

Two Generals Suspended In Buying Probe

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—The Army suspended its quartermaster general and the chief of the chemical corps Saturday because of evidence in a Senate committee investigating alleged influence in Army contract awards.

Relieved of duty were: Major General Herman Feldman, 57, who enlisted as a private 42 years ago and rose to head the quartermaster section.

Midway Voters Reject School Consolidation

In a record turnout, Midway consolidated school district voters Saturday rejected consolidation with the Coahoma Independent School district.

Midway polled a total of 70 votes, considered a near capacity vote for the 47.5 square mile district in central-eastern Howard county.

Of this number 59 opposed consolidation, only 20 favored.

Coahoma, where school officials said petitions inviting Midway were circulated at request of some Midway patrons, consolidation was roundly favored, 30-2.

Midway's vote, of course, left the districts as they are.

Consolidation apparently lost ground among Midway voters after a petition was submitted to the commissioners court on June 20.

At that time there were 30 names on the petition. Coahoma had 41 signatures on the petition and fell short of that total in Saturday's voting.

The Midway district sustained loss of its school building, constructed 20 years ago, when a plane crashed into it on Jan. 9.

Sunday morning, school was resumed a week later in improvised quarters in the gymnasium.

Officials of the Midway district last week announced that they had plans in the making for a new school plant.

They said it likely would be constructed during the next school year. Midway had 121 scholars on the last census, Coahoma 347. Coahoma has 114,898 square miles in its district.

Major General Alden Harry Waitt, 56, who has served most of his 26 years in the Army as a chemical warfare specialist.

Secretary of the Army Gray said a Senate committee "has evidence which indicates that General Waitt improperly furnished personnel data to an individual not in the military service and who was not entitled to receive such data; and that General Feldman furnished to a contractor's representative procurement information under circumstances which appear irregular."

Gray said he was "not attempting to draw conclusions on the basis of an incomplete investigation" but that he had ordered the officers' release pending the outcome of a complete inquiry by the Army inspector general.

He said he acted because evidence "indicates that each officer had exhibited a lack of that judgment and sense of propriety which must be expected of persons in their position."

Waitt left the Pentagon saying he had no comment. Feldman, reached by telephone, also was silent.

The suspension order first was disclosed by Chairman Hoyer (D-NC) of the Senate expenditures subcommittee which has set out to find out about persons "who hold themselves out as peddlers of influence" in obtaining government contracts, with particular attention to large commissions.

The Senate probe was touched off by a story last month in the New York Herald Tribune about a contract James V. Hunt, a former officer in the quartermaster corps, had with Paul Grindle, a Framingham, Mass., furniture manufacturer.

Hunt denied ever trying to sell "influence." He said his services were an aid to small businessmen.

Both Feldman and Waitt were listed by Grindle as among those Hunt had mentioned as contacts in the Army.

DRESSING THE FRONT — Workers have been putting touches to the trim which will dress the front of the graceful Veterans Administration hospital here. The columns, towering for five stories, are broken by bright, heavyweight aluminum panels, immediately below the entrance is being finished in granite. Front doors will be glass with aluminum trim. The project now is more than 80 per cent complete. Inside masonry and plastering are being pressed, and construction is marked for the auxiliary structures. (Jack M. Haynes Photo)

TAFT BACKED IN FIGHT ON PACT

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—Nearly a dozen Senate Republicans seemed likely Saturday to vote with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) against the North Atlantic Pact Thursday.

Informal checks indicated more than two-thirds of the party's 43 members will support the treaty. They will be casting their lots with Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) in a foreign policy split between the two GOP leaders.

Senator Connally of Texas, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he doesn't think there will be more than 15 votes against the treaty. Ratification requires two-thirds.

Taft's decision last week to oppose the treaty because he said it can't be separated from the proposed $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program may have repercussions in 1950.

As a candidate for re-election, the Ohio senator is certain to be called upon to explain.

Of 12 Republicans up in next year's elections, only two others—Senators Donnell of Missouri and Young of North Dakota—have said they will vote against the treaty.

Taft has demonstrated he doesn't mind playing a lone hand. He has told friends he knows he will be attacked as an isolationist, despite his stand for extending the Monroe Doctrine to Europe as a substitute for the security alliance.

Taft's announcement that he intends to vote against the treaty jelled the fumbling Senate opposition.

Yvna Ruher, housekeeper for Mrs. Prichard, escaped with cuts and bruises, and Len Minter, Fort Worth, grandson of Mrs. Prichard, sustained only minor injuries.

Sheriff Bob Wolf and Highway Patrolman Red Williams said the collision occurred when Mrs. Coghurn lost control of her car on the brow of hill approaching the Ellis homes road. It struck a shoulder and careened into the Prichard car.

Minter was returning to town after taking his grandmother and her aide home after a short drive. Mr. and Mrs. Coghurn were enroute from Dallas to the west coast. E. J. Shank was a witness to the collision. Williams said the Coghurns were rushed in a Nalley ambulance for treatment, and the Prichards in an Eberley ambulance.

City Manager H. W. Whitney and Jack Cook, manager of the municipal airport and chairman of the chamber of commerce aviation committee, are to represent the city at the hearing tomorrow.

James H. Greene, manager of the chamber of commerce, and Cook are to present the views of that organization. Cook also represents the city.

H. G. Hassan, local Continental Air official, was to make the trip with the group. The hearing will possibly affect Pioneer, Continental, and American Air Lines' operations through this area.

Representatives to the CAB hearing are to be guests of the Austin chamber of commerce at a fish fry at Buchanan dam Monday night. A pre-hearing conference was scheduled in Austin today.

Cosden Corp. Stockholders Meet Monday

Annual meeting of stockholders of Cosden Petroleum Corporation is scheduled here Monday.

The meeting has been called for 11 a. m. in the general offices. A quorum for the meeting has been assured by proxies received.

Not many stockholders are expected to appear in person for the annual meeting this year.

Topping the list of business facing stockholders will be the election of a board of directors to serve until the next annual meeting.

Re-election of those now serving in that capacity is assured reasonably. They are B. H. Roth, James L. Carey, Leo M. O'Neill and Thomas I. Sheridan of New York City; Nelson Phillips, Jr., Dallas; Marvin M. Miller, A. V. Karcher and R. L. Tollett, Big Spring.

Immediately following adjournment of the stockholders meeting, a meeting of the board of directors will be convened. It was considered likely that the present officers would be re-elected.

These are R. L. Tollett, president; Marvin M. Miller and Douglas L. Orme, vice-presidents; A. V. Karcher, secretary and treasurer; V. A. Whittington and L. T. King, assistant secretaries and treasurers; Mrs. Alma C. Gollnick, assistant secretary; Nelson Phillips, Jr., general counsel and assistant secretary.

Local Officials To Big Spring Air Service Hearing At Austin

Three city and chamber of commerce representatives and a Continental Air Lines official were to have left this morning for Austin and the Civil Aeronautics Board hearing on air service through Big Spring.

City Manager H. W. Whitney and Jack Cook, manager of the municipal airport and chairman of the chamber of commerce aviation committee, are to represent the city at the hearing tomorrow.

James H. Greene, manager of the chamber of commerce, and Cook are to present the views of that organization. Cook also represents the city.

Shivers Is Sworn In As 36th Governor Of Texas

Port Arthurian Takes Oath At Old Homestead

Jester Lauded By Successor In Brief Acceptance Speech

WOODVILLE, July 16. (AP)—Allan Shivers of Port Arthur took the oath today as governor of Texas.

Shivers, tall, handsome, and 41, made a brief speech of acceptance. Then he kissed his pretty brunette wife, Marjorie.

He became the 36th individual governor in a 15-minute ceremony at Magnolia Hills, the 160-year-old Shivers family homestead near this little southeast Texas town. Here he spent his boyhood before he began his meteoric rise in Texas politics.

Shivers held his hand lightly on the 23rd Psalm as he took the oath of office in a clear crisp voice. It was read in phrases by District Judge Clyde E. Smith of Woodville.

Shivers opened the ceremony by reading the sixth verse of the fourth chapter of Philippians, an admonition to prayer that says: "Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be known unto God."

He finished his oath to uphold the constitution and laws of Texas and the nation, then made an eight-minute acceptance address.

Grouped about the new governor on the small platform, east of the Shivers farm home were his wife and family; his mother, Mrs. Robert A. Shivers of Port Arthur; his children, Shary, 9, Allan, Jr., 3, and Marjorie, 7; Mrs. Shivers' mother, Mrs. John Shary of Sharyland; and his sister, Mrs. James L. Wilson of Dallas.

It was 8:48 a.m. (NST) when Shivers lowered his hand to end the oath taking. This is not required by law, but is purely a custom. Low clouds brushed the tall pine trees in the valley across the small lake near Magnolia Hills, but the rain held off. A lightning bolt briefly jammed one of the radio wires.

Shivers paid a warm tribute to Beauford H. Jester, the man whose death last Monday moved him into the governorship.

Jester, he said, was a truly great leader, a man whose life left many remnants of "good will and good deeds." He pledged himself to carry out Jester's humanitarian projects with little interruption.

Jester died Monday in a sleeping car between Austin and Houston. Shivers' career has been spectacular. Sixteen years ago he was selling shoes in Austin to help pay his way through law school.

After graduation, he was elected state senator at 28, the youngest man elected to that office. He

1,885 Shares Of City Centennial Stock Are Sold

The Big Spring Centennial Association had reached almost one-fifth of its financial goal Saturday when weekend reports on an intensive stock certificate sales campaign were tabulated.

Exactly 1,885 shares of stock had been sold at $1 per share when Centennial headquarters closed for the weekend at 4 p. m. Bulk of the early sales reports came from teams who launched a campaign Thursday morning.

Several teams were still in the field late Saturday, however, and a number of booths operated by members of women organizations in the business district were still open Saturday night.

Members of teams who started making personal calls at business establishments Thursday reported good response, and they expected certificate sales to expand as the number of calls multiplied. Many local residents are purchasing the certificates in line with suggestions made by the association—that is, a certificate for each member of the family.

The association hopes to dispose of 10,000 certificates, which would provide capital required for launching a one-week celebration beginning Oct. 2.

Certificate sales will continue during the coming week. Meanwhile, other centennial plans were moving forward. Various committees were prepared to swing into full-scale operation as wide-spread arrangements for the spring's big birthday party. The stage was set for accelerated action during a series of conferences with sub-units of the organization conducted by Bob Whipkey, executive chairman of the association.

Czech Reds Move To Crush Church

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 16. (AP)—Czech Communist Party manifesto called Saturday for liquidation of "our greatest enemy, the church."

The manifesto came on the heels of a statement by Justice Minister Alexie Cepicka that anyone who moves to put into effect the communication of Communists decreed by the Vatican will be arrested and tried for treason.

A Vatican instrument said communication requires no confession, that it acts upon the conscience of the guilty in the secrecy of their own consciences.

The party manifesto declared it was imperative to "liquidate the enemy" in order to complete the communication of the country. This, it said did not mean liquidating the Roman Catholic Church entirely, but did mean liquidation of church order. At another point the manifesto spoke of liquidating "the church question."

It said this move to crush church authority was especially necessary because of the hierarchy's hold on the peasantry, which must be broken to make way for the collectivization of farms.

It called for the building of a wall between the bishops and the people. It urged a campaign to turn the people against the Catholic primals, Archbishop Josef Beran, now a semi-captive of the government.

In a fiery speech Friday Cepicka blasted Archbishop Beran as a traitor and announced that a law had been drafted to take control of the church.

The Justice minister is listed as a Catholic.

BIG SPRING TO FLOW AGAIN BY COURTESY OF TEXAS & PACIFIC

Discovery of a new "vein" of water sufficient to produce a surge at the "big spring" was announced Saturday.

The discovery process did not involve any witchcraft, voodooism or other supernatural endeavor. An ordinary letter from the Texas and Pacific railroad did the trick.

Apparently the railroad people knew where it was all along, and it will be a comparatively simple operation to re-route the vein into the bed of the spring for a brief period—during centennial week, to be exact.

Seriously, T&P has granted the Centennial Association permission to tap a water line located only a few feet from the spring. The line, which connects some railroad wells with a reservoir, will furnish water to make the spring flow during the big birthday celebration scheduled for the first week in October.

Permission to tap the railroad water line was granted in a letter from L. C. Porter, T&P vice-president, addressed to City Manager H. W. Whitney. The city manager had inquired about the possibility of such an arrangement at the request of D. M. McKinney, who heads the Centennial Association committee that is handling arrangements for preparing the spring for its birthday party.

Old Settlers To Stage '49 Reunion In October

Howard county old settlers will stage their 1949 reunion in October, during the Big Spring Centennial. Announcement of the change in schedule has been made by Don Bohannon, president of the Old Settlers Association. Ordinarily, the reunion is held in August; but Bohannon pointed out that the '49 affair will be one of the major features of Centennial Homecoming Day on October 2.

"Since this is a special occasion, we are counting on the 1949 reunion being our best ever," said Bohannon. In this connection, he urged all citizens to assist in compiling a list of former Howard countyans, so that these may be sent special Centennial invitations. Names and addresses of those former residents may be phoned to Centennial headquarters, No. 2900, or the coupon below may be used:

FORMER RESIDENTS (Clip and mail to Centennial Assn., Box 1291, Big Spring.) (Please print names and addresses plainly, in pencil.) Following are names and addresses of former residents who would be interested in receiving a Centennial invitation:

WEBBS HELD AT SEYMOUR

Charge Violinist, Wife With Forgery

Charges of forgery have been lodged with Justice of the Peace W. O. Leonard against Arthur C. Webb and Mrs. Arthur C. Webb, Abilene concert violinist and wife, charged with similar offenses in about 15 Texas cities.

Sheriff Bob Wolf said that each of the couple had passed worthless checks on Big Spring Piggy Wiggly store. One of the checks for $14, the other for $25.

The Webbs are being held at Seymour on forgery complaints after being arrested in Cisco Thursday. They were transferred to Seymour by the Baylor county sheriff and a Texas Ranger. The couple was apprehended after a Seymour resident, who allegedly had been victimized with a bad check, had taken the license number of the car which was claimed to be the one driven by the Webbs.

Webb, known professionally as Todd Webb, concert violinist, was carrying a portfolio of clippings about his concert and radio career when arrested. He went to Abilene about a year ago from Hollywood, California.

Arrest of the two followed months of detective work by State Department of Public Safety officials and a number of Texas sheriffs who have been eking the couple wanted in some 15 towns on about 30 felony charges. Most of the checks in question were made for $30 and different signatures were used in each case.

The Webbs will be questioned in connection with offenses at Brownwood, Haskell, Plainview, Corpus Christi, Borger, San Antonio, Rusk, Nacogdoches, San Angelo, Lubbock, Waxahachie, and Coleman, the Seymour sheriff, Lott Keefer, said.

First voter under the new procedure, which Big Spring citizens experienced for the first time last week, was C. S. Blomsheld. He cast the first absentee ballot. It is clear that equal emphasis will be placed henceforth on holding on to as well as paying poll taxes

Bid On School Building Thursday

Bidding on the construction of additional classroom buildings for the Big Spring elementary school system will be held in the school tax office at 3 p. m. Thursday.

Contracts will be let for the construction of additions to two present school buildings and the erection of a completely new structure at another. Eight classrooms will be added to the College Heights school, two will be built onto the North Ward plant, while a new six-classroom building will be constructed at the Kate Morrison school.

Plans for the additions to the educational plant were approved by school officials June 27. Puckett & French, architectural and engineering firm of Big Spring, designed all three projects.

Outside of the structures will be in keeping with the design of present school buildings. Interiors will be altered to include fluorescent lighting, acoustical ceiling, asphalt tile floors in classrooms and terrazzo floors in the corridors.

General contractors who have indicated intentions to bid on the construction work include Dunlap Construction company, Abilene; Gilstrap Construction company, Lubbock; Suggs Construction, Big Spring; G. A. Jones Construction, Lamesa; Houston Hill, Midland; J. D. Jones, Big Spring; Templeton-Cannon, San Angelo.

B. F. Horn, Abilene; B. F. King, Kermit; Frank Daugherty, Hobbs, New Mexico; and E. M. Lambert and Son, Abilene.

Electrical contractors to bid on the job are the General Electric Supply corporation, Lubbock; D & H Electric, Abilene; Petty Electric, Big Spring; Abilene Service

Opera Troupe In Brief Halt Here

For all their rattle talk, members of the Grand Ole Opry are air minded. The entire troupe, aboard a chartered Capital Air Lines DC-3, put into the Munny port Friday for an hour and a half stop.

SHIVERS

Shivers is undetected politically. He has actively managed the huge Shivers enterprise in the lower Rio Grande Valley. He married Mariette Shivers of Sharyland, near Mission, in 1937.

The governor said the time was too near the tragedy of Jester's sudden death to "speak of policies and politics." He only touched on his general ideas of government.

Those who instituted a free government in this state and country were basically the same as those who are here today—those who were my father's neighbors when he was a boy, and those who are my neighbors now. Theirs, and ours, is a government in which the citizen is master.

And consequently, the government belongs to the people. Our people will not tolerate any government which destroys the freedom of the individual and enslaves the people, physically, morally, and economically.

As I accept the governorship of the great state of Texas, I do so humbly asking for divine guidance and your prayers and prayers.

Flanking the pine platform was an honor guard of Woodville war veterans. Across the front was a detail of national guardsmen from Beaumont.

Seated nearby was an official delegation from the Alabama-Coushatta Indian reservation in full head-dress: Chief Bronson Cooper Sylvestre; Second Chief Fulton Balfour; Frank Sylvestre and Billie M. Sylvestre.

Most of the crowd stood under the peach and chinaberry trees on the lawn sloping to the lake. Some who wanted to see the ceremony didn't make it; cars were still crawling along the narrow sand lan from the highway after the program was over.

The crowd surged in the platform after Shivers greeted his family and friends. An eager photographer knocked over a big vase of gladiolus. The back-slapping and handshaking went on until noon.

Then the people of Tyler County served a basket lunch for everybody, including the new governor. The induction scene was an elaborate pine log home in a grove of towering pines seven miles from here. The Shivers family spends the summers here.

It was 103 years ago that Mrs. Elizabeth Shivers brought her three daughters and a son to Texas from Mississippi to establish a new home in Tyler County, Texas, new governor—the sixth individual to hold the job—is her great-grandson.

Shivers was born at Lufkin Oct. 5, 1907. His family moved to Woodville when he was about a year old.

As a boy he worked and played in the pine and magnolia woods of Tyler County surrounding the old family home. The new home is built around remnants of the old place.

It is an elaborately-improved showplace now, complete with a swimming pool and other extras not native to the piney woods.

West Texas polo epidemic easing. By The Associated Press. The polo epidemic in West Texas is losing its punch. San Angelo, which has received patients from a great area, Saturday reported it has only 54 cases now under treatment. This is the lowest figure since early June.

San Angelo said nine patients had been dismissed and only one new case, a local adult, had been admitted for treatment. The rate of increase in new cases in the San Angelo area has slowed measurably in the last few weeks. The San Angelo-Tom Green County Health Unit reported that during the week ending Friday, only 11 cases of county origin were admitted. Of these, seven were adults and four were children. This was the lowest number of local cases for a week since May 28.

Senators Urge New Money Cuts

WASHINGTON, July 16, U.P.—Some senators called Saturday for even deeper cuts in the giant military spending program on the heels of a $1,010,000,000 Appropriations Committee slash.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) told a reporter the committee's pruning was not deep enough and promised to ask the Senate to increase it around $21 million later.

Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.), who led the Senate committee's drive in the committee, opposed Ferguson's plans but had one of his own to save another $600 million.

Senators all agreed that the $1,010,000,000 cutback put the military budget below a $15,900,000,000 total approved by the House April 13.

Most of the Senate committee's reduction—some $700 million—applied to the Air Force.

After making that reduction the Senate committee boosted House figures for a number of other items—and then wrote in a directive to Secretary of Defense Johnson to cut $433 million from the higher total.

The net result, and center of a sizzling controversy, was the overall cut of $1,010,000,000.

Thomas explained his idea of cutting another $600 million in defense costs would be through reduction of $335 million funds for stockpiling strategic and critical materials.

County Lagging In Bond Sales; May Not Reach Quota. Howard county stood on the verge Saturday of falling short of its Opportunity Bond campaign quota.

Available totals Saturday showed $132,015 in E bonds during the special drive. This is 75 per cent of the $178,000 quota assigned the county.

Ira L. Thurman, county bond chairman, reminded that the drive was to continue through Monday. He urged last-minute purchases. All bond sales agencies are asked by state headquarters to communicate totals as promptly as possible.

Mayor Hopes To Keep Bus Strike Within Bounds

MEXICO CITY, July 16, U.P.—Mayor William O'Dwyer is returning to New York, hoping to prevent the bus strike there from spreading.

David Martin, president of the New York Athletic Club, and the mayor's police aide, Joseph Boyle, go with him.

This cancels the vacation part of the mayor's proposed week here. He arrived Friday to return the 1947 New York call of President Miguel Aleman. He visited the Archbishop, Dr. Luis Maria Martinez, went from one welcoming ceremony to another, and was so tired he begged off on some strenuous Mexican hospitality planned for Saturday.

The mayor curtailed his trip to see the $23 million Lerma water tunnel, still incomplete after seven years, until after tomorrow.

On his return from Lerma late Saturday, the mayor called at "Los Pinos," the presidential residence, to say goodbye to Aleman and explain why he is cutting short his week's visit to Mexico on the second day.

86 New Delinquent Tax Suits Filed In City Saturday

Delinquent tax suits against 86 property owners of Big Spring and Howard county were filed in 70th district court here Saturday by the Big Spring Independent School district and the City of Big Spring.

The suits, registered Saturday with District Clerk George C. Choate by George Thomas, attorney acting for the schools and the municipality, bring to 128 the number of property holders who will have been brought into court on such claims.

Of the parties involved, 45 are being sued by the schools exclusively. Another half dozen are allegedly in arrears in payments of city assessments while the remainder are accused of having delinquent taxes with both the city and the schools.

The amounts sought by the plaintiffs range from 25 cents plus interest in one instance to several hundred dollars.

Persons facing suit by the schools include: Gregoria Parades, M. F. Hernandez, Lucas Gonzales, M. A. Jabor (2), Jose B. Fierro, Jesus Montes, Leon Lamban, Gregorio Dunn, Leon Lubi, Julian Moncayo, C. A. Miller, P. R. Luce, J. E. Payne, Noble Kennermer, Felix Terrazas and J. P. Zant.

YMCA Directors Meet Postponed

Regular monthly meeting of the board of directors for the YMCA has been postponed.

Walter Reed, president, said that there was no pressing business on the agenda at the moment and that the meeting might be reset for later in the month.

Meanwhile, Lee Milling, executive secretary, said that activities, quarters over the Wacker's store were being suspended. The building is being remodeled and in time the Y will be obliged to vacate. That is one reason for the urgent note sounded for its permanent home campaign.

Local Man Wounded In Shooting Affray

Catrin Vega suffered a bullet wound in the arm Saturday night as the result of a shooting affray in front of the Texana Bar on N. Lancaster.

Sheriff's department and city police were looking for T. Parres in connection with the shooting. Joe and Migill Garcia were also involved in the disturbance, officers said.

Will Pass Meeting

The July meeting of the executive board of the Friends of the Howard County Free Library association will be passed, Lee Milling, president, announced that the next meeting date would be August 16.

El Paso Youth Cleared In Death

PRESTONBURG, Ky., July 16, U.P.—Donald Horn was released Saturday—cleared of any connection with the death of Muriel Baldrige, Prestonburg high school cheer leader.

Mrs. Baldrige, 17, was beaten to death the night of June 27. Her body was found the next day. Horn was returned here by plane from El Paso Thursday.

Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn announced it was established definitely that the 20-year-old Horn left the city for Texas several hours before Muriel was last seen alive.

Red Trial Becomes Test Of Endurance. NEW ORK, July 16, U.P.—The government's trial of 11 top American Communists—six months old Saturday—begins as a war of nerves but has settled down into a test of endurance.

The argument-tossed trial began Jan. 17. It would take a bold prophet to predict when it will end. Graying droopy, mustached Judge Harold R. Medina seems more confident he has a firm grasp on the trial reins.

Recently he told the clamorous defense lawyers that early in the trial they had "nearly put me out of business" with constant "jumping up and down, badgering me, and calling me names." But much of the fire has gone out of the clamor in the face of a twin-barreled attack by the judge. He has jailed four defendants for contempt, three for the duration of the trial. He has sharply warned the de-

Fourth-Round Pay Hike Recommended

LAREDO, July 16, U.P.—A small fourth-round wage increase was urged Saturday by John Ben Shepperd, former national Junior Chamber of Commerce president. He said it would head off a major depression.

Shepperd, a Gladewater attorney, addressed the Laredo Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In return for a wage increase, Shepperd said, labor should be asked "to stop production slow-downs and featherbedding so that production can be increased and prices stabilized."

"After all," he said, "80 per cent of consumers' goods are purchased by labor, and they would directly benefit from higher production at lower unit costs."

The combination of a wage increase and higher production was the first of "five commandments" which Shepperd addressed to businessmen. The others:

1. "Co-operate more fully with the Latin American countries in development of the western hemisphere's natural resources so that we will be able to operate together in an atmosphere of freedom and progress."

2. "Co-operate more fully with individual investments instead of government investment."

3. "Bring more young men into government and industry with their young, fertile ideas so that our country's development can be assured along more economical business lines."

4. "Urge all citizens to set an example which will make democracy an attractive that the other countries in the world will want to buy it. If citizens will take a more active interest in good government, it will not be necessary for us to sell democracy."

In urging more young men in government and industry, Shepperd said "the most prosperous section of the world is developing in the south-Gulf area of Texas, and its future progress lies in the leadership of the young men in government, industry, and finance."

Bagpipes were used by the ancient Romans. The Emperor Nero played one.

FULL FLEDGED BONANZA?

Caribbean Countries Look For Growing Tourist Throng

By JAMES F. FOWLER
 MIAMI, July 16. (AP) — It isn't exactly a boom, but there's a rumble of activity in the Caribbean area that has been growing ever louder for several years which threatens to become a full fledged bonanza.

From Cuba to Trinidad there is a rash of hotel building designed to meet an ever increasing demand for tourist accommodations on the picturesque tropical islands that make up the Caribbean chain.

Cause of the junior-sized boom is twofold: holiday-bound north Americans are finding the lazy, colorful islands a pleasant and inexpensive vacation-land—a complete change of scenery and pace well within a moderate vacation budget.

And the almost desperate need by all Caribbean countries for North American greenbacks. Because of the acute dollar shortage, an all-out effort is being made to promote the Caribbean's tourist industry on a year-round basis.

In Haiti, for example, the national budget barely exceeds $10 million American dollars. An influx of several thousand tourists could have a far-reaching effect in the entire country's economy.

The principal link between the Caribbean and the United States is Pan American World Airways. Any one of the Caribbean countries can be reached from the United States in a matter of hours.

To promote Caribbean travel and to take up normal summer slack, the airlines this summer is offering excursion fares which average about 30 per cent less than normal rates. The excursion tickets are good for 60 days and will continue until Sept. 30. In addition, the airline is offering several "packaged" tours which include visits to a half-dozen or more Caribbean countries on an all-inclusive ticket.

Last year Pan American flew 237,754 U. S. citizens to Latin America—exclusive of Mexico—as compared to 187,370 Americans who flew to Europe. Already this year the airline reports a 10 to 15 per cent increase in air travel—with the lion's share of the increase in the Caribbean area.

American businessmen primarily are responding for the rash of new hotel construction. In the last year nearly a dozen luxury hotels have been completed or facilities expanded.

Largest enterprise designed to lure North American travelers is being built in Pogn at Prince. A 50-acre tract of swampland is being converted into a $4 million exhibition site for Haiti's 200th anniversary. It will have 56 exhibition buildings. The bicentennial celebration is scheduled to open in December and continue six months.

To meet the anticipated demand for accommodations several other hotel projects are under construction. The largest is the Roosevelt, being built by American dollars, which will accommodate 60, have a gambling casino, fresh water pool and feature French cuisine.

More hotels have remained open this summer than any previous year. Prices have been sharply reduced—as much as 50 per cent in some places—as an added attraction. A North American traveler can find pleasant and comfortable accommodations for $18 a day American plan. In Cuba, Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico, and Trinidad prices range from $4 to $7.50 on prices range from $4 to $7.50 on the European plan.

Certificates have been awarded 35 sales persons from Big Spring businesses who completed selling courses offered by the University of Texas and the State Board of Education.

Presentation of certificates was made by Lucille Dunn, instructor of the classes which were sponsored here by the chamber of commerce. Instruction was offered in selling hardlines, including hardware, auto accessories, and similar goods, and selling soft lines such as clothing and shoes.

Awarded certificates for completion of the softlines course were Mary Adams, Lou Brewer, Lois Cox, Aurora Etheridge, Evie Eastham, Tommie J. Elliott, Ruth Olsen, Iona Phillips, Nilla Richbourg, Pauline Russell, Bill Sneed, Helen Underwood, and George D. Weeks.

Hardlines certificates went to Joanne Atkins, Richard L. Coubler, Kile Cole, Bob Flowers, Hollis Hall, Claude Hines, Josephine Hernandez, J. T. Isbell, George B. Jones, J. B. Lamb, Mrs. Olie Lane, C. E. Marstard, Mary Parker, J. W. Randsdorf, La Verne Rogers, H. B. Staland, Vernon Stelle, Watson Welch, Mrs. Watson Welch, Everett Wegman, Mamie Lee Wilson, and Lois Carpenter.

Certificates had previously been given 20 local store owners and business managers for completion of a course in How To Manage Personnel. Miss Dunn will start a similar series of classes in Brownfield next week.

It's always a "Breeze" to a Roadmaster!

SHUCK off that coat, good air—and loosen that tie. Call to mind the coolest, pleasantest spot within a couple of hundred miles—and let's go find comfort.

Here's the big broad seat that will carry you there in sofa-like ease. At your toe is the treadle that brings to life 150 eager Fireball horsepower.

In your hand is a wheel, neat and tidy, friendly and obedient. And under it the Dynaflow lever that's key to a whole new experience.

Set it once—and you can forget it. Until you park or back up, you won't need to touch it again. Find a comfortable spot for your clutch-foot too—that's just going along for the ride—and smoothly feed gas.

No jar, no jerk, no sudden lurch. Just one smooth crescendo of power, soft and silky and forever free of direct-gear harshness!

Traffic slides by, no longer a headache. Open roads spread their welcome, tall hills bow meekly to the power at your command. Cares fall away with the dust-clouds of your going, and you've forgotten the world and the weather.

You know now why scores of thousands wouldn't be without the sweet luxury of Dynaflow Drive—or the velvet power of ROADMASTER. You know why the Buick ride sets the standard for the industry—above all, why Buick's the buy.

For it isn't just what the price tags say nor what a demonstration shows that makes Buick such a satisfying investment.

It's in the way a car grows on you when it's planned to please in many ways, and not just through a single feature.

A. F. Whitney, Railroad Union Head, Succumbs To Heart Attack

CLEVELAND, July 16. (AP) — Alexander Fell Whitney, 78, fiery labor leader who was the friend and sometimes bitter opponent of United States Presidents, died at his home early today of a heart attack.

The peppery president of the 215,000-man Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen was stricken after spending a full day at his office and an evening with friends.

His wife, Dorothy Mae Whitney, said she heard him call out that he was not feeling well early this morning. She telephoned for help, returned to his side and found him dead.

Outspoken for the policies of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, Whitney served on several national committees, including the one which guided the annual President's birthday balls for infantile paralysis victims. He also served on the seven-member United States delegation to the Inter-American Peace Conference at Buenos Aires in 1936.

It was in recent years in relations with President Truman, however, that Whitney came into breakfast table view of the American public.

The crippling railway strike of May, 1946, was in full swing. All but 100 of 17,500 of the nation's scheduled passenger trains and 240 of 24,000 freight trains were out of operation for a 48-hour period.

President Truman called Whitney and Alvin J. Johnston, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, to the White House.

The labor chiefs called their men back to work, but soon after Whitney shouted "double cross."

He said they were induced by the President to postpone the strike for five days on the promise an agreement would be forthcoming from railroad management.

Instead, he said, the brotherhood officials were given the run-around. President Truman asked Congress for an automatic draft for striking railroaders.

Whitney soon after announced plans to use the $47 million brotherhood treasury to defeat Truman in the election of 1948.

A reconciliation between the labor leader and the President followed, however.

The men shook hands, agreed they were both hotheaded, and went to work together. In 1948, Whitney was labor's outstanding supporter of the President in the re-election campaign.

Acutely intelligent and well read, Whitney was the son of Methodist minister. He was raised in Cedar Falls, Iowa, and went to work as a "candy butcher" on the Illinois Central Railroad there in the late 80s.

Whitney was a political liberal who jumped from party to party to side with men with his ideals. From 1908 to 1932, he sided with Theodore Roosevelt, Republican, Roosevelt as a "Bull Moose," Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, Robert M. LaFollette, Progressive, Herbert Hoover, Republican and Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democrat.

A. F. WHITNEY

Besides his wife, Whitney is survived by two sons and a daughter.

Secretary-Treasurer W. P. Kennedy said the brotherhood's constitution specifies that the board of directors shall name a successor to Whitney within 30 days.

In the interim, assistant President D. A. MacKenzie of Cleveland will be in charge of the union's affairs.

Kai-Shek Heads Policy Board

CANTON, China, July 16. (AP) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek took over leadership of Nationalist China's top policy board today.

He was formally named by the Kuomintang (Nationalist Party) center political council and central executive committee to head the new 12-man emergency council.

The emergency council is virtually a supreme war cabinet. It was created as part of the Nationalist effort toward a hoped-for comeback against the Communists. Chiang declared two days ago he would fight on until victory.

The generalissimo retired as president of China in January. But he has remained the top leader of Nationalist China. His visit here—the provisional Nationalist capital—has injected new life into the Kuomintang cause.

POLE-SITTER SEEKS HOME

REVERE, Mass., July 16. (AP)—The wife of a steeplejack began her third day atop a 50-foot telegraph pole today in an effort to draw an offer for an apartment. Mrs. Jean Ellis took up residence Thursday in a tarpaulin-covered platform on the pole top. She said she will stay there until the steeplejack brings an offer for a suitable home for her, her husband and four-year-old daughter. Tacked to the pole is a sign saying: "I am protesting the housing shortage."

HIS WAS 'QUICK JUSTICE' CASE

After 17 Years Behind Bars, Freedom Means Staying Home

By EDWARD PRIZER

DETROIT. — Hour After hour these hot summer nights Rene De Meerleer lounges on the steps of his eastside Detroit home. Friends—many he hardly recognizes any more—pass by. They ask him, "Rene, why don't you come to the show?" Or "Rene, drop over to our place for a party."

ENJOYS FREEDOM—Rene De Meerleer, right, likes to sit on the steps of his Detroit home after spending 17 years in prison. He's chatting with his brother Albert. In 1932, Rene, then 17, and a companion shot a filling station attendant. He was arrested and tried, convicted and sentenced in a single day. He wasn't given a lawyer. Then began his long fight for freedom. He became known throughout the nation as Michigan's "original quick justice victim."

Meerleer. He had only a seventh-grade education when he entered prison. "I went to work in the library," he says. "Lots of time to myself. I started reading everything. Sopped it up like a blotter. Many of the prisoners read. It gave us things to discuss."

In those years he worked in the bakery, power house, dining room in the offices, and on the prison paper. He took up comm'r 'al art, mathematics, radio. He played football and baseball. After an eye injury on the gridiron, he became football coach.

It was in 1940 that the thing he calls the greatest event in his prison life happened. A priest—Fr. Charles G. Stouter, now of Emmitsburg, Md.—entered his cell. "He was humility itself," Rene says. "The ideal man. He helped me back to faith."

Talking with the priest restored Rene's hopes. He began studying law, poring hour after hour over involved books and cases. Finally, in 1944, he launched his famous legal battle. The Supreme Court rendered its historic unanimous decision in his favor on Feb. 3, 1947.

Now that Rene is home, his father and mother, both Belgian immigrants, can't find enough to do for him.

"For those 17 years," Mrs. De Meerleer says, "I never got out but to work and church. I just prayed and cried and prayed and cried."

Once, during the Depression, Alphonse De Meerleer walked several hundred miles to visit his son in prison.

Rene has a job making doors at a lumber company at $70 a week. He thinks he may possibly go into television later.

"All I really want," he says, "is my own home, a wife, and a good job—not too much money. I've learned to enjoy the little things we have with us all the time."

How did he feel on getting out? "Well, I can sympathize with the Republicans," he says. "They've been put away as long as I was. But no, tell them this; tell them it was like Dante felt when he first saw Paradise."

"Detroit has grown since Rene left, but his neighborhood hasn't changed much. However, Rene is surprised at the shallowness of thinking among people in the outside world."

LEARNS TO LISTEN "I could talk about serious things with guys in prison. I learned to hear an opinion, discuss it, have something of my own to put up to balance it."

Has he become adjusted to living at home? "Well, pretty much. My first night back, I couldn't get much sleep. So different to lie in bed with new sounds—automobiles and streetcars, and the leaves, and the wind—like now."

"The first morning I got up early and went down to the pantry. I looked at all that food. It was funny. I didn't have the appetite I thought I did."

The appetite's back now. His weight has jumped from 159 to 176 pounds. Still, the novelty clings. Rene says he had wanted above all else to see the Detroit Tigers play baseball but he hasn't gone yet. It would be time away from home. He hasn't even bothered to read, although he has bought magazines—about homes and gardens.

That brought up the inevitable question about his future. His face lit up. He leaned forward and asked eagerly: "Well, do you know any single girls?"

Texas Lions In Big Town To Attend Meeting

NEW YORK, July 16. (AP)—Lions Club members from Texas, clad in cowboy outfits, arrived here today to attend the 32nd annual convention of Lions International after a tour which carried them into Canada.

The 112 Texas delegates arrived on a special train from Boston. They had left Texas last Sunday. They will be joined by 1,500 other Texans who will attend the convention which opens tomorrow.

Their tour took them to St. Louis, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, then to Portland, Me., and Boston.

"The hospitality of the Canadian people was one of the finest things we encountered on our trip," said Mariow Fisher, of Austin, state secretary of the Lions. "This international spirit was equalled only by the kindness shown us by Lions clubs which entertained us all along the trip."

Upon arrival, the Texans went to their convention headquarters in the Hotel New Yorker and many gathered together for breakfast. In the midst of the meal, one Texan sang "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You." Every Texan immediately stood. At the conclusion of the song one delegate fired a round from his toy six shooter.

Among the members of the delegation were Reagan Smith, of Conroe, district governor of 2-3-2 in the Houston area; Pat Jackson, of Nacogdoches, district governor of 2-5-1 in the Beaumont area; and A. R. Harrison, of Victoria, district governor-elect of 2-5-2.

The group will start the homeward trip Thursday night, spending Friday in Washington, Saturday touring the Great Smoky Mountains and Sunday in New Orleans. They will arrive in Fort Worth a week from Monday.

$1,106 Judgment Awarded Scott In Truck Case

Judgment in the amount of $1,106.23 was awarded by Judge Paul Moss in 70th district court this morning to Robert J. Scott in his damage suit against the Lone Star Chevrolet company, instigated in April.

The defendant gave notice of appeal to the Eleventh Supreme Judicial district in Eastland.

Scott had claimed he was overcharged for repairs and storage of a truck, which the jury had found to be "reasonable and customary."

The plaintiff had further alleged, however, that he was damaged to the extent of the aforementioned figure when the truck was withheld from his use for failure to pay the fee levied by the defendant, an allegation confirmed by the jury.

Seek Peace In Dock Walkout

LONDON, July 16. (AP)—Britain's labor government called in leaders of two waterfront unions today to try and end London's 20-day-old dock strike.

There was some optimism that an agreement might be reached to get the 14,638 idle stevedores back to work this weekend.

More than 6,000 British troops are at work on 50 to 60 of the 170 ships now tied up along the miles of London docks. Ninety one ships are idle. Others are being worked by the 10,000 union dockers still on the job.

"I could talk about serious things with guys in prison. I learned to hear an opinion, discuss it, have something of my own to put up to balance it."

Has he become adjusted to living at home? "Well, pretty much. My first night back, I couldn't get much sleep. So different to lie in bed with new sounds—automobiles and streetcars, and the leaves, and the wind—like now."

Texas Farm Bureau Institute Set At A&M July 24-29

Howard County Farm Bureau members will have an opportunity to become better acquainted with their organization at a Texas Farm Bureau Institute scheduled at Texas A&M College for July 24-29.

Dale Puckett, local president, announced Saturday. Since this is the first year for training workers in the Farm Bureau Institute, the curriculum is confined to four basic subjects, Puckett said. Included are philosophy and policies of the Farm Bureau, salesmanship, public speaking, and membership acquisition and maintenance. Registration will begin at 2 p. m. July 24 at the college YMCA building. The faculty will be composed of National Farm Bureau workers and other well-known speakers. Puckett said he believed the institute would offer interested workers an excellent opportunity to train themselves for better service to their respective local organizations. Howard county members who are interested in attending the institute have been asked to contact the Farm Bureau office by Thursday.

HOLLISES HOSTS AT SUPPER

Big Spring Couple Celebrate Their 50th Wedding Anniversary Saturday

Manifesting a vitality and perspective of amazing breadth, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hollis celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home here Saturday evening. It was half a century to the day since they had exchanged vows before the Rev. Owens, a Methodist minister, near Dublin. Yet there were mementoes of the wedding day as members of the family and friends share in the anniversary. White petunias had adorned the house at the wedding, and Saturday the Hollis home at 210 W. 15th street was bedecked with white petunias, too. This time the wedding cake was a golden one, iced in white and bearing the names, John and Agnes, 1909-1949.

Soviet Newspaper Attacks Douglas' Junket in Iran

MOSCOW, July 16. (U)—The newspaper Red Fleet said today that U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas' vacation in Iran could hardly be called a "mountain climbing expedition."

"Such things have a very different name," said the paper, organ of the Soviet Navy.

It declared that the members of Douglas' party "having changed military uniform for tourist costumes clearly feel uncomfortable in unaccustomed garb."

The newspaper quoted Iranian sources to the effect that the real purpose of the Douglas trip was to investigate Iran for President Truman.

Justice Douglas is an ardent mountain climber. He left Washington several weeks ago with his son and a party of friends to try to climb Mt. Demavend in northern Iran which has long been regarded by climbers as a supreme challenge.

Treason Trial Of Tokyo Rose Poses Puzzler

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. (U)—What did Tokyo Rose say, or what didn't she say, in her first interview after the Japanese collapsed? That was something for the jurors to ponder today as they got a weekend breather before the start Monday of the third week of the treason trial of Los Angeles-born Iva Toguri D'Aquino. She is charged with eight overt acts of treason in trying to lower morale of United States troops and impede this country's war effort with wartime broadcasts from Radio Tokyo.

When the trial recessed yesterday, former war correspondent Clark Lee had been recalled to the stand. Earlier, he had told how he and Harry Brundidge, then an associate editor of Cosmopolitan magazine, had obtained an exclusive interview with the defendant as the first Americans were moving into Tokyo.

Defense Attorney Wayne Collins said Lee had testified that Mrs. D'Aquino had told him that she had broadcast that sweethearts and wives of the Americans were being unfaithful "while you are fighting in the jungle."

But there was no such statement in Lee's notes of the interview, which already had been read in court, Collins said.

Lee then testified that he had finished with his notes, but that the defendant made the statement while Brundidge was taking penciled notes, and he heard it. He said he saw Brundidge write the statement down.

At another point, Lee told Collins on cross-examination that the defendant had not told him she was trying to fool the Japanese with her broadcasts.

The interview notes said: "When the war was over my husband and I both cried. Sometimes I thought I was doing wrong, but it seemed I was giving them as much fun as propaganda and I often said to my husband 'I'm laughing at them behind their backs. Fooling them is so easy.'"

In neither case was the "them" explained further.

FAITH IN HOME MISSIONS VINDICATED

New Park Methodist Church To Be Dedicated Here Today

A home mission venture, launched four years ago, will be climaxed at 4:30 p. m. today with dedication of the Park Methodist church.

The Right Rev. William C. Martin, Dallas, bishop for the Northwest Texas conference, will deliver the dedicatory message after the church has been presented by R. O. Williams, representing the board. This will highlight the public service in the church, 1401 W. 5th, in which the First Methodist choir, directed by Mrs. G. H. Wood will sing an anthem, and Marilyn Keaton will sing.

The church plant, representing an investment of approximately $35,000 is debt free. Its simple but attractive design and white finish already is a landmark as well as a memorial to the faith in home missions which made it possible.

It was in June of 1945 that the First Methodist church commissioned Mrs. W. D. McDonald, chairman, and Mrs. H. N. Robinson, members of the missions committee, to survey the possibilities of a mission plant in Western Big Spring.

They lost no time. Immediately they announced a Sunday school for the ABC house at the West Side park. Thirteen persons turned out for that first service, including Alice Mae Dorton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dorton. She has not missed a Sunday since then and has remained active in various phases of work. Last June, when the church was formally organized with the Rev. I. A. Smith as first pastor, Alice Mae was the first to respond to the invitation for membership. Forty joined that day.

The second Sunday the mission Sunday school drew 30, and the figure steadily increased.

"We didn't go to fail," Mrs. McDonald recalled.

Soon a residence one block away and on the present site, was purchased and converted into an auditorium. Morning worship services were launched with Lt. Edwin Wade then at the Big Spring Bombardier School, and Henry D. Norris, now of Sweetwater, field scout executive, alternating as speakers.

Participants had faith equal to the mission committee. Together they launched a building program in September 1948, and by March of this year the plant was complete. In it are a spacious auditorium, seven classrooms (convertible into one large banquet or recreation hall), the pastors study and a kitchen. Adjoining to the south is a six-room parsonage.

The auditorium is equipped with new pews and a piano. Mrs. Floyd Wilson Kimble, Floydada, gave the pulpit furniture in appreciation of the Rev. Smith, who once served as her pastor. Mrs. Mae Zant gave the beautiful Good Shepherd window in memory of her daughter, Alice Zant. Many others contributed materials and furnishings to the church, said Mrs. McDonald in appreciation.

The Rev. Smith came here from Stanton under the first pastoral assignment to the church. He had served many other pastorates, including those at Slaton, Seymour, Floydada, Wellington, and Lamesa. Mrs. Smith has been active in the church work with him.

Today the church has approximately 75 members and more than 85 on the Sunday school roll. Average Sunday school attendance is around 60. It also has an active WSCS, headed by Mrs. Abbie Anderson; a League directed by Mrs. Gould Winn. Mrs. Joe Faucett and Mrs. W. A. Laswell are in charge of music.

Members of the board of stewards are J. W. Bryant, chairman, R. O. Williams, J. B. Myrick, Coy Turner, Mrs. Laswell, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. G. C. Graves, Joe Zant, Mrs. Mae Zant, Mrs. A. W. Avant, Mrs. R. A. Eubank, E. D. Hensley and L. G. West.

BOMBERS DEFEATED BY ODESSA, 5-4

MIDLAND, July 16.—A three-run ninth inning outbreak on the part of the Big Spring Bombers kept the Odessa Legionnaires on Uneasy Street but failed to alter the outcome of the district American Legion Junior baseball tournament as Odessa gained a 5-4 decision here Friday afternoon.

Trailing by three runs going into the final frame, the Bombers scored two walks and two hits to get back into the game but Britt, Odessa flinger, settled to fan Cula Grigsby and caused Charley Simmons to hit into a forced play to get out of the hot water.

Big Spring had taken a one-run lead in the first round when J. Jennings singled and eventually came home on a blow by Wayne Brown.

Odessa caught up at the expense of Floyd Martin as early as the sixth, then scored three times in the eighth and another in the ninth.

Martin gave up only nine hits, compared to 11 his mates rapped, but he was betrayed by eight Bomber errors.

In two previous games, the two clubs had split even, Odessa winning at Big Spring and the Bombers at Odessa.

Odessa now becomes eligible to play the El Paso champion in district competition.

Junior Links Show Slated

MIDLAND, July 16. (AP)—Top 15 junior golfers in West Texas will tee off here Tuesday morning.

The junior amateur championship sectional qualifying round, over the Midland Country Club course. They will be battling for five places in the National Tournament at Washington, D. C., later this month.

The tournament will be under the supervision of Fred Hogan, U. S. Golf Association representative here.

The Midland Country Club Junior Invitation Tournament will be held July 20-21 with the medal scores of golfers in the sectional round qualifying them for the invitation event.

Four Cayuses May Start In Angelo All-Star Go

The dead-serious play in the Longhorn baseball league will cease Monday while the East and West have at it in San Angelo's beautiful new park in the third annual All-Star attraction. Starting time is 8:15 p. m.

The Easterners will be seeking their first victory against the West, roster of which is made up of players from Big Spring, Midland, Odessa and Roswell.

Two years ago, the Westerners—paced by the Big Spring contingent—rosed to an 11-7 win with Jose Cindan of the Broncs getting credit for the win.

Last year, the East led until the late frames only to have the West charge from behind and gain a 5-1 win. The 1947 contest was played at Ballinger while last year's classic took place in Odessa.

Bob Huntley, Vernon, will skipper the East and Midland's Harold Webb the West. Huntley will have players of San Angelo, Ballinger, Sweetwater, and his own Vernon club from which to choose. Julio Ramos, who owns a 14 2-run record for Big Spring, will probably open on the hill for the West. Three other Big Springers will probably be in the starting lineup for the West. They are Ray Vasquez at short, Carl Pascual at third and Pat Stacey in right field.

Warren Sitter, Midland, will be at first for Webb's gang and Alex Monchak, Odessa, at second to round out the infield.

Julian Presley, Midland, and Bob Cross, Roswell, will pitch the gardens along with Stacey while Frank Mormino, Odessa, and Keny Jones, Midland, will divide time behind the dish.

Mel Neundorff, Roswell, and Ace Mendes, Big Spring, will be available for relief duty in the infield and outfield, respectively.

Ralph Blair, Midland; Dean Franks, Roswell; and Pancho Perez, Big Spring, will be available for pitching duties.

The East's starting lineup will probably be composed of Harry Bartoloni, Sweetwater, catcher; Darwin Chirico, Vernon, or Jimmy Baker, Angelo, pitcher; Cotton McCaskey, Vernon, first base; Dick Gyselman, Sweetwater, second; Wayne Wallace, Angelo, shortstop; Miles Smithart, Angelo, third; Harry Scherting, Vernon, left field; Lou Ehlinger, Vernon, center; Stu Williams, Ballinger, right.

Art Cullit, Dick Butcher, both of Sweetwater and Sam Harshbarger, Angelo, will be available as utility men, while Bobby Rodriguez, Ballinger, Marv Christianson, Sweetwater, and Albert Richardson, Vernon, are the East's other pitchers.

The East boasts perhaps the easiest fielding team but the West has both the pitching and offense to win.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sunday, July 17, 1949

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

You could never accuse Harold Webb, the big spuds of the Midland wigwag, hasn't been asleep at the switch. Within recent days, Webb has signed both Claud Horton, a Texas league ex who hurried for Sweetwater back in 1948, and Wayman Hunnicutt, an outfielder, for the Indians' race down to the wire. Both are class-men. Both could be used immediately because Ernie Nelson, the veteran pitcher, may have to go on the shelf with a sore arm. Horton will be remembered as quite a tosser for the Swatters, who were then known as the Sports. What's more he can hit with authority. Hunnicutt played with Big Spring briefly before the war, later saw action in the Cotton States league. With such additions, the Indians now become the team to beat in Longhorn league play. What's more, Webb says he'll probably bring Claude Gray, with Midland in '47, out from Tyler. Gray was a lot of pitcher two seasons ago.

Last year, he was with Ogdin in the Pioneer league. Tony Vonaska, recently added to the Longhorn league umpiring staff, has been working in the Arizona-Texas league. A hard luck athlete is Les Palmer, the Odessa outfielder who crashed into a fence in a recent game here. Palmer collided with Hoss Alvis of Ballinger a couple of days later and had to go into dry dock for repairs again. Buck Doe, the Big Spring Sunday has been filling in for Palmer, hit a round tripper for the Oilers Sunday last. When Lefty Gumbo Heiba left for Cuba, the Big Spring ball club was operating with but 14 hands, two under the limit. Skipper Stacey may stand pat for a while. Stacey and Stu Williams, Ballinger, are the only Longhorn performers who will have made all three league all-star games.

Gerald Fahr Now in Evangeline Loop

The Joe Lanham hurling for Ballinger is the same fellow who gave the Broncs such a hard time while with Del Rio last season. Fahr, a great tosser for Vernon last year who was peddled to Shreveport by Bob Huntley for $8,000 during the winter, is now with Alexandria in the Evangeline league, a Class C organization. Chock Jones, the local shoe man, would exclude managers and veterans from future Longhorn league playing rosters. In other words, make it a contest for the youngsters, Jones says.

Frank A. Gadsos, Jr., of the Amarillo paper is the author of a recent piece which lauds the Cuban ball players. He quotes Hayden Greer of the Abilene club, which like Big Spring, employs Havanaans, as saying he doesn't have to tell the Cubans to run, and wouldn't know how if he did want to tell them. He's about in the same boat with Stacey, whose only signal in the hit-and-run. Sam Jethro, said to be the fastest man in baseball, met Barney Ewell, the great Olympic runner, in a special 75-yard race at Montreal recently and beat him by three paces, covering the distance in 7.4 seconds. Ewell was in a baseball suit, too. We'd like to match either Ace Mendes or Felix

Ramos Fashions 4-Hitter To Get His 15th Victory

A crippled hand of Roswell Rockets try to arrest the progress of the Big Spring Broncs in Longhorn baseball league play in a doubleheader here this afternoon, the first game of which gets underway at 3 p. m. Both contests will be limited to seven innings.

The New Mexicans are having to get along without the services of Bob Cross, their manager and hard hitting outfielder, who has been in bed here with the flu. Cross might possibly make it to the park today but it is doubtful he will see action.

N. E. Borden

Exploration Has Slight Shows

Slight oil and gas shows developed on a drillstem test at Ryan, Hayes and Burke No. 1 Miller, wildcat eight miles southwest of the northeast corner of Borden county. The test was for three hours at 3,270-3,300 feet. Recovery was 40 feet of slightly oil and gas out drilling mud. No water was present. More hole is to be made. The current formation is 50 per cent chert and 50 per cent shale. It is thought possibly to be Mississippian.

BIG LEASE SALE

Another Producer Added In Scurry

Another producer from the Canyon test line has been developed for the Kelly field of Central Scurry County at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Maxwell. This venture, located 600 feet section 206, block 97, H&TC survey, and one locator west and the same distance north of wells which have shown production, was taking a drillstem test in the top of the Canyon pay at 6,805-33 feet. There was a good blow of air at the surface immediately after the tester was opened. Gas appeared at the top in seven minutes. Oil-cut drilling fluid flowed out at the surface in 48 minutes, and clean oil began flowing in 53 minutes. It was flowing to pits at the estimated rate of 30 barrels per hour at last report. After the current investigation is finished operator is expected to drill deeper. This venture is reported to have topped the reef at 6,790 feet, on an elevation of 2,433 feet. Top of the porous so' was at 8,212 feet. Humble Oil & Refining Company has spudded and was setting surface pipe at another flanker to the Sharon Ridge-Canyon pool of South-west Scurry County. It is the concern's No. 2 Bishop, located 1,900 feet from south and 600 feet from west lines of section 164, block 97, H&TC survey. The exploration is projected to the Canyon line of the Pennsylvania north 7,000 feet. It was bottomed on 347 feet in redbeds and shales, running 10-1/2 inch casing.

10 Texas Girls Seeing London

LONDON, July 16. (U.S.)—Ten Texas girls danced and danced Saturday night with Royal Air Force boys they met back home in Texas during the war.

The girls, all from either Fort Worth or Dallas, are on a seven-weeks sightseeing tour of Europe. The first stop was London, where they looked up some of the RAF fliers who visited their homes while training in the United States.

Miss Hazel Hunnicutt, personality professor of Texas Wesleyan

College in Fort Worth, is chaperoning the girls, who are from 17 to 21.

"They are typical Texas girls," said Miss Hunnicutt, "and they are having loads of fun."

The party spent Saturday gadding around London's tourist attractions before changing into formal for the dinner and dance with ten young Englishmen arranged by an English friend in Texas.

The party leaves Tuesday for a tour through Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Italy, and France before going home. The girls are students at Southern Methodist and the University of Texas.

Real Estate In Big Spurt Here During Week

Real estate transactions, already at a high figure for this stage of the season, paced major business indicators here during the past week. The county clerk's office recorded 17 warranty deeds accounting for transactions aggregating $52,542 for the week. The recent activity elevated the 1949 total to $1,197,176.

Although city building figures lagged last week, the years total was above the $875,000 mark to keep the 1949 records well ahead of the preceding year. Permits listed during the past week listed estimated costs totalling $8,835. One new residential contract was included in the latest group.

The county tax assessor-collector's office issued licenses for eight new automobiles, two trucks and one motorcycle during the week.

HOLLYWOOD-ON-THE-NILE

Egypt Has Booming Movie Industry

By EDWARD POLLAK
AP Staff Writer

CAIRO, July 16. — Egypt's movie industry has come of age.

Just 21 years ago, in 1928, the first Egyptian film was produced. Called "A Kiss In The Desert," it was an awkward imitation of "The Sheik," which starred Rudolph Valentino.

Today there's a booming Hollywood-on-the-Nile. Egypt's film industry employs 10,000 people. Its films are shown as far away as Singapore and, on occasion, Paris. Naturally, the land of Cleopatra also has produced its own film beauties.

It's a far cry back to the two enthusiastic pioneers, Ibrahim and Badr Lama, who made "A Kiss In The Desert." On a sand desert east of Alexandria they built their first studio—a big tent, a few carp and a few pieces of furniture. The desert supplied natural background.

"A Kiss In The Desert" had a sphinx-like reception. Undiscouraged, the Lamas produced three more films and then set up Egypt's first official film company—Dondor Films.

Others became interested. Capital poured in and the Egyptian cinema was in business to stay.

During World War II, when foreign films were hard to get, Egypt produced an average of 110 films annually. After the war, U. S., British, French and Italian movies fought to regain the market. Egyptian production last year dropped to 41 pictures.

New Egyptian producers are optimistic again. The reconversion to normal has been completed and they are confident the swing is back to Egyptian films.

Egypt has nine big studios: Al Ahram, Shubrah, Galal, Lama (successor to Condor), MSR, Nahas, Nassibian, Togo Mirzali and Atim.

Most important is the studio MSR which covers several acres not far from the ancient pyramids.

Total investment in the film industry is about $8 million (U. S.). Studios have modern U. S. and European equipment. Films cost about $200,000 (U. S.) and usually make substantial profits.

The kings and queens of Egypt's film world have tremendous popularity. Crowds surround them clamoring for autographs when they are seen downtown in Cairo.

The reigning favorites include Lella Mourad, a beauty of the Joan Crawford type.

Camella, shapely blonde, "The Lana Turner Of The Levant," Mary Queeny, an Egyptian Joan Bennett.

Loula Sedky, reminiscent of Gene Tierney.

Anwar Wagdi — Egypt's Clark Gable.

Farid El Atrache, singing star. Mohamed Fawzi, who recalls Victor Mature.

Bishara Wakim, who plays Claude Rains variety roles.

Yussef Bey Wahbi, a Sir Cedric Hardwicke type.

Egyptian movie stars are not under long term contracts like those in America or Britain. They work by the film. Sometimes they share in the profits. Contracts run up to $50,000 a film for the top names.

Sound tracks are in Arabic with English or French captions. Films are shown in Egypt's 250 theatres and then travel through the Arab and Moslem world. With 221 million Moslems in the world the potential market is whopping.

The latest development in the industry is color. Several studios have announced color films for 1949.

Heretofore, foreigners have not been permitted to leave the city. Those in Nanking and other Communist cities have been allowed to travel within limitations.

Travel time out of Shanghai now will be limited to two weeks except in unusual cases. Only two trips can be visited on a single trip without special permission.

Permits to leave China now are being issued—but there are no means of getting out.

Health Maintenance In County Is Costly

Health and sanitation might be classed as big business in Big Spring and Howard County.

Maintenance of public health and provisions for sanitation cost city and county taxpayers more than $80,000 annually. The city bears the brunt of health expenses, contributing $57,883 each year. Howard county coffers are the source of $5,100.

All county expenditures for health go to the support of the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit. The Big Spring budget provides $7,003 for its part in the support of the city-county health unit, plus a general sanitation program including DDT spraying and inspection.

The city spends $14,122 for street cleaning, and another $36,728 for garbage and trash collection each year, according to the city budget.

The city government spent $18,784.15 for street cleaning, garbage collection, and for support of the health unit during the past three months, C. B. McClenny, city secretary, said.

County expenditures for health, exclusive of welfare payments, has amounted to $2,294.25 thus far in 1949, according to Chester O'Brien, county auditor. The county spends several thousand dollars annually in hospitalization and medicine under the health divisions of its welfare program, O'Brien said. This is in addition to its support of the health unit.

Chinese Reds Announce News, Travel Rules

SHANGHAI, July 16. (U.S.)—The Communist military control commission Saturday listed censorship regulations for outgoing news dispatches during the "military period." Another Communist agency announced new travel rules for foreigners.

Censorship has been in effect several days.

The regulations specify that dispatches should not directly or indirectly report weather conditions, targets, damage, or casualties of (Chinese Nationalist) "armies" and stragglers; other security information and the location of Communist headquarters and billets.

Correspondents have not complained about censorship. So far it has been fair and concerned only with military security. However, there have been many complaints about delays.

Heretofore, foreigners have not been permitted to leave the city. Those in Nanking and other Communist cities have been allowed to travel within limitations.

Travel time out of Shanghai now will be limited to two weeks except in unusual cases. Only two trips can be visited on a single trip without special permission.

Permits to leave China now are being issued—but there are no means of getting out.

NLRB Orders Labor Election

WASHINGTON, July 16. (U.S.)—The National Labor Relations Board Saturday ordered a collective bargaining election at the huge new Grand Prairie, Tex., plant of the Chance Vought Aircraft Division of United Aircraft Corp.

Labor experts said it will be an important test in the contest between the United Auto Workers (UAW) and the Machinists Union (unaffiliated) for bargaining rights of airplane workers.

Chance Vought recently transferred operations from Stratford, Conn., to Grand Prairie. The board said there now are more than 4,500 employees in the Texas plant, and that by next December there will be 5,400.

Within 30 days, an election will be held to determine whether production workers and most maintenance workers want to be represented by the UAW or machinists.

In addition, maintenance electricians and powerhouse employees will vote in separate elections to decide among the UAW, machinists, and the electricians.

The election was requested by the UAW, which represented Chance Vought workers in the Connecticut plant.

Seven-Year-Old Kills Grocer

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16. (U.S.)—Seven-year-old Teddy Moreno calmly chewed gum Friday night and told police how he shot and killed an elderly neighborhood grocer.

"I deeded him," said the little boy. "The pop gun made a noise like a firecracker."

The gun was a .32 caliber revolver. The grocer was Fred Throckmorton, 67.

The boy told police he went to the store with his five-year-old sister. He had a note from his stepmother asking for hamburger.

Police said Throckmorton started to wrap the hamburger and the boy walked behind the counter. He picked up the revolver and asked:

"Does this gun work?" Throckmorton said, "Look out." The boy aimed, pulled the trigger, and Throckmorton fell.

The child was not held and there was no indication that charges would be filed against him.

Negro Fined, Given Jail Term in Assault

Elbert Ford, a Negro, was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to ten days in jail after he had entered a plea of guilty in county court Saturday to the charge of aggravated assault.

Ford was accused of attacking Jessie Rushing, Jr., during an argument which took place in the northwest section of the city Friday evening.

INSANE NEGRO BARRICADES SELF IN HOSPITAL, FIRES ON ATTENDANTS

TAFT, Okla., July 16. (U.S.)—A Negro mental patient held off hospital attendants Saturday after he refused to carry out his promise to surrender.

Rosenfelt James, 51, barricaded himself in a ward of the State Negro Mental Hospital Friday and fired wildly at attendants and deputy sheriffs.

Tear gas was ineffective as cross ventilation kept the gas from both ering James. He apparently was disturbed when his ward privileges were taken away.

Dr. E. P. Henry, hospital superintendent, said 60 other patients who normally live in the ward were sleeping there Friday night for sleeping after James had calmed down. He did not bother the patients but continued to defy officials.

Eddie Warrior, an official at the hospital, said James Saturday was sitting on his bed but continued to threaten.

"He has a much better attitude, sitting on his bed but continued to threaten. Things will straighten themselves out. It is just a matter of time." Where James got the pistol was a mystery.

Tall white tapered and greenery formed the background for the arrangement. Napkins

Wash That Summer Out Of Your Hair

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
Whether you are on vacation or just away for a weekend, your hair will be a constant problem. You will have to worry about it after your dip in the brine, after a ride in a convertible car, after a session on a windy beach. You may have a date the evening your hair has been blown into a shapeless mess.

You can cope with the problem by carrying a small makeup kit in which you can tuck a tiny bottle of brilliantine, another of witch hazel, bobby pins and a small compact filled with cotton.

Then when your hair gets unruly, you can clean it with the cotton dipped in witch hazel, then put it up in pin curls with bobby pins. It will dry quickly.

If your problem is what to do with your hair after it has been windblown, treat it to an extra dose of brilliantine. If you carry one of those little hair brushes in your bag, it will be a simple matter to brush your hair into place with the brilliantine.

It is a good idea to put brilliantine on hair ends before you go out in the sun to keep hair from becoming dry and unmanageable.

One of the nicest fads to investigate is the one which involves using colored ribbons to curl one's hair and wearing them during the day at the beach, when swimming, when automobiling or when strolling. This way you can look pretty and cute and still have your hair in curl for that 5 o'clock date.

Mrs. A. H. Russell and daughter, Judith Ann, of Laredo, are the guests of Mrs. Russell's sister, Letha Amerson, here for several days.

Authors Are Frightening These Days And Lead Such Interesting Lives

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures writer

Authors are frightening these days, they've lived such interesting lives. No guy can get published, it seems, unless he's been a sailor on a mutinied ship, was a prize-fighter for a while or operated a combine in a Canadian province. Lady writers put in periods pretending they were household domestics, did a bit in jail for shop-lifting or at least were psychoanalyzed by somebody important.

The rule on current autobiography—and the public seems to be more interested in that than in performance—is that it must be very humorous or very dramatic. On the off-chance that some day I, too, will write a book or maybe a magazine article, I am now revising my own personal history.

Here is my new autobiography, which goes into effect as of today:

"Papa was a remittance man. Actually—although no one could ever get him to talk about it—he was a younger son of the Duke of C—and destined for a career in the foreign office. There was a nasty scandal about Eton playing fields and although Papa later was absolved, he had to go.

"Mama was a Spanish beauty and—although she never talked about it—the blood of kings ran in her veins. Her's was a tragic story which I heard much, much later. With her unfortunate experience with the western cattleman, she disappeared from my life. After that Papa never talked, just sat around twirling his really magnificent mustachios. When his remittance came he invariably uttered a short, nasty laugh and beat all the cards on our Tyrolean estate, it being mountain season.

"Of course, I was born at sea, for Papa left the gamey tables of Monte Carlo in search of new sport on the mighty waters of the Mississippi. It was a dark, storm-tossed night and hope had just about been given up that the ship would survive. Mother and child nearly died, what with small-pox broken out aboard but both—scared by the heat—had their wracked bodies carried off at Fort Said.

"At a very tender age, Papa placed me in the famous school of Mont St., where the gentle teachers at once recognized my unusual abilities and insatiable love of literature. I was scarcely three before I had digested completely Homer, G. B. Shaw Proust and Wellschmerz (Frans, not Hans).

"The amnesia which plagued me for so many years started in my teens, after the unhappy affair of the de V diamonds, but that is another story. But that was what led me to Tibet where as everyone knows by now I studied at the feet of the lamas and was inculted with the vast Oriental lore which has stood me in such good stead in my future writings.

"When World War I broke out, Wilhelm II called for me immediately, his emissary on this occasion being a small wizened man with an Irish accent with whom I broke the blockage in a submarine. Right here and now I would like to deny the stories which were circulated about me, and state positively I had nothing to do with the horrible affair at T—.

"However, I am still not at liberty to reveal the tortured activities of the next few years, but sufficient to say that 15 armored divisions were sent to blast me out of the ancient fortress of Y—. The armistice found me in Terra del Fuego, raising guano, but that was just a blind for my real activities.

"World War II was a tiresome repetition. Two days after hostilities broke out, a tall man with a wind-roughened face came with the magic summons. The Kremlin. Within minutes I was on my way—and if I had known what the next six years had in store, I would have used the vial of poison I always carry, just in case.

"These post-war years are fulfilled and happy days of regeneration of the soul. Writing comes without effort. I dream great dreams, jot them down in my log physical strength, although my wounds still bother, and recuperate, and in the morning type them off."

Eve White Of Big Spring, To Marry On Bride And Groom Radio Program

For the third time, Big Spring will have a direct interest in the Bride and Groom ABC network radio program on Aug. 3.

Eve White, Big Spring, and Charles Glendon Stovall, San Angelo, will be the couple to be married during the 1:30 p.m. program on that day from the ABC Los Angeles studios.

Shortly before they moved to Big Spring when he became a member of the Howard County Junior College staff, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis were married in rites on the program. Last year Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duke Neel, both of Big Spring, were wed over Bride and Groom.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Riden, 406 Galveston. She is a 1945 graduate of the Big Spring high school and trained at McKinney City Hospital. She has been serving as a registered nurse on the staff of the Malone & Hogan hospital.

The groom-elect is the son of C. F. Stovall, 2524 Armstrong, San Angelo, and is employed by the Charles Motor company. He was graduated from the Lakeview high school in 1942, attended San Angelo Business college and spent one year in the Navy.

At the ceremony, June Clyde White, sister of the bride-elect, and June Holliman, San Angelo, a cousin, will be bridesmaids, while Mrs. Otto E. Havins, Big Spring, will be matron of honor. Les Newman, Houston, will be the best man, and Ed Cope, uncle of the bride, will give her in marriage.

Miss White has it all planned to get in a word for Big Spring. In fact she has a centennial certificate to present to John Nelson, the MC, in boosting the centennial celebration, and will give a copy of Ethne Phillips book, "Big Spring."

Big Spring Men Invited To Attend Cotton Congress

Big Spring chamber of commerce officials, businessmen, and Howard county farmers have been invited to the 10th annual Cotton Research Congress in Dallas July 27-29. J. H. Greeve of the local chamber said Saturday invitation was extended by Dallas chamber of commerce officials, hosts to the meeting.

A cotton mechanization show will open the Congress on Wednesday, July 27. The machinery exhibition will be held in the automobile building on the state fair grounds. Exhibits of cotton and cottonseed products will be featured through the convention. Charles F. Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, will address the group on July 28. To be heard the same day are E. D. White, head of the cotton branch of the Economic Cooperation Administration and Read Dunn Jr., foreign trade director, who have just returned from an European tour investigating markets for American cotton. The state-wide Cotton Committee of Texas is the original sponsor of the Cotton Congress.

BRIDE FOR BRIDE AND GROOM — Eve White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Riden, 406 Galveston, is to be married over the Bride and Groom radio program (ABC network 1:30 p. m.) on Aug. 3. She and Charles Glendon Stovall, San Angelo, will exchange vows during the national network program.

Mrs. Leon Riddle Is Named Honoree At Bridal Shower In Robinson Home

KNOTT, July 16 (Sp) — Mrs. Leon Riddle, the former Nina V. Shortes, was named honoree at a bridal shower Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T. M. Robinson. Hostesses were Mrs. Bobby Roman, Maurine Chapman and Wanda Lee Robinson.

Guests were received by Mrs. T. M. Robinson and Mrs. Robert Brown registered the guests in the bride's book. Piano selections were played by Mary Ann Spalding and Carol Robinson. Mrs. Robinson directed games. Mrs. Lee Castle and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins won the game prizes. Gifts were presented to the bride by Miss Robinson and Miss Spalding.

Refreshments were served from a lace-laid table with crystal appointments. Present were Mrs. F. O. Shortes, mother of the bride, Mrs. J. C. Allred, Mrs. C. H. Riddle, Sr., Mrs. Jim Pardue, Mrs. Joe Myers, Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Mrs. O. B. Gaskins, Mrs. Merie Hodnett, Mrs. Kenneth Davis, Mrs. Donald Allred, Mrs. Lee Castle, Mrs. Meedie Shortes, Mrs. Fred Roman, Mrs. J. W. Walker, Mrs. Eugene Riddle, Lila Castle, Mrs. Rudy Allred, Mrs. J. C. Spalding, Mrs. A. F. Chapman, Mrs. L. M. Roberts, Mrs. Doyce Ray, Mrs. Emmett Grantham, Mrs. E. L. Actress Permitted To Make Search Of Fields' Belongings

LOS ANGELES, July 16 (Sp) — Actress Carlotta Monti has received right to go through the personal effects of her friend, the late comedian W. C. Fields. In the latest development in the many suits arising from Fields' will, Miss Monti Friday was granted court approval to search Fields' 54 trunks and boxes for such personal items as bedspreads and blankets. She was the comedian's confidante in his last years, and a principal beneficiary of his will. Fields' estranged widow, Harriet, is suing Miss Monti for return of certain gifts which she received from the comic. The other issues will be taken up July 27.

BRING ALONG SOME MONEY

NEW YORK, July 16 (Sp) — Mae West wants the management of her hotel to come up and see her sometime—and bring along $250,000. In a suit filed in State Supreme Court Friday, Miss West charged that defective floor mat in the bathroom at the hotel caused her to tumble, breaking her ankle, last Feb. 26. She claimed she also suffered other lacerations and bruises which made her "sick, sore, lame and disabled" and kept her from earning $3,000 a week as star of the stage revival of "Diamond Lil."

Wedding Vows Read

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Dorothy Goodwin and Wade Wilson in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Puckett, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Goodwin of Globe, Ariz. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Nannie Wilson.

The Rev. James S. Parks, pastor of the East Fourth Baptist church, read the ceremony before a fireplace decorated with greenery and flanked by tall baskets of white gladioli and stock.

The bride wore a light wool white suit and a pink blouse. Her shoulder-length veil fell in tiers from a pink hat. She carried a white Bible topped with pink and white carnations.

For something borrowed, she carried a lace handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Donald Wood. Something old was a diamond pin belonging to Mrs. W. R. Puckett and something blue, a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. C. A. Tom, Jr. attended the bride as matron of honor. Mrs. Tom was attired in a navy blue dress. She wore a red rose corsage.

C. A. Tom, Jr. served as best man.

Peggy Lamb sang "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied by Annette Puckett, who played the traditional wedding music.

Mrs. Wilson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a powder blue dress and a gardenia corsage. Her accessories were white.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Mrs. Puckett's home. Mrs. Donald Wood presided at the tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. H. E. Crooks of San Angelo, and Mrs. Paul Barfield of Dumas, presided at the punch bowl.

For their wedding trip, the Wilsons are spending three weeks in New Mexico, Arizona and California. They will also visit the bride's parents in San Angelo. For traveling, the bride wore an orchid chambray dress with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Globe High School in Arizona. She is also a graduate of nursing school and has been employed at the Medical Arts Clinic.

The bridegroom served two years with the armed forces. He is now employed by the local Safeway Store. The couple will be at home in Big Spring.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barfield, Janis and Viola, of Dumas, Mrs. H. E. Crooks and Sharon of San Angelo.

Greece To Allow Combat Reporting

ATHENS, July 16 (Sp) — Foreign correspondents will be allowed to go into northern Greece combat areas by applying for special permission from the general staff. It was disclosed today.

Last night Generalissimo Alexander Papagos, in a "confidential" order to Athens newspapers, banned correspondents from all combat areas in northern Greece.

Eve Curie, author and co-publisher of the "Paris-Press" and Claude Bourdet, editor and publisher of the newspaper "Combat" will offer their differing French solutions to the problem. James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO and Milton Katz, U. S. deputy representative for the ECA in France, will be the speakers representing two American points of view.

The forum discussion will be held in French and English with Andre Kaminker, one of the chief interpreters of the United Nations, providing consecutive translations. The broadcast in the United States will be in English except for questions in French from the audience, which Kaminker will translate.

Esther Williams And Red Skelton In Musicomedy

Esther Williams, swimming, romancing and wearing THOSE bathing suits. Red Skelton clowning his way through his funniest film role as a timid massour posing as a South American polo player. Ricardo Montalban making love in that Latin manner. Betty Garrett, singing in the style that made her the musical-comedy sensation of Broadway. Keen comedy characterizations. Xavier Cugat and his rumba band playing a Hit Parade musical score by Frank ("Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition") Lester. Hollywood's most beautiful bathing suit models—in Technicolor!

These are the high spots of M-G-M's latest romantic musical, "Neptune's Daughter," which comes to the Ritz theatre today and Monday.

For Esther Williams it proves a spectacular follow-up to her stellar appearances in "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" and "On An Island With You." For Skelton it marks his first Technicolor musical since "Bathing Beauty" in which he also teamed with Miss Williams, and follows his laugh hits in "A Southern Yankee" and "The Fuller Brush Man."

Montalban, who scored with Esther Williams in "Fiesta" and "On An Island With You," plays his first romantic role opposite her in the new musical. Betty Garrett comes to the picture from her recent successes in "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" and "Words and Music." Wynn was last seen in "The Three Musketeers"; Cugat and his orchestra in "A Date With Judy."

The screen play is by Dorothy Kingsley, the direction by Edward Buzzell, and the picture was produced by Jack Cummings ("Bathing Beauty," "Fiesta" and "It Happened in Brooklyn"). Outstanding sequences include a spectacular water pageant starring Miss Williams with Skelton adding some of his typical comedy maneuvers, a swim suit fashion show with Cur-

Abbott, Costello Tangle With Ghosts In Terrace Film

The popular comics, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello return for some more of their choicest antics in this zany laugh piece, "Hold That Ghost." The picture is the feature at the Terrace Drive-In theatre tonight and Monday night.

In this one, being re-released, the comics inherit an abandoned and supposedly haunted roadhouse from a deceased gangster.

Amid the most spooky situations the gag writers can conceive, the comedy duo get caught up in some of their most hilarious affairs. The picture hits an uproarious climax when the chubby Costello captures a murderous gang of crooks.

Going along for the fun is a cast including Joan Davis, Richard Carlson, Evelyn Ankers, Michas

Can Young Love Break Nation's Friendship?

LONDON, July 16. (AP)—Can young love break up American-British friendship?

The London Daily Mirror says today that U. S. Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas is afraid it might—if Princess Margaret and his daughter Sherman should fall for the same man.

So, Columnist Noel Whitcomb told his four and one-half million readers in today's paper, Sherman has had orders to stay home more than she has in the past.

"Not that Princess Margaret minds about a spot of lendlease in reverse as far as her dance partners are concerned," said Whitcomb, "but I hear that Mr. Douglas has had an uncomfortable feeling that both girls might end up with a preference of the same young man, which would be awkward."

Both girls were already in the news this week.

Word got around that they and 16 other girls danced the French can-can at a party for 250 people in the ambassador's house the other evening. That's the dance where the girls fling up their skirts to show lace-trimmed panties.

Both Margaret, 19, and Sherman, 20, have been seen out with the same men—notably the Marquess of Blandford and the Marquess of Milford Haven. But there's been no indication either was serious about them.

The Mirror says Sherman is passing her time at home making tapestries "not without some protest."

Neither the ambassador's household nor Buckingham Palace was talking about the story. Everybody in both places who might have anything to say was asleep when it came out.

'Red Stallion' Is Featured At State Theatre

The simple and poignant story of a youngster's efforts to save his grandmother's ranch from financial failure is the theme of Eagle-Lion's Cinecolor production of "The Red Stallion," which plays today and Monday at the State theatre.

With a cast headed by Robert Paige, Noreen Nash and Ted Donaldson, the new outdoor film ranks as a heartwarming and moving film.

Filed against the awe-inspiring beauty of the Mount Shasta country of northern California, "The Red Stallion" tells the story of a lad's efforts to save the ranch by training a stallion for the race course. On the night before the important test race, the stallion is attacked by a vicious bear and, in one of the most unusual sequences ever screened, the fight to the death is presented with thrills never before filmed.

Ted Donaldson is cast as the youngster and offers a winning performance as the boy who proves that his devotion and loyalty to his horse are justified. Paige and Miss Nash are cast as horse trainers and are paired for romantic interest.

Others in the cast include Jane Darwell, Guy Kibbee, Ray Collins and Willie Best.

City Beauty May Enter Sweetwater Queen Competition

A Big Spring beauty may be selected to enter the Sweetwater Cross Roads Stampede and historical pageant.

A Stampede Queen contest is to be conducted in connection with the event Aug. 18-19-20, and Big Spring has been invited as one of the neighboring towns to name a sponsor as contestant for the honor. A queen, two princesses, and six ladies-in-waiting will be chosen to preside over the three-day event.

A cast of some 500 Sweetwater and Nolan county residents will participate in the historical pageant. Each performance will serve to close festivities for the day.

New Officers Installed By Business Club

New officers of the American Business Club were installed at a regular session of the club held in the Crawford Hotel Friday noon. Roy Bruce was installed as the new president succeeding Pete Green. Doug Orme was in charge of the ceremony.

Officers, who will assist Bruce during the next six months period, include: J. W. Purser, first vice president; Merrill Creighton second vice-president; George Zachariah, third vice-president; Harold Salisbury, secretary; and R. E. McKinney, tall twister.

Gene Thomas, Ted Phillips, Mac Rogers and Horace Garrett were installed as members of the board of governors. Roy Reeder presented a past president's pin to Pete Green, who expressed his appreciation for the cooperation he had received while in office. Green also presented a cup to Orme for his work as "the member contributing the most to the betterment of the club" during his term of office.

It was announced that the local chapter will sponsor a boosters trip on August 2 in the interest of the rodeo. Tentative plans call for stops at Lamesa, Tahoka, Lubbock, Levelland, Brownfield, Seminole, Seagraves, Odessa, Midland and Stanton.

Bruce called a meeting of the board of governors for Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the city commissioners office. Announcement was made that a safety film will be shown to the club at next Friday's noon session.

Krug Advises Texas Resources Agency

WASHINGTON, July 16. (AP)—Because of the differences in water problems across the state, Secretary of the Interior Krug suggest that Texas create an "over-all resources agency."

Krug expressed this in a letter to Sen. Johnson (D-Tex) which reviewed the department's work in the state.

He said his department had some "difficulty in determining the wishes of the state" and such an agency would be helpful in future water resource programs.
