Blizzard hits Hansford County area

It began raining lightly in the county of Hansford, early Monday morning, and began snowing sometime before noon. By midnight Monday night, the county was in a blizzard situation that has prevailed through all of Tuesday, and made the roads near impossible. In a call to radio station KRDF we learned that Coy Palmer was stranded in Amarillo with a part for the transformer for the radio station, and several other cars are stranded in the Panhandle

It was impossible for people to travel in the county without 4 wheel drives, and many of them became stuck by noon Tuesday. On main street, if you can get down there, about all you can see is a snowmobile in front of Gordons Drug, apparently standing by to deliver medicine. Two large drifts, one at the intersection of Cates, and another large drift at the library. Both ot these were tall, and the city tried to keep main street cleared, but it would snow shut as fast as they could clear the streets. At 2 p. m.tuesday, almost completely stopping by noon. It surprised everyone calls for more snow Tuesday, and another on the way maybe by Thursday. In a talk with police dispatchers at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon, Stratford called and reported blizzard conditions, as well as all other roads out of Spearman. Here at the news office, we

3 p. m. Tuesday, but it is definitely a blizzard situation.. city and county officials warn everyone to stay home today... We will not have much of our usual news copy as all of our news desk is snow bound, and we told them to stay home and enjoy the good life...We will mention that the entire police report will be in the Sunday paper, as soon as D. J. can get the report made out. The police have much more important things to do than turn in their news copy can still see across the street at today..they are standing by for emergency service to our community, and we appreciate them. We saw Deputy Billy Hawkins in the Weasel, a special snow vehicle touring the town after dinner. This is a catterpillar type tractor and goes good in the snow. Also - in a talk with highway officials in Gruver, we learned that the road to Gruver is now open, in spite of the fact that most all of the snow plows were stuck at one time or another Tuesday: that is right, the snow plows were about all stuck because of the severe blizzard Tuesday. Our special thanks to the highway guys who did such a good job. Also special thanks to the phone company, the Robert Elliot at the light co., and all city and county employees.

ATTENTION SPORTS FANS

The game that was to be played on Tuesday, February 1st, against the Canadian Wildcat teams, is going to be played on Thursday, Febraary 3. Coach Ralph Newton said IF everything looked alright, and there was ne more precipitation, the game is scheduled for the same time, the Lynxettes and Wildkittens to play at 6:00, the Lynx and Wildcats to begin playing at 8:00 or 8:30, at the Lynx Varsity Gym. He said they are taking it one day at a time, to see about the weather and so far, Wednesday, Feb. 2nd, the day has been set for Thursday, Feb. 3rd. Don't y'all miss this game. For the Lyuxettes it is the Game of the Year.

STUCK ON MAIN STREET: Vance Snider gets a pull from his buddy McLeod, as he became stuck in a snow drift on main street--Jimmie McLeod pull-Vance right out of the deep drift--It is hard to believe that a pickup with chains could be stuck on main street but this one was.

Sheriffs report

According to Hansford County Sheriff R.L. McFarlin, the four cases his department had in the current term of court ended in convicitons and an arrest made during the weekend may clear up the burglary of the local YMCA.

Members of the sheriff's department arrested Kenny Slaton and he was arraigned for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. Peace Justice Pete Vernon fixed bond at $5,000.

Sheriff McFarlin said his department turned over to the Spearman Police Department all the information they had about Slaton's alleged implication in the recent burglary of the YMCA since that offence was within police jurisdiction.

In court action. Jackie Cathey was fined $700, ordered to make restitution and given a four-year probated sentence for his part in the theft of a water truck belonging to R.E. Sanders.

The other three cases involved charges of driving while intoxicated, one of them a felony offence.

That involved J.D. Cruse who was sentenced to two years in the Texas Department of Corrections.

Kent Sparks was given a one-year probated sentence and fined $240 for DWI.

Juan de Santiago also drew a one-year probated sentence for DWI and his fine was fixed at $140.

The sheriff noted that the department -- as usual -- had a number of on-going investigation but currently the weather seemed to have even the "evil-doers" holed up.

Cancer signs -- check them early day morning in 1975, Madeline Owen, a 52-year-old West Palm Beach widow, went to the mirror to comb her hair, and found a node the size of a large walnut on the back of her head. On further examination, she discovered smaller nodes on her neck.

"I knew something was wrong even before I found the nodes," she now admits. "I was tired--too tired to play golf or go to the beach. Even getting out of bed was a struggle. I went to a doctor who thought I might have mononucleosis. But I knew that wasn't it.

When the nodes appeared, she flew to Houston, where her dauther lived, and sought a second opinion.

Her answer came from The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute. She had cancer. "I didn't't think of that," she said. "Nobody in my family had had it.

Owen's disease was acute myelogenous leukemia (AML), a fast-growing cancer of the blood-forming system in bone marrow. AML is so deadly that in a 1967 worldwide survey by the National Cancer Institute, only 16 adults could be found alive and free of the disease more than five years after treatment. Today, a larger number of AML victims is being cured at M.D. Anderson Hospital. Owen is one of the 12-13 percent of AML patients recently treated who are success stories.

Even saving a fraction of AML patients is a "significant gain," says Dr. Michael J. Keating, an associate professor of medicine at M.D. Anderson. He says that 9 percent of the AML patients treated at M.D. Anderson since its leukemia service began in 1965 have been success stories. "M.D. Anderson's leukemia service became active in 1965, but up until 1969, no AML patients were cured. From 1970 on, the cure rates slowly started climbing to the present 12-13 percent rate," Dr. Keating explains.

The major influeces on the rising cure rate have been the introduction of a new regimen of chemotherapeutic (anti-cancer drug) agents, the construction of a protected (germ-free) environment for patients weakened by large amounts of the drugs, and new antibiotics and new techniques of transfusing white blood cells and platelets, which fight against

'With the help of all these developments, we can be fairly confident for the first time of curing at least a fraction of our AML patients," Dr. Keating Upon diagnosis, Owen suspected that her chances for cure were slight. "I had never known anyone with leukemia, but I knew it was something awful," she recalls. "With tears coming down my cheeks, I asked one of my doctors how long I had to live. He couldn't give me an answer, but he did say I needed immediate ther-

Everything Owen had in Palm Beach was sold over the phone. For the next four months, she was hospitalized. She received chemotherapy to fight the cancer and physical therapy to fight the side effects of the chemotherapy.

She had pain in her feet and limbs that made walking difficult. Her hair fell out twice. "It was a small price to pay for my life," she now says.

Owen's spirits sank as she saw those around her dying of her disease. Then two hospital volunteers came to visit her, both AML patients who had gone into remission. "They told me if they could do it, I could, too. They gave me hope and strength," Owen recalls.

A month after being admitted, Owen went into remission following her first treatment. Her treatments continued, every 22-23 days, whenever her blood counts (levels of platelets) were high enough to withstand them.

After four months of hospitalization, Owen was allowed to check out and go to live with her daughter. She continued her treatments on an outpatient basis for 20 additional

"I thought I Couldn't live two years with the treatments. They were rough. But there was something in me that made me do it," she recalls.

Owen's grandchildren played a large role in her recovery. 'When I was in the hospital, my daughter would bring her three children to visit. I would look out at them and want to ter, the children watched TV with me. And they kept my spirits up when I was learning to drive a car all over again, due to my loss of coordination," Owen recalls.

At times, Owen would have high fever caused by infection. "My daughter would rush me to the emergency room. When the doctor would come, he would find me at the basin throwing water on myself. I had a strong will. I fought so hard to live," she

When her treatments were stopped, Owen was still kept under close watch.

"It's not until we take AMI. patients off of their treatments that we can see whether their disease will come back. The treatments may be suppressing it," Dr. Keating says.

During that period of time, Owen's doctors encouraged her not to sit around, but to stay busy. They suggested that she go to real estate

Now affiliated with Memorial Realty in Houston, Owen feels proud of her accomplishments in real estate. She looks forward to each day, she

"The important thing about the improving cure rate for AML is that the patients actually get back to what they were doing before their disease. They are completely normal. You can never tell they even had leukemia," Dr. Keating points out.

Owen enjoys being out in the fresh air. She rides a bicycle two miles a day. She also likes being with her grandchildren whenever pos-

"Cancer isn't out of my mind; it'll never be out of my mind," she says. "But I used to wake up everyday and wonder if I'd see the day through. For anybody so near death, when there's a second chance, things mean a lot."

Stories like Owen's are rewarding to Dr. Keating and his colleagues. He hopes to see more of them in the future.

'It will be exciting to see what the future holds," he says. "Perhaps a new drug which works in a slightly different way will be discovered which will double our cure rates.f

"Now that we've had a taste of gradual improvement, we're looking for dramatic improvement," he says.

OF SPORTS

Paraskiing is a relatively new sport that is hittingliterally-ski slopes in some of the most treacherous mountain ranges of the United States.

Paraskiing is an unlikely combination of two sportssky diving's jumping-for-accuracy and skiing's giant slalom racing. Sometime's called the "hit-and-ski" sport, paraskiing will debut this winter at the Camel Ski Adventure events at 28 ski resorts in the United States.

Jumping out of airplanes flying at 2,500 feet, paraskiers try to hit a 5 centi-meter disk in the center of a 5 meter target area. They quickly put on their skis and then race down a giant slalom course.

Some jumpers go barefoot, but most wear sneakers. The cold snow can cause numbing frostbite-a liability that could prevent skiers from competing again.

The human body is built around a frame containing 206 bones. The whole works is linked together with 60,000 miles of blood spongy kind of lava.

Scouting called 'preventive medicine'

The community should support scouting and "save the boys before they get sick," said former county judge Gene Schneider, who was sworn into office Saturday night as the new district chairman for the Adobe Walls District of the Boy Scouts of America. The former judge was referring to the use of drugs when he said "sick. Schneider said while he was in office, not once could be recall ever facing a former Boy Scout in his court.

The new district chairman said scouting is "preventive medicine" to the drug problem. Schneider and the other leaders at the annual district banquet were sworn into their offices by Adobe Walls official Rowl Brown. At the banquet, two Distinguished

District Awards of Merit were presented. One went to John Anders of Borger and the other to Dwight Sumner of Spearman Only two such awards are presented

Various awards of appreciation were also presented to other scouting leaders, including a presentation to Bill Farris, the outgoing district chairman

Stats rate local girls high

NOTE FROM SPORTS DESK: The following statistics were given to the Globe-News Sports Editor by Coach Ralph Newton. The Globe-News asked the area coaches to send in the stats of their players, where the top 20 scorers and rebounders would be printed in the Monday edition of the daily paper. Following are the stats of some of the Lynxettes that made it to the top 20 in both categories.

In the scoring category, Lea Ann Gibner, is ranked up there near the top of the list with a really good average. Lea Ann is #25 and a Senior Lynxette. Lea Ann has played in 21 games. Lea Ann has an average of 11.7 points per game. She has a very good average in scoring. If there was a stat in stealing the ball, Lea Ann would be right on the top of the list, being the #1. Now, wither her 11.7 points average per game, everyone figures where the points come from, the outside near the perimeter. Of course, every once in a while, when not assisting her teammates, Lea Ann is on the scoring end of a fast-break. She also has a pretty good average from the Free-throw line

Janet Reed, #41, another Lynxette Senior, is right up there with the best of them. She has played in 21 games, and has a very good average of 10.5 points per game. Janet is one of the taller Lynxettes. She has a great out-let pass for the fast-break. When Janet sees that she can go with the fast break, she does. Janet has a good average scoring. Janet also has quick hands enough to intercept most of the passes thrown thru her side of Defense. Janet got hurt in the Dalhart game, but she is a fighter and plans to play in the remainder of the games. Susan Davis, #33, another Lynxette Senior, is ranked up there pretty high also. She has played in 15 games, in the other 6, Susan has been out because of her injury to her foot. Susan has an average of 8.2 in those 15 games that she has played in. Susan, like Lea Ann, would be ranked up there pretty high in the stealing category. She gets most of her points from the outside near the perimeter or so. She gets plenty of points from fast breaks, and Susan, also, would be ranked up there pretty high, if not #1, #2, in the free-throw accuracy. Susan is expected to play tonight in the Canadian game, and for the rest of the season. Susan's average will peak even higher when she gets back into the groove of things.

th

The final Lynxette that is listed in the Scoring Category is Cindy Young. Cindy, #35, is yet another Lynxette Senior. Cindy has played in 21 games and has an average of 7.8 points per game. Now, Cindy is another tall Lynxette at 5'8". She, too, like Janet, will be or is a big threat in the inside as an Offensive player and Defensive player. Cindy has quick enough hands to intercept plenty of passes thrown to her side on the Defense. She has a great out-let pass that enables one of her teammates to run under the pass and catch up to it for an easy two.

In the Rebounding Category, Janet, #41, is listed up there high on the list. She averages 6.7 rebounds in the 21 games that she has competed in. Janet stands out above the crowd with her rebounding efforts. Janet, when she rebounds either throws the out-let pass for the fast-break, throws a short pass to one of the point girls, or dribbles down the court her-

Lana Paul, #55, a Lynxette Senior, plays fine when she is in there, does a great job for the Lynxettes. In the 21 games that she has participated in Lana has an average of 4.3 rebounds per game. That is a good average. Lana throws the outlet pass for the fast-break when she rebounds.

The final Lynxette that was listed in the Rebounding Category is Cindy Young. In the 21 games that Cindy has played in, she averages 4.0 rebounds per game. Cindy, when she rebounds, throws the outlet pass for the fastbreak or just throws to one of the point girls. So as you can see, out of the 20 in the scoring and rebounding category, Lea Ann, Susan, Janet, Cindy and Lana stand out above the rest of the girls named mainly because they are the Spearman Lynxette ball players. The way they are listed, the number in which they appear, really isn't "official" because there are still a few 3-A teams that have not handed in their stats. Other than that, the 5 Lynxettes, who happen to be Seniors, look outstanding with their stats.

Mexico expected to increase sorghum purchases Mexico may be the largest customer of U.S. grain sorghum this year. Purchases as high as 3.8 million metric tons (150 million bushels) are expected by a sorghum sales team which has just concluded a series of seminars and conferences with Mexican livestock and poultry producers. The team, led by Mabry Foreman, president of Grain Sorghum Producers Association and GSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp, report that Mexico needs 7 million metric tons of feed grain per year to sustain their livestock industry. Only 3 mmt. of feed grain (mostly sorghum) was produced there last year. Breeding herds are now being slaughtered because of grain shortages.

"The demand is definitely there," Harp said, "but the devaluation of the peso has made all foreign goods very expensive in Mexico and the Mexican government will limit imports to the bare maximum. Actual sales will depend on a continued favorable price relationship."

Mexico suffered a drought in 1982 which resulted in a poor grain crop and, at the same time, emptied reservoirs which were needed for irrigation of the '83 crop. This water shortage, coupled with short supplies of planting seed, points to a poorer than average crop this year.

The GSPA market development team worked mainly with the swine industry. Dr. Don Orr, swine specialist at Texas Tech University, and the team conducted sorghum nutrition seminars for swine producers in La Piedad, Tepatitlan and Queretaro. This area, located west of Mexico City, is the center of swine production in Mexico where some farrow-to-finish operations have as many as 200,000 head, making them some of the largest in the world.

In the same area can be found some of the worlds largest poultry farms. The GSPA team held one conference with poultry producers. They viewed many large farms. One cage layer operation has one million birds at the present time.

The market for Mexico's meat and egg producers is Mexico City. By some estimates, Mexico's capital now has 15 million inhabitants making it the world's largest

"Mexico has serious economic problems," Harp explained. "They owe an $80 billion foreign debt and the Mexican government is placing great emphasis on its repayment. They will, however, provide basic food products for the people. Imports of large amounts of grain will be necessary, at least until summer harvest begins." The sorghum team included

(in addition to Foreman, Harp and Orr) Ernesto DeLeon of Texas Department of Agriculture, Bob Beakley of Ennis, Texas, Clinton Williams of Panhandle, Texas and Edward Soeken of Chase, Kansas. Beakley, Williams and Soeken are sorghum farmers and members of GSPA who were selected to work with this team. Their expenses were paid through the market development support of Pioneer Hi-Bred International and Funk Seeds International, Inc. Filing for rate increase here

Texas-New Mexico Power Company announced today they were filing with the Public Utility Commission of Texas, and the city of Spearman, Texas for a 4.24% rate increase for all customers.

Robert Elliott, District Manager for Texas-New Mexico Power Company, said a typical residential customer uses almost 1000 kwh each month. If a customer uses this amount. their increase in the price of electricity would be $4.54 per month. This is a 5.60% increase in the summer and a 5.86% increase in the winter.

Mr. Elliott cautioned that consumption varies and that the amount you use may not be the same as the amount used by a typical customer. The overall increase for residential customers is 5.74%; for General Service customers the overall increase will be 4.64%. Maxie Davie, Vice Presi-

Farmers & ranchers have taken blows says farm credit official

AUSTIN, Texas-In 1982 the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Texas loaned $2.5 billion to Texas farmers and ranchers through 30 Production Credit Associations (PCAs) and 17 Other Financing Institutions (OFIs) in the

James A. Rogers, president of FICB, noted the figure was down slightly from the 1981 volume of $2.6 billion due to adverse weather and economic trends in agriculture. Number of borrowers served also was down to 17,316 from 17.366

"It is hard to dispute the fact that in 1982 Texas agriculture took some of its hardest blows since the Great Depression," says Rogers.

But the chief executive officer quickly adds, "We at FICB are taking steps to ensure the Texas Farm Credit System remains ready, willing and able to provide support to farmers and rancher.

Rogers referred to President Reagan's remarks made during the recent national Farm Bureau convention held in Dallas.

Reagan said, "Let me allay any concerns that you may have regarding the Farm Credit System. I support it and expect it to continue providing substantial assistance to the farm community, as it has in the past."

Rogers continued, "There are no quick fixes or easy solutions to the adversity dealt to those in Texas agriculture. But we are working hard to continue providing constructive credit that farmers and ranchers expect and

In some cases Farm Credit has tightened their credit policies and are counseling ag producers on an individual basis," he says. "We want to support farmers and ranchers every way we can. However, we do not feel it is in their best interest to extend credit for operations that are obviously getting further and further in debt with no chance of getting out. There are situations where it is better to advise a potential borrower to salvage what he can rather than go further in debt." "We have stressed compassion for the plight of the individual farmer, but the System's hard-earned respect and the welfare of the majority of our borrowers cannot be jeopardized," Rogers says. Rogers believes the Pay ment in Kind (PIK) program will buy time for some people to make needed adjustments and to reduce inventories. Other farm policy must be developed to move agriculture back to a sound financial

St. Anthony's opens new patient tower

On Friday, January 28, patients will be moved into the newly constructed patient tower at St. Anthony's Hospital.

The opening of the two new nursing units signals the near completion of an expansion project that began over four years ago. The new areas, designated as 2C and 3C, are each equipped to care for 35 patients. This will bring St. Anthony's total bed capacity to

The expansion of the hospital will also provide new administrative offices, a new gift shop, new chapel and expanded space for most ancillary services. The main entrance to St. Anthony's will be moved from the present location on Polk Street to face onto the Northwest Seventh

The patient tower is built around an atrium. The surroundings are pleasant and relaxed for patients and visitors, while providing the best patient care available.

Last February, St. Anthony's opened a Professional Office Building. The office building provides space for physicians as well as a retail pharmacy and outpatient laboratory and x-ray facilities. An enclosed walkway connects the office building to the hospital, providing convenience for both patients and physicians.

Parking accomodations have been frustrating for patients and visitors during the construction period. However, parking should be more convenient when the entrance is opened on Northwest Seventh Street. Banker advises farmers to be smart shoppers

"Farmers who survive 1983 will be ones who cut corners without cutting their jugular,' says a leading Northern Panhandle agricultural banker.

In speculating on how High Plains farmers can offset high interest rates and depressed crop prices, Mr. Robert Bain, assistant vice president of First National Bank of Dumas. stresses, "Only producers who find ways to save on production expense and not put their yields in jeopardy will succeed in making a profit for the coming year.

"Farmers will have to become true bargain shoppers, just like other consumers who have learned to track down discounts and sales," he recommends.

Mr. Bain encourages agricultural clients of First National Bank to seek out finance waiver programs, early payment discounts and other money-saving deals now being offered in the agricultural marketplace.

'Something like a 10 percent discount on good quality seed now being offered by a major Southwestern seed supplier can give the farmer a real price break on a product he's going to have to buy if he farms at all," he says.

'You wouldn't want to jump at just any deal that comes down the pike," he points out, noting that farmers operating borrowed money must carefully weigh the savings offered by the sellers against the interest to be paid on borrowed money

'For example, if the savings offered by the farm supplier is big enough to offset the additional interest you might pay by buying early, then it's a good deal," he says. "But if the interest costs you more than you save, it's a bad

"Saving 10 percent on seed costs in February when you're ordinarily paying for seed in April or May actually represents around 40 percent and you can see this is a good

Bain concludes, Mr. "There's no doubt we'll lose some farmer's in the coming years unless there's a big turnaround somewhere. But in the meantime smart farming will mean smart shopping."

Annual National Salute to Hospitalized Veterans Set

Sports and entertainment stars, along with community and government leaders, will gather in various Veterans Administration medical centers next month for the 10th annual National Salute to Hospitalized Veterans.

Special events on Valentine's Day, February 14, are being planned also talent shows, celebrety visits, musical programs and VA benefits workshops at most of VA's 172 medical centers, 226 outpatients clinics, 96 nursing homes and 16 domiciliaries, nationally.

The program will be coordinated at each medical center by VA's Voluntary Service, the organization that oversees services to some 78,000 hospital volunteers who nationally contribute nearly 11 million hours to patients every year. According to Edward Rose, VA's Voluntary Service Director, individuals or groups interested in joining the salute on February 14 should contact the Voluntary Service at the nearest VA medical center. "Help is needed to build enthusiasm and a festive atmosphere so that the misfortune of being hospitalized can be temporarily dispelled," Rose said

The salute has been conducted since 1974 to show hospitalized vererans that their fellow citizens appreciate their service to the country and haven't forgotten them, Rose

Mrs. Ronald Reagan is the event's honorary patroness, and boxer Sugar Ray Leonard and Olympic skater Dorothy Hamill are the honorary chair-

Camp Fire Inc. is the official youth group for the event, but Rose said that scouts and school classes also will be participating in many com-

Veterans receiving compensation or pension payments

Out of the 39 million men and women who have served during wartime in the U.S. armed forces throughout our 206-year history, three out of five, or 24.3 million, are living

Those living veterans include 1,657,000, in Texas, 442,000 in Louisiana and 237,000 in Mississippi.

One out of eight of those survivors receives monthly Veterans Administration checks in the form of compensation or pension.

There are no veteran survivors of the Civil War, the War of 1812, or the Revolutionary War, but 53 veterans of the 392,000 who originally served in the Spanish-American War were living as of last December 31. All but 12 are more than 100 years old. Each receives a monthly VA check.

World War I's 4.7 million participants are represented today by some 368,000 surviving veterans (one of 13 who served) and nearly two out of five living veterans of World War I are on the VA's compensation or pension rolls.

Sixty-nine percent of the 16.5 million men and women who served in World War II are living today. They constitute nearly two out of five veteran survivors of all wars as of last September 30. About one out of seven living World War II veterans is receiving VA compensation or pension payments.

Four out of five of the 6.8 million men and women who served during the Korean conflict are living; only one of 17 living veterans of that conflice is receiving VA compensation or pension payments

The Vietnam era involved 9.8 million participants in its eleven-vear duration.

Nearly nine out of ten are living today. Fewer than one of each fifteen in civilian life are receiving VA compensation or pension.

The skeletal remains were removed from the excavation site on Jan. 7, and department archeologists have since been examining them in a laboratory. Although exact dating of the bones will have to await carbon-14 tests, which will take a few more weeks, Dr. Weir estimates they are more than 9,000 years old.

The site was doubly unusual due to the abundance of artifacts found which indicate continuous habitation of the area of a 7,000-year period.
