

INCOME OF FARMERS

By Wright A. Patterson
$778,402,000.00.
That is a lot of money—more than three quarters of a billion—as much as all the annual expenses of the United States government 30 years ago.

It represents the amount that has been, is being, or will be paid to the farmers of America for the curtailment of production of crops and live stock.

And that vast sum is in addition to what the farmers of America have received through the regular and usual sale of their crops and live stock and in addition to what the government is paying out in drouth relief, a sum estimated at around half a billion dollars.

From the direct sale of their crops this year the American farmer as a class are receiving more than the total of such sale last year, and these vast government amounts are in addition to the total amount received from these sales.

The following table, prepared from figures issued by the Department of Agriculture on August 26, shows in the first column of figures the total amount the farmers in each state have received, are receiving or will receive when the agricultural adjustment administration crop program for 1933-1934 has been completed. The second column shows the amount the farmers in each state had been paid up to August 1 of this year. The third column shows the amount to be paid farmers in each state from August 1 to the completion of the total payment, and which is now going out from Washington to the extent of many hundred of thousands each day.

"Barretts of Wimpole St." An Outstanding Triumph

In "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature starring Norma Shearer, playing at the Lyric Sunday and Monday, October 7 and 8. Producer Irving Thalberg and Director Sidney Franklin have worked hand in hand and achieved the finest filmization of a famous stage piece ever to be recorded in celluloid.

For "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is a brilliant production—brilliantly conceived, written, acted, directed and framed. Norma Shearer and Fredric March do more than present a tender, poetic love story; they actually bring the invalided Elizabeth Barrett and the poet Robert Browning to life. And as the grim uncompromising father whose diabolical influence motivates the drama, Charles Laughton turns in a performance which compares well with his recent interpretation of Henry the Eighth.

Cast Uniformly Good

The supporting players are equally inspired and equally well cast. No one ever danced the polka more gaily than does the Irish lass Maureen O'Sullivan; nor looked more gallant than Ralph Forbes as Captain Cook; nor more sadly resigned than Katharine Alexander; nor flirted more expertly than Marion Clayton. Leo Carroll and Gerdinand Munier are excellent as Elizabeth's doctors while Ian Wolfe and Vernon Downing are at home as Bevan and Octavius—the parts they created on the stage.

If you would see a great drama, which lost nothing in the transition from footlights to celluloid, see "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" at the Lyric Theater Sunday and Monday.

POETS, ATTENTION

To foster greater interest in and appreciation of Panhandle writers and Panhandle culture the Dalhart Texan, daily picture tabloid, will publish a poetry anthology November 15, says John L. McCarty and Henry H. Lawrence, under whose direction the verse compendium will be issued.

The anthology will be printed on high grade book paper, bound in cloth and will be library size. Poetry for it will be gathered from writers in the Panhandle of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma. The title will be "Prairie Nights and Yucca."

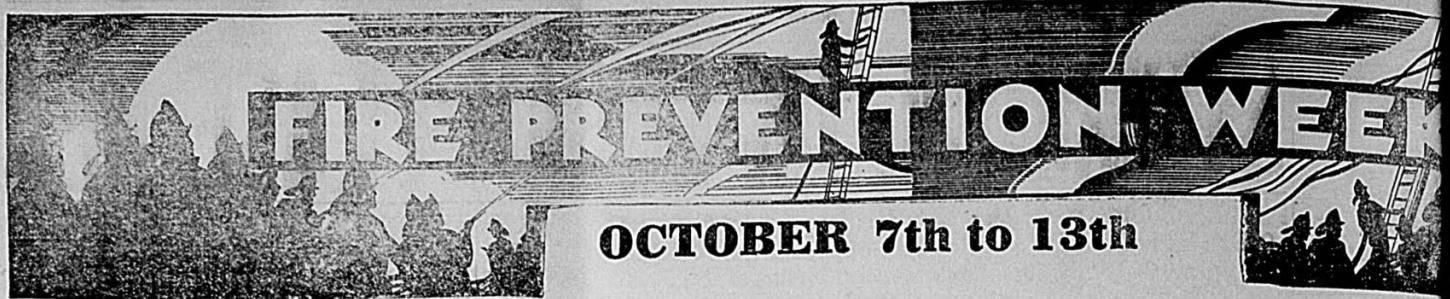

Gathering and selection of material is already well under way. The editors are urging all poets in the Panhandle area to submit their best manuscripts immediately as the deadline for their receipt is October 20. There is no cost to any of the contributing writers.

Persons wanting copies of the book should also place their orders immediately for first edition copies as publication of some sections will soon be started.

Several customers have indicated that they were curious to know why the Panhandle Gas and Electric Co. were changing meters in Spearman. For your information it is done to protect the customer. The Government requires that meters shall be checked and any imperfections corrected as often as every five years. The meters that were not in use at the time the new organization purchased the Panhandle Gas and Electric Company, were gathered up, checked over by an Expert employed for that purpose, and each meter in Spearman is being exchanged with approved and checked meters. This absolutely insures the customer that he gets the amount of gas he pays for.

WARNING!
We have noted that many customers abuse their gas meter. Quite often we find that customers burn their trash and rubbish near their meter. This overheats the diaphragm of the meter and causes imperfection. This could cause the customer to pay for more gas than they actually use. We have also noted that cows are staked to meters. This has a tendency to loosen the meter connections and cause a waste of gas. Sometimes the waste is at the expense of the Company, but quite often the waste is being paid for by the customer.

Please observe this warning and do not abuse your meter. It will likely cost you needless expense.

TEXAS RELIEF SITUATION

Judging from the text of a long and detailed article appearing in the Texas Weekly, another special session of the Texas Legislature is on Mr. Ferguson's program.

The article referred to, goes into detail relative to the inadequate funds as provided by the recent state legislature. Getting down to definite figures the article states that the estimates of Ferguson would provide for an average payment of $18 per month to each of the 250,000 families on the relief rolls. Funds provided in the special session of the state legislature, when matched with equal number of dollars only allow each of these families an average of $8 per month during the three months, October, November and December. If, as has been suggested, that the number of families on the relief rolls should increase to 300,000 families the pro-rata income to each family would dwindle below the eight dollar margin. These figures are the basis of the Ferguson statement that another session of the legislature will be included in the program of the retiring chief executive of the state.

In explanation of the situation Peter Molyneux states:

"The Legislature's Attitude, it should be said, is not due to any indifference to the problem of how the indigent unemployed are to be taken care of during the next three months. It is due rather to a widespread distrust among the members of the whole relief set-up in Texas. There is a belief among them that many people are on relief in Texas who have no real need of it, and there is a feeling that this condition will not be cured so long as the present administrative set-up is continued. Whether this feeling is justified or not, it is plain truth that it exists and has been the determining factor in relation to the attitude of many of the members. To put the matter bluntly, there is more than a suspicion among the members that many of the professional relief workers desire to make a permanent thing of relief work in Texas and that they are not going to "work themselves out of their jobs." Incidentally, some of the "experts" sent to Texas from Washington have not been the most tactful people in the world. In one instance, for example, such an "expert," a lady, who came to Texas to train workers, attended a meeting of the Texas Relief Commission, and when one of the commissioners urged that the rule of denying relief to anyone refusing work at prevailing rate of wages in the community be strictly enforced, she not only denounced him to the class she was teaching at the University of Texas, but reported him by wire to Washington. The circumstance that the State law provides that relief shall not be given to anyone refusing work at prevailing wages was entirely unknown to this "expert," for she had not taken the trouble to read the law under which the workers she was training would have to operate. From her point of view to compel anybody to work at the "prevailing wages" in a community would violate the standards of the "profession" and anybody who advocated such a course was not fit to be a member of a relief commission. She made precisely this declaration to her class at the University. This probably is an extreme case of stupidity, but many other similar instances of an attitude of doctrinaire superiority on the part of the professionals from Washington are being cited, not only by members of the Legislature, but in all sections of the State.

We must wait until Mr. Allred is inaugurated, we think, before there can be any real improvement in the situation. We will be very much surprised, not to say disappointed, if he does not tackle this matter vigorously at the very outset of his administration. And while we do not expect him to pick a quarrel with Washington, we do expect that he will take effective steps to ascertain the precise situation in every respect and then move to correct whatever evils as may actually exist. We think he will speak plainly to Washington, and that Washington will listen to him. Moreover, we do not think he will countenance any more to submit a $50,000,000 bond issue to the people, as some of the glib-tongued professionals are saying ought to be done. Meantime, we may have to rock along just as we are, getting along the best we can with such funds as the Legislature has authorized. A long squabble at another special session of the Legislature, at the cost of another $125,000, is not going to help matters. Especially it will not help matters if such a special session is brought about by Federal coercion. Texas is not going to permit any of its citizens to starve, either during the next three months, or after the new State administration takes hold. But it is not going to perpetuate a condition which is becoming intolerable in some respects.

for failure to do this. The divine Husbandman directs to this end all his treatment of the branches, and from this view-point judges them. The reward of fruitfulness is increased capacity for fruitfulness—for efficient service; the penalty of fruitlessness is "taking away."

"Abide in Me," v. 4
"Abide in me and I in you."
"Abide" is one of the oft-recurring words of John's Gospel. "Continue in me, and let me continue in you." "When Horace Bushnell was an old man he met a young man one Monday morning hurrying away to the ministers' meeting. Asking for the subject of the meeting, he was told that it was 'Abiding in Christ.' It is a good subject," said the old man; "but remember that abiding in Christ is not basking in Christ. Abiding is growing."—Rev. Edgar Whittaker, D. D.

"The Life of the Body is Functioned in the Eye for the Purpose of Sight, in the Ear for the Purpose of Hearing; but at the Moment of Death through the Eye and the Ear Retain All their Intrinsic Parts, because they are Separated from the Life of the Body. So the Moment we are Separated from Christ, our Spiritual Life Begins to Decay."—Rev. Alfred G. Mortimer, D. D.

Bearing Fruit, vs. 8-13
"Herein is my Father glorified," v. 8. The Son of God was always planning, not for his own glory, but for the glory of his Father (see John 17:1, 5, 10), and he wants us to do the same. "That ye bear much fruit," God has given us abundance of all the materials for fruit-bearing.

"Whether we are trees or people, we only go on living by using up a tremendous amount of material as well as taking up much room. If you have three meals a day, as many do, that is over one thousand a year. Then there are the clothes you have worn out. How many yards of cloth, of cotton, velvet, of silk, of ribbons and trimmings? How many pairs of boots and shoes? And what of gloves, hats, and other things that go to make up your dress? You have lived in houses, and gone to school to church, and many other buildings. You have worn out many books, you have used cars and buses, railway trains and carriages."—Rev. W. H. Reason. We owe much fruit, for we have had much material for fruit.

"Greater Love Hath No Man."
"Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friends." "What is laying life down? To live not for your own pleasures but to make gladness more possible for such as walk in the shadows of many sorrows, in order to make godliness more possible for such as stand in the dense darkness of great temptations, to set others ever first, to pass into the life of the world each day to minister and not to be ministered unto—this is the greater love, and they who do these things have heard it speak."—Rev. Percy C. Ainsworth.

And yet there is a greater love even than this. It is the love of Him who died for us, not when we were friends, but when we were enemies.

"But I Choose You," v. 16
"Ye did not choose me, but I chose you." "The beginning of everything is God's love and grace. If we love him it is because he first loved us. It is not that we choose, but that we are chosen. Christian faith is simply the acceptance of Christ's love, a love which is there, not dependent on our love or anything in us. A right acceptance of this great truth means strength and comfort and peace. Our salvation depends on something more stable than ourselves."—Prof. Hugh Black.

The Holy Spirit Promised, vs. 26
The concluding verses of this rich chapter contain other truths regarding this fellowship with Christ. These additional truths include fellowship with Christ in his sufferings, since Christians must expect no better treatment than their master received. They also include the wonderful promise of the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, who will lead the Christian through all the trials of his life, strengthening and supporting him, and giving him the witness which he is to bear for his Saviour.

There are still a few people who tell the truth, even when they are on the witness stand.

Regenbrecht represented the Texas Extension Service in the AAA meeting held recently in Kansas City where farmers and representatives from state agricultural colleges from Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Texas met to make recommendations for the next steps in the corn-hog program. The first question discussed at Kansas City and to be voted on by corn-hog contract signers is whether or not there shall be any sort of adjustment program in this field, Regenbrecht stated.

The second point to be decided is whether the contract shall deal with corn only or hogs only or be a joint contract as in 1934.

The third question will ask for preference on the type of contract which they wish to follow in the 1935 program. This refers to a possible unified contract for the six basic grains: wheat, corn, rye, barley, grain sorghums and flax. It would represent a shift from several single crop contracts to a broad program of developing better systems of farming through less intensive use of land, conservation of soil resources, and use of land for those crops for which it is best adapted.

The fourth question will be voted on only by those contract signers who are grain sorghum growers for grain. It will ask if they prefer that grain sorghums be included in the 1935 contract. The exact wording of the questions will be available at the time of the referendum.

At Kansas City the voting was that benefit payments be made on both corn and hogs, that the established 1932-33 base in the 1934 program for both corn and hogs be used, with benefit payments of $3 per head on 15 per cent of the 1932-33 hogs, and of 40 cents per bushel on the appraised yield of contracted corn acres, and that the growing of hogs be permitted up to 80 or 85 per cent of the base, and corn acreage increased up to 75 to 90 per cent of the base, the exact percentage to be optional.

Other recommendations made by the conference were that contracted corn acreage be used without restriction for hay, pasture, soil improvement, soil erosion prevention crops, fallowing, or for forest plantings; that grain sorghums be included in the 1935 contract on the same basis as corn as to adjustments, benefits and tax; and that the base processing tax be broadened to include other commodities in proportion to the benefits accruing to them from this program.

It was also recommended that the warehousing corn on the farm be continued and the same principle extended to other grains, and that the 1935 corn-hog contract be made a step toward a long-time contract program to zezgin in 1936. It was asked that the referendum be held the first week in October, that the questions be clarified and made more specific; and that the poll be taken by unpaid workers. "It must be remembered that these were merely recommendations to the AAA and that they may or may not be followed," Regenbrecht said.

HEREIN FAIL NOT, but have you before said court on the said first day of the next term thereof this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in the City of Spearman, Texas, this 8th day of September, A. D. 1934.

BAPTIST CHURCH

A. F. LOFTIN, Pastor Don't read this church notice unless you are interested in what the preacher is going to preach about Sunday morning and evening.

Sunday Morning—Union With Christ. Read John 14:20 and you will find the words of the text: "Ye in Me . . . I in you." Some questions to be thinking over:

- 1. Is it of especial importance that we should be united with Jesus Christ?
2. Are there any essential terms of Union with Him?
3. What unites us with Him?
4. Are there many ways and things that UNITE us with Him?
5. Is this union a MARRIAGE to Jesus Christ?
6. Are God's Saints members of the body of Christ?
7. Are we of His flesh and of His bones?

Sunday Night: What are You Going to do About It? There is a text that exactly fits this theme—find it.

Yes, sir; over the 100 mark last Sunday in Sunday school. And Lo! the B. T. S. did itself proud by having 75 or more in the 6 unions. Watch them grow. On account of the meeting starting at Waka next Sunday, made it impossible to begin earlier; the State Convention so early in November made it impossible to begin later. Great minds run in the same channel, is an old saying. Evidently the minds of the different churches were running that way for October for revivals were scheduled for October, each one not knowing what the other was planning, in First Christian, Presbyterian, Church of Christ and our Baptist Church. One is in progress at the Union church now.

Lindbergh's Visits Helps To Discover Another William J. Whitson

Writing Postmaster Bill Whitson from Phelps, New York, William J. Whitson of this city says: Phelps, New York, September 25, 1934.

Mr. William J. Whitson, Spearman, Texas. Dear Sir: While reading this morning's Rochester Democrat & Chronicle, I was quite surprised to find that there was another in this country with the same name as my own.

Probably I was no more surprised than were you when the famous flyer landed in your yard. As far as we know there are no other Whitsons in the country except those few of us that are descendants of John Whitson, who came over from Peebles, Scotland, in the early 1800's. I have often examined many books and records to see if there were others by that name but with no success.

My Father resides at Afon, N. Y. and could give you more history about the family than I. I would be glad to hear from you and learn if there are any connections between us.

Very truly yours, WILLIAM JAMES WHITSON.

Rogers Wants Information From Hansford Citizens

Dear Editor: It has occurred to me that your paper might render still another service to your readers, and myself in an effort to more accurately represent them, by running a questionnaire as early as possible, as follows:

Questionnaire Do you favor having the Legislature convened in special session to provide Five Million Dollars public funds for a Texas Centennial?

Do you favor providing remission of Penalty and Interest on Delinquent Taxes if paid before a certain date? If a Special session IS called, what other matters do you suggest for consideration?

Answers may be mailed to B. L. Rogers, Representative, at Farnsworth, Texas, or handed to the editor.

The governor has suggested to members of the legislature that we try to ascertain the sentiment of our people as to another called session, and I know no better way than to call on the weekly newspapers. I will appreciate your cooperation in this and would like to have you write me personally.

I suggest also, that you extend my request to any who will write me in addition to answering the questionnaire.

I have been confined indoors for several days since returning from Austin, and am not entirely recovered as yet, otherwise I would try to get around personally to talk things over with you and others whom I could meet. Sincerely yours to serve, B. L. ROGERS.

NEW RELIEF LAW OF STATE CARRIES MANY CHANGES IN PROGRAM

According to information from County Judge J. H. Broadhurst, the new Relief law of the state, H. B. No. 1, recently enacted by the state legislature carries several changes from the present program.

Noticeable in the changes is the state control is vested in a Board of Control comprised of 3 members. This board of control is vested with much additional power and responsibility. Namely, the Board of control appoint the county relief board of five members. The county organization serves only in an advisory capacity and does not have any administrative duties. The Board can and likely will combine one or up to four counties under the administration of one Relief director. The Board employs thru the cooperation of the Relief Administrator all employees of the counties.

Any working project to be approved by the Board of Control must allot 80 per cent of the funds of the relief project to labor.

Especially stressed is placed in the bill on the fact that any individual who is offered labor at the prevailing price in the county in which he lives and refuses to accept, cannot be given any of the benefits of the relief organization. One of the most important changes in the bill stated specifically that 35 per cent of all funds used in a county MUST be devoted to improvement of lateral roads of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Earl Steed and son Gene Earl spent the week in Amarillo the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams.

Mrs. J. L. Hays returned Saturday night after a several weeks visit with her parents in Deming, New Mexico. Her brother, Elmer Seward and his son Billy B. brought her home and spent Sunday visiting friends in the city.

Bill Miller, Elmer Gunn, John Morris and Billy Miller attended the night game between Borger and Perryton held Friday night at Borger.
