world stood amazed. A wall of racial and social separation that had seemed impregnable was beginning to give way.

Peter and Cornelius Cornelius seeking and Peter's perplexity bring the two men together. The Holy Spirit takes these two factors and uses them for the good of the one and the other.

Gentiles Ready For The Gospel—Acts 10:15-17 How ready they were, those Gentiles for the salvation of the Cross is shown by the fact that Peter had not been speaking long before the Holy Spirit was imparted to them.

The baptism of the Holy Spirit suggests water baptism and the rite is administered to Cornelius and his company. Once more we see how invariably baptism follows believing in the early Church.

Paul was the greatest Apostle to the Gentiles. He was thoroughly committed to the idea of taking the gospel to all the world.

There has been a great deal of concern over the safety of about a hundred and fifty American citizens in Madrid. The fear was felt that in the event of a battle between rebels and loyalists in the city some of these Americans would be killed or injured.

It is natural and proper that the public interest be aroused by such a situation. But it is rather a strange anomaly that the public is vitally interested in the safety of a handful of people—and pays little attention to the massacre of thousands of others.

The reference is to our automobile death toll. It takes less than two days for auto accidents to account for a greater number of lives than those hazarded in Madrid. Last year's death record was around the 35,000 mark—this year it may be even higher. If that many people were killed in some cataclysm the whole world would be against it, and the event would become throughout the days of the year grim history.

But because our car victims are killed a few at a time and in wide spread areas the average citizen gives almost no thought to the needless carnage.

No problem more vitally affects us all than the car accidents problem. And none is more completely within the control of the people. Every individual can drive safely if he only wills it—and the force of public opinion, unified and aggressive, could make the highways a very comfortable place for the reckless. Think of the horror with which you regard a revolution that kills a few hundred or a few thousand persons—and then ask yourself if it isn't your duty to help reduce our grisly accident toll.

Hansford County Folk
Visit Many Places On Summer Vacations

Rex Sanders and family, minus R. E. will leave Saturday or Sunday of this week for a ten days tour of the mountains of Colorado and New Mexico. Rex stated that he was not old enough yet to fish, and did not expect to purchase a fishing license.

This publication is attempting to keep the record straight in regards to vacationists who want a rating as to fishermen and fishermen.

Several people who left last week on their vacation returned this week. Mr. and Mrs. Ike Clutts and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilbanks and Mr. Floyd Wilbanks returned from Lake City Friday of last week. Ike has asked for rating No. 1, reporting that he caught 196 fish during 6 fishing days. Unknown to Mr. Clutts the writer made a special trip to Lake City the past week end and verified his catch. HE REALLY DID CATCH THE FISH. Mr. Clutts gains the number one rating for Hansford county, placing Gene Richardson to the number two position and Bruce Sheets to the No. 3 Hansford fisherman. Mrs. Klutts takes No. one position in the la Femme division for the county, with Mrs. Lawrence Wilbanks as number 2, Miss Dorothy Main number 3, Miss Florence Holton 4, Mrs. W. J. Miller 5, Miss Julia Wilbanks number 6.

The Feather mattress and hot water bottle fisherman, who started their vacation near Pegocia Springs, Colo. last week returned home Sunday night. As predicted by this writer last week, these softies could not improve their rating as fishermen. Furthermore Earl Pittman, Fred Lynn, Walter Goode and Bob Bailey not only dried hot water bottles and feather mattresses, but even abandoned camp to live in a cabin at a ranch near Creed, Colo. Wallace, who joined the party at Raton, N. M. reported that the boys were at a loss to know how to fish until he showed them the ropes. He stated that after he had instructed them thoroughly for a couple of hours that Earl Pittman and Bob Bailey did catch a few. Bob recorded a catch of one 17 and a half inch trout, while Earl reported a catch of a fifteen inch trout as their largest fish. That's pretty good for amateurs and due to their admission of the poor catch, this publication will let them retain their rating, formerly published with the definite understanding that they will never again load up truck full of feather mattresses take with them fishing.

Dr. Daily and family returned on a trip to Gunsted, Colorado, Colorado Springs, back to Eagle Nest and Red River, N. M. Daily did not fish. He does ask for a fisherman's rating.

Miss Cates and wife are out at Lake City this week ending up a two weeks vacation. The writer checked up on Mr. Cates during a flying trip to Lake City the past week end and found out that he will deserve a pretty fair rating when he returns home some time this week. Slim has been catching some large fish, and perhaps he will rate about number six.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whitson, Ann Carol and Craig Davidson returned home Monday from a ten vacation spent in Denver, Colorado, Raton, N. M. and Eagle Nest, N. M. Mr. Whitson had a sort of an alibi about his rating, and only asks to retain his rating as number nine fisherman of this county. Anna Carol gained a rating of number 7 in the la femme division having caught a three pound salmon at Eagle Nest.

Located somewhere between Lake City and Garden City this week are Mr. and Mrs. Perry and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. and family. This writer contacted this vacation party at Creed, Colo. Sunday morning. They spent Saturday night camping in the mountains near LeVeta Pass. Both Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Hawk stated that they thought the feather mattress fisherman were SMART. These ladies stated they nearly froze to death Saturday night and from then on would insist on camping inside a cabin. The party will fish for a few days at the Federal Reservoir near Creed, and thence to Lake City, and will end their vacation at Garden City. They plan to buy fruit and vegetables at Garden City.

Mr. and Mrs. Delon Kirk spent the week end at Eagle Nest, N. M. where they visited with Judge Ivy Duncan and family, who have a large cabin at the New Mexico resort. Mr. and Mrs. Kirk made the trip to Eagle Nest to bring back their daughter Martha Delon who has been visiting with the Ivy Duncan family for the past two weeks. Delon did not ask for fisherman's ratings, but it is alleged that he is demanding a dancer's rating. We have not verified this rumor and we hope that it is false... what are we coming too in this county if a great big tough ex-cowboy like Delon abandons fishing for the dance halls?

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Miller, Elizabeth Ann Billie and Miss Nina Selz spent the past week end at Lake City. The party started to Eagle Nest but since the children wanted to see some REAL mountains, the longer trip was made. This party came home with much praise for the Colorado country. And insist on telling the world to go to the J. W. Vickers Ranch for a real vacation. This ranch is located at Lake City, Colorado and the Vickers family including 6 boys and three girls, besides the Elder Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Vickers have proven to several Spearman families that they will help you have a good time on a vacation. While the writer did not have time for much fishing, he recorded a catch of nine fish in eleven minutes on this last trip. This catch can be verified by Eddie Faye Miller and Billie Miller who were with the writer when the fish were caught. Mrs. Miller caught two fish and Billie Miller caught one. This record will not be entered in the county and the writer will remain the number 9 fisherman of Hansford county.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Gibner and family are at Lake City this week. The Gibner family will spend a few days at the Vickers ranch, where Mr. Gibner will attempt to come back home with the number one fisherman's rating. The Gibner family plan to visit in Denver and Colorado Springs before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bishop are in the mountains this week near Red River. They plan to fish and camp near Red River, then follow up the fishing North to Questa, N. M. and finish up their trip at Lake Caberesto, near Questa, N. M. The present plans call for a return trip via Santa Fe and Tios N. M. where they will view the Pueblo Indian reservation.
