

AN OPEN LETTER TO "OLD TACK" OF AMARILLO NEWS.

Dear Mr. Howe: This is news. A newspaper man makes a blunder and received the plaudits of readers.

You are it. Or at least every one in this county is giving you credit for the blunder. I figure out is that Jerry Malin who gave in the report to the Sunday News-Globe that Hansford County would only produce a hundred thousand bushels of wheat this harvest. Calculated that Jerry was thinking about the attendance at the Sandie-Harvester football game next year when the "Harvesters", the Sandies" (note stars means to mark out which team you think won't win), win the Class A championship.

Funny part about the whole thing is that every wheat producer I have met is praising you to the heavens above for making that small estimate. They believe the Machinery companies will get word that this small harvest is in store for the county, and will not expect to collect payments and interest. . . . The Car salesmen will not expect to fill each garage with two cars like the Republicans didn't, and the Tax Assessor will not be so hard to talk into lowering valuations.

There is only one fly in the ointment. I have been working on the Phillips, Sinclair, Magnolia, Gulf, oil companies, the Electrical Appliance Outfitters, and even tackled the Amalgamated Umbrella Corporation for advertising contracts, all on the basis that Hansford County would be the second largest wheat producing county in the state of Texas. Up to the time your report appeared I had made some progress.

For heavens sake come to the aid of your fellow countryman, and help me place these advertising contracts before you start gathering your information for the Hopkins Relief Commission.

Here's what I am telling you. There is one farm in Hansford county owned and operated by Emil Knutson that will produce 70,000 bushels of wheat. To make the proposition safe I will bet you a ticket to the Harvester-Sandie football game that one farm in Hansford County will produce 65,000 bushels of wheat, and that the county production goes above the million mark.

Thanks for the correction. Honest Bill Miller.

TWENTY-FIVE HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS GIVEN DIPLOMAS AT COMMENCEMENT TUESDAY.

District Judge E. J. Pickens, Judge of the Eighty-fourth Judicial District, of Canadian, was the principal speaker at the annual Commencement exercises of the Spearman High School class of 1934, held at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening.

Judge Pickens presented a wealth of inspirational information to the young graduates. His address varied from the typical graduation talk in that he failed to paint a rose tinted road to success and achievement, and talked of the more practical possibilities that faced the members of the class. The speaker rather encouraged the possibilities of many obstacles, and outlined the benefits to be derived from training in overcoming life's hazards. He presented to the class the challenge of the world for leadership to save a demoralized economic, political and civil structure that needs the best efforts and thoughts of the coming leaders in world affairs.

The program in addition to the principal address included: Prelude—Mrs. A. H. Word; Invocation—Rev. B. W. Baker; Salutatory—Billie Louise Jenkins; "A Summer Night"—High School Quartette; Class History—Evelyn Mathews; Class Poem—Jean Lyon; Piano Duet—"Qui Vivit"—Vera Valeh McClellan and Fern Gower. Valedictory—Wren Loftin; Presentation of Diplomas—Supt. Word; Song of Farewell—High School Quartette, and Benediction—Rev. A. F. Loftin.

Twenty-five members of the class received their diplomas at the graduation exercises.

COMMENCEMENT AT MORSE SCHOOL IS HELD MAY 17TH.

At the commencement program here Thursday, Dr. R. P. Jarrett, dean of West Texas State Teachers' College was principal speaker. He said that the qualities that he believed necessary for success was to choose an occupation and strive to do it better than anyone else, keep healthy, have a sense of humor, be honest, be thrifty, have a hobby and take part in religious work. Dr. Jarrett is remembered here as having spoken at the dedication of the new school building in 1930.

All members of former graduating classes of Morse High occupied a special section on the stage. The program featured a musical theme. The school band, directed by M. C. Riemschneider played several numbers. Rev. E. J. Norman gave the invocation and also the benediction. Members of the rhythm band displayed some fine talent in the special numbers given by them. Roy Stevenson, salutatorian, made a short and interesting talk. The class history, an interesting class prophecy given by Opie Knox. Hazel Gay gave a cleverly written sketch, was told by Frederick Forester, valedictorian, a beautiful vocal solo, which was a very pleasing variation from the old valedictory speech.

The grade school valedictorian, Elvia Speer, gave a piano solo, and a trombone solo was given by L. H. Searcy, the salutatorian. Supt. H. Speer presented the diplomas to the grade and high school graduates. Mr. Gillispie presented a number of special awards. A large number of pupils were given attendance certificates for having attended school one semester with out being tardy or absent. Two students, Una Coffee, and L. H. Searcy, made perfect attendance records for the entire year. Reading certificates were given to Frances Knox, Joyce Womble, Dorothy Ann Cooke, and Vaughn Hill. Band letters were given to Una Coffee, Katherine Ann Womble, Vaughn Hill, Bub Durham, Louise Nee, John Gillispie, Roy Stevenson and Frederick Forester.

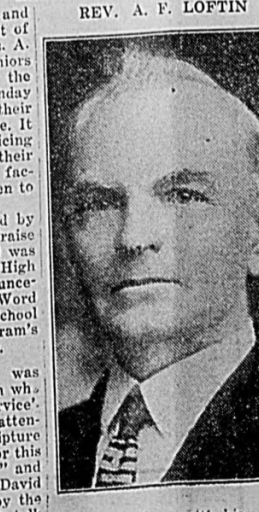

LOCAL PASTOR PREACHES ON "SERVICE AT BACCALAUREATE PROGRAM SUNDAY NIGHT"

With impressive dignity and in step with the rhythmic beat of the professional played by Mrs. A. H. Word, twenty-five seniors marched down the aisle of the High School auditorium Sunday evening May 20th and took their respective places on the stage. It was a time of pride and rejoicing with the 1934 graduates and their relatives and friends, and the faculty, as they prepared to listen to the baccalaureate service.

The invocation was offered by Rev. H. A. Nichols. Then "Praise Ye The Father" by Gounod was beautifully sung by the High School Choral Club. Announcements, made by Supt. A. H. Word followed, and the High School Choral Club sang "A Pilgrim's Journey" by Londonerry Air.

The baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. A. F. Loftin who talked on the subject, "Service". He began by calling special attention to two passages of scripture the first John 12-27: "But for this cause came I unto this hour" and the second, Acts 13-36: "David served his own generation by the will of God". He then in his talk pointed out that there is no life of real value unless that life is one of service, and stated that the one of inactivity is the dry rot of the mind. Of all causes that sway humanity for good, none are more powerful than great personality. Great personality is inspired by great ideas and service.

Jesus said "If any man among you would be greatest of all, let him be servant of all." Paul the great Apostle said, "I am a debtor to all men, to the Jews and to the Greeks, to the wise and unwise to the strong and to the weak: I am a debtor as much as in me is."

In connection with his theme "service" he reviewed the fact that great believers have been doers and used for example: Moses, the leader of Israel; Paul the servant of Jesus Christ; Luther the mighty reformer; Livingstone who lost his life in missionary work of Africa; Clara Barton, the angel of the wounded soldier and founder of American Red Cross; and Francis Willard the great temperance leader. After the sermon the High School Quartette sang "Remember Thy Creator" by Adams, and the benediction was pronounced. The audience remained seated during the Recessional.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

It may be true as some people claim, that thoughts are things, but generally speaking, it seems to be true that they need to be converted into something more palpable, something more strictly in evidence before they can become a real power or force known and understood by all the world.

In times of bewilderment, anxiety or distress a few words fittingly spoken are worth volume of thoughts closely held and unexpressed. Let us then be thankful for words, for the power of language, for the gift of expression.

Hamlet, in a moment of pique replies to the annoying old Polonius, "Words, words, words," and how often we feel like quoting him when we are confronted by a Niagara of speech, containing only the merest trickle of thought, and we long for the "silence" which is declared by the old saw to be "golden."

Certain words to certain people have a potent fascination. The world weary man or woman finds "rest" the most delightful word.

The homeless wanderer like John Howard Payne, finds "home" the sweetest word in the whole English vocabulary, the daring youth loves best the word "adventure," while to a man or woman of genius, the most beguiling word, we believe, is "impossible." As we recall the mighty deeds accomplished by the great ones of earth we find that their achievements were classified under this head. It was so with the adventurous Columbus, as well as Robert Fulton, George Washington also would have ceased his efforts for an independent Republic, Lincoln his determination to save the Union, Morse his efforts for the telegraph, Bell his work for the telephone, and Marconi his belief in the wireless had this one word "impossible" held over them. How often they heard it: early and late it was dinned into their ears, and yet, how royally they disregarded and against George M. Whitson, defendant, and costs of court and the further costs of executing this writ.

GIVEN UNDER MY HAND this 30th day of April, A. D. 1934.

MUTT AND JEFF—Jeff's Not Strong For Being Fish Food

THE LYNX NEWS

Published Weekly News Of The Students By The Students.

it still pressing onward despite discouragements of every kind and degree. To them the word "impossible" soon became a stinging spur quickening every resource of the heart and mind and thus it must become to every ambitious and energetic soul.

During the last four years how often has this appalling word loomed across our pathways. Great indeed is our debt to our teachers for the patient care with which they have swept away this great bugaboo of school life. They were too wise to din into our ears that much abused statement, "Nothing is impossible to diligence," or its twin sister, "Nothing is impossible to a willing heart." Both, utter fallacies, which have worked untold mischief in the minds of youth. Our ceaseless thanks are due to those wise teachers who have taught us the saner statement of wise old Dr. Johnson, "Few things are impossible to diligence and skill." Even he, you will notice, is willing to admit that to even those great monarchs, "diligence and skill are unable to overcome everything. We learned that even the courage and diligence of Columbus could have availed him nothing without his skill of a navigator. Abraham Lincoln's courage and diligence would have been useless without his heaven bestowed gift of understanding men and events while all the diligence possessed by Morse, Bell, Edison and Marconi would have been futile without their heaven sent ingenuity and mechanical skill."

All these points which we have been considering have been along the line of material things, and when we come to the region of the mind and soul we find ourselves absolutely under the tyrannical rod of that mighty word "impossible," and rejoicing in its domination. While life lasts it will be utterly impossible to forget the days spent in Spearman High School. The broad opportunities furnished by the Superintendent and the school board, the never failing patient assistance of the teachers, the friendship and willing co-operation of the class of 1934, must linger with our memories until the "silver cord is loosed, or the golden bowl be broken." These reflections are indeed comforting in these sad closing hours, and they gild with an undying breath that one inexorable word, "Farewell."

CLASS WILL

(By Fern Gower)

We, the members of the Senior class of Spearman High school, being in full possession of all our mental faculties and having no fear of anyone before our eyes, save Professor Finley and Supt. Word, do hereby devise, will and bequeath and convey our earthly possessions, and all the appurtenances and hereditaments thereunto belonging, to all the persons hereinafter mentioned, to be by them held in undistributed possession the length of their mortal spans.

First, to the world at large the commodities, which we have in great abundance and which the world most sorely needs, our entire stock of common sense.

Next, to the Junior class we will and bequeath our laughs and giggles, unsolved puzzles, all of Verne Black's unchewed gum, Sibyl Park's absent excuses, all unsharpened lead pencils, half-filled notebooks and all other unclaimed properties of no value whatever.

To the Freshman Class we bequeath our good will and ability to preserve through all unfavorable circumstances. Our wonderful intellectual powers which have brought us to our present enviable position, we bequeath to the Sophs and to the Juniors all our indifference to criticism and our sublime self-conceit. All these qualities we feel we can get on without in the busy world into which we are about to sojourn.

Tom Walker's "Greta Garbo" smile we will to Woodrow Gibner to add to his attraction to the girls. To Robert Douglas we will Willoughby Douglas' childhood innocence.

We will Fern Gower's timidity to Alvino Caldwell, and Jean Lyon's boldness to Mary Brandt. Our proficiency is phonetic spelling which has never been equalled, and seldom surpassed, we bequeath to the primary grades.

ing the wrong thing in the right place, or the right thing in the wrong place. Just how this is accomplished we are not able to say. Each individual will need to work the matter out for himself. There is no doubt that much benefit will result from the effort.

OUR APPRECIATION OF MR. J. E. GUNN

(By A Student.)

In writing this appreciation let me say that Mr. Gunn has been one of the best liked and one of the best educated teachers which I have had in my entire school career. He has always had the right thing for the right occasion during my one year in school in Spearman. I believe that there is no man or woman in Spearman who is better liked than he is.

All through my one year of schooling in Spearman, Mr. Gunn has been more than merely a teacher to me. I believe that I am safe in saying that he is one of my best friends. I will say now with due respect for my other teachers, both here and elsewhere, that Mr. Gunn is the best teacher in every respect that I have had in all my school days, both in the grades and in the high school.

For the first six weeks Mr. Gunn was just another teacher to me. When at the beginning of the second six weeks, I started taking typewriting, Mr. Gunn began to become more than just a mere teacher. He was so painstaking with me in spite of my many mistakes that I wondered how he could be so. My admiration and my regard for him increased greatly in the next two months.

When at the beginning of the second semester, I started taking Speech under him, he was great in my esteem. From then on until the county meet, during which time he was coaching me in Ex-tempore Speech, Mr. Gunn was like a brother to me. No matter what problem confronted me, I felt free to go to him and consult with him about it.

It is not only as a teacher that I have been associated with Mr. Gunn during my short year here in Spearman. I was out for basketball, of which he was coach. No boy who has not gone out for a sport can conceive what a wonderful coach he is. However, as coach or a teacher, Mr. Gunn is

A DOLLAR AND A HALF WORTH OF OIL PROTECTED THIS MOTOR FOR OVER FOUR THOUSAND MILES!

Low Consumption and Motor Protection proved in the most daring and convincing Motor Oil Test ever made

WHEN New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil was perfected, it had lubrication values so great that a mere statement of them would seem absurd. Could you believe that any strictly stock motor could run 4,729 miles on just five quarts of oil before wrecking itself? It did—and Conoco proved it in competition with five widely known, nationally advertised, quality brands of motor oil!

The competition was held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, under the supervision of the Contest Board, American Five quarts of each brand of oil were carefully put in the cars by AAA officials.

Automobile Association. Six new, strictly stock cars, were used—a different oil of the same S. A. E. grade in each.

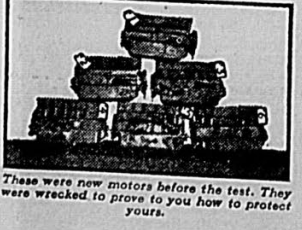

After the cars were broken in for 2,500 miles, they were drained, examined and a fresh fill of five quarts put in each crankcase. No more oil was added. Then the crankcases were sealed by an AAA official. The real test began. It was ordered that they be driven at an average of 500 miles a day at 50 miles an hour until their motors failed to operate. Oil No. 4 was first to fail at 1,713.2 miles. Oil No. 6 failed at 1,764.4 miles. Oil No. 5 ruined its motor at 1,815.9 miles; three of them were out of the running. The next day Oil No. 1 failed to lubricate and, its motor wrecked, stopped at 2,266.8 miles.

Two cars—two oils—still left in the test. Oil No. 3, after a remarkable run of 3,318.8 miles, came to a shuddering stop, and the last competitor of New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. The lone car, with this tremendous vital oil, labeled No. 2, went on for ten days, at an almost unbelievable total of 4,729 miles; it failed—time record mileage on a total of 4,729 miles.

The "Hidden Quart" of new oil attractiveness won—the greater film and higher resistance to the effects of carbon—the absence of carbon and all added in this great achievement—firmly supported Conoco's patent claim. Conoco alone can make this way. It is covered by recent United States patents.

You can have this oil in your car costs no more than other quality Drive into a Conoco Station or marked by the Red Triangle. You know the satisfaction, the freedom of repairs, the economy of low costs that only Conoco gives.

These were new motors before the test. They were wrecked to prove to you how to protect yours.

to new car owners...

Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and temperatures, resulting from improved power and speed. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been exhaustively tested on these new bearings. The results show that it gives them greater protection against damage than many straight mineral oils now on the market. Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

cooperative field is as broad as the number of products the farmer sells or buys, we are concerned chiefly with the raising and selling of wheat in this North Plains country. Almost every town in the Panhandle has its Equity Exchange Elevator and oil station. Many towns like Spearman, have general merchandise cooperatives also. The rebates on the products the farmer buys more than pay for his cooperative membership, besides the profits he makes on the products he sells. His stock advances in value as the cooperative owns and improves its property. This is a good business.

Formerly the grain men at the central markets fixed the price on grain daily and wired buyers the price to pay. There was no competition in price offered the farmer. He could take their prices or keep his wheat. Cooperatives compete with the grain buyers so that they cannot fix prices. We know that competition is the life of business.

Cooperatives discover secrets of the trade and share them with the members. For instance, locally, we had never heard about the high protein content of the North Plains wheat, although we had paid extra for high grade flour made from it, but we had not been paid extra for the wheat. The cooperatives taught us this and our farmers now profit on the sale of each bushel of our protein wheat. Other secrets are discovered and bared.

In a cooperative elevator the wheat is blended and conditioned then sold in large lots, through the terminal Union Equity Exchange. These grower-owned organizations try to secure the highest prices possible for they are interested in the farmer's welfare. Larger lots can command more buyers and cheaper freight rates in shipping. If the price is too low, there are cooperative storage units where products are stored at a small fee until the market is more stable. The producer does not lose title to his product and profits by any advance in price. The cooperative will advance some money on products stored. This method kept cooperative members in this section from selling wheat at 18 cents per bushel, two years ago. Agencies loaning money on farm products should be controlled by persons in sympathy with the producers problems. Farmers are better satisfied to have their products classed and handled by persons who are familiar with their problems and interested in them, than by persons who are interested only in making a living out of the handling of their products. The farmer is one of the best customers for products manufactured from his raw products, and each middle-man's profit makes the farmer pay more for the manufactured article.

Cooperatives are here to stay. They have the producers welfare at heart and deserve his patronage. Every agriculture producer should sell his products cooperatively for these reasons: First, cooperative selling shortens the route from the producer to the consumer. Second, cooperatives give improved marketing methods and teach the farmer business methods. Third, cooperatives help the farmer socially and intellectually. Fourth, the producer profits on the selling and buying of products, and on the rise in value of his stock. Fifth, cooperatives create better prices by competition. Sixth, cooperatives discover and share secrets of the trade. Seventh, cooperatives store products and loan money on stored products. Eighth, larger lots command cheaper freight rates and more buyers at better prices. For these reasons and every other it is plain to see that every farmer should join his cooperative and make more on what he sells and pay less for what he buys.

COOPERATION FOR FARMERS UNDER GOVERNMENT REGULATION AND CONTROL

(By GEO. M. WHITSON)

In our opinion the most important problem confronting Agriculturists of this country today, is their relationship to the "New Deal" as developed and made law by the passage of the National Recovery Act of 1933. Under its provisions a nation wide plan of cooperative marketing of the products of the farm and ranch has been inaugurated and a majority of the states of the Union have already passed laws in conformity with the Federal statute.

In the discussion of this important subject it may be well to inquire into the reasons why state and nation through various state legislatures and the national congress, have enacted this legislation of such vast importance and far reaching consequences to the agricultural world.

As a part of the National Recovery program, our good President, in his last annual message to the Congress, recommended the appropriation of $10,000,000 to be made available during the present year for the purpose of moving the wheels of industry, as in days of normalcy; and, and to restore agricultural parity to the products of farm and ranch. Many question the advisability of borrowing and spending this vast sum of money in an effort to aid those out of employment, to increase the salaries of labor to the point of a living wage, and restore agriculture to a cost plus basis, as in days of yore.

In support of the chief executives action in the premises, the report of the Secretary of Agriculture for the year of 1930 estimated the decrease in the value of livestock for that year to be $1,921,517,000, and that farm crops were valued at $2,400,000,000 less in 1930 than in 1929. This a total decrease in the value of grain, cotton and livestock during that period of $3,921,517,000. Now, to that vast sum add the depreciation of dairy and poultry products and the depreciation of farm and ranch lands during that period throughout the country, and it will readily be seen that for the year 1930 the depression engineered by predatory wealth cost agriculture alone eight or ten billions of dollars. The depression continued, in even greater severity, for a period of four years, thereby costing farmers and ranchmen of this country thirty or forty billion.

Can anyone analyze these figures based on statistics from the Department of Agriculture and question the motive or the good judgment of the President in recommending the appropriation of ten billion dollars for the purpose of aiding in the restoration of prosperity to the nation with four or five times the population of those engaged in agriculture?

A further study of existing conditions reveals the fact that production has been taken from agriculturists, and instead of being distributed among the masses who were entitled to subsistence from the farm and ranch, through ruthless manipulation by grain and stock gamblers, vast fortunes have been massed in the hands of a few, while the many are left to root hog or die in this land of plenty. Thus by means of illegitimate and unscrupulous methods amounting in substance, to the highway robbery of producers, the wealth of production is unequally distributed among the people. The classes have prospered as never before, while the masses have been depressed as never before in the history of this country. For these reasons reorganization of the agricultural industry under rules and regulations provided by the National Recovery Act of 1933, and applied by Farmers Credit Administration, is part of the president's plan of relief for agriculture.

The cotton and wheat, corn, hog and cattle allotment plans and various other plans of the present Farm Credit Administration are cooperative in their nature and through Federal regulation and control of production and the cooperative marketing of the products of the farm and ranch are intended and no doubt will restore the value of agricultural products to parity prices under normal conditions. Its our only hope today. A continuance of conditions existing during the last four years means bankruptcy for agriculture and the pauperization of the masses in this land of plenty.

Now lets come home to Spearman and council with its people, and these farmers residing within Spearman territory in reference to cooperative marketing of the products of farm and ranch. We have two cooperative marketing organizations in this town, each of which are institutions organized under the Co-operative Marketing Acts of Congress and the State of Texas. We refer to the Farmers National Grain Corporation and the Spearman Equity Exchange.

Why not consolidate these two institutions by the organization into one cooperative, whose membership is to include not only members of the Spearman Equity and the Wheat Growers Association, but also all other producers in Spearman territory who have signed allotment contracts and therefore are willing to accept the government plan of cooperation.

For many reasons we suggest a united organization; because it is in the interest of economy; because its imperative that we present a solid front against the encroachments of our adversaries, those who have no sympathy with the present administration's plans for the solution of the farmers problem; thereby removing unjust criticism that has been leveled against each of the old organizations. and lastly because we are loyal to the flag of our country and are willing to accept the guiding hand of the present administration.

TO SPEARMAN HIGH

Dear old Spearman High
We wish to sing your praise,
With friends and classmates nigh,
Hearts and voice we raise
In paean love for you.
Our mentor you have been,
Your portals open wide
For all who wish to enter
And cast ignorance aside.
Our praise is all for you.
We've vexed our teachers sore
At times—in days now past,
But we have loved them more,
And shall while memories last,
For they are part of you.
Courage high and morals true,
Pride in our task to take,
And loyalty, dear school to you,
All for "old time's sake"—
These we have gleaned from you.
In future years when we strive hard

Within the world's great marts,
A love, as for our favorite bard,
Will fill and overflow our hearts
When e'er we think of you.
Jean Lyon.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY '34

It was on a bright summer day in 1955 that I purchased one of old America's most modern inventions, the cosmic plane. It was on this same day that I had a longing and a desire to meet my old teachers and class mates one more time.

The first place I decided to go was the prosperous and progressive city of Spearman. It is true that Spearman used to be my hometown; though there were not many familiar faces to be seen.

A large building which attracted my attention. I soon learned that this was the place where the world's largest and most famous Choral Club assembled. I was very much surprised when I saw Mrs. Word directing this large group of ladies. It was in this same place that I also had the pleasure of meeting my old home room sponsor, Miss Deakin. She is now called "Mother of Singers" and holds first place among the world's most famous alto.

Due to important business I had to make a sudden flight to Pringle. While on Main Street I saw to my surprise, Vernie Black moving down this street with rapid speed, followed very closely by the former Billie Jenkins, who was carrying a very deadly weapon (the rolling pin). Vernie appeared for just a few seconds, to be living in a very fast age. While in Pringle I decided to have lunch in a modern and very beautiful cafeteria. Soon after I was seated a lady whom I recognized as Aleen Gill, took my height and weight. A period of only a few seconds had elapsed when Miss Crittenden came rushing forward with a lunch prepared for my individual and physical condition.

While I was in Waka I had the privilege of attending a public entertainment. I was somewhat astonished, when two very modern toe-dancers were introduced as Mr. R. C. Sampson and Mr. Tom Walker. Tom and R. C. were very handsome young men.

While in Seattle, Washington I visited the New History and Science Institute, which had recently been completed. Being interested in history I decided to visit the history room, and I was surprised when I saw Miss Maize trying to prove to a group of young men that the most forceful enemies that man has ever had to combat with.

After leaving Seattle, I decided to pass through Yellow Stone National Park. It was here that I saw the world's champion football players. I was amused a great deal when the coach was introduced to me as Mr. Gunn and the sponsor as Sibil Parks. Mr. Gunn and Sibil appeared to be on very friendly terms.

The next place at which I stopped was San Francisco. I had to have some repair work done on my cosmic plane. I was rather surprised when I recognized two of the modern science mechanics as Bill Wayne Sampson and Leroy Sheets.

While in Hollywood I had the privilege of meeting two very popular movie actors and a very successful director. The two actresses were Evelyn Mathews and Vera Beth McClellan, and Harold Womble was their director. They were going through a period of reformation. Vera Beth and Evelyn were soon going to appear on the screen as leading characters in a play entitled "Why Feminine Love Often Disappoints Young Americans." While I was yet in Hollywood I also had the privilege of hearing a very famous pianist, Miss Fern Gower. She had proved to be a very successful composer of music.

Before I left Hollywood I was asked to deliver a message to Mexico City, and while I was there I decided to go into a large Cathedral and hear a program which was being put on by the Social Chatter Club of Mexico City. I was quite alarmed when I recognized the President of the organization as Miss Verma Lawrence. Miss Lawrence told me that she had been living a lonely and distant life. After she had finished talking to me I was beginning to feel a bit lonely myself. She told me that she wanted to retire from public teaching and become a private vate sponsor of some handsome young man who could furnish a beautiful home.

I made my next stop near the New York Harbour. I decided to look through the world's largest ocean liner which was anchored in the harbour. And I'll admit that I was surprised when an elderly sea captain was introduced to me as Captain W. R. Finley. Mr. Finley took me down into the engine room and introduced the two leading engineers. They were Willoughby Douglas and Vernie Caldwell.

While in New York I noticed, in front of a modern structure, a Bulletin Board, which had written on it, these words, "If you want to acquire everlasting beauty and appear before people as a handsome figure; come in and let us talk with you." Thinking it would be worth my time I decided to go in and have a little talk. And much to my surprise I saw five of my old classmates giving facials. They were Flodell Batton, Francis Hollingshead, Alene Parker, Novlene Parker and Katherine Sealey.

The next stop was about bringing me to the end of what I called a perfect journey. Before returning to my home in Atlanta I decided to stop in Charleston, South Carolina. While I was walking down a street I heard some very beautiful singing and music. Since music has always appealed to me I thought I would go in and listen at the singing. I was scarcely seated when I recognized three beautiful ladies singing a trio. They were Jean Lyon, Ruby Moss and Wren Loftin.

From here I returned home. After checking over the list of teachers and classmates, I was very much disappointed to see that I had overlooked Mr. Word. I remembered seeing Mrs. Word in Spearman, so I decided that he surely must be somewhere near that city. I immediately started toward Spearman and had not been there long when I learned that he was a professor of Astronomy in the large Near-To-Nature Observatory. Upon entering the observatory I saw an elderly man who was looking through a 250 inch telescope. I was indeed glad to know that Mr. Word was holding this position. After talking to him awhile I asked what part of the universe he was studying? He replied, "That he had been for many years that good times was just around the corner and what he was doing now was trying to see just how far away the corner is." Since Mr. Word seemed to be a very brilliant Professor of Astronomy I decided to take a course under his direction.

Thus ends the prophecy of the Senior Class of 1934.

CLASS HISTORY

(By Evelyn Mathews)

Dear friends, if you will give me your kind attention I shall relate to you the story of our marvelous class, the wonderful class of 1934. We have been in school for eleven short happy years.

But I must get back to my story. Of the twenty-four seniors here tonight, only three of them entered Spearman school in the first grade. They are Fern Gower, Evelyn Mathews and Willoughby Douglas. Leroy Sheets entered our class in the second grade but left at the end of the second term. In the third grade Vera Beth McClellan became one of us. Sibil Parks was with us in the fifth and sixth grades, but left us at the end of the sixth. When we were in the sixth grade Jean Lyon and Aleen Gill joined our class. Billie Jenkins and Flodell Batton came into our class while we were in the seventh grade. When we were in the sixth and seventh grades we had to go to school in the old "cracker box." Even if we did nearly freeze sometimes, we spent an enjoyable time out there by ourselves where we could do just as we pleased. Mr. Gunn was our teacher while we were in the seventh grade. Vera Beth McClellan was valedictorian when we graduated from grammar school in 1930.

The next fall there were thirty-nine students who entered Spearman High as "green" Freshmen. Vernie Caldwell was the only one who joined our class that year. Vera Beth McClellan was president, and Mr. H. J. Powell was our sponsor.

Having acquired a little more knowledge we were allowed to become sophomores in 1931. During this year Bill Wayne Sampson was our president. During this term Ruby Moss, Alene Parker, Novlene Parker, Katherine Sealey and Tom Walker joined us.

While we were Sophomores Miss Myrie Holt taught dramatics here. The students who took dramatics at that time were Billie Jenkins, Vera Beth McClellan, Evelyn Mathews, and Fred Holt. We took part in several plays.

In 1932 we entered Spearman High as Juniors. Miss Crittenden was our sponsor that year. Harold Womble, Frances Hollingshead and Leroy Sheets joined our number.

Our class officers were Bob Howard president; Jean Lyon, vice president; Billie Jenkins, secretary. Vera Beth McClellan, reporter, and Evelyn Mathews, assistant editor of The Lynx.

As the year found us in the middle of the depression, we did not know how we were going to entertain the Seniors, but with the help of our room mother, Mrs. Sid Clarke, and the junior mothers, we gave the seniors a banquet to which they were looking forward.

The year of 1933 brought us to realize that we were dignified seniors. There were 28 seniors enrolled at the beginning of the year. Of those 28 there are 25 here tonight. The girls are Flodell Batton, Aleen Gill, Fern Gower, Frances Hollingshead, Billie Jenkins, Wren Loftin, Jean Lyon, Evelyn Mathews, Vera Beth McClellan, Ruby Moss, Alene Parker, Novlene Parker, Sibil Parks and Katherine Sealey. The boys are Vernie Black, Vernie Caldwell, Willoughby Douglas, Timothy Casley, Fred Holt, Stanley Garnett, R. C. Sampson, Bill Wayne Sampson, Leroy Sheets, Tom Walker, and Harold Womble.

The officers this year were Jean Lyon, president; Vernie Black, vice-president; Billie Jenkins, secretary. Evelyn Mathews, editor; Wren Loftin, reporter.

To the delight of the seniors they were successful in putting on the play, "Jupiter Smiles."

Among the prominent members of our class is Jean Lyon. Besides serving as our class president this year, she was a member of the high school quartette and a member of the basketball team for four years. She was selected as the most popular girl in the class. Leroy Sheets was boys basketball captain this year. He also made the highest average of the boys for the four years in high school. Wren Loftin is valedictorian, and she also sang in the high school quartette. Wren Loftin and Flodell Batton won first place in county in debate this year. Harold Womble was selected the most popular boy in the senior class. Fern Gower has taken first place in the county in spelling for the past two years. She is also a good musician. Sibil Parks was football sponsor this year. Fred Holt was selected as the most handsome boy of our class. Vera Beth McClellan was pep squad leader for the Lynx and is also one of the high school musicians. Evelyn Mathews has been editor in chief of the Lynx this year and also selected as the most beautiful girl of the senior class.

The seniors had the time of their lives Friday May 11th, 1934 when we dressed as little kids to celebrate "Kids Day." We visited the primary department, played dolls and jacks, and did many other things that little kids do. The Hale boys gave us free tickets to the show that night.

We enjoyed "Kids Day" so much that we hope it will become an annual event for the seniors. Prizes were awarded to Evelyn Mathews and Leroy Sheets for playing the parts of kids best.

The class has had several parties during the year and have enjoyed them. The Christmas party given in the home of Mrs. J. E. Gower, our room mother, was the best party that the seniors had. Every Senior was there. The principal social event of the year was the Junior-Senior Banquet, which will be remembered by all that were present.

Our class is not so large in number but we feel that the few of us will obtain just as high a goal in comparison to that of those of the larger graduation classes who have gone on before us.

SALUTATORY

To the members of the Board of Education of the Spearman Public Schools; to the Superintendent and Teachers; to the appreciative friends here tonight, I am honored to bring the greetings of the class of 1934, condensed into that friendly and most inclusive word, "Welcome!"

We are to show you tonight some of the results of our four years' training in this high school, a high school which has become known all over this section of the State for its high scholastic standing. Please notice that I use the word "some" and I can assure you that I used this one word advisedly. Should we agree to give you all the results of our four years of strenuous endeavors it would be necessary for you to stay with us days and even weeks, in order to absorb and understand all that we have learned.

Can any of you send your thoughts back over the early years of this class, and see us as we really looked in the beginning of, what we delight to call our "careers?" Some of us were no doubt, very charming indeed, "cute little creatures," you would no doubt have called the girls, while the boys you would have dubbed "brave, sturdy little fellows." Perhaps in truth some of the girls were incipient flappers; perhaps some of the boys were veritable friands.

Be that as it may, you now see before you the finished model, and you wonder as you gaze. You muse, can that beautiful, graceful girl yonder be that ugly little Jane or Mary of the long ago, or that tall, manly fellow with the broad shoulders, be that unruly Tom, Dick or Harry, who was forever prowling in my back yard, and from whom I prophesied nothing better than a long term in the penitentiary.

But if some of our early days are remembered here tonight without any accompanying complimentary thoughts, and you choose to make of the two conditions a "before and after" illustration, they must prove the wonderful power of education. We think it was Addison who said, "What sculpture is to a block of marble, education is to the human soul." It needs no long strung argument to prove the truth of this assertion. No one dares deny it, and in fact, no one wishes to deny it. Everywhere beneath the red, white and blue of the American flag, education may be won by any person who truly desires its broadening influence. All that is required is a constant and systematic attempt. With these requirements we have complied, therefore we stand before you tonight and ask that you take pride with us in our achievements. Your love has given us faith; the faith has brought us courage; and the three together has awakened within us a desire for wisdom. That you may enjoy these exercises is our wish for you tonight.

March Ranks His New Role Equal To Best

Frederic March plays, what he considers, the second outstanding screen role of his brilliant film career in "Death Takes a Holiday," the Paramount picture directed by Mitchell Leisen which comes Sunday to the Lyric Theatre. March ranks only his memorable performance in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" with his latest part.

FINAL PRINGLE P. T. A. MEETING OF SEASON

"Youth and Social Hygiene" was the subject that Judge E. J. Pickens gave at the Pringle Parents-Teacher meeting held on Friday May 18. He said a candid discussion of the subject was impossible. The proper place to discuss sex hygiene is at the home and not at the school.

Parents must be chums to their children. The father should have the confidence of the son, the mother that of the daughter.

Children should feel free to discuss with their parents the questions that are troubling them. It is best to receive the information from a reliable source rather than from those who would make evil out of good truth.

The Choral Singers, with the "Ukelele Girls" sang several songs. Miss Estelene Harris gave a reading, Mrs. Roy Holton gave a short report of the conference held at Shamrock.

After the meeting a social was held and those present were served iced tea, sandwiches and cake. There were about 100 in attendance, 40 of which were members of the Pringle P. T. A.

A school of instructions will be held Friday afternoon May 25. All officers and chairmen are urged to be present. The public is always welcome.

All mothers of the Pre-School children are to be present so as to discuss the Summer Round-Up which the Pringle P. T. A. is sponsoring. Mrs. M. W. McCloy will have charge of the school of instruction.

General Topic: THE LAST JUDGEMENT Scripture Lesson: Matt. 25:31-46

31. But when the Son of man shall come in his glory and all the angels with him then shall he sit on the throne of his glory: 32. And before him shall be gathered all the nations: and he shall separate them from one another, as the shepherd separateth the sheep from the goats.

Place: The Mount of Olives. Parallel Passage.—There is none.

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR BASEBALL TOURNAMENT AT BORGER

Borger's 1934 baseball tournament, beginning June 30th and scheduled to last ten days, is expected to be one of the most outstanding sporting events of the season. With improved conditions, increased payrolls in Hutchinson county, and more leisure time established under NRA, supporters of the tournament are enthusiastically predicting a $5,000 gate.

"The usual entry fee of $50.00 will be charged each team, and the money will be returned after the team has complied with the tournament rules. Rules will be substantially the same as in the 1932 tournament, except that it has not yet been decided whether the tournament will be a two or three game elimination."

CHURCHES

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday School 10 a. m. Boys and Girls World Club immediately after S. S. Morning worship 11 a. m. Intermediate League 7:15. Evening Worship 8:15. Senior Young People's 9 p. m. Stewards Monthly Meeting Monday night. Both W. M. S. Wednesday afternoon. Prayer Meeting, Bible Study Wednesday night 8:15. The Sunday School Day program of last Sunday was unusually good. It was one of the best programs we have heard in many years. Every department was represented, from Nursery to Home Department. The history of the Methodist Sunday School given by A. F. Barkley was humorous as well as full of information. It was the first Sunday School organized in the county—more than 33 years ago. Mrs. A. E. Powers was the first Superintendent. The Methodist Church was the first church organized in Hansford county. The preacher who organized the church and Sunday School, is Dr. McKeown of Abilene, Texas. He had for his circuit or churches the following counties: Hansford, Ochiltree, Moore, Sherman, and Dalhart. The territory he had then almost constitutes a big district with many churches and pastors, and Sunday Schools, Leagues, and W. M. S. now. A splendid offering was taken after the program was rendered. Our League Union meets Sunday afternoon on the Palo Duro North of Waka. In this Union are Spearman, Perryton, Gruver, Higgins and Booker. Miss Reba Barkley is the untiring and energetic president. We hope that every one of the leaguers will attend this union—and have the best attendance of any other league like we did at Texhoma in the district meeting recently. To all of the services Sunday we extend to you a most cordial welcome. H. A. Nichols, Pastor.

Assembly of God

The Assembly of God Services is as follows: Sunday School 9:45 a. m. Followed by morning worship, message by Mrs. Cooke. Junior C. A.'s 3 p. m., in charge of Miss Joyce Wilbanks. Christ Ambassadors at 7 p. m., followed by evening worship, message by Mrs. Cox. "Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

BAPTIST CHURCH

A. F. LOFTIN, Pastor

Jesus, how sweet the name. Jesus, always the same. Come to church Sunday if you want to learn about Jesus. Read and study with me Colossians 1:15-18. Text—"That in all things He might have the preeminence." Jesus is the one Center around which all things revolve. Jesus is the Key of all. "If Jesus Christ is a man, And only a man I say, That of all mankind I will cleave to Him And to Him will I cleave. But if Jesus Christ is God, And the only God, I swear, I will follow Him through heaven and hell, The earth, the sea and the air." He who has found Jesus has found God. We are expecting a really great service Sunday evening. The pulpit will likely be filled by a visiting preacher, while the pastor is in a meeting in the Holt community. Let all our members be present Sunday evening to support this visiting preacher. Pray much for the meeting at Holt. Remember—B. T. S. meeting at 7:30 p. m., preaching at 8:30 p. m.

Let me take this opportunity to thank the Church for the gift of the trip to the Southern Baptist Convention—the greatest convention I was ever privileged to attend. More than a dozen thousand people attended that convention. It meets next May in Memphis, Tennessee.

BELLE - BENNETT MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Members of the Belle - Bennett Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. J. D. Hester for their regular Wednesday afternoon meeting. Mrs. A. F. Barkley was leader of the excellent program that was enjoyed by all. Thirteen members were present, with Mrs. T. P. Tackitt from Utah, with us again as a visitor. Also Mrs. D. Jones and Mrs. Gosard were other visitors. Due to the fact that next Wednesday is "Decoration Day", the regular meeting of the organization will not be held. The next meeting will be held June 6th with Mrs. H. E. Campfield.

J. E. Gerber left Thursday morning for a six months tour of C. C. C. and will be stationed at Tucson, Arizona.

Church of Christ

Program for the week beginning Sunday, May 27th. Bible classes 10:00 a. m. Sunday. Preaching 11:00 a. m. Young People's Bible Classes 7:30 p. m. Preaching 8:30 p. m. Mid week Bible Classes Thursday 8:30 p. m. The revival that came to a close last Lord's Day was a great success. Twenty-seven responded to the invitation, nineteen restorations and eight baptisms. Good interest was manifested to the very close of the meeting, which of course proves that regardless of other interests the Gospel of Christ has an appeal to people which cannot be replaced by any other attraction. Brother Wiseman made many friends during his short stay with us, and will always find a welcome in Spearman. To the new members may we extend to you the kindest welcome and the Christian fellowship that you are so justly due. We expect you to take your part and help to make the Church here at Spearman just such a one as Christ expects it to be. With the able leadership of Brother Murry the church now has a chance to grow in a way that it has never done before. It will do this if we all work as we should and as we know that you will.

The kindest welcome is extended to everyone who will come and study the Bible with us. Remember, we have no creed other than the Bible. We have no church for you to join. Come and investigate the Gospel which is the "Power of God unto Salvation."

5 Six-Footers... and not a cramp in a Carload!

FIVE big men can relax in utter comfort on the deep cushions of the Ford V-8. Wide seats keep elbows out of ribs. Ample leg room keeps legs from being cramped.

Why? Because Ford measures roominess in terms of usable body room. Not in terms of the distance between bumpers, which means nothing when you come to analyze it.

The Ford V-8's very engine construction gives you more body room, as the diagram explains. Cylinders are "doubled-up" saving space, not strung along in a line to waste it.

See how much less space is occupied by the V-8 engine as compared with the ordinary "six" or "eight." Less space for the engine means more space for the passengers.

The Ford V-8 front seat is adjustable. It quickly and easily adapts itself to a six-foot-two husband or a five-foot-two wife. It ends forever that source of strife.

Before you buy any car at any price, drive the Ford V-8.
