DON'T NAME IT

By HONEST BILL

THE TRUTH, THE WHOLE TRUTH AND NUTHIN BUT THE TRUTH

The writer, W. J. (Honest Bill) Miller, whose picture appears above, has been subjected to considerable embarrassment, by the BOSS David M. Warren, Publisher of the Panhandle Herald and Spearman Daily Reporter. Warren published his 50th anniversary edition of the Panhandle Herald last week. He carried the picture of the Printers' Devil, the mechanical foreman, and most everyone in Panhandle in the big issue of the paper. As a reward to this writer for 3 weeks of hard work in helping him to prepare the big paper, Warren promised that the writer's picture would appear in the Panhandle Paper. The writer went to the expense of a trip to Borger, faced a battery of lights at the Wortham Studio, that scared him to death, slicked back his hair with machine oil, spent big money for a haircut that was not really needed for several weeks, and wore a coat on the hottest day of the summer...all to gain the thrill of having his handsome countenance appear in the Panhandle paper.

Warren deliberately lost the cut of the writer and wrote a paragraph of explanation in the Panhandle paper declaring that this writer Honest Bill Miller was not satisfied with his picture. He (Warren) alleged that the writer claimed more beauty, character, refinement and personality than the proof of the picture portrayed and refused to allow the picture published. THE TRUTH OF THE MATTER IS... that Warren who has had the responsibility of bringing a half dozen country newspapers thru the drouth and depression, is prematurely aged. His hair is white... his face is grooved with lines of worry and his general appearance is careworn. He could not bear the comparison. In other words, he knew that the Panhandle public realized that both this writer and the BOSS had traveled the same trail during the past 12 years.

Where time and worry have frosted the hair of the BOSS to a snow gray, the Clark Gable blond locks of the writer have turned to a richer hue of chestnut brown, waving un-fettered and un-tangled (except when subdued with hair oil), defying the traditional veil of age.

Where the forehead of the BOSS is contoured and terraced with lines of worry and care, the Robert Taylor profile of the writer has maintained that devil-may-care, youthful vigor of the present generation of Hollywood male stars. Where the past-middle-age dull look of defeat is detected in the eyes of the BOSS, the spark of fight and fun glimmers in the deep blue orbs of the writer, from beneath the hand-plucked eye-brows.

It is a pity and a shame that so good and true a man as my BOSS would stoop to depth of deceit, rather than allow my picture appear in the same issue of the paper with his own. It was uncalled-for. All men cannot be Handsome. It's a gift. To those of you who lack the manly beauty,

Will Drill Oil Test On Section 123 Soon

Timber for building an oil derrick to a wildcat test is on the ground at section 123, near the Sherman County line in West Hansford county. The test is to be drilled by Jake Phillipps, operator out of Borger and Amarillo. Contract calls for a depth of sea level. Phillipps, a successful operator has several producing wells in this area to his credit. The exact acreage in the contract is not known. The test will be on the Coble land.

IRRIGATION WELL AT ELECTRIC FARM IS ABANDONED

Irrigation for this area received a severe blow this week end when it became known that the Electrified Irrigation well, recently out of commission when casing in the well spread, would be abandoned. H. H. Smith, local operator of the farm stated Saturday that the Panhandle Power and Light company had called in experts and found that the present well could not be repaired. To insure a permanent well the cost of drilling a new well at the same location would be prohibitive, Smith stated.

A log of the present well shows that quick-sand is the formation where the casing for the well broke. A new well drilled near the present location would have the same trouble in later years, Smith said. To insure a permanent well a rotary rig that would cement off the quick-sand would have to be drilled, and it was estimated the cost would amount to $5000. The Panhandle Power and Light company is not willing to make this much additional investment, Smith said.

We are informed the irrigation property will be listed for sale, and the parent organization will give up the irrigation program.

You will enjoy the preaching... you will enjoy knowing Dr. Lee Scarborough.

PIONEER PAPER OBSERVES 50TH FOUNDING DATE

Panhandle, Tex., July 29—Thursday, July 22, marked the 50th anniversary of the establishment of the Panhandle Herald, the first pioneer newspaper in the Panhandle area, to survive for five decades.

H. H. Brooks, the founder, was one of the most picturesque characters, who ever lived in Texas. He left the Henrietta Enterprise in charge of his wife, Margaret J. Brookes, and went to Quanah on the train, then overland to Panhandle.

Taking part of his plant to Panhandle, he began plans for publishing a newspaper. He ordered two pages of ready print and named his paper the Carson City Herald. By the time he was ready to print the other two pages at Panhandle, the name of the city had been changed because of postal requirements.

The first issue was printed in a tent about a mile east of the present business section. It was so expensive to move his G. Washington press from Henrietta, that he decided to build a press. He took timbers and built a press, which printed a creditable first issue.

Many persons have owned The Herald during its 50 years. Among the owners have been L. D. (Dave) Addis, Ed A. Jarbee, J. G. Williams, J. L. Gray, W. H. Mitchell, Frank Elston, R. C. Desneux, J. C. Lewis, Fred and Rolly Wester, J. Sid O'Keefe, Lee Satterwhite, E. E. Manney and J. L. Nunn, Nunn-Warren Publishing Co. and Panhandle Publishing Co.

Lee Satterwhite sold The Herald March 1, 1926, to J. L. Nunn, SEE NO. 4 ON INSIDE PAGE

Six Weeks Band School Opened Tuesday

Something like 50 band students reported for study at the Spearman school Tuesday morning when R. E. Ferguson, bandmaster for the school opened a 6 weeks course of study.

Ferguson, who has been attending a special school of instruction at Lubbock this summer is very pleased at the prospects for the school band this year. He said the enrollment for the present school was about half beginners. This will insure a good grade and high school band.

Plans for the school include all morning instructions Tuesday and Friday of each week. The schedule worked out today calls for the students in the various sections to meet for hourly instruction and a band trial at the conclusion of the mornings work.

Ferguson hopes to add some new instruments to the advanced band this year. He states that the most severe criticism our band received at the Pampa contest was the lack of instrumentation.

West Half of Hansford County Under Lease For Oil Development

CURLY HOBBS BLOCK SOLD RECENTLY TO PHILLIPPS CO. Original block of acreage 12,000 on Hitch and Pearson ranches.

JAKE PHILLIP ACREAGE and other independent operators. New Hansford well to be spudded-in this week on Sec. 123.

As a matter of record at the Hansford county court house, approximately 60 per cent of the entire West end of Hansford county is under lease for oil and gas. A map prepared by County and District Clerk, F. J. Hoskins is fairly complete, and with the exception of the reserved portions of individual acreage that landowners have refused to lease, practically all of the West end is under lease and subject to development. Among the large lease owners will be found the Skelly Oil Co., Phillips Petroleum Co. and Jake Phillipps, who is an independent operator and is now engaged in drilling on Sec. 123, Southwest part of the county. It is estimated that the Phillips Petroleum Company have some 37 sections in the North West part of the county under lease. This represents a purchase recently from Curly Hobbs of Amarillo. For those who are familiar with the map of the county, highway 88 nearly divides the land, and all the play to date is West of Highway 88. Scattered leases East of Highway 88 has been recorded. However more land is leased all over the county than has become a matter of record.

SIDE LIGHTS

By MARVIN JONES

I have submitted to the Committee on Agriculture suggested provisions for general farm legislation. The measure containing these provisions is based largely on suggestions made by farmers and farm groups and by Committee members. Its major features are as follows. 1. It continues the present Soil Conservation Act as a basis. The present program has worked well and should not be abandoned. 2. Its declared objective is to establish and maintain so far as is practically parity prices for all farm commodities and parity income for all farmers, as well as to continue soil conservation. 3. It provides an ever-normal granary, warehouse, or storage reserve for the five major non-perishable commodities which are ordinarily produced in surplus quantities. This would benefit both producer and consumer. 4. The measure provides a graduated scale of soil conservation and benefit payments so that there will be a reduction in payments to large operators. 5. It provides a fund for search for new uses and new markets for farm commodities and the products thereof, including a research laboratory for each major producing area. 6. Provision is also made for the use of a fund for the purpose of disposing of our surplus commodities both at home and abroad. This would tend to promote world trade, in which the entire nation is interested. 7. Another new feature authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to file application on behalf of farmers or cooperative organizations of farmers for adjustment in freight rate schedules. The freight rates on many farm commodities are out of proportion to the general rate schedules and absorb too large a part of the value of farm production. 8. As to certain crops a market control provision as a further safeguard is provided. The Committee is considering these suggestions together with the different suggestions made up the various farm groups, the 3 major farm groups having submitted or endorsed different measures. From these it is hoped that a thorough practical and effective general farm measure may be worked out.

ENGINE today's needs Any inventive young man who thinks there are no opportunities left might look into the problem of making an engine which will use less fuel than the ones now in use, to do the same amount of work. There is no engine made, steam, gas or Diesel, which uses even a quarter of the possible power contained in the fuel it uses. An engine which would cut down the fuel load of an airplane by a third or run an automobile twice as far, would make its inventor one of the world's richest men. News comes from England that a young man invented a motor car engine which does not deposit carbon on cylinder walls or spark-plugs. A motorcycle ran 75 miles on a gallon with this engine. That young man is on the right track. The surest road to success is not in discovering something new but in finding ways to do old things cheaper, quicker or better. OIL origin a mystery Nobody knows where petroleum came from in the first. Scientists are divided as to whether it is still being manufactured by Nature, Jee believe it comes from animal and vegetable deposits buried countless millions of years ago. About the only thing that seems certain is that there is oil to be found almost everywhere in the world, if one goes after it hard enough. Not long ago the discovery of oil in England was announced. How much the supply may be is not yet known. It would not be surprising to hear of oil discoveries at the North Pole or in equatorial Africa. Geologists are now convinced that oil underlies a large part of Florida. Two or three big oil companies have taken oil leases on million of acres of Florida land and at least one well is in process of drilling. With Floridas neighbors, Texas and Louisiana, producing oil, why not Florida? WINDMILLS power producers The cheapest natural power to harness is the wind. The only reason wind power is not used more is that it cannot be relied on to blow steadily in most places. Even Holland, land of windmills, is replacing them with Diesel engines where continuous pumping operations are necessary. Travelling lately along the Atlantic seaboard, where wind blows most of the time, I have been struck by the number of wind-mills of a new type. Atop of a light steel tower is mounted a fan like airplane propeller attached to a little electric generator also at the top of the tower. When the wind blows current is generated to light a house or run farm machinery and the unused surplus is stored in batteries against the day the wind doesn't blow. It looks to me like a very economical way to get power on a small scale, though not as picturesque as the huge windmills with their canvas sails which used to stand in the headlands of the New England coast. COSTS sun power On the face of it, it seems as if water-power, sun-power and wind power must be the cheapest ways to generate power. In the days when labor was cheap and there were no taxes to speak of on invested capital, that was true. Today it generally is not the case. The interest and taxes on most water-power developments except a few specially favored by nature, like Niagara, usually come to more than the upkeep and operation of a coal-fired power plant. Dr. Abbott, famous scientist, who heads the Smithsonian Institution, has invented and built an engine which generates power from the heat of the sun. It works but so far the cost of building it

CAMPHOR made domestic Until a few years ago, practically all of the world's supply of camphor came from Japan. The camphor trees grow on the island of Formosa, whose people all work for the Japanese government, which has a monopoly on industry. Efforts to grow camphor trees commercially elsewhere have not been very successful. But I saw camphor being made the other day, in a factory in Pensacola, and the raw material was old pine stumps! They dig up the stumps all over the South haul them sometimes, 250 miles, then boil and distill them and get rosin, turpentine, pine oil and other chemicals out of them—and camphor. Adelaide Shedeck visited Louise Novak Sunday afternoon.

NUMBER 1

Continued from page 1—The sparkling personality, of this writer I would say . . . be not discouraged. We all have our little nich to fill in this modern civilization.

Too Hot to work;

Too hot to play;
That's my poem;
So long, good day!

And maybe the majority of the readers would like for this writer to stand by the logic embodied in the above stolen poem . . .

however, the show must go on . . . and the remainder of this column must be filled with some sort of reading matter.

This idea of editing a newspaper and spending half one's time out-of-town is not so hot.

The writer spent fifteen days of June away from Spearman and about 18 days of July away from the old home town. It sure makes it a bit hard to get interesting reading material . . .

Some of you boys please ask me where I have been when I meet you on the street. So far it seems that no one has missed my absence from the fair city.

Former city manager Simpson left Spearman a few years ago and sojourned over in Arkansas for a time. He is an authority for conditions in Arkansas, and has many interesting facts to reveal. He says that a person can make a living in Arkansas without much trouble . . . but REAL money is not used. People do not know what it is for.

Simpson was a sort of a big shot over in Arkansas having cars and trucks and other outward property indicating wealth and influence.

He tells that one of the boys in his neighborhood wanted to make a seed loan from the government. Mr. Simpson picked him up in his car and carried him some 40 miles to the office of the government seed loan officials. The neighbor stated his case and asked for a $15.00 loan. The government officials said his loan would be granted but that the government could not make a loan smaller than $25.00 so the boy would just have to take the larger sum. Simpson's friend absolutely refused the loan. Said he did not need but $15, and was not going to get tied up in a big loan that he could not repay.

Simpson also tells about the circus visiting his home town in Arkansas. The head man came out in the country looking for an old man to perform for one night. He passed one of the houses and saw a man with a long beard, looking plenty aged. He accosted the Arkansas native and offered a good one night job to him to act as an aged man. The native was duly impressed but told the circus man he would have to ask his Pa. The circus man asked where in the thunder his father could be located. The native replied that the ole man was down to the barn helping grandpa shuck corn.

A new old Hoover joke. "Hoover must have slept in this bed; there's a big depression in the middle of it."

Since the writer helped out in publishing the Fiftieth anniversary edition of the Panhandle Herald, hope the readers of this paper do not think I am bragging but this is one of the most interesting papers the writer here up read. We have a limited number of the Pioneer edition here at the Reporter office and will sell them at 10c per copy. If you would like to read this 48 page edition come in and get one or write the Reporter and one will be mailed you.

Dave Warren, my boss and friend, is responsible for the Panhandle paper's 50th edition. He worked night and day preparing the interesting reading matter and securing the hundreds of pictures that appear in the edition. His work will be recognized and praised by newspaper men all over the country . . . because it is a jam-up Pioneer edition John McCarty of the Amarillo News Globe stated it was the best Pioneer edition he had ever seen. T. E. Johnson of the Amarillo News Globe also complimented the edition very highly. The writer devoted most of his spare time to soliciting advertising. Therefore he feels justified in bragging about the additional portion of the big Panhandle weekly paper.

With one oil well ready to spud-in in this county and operators seeking acreage for another test that would be drilled within 7 miles of Spearman, the horizon for oil in this area looks mighty promising. Many local people believe that there is pay-dirt scattered over the county. We are informed that geologist insist the oil from the Stinnett pool in Hutchinson county crosses Hansford county and that the Moore county and Hutchinson county oil extends over into Kansas where production is already an established fact. Come to think of it we have very encouraging surface indications with oil is most every direction except due East.

We learn that operators endeavoring to get sufficient acreage to block out drilling contracts are encountering some difficulty on account of local land owners holding back for fear that a dry hole will condemn their acreage for lease money. We are told that some acreage in this county has been under lease for fifteen years. The rental and lease renewal is quite an item for owners. Oil men, however, tell us that a dry hole here and there will not condemn acreage. The big major companies are after production and they are determined to find out if the strata of pay dirt is in Hansford county.

The weaker sex is often the stronger sex because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weakness of the weaker sex, also stolen.

DONKEY BALL GAME DRAWS BIG CROWD.

Perhaps the largest crowd that ever attended a ball game in this county was present Wednesday night to see the Rusty Baker team tie a Lion Club team at the soft ball play grounds. The game, staged with all players except the pitcher and catcher mounted on donkeys, proved quite a thriller to the crowd. Only one of five of the donkeys provided for runners could be ridden—and this one was a slow motion beast. The score was 2 to 2.

The game was sponsored by the local Lion club and netted a profit of $40.00 after expenses were paid.
