Lynx Band Prepares First Halftime Presentation

The Spearman Lynx Band is currently in rehearsal for its first halftime presentation of the year to be held at Stratford, September 3. The drill coordinated to the music is in the "group-line" method of the corps-style format.

The opener is popular. "This is my Country" arranged by Paul Jennings which features drill of lines to arcs, expanding arcs, expansions of intervals, contraction of intervals and in pushing power forms and company fronts.

The feature number will be "We Got the Beat" arranged by Bob Cotter, which was popularized by the all girl group, the Go-Go's. The Lynx flag corps will be featured during this number, doing an energetic routine learned at their clinic with Miss Donna Goss. The flag corps will again be featured at the first home game, September 10.

Lynx Flag Corp Captains Selected

Quinn Brown and Bambi Burger have been selected as captains of the Lynx flag corps. The responsibilities of guard captains are to teach mastery of equipment handling to the other color guard members, and to serve as a creative liaison to the band director in show design and routine design.

Both girls have been members of the corps in the past, and are experienced and accomplished flaggers. We are very fortunate to have them coordinate the Lynx color guard this year.

Kevin Rook

KEVIN ROOK COMPETES AT CHICAGO FOR DECA NATIONAL FINALS--Kevin Rook of Spearman, was named this year to the top 8 boys in the Nation in DECA, according to Worley Smith, who teaches DECA at Spearman High School.

Kevin competed at Area in Lubbock and won; then at Corpus Christi in State Competition where he won; and then at the Nationals in Chicago, where he was named as one of the top 8 in the Nation.

We join in congratulating Kevin and all of our local DECA people. Kevin plans to work with his father at Spearman Auto.

For appointment call Carol Hall, 659-3356 or Rose Cator, 733-2317 in Gruver.

Walk in donors will also be taken.

Come out and help us make our goal and over.

Local youth compete at Rodeo

The 6th Annual Gray County 4-H Youth Rodeo was completed August 21 with a total of 258 contestants. These youth were in competition for a total of 66 belt buckles which were awarded to the top winners. A total of 48 ribbons and two trophies were awarded to the top Pee Wee winners.

Hadley Reed of Spearman was the top contestant in the 15-18 age group and was awarded a buckle.

Hadley was second in bareback bronc riding and second in calf roping.

Travis Patterson of Spearman and Randy Martin of Wheeler placed first in the team roping in the 15-18 age group.

Rich Melton

It was "preacher day" at the Lions Club Tuesday, when Rich Melton gave the program on "Sexual Harassment" on the job. Rich gave an excellent program and two new prospective members were present; the new Baptist Minister and First Christian Church minister. We welcome these new prospective members. Also present was Boss Lion Buchanan, but we have been missing our "Sweetheart" and would someone please tell her to start coming to Lions Club...please.

Lynx to scrimmage White Deer

THIS IS A LITTLE NOTE FROM SPORTS DESK: The Spearman Lynx will host the White Deer Team in their second and final scrimmage of the season. The Lynx and White Deer will follow at approximately 7:30, following the Lynx and White Deer JV game. The JV Lynx seem like they are going to have a fine season this year. As far as the Lynx are concerned, they plan to go on thru White Deer and get ready for their season opener which will be on Friday, September 3, against the top-rated Stratford Elks at Elk Stadium. Go on over to Lynx Stadium and see the Lynx and Jr. Varsity Lynx in action against White Deer's teams. These should be two fine games to watch.

New program for Boys Ages 5-18

Church Sponsors "Royal Rangers"

Approximately 25 years ago a man by the name of Johnny Barnes, a true man of God, saw boys each and every day being lost to the world without anything to do. Some would spend their time participating in sports, and others would take other activities in school, but those who ended up doing nothing found themselves going nowhere. So the next best thing to do would be drugs and alcohol or etc., to pass the time away.

Johnny asked God what he could do to change things and God gave him a vision for a program. This program has become one of the largest growing world wide programs of today. It has changed the lives of many boys and has caused many of them to become leaders, ministers and great christians for God.

The program is call Royal Rangers. Its purpose is to win boys to Jesus Christ. Royal Rangers focuses on the boy--his needs, his interest, and his characteristics. Emphasis is placed on making the christian life so challenging to boys that they will recognize and assume there places of responsibility as believers in Christ and followers of him.

Royal Rangers has a key attraction which catches the eye of every boy and this is its camping program. Its camping program teaches a boy reliability, resourcefulness, initiative, self-reliance, honesty, teamwork, fair play and christian likeness so that when God taps them on the shoulder and calls them to any field of Service, each boy will answer saying "Here am I, Lord, send me."

Johnny had another problem. He couldn't figure out a way to teach boys the direction to take on their own level. So he asked God and God gave him an idea to take the sixteen points of the compass and apply them to a boys life. He colored them in and later he labeled each point according to God's will. These Points became the Royal Ranger Emblem.

1. The four gold points stand for the four ways a boy grows: mentally, physically, spiritually, and socially.
2. The four red points stand for the four cardinal doctrine of the church: salvation, Holy Spirit, Healing, Rapture.
3. The eight Blue points make up the Royal Ranger code: alert, clean, honest, courageous, loyal, courteous, obedient, spiritual.

Then you take the name Royal Ranger. If John 1:12 says we are sons of God when we accept Christ and God is a King, then that makes us part of a family of Royalty and if a Forest Ranger can keep the forest, then who could keep God's word in their hearts better than a Royal Ranger.

Johnny also thought up a pledge to teach the boys: "With God's help I will do my best to serve God, my church, and my fellow man and to live by the Ranger Code and to make the Golden Rule my Daily Rule. Johnny also made up a motto: A Royal Ranger is "Ready". Ready to work, play, serve, obey, worship, live, etc..."

To be a qualified Leader in Royal Rangers a man must be 12 things:

1. A born again christian well grounded in the word.
2. loyal to the church
3. habits and ideas above reproach.
4. has to like boys and working with them.
4. have a consistent testimony in daily christian living.
6. able to lead and delegate authority.
7. possess good judgment.

8. willing to accept responsibility.

9. command the respect of others.

10. cooperate with the program of the church.

11. take Leadership Training Course.

12. be 21 years of age or older.

Randall Yarberry, Rev. David Nuckles, Jimmy Vanlandingham, and Bobby Snider have taken a 10 week Leadership Training Course which helped them to meet each of the qualifications to be a leader. The course teaches each man organizational structure of the program, counseling for boys, coordinating programs, and camp ideas. This reassures the parents that their boys are under well supervision.

We have a program schedule that lasts one hour and forty five minutes each week. We start with a five minute opening ceremony, which consists of prayer, Royal Ranger Pledge, etc... Then we have business which consists of roll call and other things. Then we have a ten minute Bible Study. Then we have a Program Feature which consists of teaching camp craft, first aid, nature study, physical fitness, crafts and hobbies, conservation, citizenship, and other features for 30 minutes. Then we have recreation for 30 minutes. Then a ten minute Devotion, then a 5 minute closing ceremony. Then the boys are dismissed. We also have a camp-out every month of the year come rain, snow, or shine. The qualifications for a boy to be part of the program is just to be there.

If he wants to wear a uniform he must:

1. Be at least 5 years to 18 years old.
2. Memorize the Royal Ranger Pledge.
3. Learn the Royal Ranger Motto.
4. Attend Sunday School regularly somewhere.

The greatest part of Royal Rangers to me is when you are on a camp-out and it's dark, the moon is shining bright, and the council fire is burning with delight. Skits are put on and songs are sung. Then a devotion is given and a call to accept Christ is heard. Then 40 or 50 boys come forward and give their heart to the Lord. "Praise God the work is being done."

All meetings 8:00 Tuesday night each week at the Assembly of God Church Fellowship Hall.

Bobby Snider

Commissioners face 'no bid' response

At their regular meeting, Monday, over cold dishes of homemade ice cream, county commissioners discussed more cooling for the treasurer's office, reconstruction of a bridge, a new fire contract with the city -- and a "no-bid" situation on a mower.

The court had advertised for bids on a mower for precinct four but there was no response. Nor was there any indication why there were no bids submitted. A mower is in the category of items that have to be purchased the hope constituents living near a weed patch didn't feed them!

Commissioners were more fortunate with another bidding project: their sale of the 4-H trailer. Dan Ralston submitted the highest bid -- $2,000 -- for the purchase of this unit from the county.

The court spent much of the morning consulting with a qualified engineer concerning the county road bridge that was a victim of the season's elements this year plus a number of miles of usage during its existence. Three ways to attack the problem were outlined. No action was schedule on this matter at the meeting, Monday. County Judge R.L. McClellan told the court he felt the bridge would be a high-cost endeavor whatever course was decided.

Commissioners made an "on the spot" check of the tax office where workers had complained of a lack of cooling and of fresh air. The opinion was that the problem was circulation. While the air conditioning units -- like those throughout the courthouse -- are old, most of them are functioning flawlessly.

However, at least one in the large tax office is not producing the circulating volume needed.

Two courses were adopted for the present time: the weak unit will be checked out and an updraft ceiling fan will be installed to try for improved circulation. The fan will be operated by a rheostat so that its speed can be minutely controlled. It was felt this plus the use of an updraft mode would guard against blowing and scattering papers which are the stock-in-trade of the tax office.

The new aspect of the budget for the Stationmaster's House museum was discussed. Budget-wise, the museum had to separate itself from the historical society in order to benefit from any grants that become available. Museum budgetary needs could range from a bare minimum of $6,000 annually to as much as $24,000 per annum.

The differences would be in half-day or all-day operation of the museum and whether it would be given the recently phased-out depot here.

This also was a discussion item and no action was taken at the Monday meeting.

Commissioners agreed to enter into the new fire contract with the city at the increased rate. There was little discussion of this item for the increased rate is the only change in the pact that has been renewed annually the past two years.

Other items were matters of the routine operation of the county and were approved.

The next regular session of Hansford county commissioners court will be Sept. 13 -- the Monday following Labor Day. Court sessions are open to the public.

VISITOR ACCOMMODATIONS--Hansford County commissioners did themselves proud this past week when they surfaced the parking lots at the extended care nursing center just east of Hansford Hospital. It was one of the few finishing touches to the facility remaining and it gives those visiting loved ones at the center an all-weather surface for parking and for access to and from their cars and the building. Commissioners and their crews worked in concert on this project and the quality of it illustrates the quality of the work done at any point in the county. Last year, Hansford Cemetery was such a project.

Norway Student To Attend School Here

Terje Thøgersen of Fredrikstad, Norway, arrived here Thursday night. He will attend school this year at Spearman High School.

The foreign exchange student is living in the home of Andy & Janet Scarborough at 1008 Townsend. The Scarboroughs do not have any children and applied to the American Intercultural Student Exchange in May to make arrangements for him to attend school here.

Terje will be a senior in high school this year. He is 17 years old.

A small party welcoming him to the family and to meet some friends was held Sunday afternoon. The party was held at Spearman Appliance Center, owned by Jr. Hollis. Mrs. Scarborough is a daughter of the Hollis.

Students attending and getting acquainted with Terje were Darla Hollis, Dennis Randall and James Potter.

How big is the eye of a hurricane? Is it true that the eye is sometimes completely clear while for hundreds of miles on each side the sky is filled with clouds?

The eye of a hurricane is never more than a few miles, usually less than five. It's true that sometimes in the middle of the great storm—in the eye, so to speak—the sky overhead will suddenly appear blue.

Winds will calm down and for a few minutes a strange stillness will descend—with roaring winds just a few miles distant in all directions. This is the very center of the circular motion of the winds (counterclockwise), the hub of a great blowing circle.

The lull soon ends and when the winds return—they are from the opposite direction—and often just as strong as before.

TV COMMENTARY

By Bente Christensen

THE makers of Coco-Cola, the nation's top soft drink and the pioneer in its field, has succeeded in forcing Pepsi to change its recent commercials—which showed people in supermarkets picking Pepsi over Coke.

COKE executives said tests Pepsi had had made were private and not done in supermarkets. The key wording which influenced the networks was Pepsi's use of the words "in tests like these." Coke said the Pepsi tests were not such tests, in supermarkets.

MEANWHILE, Bill Cosby beats all in his selling of Coke. Cosby's sense of humor and his claim that the others are trying to imitate old number-one comes over with a pleasant impression.

WHY are ninety percent of the husbands on commercial television dunces—to be laughed out, silenced or corrected? Does this constant depreciation of husbands represent a reaction to the patriarch of the last century? Could it not be responsible for some of the breakdown in parental authority (and resulting crime) in the nation today?

DOES the degrading have anything to do with the fact that women are television's biggest viewing audience, and buy most of the products advertised by sponsors of these programs? THE first climatic game of the new college football season, scheduled to be nationally telecast, will be the Clemson-Georgia game September 6. Either of these teams could end up high in the national ratings.

A recent TV Guide article by the Singers (Jerome and Dorothy) addresses a serious issue involving the tube and commercial networks. The writers note that TV today confronts children with adult references and situations about sex they're not ready for.

WHERE is the love and tenderness themes that sex should really center around? They're seldom stressed in commercial television. One Harvard study found most youngsters get their first sex learning from TV, but rarely discuss the subject with parents! Closer parental supervision over what young children watch is suggested.

CHANGING ATTITUDES ABOUT DWI

Few things in this country have changed as much during the past few years as public attitudes on drunk drivers. It is a change we can all be thankful for.

Most of that change, in my opinion, can be attributed to the organization of Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD), and the attendant publicity and editorial support they have received from our newspapers. They have succeeded, where others have failed, in drawing attention to the tragedy that has claimed the lives of thousands of Texans.

It was not long ago, for instance, when some public officials who ought to lead by example were openly contemptuous of our laws against driving while drunk. Much of this problem started nine years ago when my opponent became Lt. Governor and helped pass the law reducing the legal drinking age from twenty-one to eighteen years of age. Now Mr.

Hobby, feeling the heat of irate parents and loved ones, and perhaps personal remorse, has said he favors tougher drunk driving laws—another switch from a previous position.

Political promises, however, are easily made. If a politician can't get excited about an issue of this magnitude in nine years, it seems unlikely that he would get excited and pursue corrective legislation in another four years.

So I hope the Mothers Against Drunk Drivers will stick to their guns, and I hope they continue getting support from the people of our state. Their efforts to put an end to this carnage on our highways has my support, and I hope it has yours.

Of one thing we can be reasonably sure: Starting next year we will have a new Lt. Governor, and that will make it easier. If you have thoughts on this subject, please write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, 78705.

Rotary Club News

Mike "Moose" Brinson and Mike Caldwell reported to the Spearman Rotary Club their impressions of Camp RYLA at last Monday's meeting. The two Mikes were chosen by the Spearman Rotary Club to represent Hansford County at the Rotary Youth Leadership Awards Camp near Taos, New Mexico. Through the cooperation of the high school staff the two Mikes were awarded this trip as leaders in the Spearman Independent School District.

Rotary District 573 sponsors the camp and has done so for six years. Conceived as a leadership development camp, RYLA provides an atmosphere for democratic living in a camp setting, uses speakers and counselors to promote an environment to encourage insight and understanding for intelligent leadership opportunities and challenges of a free democratic society and address questions relating to conflicts of values and decisions which confront each participant.

RYLA camp consists of programs and activities not unlike other youth camps. The two Mikes related stories of cabin competition in softball and push ball in addition to having opportunities to play tennis, fish, swim, shoot rifles, take saunas and whirlpools. Every morning at 7:00 there were the calisthenics to awaken the boys and condition them for the long day of speakers and small group discussions and physical activities.

Between August 1 and 6 there were talks and discussions from a variety of top-notch speakers representing professions, banking, counseling, medicine, ministry, coaching, business executives, business owners, consultants, petroleum, insurance and college professors. These speakers related their own experiences in the free enterprise system, goal setting, motivation of self and how, with a good combination of these techniques coupled with leadership skills one can really succeed in the American free enterprise system.

The two young men, in their reports to the club, expressed a feeling that the basic character of the camp welded a total structure for leadership development. Accommodations, according to Brinson, were excellent and helped set the stage for learning as the activities provided for individual, small and large group experiences, which built a bridge for understanding and interpreting the messages of the speakers and reflection on the topics in one-to-one and group discussions with counselors.

Caldwell spoke of the opportunity given each young man to learn the framework of the free enterprise system, learn and sharpen leadership skills, a challenge of individual and team development and learned that setting short and long term goals were keys to success. Speakers at the week-long camping experience stated that these young men were the key to the future of the American free enterprise system and by using the keys learned during the week will emerge as adults and make a difference for generations to come.

Do you consider the energy situation serious, and so, have you changed your lifestyle because of it?

Almost half of the American people considered it serious in 1979, according to a Gallup Poll then, but a lot of people also believe technology will solve the problem before major lifestyle changes are necessary.

Whether technology can jump ahead of the energy problem or not remains a question.

That brings up another question: if technology fails to solve the energy problem, can Americans adjust to having less? In some ways Americans have become a part of an "energy addicted" society. Beliefs and behaviors focus on getting more id using more.

People who have not recognized the energy problem as such, then, have not clarified their values about energy use, they cannot know what is important to them. Neither can they know what they're willing to give up or substitute. Nor can they know what their new goals and aims will be if the energy problem remains unsolved.

New Values About Energy
People who haven't realized the energy situation and who haven't made decisions about an energy-short lifestyle need to consider it and define their values about energy use.

Planning should include probable limits on the family's energy use and limits that Americans and other countries may face.

Think of energy in terms of dollars the family spends. As it's viewed this way, family members may become more aware of their own values concerning energy use. This can lead to changes in energy use—more in keeping with those values.

In clarifying values, rank them and notice if they are strong enough to change the ways things are done or if they just get "lip service."

Here are some questions to ask about energy use:

- 1) What are priorities for energy use in the family?
- 2) Which are essentials, and which are luxuries?
- 3) Which could be given up, if necessary?
- 4) What substitutes and compromises are available?

5) What would happen if we changed some of the ways we use energy now?

New Energy Decisions
When family members understand their values, they can make decisions about lifestyle that will cut energy use.

They may decide to do more with less. They may think of ways to use solar and human energy instead of fossil-fuel energy.

Also, they may develop ways to adjust schedules and routines to make the most of energy when they must use it.

Perhaps they'll be more "choosy" about buying goods and services—to save energy on the production line and at home.

Finally, they may take a greater interest in America's future—and show more concern about it—by keeping up with reliable information on the energy situation and acting upon those concerns.

FRIDAY

Change in vote tabulation

Secretary of State David A. Dean announced today the Secretary of State will undertake vote tabulation in primary and general elections beginning with the November 2 general election. Dean noted that the Texas Election Bureau (TEB) had unanimously voted not to tabulate results for the upcoming general election and instead supported a merger of experience and expertise with the Secretary of State's Office.

Secretary Dean stated "I am extremely appreciative of this vote of confidence and the support expressed by the TEB Directors. I have no doubt that their pledge of support and resources ensures that the undertaking will be a successful venture. Our combined talents will maximize the state's ability to quickly and accurately report statewide vote totals. The natural consequence of our efforts will be minimized opportunity for election fraud and a maximized flow of election results to the public and candidates."

Dean also stated that he was inviting the current members of the TEB to serve on an advisory task force to the Secretary of State to oversee the election reporting project, particularly with respect to formatting the returns to be reported on November 2, 1982. "The TEB has indeed filled a void for the State since 1916 and is to be commended for their service to the state over the years, however, the time has clearly come for the State to assume the vote tabulation function and for it to be carried on by the state."

Burl Osborne, Executive Editor of the Dallas Morning News, and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Texas Election Bureau, stated that the TEB Board of Directors had carefully analyzed the Secretary of State's proposal and had unanimously come to the decision to support the state sponsored project. Osborne stated, "Based on assurances from Secretary Dean, the reports of the TEB staff, and the views expressed by our Board members, we have asked Secretary Dean to proceed with our cooperation."

Dean noted that the Subcommittee on Public Disclosure of the Public Servants Standards of Conduct Committee had, on August 3, 1982, ratified a proposal calling for the Secretary of State to assume the vote tabulation process with full committee approval expected in October. In addition, Governor Hobby, Speaker Clayton and State Representative Gib Lewis, had endorsed the Secretary of State sponsored project. Dean noted that Representative Lewis will be the House sponsor of the legislation to institutionalize the process in the Secretary of State's Office by statute.

Secretary Dean concluded "I look forward to working with the membership of the TEB in this endeavor and know full well that their support coupled with that of the county clerks and news media, will result in an efficient and effective statewide vote tabulation project beginning on November 2, 1982."

Schooltime

Millions of American youngsters are returning to school, a major social, emotional, educational and athletic event in their lives (and of parents).

American schools suffered serious lapses in the sixties and early seventies but a return to common sense and discipline seems to be returning in many areas. The hope is that the heavy burden on society--of children schooled in the sixties and seventies unable to read or do math, and undisciplined--will not be continued. (Some of today's unemployment is a result of our schools over-permissiveness in recent years, which produced graduates unqualified for jobs.)

With improvement in learning, discipline and in general atmosphere, many are feeling better about public schools, though many in recent years have also fled to private ones, and may not return. With less emphasis too, on long-distance busing, parents are more mollified.

Above all problems, parents can usually make school a positive, happy experience. They can participate in school affairs, speak positively about school's vital importance, stress the friendships and scholarship to be attained.

Parents should also outfit their children, when possible, with new school clothes, new shoes and good school bags. Parents should learn to know teachers and cooperate with programs and goals they pursue, consulting when necessary.

In short, parents can do much to make school's opening a happy, positive affair that children will look forward to. One can't overstress the psychological importance of this approach.

It takes one second for the wings of small hummingbird to beat 70 times.

Texans one-TD better in scrimmage

Guymon, Lynx defenses shine here

Guymon has a good, hard-hitting ball club and I was impressed with their pursuit, but, I really dunno how good we are," confided Spearman Coach Larry Lanier after the Lynx defeated the Tigers by a touchdown in a pre-season scrimmage at the Tiger Bowl here Friday night.

If the first-year Spearman coach has any doubts, he only has to ask Guymon counterpart, Don Beck.

"I'll tell ya, Spearman may be picked low in that district (1-AAA)," contended Beck, "but they're gonna surprise some people...and sneak up on some teams."

"That's a good ball club!"

Spearman won the scrimmage, 6-0 or 12-6, depending upon whether ya wanna count goal-line TDs. Both teams scored once in five thrusts from the 10-yard line. Other than, the only score came during the Lynx's second possession on a stunningly-swift, 58-yard pass from reserve quarterback Ross Donaghue to speedy end Jan Hartsel.

"He's the JV quarterback," noted Lanier after the youngster completed two of five passes for 66 yards, although throw one interception.

"I was disappointed with our offense; we didn't move the ball at all," continued the Lynx mentor whose squad managed only 109 yards passing and 89 rushing; and, of course, 58 of those 198 yards total offense came on that one scoring sortie.

"I wasn't happy with our pass defense," lamented Lanier after Guymon, led by junior quarterback Chris Purdy, picked up 105 yards thru the air. Actually, Guymon outgained Spearman, 242-196.

Purdy, a transplanted runningback, did a fine job running the Veer offense despite Guymon's inability to put points on the board. The exciting signal-caller completed seven of 13 passes for 87 yards and was, also, the Tigers' top rusher.

Junior Mark Collins quarterbacked the locals during the middle session and hit only one of four passes but picked up 18 yards on that lone strike.

Both Guymon quarterbacks threw an interception and the club also lost a fumble for three turnovers.

"I was pleased with the way we played; we'll get better each week," ascertained Beck. "I saw good things out there...and bad things, but as long as we improve every time out..."

"I thought our pass protection did a very good job," opined Beck.

That phase was especially impressive during Guymon's first (20-play) possession which saw the deadly Purdy bulls-eye six of nine passes for 81 yards; he hit five different receivers during the Tigers' impressive 113-yard offensive display.

In fact, after missing his first attempt, Purdy completed four in a row to Joel Padilla (4), Scott Lane (10), Mike Peters (20) and Mike Garcia (18) as Guymon methodically marched to the Spearman five.

However, then, the big, rugged Lynx defense stiffened as two running plays netted nothing; Purdy threw an interception in the end zone and was sacked on fourth down.

With the teams forced to start from their 30 after failing to pick up a first down, Guymon mounted another threat as Purdy and the sure-handed Peters collaborated on a 17-yarder and, four plays later, the Tiger hurler found end Sam Fouquet for a 12-yard advancement which carried to the 32.

But Guymon ran out of plays.

"I thought we moved the ball well, especially early," remarked Beck.

Guymon, actually, had its best threat in a 15-play, round two as they drove 68 yards—all on the ground—to the Spearman one. The highlighter was Garcia's 24-yard romp to the nine.

Two plays later Rick Rhoads boomed seven yards to the two, but, again, the Spearman defense stiffened as two more thrusts netted only a single yard.

Guymon's 10-play third possession also produced a mini-threat as the hometowners, spurred by Purdy's 20-yard gallop to midfield, drove to the enemy 43; however, Purdy's pass to Fouquet was batted away inside the 10 on the last play.

Meantime, Guymon's defense was superb; the Tigers allowed only 2.4 yards per rush...and on no less than 13 occasions, Spearman ball-carriers were stopped for losses or no gains; the visitors wound up with 42 yards in losses.

Spearman obtained five first downs during its first possession and strolled to the Guymon eight, but three running plays picked up little and, on fourth down, No. 1 quarterback Billy Pat Underwood was sacked.

In the second session the Lynx drove to Guymon's 37-yard line, but were stalled as Fouquet, playing cornerback, picked off a Donaghue pass inside the 20. Spearman was forced to start all over again from its own 30.

But four plays later, Donaghue found Hartsel open at midfield and the 6-0 165-pound junior burst into the open, broke clear of the secondary and completed the 58-yard scoring play.

Guymon's defense was at its best during Spearman's third and final possession; the Lynx ran 10 plays and had no net yardage. The Texans picked up 14 yards passing, but lost 14 yards rushing (on seven carries).

"One time there, it seemed everytime I looked up, they (Spearman) were going down," straight-faced Beck. Underwood was sacked thrice, threw an incomplete pass and was stopped for no gain on Spearman's last five offensive plays...before the teams broke to run their goal line offenses.

During that phase, Lane bucked over from the one on fourth down for Guymon's lone score, while Underwood cracked over from the one for Spearman. That play was set up by fullback Dennis Randall's nine-yard burst.

Randall was Spearman's top rusher for the night; Underwood wound up with four completions in seven attempts for 43 yards.

Besides holding an advantage in the total offense department, the Bengals also out-first-downed Spearman, 12-9. Both clubs ran 45 plays, plus five goal-lineers; Guymon averaged 4.8 yards per snap, while allowing only 3.9.

"Our defense did a good job, I thought," added Beck.

Meantime, the personable Tiger mentor announced afterwards his teams' scrimmage at Canadian (Tex.) next week has moved back to its original date—Friday night. Beck and Canadian Coach Gary Newcomb had wanted to scrimmage Thursday night in order to scout future opponents over the weekend.

However, a Texas rule necessitates teams in the Lone Star State having a full week off between pre-season scrimmages...and since Canadian scrimmaged at Beaver Friday, it would have given them only six days off if they played Guymon Thursday.

"I knew they use to have that rule," claimed Beck, who coached in Texas for a number of years, "but thought they changed it a couple years ago."

Guymon, who drew a fair-size crowd for Friday night's scrimmage, opens its season at the same site Sept. 3 against Dalhart.

"We sent two scouts out to watch Dalhart and Gruver (Guymon's first two foes); and we'll watch Dalhart and Gruver next week."

"I know Dalhart was here tonight scoutin' us, too." Despite the score, Wolve coaches had an eyelid.

Steve Ray

Game-winner

Spearman end Jan Hartsel (left) was on the receiving end of a 58-yard scoring pass here Friday night as the Lynx won a one-TD decision over Guymon in a pre-season scrimmage. Teammate Charlie Salgado, a 5-9, 200-pound senior, played a good game on defense.

Ready For White Deer

COACH LARRY LANIER AND DENNIS "DUCK" RANDALL—Are just a couple of faces that will be at Lynx Stadium this Friday, August 27, to play against the tough White Deer team. This is Coach Lanier's first-year as Spearman Lynx' Head Coach. As for Dennis "Duck" Randall, he plans to do most of the same as he did last season but maybe go over the 1,000 yard mark. Last year Dennis rushed for 853 yards and scored 8 touchdowns for the Lynx. He plans on doing alot better, barring injuries, of course. The scrimmage against White Deer will begin at 7:30, following a meeting between the Lynx and White Deer's Jr. Varsity teams at 6:00 p.m.

...Only lone tally in JV tilt, too—and local team gets it!

The Spearman-Guymon Junior Varsity scrimmage here Friday night wound up with the same score as their Varsity counterparts—only the result was different.

Scorin' one 'l' ole TD in electrifying fashion—a 62-yard bomb from Shane Collins to Darren Ingram—Guymon survived the Lynx, 6-0.

As usually is the case during the early goin', the defense is ahead of the offense...and that was the case at the Tiger Bowl was Guymon was limited to 153 yards total offense...or only 2.1 yards per rush and 3.4 per snap. Spearman was not much better, collecting just 138 yards total offense...or 2.9 per rush and 3.0 per snap.

A further breakdown saw two Guymon quarterbacks complete a miserable five of 17 passes, although picking up good yardage (95)—two-thirds of it comin' on that jackpot TD. The ground game netted only 58 yards.

Spearman passers hit four of nine, but for only 30 yards. The Lynx rushed for 108.

The visitors held a 7-5 advantage in the first down department.

Each club had three possessions (15, 20 and 10 plays, respectively) for a total of 45 plays.

Guymon had a miserable first session as sophomore quarterback Ken Yates completed only one of seven passes for 11 yards and eight rushing plays netted a microscopic four yards. In other words, the 15 plays netted a total of only 15 yards.

In Guymon's second possession, Collins hit half of his first six passes before hooking up with Ingram, who broke free at midfield and rambled on the 62-yard cruise.

The Tigers mustered only 19 yards rushing and another eight passing during its final 10 plays.

"Ingram and Collins are both freshmen," explained Guymon Head Varsity Coach Don Beck. The Bengals were at the Spearman 43 when they ran out of plays.

Spearman spent virtually all three sessions in the middle of the field—barely making it into Guymon territory (the 47-yard-line) in round No. 1, failing to get out of its own territory (the 41) in a horrendous second possession before, finally, surging to the Guymon 17 on the next-to-last play. A 17-yard pass and 16-yard quarterback keeper set up Spearman's lone drive which was stymied after a pair of incompletions.

WASHINGTON, D. C. -- Major League ballplayers are speaking out more these days, as everyone knows. No longer, since unionized, do they fear repercussions from the front office.

Carlton Fisk pops off regularly. Reggie Jackson, a talented baseballer, has always been a pop-off.

That's not the case with Lance Parrish of the Detroit Tigers, who spoke out recently about the Detroit club trading away promising players to avoid paying salaries to keep them. On a Monday night ABC nationally-televised game, Parrish frankly said if the club had kept rising stars like Jason Thompson, Ben Oglivie and Steve Kemp, it would be in contention today.

There's much in what Parrish says. But Detroit is a management which doesn't get into those crazy bidding wars. Where is the line to be drawn with a good franchise like Detroit? Is the overriding goal to make money or produce a winner with some profit, and how far should an owner go to produce a winner once in a while?

Detroit's president, Jim Campbell (not owner) has been adept at trading for good players and bringing youngsters up. But it's also true that if he now had Kemp, Oglivie and Thompson, the Tigers would probably still be in first place.

Instead of paying zany salaries, Detroit has opted for famous, proven man-

Burleson-Tow Vows Read

Mrs. Scott Tow

Miss Marcy Burleson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Burleson of Amarillo, and Scott Tow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tow of Amarillo, were united in marriage in a candle-light service Saturday, August 6, at 8 p.m. The ceremony was performed in Paramount Baptist Church, Amarillo, by the pastor, Reverend C.N. Rue.

The church was decorated with a fan-shaped arrangement of white gladioli, carnations and daisies set in front of an arch candelabra which was in the center of the altar. On each side of the 15-branch center candelabra was one swirl candelabra and one tree candelabra with white tapers and greenery, each interspersed with arrangements of emerald palms. The center isle was decorated with pew candelabra, greens and votive candles. A white isle cloth completed the church decorations.

The organist, Mrs. Jeanette Saylor of Amarillo, presented the wedding music and also accompanied Mark Hotman of Amarillo as he sang "The Lord's Prayer". Darrell Anderson, of Amarillo, accompanied himself on the piano as he sang, "Three for Eternity", a song which he had composed. Mrs. Judy Gibson, of Amarillo, accompanied April Gibson and Connie Blesson, both of Amarillo, on the piano as they sang a duet, "Surround Me With Love".

Candles were lighted by Matt Hurt of Amarillo and Bart Kern of Lubbock, cousins of the bride, and Doug Blesson of Amarillo and Don Archinal of Lubbock.

At the altar, Mr. Burleson, father of the bride, gave a prayer of dedication as he gave his daughter, Marcy, in marriage.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress and veil. The gown was of Chantilly lace and silk organza worn over satin and styled with figurine bodice and Sabrina neckline of scalloped lace and short sleeves. The bouffant skirt, enhanced with graduated flounces of lace terminating in an organza bow in back, extended into a chapel length train. Her finger-tip veil of French illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and baby's breath.

Marcy's traditional "something new" were her wedding shoes. Her "something borrowed" were pearl earrings which belong to her sister, De De Cummins. Her "something blue" was the traditional blue garter.

Esther Burleson, of Amarillo, and De De Cummins, of Dallas, served their sister as maid and matron of honor, respectively. Edie Goree and Cathy Wood, both of Amarillo, were her bridesmaids, also.

The bridal attendants wore floor length gowns of burgundy taffeta designed with a scoop neckline that hung delicately at the shoulders. Outlining the neckline was an ivory crystal pleated lace that formed the caplet sleeves. The natural waistline was enhanced by a wide burgundy sash which tied in a bow at the back. The girls wore in their hair clusters of burgundy flowers, made of the same material as the dresses. They carried bouquets of pink carnations, nosegays, white daisies, and baby's breath.

Barri Kern of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress in ivory designed with a round neck and short puff sleeves, a burgundy sash, resembling that of the bridesmaids, tied in a bow at the back. She carried a pink net basket decorated with pink and burgundy streamers. She also wore burgundy ribbons in her hair.

The groom was dressed in a formal ivory tuxedo with a red rose boutonniere. Mr. Frank Tow, father of the groom, was best man. Groomsman were Steve Post of Midland, Jay Ledford and Mark McKnight of Amarillo. Ushers were Tim Cummins, of Dallas, brother-in-law of the bride, Darrell Anderson and Doug Blesson of Amarillo and Don Archinal of Lubbock. The groom's attendants wore black formal tuxedos with pink carnation boutonnieres. Scott and his brother, Doug Tow of New York, N.Y., ushered in their mother and presented to her a red rose.

Mark Carr, of Amarillo, was ring bearer. He wore an ivory tuxedo with a pink carnation boutonniere.

Mrs. Burleson, mother of the bride, wore a chiffon over taffeta mauve floor length dress. Mrs. Tow, mother of the groom, chose a gown of light green chiffon. Both mothers wore a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Cluck, grandmother of the bride, selected a floor length gown of daphne rose. Mrs. Brown, grandmother of the groom, wore a floor length gown of blue chiffon. The Grandmother's corsages were of white chrysanthemums.

A reception was held in the church reception room following the service. The bride's table was covered with a soft sheer candle-light fabric trimmed with lace at the hem and lace-trimmed scallops at the top. Appointments included a silver punch bowl and coffee server, two 3-branch candelabra with an arrangement of miniature pink rose buds. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with miniature pink roses and sweet peas. The cake was set atop a flowing fountain, which was decorated with pink and white flowers and baby's breath.

The groom's table was covered with a very tailored candle-light lace cloth. A five-branch silver candelabra with yellow and white daisies graced the table. A silver tray held an assortment of fresh fruit. The groom's chocolate cake was in the shape of a golf bag with clubs. The bag was iced in brown, the clubs were shaped as real clubs with various-colored heads. The strap for carrying was in charcoal gray.

Members of the houseparty were Lori List of Amarillo, Susan Stokes of Stratford, Susan Guthrie of Stillwater, Oklahoma, Pam Beck and Becky Allred of Abilene, Kay Tow, cousin of the groom, of Amarillo, and Sherri Jackson, also of Amarillo.

Mrs. Judy Gibson entertained with piano selections during the reception and also accompanied Lori List, April Gibson and Connie Blesson as they sang several songs.

For the wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a tan and black dress with burgundy belt and trim. Her corsage was of red roses.

Marcy's pre-nuptial parties included a bridesmaid luncheon, a miscellaneous shower, a lingerie shower and an early morning brunch.

Scott was honored with a "tool" shower and a combined couple's barbecue and tool shower. The groom's parents entertained with a rehearsal dinner at Sutphen's Restaurant the night preceding the wedding.

Marcy and Scott will be living in Amarillo and this fall will be attending West Texas University where they are business majors. Scott works for Gerhardt and Puckett Accounting Firm and Marcy is employed with the Amarillo National Bank.

Phelps go deep sea fishing

DEEP SEA FISHERMEN--David Phelps, Ray Phelps, and Todd Phelps proudly show the king fish they caught deep sea fishing from Port Aransas. Total weight of the fish shown above was 43 lbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Phelps went to Austin August 5 and visited in the home of their son, Howell Phelps and family. On August 6 they celebrated Ray's birthday.

Then both families went to Freeport to go fishing and didn't find things to their liking so they went on to Port Aransas. They rented a condominium on the beach and went deep sea fishing.

Ray and his grandsons, David and Todd were lucky enough to catch some king fish. Ray said he didn't realize what a sport deep sea fishing was until this trip.

David, 14, and Todd, 12 both landed a fish as well as their grandfather, Ray. The total weight of the fish caught was about 43 lbs.

The Ray Phelps returned home August 20 and they really had a good time.

Ray and Beth returned by Dallas, and visited with daughter, Janice Phelps.

About Prayer

Differences over the question whether Americans should pray or not pray in public places are nothing new in this country. Even before the Revolution, at the First Continental Congress, the issue of prayer was in dispute.

After some debate the Congress elected a chaplain. But John Jay objected to opening the proceedings with a prayer--noting that there were men of different religions present. Samuel Adams countered that he could accept a prayer from any pious man, whatever his faith.

On the next day, the members' session was opened with a prayer and John Adams wrote to his wife that the effect was excellent. Both houses of Congress have long had chaplains, and most U.S. schools included some prayer or symbol of Christianity until recent years.

STARS AND STORES JOIN TO BATTLE MUSCULAR DYSTROPHY

Jerry Lewis

Some of the world's most famous entertainers have teamed up with more than 21,000 convenience stores across the country to help in the search for a cure to Muscular Dystrophy.

The stars will be entertaining the nation during the 21 hour Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon, while the stores are well under way raising funds by staging events from bike-a-thons to car smashes. Members of the National Association of Convenience Stores (NACS) are hoping to top the record setting $5.5 million raised in 1981 for the Telethon.

NACS president Kerley LeBoeuf says the participating stores have a real challenge this year to meet the goal of one dollar more than was raised in 1981. Says he, "Last year, we not only collected 'one dollar more'—we raised $1 million more than we did in 1980, our first year as a corporate sponsor of the Telethon."

That 1981 figure was the largest amount ever contributed to MDA by a single corporate sponsor in the 31 year history of the Labor Day event.

Efforts of Americans everywhere help to raise funds to fight muscular dystrophy.

More than 250 convenience store companies, ranging in size from one store to thousands, have joined in the NACS/MDA effort this year.

These companies, usually fierce competitors for the on-the-go shopper, have banded together in this NACS-sponsored program, which allows any member company, large or small, to assist MDA in its battle to conquer more than 40 related neuromuscular diseases.

TFU Blasts Administration For Grain Price Debacle

The President of the Texas Farmers Union said today that Ronald Reagan and John Block have no one but themselves to blame for the recent crash in grain prices.

Speaking at a statewide agriculture rally in Hico, Texas, TFU head Mike Moeller said that the Reagan Administration had single-handedly created the situation which this week resulted in record-setting low prices for soybeans, corn and feedgrains.

Noting that some agricultural economists are now acknowledging that U.S. agriculture is in a full-fledged depression, Moeller said, "In the 1880's, my great-grandfather sold shelled corn for $2.00 a bushel. Now, one hundred years later, our farmers are being offered less than $2.00 a bushel for their corn. How many other industries could survive these inflationary times while receiving less for their products than they did 100 years ago?"

Moeller went on to enumerate the steps the Reagan Administration has taken to insure low farm prices: First, he said, there was the four-month delay in lifting the Soviet grain embargo. Second, the passage of the Administration's "Anti-Farm" Bill in late 1981. Third, what Moeller called the Administration's "Mickey Mouse" 1982 set-aside program. Fourth, the defeat by the Administration of the 1982 Farm Crisis Act. Finally, Moeller cited the administration's refusal to renegotiate a long-term grain agreement with the Soviets.

"By driving this series of nails in the American farmers' coffin, Ronald Reagan and John Block guaranteed the surplus commodities and low prices we are now experiencing," Moeller added.

He called on the Administration to support the Farm Crisis amendments in the budget reconciliation package currently before Congress and to use all existing authority to pump new life into the failing U.S. farm economy.

Democrats, 1982

The tax bill recently proposed by President Reagan offered Democrats a twofold opportunity. The partisan course was to vote against it, and thereby let Republicans take the blame.

The statesmanlike course was to admit the treasury must have new revenue, and admit this bill was directed against the rich, not the poor, and thus a bill Democrats could support.

While there were tax hikes on cigarettes, two thirds of the new revenue was to come from closing loopholes allowing the rich and large corporations to avoid taxes, and from collecting taxes owed but not being paid. Certainly Democrats should support such a bill, as well as Republicans.

It was disappointing but somewhat understandable to see conservative Republicans oppose this revenue-raising bill. It was less understandable to see so many liberals oppose it, when it was so very much in the national interest.

DPS Warns Motorists "Schools Starting"

The summer vacation will soon be over, and thousands of youngsters will be starting back to school, many of those for the first time. Last year in Texas, the pedestrian death accounted for approximately 16% of our total traffic fatalities, several of these were school age children.

So, once again we will be seeing those big yellow school buses back on the streets and highways. The Texas Department of Public Safety wants to remind you that Texas law prohibits the passing of a stopped bus that is loading or unloading passengers when the lights are flashing. If you are in doubt--stop--those few moments you lose may mean a lifetime to some youngster. None of us wants to be responsible for the death or injury of a young child so remember to slow down in the school zones in the mornings and again in the afternoons.

Just because most of the children will be in school, we must not forget the preschooler who will still be playing in the
