Schools plan Open House Thursday evening

"Texas Public School Week" is being observed in Spearman with a special Open House Thursday evening.

Hours for the high school open house are from 6 to 8 p.m. so that parents will have time to attend the open house at elementary and junior high campus from 7 until 9.

People interested in visiting the high school art department should do so from 6 to 7 p.m.

The elementary school will be having a student Book Fair during the open house. Students will be able to browse and purchase new educationally approved paperbacks appropriate for their age and interest level. Ms. Vickie May, Librarian of Spearman Elementary and Junior High Schools, invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fairs. A Book Fair will encourage a student's interest in reading and in building home libraries. Reading is a habit and having a home library encourages the development of that habit.

The Book Fair display will include new paperback books, posters, puzzles, records and talking books from many major publishers ranging in price from 39 cents to $5.95--wonderful books to read or to give as gifts. All reading interest will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies, adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books.

The Shriners will be serving coffee and doughnuts at the junior high cafeteria from 7 to 9 p.m. This is an annual project for the Shriners.

Supt. Cunningham encourages parents to eat with their children at the cafeteria any day. If you plan to eat at the school it might be well to call in the morning so they will know how many to prepare for. Parents are also encouraged to visit classrooms anytime during the week, however, Cunningham asks that you go by the principal's office and let them know you are in the building.

"Texas Agriculture Week" proclaimed

A JOINT PROCLAMATION
BY THE GOVERNOR
AND THE AGRICULTURE COMMISSIONER OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

WHEREAS, our family farmers and ranchers are the most efficient and productive in the world, and

WHEREAS, the production, transportation and marketing of agricultural food and fiber is the second largest industry in Texas, generating $37 billion a year and accounting for one out of every five jobs, and

WHEREAS, family farmers and ranchers are the source of our agricultural abundance, but are not presently receiving a fair return for their productivity, and

WHEREAS, current market prices for agricultural products actually are far below what it costs to produce those products, putting thousands of Texas farmers and ranchers in imminent danger of foreclosure, through no fault of their own, and

WHEREAS, every Texan has a direct stake in restoring prosperity to our family farm and ranch system so future generations also can benefit from the unparalleled output of these entrepreneurs,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, that we, the Governor and the Agriculture Commissioner of the State of Texas, do hereby pledge our offices and our best efforts to the task of cultivating a new prosperity in the Texas farm and ranch economy, and to mark this pledge, we do hereby

PROCLAIM the week of March 18 through March 24 to be

and we do further call upon all Texans to consider during this week your own reliance on the three percent of our population that produces the food for the other 97 percent of us, and we do call upon every citizen to support efforts to ensure the survival of these family farmers and ranchers.

(signed)
Mark White
Governor

(signed)
Jim Hightower
Commissioner of Agriculture

(AUSTIN)--Zeroing in on the economic difficulties of Texas family farmers and ranchers, Governor Mark White and Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower have issued a joint proclamation declaring March 18-24 "Texas Agriculture Week."

The observance will coincide with National Agriculture Week and with National Agriculture Day, March 21. Hightower said the Agriculture Department will be sponsoring a series of activities during the week. Plans include agricultural exhibits in the State Capitol rotunda, a March 19 Agriculture Fair in conjunction with the Austin-Travis County Livestock Show and Rodeo, a House/Senate cow-milking contest and a major farm policy statement by White and Hightower.

"This is not a celebration," White cautioned. "You don't celebrate when people are in trouble, and our farmers and ranchers are in serious trouble. This observance is to call to the public's attention the plight of our family farmers and ranchers and, hopefully, to rally public support for steps we can take to turn things around for them, whether it's here or in Washington."

"This observance is not just for rural folks," Hightower explained. "It's for all of us. The food and fiber industry accounts for one out of every five jobs in Texas, in both urban and rural areas, and our farmers and ranchers are the biggest consumers in the state. When the farm economy is depressed--and it's certainly now--it directly affects the economy of the entire state. We've all got a stake in reviving our farm and ranch economy, and it's not enough to sit around and wring our hands. There's a job to be done, and I'm especially pleased that the Governor is eager to work closely with us on turning things around for our family farmers and ranchers. And this proclamation is our invitation to all Texans to join with us in the effort."

Hospital News

Patients at Hansford Hospital are Relda Smallwood, Johnny King, Francis Williams, Jessie Davis, Sarah Blackburn, Manuel Lutz, Vinnie Close and Ann O'Loughlin.

Dismissed were Margaret Nelson, Catherine Farris, Mammie Dry, Maria Cruz and daughter, Tracy Burning, Melinda Bryant and Juan Reza.

FCIC

Burl Buchanan of The Hansford Agency in Spearman has achieved Certification from the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to sell and service insurance coverage on Grain Sorghum, Corn, Wheat and Barley.

According to Gene Hamilton, District Manager of the FCIC, Burl Buchanan earned the Certification by participating in an intensive training program recently conducted in Amarillo and successfully passing examinations that required knowledge of all aspects of the Federally-backed insurance program as well as of the coverage available for individual crops produced in the Spearman area. The training and testing program was initiated in the fall of 1982 to assure a high level of professional competency among private insurance agents who offer Federal Crop Insurance to farmers in their communities. Federal Crop Insurance policies, which provide coverage against all unavoidable causes of loss, are designed to offer farmers an affordable way to protect the substantial sums of money which must be invested and risked to produce a crop. The insurance can also assure a source of income to repay outstanding production loans and to meet fixed expenses such as taxes and mortgage payments. To make the coverage as economical as possible, the Federal Government currently pays up to 30 percent of the premium cost.

First Assembly of God plans note burning service

First Assembly of God will have a note-burning service on Sunday, March 13. Rev. T.J. Taylor a former pastor will be preaching in the morning and evening services; Rev. J.W. Farmer, West Texas District Superintendent, will preach in the 2:00 p.m. note-burning service.

Pastor David Nuckels, the Board and congregation invite everyone to celebrate this occasion with them.

Golden Spread Center plans Radiothon

March 24, 1983, we as Directors of the Center will be presenting a "Radiothon" for the benefit of the Center from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. under the supervision of KRDF-FM Radio Station. This project is necessary to raise funds (money) for a Building payment and upkeep plus general expenses.

The radiothon is one way you as citizens of this community can show your appreciation of the Center by your contributions -- so please give from your heart -- it will be greatly appreciated. Last Tuesday evening at the cover-dish supper, there were 50 people present to enjoy an evening of games' of their choice.

We are fortunate to have such a caring manager. Anyone who is over 55 years of age and would like to become a member may do so by paying $10.00 for the year. This fee entitles a member to go on trips in the van and numerous other privileges.

If you are a quilter or interested in making blocks for a quilt, there is a place for you at the Center, coming Monday afternoons. We are getting ready for the Annual Bazaar.

Seminar scheduled on Farm Finances

A Professional Seminar on Farm Finances is scheduled for March 17 and 18, 1983, in Perryton. The Seminar, entitled "Farming for Profit" is co-sponsored by First National Bank and Hi-Plains Ag Credit Corp of Perryton. The two-day program will be held in the Community Room at First National. It is free to men and women in agriculture from the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles.

Featured speaker for the two-day event is Ted Abele ("Able e") He is President of American Agronomics of El Dorado Springs, Missouri. The speaker will deliver a series of talks, including "How to Generate More Profit From Your Profit and Loss Statement," "Improving Farm Cash Flow," and "Improving Your Financial Statement." He is a frequent instructor with the Professional Farmer Institute of Ames, Iowa.

Free catered lunch will be served both days, courtesy of First National Bank to all registered participants.

John Cluck, President of FNB, said: "National Agriculture Week is March 18-24. We're recognizing this week by offering an excellent consultant to agriculture."

This will be the third time in twenty-four months that we have organized a two-day program on better management and marketing in farming and livestock production. The earlier programs were called, "Survival in the 80's." This time, we're presenting "farm finances", and that's the real difference in survival."

Registration can be made in advance by contacting Carl Ellis, Brady Yeary, or Larry Orman at the bank. The free program begins Thursday, March 17, at 9:00 a.m.

Jim Shirley and Felma Evans of the First State Bank, were guests at the Spearman Lions Club Tuesday. They presented a very interesting program on the new 10% withholding tax on saving accounts and the consequences to the bank and its customers.

School board to consider staff recommendations

The Spearman Independent School District board of trustees will meet March 14 at 7 p.m.

They will hear any group wishing to come before the board, after establishing a quorum.

A business manager will give his financial report and tax report.

A letter of thanks from the Chamber of Commerce will be read.

The board will then take action on staff recommendations for 1983-84 school as presented by the principals and athletic director in the regular meeting in February.

The board will also take action on the textbook committee report.

New business to be discussed will be action on transfer fee for 1983-84, and consideration of school calendar for 1983-84.

The superintendent will give his report: lunchroom report, high school calendar for March and enrollment chart.

The school board election will be April 2. This date falls during Easter holiday period.

The board breakfast will be March 22 at 6:30 a.m.

DECA students

The Spearman D.E.C.A. attended their annual Area VI contests in Lubbock this last weekend. This was a competition in which Spearman students competed against other students in Area VI. The events were based on the jobs the students have. Billy Miller won 2nd place, 3rd alternate in Service Station Retailing. Brenda Clark won 2nd place in Finance and Credit, and Luis Nava won 3rd place in Restaurant Marketing and Management!

L & M Body Works ribbon cutting set

The Ambassadors of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce will have a ribbon cutting at L&M Body Works, Thursday, March 10, at 9:30 a.m. This new business is on the Gruver Highway at 1501 Hwy. 15 next to the Shufeldt Rig Service. Everyone is invited to come by and visit Jack Lamb and Vernon Morris and welcome them to the business community of Spearman.

Revival

Dr. J.W. MacGorman will be the Revival speaker at the First Baptist Church March 13 thru 16. The services will be at noon each day and at 7 p.m. each evening.

Dr. MacGorman is the Professor of New Testament of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary of Fort Worth.

He was born in Amherst, Nova Scotia, Canada, December 26, 1920 and married Barbara Ruth Stephens, August 22, 1947. They have six children.

He attended Colby College, 1937-38 and received his B.A. from the University of Texas in 1945. He attended Southwestern Baptist Seminary and received his B.D., 1948, Th.D., 1956; Texas Christian University, 1956-59 and Duke University, 1959-65 where he received his Ph.D., in 1965.

He was a research associate in History at the American University of Beirut, 1966-67.

He is a member of the University Baptist Church of Fort Worth.

He has done extensive travel and lecturing. He did mission work in the Bahama Islands, in the summer of 1950; lectured in Baptist seminaries in South America, in the summer of 1957.

He was guest professor at Arab Baptist Theological Seminary in Beirut, Lebanon, 1966-67, Bible teacher in Baptist missions of West Africa, 1970; Lecturer on tours of Bible lands, 1973, 1978; Interim Pastor in Tokyo, Japan, 1973-74; Lectured in Philippines, Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam, Korea, Taiwan and Hong Kong, 1974 and was Bible teacher in Baptist missions of Mexico, Costa Rica, Panama and Guatemala, 1979.

Pastor Bruce Chesser and the congregation invites everyone to come out to the revival.

Learn Kite Safety First!

Before the kite flying season begins, be sure that all members of your family know the safety rules of kite flying. Never use any metal parts in a kite, only string, paper and wood. Fly your kite in an open area, away from power lines, antennas and trees. If your kite should get stuck in a power line, do not try to pull it down, call us and we'll get it down for you. And never fly a kite in wet, stormy weather because wet string does conduct electricity. Enjoy kite flying, but be sure to do it safely.

Schuberts attend NFU convention

SAN DIEGO, CA, March 2, 1983--Mr. and Mrs. Burton Schubert of Spearman, members of the Texas Farmers Union were among nearly 1500 family farmers and ranchers taking part in the 81st annual National Farmers Union (NFU) convention at the Town and Country Hotel here Feb. 27 - March 2, 1983.

Delegates and others attending the meeting of the nation's leading family farm organization heard NFU President George Stone term the state of agriculture as "perilous", adding that family farm agriculture can still escape doom if there is a major redirection of federal farm programs.

Stone told the convention that the Reagan Administration's Payment-In-Kind (PIK) program can be of some price-wise in 1984, "but it has to be administered as something more than a one-time 'Fire Sale.'"

Noting that the $18.3 billion cost of the 1983 farm program will exceed the combined net cost of $16.5 billion for all farm programs from 1933-73, Stone pointed to basic flaws in current farm policies. "The costs of USDA farm programs do not have to be staggering if effective supply management measures are used," he said.

Secretary of Agriculture John Block told the NFU delegates that farm income is predicted to rise in 1983 as a result of the PIK program. Anticipated farmer participation in the PIK program will reduce corn and wheat acreage by 10 million acres each this season, he said.

Addressing farm concerns over Internal Revenue Service rulings on PIK receipts from the government, Block announced that the IRS issued a statements March 1 assuring producers participation in the program would not affect their eligibility for special treatment under the estate tax laws.

He also predicted that Congress would approved legislation clarifying the income tax status of PIK income to farmers before the program's March 11 sign-up deadline.

Senator David Boren (D-Okla.) called for a multi-year farm program which would allow farmers to plan further in advance. Boren, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, and several other Senate Democrats are co-authors of a bill which would mandate acreage reduction programs in 1984 and again in 1985 if commodity supplies for domestic and export use exceed 125 percent. The bill calls for moderate loan rate increases, whereas the Reagan Administration has been considering lowering commodity loan rates.

Boren is also sponsoring a bill that would mandate case-by-case rescheduling of Farmers Home Administration loans at low interest rates for farmers facing foreclosure. "We must not force farmers over the edge," he told the convention.

Legislation is needed to set a minimum value on the PIK certificates farmers receive, Boren said, calling for a "safety net" under the grain market threatened by a flood of free PIK grain stocks.

In a special order of business, the NFU delegates recommended that farmers as self-employed individuals should be eligible for tax credits, rather than business deductions, on the increased social security tax on self-employed persons being urged by the National Commission for Social Security Reform.

In policy resolutions adopted for 1983, the NFU delegates:

- Called for a minimum price for commodities used under the PIK program;
- Supported a mandatory set-aside program for wheat, feed grains, soybeans, cotton and rice;
- Recommended a dairy supply management program to improve farm income and effectively balance milk supplies with demand; and
- Reaffirmed their longstanding commitment to the family farm system of agriculture.

ALLEVIATE ALLERGIES

Allergic illnesses affect an estimated thirty-one million people in the United States. Allergy victims are often prevented from leading normal lives. Many days of work are missed due to allergy-related illnesses.

The most common allergic diseases include eczema [allergic dermatitis], poison ivy [contact dermatitis], hay fever, asthma, hives [urticaria], and digestive disturbances.

Allergic diseases are a major cause of illness among children. Allergy symptoms usually appear during the first fifteen years of life.

Many parents believe their children will outgrow allergies, and therefore do not treat them. But allergies can become more severe without specific treatment, and should be identified early and treated adequately.

The physician makes a careful review of the patient's life for clues to the causes of the allergy. The medical procedure may include:

- A complete medical and environmental history to detect the allergens involved.
- A physical examination with appropriate laboratory tests.

• Specific allergy tests to discover the substances to which the patient reacts.

• Desensitizing treatments, such as injections, to gradually build up immunity.

• A general care plan involving advice on living, supervision of the diet, drugs for temporary relief of symptoms, and other recommendations according to the patient's needs.

Certain treatments will relieve the symptoms but will not cure the allergy. Antihistamines provide relief from mild allergies, especially hay fever. Severe allergies, such as asthma, usually require a more potent drug treatment. Examples of these drugs include the corticosteroid hormones, epinephrine for treating asthma, and aminophyllin for severe asthma.

Once they are determined, allergy causing substances should be avoided. Then the patient must acknowledge the limitations that allergies cause, and learn to live with them.

Allergy victims can expect to achieve favorable results by following their physician's advice, understanding their own case, being aware of their sensitivities, avoiding substances that cause trouble, regulating medication, and knowing when to seek help from their physician.

Dear Parent of the Athlete:

This letter has been sent to all parents of prospective athletes at Spearman High School.

Your child has indicated a desire to participate in our athletic program. This participation involves certain commitments and sacrifices that must be made, not only by your child, but by you as a parent.

Today, athletics are considered an important part of a student's total education. For this reason, we try to offer a well-rounded athletic program in our school. Our program offers a variety of sports which allows participation by any student who wishes to become part of a team.

I feel that there are many benefits to be derived from participation in athletics. One of these is that the student learns to commit himself to a team. He must be dedicated to improving himself to the best of his ability in order to help the team and his coaches, and he must place the good of the team above his own personal goals. This commitment early in life will carry over into adulthood as the student takes his place in his community and his country.

In athletics, the students learn the value of hard work. It is tough to have to go through all the preparation necessary to be an athlete, but the athlete has to commit himself to do whatever is needed for his improvement. Life itself requires dedication to the job at hand. Sometimes it is difficult for a person to have to get up and go to work every day. There are times when we don't feel good, or we just are not in the mood for work. However, the person who has learned to overcome these problems in his youth will have less trouble sticking with a task as an adult.

The athlete also learns to set priorities in his life. There are many activities an athlete must pass up because of his participation in the program. An adult must also sacrifice some "fun things" in life because of commitments to job and family.

It is very important for your child to learn the values that keep our country strong. You, the parent, play a very important role in teaching these values to your child. Support and encourage him in living up to his commitment to the team. Plan your vacations and family outings so that they don't interfere with workouts or games. Encourage your child to be at school and at practice even if he doesn't feel well. Your child learns from your example-if you are not willing to make some sacrifices to help your child realize the responsibility he has assumed in becoming a part of the team, then he may not attach much importance to being a dependable member of the group. So, I am asking you to commit yourself and your family to helping your child understand and keep his commitment to our athletic program. This, in turn, will help him to become a responsible member of society.

Hightower Co-Sponsors Interest Withholding Repeal

WASHINGTON, D.C.--Continuing his previous opposition to the concept of requiring financial institutions to withhold the federal ten percent tax on interest and dividend income, Rep. Jack Hightower is co-sponsoring H.R.500 to repeal this provision of the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982.

As early as 1980, Hightower co-sponsored a House resolution opposing this type of withholding procedure. When the Reagan Administration made the new withholding procedure part of their tax reform bill last year, Congress took up the bill as one entire package at the insistence of the White House. The Act was part of a bipartisan effort to reduce the federal budget deficit, and members of the House and Senate did not have an opportunity to vote on the withholding provision itself.

"There has been a great deal of misinformation about this withholding procedure and I've never thought this type of proposal would really add much to federal revenues," Hightower said. "I don't think it's worth the trouble to the public or to the financial institutions themselves."

Hightower indicated his office had received thousands of letters and form postcards from constituents protesting the withholding procedure. "This has just reaffirmed my view that it's an unpopular idea, and I've always thought it unnecessary," Hightower said. "Although it's not a new tax, this new procedure does deprive a person of the use of that taxable 10% prior to income tax day."

"I understand that the idea behind this provision was to catch the minority of taxpayers who fail to report their taxable interest income. However, I don't think you can fully justify depriving the majority of the use of that 10% before April 15th each year," Hightower said.

Despite growing opposition to the withholding procedure, the Reagan Administration and Senator Bob Dole (R-Kansas), Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, are vigorously opposing repeal. The procedure is to go into effect July 1, 1983. Under the provision, elderly individuals will be exempt if their total tax liability for the past year was less than $1,500 or $2,500 for an elderly couple filing jointly. Anyone who paid taxes last year of less than $600, or $1,000 if filing jointly, will also be exempt. Social Security income, which is exempt from taxation, will have no bearing on such withholdings.

New service available at Newman Clinic

Newman Memorial Hospital and Newman Medical Center clinic in Shattuck, Oklahoma, have announced an additional service from medical specialties to area patients. The service which will be available once a month, usually on the last Friday of the month, will allow patients to receive needed medical services without having to travel such long distances as is now required.

The first visit was made in February and the second on March 4, 1983. The next scheduled visit will be Friday, March 25, 1983.

Dr. Charles Freeman, Chief of Cardiology of St. Anthony Hospital in Oklahoma City, states that the interest in providing these services through the hospital and clinic in Shattuck stems from its being the most probably hospital and clinic in Shattuck stems from its being the most probably regional diagnostic center in this area. A second reason stems from his personal desire to see his many patient referrals from this area without these people having to travel such long distances to see him.

Dr. Freeman earned his undergraduate degree from Dartmouth University and his internship, residency in internal medicine and fellowship in Cardiology at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center. Besides his position as Chief Cardiologist of St. Anthony, he is a member of the Osler Society, Oklahoma Cardiac Society, and Young Doctors Dining Club. He was selected as the Outstanding Teacher of the Year by the St. Anthony's House Staff.

Dr. Freeman was accompanied by Dr. Mike Banowetz, a neurologist. Dr. Banowetz who is a graduate of SMU and the OU Medical School, spent two years of study in internal medicine at Tulsa University and completed his neurology residency at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, Missouri.

Dr. Banowetz is board certified by and a member of the American Academy of Neurologists. He is in private practice with Medical Neurologists of Oklahoma City and a member of the staff of St. Anthony Hospital.

Dr. Banowetz's interest in coming to Shattuck comes from his desire to get better acquainted with the physicians at NMH and get a chance for personal contact with his referral patients.

A Rape Seminar will be held on Monday, March 21, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Gruver High School Auditorium with

Nonpartisan support high for repeal of withholding from interest

It is rare to see such nonpartisan support as that which is developing in Congress for repeal of the program to withhold federal income tax from interest and dividend payments.

Within just a few weeks of the opening of the new Congress, more than 340 members had either introduced or were co-sponsoring withholding repeal bills in the House and Senate. In fact two states—Mississippi and West Virginia—had 100 per cent of their Congressional delegations sponsoring or cosponsoring repeal bills.

It's also rare for the major financial trade associations, which have deep-seated differences, to agree so completely on any issue; but they are unanimous in their calls for repeal.

Congress is being flooded with mail from irate savers and investors who only now are beginning to understand how complicated withholding will be when it goes into effect on July 1—and 10 per cent of their taxable interest and dividend income will be withheld at the source.

In view of all this, you'd think repeal of interest and dividend withholding would be a sure thing.

Unfortunately, that's not so. Withholding's backers are digging in for a fight—and because the plan's backers include the Administration and some powerful members of the Congressional committees that handle tax legislation, repeal will be difficult.

Even more disturbing is the heavy-handed response of some of withholding's friends. Treasury Secretary Donald Regan and Senate Finance Chairman Robert Dole (R-Kans.) implied that if withholding is repealed, financial institutions will be punished with higher taxes.

To this Sen. David Pryor (D-Ark.) properly responded in a letter to Mr. Regan that individuals and organizations have a right "to write to their elected representatives in Congress about matters that affect them without being threatened with legislative reprisals."

But after rushing this program through the last Congress before opposition had time to develop, withholding's backers apparently now are making every effort to stifle further discussion.

It's not surprising that they don't want people to understand how withholding will affect them until it's too late. Interest and dividend withholding is a bad idea which, in one form or another, Congress has been rejecting ever since it was first proposed in 1942.

It is unnecessary because the Internal Revenue Service can catch tax cheaters with its information reporting system—and in fact even IRS statistics show a compliance rate of some 97 per cent when the 1999 information reporting system is used.

All withholding will do is drown honest taxpayers, many of whom have a number of sources of interest and dividend income, with new paperwork.

It will result in overwithholding for people who already have enough withheld at work, or who have little or no tax obligation—including retirees and the unemployed. In effect, they will be making interest-free loans to the government.

There is an exemption system for senior citizens and others with low incomes, but to get exemptions they must file with each interest and dividend payer. This forced disclosure of general information about age and income is a gross invasion of privacy.

In addition, withholding will discourage savings by reducing the return, and it will erode savings capital by taking money directly from savings accounts. Withholding will add to the cost of financial services and could not come at a worse time—just as the economy is trying to pull out of a recession.

Why are withholding's backers so insistent in trying to foist this program on American savers and investors, even though the public is clearly against it?

Primarily, just to speed up the collection of some taxes the government would get anyhow—and "dress up" current budget estimates.

That doesn't strike us as sufficient reason to unleash a blizzard of new paperwork which in many cases will involve just a few dollars—but which for many people will require a host of new calculations at income-tax time.

Fortunately, there's still time to repeal this bad law. Despite the formidable opposition, Congress will act if enough of us write our Representatives and Senators and let them know how we feel about interest and dividend withholding.

It's a bad plan which Congress should repeal.

March's Message

There's much about March which moves even cynical newsmen.

It's the new life and green of another year, the first southern winds, longer days, a different shading of sunlight or the first lightweight dresses on cute things. And March stirs nostalgia for other springs.

March ushers in springtime flowers and showers; it's a forerunner of summer, school holidays—and a good time to plan 1983's vacation.

Memory works wonders with the truth.

Driving course can cut auto premiums

Eight spare time hours—four per night—can decrease your auto insurance premium and increase your prospects for safely driving your car.

Those attending an upcoming Defensive Driving Course with passing grades will be eligible for a 10 percent reduction in your automotive insurance premium.

Class periods will be 6-10 p.m., March 31 and April 5. They will be conducted in the upstairs rooms of the Hansford County Library and taught by Spearman insurance man John R. Collard, Jr.

Collard is one of a very few persons expertly qualified to conduct courses in defensive driving outside the educational division of the Texas Department of Public Safety. The course will not be just lectures with enrollees hopefully remembered enough to make passing marks.

Those attending will have enough opportunity to learn some very important principles of conduct at the wheel of a motor vehicle developed to teach a motorist how to defend against that dangerous situation that could become an accident otherwise.

Thus a defensive driving student stands to face the toughest test—and make the best grade—out there in traffic.

This two-night, eight-hour course is being conducted by Collard's insurance firm and the Brock Insurance Agency in cooperation with area law enforcement departments.

Questions may be directed to the Spearman Police Department, 659-3707; the Collard Agency, 659-2501 or the Brock Agency, 659-2514.

Inventory Management Workshop

The Retail Merchants Committee of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an Inventory Management workshop Tuesday, March 22 at 7:00 p.m. in the Conference Room of the Chamber of Commerce office. A fee of $2.50 advance or $3.50 at the door will be charged. Please make your reservations as soon as possible as this workshop will be limited to 15. Reservations will be taken until the workshop is full. The S.B.A. will conduct the workshop. They will cover the basic techniques of inventory control for a retail service operation, wholesale, and small manufacturers will be discussed in general terms. This workshop is geared to the small business person who feels his/her present inventory system needs improvement. Call the Chamber of Commerce, 659-5555, and make your reservation today.

Girl Scout Week is March 6-12

Girl Scout Week will be observed here March 6-12. Theme of the week is "We Found A New World".

The scouts will be having a bake sale Saturday, March 12 at 9 a.m. at Gordon's Drug.

The proceeds from the bake sale will go to the Neighborhood Fund to support the Girl Scout Little House.

Also next week the Brownie Troops will also be having their Girl Scout Cookie sales.

Alcoholism hearing planned for Perryton

PRPC--Residents of the Perryton area will have an opportunity to influence the course of alcoholism treatment programs in the Panhandle during a hearing scheduled for Tuesday, March 15 in Perryton. The hearing will be held at 2:00 p.m. in the Ochiltree County Courthouse.

During the hearing, representatives of the Amarillo Council on Alcoholism and the Panhandle Regional Planning commission will explain programs and answer questions from the audience. Perryton is the site for one of the hearings because it is also the location of one of the Amarillo MH/MR's Regional Family Service Centers.

The family service centers provide referral and follow-up support to the Panhandle Alcoholic Recovery Center.

Don Pipes, representing the alcohol council, will explain the need for area councils on alcoholism. Because Pipes' council is responsible for all client intake and referral for alcoholism programs in the region, he will be organizing groups of volunteers in the area to transport those who need services into Amarillo. One of the services they could be using is a proposed regional detoxification center to be located in Amarillo.

The detoxification center and other programs funding by the Texas Commission on Alcoholism in the Panhandle area will be reviewed by Wayne Hughes, Regional Alcoholism Services Director for the planning commission.

During the hearing, Hughes and Pipes will respond to written and oral comments from citizens who want to see specific services offered.

Shuler participating in exhibition

Leo Shuler, local professional photographer, has been invited to participate in the first Panhandle Professional Invitational Exhibition to be held March 3 thru 15 at Western Plaza Mall in Amarillo.

Approximately 15 photographers from the Panhandle, South Plains and other neighboring areas will exhibit their choice photographs along with 75 other works from the 1982 National Loan Collection of the Professional Photographers of America.

This exhibit, a new extension of the Panhandle Professional Photographers Association, is spearheaded by Fred Hughes of Dumas.

The exhibit, entered by invitation only for leading area photographers who are active members of the local and affiliated organizations, will show some of the best photographs done professionally in the Golden Spread area.

The National Loan Collection photographs are 75 of the top 150 winners selected by the national association's judges in May 1982.

Hughes says his exhibit committee feels very fortunate to have such a prestigious group of winning photographs alongside the local works of art.

Denis Melton of Amarillo is president of the Panhandle Professional Photographers Association which meets twice annually in Amarillo to serve as a learning seminar for member and guest photographers.

Perryton photographer, Leo

Shuler has built up a very impressive performance record in exhibition photography. Exhibiting regularly stimulates a photographer to increasingly higher levels of performance, which is so evident in Shuler's work. This ability to do outstanding work paved the way for his invitation to exhibit his work in this prestigious show.

Leo Shuler began his professional career in 1963, making the year, 1983, his 20th anniversary year of making breathtaking portraits. He has served as Print Chairman, President and Vice President of the Panhandle Professional Photographers Asso. He was an organizer of the Interstate Photographers Guild; a research and study group that serves Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. He has also been named to the Texas Professional Photographers Convention Print Committee on two occasions. Shuler also holds a membership in the Southwestern Professional Photographers Asso.

Leo's awards and ribbons exceed 50, approximately 20 of which are on display at his studio. Among his trophies, Leo's most treasured are:

Shuler adds "Photography is an exciting profession, but most people see only the glamorous public side. The behind-the-scenes management and hard work requires a very strong self-discipline that many photographers can't cope with. They are around for one or two years then leave the profession."

Leo is a busy man. He is actively involved in many organizations which include the Panhandle Professional Photographers Asso., Texas Professional Photographers Asso., Interstate Photographers Guild, International Professional Photographers Group, and several church, civic and political organizations.

Health problems slowed Shuler down in 1977 and since then he has restricted the number of exhibits he enters, although he is currently developing new styles and considering entering more exhibits in the near future.

At present, Shuler has plans to feature a "New Look" in his studio and in his work later in the year to emphasize his 20 years in professional photography. Plans include an Open House and birthday party to celebrate the event.

A Rape Seminar will be held on Monday, March 21, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Gruver High School Auditorium with Diane Baush.

Defensive Driving Course Set

There will be a Defensive Driving Course held in Spearman on March 31 and April 5, four (4) hours each night from 6:00 - 10:00 p.m. To complete the course, an individual must attend both classes for a total of 8 hours. These classes will be held in the upstairs room of the Hansford County Library.

Anyone wishing to attend the class can contact John R. Collard, Jr. at 659-2501 or contact the Spearman Police Department at 659-3707 or J.L. Brock Insurance Agency at 659-2514.

If you have any questions, contact 659-2501, 659-3707, or 659-2514.

Dear Editor

Dear Editor:

My son Leslie was injured in a car accident in Sept. 1981, and is paralyzed from the chest down. We were told that he would never be any better, and not to look for a cure because nothing could be done.

We no longer believe this is true because much has happened in spinal cord research in the past two years. Peripheral nerve grafts, electrical stimulation, anterior nerve decompression operations, and other techniques have given new hope to the half-million spinal cord injured in the U.S. The Spinal Cord Society sponsored a cure conference on June 11 and 12 in Minn. Eleven of the nations top researcher spoke on cure and alleviation of chronic spinal cord injuries.

Injury to the neck or back can cause life time paralysis to all parts of the body below the level of injury. How can you avoid this? You can not. Car and sports accidents, and even falls are creating a paralysis epidemic—a new injury every 30 minutes in the U.S. alone. Even if you are temporarily able bodied, the chances are 70% that you will be disabled before you die.

To leave the spinal cord injured in an age when science can reverse the paralysis is a crime, especially when we know it is not necessary, and when we realize that spinal cure is the key to some 35 million other severe neural maladies in the U.S., such as Stroke, Multiplesclerosis, and Palsy.

No researcher is shouting that he has found an instant cure for every spinal cord injury, but if you take the total of all the cure research, it seems as if they have found all the pieces of the puzzle. It is just a matter of putting the pieces together.

If you know someone that is injured, or someone that is interested, please contact me so I can send them information on current research and The Spinal Cord Society. The society is composed of the injured and their families, with its single goal aimed at the cure of spinal cord disorders. Help us to help you—you may be tomorrow's statistic.

Sincerely,
Carmen George

The Texhoma Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a collector's show and sale. We would appreciate any assistance you can provide with promoting the event.

The Texhoma Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring its Seventh Annual Collector's Show and Sale March 12 and 13 in Texhoma's old high school gymnasium. Hours of the show and sale are 9 a.m. - 6 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Again this year the Chamber will be selling chances on a door prize, a portable remote telephone, which is usable for a distance of up to 600 - 700 feet. A local merchant has donated a clock to be awarded as the second prize. Door prize will be given at hourly intervals as well.

There will be a concession stand, and Chamber members will furnish homemade pie to be sold by the slice.

The cost of table rental is $10, and dealers can begin setting up on Friday afternoon. Security guards will be provided. There will be complimentary donuts and coffee for dealers.

Dealers from the five-state area will be participating in the event. On display and available for sale will be antiques, coins, glass, guns, crafts and other collectibles.

Anyone wishing further information may call the Chamber office at 405/423-7341 or evenings call Emery Elliott at 405/423-7121.

A Rape Seminar will be held on Monday, March 21, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Gruver High School Auditorium with Diane Baush.

Mauro brings veterans land program closer to home

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro has appointed Lorenzo M. Sedeno as Area Representative for the Veterans Outreach program in the Panhandle region of Texas. Veterans Outreach is an extension of the Veterans Land Program of the General Land Office. Sedeno and four other field representatives will be going out to every county in Texas to establish contact with veterans groups and their representatives. The object of the statewide drive is to acquaint Texas veterans with the benefits of the land loan program and assist them with problems and questions concerning the loan process.

"For all the success this program has had in the past, it has to be upgraded and updated to meet the current needs of our Texas veterans. I'm concerned about each and every veteran in this state, especially Vietnam veterans, and I'm concerned about prompt service. This program is going to run like a business and it will be manned by trained professionals both in the central office and out in the field", said Mauro.

Authorized by the people of Texas in 1946, nearly 80,000 veterans have participated in the Veterans Land Program. The loan program operates at no cost to the taxpayer and actually returns money from proceeds. Long term, low interest loans of up to $20,000 can be obtained for a minimum of 10 acres.

Lorenzo M. Sedeno is a native Texan from San Angelo who now lives in Lubbock. For three years he was administrative aide to Congressman Kent Hance. In that position he was in charge of Veterans affairs and social programs among his many other responsibilities. Prior to that he was self employed as a life underwriter for 14 years. He has been a member of the Lubbock Human Relations Commission, the Legal Aid Society, the Community Service Commission, the Bilingual and Bicultural Committee on Mass

Communications and several other organizations. Sedeno has held many community service offices, including President of the Pastoral Council of the Diocese of Amarillo, President of Bozeman Elementary School P.T.A. and Vice President of Project Upward Bound.

"I am happy to have a person of Lorenzo's experience representing the Veterans Land Program. His familiarity with veterans needs as well as his background in government and community affairs will make him a great asset to the program," commented Commissioner Mauro.

The Rhine

March was a memorable month in 1945; American troops crossed the Rhine.

On the 9th, General Omar Bradley's 9th Armored Division raced across the Ludendorff Bridge at Remagen before the enemy could set off demolition charges.

On the night of the 22nd, General George Patton's Fifth Infantry Division, moving out at 2230, crossed against opposition at Oppenheim.

(Churchill congratulated General Bernard Montgomery's troops a day later for making the first assault crossing of the river.)

By May 8, Hitler was dead, Germany shattered and conquered—in this last western campaign of the greatest war in Europe. By August 14, Japan too, had surrendered.

Cattlemen's group announces convention agenda

More than 2,000 cattlemen from throughout the Southwestern United States are expected to attend the 106th annual convention, trade show and Heritage sale of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association March 20-23 in Austin, says Frates Seeligson, TSCRA president.

Most convention activities will be held in the Palmer Auditorium and Civic Center, the Austin Hyatt Regency and the University of Texas campus, the San Antonio cattleman said.

Admiral Bobby R. Inman, former deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency, will headline a slate of nationally-known speakers. Inman will deliver the keynote address at the convention's kickoff luncheon on Monday, March 20.

Other major speakers include Dr. W.J. "Dub" Waldrip, president of the National Cattlemen's Association; Hilmar G. Moore, chairman of the Beef Industry Council of the National Live Stock and Meat Board; Dr. Burdette C. Breidenstein, director of research for the Meat Board; Raymond M. Mombosse, managing attorney of the Pacific Legal Foundation; Dottie St. Clair of Clayton Brokerage Company's Dallas office; Barbara Keating-Edh, president of Consumer Alert; Texas Governor Mark White and Mrs. King "Becky" Terry, president of the Texas CowBelles.

Seeligson and Don C. King, TSCRA secretary-general manager, will give their annual reports on Wednesday, March 23.

The convention will open Sunday with a 110-exhibit trade show featuring agricultural products and services from throughout the U.S. Several prominent Western artists and craftsmen will exhibit their works during the trade show's three-day run.

Following a welcome party in the trade show area on Sunday evening, the Cattle Raisers Heritage Sale will feature the sale at auction of 20 select Quarter horses, 12 registered bulls of the major beef breeds and 15 pieces of Western art. Ruben Reyes, the San Antonio auctioneer who recently sold the first two-

The Texas CowBelles, a TSCRA auxiliary active in beef promotion and legislative activities, will hold its spring meeting in conjunction with the convention Sunday and Monday.

Following committee meetings and the kickoff luncheon on Monday, the TSCRA Board of Directors will meet at 1:30 p.m. to hear Waldrip, Moore and Breidenstein.

More committee meetings will be held that afternoon. At 3 p.m. Monday, registrants can tour the Brucellosis Testing Laboratory operated by the Texas Animal Health Commission. The tour will be repeated at the same time on Tuesday, Seeligson said.

Monday's social activities include a ladies' tour of the UT Performing Arts Center at 2 p.m., a trade show social hour at 4 p.m., a Young People's Party at 5:30 p.m. and a Western dinner dance at 7 p.m.

The first general session of the convention will begin at 9 a.m. Tuesday with Seeligson presiding. Program speakers will be Mombosse, St. Clair, Keating-Edh and Governor White.

A luncheon featuring Cajun humorist Justin Wilson will be held in the Hyatt Regency ballroom at noon.

Committee meetings will conclude Tuesday's business activities.

Social activities include the trade show social hour and a party at the Lyndon B. Johnson Library and Museum at 7 p.m.

The second and final general session will begin in the Hyatt Regency at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, preceded by a breakfast for all convention registrants who will receive a report from the association's political action committee Cattle PAC at 7:30 a.m. there. Policy statements will be considered for adoption at that time.

TSCRA will elect new officers and board members on Wednesday with adjournment anticipated at noon, Seeligson said.

Banker discusses critical ag issues

Major critical issues facing Texas agriculture were outlined by a banking official at the annual Farm and Ranch Credit Conference at Texas A&M University Feb. 28-March 1.

Vernon Peckham, a senior vice president with the Republic National Bank of Dallas and a member of the Governor's Task Force on Agricultural Development (established by former governor Bill Clements in 1981) noted seven critical issues identified by the task force that will have great influence on Texas' agricultural industry: water, energy, capital, production efficiency, transportation, land and marketing.

Peckham also listed these general recommendations by the special agricultural task force:

1. Designate agriculture as a high priority sector of the Texas economy.
2. Minimize government regulations.
3. Establish incentives for the conservation of natural resources.
4. Increase state funding for agricultural research and education, which offers a 30 to 50 percent return per annum on dollars invested. State funding in this area is small relative to the size of Texas' agricultural industry and income generated.
5. Improve agricultural information systems to improve methods of technology transfer to expedite use of new knowledge.

"We need to develop financing for a continuing water research and education program, and we need to amend the Texas Water Plan to meet the needs of agriculture," Peckham said.

"We also need to develop and implement new technology in production agriculture, and we need to establish a Research and Education Center for Agricultural Policy."

Regarding transportation, Peckham called for deregulation of the trucking industry for agricultural products, maintenance and expansion of farm-to-market roads, and keeping needed railroads. "Since many of Texas agricultural products are exported, transportation demands are unique," he noted.

The banking official also called for a halting of the conversion of prime agricultural land for urban development and a major emphasis on marketing of agricultural products. "We especially need to improve our markets with Mexico, and we need to improve the development and dissemination of market news," Peckham said.

He encouraged the 150 bankers attending the conference to work closely with their farmer lenders to help them identify risks and to deal with these. "This is a period of stress for all agricultural producers and all want to survive," he said. "We want our agricultural industry to grow and develop because everyone benefits from a sound agriculture."

"In this period of change we need to direct change and not let it master us," Peckham challenged the bankers.

The annual Farm and Ranch Credit Conference was sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M College of Agriculture and Texas Bankers Association.

Skirts & Kites

March is traditionally a windy month, with flying skirts and kites, which old and young welcome.

Kite flying has been a popular sport in many countries for long as flying skirts have. Youngsters should be cautioned to avoid electric power lines, against using wire or cord with tinsel wound into it; each year accidents occur because of carelessness.

Oldsters ought, by now, to know the dangers of flying skirts. Youngsters are hereby warned.

MONEY SUPPLY

Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan said recently the Federal Reserve Board should begin slowly tightening its reins on money to prevent the recovering economy from overheating and setting off a new round of inflation.

Dr. Newman receives board certification

The third announcement of board certification in his/her field of specialization has been received by a member of the staff of Newman Memorial Hospital in Shattuck. Dr. Bob Newman, M.D. and a specialist in Urology, took his final portion of examinations February 7 and 8, 1983, in Kansas City, Missouri. Leading up to this final examination, Dr. Newman had completed a three-year residency in urology preceded by two years of general surgery. His first written examination was completed at the end of his urological residency. The final test which was just completed may only be taken after a year of medical practice. The test included some oral examinations and exams in urologic radiology and pathology.

While a physician may practice in his given field of specialty, board certification provides recognized qualification by fellow specialists. Urology specializations deal with the diagnosis and treatment of kidneys, bladders, prostates, and other organs of the urinary tract. Dr. Newman is now a recognized member of this field by the American Board of Urology.

Dr. Bill Isaacs and Dr. Valerie Verbi have also completed their certification procedures under the Board of Family Practice. Their certification means that unlike a general practitioner, they have three years postgraduate training in a Family Practice residency program plus taking an exam in Dallas, Texas, in July, 1982, which gives the certification. A Family Practitioner is qualified in the area of pediatric, internal, obstetrical-gynecological medicine and certain surgical problems for every member of the family. The philosophy of this specialization is treatment of the entire family including the psychological and social problems that contribute toward the disease of any member. It is an area of total care. Dr. Isaacs' basis but was directed to hospital patient care as well.

Doctor Talk

Harold B. Ligon, MD

Primary hypertension is classified as mild, moderate, and severe with the following diastolic values: Mild-.90/104 mm of Mercury. Moderate-.105/114 mm of Mercury. Severe-.Greater than 115 mm of Mercury.

Mild hypertension should be watched and managed. Moderate and severe hypertension should definitely be treated and controlled by your doctor!

Today, there are numerous drugs being used for high blood pressure. Generally, the first drug used is some form of diuretic (there are many). If the response to a diuretic is not satisfactory, usually an additional second step drug is added. This may be a nerve blocker or a vasodilator. Somewhere up the line, your doctor will find the right therapeutic combination.

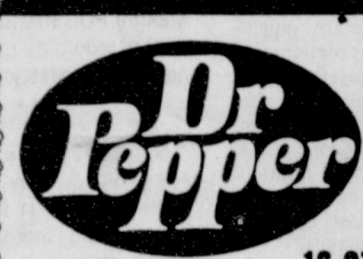

In addition to taking your medicine, there are physical and dietary measures you can take to help your medication control high blood pressure. Try to stay trim. Adopt an active exercise program (incidentally, walking just about heads the exercise list). Avoid too much salt and high sodium content foods, too many fats and fast foods, too much alcohol, and-you shouldn't smoke!

Top ag analyst outlines policy alternatives

President Reagan's chief economic analyst for agricultural programs today (March 1) outlined four policy alternatives for dealing with the nation's agricultural crisis, saying "the current level of federal spending for agriculture—more than $18 billion—can't be sustained because it's about equal to income from agriculture."

Dr. Glenn Nelson, who serves on the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said that the overall economic picture for agriculture "just doesn't look good over the short term" (two years or so) during an address to Texas bankers at Texas A&M University. He offered these policy alternatives:

1. A strong free market orientation. This would be a real "Shock treatment" and would mean continuing low farm prices which would put pressure on foreign production.

2. Mandatory controls on agricultural production with current slight increases in prices. Such controls might serve a purpose for a year or two. While mandatory controls with higher prices would be more favorable, they would mean high costs to the government and have a detrimental effect on exports.

3. Massive export subsidies. These would make our agricultural products cheaper for foreign buyers but again would be costly to our government. They would also mean higher food prices in the U.S. than overseas, and could risk a trade war.

4. Evolution of policy. Developing policy along the way means a continuation of the current PIK (payment-in-kind) program through the 1984-85 crop year as a short-term solution.

"All of these alternatives currently have a 'bad taste' to them, but one or more may be necessary for long-term improvement in agriculture," Nelson said. "We badly need programs in the short-term to bring about long-term improvement."

"How we resolve our current situation will be affected by our policies as well as by world events," Nelson pointed out. "The export market is highly volatile, and we need to be concerned about agricultural production and consumption overseas. Prices affect production overseas just as they do in the U.S. Higher prices overseas could lead to increased agricultural production.

"Consumption of agricultural products overseas is affected by population growth, prices and economic growth. In the short run, the world economy should continue 'soft,' at least through 1983," Nelson said.

"One of our main thrusts should be to do everything we can to help the world economy to recover," Nelson emphasized. "This means keeping our borders open to exports because a policy of 'protectionism' would jeopardize the agricultural sector."

A second major thrust, according to Nelson, should be to price our agricultural products competitively so that they can be moved abroad. "If we keep our price structure competitive, we should see some pickup in agricultural exports in the next few years," he said.

Some 150 bankers took part in the annual Farm and Ranch Credit Conference sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M's College of Agriculture and the Texas Bankers Association.

A Rape Seminar will be held on Monday, March 21, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Gruver High School Auditorium with Diane Baush.

CHRYSLER HAS PROFIT HIGHLAND PARK, MICH. -- Chrysler Corp. said recently it lost $96.1 million in the fourth quarter, but earned $170.1 million for all of 1982, its first annual profit in five years.

Guest Editorial A Bad Idea

Governor Mark White made a lot of campaign promises during the campaign, most of which he has conveniently forgotten by now.

One of his promises was to cut out the fuel adjustment charge on state utility bills, with the implication that this would reduce our utility bills.

The fuel adjustment charge has indeed been removed, but the total amount has not changed for the simple reason that the reason has not been changed. Utility companies, electric companies, have to generate electricity, and this takes fuel. Until some way is found to produce electricity without fuel, the cost of this fuel must be a part of the cost of electricity.

White also promised to put a housewife on the Public Utility Commission, implying that a plain housewife would straighten out the utility companies and bring a new perspective toward utility bills.

Indeed he has appointed a housewife to fill one of the vacancies on the PUC but she is a housewife with some knowledge of city utilities and thus is not really a plain housewife.

The governor has another project that he keeps working on and that is the notion of changing the members of the Public Utility Commission from appointed to elected members.

This idea is a bummer. Members of the Public Utility Commission certainly should have some background in the issues involved in utility regulation. If the offices are made elective, playing for the grandstand would become more important than expertise in the field of regulation.

It has become popular to attack the utility companies of the state and indeed Governor Mark White polled a lot of votes with his attack on the utilities, picturing them as heartless corporations out to extract the most out of their customers without a thought as to how much it hurt.

Utility companies, enjoying a monopoly in the territory they serve, should be regulated by governmental bodies.

But utilities need to be able to operate at a profit and to return a dividend to the stockholders who invest in the company.

Consumers want the lowest rates possible, of course. But this requires that a utility, whether publicly owned or investor owned, be allowed to recover its costs and show a reasonable rate of return on its investment and equipment.

We think that in our own area, the Texas-New Mexico Power Co. has done an excellent job in providing electric service at the most reasonable rate that it can. We think that the Southwestern Public Service Co., from whom TNM buys its power, has done an excellent job in staying ahead of demand in its investment and in new generating plants.

It is one thing to regulate and quite another to abuse. Making PUC members elective would open the door to a lot of would-be experts who could easily destroy what has been a pretty good system.

It has been finally proven, a few million times, that it is harder to keep one's mouth closed than open.

It's not money that causes so much trouble, but the misconception that a lot of it can be had for nothing.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

DEFINING COMMUNITY

AUSTIN — Texas is a very large and diverse state. This fact adds much to our appeal but can also provide for some problems. Through the fine judges in the Panhandle and South Plains, it has come to our attention that currently there is a discrepancy in the way in which our state's courts and juries define what is obscene and what is not.

It seems that when defining obscenity, the Texas Penal Code requires juries to use "contemporary community standards" as a benchmark.

This sounds very reasonable, as opinions vary between communities as to what is obscene. However, because this definition is so broad, our appellate courts have decided that the "community" spoken of is the entire state of Texas.

A jury of local people must decide if the questionable materials are acceptable somewhere in our community, Texas. If they are, then they must be acceptable everywhere in Texas.

Because of this, at a trial in our District when someone is charged with selling obscene material, it is admissible in court to show that similar material is sold every day hundreds of miles away in Houston. We do not feel that this is right.

To get back to what we feel is the true meaning of this term, community standards, we have introduced a bill in the Texas Senate which will define community standards as being those standards in the county in which the alleged offense occurred.

This change will allow juries to decide what is obscene in their county and not have to be subject to what is thought elsewhere in Texas. This measure does not in anyway define obscenity or restrict the sale of use of anything; it only allows the people in the individual counties to decide what they want sold in their local stores. We feel that this was the intent of the law and we are trying to get back to it so Texans can decide what type of community they will live and raise their children in.

Texas is large and diverse, and we all share from the many beneficial factors this state offers. However, we feel that the counties should not suffer because of this diversity by having contrary opinions forced upon them. We want to know what you feel about this. Please write Senator Bill Sarpalius, Box 12068, Texas Capitol, Austin, Texas, 78711 or call (512) 475-3222.

Texas Tech Doctor speaks to Rotary Club

Dr. Herb Smith head of the Amarillo branch of the Texas Tech School of Medicine spoke to the Spearman Rotary Club about his work in teaching of family practice at the Amarillo school.

Dr. Smith left his small town practice in the southeastern section of the United States to teach in family practice. With his love of rural America came a zeal to establish a specialty of one which has seemingly vanished, with the concept of specialization in the medical profession. Fewer than 1% of the physicians graduating from the larger medical schools go into general family practice. Schools, like Texas Tech, which have established courses for doctors specializing in family practice find about 35% of the graduates going into smaller communities to practice medicine.

We all dream of the family doctor, who came to the house and provided medical treatment. We dream of knowing the doctor personally and he us, so personal that the doctor can see us on the street or at church and know by observing us that something might be wrong, then tell us to make an appointment.

This all is not unreal and something the program at Tech is trying to create. Psychology, sociology, biology, human relations and related fields are being emphasized, in addition to medicine to prepare the graduate with a total understanding of the person, physically, mentally and emotionally. The total person is important. The doctor needs to look at the roots of a disease and not just the disease a person has. It is important for the doctor to know the home environment, the physical and emotional reaction to the patient, his reaction to medication, pain, etc. The physician also needs to give support to the patient and his family.

The school not only gives special classes to prepare the students for family practice, but has special programs to involve them in residencies at nursing homes to prepare them for the special needs of the elderly, an opportunity to work in smaller communities for additional training under the tutelage of a local physician.

The need for family practice physicians was underscored by two factors according to the doctor. One is that he receives about five requests a day from all over the United States for doctors needed in smaller communities and the fact that in the West Texas area from the panhandle south to the Valley the median age of local physicians is about 55 years old. There will be a greater need in the future to replace these doctors. Competition is great for these specialists. Texas Tech and other schools of medicine are trying to prepare the newer doctors for practices in the rural and smaller communities by introducing them early in their careers to the positive amenities of the more remote areas.

More March Dates

March 7, that of Luther Burbank; March 8, that of Simon Cameron, who founded a political dynasty in Pennsylvania which lasted for decades.

March 15, that of President Andrew Jackson, March 16, that of President James Madison; March 17, that of Roger B. Taney, fifteenth justice of the United States Supreme Court; March 18, that of Grover Cleveland, the only American president to serve two non-consecutive terms as president; March 19, that of William Jennings Bryan, and March 29, that of President John Tyler, tenth president of the United States.

Girl's Scout Day is March 12, and on March 30, 1868, Russia ceded Alaska to the United States for $7,200,000

Graduation Requirements Needed

For a variety of reasons, U.S. schools in recent decades relaxed standards. By the sixties, a crisis had resulted.

Thousands in most states were graduating from lower and secondary schools without having mastered the basics. Employers were finding the high school students couldn't write, or even read, well.

Permissiveness--students choosing easy courses, a lack of discipline in schoolrooms, and other factors contributed. There was not enough homework; there were no minimum standards.

With European schools and Russian and Japanese schools turning out truly educated students, competent in math, science, languages, etc., the danger was obvious. The United States stood to lose out in the business and industrial world in the new age of electronics and computers--because too many American high school and college graduates had been insufficiently educated.

The trend began to swing back to traditional, basic courses and discipline in the seventies. It continues, but there is still a long way to go. Yet it is encouraging to note the increased attention given the problem by state legislatures, school administrators, teachers and concerned parents.

It is doubly encouraging when top black educators join in this necessary trend back to fair standards, honest testing and minimum graduation requirements. That's true because too often in the past educators and administrators, taking the easy way out, chose to seek excuses for poor student accomplishment, even sought to abolish standards. Obviously, that can't be the answer. Special remedial classes and aid may be justified--but not an abandonment of standards.

In Florida, Dr. Sybil Mobley recently endorsed statewide high school graduation requirements. She's a nationally recognized black educator, dean of the School of Business and Industry at Florida A. and M. University.

Graduation requirements have been recommended by the governor's special commission on secondary schools in Florida. Among other things, the commission suggests all students have four years of English and three of math and science.

Such a requirement is very much in the students' interest. Other states without minimum graduation requirements are also moving in this direction, rightly so.

The Red Cross

During March the American Red Cross makes an annual appeal to the American people for funds to help the distressed in time of emergency.

Many are familiar with the work of the Red Cross in the armed services, with the assistance it renders when disaster strikes. Emergency medical and nursing care is provided victims and, in some instances, financial assistance is a part of the relief extended to victims.

The annual appeal for funds is made in part by volunteer workers serving in communities from coast to coast. These individuals give hours of work without compensation to make possible extensive assistance by the Red Cross in emergencies.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

For those with a sweet tooth and no weight problem, this old southern devil's food cake recipe is a favorite for many.

Devil's Food Cake

- 1/2 c butter
- 1/2 c sugar
- 2 sq. chocolate
- 3 eggs
- 2 c cake flour
- 1 t baking soda
- pinch salt
- 1 c sweet milk
- 1 t vanilla

Cream butter and sugar. Add melted chocolate, then beaten egg yolks, sift together 4 times, flour, soda and salt. Add to first mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with addition of flour. Fold in beaten egg whites last and vanilla. Bake in a tube pan at 350 degrees for approximately 35 minutes.

Seven Minute Icing

- 2 egg whites
- 1/4 c sugar
- 5 T water
- 1/8 t cream of tartar
- 1 T white Karo syrup
- 1 t vanilla

Combine ingredients (except vanilla) in top of double boiler and mix until blended. Place over boiling water, and beat with electric beater until mixture is fluffy and will hold its shape, about 7 minutes. Remove and add flavoring.

TV COMMENTARY

By Bente Christensen

THE Nashville Network is the newest cable channel, as of March 7, and began with more viewers than had ever signed up for a new channel. It'll go into 13 million homes by the end of the year.

COUNTRY and western music is featured but there's much else, including games, drama and comedy.

LATEST viewer ratings among the commercial networks have CBS on top, ABC second and NBC last. In the evening news derby, the ratings are close. In the year since Walter Cronkite left CBS, that network has often lost its number-one rating for evening news. But the ratings are a see-saw affair and no program has taken command.

ABC'S Matt Houston is gaining fame as a clean, well-done Sunday nighter. Lee Horsley is among the handsomest he-men on the tube today.

LIKE Magnum, the sex appeal attracts female viewers as well as males who traditionally go for who-dunnits.

THOUGH Star Trek is big stuff still, the popularity of such fantasy and also of the low-level comedy the three commercial networks crank out daily, year after year, is a sad commentary on the intelligence of the average American TV viewer.

SUNDAYS have become so crowded some television evangelists have begun recasting on Saturday mornings. They're not aiming at Jewish viewers--just getting a day's jump on their competitors.

THE promotion for Grace Kelly (a recent Sunday night movie) was laced with "Her Serene Highness" references--her correct title. Cheryl Ladd was good and pretty, but not Grace Kelly!

Reagan supports decontrol of natural gas.

Price-fixer role lost by OPEC.

A Rape Seminar will be held on Monday, March 21, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Gruver High School Auditorium with Diane Baush.
