Back of Every Bank are the Men Who Run It

Upon those men depend the service you get and the safety of your deposits.

The men who control the policy of this bank are experienced business men who understand the principles of successful management of financial affairs.

We are ever mindful that it is your money we are guardians of, and we intend to run a bank where your money will be safe.

The Salvation Army

In regard to Spearman, God only knows how we thank the people of this good town for their court-sides and the offerings they made to help pay for our car. We are also thankful for the friendship of the little children of Spearman. When they lay their little arms around our neck it keeps us humble and kind and makes us long to be a child again. We thank the Lord for the kindness of Dr. Gibner, who administered to us when we were ill in Spearman.

We especially ask the prayers of the Christian people, while doing our best for God and humanity. We have a good work in Canadian. Fifteen converts and the friendship of the town. We feed from one to seven boys every day. They are black and dirty and greasy—some of them lousy—but we are always sorry to find them that way and are glad to help them because they are some mother's boy. God has blessed us by giving us the privilege of helping many poor girls that were down but not out. May God bless Spearman, her churches and schools.

ENVOY J. D. ROWLAND.

Santa Fe Officials Here

F. P. Cruce, manager of the Agricultural and Industrial Department of the Santa Fe railway company, was here from Topeka Thursday, accompanied by W. E. Goodloe, division freight and passenger agent for this company at Amarillo. These men were looking after company affairs and inquiring into the general condition of the country. They state that the Santa Fe is greatly interested in the Spearman country and is spending considerable money in advertising the possibilities of the great southwest to the outside world. They are anxious to see Hansford county employ a county agent who will encourage an interest in the pure bred stock and dairy business and put more pigs and poultry on the farms. Mr. Cruce is a practical farmer-stockman and thoroughly understands the game. He says this is a wonderful country but should not depend on wheat alone.

S. M. Hedgecock and W. J. Jones were up from Plemons Tuesday looking after business matters.

Joe Owenbey was in from his fine Hutchinson county ranch Tuesday, trading and visiting with friends.

A. M. Wilbanks Jr., Perryton banker, was looking after business matters and visiting relatives and friends here Thursday.

Strayed, one bay two-year old horse, unbranded. Please notify, J. F. EDWARDS, Spearman, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Collard and the children went to Amarillo Tuesday, where Mrs. Collard and the children entrained for Vernon, to spend the holidays with relatives.

Among the delightful social events of the week was the Epworth League social at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Pirtle on Tuesday night and the Sunday school class party at Dr. and Mrs. Gibner's on Thursday night.

WILL VOTE ON REMOVAL OF THE COUNTY SEAT

Election Called for January 17, 1922, to Vote on Moving from old Hansford to Spearman

Elsewhere in this issue of the Reporter will be found the call for an election to be held on January 17, 1922, to determine whether the county seat of Hansford county shall be moved from its present location at old Hansford to the town of Spearman. The removal of the county seat has been the all-important subject of conversation in Hansford county for several months. It was thought best to not rush hastily into a county seat election, but to first confer with every voter in the county, if possible, to see if the sentiment was in favor of the move and to make sure that no ill-feeling would be engendered by the step. It is now thought that there is practically no opposition to the removal, especially since it has become generally known that in no section of the county and from no source, can there be found an inkling of sentiment in favor of issuing bonds for the erection of a court house during the next five years, or until such time as conditions warrant such an expenditure.

Miss Mattie King is clerking at the Hillhouse Drug Company while the Christmas rush is on.

Chas. Endicott and Lon Hays left Wednesday morning for Liberal and other Kansas points on a combined business and pleasure trip.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McClellan and the children and Clinton Wilson went to Amarillo Wednesday to look after business matters and visit with relatives.

Miss Gladys Buckley is helping out with the work at the postoffice during the rush of the holiday season. Miss Gladys is an efficient worker and her services are usually in demand.

L. R. McComas and son Ray, were in from the Lake ranch, on the north line of the county Wednesday, looking after business matters. They report a need of rain or snow up their way, but say conditions could be much worse.

Luther Cline returned Wednesday from a business trip to Seymour, in Baylor county. Luke says he thought conditions were rather unfavorable here, but since visiting the country to the south, the Spearman country looks mighty good.

Christmas Games

MISTLETOE. Hang it up. Form a circle. A slipper is required.

Also a nice, slippery floor. The first player slides the slipper. He tries to land it under the mistletoe. If he fails another makes the attempt. If he succeeds there is a lively scramble. It concerns the young lady toward whom the slipper points. She must seize it and get away before caught. Then the guests are given humorous gifts (previously wrapped), and are admitted (one at a time) to the Christmas room to deposit them in the stockings.

Another jolly game is played with Christmas stockings, a number of which are previously hung up.

These are placed in a separate room and the name of the person for whom each is intended is concealed upon it. Another Christmas stocking game calls for a huge stocking of tough tissue paper filled with toys of all kinds. Each guest is blindfolded, given a light rod or cane, turned three times around and told to hit the bag. The first to break the stocking gives the signal for a general scramble, each guest being supposed to get one of the trinkets or souvenirs thus scattered.

Conserving the Tablecloth.

When the tablecloth is partly worn cut an inch off one side and one end, and make a new hem. When it is ironed the creases will come in new places and the wear thus be redistributed.

Beef Roast; Pork Sausage

All is joy and gladness in the Reporter home this week, occasioned by a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Roland of a fine, large beef roast. This splendid roast was indeed a treat, but not the only one of the week, as Mr. and Mrs. Perron A. Lyon presented us with a nice lot of pork sausage. This pork sausage was not manufactured from the neck of an ancient cow, but was really pork sausage, with the proper seasoning worked in right. Many thanks; many thanks.

Frank L. Carson, banker of Wichita, Kansas, spent several days here this week, visiting with his brother C. W. Carson of the First National. Frank says this section of the southwest is in much better condition than many other sections and that we have no cause for complaint, but much to be thankful for.

M. Major left this morning for Amarillo, where he will entrain for Memphis, Tennessee. Doc will be away several months and will return in the early spring with a string of fine jacks and Jersey milk cows which he will sell to Hansford county farmer-stockmen. The demand for pure bred animals on the farm grows stronger every year and the scrub will soon be a thing of the past.

Christmas Ball

Among the big attractions for Christmas week in Spearman will be the Christmas ball to be given by Wilson's Jazz band, at the Arcade Theater building on the night of December 28. Invitations have been sent to dancers of neighboring towns and a good attendance is expected. Wilson's Jazz band, composed of Max Lackey, piano; Lyman J. Hillhouse, trombone, and Doc Wilson with his drums and traps, makes mighty good music and everyone is guaranteed an enjoyable time. Numerous other society functions are booked for Christmas week in Spearman and the approaching holidays give promise of much entertainment for old and young. "A cowboy among cowboys," is the way the boys at the Cheyenne round-up designated the handsome "movie" star, Pauline Frederick, who was their invited guest. Pauline became endeared to the boys when she demonstrated her ability to ride and rope a steer with the best of 'em last summer. "I'd rather ride than eat," is the way the star expressed her delight in the pastime.

THE BALLOT.

IN ORDER to keep votes and opinions secret the ancients resorted to some form of vote. The Greeks used oyster shells (ostrakon) to vote on the banishment or ostracism of men; the Romans used tablets or tabellae. The printed ballot was used in the New England colonies in the earliest days of their history, but its use in Europe was not until later. In 1710 it was proposed by the English parliament but was rejected. The French chamber of deputies used it in 1840-1845.

BUSTER BROWN SHOES

"First Because of the Last"

Buster Brown Shoes represent a new era in juvenile footwear---a new principle in shoemaking. Just as going to school trains the mind of the child, step by step from grade to grade, so will Buster Brown shoes train the feet.

Buster Brown shoes are thoroughly dependable shoes, made by skilled shoemakers from the best grades of leather. They have government standard oak-tanned soles, attached to the uppers by the famous Good-year welt process, which insures a practicable, flexible, comfortable soled shoe---no nails to run through the sole; no seams to cause blisters.

Buster Brown shoes excel for their health qualities. They are therefore economical shoes to buy and are sold by

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Small service is true service while it lasts--Wordsworth.

IT IS at all times risky to recommend anything. Yet in the very order of things we all do recommend the things we like to our friends. It is too much to ask us always to recommend with a reservation. We should be quite stilted and unnatural if we did that. Perhaps it is a better suggestion to say that we should always take a recommendation with reservations.

If a friend of yours tells you that she has found a good dressmaker she really puts herself under no obligations to prove her statement, but if you should ask for the dressmaker's address you put your friend under the necessity of proving that the dressmaker is good. So if you do ask people to recommend anything, you must show your good breeding by abiding by the results without complaint. It would be the height of rudeness on your part to criticize a dressmaker whose address you had asked for from a friend who had told you about her. If you do not agree with the friend's recommendation you are, of course, at liberty never to have her again! Of course the dressmaker is only an example and the same rules hold good of anything that is recommended to you--from a book to a new kind of breakfast food. You don't have to take the recommendation. But if you do it is the well-bred thing not to criticize the result.

Some people give up recommending books because those they recommend them to do not like them. But one of the things that makes books interesting is the discussion they evoke. You are not casting aspersions on a friend's taste when you fail to like a book that she finds interesting. So discussion of a book at somebody else's suggestion is permissible.

The only thing that you ought not to recommend unless you are willing to take the consequences is something in which you have a personal or financial interest. But perhaps this admonition comes rather in the field of ethics than in the field of etiquette.

Fun With Christmas Parcels

LAST year we had much more fun over the Christmas tree than ever before because each parcel was wrapped in such a way that it was impossible to guess what it contained.

To stimulate the children's ingenuity, a prize of a box of candy was offered to the member of the family who displayed the greatest cleverness in wrapping gifts. This was won by eight-year-old Jack. He hung a string of remarkably lifelike sausages upon the tree, as an offering to his mother. When the strings were untied half-a-dozen hemstitched handkerchiefs tumbled out. Each handkerchief had first been rolled in a small cardboard and then wrapped in mottled paper. A close second to Jack's was a fountain pen concealed in a candle made of thin pasteboard wrapped in white tissue paper twisted to a point at the top to represent the wick and blackened with a drop of ink to show that the wick had been lighted. This was stuck into the kitchen candlestick before placing it under the tree where it presented a very realistic appearance.

A wrist watch was hidden in a bouquet of paper flowers. The tiny watch hid itself in the heart of a huge American Beauty that formed the center blossom of this masterpiece. A bracelet was concealed among the stems and the wide ribbon which tied them together.

This year, a silk umbrella is to be disguised as a dachshund by first wrapping it in strong paper and then twisting a wire around each end and bending the ends up to form the short legs of "long bowwow." Another bit of paper twisted on the ferrule forms the tail. The crook handle of the umbrella is padded with cotton batting for the head and the whole thing covered with brown crepe paper. Two big pins are used for eyes.

Small gifts are the easiest of all to make mysterious. They can be hidden in imitation apples, bananas, oranges or other kinds of fruit or paper cornucopias or drums. A set of dollies has been made into Old Glory by using crepe paper covered with American flags. Two of these were cut out, pasted on cardboard and fastened together on each side of the flat package of dollies and a small stick attached to one end. This will "wave" most effectively from the Christmas tree.

A bottle of cologne is made into a doll. A round cake of soap forms the head which is swathed in a frilly cap of white crepe paper. Eyes, nose and mouth are lightly traced upon its vacant countenance in water colors. The head is tied to the top of the bottle, the long dress of white crepe paper put on, and another twist of paper runs crosswise for arms.--Paula Nicholson in Farmer's Wife.

Spend Your Christmas Money in Your Home
.. T O W N ..

THIS YEAR, above all others, you should spend your money at home, especially your Christmas money. Remember, your local institutions, as well as yourself, prosper just in the proportion that all pull together and the manner in which all cooperate will determine the success and prosperity of our community in the months ahead.

Money spent at home means increased prosperity in every line. It makes better business, keeps more wealth in your home county and as a consequence everyone is materially bettered---the farmer, the merchant, the property owner---all realizing the benefit reflected in increased valuations and a better fellowship all around.

Spearman business and professional men will treat you right the year around and the undersigned will be pleased to show you that their method of doing business is to your interest every day in the year.

MODERN SIAMESE GIRL

This is Miss Clara W. Xavier, daughter of the Siamese minister at Rome. He is one of the very enlightened Siamese men who believe in a western education for women. He has a family of ten children, all girls, and is sending his daughters to England to be educated in the professions. One of the minister's daughters is a nurse, another a doctor, and this daughter, Clara, is the only Siamese woman who has taken a course in a maternity hospital. She has received the diploma C. M. B. from the City of London Maternity hospital, and the South London hospital for women and children.

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine. Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. "I saw after taking some Cardui that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person."

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me. . . . My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments.

The SANDMAN STORY

THE MARKED BIRD.

MR. WOODPECKER is a marked bird, as you all know who have seen him, for the red spot on the back of his head is plainly seen when he is pecking away at a tree, or even if half hidden by leaves the red spot is pretty sure to be seen and to reveal his working place, even when the sound cannot be located. Mrs. Woodpecker does not wear this red spot, for she is the one who caused her mate to be so marked, and why, do you suppose?

Listen and I will tell you what is said about it in Birdland, for there is always a little bird, you know, that gives away secrets and that is how this one was learned.

Long, long ago a certain Mrs. Woodpecker, so the story goes, had a great deal of trouble with her husband, because he went away from home early and stayed late and never brought anything home to help support the birdlings. Mrs. Woodpecker pleaded and peeped at this all in vain. Mr. Woodpecker declared he could not find enough insects for himself, let alone bringing some home.

Little Mrs. Woodpecker tried to watch her mate and flew after him when he went away, but he was too clever in dodging for her to follow him, for he could easily hide against the bark of a tree and she could not find him.

One Day Mrs. Woodpecker Asked the Goblins to Help.

Of course, she could hear him hammering, but his bright eyes always saw her afar off and he was on the wing and away before she could get near.

So one day Mrs. Woodpecker became very desperate and asked the goblins to help her. "I can't get him to bring home a thing for the children to eat," she said, "and they eat so much I am just worn out. Do tell me what to do. If I could follow him and catch him at work then I should be certain he finds plenty of food, but I cannot prove that he does not, for I can never surprise him."

The little goblin was sitting on a rock, out of which he had just jumped, and, laying a finger on one side of his nose, he thought a minute. "I have it, Mrs. Woodpecker," he said, jumping up. "I will get the fairies to let you have some of the red like my cap. You can paint his head red some night when he is asleep, and with a red cap like mine you can see him anywhere in the forest."

Mrs. Woodpecker went home with a light heart and that night she met the goblin, who had an acorn cupful of red paint for her. But the rest was not so easy, for when she flew home with the paint and tried to paint her husband's head while he slept he kept waking up and asking, "Who is tickling the top of my head?" and poor little Mrs. Woodpecker could not mark her mate.

But the next morning, just as he was flying away, Mrs. Woodpecker was so upset she lost her temper and after him she threw the paint brush, which struck the back of her husband's head and left a spot of red paint.

Of course he did not know about the paint and thought his wife was cross, but there it was; and then Mrs. Woodpecker followed and caught her lazy husband, for now that she could see him some distance away, she took good care that he should not see her until she was beside him.

It was no use to deny it now, for she saw with her own eyes that there were plenty of insects and he had to do his part after that toward supporting the family.

And that is the reason that Mr. Woodpecker wears a red spot on the back of his head and his wife does not, so the little bird from Birdland told the story.

MINE BOSS SAYS HE WAS HELPLESS

Arizona Man Was Simply Down and Out and Could Not Even Move Himself Feels Fine Now.

Harry E. Scott, a well-known mine boss, whose address is Box 983, Tombstone, Arizona, writes:

"I was down and out nearly all the time with rheumatism and finally got to where I couldn't move, even to feed myself. My wife thought I would get well again, and she knew my condition better than any one else.

"I was absolutely helpless when my started giving me Tanlac and in four days I ate a hearty meal for the first time in many months. Tanlac put me on my feet and I'm back on my job working hard and feeling just fine. I have gained eighteen pounds of weight, too."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Christmas Festival

THE INSTITUTION of the festival of the birth of the Saviour is attributed by some authorities to Pope Telesphorus, who died A. D. 138.

In the early days of the Christian religion it was one of the most movable of feasts, being often confounded with the Epiphany and celebrated by the eastern churches in April and May. In the fourth century the urgency of St. Cyril of Jerusalem obtained from Pope Julius I an order for an investigation to be made concerning the day of Christ's nativity. The result of the inquiry, made by theologians of the East and the West, was an agreement upon the twenty-fifth of December.

As told in the gospel of St. Luke, Christ was born in the night. Therefore, divine service is performed on the night of December 24-25. It is the custom in Roman Catholic churches to usher in Christmas day by the celebration of three masses, one at midnight, the second at early dawn, and the third in the morning. This custom dates from the sixth century.

Preparatory to Christmas the bells are rung at midnight throughout England and the continent. After the solemn celebration of the mass in the churches of the continent, which are magnificently adorned for the festival, it is customary for the worshippers to partake of a collation.

ORDINANCE

An Ordinance Regulating the Use of Water from the City Well and Providing for the Collection of Water Rent for Same.

Article 1. Be it ordained by the Board of Aldermen of the town of Spearman, Texas, in council assembled:--

That there be levied and collected a water tax for the upkeep and operating expenses of the city well from each and every person, firm or corporation using water from the city well, as hereinafter set out.

1. From each family using water from said well, for domestic purposes, whether the same be taken from the tank at its location in Spearman, Texas, or piped from said tank to their respective residences, or procured from said well in any other manner, a sum of one dollar ($1.00) per month.

2. From each business house, hotel, restaurant, garage or wagon yard using water from said well, whether the same is piped, hauled or procured in any other manner, the sum of two dollars ($2.00) per month.

3. The taxes herein levied shall be payable the first day of each month, in advance, at the Guaranty State Bank, Spearman, Texas, and if not paid by the 5th day of the month, shall be considered and treated as delinquent, and a ten per cent (10 per cent) penalty shall be added to the amount due, and in addition thereto, it shall be the duty of the City Marshal to stop said person, firm or corporation from procuring water from the said well until the said tax and penalty has been paid.

4. No person or persons shall be allowed to irrigate a garden or gardens from the said city well, provided that this section shall not apply to the watering of a few shade trees and provided further that in case of a shortage of water from any cause, the last mentioned privilege shall be revoked until such time that the shortage is overcome.

5. It shall be the duty of the mayor of the town of Spearman, Texas, when he deems it necessary to suspend the use of water from the City well, for any other purpose other than for domestic uses, and in case of his refusal or inability to act, the Board of Aldermen shall have the power to appoint someone in his stead to so act.

Done in Council assembled this 14th day of December, 1921.

Attest: H. E. JAMES, Mayor.

J. W. BRANDT, Clerk.

Take your shoes and boots to Doc's Shoe hospital and let him operate on them. Consultation free.
