

U. S. Employment Hiked As Number Of Jobless Drops

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—The number of jobholders hit a 1949 peak of 59,947,000 in August, while the total of idle workers dropped more than 400,000, the Census Bureau said today.

The bureau's report showed that unemployment dipped to 3,689,000.

It had risen in July to 4,095,000, the highest level since 1942.

14,943,000 Bales Is Cotton Crop Estimate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—The Agriculture Department today forecast this year's cotton crop at 14,943,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This estimate is 138,000 bales more than the 14,805,000 bales predicted a month ago.

It compares with 14,865,000 bales produced last year and with a 10-year (1938-47) average of 11,306,000 bales.

In an accompanying report, the Census Bureau said 1,247,443 bales of the 1949 crop had been ginned prior to Sept. 1. This compared with 1,444,355 bales ginned to the same date last year.

The indicated crop is considerably larger than expected market demands. If it is borne out by the harvest, the government probably would impose rigid controls on next year's crop in a move to prevent a price-depressing surplus.

Controls might include both acreage planting allotments and marketing quotas. The latter would two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum. No decision on a 1950 control program is expected, however, before early October.

If proposed, quotas probably would be submitted at a referendum Dec. 7.

Supplementing this year's crop will be a reserve of more than 5 million bales from previous crops.

The department reported the indicated yield of cotton per acre at 27.69 pounds, compared with 21.11 pounds last year and 25.4 for the 10-year average.

The condition of the crop as of Sept. 1 was reported at 74 per cent of normal compared with 82 per cent a year ago and 71 per cent for the 10-year average.

The indicated area left for harvest was put at 25,967,000 acres, compared with 23,063,000 last year and 22,631,000 for the 10-year average.

Merchants Will Decorate Windows Centennial Week

Eighteen merchants have indicated that they will decorate shop windows with historical displays for Centennial week, Mrs. Harold Canning, B&PW Historical Windows committee chairman, said this morning.

Several are asking for assistance in securing articles to be included in the displays, Mrs. Canning stated. The B&PW committee has requested citizens to lend old items of dress, furniture and other historical articles around which window displays can be built.

Every item used will be identified as to origin and owner, Mrs. Canning said. Persons with materials that might be used are asked to call or write Centennial headquarters in the Settles hotel. The phone number is 2800.

DOLLAR DAY SET MONDAY

Monthly Dollar Day will be observed in Big Spring Monday.

Although the cooperative merchandising program customarily falls on the first Monday of the month, the September date is Sept. 12 because last Monday was a holiday.

Virtually all downtown business houses again are joining in special offers, calculated to attract thrifty shoppers from the area. Emphasis is being placed this month on items for fall use and for school pupils.

CENTENNIAL SOUVENIR BOOKLET IS PLANNED FOR CENTURAMA VISITORS

One of the mementoes to come out of the Big Spring Centennial celebration will be a souvenir booklet program, which will be offered to the public at the Centurama.

The program will be available all three nights of the spectacle, Oct. 3-5, and preparation work is under way. Plans are for a book-size program, printed in color, to contain not only the Centurama cast and program, but items of historic interest about Big Spring.

Soliciting of advertising space is about complete, the program committee announced today, and to meet printing schedules, must be closed out Friday. Individuals and firms who have not been contacted, and who want representation in the booklet are asked to contact Lee Harris at 2000. Harris said his group wants to serve any business house or individual interested in participation.

GOVERNOR WILL SPEAK Shivers To Attend City Centennial

Gov. Allan Shivers will attend the Big Spring Centennial celebration on Monday, October 3.

Announcement of his official acceptance of the Big Spring invitation came Thursday morning from Austin. The governor had indicated to various local representatives that he would try to be here for the festivity, but formal acceptance had been delayed until today, while he worked out his schedule.

Governor Shivers will fly to Big Spring from Austin early in the morning of Oct. 3 and return late that night or the next morning, the Austin announcement said.

He will participate in ceremonies formally opening the gala week at noon on October 3, and then will be accorded honor position in the opening day parade. After he covers the line of march, he will take his place in the reviewing stand to witness the parade.

A brief program, at the reviewing stand, will follow the parade, and at this time Governor Shivers will speak.

If his schedule permits, the governor will also attend the old-timers' barbecue at the site of the "big spring" later in the afternoon of the 3rd, and also appear at the opening of the Centurama at the city park amphitheatre that night. If he is able to remain for those functions, the chief executive will crown the Centennial Queen during the Centurama program.

Monday has been designated as Governor's Day and Homecoming Day at the Centennial.

The late Gov. Beauford Jester previously had accepted an invitation to appear here, and when Governor Shivers succeeded to the office, he immediately was invited by officials of the city, the chamber of commerce and the Centennial association.

Storm Menaces Pacific Coast

A large and severe hurricane edged past Bermuda today while a Mexican hurricane brought storm warnings along the Southern California coast.

The center of the Atlantic hurricane passed east of the British-owned resort colony, 60 miles off the Carolina coast. The hurricane, fourth of the season, was first reported north of Puerto Rico last Sunday. It is not expected to threaten land areas unless it radically changes course.

The Mexican hurricane, with 100 miles an hour winds, was expected to be centered about 20 miles south of San Diego by midnight tonight. The weather bureau forecast heavy squalls and rough seas along the Southern California coast today. The hurricane off Baja California was moving northwestward about 13 miles an hour from its center about 70 miles west of Cedros Island.

Record breaking temperatures hit parts of California yesterday. Two heat deaths were reported. The mercury soared to 108 at Glendale, a suburb of Los Angeles, which had a high of 105. The weather bureau reported a high of 81 at San Francisco, the hottest Sept. 7 since 1922.

Robeson Burned In Effigy By Klan

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. Sept. 8. (AP)—Paul Robeson, the Negro singer, was burned in effigy last night by a small group of robed but unmasked klansmen.

It was the first public demonstration by the Klan in the Birmingham district since 18 men were indicted on flogging and related charges here several weeks ago.

A slummy hearing a placard, strung from one arm of a 20-foot cross. Another dummy with a large question mark pinned on it was hung from the other arm.

E. E. Campbell, exalted cyclops of the Robert E. Lee Klavern, told reporters the burning of the cross and dummy symbolized the welcome Robeson would receive if he came to Birmingham.

He said the other dummy represented "Communist elements which are trying to sneak into the South."

The cross was burned atop a hill several hundred yards north of the city limits by about 15 white-robed men.

KILLER THREATENED Unruh Is Removed To State Hospital

CAMDEN, N. J. Sept. 8. (AP)—Howard B. Unruh, Bible reading gun collector accused of slaying 17 persons, has been removed from Cooper Hospital where he was threatened by a relative of one of his victims.

The 28-year-old former artillery man was taken yesterday to the New Jersey State Hospital for the Insane at Trenton.

Mitchell Cohen, Camden County prosecutor, said the transfer was decided on as "the fairest thing to do for all concerned."

Detectives later disclosed that a relative of 10-year-old John H. Wilson—whose death yesterday raised the toll in Tuesday's River Road massacre to 13—appeared at Unruh's room in the same hospital where Unruh was under treatment for a bullet wound of the hip.

The Wilson boy's relative, detectives said, declared "I'm going to get him." The man—whose identity was not disclosed—was restrained and led away.

Cohen emphasized that Unruh "has not been declared insane" and said the transfer was voluntary.

The shift had been recommended by four psychiatrists who examined the accused slayer.

Earlier Dr. Paul MacRay, Cooper Hospital surgeon, advised Cohen that Unruh would have to be hospitalized for two weeks with the hip flesh wound sustained during an exchange of shots with police.

Cohen's office yesterday prepared 13 murder complaints against Unruh several hours after the Wilson boy died—one for each of his victims.

The hollow-cheeked war veteran went berserk Tuesday morning, stalking from his apartment on Camden's River Road in a search for human targets.

Before he finished his wild foray five men, five women and two young boys had been killed and the Wilson youngster critically wounded. Three other persons were less seriously hurt.

Mahon Will Speak In City Sept. 15

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) planned to ask President Truman today about his views on appropriations for the armed services.

Mahon heads the House armed services appropriations subcommittee.

After talking with Mr. Truman he will head home. He has speeches scheduled at district meetings of the Texas Farm Bureau in Plainview Sept. 13, Lubbock the 14th and Big Spring the 15th.

Quake Victims Fed

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8. (AP)—An air lift for Ecuador's earthquake sufferers is now carrying a ton a week of concentrated food to the South American country, the Meals for Millions Foundation announced today.

Frizzell Indicted For Two Rodeo Murders By Grand Jury Here

Cowboy Posts Two New Bonds Of $5,000 Each

Date For Trial Of Beaumont Man Has Not Yet Been Set

Two indictments for murder against Herbert Paul Frizzell, who shot two men during a rodeo performance here Aug. 4, were among 19 returned by the grand jury here Wednesday evening.

Frizzell is accused of killing Henry Preston Jones of Ranger and Carl Myers, HSU student, in view of thousands at a night rodeo performance.

In both instances, the indictments against Frizzell, a Beaumont cowboy, read "did voluntarily with malice aforethought kill x x x by shooting him with a gun."

Frizzell stated after he had surrendered to police he went gunning for Jones after the two had had trouble earlier in the day. A wild shot mortally wounded Myers, who was in the background.

Frizzell has been at liberty on bonds totaling $20,000. He was in town yesterday and posted two bonds of $5,000 each in the two indictments. He left town Wednesday evening for Abilene, officials said.

Mrs. Jones, wife of the deceased, was among those who appeared before the grand jury in connection with the case.

An indictment for murder was also returned against Willie Nolan, charged with shooting Freddie White to death here last Aug. 26. Nolan is a Negro, as was his victim.

Also billed by the grand jury were: Dorsey E. Ward, accused of driving while under the influence of intoxicants, second offense; Joseph Dallas Greenwood, similarly charged; Thomas DeVore, burning personal property insured; Eusebio Ramirez, theft (of truck); Garland Akins, on two counts of swindling by worthless check.

Also Joe Darden, assault and attempt to rape; Joe Clifton McDonald, sodomy; Roy Triplett and Demas Lopez, both for driving while under the influence of intoxicants, second offenses; E. L. Knight, theft; W. E. Patterson, forgery; Charles Hayter, burglary; Johnny Bedwell, burglary; Doyle Denton, burglary; and Robert Southern, forgery.

716 Bales Of Cotton Ginned In Howard County

Howard county cotton ginning figures probably will pass the 1,000-bale mark by the end of this week, figures released by the local Texas Employment Commission office indicated this morning.

A survey of gins conducted earlier in the week which were tabulated today showed 716 bales ginned in the county. Although estimates varied widely, the general consensus was that not more than two per cent of the county's crop had been processed, and many observers felt that considerably less than that amount had reached the gins.

Virtually all available workers already have been employed for the cotton harvest, and hundreds more are expected to be needed by next week.

The harvest season also is gaining momentum in neighboring counties, the TEC reported. Estimates based on partial surveys conducted by the local office showed 511 bales ginned in Martin county and about 200 bales in Mitchell county.

Martin county farmers expected to harvest well over 30,000 bales this season.

Britain Asks Enlarged U. S. Markets For British Goods

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. (AP)—Britain confronted the United States today with an urgent appeal to enlarge American markets for British goods.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer and his country's spokesman in the three-power economic talks underway here on Britain's economic crisis, did not specify how this might be accomplished.

Presumably he has in mind drastic tariff reductions as a long range step by the United States to help Britain earn the dollars that are necessary to enable it to pay its own way in the world again.

Cripps focused virtually his whole case for American aid in stabilizing Britain's finances on his request to "enlarge our opportunities of earning" dollars.

He made the same appeal to Canada's Canadian Finance Minister Douglas Abbott, backing up Cripps request for readjustments in basic American economic policy, declared that Canada stands ready to do what it can in the present world situation.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, the American spokesman, promised "sympathetic consideration" to suggestions made by Cripps and Abbott for arresting the drain on Britain's dollar reserves and seeking to balance Britain's world trade.

At the same time Snyder renewed his emphasis on the American position that Marshall Plan aid must end in 1952 and that Britain's major need is to become self-sufficient by that time.

Cripps, Abbott, and Snyder set forth the basic positions of their governments at the second session of the three-power British crisis talks which opened here yesterday. All dealt in fairly general terms. None mentioned the question, much discussed publicly, whether the British pound sterling should or would be devalued.

Richard Strauss, World-Famed German Composer, Dies At 85

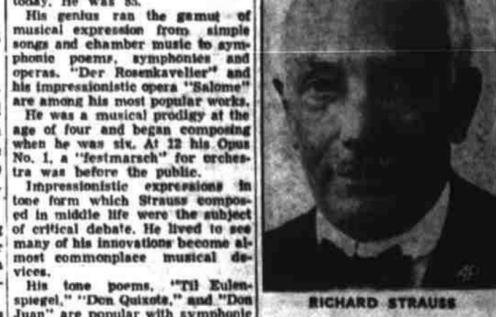

GARMISCH PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Sept. 8. (AP)—Richard Strauss, one of the world's greatest contemporary composers, died today. He was 85.

His genius ran the gamut of musical expression from simple songs and chamber music to symphonic poems, symphonies and operas. "Der Rosenkavalier" and his impressionistic opera "Salome" are among his most popular works.

He was a musical prodigy at the age of four and began composing when he was six. At 22 his Opus No. 1, a "Festmarsch" for orchestra was before the public.

Impressionistic expressions in tone form which Strauss composed in middle life were the subject of critical debate. He lived to see many of his innovations become almost commonplace musical devices.

His tone poems, "Til Eulenspiegel," "Don Quixote," and "Don Juan" are popular with symphonic audiences throughout the world. He composed "Salome" in 1904 and produced the opera "Elektra" three years later. Both works were widely known in America.

RICHARD STRAUSS

"Tod Und Verklärung." (Death and Transfiguration) a tone poem written in 1889 is regarded by many critics as one of his greatest works.

130,000 WOULD BE IDLED Strikes Threaten Three Railroads

By The Associated Press

Three of the nation's railroads were threatened with strikes today, making possible the idling of more than 130,000 rail and steel workers. Some 30,000 workers are set to quit their jobs on the Missouri Pacific Railroad at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Union officials, who rejected an arbitration proposal yesterday, went ahead with strike plans in the dispute over some $25 million in unsettled claims involving about $5 million.

In Pittsburgh, rail brotherhood officials have called strikes on two inter-plant connection carriers which serve scores of plants, principally in the steel industry. One walkout is set for Saturday and the second for next Tuesday. The work stoppages on the lines would make idle some 100,000 steelworkers.

Wages are not involved in any of the rail disputes.

In Washington, Frank Douglas, member of the mediation board, said the board has "given up entirely" in its efforts to avert the strike against the Missouri Pacific line. The road reported in St. Louis that it had stopped accepting freight that cannot be delivered before the strike deadline. Similar restrictions also would be placed on passenger, mail, baggage and express services, the railroad said.

Four rail unions are involved: Locomotive engineers, engineers and firemen, railroad trainmen and railway conductors.

The strike calls in Pittsburgh by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen stemmed from disputes involving technical interpretation of various rules.

The walkout of about 600 trainmen of the Monongahela connecting railroad is set for 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the one calling out 1,200 brakemen and conductors on the Union line is scheduled for 5:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The Union road is the inter-plant line between all miles of U. S. Steel Corp. subsidiaries in the Pittsburgh district. The Monongahela line serves Johns & Laughlin Steel Corp. plants in Pittsburgh and nearby Allegheny.

POP BELIEVES IN DISCIPLINE

FORT WORTH, Sept. 8. (AP)—Police answering a "fight" call at a house were startled at what they found.

A 78-year-old father was whipping his 48-year-old son for being drunk.

Officers jailed the son and recommended the father.

Centennial Dance Festival To Be Held Here Saturday

Arrangements for the Centennial Square Dance Festival to be held Saturday, Oct. 8, are complete, Harry King, chairman of the Centennial square dance committee, announced today.

More than 20 callers from all over West Texas will be on hand for the festival, King said. Music will be provided by Hoyle Nix and his West Texas Cowboys.

The shindig will be held from 8 p.m. to 12 p.m. in Municipal Hangar No. 2. Both dancing and spectator tickets will be available.

Two exhibition sets, the Dr. Bruce Johnson group from Lorraine and the Mix-Master set from Sweetwater, will give square dancing exhibitions. More than 400 persons or 50 sets of dancers may be accommodated on the hangar floor, King said.

The Centennial Square Dance Festival will conclude activities of the week-long celebration of the 100th anniversary of the discovery of "big spring."

BIG FOUR OF MONETARY CONFERENCE — The principals, who will seek a solution of Britain's financial crisis in conferences opening in Washington, talk informally before the start of the first session. They are (l to r) U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, U. S. Secretary of Treasury John W. Snyder, British Chancellor of the Exchequer Stafford Cripps and British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin. ### Early Birds May Get Anti-Freeze

Automobile owners who like to see to it early that they have an ample supply of anti-freeze liquid on hand for the frigid months ahead can eliminate that concern by calling at the Ted Phillips Tire company Fourth and Johnson streets today.

Ted Phillips, owner and manager of the concern bearing his name, recently received a shipment of the famous Prestone anti-freeze, the most established product of its kind on the market.

The Phillips company also has in stock a liberal supply of used tires, perfect on use on farm trailers and older model automobiles.

The concern, too, maintains employees whose job it is to equip vehicles with seat covers, exactly to order. The establishment stocks several grades and a variety of colors in seat covers which the

Star Dealer Has Newest Models

Cecil Thixton, who has just been honored as the outstanding Harley-Davidson dealer in Texas, has something else of which he is duly proud.

It is the new 1950 H-D line of models, now on display at his shop at 908 W. 3rd.

A muffler that has been melo-toned and the addition of brighter colors are features found on the new line.

"The engineers have taken the 'crack' out of mufflers for the 45 cubic-inch and the Big Twin hydraulic models," Thixton explained. "They have replaced it with a deeper, more pleasing tone."

Twin cylinder motorcycle colors available for the new season are ruby red, Riviera blue, brilliant black. At an optional extra charge other colors include Metallic Green, flight red, azure blue and white. Silver, of course, is reserved for cycles destined for use by law enforcement agencies.

A horsepower increase of some 10 per cent in the overhead valve models give greater acceleration. Thixton said the increase was due to a change in design of the intake port.

The popular 170-pound lightweight model 125 has a new, low-speed current cut-in generator, drop forged steering head, and a comfortable "bucket type" saddle with foam rubber.

Most of us grade our ability in a different light from the grading which other people do. So often when we think that we have done a fair piece of work others are not of that opinion. Other times when we feel that maybe something is a little sloppy, someone will like it. Maybe it's a good thing our opinions do vary. The world would be a lot more complicated than it is now if we were all after the same things. Some of us might not be having onions on our hamburgers if it wasn't for the people who won't touch let alone smell them.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS

By Mildred Young

They say that everyone has a talent of one kind or another. Some seem to doubt the statement, but we feel that if they will take the time to consider the fact that some people are always broke, some, always tired and others always hungry, that they might have their doubts about "doubting."

Looks like that Catholic-Protestant question is still in the news. The current issue of "American Mercury" carries a written debate. Dean Walter Russell Bowie of Union Theological Seminary, and Father John Courtney Murray, S. J., professor of theology at Woodstock College, Md., presented the Protestant and Catholic sides respectively. As in all other problems of two sides, the real answer and the real concern should be based on local scales. After all, in so far as any groups can cooperate on local levels, they can also cooperate on national and international scales. All great problems are in one sense small.

Most of us grade our ability in a different light from the grading which other people do. So often when we think that we have done a fair piece of work others are not of that opinion. Other times when we feel that maybe something is a little sloppy, someone will like it. Maybe it's a good thing our opinions do vary. ## Local Fashion World Notes New Milestone

A new milestone in the fashion world in Big Spring was noted this week, with the arrival of the first shipment of original models from Paris at Zack's of Margos.

It is believed that these are the first originals ever shipped directly to a local concern. The models, all original Jacques Cartier, arrived here Wednesday, following customs clearance in New York.

Two coats and one suit arrived, all bearing that distinctive Parisian cut and style. All models are priced at $100. One coat is featured in Venetian red. It is designed with the narrow look at the shoulders falling into a full, dramatic sweep. The coat is so designed so that it may be tightly belted at the waist. Another coat is more conventional and adaptable. It bears the touch of a master's hand, but is more casual and more like the usual American models. It comes in natural color. The suit is artfully cut to feature the new narrow look. The waistline is accented and the jacket designed to form peplum points in the back and front. Back pleats are arranged at the peplum points. The skirt is very slim and straight. Three more suits are expected to arrive within the next few weeks. The store was restricted to a number of six models, due to the limited production in France. Most exclusive Parisian models will not arrive in great number in the United States until the middle of September.

All models feature the label Jacques Cartier, Paris. The lining of the originals is also embossed with Cartier, Paris. Of course, any original model cannot be duplicated.

Selection for these Paris originals was made while Mr. and Mrs. Jim Zack, proprietors of Zack's of Margos, were in Dallas at market in August. Through their friendship with a New York buyer, they were told that they might be able to secure some originals if they were willing to pay the price demanded. The Zacks, thinking of their West Texas customers, assured their friend of their willingness.

For a short while, it was touch-and-go as to whether the models could be purchased even with the money assured. But, then, the Zacks received word that their shipment would arrive by air as ordered.

Margos' display windows will feature the Cartier originals today and throughout the week, at least until they are purchased. The public is requested to see them at this time.

This GI Benefit Is One That Nobody Can Complain About

Uncle Sam is preparing to distribute $2,500,000,000 among 11,000,000 former service men and women. This is no bonus, no pension payment, no handout. It is the dividends earned on the military people's government life insurance. Claims have proved to be far less than the actuaries had estimated, a fact which should be cause for prayerful gratitude.

The big rush to file applications of insurance returns welled up in the first few days, now has slackened off. But rest assured that within a couple of months, practically all applications will be in. It will be months after that, because of the monumental bookkeeping task, before checks are received.

The eventual distribution of the dividends should be pleasing to everybody. It is to be tax-free, many of the recipients will have real need of the money, much of it will go immediately into trade and stimulate business activity.

There was considerable griping among the GI's over official insistence that they take out the insurance. There has been more griping, some of it justified, over the snafu in the operation of the insurance bureau.

But it turns out to have been one of the truly beneficial efforts of Uncle Sam to help those who wore his uniform. It will be beneficial to all holders of the insurance through the years.

Churchill's Foresight Proved In European Developments

In the period between the wars, the voice and pen of Winston Churchill were often used in warning against the holocaust to come. He might as well have spoken to the whirlwind, or written his words in the sands of a busy bathing beach, for all the good he accomplished. Nobody paid the slightest attention, until the blow fell.

Just how far-seeing Churchill was came to light from a fresh quarter only this week. The Council of Europe's Assembly, meeting in Strasbourg, was considering the creation of the European Union, and during the course of the day's business the Assembly voted to give the Union definite powers over the governments of member countries.

While the 12-nation Assembly was deliberating, Britisher Harold Macmillan read a memorandum which Churchill addressed to the British War Cabinet in 1942, at the time when the U. S. and Great Britain were full partners with Soviet Russia for the destruction of Hitlerite Germany.

The memorandum declared that it would be a "measureless disaster" if Russian barbarism overtook the culture and independence of the ancient states of Europe. The burden of his argument was that Western Europe should erect a barrier against "Russian barbarism" at the very time the two were allies.

Churchill had to wait seven years to see the start of his dream toward fulfillment, but obviously a European Union was in his thoughts all along. It formed the basis of his contention that the Western Allies, in striking at "the soft underbelly of Europe," should push up through the Balkans by way of Greece and Italy as a means of keeping the Russian Bear from rolling all the way to Berlin and beyond.

Well, the Russian bear rolled, and the fat was in the fire. Had Churchill's battle plan been followed, the war might have been prolonged, but the postwar problems posed by Russia's presence in Western Europe, and all the evils that have stemmed therefrom, might have been averted.

Socialists Face Showdown In Great Britain's Next Election

ENGLAND'S EXPERIMENT WITH socialist government is headed for a stormy showdown in the next general election, which will determine whether the country wishes to continue the regime or return to the old system of free enterprise on which the greatness of the empire was built.

The Labor (Socialist) government which came to power in July of '45 would have a normal life of five years—that is, until next summer. However, England's economic crisis has reached such a grave pass that it's anybody's guess whether it will get better or worse. This confronts the Socialist leaders with the problem of whether to hang on until the end of their term—in hope of improvement—or to force an early election on the chance that things are better now than they will be later.

AS THINGS STAND, THAT DECISION must hinge largely on crystal gazing. Much will depend, it strikes me, on the outcome of the British-Canadian-American conference which opened in Washington Wednesday to seek a solution of John Bull's predicament. If relief can be devised, the Socialist political chances might be improved.

England's Socialist leaders are under no delusions about the political dangers ahead. Both Sir William Lawther, president of the great British Trades Union Congress, and James Griffiths, chairman of the Labor Party, warned the annual conference of the TUC Monday that socialism is facing a tough fight.

This blunt warning was aimed at wild-cat strikes which have been complicating the economic crisis. Both leaders declared labor might lose the next general election if it didn't stay of the job. Sir William asserted that some work stoppages have been instigated by Communists.

SO BRITAIN'S SOCIALIST LEADERS are worried—and for good reason. Things haven't worked out as they anticipated when they took office. Economic difficulties, which they inherited as the result of the war, have gone from bad to worse.

Inevitably there has arisen the searching question of whether the situation has worsened because of Socialist policies or whether the same misfortunes would have dogged the Conservatives if they had been continued in power.

No Miracle Solution Of Fresh British Crisis Is Expected

WASHINGTON, D. C. — TALKS BEGAN here Wednesday on the British dollar crisis. Taking part are some top officials of the United States, Canada, and Britain.

What is the crisis? The British are running out of American dollars which they badly need for buying American goods. But—the British are not here looking for another loan.

The talks aim at this: To work out some way by which Britain won't have to use up so fast the dollars it has. No one expects a miracle solution.

At this moment the problem is to find a stop-gap way of getting Britain out of its jam. How did it get into the jam? There is no single answer. There are a number of answers. Here are some:

REMEMBER THAT THE U. S. AND CANADA do business with dollars. Britain's money is the pound. When Americans and Canadians sell to the British, they want to be paid in dollars.

Too having dollars is part of Britain's life blood since she needs to buy more from the U. S. and Canada than they have to buy from her.

Britain was short of dollars after the war, since it used up so many of them buying war supplies from us. The U. S. and Canada gave Britain loans. The U. S. even helped out with the Marshall Plan.

But now Britain is running short of dollars again. Why? For one thing, Britain hasn't been selling enough goods to the dollar nations to get dollars with which to buy from them in turn.

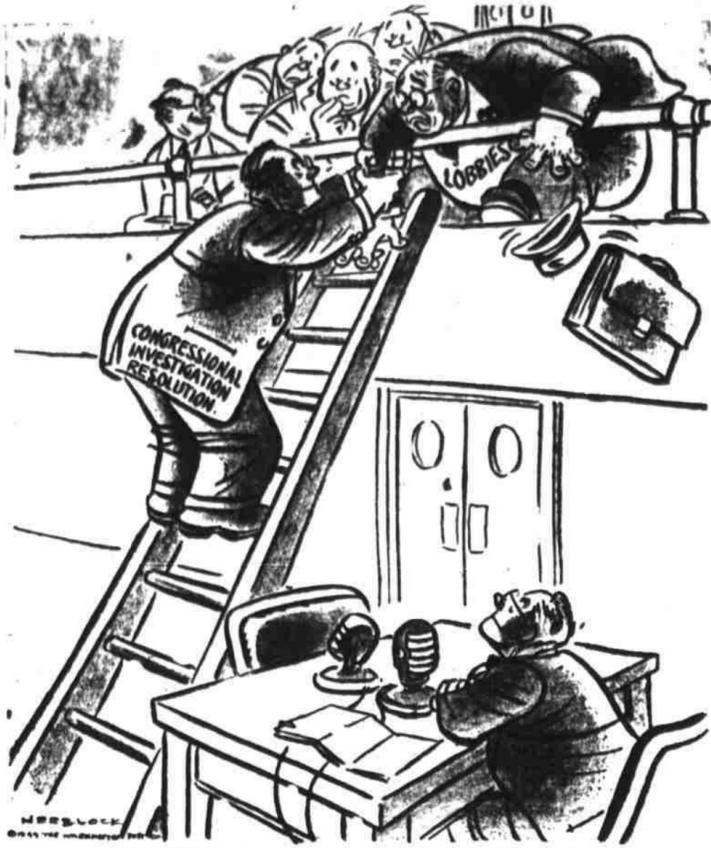

Before the war, Britain has several prime ways of gathering in dollars for instance:

1. It had a lot of holdings in the dollar countries, giving Britain a big and steady income in dollars. During the war, to scrape up dollars to buy huge supplies, Britain sold many of its American holdings.
2. BRITONS FIGURE NOW THAT — IF they hadn't had to sell those holdings—they'd be getting from them an income of around $2 billion a year. So, that's two billions Britain could use now but doesn't have.
3. It picked up a lot of revenue from its shipping. But much of that was shot to pieces in the war. So—another dollar source weakened.
4. Britain has not been self-sufficient. It has had to import to live. It ran the imported goods through its factories and then sold the manufactured items abroad at a profit to buy other things it needed. This gave the British dollars, too.
5. But a lot of Britain's factories were destroyed during the war, although now Britain's production is much above pre-war days. Yet—and this is important—British manufacturing methods are not so good as ours.
6. Much of its machinery is out of date and it costs more to make a lot of items than it does in this country. That's a stumbling block to selling British goods here.

Often on the left wing in voting and speeches, he established a sound war record by urging arms for the Allies and warning Japan of a shooting war with U. S. long before Pearl Harbor. He started as a school teacher, working his way through Alabama State University, was graduated in 1921 with a Phi Beta Kappa key, and got his LL.B. from Harvard Law School in 1924. He stumped for Al Smith in 1928, served in the Florida legislature and was a staunch New Dealer.

Bradley Deplores Truman's Action In Defending Discredited Military Aide

WASHINGTON — Kindly Gen. Omar Bradley, top chief of staff, was attending a cocktail party, when he was approached by Mrs. Louise Heiberg, ex-wife of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Gen. Bradley is discreet and not especially talkative, but as an officer jealous of the prestige of the Army, certain developments at a Senate hearing had got under his skin.

For, despite the amazing Senate investigation disclosures, President Truman had made a statement just before the Heiberg party vigorously defending the chief subject of the Senate probe — Gen. Harry Vaughan.

"You see this left arm," said the chief of staff to one of the guests, as he arrived. "I served me all during the war and I don't know what I'd do without it. But I'd have given it gladly if the President hadn't made that statement defending Vaughan."

NOTE — Though Gen. Vaughan has violated Army regulation 600-10, that no officer can raise political funds, there is nothing the Army can do to discipline him. The President, as commander-in-chief, would fire anyone who raised a finger against his old cronies.

PONTIFF ORDERS EACE
Members of the Catholic hierarchy intimate that it was his Holiness Pope Pius XII who ordered Cardinal Spellman to make peace with Mrs. Roosevelt. They also indicate that Spellman, once the Pope's favorite and in line to become papal secretary, may have lost that privileged position to Cardinal Siri of Genoa, a more liberal prelate and a friend of the Roosevelt family.

In addition to the Vatican, Ed Flynn, Irish boss of the Bronx, emphatically demanded that Cardinal Spellman make peace with the former first lady, Flynn, who knew Spellman long before he became cardinal, was brief and to the point.

"If you don't patch up this fight with Mrs. Roosevelt," he told Spellman, "we won't be able to elect a Catholic to any office in New York state for the next 30 years."

Flynn had in mind the long-time alliance between Jewish and Catholic voters in New York, which has voted Democratic ever since the early days of Roosevelt. This alliance, responsible for Democratic victories during the past 16 years, was seriously threatened by Catholic opposition to ex-Governor Lehman and his candidacy for the Senate.

Cardinal Spellman himself was credited with spearheading the Lehman opposition because the ex-governor last year served on a committee of protest against banning "The Nation" from New York public school libraries.

LEHMAN VS. SPELLMAN
"The Nation" was banned because it carried a series of articles by Paul Blanshard, prior to publication in book form, critical of the church. Lehman, on the other hand, argued that since New York public schools are attended by Protestants and Jews as well as Catholics, their reading material should not be fixed by Catholics alone. Lehman felt that the church had every right to set the reading material in its own parochial schools, but in public schools supported by the taxpayers.

Cardinal Spellman, however, vigorously disagreed and wrote the ex-governor a sharp personal letter. And later Lehman received word from Catholic leaders that if he ran for the Senate this fall, he would have organized Catholic opposition.

BREAKS OPPOSITION
All this was one reason for Ed Flynn's blunt warning to Cardinal Spellman that he would have to make peace with Mrs. Roosevelt.

Actually, Mrs. Roosevelt had no idea that the cardinal was coming to see her in the country. And, contrary to all reports, the parochial-school issue was not discussed. The cardinal talked about the late President, plus various nonchurch matters.

Finally Mrs. Roosevelt brought up the question of Gov. Lehman and expressed the opinion that it would be in the best interest of all the people if he were to become a candidate for the Senate.

She also mentioned the cardinal's reported opposition.

The cardinal then said that when he got back to New York he would be happy to make it emphatically clear that he was not opposed to Lehman. He further said he would issue instructions throughout his domain that there should be no church opposition to the benign ex-governor of New York.

The meeting ended on a most happy and cordial note.

NAVY LOBBY
It's not supposed to be known but the Navy went over the head of Secretary of Defense Johnson at the American Legion convention, and brazenly lobbied for Legion support of the super airplane carrier. The Navy's case was presented to a legion subcommittee by two brass hats, Vice Adm. Calvin Durgin and Capt. Joseph Kane, who claimed to be official Navy spokesmen but admitted they hadn't cleared their material with either the joint chiefs of staff, the Secretary of Defense or even the Secretary of the Navy.

Adm. Durgin introduced Capt. Kane who, he said, would "essentially have been sent to the brig in our defense policy." Kane charged bluntly that Secretary of Defense Johnson's orders, cancelling the super carrier, were "based on faulty reasoning."

NOTE — This performance by two high Navy officers was in direct violation of orders. For the same offense, an enlisted man would have been sent to the brig.

Bob Hope Set Always Is Good For A Laugh

By JACK QUIGO (For Bob Thomas)
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 7 — Fun in Hollywood, or a three-ring circus without rings. That's a Bob Hope set.

Where Hope reigns anything goes, and anything gets a laugh. The comic was up to his ears in people. He posed for pictures with a couple of visiting baseball players, said howdy to an out-of-town fan and signed an autograph book. A top Paramount executive buried deep in the admiring crowd patiently awaited his turn to get in a few words.

Hope kept up a running patter with everybody. Agents, writers, electricians, sound men, visitors—a score at least—gawked and milled around.

A Hope set is open to all. He says he tried being alone once, and didn't like it.

The "Fancy Pants" crew was working under pressure. Hope had to catch a 6:20 p.m. plane for Detroit. Half a dozen scenes had to be shot in the next two hours. Otherwise Paramount would have to keep the cast on salary until Hope returned—an extra week.

"Let's bake the ham," shouted an assistant director. That's how they call Hope to the camera.

"A straight man would make a million bucks on this set," quipped Bob. "Everybody wants to be the comic."

A cook planged a kettle behind him. "They're playing football back there," Bob said. He hears everything, sees everything, picks up everything.

But he looked tired. I asked him why he didn't cancel the trip, to Michigan's state fair and to Grand Rapids for two appearances.

"The trip? It's nothing. No strain at all. I get a kick out of it."

He conceded he's slowing down, though. He's been fishing in the Pacific weekends. After

"Fancy Pants" he plans a vacation of fishing off Guaymas, Mexico.

Came 6 o'clock and the scenes were washed up. No extra week's expense.

I suggested that the bedlam on the set must bother him sometimes.

"Did you ever see a happier set?" he asked in turn. "I love it."

Apparently there's no limit to the attention he can take.

Outside the sound stage he hopped on his bicycle to pedal to his dressing room. A sign on the bike read:

"Bob Hope, available for parties, banquets, weddings, etc."

Socialized Medicine Would Do More Harm Than Good In U.S.

Next to the possibility of war with Russia, socialized medicine today is the great, engrossing American question. It is safe to say that no topic of recent years has so captured the attention of all classes of people, or has aroused such bitter controversies. The idea is not new, but it is revolutionary to the average American citizen, who now finds himself confronted with the necessity of coming to some decision on the issue.

Like many other Americans, I once believed socialized medicine would be a fine thing for the country. I knew that it had failed in France, Germany and Russia, but I thought for a long time that it would prove successful in England. That, in fact, was the supreme test of the system, and we all know the result. If socialized medicine will not work in the very cradle of Anglo-Saxon civilization, it is either madness or hypocrisy to contend that it will work in the United States.

Put in a nutshell, the case against socialized medicine is that it exacts something for nothing; that it is unfair both to the patient and the doctor, and that it not only results in a steady decline of medical standards but invariably leads to the grossest abuses, such as those in Nazi Germany, where human beings were handed over to State physicians and surgeons to be used as guinea pigs. You may say that things like these could not happen in an English-speaking country, and perhaps you are right—but why tempt Providence?

Personally, I want no control over my physician other than the Hippocratic oath and the ordinary laws of the land. I want him to remain a free agent, because in no other way can I be assured of receiving the finest treatment in the world when I am ill. Likewise, I wish to remain free to choose my physician, and to avail myself of his services when and where I please. All this would be impossible under a system of socialized medicine such as is proposed by the Truman administration.

Far be it from me to cast any suspicion on the motives of our President and his advisers in advocating a program of compulsory health insurance, but I find it difficult to follow their reasoning as to the need for anything of the sort. We already have many forms of voluntary health insurance, which provide adequate protection for a mere fraction of the cost that would be entailed under a compulsory system. A Blue Cross membership card, for instance, is priced at a figure which puts it within the reach of all but the very poorest of families.

But it may be argued that it is precisely for the benefit of the utterly destitute that compulsory health insurance is planned. This, it seems to me, is beside the point. We do have wretchedly poor people in America, but we certainly are not a nation of paupers. Moreover, there are various special funds available to the sick who are entirely without resources. On top of this, there is hardly a doctor who does not do a great deal of charitable work for which he has no expectation of ever being paid.

Incidentally, the charge has been made by the proponents of compulsory health insurance that the American Medical Association is fighting the proposal because it might mean the loss of lucrative fees. Such an accusation is so contemptible that it merits no answer, but when I think of my old family doctor and his life of self-sacrificing service, I feel that I simply must hit somebody. — R. G. MACREADY.

Kentucky Derby Is Easier To Win Than Miss America Title

NEW YORK, N. Y. — IT IS MUCH EASIER today to win the Kentucky Derby than it is to become Miss America.

All a horse has to do to clinch the derby is to run faster. And it can use all four legs.

But it doesn't have to prove it can ride a human being, sing a folk song, paint a picture, look well in bathing suit and evening gown, do a tap dance or give Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

The average racehorse isn't even sure Lincoln ever had an address in Gettysburg.

BUT TO WIN THE ATLANTIC CITY beauty contest now a girl not only has to show Derby form—she has to demonstrate personality, talent, and intelligence. And she goes through a more rigorous training routine than the average Derby entrant. She may even have to eat oats (oatmeal) to slim her figure.

Many of the lassies competing this week for the nation's $5,000 beauty crown at the "ersey resort spent a week or two in Manhattan getting a final curvy-combing. They hire specialists to teach them how to walk gracefully and use makeup artfully.

"I've tramped miles up and down my hotel room learning all over again how to walk," said brown-haired, 18-year-old Miss Arkansas—Barbara Brothers, "bust 34, waist 23, hips 34. She would like to have a rubber face.

"Mine is all worn out from smiling," she said.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE, "MISS WYOMING"—Esther MacLeod, 22, bust 34, waist 25, hips 34, spent the last few days before the contest studying at the Barabon School of Modeling. Sponsored by the University of Wyoming, she is a mezzo soprano and wants to continue her study of music.

Miss Arkansas will be one of the few entrants with a clique—three University of Arkansas students who decided to go to Atlantic City and root for her.

One is Bob Riley, an almost sightless war veteran who also is a member of the Arkansas Legislature.

"Bob is real fun," said Mrs. Tom Allen, chaperon for Miss Arkansas. "Once, during a night out, he lost his glass eye. So he put an ad in the University paper saying: 'Lost one glass eye—probably bloodshot.'"

British Crisis Must Be Ended To Preserve Balance Of Power

WASHINGTON — Economic complexities being what they are, it is very difficult to bring to life the crisis of British power which will occupy Snyder and Acheson, Bevin and Cripps in Washington this week. Indeed, there is only one simple way to state the kind of problem that is involved. If the British crisis is not overcome, the process that left us expensively responsible for Greece and Turkey may shortly be repeated on an infinitely greater scale.

In brief, as everyone has been quite often and rather peevishly told, the drain on Britain's dollars is not in Britain alone. One of the most serious deficit areas is in the Far East. Before the war, India, Burma and Malaya used to earn a good many hundreds of millions of dollars a year for the London Exchequer, selling their raw materials to us, and buying British manufactured goods with our money. Now, however, all this is over.

Burma is in chaos and can no longer send rice to India. India is economically disrupted, can export less of her own raw materials, and must buy American grain to replace Burman rice. Even Malaya, which continues to earn dollars for Britain by exports of rubber and tin, has been hard hit by the drop in commodity prices. In consequence, the net dollar deficit for the whole area of Burma, Malaya and India is upwards of $200,000,000 annually. This is the rate at which Britain is drawing down her last-ditch financial reserves for these three countries.

Why, you may ask. The answer is, in part, that Britain lives by banking, and that, as members of the sterling area, Burma, Malaya and India are customers of the bank. But in American eyes, the more important part of the answer is political. A Communist guerrilla movement in Malaya is requiring the attention of nearly 100,000 British and native troops. In Burma, the weak new government is menaced by two armed Communist rebellions and the tribal uprising of the Karens. And in India, the Communist party, although still small, is rapidly making hay while the sun of disorder shines.

In other words, Britain is forced to pay out dollars to Burma, Malaya and India, or face the prospect of this vast, strategically crucial area being plunged, first into total chaos, and later into Communism. But suppose Britain's dollars run out. Then we shall have to take over Britain's responsibilities in India, Burma and Malaya, as we did in Greece and Turkey, or we must expect to see the completion of the job in Asia that our own folly in China has so well begun. Nor can we complacently say to ourselves, "Oh well, what does it matter if a few former British colonies go down the drain." While Burma, India and Malaya are going Japan and the Philippines will be going, too. We shall be losing all the prizes of our bitter Pacific fighting. And we shall be confronted with a new factor in the balance of power—the raw material wealth of Asia, married to the industry of Japan and India, and controlled by the Kremlin. Such a convulsive change in the world power balance will inevitably produce a world situation worse than that after Munich.

Steers Set For '49 Debut Friday With Plainview

Soph Team May Produce Winner At University

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Editor

AUSTIN, Sept. 8.—The University of Texas got sore last January 1 when called a "third rate" team and knocked Georgia's block off in the Orange Bowl.

Today Longhorn adherents, particularly the coaches, are welcoming that designation. In fact, headman Blair Cherry says that's ranking Texas too high in the Southwest Conference race. "I wouldn't be surprised if we lost four or five games," he declared.

It isn't that Cherry is pessimistic; he's just facing the uncertainty of a sophomore team. The critics are as puzzled as he is when it comes to weighing the squad's possible strength.

The fact remains that of a roster of 44, 23 are sophomores and that they'll be furnishing one starting end and the deserve strength at the line, also one of the backfield posts.

Texas has some fine sophomore prospects and two advantages. The team won't be under pressure since it is not rated, even in the most optimistic quarters, as higher than third.

Another thing Cherry welcomes with open arms is a hot fight going on for the important quarterback job in his T formation. It's a three-way battle and Cherry refuses to evaluate the chances of the trio—Bobby Coy Lee, Paul Campbell and Bill Allen.

The best observation however, is that Lee is going to win the job. He's an excellent runner, a fine punter and above all has leadership qualities that appear to fit into Cherry's requirements.

The Texas backfield should be as good as any in the league. It has everything it takes. The line is the question mark, mainly because of the loss of such tackles as George Petrovich and Ed Kelley.

The Longhorns will have blinding speed, as usual. Particularly is this true at left halfback where Billy Pyle and Perry Samuels return.

It also will have the power running of one of the prized sophomores of the year—Byron Townsend, the Odessa great.

Townsend does little else and is below average on defense but he promises many yards carrying the ball.

Randall Clay, who has developed an elusiveness to go with his hard running, and Bubba Shands, junior fullback, are at right halfback. Fullback is Pay Borneman, one of the top ground-gainers of the conference last season, backed by sophomores June Davis and Reed Quinn and Newell Kane, who was a squadman in 1946 and has just returned to the university.

Kane is a fine punter. Paul Williams, big sophomore, has nailed down the right end spot where there's not a single letterman. Ray Stone, who missed much of last season because of a broken leg, and junior letterman Ben Procter are back at left end.

Cherry has two lettermen at tackle but there the resemblance to veteran play ends Ken Jackson, Gene Vykukal and Ken Jackson.

Center is no problem with junior letterman Dick Rowan back along with Al Miller, who also will be seeking his second varsity number.

Tomorrow: Baylor.

Fastest start of any team in the modern major leagues was racked up by the 1946 Boston Red Sox who won 41 of their first 50 games.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Bobby (Pepper) Martin, former high school athlete and later a Big Spring baseballer, has returned from Greenville, where that city's diamond professionals wound up their Big State league campaigning Monday.

Martin and the Majors failed to make the playoffs but Pepper managed at long last to up his mace average to .307. Martin hovered around the 300 mark for three weeks but finally crowded enough hits into three or four games to enter the coveted circle.

The one-time Bronco fly chaser says Sherman-Denison's Pete Mayor (a Cuban lad), Bill Pierrro of Waco and Frank Saucier of Wichita Falls are among the best players against which he had to contend. Mayor is a wronghanded pitcher. Pierrro is also a hurler but flings from the right side. Saucier caught for Wichita Falls.

Of Jose Cindan, the one-time Big Springer, Martin says the Cuban had never come around after joining Sherman-Denison early in the season.

AZPIAZU, HELBA PLAYING WELL FOR HAVANA
Justo Azpiazu and Lefty Gumbo Helba, two players who left Big Spring to rejoin Havana the past season, are doing alright for themselves against Class B competition.

Azpiazu, playing first for Havana, is hitting around .320, which is better than he was ever able to do here. Helba has won seven games for the Cubans, the latest a 10-2 triumph over Miami Beach, Joe Medwick's club. Helba wrapped up ten decisions for Big Spring before departing here.

Jake Douglass, the local hotel and restaurant man, is the latest to dine the Big Spring club. Douglass spread a meal fit a king before the athletes in the Maverick Room Wednesday. If they tear into the San Angelo Colts with as much relish in the playoffs as they did the steaks, then they'll sail right into the finals.

Denver, in the Class A Western League, has drawn better than 400,000 paid admissions this season. That's better than any Texas league club has done.

Pat O'Dowdy, the big grappler and wrestling impresario, is back in town after a season of campaigning in and around Chicago. The transplanted Oklahoman has already booked several bouts in this area.

Lamesa's new football stadium will seat around 5,700 persons. The Tornado field will have an enlarged pressbox and a separate booth for scouts (something all plants need), and an electric scoreboard, one of the finest of its kind. Price of the board will run around $2,500. There are also roomy dressing rooms for both the local and visiting teams.

Carl Coleman, the local mentor, has a recommended way for selecting his game captains for the coming games. Carl plans to nominate those boys who have shown the best attitude in training. If they've appeared for all the drills, then that will count in their favor, too.

Co-leaders for the Plainview game will be Howard Jones and Amos Jones (no relation). Jones is an end who is better known for his feats on the basketball floor and baseball diamond. Jones is a back and promises to be top drawer.

Bobo Hardy, a Big Spring high school grad ex. is making Southwestern university's first eleven. Bo wasn't able to play last season because of a leg injury but appears to be shipshape now. He's a junior back.

Buffaloes Open Season Friday

FORSAN, Sept. 8.—The lid on the 1948 six-man football season in this area comes off Friday evening when Forsan entertains the Southland team.

Game time is at 8 p.m. on the Buffaloes' new lighted field.

Frank Honeycutt, Forsan mentor, is anticipating stiff competition. He does not have much information on the Southland aggregation, but when Forsan met the team last year, it was big and rugged.

Starters for Forsan are due to be Bob Baker, Wayne Huestis and James Suttles in the backfield. J. Y. Turnage is due to start at the pivot post, and Virgil Bennett and Thelbert Camp are slated for the end assignments.

Rosson Tames Dukes, 12-4

By The Associated Press
Lubbock's whippoorwill, Albuquerque, 12-4, last night to take a first game advantage in their opening West Texas-New Mexico League playoff series.

Abilene and Amarillo try to start their best four-of-seven game series tonight after rain prevented play last night.

The Lobos used nine walks, two errors and 11 hits for the easy victory. All but one of the Lamesa players who drew walks scored.

Eulis Rosson gave up 10 hits in edging the regular season winner for the fourth time this year. He struck out 10 and walked none.

The two clubs meet again at Albuquerque tonight and switch to Lamesa Friday.

The second game of the Abilene-Amarillo series will also be played in Amarillo, Friday night.

Coleman Names Starting 11

The sports spotlight will be focused on football tomorrow night. Coach Carl Coleman is due to unveil his 1948 edition of the Big Spring Steers at Plainview, where the locals launch a respectable 10-game schedule against that city's Bulldogs.

Coleman apparently has his charges in fair condition for the season's opener, and local fans will be watching the Plainview encounter with more than passing interest, since the strength of the Longhorns under game conditions is absolutely unknown.

Some familiar names will dot the Bovine lineup, but experienced operatives are definitely in the minority in the Coleman camp. Most of the experience is found in the forward wall, where lettermen are due to start at five positions.

The starting secondary quartet probably will be composed entirely of newcomers, however.

The Steers expect to face a light, but speedy, team on the Bulldog gridiron. Coach W. C. O. Harris, who fielded a rugged eleven a year ago has a grade "A" offensive threat in Jack Howton, an ultra-swift back who weighs in at something like 168 pounds.

The locals also expect to see their pass defense undergo a stiff test. The Bulldogs reportedly are air-minded this year.

Coleman has named a starting lineup that averages about 169 pounds.

The probably starters include Howard Jones, 158, at left end; Paul Fortenberry, 165, left tackle; Red Cunningham, 219, left guard; Lee Axtens, 175, center; J. W. Drake, 150, right guard; Dick Laswell, 198, right tackle; Aubrey Armistead, 160, right end; Floyd Martin, 155, quarterback; Amos Jones, 158, back; Bobby Gross, 165, back; Carroll Cannon, 158, back.

Howard and Amos Jones will be co-captains for the Plainview game.

Fortenberry, Cunningham, Axtens, Laswell and Armistead won letters last year.

With a passing game that has shaped up as "just fair" in practice, the Steers probably will stick to ground maul of the time. The Bovine offensive, which will originate from the T formation, will feature the running of Carroll Cannon and Amos Jones, a couple of gallopers who have gone great guns in practice.

Two Contests Launch Prep School Play

By The Associated Press
Two games tonight open Texas schoolboy football's 1948 season for City Conference and Class AA teams.

Austin's Maroons journey to San Antonio to tackle the Thomas Jefferson Mustangs of the City Conference and Austin of El Paso meets Cathedral of El Paso.

Austin is figured to be one of the powers in District 14-AA this year. Thomas Jefferson may rate in the San Antonio bracket of the City Conference.

Tomorrow night is when most of the 44 games will be unveiled for the Texas Interscholastic League's top two divisions. But probably the outstanding game of the opening week of play will be at Odessa Saturday. That's when Porg Arthur and Odessa tangle.

Intersectional and International games are on tap this week, as the 26 City Conference schools and 54 Class AA schools wade into pre-titles play.

Intersectional games match Bowler (El Paso) and Carlsbad (N. M.), El Paso High and Roswell (N. M.) and Marshall and Fair Park, Shreveport, La.

Thirteen City Conference schools will see action this week. Fifty-six Class AA teams compete.

The schedule:

District 1 (Dallas)—Friday: Crozier Tech at El Paso, North Dallas at Pampa, Sunset at Woodrow Wilson at Mexico City, Polinterbus.

District 2 (Fort Worth)—Friday: Paschal at Weatherford.

District 3 (Houston)—Friday: Sam Houston at Conroe.

District 4 (San Antonio)—Thursday: Austin at Thomas Jefferson; Friday: Kerrville at Brackenridge, Georgetown at Robertson, New Braunfels at El Paso, Harlandale at Harlingen; Saturday: Mission at Lamesa, San Antonio Tech vs Texas Military Institute.

CLASS AA
District 1—Friday: Big Spring at Plainview, North Dallas at Pampa.

District 2—Friday: Marshall at Quanah, Dallas at Tyler, Lufkin at Longview.

District 3—Friday: San Kingdon (Houston) at Conroe, Mesquite at Jacksonville, Athens at Palestine, Nacogdoches at Joplin (Dallas) at Odessa.

District 4—Thursday: Austin (El Paso) vs Cathedral (El Paso); Friday: Bowie High at Roswell, N. M.

Joe Page Man Of The Hour For Yankees

By JACK HANDB
AP STAFF

Smoky Joe Page is the man of the hour for the embattled New York Yankees.

Hero in 1947, but a failure in 1948, the strong-armed fireman from the bullpen is a leading candidate for the most valuable player in the American League.

Page never was better than he was last night as he struck out four of the five men he faced in the Yanks' important 5-3 victory over Boston.

Called to the rescue of Allie Reynolds after Bobby Doerr tripped with the potential tying run in the eighth, Page blazed his fast ball past the Red Sox in a dazzling performance that damped their pennant hopes.

Now 2½ games behind the Yanks, who never have been out of first place since opening day, the Sox must win the final two games of the Yankee Stadium series to remain within striking distance.

Boston took an early lead on Reynolds' wildness, but the Yanks struck back to go ahead, 3-2, on Bill Johnson's second triple and a costly error by Vern Stephens before Page appeared on the scene.

After Doerr tripped to put the tying run on third, Manager Casey Stengel waved in Page. El Zarilla he relied on one pitch. Then he fanned Billy Goodman to end the inning.

Bobby Brown's homer following Phil Rizzuto's bum single made it 5-2 in the eighth, but Page never let up. He wiffed Birdie Tebbets, pinch hitter Matt Batts and Dom DiMaggio to end the game.

It's a discouraging uphill struggle now for Boston which sends Ellis Kinder out to oppose Eddie Lopat in today's game. The Sox are five down on the all-important losing side. They have only 19 to play as compared to 24 for the Yanks.

Rain knocked out the Cleveland-Detroit and Philadelphia-Washington games, but the Chicago White Sox scampered home with a 7-3 triumph over the St. Louis Browns. Bill Wight stumped the Browns with a four-hitter.

In the National League St. Louis came from behind to shade Chicago, 5-2, after Brooklyn nosed out Boston, 5-4. The Cards still lead by one full game.

Four sharp singles in the last of the ninth pulled the Cards out of a loss that would have left them only two percentage points ahead of the Brooks. Glenn Nelson, who hit a homer in the fifth, started the winning surge. Solly Hemus, Nippy Jones and Marty Marion followed his lead to give Howie Pollock win No. 18.

Violence flared in Flatbush as Eddie Stanky of the Braves and Spud Jorgensen of the Dodgers squared off in a fist fight that involved members of both clubs. After being ejected, Eddie Miksis replaced Jorgensen. He came through with the game-winning blow, a two-run homer in the seventh inning, his first of the year.

Stanky apparently spiked Jorgensen accidentally while pivoting for a double play in the fifth. Both players went down and there was a wild flurry before order was restored.

Pascual Baffles Vernon Dusters

Potato Clouts Three Bingles

J. E. Stanley is probably the only manager in professional baseball who can lay claim to the fact that his team has never been beaten.

The local hardware man, nominated to pilot the Big Spring Broncos for one night, sent Carlos (Potato) Pascual to the pitcher rubber Wednesday and the little third sacker responded by shacking the Vernon Dusters, 6-1, before some 1,000 fans.

Pascual was in the driver's seat all the way and would have had a shutout had John Blanco Fernandez got in him for a three base blow in the seventh. Potato sent the guests, now in an all-out fight for second place in the standings down with six hits and struck out ten.

In addition, Pascual collected three hits on his own hook and drove in a run.

The Mosses cooked up a three-run rally in the initial canto at the expense of Bill Coffey, combining hits by Felix Gomez and Pascual with walk to Pat Stacey, Hector Bonet and Al Valdes and a misplay by Bob Johnston to get their runs.

In the second, four more blows gave the Steeds two more runs. Pascual kept blowing them down until the seventh when a one-baser by Wayne Moon and Fernandez's triple produced a run.

Big Spring got that run back in their half of the seventh when Pat Stacey hit and went around on blows by Pascual and Ray Vasquez.

ROUNDING THE SACKS—The win was Big Spring's 11 in 30 games with Vernon this season and insured them a season's edge over every team in the league for the second straight year. It also increased their league lead to 21 games in their half of the seventh when Pat Stacey hit and went around on blows by Pascual and Ray Vasquez.

DOGIES OPPOSE PONIES HERE

The Big Spring high school B team opens its football season here at 2 p.m. Saturday, at which time it plays the Sweetwater Ponies at Steer stadium.

Coaches Gene Tomases and Wayne Bonner have announced they will field a team consisting of Leonard Hartley 151, at center; Autry Burk 136, and Dub Day 128, at guards; Joe Mize 164, and Raymond Gilstrap 142, at tackles; Ronald Farquhar 148, and J. B. Moss 156, at ends; and John Fort 124, Speck Franklin 133, Wendell Stacey 151 and Bobby Hayworth 132 in the backfield.

Isaacs said those boys had earned their places in the lineup by attending practice regularly.

None Of S'west Coaches Sings Gridiron Blues

By The Associated Press
Southwest Conference coaches are playing easy.

Football practice started one week ago and not a moan has come out of the seven mentors. And with the first game next week!

Most of the squads have been content to get fundamentals, timing and plays down pat. Some have mixed a few scrimmages into the two-day practice diet, but not many.

Arkansas, for instance, just yesterday found out it would get its first scrimmage practice Saturday. Coach John Barnhill has been taking it easy with his five full squads, trying to bring all players to peak condition.

Down at the University of Texas, the usual crop of early season hurts has sidelined three sophomores back.

Byron Townsend of Odessa, expected to see lots of action at left half, is nursing a bruised shoulder. June Davis of Denton, linebacker, has a charley horse and Reed Quinn of Austin, an all state back in high school, has a sore hand.

The Longhorns have a game scrimmage Saturday. Coach Blair Cherry will concentrate on defensive work today.

Texas Christian University has some casualties, but Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer isn't looking blue. Jack Archer, wingback, is bothered with some sore leg muscles. Guards Harold Kilman and Dick Lowe, Tackles Hubert Eoff, End Wayne Rogers and Backs Billy Murphy and Charley Jackson also have minor ailments.

Defending Champion Southern Methodist University worked on punning and had a brief line scrimmage in yesterday's workouts.

Unusual Flavoring Methods Make Eggs An Unusual Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One way of gaining a reputation as a wonderful cook is to use unusual flavoring methods. You don't have to spend any more time than you ordinarily would on dishes, but you do have to give your food a different twist. There are hundreds of flavor tricks you can use. If you are observant, you can have fun picking them up in restaurants and when you're invited to other people's houses. You can also find them in books—not just cookbooks. I've often found delicious food ideas and recipes in novels!

One of the best all-round herbs and one that is being used more and more frequently in this country, is organo—that thyme-like flavoring. It can "make" a salad. It's delicious in a beef or lamb stew, fine in a chowder.

Another flavoring you can try is aromatic bitters. At a supper party recently I served a clove-stuck ham baked with brown sugar, syrup, and the bitters, that was a great success. When the ham is ready to be glazed, cover it with one-third cup firmly packed brown sugar mixed with one-quarter cup extra-sweet white corn syrup and one-quarter cup of Angostura aromatic bitters. I found this amount was fine for a 5 to 6 pound butt half of a ham. The glaze gives the outside of the ham a rich reddish-brown color that's appetizing, and it adds an interesting flavor.

When we made split pea soup with the ham bone we found the outside seasoning added a delightful filip to the soup.

Popular at a Washington Club is this recipe for a supper dish snack:

SCRAMBLED EGGS, SNACK STYLE
Ingredients: 8 eggs, 5 dashes Angostura aromatic bitters, salt, butter or margarine, toast.
Method: Beat the eggs just enough to mix the whites and yolks to-

Rice Pudding With Lemon Is An Excellent Topper To Meal

Remember how your family went for that last chifon cake you made? You'll give them an even bigger thrill when you serve the new banana cream chifon cake.

Few people can resist bananas or whipped cream, and when you combine them with a tender moist fresh banana-flavored chifon cake, you'll have a delicious dessert fit for the most festive occasion. Made with Softasilk cake flour and the mystery ingredient of salad or cooking oil, it's light as angel food, yet rich as butter cakes. It's easy to make. Too Here's the way to do it:

Banana Cream Chifon Cake
1 1/2 cups (1 cup plus 2 tbsp.) sifted cake flour (sifted lightly into cup, don't pack)
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup cooking (salad) oil
2 unbeaten egg yolks (medium-sized)
3 tbsp. cold water

1/4 cup sliced very ripe bananas (1 to 1 1/2 bananas)
1/4 tsp. vanilla or 1/4 tsp. grated lemon rind
1/4 cup egg whites (4 whites)
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
Preheat to 325 (slow moderate). Measure (level measurements throughout) and sift together into mixing bowl the flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Make a well in the center of the dry ingredients and add in order the salad oil, egg yolks, water, bananas and flavoring. Beat with spoon until smooth.

Measure into another large mixing bowl the egg whites and the cream of tartar. Whip until whites form very stiff peaks. They should be much stiffer than for angel food or meringue. DO NOT UNDERBEAT. Pour egg yolk mixture gradually over whipped egg whites gently folding with rubber scraper just until blended. DO NOT STIR. Pour into ungreased 9-in. tube pan, 3 1/2-in. deep immediately. Bake 90 to 95 minutes in slow moderate oven (325°) or until top springs back when lightly touched. Immediately turn pan upside-down, placing tube part over neck of funnel or bottle. Let hang, free of table, until cold. Loosen from sides and tube with spatula. Turn pan over and hit edge sharply on table to loosen. 8 to 10 servings. Split cake crosswise in 3 even layers with a saw-toothed knife. Spread whipped cream filling (recipe below) between layers (widest layer on the bottom) and over top and sides. Garnish with banana slices. Keep in refrigerator until serving time.

*For best banana flavor, use very ripe bananas the yellow peel well flecked with brown.

**Dip banana slices in lemon, orange, grapefruit or pineapple juice to keep from turning dark.

WHIPPED CREAM FILLING
1 pt. chilled heavy cream
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 cup confectioners' sugar
Whip until very stiff in chilled bowl the cream. Beat in the vanilla and confectioners' sugar. If sides are left uniced, use half the amounts of ingredients.

Nourishing Breakfast Important For Youngster Going To School

Foods and nutrition specialists of the extension service of Texas A&M college issue these pointers for budget-wise housewives who now have school-going youngsters to feed:

Send children to school ready to work and play—well-rested, well-fed. See that they start the day right with a good breakfast.

Those same children will be hungry again after school. Keep some nutritious as well as delicious sandwich fillings on hand. Try these: peanut butter and prune; egg relish; cream-cheese and apple butter; meat salad, or grated carrot and peanut butter filling. These are low in cost.

Here's a suggested back-to-school breakfast:

Tomato Juice
Shredded wheat cereal
Scrambled egg—Bacon
Raisin Oatmeal Bread
Butter
Cocoa

Chifon Cake With Bananas, Whipped Cream

Rice pudding need not always be made with the same old ingredients. For rice can be a real "surprise" dessert—a basis for adding to any housewife's reputation as a good cook. Here's one everybody will like. Grated lemon rind, fresh lemon juice and a dash of lemon extract contribute to the tastiness of this delicious dessert. A fluffy meringue lightly browned gives the rice pudding an artistic appearance. Serve it warm, right from the oven, in the dish in which it is baked. Make the serving process a table ritual.

Ingredients: 1/4 cup uncooked rice, 3 cups milk, 1/2 cup sugar, grated rind of 1 lemon, 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, separated, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon lemon extract.
Method: Cook the rice and milk in a double boiler until the rice is soft. Add sugar, lemon rind, lemon juice, salt and beaten egg yolks. Continue cooking over hot water until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Pour into buttered baking dish. Beat egg whites stiff and gradually beat in 4 tablespoons sugar. Add lemon extract and beat until mixture is stiff and glossy. Pile on top of pudding and put into oven at 350 F for 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve hot, immediately. This will serve 6.

MAHWAH WANTS SPOT ON MAP

MAHWAH, N. J., Sept. 8 (AP)—"Did you say Mahwah?"

That question, usually repeated in an incredulous tone of voice by hotel clerks and the like, greets residents of this community of 5,000 wherever they go.

So Mahwah businessmen decided to do something about it. A large advertisement appeared Wednesday in the New York Times, explaining, among other things, that there really was such a place as Mahwah.

The ad said the name came from an Indian expression meaning "meeting place." It described the rich and varied history of Mahwah, located in Bergen County in the path of revolutionary war campaigns. One of the town's distinguished products was poet Joyce Kilmer author of "Trees."

"And finally," the ad concluded "Mahwah has all modern improvements, including gas, electricity, telephone, and sidewalks in some parts of town (which aren't taken in at night)."

Miss America Hopefuls Facing Second Round

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 8. — Hopeful, hard-working Miss America contestants face a busy time of it today in preparation for the second round of preliminary contests.

The 52 beauties culled from the cream of the nation's crop began a third day at 8:45 o'clock this morning when they left their hotels for a breakfast conference with contest judges.

They must get the sleep out of their eyes and be on their toes—breakfast is when the judges form opinions of personality qualities of the gorgeous gals. Personality is one of the four considerations in selecting finalists for the Saturday night showdown.

At 11:30 this morning the girls reported to Convention Hall for an arduous rehearsal of tonight's second preliminary in the bathing suit, talent, and evening gown divisions.

After an hour or two of this, the chaperones—one for each contestant—pick up their charges at Convention Hall. Their afternoons are free for sightseeing or resting. But no dates. Contest rules don't allow it.

Next on the agenda comes dinner, and the tension begins to mount. Tonight may be the night, each of the beauties hopes, that will bring her the points to make her a finalist.

The rewards are great. Miss America of 1949 will get a $5,000 scholarship. The retiring Miss America, Bebe Shopp of Hopkins, Minn., reportedly picked up an additional $50,000 in personal appearances during the last year. Another $20,000 in scholarships goes to the runners-up.

By 7 o'clock tonight the girls have returned to Convention Hall with their hearts pounding. They must wait half an hour for the show to begin.

Then, in one of three groups, each girl crosses her fingers and hopes she is most devastating in an evening gown, most deliciously curvaceous in a bathing suit, or most talented in singing, acting, or entertaining.
