War Bond $s In December Around $400

Hansford county is good year in the sale of war bonds and stamps, according to C. J. Collier, county chairman. December was especially good with sales of around $400,000 on a quota of $17,000 to $18,000. "The war bond drive is deeply appreciated and interest of Hansford county people in the purchase of war bonds is high," said Collier. "We hope that the people will continue to make purchases of bonds in 1943, enable Hansford county to whatever quota is assigned state headquarters."

Hazel Ellist Passes WAVE Examination

Miss Hazel Ellist Silvern who is employed by the FSA, has successfully passed her physical and mental examination for the WAVE women's organization. She will be needed into actual service some time between 9 and March. Miss Ellist was in Dallas to take the examination. At the time she was at Dallas her Texas friends were presenting preliminary physician the WAVES.

Group induction of the group took place last night in Dallas during the half day Cotton WAVE. Miss Ellist is first Hansford county citizen to leave for WAVES. Miss Vera Bell, leaves tomorrow for Louisiana where she will leave to report to Des Moines in the WAACS.

Sugar Rationing Book Deadline Is Set Jan. 15

Persons having more sugar than allowed for in their new sugar book must sell that excess sugar before they can obtain the new books, according to R. D. Chamberlain, chairman of the Hansford County Sugar Panel of the rationing board. He said persons who do not have the No. 1 book, generally known as the sugar book or the coffee book, must obtain it before they can register for the forthcoming new book. "There are two classifications of persons who do not have the 'sugar books,'" Chamberlain said. "Those who had a surplus of sugar and those who didn't think it necessary to register." "Those who have a surplus of sugar must sell it before getting the rationing book," Chamberlain explained. "That is, if they still possess more sugar than allowed in the book. The sugar they held at registration time must have been used at the regular rationing rate."

Persons with the surplus sugar can sell it on a coupon basis to wholesalers or retailers. The deadline for obtaining the No. 1 book is Jan. 15, he said. This book must be obtained before rationing book can be issued. That same Jan. 15 deadline applies to people desiring canning sugar, the chairman advised. Formerly, the deadline for canning sugar had been set for Dec. 15. Anyone who has not obtained their canning sugar must do so before Dec. 15.

Homemakers Club Has Yeast Bread Demonstration

With Mrs. Ed Vernon presiding at a meeting Monday afternoon of the Homemakers Home Demonstration club, Miss Marjorie Brown gave a demonstration on "Yeast Breads." The bread demonstration was given after a brief business session. Mrs. J. M. Stewart was hostess for the club's meeting in her home.

The Home Demonstration club is now in charge of the Red Cross work carried out through the county. Discussion of Red Cross work and the club's part in caring for the Red Cross activities was discussed during the business session. To further the Red Cross work, the next meeting of the club will be devoted to the war work. This meeting will take place Jan. 18 at the home of Mrs. Ed Vernon. Present for the meeting in Mrs. Stewart's home were Mrs. Ed Vernon and daughter, Mrs. H. L. Boyd and sons, Mrs. J. H. Snow, Mrs. G. W. Roper, Miss Marjorie Brown, and the hostess.

El Paso Congressman Heads Texas Group

Representative Ewing Thomason today assumed the chairmanship of Texas House members for the 78th congress. He was chosen by the members, all democrats, to succeed Representative Wright Patman of Texas-arkana for the two-year period at a meeting yesterday. Representative Lindsey Beekworth of Gilmer was elected delegation secretary succeeding Representative Gene Worley of Shamrock. The delegation endorsed Representative Sam Russell of Stephenville for assignment to the important judiciary committee, and Beekworth was recommended for assignment to the influential interstate and foreign commerce committee. Representative-elect O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, only new incoming member of the delegation, took part in the delegation caucus. Fisher, who succeeds Representative Charles South of Coleman, was expected to be named to several minor committees, as is customary with new congressmen.

Son Pins Captain Insignia On Father In Canal Zone Ceremony

Word has been received by Mrs. J. E. Gerber of Spearman, Texas that her husband, J. E. Gerber, sr., has been promoted to the grade of captain in the Corps of Engineers. Captain Gerber was initially commissioned in the field artillery.

Due to regulations governing age in grade, when called to active duty he was not permitted to serve with combat troops. He was assigned to utilities duty and is now at new Post Engineer at APO No. 833 in charge of all repair and maintenance at this post and attached outposts.

Insignia of the grade of captain was first attached to his collar by his son, J. E. Gerber, jr., an employee of the Division Engineer at a nearby post.

Captain has been on foreign service as of March 1, 1942 having been called to serve his country on February 1, 1942, first reporting to Fort Sam Houston, Texas, from this camp he was transferred to foreign service in the Canal Zone. Capt. Gerber and his family have made their home in Spearman and Hansford county for the past 21 years. His daughter, Margie Gerber, is now a student at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, Texas.

Clark Commands New U. S. Army

Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark, the tall, 46-year-old American officer who made a daring landing on the hostile shore of North Africa from a submarine for a secret meeting with French officers before the Allied occupation, has been placed in command of the newly activated U. S. fifth army, now preparing with its British and French Allies to drive Axis forces from Tunisia.

The announcement that Gen. Clark, formerly deputy commander-in-chief to Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in North Africa, had assumed his command came as most of the long Tunisian front lay quiet in the mud and winter rains.

A Reuters dispatch from the Tunisian front said that crack troops of the British first army, including commandos and paratroopers, had driven the Germans from a strong position in the hills a few miles west of Mateur, about 2 miles southwest of Bizerte.

As the U. S. fifth army came into being under Gen. Clark, it was learned that a detachment of Canadian officers and non-commissioned officers had arrived in North Africa to gain battle experience with the British first army under Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson.

Bumper Wheat Crops, Cattle Prices Attributed As Reasons

Funds deposited in the First State Bank in Spearman mounted to the highest peak in history when the deposits soared to the two million dollar mark, according to figures released by bank officials.

By December 31, 1942, deposits in the bank amounted to $2,151,454.07. December's deposits top the deposits recorded for June '42 by $1,286,657.41 when $882,796.46 was the total deposits.

Bumper wheat crops which were harvested over the entire plains, better business, and higher cattle prices were attributed as reasons for the sudden and swift increase.

A year ago, deposits amounted to only $836,783.68, almost two million dollars under the present deposits.

In spite of a labor shortage in the wheat fields, heavier taxes, and Pearl Harbor, the figures soared to the million dollar mark in less than six months. This is the highest deposits ever recorded in the bank's history.

Other figures released at the close of Dec. 31, 1942 was cash on sight and exchange, $805,863.14; earning asset, $1,423,990.60; banking house, $5,000.00; furniture and fixtures, $3,000.00.

Total for the First State Bank for Dec. 1942, according to the condensed statement, is $2,236,990.60.

Officers and directors of the bank are J. R. Collard, president; C. A. Gibner, vice president; D. D. Moore, cashier; P. B. Higgs; H. B. Hart and Hazel Lowe Gibner.

This bank is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Two Soldiers Start Action On WAAC Recruiting Front

Instead of playing bridge or quilting during club meetings, Spearman women's clubs will now learn how they can help in the all-out recruiting effort, for not marines, or sailors, but WAACS.

Two soldiers, Pvt. Dan Castels and Sgt. T. K. Morris from the Amarillo recruiting office, began their activities in Hansford county Tuesday toward recruiting eligible women for services in the WAACS.

The two recruiters will speak before the various women's organizations stimulating their interest in the woman's army. Covering 13 different counties, they plan to be back in Spearman in two weeks to "go into action" on the recruiting front.

Use of men in recruiting women for the army began the first of 1943. But recruiting women is nothing new to Morris and Castels. They have seen hundreds of interested women come in the Amarillo office and become a WAAC.

Do they enjoy selling a life in the army to women? Well, said Castels, a former salesman, women are more enthused over the army than most men recruits. And most recruits for the WAACS come from the smaller towns, he added.

The two men began assisting Lieut. Rose Smothers in her recruiting area covering 52 counties to help fill the quota of WAACS.

Houston Shipyards Set Building Record

The Houston Shipbuilding corporation holds first place among gulf shipyards for 1942 as a result of delivering 32 Liberty type cargo vessels with a total deadweight tonnage of 345,000 tons.

The record established by the Houston concern was disclosed yesterday by Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, head of the United States maritime commission.

Hughes Presides At Baptist Revival

A Baptist revival, conducted by Rev. Hughes of Gruver, is now in progress in Spearman at the Baptist Church. The public is invited to attend the sermons delivered by Rev. Hughes.

The evening services begin at 7:45 with the day service beginning at 3 p. m. lasting until 4 p. m. Rev. Mathew Doyle is assisting Rev. Hughes with the meeting.

The revival started last week. All continue through this week.

Hoarders, Scare Buyers Don't Exist In Spearman

Customers may swoop down on the canned food or shoe supply in other cities, but not in Spearman.

After a checkup on hardware, grocery and dry goods stores, it was discovered that there is very little hoarding or "scare" buying in Hansford county.

Biggest sales to the so called Spearman hoarder occurred in the sale of razor blades, one Spearman drug store said. That began three months ago, when customers crowding stores practically depleted razor supply. "And they were merely buying them to keep hoarders from buying them," the owner said. "They don't realize that they are practicing the hoarding theory themselves."

Ice Cream Next The next "scare" buy, the drug-gist predicted, would take place with ice cream, recently "scare" shopping has died on cigars, candy, and chewing gum.

Grocers in Spearman have not noticed a large increase in normal sale of food goods. Occasionally a customer buys more canned goods than they normally buy. With it sale of shoes, there has been surplus buying.

Hardware merchants have noticed the buying of articles not customarily purchased by customers. The purchasers usually buy such articles thinking that it will be impossible to buy such in the future.

Most merchants all agreed that the "scare" hoarding buying began when priorities first became the vogue after Pearl Harbor, "scarcities" mounted.

Shoe Scarcity Looming In other cities merchants report possible shoe shortages as a result of the "scare" buying. Rumor is afloat that the supply of shoes not sufficient to meet the present need.

Customers thinking of dismal days with shoes, rush to the nearest shoemaker and stock up with shoes all seasons. The same is true with canned goods, OPA auditors report. Customers more than they would ordinarily, not realizing that they at present the exact number of goods on hand when the point rationing be-

Oil Goes Through First Section Of Pipeline

Oil moved today through the Texas-to-Illinois pipeline while work was underway to repair and complete a section recently washed out by Mississippi flood waters.

Actual delivery of the first oil at the Norris City, Ill., terminal must await completion of the section crossing the Mississippi, Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes said yesterday.

"By pumping oil into the lower section of the pipeline while the break is being repaired," Ickes added, "we shall be able to save much of the time lost through damage."

The line-filling operation, he said, would proceed as fast as block gates could be installed ahead of the stream.

Despite delay occasioned by crossing the river, Ickes declared, additional plumbing and pipeline equipment can be installed on schedule and first deliveries at Norris City "may still be possible on or about February 1."

At the start the 24-inch pipeline is expected to deliver about 90,000 barrels of oil a day and to carry its capacity load of 300,000 barrels of crude or fuel oils daily in March, making possible a net increase of 120,000 barrels daily in East coast deliveries.

Pass The New Editions

Again we are invited to give books to help American soldiers, marines, coast guardsmen and merchant seamen improve and distract their minds in such leisure as the winning of the war may leave for them.

From Jan. 5 to March 5, a second Victory Book Campaign will be waged. But this time a backlog having been built in 1942, emphasis will be on quality rather than quantity.

The men in uniform—five million now and almost twice as many as before another New Year—are going to need a lot of books. But in the words of Corp. John Ripley Forbes, librarian for Napier Air Field at Dothan, Ala.:

"After all, you can't expect a husky young soldier headed for combat duty to take a feverish interest in the State Papers of Grover Cleveland, the 'Ladies' Guide to Home Needlework,' or a dogeared arithmetic of the vintage of 1904."

In other words, this is not a substitute for tossing unwanted books into the trash can. This is a contribution to the morale of men who are offering their lives and are suffering privations if not bitter hardships. It is an insult to such men to donate only books as we want to clear off the shelves.

They want the same best-sellers we like to read at home; recent fiction and worthwhile non-fiction—say not more than 10 years old; technical books that are really useful—men's books published since 1935.

The most popular offerings, reports Corporal Forbes (who in civilian life was a museum director and a novice in this field) are "popular westerns, weird and thrilling murder mysteries, light fiction, late novels, technical books of all kinds and the latest current event material."

The campaign was requested by the Army and the Navy and is sponsored jointly by the American Library Association, the American Red Cross and the United States Organizations.

Book donations are to be accumulated at every library in the country. Thence they will be distributed to camp and naval base and ship libraries, to USO centers and Merchant Marine libraries.

Don't worry about an oversupply. Any American Legionnaire will tell you how far from too many books the camp libraries had in World War I.

Just give, collect, prod your friends, in hope that the supply may be made somewhere near enough to satisfy the pressing demand.

Bureaucracy

Premier John Bracken of Manitoba, new leader of the Canadian Progressive Conservative Party, is disturbed about growing bureaucracy in the neighborly dominion. Without passing upon the validity of his worry, here's his company for him in misery:

Before the war Canada had 75,000 Dominion government employes. In November there were 120,000, an increase of 60 per cent and a current average of one federal employe to every 100 Canadians.

When the American defense program began we had 1,011,066 executive employes. Now we have approximately 3,000,000, an increase of roundly 200 per cent and a current average of about one federal employe to every 44 Americans.

More than twice the burden, about five times the rate of increase.

Cost Plus

The House Merchant Marine Committee's report on the South Portland (Me.) Shipbuilding Corp.'s financial operations makes interesting reading, particularly for those who always have been suspicious of the cost-plus type of war contract.

The company invested $250,000 of its owner's capital. Its criticized performance has entitled it only to minimum fees. Thus far the owners already have taken in $500,000, or twice their investment.

After all penalties have been deducted, when the contract is complete, the committee estimates minimum profits at $5,040,000, or twenty times the investment.

Cheer up! It's a common mistake to write 1942 instead of 1943.

There are now enough laws to cover a lot of things on which people used to swear off.

Right after the first of the month it's nice to move into a settlement of bills.

Oslo News

Morning worship at Oslo Lutheran church next Sunday, Jan 10, 1st Sunday after Epiphany, will begin at 11:30 a. m. Sermon Text Mark 10:13-16. The Sunday School will begin at 10:30 a. m. Next Sunday will be a good time to join the Bible class for adults as the class begins the study of the First Epistle of Peter. The confirmation class will meet at the parsonage at 10:00 a. m. on Saturday.

The Ladies Aid of the Oslo church met at the Emil Knutson home last Thursday afternoon. This was the Christmas meeting and brief messages appropriate for Christmas were presented and Christmas songs were sung. Mrs. Emil Knutson, Mrs. Gordon Steidje, and Mrs. Jack Christofferson gave the messages. Hostess, Mrs. Emil Knutson, served a delicious lunch, the feature of which was a Norwegian bread known as "flat bread." The next meeting, in January, will be the annual business meeting of the society.

Kathryn Bernice, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Sogn, was baptized at the morning service of the Oslo church last Sunday. The sponsors were, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Christofferson and Selma and Doris Dahl.

We are glad to see that Miss Selma Dahl and Miss TeBeest, both of whom had to submit to surgical care during the Christmas holidays, are now nearly fully recovered. Miss Dahl began her work as a stenographer in the Hansford county AAA office at Spearman last Monday.

The Christmas service at the Oslo Lutheran church on the evening of Christmas day was enjoyed by the large crowd which attended. The committee on arrangements were unable to secure as large a tree as usual this year, but by placing the smaller tree in a more prominent place a very good effect was secured. Because of the shortage of Christmas candy, this delicacy was not found in the Christmas treat given to each one in attendance. Nevertheless each one received a well filled package.

We know that this paper goes to some of the boys (and girls) in the service. We therefore wish through this paper to thank them for the Christmas greetings they sent to the writer of these items. We hope to find time to write each one a personal letter. Perhaps we at home should find time to write each one a personal letter. Perhaps we at home should see to it that everyone in the service receives his local paper each week. Ole Knutson and Miss Elsie Thompson visited with Joseph and Annie Knutson last Saturday. They called at the parsonage that same afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rob Alexander and Bobby returned to their home here last Thursday after a visit of a few days with relatives at Stratford, Texas.

The pupils of Miss Bennet of Gruver, Texas, nearly forty in number, gave a recital at the Gruver school on Friday of last week. Those from here who took part were, Alma Dahl, Leona, Louise, Amy and David Knutson, and Amelia Johnson. Several from here attended the recital. They report that the young piano players did well.

Pupils from here who attended the Gruver school went back after the Christmas vacation on Monday of last week. The Oslo school had school only one day last week because the teacher, Pastor Hjortholm, was hindered by illness and the pressure of other duties. The school continued this week.

We, The Women

By RUTH MILLETT

Some of Uncle Sam's nieces as well as nephews may get a chance at a government-financed college education. Such a policy is under discussion, according to Paul V. McNutt, Manpower Commissioner.

It will be too bad if the plan doesn't go through, because the country needs doctors, scientists, and engineers. It also needs the greater part of its young men in actual combat service. So training girls for many of the professional jobs that need to be done right here would seem to be a sensible plan.

And as far as the girls are concerned—they really deserve a chance at free college educations, if such things are to be handed out during the war.

For women are not only proving their ability to do men's work capably, they are proving their willingness to take on all kinds of hard, unpleasant work. If they are willing to go into factories to work side by side with men, then those who are capable of taking professional training should be given a chance to get it along with men.

THEN THERE'S THE MONEY

And looking at the question from the point of view of Mama and Papa who pay the taxes—it certainly wouldn't be fair for the government to invite high I. Q. Willie Jones to take a medical education at the government's expense and leave the parents of high I. Q. Susie Smith to foot the bills for their daughter's medical education.

No, if women are going to be expected to work side by side with men to win this war—and they are expected to do just that—then there ought to be no discrimination when it comes to opportunities.

If the government is willing to train women for the lowly jobs, it ought also to train them for the high ones. And it looks as though it may do just that.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

- 1. If you have a friend with a small baby should you try not to telephone her at the time of day when she is likely to be busy with the baby's bath?
2. When shown a new baby is it necessary to find some resemblance between it and its parents?
3. Is it a good idea to ask to be allowed to hold a tiny baby?
4. Does it really matter whether the gift you send a baby is pink or blue?
5. Should the thank-you note a mother writes for gifts sent her baby be written in baby talk and have the baby's name signed to them?

What would you do if— You are calling on a new mother who is still in the hospital. (a) Talk about how much the baby will change her life, and how she had better take it easy while she has a chance? (b) Mention only the happy side of having children?

- Answers
1. Yes.
2. Not necessary, but it usually pleases the parents if you can find a resemblance.
3. No.
4. No.
5. No.

New Congress Convenes Today With Warning To 'Bureaucrats,' Waste

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY
The 78th congress of a nation of free people convenes today, consecrated to victory at arms to preserve that freedom, but sharply divided on home front policy and uncertain of the scope and detail of the peace to follow the war. . .

leader, Joseph W. Martin, jr., of Massachusetts. The bald, soft-spoken, business-like Rayburn appeared certain to retain the chair, as the democrats still hold 222 house seats to 208 for the republicans. . .

The first session opens on a note of self-assertion, with House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) reportedly telling a democratic caucus that congress no longer would yield to "bureaucrats" and that the congress "must reassert itself." . .

Many democrats hustled to instill unity in their ranks. Some regarded Rayburn's reported remarks about "bureaucrats" as directed to that end. . .

And while harmony in the administration party hung in the balance, republicans likewise blasted at "bureaucracy" and "waste," and called for many changes in wartime government operations. . .

Rayburn's remarks were described by some who heard him as "a declaration of independence" for congress, and notice that the speaker would prevent legislation being put on his desk by bureau chiefs without prior conferences with the house leadership and the proper committees. . .

President Roosevelt, in an address that may vie in importance with his message asking war on the Axis, will appear before a joint session of the senate and house tomorrow to report on the state of the union. . .

He was quoted as declaring to the caucus: "department heads may come and go, but congress will live on long after their departure." . .

Some leaders expect him to deal not only with the progress of the conflict, and domestic, but to give some clue to his ideas on the peace to follow, in the writing of which this congress may take a place in world history. . .

He was quoted as declaring to the caucus: "department heads may come and go, but congress will live on long after their departure." . .

Congressional leaders were expected to confer with Mr. Roosevelt today on the text of his message, and it was understood some would urge him to skip any proposals for social security revision or expansion, contending that such propositions in wartime might cause "an unnecessary fight that might disrupt the entire congressional program." . .

Third Grade News
Everyone in the third grade was really glad to get back after the were her son, Joe, from an army now.

After reading about trees in our reader, Elaine Daily brought some twigs of cedar, pine and blue spruce.

Larry Overton and Ronald Hilton found a wasp's nest and brought it to school. We enjoyed looking at it and feeling how light it was.

We had three visitors this week. Miss Beuna Vernon, Mrs. Geo. Buzzard and Mrs. T. B. Tower.

First Grade News
Our Christmas party was lots of fun. Earl Archer brought our tree. We thank our room mothers for the nice treat.
All of the first grade, except one are back in school after their Christmas vacation. Ronnie Jessup is still visiting his mother in Enid, Oklahoma.
Several new dollies visited school last week.

Sixth Grade News
The sixth grade pupils are back in school after a grand vacation of one week. We had a good time at our Christmas tree. The following mothers visited our room:
Mrs. Chas Tucker, and Sandra Lee; Mrs. Clyde Gaiter and Clydean; Mrs. R. E. Lee; Mrs. F. K. Banister and R. C.; Mrs. A. D. Reed; Mrs. Garrett Allen; Mrs. Cecil Crawford and Michael.

Furious Farewell
"Were you fired with enthusiasm when you tackled your first job?"
"Was I! I never saw a man so glad to get rid of me in my life."
Sophomore News

Rosanne Porter
On Monday night, the 28th of December, a party was held in honor of Pat Dacus, who was visiting us during the Christmas holidays.
Jean Hill was the hostess of a

New Year's eve party. Both of the social events brought a good time.
Mid-term exams next week!

Sour Notes
Pat Hutton

A new piece, 'As America Sings' has come in, and the band is hard at work on it for the next Victory concert. There is a narrator who tells a story and the bands illustrate the story with music. The history of the United States is traced through its songs.

Two more pieces of music came in, a baritone solo accompanied by the band. One of these will be played at the Victory concert.

Mr. Misner has organized some of the members of the band into an orchestra. The orchestra has quite a few popular pieces and will make its first public appearance soon.

Senior News

It is time for us to be studying as we have never studied before. Next week will be our mid-term tests. Cramming doesn't do the job of learning as you go along but at least it will beat nothing at all, won't it?

The Seniors in Economics have written a thousand word theme on "Reconstruction period after World War II". It started us to thinking, but I am afraid it will take greater minds than our to figure such a problem.

Mrs. Earl Church was seen shopping in Spearman the past week . . .

The other day as I was hauling a load of wheat to town I meet an old fashioned looking hobo walking down the road, he was awful looking and I worried for fear I would have tire trouble on my way home, just about where the old man would be walking. He had long whiskers, his hair was several inches long and both his whiskers and beard were matted with dirt, his face was black with dirt, his clothes were filthy, and he carried a small bundle on the end of a stick over his shoulder, his eyes were dark and as he stared at me it seemed his eyes were bulged, I guess because of the white of his eyes being framed with so much dirt . . . Going on along the road I wondered who he was, and where he was from, and how long it had been since he had had a bath, and just what caused him to ever take to be a bum, if he was a fugitive, if he had some time in life had a great misfortune, dozens of things passed through my mind, and it was almost impossible to think that he had ever been some mother's darling little baby, that he had been loved, that some one had sung sleepy time lullabies, and told him nursery rhymes, while they held his little clean soft body in their arms to lay him down in a downy bed to sleep the peaceful sleep of a loved and protected baby child . . .

Lt. Lon Bauerfiend of Fort Sill, Oklahoma was a guest of his father and mother-in-law Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. John Sim and to take Mrs. Bauerfiend back with him to make her home in the fort . . .

WHAT AN $18.75 WAR BOND WILL BUY

Most people don't know it, but the smallest of America's War Bonds will buy enough fuel oil to enable one of our destroyers to cruise 37 miles in search of the Nazi submarines. Those 37 miles may be the ones that count. They may save an American merchant ship and its crew.

Or $18.75 will just about buy an 81 millimeter trench mortar shell to send to our troops in Northern Ireland, or to help General MacArthur blast the Japs out of some fortified position in the Far East.

Or maybe you'd rather have three sharp new bayonets for your $18.75, bayonets that will some day determine whether our enemies can take it in a hand-to-hand scrap.

Or would you prefer ten rounds of anti-aircraft fire to topple enemy raiders from the clouds? Ten rounds, if properly placed, will bring down the biggest Jap bomber that flies. Isn't it good to know that our army and navy buy ten more of these anti-aircraft shells every time you buy an $18.75 War Bond?

All this, and security too—for your family after the war

BUT these weapons to put dread in our enemies are only a part of what the smallest War Bond will buy.

For America doesn't ask you to give your money—even to such a cause as the survival of civilization.

It asks you instead to lend it—at a generous interest rate, an interest rate greater than any bank in the country can get on the Government bonds it buys.

Ten years from today the Government will return for your $18.75 War Bond $25 in cash. Or you can get your money back at any time, after 60 days from the purchase date.

And what will that $25 mean 10 years from now—that $25 and the proceeds from other bonds that you and many others have bought?

For all of us collectively it will mean security from dreaded inflation. If Americans pull together now, we can, after the war, definitely avoid that fearful spectre.

And for you and your family? Well, here is just a suggestion. You may wonder what this picture of a little girl is doing in an advertisement filled with guns and bayonets. This little girl is nine. Ten years from today your $25 could look as big as a million dollars to her.

For all this, your country asks that you lend 10 percent of your salary—that everyone, every pay day, put this amount into War Bonds. Can you be counted on to do your part?
