

SUTTON SALE OF REGISTERED DUROCS, JERSEY COWS SUCCESS

Sale of the W. A. Sutton herd of registered Duroc Jersey hogs and grade Jersey milk cows at auction took place as advertised Tuesday, February 12. This sale was advertised for several weeks by Sutton, and was attended by buyers from all over the state. Several Kansas hogs were here to look over the offering. The total attendance at the sale was about 1,000. Col. E. F. Herrin of Oklahoma City, assisted by Steffen & Littleton of Perryton, conducted the sale, and did a good job of it. These auctioneers made many friends throughout this section by the manner in which this sale was conducted. The snow storm of the previous day doubtless cut down the attendance considerably, but Mr. Sutton is well pleased with the sale. In speaking of this sale, and of his experiences here during the past few years, while endeavoring to build up the splendid herd which he has built, Mr. Sutton said: "I have made money in good hogs and good milk cows. But remember, I have good hogs and good cows. For the past eight years I have been running the auction sales, for instance, and at every sale the same results were had. The good stuff brought a good price; the poor stuff brought a bad price. I have brought only the very best Jersey milk cows in the state in this country. To raise hogs and milk cows is often a matter of time and effort, but the money will pay and pay well."

Mr. Sutton was more than pleased with the prices his fancy hogs brought in. For instance, one bred sow was sold for $132. This sow was raised by Mr. Sutton, as were many others for several generations. She was a beauty and attracted much attention among the hog men at the sale. All his fine Duroc Jerseys brought good prices, and many of them were sold to men who live a considerable distance from Spearman.

Cows Sold Well, Too
The Jersey milk cows attracted as much attention at the sale as did the hogs and brought fancy prices. One Jersey milker brought the tidy sum of $225.00, which is not a bad price for a cow of her qualities. She was sold to the owner, and will be used for many years of service at the farm. The sale of the fine herd of 16 head and the fine Jersey bull were all sold at high prices.

The machinery and household goods went under the hammer and Mr. Sutton was very well pleased with the prices paid. Mr. and Mrs. Sutton have not decided as yet just what they will do where they will reside in the future. At present they are occupying a temporary residence in west Spearman. Mr. Sutton will be busy several days, straightening up the affairs of the big sale.

At Spearman, Texas, February 13—The Chamber of Commerce has been advised by the Railroad Commission of Texas that rates on carload shipments of grain and hay seeds produced in the Plains Panhandle section, cancelled as of January 8th, 1929 will be re-established effective February 15, 1929. The action will mean the saving of 10 cents to farmers and seed dealers of the Plains-Panhandle section and comes as a result of a petition filed February 4, by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

This writer will endeavor to attend.

Allis-Chalmers Tractor Agency at Spearman

Dillow Brothers have secured the agency for the Allis-Chalmers tractors for the Spearman country, and have an announcement to this effect in this week's Reporter. The firm is composed of S. E. Dillow, W. E. Dillow and J. L. Dillow. They are all hustlers and also are practical mechanics, who know how to operate a tractor as well as sell one. The Allis-Chalmers is a mighty good product, so this firm should get its share of the business in this line.

Another Good Time Promised Tonight

The students of Spearman schools promise another enjoyable time for the people of this town and vicinity tonight, Thursday, when a school carnival is to be held. "Smile, Rodney, Smile," the four-act comedy presented by the senior class on January 31, was greatly enjoyed by one of the largest crowds that ever assembled at the school house, and it is thought that "The Carnival" will draw equally as large a crowd. The school bunch put on a really good show, every time they undertake it, and it is a pretty safe bet that the effort tonight will be fully up to standard.

Swift & Company Will Re-Open Cream Station

Spearman will have a brand new cream station after February 23. Swift & Company, who had a station here for several years, will again enter the cream buying business. Mrs. C. O. Collard, who with her husband runs the Swift agents here, will have charge of the new station, which will be operated in the Hughes building, on the south side of elevator row, near the McClellan Grain Company. Mrs. Collard has had much experience in the handling of cream, and by straightforward business methods and fair treatment to all while she was formerly engaged in the produce business here, made many friends throughout the Spearman country, all of whom will be glad to learn that she is about to again enter this line of business. Mrs. Collard invites all her old friends and customers, as well as all prospective ones, to call at her new location and renew acquaintances. Saturday, February 23, is announced as the opening day of this new cream station.

Kirk Battery Shop Building New Home

The Kirk Battery and Electrical Shop will soon move into a splendid new home of its own. The building, which is nearing completion, is located across the street south from the Ford Plant. This concern is at present domiciled in the Reeves building, across the street from the Russell old store building. Delon Kirk, manager of the Kirk Battery and Electrical Shop, states that he intends to put in quite a bit of new equipment and to be ready for any kind of work in his line by the time the spring work opens. The new building will be 25x50 feet in dimension, and constructed of stucco and sheet rock.

NARROW ESCAPE; MONOXIDE GAS

Sid Powers of the Spearman Hardware suffered a rather unpleasant experience on Saturday morning of last week. He was unloading tractors from a car near the depot, by starting the motor and driving them outside. After working inside the box car several minutes, with a tractor motor running, Sid was overcome with monoxide gas, and it was several hours before he was able to navigate. He was back on the job Monday morning, apparently as good as ever.

John Deere Tractor School Brought Big Crowd to Town

The John Deere Tractor school, held under the auspices and management of the local John Deere dealer, the Womble Hardware Company, in Spearman on Tuesday of this week brought one of the largest crowds to town that has been here for some time. And those who attended say it was one of the most interesting programs along this line they have had the pleasure of listening to since these schools were introduced. The free lunch and many demonstrations were held at the company's store on lower Main, while in the afternoon the crowd assembled at the Lyric theatre and enjoyed a fine lecture and talks by H. A. Galatas, factory representative and tractor expert; Lee Harlan, tractor expert; and E. M. Russell, combine expert. W. L. McDivitt, the John Deere traveling man who makes this territory regularly, was here with the party and assisted with the demonstrations and general program.

DeLAVAL AND DAIRY DAY COMMUNITIES ARE MADE OF FOLKS

The McClellan Grain Company announces a "DeLaval and Dairy Day" celebration to be held at its plant on elevator row on Saturday, February 23. This will be an interesting demonstration of modern machinery used around the up-to-date dairy, placing particular emphasis on the DeLaval separator and the DeLaval milker. The latter is a piece of machinery not in common use in this country, but they can be found on practically every dairy farm in countries where the dairying industry has been developed. Dairying is coming to the front at a rapid rate in this country and these machines will become more common every year. If you have never seen a milker, it will pay you to attend this "Dairy Day" celebration, on February 23, whether you milk one or a herd of cows. Prizes will be distributed at the celebration and the McClellan Grain Company force plan to make of it an interesting and instructive meeting for all those who attend.

Panhandle Lumber Co. Making Improvements

The interior of the offices of the Panhandle Lumber Company is being remodeled and given a thorough cleaning up this week. Manager Holland states that when the job is finished he expects to have much more convenient and attractive show rooms as well as working quarters.

Spearman Retains Good Fire Insurance Rate

P. A. Lyon, local fire insurance man, informs the Reporter that under a recent revision of the fire insurance rates, Spearman retains a 15 per cent credit, or reduction in rates. This credit is given because of there being no fire losses here to speak of during the past three years. It is based on a three-year fire loss record. Spearman has had no fires that amounted to much during the past three years and during the year last passed not a single loss is reported. This is a remarkable record, and one that may be kept up, if everyone is careful and diligent in removing fire hazards. Folks sometimes tire of newspapers, preachers, teachers and insurance men constantly talking of fire hazards, traps, etc., but it pays in the long run. With plenty of water on hand at all times, modern fire fighting equipment and reasonable care, there is no excuse for Spearman being hurt by fire again as it has been in the past.

Pickering Lumber Co. Building New Sheds

The old sheds have been torn away and all preparations made for building new and larger sheds at the Pickering Lumber Company yards in Spearman. Manager Dumas states that work will begin on these improvements just as quickly as the weather will permit. Mr. Dumas states that after these sheds are completed he will be able to keep almost his entire stock indoors and perfectly dry. He also will carry a much larger stock and a more general assortment, especially in finishing lumber.

Lynx Win and Lose To Berger Bulldogs

The Lynx, basketball team of Spearman high school, won a fast game and lost a faster one to the Berger Bulldogs, during the week. Both games were played on the Spearman high school court. The first game was played on Saturday night of last week and resulted in a score of 19 to 22 in favor of Spearman. This was the fast game. The second game was played on Wednesday night of this week and resulted in a score of 10 to 12 in favor of Berger. This was the faster game. By winning this game, the Berger Bulldogs win the honor of representing this district at the annual interscholastic basketball meet to be held at Canyon next month.

COMMUNITIES ARE MADE OF FOLKS

A Talk Given By H. S. Mobley At The I. H. C. Short Course, Spearman, February 4

Mr. H. S. Mobley, in beginning his talk on "Communities are Made of Folks" pointed out that this town of ours, "is not your town, or my town, but our town." It is something in common to all of us living in it—a community proposition, and to have a real town we must have a community spirit, not a one-man spirit. "To many of us," he said, "the word 'town' means a group of buildings separated by streets and alleys, containing some stores, some factories, some banks, some residences, a few churches and school houses, but that is not the proper idea of a town. It is in accordance with the dictionary definition of the word, but it is not in accordance with a community idea of a town. "There are two elements in anything that involves human life under civilized conditions," he explained. "They are production and distribution. Some people must labor to produce; others must labor to buy and sell. The two are essential either, alone, is a weakness, in fact, impossible. "The place we usually call a town is merely a business district or trade center. Around it are the farms, or the mines, or the fisheries, where men labor to produce and from where

SOME HIGH POINTS IN MOBLEY'S TALK

This is not your town or my town it is our town. To have a real town we must have a community spirit. There are two elements in everything that involves human life—production and distribution. The country cannot live without the town; the town cannot live without the country. Both, by uniting what they have of production and distribution, can create a real community of human beings. Communities are made of folks, not of houses and farms and factories. The difference between this community today and what it was, when the Indians lived here, is the difference between the people who are here now and those who were here then. Do you know the things in your town that should be boosted and those that should be corrected? Study your community. The greatest page in history is the open page of everyday life. A stubborn, selfish, unreasonable person is never of much use to a community. He never works with anybody else or will not let anyone else work with him. It is a good thing to get acquainted with our neighbors, but it is equally important to get acquainted with our neighborhood. Towns are building men and women and exporting them to other communities. If they had instilled in them an appreciation of their own town they would have stayed.

They come to this business district to sell and buy and transact the business end of their labor. I have heard it said that the town and country are separate; that their interests are not mutual. This is a great mistake. Each depends upon the other. Each is as necessary as the other. The country cannot live without the town; neither can the town live without the country, but the town and country, by uniting what they have of production and distribution, can create such a condition of comfort and happiness as will constitute a real community of human beings. Mr. Mobley declared he was not under-estimating the importance of the physical phases of man's life, but was striving to emphasize the human side.

"Communities are made of folks," he said, "and not of houses and farms and factories. The houses, farms, mines, factories, banks and stores are all necessary but the human life and energy and intelligence back of them determine what they are to be. The higher the type of the people, the better the physical plant of the community. "The difference between this community today, its houses, its factories—all its physical conditions—and the same community when the Indians lived here is to be traced to the difference between the people who are here now and the people who were here then."

Mr. Mobley suggested that we study our town. In some communities, he said, the people look on their town as though they are not responsible for it and as a result they are dead and their town is dead. "Too often we have to go away from home to learn the news," he said. "Do you know the things in your town that should be boosted, and the things at home not worth while. There is a life time study in this community, that is of utmost value to you. Every bit of it is full of practical knowledge. Every bit of it refers to your community."

Some of the things you should know about this community are the home, school, church and work-a-day

WOODWARD TO ATTEND STATE ROAD MEETING

Woodward, Okla., has accepted the Texas invitation to attend the meeting in Spearman, next Monday, for discussion of the proposed new Texas state highway which will be built to the Oklahoma state line directly west of Woodward, according to a letter received at the Board of City Daylightment from W. T. Fleason, secretary-manager of the Woodward Chamber of Commerce.

He reports the road from Woodward which will connect with this highway is now in excellent condition. "It is up to state grade and drainage regulations and is patrolled daily by competent maintenance men. All it lacks is state highway markers." He asks that the meeting time be changed from 10 o'clock to the afternoon since representatives from Woodward would find difficulty in traversing the 126 miles between Spearman and Woodward by such early time. J. R. Collard, president of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce, has written the Board of their willingness to have the highway meeting in Spearman. Amarillo Daily News.

Mr. Collard has also sent out invitations to the chambers of commerce of Amarillo, Borger, Stinnett, Perryton, Follett, Woodward, Liberal, Panhandle, and others, urging attendance at this meeting. It doubtless will be a very interesting meeting, and if the weather is not too bad the attendance will be large. The meeting time has been set at 2 p. m., that those from a distance may have time to get here.

RUSSELL'S STORE INSTALLING MARKET

The W. L. Russell store of this city is this week installing equipment for a meat market which will be ready to open within the next two weeks. A Frigidaire, show case and cutting tables are among the new equipment. This store will doubtless enjoy a good business in this line and the same first class quality products will be handled in this line as is handled in the other departments of the store.

Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Dailey and baby and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Browder motored to Guymon Sunday to visit with relatives. The Daileys returned home Sunday but Mr. and Mrs. Browder visited Monday in the homes of their parents at Goodwell. Mr. Browder's father and mother accompanied them home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawlis Lively of Amarillo were in Spearman last week. Mr. Lively attended to business for the Amarillo Hardware Company and Mrs. Lively visited Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with his sister, Mrs. J. B. Pirtle.

A. L. Wood of Higgins and C. E. Woods of Perryton were business visitors to Spearman Wednesday, looking after business at the First National Bank.

Edwin Simmons was in from the Black community Tuesday, attending to business matters and trading.

not resist being rude enough to say that if I were in their place, I should write a lullaby about Ohio babies and let the Kentuckians put their own babies to sleep. "We went down in Kentucky, made immortal by Stephen C. Foster through his folk songs that will live as long as the heart of man beats true to the impulses of higher emotions, and I expected to hear them sing some of those heart-moving songs, but in Kentucky they sang to me, 'Carry Me Back to Old Virginia' and in Virginia, a land of romance and poetry, they sang like they meant it, 'Out Where the West Begins.'"

"And when we went to South Dakota, there in a great school building, they gathered from all parts of the state and out there, where the West is, where it lies spread out under the heavens and is fastened down by the Black Hills and the Rocky Mountains so that it cannot get away—out there they sang with gusto and with soul-moving pathos, 'I Wish I Was in Dixie.'"

"People, this 'somewhere else' is a wonderful thing but we cannot get our hearts on other places and other people and dream and see visions of things foreign to our home town, and people, and community and, at the same time be and do in this place what we ought to be and do. Some of this 'over yonder' doctrine is all right, but too many of us have too much of 'somewhere else.'"

Mr. Mobley said that it is a good thing to get acquainted with our neighbors but it is equally important to get acquainted with our neighborhood. "Towns are building manhood and womanhood and exporting them to other communities," he said, "if they had instilled in them appreciation of their own town they would have stayed. According to law a boy is worth $13,000. Are you capitalizing your boys and your girls?"

Mr. Mobley closed by admonishing his hearers to select something they like and stay by it and study it and work it. "If you do," he said, "something of great value to you and your community will come out of it."

GIRLS OF 20 SHOULD BE HOME BY 10 O'CLOCK MAGISTRATE RULES

London, Feb. 5.—Until what hour should a girl of 20 be allowed to stay out at night? Not later than 10, according to the Willesden magistrate, Dr. Lloyd Williams. He was called upon between a girl of 20 and her father. The father objected to his daughter going to dances and, as she refused to be home every night by 10 o'clock he took her latchkey.

The girl presented the application to herself of the rigid discipline that may have been forced upon her mother thirty years ago. She went to the local magistrate and lodged a complaint against her father. To the amazement of herself and many thousands of flappers of the same age the magistrate supported her father.

"I think he is right," he said. "What business has a girl like you to stay out after 10? That is quite late enough and you must obey your father."

By this decision Dr. Williams, scarcely heard of before beyond his own magisterial environment, jumped into the limelight of publicity.

"Ten P. M.," said one girl of 20. "Why, in a few months, when I have turned 21, I shall be called upon to register my vote at the general election. I suppose my mother or my great-aunt will be expected to lead me by the hand to the polling booth. If I am important enough to possess a vote, I am important enough to possess a latchkey, to be used at my own discretion."

A father, with all the makings of a martinet in him, waxed furious in denouncing the behavior of the modern girl.

"If a daughter of mine, still living in my house, dared to stay out later than I had ordered," he said, "I would not be content with just taking the latchkey from her. I would give her a good, sound spanking, send her to bed, and if need be, take away all her clothes. Disgraceful, I call it, the way parents allow their girls to carry on!"

The sanest view seems to be taken by a woman, a social worker, who has had the training and control of many hundreds of girls. She is old enough to remember days when chaperons were an institution, when girls were scarcely ever allowed to stray beyond their immediate vision, and when Mrs. Grundy used to lurk in secret places, always watching for a chance to throw up her hands in horror.

"My opinion," she said, "is that when a girl of 20 is wholly or very largely dependent upon her parents and lives with them, she should respect their wishes—within reason, of course, but it must be remembered that thousands of girls of 20 are not only earning their own living but contributing largely to the support of their parents. They are independent, they have mixed with the world and they are quite capable of taking care of themselves at any hour of the day or night."

SOLILOQUY BY OLD TIMER

"Whither air we driftin'. Be we goin' the way Rome went. We don't only speak the unspeakables, we yell em. The Tux has replaced the flannel night gown. People change their clothes, in their cars without shifting gears. When the fast express pulls inter town there's nobody on it. They couldn't wait for it. Mabby I wouldn't like to see our modern girls in wash waist and eight or ten petticoats, but it would seem good to have a neck covered with soft hair rather than resembling a clothes brush.

NOW FOR A SLOW CAR!

Pretty nearly everything has been invented, some people will tell you, but we know one thing that is just hollering to see the light.

That is a slow car. Almost every car now can do sixty miles an hour. And manufacturers are proud of the high speeds to which their cars can be brought in case of necessity, desire to "show off" or emergency.

As yet there is no car invented that cannot go faster than twenty-five miles an hour. But think, if there were such a car, how much safer and happier millions of daddies in this country would feel.

They would know their sons and daughters, when taking out the car, would not do reckless stunts just to appear bold. Just suppose some simple lock could be devised limiting the speed of a car at the owner's option, its full speed to be restored only by the owner's personal application of the key.

The speed of automobiles thus limited, wouldn't daddy feel better when sonny took the car with him on a trip to a "wild" party?

Inventors, get busy!—The Canyon News.

SID TALLEY IN ILL HEALTH

Sid Talley, brother of our fellow-townsmen, B. F. Talley, who has been sheriff and tax collector of Ochiltree county, for the past eighteen or twenty years, has suffered a nervous breakdown, and has gone to Mineral Wells for treatment. Mr. Talley's health has been failing for some time, but during tax paying timethe past few weeks his strength became overtaxed and he was forced to give up the duties of his office. It is hoped by his many friends that he will speedily regain his health and be back at his usual post of duty within a short while.—Miami Chief.

MORE POWER—MORE SPEED

Successful farmers appreciate the fact that time is the essence of good farming. Experience has demonstrated that there is a time when each farm operation should be done. This period is limited, whether it is seedbed preparation, care of the crops, harvesting, or belt work. A McCormick-Deering power farmer, due to his ability to control more power—untiring power, is able to complete his work on time even though weather conditions are unfavorable. McCormick-Deering power farming is profit farming.

The Farmall Has Motorized Row Crop Farming

The McCormick-Deering line of tractors, including the 15-30 and Farmall, offers a size and type of tractor for every farm. All these tractors are four-cylinder triple-power units that have the famous ball-bearing crank shaft. International Harvester after-sale service available through 92 Company-owned branches and thousands of dealers, has a definite value to owners of McCormick-Deering tractors.

X-RAY BECOMES "EGG RAY"

Can the X-Ray control sex. Can it accelerate growth. These are questions which poultry growers and farmers throughout the country are asking themselves as a result of the series of scientific experiments carried out by Paul R. Hadley, a business man of Danwood, N. J., who is working with X-ray specialists in hatching hen's eggs with the aid of the mysterious Roentgen light. He claims to have induced 100 per cent female hatches by X-raying the eggs. More than that, by giving other eggs a milder dose of the ray, he has stimulated in hatches of both sexes a rate of growth exceeding by 40 per cent the growth of chicks from unradiated eggs. State experimental stations in New Jersey and in Canada expect to push further experiments in the Hadley method this winter. Mr. Hadley himself holds basic patents, he says, on the only machine that can reduce the cost of X-raying eggs to a practical commercial basis, but he will not put the machine on the market until outside official experiments have substantiated his claims for X-rayed eggs. For the present, he is simply selling a limited number of chicks from eggs which have been X-rayed to stimulate growth.

Lesson BY DR. J. E. NUNN

FOR FEBRUARY 17, 1929

General Topic:—Prayer.
Scripture Lesson:—Matt. 6:5-13;
Luke 18:9-14.

Matt. 6:5. And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

6. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

7. But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9. After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

10. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven.

11. Give us this day our daily bread.

12. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

Luke 18:9. And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others:

10. Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

11. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

12. I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

13. And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

14. I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

Time:—The Lord's Prayer, a part of the Sermon on the Mount, was spoken in the second year of Christ's ministry, the midsummer of A. D. 28. The parable of the Pharisee and the publican was spoken near the close of Christ's ministry, in March A. D. 30.

Place:—The Mount of the Sermon was probably the Horns of Hattin southwest of Capernaum. Christ was in Peraea when he spoke the parable of the Pharisee and the publican.

Golden Text:—If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you.—John 15:7.

Introduction
In our last lesson we studied repentance and faith as conditions of salvation. We enter upon the Christian life by repenting of our sins and trusting in Jesus as Saviour and Lord. One of the greatest privileges of a child of God is the privilege of prayer. The Christian life is a life of prayer. So it is appropriate that we should next have a lesson on prayer.

Faith

Faith is the first condition of all access to God; the key that unlock the temple door; the wire connecting us with the unseen divine. Over and over again Jesus lays down this condition; and not for great, exceptional petitions only, but for all prayer. (cp., e.g., Matt. 21:21, 22). Prayer without faith is empty and meaningless. "Prayers are heard in heaven very much in proportion to our faith; little faith will get very great mercies but great faith will obtain still greater" (Spurgeon).

It must, however, be faith in a personal God, who has both power to do, and love that will do, for us. This is why Jesus made prayer a new force, gave it new meaning, with his revelation of God.

Adoration and Thanksgiving

The Model Prayer (the Lord's Prayer, Matt. 6:9-13) does not begin with a petition, but with an ascription of praise. Nehemiah acknowledges the fidelity and loving kindness of God in keeping covenant with his people in the past (1:5). All we are told of Daniel's prayer is that "he gave thanks, as he did aforetime" (6:10). It is a matter of common decency that before we go to asking of God, we should first thank him for benefits already received. Most men feel this; though some do not. There are, alas! "lips that say, God be merciful, that never say, God be praised."

Useless Prayer

Thought for other predominating. Study Jesus' prayer in John 17. Notice the recurrence there of the pronouns "they" and "them." "I pray for them!" In the Model Prayer it is "our" and "us," not my and me. If Abraham prayed persistently, it was for others, not himself. We have pointed out the absolute disregard of self in Moses' prayer (Exod. 32:31, 32). Nehemiah's prayer, also, is full of plurals: "I pray for the children of Israel—while I confess the sins of the children of Israel." Herein lies one of the values of the public prayer: it turns us away from the thought of self, broadens the field of our petition and our interests.

Preserving Prayer. Luke 18:1-8

The parable of the widow and the judge, is a picture of Eastern judicial corruption and of Oriental persistency and vehemence, especially shown by the women when they are wronged. The unrighteous judge avenged the woman because of her importunity; but God is a righteous Judge, his loving heart is ever open to our cry, and we may be sure that he will avenge the wrongs of his children when they are laid before him in their earnest petitions. The parable teaches perseverance in prayer.

The Pharisee and the Publican

Luke 18:9-14

Here we have a very instructive parable of Jesus on Prayer. He spoke this parable, not only about certain people, but to them. It was addressed to those who trusted in themselves that they were righteous and despised all others. They believed themselves righteous when they were not. Then they trusted in themselves rather than in God. No man can be truly righteous who trusts self rather than God. Besides, they despised all others. A self-righteous man is very apt to despise others. He looks to self as the source of his own righteousness, and since he knows that he has not given righteousness to others, he thinks they do not have any.

The Pharisee's Prayer. vs. 10-12

1. He stood and prayed with himself. Doubtless he stood in a conspicuous place where he would be observed.

2. The substance of his prayer was to thank God how good he was. He was not really praying. He was holding conversation with himself, possibly so that others could hear. Such men loved to make a show of their praying.

The Publican's Prayer. v. 13

1. His attitude shows his humility. He came to the temple, the place of prayer; but he stood "afar off," perhaps just getting inside the temple. He did not lift up his eyes. He smote on his breast.

2. He asked for mercy. He took the place of a sinner. He may have heard the Pharisee thanking God that he was not like this publican. And so he says: "Yes, Lord, I will take the sinner's place. I know it is mine, but have mercy on me."

3. Jesus says the publican went down to his house justified rather than the Pharisee.

Constant Prayer. 1 Thess. 5:17

"Pray without ceasing," Paul urged the Thessalonian Christians. Of course we are to do much besides pray, as Christ did, and as Paul did; and yet we are to pray incessantly. "Prayer," says Montgomery, "is the Christian's vital breath." "In God's sight a man's prayers are not the utterances of his lips, but the active endeavors of his will. The requests of his mouth matter little, the bent of his life counts for everything."

Daniel's Prayer Life

The secret of Daniel's greatness is his life of prayer. By keeping windows open toward Jerusalem he was enabled to see his life from the point of view. When his life, his eyes were open to his God.

Be it ordained by the city council of the city of Spearman, Hansford County, Texas:

Section One: The word "Grantee" shall denote C. D. Foote, his heirs and assigns, and the word "Grantor" shall denote the city of Spearman, Hansford County, Texas.

Section Two: That the city of Spearman, Hansford County, Texas, does hereby grant to the said grantee, his heirs and assigns, the right, privilege, and franchise to erect, construct, maintain, operate, use, extend, replace and repair, in, under, upon, over, across and along any and all of the present and future streets, squares, parks, lands and alleys owned or controlled by the grantor, and over and across any stream or streams, bridge or bridges, now or hereafter owned or controlled by it, a system or pipe lines and other desirable instrumentalities and appurtenances necessary or proper for the purpose of carrying, conducting, supplying, distributing and selling to the municipality and inhabitants of the city of Spearman, or other persons or person, firm or corporations, natural gas, manufactured gas, or a mixture of natural and manufactured gas, for light, power, heat, and for any other purpose for which gas may be used; and to carry, conduct, supply and distribute such gas by means of pipe lines and other instrumentalities, and to sell same to the municipality and inhabitants of the city of Spearman, or person or persons, firm or corporations.

Section Three: All such pipe lines and other instrumentalities shall be so laid as to interfere as little as possible with traffic over streets and alleys.

Section Four: The service furnished hereunder to said city and its inhabitants shall be first class in all respects, considering all circumstances, and shall be subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as the grantee, may from time to time enact. The maximum rate to be charged shall be seventy-five (75) cents per one thousand cubic feet of gas. The grantee shall have the right to reduce the rates when it shall be found expedient to do so. Grantee may require Ten (10) Dollars deposit on each meter as security for the payment of his bills. That all bills shall be due and payable monthly, and within ten days from date rendered and in case of default or non-payment within said time, the grantee shall have the right to discontinue service to said customer, and in case said customer shall make application to have services re-established and gas re-connected with his premises, he shall be required to pay all delinquent bills, and to pay a cut-on charge of $1.50. The grantee shall be allowed to make a minimum charge of two (2) dollars per month per meter.

Section Five: Grantee shall hold the grantor harmless for all expense or liability for any act or neglect of the grantee hereunder.

Section Six: The grantee herein agrees to commence active construction of the gas line leading to the City of Spearman on or before April 1st, 1929, and to complete said main line up to and into the city limits of Spearman on or before September 1st, 1929.

It is mutually agreed between the parties hereto that time is a material consideration in the execution of this agreement and that a failure on the part of the grantee to accept this ordinance within 90 days from the date of its passage as provided herein, or barring an act of providence, an act of war or the interference of a public enemy, a failure on the part of the grantee, his heirs, or assigns to begin actual construction of the gas line leading into the city of Spearman, on or before the first day of April, 1929, which work it is mutually agreed shall be evidenced by the filing of a plat with the city clerk of Spearman, setting forth the exact location of the well from which gas is to be produced, and also the survey of the pipe line leading from the gas well into the city of Spearman, upon which actual construction has begun, shall operate to make the revocation of this franchise optional with the grantor. Likewise a failure on the part of the grantee, his heirs or assigns, to pipe gas through its mains into the city of Spearman on or before September 1st, 1929, in sufficient quantities to meet required consumption shall be deemed sufficient cause for the revocation of said franchise.

Section Seven: This ordinance shall be in force and effective from and after its passage upon the filing of a written acceptance with the City Secretary by the grantee within ninety days after the final passage of this ordinance, and shall then become a binding contract and shall exist for a period of thirty years.

Passed and duly executed as an ordinance of the City of Spearman in accordance with the laws of the State of Texas and the charter of the said City of Spearman on this 1st day of February, A. D. 1929.

WINDOM BROTHERS STAR PLAYERS IN BASKETBALL

Cloyd and Clyde Windom were picked on the all-star teams at the Pampa basketball tournament last week. Cloyd was chosen as center on the all-stars, and Clyde as forward on the second team.

The all-star team consists of Bacus of Estelline and James of Pampa, forwards; Cloyd Windom of McLean, center; B. Sherwood of Rush Springs, Okla., and Walstead of Pampa, guards. These players received silver basketballs as trophies. The second team: Hannah of Borger and Clyde Windom of McLean, forwards; Sherwood of Rush Springs, center; Richborough of Estelline and Tarbett of Shamrock, guards.

Rush Springs won the tournament over Pampa as runner-up. McLean lost to Pampa with a score of 17 to 16, being one of the best games of the tournament.

The Pampa Daily News sports editor said in part, of the McLean game in Sunday's edition:

"McLean's team is an aggregation of brothers at guard, and the way they kept the locals tied up under the goal was painful to Pampa fans. Cloyd and Clyde Windom are forward and center, respectively and extraordinarily. Cloyd Windom was so good the Pampa fans held their breath every time he got the ball and started his flashing dribble. Without Don Salisbury on his heels he was a demon, but the Pampa guard spoiled many a scoring chance and came as near being responsible for the local win as did James, who threw the bulk of Pampa points."—McLean News.

Cloyd and Clyde Windom are sons of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Windom, well-known former residents of Spearman. Their many friends here are glad to know of their progress at school and athletics. When a high school boy is doing well in athletics he also is getting on with his school work. A lazy student can not make the home team of the average high school, and never gets a look-in on the "all-star" teams such as those selected at Pampa last week. Good luck to Cloyd and Clyde.

TWO UNPARDONED SINS TOWARD BROOD SOW

Farmers Do Not Give Their Sows Sufficient Protein Rations in Winter, Says Authority

Too many farmers do not allow the brood sow on winter ration enough protein, according to Dr. W. E. Carroll of the animal husbandry department of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

There are two great sins that the farmer may commit against the sow on winter ration, one being the lack of protein elements in her diet and the other neglecting to include in her ration some source of vitamin, states Dr. Carroll.

The sows that lack vitamin D is prevented from utilizing the lime in her ration. Sometimes posterior paralysis results, though frequently this disease occurs after the litter have been suckled. This trouble can be prevented by a liberal use of alfalfa hay or some other legume hay.

In the matter of the protein element the results are more serious. The sow, whose system is depleted of its supply of protein, will be handicapped in her supply of milk, which in return will reduce the gains made by the pigs. The pig-eating habit of sows is sometimes aggravated by this condition.

The sources of protein are suggested by Dr. Carroll; skimming and buttermilk; soybeans, if a simple mineral mixture is fed; tankage or a combination of tankage, linseed meal and alfalfa or some other legume hay.

A gallon of skim milk or buttermilk is the daily ration per head if this source is selected. If soy beans are used for the protein supplements in the ration, about three-fourths to one pound should be fed daily for each animal. When legume hay is not available, unthreshed soybeans may be used. If tankage or the tankage desired, they should be fed at the and linseed meal combination are rate of one-half to three-fourths of a pound each sow daily in addition to alfalfa or other legume hay in a rack.

Experiments show that the last named mixture of tankage, linseed meal and alfalfa is the most effective. The tankage and linseed meal serve to balance the roughage qualities in alfalfa hay.

THE LOCAL DOCTOR

Of all the follies to which human flesh is heir there is none more ridiculous than the belief that a commodity of service is better by virtue of the fact that it was secured in some other town.

This attitude not only injures the business interests of a community but reacts also to the disadvantage of the citizen who persists in sending their dollars out of town.

It is even causing a considerable amount of alarm in medical circles. "How long," it is being asked, "will small communities retain the services of good, general practitioners if their citizens persist in running to cities when the roads are good and calling the family doctor only in cases of emergency or when the roads are almost impassable?"

Why do they do it? It is hard for an intelligent man to answer this question. Everyone familiar with the practice of medicine knows that the city is the great haven of the quack and unethical practitioner. A poor doctor can exist indefinitely in a city where the public is not aware of his record. A poor doctor could not exist in a community like Spearman for a single year.

Furthermore, to treat most ailments successfully it is necessary for the physician to have some knowledge of the peculiarities of a patient. The sympathetic, friendly family doctor is the only one in possession of such information.

By all means rely on your local doctor—to assure for yourself the best medical treatment possible and to assure for the community the services of capable members of the medical profession. If your case is unusual, he will send you to a specialist, and being familiar with your case and knowing about the work of leaders in his profession, he will direct you to the right man. You are taking a chance when you follow a different course.

ADVERTISING IS NEWS

The Editor of the Reporter frequently hears complaints against the use of the radio for advertising purposes. People who are in a mood to listen to a concert or a speech are not pleased when they are forced to hear how a soap or cosmetic will preserve "that schoolgirl complexion."

Possibly some of these complainers are unreasonable. Perhaps they should realize that advertising enables the broadcasting station to present a delightful program without cost just as advertising enables the publisher to sell his newspaper at less than the value of the white paper on which it appears.

But public attitude cannot be ignored. Advertising that arouses resentment does not pay. The radio and the newspaper cannot be compared as advertising medium. With the former you are forced to listen. With the latter you can read wherever your interest directs your attention.

Advertising is or should be news—news having a commercial value. For this reason it belongs primarily in the newspaper.

THE JOURNEY OF TREE ROOTS

Some trees have tap roots that go straight down into the ground for distances as great as the length of their trunks about the ground. The tap root of an oak is of this sort. These trees feed far underground.

The water and mineral salts that they need are drawn from great depths. They get their food from near the surface. The pine is a good example of a tree that does this. When oak trees have grown on a piece of land for a long time they may have exhausted the soil at the greater depths at which they feed. If they were cut down and pines planted, an entirely different food supply near the surface would be used, and the pines might do well. Where pines have exhausted the surface soil, oaks on the other hand, might be planted and would thrive. It is the business of roots to go water hunting. A tree, for example, might stand ten feet from the edge of a pond. Its roots would develop to much greater size and length on the pond side than on the other side. Out in the desert country the mesquite tree grows. Its roots have a hard task in finding water. They often grow great distances under ground in search for it. They have been known to reach out for sixty feet toward a meager water supply. The Mexicans sometimes study these mesquite roots and the direction they are taking in search of water before they decide where they shall sink their wells. The business of the big roots near the base of the trees is largely to hold the tree in place. Anchoring a great tree with a leafy top thrown to the winds is no mean task. It is the hair roots near the tips of the bigger ones that suck up the water and the salts that the plant wants.

QUOTATION MARKS

I have always believed that most large fortunes are made by men of mediocre ability who tumbled into a lucky opportunity and could not help but get rich, and in most cases others given the same chance would have done far better with it. VERBAL STONES

One of the greatest forces of breaking hearts, ruining lives or business is Gossip. Gossip is one thing has nothing constructive in its make-up. Its mission is to destroy and tear is the purpose or intention of the one who indulges in it. It has caused kingdoms to fall or totter; it has ruined many homes. There is much to be said for the old saying, "Mind your own business," and without question it is true that most people could be kept busy attending personal affairs. Yet, ridiculous as it may seem, often times the ones to scatter gossip are unmindful of their own business. INEFFICIENCY

The Chicago milk strike and the graphic account of embattled farmers picketing highways and dumping loads of milk into ditches was worth a considerable amount of newspaper space in almost every metropolitan journal. Now that the controversy is being settled and the hullabaloo has died down, a few significant facts come to the attention of students of the agricultural problem.

The farmers in the Chicago area were receiving approximately five cents per quart. The distributors were taking nine cents more to this figure before delivering the milk at the consumer's door. The farmers say that they were not receiving enough, and demand about three-fourth of a cent more per quart. Unquestionably they are entitled to this increase. Most of them are operating on high priced land and have large investments in herds, buildings, and machinery. They are forced to comply with many regulations of the Department of Health of the City of Chicago, including the tuberculin test with its expenses and losses. When one considers the labor, feed, and investment required for market milk production, it seems unreasonable that the farmer should get only about one-third of the consumer's dollar.

But the distributor, too, has a defense. He argues that he is making nothing more than a legitimate margin of profit when his investment and operating costs are considered. Any increase in price to the producer must be passed along to the consumer, he maintains, and an increased price will mean decreased consumption.

Possibly this is true, but only because the business of distributing milk is handled along lines of the greatest imaginable inefficiency. Investigations show that six or more milk men from six or more distributing companies, call at a single apartment house in the course of a single day. This means waste that both consumer and producer must pay for.

We shall not attempt to offer a solution to this problem. Books have been written on the subject by men who are familiar with it in all of its intricate ramifications. We merely cite these facts because of their spread significance.

Milk is not the only farm product that is distributed by a cumbersome antiquated system. The big ones who seek to put agriculture on a more prosperous basis is the inefficiency that is proving to be a heavy tax on the resources of producer and consumer.

THE FIRST VALENTINE

He stood before his father As he twisted a cap in his hands, His eyes were on the toes of his shoes His throat seemed tight as bands.

It was hard for him to utter The words he had to say, But somehow he managed to stutter, "Dad, loan me a dollar today."

"Why do you need a dollar, son?" The knowing dad replied, He was smiling quietly above the boy Who's face was crimson dyed.

A pair of brown eyes lifted The lips with a smile were curled, "I need a dollar to buy, dad, A valentine for my girl."

POWER

Forced Feed Lubrication Makes Possible Hart Parr's Amazing Power Performance

Hart-Parr power, year after year the sensation of the tractor industry, is made possible by force-feed, fresh-oil lubrication, an exclusive Hart-Parr feature. Crankcase dilution, with its resulting burned out bearings, scored cylinders, and loss of time, money and patience, is practically impossible, since fresh oil is continually pumped under heavy pressure to all parts of the motor. This exclusive feature is your guarantee of power, fuel economy from low-grade fuels, and long life.

Power to do your farm work quickly, cheaply any time in rain or shine, heat or cold, that is what you buy in any tractor, but more so in a Hart-Parr.
