Alfred Submits Liquor Control To Solons

Message Is Delivered Personally

Asks Legislation To Clearly Define Open Saloon, To Protect Local Option

AUSTIN (UP)—Governor Alfred submitted liquor regulation to the special session of the Forty-Fourth Legislative meeting at noon Monday.

In a personally-delivered message, the governor called for legislation clearly defining the "open saloon" and preserving integrity of the territory dry under local option.

He announced he would submit the subject of fixing salaries for county officers Tuesday and within the week that of old-age pensions.

He declared no legislator has ever been called in special session to deal with problems of greater importance and the "combined wisdom" of legislative and executive departments is needed to solve them.

"In my humble judgment, the people want no subtlety definition or camouflaged saloon. Whereby, even though the brass rail bar may be outlawed, yet practically the same evils of the open saloon sales will again be upon us," he said.

He asked a "clear-cut, simple, and understandable definition and prohibition of the open saloon so as to carry out the letter and spirit of the constitutional amendment."

He did not commit himself as to the merits of a state monopoly or private licensing systems of liquor control, saying the legislature had the power to establish either.

Solons said there were prospects of a stormy session.

Speaker Coke Stevenson, Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul said after a conference with Alfred that it might be finished within 30 days, while others said maybe not "by Christmas."

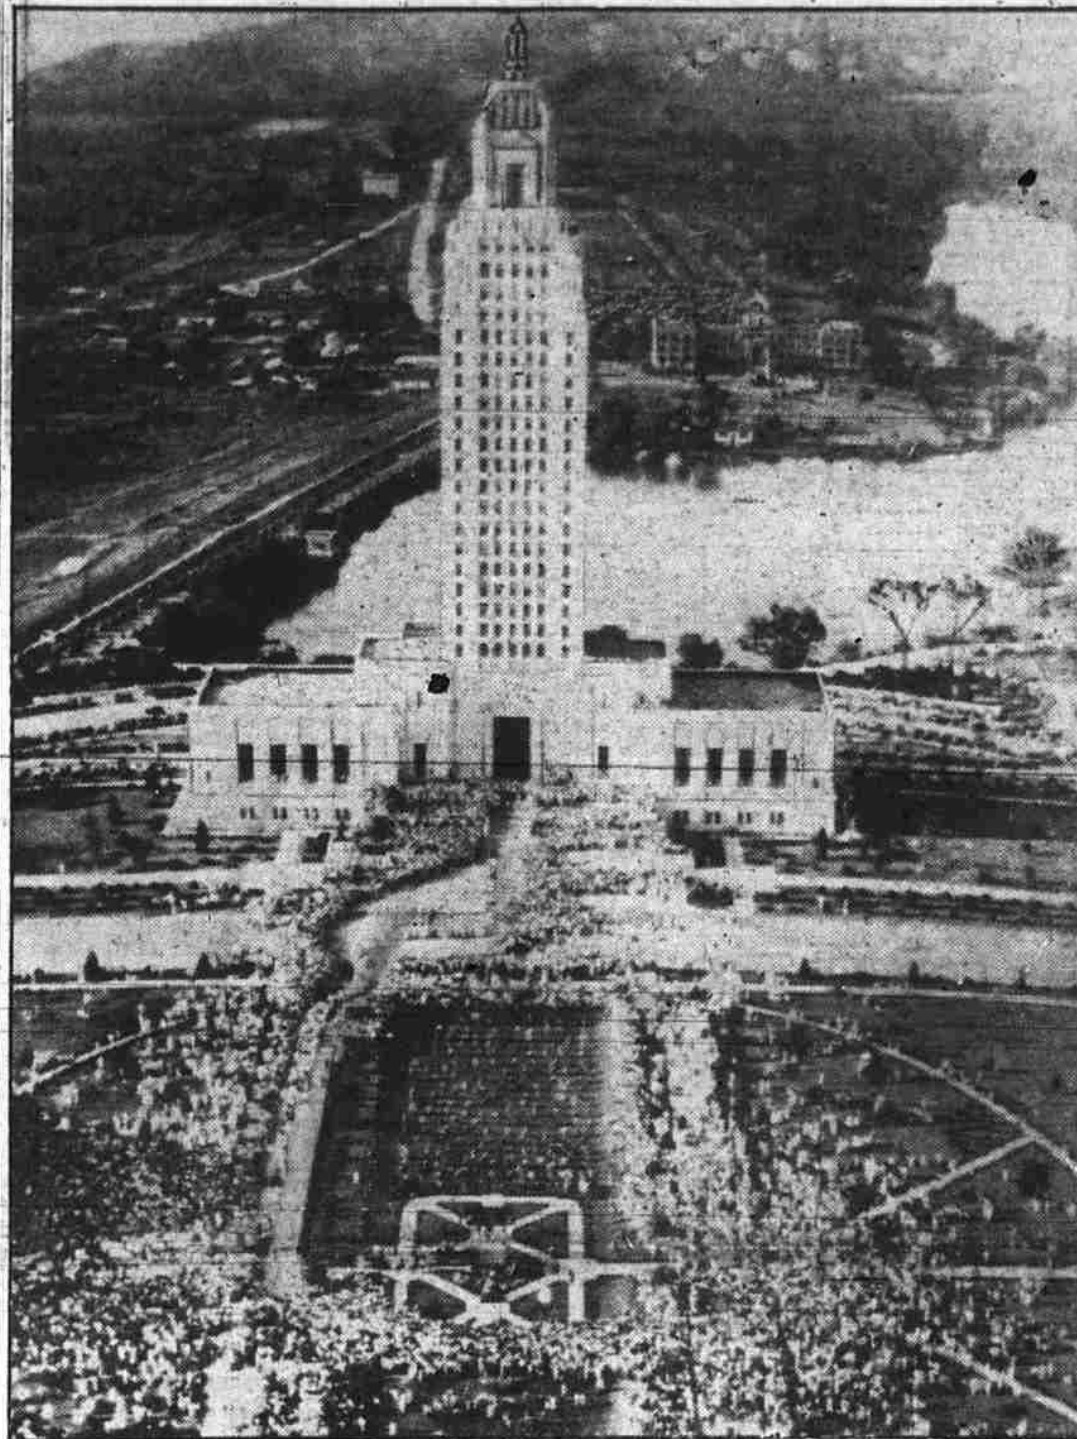

Bitter clashes on any bill for liquor regulation were forecast. The senate re-elected all officers. Senator Martin, Hillaboro, was elected president pro tempore, succeeding Senator Reditt, Luffkin.

The first bill introduced was an agreed wet block measure to regulate liquor by licensing.

A second bill appropriating $100,000 for session expenses, was passed promptly.

BOYCOTT AGAINST ITALY IS SEEN

AS LOUISIANA'S 'KINGFISH' PASSED INTO HISTORY

Polish Delegates Walk Out When Litvinoff Speaks

(By Associated Press)

Reliable sources disclosed an economic boycott against Italy if Italy launches an unprovoked war being worked out among certain League of Nations members.

The Polish delegation walked out of the league hall when Maxim Litvinoff, Russian commissar, began a speech. Litvinoff had criticized the German-Polish non-aggression pact.

(By Associated Press)

Three small countries, Panama, Haiti, and the Irish Free State, Monday demanded that the League of Nations take steps to prevent Italy's contemplated invasion of Ethiopia.

General Alfred Nemeurs of Haiti warned that the "colored peoples of the world are watching" and "the period of colonial wars is closed."

Irish Free State President De Valera declared "the final test for the league and it stands for has come."

Panama's delegate said that nation's vote would always be for peace.

The authoritative Italian newspaper La Stampa said if France spurns Italy's friendship over the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, she may never regain it.

Midland Girls Are Seriously Hurt In Accident Sunday

Students Were Enroute To Texas University When Mishap Occurs

COLORADO—A head-on collision on State Highway 1, seven miles west of Colorado at 11 o'clock Sunday morning resulted in serious injuries to Miss Ida Beth Cowden, of Midland, daughter of Elliott Cowden, prominent Midland ranchman, and Miss Hattie Tankersley, Colorado school teacher.

Miss Cowden and her brother, Wright Cowden, were going to Austin to enroll in the University of Texas. Young Cowden was driving. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Cowden were following in another car. Miss Tankersley was traveling west.

Miss Tankersley's knee was dislocated, her hip broken and she received a severe cut beneath her chin. Both women were unconscious when brought to a Colorado hospital. Wright Cowden, who suffered a wrenched back and a forehead cut, rode in with a passerby, Louis Cooper of Colorado.

Miss Cowden, whose condition was regarded as grave, was taken to Scott and White, Temple, by plane Sunday afternoon, leaving the Colorado landing field at 2:35. Accompanying her were Dr. C. L. Root of Colorado and her father, George McIntyre of Sterling City, who flew here from the Midland field in 45 minutes. Mrs. Cowden and Wright Cowden flew to Temple later in a plane brought from Abilene.

Although Miss Tankersley's condition is serious, hospital attendants expect her recovery. She teaches in the Coleman primary school at Colorado.

Robbers Fail Open Carter Chevrolet Safe

Fifty Cents in Pennies Seized From Peanut Vending Machine

About 50 cents in pennies was the amount of loot secured by a robber or robbers from the Carter Chevrolet company, 214 East Third street, who broke into the establishment by breaking a window glass at the rear of the building some time during Sunday night or early Monday morning.

This money was taken from a peanut vending machine, which the burglars tore loose from the wall and pried open. In their evident haste to get away, two of the pennies were dropped to the floor and later recovered this morning when the burglary was discovered by H. W. Broughton, manager of the concern.

The robbers, after securing some of the mechanics' tools in the work shop, attempted to break open the company safe, but failed in their efforts. Considerable damage was done to the safe knob and lock, but entrance to the safe, which contained approximately $150 in cash and a number of checks, was not gained. The cash register in the parts department was taken to the work bench in the shop, and pried open. There was no money to be had.

Officers are working on the case. Fingerprints were taken Monday morning from the safe and tools.

Ben Carter, president of the motor company, said Monday morning he had no insurance on the safe.

Recommends Brazos River Flood Project

Senator Sheppard Reports Hopkins Favoring $30 Million Dollar Job

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senator Sheppard said Monday Harry Hopkins had recommended favorably to President Roosevelt a $30,000,000 Brazos river flood control and irrigation project.

District Relief Offices Are Moved

District relief offices were being moved from the Fisher building on lower Main street to the building formerly occupied by Sam Fisherman's store.

Removal of the offices from the place where they have been located since relief was started here on a large scale basis was necessitated when Elix Furniture store leased the building.

Remodeling work is to start as soon as the relief offices have been moved.

It appeared Monday that the district office would be crowded since the new office space is much smaller than the old one.

Big Spring Lists Least WPA Projects

$698,000 Total For Work In Estimates Released By State Offices

The Big Spring district was listed as having submitted the least total of projects of any WPA district in Texas in estimates released by the state offices.

This district was estimated to have $698,000. However, District Director R. H. McNew took one million dollars in projects to the state office at one time. Nature of several hundred thousand dollars in highway proposals may have been such as not to have been included in the total, he believed.

State WPA officials are perfecting final plans for execution of projects, looking toward a systematic wracking of relief rolls.

Texas has requested a federal expenditure of $178,570,000. H. P. Drought, state administrator, announced in concluding the promotional end of the program.

Ruth Chatterton, Derby Entrant, In Big Spring Sunday

Cecile Hamilton, pretty 22-year-old aviator, entrant in the Ruth Chatterton Derby, recently conducted from Los Angeles to Cleveland, paused briefly in Big Spring Sunday noon, enroute from Cleveland to Los Angeles. Miss Hamilton was flying a tiny Aerona, powered with a 37 horsepower motor, in which she won four places in the race.

Miss Hamilton has been flying only for a little over a year. A resident of New York state, she received her early flying training in England, later returning to the United States, where she continued her flying activities.

The plane was not radio equipped, and Miss Hamilton was flying with the aid of maps. The gasoline capacity of the ship is only 15 gallons, and she was required to refuel again at Wink, before continuing her trip to El Paso. She expected to reach Los Angeles late Monday.

High School Choral Club Begins Work

Mrs. Bruce Frazier, high school choral club director, said Monday that club organization had begun what promised to be a most favorable year.

Voice placement was concluded last week, and rehearsing began Monday. "We have prospects for a club year, but no definite plan for a club year yet," Mrs. Frazier said.

Coroner's Investigation Into Huey Long's Death Is Started

Judge Sutton To Preside In 70th Court

Venues To Report Tuesday After Finding Court Without A Judge

Petit jurors, including two special venues, summoned for Monday morning were instructed to report again Tuesday when the 70th district court found itself without a judge.

Judge Charles L. Klapproth, presiding judge, is holding court in Fort Stockton at request of Governor James V. Allred.

Charles Sullivan, local attorney who last week was appointed a special judge to sit during Judge Klapproth's absence, was called out of town.

Judge C. R. Sutton, in whose court Klapproth is now sitting, was scheduled to arrive here in time to convene court Tuesday.

Criminal cases are on docket for trial this week.

Testimony Reveals Long's Mouth Bore Fresh Cut

District Attorney Ruled Ineligible In State Senate Race

BATON ROUGE (UP)—Testimony that Huey Long's mouth bore a fresh cut when he reached the hospital with a pistol wound the night Doctor Carl Weiss, Jr., was shot as slayer, threw the coroner's investigation into a furor and led many conjectures over what happened on the night of the tragedy.

Doctor W. A. Cook said it looked like a fresh abrasion, but was not bleeding. He said he did not know what caused it.

He said it could have been caused by any contact with a hard surface.

Attorney General Forester said Long bruised his mouth when he stumbled down stairs.

Reverend Gerald Smith, organizer of Share-the-Wealth clubs, charged District Attorney John Odum, representing the state, was a plottor against Long and that Smith would not be questioned by him.

AUSTIN (UP)—The attorney general's department has held a district election for a candidate for the senate "so long as he occupies that office."

The opinion was given County Judge E. L. Pitts of Lubbock, where it was reported a district attorney sought to succeed the late Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield.

Anthony Maniscalco, assistant attorney general, did not rule formally on the question of eligibility in the case of resignation because it was not presented, but said it was doubtful if a district attorney would be eligible during the term for which he was elected.

Mrs. A. L. Shive Dies Sunday; Burial Today

Services To Be Held From First Methodist Church 5 P. M. Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. A. L. (Lula) Shive, 61, wife of A. L. Shive of this city, who died at the family home at 5 p. m. Sunday, were to be held Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the First Methodist church, with Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor, assisted by Rev. Cal Wright, Colorado, in charge.

Interment will follow in Mount Olive cemetery in the Shive burial plot.

Pallbearers will be: Dale Warren and Moody Logan, Colorado; C. E. Talbot, Bascom Reagan, Gerald Miller and Kenneth Manuel.

Mrs. Shive had been in failing health for about eight years. Her death was attributed to heart disease.

Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Robert Shive, McAdams; and Vernon Shive, Big Spring; one daughter, Miss Edith Shive, Big Spring; seven brothers, Ernest Shive, O'Dell, Home; Crowley, Kermit; Clyde Crowley, Los Angeles; C. W. Crowley, Midland; J. Crowley, and Clarence Crowley, Jacksonville, Tex.; and A. B. Crowley, Mineral Wells.

Four brothers-in-law, G. T. Abbott, Denham; C. E. Shive, Big Spring; E. G. Shive, Archer City; and J. D. Shive, Fort Worth; and a niece, Mrs. Nettie Mae Graham, Fort Worth, were to attend services here today. Two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Clara Jenkins, Fort Worth and Mrs. Frances Buckeley, Fort Worth, were also here.

Deceased was born July 3, 1874 at Grapetown, Tex. She was married Feb. 3, 1907 at Midland to A. L. Shive. Three children were born to this union. The family resided in Midland a number of years before coming to Big Spring.

The area of Tommasa, 26,718 miles is roughly that of Scotland.

Men Plead Guilty To Drunkenness

Three men pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness Monday in justice court. They were arrested Sunday after reports of an altercation brought police to the scene. The affray was said to have been the outgrowth of a car collision on South Scurry street.

RODEO OFFICIALS BEGIN CHECK OF LOCAL RECEIPTS

With the second annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion behind them, officials of the rodeo corporation Monday were checking receipts against disbursements to ascertain the financial status of the three-day attraction.

While crowds were consistently less than capacity, they were as well on the whole as officials anticipated after rain forced postponement of the show from Labor Day. Other attractions also reduced total attendance slightly.

The show did demonstrate that the new plant erected for the annual event is capable of sufficing for needs for future shows, except in the matter of seats. It may become necessary in a few years to erect other stands.

Nothing but praise could be heard Monday for the quality of the performances. Contestants were contented with the manner in which they were treated and indicated they would return next year.

To Harold Jackson, Christoval, teen premier honora. He took two first places Friday and a fourth place Saturday. Thursday he took a second and a fourth to win a total of $153 in prize money. In addition to this he had best time for calf roping and calf belting over a three-day period to win a specially made saddle. He took a pair of boots for second best average in wild cow milking.

Clyde Acton, San Angelo, emerged winner of the other specialty made saddle offered for the best three-day average in wild cow milking. He averaged slightly less than 24 seconds for the three days. Spurs, bridles and hats were awarded to runners up in three-day averages.

Winters Saturday in the various events were:

Three Plead Guilty To Gasoline Theft

Last of three persons pleading guilty to gasoline theft appeared before the justice court Monday and had a fine assessed. Highway patrolmen made arrests after they had caught one in the act of lifting gasoline off a highway machine. Two others fled but were subsequently arrested. They gave the names of H. H. Meriwether, Vela Taylor, and Howard Duke.

News Behind The News

Whirligig

Written by a group of the best informed newspapermen of Washington and New York. Opinions expressed are those of the writers and should not be interpreted as reflecting the editorial policy of this newspaper.

WASHINGTON

By RAY TUCKER

Possible

If republican higher-ups would speak their inner thoughts these days it would be the political sensation of this topsy-turvy year. They would admit that the most discussed presidential possibilities are second-raters, and that the only two men who command enough popular imagination are Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and William Edgar Borah.

They still toy with the idea of dangling the offer of a nomination before Mr. Hughes' eyes. They see no reason why he should not step down from the high court—again, now that he has had his say about the New Deal. They don't worry over his age. In fact, they see some advantage in pitting a constitutional elder against the youngsters—the Cohens and Corcorans—of the New Deal.

You may hear more and more discussion of Mr. Hughes' availability. As for Mr. Borah, the professionals don't like the cut of his jib. But they might get enough courage to take him if he musters enough courage to offer himself.

Women

Although Vice-President Garner did not land Margie Neal on the Social Security Board, he has made it impossible for any other woman to obtain a high appointment until her claims are satisfied. The president has promised to do right by the girl friend of his legislative handy man.

Mr. Garner ordered plenty of senatorial backing for his feminine candidate for the social agency, but her appointment was blocked by numerous women's direct appeal to Mrs. Roosevelt. Although the ladies wanted a member of their sex on the board, they did not think that Mrs. Neal was the ideal choice. So Mr. Roosevelt cut the Garner knot by having any women at all and choosing Vincent Miles, Joe Robinson's entry.

Mr. Roosevelt owes a lot to his vice president, however. And he will eventually pay it. But the working women of the party don't like the idea. It is not the first time they have suffered in solidarity silence.

Exceptions

Although democratic politicians frequently express their confidence that western and southern ruralite interests will re-elect President Roosevelt he has never unadvisedly developed with respect to government spending indicates how he feels about it.

When Mr. Roosevelt delivered his deadline dictum he declared that it affected all emergency agencies. Its immediate results was to curtail outlays for slum clearance, sewers, power plants, viaducts, etc.—urban projects. Bonding slumped building. But now it appears that the order does not apply to Rex Tugwell's rural resettlement plans or Morris Cooke's rural electrification program. They have $300,000,000 between them and are going ahead with their elaborate arrangements for beautifying and brightening the countryside.

Nobody can explain the discrepancy. Messrs. Tugwell and Cooke simply shrug their shoulders when asked how they get that way. And both are doing the best job they know how without White House interference. Harold Ickes would like to know the answer.

Censors

GOP campaigners have flooded Washington headquarters with complaints that radio stations are discriminating against them. They attribute many recent refusals to broadcast their speeches to radio's fear of New Deal reprisal.

Ham Fish, a GOP presidential candidate, (has been barred several times on the ground that his proposed speeches were "obscene.")

Mrs. Robert Lincoln Hoyal, the GOP's new woman director, was kept off a national hookup in the west for the same ostensible reason. According to reports reaching Chairman Fletcher, New Dealers have been permitted to talk over the ether without any of the censorship visited on their opponents.

Small station operators are known to fear the authorities at Washington. Their licenses run for only three-month periods, and they dare not endanger them. Republicans are keeping quiet about the situation temporarily, but they believe that any attempt to censor the air will eventually become almost as advantageous an issue as censorship of free speech and the press.

Truce

Leading business men are beginning to show a truce.

NEW HAVEN (Sp)—The "new" deal in Yale football, inaugurated so successfully under Head Coach Raymond W. (Ducky) Pond last season, has reached the alphabetical stage. The curly-haired leader of the Blue believes Yale's 1935 football fortunes depend on the manner in which his "Y" men respond to the coaching. Pond especially is concerned about the development of a couple of "G" men, a good "C" man and a capable "T" man. His "B" men are "O. K.," says Pond, beaming over his backfield material.

ISSUES WARNING

Warning
To Housewives
and Citizens
Regarding Peddlers
THIS IS A WARNING

To BEWARE OF STRANGERS posing as salesmen, or solicitors. Strangers Should Not Be Admitted To Your Home Until Their Credentials Have Been Checked Up and Verified Through Dependable Local Persons or Firms.

In Many Cases—
Strangers WITHOUT RELIABLE CREDENTIALS are "Spotters" for professional criminals.

Do Not Pay Cash In Advance—
To strangers on an order—often times you never receive anything for the cash advanced.

Do Not Cash Checks for Strangers—
Or issue a check as a down payment on an order. Many times these checks have been "altered" and later cashed by an innocent party.

It's Better to Be Safe Than Sorry—
Be Sure You Know Who THE STRANGER IS AT YOUR DOOR BEFORE allowing him to enter your home.

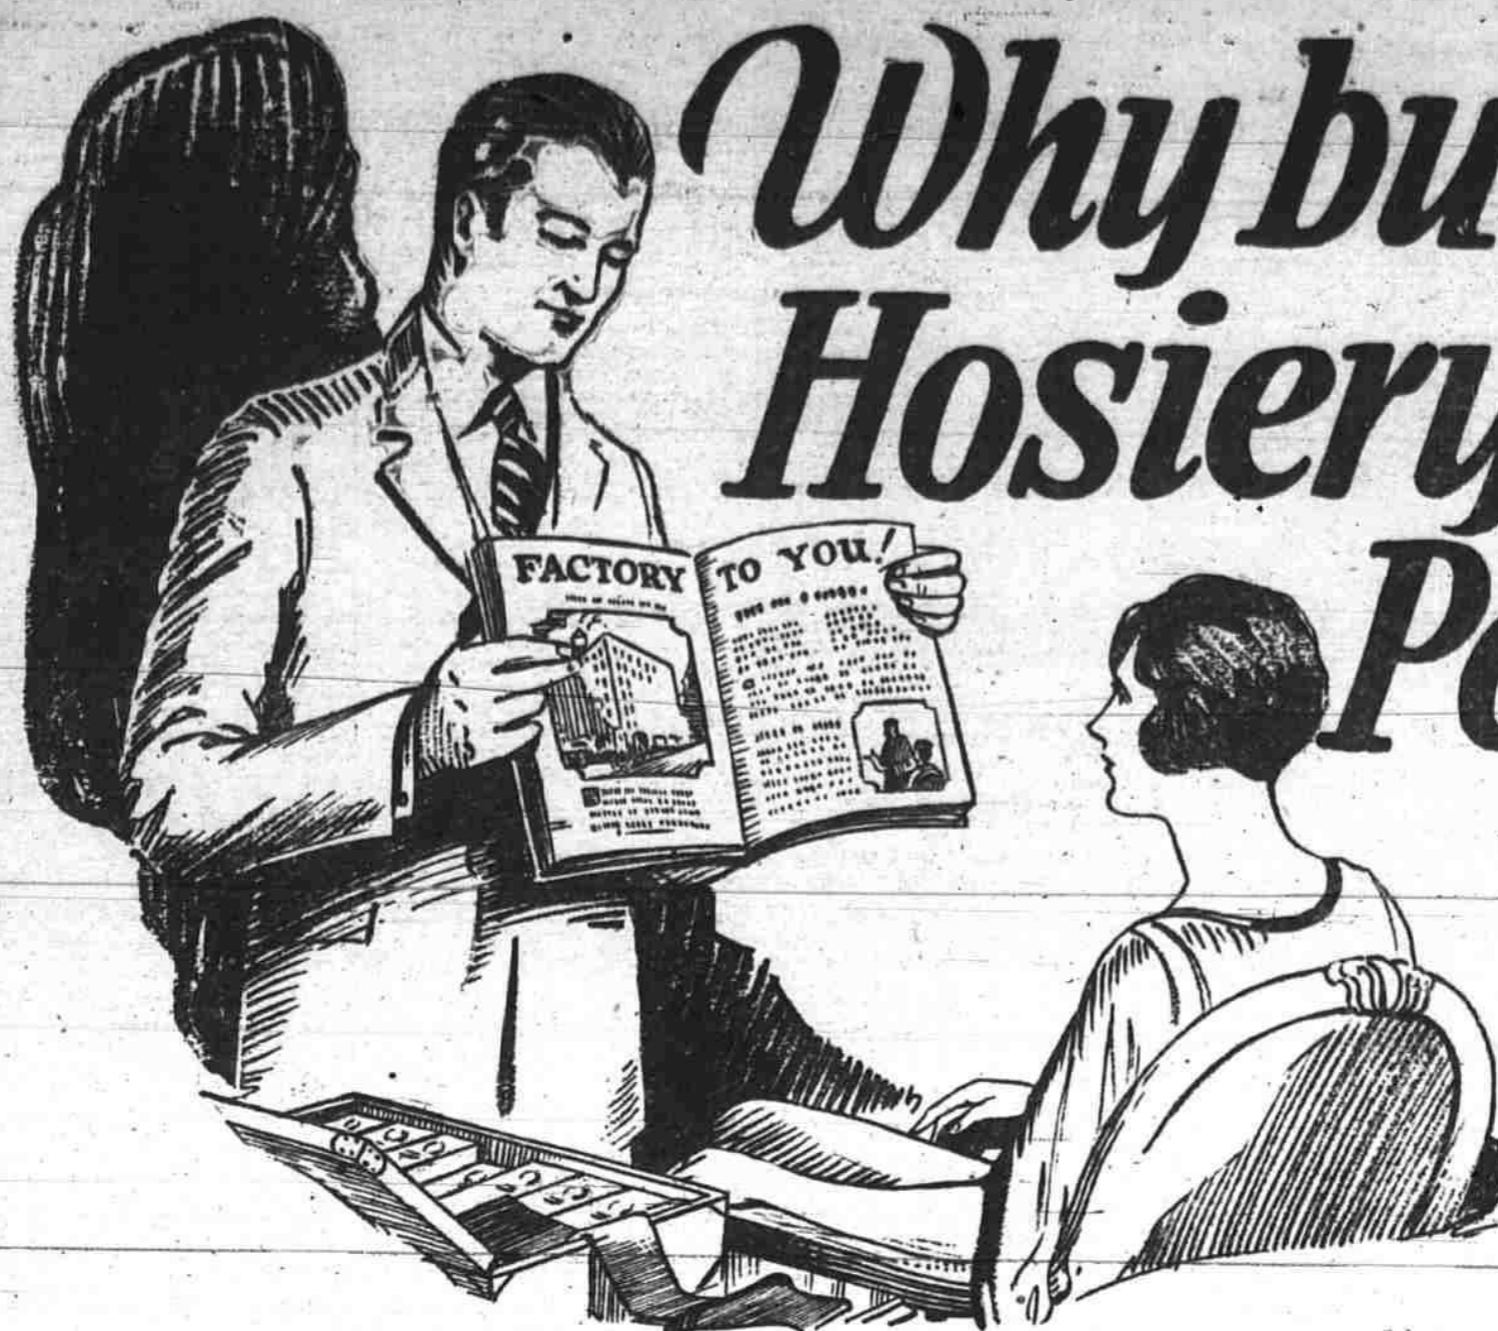

In Case You Are Suspicious—
Phone the Police at once, No. 6, as we are anxious to cooperate with our citizens at all times.

One Need Not Be Afraid Offending—the honest solicitor KNOWN TO YOU or a representative of a local BIG SPRING business firm. They will have their credentials with them and that is why they are required to carry credentials.

Ask for Credentials—
From anyone calling at your home—and be sure they are Local People or Representatives of Local Business FIRMS.

J. T. THORNTON,
Chief of Police,
BIG SPRING, TEXAS.

DO NOT confuse representatives of local institutions with the itinerant peddler for they represent legitimate business houses who are furnishing employment to local people, pay local taxes and are entitled to an interview. Protect yourself. Ask the man who calls at your house for credentials from local firms.

Why buy your Hosiery from Peddlers?

COMPARE VALUES before you "pay down that small deposit" to the silver tongued salesman—who knows his stuff. DO YOU KNOW that in most instances the price you pay for hosiery bought at your front or back door is more by the single pair or by the box—than your own merchant would ask you!

You Are Told In a Very Convincing Manner by these peddlers that you are saving on the purchase price of these hose because they come Direct-from-the-Mills-to-you---thus saving you the wholesalers and the retailers profit---and in some cases you are led to believe there are only two steps from Growers-to-you.

But these Peddlers OMIT telling you of These Facts which are NOT shown in the "cleverly prepared chart" but which Are Very Decidedly a part of Direct Selling Organization Expense.

- THE SALESMAN is paid his profit from 15 per cent to 50 per cent which as a rule is the initial deposit on your order, in addition to this deposit if he averages a certain number of sales he is given a bonus on his earnings of 10 per cent to 25 per cent all of which the customer pays.
- THE BRANCH MANAGER comes in for 10 per cent to 20 per cent on the orders taken in the territory under his supervision. In many instances the Branch Office Rent is paid by the main office—which goes in to the price of your purchase. Due to the many changes of Branch Managers there are unavoidable expenses which must be paid by the main office—and which are added to the price of the hose. Office stationery, printed matter, etc.—are expenses never mentioned to you.
- THE DIVISION MANAGER or District Manager is paid his traveling expenses, in addition to receiving a salary or commission on all business in his territory. Some direct-selling organizations maintain Sectional Sales Managers whose traveling expenses, salary or commission must be paid.
- IN ADDITION to the above some Direct Sellers pay Recruiting Managers—Sales Investigators—Sales Promoters—Home-Office Representatives—Advertising Specialists. All these men must be paid a salary and their expenses. Are you told about these?
- THE HUGE AMOUNTS SPENT for Advertising is NOT mentioned by the well trained Bell Ringer. Tremendous Sums Are Spent in the conducting of Testing Schools—to devise "decoys" to better enable the Peddler to secure your attention.
- SPECIAL PRIZES—Cash—Watches—Clothing—even Automobiles must be added in to the price on the order blank.
- CONVENTIONS—Special Sales Meetings—costing enormous amounts must be figured in the cost of the hosiery. Freight and cartage expense thru different stages of manufacturing is necessary.

Do Not Be Misled by "THE GUARANTEE"

which is most attractively pictured to you by the Clever Salesman as a Pair Free, etc.
Some of the leading Hosiery Peddlers have gained their momentum of business on this pair free guarantee—but this Guarantee Has Been REDUCED—until now—the dissatisfied customer is obliged to answer a most lengthy and EMBARRASSING QUESTIONNAIRE in order to receive any consideration, which was assured her at the time of her purchase.
It is not impossible that eventually ONLY the toes—heels—and tops will be guaranteed—and as a rule they are of materials other than silk.
HOW MANY TIMES has the salesman called back as he promised, when taking your order to pick up your unsatisfactory hosiery and make an adjustment? How long before you received any consideration?

lots and her friends would bring about their millennium, but she knew better than they that the Frances Feltons were entrenched in the seats of the mighty, and that possession was nine points of the law. One of the favorite topics, she remembered, was Next Year. Being a junior, she was one year removed from the distressing finality of seniorhood, but she enjoyed their discussion of the subject. They were all going to work, partly from necessity, but more from inclination. Emily realized guiltily that she hadn't given the matter a great deal of consideration; that she hadn't really thought beyond graduation. "But what do you do," Emily asked, "when you live in Elston, Alabama, which has ten thousand people? You'd be surprised at the scarcity of available jobs." "You go somewhere else," Charlotte said promptly. Emily was silent. It was in moments like this that she realized that she would never quite see eyes to eye with them. There were so many intangible fibres that bound you to the place that you had always called home. And if the ties didn't exist for her there was no use in pointing them out. Emily had learned one invaluable lesson; that there are times when discussion is futile, no matter how good an argument you can offer. Emily, tomorrow, takes a fling at duty—with a capital "D."

Chapter 11 EMILY LEARNS

The arrangement turned out surprisingly well, after all. Emily had never known such uncomplaining hospitality as she encountered in Charlotte's friends. All her life she had accepted as true the precepts and dogmas of those in authority; these girls accepted nothing until they had proved it to their own satisfaction. Nothing escaped their scrutiny: religion, government, human relations. They questioned, not scornfully, but thoughtfully, the validity of all the stock phrases on which she had been reared; duty, responsibility, patriotism, unselfishness. "I can't think of anything," Charlotte would decide, "that does more to enlarge the ego of your fellowman than to be absolutely unselfish with him. He soon gets to be unamiable." Or again: "It's grossly unfair of parents to remind children of their obligation. The parents are utterly selfish in wanting you; they want something to fuss over, and show their friends, and carry on their name; and you're it. You in turn do the same thing for your children, and that discharges the obligation." Emily felt vaguely that there was an answer to this. "But how can we know what's good for us as well as they do?" "Perhaps we can't, but the only way is to blunder ahead and learn by trial and error. Otherwise we'll never amount to a damn."

Emily wondered with a twinkle what France would have said to this theory. Under Charlotte's influence she did better in her studies than she had done the year before. College to Charlotte was not simply a place where you passed, creditably, of course, the four awkward years until you were ready to marry; it was an intellectual adventure, dearly bought and consequently highly appreciated. They had a few classes together, and Charlotte's reaction was astonishing. Very gradually David receded from Emily's thoughts. As the months went by the vivid outlines of his personality dimmed. She even succeeded, shortly after the Christmas holidays, in talking about him to Charlotte. Charlotte had dropped down to rest on a fallen log. The woods did something to Charlotte, softened the incisiveness of her mind. "I think," Charlotte said when she had finished, "that you're rather lucky. A man like that would have been difficult to hold." She hadn't considered that viewpoint. "Why?" "Because the competition is

It seemed to Emily that the last year with Charlotte was the most satisfying of all her years at Ardmore. Her senior year moved too swiftly; it lingered in her memory as a series of brief, vivid pictures—a cinema divided into its component parts; but that second year with Charlotte had a quality of depth and leisure that she had never found elsewhere. She discovered that she had alluded herself definitely, that year, with the Left Wing; but being Frances Felton's daughter she managed to retain her sympathy and understanding for those who worship the God of Things as They Are. She hoped fervently that Charlotte

GIANTS DEFEAT FLOWER GROVE IN HOWARD CO. PLAYOFF GAME

KNOTT (Spl)-After Joe Pickle tripled in leading off in the first inning and tallied on Whit's outfield bingle, Red McMahon had an easy time in pitching the Big Spring Giants to a 9-2 victory over Flower Grove Sunday. McMahon, with good support, put the opposition down with six scattered hits, giving up a run in the second and another in the sixth. Meanwhile, the Big Springers found a "cousin" in B. Oakes, working him for two runs in each of the first four stanzas.

"MYSELF and ME" I'm the best pal I ever had; We never have a fuss; We like to sit and talk about What's best for both of us. -ADAPTED Come to think of it, haven't we all dual selves? ... One to acquire and one to bestow; one to work and one to play; one self to provide what the other self needs. It isn't selfishness to think about yourself. It isn't arrogance to take pride in your appearance. It isn't egotism to strive to impress others. It's just good sense in the direction of self-progress—especially in business. So, tell You to give You more consideration. Spruce up! This is the season to buy new clothes. And the surest way to get the best styles and values is to "shop" through the advertisements in this newspaper—because: The merchants and manufacturers who thus put their wares on exhibition and their prices in black-and-white cannot afford to risk their reputations by making extravagant claims for doubtful merchandise. Read and trust the advertisements. They'll help you find what you want—and save money!

astute Warwick, he does not hit that bill. The man who meets these qualifications is Frank C. Walker, a conservative business man of Montana birth. Frank C. would like to quit the national stage for private life but he will forego personal desires if Frank D. insists.

Notes
Things are picking up for the republicans at Washington... Capital correspondents call on Chairman Henry Fletcher, twice a day now instead of once a month... GOP congressional committee is so well off that it pays its chief publicist $18,000 a year... Not much less than the $22,500 per annum which Charley Michelson collects as the handy man of the New Deal... Now that Huey Long is dead, they say that Governor James Michael Curley of Massachusetts and Governor Paul McNutt of Indiana are the next best models of state dictators... But they're not Huey Long by a long shot... The last edition of the 1935 Congressional Record, issued Sept. 10, is stuffed with campaign speeches, apologies, eulogies... It has 239 pages and the embalmated oratory cost the taxpayers only $9,580.

NEW YORK
By JAMES McMULLIN

Polite
The Securities Exchange Commission has set up no machinery yet to administer the holding company act and it will probably be some time before it is organized to cope with its new duties. Commission executives privately admit that the law is so involved and holding company structures so complex they haven't the faintest notion how or where to begin their task of regulation.

Warwick
Political stars will fall if Jim Farley upsets all the calculations by resigning the national chairmanship instead of his soft cabinet job, but there are authentic reports that he may cling to his nominally non-political post.

Human and politician considerations lie behind these suggestions. Jim knows that some day he must return to private business, and he prefers to go back as an ex-portfolio master general than as a political promoter. Then again, a "man" of another type may prove more effective in the 1936 campaign. If Mr. Roosevelt's chief chance of victory lies beyond the Mississippi, he needs somebody who can talk to westerners better than Jim can. He needs a man who knows western problems, philosophy and personalities from having lived in the wide open spaces.

Classes
New York experts who have studied the holding company bill have come to the conclusion that utility groups can be divided into four classes insofar as the effects of the law are concerned.

"The first class consists of multiple holding companies which must be—by definition—eliminated or drastically simplified. This list includes Electric Bond & Share and probably its larger affiliates like Electric Power & Light, National Power & Light and American Power and Light; United Light & Power; Standard Gas; Cities Service; Associated Gas & Electric; Stone & Webster with Engineers Public Service—which it controls—and others.

The second class is made up of holding companies which might be granted exceptions. The law states that registered companies shall be permitted to control one or more additional integrated systems if the commission finds that (a) such additional systems cannot be operated independently without substantial economic loss or (b) where the continued combination of such systems under control of the holding company is not too large to impair the advantage of localized management.

This list includes the following: American Gas & Electric—might be considered interconnected and reasonably contiguous. American Waterworks—electric companies are integrated and could possibly be split.

Propaganda
President Charles R. Gay of the New York Stock Exchange harps on the necessity of educating the public to understand the exchange's functions in every public address and stresses the distinction that should be made between such education and straight promotion. Yet there are still no indications that the exchange is pursuing any coherent public relations policy.

School Bus Now Running Schedule
The bus service instituted this year to transport high school students from three and a part of a fourth common school districts in Big Spring is running on schedule now.

Heart Disease Is First As Killer

AUSTIN—Heart disease ranks first in the list of killers today. During the past 30 years it has been steadily increasing. Few people ever associate impairment of this vital organ with diseased mouth conditions. Yet in a very real manner the health of the heart and its consequent ability to do its work properly can be definitely affected by an unhealthy mouth, states Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer.

"While, of course, there are many other causes for heart impairments than diseased teeth, gums, or tonsils, there certainly is every good reason to establish and maintain daily and periodical prophylactic measures so far as the mouth and teeth are concerned. Not to do so is merely adding another menace to the heart already beset with disease potentialities that seem to be a part of present day life.

"If the individual will assume his responsibility by consuming a nourishing diet, keeping his mouth clean through daily brushing, and have a regular inspection by his dentist and physician, undoubtedly a fair proportion of heart disease, not to mention many minor ailments, could be eliminated that have their origin in diseased mouth conditions.

"Unlike public health—control measures, dental supervision is a highly personal matter. There is no legislation covering the situation, nor is there any enforcement officer to keep one in line. Therefore, common sense and reasonable concern for one's heart should prompt interest in teeth, mouth, and throat.

"As an authority tersely puts it: 'Keep your heart out of your mouth and your mouth germs out of your heart.'

Radio Star Makes Debut In Musical

Frances Langford, internationally famous radio singer, makes her screen debut in "Every Night at Eight," romantic comedy drama set to music, which opened yesterday at the Ritz theater.

Overflowing with tuneful melodies, crammed with comedy moments from start to finish, with romance generously mixed with the other two ingredients, "Every Night at Eight" deviates from the traditional path of most screen musical comedies by having an entirely original and timely theme as the background for its story. Capitalizing on the amateur hour craze that has been sweeping the country, this film musical not only brings it from the air to screen for the first time but uses it as an hilarious sequence in the picture.

Three girls, Alice Faye, Frances Langford and Patsy Kelly, use their jobs in a mint julep factory and decide to try their combined harmony singing talents in an amateur radio hour contest. There they meet up with George Raft, a hard-boiled, amateur dance band leader who wins the prize. However, he takes them in hand, trains them, makes them dress alike and look alike, and rides to fame and fortune on the other waves with them. Raft is an orchestra leader, the girls as a singing trio known as the Swanee Sisters.

Events move at brisk, lively, sparkling pace when Miss Faye and Miss Kelly, resenting Raft's interference into their personal lives, take a runaway powder from their nightly broadcast and accept an invitation to a boat party given by a society matron. Miss Langford, believing that Raft does not return the love she has for him, joins them. An hilarious climax brings them back to their program in the nick of time.
