The GOLDEN RULES of Food Rationing - 1. Share your food with the fighters, protecting your home. 2. Don't hoard anything. Accept rationing cheerfully—help make it work. 3. Learn to use your ration book right. Use the 8 and 5 point stamps in settlement when possible, reserving the 1 and 2 point stamps for low point articles. Your storekeeper cannot give you "change" in stamps. 4. Use your point stamps wisely—don't run short of stamps by buying "high point" foods where "low point" foods will do. Buy only what you need. 5. Plan your family's diet carefully—plan menus ahead for a week or a month—see that everyone gets enough nourishment. 6. Eat fresh fruits and vegetables instead of canned, bottled and frozen. Use the more plentiful non-rationed foods whenever you can. 7. Lighten congestion in the stores—shorten the waiting line at the cash register, by shopping early in the day and early in the week. 8. Don't complain if your favorite food is all gone. Select your next choice and enjoy it. This is war. 9. Plant a Victory Garden—all you can care for. 10. Do all the home canning possible, according to your family's needs. J. M. CATES & SON GROCERY AND MARKET

Nelson B. Crosby (Continued From PAGE ONE) lington, Mass., March 11, carried the following story about Crosby's death and funeral: The First Baptist church was crowded Tuesday afternoon, March 9, with those who had gathered there to pay last honors to Representative Nelson B. Crosby, who died suddenly last Saturday, March 6. Flowers were banked in the chancel and along the sides of the church, tokens from those who thus showed their affection and respect for the man who had so long and so well served Arlington and the state. Among those present were Governor Saltonstall, members of the legislature, representatives of the organizations to which Mr. Crosby had belonged, past and present town officials and the employees on his farm. Was Church Leader Dr. Grady D. Feagan, minister of the church, who conducted the services, said that four generations of the Crosby family had been active in the church. Mr. Crosby having served as treasurer of the Sunday School and member of the Standing Committee. His position in the legislature, he said, had been regarded by Mr. Crosby as a sacred trust and he had acted fairly and kindly on all issues. In closing he read a poem written by Town Clerk Earl Ryder in tribute to Mr. Crosby. At the organ was the church organist, Harvey W. Davies. Dorothy and Gertrude Mellen sang two duets, "He Walks with Me and He Talks with Me", and "Jesus Is Calling". Honorary bearers were Representatives Hollis M. Gott and Joseph A. Milano, Frederick W. Hill, Chairman Harold M. Estabrook of the Board of Selectmen, Arthur W. Sampson and William P. Dale. Ushers were Ralph J. Hunt, Thelton Phinney, William F. Patterson, and J. Clark Wyman. Burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery. Was Representative Mr. Crosby, who was serving his seventh term as representative from the 28th Middlesex district, was born in Arlington, the son of John S. and Sarah Blake Crosby and moved to Hansford, Texas, in 1894 where he engaged in the cattle business. He was judge of Hansford County, Texas, from 1902 to 1904. Returning to Arlington in 1908, he engaged in market gardening with his father and brother, J. Howell Crosby. Active in political and civil affairs, he was elected selectman, serving from 1922 to 1928 and in 1930 was elected to the legislature. He was a member of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce, Boston Market Gardeners association and the Modern Woodmen of America. Leaves Five Children He leaves his widow, Cora T. Crosby, and four daughters, Mrs. Nelson Jost, Needham; Mrs. S. M. Wardwell, La Grange, Ill.; Mrs. E. Harlow, Pelham, N. Y., and Miss S. Ethel Crosby, Arlington, and one son, John S. Crosby, of Arlington. Statement of the Hon. Rudolph F. King, Speaker of the House of Representatives on the Death of the Late Hon. Nelson B. Crosby "I was deeply grieved to learn of the sudden death of my colleague and my friend, Nelson B. Crosby of Arlington. He has given many years of faithful service to the Commonwealth, to his own town of Arlington, to Middlesex County, and to the entire Metropolitan District. In the legislature, he served on the committee on Metropolitan Affairs for over eight years and this year I had been reported that they have used poison gas against the Chinese and if this is the truth they should be given a little dose of the same thing as we go along there is no other way to remove so many Japs at so little cost. The farmer is making himself felt in congress through his representatives and the bill to include cost of labor in computing parity should be passed in a few days. This will not work for a runaway market but it will increase the amount of loan that will be available on farm crops and in that way have a tendency to raise the bottom prices.

The cattle are being moved off the wheat and the green bugs are moving in. Just as this is being written it is raining in Spearman; how much moisture we will have is not known yet but you can rest assured any amount of wet weather will help the little green-bug as he thrives on dark, cloudy days. Remember, if the green bug does not get the wheat, we can still look forward to losing the crop by rust, worms and hail.

At last reports the limit on salaries of $25,000 or over is about to be repealed. If it is finally done, then the farmers who lose their crops can get one of those jobs and with his ration books he could manage to keep from starving until the right time arrives to put out another crop. We are being told that after the war we are all to have good wages, much leisure and plenty of amusement. These things sound plenty fine and stir us with a desire to see the war over at once. Then, we wonder if all this is not being put out to convince us that some one should be elected for a fourth term. Yours, R. V. Converse

Gene Howe Buys $80,000 Ranch in Hemphill County

Canadian Record: The sale of one of the large ranches in Hemphill County is announced this week by Laurin Hardage, Canadian, one of three administrators for the estate of his father, the late W. H. Hardage. This deal is reported to involve 6,180 acres at $13 an acre, for a total sum of approximately $80,000. Gene Howe, Amarillo, owner of the Big Bull ranch, is the purchaser. The land sold lies between the J. C. Studer and Sons' Anvil Park ranch, on the west, and the Lake Marvin tract, on the east. It is land W. H. Hardage purchased in 1909 from the late Vas Stickley. Besides Laurin Hardage, two other administrators of the estate are Fred Hardage, and Mrs. Willie Breikeutz, both of Glazier. W. H. Hardage at one time owned the Oasis ranch, which he purchased in the early years of the present century, when he came to this section of the Panhandle from Oklahoma. Laurin Hardage says the land sold to Mr. Howe has three windmills, plenty of running water, lakes and between 500 and 600 acres of meadow along the Canadian river. There is a two-room camp house on the ranch. The old headquarters house was destroyed by fire two years ago. It is understood Mr. Howe expects to improve the ranch considerably. With possession of the Hardage ranch, Mr. Howe will own close to 19 sections in Hemphill County.

Now that the Japs have been informed by both the United States and Great Britain that they come after Germany it will not be hard for them to prepare a reception for our boys, as it looks like they will have plenty of time. The teachers are reviving from their trip to Amarillo for the teachers meeting. All seem to have enjoyed the meeting.

Permits Required For Slaughterers And Stock Agents

Hansford county farmers who slaughter meat for sale were urged this week to obtain their slaughter permits before Thursday, April 1.

Individual permits will be issued by the county USDA war board at the local AAA office, F. R. Wallin, board chairman, said.

Under the new meat management program, announced several days ago by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, any person who slaughters animals for the delivery of meat must, in all instances, obtain a permit to slaughter. Farmers who slaughter animals only for home use need not obtain permits, but a permit is required if they deliver any of the meat to others. All slaughterers also must keep complete records of all livestock slaughtered.

The stamping of all meat is designed specifically to help stamp out the black market of meat. With every wholesale cut of meat sold in the retail market having a slaughter permit number plainly stamped on it, no illegally slaughtered wholesale cuts can be placed in the butchers' coolers or showcases without being spotted immediately.

If black market operators can be kept from selling meat, then the only competition for livestock will be between legitimate slaughterers who sell meat within their price ceilings for civilian use, and who are helping to fill the government's military needs for meat.

Wallin also explained that anyone who buys and sells cattle, hogs and sheep and keeps them for less than 30 days is considered a dealer and is required to obtain a permit from the county war board. He also is required to keep a complete record of his livestock purchases and sales, including the date he bought meat animals, their weight, the prices paid for them, to whom he sold them, and the price received. Farmers are not required to obtain dealer permits but they are asked to keep records of their purchases and sales.

By RUTH MILLETT

"You can't refuse a soldier ANYTHING."

That—says a mother who recently spent a week-end in New York, going to plays and nightclubs—was the philosophy she heard expressed one way or another everywhere she went.

A beautiful girl singing with an orchestra shrugs her shoulders and goes through a sexy routine while she sings to the men in uniform and their young dates, "You can't refuse a soldier anything."

Maxwell Anderson's popular play, "The Eve of St. Mark," points out more gently the same philosophy, to an audience filled with service men and their girls.

On every side there is talk about how much we owe our soldiers, and how much they must grab their happiness now.

This mother wonders how we can feed that kind of philosophy to our young girls, and then blame them if they take us at our word—if they leave the nightclubs and plays where they go with their men on leave and head straight for a hotel room—and the happiness they are told may never be theirs if they don't snatch it now.

"LIVE FOR TODAY"

Maybe the older folks who write the plays, write the song hits, dream up the sophisticated musicals had better take a little more seriously the effect their words have on the youngsters who call themselves "V-Girls."

Maybe before they write a hit they ought to think: "What effect will this have on the kids in the third row—me in uniform, and both of them in love?"

"Will it help them justify a 'live for today' philosophy? Will it be a green go ahead signal—when they might pay attention to a yellow caution light?"

If popular plays, popular songs, popular attitudes give young folks the idea that "you can't refuse a soldier anything"—they aren't going to be refused. And who's to blame—the old who advance the philosophy or the young who accept it?

Today On The Home Front

Housekeeping this week is a preview of what things are going to be like starting next week under meat - cheese - butter-cooking fats rationing.

Except for those who had a little more butter on hand than usual, the stop-sales order on butter and cooking fats will make cooking this week generally more of a problem than it will be later.

People we talked to yesterday seemed to think this week would see:

1. A rush to cookbooks—to find recipes that won't take so much butter, and ideas for "stretching" meat.
2. A demand for big steaks—for a "last fling."
3. A tendency of cheese-and-crackers and cheese-toastwich fans to gorge themselves—especially in view of the present butter "freeze."
4. A hesitant but noticeable approach to the subject of less familiar meats.

Out test-interviews also turned up these assorted points of view:

The ration program probably will cause a change of menu for those who like a substantial breakfast—the flapjacks and sausage, fried eggs and bacon fans and those who like gobs of butter on breakfast toast, along with their allotted ration of coffee. Or else they'll have to eat more meatless, cheeseless dinners.

The demand for peanut butter, apple butter and preserves, to spread on bread instead of butter, will increase.

Chicken will be in great demand.

There may be a trend to creamed foods on toast.

It'll be strictly O. K. with the etiquette-dictators or dunk your bread in gravy (in lieu of butter).

House Concurs With Senate On New Bank Bill

House concurrence in senate amendments today sent to the governor's desk a bill codifying the state's banking laws and creating a state finance commission.

The nine-member commission, to be appointed by the governor, would appoint the state banking commissioner. The banking commissioner is now an appointee of the governor.

Sponsors of the new legislation said it was aimed at giving more continuity to the administration of banking laws. The banking commissioner appointed by the finance commission would serve until the board ordered his removal or until he resigned. Under present law the commissioner serves a two year term.

Draft Described As Weapon To Hold Wages At Low Level

The Austin-Wadsworth bill to draft civilians into war production jobs was described by the president of the CIO's largest affiliate today as "a weapon forged by and for employers who wish to keep wages at depression levels."

Appearing before the senate military committee, R. J. Thomas, chief of the United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers, declared that the chief bottleneck to a maximum war effort is lack of a national production program.

"In instance after instance where manpower shortages have been blamed for production shortcomings, as in the case of the airplane industry," he testified, "closer examination has revealed defects in production planning."

"It appears to me that this measure is a weapon forged by and for employers who wish to avoid unnecessary wage adjustments, who wish to keep wages at depression levels by freezing sub-standard labor on farms, in the forests and in the factories. They want to do this even if it is done at the expense of the production effort."

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, previously has opposed the legislation as calling for "involuntary servitude."

FDR's Farm Price Structure Hit

A two-front congressional assault on the administration's farm price structure gathered momentum today, raising prospects of an early showdown with the White House over anti-inflation.

A house-approved bill to include all labor costs in computing farm price ceilings and a senate-passed measure prohibiting deductions of government benefit payments in determining maximum allowable prices set the stage for action.

Predicting final legislative action on both proposals before the weekend recess, Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) told reporters President Roosevelt "might erase some of the feeling among farmers that this administration is antagonistic toward them by giving both bills his approval."

Both he and Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) asserted an effort would be made to override any veto of either measure.

Sound Waves Underwater Kill Swimmers

—Sound waves which travel underwater at the speed of four-fifths of a mile a second, four times faster than sound in air, are giving navy doctors a new kind of injury to care for.

The sound waves come from depth bombs or any other heavy underwater explosions. The peculiar abdominal injuries they cause were described to the American College of Surgeons war meeting here by Capt. Camille M. Shaar, chief of the surgical service of the U. S. navy hospital, Philadelphia.

These waves are invisible. They do not compress the water. They travel by one particle bumping the next, which in turn passes the bump along to a third particle.

This seemingly tiny agitation goes faster than a rifle bullet at muzzle velocity, and it kills anyone in the water within about 80 feet.

The wave still causes injury and occasional death up to 150 feet from the explosion. A few victims who died show that the wave damages masses of tiny blood vessels in abdomens, reduces the blood supply to viscera, and causes a visceral stravation that produces small ulcers. These may be fatal by causing perforations.

THE WAR TODAY

Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown's disclosure that court actions were started against 1,025 individuals in a drive against illegal operators in meat between January 15 and March 11, gives us fair warning that one of the grave problems which we may have to face shortly on our home front will be that scourge of countries in the war zone—the black market.
