Paid in Full

The play by the above name put on by local talent at the Arcade Theater on Thursday night of last week was one of the most enjoyable occasions of the holiday season in Spearman. The players took their part well, and notwithstanding the fact that they had on a short time in which to prepare and only a few rehearsals, they went through the acts like old timers at the business. The entire proceeds of the entertainment went to the Christmas tree funds with the exception of a few dollars expense in staging the affair. None of the actors received or expected one cent for their labor. With the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Teyman, veteran show boys, Doc Wilson, Roy Harris and several others who have had considerable experience, Spearman should have several of these nice little plays during the remainder of the season. They are better than the average road show and they take no money out of the community.

...racing from your minds the past. That the coming year prepared to make everything that which is good, and prosperity.

Spearman

Basil Good was kicked in the mouth by an obstreperous horse one day last week and lost several perfectly good teeth.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Cline and children and Sid Clark visited friends and relatives in Guymon last Sunday and Monday.

Strayed, one bay two-year old horse, unbranded. Please notify, J. F. EDWARDS, Spearman, Texas.

The safe-blower at Dumas must have been an amateur, as he took a handful of notes. At this particular time it is not necessary to blow a safe to get an issue of notes.

J. H. Buchanan was here from Beverly, Kansas this week, spending the holidays with his family at Hansford. Mr. Buchanan followed the custom of many weekly papers and never got out an issue this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dunlop went to their old home at Elk City for a Christmas visit. Mrs. Dunlop remained there for a longer visit and Roy returned Monday, accompanied by his son, Law S. D. Martin.

D. D. ... Amarillo is here to a ... the people of ... with postal ... Oil Refining ... acquainted with many ... folks, and as he has a good proposition, is having no trouble in introducing the same.

A representative of the Spearman Motor Company is leaving for the oil market to procure the highest grade Pennsylvania oil. Their object in doing this is to furnish their customers with the best quality of oil and protect them as the prices are beginning to soar high. By so doing they expect to keep the prices of high grade oil down a while longer.

The Coyote Chase

The big coyote chase which took place on Monday, December 26, was a pronounced success as far as the chasing was concerned, which means everyone had a royal good time, and six coyotes were captured. The east line was not sufficiently guarded, says Manager Smith, and many of the coyotes that were driven out of the Palo Duro breaks went on over into Ochiltree county. However, this is a mighty good showing and these drives, if continued, will go a long way toward ridding the country of this pestiferous vermin. Mr. Smith says he does not know exactly when another drive will be held, but hopes to arrange for one early in January.

Denial of Rumors

In view of current rumors and a number of newspaper articles which have recently appeared to the effect that there would be a price drop in our products January 1, 1922, we wish to quote below a wire which we have from our Home Office and which was read at our Dealers' Meeting at Oklahoma City last week.

"Detroit Mich., Dec. 21, 1921.
"Ford Motor Company, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.
"Our attention has been called to recent newspaper articles and rumors to the effect that there is to be a price drop January first. As there is no foundation to such rumors and we are not contemplating any price changes we have no hesitancy in making a denial of the report.

R. W. MORTON,
Ford Sales and Service.

Doc Haas, the shoe repair man, spent Monday in Perryton.

Kit Carson, of the first National bank, visited home folks at Ashland, Kansas, during the holidays.

The young folks were royally entertained on Friday night of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis.

Thomas Pirtle arrived from Fort Sill Saturday to spend the holiday season with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Zoro B. Pirtle. Thomas has recently received his discharge from the air service and will engage in business.

Edward and Albert Burran arrived the first of the week from Marlowe, Oklahoma, where the latter is employed with a big lumber concern. "Slim" went over there a few days ago for a visit with his brother and other relatives.

Mrs. Dick Blake and son Erick Dodon, arrived from Texhoma last week and are now full-fledged residents of Spearman, occupying the Mrs. Sid Clark residence. Dick says they are old timers now, and ready to begin borrowing things from the neighbors.

Baron James V. Auriemma was in Spearman Thursday in the interest of the Salvation Army. The Baron is a noted singer and has been giving concerts in a number of towns in the north panhandle, donating all proceeds to the Salvation Army. An effort will be made to have him return to Spearman at some future time and hold a concert.

Death of Vina Odessa Kern

Vina Odessa, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Kern, one mile west of Spearman, came to an untimely end at the family residence on Christmas day, 1921. She had been absent from the watchful care of the mother only about thirty minutes, and when found it was discovered that she had in some way pulled a blacksmith forge over, which struck the back of her neck causing instant death. While loving hands did all they could to restore life, God saw fit to take Little Odessa to Himself.

Little Odessa was three years, nine months and three days old. She was a sweet, loving child and the pride of the home. So kind, so loving with every one she met. To know her was to love her. She leaves a father, mother, three brothers, two sisters and a host of friends to mourn her death.

To the bereaved parents we would say, go not to the grave to weep over her. She is not there. She is risen. She has gone to live with Jesus, the One who said "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven. God's word says all things work together for good to those that love the Lord, and while we look on this as an awful accident, yet may we hope that in some way God may make it a blessing to you. We cannot now understand these things, but up yonder all things will be revealed. May the Lord bless and comfort you, is the prayer of us who love you.

The funeral services were conducted by Mrs. Ada Thomas, of Booker, assisted by Rev. Zoro B. Pirtle, at the Union church on Monday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. Interment was had in the cemetery at Hansford.

Farewell, farewell, dear Odessa, There is none to our hearts more dear,

It is sad indeed to give you up, But your presence makes heaven more dear.

Yet again we hope to see you, When this weary life is o'er, And in heaven with joy to greet you, Where we'll meet to part no more.

How sad, how unreal it seems, Our darling, Odessa, is dead. But she is gone to that bright home. Where goodbye will never be said.

Dear parents, brothers and sisters, We ask in this sad hour of grief, That you take your troubles to Jesus, And He will give you sweet relief.

—Written by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Glover.

Fatty Will Try to Come Back

Fatty Arbuckle, accused of the murder of Virginia Rappe, announces that he will re-enter the moving picture business; that he is broke; that he and his wife have patched up their differences and will live as husband and wife, and that he has not taken a drink since his arrest on the murder charge, and is on the water wagon for keeps. Fatty may come back, but we doubt it. And it will be better for the picture business if he does not. The world has had enough of this mush-headed pervert and the sooner he is relegated to the oblivion from whence he came the better 'twill be for both the film companies and the public.

Spearman Gun Club

The Spearman Gun Club, tho they say very little about it, has afforded considerable amusement to a number of gentlemen about town the past few weeks. They are not ready as yet to publish a score, but will be within a few weeks, we presume, as some of them are making good records. The Reporter editor is the best shot in town and when the others have practiced up a little we intend to go out and show them. Among those making high scores the past few days, are H. E. James, Louie Coate, B. V. Andrews, Lyman J. Hillhouse, Perron A. Lyon and Fred J. Brandt.

A great revival of SOLE saving at Doe's Shoe Hospital.

Miss Ella McGuiney of the Medlin community, spent the holidays at the J. D. Hester home in Spearman.

O. C. Raney made a trip to Wellington and Hedley this week, visiting relatives at both places. Wallace and Miss Velma Raney came with their uncle from Hedley, for a visit at the Raney home in Spearman.

WATCH LOST—I lost an Elgin watch on the road leading from Spearman to Grand Plains; initials "SHH" on case. The Finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving at the Reporter office or return to 211pd S. H. HIGGS, Owner.

S. H. Higgs and W. E. Maupin were in from the Grand Plains country Wednesday morning, trading. They report a fine Christmas out their way, but like most farmer-stockmen are complaining a little about the protracted dry weather.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Shull, who have conducted the Royal Cafe in Spearman for the past several months, closed the same on last Wednesday and departed for their home at Texhoma. Mr. and Mrs. Shull conducted a nice, orderly business and will be accorded a royal welcome should they decide to again return to Spearman.

A. H. Oehler, a young business man from Wilsey, Kansas, was here the first of the week looking over the town and surrounding country with a view of establishing a business at Spearman. Mr. Oehler is a member of the firm of Oehler & Steimell, who own a string of stores in eastern Kansas. He seemed to be well pleased with the outlook in the Spearman country.

Quite A Reunion

An enjoyable reunion of the Blake brothers, with their father was held at the home of Bert Blake in Spearman on Christmas day. T. R. Blake, the father and T. R., Jr. came from Oklahoma City, Sam came from Texhoma and Bert and Dick, both citizens of Spearman, all spent the day together and enjoyed a big turkey feast.

Stockholders' Meeting

A meeting of the stockholders of the Spearman Equity Exchange will be held at the Arcade Theater in Spearman, on Tuesday, January 3, 1922. All stockholders are urged to attend, as the annual election of officers will take place at this meeting.

R. L. McCLELLAN, Manager.

John L. Hays and Tot Davis made a trip to the W. O. Seward farm near Dalhart the first of the week, taking up a load of hogs. There is plenty of corn up that way and as it is cheap a hog can be fattened there at a very little expense.

HANSFORD COUNTY TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

The Hansford County Teachers' Institute convened in the study hall of the Spearman Highschool on Monday, December 19th, with twenty-seven teachers in attendance who are employed in Hansford and Hutchinson counties. Visiting teachers attended some of the sessions. Several speakers from out of the county also appeared. Miss Katherine Gray, Chief Supervisor of Public High Schools, spoke to the Institute Monday morning on history of the public school system of Texas and recent educational accomplishment. She also took part in the discussions during Monday afternoon.

H. G. Powers, of Canadian representing the Texas A & M. College discussed Agriculture from many different angles.

Sup't. C. P. Davis, of Guymon, Oklahoma discussed "The Project Method of Teaching."

Hon. David D. Shanks discussed educational matters and schools both past and present in this section of Texas.

Hayden Hart gave some special work on stock judging.

Dr. E. R. Jarvis gave a somewhat illustrated lecture on dental hygiene.

Miss Ethel Deakin, formerly a teacher in the Spearman school but now a student in the Kansas State Normal College, demonstrated Truman's Mental Test on Thursday using Spearman children as subjects.

The general discussions reflected no little professional training among the teachers. It would be difficult, also, to assemble a body of teachers more congenial than these were.

Report of the Committee on Resolutions

Whereas, we, the undersigned members of Hansford County Institute acting as a Committee on Resolution, submit the following: "Resolved, that we, the teachers of Hansford County Institute, extend to Superintendent W. A. Clark, Jr. our sincere appreciation for

First: The able manner in which he has conducted the Institute.

Second: For his lectures on agriculture.

Third: The aid in which he has tendered the teachers in supplying them with helpful material, not only for their various discussions; but also, for future use in their school.

Resolved, that we extend our grateful thanks to the State Department for the service of Miss Katherine Gray and also for demonstration material with which they supplied us.

Resolved, that we express our appreciation in behalf of the agriculture lecture given by Mr. G. H. Power, a representative of the Texas A. & M. College.

Resolved, that we offer our unanimous support to the movement already endorsed by the Institute for a county agent of agriculture.

Resolved, that we thank Supt. C. P. Davis of Guymon, Okla., for his illustration of the project method.

Resolved, that we extend our appreciation to Mr. Davis D. Shanks and Dr. E. R. Jarvis, both of Perryton, for their splendid and instructive addresses.

Resolved, that we tender our thanks to Mr. Hayden Hart for his excellent educational lecture on judging cattle.

Resolved, that we express our great-fidelity to Miss Johnnie Reaves and Rev. Z. B. Pirtle for their enlightening discussion.

Resolved, that we place ourselves on record as endorsing the plan of the State Department for installing the county depositories.

Resolved, that we place ourselves on record as endorsing the Annie Webb Blanton administration.

Resolved, that we extend our sincere appreciation to the Federal Agricultural and Educational Department for their numerous slides, chart and other materials, that we have used.

Resolved, that we thank Miss Ethel Deakin for her splendid illustrations of the intelligence test.

Resolved, that we extend our appreciation to Dr. G. P. Gibner for his instructive lecture on "Adenoids and Tonsillitis in school children."

Resolved, that we express our appreciation to the citizens of Spearman for their hospitality shown during our stay in their city.

Be it resolved that a copy of these resolutions be supplied to each source and individual above mentioned that has contributed to the success of the Institute.

Respectfully submitted, the committee on resolutions:

Lenita Fay Walker,
E. W. Keith,
Mrs. E. E. Burrow,
Miss May Cluck,
R. S. Kelley.

Unanimously adopted at 4: o'clock p. m. Thursday.

WANT WHAT YOU NEED

PHILOSOPHERS tell us we can have anything we want, provided we want it enough.

With certain qualifications this is true. It explains why many men get things out of life that their friends never expected to get. They wanted them, and they got them.

Getting things in that way for most people involves considerable sacrifice. For example, if a dry goods clerk wants an automobile he may get it, but he will have to skimp pretty heavily on his clothes and diet if he gets it while he still remains a dry goods clerk.

It is for this reason that, when you begin wanting something, it will pay you to want what you need.

That will involve thought, for none of us know what we need until we devote considerable time to reflection and study.

There are men who want new wives, when they have perfectly good wives at home. They don't need them, and therefore ought not to want them.

There are other men who want wealth, when they don't need wealth at all.

Still other men want steam yachts when rowboats would do them more good, and private swimming pools when they would get more fun and health out of public baths in the ocean.

They may get these things, but they will be no better off when they do get them.

The wanting habit can grow into a very bad habit indeed unless you are careful to want what you need.

It is well to remember in this connection that there are some very important needs that you ought to want first of all.

One of them is a good reputation. Another is good health. A third is a home.

Want these badly enough to get them, and confine your wants after that to things that are reasonably certain to bring happiness.

Then want as hard as you like, and your wanting will not hurt you. But wanting to be a "movie" star when you were born to be a furniture salesman, or to be a Caruso when you were born to be an accountant, will only make you unhappy.

You won't get either of these things, even by wanting them, and you will spend a very unhappy life in the effort.

Want what you need and you will be reasonably sure to get it, if you begin young enough. But don't want what you don't need. It will only make you miserable for life, even though you attain the object of your desires.

Old Year—New Year

NEW Year, New Year,
What do you bring?
Your bag might hold
Anything!

Old Year, Old Year,
What will you do
With all the hope
That I gave you?

There is a moment
When you meet,
Like two travelers
On one street.

Old Year, New Year,
In the sky,
Out where the winds
And ghosts go by.

What do you say,
Meeting the New on
The Milky Way?

You took from me
Like a thief,
Larkspur joy and
Juniper grief,

But you leave me
One bright hour,
Glad like sun on
A crimson flower

This is mine
Eternally,
You may not
Take it from me!

New Year, New Year,
What do you
Hear as you pass him
In the blue?

Old Year, Old Year,
Where do you go,
Out on that path
Men do not know?

LOUISE DRISCOLL, in N. Y. Times.

To Travel Heavenward

TO BE strong and true; to be generous in praise and appreciation of others; to impute worthy motives even to enemies; to give without expectation of return; to practice humility, tolerance and self-restraint; to make the best use of time and opportunity; to keep the mind pure and the judgment charitable; to extend intelligent sympathy to those in distress; to cultivate quietness and nonresistance; to speak little and listen much; to adhere always to a high standard of thought, purpose and conduct; to grow in grace, goodness and gratitude; to seek truth and righteousness; to work, love, pray and serve daily; to aspire greatly, labor cheerfully and take God at His word—this is to travel heavenward.—G. Kleiser in Y. M. C. C. Central.

To Welcome the New Year.

A PRETTY ceremony handed down from the past is to open the front door promptly on the stroke of midnight for the passing of the old year to join the centuries of the past, and for the entrance of the baby new year, who is just about to commence his earthly career.

NEW YEAR'S EGGS.

The Persians still exchange presents of eggs at New Year's just as we do at Easter. But the rest of us now do our giving of presents at Christmas parties, though we may give to each other on January 1. In Scotland and England everybody calls on everybody else New Year's day, and drinks punch. Here in America calling has gone out of style, but if we do nothing more, we at least shout "Happy New Year" to everybody we meet on New Year's morning. When we shout that, we mean good luck to them for all the new year through.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. . . I can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too.

ORDINANCE

An Ordinance Regulating the Use of Water from the City Well and Providing for the Collection of Water Rent for Same.

Article 1. Be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the town of Spearman, Texas, in council assembled:--

That there be levied and collected a water tax for the upkeep and operating expenses of the city well from each and every person, firm or corporation using water from the city well, as hereinafter set out.

1. From each family using water from said well, for domestic purposes, whether the same be taken from the tank at its location in Spearman, Texas, or piped from said tank to their respective residences, or procured from said well in any other manner, a sum of one dollar ($1.00) per month.

2. From each business house, hotel, restaurant, garage or wagon yard using water from said well, whether the same is piped, hauled or procured in any other manner, the sum of two dollars ($2.00) per month.

3. The taxes herein levied shall be payable the first day of each month, in advance, at the Guaranty State Bank, Spearman, Texas, and if not paid by the 5th day of the month, shall be considered and treated as delinquent, and a ten per cent (10 per cent) penalty shall be added to the amount due, and in addition thereto, it shall be the duty of the City Marshal to stop said person, firm or corporation from procuring water from the said well until the said tax and penalty has been paid.

4. No person or persons shall be allowed to irrigate a garden or park from the said city well, provided that this section shall not apply to the watering of a few shade trees and provided further that in case of a shortage of water from any cause, the last mentioned privilege shall be revoked until such time that the shortage is overcome.

5. It shall be the duty of the mayor of the town of Spearman, Texas, when he deems it necessary to suspend the use of water from the City well, for any other purpose other than for domestic uses, and in case of his refusal or inability to act, the Board of Aldermen shall have the power to appoint someone in his stead to so act.

Done in Council assembled this 14th day of December, 1921.

Attest: H. E. JAMES, Mayor.

F. W. BRANDT, Clerk.

Patriotism Begins At Home

Patriotism, like charity should begin at home, extended out from the home to the home town and community; thence over the country and section, and thence over the State and Nation. The patriotism that does not include its own nest, its own family and its own surroundings, is not much of a patriotism, nationally or any other way. We should consider these things often, for they are vital to our best interests and welfare and to the best interests of our family, friends and neighbors. There is always argument on both sides of any question, but the basic fact remains that as a general rule goods can be purchased in the home town as cheaply as in other towns or cities; not all things, but the great majority of the commodities which we all use. Some articles may be a bit higher once in a while, but it is equally true that some are often a bit lower, and the whole monthly account will balance pretty well. If we do not build up our home town there will be no home town.—Exchange.

Ten Commandments

Of Business

1. Handle the hardest job first each day. Easy ones are pleasure.
2. Do not be afraid of criticism—criticise yourself often.
3. Be glad and rejoice in the other fellow's success—study his method. Do not mislead by dislike.
4. Be enthusiastic—it is contagious.
5. Be fair and do at least one deed each every day of the year.
6. Honor your employer. There may be a head to everything.
7. Have confidence in yourself and make yourself fit.
8. Harmonize your work. Let shine radiate and penetrate.
9. Do not have the notion that success means simply money-making.

WHY? — DOES THE WIND BLOW?

WHEN any part of the earth becomes heated by the sun's rays, the air becomes thinner and rises. As it goes up, a current of cooler air comes in to take its place, thus making the disturbance we call the "wind." Likewise, damp air—which is lighter than dry air of the same degree of heat—will also rise and, rising, cause a disturbance above and below.

It is for this reason that there is usually a breeze from the sea by day and from the land by night, the land being heated faster than the water and the fresh air from the sea coming in to take its place. At night the process is reversed. The land cools faster than the water and the "wind" goes out to sea. Because these processes are continually going on all over the globe, the wind frequently gathers like a snowball and attains the proportions of a gale or a hurricane.

UNCLE PETE.

HIS maltese used to come and rub Her coat against his leg; He had a dog, a mongrel scrub, He taught to sit and beg; The horses used to whinney when They saw him on the street; The children ran from other men To play with Uncle Pete.

He was a sort of village joke Who tinkered here and there, And always poor, and always broke, And yet he didn't care. The banker used to sit and frown And growl like anything; But half the way across the town You'd hear old Peter sing.

Folks said he was a failure, yes, He hadn't any sense— To go through life in idleness And make no competence. Now, what do you think?—what they said About a "failure?" Do You think the folks who shook their head Had estimated true?

Me? Well, I think that they were right.

Pete had a brother Pat Who was, like him, the kids' delight And loved by dog and cat. Besides all that Pat worked his land, Raised hogs and corn and wheat, Provided for his family, and Supported Uncle Pete. (Copyright.)

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"BETWEEN YOU AND I."

"BETWEEN you and I," says the careless speaker, "I do not like that fellow." Probably the speaker has been taught, in school, the rule of grammar which says that in English all prepositions govern the objective case; that is the word which follows a preposition must be in the objective case, but he has forgotten the rule.

Now, "between" is a preposition—a word used before a noun or pronoun

New Year's in Egypt

If a group of people were shipwrecked or otherwise cast upon their own resources and were to lose track of the date they would have no easy means of finding it again. Our year is an artificial one, and so must be made by careful study in well equipped observatories. Without precise instruments it would be difficult to fix the day when the new year begins.

The ancient Egyptians experienced no such difficulty. Their year, from which ours is derived, had a perfectly natural beginning. It always commenced on the day when Sirius and the sun rose together.

The temples of Egypt were really observatories, built to face this or that star as it rose. They were more or less elaborate, but all had as their fundamental plan a long narrow passage down which the star's rays came, and a dark chamber at the far end where the priest made the observation and where the image was kept.

The beginning of the new year was an important event. We can picture the scene as the priests, followed by the scribes, lawyers, merchants, and the curious crowd, wind their way up to the temple in the first streaks of dawn, and take their appointed places. As daylight comes on the interest of everyone is centered on two groups.

The priests on the roof are straining their eyes for the first glimpse of the coming sun, while those down in the dark chamber are watching for Sirius. Soldiers are stationed around the temple to keep the crowd silent and to prevent stragglers from crossing the path of the star's rays in front of the temple door at the critical moment.

A shout bursts from those on the roof as the sun tops the horizon. The observers below watch their water clocks carefully now as the minutes are told off, and strain their eyes at the narrow opening where Sirius is to shine. In a few moments Sirius itself flashes into view, and the new year has begun.

The Egyptians discovered that the year has an extra quarter of a day in it. They did it by noting that on some years Sirius and the sun rose almost together, while on others there was an appreciable difference in time, and that these changes repeated themselves every five years. They found the length of the year to within 11 minutes of its true value, which was a remarkable thing to do with the primitive appliances they had at hand.

NEW YEAR'S THEN AND NOW.

As long as people can remember there have been New Year parties. The old Romans gave theirs in honor of Janus, the two-faced god. One face looked back at the old, spent year, and one face looked forward to the new, fresh year. They gave presents to him and to each other with the hope that the new year would be good to them. Some of the people who lived long ago waited until the end of March to celebrate the New Year, since that was the time that the trees and grass began new life.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS

"Are you making any good resolutions for New Year's Day?"
"No, I haven't had time to break all my last New Year's ones yet."

A GOOD RESOLUTION.

A good resolution is the offspring of remorse and regret, who were wedded by experience.

The New Year

The year that has just closed means something different to most everybody. To some it has brought a great joy; to others a great sorrow; to many, both grief and gladness in full measure. Many of us have gone along the regular, uneventful path, filled with the happiness of love and work and the joy of everyday things, which, after all, is the best happiness.

To youth the New Year means a long, pleasure-filled evening and the writing of a new date on their letters. They look neither forward nor back. They make resolutions because it seems the correct thing to them to do. They keep them sometimes and it helps make them better men and women, but it is not a serious matter with them—just as is natural for youth.

Older folks involuntarily look back a bit on the even of a new year—not systematically, but with a general sweeping glance that usually makes them a bit uncomfortable at things left undone or failures to make good as they had intended. Maybe there has been just one thing accomplished that gives them a little warm feeling round their hearts—maybe not. The great sorrow or great joy stands out with more meaning to them than to youth. 'Tis another milestone passed.

The New Year may not present very bright prospects to some, but these same older folks know that there is something better in store than what the immediate future seems to offer—know that unhappy things can't last—that they are pretty sure to lead to something greater and better—know that even if they can't understand the reason for sorrow and trouble that there is a reason—know it deep down within themselves, though outwardly they resent and rebel against fate. It is not blind faith or optimism that teaches this, but reason and knowledge of life.

Older folks know that the year is bound to bring happiness and relief to those who are now bearing sorrow and trouble.—Mrs. J. E. Leslie, in the Detroit News.

BLACK NEW YEAR PUDDING

Ingredients: One cupful black molasses; one cupful thick sour milk; one dessertspoonful soda; beat well. Add one teaspoonful salt; one grated nutmeg; one-eighth pound citron, chopped fine; one-fourth pound suet, chopped fine; four dry figs, chopped fine; one dozen almonds, minced fine; one cupful seeded raisins; three raw tart apples, chopped coarsely; three cupfuls flour. Mix all together, steam in a buttered mold for three hours and dry for 15 minutes in an oven. Serve with any good pudding sauce. This will serve 15 persons.

RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved: To save my money
And lead a frugal life.
Resolved: To do my duty
And still abstain from strife.
Resolved: To give up smoking
And never touch a drop.
Resolved: To heed the speed laws
And ne'er offend a cop.
Resolved: To quit complaining
And smile whenever I can.
Resolved: To cease from knocking
And praise my fellow man.
Resolved—but what's the use of
My plunging in so deep?
I've made more resolutions
Than any man could keep.

Everybody will read with interest the statement of Miss M. E. Woodford, 1508 Fimmore St., Lynchburg, Va., who says:

"I don't believe anybody ever suffered from headaches like I did. The pains felt like an iron band was being drawn around my head and my temples would throb until I was driven almost distracted. I had no appetite either. I owe Tanlac an everlasting debt of gratitude for entirely ridding me of those terrible headaches. My stomach has been toned up too, and everything I eat agrees with me now. Tanlac certainly brought me health and happiness."

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Small service is true service while large—Wordsworth.

IT IS at all times risky to recommend anything. Yet in the order of things we all do recommend the things we like to our friends. It is too much to ask us always to commend with a reservation. Should be quite stilted and dry if we did that. Perhaps it is a suggestion to say that we always take a recommendation with a reservation.

If a friend of yours tells you she has found a good dress, she really puts herself under obligations to prove her statement. You should ask for the address you put your trust in. The necessity of proving the maker is good. So if you please to recommend anything, show your good breeding by the results without would be the height of your part to criticize whose address you had a friend who had told you. If you do not agree with a recommendation you are, liberty never to have her course the dressmaker is ample and the same rule of anything that is recommended you—from a book to breakfast food. You take the recommendations do it is the well-bred to criticize the result.

Some people give up recommendations because those they recommend them to do not like them. But one of the things that makes books interesting is the discussion they evoke. You are not casting aspersions on a friend's taste when you fail to like a book that she finds interesting. discussion of a book at someone else's suggestion is permissible.

The only thing that you ought not recommend unless you are willing take the consequences is something which you have a personal or financial interest. But perhaps this admonition comes rather in the field of ethics than in the field of etiquette. (Copyright.)
