

Rate Increase Applies Theory Of Cost At Point Of Usage

Raising rates is never a pleasant thing, but it sometimes is wise and expedient. Such is the case with the city in adjusting its sewer and garbage service collections upwards. Last year returns from the sewer department lacked more than $4,000 of meeting here operating costs. It lacked $20,375 meeting the total cost, which includes the servicing of the debt by which the system and plant were made possible. The trend this year is toward an even larger deficit. The difference between receipts for collecting and disposing of garbage and the cost of the service last year was $5,000 on the wrong side of the ledger.

exceeded expenditures because of frozen wages, prices and impossibility of broadening services, deficits in the sewer and garbage departments, when they occurred, could be absorbed easily. But an unprecedented wave of new demands upon the municipality since the end of the war has made it necessary to look to self-sustaining operations wherever possible. The sewer and garbage departments are in that class, along with water, parking meters, etc. Other departments cannot be self-sustaining, such as police, fire, administrative, street, and so on. In order that tax dollars go as far as possible in the latter type of departments, those capable of producing their own revenue should be made to do so. This is particularly true since it involves payment for service by those who receive that service.

Water District Directorate Is Cast In A Solid, Capable Mold

The city commissions of Odessa and Big Spring have performed a sound public service in the selection of directors for the Colorado River Municipal Water district. While we are not entirely familiar with all the Odessa directors, we understand they are regarded as among the most able, conscientious, and responsible men in that city. We do know about the four men chosen to represent Big Spring on the board. Two of the men, R. T. Finar and George Mims, have been in on the joint-city water proposal study since its inception. The other two, R. L. Cook and George White, are more than familiar with the proposal. They have long records of public service behind them.

ner, being a banker, naturally has the financial angle, with all of its implications in the various phases of community life. Mims can look at the matter from the point of the laboring man. Cook, as a realtor, is familiar with values. Like Mims, his former experience on the city commission can bring a solid municipal background into studies. White, having served as a county commissioner, school board member and chamber of commerce president as well as successfully operating stock-farm interests, can offer a broad view, backed by sound judgment. With the directorate in this pattern, the public is more than reasonably assured that all phases of the possibility of an adequate water supply commensurate with all economic factors is carefully examined.

Russia Unlikely To Make War While Satellites Are Gripping

PREMIER ANTONIO DE OLIVEIRA Salazar of Portugal advised his national assembly Tuesday that under present conditions Russia could if she wanted to, "carry her armies in a smashing march as far as the English Channel and the Pyrenees." During his 20 years of dictatorship the 60-year-old Salazar has established the reputation of being one of the world's most astute rulers. Therefore when he makes a public statement, which he rarely does, he merits attention. Of course he was putting pressure on his legislature to ratify the Atlantic Pact (which it did Wednesday by a vote of 80 to 3). But that fact in itself needn't detract from the validity of his estimate.

ain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg. That totals about 15 million men. They would hold the fort until American troops could be thrown into action. As opposed to these forces, Russia is said to have a total of more than 4 million men, including 25 million in the ground forces. Such a superiority in man-power makes it clear why Premier Salazar thinks the Moscovites could reach the English Channel in "a smashing march." They might, but there is a powerful deterrent in the way of any such attempt, and it is this: RUSSIA IS ENCOUNTERING GRAVE resistance to her domination of eastern Europe from the peoples of the various satellite countries. With this being true, is Moscow likely to launch any military drive to overrun western Europe? Such an offensive would be a wide-open invitation to discontented satellites to rise and strike for liberty. It would only be undertaken as an act of desperation. There is no emergency at this juncture which warrants the supposition that the Soviet might try to march. However, this doesn't warrant any complacency on the part of the democracies.

Practical Nurse Says Younger Generation Needs Discipline

NEW YORK, July 28.—People sometimes say: "The only way you can get in the newspapers is to hold up a drugstore or elope with a movie star." So today I'd like to tell you the story of a simple heart—the story of "Mrs. Van." She is a fine old lady who never robbed a bank or ran against Harry Truman for president. "But I've had a wonderful life," she said. It might not seem so to some people, but it does to her. She has a long Dutch name, but she is shy and asked me not to use it. So I'll just call her "Mrs. Van" as everybody does. Mrs. Van is a practical nurse. She is white-haired and 63, but her skin is as fair as milk. I got to know her when she came to stay with a young neighbor couple expecting their second child. She would only accept $10 a week. When the baby came, the young mother said: "Do you know what Mrs. Van did with half of her first week's pay? She bought me flowers." Money doesn't mean much anymore to Mrs. Van. But being helpful does. She likes the younger generation—and disapproves of it. "I don't think they can face life as we did," she said. "They don't have discipline. If I had lived as young girls do today I would never have been able to confront the problems I met with in my married life—no, never." Mrs. Van was born in Holland and married a carpenter at 21. They had five children when he came to the United States. It was just at the time America entered the first world war, and for two years he couldn't send money back to his family. "I had to move into an abandoned schoolhouse," said Mrs. Van. "We had no breakfast, and the children took a carrot or a turnip to school. For lunch we had potatoes, and I saved the peelings and cooked them for supper." After the war she and the children came over, and the family settled in Pennsylvania. Later her husband spent five years in a mental institution before his death, and Mrs. Van had to support the family. "She is stupidly indifferent to the present plight of the world. "I believe the Lord will have to come and settle it," said Mrs. Van. "And the way the world is going, I don't think it will be long."

DOROTHY SHAYER, born July 29, 1879 at Meigs, Howard County, Ark. Her grandfather was "Fighting Bob" Gen. Robert Glenn Shaver of the Civil War. Now president of Lord & Taylor, Fifth Ave. department store in New York. Dorothy attended the University of Arkansas and the University of Chicago. With her sister Elsie, she "crashed the big city" with modern doll designs in 1924 she joined the Lord & Taylor staff to reorganize the store's comparative shopping bureau. Within a year she was organizing a bureau of stylists and by 1927 was a member of the board of directors. Concentrating on design and color she won a vice-presidency in 1931. She challenged Paris in styles and was made head of the store in 1943.

Happy Harry Is Bit Different From Predecessor As White House Jester

WASHINGTON — No one begrudges the President of the United States a White House jester to relieve the strain of office, and Gen. "Happy" Harry Vaughan is not the first to hold such a job. FDR also had a military aide, Gen. "Pa" Watson, whose great asset was a vigorous sense of humor. However, "Pa" Watson didn't meddle in Army contracts and backstage lobbying. He did put in his oar to get George Marshall appointed chief of staff, but on the whole he kept out of politics, and stuck to his chief function—relaxing the President of an evening. Gen. Vaughan, his successor, also has a contagious sense of humor which brings healthy relaxation to his chief. But the public has little conception of how deeply Truman's military aide has dabbled in things that were no business of his, and how powerful his influence has been in obtaining favors for interesting people. Tasks, for instance, export licenses. These permits to ship U. S. goods abroad have not the remotest connection with the Army. They concern the Commerce Department, not the President's military aide. Yet last year, Gen. Vaughan intervened in these matters which he knew nothing about to help the Crescent Trading Company which had been using forged export licenses.

of the underdog, is author of the famous phrase: "There is no illegitimate children; only illegitimate parents." WATER OUT OF SALT Little noticed in the congressional shuffle is a bill for creating fresh water out of ocean water, which might revolutionize the water supply of many cities. Introduced by farsighted Sen. Joe C. Mahoney of Wyoming, the bill appropriates $50 million to set up two pilot plants on the East Coast and West Coast to experiment with distilling sea water. What most people don't realize is that fresh water is becoming an increasing problem in some parts of the U. S. A. In Queens County, Long Island, for instance, the fresh-water level is 35 feet under the sea level, so there is constant danger of salt water contaminating the fresh-water supply. In Ohio, likewise, deep wells, plus heavy use of water by industry have sent the water level down to an alarming point. Distilling fresh water from salt water is done constantly aboard ships, but in relatively small quantities and at relatively high expense. If the expense could be reduced, and salt water could be distilled on a wholesale scale, the water supply for Los Angeles and San Diego might be revolutionized.

Having spent 26 years in the Middle West, he is geographically O.K. and reasonably nonpartisan. In the clinches, he might lean toward Stassen. Through a twist of fate, the Senate probe of the U. S. Lines' new luxury liner has been placed in the hands of North Carolina's Clyde Hoey. Sen. Hoey is the brother-in-law of the late O. Max Gardner, attorney for the U. S. Lines. However, fair-minded Hoey will let the chips fall where they may. Washington rumor has it that the FBI is investigating two high federal judges because of alleged Communism. Here is all there is to the story: Two judges are being given a routine check—Judge Charles Wyzanski of Boston, who has been quoted as stating that if he were called before the Un-American Activities Committee he would tell them to "go to hell"; and Judge Leon Yankwich of Los Angeles, because of some speeches reported to have been too "liberal" for West Coast diehards. In Justice Department books, however, both judges rate high, and the FBI check is merely of the routine type made whenever a complaint is received. Judge Yankwich, a champion

'Ben Hur' Now Looking Toward Old Home Lot

HOLLYWOOD, July 29.—Ramon Novarro may soon return to MGM, where he once reigned as the top romantic star for more than a decade. Novarro's acting career has been revitalized by two character roles in recent dramas and he is now negotiating a deal to go back to his old home lot. Most famed for "Ben Hur," he was the studio's answer to Rudolph Valentino. The 44-year-old actor has engaged in the real estate business in recent years. John Ireland will wed Jeanne Drer at Lake Tahoe in a couple of weeks when he finishes "Cargo to Capetown." She recently shed Dick Haymes, who married Nora Flynn last week. Nora's ex-Kerrol Flynn, was still unmarried as we went to press. Charles Vidor, just back from visiting Rita Hayworth, says she and Aly Khan will return here in October or November. The director adds that he doesn't know whether Rita will do "Born Yesterday."

After another year of pictures, he wants to go back to Broadway. He was on the stage for years but never had a hit. His plan is to divide his time between stage and screen. Sand Pays Expenses Of English Village

SEDGEBORO, England, (U.S.—) This Norfolk village runs on sand. The 700 or so villagers haven't paid a penny in local taxes in 15 years. The tax rate is fixed at eightpence on a pound's worth of real estate—roughly dollars 3.50 a hundred. But it hasn't been collected. Sedgboro has paid all its expenses and made enough extra to refurbish the war memorial and start a new athletic field by selling a village-owned sandpit.

Big Spring Area Offers Brand Of Weather To Suit Any Taste

Texas weather has been the object of as many tirades and the subject for as many tall tales as probably any other phenomenon. Whether it's rain in the east, and blowing in the west, or a combination of the two in any other section of the most unusual meteorological activity on or off the record. Add to the stories of dust and rain, the state, Texas can probably lay claim tales of king-sized hailstones, blizzards and blue northers that have frozen both the horn and the goat, periods of drought that have been unbroken in as long as residents of certain areas can remember—to say nothing of the records of the Weather Bureau—and you have a colorful view of the Texas weather picture. And you can have, it, non-Texans say! Foreigners who came to the state during the war were not only astounded by the antics of the Lone Star weatherman, but were seldom pleased with what he dished out. They usually went away as severe critics of the state in general and played a major role in the tearing down of good will and the impression of greatness built up by chambers of commerce, and talkative Texans over a period of a hundred years. One Yankee individual went away telling about standing hip-deep in mud somewhere in Northwest Texas with rain pouring down and the wind blowing sand in his eyes. Another, a cavalry soldier training in the southwestern section of the state, told tales of desert lizards which, when crawling across the sand, would carry sticks in their mouths. After running a little way across the burning sand, the scaly creatures would put the sticks down and climb up on them to cool their feet before making another dash toward a distant shade. It was said during the war that Uncle Sam sent all his soldiers to Texas for at least a part of their combat training—whether it be for desert conflict or ski and snowshoe expeditions against some polar enemy. At any rate, it was hard to find a soldier anywhere in the army who did not have a profane series of adjectives to apply to his memories of the Texas elements. Perhaps the Lone Star State can find some justification for the activities of the elements within its borders by pointing out the extent of the territory included within those boundaries. Stretching from the semi-tropics in the south to what becomes arctic conditions in the Panhandle during the winter months, the state furnishes an enormous stage for the capers of nature's children. What is hard to understand is why, with all this available space, Big Spring and vicinity has to be the recipient of so many of the varied conditions.—WAYLAND YATES.

Lawmakers Too Comfortable In Cool Offices To Rush Things

WASHINGTON, (U.S.—) THESE ARE the dog days in Washington, when the weather is hot enough to boil your shirt, and Congress is trying to finish up for the year and go home. In spite of the heat, which is scorching the city like a blowtorch, the old, slow, wait-me-around-again pulling and tugging among the congressmen never stops. Of course, they have their office for it, air-conditioned, and their offices are cool, so where they do their fusing and long-winded speechmaking is pleasant as spring. After walking in out of the crushing summer sun and watching them operate in their unwrinkled linens, I figured I could speed up their unfinished business. It would be easy. Just move them to some of the un-air-conditioned offices in Washington, turn them loose, and see how long it would take them to get done and go home.

I can't see how any of it can be squeezed in, even for debate. And there's less chance for any of it to get passed. That will make plenty of talk next year, too. THE SENATE EARLIER THIS YEAR passed a federal aid to education bill. Then it was sent over to the House for action, since the bill couldn't be law without House approval. But now it's unlikely the House will act on it, so that will make one more year in which a federal aid to education bill almost made the grade in Congress, but not quite. Since the Senate acted, there's been so much religious controversy over it—particularly the dispute between Francis Cardinal Spellman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt—that the House will probably step out of its way. Congress may try to put through a new minimum wage law—raising minimum pay for workers in interstate industry from 40 to maybe 75 cents an hour—and it may act on these:

CONGRESS WANTS TO GET AWAY by Sept. 1. There are a few things left to clear up. That is, of the things they want to clear up. Nothing will be done on national compulsory health insurance this year. Maybe next year. But it would be a sturdy character who'd bet that anything happens on it next year, either. Then there's President Truman's civil rights program—the anti-poll tax bill, an anti-lynching bill, and the FEPC (the Fair Employment Practices Commission)—which held a big place in the news when this 81st Congress took over last January.

WIDENING SOCIAL SECURITY BENEFITS and voting money for President Truman's program to arm western Europe. But the arms program alone will probably provide almost a month's talk in the Senate where talk is unlimited and plenty of senators don't like the idea of sending munitions overseas. Meanwhile, though, there'll be plenty of news out of Congress. Congressmen will be holding hearings and issuing statements.

Capital Report—Doris Fleeson

Congress Homestretch Not Easy Due To Hot Weather, Tempers

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The Democratic leaders of Congress are coming under stern pressure for some assurances about adjournment. It is not a startling harvest for a Washington July averaging three degrees above normal added to the makeshift quarters in which the two houses now meet. Tempers are short in both, but the House especially is fractious to the point where Speaker Rayburn shocked them Monday by threatening to single out offending rosters by name. One reason perhaps that the legislators are giving their crochets free rein is the absence of galleries from which the public can watch and report. Even so, the best adjournment news thus far available is Labor day. President Truman wants to see a great many more hits and near misses on his program than have yet been accomplished; the leaders are aware of some stiff contests ahead. Facing that deadline, Democrats appear to be of two minds. Some suggest that the program be pared to a bare minimum of essentials—chiefly appropriations—with a promise of swift adjournment and a special session until October. Others argue that if they must stay until Labor day, after which schools reopen and the mercury drops, they might as well stay in session all fall and really do a job.

some good news: Senator Anderson, Democrat, and Senator Aiken, Republican, have formed the first liberal coalition outside of foreign policy of the session. They both believe the House-approved farm bill is almost wholly bad with its high, fixed parity prices and are working on a compromise which will bring in the perishable products of the Brannan plan, and a sliding scale on parity not as low as the old Aiken bill but more realistic. They are confident the Senate will pass it and the House accept it in conference. But little optimism exists about aid to education, minimum wages, civil rights, and other facets of the fair deal. House action on civil-rights bills is regarded as a gesture, since there is no sign that the southern senators have altered their filibuster plans. It is always possible, of course, that the Republican-southern Democrat coalition that hardened the cloture rule last spring may produce an innocuous bill or two—poll tax by constitutional amendment or an anti-lynching bill are the two usually predicted. This could come only by tactic, if not open, southern consent; any real measure would prolong the session indefinitely.

Major appropriations are still to come which will revive the battle for economy. In one, interior, conservative Senators made vital cuts in public power which public-power advocates will take to hard-fought rollcalls, item by item. The fair deal theory is also under fire in two appointments which administration Senators are still working to get out of committee—John Carson to the Federal Trade Commission and Leland Olds' re-appointment to the Federal Power Commission. The President is insisting upon both, and the new dealers expect to get them to the floor. In the agriculture committee they have

33 Underwriters Attend Meet Here

Thirty-three underwriters from seven West Texas associations attended the Texas Association of Life Underwriters meeting here yesterday. It was the fifth and final regional session for instructing newly elected officers of the association.

O. Sam Cummings, Dallas, past president of National Association of Life Underwriters and a past president of Kiwanis International, led in the training discussions for officers of Big Spring, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo, El Paso, San Angelo, and Midland associations, and outlined the program of the state organization for the coming year.

He was assisted by L. Mortimer Buckley, Dallas president of the state association, and J. L. Anderson of Corpus Christi, vice president of the organization. John C. Leisler Jr., publisher of the Insurance Record, professional organ, at Dallas also spoke to the underwriters.

The seminar here was the fifth over the state in an earnest effort to help association members to better manage their insurance policy owners. Anderson summed up the purposes of the meeting during the closing session. Troy Harrell, local insurance man, was named chairman of the membership committee for the new Permian Basin association during the meeting.

Meetings were held in the Bettler hotel. A luncheon was served underwriters at noon. Cummings, the past Kiwanis International president, was guest of the local Kiwanis club for luncheon.

Attending the regional meeting were W. A. Sheppard, Big Spring; H. T. Etheridge, Jr., El Paso; L. L. Bruce, El Paso; B. E. Curry, Amarillo; N. C. Long, Amarillo; Julia J. Boyce, Big Spring; Harold Steck, Big Spring.

Red Magazine Says Italians Are Hard Hit By Excommunication

ROME, July 29. (U) — A Communist magazine asserts the excommunication of Communists has struck Italian families "like a spiritual atomic bomb."

The magazine, "Vie Nuove" (New Way), published an article by a Catholic woman director of the pro-Communist Progressive Christian Movement claiming no Communist had chosen to desert his political faith because of the decree "but it is not easy for any of us" to accept the alternative.

The author, Ada Alessandrini, said there was a struggle in the minds of many Italian Catholics caught between catholicism and communism.

She pictured families as divided—Catholics versus Communists—and spoke of "the terrible silence which today has certainly fallen on Christian families which are separated by the decree."

The article estimated at least six million Italian Catholics are directly affected.

Vie Nuove's article was noteworthy for the complete seriousness with which it discussed the effect of the church's action. Previous Communist comment has tended to minimize the results to be expected from spiritual resistance to materialism.

Appearance of the article, "Family Hatred," may signify a change in Italian Communist tactics in fighting the month-old decree.

Instead of denying that the decree would affect Communism, Signora Alessandrini said that it had plunged millions of Catholic-Communist families into "a violent internal crisis."

She said it posed an "unjust and cruel" dilemma—either treason to the democratic (Communist) front, or disobedience to the holy office.

Vie Nuove is edited by a party vice-secretary and former underground leader, Luigi Longo.

Top Alabama Klansman May Do More Time

BIRMINGHAM Ala., July 29. (U) — Alabama's No. 1 Klansman probably will learn today whether he must return to jail for failing to bring secret Ku Klux Klan records into court.

William Hugh Morris, director of the Federated Ku Klux Klans, Inc., argued yesterday it is impossible for him to produce the records. A bellhop investigated. A crowd gathered. It looked like a sea monster all right.

Soon a police squad arrived siren howling. Patrolmen Abe Ziskin and John Walsh went on the double to investigate.

Ziskin snorted.

"That's no monster," he announced. "It's just an old automobile tire."

ROA Battling Again Over Sea Vs. Air Power

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 29. (U) — Sea power strategists squared off today for a verbal battle with advocates of air power.

The old quarrel over air power vs. sea power came up at the annual convention of the Reserve Officers Association. It was set off by a resolution criticizing the joint chiefs of staff for scrapping a $190 million supercarrier for the Navy.

Delegates representing 11,000 naval reserve officers authorized the resolution.

Air Force delegates, led by Col. William H. Neblett, a past ROA president, are expected to object to the resolution.

Some observers even fear the quarrel could result in a split among the reservist groups. The association only a year ago won the right to speak for the 11,000 reservists of all military arms.

The Navy resolution specifically objects to the precedent set in stopping work on the supercarrier. Navy men say it is wrong to give chiefs of other services the right to veto weapons proposed by the Navy.

Murdock said his numerous small hauls netted him $7,000.

ARMY LOOKING FOR SOUND TEETH TO TEST ANTI-DECAY SOLUTIONS

WASHINGTON, July 29. (U) — The Army is looking for teeth — freshly-pulled molars for use in studies of dental decay.

The idea is to test a couple of anti-decay solutions.

Research is under way at the Army's research and graduate school, and the work has gone out to Army dentists to send in teeth.

When a reporter asked if teeth yanked by civilian dentists would be welcomed the answer was: Sure, glad to get them.

The Army wants molar teeth that were recently extracted, and which are not decayed. That is, they must be teeth that have been pulled for reasons other than decay.

The dental division will furnish self-addressed franked containers, made of metal, on request. Extracted teeth from only one patient should be placed in the bottle that will be found in the mailing container. The age, sex, place of birth of the patient should be written on the label of the bottle; also the place of residence during the first eight years of life. Finally, the date of extraction should also be listed.

Here's what the Army is doing: It's studying the effect of preventing the teeth with one or the other of two solutions—and then exposing the teeth to germs which cause decay.

The solutions are:

1. Sodium fluoride. U. S. Public Health Service researchers have said this can decrease decay by 40 per cent.
2. A compound containing potassium ferrocyanide, zinc chloride, and silver nitrate, developed by Dr. Bernard Gottlieb of Baylor University, Texas. The Army says Dr. Gottlieb has reported that decay can be reduced 80 per cent with this material.

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) hit the floor—literally—in the Senate yesterday.

The California senator stood to cast his vote on an appropriations amendment and when he sat down the chair wasn't there. A colleague had leaned against it and tipped it back inadvertently.

Knowland sprawled on the floor but hurriedly regained his feet and his composure amid loud laughter.

Big Spring Baptist Pastor To Hold Week's Open-Air Revival Meet Here

Pastor Marvin H. Clark of the Trinity Baptist church will conduct an open-air revival meeting at the corner of Seventh and Johnson streets, beginning Sunday evening and concluding Sunday, Aug. 14.

This meeting is being held concurrently with the observance of Pastor Clark's second anniversary with Trinity church. He accepted the pastorate the first Sunday of August in 1947.

During the past two years, the church has had a substantial increase in membership, and about 75 per cent increase in its Sunday school attendance. The increase is demonstrated especially in the summer attendance, which is usually a period of decline. In the summer of 1947, the church attendance averaged about 80 persons. Last year it was about 130. This summer it has held an average of 145 persons. During the spring season, the attendance averaged approximately 160 persons.

In addition to its increase in attendance the church has adopted a special missionary program. The church supports one full-time missionary and this week accepted the partial support of another missionary. Both missionaries are in Mexico.

The open-air revival is also in keeping with another of Pastor Clark's customs. That of holding a revival concurrently with his birthday. His first revival was an open-air meeting, during which he observed his 13th birthday. At 24, Pastor Clark has nine and one-half years of ministry behind him. For several years he was noted as "America's youngest Baptist pastor." He was a full time pastor at 15 years of age, serving in Coleman.

Sunday morning, Rev. Clark will speak on the subject, "Giving Because Christ Gave His All For Us." The morning services will be held at the Trinity Baptist church, 211 Benton. During the evening worship, he plans to speak on "Weighed and Wanting," from Daniel 5:27. Pastor Clark can also be heard over KBST every Sunday.

Bronell A. Greer at 8 a.m.

The Rev. Bronell A. Greer, missionary for the Church of Nazarene in India, is now in the United States for his first furlough since going to the field nearly five years ago. He will speak at the local Church of Nazarene Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to hear him.

While in India, the Rev. Greer was stationed at Mehkar, Berar, and was in charge of the literature on the Indian district. He has published several booklets in the Marathi language for Indian preachers and has started the Preacher's Magazine in Marathi for the native workers.

Prior to his service abroad, the Rev. Greer pastored the Church of the Nazarene at Lexington, Okla. for two years. He completed his college work at Bethany-Penick college, Bethany, Okla.

Together with his wife, Paula Whitener Greer, the Rev. Greer will be stationed in the United States for about a year during which time he will do deputation work for the Department of Foreign Missions of the Church of the Nazarene, which maintains its International Headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

The Rev. and Mrs. John E. Kolar, pastors of the Main Street Church of God are in Bessie, Okla. Services during their absence will be in charge of N. C. Dalton. Sunday school convenes at 9:45 and the morning service at 11 a.m. "The Greatest Speaker the World Has Ever Heard," will be the sermon of the morning message. The youth group will meet at 6:45 p.m. under the direction of their leader, Georgia Stroppe. An evangelistic service will be brought at 7:45 p.m.

"Love," is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, and in the local Reading Room, 217 1/2 Main, Sunday morning.

The Golden Text is: "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, love in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you." 11 Cor. 13:11. Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." (1 John 4:16)

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Love is infinite, therefore all that really exists is in and of God, and manifests His love." (Page 240)

The Rev. Lloyd Thompson will speak on "Christ and The Church For All," at the First Christian church Sunday morning. During the evening service, the Rev. Thompson will discuss, "Ashamed of Jesus."

Sunday masses at St. Thomas Catholic church, 508 North Main, are at 7 and 9 a.m. Confessions are heard before the daily mass from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Saturdays, at the Sacred Heart Catholic church (Latin American) Sunday masses are at 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. and week day mass is at 7 a.m. "Let's Maintain the Spiritual Glow," will be the sermon topic discussed by the Rev. Aisla H. Carleton at the First Methodist church Sunday morning. Marilyn Keaton, who is attending summer school at Fort Worth, will present the special musical selection, "O Lord Most Holy," by Franck. During the evening hour, the Rev. Carleton will discuss, "The Voice of Assurance." Mrs. Champe Bahrwater will play Vesper Melodies at 7:45 o'clock, prior to the evening sermon.

In continuing revival services at the Wesley Methodist church, the Rev. H. B. Coggin of Amarillo will speak on "What Think Ye of Christ?" during the morning program. The Rev. Orion D. Smith of Alken will sing "There Is a Balm in Gilead" prior to the morning sermon. A basket lunch will be served at noon. During the evening, the Rev. Coggin will present "Adventureous Faith." The Rev. C. C. Hardaway is host pastor.

Members of the New Congregation of the Church of Christ will convene in the VFW hall, 9th and Gollad, Sunday. Glenn Hargett will conduct the services. Bible study is at 10 a.m. and morning worship at 11 o'clock. The morning sermon subject is "The Power of Quality." The evening topic will be "The Power of Faith."

Regular services will be conducted at the First Baptist church under the direction of Dr. P. D. O'Brien. Dr. O'Brien has been in revival services at Rising Star during the past week. Sunday school is at 9:45 a.m. and morning worship at 11 o'clock. Baptist Training Union will meet at 6:45 p.m. and evening sermon hour will be conducted at 8 p.m.

The Rev. R. Gage Lloyd will discuss, "Mutual Spiritual Encouragement," from Romans 1:12, at the morning service of the First Presbyterian church. Louis Lovelless will present the special musical selection, "That Sweet Story of Old," by West. The text for the evening sermon will be "But will God in deed dwell on the earth?" (Kings 8:27). Henrietta Ruhmann and Mrs. A. B. Brown will be heard in the special musical presentation of "Breathe On Me, Breath of God," by Jackson. Announcement is made that Youth week will be observed at the church August 3 through the 12.

Church announcements from St. Mary's Episcopal are as follows: Church school, 9:45 a.m.; Morning Prayer, 11 o'clock and Young People's Service league at 7 p.m.

"The Saints Walk" will be the sermon topic discussed by the Rev. Everett M. Ward at the State Street Baptist church Sunday morning. Scriptural reference is from Col. 1:1-4. Sunday evening, members of the Junior choir will be heard prior to the sermon. The WMA will meet at the church Monday at 3 p.m. L. B. Worthan will conduct the Wednesday evening prayer service at 8 p.m.

The Rev. Ad. H. Hoyer will speak on the subject, "Plenty Yet In Need," at St. Paul's Lutheran church Sunday morning. Sunday school and Bible class will meet at 10 a.m.

The Rev. R. L. Bowman conducts services both morning and evening every fourth Sunday of the month at the Centerpoint Methodist church. Sunday school is at 10 a.m. There was an attendance of 59 at Sunday school July 24. The public is invited to attend.

In 1960, the average American ate 151 pounds of meat, or six pounds more than in 1948.

Beck's Defense To Start Today In Murder Trial

WICHITA FALLS, July 20. (AP)—The defense of David Beck, 48, is to start today.

The state last night rested its case against Beck, charged with murder in the death of a mental patient at the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

Three former patients and two former attendants testified yesterday that Beck participated in beating, kicking and stomping Thomas H. Gibbons to death. Beck was formerly an attendant at the hospital.

Allen M. Beville, Desmond Trevelian, and Thavis McLaughlin, former patients, and Wilburn W. North and Thomas D. Pulley, the ex-attendants, testified.

Gibbons, 47, a resident of Sulphur Springs, died 20 minutes after he was admitted as a patient to the hospital last March 4. McLaughlin said he arrived at the hospital with Gibbons for treatment. North and Pulley were hospital aides. They testified that after Gibbons' body was taken from the bathroom where the state charges the attack was made, they were coached carefully by Beck and T. C. Saucier, another guard, to tell authorities that Gibbons had become violent and had injured himself in falling against a bathtub.

Saucier was convicted and given the death penalty when tried for Gibbons' death.

McLaughlin testified that Saucier first knocked Gibbons down in the linen room and that Beck then entered and beat Gibbons with his fists and kicked him. The witness said Gibbons was knocked down three times. He said Beck participated in two of the attacks. Dr. J. L. Goforth of Dallas said an autopsy on Gibbons revealed internal injuries sufficient to cause death.

Freckle King Title Won By 11-Year-Old

CHICAGO, July 20. (AP)—Herbert Harris, 11, took off his shirt and won the title of freckle king of the Chi.-ago railroad fair yesterday.

Until Herbert bared his freckled back, George (Freckle Face) Minchin, operating vice president of the Santa Fe railroad and judge at the freckle contest, was having a hard time picking the winner. Minchin said he had counted 1,284 1-2 freckles on Harris but when he took off his shirt and displayed a few thousand more, Minchin immediately named him freckle king.

Sally Brady, 9, of Evanston, easily won the title of queen. Hundreds of youngsters with 100 or more freckles were admitted to the fair free yesterday.

Polish Catholics Facing Attacks

VATICAN CITY, July 20. (AP)—A Vatican informant says the Cominform recently decided the Roman Catholic Church in Poland will be the next main target of Communist attacks.

The informant said the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) made this decision about six weeks ago during a meeting in Silesia.

He said that in place of the Roman Catholic Church a "people's church" would be set up in Poland. The new church, he added, will be directed by a synod selected by the Polish Communist regime.

The informant said Roman Catholic Church property will be seized, priests subjected to heavy taxes, and a rigid system of controlling Catholic schools established.

LAP-HAPPY WIFE QUITS

LOS ANGELES, July 20. (AP)—When a man with a pretty wife refuses to hold her on his lap, that's grounds for divorce.

That was Superior Judge Frank G. Swain's ruling yesterday as he granted dancer Dorothy Lee Radford a divorce from Charles Radford, aviation executive.

She testified Radford shoved her off when she tried to sit on his knee while they were watching television. Didn't even say, "Down in front."

Psalms Show Reliance In Goodness Of God

Scripture—Psalms 34; 37; 49; 81; 124; 7; 143:6.
By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.

The aftermath of World War II has left the world jittery-restless, fearful of what may be in store for it. After two dreadful conflicts, the hope of making a lasting peace seems remote, with nations contending against their neighbors in seemingly endless arguments.

David the king passed through many conflicts, experienced many sorrows, some brought on by his own mistakes or selfish, shortsighted actions. He, however, managed to retain his trust in the goodness of the Almighty and attain a serene outlook on his troubled life in spite of all.

In the Psalms allotted to our lesson, today he registered this faith, and may we not also rely on his experience to secure a more hopeful outlook, with a resolve that we will, by our attitude toward life and our actions do at least a little to help our generation to make that "brave new world" we all so ardently desire?

"O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt His name together."

"I sought the Lord, and He heard me, and delivered me from all my fears."
For small children this lesson may be quite difficult, but one way to interest them is to ask of what they are afraid. Some would answer, "the dark"; some "dogs," or other animals, neighborhood bullies, storms, etc.

Fathers and mothers can do much to allay such fears. They can point out that darkness is only absence of light, and that if a child is afraid of it, he can imagine he is looking at the room or the outdoors when it is light, and that nothing is changed except that all things are resting in the peaceful darkness; The beauties of darkness—with perhaps the beautiful stars and the moon shining so softly down on all—can be used to interest him to learn of his universe and so banish fear.

Parents can explain that most domestic creatures are friendly to man, and if they are treated kindly, will respond. Trust is at the bottom of these attitudes. Trust in God.

David wrote of himself, "This poor man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles."

"The angel of the Lord encampeth round about them that fear Him, and delivereth them."

"O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in Him."

In Psalm 37 David counsels: "Trust in the Lord and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed."

"Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: fret not thyself in any wise to do evil."

In Psalms 46 we read these comforting words which have brought fresh trust and faith to many troubled souls:

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea; "Though the waters thereof be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swellings thereof. Selah!

"In the day when I cried Thou answeredst me, and stretchedst out me, with strength in my soul."

"Though I walk in the midst of trouble, Thou wilt revive me!"

Thou shalt stretch forth Thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies, and Thy right hand shall save me."

If we would gain David's trust in God, and lean on it, and so trusting, do our very best to do what is right, "He will make thy righteousness to go forth as the light, and thy justice as the noonday."—the psalmist says.

And, finally, in Psalm 143: David says: "Cause me to hear Thy loving-kindness in the morning: for in Thee do I trust: again me to know the way wherein I should walk; for I lift up my soul unto Thee."

As we recall David's troubled and adventurous life; how he was forced to flee from home and hide in caves and other lonely, desolate places, in danger of his life, while his enemy, King Saul, had him hunted down, we can imagine his thankfulness to God who had been with him all the time and had strengthened him.

Kitchen Shower And Garden Party Honors Couple

Betty Stuteville and Ladd Smith were honored with a kitchen shower and garden party at the O'Barr Ranch.

The honorees will be married July 30. Miss Stuteville is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stuteville, 402 Bell, and Smith is the son of Mrs. Felton Smith Sr., 909 Runnels.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. O'Barr Smith, Eva Smith, Mrs. Gene Smith and Mrs. A. D. Meador.

A Chinese theme was carried out in the decorations which included light coming from bright colored lanterns. Guests were presented with Chinese fans encribed with the names "Ladd and Betty".

The lace-laid table was centered with a garden sprinkler with attached streamers that showered out kitchen utensils.

Large bouquets of perennial phlox and daises completed the decorative theme.

Present were Patsy Thompkins, Don Henry, Sonia and Earl Lusk, Wanda Richardson, Jean Meador, Kenneth Barnes, Bud Turner, Gene Smith, the honored couple and the hostesses.

Canasta Card Game Wildest Of Them All

"If you love your neighbor, don't play canasta with him."

This is the advice of Mrs. Josefa de Viel of Buenos Aires, author of the book, "Canasta," who says that "wild" is too mild a term for the game.

Canasta, meaning basket in Spanish, originated in Latin America. It is now threatening gin for top place among all forms of rummy throughout the nation.

According to the Association of American Playing Card Manufacturers, the most popular card games in this country are in order: contract bridge, pinochle, poker, rummy (all forms), solitaire and hearts.

The people who play Canasta insist that they have found not only the latest but also the most daring, most intelligent, most strategic, most anything of any rummy game yet. Canasta embodies the principles of building card combinations as in gin rummy, the melding of pinochle, the partnership understanding of bridge and the deception of poker plus the offense, defense and cunning of competitive sports.

The game began in Uruguay and worked its way westward to Argentina and then north to the United States. Ralph Michaels, a Chicago business man, is believed to have been the first to bring the game into this country.

Canasta seems to have captured much of the Long Island and Cape Society set in New York, the swimming pool set in California, the embassy tea set in Washington and the "horsey" set of nearby Virginia estates. It is still a sophisticated game and has not become popular with the masses as of yet.

In both Hollywood and New York, canasta has been taught by television and in department stores.

Before you play canasta, you'd better read all the rules. But, for a brief insight into the game there is the canasta book by Mrs. Ottilie H. Kelly. She says:

"Two standard decks of 52 cards are used and four jokers. Deuces and jokers are wild. There are no sequences. The object of the game is to form melds of seven cards of a king... a canasta."

"There is vulnerability, as in bridge, and the call as in poker. There are two different degrees of vulnerability—the first one appears as soon as you reach 1,500 points—when, instead of 50 points as in pinochle you need 90 points to make the first meld. When reaching 3,000 points, you need 120 points to meld."

"The treys play an important part in the game. The red treys carry an extra bonus of 100 points each and 500 points if all four happen to be on one side. But these points also can count against you if you are unlucky enough not to get a chance to make a meld."

"The black treys are defensive cards used as stop cards for discards, making it impossible for the following player to take the discard pile. Wild cards are also used to stop cards during the play and when one of them is played on the discard pile, the latter becomes 'frozen.'"

"This means that it is impossible for a player to take the discard pile unless he has a natural pair matching the following up-card or whatever up-card is before him when it is his turn to play. The up-card of the frozen discard pile may not be used to add to melds on the table."

Think this is confusing, wait until you sit down to play.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS By Mildred Young

If you think the United Nations organization is at a complete standstill, take note of some recently released information concerning tuberculosis.

More than 4,000,000 children in Europe have so far been vaccinated against tuberculosis with BCG, by which abbreviation the vaccine made from the Bacillus Galmette-Guérin is known. With the help of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund as many children as possible will be vaccinated with BCG in Morocco, Tunisia, Algeria, Egypt, Israel and Lebanon, and millions more in other Far Eastern countries.

Probably 100,000,000 children will be tested, and those that respond positively will be vaccinated. The task will be a joint undertaking of the Children's Fund, the Danish Red Cross, the Governments of the assisted countries and the World Health Organization.

The story of BCG begins forty years ago in Lille, France. There the late Dr. Albert Calmette carried on research in the hope of discovering a way to prevent tuberculosis. He had made a remarkable record in dealing with infectious diseases among the fishermen of Newfoundland, the jungle-dwellers of Indo-China and the coal miners of Northern France.

There is no doubt now that BCG confers immunity in about 90 per cent of the cases in which it is used. Yet BCG has never been regarded with much favor in this country. The American Trudeau Society endorses it cautiously in its report of January, 1948, and even recommends it for doctors, nurses and others who must minister to the tuberculous or whose resistance to infection is low.

Late Inning Rallies Give Hossees Win Over Feistes

LEFTHANDERS GIVING SOX HELP — These three lefthanded pitchers of the Boston Red Sox are currently giving the team a very good helping hand towards victory in the American League race. They are left to right (with wins and losses in parentheses): Cuch Stoebe (5-2), Maurice McDermott (4-2) and Mal Parnell (14-5). (AP Wirephoto).

Lopez Smash Scores Gomez

With a smash finish that had the customers hanging onto the edge of their seats, the Big Spring Bronces edged the Ballinger Cats, 5-7, here Thursday night. Jorge Lopez doubled down the left field line with one away in the ninth to score Felix Gomez, from second and break up the thrill-packed contest, which saw the Hossees charge from behind with a four-tally uprising in the eighth. Gomez had reached first on an infield hit and advanced to the half way station on Ace Mendez's sacrifice.

Julio Ramos, coming on to spell Ernesto Mayersquin in the ninth, received credit for the victory, his 18th of the campaign compared to two reversals. He faced only three batters in the ninth but a sensational fielding play by Bertie Baez, who appeared Stu Williams line drive and turned it into a double play, saved the day for Ramos and the Big Spring club.

The loss was a heart-breaker for left Roberto Rodriguez, seeking his 12th win of the year. Instead, he had to accept his sixth loss as the game turned into a battle of home runs. Carriel Nipp accounted for four of the Ballinger tallies with two long four-base smashes the first coming in the fourth and the second in the sixth. Each one found Williams aboard.

Felix Luna also bashed one out of the park in the sixth for Ballinger, the safety coming with the sacks deserted. Rodriguez experienced no trouble with the Hossees until the fourth when a single by Mendez, Pat Stacey's two-baser and a single by Spud Pascual gave the homelings two runs.

Nipp and Luna took the sting out of that rally with their round trips, the sixth and even when Lopez stepped up the dish as the leadoff man for Big Spring in the sixth and murdered an offering for his fourth home run in as many nights and his eighth of the season, it didn't look too bad for Rodriguez.

Sports Offer Test To Flock For 3rd Place

Shreveport and Dallas open a three-game series tonight and it could go a long way toward ending this trading of third and fourth places between the two. Dallas is in third now, half-game ahead of Shreveport, after a 4-6 decision over San Antonio last night. Shreveport lost to Oklahoma City, 5-5.

In other Texas League games, Tulsa beat Beaumont, 7-5, and Fort Worth downed Houston, 4-1. Walt Lanfranconi went the distance for Dallas, something that isn't done every night, and matched Ray Shore's four-hit pitching. He bettered Shore in every other way, collecting two hits and sticking around. Shore walked nine and walked to the dugout in the eighth.

Tulsa bunched its runs in the first two innings, then withstood Beaumont's strong finish. Rubs Burns had a two-run triple for the Oilers in the first and a two-run double in the second. It took Fort Worth just one hour and 20 minutes to beat Houston. Manager Bobby Bragan's two-run homer broke a 1-1 deadlock in the fourth inning and put the Cats on the downhill road. Dick Williams homered in the eighth.

The other fourth round pairings were James Sykes, Jenkintown, Pa., against Jim Stewart of Hamilton, Ohio. Eugene Spilker, Clayton, Mo., vs Ken Edwards, Fort Worth. Dennis Bolster, Washington, vs Ray Brewer, Jr., Lexington, Ky. Gandy Carey, Denver, vs Bill Wolf, Washington.

Warren Spain coasted to his 12th win, leading Cincinnati 11-3, while his Boston mates put the slug on Ken Raffensberger and two successors for 14 hits, five by Ed Sauer.

POLLET IS READY 'Bring On The Dodgers,' Say Red-Hot Cardinals

Bring on the Dodgers! That's the cry in St. Louis, where the stalling Cards, on an eight-game winning streak, welcome another showdown with Brooklyn for the National League lead. The Cards nudged the Brooks out of first place at Ebbets Field last week end. They open a three-game series at Sportsman's Park tonight with a game and a half lead. The Park is sold out and most St. Louis hotels are booked full through Sunday.

Howie Pollet, the slim southpaw who coasted home on a 14-1 rout of the Dodgers last Sunday, draws the opening game assignment against Frazier Roe, whose seven-game string was snapped by the Cards a week ago. The Cards warmed up for the Dodgers by smothering the Phillies yesterday, 10-2, for a sweep of the series. They roughed up Kenny Heintzelman, who had won nine in a row and forced him to retire after a five-run second inning.

Sixteen hits spilled off the St. Louis bats in the attack on Heintzelman, Ken Trimble and Young Charley Ricknell. Oddly enough, Stan Musial didn't get me in five trips. Chuck Diering was the leader with a pair of doubles and a single. Al Bralio, who might face the Dodgers Sunday, wrapped up his 18th win with a seven-inning while the Phils stumbled through five errors, three by rookie third baseman Willie Jones.

Brooklyn drew hope from Ralph Branca's route-going job against the Chicago Cubs, 7-1, his first complete game and first victory since June 29. Despite his 11th triumph Branca probably will miss the Card series in which rookie Joe Nathan and Don Newcombe are slated to work.

Gene Hermanski's homer with three men on and the score tied 1-1 ruled Bob Rush in the sixth inning. Jackie Robinson and Duke Snider homered in succession off reliever Walt Dubiel in the seventh to end the scoring.

GORGEOUS JORGE — One of the main-liners in the Big Spring baseball express has been Jorge Lopez (above), the educated Cuban who has been playing both second and third for the Bronces. Last night, Jorge hit his fourth home run in as many nights and later doubled home the winning run that beat Ballinger, 5-7.

The Longhorn baseball league has hired George Thomas as an umpire. League President Hal Stoyles announced last night. Thomas comes here from the Evangeline league. He succeeds Ed Jansourek, who is being relieved of his duties.

Stoyles' staff of umpires now includes ten men. Big Franconio (Pancho) Peres, who has won seven decisions while losing only three to Big Spring this season, will face the Ballinger Cats in the series final game at Star park this evening. Starting time is 8:15 o'clock.

Club President Al Alan has announced that tonight will be 'Ladies Night'. All women will be admitted free upon payment of the federal tax.

Manager Red Brown of the Ballinger team said last night his pitching choice would probably be Joe Lanham, a big fellow who was pelted to the stands while playing for Del Rio last year. Lanham recently joined the Cats after spending the first portion of the season with Billings, Mont.

After tonight's game, the Cards leave for Vernon and two games with the terrific Dusters, now safely entrenched in second place in the standings.

Odessa Qualifies For State Meet

By The Associated Press — Galveston and Bryan tangled today at Galveston for the last remaining spot in the Texas American Legion Junior Baseball State Tournament. Laredo last night joined Odessa and Sunset of Dallas in the double elimination state meet at Bryan Aug. 2.

Galveston defeated Bryan, 7-4 yesterday in square the area series at one game each.

Laredo, victor over Austin in the series opener, dropped the first game of a doubleheader at Austin, 1-2. But they won it second, 5-2. Odessa earlier this week defeated Lubbock to enter the state meet and Sunset beat Waco earlier.

Palacio Gains Quarterfinals

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 28. (AP) — Two-time champion Matt Palacio was in the favorite's role as the Broadmoor Invitational Golf Tournament moved into the quarterfinals today. Palacio, Wichita, Kan., tied in 1943 and 1945, dumped medalist Dee Replogle, Oklahoma City oil man, 3 and 1 in a major upset yesterday.

Fred Newton of Denver, the only other former champion in the ranks this time, reached the quarterfinals with a 4 and 3 victory over L. E. Griffith of Albuquerque, N. M. Palacio will play Bob Veyupek, Colorado Springs, over the 18 hole route today. Veyupek downed W. F. Bartels of Kansas City 2 up. Newton is matched against Jim Vickers, Wichita, who advanced with a 4 and 3 win over D. E. Mitchell, Colorado Springs.

Bob Willis of Kansas City, who romped over Bill Flenniken, Denver, 8 and 5, will play Claude Wright, another Denverite. Wright won from Dick Pringle, Tulsa, Okla., one up on the 20th hole. Jack Munger, Dallas veteran, will go against Bob Goldwater of Phoenix. Munger nosed out Dan Walker of Denver one up and Goldwater tripped Gene Zuspann, Goodland, Kan., 4 and 3.

Incidentally, Rusty Walters, who beat Big Spring while wearing an Odessa uniform a few weeks ago and then begged leave of A. D. Ensey and Company, is now with Henderson.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

The argument has raged for some time now that the Longhorn league produces as good or better baseball than its more dignified neighbor, the WT-NM. There's a good way to settle it. Why not have the two circuits... pick all-star teams for an annual game?

True, the WT-NM organization is Class C, a classification higher than the Longhorn loop carries. However, that probably wouldn't make any difference to the patrons of the two leagues.

When Ray Taylor stepped down as pilot of the Gainsville Big State league pilot recently, big Hack Miller—once the field chief of the Lubbock Hubbers and later head man at Tyler—was reported in line for the post. However, Miller didn't get the job.

Borger's Gassers are trying to sell off Valle Even, once a big league toter and later a standout in Coast league baseball. Even has the ability but he's not a sticker for training rules.

Manny Mantaras, who was with Big Spring as a catcher in the spring, has been playing third base for Sherman-Denison, recently.

Paul Cooke, with Ballinger in 1947 and Lemasa last year, has won seven decisions for Paris. Cooke played in the 1947 Longhorn league all-star game at Ballinger. He won only six games for the Lobos throughout 1948.

Two Texans Left In Junior Meet

WASHINGTON, July 28. (AP) — Walter (Tony) Baker, a 17-year-old high school senior from Atlanta, Louisiana State Junior College, moved to the fore today as top choice as the National Junior Golf Meet moved into the fourth round.

Over the 655-year Congressional Course yesterday, Baker downed long-hitting Pat Schwab of Dayton, Ohio. Baker meets Dick Hessemer of Houston today.

Two of last year's quarterfinalists are still in the running and hope to enter the junior classic's quarterfinals. They are Miles Scholpik of Chicago who faces Louisiana State's Junior Champ Tommy Morrow of Shreveport and Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., who plays Charley Strack of York, Pa.

A member of the third generation of a famed golfing family, Joe Turnesa, Jr., meets Florian Weinhauer of St. Paul in another top match.

The other fourth round pairings were James Sykes, Jenkintown, Pa., against Jim Stewart of Hamilton, Ohio. Eugene Spilker, Clayton, Mo., vs Ken Edwards, Fort Worth. Dennis Bolster, Washington, vs Ray Brewer, Jr., Lexington, Ky. Gandy Carey, Denver, vs Bill Wolf, Washington.

Warren Spain coasted to his 12th win, leading Cincinnati 11-3, while his Boston mates put the slug on Ken Raffensberger and two successors for 14 hits, five by Ed Sauer.

Big Spring Labor Organizations Make Centennial Plans

Representatives of seven Big Spring labor organizations initiated plans for their part in the week-long Centennial celebration at a meeting in the Settles last night.

W. D. Berry, chairman for the labor groups' preparations for the Labor and Industry Day activities next October, conducted the meeting. Approximately 25 were present.

O. O. Craig was named secretary of the Labor and Industry while George Milms was elected day committee representing labor, vice chairman of the Centennial organization. The Labor and Industry phase of the celebration will honor the roles of both labor and industry in the development of the area in the last 100 years.

Represented at the meeting last night were the locals of the Telephone Workers, Carpenters, Painters, Brick Masons, Oil Workers, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, and ladies' auxiliaries to several of the organizations.

Mrs. Boswell To Return To U.S. For Treatment

Mrs. William Boswell, the former Joyce Blankenship, is to be flown back to the United States next week for treatment.

Mrs. Boswell was stricken in Paris, France with poliomyelitis and sustained involvement of her right leg and some of her left leg. At first it was feared, she was suffering from meningitis.

Latest information from Paris was that she was making good progress. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Blankenship, are hopeful that special treatment in a Kansas City infantile paralysis foundation center will result in reasonable recovery of the affected limbs. The Boswells have been in Europe for the past year while he studied art.

Cotton Economy Of U. S. Sick, Says Professor

DALLAS, July 29. (AP) — Cotton men apparently have a nagging headache that stems from three causes: Synthetics, competition in the world market, and price support and production.

Speakers at the tenth annual meeting of the Cotton Research Congress today indicted these were the prime ailments of the industry.

Three men touched these phases in speeches prepared for delivery at various sessions of the Congress today.

Clarence A. Wiley, a professor of economics at the University of Texas, said there was "sufficient evidence to justify the conclusion that the cotton economy of the United States is sick."

He suggested the number of cotton farmers be reduced and that the remainder be highly mechanized.

Domestic cotton prices must not be maintained, in the long-run, much if any higher than world-market prices, he warned. He said this must be done in order not to penalize the domestic textile industry in world markets and in order not to encourage the substitution of synthetic fibers.

Bushrod W. Allen, chairman of the Outlook and Situation Board of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, and Sid Y. West, Memphis cotton men, were other speakers.

Allen blamed the causes of two world wars as indirectly responsible for the acreage-control and price-support features of the present program.

"As cotton farmers look to the immediate future for cotton," he said, "the unsettled question is not whether the government will continue to support their prices and incomes by direct action, but rather how and at what level."

"The uncertainties on these matters are not great. For the more remote future, the program could certainly be changed to meet changed conditions."

West reviewed government programs in relation to cotton. There, he said, "Our chief difficulty seems to be finding a program that will insure profitable production to the cotton farmer and at the same time permit cotton to be competitive in both domestic and foreign markets with synthetic and foreign grown cotton."

Braceros Will Work On Texas Farms This Year

MEXICO CITY, July 29. (AP) — Mexican farm hands will be allowed to work in Texas this year, government sources say.

They reported Wednesday a new migratory labor agreement taking Texas off the blacklist might be signed by the United States and Mexico before the end of the week.

This would allow braceros to reach the United States in time for the cotton harvest.

To hire Mexican workers, Texas farmers will have to prove here is no discrimination in their areas and that there will be none.

Mexico apparently agreed to take Texas off its labor blacklist in return for a U. S. agreement to contract workers in the center of the country. U. S. farmers had wanted to hire border Mexicans to do their harvesting.

For several years, Mexico has said Texans in some parts of the state discriminate against Mexicans and has refused to let them sign contracts for work anywhere in the state. U. S. spokesmen in this year's negotiations argued that a whole state should not be blacklisted because of discrimination in parts of it.

(At a meeting of southwestern United States labor officials in Dallas yesterday, John F. Hillard, regional representative of the U. S. Bureau of Employment Security, said Mexico must either erase its Texas blacklist or have its citizens barred from work in other states.)

The Mexican government sources said the new agreement will include "guarantees that the laborers shall not be the object of discrimination in the area for which they are contracted, and these guarantees shall be given by local authorities."

This means farmers may hire Mexican labor in any Texas county that can prove there is no discrimination within its borders and none will be practiced. It could even apply to smaller areas.

Abilene Woman Dies In Army Hospital

TOKYO, July 29. (AP) — Mrs. Joseph W. Lisman of Abilene, Tex., wife of the deputy chief for postal affairs of the Allied Occupation Civil Affairs Communications Section, died Wednesday, it was disclosed today.

Death at an Army hospital was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. Mrs. Lisman came to Japan in October, 1947, with her son, Perry. Memorial services in both English and Japanese will be held Sunday. The body will be sent aboard the Army transport General Buckner, which departs Aug. 8, for burial in Abilene.

Petain's Release From Prison Asked

PARIS, July 29. (AP) — Former Marshal Henri Philippe Petain no longer recognizes anyone and is unable even to read, Philippe de Heroin, his son-in-law, said yesterday.

De Heroin last week visited the 84-year-old World War I hero now a prisoner on the Isle d'Yeu, off the southwest coast of France.

Petain's lawyers told President Vincent Auriol three weeks ago Petain's mind had deteriorated, as they appealed for his release or transfer. They said Petain no longer remembers why he is in prison.

During World War II Petain served as chief of state in the Vichy government. After liberation he was tried for treason and sentenced to life imprisonment.

SHARES COHEN LIMELIGHT

Ex-Chief To Face Perjury Charges

LOS ANGELES, July 29. (AP) — Ex-Police Chief C. B. Horrall's vacation has been cut short.

The big bluff chief, who stepped down a month ago because of "ill health," is on his way home from Montana to face a county grand jury indictment charging him with perjury. Four of his aides surrendered yesterday on similar charges.

The indictments shared the limelight with the death of Mickey Cohen's henchman, Edward (Neddie) Herbert, one of the quartet shot in the ambushing of the little gambling czar last week.

Seek Plastics Plant Location In East Texas

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP) — Texas members of Congress are strongly supporting Carl Estes, Longview, Tex., newspaper publisher, in a move to get a big plastics plant located in East Texas.

James C. White, president of the Tennessee Eastman Corp., Kingsport, Tenn., was told by telegrams yesterday that the delegation favored a comprehensive flood control and water use program in the upper Sabine-Neches watershed.

The action came after Estes met with the delegation and pointed out that the availability of water for industrial use was one of the main points the Eastman company had under study in considering a plant in the Longview area.

Estes said three dams should be constructed on the upper reaches of the Sabine, not only for industrial uses but also for protection of farm lands and oil fields.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex.) said he would introduce a resolution in the House asking Army engineers to make a study of the area.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) requested that the engineers map out an over-all water use program for the area.

Bill Set To End Long Dock Strike

HONOLULU, July 29. (AP) — Legislation to end Hawaii's 50-day dock strike by denying the territorial government in the stevedoring business today appeared set for enactment Saturday.

CIO longshoreman countered with a call to spread the tieup to the Pacific Coast.

A special session of the Hawaiian legislature came out of a closed session late yesterday with Senate-House agreement on what it believes is a precedent-smashing bill: Government entrance into a strike-bound industry without seizing struck firms.

The measure would simply empower the territory to start its own stevedoring business. Hiring of any of the 2,000 striking members of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union would be prohibited. So would use of the seven struck firms' employees and equipment "unless necessary."

ILWU stevedores, who struck May 1 for a 32-cent hike in their $1.40 hourly basic wage, responded quickly with a move to carry out their threat to extend the tieup to the West Coast.

TOM'S FAMILY IS SURPRISED

DALLAS, July 29. (AP) — Tom Clark's family was completely surprised by President Truman's decision to appoint him to the Supreme Court.

"Nobody ever dared to hope or plan that Tom would be a Supreme Court justice," said Robert L. Clark, brother of the attorney general.
