FORT WORTH--With the price of gold headed skyward, it is beginning to be profitable for mining companies to sweep the floors of abandoned mines and see what kind of dust-gold dust--shows up.

Dr. Jack Walper of the geology faculty at Texas Christian University watched that being done this summer while prospecting in Alaska. The professor was hired by an Oklahoma company to look for uranium, but he found gold instead.

"Piles of 'tailings' can be found around these old mines," Walper said. "This waste material can be run through an improved milling process to extract more gold than was possible when the piles were left there." The miners knew the gold was there, but it was not worth enough then to go after. In some cases the mines themselves are reopening, in light of predictions that the price of gold could climb to $500 an ounce by year's end.

With all of its natural resources, noted the modern-day prospector, Texas has not been blessed with gold. "The closest gold mines are probably in Arizona, maybe New Mexico," he said.

8th grade wins over Canadian - Games here today!

It was a pretty tough week for most all of the Lynx teams last week, but the Spearman 8th grade, with their fantastic runner, Lewis Nava downed the Canadian 8th grade 8 to 0 in a real thriller at Canadian. Nava, better known as "crazy legs" dashed through the entire Canadian team for 10 yards and the winning touchdown.

In other action, the varsity lost a heartbreak game to Tulia 20-18! This week the varsity will rest, and local fans are invited to Gruver to watch the Hounds play against Claude. A big pancake supper will be served from 5 to 7 by the Gruver Lions Club and all local fans are invited to attend the game. Also, Perryton is entertaining Guymon at their homecoming game.

One of the most un-usual games in the schools history was played at Canadian last Thursday when the local JV lost to Canadian 24-14. The local team jumped into a 14-0 lead over Canadian, in just a few minutes on touchdowns of 45 and 50 yards, on passes from Steve Tindell to Monte George. Kyle Brack ran over the extra two points, but the JV fell to Canadian 28-14 in the fine game!

The 9th grade lost to the Perryton Rangers 28-0, and 7th grade lost to Canadian 6-0.

The 9th grade and JV will play here, in Spearman tomorrow beginning at 5 p. m. The 9th grade will entertain Perryton, and the JV will host Boys Ranch. Remember, these games will be played here, Thursday beginning at 5 p. m.

Rotary Club

Sharp declines early in September indicate that we are in the first steps of a recession, according to Bill Landess of the Amarillo branch of Merrill Lynch, in a talk he made Monday noon at the Spearman Rotary Club meeting in the garden room of Cattleman's Restaurant.

Mr. Landess said that no one knows how far the decline will go and no one knows what this will do to investors. Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary gives a number of definitions of the word security. The one we like best is "freedom from anxiety." Of course, security also means "evidence of debt or property, as a bond, stock certificate or other instrument" and that's the security business we're in. But we like to combine the first definition with the second. We think investors should only buy securities if they can feel secure with them. And that involves understanding your need for safety and your ability and willingness to assume risks.

"Basic Reserves" is our term for the money you want to keep safe and liquid, while it earns the best possible return. It's not cash or your checking account. It's not the money you invest for growth or as an outright speculation. It's everything in between.

Many investors who are interested in steady income and preservation of principal will find these requirements satisfied by fixed in some securities. As business conditions change, the relative merits of various securities also change. Thus, recognition of the investment opportunities of senior securities is essential in planning a well balanced investment program.

At least a dozen different kinds of fixed income securities are traded in the money and capital markets. Dealings in short-term securities create the money market and dealings in long-term securities create the capital market. Both markets are large, broad, and active.

Visiting Rotarians were Gene Schneider of Borger and Bill Landess of Amarillo. Guest today was R. L. McClellan.

Ron Hoover, Darl Hergert, and Dr. David McClellan are new members of Rotary.

Members present Monday noon were Jim Benson, Eschol Blankenship, Roy Bulls, Durane Castleberry, John R. Collard, Jr., Robert Elliott, Pete Fisher, Ed Freeman, Ed Garner, Kerry Henton, Ron Hoover, John Hutchison, Eddy Limbocker, Junior Lusby, David McClellan, Jack McWhirter, Jim Murray, Frank Oglesby, Michael Schnell, Jim Shirley, Lenis Simpson, Don Wirsdorfer and Tim Woodington.

Members absent were J. L. Brock, Kim Brock, Archie Burgess, Darl Hergert, Jim McLain, Brice Palmer, Gary Sims, Vance Snider and Jerry Taylor.

John R. Collard, Jr. will present a multi-media film on "Free Enterprise" at the meeting on Monday noon, October 8.

There will be a Fireside Chat on Thursday, October 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Eschol Blankenship, 1121 S. Bernice. This is for all new members and for any other members who would like to attend.

50th Golden Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. J. R. STUMP

Wheat and antiques was the theme at the 50th Golden Wedding Anniversary Open House held Sunday, September 23 from 3-5 p.m. honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stump in their farm home 1 1/2 miles south of Waka. Since the Stump's have always farmed wheat all their married lives and enjoy collecting and refinishing antiques, it seemed appropriate to use this theme.

Their daughters, Mrs. O. E. (Sandra) Drake and Mrs. Larry (Judy) Irlbeck and grandchildren entertained with a reception.

As the guests arrived, Sam Brillhart and grandson Jim Ladd, aided in the parking of cars.

The honorees and all the house guests had wheat mum corsages.

Guests were greeted at the door by grandson Mike Ladd who came in from Waco where he's attending Baylor University.

Registration by granddaughter Danna Irlbeck directed guests to other rooms to view the many quilts that were mostly made by Mrs. Stump and daughter, Sandra.

Eddie Maczko, brother-in-law of Mrs. Stump, assisted with the gifts. Jill Maczko assisted him.

The tea table carried out the antique theme using a pieced "Lone Star" quilt of brown tones. This was pieced by Sandra.

The 4-tiered cake was beautifully decorated in colors of the cloth with mums ranging from caramel color to yellows, tans and browns with wheat heads mingled in. Real lace was entwined in and around the mums.

The centerpiece was a brown miniature wash tub filled with gold daisy mums with wheat accents. Coal oil lamps flanked each side of the centerpiece.

Banana slush punch was served from a stone crock with a cistern dipper.

Serving alternately were Mrs. Stump's sister, Mrs. E. F. (Nadine) Maczko, Spring Valley, Calif.; her niece, Mrs. James Maczko, Solana Beach, Calif.; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dan Manning, Amarillo. Mrs. E. F. Maczko was wearing J.R.'s mother's wedding dress of 1907 which added much to the occasion.

Brown napkins, wheat nuts, yellow mints were served from crockery.

The mantel, decorated with wheat arranged on brown velvet and using a manzanita branch to display the many greeting cards was a center of interest. The original wedding picture of 1929 alongside of the anniversary picture hung over the mantel.

A collection of old pictures was displayed on a bulletin board.

On leaving, the guests were greeted by Mrs. Sandra Drake who was dressed in an old fashioned pinafore dress. She presented each guest with a sack of stone ground whole wheat flour with a 50th Anniversary leaflet containing whole wheat recipes.

Assisting with the reception besides the above mentioned were: Mrs. Sam Brillhart, Mrs. J. T. McWhirter, Mrs. Dave Wilson, Mrs. Matt Trevino, Mrs. Carl Scroggs, Mrs. Bud Heath, Mrs. Tommie Russell and daughter Kayla, Mrs. Jeanne Scroggs and other grandchildren Jim Maczko, Danni, Dustin and Derek Irlbeck.

A "Memory Book" compiled by many friends was on display. The leather cover featured a flat-nail windmill made by grandson, Jim Ladd.

The honorees were married Sept. 23, 1929 in Garden City, Kansas.

Mrs. Stump, the former Frances Barber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Barber, was born in Shook, Kansas, May 30, 1909. She came to Ochiltree Co. in 1921 with her family, her parents, a sister, Nadine, and a stepbrother, Dan Manning. She attended school at Waka, later graduating from Perryton High School in 1927, then attended Business College in Wichita, Kansas.

Francis Stump is active in many civic activities. She is a member of Twentieth Century Club, Spearman, having served in all the offices on club level - also appointments in Top of District Board of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs - is a Life time member of Waka Parent Teacher Association - Charter member of Waka Home Demonstration Club - worked with youth groups - Girl Scout - Brownie Troop - received 4-H Adult State Leader Award 1962 - presently serving on Hansford County Library Board where she's served 4 years - a member of First Baptist Church, Spearman.

J. R. Stump was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Stump and was raised in Ochiltree County at the sight of the Waka Post Office which was operated by his grandmother Mrs. John N. (Nannie) Stump. This was located 4 miles south east of the present town of Waka. He has farmed all his life in this community. He attended Waka school where he and Frances met in the 7th grade. His parents were pioneers in Ochiltree Co., also his grandparents who contributed much to the prosperity of this community.

J. R. is a retired Director of the First National Bank, Perryton, where he served many years. He is presently a Director of R.E.A. having served for 22 years. Is a member of IOOF Lodge. He is interested in YMCA and all youth activities.

USE Leaves For Compost

Soon tree leaves will come tumbling down, signaling the advent of fall.

These leaves should be removed from the lawn to prevent damage to grass and should be put to good use.

How? By composting them so that they can provide a ready source of composted soil for gardens, flower beds, potted plants and for top-dressing the yard, points out Layton Barton, County Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The simplest method of composting leaves or other vegetable matter is to build up alternated 4-to-6-inch layers of vegetable matter with 2 to 4 inches of good garden soil, explains Barton. Sprinkle a commercial fertilizer on each layer of vegetable matter to hasten decomposition. One-half pound or one cupful of 10-10-10, 10-5-4, 10-20-0 or the equivalent per 10 square feet of vegetable matter layer is sufficient. Manure, if available and free of weeds, may also be added to good advantage to the soil layer.

Build the compost pile 4 to 6 feet wide and any desired length, suggests Barton. The top layer should consist of soil, and the surface of the pile should slope toward the center, forming a basin to hold water. Water the layers of leaves thoroughly as they are spread out and again when the pile is completed. Also water periodically to keep the material moist but not soggy.

Turn or mix the compost with a garden fork or shovel every three or four months, adds Barton. It should be ready for use within six months to a year.

Zane Newton Doing Outstanding Job

Zane Newton of Spearman, Texas, is doing a super job for the 1979 edition of the Panhandle State Aggies and his Head Coach, Don Cortez believes that the freshman has the makings for building a fine college career. "I wish we had a lot more guys like Zane. He has a lot of talent, but he is also one of the hardest workers on the squad," stated Cortez.

For his play against the McMurry College Indians, Zane was chosen Aggie Co-Defensive Player of the Game, along with All American Candidate, David Flowers, Newton and Flowers are responsible for a pair of game-saving tackles in a late Aggie goal-line stand that preserved the victory. Flowers was chosen District IX Player of the Week, but Newton was also nominated for the honor that represents the best football players in the entire state of Oklahoma on the small college level.

Zane was injured last week, in the Aggies loss to Southwestern and is expected to miss this week's contest with Langston University. Though he only has a minor knee injury, it was thought best that he sit out till he becomes 100% healthy again and is up to his number one form.

Zane and the Aggies will return home next weekend, October 6 to meet Chadron State University of Nebraska in a 7:30 pm game at Guymon Memorial Stadium.

The Annual Cub Scout Cake Bake will be held Tuesday, Oct. 9 at 7:30 at the County Barn.

LOST: Small brown short hair female. She answers to Frisky. 659-2652.

Wheat Producers

Early this Spring and Summer wheat prices advanced significantly, even in the face harvest selling in Texas and Oklahoma, and despite the release of government held reserves. With national inflation running between thirteen and fourteen percent a year, concern developed in some non-farm sectors over the inflationary impact of this wheat price advance. Most of the concern was registered by the two largest U.S. bakers' associations, and though the bakers' cries were generally understood as self-serving, there was some anxiety expressed by consumers about wheat prices and higher food costs.

But where is the price of wheat--really? According to Foreign Agricultural Service data, U.S. retail bread prices are among the cheapest in the world. The world median price for bread is 97 cents per kilogram. A kilogram is 2.2 pounds. In the U.S. Capitol, Washington, D.C., a kilogram of bread costs 62 cents, 35 cents below the world median price. Compare this to Paris, France, where a kilogram of bread carries a price of $2.19, or Rome, where the price is $1.99, or Tokyo, where it sells for $1.51. The point is, there are few cities in the world where a loaf of bread is cheaper than in the United States.

There are even better examples which reiterate the cheapness of wheat in this country, especially where the value to the farmer is concerned. Otis Harman, Tulsa, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association, says "A recent USDA study has reported that a change of $1.00 per bushel in the price of wheat affects the net farm value of wheat ingredients in a one-pound loaf of white bread only about 1.2 cents. The report also said that a 25 percent increase in wheat prices would add less to the cost of a loaf of bread than would a 4 percent increase in the processing and distribution costs in a loaf of bread."

Leo Witkowski, Hereford, Chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers Board, cited another example from the USDA study. In June, 1972, the month before the sale of wheat to the Soviet Union--which some alarmists used to falsely predict "dollar bread"--prices of bread averaged 24.7 cents for a one-pound loaf and the net farm value of the wheat ingredients in a loaf was 2.6 cents. In June 1979, bread prices averaged 41.2 cents a pound, while the net farm value of the wheat ingredients was 4.5 cents. In other words, the farm value of wheat in the price of bread increased 1.9 cents since 1972--but bread prices went up 16.5 cents." This soundly establishes that wheat exports did not in 1972 or do not now adversely affect U.S. food prices and consumer costs.

Winston Wilson, Quanah, President of the National Association of Wheat Growers and members of the TWPB, cannot understand the bakers' recently publicized concern over high wheat prices, and call for export controls, especially when prices are lower now than they were in 1974. "I really can't think of another industry in this country which has prices below what they were four or five years ago," Wilson said. "So we don't feel any apologies are in order for the current price of wheat. The price is still below the cost of production in most areas, and as diesel, which is one of our major inputs, moves up to the $1 a gallon range, the bakers' association and the public in general are going to have to come to the realization that farmers must operate at a profit in order to stay in business." Wilson said that a study published in 1977 showed that the net farm value of wheat in a one-pound loaf of bread represented about 8 percent of the retail cost of bread, while packaging represented 7 percent of the cost and labor a whopping 35.7 percent of the cost of a one-pound loaf. In other words, there is virtually five times as much labor and almost an equal amount of wrapping in a loaf of bread cost as there is farm value of wheat.

As Otis Harman says, "The price of wheat is still low relative to U.S. farm production costs and relative to the changing world monetary situation." He points to the fact that in 1972 when Russia made the initial huge purchases of wheat at one ton of $60 wheat for one ounce of $60 gold, some labeled the sale as "the great grain robbery". He says that "now even with higher wheat prices American millers, bakers or international traders anywhere in the world can buy two tons of wheat for one ounce of gold--twice the bargain of 1972."

The association leader went on to point out that, "Texas and U.S. wheat producers have a strong interest and stake in continued export development for wheat in order to maintain demand and strengthen prices." He further contends that, "Consumers have a similar stake and interest in wheat exports as the sales to the oil rich Mid-East, Mexico and other importing countries offset dollar trade losses for petroleum and other imported goods by some $4 billion--softening inflation at home by that much favorable trade balance.

Farmers support the export development and price-strengthening work of the Producers Board through a 1/2 cent per bushel self-assessment on deliveries of wheat to local elevators in a 34-county commercial production area. The legislative and administrative liaison to keep wheat markets open, and government programs effective for wheat is supported by voluntary producer membership.

SELLING A HOME TODAY IS NO JOB FOR THE NOVICE.

A few simple questions would demonstrate our point. Try to answer them: a) What is the best method to price a home? By income, cost, or competitive market analysis? b) Is the buyer required to furnish a credit report? c) Is the appraisal of a home's value based on assessed valuation? d) Is it a mistake when showing a home to ask the buyers to imagine their furniture in the rooms?

If you've found even one of these problems difficult to answer, perhaps the knowledge and experience of a Neighborhood Professional would be helpful.

To us, because of our training, they're just a few simple questions. Call your Neighborhood Professional today for the answers.

Wheat Leader On Mission

"The price Texas and U.S. producers will receive for their wheat in the months ahead and the future will be directly related to the level and rate of expansion of exports", according to Leo Witkowski, Hereford, Chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers Board. "In deference to this fact", Witkowski said, "We are making one our Board members available to Great Plains Wheat, Inc. to serve as a member of a three-man 15-day trade mission to Europe."

C.L. Edwards, a Carson County farmer of Panhandle, and immediate past-chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers Board, will begin the assignment October 9 by attending a two-day "All Western Europe Grain Trade Seminar" in Rotterdam. Others on the mission with Edwards will be Mike Hall, President, Great Plains Wheat, Inc., Washington, D.C. and Ron Walker, Executive Vice President, Colorado Wheat Commission, Denver. After discussing the quality of the 1979 U.S. wheat crop with the Western European grain buyers and government officials at the Rotterdam session, the group will call on similar individuals in several Eastern European countries, including the Soviet Union in Moscow; East Germany in Berlin; Poland in Warsaw; and Romania in Bucharest.

Great Plains Wheat, Inc. is the U.S. wheat producers market development arm in Latin America, Europe and the Middle East and is supported by wheat commissions and producers boards in North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Wyoming and Texas. The Texas Wheat Producers Board is a member of GPW and is supported by individual producers through a 1/2 cent per bu. self-assessment on deliveries of their wheat to local elevators for research, market development and service programs.

Witkowski indicated that ongoing market development activities conducted by U.S. producers through GPW and special missions such as the one Edwards is participating in has helped pushed U.S. wheat exports up from six hundred million bushels in 1971 when the Texas Wheat Producers Board was formed, to an expected one billion four-hundred million bushels this year—a feat which has put idle acres back into production and strengthened prices over past levels.

Fire Prevention Week

"IN THE TWINKLING OF AN EYE"

"Hello."
"Yea, hello. Dan, is that you?"
"Sure Rodney, what's happening?"

"Listen, man, I'm shaking right now but my next door neighbor lady's house just burnt down and she was in there. Oh God, there was nothing we could do. I know she was in there and there was nothing we could do!"
"Sit tight, I'll be right there."

Of course there was certainly nothing I could do for the lady next door but I went over to console my friend and his family. The trailer home was but a pile of ashes next door and Rodney and I sat there all night talking and looking at a once happy home. It seems she had sent her young daughter to her mother's for the weekend and she was the only person to perish in the fatal fire.

There is not way I can explain all the talking we done that night but the point is that what Rodney watched that night made a lasting impression on him and his family. Sometimes it takes a tragedy to make some of us realize how truly fortunate we are. Rodney kept saying "It could have just as well as been my home and my family" over and over again.

None of us ever know when our time will come and there is no way to safeguard yourself or your family from all life's dangers but in the matter of fires, there are safety precautions that can be taken which can and will save lives. This includes having your home inspected for fire hazards, installing fire or smoke alarms, keeping flammable liquids in a safe place, and many, many others. A smart thing which is very simple to do is to keep your fire department phone number handy at all times. Looking for numbers or otherwise hesitating wastes precious seconds. The smallest details of fire prevention save just as many lives. The Spearman Volunteer Firefighters would like to help everyone in getting "fire prevention" implanted in their minds.

During the week of October

9th through 13th, we will be conducting our Fire Prevention week activities. We will be going door to door on the 9th and 11th to invite people to our open house on Saturday, the 13th. We will be going to the schools to visit with the children and also there will be a poster contest for the youngsters.

But the whole idea is "fire prevention" and you certainly needn't wait til then to start checking out your home. Start now! Fires don't wait for planned activities or anything else. If you would like some assistance; contact Ron Antalek or Ronnie Bullard. We will be glad to assist you in any way we can. FIRE PREVENTIONIT WORKS!!! After all, it doesn't have to be the lady next door!

Weak Countries Have Better Chance

FORT WORTH--In the event of nuclear conflict, weak countries will have a better chance at survival than strong countries, according to a Texas Christian University researcher.

Dr. Steven Cole, head of TCU's psychology department, has come to that conclusion after extensive research on conflict resolution. "In our studies, it was the 'weak' people who survived because they were least threatening," he said. "There was no reason to attack them. And the strong people eventually wore each other down."

He explained: "This is, of course, laboratory research. We have no way of supporting our generalizations. Actually I don't believe any nation has a very good chance at surviving a nuclear holocaust."

"It's my opinion that a balance of power is the best realistic, logical way to increase the probability of peace."

Cattlemen

FORT WORTH--The president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association presented testimony this week in Washington, D.C. strongly supporting amendments that would strengthen the 1964 Meat Import Act.

John B. Armstrong, representing 14,000 cow/calf producers in Texas, Oklahoma and surrounding states, told the subcommittee on international trade of the Senate Finance Committee that "We are already dependent on other countries for our oil supply. The last thing we want and need is for this country to become dependent on foreign beef and meat supplies as well. Failure to enact this legislation (S.B. 55) into law eventually could contribute to that kind of result."

The new legislation proposes a countercyclical import quota which allows imports to increase when domestic beef output has declined and decreases imports when U.S. production becomes plentiful.

Armstrong said the bill is anti-inflationary because it has a stabilizing effect on domestic cattle prices. It encourages cattlemen to rebuild their herds because it smooths out the highs and lows of the cattle cycle.

Last year, the Carter Administration pocket-vetoed similar legislation. This was done over the objections of TSCRA and cattlemen throughout the nation.

"That action adversely affected the confidence of cattlemen and delayed the buildup in breeding herds necessary for increased beef supplies," Armstrong said. The new legislation spells out in detail the circumstances under which the President may increase meat imports beyond quota levels.

The U.S. currently imports 30 percent of all beef traded in the world market and provides beef-exporting nations with about seven and one-half percent of its domestic market, Armstrong said. On the export side, in 1979, the U.S. will sell only two-tenths of one percent of domestic production.

Many U.S. cattlemen believe that beef-exporting nations use the U.S. as a dumping ground for their periodic surpluses and Armstrong underscored this feeling by saying, "It is obvious to us that beef trade is not a two-way street, especially with the tariffs, trade barriers and restrictions on beef imports imposed by Japan and European Economic Community. This legislation would take a lot of politics out of the world trade issue."

Washington observers generally agree that the legislation is in strong hands and will pass, despite previous arguments with the Administration over the minimum import level. A compromise figure of 1.25 billion pounds was reached in negotiations between pro-cattlemen legislators and the Administration recently. The Administration set the 1979 quota at 1.57 billion pounds, but so far, exporting nations have been unable to meet the quota.

Spearman Music Club

"A Time for Music in the Home" will be the theme of the Spearman Music Club's meeting on Tuesday, October 9 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Russell Townsend, 720 S. Haney.

William Byrd Completes Training

Navy Electrician's Mate 3rd Class William D. Byrd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston H. Byrd of 508 S. Bernice, Spearman, Texas, recently participated in training operations in the Sea of Okhotsk, north of the Kuril island chain.

He is a crewmember aboard the frigate USS Stein, homeported in San Diego and operating as a unit of the U.S. 7th Fleet.

DIRECTOR JOHN BADHAM GUIDES 'DRACULA' FEVER

Following "Saturday Night Fever," which has earned a conservative 300 million dollars at the box office, and having given the civilized world an almost terminal cast of discomfition, director John Badham decided to film "Dracula" for Universal.

He was already copping a pretty penny from his share of the "Saturday Night" take. Had only to let it be known on the Beverly Hills circuit that he was available and his front path would be littered with gilt-edged propositions.

Instead he chose "Dracula." On the face of it a done-to-death legend if ever there was one. The subject of more than two hundred feature films, at least two dozen of them in the English language.

Ranging from the classy and classic Tod Browning/Bela Lugosi 1931 version to a more recent lunatic fringe hybrid which matched Count Dracula against Billy the Kid.

Badham cheerfully admits that at the outset his film boiled down to one thing. An actor called Frank Langella.

"A very stylish, romantic fellow, I don't mind saying he's the only American actor in years who can play with style, who can wear capes, who can carry it off. It's tough to get away with that sort of thing!"

"About last January (1978), I got a call from our producer Walter Mirisch asking me if I would be interested in making 'Dracula.' I said let me go to New York and see the play. And what I saw was a perfectly brilliant actor in it."

Like everyone else who saw it, Langella's Count Dracula had Badham by the throat. "I went four times in all and after the seduction scene, the whole audience stood up and cheered. Langella is the only actor I've seen who can play with such style since the great English actors such as Olivier, Gielgud and Guinness."

"I spent the balance of the winter and spring doing the script with W. D. Richter, who was my choice. Rick is a bright young writer who's done some films that have a nice touch of humor to them, like 'Slither.' He's also got a good sense of mystery. And I thought this would be the right combination for us."

"So our approach to the script was to go back to the Stoker novel and try to follow that storyline much more closely. We wound up departing from it considerably. But we felt we'd better go back to basics and make something that would work on film and see what improvements we could make along the way for audiences today."

"There are two sharp changes that may shock 'Dracula' purists. The good Count will not have fangs, guzzle blood like an animal at the trough or take his rather slanted view of the world through red contact lenses."

Langella's Vampire will be both self-mocking and sexy. "A romantic Byronic figure," according to Badham. Who just happens to create terror and destruction in his wake. That is his curse! "In essence what we are looking for is the feeling of this wonderfully charming man. And yet such horrific things keep happening around him."

"Our 'Dracula' is filled with wonderful storms, special effects and tricky things. There's a major action sequence about every ten pages. Trust me," says Badham, "it's going to be a nightmare."

The Mirisch Corporation presents Frank Langella with Laurence Olivier in "Dracula." A Walter Mirisch-John Badham Production for Universal, produced by Walter Mirisch, and directed by John Badham from a screenplay by W. D. Richter. Marvin Mirisch was Executive Producer.

Mrs. Dean Leighnor, president, will preside at the business part of the meeting.

Marites L. Anolin will tell the story of the hymn-of-the-month, "Holy is God", words by Sister M. Francis, P.C. and music by Edward C. Currie. The hymn will then be sung by the club chorus, accompanied by Mrs. Rae Sanders. The club chorus will also sing a number of songs and hymns about the home. Mrs. Jerry Womble will be the soloist and will sing a whole group of numbers.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Russell Townsend and Mrs. Jerry Taylor.

His ship was part of a surface combatant task group which conducted routine training operations and familiarization with the area. The group was supported by Navy patrol aircraft from bases in Japan while in the international waters off the Russian coast. The week-long exercise marked the first time a Navy task group has operated in these waters in more than a year.

The Stein, a 438-foot long "Knox" class frigate, carries a crew of 283 officers and enlisted men. Equipped with guns, missiles and rockets, she can operate independently or as a part of a naval task force. She is also outfitted with a landing platform and normally carries a light helicopter for long range detection and attack of submarines.

A 1975 graduate of Spearman High School, Byrd joined the Navy in August 1975.

An Old Idea With A New Twist

College Station--Bartering is an old idea with a new twist-- beat inflation, says Bonnie Piernot, family resource management specialist.

It's catching on again, even among dentists, lawyers, doctors and other professionals who are bartering for food, gardening services, leisure equipment, ads and other products, she says.

Mrs. Piernot is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

IDEAS TO WATCH FOR
With bartering, families can get living essentials without using their limited money.

They can trade time, skills, products and services.

Some include mechanical, sewing, needlework or shopping skills.

Swapping can be among friends, families or even within the same family.

For example, in your own family, trade babysitting services for sewing skills.

Energy savings are possible with bartering, too.

Carpool with someone, or exchange "taxi" services for some other service with someone who cannot share in children's transportation duties.

Bartering works for gift giving, too. Give housecleaning for one month or a dinner or child care. BARTERING 'WATCH OUTS'

Zoning restrictions in some communities may limit the types of bartering if they become similar to a business.

For example, some ordinances limit the number of unrelated children cared for in a household.

Also, health or sanitation rules may limit the bartering of baked goods in any large quantity or with any regularity.

Time can become the great expense in bartering. To combat this, some communities may want to set up a "trading post" to assist residents.

Legal snarls can result if traders aren't careful, such as with bartering homes or vacation cottages.

The owner's insurance coverage may not apply, and in some of these cases liability suits can arise.

Also, you can "barter friends away" if you're not careful.

Since guarantees or warranties don't apply, barterers only have personal integrity to rely on.

Finally, be sure to discuss values of products or services before you actually trade them.

Any barter should satisfy both parties.

Mennonite Immigrants

Washington, D.C.—Senator Lloyd Bentsen on Wednesday urged that a House subcommittee "act favorably and as promptly as possible" on his legislation allowing a community of Mennonite immigrants who settled near Seminole, Texas to remain in this country.

The Bentsen bill, granting resident status to 653 members of the Mennonite community, was approved by the Senate earlier this year.

"Most of these immigrants fled to the United States from Mexico because of generally difficult economic conditions and because of the possibility that their land would be confiscated," Bentsen said in a letter to Chairman Elizabeth Holtzman of the House Judiciary Subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees and International Law.

"The individuals covered by this legislation have made extraordinary good faith efforts to comply with American law. They have in many cases invested their life savings in their journey to America and have received the strong support of their neighbors in the Seminole area."

"They entered this country on temporary visitor visas in the spring of 1977 when, after numerous consultations in this country, they came to believe if they were to purchase land in the United States they would be allowed to remain here as permanent residents."

"It was only after they made major investments in land and arrived here that they discovered they might not be allowed to remain."

"My bill would remedy their plight by allowing them to stay in the United States as permanent residents. It would allow them to pursue their way of life and to continue making contributions to their new homeland," Bentsen said.

"The bill would have absolutely no value as precedent for anyone other than those covered by it, because only these people have made such extraordinary efforts to comply with American law. The unique situation they face applies to no others," Senator Bentsen said.

New Law For Frontage Road Traffic

AMARILLO -- It's now law. House Bill 1421, providing that frontage road traffic shall yield the right-of-way to traffic entering an on-ramp and leaving an off-ramp on controlled access highways, became effective on August 27, 1979.

All signs along two-way frontage roads along Interstate Highway 40 in the Texas Panhandle, outside the city limits of Amarillo—the only area roads affected by HB 1421—have been changed.

Some YIELD AHEAD and YIELD signs had to be erected and some striping work performed in order to comply with the new state law passed during the 66th State Legislature. The new law will seriously affect how Texas motorists drive on freeway frontage roads.

High School Musical Comedy Scheduled

Spearman High School will present its musical this year on Saturday and Monday, Oct. 6th and 8th. This year the musical comedy is "The Music Man".

The story is about the salesmanship tactics of Professor Harold Hill (played by Kyle Beedy) in River City, Iowa back in 1912. His efforts to organize the River City Boys Band and become friends with Marian, the librarian (played by Tamara Scroggs) are met with amazing results and situations you wouldn't believe. All this time, the Mayor (played by Mike Brinson) and the School Board (Jon Garnett, James Pierce, Jay Pack and Jay Comegys) are trying to get his credentials to discredit him but the Board always ends up singing and the Mayor is rushing around trying to keep his wife Eulalie (played by Sherry Greene) and daughter Zaneeta (played by Eadie Clemmons) in line. Then, the "ladies" group (Kathie West, Terry Bynum, Becky Lusby, Lesa Thomas) are always busy with their gossip and Mrs. Paroo (Kelly Shaver) is trying to get her daughter Marian interested in Harold.

Getting confused? Come see

"The Music Man" and see how everything turns out. Listen to the songs like "76 Trombones", "The Wells Fargo", "Wagon", "It's You", "Goodnight My Someone", and "Lida Rose."

It will truly be a night of great enjoyment and fun. This year will see something new-which we will talk of later and also introduce the other characters.
