

Our Water Problem

District Could Not Issue Bonds Until The Cities Approve

(This is the fourth in a series of articles analyzing the proposed Colorado River Municipal Water District which appears to be the most important vote left open toward creation of a future water supply for Big Spring. Citizens will vote next Tuesday on the creation of this district, and these articles are intended for the voters' information. Others will appear in this space the remainder of the week.)

If voters of Big Spring and Odessa confirm the Colorado Municipal Water District on July 12, they will reserve for themselves the final say on tax supported bonds and contracts between cities and the district.

This is one of the salient and clear prohibitions of the act under which the CRMWD was created by the legislature, subject to approval of the two member cities.

The district is granted the power to issue bonds supported wholly or in part by ad valorem taxes on property within the district confines. But it is a limited—a closely controlled power.

There is only one manner in which this may be done. Either upon its own initiative or in response to petitions, the district could propose the issuance of tax supported bonds. Each city would have to approve before the bonds could be issued. If either said "no," then the bonds could not be issued. Here is what the act says:

"No bonds payable wholly or partially from ad valorem taxes (except refunding bonds) shall be issued unless authorized by an election at which only the qualified voters who reside in the district and who own taxable property therein and who have duly rendered the same for taxation and unless a majority of the votes cast in each city contained in the district is in favor of the issuance of the bonds."

This does not include revenue bonds (paid solely out of proceeds from sale of water and other services), which may be issued without an election.

A companion act passed by the legislature and signed by the Governor prevents the district from coming in at the back door via the revenue bond route. This act permits the district to contract with water districts in matters of supplies and facilities, just as the district act permits the district to contract with cities.

The power vested in cities is not unlimited. The law says specifically:

"No city shall make any contract authorized by this act, unless authorized by a majority vote in an election held in such city."

Thus, as in the matter of bonds wholly or partially supported by ad valorem taxes, the people have the final say at the polls on the matter of contracts between the city and the district.

There are some other limitations worthy of note. One is in regard to the levying of ad valorem taxes for operation of the district. This power cannot be granted even by an election. White taxes could be levied, upon approval, for bond purposes, they could never be levied for operation of the district.

The CRMWD is within the laws for a water control and improvement district, but only the provisions of this general law specifically set out in the CRMWD act are applicable to the district. It is possible for the district to establish recreational facilities. Here again there is a definite limitation. No money received from taxation or from bonds payable wholly or partially from taxation shall be used for this purpose.

Fundamental limitation, however, is that the district can't function unless and until confirmed by a majority of propertied voters in the two member cities. This is the first district decision voters will make when they go to the polls on July 12.

TREASON TRIAL OPENS — Iva Ikuko Toguri D'Aquino, (Tokyo Rose), Japanese-American, is escorted down a corridor in the Federal building in San Francisco, Calif., by U. S. Deputy Marshal Herbert Cole, prior to the opening of her trial on charges of treason. She was one of six English-speaking Japanese on Radio Tokyo's wartime "Zero Hour." (AP Wirephoto).

WON'T DEMAND DEATH

U. S. Opens Case Against Tokyo Rose

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6. (AP)—The government today opens its fight to convict Iva Toguri (Tokyo Rose) D'Aquino of wartime treason—but will not demand the death penalty. Speedy selection of an all-white jury of six men and six women yesterday cleared the way for opening statements, and probably some preliminary testimony, today.

The statement that the government will not ask death came from Prosecutor Tom de Wolfe in reply to a reporter's question. The minimum penalty upon conviction would be five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The defendant, born in Los Angeles 33 years ago on July 4, is charged with eight acts of treason. The government charged that, as Tokyo Rose, she hoped to demoralize and discourage Allied military men with her broadcast from Radio Tokyo.

The government used only seven jury challenges. Asked if the talesmen were challenged because they were Negroes, De Wolfe said, "no, we were not motivated by that. There were many reasons."

The government also ruled out one Chinese as an alternate juror. The defense used nine challenges. Much testimony of a preliminary nature was expected before the government presents recordings of Radio Tokyo broadcasts.

Dollar Buying Ban Imposed By Great Britain

Pound Isn't Going To Be Devalued, Says Economic Chief

LONDON, July 6. (AP)—Sir Stafford Cripps today banned further commitments for purchases in the dollar area except where "urgent national interest" is proved. He reported the sterling area's reserves are down to $1,624,000,000 after dropping radically in the last six months—but he said Britain has "not the slightest intention of devaluing the pound."

Existing contracts for dollar area purchases will stay in force, Cripps told the House of Commons, but the treasury will permit further spending only "where a clear case of urgent national interest is established."

Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer and Britain's economic chief, declared Britain must reduce the price of her products to encourage exports. He said this can be done through efficiency of production and "we have no desire to see wages cut."

The "standstill" in dollar buying which Cripps ordered will continue at least until September. By then ERP funds for the coming year will be distributed, and a new scheme of payments among European nations will be in effect.

"We shall get out a new important program in the light of circumstances which then exist," Cripps said.

The chancellor said he and John W. Snyder, U. S. Secretary of the Treasury, will discuss "the whole matter" this week end in conferences here, Canada, which like the United States is a dollar country, will be represented at the talks. Then next Wednesday the finance ministers of the British dominions will meet with Cripps to give their views.

The sterling area consists of all British countries except Canada and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and also Burma, Iceland and Iraq. Previously, the dangerpoint of sterling reserves has been considered as around $2 billion.

Payment Of Bills Is Authorized By Local Polio Group

Executive committee of the Howard County chapter of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation authorized payment of bills totalling approximately $500 and heard reports on local polio cases Tuesday afternoon.

Howard county's cases have not yet approached epidemic classification, it was observed. Although 10 cases have been diagnosed and treated in local hospitals, half of them developed elsewhere, C. S. Blomfield, chairman of the chapter, and Ester Tramm, Public Health Supervisor, advised.

Dr. F. E. Sadler, health unit director, reviewing briefly the progress that has been made by the medical profession and by scientists in combatting the disease. He urged residents to take proper action to eliminate mosquitoes, known carriers of the polio virus.

When fogging machines are used by the city, too many residents depend upon it and neglect spraying in their homes. The fogging machine provides excellent control of flies along the streets and alleys, but residents must apply insecticides themselves in their houses and in confined areas of their property if the program is to be effective, Dr. Sadler reminded.

The executive committee voted unanimously to forward a letter of appreciation to Neel's Transfer and Storage Co. for transportation services furnished the chapter without charge. The transfer company carried Big Spring's iron lung to San Angelo in response to an emergency call.

Artificial Cold Wave Hits Solons

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—Congressional leaders hoping that Congress will adjourn before long found an unexpected ally today in the form of an artificial cold wave. As far as the House of Representatives is concerned, it might be a "freeze out" before long.

The air conditioning system is working too well. Members in the rear of the Caucus Room which is serving as a House chamber during Capitol repairs felt the "cold wave" more than others. The huge ducts through which the cooled air is blown into the chamber enter from the back of the room and the temperature there is considerably lower than up front.

Apparently there is no relief in sight. Experts explained that if the air conditioning is adjusted to make it less frigid in the rear of the chamber it will be too warm up front.

"Rep. Ellsworth (R-Ore.) summed up his reactions: 'Let's go home.'"

Final Adjournment Of 51st Is Delayed

SENATE MEETS IN TEMPORARY CHAMBER — The United States Senate met in their temporary quarters in the old Supreme Court Chamber on the ground floor of the Capitol. Vice President Alben W. Barkley presides from raised desk at right. Sen. Tom Connally (D-Tex.) (white suit) stands at desk in center urging prompt ratification of the North Atlantic Pact. VANDENBERG IN PLEA FOR PACT

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—Sen. Vandenberg of Michigan today asked the Senate to ratify the North Atlantic Pact as a shield for free men against "embattled, greedy Communism."

He opened the second day of debate on the 13-nation alliance with the double-barreled statement that (1) Communism is the sole threat to world peace and (2) its final target is the United States.

The treaty will be warning to would-be conquerors, Vandenberg said, that 300 million people will resist aggression.

As Republican leader in foreign affairs, he added the weight of his prestige to that of Sen. Connally (D-Tex.) who led off in the debate yesterday.

As Vandenberg spoke, Senate leaders saw a good chance to win final approval of the treaty in less than a week of debate. They were encouraged by a general lack of opposition and its stated purpose of heading off any attack on the western, non-Communist world.

Vandenberg called the treaty "the best available implement to discourage armed aggression and to stop another war before it starts."

He said the world's "precious values" are in jeopardy in today's "tortured world."

"This jeopardy does not stem from us," he went on. "It stems from embattled, greedy Communism abroad and at home."

Vandenberg declared that "open conspiracies" are aimed ultimately at the United States.

"We cannot run away from it," he told the Senate. "There it is, the final target; though other independent peoples are in nearer jeopardy."

Vandenberg agreed with Connally that a vote for the treaty will not commit any senator to vote for the proposed program to ratify the pact nations.

Lilienthal Cites Record Of AEC

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—David E. Lilienthal said today the United States was "virtually unarmed atomically" in 1947 when the Atomic Energy Commission was created. Formally answering charges of "incredible mismanagement" by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), Lilienthal said the AEC couldn't be poorly managed if its production of bombs was as good as the Iowa senator admits it is.

House's Clock Turned Back As Senate Quits

Legislators Have Forewell Fling At Free-Spending

AUSTIN, Tex., July 6. (AP)—The free-spending 51st Legislature, longest session in history, finally adjourned today more than an hour behind schedule, when the House quit at 1:00 p.m.

A last minute Senate effort to ram through an 18 million dollar state building program died on adjournment in the House. This and tax problems were put off until a special or general session of the Legislature is held within six months.

A voter registration bill was passed finally in the session's closing minutes. A proposal to lift the 35 million dollar ceiling on old age pension spending perished in a Senate filibuster.

Austin, July 6. (AP)—Last minute problems topped by a final fling at spending delayed actual adjournment of the 51st Legislature today.

The Senate quit at 12:05 p.m. The House turned its clock back two hours and 45 minutes.

The House had not acted on a last-minute effort to ram through an 18 million dollar state building program approved by the Senate.

Senate in action killed a proposed constitutional amendment to lift the 35 million dollar ceiling on old age assistance. It died when Lieut. Gov. Allan Shivers declared the 51st session was over 30 for as the Senate was uncorred.

The free-spending session had come to its last day, saved from running the state 17 million dollars into the red by a governor's veto.

The House had accepted a conference committee report on old age pensions, but the action was to no avail.

The Senate approved the new building plan 27 to 4. If the House passes it, a new fiscal building would face Gov. Beasly's veto.

The Senate plan would be contingent on Javier voting approximately 15 million dollars more from big money bills before him, and upon adoption by the voters of a proposed constitutional amendment making available for building a 3 million dollar surplus in the confederate pension fund.

New Appeal Made For Response To X-Ray Program

Another appeal for response to the mass chest X-ray program now in progress went out this morning as the rule continued well below the level outlined for a successful campaign against tuberculosis.

Examinations completed by noon today totalled 716. That figure represented the efforts for two and a half days. The rate for a city of Big Spring's size should be approximately 1,000 per day, technicians said.

The X-ray examination service is free to Howard county residents from 15 through 44 years of age. The X-ray equipment is located in the Empire-Southern Gas Co. office.

The program is being sponsored jointly by the Howard County Tuberculosis Association and the state health department.

No Prospect Of Break In U. S. Heat Wave Seen

By The Associated Press

No immediate break appeared today in the summer season's longest heat wave over an area from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic Coast.

Some showers fell in scattered sections of the hot belt but in most places they afforded only temporary relief.

There were heat deaths and prostrations cases reported from all sections of the torrid zone.

Most of the Midwest was weary from a week of hot, sticky weather. The eastern states also sizzled in the searing heat. And in the north-eastern area there was no sign of rain to break the long drought.

The new heat wave only added to further damage farm crops already badly wilted by seven weeks of rainless weather. Crop losses in the region have been estimated at more than $50 million.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the only comfortable spots over the two-thirds of the country in the grip of the hot weather were the northern border states. Temperatures also were pleasant along the Pacific Coast.

But the heat was on full blast in the central, eastern and southern states.

HE WAS IN WRONG ROOM

SEATTLE, July 6. (AP)—The Boilermakers' Union was in the middle of a tense session last night when a speaker rose to demand.

"Let's forget about the boilermakers and get down to discussing the business of our own union."

Inspection of the speaker's membership book showed he was in the wrong meeting.

He was a member of Local 300, Paperhangers, Painters and Decorators, meeting down the hall.

Opposes Farm Plan 'Trial Run'

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—Sen. Butler (R-Nebr.) said today enactment of a "trial run" of the Brannan farm plan of hogs would wreck the entire agricultural economy of the nation.

He testified before a Senate agriculture subcommittee considering a bill by Chairman Thomas (D-Okla.) to permit government production payments to hog producers.

Under this the prices of hogs would be allowed to drop to their natural level and the treasury would pay hog producers for any difference between those and government-determined prices.

"This program," Butler said, "would be disastrous to the agricultural producers of this country. I cannot think of anything worse we could do to the farmers of this country than to pass this bill."

He urged that the present farm price support program be continued through 1950.

The Nebraskan contended that, if Congress insisted on passing the bill for a trial run on hogs, it should then include all other agricultural items as well to "permit a real test of the program."

The plan applied to hogs alone, he said, would cause a collapse of prices on beef cattle, lambs and poultry "since these prices go up and down together."

Butler said this would then affect the price of grain and end up with prices of all basic agricultural products dropping to between 60 and 75 per cent of parity.

SOUVENIRS OFFERED AT $1 EACH

Big Spring Centennial Certificates Now Ready For General Distribution

Opportunity for all citizens to have a hand in getting Big Spring's Centennial celebration started is now at hand.

Just arrived from engraving company and ready for general distribution are 10,000 strikingly-prepared Big Spring Centennial souvenir certificates.

They are offered at $1 each, and to encourage Centennial participation on the broadest possible basis, association directors are adopting the slogan, "10,000 certificates for 10,000 people."

Doug Orme and Ira Thurman are heading up the certificate distribution plan, and will announce full details on the program shortly.

Sale of the certificates serves as an underwriting plan for the October 24 100th birthday celebration. If the big party is a financial success, the certificates will be redeemable—either in full or pro rata up the amount of funds the Centennial association has left. The certificates will have to be presented for redemption during the month of December, 1949, or else it will be taken as evidence that the holder wishes to keep the shares as a souvenir of the city's celebration.

The certificate bears the official Centennial seal, as designed by Gilbert Saville, winner of a design contest, as a shadow background picture of the "spring," and bears appropriate wording about the centennial celebration. Also there is an imprinted official Centennial seal in red. Overall appearance is that of a stock certificate, and the whole design is suitable for souvenir purposes.

First of the certificates were sold Tuesday afternoon to Centennial association directors, who held an organizational meeting at the site of the spring. These same directors will be asked in the distribution of the 10,000.

At the Tuesday meeting, the directors saw evidence of improvement at the spring site, heard reports from committees which are working on various phases of the October festival.

Miss Tremi had gone to a park with several other persons for a holiday outing when she, apparently slipped and fell into the river. She managed to grasp the rock and pulled herself from the water. Fireman, called by Witnesses to the accident, finally freed the rescuee by using extension ladders. (AP Wirephoto).

RIBBON RAMBLINGS By Mildred Young

The work of organized women will be revealed to many countries by officers of the General Federation of Women's Clubs this summer.

Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck of Richmond, Va., GFWC president, is a member of the Town Hall World Seminar which is on tour to 13 world capitals. The trip ends in September. She is one of the 25 representatives of national organizations of men and women who comprise the seminar. You may remember an earlier story concerning the American Association of University Women's delegate, which appeared on this page.

In each capital, these American leaders will meet with their counterparts in the country visited for daily round-table discussions. Town meeting programs will be held in each country on a subject of vital interest to both peoples.

Mrs. Buck will also visit in Athens to meet with organized groups of Greek women affiliated with the federation. She will return home from India since she visited the Philippines and Japan last fall.

Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton, of Red Oak, Iowa, federation vice-president, will be the organization's representative to the Pan-Pacific Women's Association meeting in Honolulu July 20-August 4.

Reorganization of the association, which became inactive during the war years, is scheduled. An active program will be developed. Discussions will include the growing emancipation of women in the Pacific countries, organizational techniques and other questions of mutual interest.

Mrs. Houghton is vice-president of the Pan-Pacific Women's Association.

The GFWC membership overseas totals 2,700,000 in 32 countries and possessions, in addition to its 5,000,000 in the United States.

And what will these women and other seminar representatives accomplish? Will there be any visible results? Probably not. Will it be somewhat of a pleasure trip and a worthwhile effort? To some extent, yes, but wherever a friend is won and wherever some help is given, it matters not in what way, the trip will be another step toward world understanding.

Soviet Economists Say U. S. Undergoing Major Depression

By EDDIE GILMORE
AP Staff Writer

MOSCOW. — Soviet economists are reporting through the press to the Russian people that a major depression is on in the United States.

The press also has seized upon reports printed in the New York Daily Worker, a leading organ of the Communists in America, reprinting from it headlines such as these:

"Two out of three unemployed" "Homeless family seeks shelter in subway."

There is a keen interest in the prospect of an American slump. Unemployment figures, trade statistics, and Wall Street fluctuations are studied closely.

The most complete review of the situation as seen by Economist A. Manukyan appeared recently in the New Times.

He charted a 10 per cent decline in American industry from October through April and said:

"The present decline has an uninterrupted and extremely sharp character."

(The Federal Reserve adjusted index of industrial production declined 8.2 per cent from October to April. October was the postwar peak. April, 1949, compared with a year ago, was 4.8 per cent lower.)

Manukyan said that exports are falling off rapidly from month to month as compared with last year, and bankruptcies are on the increase.

(The Department of Commerce index of exports of United States merchandise showed an increase of 72 per cent in March, 1949, from a year ago March is the latest figure.)

How long does the Soviet expert say the economic crisis will last? The present recession is not the same as the slump in 1929-31, he reported. He said America quickly rose from that slump because of a post-war reconstruction boom, but this time it is different. There have already been more than three years of peacetime economic activity, capital investment and housing construction. The result is, he contended, that these sources of potential recovery from the present crisis are missing.

Therefore, Manukyan predicted, the crisis will be "deep and drawn out."

However, he qualified this. He said the influence of huge armament expenditure should be taken into consideration. The heavy expenditure, and resultant increase in employment might retard the depression. But because of this expenditure, in the end the crisis would be deeper, he said.

Manukyan predicted the American people would fight to prevent having all the burden of the depression heaped on the shoulders of the working class.

The decline was of great importance, he said, because it affected especially the heavy industries. He contended that many industries in the United States are now utilizing only a small portion of their capacity, citing in particular the radio and the refrigerator industries.

Manukyan foresaw black prospects. He pictured contracts for new construction as being down sharply from a year ago. He said trade inventories are higher than ever. He spoke of a falling off of orders and expanded consumer credit.

(New construction awards reported by the Department of Commerce in April were seven-tenths of one per cent lower than the year before.)

The Soviet economist said in effect the best part of its cake. He said the post-war period "created a favorable atmosphere for economic expansion of American monopolies."

Among these circumstances he listed: The removal of Germany and Japan from effective world trade competition, the high demand for American goods because of war devastation and famine. He claimed that despite those favorable factors and huge expenditures on a global military program, the United States did "not attain 80 per cent of the level of 1943."

(American industrial production, on an all-out wartime basis, reached an all-time peak in 1943. In April, production was 74.9 per cent of that level.)

The postwar period, according to Manukyan, was characterized by unheard-of super-profits, high level of capital investment, inflation and a "systematic decrease of real wages."

Other economists have dealt with the American farm problem. One writer in Moscow Boishevik said: "Monopolist bosses hold in their hands two-thirds of all farming land, more than half of the harvest area, almost the whole of the machinery, and about 80 per cent of the whole agricultural production of that country."

A number of books have been published denouncing the Marshall Plan. Typical of their treatment is one by George Soriat: "Will France become an American colony?"

America's educational problems also have come under close scrutiny.

Problem Of Vacation Cannot Be Met On A National Scale

The relatively simple problem of what to do during the July Fourth holidays has now become a national problem, and is history. Most people probably wish they'd done something else.

But the infinitely greater and more vexatious problem of what to do with the annual vacation still confronts most people. The only ones who are really happy about it are those who have finished their vacations and gone back to work.

Should one go to the mountains, to the seashore, or to the kinfolks? In the case of a mountain vacation, there is the long, hot journey of getting to them, and the equally long, hot journey of getting back home. It's mighty pleasant and peaceable while you're there, but the going and the coming back aren't so pleasant!

The same disadvantages apply to the seashore, with the added discomfort of sunburn and perhaps a few mosquito bites.

As for visiting the kinfolks, it has the advantage of economy, not a minor consideration for most vacationists. But suppose the kinfolks reverse the process, and decide to spend their vacation with you? This is a risk so grave that few thoughtful citizens will even consider piling in on their relatives, lest they be reprisals.

Should one simply stay at home, under one's own roof, and to thundersation with the seashore, the mountains and the kinfolks?

This kind of vacation is even more economical than visiting unenthusiastic relatives, but it is not without grave risks. There is always something around the house to be repaired or fixed, and there is always at least one in every family to suggest that you repair or fix it. No good protesting you're on vacation, and intend to do nothing but rest. After a couple of days, you're made to feel like a lazy loafer, an incubator, and a nuisance around the house, always underfoot.

Maybe vacations should be abolished, and everyone kept hitting the ball. Or perhaps the nation should declare a two-weeks holiday and everything and everybody stop work simultaneously. Any bets there wouldn't be riots and bloodshed by the third day?

Jester's Approach Practical For Paying Hospital Costs

Governor Beauford Jester has taken the realistic approach toward solving the state's eleemosynary financing program. Tuesday he lopped off about 17 1/2 million dollars from the appropriation for institutions by voting a money bill. He pointed out that:

(1) The bill did not provide for an urgently necessary building program; (2) the state budget would be thrown out of balance unless there is a reduction in appropriations; and (3) the Legislature will have time to meet again (possibly in a special session) to work out an adequate building program, and provide the necessary revenues to meet required appropriations.

The governor let it be known that some sort of taxation program will have to be devised to meet the eleemosynary needs, although, heretofore, he has been opposed to new taxes.

The word taxes is unpleasant to all of us. There should be no more than absolutely necessary to provide decent operational responsibilities of the state, but certainly one of the state's foremost responsibilities at this time is the providing of adequate housing and proper care for the inmates of its mental institutions.

It had been proposed in the Legislature to pledge the credit of Texas for many years ahead, through a bond issue; and it was further proposed to earmark a percentage of future levies to create a building fund.

Neither proposal is sound, and they represent no more than an effort to avoid the horrid word, taxes, and its implications.

Meanwhile, mentally ill persons by the hundreds populate our jails, and many hundreds more are crowded like sardines in existing state hospitals.

The people of Texas by now must recognize the fact that the eleemosynary system has to be improved, and that any program of improvement has to be paid for. The people of Texas probably will not object to levying what taxes are properly necessary, and Governor Jester is to be commended for attacking the issue head-on.

Mme. Sun Yat-Sen's Apostasy Key To Understanding Chinese

IN A WAY, FEW CHINESE BETTER personally their country's struggle for freedom and reform than Mme. Sun Yat-sen, widow of the founder of the republic.

She is above all a product of the impact of western ideas of democratic freedom in an ancient and backward land. These made her a revolutionary, and set her apart from the rest of her family who have largely ruled China for 22 years.

In the end she has wound up in the arms of the Communists. Why?

Her story is the answer not only to her personal fate, but is a key to understanding here the biggest single bloc of the human race—the Chinese people—are submitting to Communist control.

She was born Sung Ch'ing-ling in Shanghai. Her father was a wealthy Bible-priester. As a Chinese, he resented the way the Manchus thrived on his country and kept it in power partly by trading bits of Chinese sovereignty to foreign powers. Like many wealthy Chinese in these not-so-gay nineties, Ch'ing-ling's father supported a revolutionary doctor named Sun Yat-sen.

him out in 1915, she followed him to Japan and married him. When the Sun returned, they found a coalition of other warlords had taken over in Peking and were keeping alive, like the Manchus, by trading bits of Chinese sovereignty off to stay in power.

Dr. Sun sought help from Britain and America. They turned him down. He turned to Soviet Russia, which posed as the friend of freedom in Asia. Russia sent advisors to help Sun reorganize his Kuomintang Party along Communist lines.

Sun died in 1925, and a rising young general named Chiang Kai-shek took command of the party and its army. By 1927 he had defeated the northern warlords. He also had broken with the Communists who had helped him win. The same year he married Ch'ing-ling's little sister, Mei-ling.

HE REIDER SISTER, ALONG, already had married a Shansi banker named H. H. Kung.

Ch'ing-ling chose to flee with the Communists. She went to Moscow and stayed until 1931. Back in China that year, she said:

"The Kuomintang has lost its position as the country's Revolutionary Party. The party's destroyers, far from being external enemies, are its own leaders."

She meant her brother-in-law, Chiang Kai-shek and H. H. Kung, and her own young brother, T. V. Soong, among others.

During the Japanese war, Mme. Sun symbolized the united front against the foreign aggressor by staying in Shungking and doing relief work with her sisters.

CHING-LING WAS A STUDENT AT Wesleyan College for women at Macon, Ga., when word came through in 1911 that Dr. Sun finally had overthrown the Manchus. The story has it that she ripped the dragon symbol of the throne from her dormitory wall and jumped on it.

Full of American ideas of freedom and democratic reform, she returned to China and joined Dr. Sun. When a warlord drove

Pot Has Distressing Habit Of Calling Friend Kettle Black

NEW YORK, July 5. — JIMMY never can forget how old man Jaspers conked him.

He told me about it as we sat in his new apartment with his latest wife, Rosabelle.

"I went to work for him during the war," said Jimmy. "He owned a big independent soft drink business and he shipped to five states."

"How did Mr. Jaspers ever get such a big business, honey?" asked his wife.

"I told you a dozen times!" said Jimmy. "He got it the same way you got me—he stole it! Go mix us a drink."

"Well, anyway," said her husband, "good men were hard to get about then. So he made me his general manager."

"THEN HE BEGAN HAVING THESE strokes. They just kept him in bed. But every day I had to go to his house after work and tell him what was doing at the plant."

"What kind of man was this Jaspers, 'Crazy old money'?"

Rosabelle came in with the drinks.

"What put me in solid with this old potter," Jimmy went on, "was the way I could scrounge sugar on the black market. And I found how to get plenty."

"He had no way to check up on me, and for a time I was considering going into business for myself—using his plant. I could've cut a few of the boys in, and we could've run off a thousand or so cases extra at night and sold them ourselves."

"About this time I got a better offer," said Jimmy. "I went to the old man, and he told me, 'stick to me, my boy. I'll take care of you. The business is going to belong to you and a few oldtimers at the plant when I'm gone.'"

"HE GOT A BIG STROKE ONE MORNING. He was real weak when I came to see him. He smiled when I told him business was fine. Then he held my hand and whispered, 'don't leave me, Jimmy. I'll take care of you well.'"

"That night he died."

"Said Rosabelle: 'The old skinkflint left everything to the maid and their two children. He'd told everybody his wife was just the housekeeper and the children were adopted.'"

Jimmy looked a little smug.

"You know a man has to take care of himself," he said. "There weren't any invoices on that black market sugar, and I managed to make myself enough to furnish this place and put $5,000 in the bank. But what gets me in the way old Jaspers conked me—he conked me with his dying breath."

"Yes," said Rosabelle, "the things some people will do for money!"

RFC Officials Resign To Take Jobs With Companies Securing RFC Loans

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Senator Fulbright's probe of lobbying inside the Reconstruction Finance Corporation has unearthed a long list of RFC officials who have resigned to take jobs with companies securing RFC loans.

The Arkansas senator began his probe after this column exposed the fact that two important RFC officials had joined the Waltham Watch Company of Massachusetts and the Plywood Plastic Corp. of Hampton, S. C., after recommending that these companies receive loans.

To remedy this, Senator Fulbright has introduced legislation whereby no RFC official can join a company receiving an RFC loan until two years after the loan is granted.

Meanwhile Fulbright's banking and currency subcommittee has dug up the following RFC officials who went to work for the same companies for which they recommended loans.

E. Merl Young, RFC examiner, recommended a $10 million loan to Lustron Corporation of Cleveland, then went to work for the company at more than double his RFC salary.

A. H. Graham, assistant manager of the Richmond RFC office, recommended several loans exceeding $2 million for Baltimore Contractors, Inc., then was hired by the same company at a salary increase of $5,000.

James C. Windham, an RFC administrative assistant, became treasurer of the F. L. Jacobs Co. of Detroit after it had received over $3 million in government loans.

Joseph M. Ryan, chief of small business loans in Helena, Mont., went to work for the Custom Tire, Inc., of Billings, Mont., at double his RFC salary after recommending a $50,000 loan.

MORE RFC LOANS

Others who left RFC to work for companies receiving RFC loans are: L. C. Andrews, former manager of the San Antonio RFC office, hired by the Transport Company of Texas; A. Ben Shalitz, RFC engineer, hired by Ullbell Coal Mines, Inc., of Sitka, Alaska; Louis B. Duquette, district loan agent, hired by the Hyde Corporation of Fort Worth; Howard Gees, examiner, hired by the Dougherty Lumber Company of Cleveland; Carl J. Grosswendt, RFC examiner, hired by the Federal Telephone and Radio Corp. of Clifton, N. J.

In addition, Arthur F. Hackney, RFC examiner, was hired by the U. S. Sugar Corp. of Cleveiston, Fla.; Benjamin McNeil, assistant chief of the RFC's administrative division, hired by South Dade Farms of Homestead, Fla.; Chester Neilson, RFC plant examiner, hired by Stutz Manufacturing Company of Chicago; Otis Radford, examiner, hired by the Edgy Shipping Co. of Keithsburg, Ill.; Leslie Widner, examiner, hired by the Oran Company of Columbus, Ohio.

Three RFC officials also went to work for banks in which RFC had invested. They are: China R. Clarke, manager of the Minneapolis RFC office, who was hired by the National Bank of St. Paul; Edward B. Concession, examiner, hired by the First National Bank of Lindenhurst, N. Y.; and John L. Kroeger, examiner, hired by the Dairyland State Bank of Minneapolis.

NOTE — Most RFC employees are conscientious public servants and approve of Fulbright's measure. Actually there has been less embezzlement in RFC than in most private banks, though they handle only a fraction as much money.

AND TAFT-HARTLEY

Chances of Taft-Hartley repeal have gone glimmering this session, but President Truman is confident the next session will tell a different story.

"Those fellows who fought the repeal bill are going to find out that the people still want it when they get back home," Truman told Harvey Brown, outgoing president of the machinists' union, and his successor, Al Hayes.

"We've lost a battle, but we're going to win the war," predicted Brown. "Labor has some unfinished business between now and the next session with the members of Congress who have gone back on their campaign promises to the common people of this country."

"Well, I haven't given up hope," said Truman. "Eventually we are going to write into law not only repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, but the rest of the liberal program the people endorsed in the last election."

REAL ESTATE "FRONT"

The real estate lobby has learned a trick from the Communists. It has now discovered the advantages of "front" organizations. Behind the fancy disguises, however, it's still the same real estate lobby.

For instance, the Georgia Taxpayers' League has been flooding the state with post cards, opposing government housing. Inside fact is that these cards were actually written by Ed Hiles, hired executive of the Georgia Savings and Loan League, an affiliate of the national organization run by Morton Bodfish, king of the real estate lobbyists, which has been indicted for failing to register under the Lobbying Act.

Hiles also failed to register when he came to Washington recently to lobby against public housing. Pinned down by this column, he admitted writing the post cards put out by the Georgia Taxpayers' League.

The league, he confessed, has "no charter, no bylaws, no nothing." The real estate groups simply thought it would be better to pose as the Georgia Taxpayers' League than give their own names, Hiles admitted. He identified B. A. Martin, legislative chairman of the Atlanta Home Builders' Association, as head of the money organization. Phil L. Engle, another Atlanta builder, also is connected with it, Hiles said.

NOTE—This attempt to disguise the real estate lobby also reveals a new national strategy. Having lost its battle in Washington, the lobby is scattering to the states to carry on state-wide campaigns against public housing and rent control.

Names Important To Hollywood Hopefuls

HOLLYWOOD, July 6. — Question: What's in a name? Answer: Fame or failure for Hollywood hopefuls.

You and I generally go through life with the handle our parents dubbed us with, whether it be Robert, Roderick or Rhoda. But acting folk sometimes change their names with the seasons. It's all a matter of finding the one that will bring them success.

Ever wonder how some of the stars got their names? Here's how:

Judy Garland was one of the Gunn sisters until a Chicago theater one night made her billing "The Gum Sisters." George Jessel suggested her last name, from the New York critic, Robert Garland.

Chorus girl Ruby Stevens was dubbed Barbara Stanwyck by her new bosses, Willard Mack and David Belasco. They took it from an old playbill advertising Jane Stanwyck in "Barbara Fritchle."

The Barrymore name was also taken from a playbill by Maurice Blythe, father of John, Lionel and Ethel.

Suzanne Carnahan's studio wanted her to adopt the handle Sharon O'Keefe. She objected and 30 other names were submitted to her. She chose Susan Peters.

Myrna Williams' father picked his daughter's first name from a way-station in Montana. When she started playing slinky sirens in silent films, she decided she needed a more exotic name. So — Myrna Loy.

Maxine O'Brien scored a hit as the little girl in "Journey for Margaret," so she took the name of her screen portrayal.

When Fred and Adele Austerlitz started dancing in Vaudeville, they shortened their billing to Astaire.

Lucille Le Sueur was dubbed Joan Crawford after a nationwide contest.

Revival Of Ancient Custom Of Fasting Is Needed In America

One of the greatest misfortunes that can befall the average American, aside from betting on the wrong horse or being forced to pay more alimony than he can afford, is to be deprived of the pleasures of the table. Everybody has a friend who has been put on a strict diet by his doctor, and thereafter seems unable to talk about anything but thick, juicy beefsteaks, mountains of snowy potatoes rising from seas of gravy, and deep-dish apple pie, the whole washed down with coffee that is half rich cream. Sometimes these whinnings become literary and are published in a national magazine, whereupon the entire country groans in sympathy with the poor fellow.

The truth of the matter is that Americans as a nation eat far too much for their own good. During the recent meat shortage, considerable attention was drawn to the preponderance of this staple in the American diet, and the revelation of the enormous per capita consumption prompted many doctors to issue deprecatory statements, the gist of which was that such over-eating is calculated to shorten the life expectancy.

A general reduction in the amount of food consumed undoubtedly would have a salutary effect on the national health. However, I would go one step further and suggest a revival of the ancient institution of fasting.

Nowadays, hardly anyone thinks of fasting except as something reserved for political martyrs and religious cranks. Even the Christian church no longer requires fasting of its members, except for perfunctory penances and Lenten observances, which cannot be regarded as fasting within the strict meaning of the term. From one point of view, it is good that the Church should have outgrown a narrow interpretation of the custom, but it is unfortunate that the practical benefits of fasting to the body and mind appear to have been forgotten.

During the first three or four days of a fast, one is conscious of nothing but the agonizing pangs of hunger. Then, as the body gradually is drained of all its accumulated waste matter and poisons, the pain vanishes. One walks forth rejuvenated into a world which has become as fresh and interesting as it is to the infant. Thinking takes on a vigor and clarity which is amazing, and one's perceptions are so quickened that it is like coming out of a dark tomb into the full blaze of day. In extreme cases, one even may see visions and hear voices, but I certainly am not recommending that a fast be carried to this point. Indeed, it would be the height of folly for anyone to embark upon a protracted fast without the knowledge and approval of his physician.

The guardians of the old Greek mystery-religions were well aware of the inestimable value of fasting. An Initiate of Samothrace, for instance, was required to pass through long periods of total abstinence from food, which not only cleansed the body and subjugated flashy appetites, but prepared the mind to receive the great truths of the Mysteries. These lessons, once learned, were never forgotten, and in an age when gluttony was the rule rather than the exception, the Initiates of Samothrace, though not ascetics, were noted for their moderation in eating and drinking.

Fasting, besides its general beneficial effect on the body and mind, has been known to cure certain types of disease. All animals understand this instinctively, and refrain altogether from food when sick. It is only man who goes on eating under any and all circumstances and does not hesitate to devour a thumping meal even when he is not in the least bit hungry.—R. G. MACREADY.

New Public Housing Program Will Aid Low-Income People

WASHINGTON, July 6. — MORE THAN 25 million low-income people live in slums or run-down city or farm homes. They can't afford better.

Now the government will help some of them through a public housing program. Although it isn't big enough to help all of them, many millions of people will benefit since it will spread over a period of years.

It has three aims:

1. To get rid of slums. No one expects all the slums to be wiped out by this program. But it should make a dent in them.
2. Build houses — the so-called public housing — where low-income families, who have to pay low rent, can get decent dwellings.
3. Help poor farmers put needed repairs on their homes or even build new ones.

THAT, IN BRIEF, IS THE PROGRAM. The big help from the government will be in money. The cost to the government:

1. Between $7 billion and $12 billion spread over 40 years in grants. These will be outright gifts of money.
2. Another $3 billion or so in loans. Since these will be paid back, the government won't be out this money.

Except in the case of hard-up farmers, none of the money goes directly to individuals, poor or otherwise.

It goes to cities and communities. They'll have to hire private contractors to clear the slums and build the public housing for them.

When they can't foot the bill themselves, they'll get money help from the government.

They'll handle the slum clearance and run the public housing when it's built. The government's chief role is to see that the plans make sense before it dishes out any money.

The public housing goal is $10,000 family units in the next six years. A unit can be a place with one bedroom, or two or three bedrooms, plus the other usual rooms.

SINCE THERE ARE MILLIONS OF people in the slums, the $10,000 units can't take care of all of them in six years. But over 40 years that much housing can handle millions of people. For example:

A low-income family is allowed to move in. In time, its income goes up. Then, it must move out of the low-rent public housing to make room for another low-income family.

But the government won't let any city use federal money to wipe out a slum unless there's a low-rent place for the slum-dwellers to go.

For that reason, the public housing part of the program probably will be the first to start. Slum-clearance can follow.

This program clearly means the government acknowledges it has a responsibility to see that American people are decently housed.

Nevertheless, because this is a limited program, it's only a move in that direction. It's not good to solve all housing problems.

Congress has approved the program and President Truman shortly will sign it into law. Then it can start.

Smiths Leading Cohens By Good Margin In N. Y. C. Phone Book

NEW YORK — Personal notes of a New Yorker's cuff.

Always a good book to read on a hot day, the New York Telephone Directory lists as the first number in the book one "Luxemburg 2-3392" and the name given is simply "A." I've been calling it at odd times for weeks, but the telephone never answers. The only name in the book which is the same as my own is that of a psychiatrist. I wouldn't dare call that one.

In the new Manhattan telephone book the Smiths at last have gotten ahead of the Cohens, the current score being: Smiths 4,376. Cohens 2,102 names. Previously the Cohens have almost always been ahead of the Smiths, the last score having been (that was in 1947) 2,022 Cohens to 1,979 Smiths.

The last entry in the book is Zayz, Inc. It has the same address and the same telephone number as "A", the first name in the book. Also, Zayz doesn't answer its telephone. I am beginning to get suspicious that George Wellbaum and other New York Telephone executives have here concocted a practical joke plot to make confusion. I called Wellbaum at the New York Telephone Co., and his telephone doesn't answer.

The Telephone Company, however, is very thoughtful. In delivering my new book they cautioned me to search the old book and see that all valuables such as paper money, etc., had been removed. I searched carefully and found only a few discarded telephone numbers and the names of a couple of horses who seem to have been lost in the rush.

Lone Wolf Electric Co-Op To Celebrate

COLORADO CITY, July 6 — (Sp) — Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, REA, has set Thursday, July 7, as celebration day. Invitations are out for an open-house party in the co-op's new building, a modern structure costing approximately $85,000.

Completion of the headquarters building at Colorado City is the REA co-op's first reason for celebrating. Standing at the junction of highway 90 and the Robert Lee highway, one and three quarters mile from town, it is of cream brick veneer with trim of Austin stone. Fronting east, the office building has ultra-large windows of plate glass at the recessed opening.

Contractors for the 77 ft. by 100 ft. office building were Behringer-Behringer and Hinds, of Waco. Among its many features are complete air-conditioning, all steel furniture, slim-line lighting, venetian blinds, acoustic celotex ceiling to deaden noise. The color theme is one of cream and grey. Battleship linoleum covers all floors of the structure which has ten rooms, offices, vault, map room, cashier's grill and two rest rooms.

A garage, 45 ft. by 83 ft., is attached and will house four pieces of equipment. There is an 81 ft. by 95 ft. parking lot. Proper landscaping will be done in the fall.

The pride of the co-op manager, E. V. Wilder, is the "kitchen of tomorrow" department. At the left of the entrance stands the completely electric kitchen set up for use of home demonstration agents and women's clubs in the counties served by the Lone Wolf lines. The kitchen has modern doors to make it private.

All steel cabinets, a deep freeze, electric icebox, cooking range, dishwasher and garbage disposal, and water heater all of white stand ready for inspection and for later use. A complete set of aluminum and of dishes is also part of the kitchen equipment.

Celebration of the building's completion will begin at one thirty in the afternoon and will continue until 8:30 the evening of July 7. But headquarters building is only one of the celebration day "point-with-pride" features for SARK, Channel Islands, July 6. — The island of Sark, where autos are banned by law, had its first drunken driving case in history Tuesday.

An outraged judge ordered the defendant's drinks cut off until Aug. 1, 1951.

RANCHER WHITE REPORTS

Closed Terraces Catch, Hold Rain

Level terraces with ends closed, held all the rains that fell on the cultivated land of Binie White this spring. White stated last week. White, who is a cooper with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District on his ranch west of Vincent, said his terraces with ends blocked did not have any breaks from heavy rains.

Where the terrace ends were open water ran around and hit the next terrace. Water spilling out of the open-end terraces added to that which fell between the terraces caused breaks on the lower terraces he said. White plans to build up his terraces this fall and block the ends to keep them from breaking and to hold his soil and water.

Sam Buchanan, district cooper in the Coahoma Soil Conservation group has planted 25 acres of sudan and blackeye peas for a summer cover and soil building crop. Buchanan planted the sudan and peas to provide a cover of litter on his sandy soil. He will drill abuzzi rye in this litter in the fall. Buchanan said the sudan and blackeye pea stubble will protect his rye until it can make a good stand. He had 55 acres of abuzzi rye last year which held down his blow sand, and was used for a soil building crop by plowing it under green this spring.

Soil building crops which add organic matter and nitrogen to the land and management of stubble to leave a protective cover of litter on the land are only a part of the coordinated soil conservation program followed by Buchanan.

Bud Flanagan, who has just completed a 2100 cubic yard stock tank on his ranch southeast of Big Spring, plans to fence it to keep his livestock out. Fencing the tank protects the grass above the tank, and in the spillway. Flanagan said good grass cover above the tank keeps silt out of the tank. He will use a windmill to pump water to knee tubs to water livestock.

The tubs will have overflow pipes two inches from the top of the tubs to take overflow water back to the tank. Flanagan said fencing out a tank provides cleaner water for livestock. He has had one stock tank fenced for three years. The protected grass controlled soil erosion above the tank.

Construction of a diversion ditch has been completed on the ranch of Mrs. Etta Wade southeast of Big Spring. The diversion was built to protect the ranch headquarters from flood water. It will also spread the water over a large area of grassland.

A diversion terrace has also been staked and completed on the ranch of Bob Mims in the North Concho River Soil Conservation District to protect his headquarters from runoff water. The rancher-district cooperators had the help of the Soil Conservation Service in laying out their diversions.

Claude Collins, Jr. is deferring 9394 acres of range land this year on the E. W. Douthitt ranch southeast of Fortan. Collins took his livestock off three pastures to rest them from grazing and give the grass a chance to grow and make

Training Credit Award System Changed By Organized Reserve

The Organized Army Reserve has changed its system of awarding training credits for retention in the Active Reserve, Colonel Oscar B. Abbott, Executive for the Texas Military District, notified Lt.

Col. Ralph Baker of Big Spring today. The change will make it easier to earn sufficient credits to remain in the Active Reserve.

The system of obtaining credits by "hours" has been discarded for a system using the "point credit" plan.

Under the original regulations, an Organized Reserve Corps officer had to earn 30 hours a year to remain in the Active Reserve. Eight hours was allowed each day of active duty, and two hours for each two-hour armory training meeting. A schedule of credits was also set up for various miscellaneous activities and for extension courses.

Minimum requirements for retention in the Active Reserve is now 27 point credits a year, including 15 points which will be allowed for membership in the Active Reserve. Only one point will be allowed for one day of duty, whether it be for active or inactive duty.

An officer on a 30-day tour of duty will receive 30 points, and he will receive the same number of points by attending 30 armory training meetings. As an officer will be credited with 15 points for membership in the Active Reserve, he will actually have to earn only 15 points throughout the year.

There has been no change in the number of points required for a satisfactory year of service for retirement purposes. The regulations still read that to receive credit for one of the 20 years of service required at the age of 60, a total of 30 points must be accumulated, although 15 of these 30 points are given for membership in the Active Reserve.

An enlisted Reservist must receive 20 points for retention in the Active Reserve, but he will have to earn only five points a year, as he also receives 15 points for being in the Active Reserve.

One reason for the change was the confusion which was created by awarding "hours" for retention in the Active Reserve and using "points" in calculating credits for retirement at the age of 60. The "year" of service for retirement will be the same as that for retention.

The Army also has eliminated the nondescriptive term "inactive duty" in its application to training for Active Reservists not on active duty. "Reserve duty" has been substituted.

Seventeen farmers and ranchers made a study of irrigated pastures in the Hale County Soil Conservation District Tuesday June 26. The group, including local district cooperators and supervisors, saw pastures that produced 700 pounds of beef per acre. They learned that the pastures netted more money than alfalfa, cotton, or other cash crops.

Irrigated pastures planted by Ocie Smith, S. O. Golliday, and Fred Arnett, cooperators with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District are making considerable grazing for first year pastures. Warren Skaggs, chairman of the board, reported.

CRY OF 'DICTATOR' RAISED

Vinson Tries To Clip Truman's Power To Reorganize Military

WASHINGTON, July 8. (AP)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee tried again today to clip the power of President Truman to reorganize the armed forces.

Defeated in an effort to keep the power in Congress' hands under the new reorganization law, Vinson made his second move in a series of proposed amendments to the military unification bill before his committee.

Vinson recommended that the military departments be slipped out from under the reorganization law, which gives the President wide authority to shuffle government departments around.

He said he wants to prevent the establishment of a single military chief of staff and a general staff over all the armed forces.

"We want to make it so no man ever can become a military dictator in this country," he added.

Vinson announced his amendments at a news conference yesterday. He said he would offer them today on the return of Secretary of Defense Johnson for committee questioning on the unification bill.

The measure, passed by the Senate over a month ago, would give the secretary more direct power to control policies and operations of the armed forces. It also would establish a single civilian business manager at the boss of military money matters.

Johnson told the House committee last week he needed the bill to make the 1947 unification law work as Congress intended. He also promised that the business manager provision would save over a billion dollars a year in the cost of running the military services.

Vinson agreed with most provisions of the bill as it came to his committee from the Senate. But he had a few changes to suggest.

One, he said yesterday, would provide that the armed forces "will have an adequate breathing spell" before any more changes are made. Asked what the "adequate breathing spell" would be, he replied, "four years."

The reorganization law expires in four years. It gives the president power to reorganize all government departments. If his recommended changes are not vetoed by either the House or Senate in 60 days after they are presented to Congress, they go into effect automatically.

CONVICT FAILS AT LEGAL SAFE-CRACKING — When the state liquor control commission in Salt Lake City, Utah needed an old strong box opener, they called on Warden Mason Hill to provide them with an expert burglar. The convict, whose identity was shielded by Hill, tried to open the box by manipulating the combination dial, then he told the commission the box contained no tumblers and he couldn't open it without a "punch" to hammer the dial. The convict is shown at work here. (AP Wirephoto)

Red Pamphlets Charge Dallas Klan Terrorism

DALLAS, July 6. (AP)—Communist pamphlets charging Ku Klux Klan terrorism in Dallas have been seized by police.

The mimeographed leaflets were found late Monday night in an abandoned car. They were signed "Communist Party of Dallas County, Dallas, Tex."

The leaflets charged an attack had been made on an 18-year-old Negro man by "Klan-minded white men."

Dist. Atty. Will Wilson said his office had been asked to step into the case of the Negro, who complained he was attacked by three white men in a South Dallas cafe.

The Negro, Benjie Sanders, attempted to file charges against the cafe owner. Wilson said he would not accept the complaint, however, when he found a police investigation in progress.

The leaflet said Sanders, aided by a Negro woman, escaped from "would-be lynchings" in an attack June 8. It also said:

"Lynch terror is part of the bosses' plan to divide the workers, white against Negro, a plan to further lower the workers living standards and to shift their coming economic crisis onto the backs of the laboring classes."

Military Pay With 'Extras' Bothering Some Congressmen

By CLARKE BEACH
AP Staff
WASHINGTON — All those "extras" that the officers of the armed services get in addition to their regular pay are bothering some members of Congress.

A few legislators made a great issue of them during debate in the House of Representatives when the military pay raise bill was sent back to committee.

The truth is that the "extras" are very substantial and a flat statement of officers' relatively low basic pay does not tell the whole story. On the other hand, the value of the "extras" can be easily overrated.

Give a Marine major's commission to a husky fragment of your imagination. Make him 36, with 10 years in the service. Station him in Washington, where he supports a wife and two children.

"My base pay is $3,785 a year—$316.25 a month," he willingly replies when you ask him, since government pay is no secret. "I get $5,811 a year, when you include my allowances for quarters and subsistence. That's $105 a month for rent and $63 a month to buy food for the family."

"What about your extras?"

"The big item there is medical care. I get that and all my dental work free. The family gets medical from the service, but no dental work. The regulations say dependents get both medical and dental care if available, but I've never seen a post where dental care was available for wives and children. As a matter of fact, about half the officers I know in Washington call in a private physician when anyone in the family is ill. They have to pay for that, of course."

"Don't you save a lot of money buying at commissaries and post exchanges?"

"Well, I pick up a few knickknacks at the Post Exchange when I get in the neighborhood, but it's out of the way for me. The wife almost never gets over to the commissary. She finds that chain stores are just about as cheap, and it takes her nearly an hour to drive to it. People have big notions about the value of PX's and commissaries to military men. Here's the real dope. . . ."

The major produced a table which the National Defense Establishment recently submitted to the House Armed Services Committee. It listed the total sales in commissaries (food stores) and post exchanges (general stores) for the calendar year 1948. It showed that in commissaries the prices were 22.4 per cent cheaper than in comparable stores in the community and that in post exchanges the prices were 15 per cent cheaper.

The average military man spent $300.61 during the year in Post Exchange and commissaries mostly overseas. His average saving was 14.4 per cent, or $37.96 under what he would have had to pay if he had dealt in civilian stores.

"Your income tax is pretty low, isn't it?"

"Yes, I get a break there. I didn't have to pay any tax at all during the war after figuring my exemptions and deductions. This year I figure I'll pay $168.86. I'm taxed only on base pay."

"What about your retirement benefits?"

"Good. If I make colonel by the time I retire, in another 20 years, I'll get $412 a month. But when I die, of course there'll be nothing for my wife. I have to carry life insurance to provide something for her."

"Well, what about the rest of the 'extras'?"

"There aren't any more as far as I know."

"What about government automobiles?"

"I never climb into a government car except on official business. Only four officers in Washington are assigned cars for their private use—the four chiefs of staff. If you're on a post out in the boondocks, you sometimes get away with using a little free government transportation, but most posts are pretty strict about it."

"Wouldn't you save money on rent if you were assigned to quarters on a Marine Base?"

"Sure would. But do you know how many quarters there are for Marine Officers in Washington? Six. And 657 Marine officers are stationed here."

All-Berlin General Election Is Sought

By DANIEL DeLUCE
AP Staff
BERLIN, July 6. — The Western Powers will ask a general election for all Berlin when the commanders of the four occupation powers renew formal consultations on the divided city, an American official predicted today.

An order from the four deputy military governors of Germany instructed the commanders to meet and carry out the decision of the Paris foreign minister's conference to "normalize" Berlin's life.

Allied sources said they expected, however, that Katkov would attack the "little occupation statute" which the Western Allies announced for West Berlin May 14. Under its terms, the West Berlin government is now drafting a new municipal constitution.

Allied officials expressed confidence that in a free city-wide election the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity (Communist) Party would not get more than 10 per cent of the votes.

The French commandant, Brig. Gen. Jean Canaval, was expected to notify the other three commandants today of the date of their first meeting, possibly Friday.

The Allied view is that this would not be a revival of the old four-power Kommandatura, which ruled the city as a unit with the Russians frequently exercising veto rights.

But it was admitted that steps might be suggested to bridge the political and economic abyss between the eastern and western sectors.

Youth's Reading Eye Destroyed By Firecracker Blast

FORT WORTH, July 6. — A firecracker blast closed forever a seven-year-old boy's "reading eye."

Mrs. D. C. Kelley of Tolar last night was waiting to tell her son, Leroy, he'll read no more with his right eye.

Surgeons removed his eye and portions of a metal pencil that splintered into his skull. He was injured Monday night by a firecracker blast in the front yard of his home.

Mrs. Kelley said "he had one of those little metal pencils—the kind that pushes back and forth like they give you at the stock yards. He put a firecracker in it and walked off about five steps. Then it blew up, and that pencil went into a million pieces."

As soon as the boy realized what had happened, he begged his mother:

"Mama, it's just got to get well. That's my reading eye."

'GEM' OF AN APPOINTMENT Confirm Woman As Luxembourg Envoy

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
AP Staff
WASHINGTON, July 6. — Mrs. Perle Mesta, who has a talent for giving parties—and raising political campaign funds—will be America's next minister to Luxembourg.

The Senate confirmed President Truman's appointment of the wealthy widow yesterday despite the objections of Sen. Donnell (R-Mo.). She is an old friend of the Trumans.

Donnell, who said he knew of Mrs. Mesta's fame as a Washington hostess only by hearsay, protested that the appointment was a step backward in the attempt to keep career men in diplomatic spots.

He was drowned out by other senators whose praise for the nominee was as lavish as her parties. After more than an hour's spirited debate, they shouted a thundering voice vote of confirmation. Donnell's "no" was the only one heard.

Donnell, in his remarks prior to the vote, wanted to know what actual investigations had been made of her qualifications, education, training and experience. What schools had she attended, and in what subjects had she specialized?

Green, who will be 88 in October, replied that "I did not know Mrs. Mesta at that time." (She is in her 60s.)

Donnell then questioned Sen. McGrath (D-R.I.), also one of her sponsors and chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Was it true, he asked, that Mrs. Mesta helped President Truman "to purge Roger C. Slaughter" by generous contributions? Slaughter was a Missouri Democratic congressman defeated after President Truman opposed his nomination.

McGrath replied that he did not know that he was not national chairman then.

But he assured Donnell that Mrs. Mesta's contributions "have been extraordinary and magnificent."

Donnell wanted the amounts "in dollars and cents."

McGrath said he did not keep track of such things but added with a smile that they were "in excess of $1,000."

He did credit Mrs. Mesta with collecting "in the neighborhood of $500,000" through the Democrats' national Jackson-Jefferson Day dinners.

Sen. Tobey rushed to the aid of Mrs. Mesta with a pun. He said it was a "gem of an appointment, for is not the lady a 'perle' in reality." And another senator chuckled, he added:

"She has been host of many banquets from which senators have come very full of the good products of the fields and vineyards of mirth and merriment."

REMINDER OF TEXAS CITY DISASTER — The wreckage of the battered and partly submerged hulk of the SS Wilson B. Keane, one of three ships that sank during the Texas City disaster in April, 1947, is pulled from the Texas City harbor slip. The New Orleans, La., Coal and Bisco Towboat Co. is clearing the harbor under the direction of the U. S. Corps of Engineers at a cost of $230,000. The work is to be completed in 240 days. RIAL CHARGED WITH MURDER

Lie Detector Fails To Establish Guilt

BEAUMONT, July 6. (U. S. A.) — A lie detector test, given in connection with a 24-year-old double slaying has proven "inconclusive."

Jefferson County Sheriff C. H. Meyer last night announced the results of the test given C. P. Rial in Austin by the State Department of Public Safety.

The 37-year-old Rial is charged with murder in the 1923 death of his brother, P. O. Rial.

Rial, arrested Saturday in eastern Dallas County, is not charged in the death of Bessie Carl, 16, his brother's sweetheart.

The bodies of the man and young girl were found in a densely wooded section within Beaumont's city limits, Sept. 5, 1923.

Dist. Atty. J. P. Fuller said Rial denied any connection with the case.

"Everything that is being done with Rial has been done with his consent. If the information we have isn't true, he'll be released," Fuller declared.

Sheriff Meyer said C. P. Rial was arrested as part of a "routine checkup" following receipt of an anonymous letter from a man.

Dallas County Deputy Sheriff John Rowland said Rial's daughter-in-law became angry when he protested that her donkey was eating his garden. Later, the Jefferson County sheriff's office received a letter suggesting that Rial be quizzed about the double slaying.

Rial lives in Dallas County.

P. O. Rial and Miss Carl were last seen alive leaving a Beaumont theater Sept. 1, 1923. Four days later their bodies were found

Princess' Hubby Hunting A House

AMARILLO, July 6. (U. S. A.) — The Texas man who married the princess is back in Amarillo—hunting a place for his bride to live.

An apartment or duplex will do, Clyde K. Harris, the Amarillo interior decorator, said his bride will join him here soon.

The Texas married Princess Cecile, daughter of Crown Prince Wilhelm of Prussia and great granddaughter of Queen Victoria of England, at Hechingen, Germany June 21.

Harris arrived in Amarillo Monday night.

"Cecile will be coming to this country in about three weeks—I hope," Harris said. She will come to the U. S. as soon as legal technicalities are cleared, permitting her to enter.

"I guess we're like any newly married couple now," the Texas, a former U. S. Army officer said. "I'm looking for a house, duplex or apartment where we can make our home."

Man Loses Race Against Death

DALLAS, July 6. (U. S. A.) — A race against death from New Mexico to Dallas was lost today when a man died in an automobile almost in sight of Baylor Hospital here, where it was hoped a specialist would save his life.

The man, Wallace A. Spencer, 40, Hobbs, N. M., had dived into shallow water in New Mexico. He apparently broke his neck and injured his head. Hobbs doctors recommended immediate treatment by a Dallas specialist.

T. W. Wilson and J. Y. Shipman of Hobbs, Spencer's picnic companions, improvised a bed for him on the rear seat of their car and left for Dallas. A few blocks from Baylor Hospital today they stopped two police detectives and told them their friend had just died. They said he was conscious and in good spirits when they left Fort Worth, about 32 miles west of here.

Marshall Aid Countries Moving Toward Free Trade Resumption

CARL HARTMYAN AP Staff

PARIS, July 6. — The 19 European nations receiving American aid have promised to take steps toward resumption of free trade among themselves.

The pledge was announced yesterday on behalf of the members of the Organization for European Economic Co-operation (OEEC). The removal of restrictions on free trade long has been a pet project of the American administrators of the Marshall Plan aid program.

The pledge obligated the participating nations to "forthwith take the necessary steps for the progressive elimination of quantitative import restrictions between one another in order to achieve as complete a liberalization of intra-European trade as possible by 1951."

Heretofore the European countries were limited in their commerce by requirements that only certain quantities of articles could be imported into any country.

Asst. Sec. Gen. of the OEEC Harry Lintott said the pledge was "part of our object and that of our American friends — multilateral world trade. This means free commerce with a minimum of restrictions such as import quotas, money controls, tie-in sales, different prices and prohibitive tariffs.

The action of the Marshall Plan nations frees them from the confines of bilateral trade, in which two countries make a deal between themselves for the exchange of certain quantities of specified goods.

Lintott explained the OEEC pledge did not apply to trade with the U. S. Sir Stafford Cripps, British chancellor of the exchequer, who helped draw up the pledge, is expected to announce measures today which may put further limits on Anglo-American trade.

Lintott said the pledge had been "kept in cold storage" since early last month, until financial leaders could agree on how their current trade debts would be settled for 1949-50. An agreement was reached last Friday when a new intra-European payments plan was adopted.

The Marshall Plan countries will work separately to eliminate the trade barriers and report, by Oct. 1, on their efforts and what they plan to do. The members also may meet in groups.

In Geneva yesterday, the United Nations Social and Economic Council set July 21 for the start of a debate on U. S. proposals for economic aid to undeveloped countries. Proposals for expanding UN technical assistance to backward areas are regarded as the most important on the council's agenda.

Communism May Be Issue At Teachers' Meet

By FRANK HART AP Staff

BOSTON, July 6.—Communism is expected to develop into a red hot issue at general sessions of the National Education Assn.

The problem today moved toward the general chamber when one teacher taxed another with membership in what he described as "a party line organization."

Observers indicated the issue and others concerning Communism would be carried to the main floor today and at other sessions.

Principals in the tilt were Rose Russell, legislative representative of the CIO Teachers' Union of New York City, and John K. Norton of Columbia University's Teachers College.

Norton is chairman of the NEA Educational Commission. The commission recently issued a statement calling for a ban on Communist party members as American teachers.

At a separate meeting of 300 teachers considering the statement yesterday, Miss Russell said the commission report was "ill-conceived, ill-timed and ill-omened."

She said it would "continue the cold war... cause friction and hysteria... and start a witch hunt."

Her statement brought Norton to his feet asserting that "the lady you have just heard represents an organization which has consistently followed the Communist party line."

Miss Russell demanded the "right to reply," but Norton overruled her.

Sinatra's Fireman Father Is Overcome

HOBOKEN, N. J., July 6. (U. S. A.) — Frank Sinatra's father was one of seven firemen overcome last night fighting a fire that burned out a five-story loft building and a store in downtown Hoboken.

The singer's father, Fire Capt. Martin Sinatra, and five other firemen were treated at the scene of the fire at 200 Washington Street. One fireman was hospitalized.

Giddens Succeeds Axe As Collector

L. H. Giddens, one-time deputy collector of Internal Revenue here, has succeeded H. W. Axe as deputy collector for the district, which has Odessa as its headquarters.

Axe was recently promoted to the job of assistant chief field deputy of the Dallas district.

Giddens has been on duty in the Odessa office since April 1, 1949, but serviced the Big Spring area before Ben Hawkins, the present deputy collector, was stationed here.

Klan Officers To Testify In Flogging Probe

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 6. (U. S. A.) — Top-ranking Ku Klux Klan officers have been called to testify in a grand jury investigation of mob whippings in this area.

Summoned yesterday were Dr. E. P. Pruitt, president of the Federate Ku Klux Klans, Inc., and E. E. Campbell, identified by state investigators as Grand Cyclops of the Robert E. Lee Klan of Birmingham.

Pruitt was ordered to bring to court all records and membership lists of his organization.

The grand jury went into special session last Friday. It was charged to delve into the mounting list of floggings, threats and cross burnings by night riding terrorists.

At least 14 floggings have been brought to light in Jefferson County. Most of them took place in the mountainous area west of Birmingham, in coal mining communities.

Coal Contract Talks Postponed

PITTSBURGH, July 6. (U. S. A.) — John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and the nation's southern and western soft coal operators have pushed back resumption of their contract talks from July 12 to July 19.

Announcement of the delay was made yesterday by Ezra Van Horn, spokesman for the operators, as the miners ended their annual 10-day holiday and began the first three-day work week ordered by Lewis.

Negotiations between the UMW and the southern operators will get underway again July 12 while hard coal contract talks start at Philadelphia tomorrow.

The return to work of the soft coal diggers yesterday marked the first time in recent UMW history that the miners worked without a contract.

Mexico Refuses To Legalize Red Party

MEXICO CITY, July 6. (U. S. A.) — A federal court refused today to grant the Communist Party an order recognizing its legality.

Judge Ignacio Goto Gordon ruled that the order could not be given because political rights are not subject to court orders. Similar orders are frequently asked by individuals to guarantee their personal rights and are granted.

The interior department recently refused to register the Communists as a legal party on the grounds they did not have the required minimum number of members. For this reason, the Communists did not present party candidates in the July 3 elections. The court was asked for an order directing the interior department to register the party.

NEW!

The "Extra" on the new Esso Extra Motor Oil can means you get three-way extra protection for the engine of your car.

- Extra 1 — Humble Esso Extra Motor Oil gives extra lubricating quality.
- Extra 2 — Humble Esso Extra Motor Oil gives extra cooling.
- Extra 3 — Humble Esso Extra Motor Oil keeps engines extra clean.

Now you can get the motor oil that matches Esso Extra gasoline in extra performance. Stop at the Humble sign in your neighborhood... let the station salesman drain dirty, diluted motor oil from the crankcase of your car... and refill with new Esso Extra Motor Oil. He can do it while you wait.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING COMPANY

HUMBLE

Esso Extra MOTOR OIL

... something Extra added!

Here's How New Humble Esso Extra Motor Oil Protects Your Car

CLEANS!

You probably use a good detergent soap in your kitchen. New Esso Extra Motor Oil contains a detergent specially designed to be added to motor oil to keep engines clean. As a good detergent soap will not injure hands and delicate fabrics, the mild detergent in Esso Extra Motor Oil is safe for use in the finest, lightest automobile engine made.

NO RING!

You know how a good soft water carries dirt down the drain pipe—leaves no ring in the tub. Just like that, new Esso Extra Motor Oil breaks up dirt, soot, sludge and varnish and holds it in suspension in particles so tiny—as small as 38/1,000,000 of an inch!—that they can't injure the lightest bearing. When you drain the oil, you also drain the harmful substances which Esso Extra cleans out of your engine.

HOT OR GOLD— ALWAYS THE SAME

In cold weather, you want a motor oil thin enough to flow instantly to moving engine parts. In hot weather, you want an oil that stays full bodied and tough. Scientists rate the ability of an oil to stay the same, hot or cold, by its viscosity index, and, generally, the higher the viscosity index, the better the oil. New Esso Extra Motor Oil has the highest viscosity index of any motor oil in Texas—or out!

Steeds Return Home To Host Odessa Oilers For 3 Games

Garcia Slated To Mount Hill

The beleaguered Odessa Oilers, aroused over a game taken from them by forfeit last night, invade Big Spring tonight to do battle with Pat Slaney's Broncs at Steer park. Kickoff time is 8:15 p.m.

Alex Monchak's Oilers haven't won a game from the Hosses this season. In eight tries, the Ector county contingent has come very, very close at times but the Steeds have always managed to win out.

Failure of the Odessans to scratch against the Big Springers is one reason they're still mired in the second division. They can make long strides toward cutting down that deficit and moving toward a place among the top four teams by slugging the locals into submission.

The teams will play three games here, after which the Cayuses hit the road for two.

Monchak and Mormino remain the big guns of the Odessa offensive but the owners of some new faces are helping them along. Most prominent is Glen Braden, a giant first sacker who has been hard to get out.

It is likely Bert Garcia will go to the pitching rubber for the locals tonight. Garcia owns a 4-1 win-loss record. He may be opposed by Jess Grimes or Ray Knoblaugh, both sterling flingers.

Vealmoor Wildcat Operations Slated

Operations are scheduled to start by Sept. 1 on a 7,500-foot wildcat in the Vealmoor townsite of north-central Howard county, approximately one and a half miles west of the nearest producer in the Vealmoor field.

Designation is the J. W. Muse of Big Spring No. 1. Bert Manning, III, spotted 330 feet from south and 415 feet from east lines of the lease in section 25, block 33, T-5-N, R-6-P survey.

The projected depth is slated to allow an exploration into the Pennsylvanian which produces in the Vealmoor pool. Drilling will be with rotary.

SKYLARKER GOES THROUGH FOR $75 PAYOFF — Skylarker (fourth from right) rushes up between horses in the stretch in race at Monmouth Park track, Oceanport, N. J., in his bid for victory. Ridden by apprentice jockey Jimmy Thompson, Skylarker made good the bid to pay $75 for each $2 mutuel. It was Thompson's first winning ride. Leading the pack here is Airis (8), Jimmy Stout up, which finished out of the money. Wanima (second from right) finished second and Ace Skipper (on rail) was third. (AP Wirephoto)

Lasses To Swim In Big Y Meet

A girls' division has been added to the schedule for the YMCA sponsored Swim Meet and Water Carnival to be held in the municipal pool July 23. Bobo Hardy, director of arrangements for the event has announced.

The Howard County Athletic Association will award a trophy to the girl accumulating the greatest number of points in the meet and will award medals to winners of the first three places in each of the events in both boys' and girls' divisions, Hardy said.

High point senior boy's trophy will be given by Cowper Clinic and the junior boy with the highest point record in the meet will receive a trophy from Dibrell Sporting Goods company.

Two events of the girls' division, open to girls aged 19 and under, will be backstroke and free style. Boys' events will include breast stroke, free style, back stroke, and diving.

A water ballet and variety of stunt performances will be held in connection with the meet.

Dom DiMaggio Steal Joe's Thunder In Red Sox Win

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Staff

The youngest of the great Dimaggio clan, Dom, although enjoying his best year in baseball, has been shoved into the background by the electrifying comeback of big brother Joe.

Nearly all fans know that Joe has slammed five home runs since his return to active competition a week ago. But few are aware that Dom has made more hits than any other American Leaguer and is second only to Detroit's George Kell in batting. And there is no better fielding center fielder in the majors.

Dom cracked a home run for the Boston Red Sox Sunday, but it went practically unnoticed because it so happened that his brother Joe also slammed a round tripper.

It was the other way around last night. It was Joe who faded into the background despite his double single and two walks in four times at bat for the New York Yankees.

Dom walloped a home run and triple and scored two runs to lead the Red Sox to a 4-2 triumph over the Yankees. This helped the Red Sox snap an eight-game losing streak. In addition, Dom made the fielding play of the game coming up with a brilliant running one-handed catch of leadoff batter Phil Rizzulo's bid for a triple in the eighth. Since two walks followed, Dom's catch definitely saved the game for Boston.

Dom's two blows gave him 93 hits for the season and boosted his batting average to .332. Joe is batting .414 but has played in nine games compared to 88 for Dom.

While Dom was supplying the fireworks, Maurice (Mickey) McDermott, a 20-year-old southpaw limited the Yankees to four hits to win his third game since joining the Red Sox several weeks ago.

It was Boston's first victory in their last six games with the league leaders, and cut the Yankees' margin over the idle, runner-up Philadelphia Athletics to four games.

The third place Cleveland Indians advanced to within six games of the Yankees, drubbing the Tigers in Detroit, 5-1. Frank Papish, making his second start for Cleveland, gained his first victory with a seven-inning, Joe Gordon led a 14-hit attack against three Bengal hurlers with two singles and his 12th home run.

The St. Louis Browns came up with six runs in the seventh inning to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 9-5. Paul Lehner singled with the bases loaded to drive in two runs, and when catcher Joe Tipton let the throw home get away from him, then threw wild to third, everybody scored.

The second place St. Louis Cardinals cut Brooklyn's National League lead to one game by winning in 10 innings, 2-1, from Chicago while the Philadelphia Phils whipped the Dodgers, 7-2.

Singles by Red Schoendienst and Marty Marion, and Stan Musial's fielder's choice accounted for the winning run in the 10th. Musial cut down the potential tying run in the last half of the 10th with a fine throw home.

Ken Heintzelman, veteran Philly southpaw, allowed seven hits in racking up his 10th victory and his fourth straight over the Dodgers. All games were played at night except the Cubs-Cards game. All other teams enjoyed an off day.

Pros Heavy Favorites In Annual Trophy Matches At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, July 5. (AP)—The professionals were heavy favorites today as the annual Texas Cup Matches opened at River Crest Country Club.

Only four times in 16 years have the simon-pures managed to come through.

The teams that faced off today were considerably changed from the ones announced a couple of weeks ago.

Four alternates—two pros and two amateurs—were announced yesterday to complete the 12-man teams.

Byron Nelson of Roanoke and Ray Hill, former Shreveporter, are missing from the professionals' lineup. Nelson is away on business and Hill is making the golf tour. Gene Mitchell of Plainview and Don Murphy of Texarkana replaced them.

Dick Martin of Dallas and Dick McCreary of Houston could not be here to play with the amateurs.

Subbing for Martin and McCreary are L. M. Crannell and Gene Towry, both of Dallas. They are from the North Texas State College golf squad.

Raymond Gafford of Fort Worth is playing captain of the pros with Earl Stewart, Jr. of Longview leading the amateurs.

There will be 12 doubles matches today with 12 singles matches tomorrow.

Today's pairings (amateurs listed first):

Earl Stewart, Longview, and Reynolds Smith, Dallas, vs Raymond Gafford, Fort Worth, and Jack Harden, El Paso.

Billy Maxwell, Odessa, and Joe Conrad, San Antonio vs Charles Klein, Amarillo, and Wally Hardin, El Paso.

Don Cherry, Odessa and Gene Towry, Denton, vs Warren Smith and Tod Menefee, San Antonio.

Jack Munger, Dallas, and Ed Hopkins, Austin, vs Frank Champ, Lake Charles, La., and Elroy Martin, Houston.

Morris Williams, Austin, and Bob Watson, Wichita Falls, vs W. A. Stackhouse, Raymondville, and Brandt Mize, Dallas.

L. M. Crannell, Denton, and Royal Hogan, Fort Worth, vs Gene Mitchell, Plainview, and Don Murphy, Texarkana.

League Begins Play Friday

Junior Broncs and East Ward Indians will clash on the high school diamond Friday afternoon to open play in a boys' baseball league formed by the YMCA, according to Bobo Hardy, athletic director for the organization.

Four teams have been formed and a fifth is being organized, Hardy said. Teams are composed of youths in the 7th grade or below. Games will be scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons on the high school grounds.

Teams already organized are the Junior Broncs, Eagles, East Ward Indians, and the Malaise Maulers. Hardy is contacting Big Spring merchants in an effort to obtain uniforms for all the teams.

In the Church-YMCA softball league, First Methodist leads a field of five teams, having won two games with no defeats. The Presbyterian and East 4th Baptist Churches are second in the standings, each having split two-game cards.

First Baptist and North Side Baptist teams have each lost one game in as many starts.

Reynolds, Vineyard Win Putting Contest

Karl Reynolds and Tot Vineyard finished first in the men's and women's divisions, respectively, of the weekly putting tournament on the Country Club course yesterday.

Sam McCombs was second in the men's contest while J. E. Foote ranked third.

Second place in women's putting went to Norma Griffiths, Mrs. Earl Reynolds was third in that division.

Exciting New Season Forecast On Broadway When Fall Comes

By MARK BARRON
NEW YORK, — With a half dozen smashing hits carrying the Broadway theater through the summer season, Rialto Producers are now busily lining up plans for what appears to be an exciting new season when stage curtains begin rising on new shows in September.
The opening show of the new season, oddly enough, is not a new show at all. It is that veteran of veterans, Ken Murray's "Blackouts," which has been running at the El Capitan Theater since June, 1943. A variety show with Murray, who has appeared in many Broadway musicals and night clubs, in the leading role, it will make its Atlantic Coast bow at either the Ziegfeld or the Mark Hellinger Theater Sept. 6.

Tails Of Elephants Are Used As Legal Tender

By H. C. JOHNSON
—ASOC PRESS STAFF WRITER
NEW YORK, July 2.—Fort Knox hasn't seen anything. All the government repository in Kentucky has is gold. So far as anyone outside of the Treasury knows, there aren't any elephant tails, sticks of tobacco or shark vertebrae in the vaults.
Yet if you are fresh out of gold, there are places in the world where the last named items, or something equally bizarre, will be accepted as coin of the realm.
Take, for instance, the Island of Yap, one of the Carolines group in the Pacific. If you ever get stuck there, a large stone disk—30 inches in diameter, weighing 175 pounds and looking for all the world like a New England millstone—will buy you 10,000 coconuts, one-quarter acre of land, a canoe—or a wife.

Greeks Trained To Fight Ex-Comrades

MAKRONISSOS ISLAND, Greece, June 25.—In a unique experiment, soldiers here are being trained to fight against their former Communist comrades of the so-called "Democratic Army."
Hundreds of former guerrillas are among 5,000 Makronissos graduates engaged as front line troops against the Communist-led rebels.
Greek authorities claim this is the only place in the world where such a positive program is under way.
In 18 months, more than 20,000 Communist, suspected Communist, fellow travelers and former members of guerrilla bands have been processed in this "reformation" system. Over 10,000 have "graduated." Five thousand of these are at the front. The others are service troops, or have been released from the Army.

Chinese Beggar King Explains His Trade

SINGAPORE.—A beggar's rags should be patched but respectable—poor but not filthy.
Singapore's uncrowned king of the beggars was serving tea and with it his precepts for success in his calling. Owner of a comfortable home, he lives the role of a prosperous Towkay (wealthy Chinese businessman) by day.

Flanders Fears Naught But Fear

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said today the only real danger to the nation's economy is the possibility of businessmen "frightening themselves into a recession."
The Vermontor, who used to be a manufacturer, expressed the hope that President Truman will address a "dam good pep talk" to merchants and manufacturers in the economic report he is scheduled to send to Congress soon.

New Wheat Pact Will Be Put Into Operation

WASHINGTON, July 6. (AP)—The International Wheat Council came back to Washington today to put into operation a recently-ratified international wheat agreement.

The agreement is designed to stabilize prices and supplies of the bread grain in world markets. It will employ export quotas and a system of maximum and minimum prices.

The agreement would assure the United States an annual market for 180 million bushels, providing, of course, that all importing countries which signed the pact ratify it. By yesterday, importing countries agreeing to take about 74 per cent of the 456 million-bushel annual export movement under the agreement had formally ratified it.

As a major exporter, the United States has ratified the document, but Congress has not yet appropriated the $84 million which Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has said would be necessary to allow this country to comply.

Since wheat prices in this country are supported above the world market level set in the agreement, the government would have to make up the difference in the form of an export subsidy.

Today's council meeting was called chiefly to set up an administrative staff and select a site for the council's permanent operations.

Radio Editorial Programs Slated

DALLAS, July 6. (AP)—A new voice of opinion—radio—is easing its way into state and local issues in Texas.

The steps are cautious ones, but some broadcasters are keeping an eye on such controversial matters as the approaching 1950 elections.

The Federal Communications Commission relaxed its rules early last month to give radio stations the right to express their individual thoughts on public affairs. Formerly such a privilege was confined by law to radio commentators.

A number of Texas stations already have started plans for regular editorial programs.

The Associated Press surveyed 32 representative broadcasters in every section of the state.

The indicated trends were:

One—The FCC move is welcomed widely by Texas radio. A small number do not favor the move.

Two—Close to one-half of the 32 stations surveyed have definite plans for programs voicing the station's opinions. Some already have such programs underway.

Three—Stations in the smaller towns generally plan a more aggressive editorial program than those in the large cities.

Four—There is some hesitancy as to how far they can go in "editorializing."

W. P. Hood, vice president and general manager of KFDX, Wichita Falls, spoke of the "present uncertainty to interpretation" of the FCC ruling.

"A radio station is more properly a conduit. But if editorialization were clearly permissible and circumstances made it desirable and advisable, we would not hesitate to take a stand," he said.

An operator of a chain of regional stations, who asked that his name be withheld, said: "I strongly believe that radio stations should have the right to editorialize—and I also believe that the industry will be making a mistake should it exercise that right."

Another official, also asking to be unidentified, said he thought the FCC action was a "mistake."

But most of the surveyed broadcasters voiced enthusiastic approval. The National Assn. of Broadcasters had long fought for such a ruling.
