proposed were in coverage and not in the basic administration and conduct of the program. Also requested--and granted--was a statement of safety principles. One aspect of this request had already been fulfilled as Hansford County has a designated safety coordinator.

On the subject of safety, commissioners entered into a discussion of the legality and feasibility of establishing a speed limit on county roads. It was noted that some neighboring counties, plagued by accidents, had established a 35 mile-per-hour limit on all county arteries. This matter will be pursued further before any action is taken.

Purchase of a new IBM Selectronic typewriter for the office of the County Clerk was approved. No bids were necessary on this item since only one company makes a machine meeting need specifications. This keeps all such machines in the office uniform for both ease of operation and of maintenance. It was agreed not to contract for a service policy on the new typewriter until the end of the free warranty period.

Remainder of the meeting was occupied with payment of bills and consideration of the annual report presented by County Auditor Weldon Green. Basically, Hansford County was reported in good condition in the report. Fiscal taproot of county operation is the tax rate and base. At the end of two decades, the tax rate has dropped from $1.30 to $1.215. The base from which this per-$100 rate is drawn has grown from $19,411,823 in 1958 to the present $74,145,257.

Twice a year, ladies of the home demonstration organization meet with the commissioners court changing the appearance of the conference table with a variety of sweets baked by the ladies of the group. As the spokeswoman for that group noted in the revenue sharing fund hearing, she did not know said hearing was on the agenda until she arrived and emphasized--with a smile--that the sweets were not meant as undue influence whatsoever.

Spearman boys say TENNIS is our racket

In District One-AA competition, Saturday, tennis proved to be Spearman's "racket" with a boys doubles first place with other scores netting a team first.

The boys links team wound up in fifth place while some individual golfers carded some impressive comparable scores.

At the girls track and field meet, four firsts, two seconds and two thirds put the team in overall third place while seventh and eighth grade teams acquitted themselves very well.

Spearman's Carey Bodey and Kyle Beedy defeated the Perryton boys double team 7-5 and 6-0 to take a first while Wayne Meeks went to the net against Dalhart's David Pederson for first place, singles. Meeks went down 7-5 and 6-0 after a hard-fought match.

Spearman girls did not place in singles while the doubles team went up against Perryton for third place giving way 6-3 and 6-4.

After fourth round play on the greens of the Perryton Municipal Golf Course, Spearman linksters were in fifth place with a team score of 396-1504 respectably behind Dalhart's first of 347-1331.

Gregg Hazlewood was top swinger for Spearman with an individual score of 96 while Jimmy Morely was one stroke behind with a 97. Hank Sutterfield carded a 106; Greg Odogaard, 97 matching Morely and Jack Crowl, 112.

In the girls track events, Spearman had a team total of 107 for third place behind Canadian and Perryton.

In the girls track events, Spearman had a team total of 107 for third place behind Canadian and Perryton.

In the triple jump, Sherry Greene's 33-2 was in second place just a tad behind the 34-1½ first place.

Kenda Burke put the shot 29-11 for a third place in that event.

Other places were:
400--Jan Davis first with 61.65.
100--Kenda Burke, third with 15.17.
100--Sherry Greene, first with 12.42.
1600 Relay--Spearman in second place with 4:29.19.

In the Eighth Grade division, Spearman was first with a team total of 149 and third in the Seventh Grade division with a team total of 130.

Administration tries to stifle Olympic desire.

Senate panel approves balanced '81 budget.

THE CONTENDER

Johnny Captor, (Marc Singer, pictured right) in Atlanta fighting for the heavyweight slot on the U.S. Olympic boxing team and badly in need of Beifus, whom he fired after the regional tryouts, encounters a beautiful blonde who has professional designs on him, in "The Contender." THURSDAY, APRIL 17 on CBS-TV.

As Johnny prepares for a showdown heavyweight match, he is approached by Lucinda Waverly, (Susan Walden, left) a beautiful but tough-minded sportswriter with an icy reserve, who at first considers him no more than a potentially interesting subject for an in-depth profile.

Emperor Jahangir of India, who died in 1627, was one of the world's most noted jewel collectors. He reportedly owned 2,235,600 carats of emeralds, 376,600 carats of rubies, 279,450 carats of diamonds and 186,300 carats of jade.

Get 'Em Wholesale

The guest watched with amusement as the young son of the house amused himself by driving nails into the furniture. Recovering a bit from the shock, he turned to the host and asked: "Joe, isn't that an expensive pastime your son has? How can you afford it?"

"Oh, it's not bad," answered the father. "We get the nails wholesale."

Girl--Then where'd you get the idea?

The Cure

"Doctor," said the pretty nurse, "everytime I take the patient's pulse it gets faster. What shall I do?"

Blindfold him!"

Spending Cut Gas

At this time of each congressional session--the beginning--there's always much talk and fine-sounding resolutions about cutting spending.

The wire services report this or that House or Senate resolution and this or that plan for reduced spending, a balanced budget, tax cuts, etc. All of it sounds good, and means absolutely nothing.

When it comes to the end of the session, the same lawmakers don't send out press releases saying that, after all, they really didn't have the guts to cut this program or that (when recipients of the handouts raised a howl of protest) and the budget is again unbalanced. But that's what will happen this year and has happened every year within recent memory.

The same is true of President Carter's latest, revised budget. It is being sold as a balanced budget. Not true. There's not one chance in ten in this election-year that Carter will do what he promised in 1976's campaign, balance the budget. That budget contains as much spending as last year's and doesn't fully take into consideration the effect of roaring inflation and the certainty of additional spending for defense.

Perhaps a law should be passed that Senators and Congressmen could only issue releases about the budget after Congress has passed it in its final form--to report to the people whether they balanced it or not. That would end the current economy gas from most of them.

Peggy's Pointers

Nutritional needs of children require special consideration from infant through teenage years.

The most perfect food for infants is mother's milk. The decision to breast feed or formula feed rests on several factors. Some considerations include nutritional, psychological, economical and social.

Follow your pediatrician's advice on when to add solid foods. The infant should be eating a wide variety of foods by six months of age.

Two nutrition-related problems during infancy should be prevented - obesity and nursing bottle syndrome.

There is increasing evidence that overfeeding during infancy may be related to obesity later in life. During the early years, fat cells divide in number as well as increase in size. Overfeeding may cause the baby to have more fat cells than normal. These often remain throughout life.

Nursing bottle syndrome is a dental condition of young children characterized by extensive decay of all the upper teeth and some of the lower back teeth.

The syndrome is caused by direct and prolonged contact of the teeth with sugar, syrup or honey-sweetened water, milk or fruit juice drunk from a nursing bottle when sucking and swallowing are infrequent and salivary flow is diminished.

To prevent this condition, doctors usually recommend that children not be put to bed with bottles, but rather with a pacifier.

This article is the first of a series on feeding children. For more detailed information the free fact sheet (L-936) Feeding The Infant is available upon request from the County Extension office.

It includes general infant feeding practices, nutrient needs of babies, and some special infant nutrition problems.

Next in the series will be information on feeding the preschooler.

THE IVORY APE

Steven Keats and Cindy Pickett (pictured below) have both devoted their lives to the protection of wild animals, but the fabled albino gorilla (top) creates a special problem when a savage mob stalks the innocent animal for both profit and revenge in 'The Ivory Ape,' a world premiere on ABC-TV's 'The ABC Friday Night Movie.' FRIDAY, APRIL 18.

Paul A. Volcker, Federal Reserve Chairman:

"Balancing the budget will have considerably greater impact on the rate of inflation than anticipated by economists."

Edward C. Meyer, Army Chief of Staff:

"Peacetime registration would save from 73 to 108 days in rushing reinforcements to Europe to back up the 300,000 U.S. troops stationed there."

The golf jacket and knit shirt made of cotton and polyester blend are still favorites of young men as the weather warms.

Pantsuits are still high fashion for day wear, but there seems to be a trend toward more feminine attire in skirts, blouses and dresses.

Texas To Celebrate San Jacinto Day

Hundreds of patriotic Texans and Americans will celebrate on April 21, the 144th anniversary of the Battle of San Jacinto, one of the most significant military encounters of American history.

San Jacinto Day commemorates the 1836 victory of 910 Texans under Sam Houston over 1300 Mexican troops commanded by Santa Anna.

Cecil Burney, Chairman of the Texas Historical Commission, said "Historical groups should take advantage of this official state holiday and pause to recognize this milestone of Texas' history."

This important battle determined not only the future of Texas, but also the future of 1,000,000 square miles of the United States. As a result of the decisive engagement, Texas gained its independence from Mexico. But the battle also led to the Mexican War with the United States, and the eventual U.S. acquisition of territory comprising the current states of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, California, Utah, and parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, and Oklahoma—more land than the original 13 states and about one-third of the present area of the U.S.

The Battle of San Jacinto was one of the best planned and executed campaigns of the Texas War for Independence. In March, 1836, Sam Houston was in full retreat before Santa Anna, but one month later Houston delivered the resounding defeat to the Mexican general.

Victorious at Goliad, the Mexican forces had moved to take possession of the Texas coast. Santa Anna burned Harrisburg and pursued the the flight from New Washington and Galveston. But Houston too moved toward the coast. He learned that Santa Anna had gone down the west side of the San Jacinto River, and that the Mexican forces would have to cross the bridge at Vince's Bayou. Houston established his strategic position in woods about a mile from Harrisburg and assembled reinforcements.

On April 21, taking advantage of the Mexican afternoon siesta, Houston moved his troops through thick cover near Santa Anna's encampment. The Mexicans were unaware of enemy activity until they heard the famous cry "Remember the Alamo!"

The Battle of San Jacinto lasted only 18 minutes. Houston had taken Santa Anna completely by surprise, killing 630 enemy soldiers and taking 730 captives. Santa Anna himself was found among the prisoners. Gen. Houston was injured, but only nine of his men were killed.

Between 1883 and 1901 the State of Texas worked to acquire 445 acres around the battlefield. The San Jacinto Monument was erected between 1936 and 1939 at a cost of $1.5 million. Constructed of reinforced concrete and faced with Texas fossilized buff limestone, the Monument is 570 feet high and tapers from 47 feet square at the base to 30 feet square at the observation tower. A star 35 feet high tops the Monument, and a museum is housed in the base. The imposing tower is mirrored in a reflecting pool. San Jacinto Battlefield is a National Historic Landmark.

March 31, 1980

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT IRVING P. KRICK, INC. OF TEXAS, 748 Vella Road, Palm Springs, California 92262, holder of License No. 80-2 of the State of Texas, intends to engage in an operation to change or attempt to change by artificial methods the natural development of appropriate atmospheric cloud forms or precipitation forms which occur in the troposphere, for and on behalf of Hitch Agri-Business, Inc., P.O. Box 1308, Guymon, Oklahoma 73942. An application will be filed with the Texas Department of Water Resources to conduct a program of weather modification to increase useful precipitation by means of a ground-based silver iodide dispenser network.

- The area in which the dispenser network will be operated includes the Texas Counties of Dallam, Hansford, Moore, Ochiltree, and Sherman.
- The target area includes that portion of Texas County, Oklahoma that is within the rectangular area bounded on the east by a 12-mile north-south line which extends from the State line through Hitchland, Oklahoma to State-highway, No. 3 then to a point seven miles west along the highway, then 12 miles due south to the State line, then seven miles east along the State line to the origin.
- The area adjacent to the target area which may be subject to the effects of the operation are within the State of Oklahoma and in general within 15 to 20 miles of the target area. The maximum intentional effect is in the target, but some downwind effect may occur in Oklahoma mostly to the immediate northeast of the target. There would be no significant intentional effect in Texas from the operation of these dispensers.
- The materials and methods to be used in conducting the operation are silver iodide electric arc ground-based dispensers that have an output in the range of 1/2 to 2 grams per hour per dispenser.
- The person who will be in charge of the operation is Mr. Donald Chase.
- The period of the operation is expected to begin June 6, 1980 and to end June 6, 1984.

It's Not Too Late To Be Counted In Census

It's not too late to be counted in the 1980 census, the U.S. Bureau of the Census announced today.

Questionnaires were mailed to every household on March 28, and most people were instructed to mail back a completed questionnaire on Census Day, April 1. Millions did so, but the Bureau reports that a number of households have not yet been heard from.

People not counted in the census will in effect be "invisible" when census statistics are used to reapportion seats in the House of Representatives and to guide the distribution of Federal funds—their tax dollars—for programs in communities across the Nation.

There is no penalty for a late return of the census questionnaire, but census answers should be given as of the April 1 date regarding births, deaths, changes of address, and other facts.

To be sure everyone is counted, after April 16 census takers will contact those households that were asked to mail back a completed questionnaire but have not done so. The Bureau emphasizes that this follow-up work increases the cost of the census. It is estimated for every one percent of the households that mail back a fully answered form as asked, $2 million in follow-up costs will be avoided.

Every person's answers to the 1980 census are confidential by law and cannot be obtained even by other government agencies, whatever their purpose. Census answers are seen only by census workers, sworn to secrecy, who are liable to a jail term of up to 5 years and/or a fine up to $5,000 for violating that law. Not once in the history of the modern confidentiality law, which dates back to the 1930 census, has any census worker even been prosecuted for breaking census confidentiality. Census answers become public after 72 years for historical purposes.

Approximately 90 percent of the Nation's households have been asked to mail back an answered questionnaire, more than in any prior census. The remaining households, primarily in rural regions, also received a questionnaire in the mail, but were asked to answer and keep the form until a census taker comes to pick it up.

Often there is uncertainty about whether to list household members away at college, for instance, or serving in the military. Students living at or near the college away from home are enumerated at the school but students living at home should be counted with the household. Military barracks personnel and others in group quarters are considered residents of the area in which they are stationed and are enumerated there, and military personnel on ships are also enumerated.

In prisons (excluding short-stay institutions), orphanages, and nursing homes, and other long-stay institutions, census takers have distributed questionnaires which will be collected to enumerate the individuals in those institutions.

Anyone temporarily away from home, such as an overseas traveler, who has reason to think he or she was not included on a census form at home should at this time call the U.S. census district office to notify them.

BALANCED '81 BUDGET

The Senate Budget Committee approved a balanced 1981 budget that calls for steep increases in defense spending, sharp cuts in domestic programs and a $10.1 billion surplus.

ON CREDIT WARNING

Lenders must warn customers 30 days in advance of any change in credit-account terms, such as an increase in interest rates or a boost in monthly payments, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

THEN and NOW

Our ancestors; it seems, were hot stuff in more ways than most people consider. Through the ages, keeping cool has led to some pretty fancy innovations.

THEN: In ancient Egypt slaves poured water on a Venetian blind arrangement of curtain reeds to cool the air brought through. The Romans, it's said, carried snow down the mountains to cool their homes, packing it in their bathtubs and then hopping in.

NOW: Since 1902, however, things have been a bit easier—and more comfortable. That was the year

Willis H. Carrier designed the first scientific air-conditioning system. The latest addition to his company's collection of coolers is the new two-ton Premium Round One central residential air conditioner that has the highest Seasonal Energy Efficiency Rating of any comparable unit on the market.

NEW GAS TAX

President Carter officially implemented his plan to impose a 10-cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline despite the fact that some members of Congress are seeking to derail the proposal. The 10-cent hike in gasoline prices would begin showing up May 15 at the pumps.

Comment On Sports

Auto Racing

By Pete Fritch

TAMPA, FLA. -- Despite the fuel crunch, auto racing goes merrily along, as does boat racing, pleasure boating, etc. Until the election in November, the politicians probably won't propose any curbs. But after that, maybe.

Auto-racing has its critics with or without the fuel crunch. In the last month two drivers have lost their lives here in Florida, and others have been badly hurt. One died at Daytona and one at Sebring.

The question inevitably arises whether a sport which takes lives is a proper sport, or whether it's a money-making profession. Even if it's a profession, and a sort of spectacle or circus-type exhibition, it has a place. But should drivers die regularly to please crowds and make money for themselves and promoters?

No one proposes banning auto-racing. But smaller cars, with far less powerful engines, using diesel fuel, would prevent deaths on the track. And what matter whether they could go no more than sixty m.p.h.? Every contestant would face the same limitations and the competition would be just as keen. We might come to that, one of these days—and save a lot of gas, and some people.

Gilvin-Terrill, Inc. Gets Bridge Contract

AMARILLO -- Gilvin-Terrill Inc. of Amarillo and Washburn is the apparent low bidder to widen four State Highway 136 bridges and approaches located in Hutchinson and Hansford Counties.

Gilvin-Terrill's bid of $848,053 was the lowest of six received recently by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

The four bridges and approaches to the bridges to be widened and then resurfaced are located at South Palo Duro Creek in Hutchinson County 3.4 miles south of the Hansford County line, and at the South Fork of Palo Duro Creek, at Palo Duro Creek and at Farwell Draw, all of which are between

.8 of a mile north of the Hutchinson County line and .1 of a mile south of Gruber in Hansford County.

The wider bridges will improve the safety and convenience of travel on these SH 136 sections. The bridges that span Palo Duro Creek, the South Fork of the Palo Duro Creek and Farwell Draw were built in 1947.

Funds for this project were authorized by the 1978 Highway Safety and Betterment and Rehabilitation Program.

Jay L. Hawley of Borger will be the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation engineer in charge of the work.

PSU Sets Basketball Camp

Panhandle State University has announced that they will host a girls and a boys basketball camp this summer. This will be the fourth year a girls camp has been held on campus. This is the first year a boys camp will be held in a number of years. The boys camp is scheduled for June 8-13 and the girls June 22-27.

Coaches and players have made very favorable comments on the girls camps that have been conducted for the last three years. Parents and coaches have been very pleased with not having to travel a great distance to get players to and from the camp.

Coach Dennis Aye will direct the coaching at both camps. Coach Aye has done a tremendous job in revitalizing the program this year at Panhandle State. His philosophy on basketball is that players must be sound fundamentally, be dedicated and have a love for the game. His teams have always played with these traits. Coach Aye plans to conduct the camps to teach players these traits. Jack Begley, who has directed the girls camp in the past will assist in directing and coaching both camps. Coach Aye will announce other outstanding basketball players and coaches to assist at a later date.

Cost is $95.00, and a $20.00 non-refundable deposit must accompany all applications, with the balance due at time of arrival. The camps are sanctioned by the high school activities association and will be conducted according to their rules and regulations.

Campers will be housed in Holter Hall (Girls Dorm) which is air conditioned. All basketball activities will be conducted in Oscar Williams Field House. Campers will be insured for injury.

Prospective campers should be in grades 6 through 12 next year. If a camper is younger and deemed mature enough to stay with camp and handle the physical activities, contact Coach Aye for acceptance.

Campers will check in Sunday, between 3:00 and 4:00 p.m. and depart at 11:00 a.m., Friday. Meals start Sunday evening and end Friday morning. A mass skills and drills exhibition by all campers will be conducted each Friday at 9:30 a.m. for all parents.

For brochures, applications and further information, contact the Dennis Aye Basketball Camps, Panhandle State University, Goodwell, OK 73939, or call 405-349-2611, ext. 234.

USDA Announces Rules For Reducing Or Suspending Food Stamps

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland today disclosed the major features of regulations to be used to suspend or reduce food stamp benefits, if the program runs out of money.

Bergland said the regulations, which spell out the procedures states must follow to reduce or cut off benefits, may be needed soon. Funds for the food stamp program will be depleted by the end of May, and legislation to provide additional money for this fiscal year still must clear a number of hurdles. If funds are not provided by May 15, Bergland must notify states to suspend June benefits.

"I sincerely hope we will not need to use these procedures," Bergland said. "An interruption or reduction in food stamp benefits would be extremely serious for the poor families and elderly people who depend on this program."

Under the new regulations, a reduction in monthly food stamp benefits would affect the poorest food stamp households proportionately less than those with more income. In addition, a minimum food stamp allotment of $10 a month would be provided to all households unless benefits are completely suspended or must be reduced by more than 90 percent.

The $10 minimum benefit, Bergland said, would principally help those elderly and disabled people who now receive monthly food stamp allotments of close to $10 as a supplement to Social Security or Supplemental Security income. Bergland said USDA did not adopt special procedures for reducing benefits for the elderly and disabled because state officials said such procedures would create serious administrative problems.

Bergland said a suspension or reduction of food stamps will affect 20 million low-income Americans who currently receive monthly benefits averaging 36 cents per person per meal. Three out of five food stamp users are children or the elderly and disabled, and 90 percent have incomes below the poverty line.

"The effects on households and communities will depend on the economy, the extent to which individual households rely on food stamps to purchase food, and the duration or severity of a cutback," Bergland said.

"A cut in food stamp benefits would pose a nutritional threat to these people," Bergland said. "Studies show the food stamp program has improved the diets of the poor over the last ten years. But food consumption surveys also have found that households spending consistently at the level of the Thrifty Food Plan -- the shopping plan on which food stamp benefits are based -- did not get nutritionally adequate diets."

"We are talking about households with an average income of $3600 a year," he said. "These people can least afford to absorb a reduction in purchasing power. The pressure to provide emergency help will be great for state and local governments and private agencies that are also strapped for funds."

Bergland said the food stamp program is running out of oney because annual spending ceilings set in 1977 were not high enough to accommodate recent food price inflation, projected increases in unemployment, increased participation, and the fact that a large number of new participants are poorer than expected and qualify for larger benefits...

The initial food stamp appropriation for this year was limited to $6.2 billion, according to Bergland, although the administration and lawmakers knew it would not be sufficient. He said additional funds cannot be provided until the $6.2 billion ceiling is removed or raised.

USDA is requesting a supplemental appropriation of $2.65 billion to fund the program for the last four months of the fiscal year, Bergland said.

Regulations authorizing a suspension or reduction of food stamp benefits will be published in the April 1 Federal Register.

Calving Time--The Payoff

CALVING TIME--THE PAYOFF

Spring calving time's at hand and for the beef producer, calving time brings the real payoff in his operation. It's also a challenging time in that he's got to have a tight rein on what's going on to prevent calf losses.

Calf losses during or shortly after calving are the second leading cause of decreased calf crop percentage, points out Layton Barton, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Unless the beef cow produces a calf every year, desired genetic improvement goals such as increased growth rate, weaning weight, feed efficiency and carcass value are lost.

Not only do calf losses reduce returns from cow-calf operations, but in small herds, the loss of one or more calves can have adverse economic effects, emphasizes Barton.

While a 100 percent calf crop is a tough challenge, many losses occurring at birth could be prevented with proper management. Barton offers several management tips that can make calving time less stressful for the producer as well as the cow herd and can insure an extra calf or two at weaning.

1. As calving approaches, evaluate your cow herd as to calving time. Separate expectant cows from dry cows and late-calving cows from early-calving cows. Move those expecting soon to clean, well-sodded dry pastures, convenient for frequent checking. Avoid wet, muddy areas that can more easily lead to disease problems.

2. Watch the cow herd at calving time. Early calvers can be watched more closely than late-calving cows. Check cows twice daily; however, first-calf heifers may need more attention.

3. Feed the expectant cow adequately. She should receive 9 to 10 pounds of TDN (total digestible nutrients) per day during the last 45 days before calving to help produce a strong calf at birth and to increase milk production.

4. Avoid stress which can create problems for the beef cow at calving time. Environmental stresses, weather changes and unfamiliar sights and sounds can cause unnecessary nervousness, especially in first-calf heifers. Moving the herd into the calving pasture prior to calving may eliminate some stress.

5. Prepare needed equipment before the calving season starts. Thoroughly clean and sterilize obstetrical chains, calf pullers and other equipment used at calving time. Boil calving chains in mineral oil and wrap them in clean cloths for future use. Ropes can be used in place of obstetrical chains but should be clean.

6. Watch cows for problem deliveries resulting from abnormal presentations. An abnormal delivery will need quick assistance or the calf may suffocate.

7. When examining a cow or heifer, use a good lubricant and use it freely. Various lubricants are on the market; however, mild soap dissolved in warm water and allowed to cool to a gel will work satisfactorily. Also, have on hand some form of antiseptic and iodine.

8. After the calf is born, be sure that it nurses. A healthy calf will nurse within one or two hours. If the calf is too weak, provide assistance in nursing. The calf must have colostrum with its protective antibodies.

9. Watch the cow for several days after calving for udder problems, and make sure the cow claims her calf.

10. Be sure cows shed their placental membranes, or after-birth, soon after calving. If the cow has not cleaned within 36 hours, call a veterinarian.

11. Watch calves for scours of diarrhea. Scours is an acute infectious disease causing losses in calves 7-10 days old.

12. Cows need adequate levels of energy, protein, calcium and magnesium in their diet after calving. This means twice as much feed after calving as before calving. The productive cow requires 16 pounds of TDN per day as soon as the calf appears to be consuming all of the milk, or about 15 days after calving. Larger amounts of nutrients are required for adequate milk production and reproduction.

13. Put first-calf heifers into a separate area and feed extra grain if they are to calve at the same time next year.

14. Plan a breeding program that will insure a definite calving season to make maximum use of forage, labor and good weather.

Library Week Proclaimed

The week of April 13-19 has been designated Library Week in Texas by Governor William P. Clements, Jr. Throughout the state, Texans are being reminded to "Remember the Library" when they need information or recreational reading.

Mrs. William P. Clements, Jr., the State's first lady, is serving as honorary chairman for this year's observance of Library Week. Public, academic, and school libraries throughout the state will have special activities to call attention to the services and materials they have for Texans of all ages.

Texas libraries have materials that range from a copy of the Gutenberg Bible through specialized scientific materials to this year's best sellers. And today's libraries not only have books and other printed materials but also make available microfilm, videotape, and other non-print materials.

Setting aside one week to call attention to libraries spotlights the services and materials. When a library moves into a new building--as Tyler Public Library is this spring--or acquires an exciting new collection--as Rice University did when it acquired the papers of renowned biologist Julian S. Huxley this year--change may seem rapid. Throughout the state new programs in recent years have improved library service to Texans. In Austin, a telephone call to the public library is all that is required to hear recorded tapes about specific medical problems. In Olney school and public libraries have joined forces to provide services in a small community. Teams from the Southwest Collection at Texas Tech University have microfilmed newspapers throughout West Texas.

Library Week in Texas is sponsored by the Texas Library Association, an organization of more than 4,000 men and women who work in libraries or are simply interested in libraries. Chairman of the planning committee this year is Eva Cry, librarian at Terrell Public Library. Members of the committee are Patricia M. Burwell of Fort Worth Public Library, Elaine P. Goley of Houston Public Library, Harriet Henderson of Tyler Public Library, Patricia Kralist of the Northeast Texas Library System, Wade L. Pipkin of Kilgore Junior College, and Betty Sheffield of Jacksonville Public Library.

STRAIGHT TALK on Teeth

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF ORTHODONTISTS

ADULTS... BRACE THEMSELVES

For years many adult Americans were afraid of having "metal mouth." They wanted to "Go Straight," but never realized that orthodontic braces aren't just for the Donny Osmond fan club anymore.

Increasingly, adults in their mid-20's through 60's are ignoring the jokes, fears and embarrassment long associated with orthodontics. Their goal is a warm smile from a healthy mouth.

A recent survey by The American Association of Orthodontists shows that nearly one-sixth of all orthodontic patients were over 18 years old. The number is growing.

There are several reasons for this increase. One is basic dental health. Crowded and crooked teeth are hard to keep clean. Daily brushing and flossing are vital in preventing tooth decay, gum disease and even tooth loss. As people live longer they're willing to take steps to keep their teeth for life.

Finally, adults are learning that tooth straightening can be done at any age. Technical advances such as new adhesives allow braces to be bonded directly to the teeth. This does away with much of the metal look in braces.

Even with inflation, the cost of orthodontic care has risen far less than most items. Thirty years ago there was little difference between the price of braces and a new Ford or Chevy. Today, the new Ford or Chevy costs several times as much.

If you'd like to learn more about adult orthodontics... The American Association of Orthodontists has a free booklet for you entitled: "There's Still Time." Write The American Association of Orthodontists, 460 North Lindbergh, St. Louis, MO 63141.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—The windfall profits tax, even as it was signed into law last week by President Jimmy Carter, caught flak from one more Texan: Attorney General Mark White.

White said he thinks the new law and an old one regulating severance taxes on natural gas are classic examples of bad energy policies. Into that rap he also includes misguided federal funding to study potential oil spills in Alaska.

He's upset because the feds are spending about $20 million a year to study potential offshore oil spills in the frozen north and have not furnished $7 million needed to study the effects of Ixtoc I, the record-setting blowout which blackened Texas beaches for weeks before engineers capped it two weeks ago.

Lump No. 2: White criticized a federal law which prohibits Texas from putting a severance tax on natural gas like the one Montana has on its coal, much to the vexation of many Texans.

This law, and the windfall profits tax, are energy policies heavily weighted against Texas, he said. "If they put a lid on coal mining like this, no one would be mining coal."

Bullock Wins One

The Texas Supreme Court last week upheld State Comptroller Bob Bullock's method for determining utility company franchise taxes.

The decision means an immediate $8.5 million for the state treasury and more in the future.

A Bullock spokesman said the state can now keep some $3 million in taxes paid under protest by five electric power companies who sued to have the revenue returned . . . plus $5.5 million more in back taxes from other companies.

Vice-President Clements?

Governor Bill Clements, a former deputy secretary of defense under Nixon and Ford, said last week he would not accept a cabinet post "of any kind," but left the door open for the veep spot on the Republican ticket.

That's not likely to happen, according to him. "No one has ever talked to me about being a vice-presidential running mate. I'm Rita's (his wife) running mate," he quipped.

No MX Missiles Here

The Governor was serious in his opposition to locating a proposed MX missile system in the Texas Panhandle. The feds are eyeing Texas after officials in two western states protested missile sites in their home states.

Clements said the program requires "a tremendous amount of money" to locate the missiles on huge tracks to avoid pinpoint targeting by foreign enemies.

Clements is basically opposed to the mobile concept of missile installation and said he favors installing the new missiles in existing silos.

Iranians Leave

Meanwhile, Iranian diplomats left their consulate in Houston, six hours before President Carter's deadline for expulsion. Ninety-three Iranian pilot trainees stationed in Texas are still here under the military's protection. None are reported asking for political asylum.

Brilab Charges Nearing

Legislators are expecting the federal grand jury to deliver up their indictments in the Brilab investigation sometime after it reconvenes April 28, probably after the May 3 primary election if it indicts central figure House Speaker Bill Clayton. A formal charge on Clayton just before the primary could cause voter sentiment to "throw out" all incumbents in the Legislature, some fear.

Clayton himself is reported optimistic he will eventually be cleared, but he is expecting to be indicted. In his opinion, there is too much pressure from the U.S. Justice Department for an indictment.

Those watching the Speaker's race are divided into two camps: the ones who think it has settled into a three-way contest between Gib Lewis of Fort Worth, Bill Carraway of Houston and John Bryant of Dallas . . . and those who think the one who will be speaker has not emerged.

Speculation — on which way the black legislators vote, on whether the Republicans will splinter or vote in a bloc, and how much of a general turnover of faces following the election — is presently a big part of the speaker's race.

One thing only is sure: most members will not commit until Speaker Clayton is cleared or indicted.

Social security

People who are dissatisfied with the decision made on their supplemental security income (SSI) claim or about their payment rate have the right to question that decision, Howard Weatherly Social Security manager in Pampa said recently.

There are four steps of appeal available, which generally must be taken in order, Weatherly said. They are:

Reconsideration. If the person disagrees with the results of the reconsideration, he or she may request a hearing before an official of the office of hearings and appeals.

Appeals Council Review. If the person disagrees with the hearing decision, he or she may ask for a review of this decision by the appeals council.

WE TRAIN PEOPLE TO OPERATE IT WITH A TIGHT FIST.

"The telephone company does more than send bills. We get them, too. And it's my job to make sure those bills are right. Keeping costs under control is a full-time job. Every penny I save here is a penny our customers won't find on their phone bills. And I'm also helping my company run a tight and efficient business. That's why I'm proud to be one of the people General Telephone is talking about when they say 'We keep you talking.'"

Thomas Jefferson

Thomas Jefferson, one of the nation's founding fathers, was born April 13 in 1743 at Shadwell, Virginia. His democratic ideas were far ahead of those of other men and his innovations in architecture, education, farming and other fields continue to impress historians.

(Kenneth Clark in The Romantic Revolution, devotes more space to Jefferson than practically any other American.)

Jefferson, whose mother was a Randolph, graduated from William and Mary and practiced law several years before entering politics. His ideas were remarkably developed for one his age.

Jefferson, at 26, was elected to the Virginia House and to the Continental Congress in 1775. As a member of the latter body, he was the main drafter of the Declaration of Independence, one of the great documents in the history of western civilization. He was elected governor of Virginia in 1779. In 1784, he, Benjamin Franklin and John Adams were sent to France to represent this country in vital peace negotiations.

He returned to become Secretary of State under President Washington and, after Washington had vacated the presidency, he served as Vice President under John Adams, the second President.

In 1800, and again in 1804, he served his country as President. A humanitarian philosophy, the belief that all men deserve a chance to rise to the top, was his legacy and one of his many contributions to his country.

CCC Purchases 43.9 Million Bushels Of Wheat

WASHINGTON--The Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) has purchased an additional 43.9 million bushels of wheat under its special wheat purchase program aimed at taking out of the commercial market a quantity equal to that suspended from shipment to the Soviet Union. The 43.9 million bushels purchased under the invitation issued March 20 brings total purchases to 60.3 million bushels.

Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland said the wheat purchased will be isolated from the market and used only for overseas food assistance programs after the U.S. Congress approves the Food Security Act.

Wheat purchases announced today include 37,051,841 bushels of hard red winter, 4,479,292 bushels of soft red winter and 2,323,478 bushels of white. Later today the department will report the amount purchased in each state and the weighted average purchase price.

CCC announced April 7 that it will also offer to buy wheat at declared prices, beginning today. Purchases will be made on a first-come, first served basis. County offices of USDA's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will be notified of the local purchase price.

Farmers who wish to know the acceptable purchase price in their county should contact their ASCS office.
