Attend Funeral of Mother In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Snook and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Wilbanks returned to Spearman on Friday of last week after attending the funeral of Mrs. Sarah S. Snook, the mother of P. O. Snook.

Mrs. Sarah Snook died at the age of 83 years, four months and twenty-one days, at Sapulpa, Oklahoma, Wednesday evening, May 2nd, at 4:20 p. m. Her death was not wholly unexpected as she had been in ill health for several years, and the past year was helpless from paralysis and was bedfast the last three months of her life.

Marvin Chambers will leave Sunday for Mercedes, Texas. Mrs. Chambers who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis for the past several weeks will return home with him.

Sarah S. Snook was born in Alton, Illinois and lived there until she married at the age of eighteen. She and her husband then moved to Milan County, Texas, where they lived a few years before moving to Hammon, Oklahoma, where she spent the last twenty-five years of her life, her husband preceding her in death 27 years.

She had been a faithful Christian during her life, being a member of the Church of Christ. Funeral services were held at Kellyville, Oklahoma by Rev. James Wm. McKinney, Thursday afternoon May 3rd, followed by interment in the cemetery there.

H. A. HOLCOMB LOSES LIFE IN CAR WRECK

H. A. Holcomb, resident of Wellington, Texas, was instantly killed and Jess Russel of Perryton was badly bruised and shocked when a light car driven by Mr. Holcomb failed to make the slight bend in the road on Highway 117 at the outskirts of Spearman, and went to the bar pit, turning over perhaps two times.

The accident apparently occurred when the driver of the car failed to notice the slight bend in the road after passing the dip in highway 117. Tracks of the car indicate the driver headed the car straight for the ditch. A back tire was flat, and some who visited the scene of the accident early after the tragedy were of the opinion that the tire was the cause of the driver losing control of the car.

Dr. J. E. Gower was rushed to the scene of the accident, and pronounced death coming to the deceased as the result of a broken neck.

Russel was thrown clear of the car and his injuries were only slight.

The body was carried to the Wilson Funeral Home in Spearman where it was prepared for burial, and turned over to relatives of the deceased early Tuesday morning. Interment was held at the cemetery at Wellington Wednesday afternoon of this week.

Mr. Holcomb was a prominent citizen of Wellington, and was at the time of his death employed as a representative of the Joint Land Bank of Houston, serving in the capacity of an Agent to make land loans to farmers of Collingsworth and adjoining counties.

'CASE DAY' PLANNED BY McCLELLAN GRAIN

R. L. McClellan plans to be host to all the farmers in Hansford and adjoining counties for a "Case Day" entertainment to be staged at the Grain Company home next Thursday May 17.

Representatives of the Case Company will be on hand to assist in the program, and most all the modern power farming machinery featured by the Case Company will be demonstrated during the day. Refreshments will be served and all farmers are invited to attend.

LIONS HEAR MOTHERS DAY PROGRAM TUES

Rev. A. F. Loftin, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Spearman was guest speaker at the noon luncheon of the club held Tuesday at the American Legion Hall. A splendid "Mother's Day" talk was the selection of the visiting pastor.

A report from the golf committee of the club made by Lion Bruce Sheets indicates that the local golf course will soon be open for golf members. Near a half hundred members in Hansford County have been signed up to make the newly reorganized golf club a success.

Lynx 1934-35 Team Hold Famous 1932 Squad Scoreless

Just about the only time the famous steam roller 1932 Lynx football team have ever been held to a scoreless tie, occurred the past week end when old warriors gathered on the Lynx football field to click against their smaller brothers the 34-35 Lynx team.

While one of the assistant coaches of the Lynx squad, Preach Loftin, might have been just a bit partial to the younger Lynx team in calling off-side decisions, it was the coordination and real football ability of the coming team that made the game scoreless. Both teams penetrated, and on one occasion the youngsters threatened to score in spite of the stubborn resistance of the older and much heavier players.

Each club having three votes and one additional vote for each 25 paid up members. The local club now boasts over 100 members in good standing.

The voting strength of the West Texas Clubs proved to be the strongest at the convention and will be to a great measure responsible for the recognition that West Texas will get in state matters. Amarillo was voted to be the place for the convention next year. Judge Broadhurst was a member of the Resolutions Committee and Mrs. Cooke was a member of the Women's Coordinating Committee.

LOCAL CLUB OWES THANKS TO JUDGE BROADHURST
The local club owes its thanks to Judge Broadhurst for the interest he is taking in the club's work. It is through his efforts and individual expense that the club has been represented at the Dallas Convention and also the Lubbock Convention.

Mother's Hands

Hands of shapely beauty hold no charm for me
The hands white and tender I care not to see
But I long for work-worn hands to hold tenderly
My mother's hands are like hands sought to be.
Though her hands are gnarled I love them today
They knew too much work and too little of play
But they hold my heart strings in a love that is kind
Those love-killed hands of that mother of mine.
Now those hands are resting, how I admire
I admit as they're folded while she rocks by the fire
They're marked by work, cruel and splendid deeds fine
Those sweet faithful hands of that Mother of mine.
—Margaret Locke Kirk

Perhaps no other club can boast of such talent as is found in the Holt Curtain Club and the entertainment for Tuesday night promises to be one of the best of this year. Cecil Kirk who has a degree in the work from the University of Chicago is directing the play and is playing the lead role in the first play.

The admission price for hot plays will be 10c, 15c and 25c. Special in between act feature are being arranged by Clyde Winder, Leo Smith and Willoughby Spark.

Windom Bros. Orchestra Featured At Legion Dance

Windom Brothers Orchestra, local organization, is being featured in Monday night dances at the American Legion Hall, sponsored by the local Legion. Large crowds have been in attendance the past two Monday nights. The next dance will be Monday, May 14.

RAINFALL MEASURES MORE THAN INCH OVER HANSFORD CO.

With an average of approximately an inch of rainfall coming to Hansford county Wednesday night, prospects for a real wheat harvest for 1934 become more encouraging with many fields assured of grain regardless of future rain.

According to old timers who are familiar with conditions in the county the Wednesday night rain could not have fallen at a more appropriate time, or in a more appropriate manner. Nearly all of the moisture soaked into the ground, and as one citizen, Mr. Buzzard, expressed it, the rain the way it fell was equal to a two inch rain that would have fallen in a short time. The moisture came at different periods during the night. The first rain began about 11 p. m., Wednesday night, and another shower fell along about 3 a. m. Thursday morning, with heavy rainfall that began about 5 a. m., and continued until about 6:30 a. m.

According to reports over the county the rainfall was more or less varied. Morse reports only a quarter of an inch, while Gruber registered more than an inch. The rain gauge of U. S. Weather Observer, Fred Brandt, of Spearman, showed a precipitation of .75 inches.

The rain at this time means increased activities on the farms and in the business houses of the County. Farmers will devote their time in the immediate future to repairing power farming machinery, and in many instances trades for new machinery will be made. Most of the farm machinery dealers who have worried along without business for the past three years will welcome the opportunity to become business men again. Walter Wilmet, the International Dealer supports a carload of McCormick-Deering tractors on hand ready to serve his customers. Edgar Womble has a cargo of John Deere tractors that he has been polishing up and breaking in for the past three weeks, and R. L. McClellan was sure that the Wednesday night rain would come that he arranged in advance for a big CASE DAY next Thursday at which time he plans to peddle several Case tractors and Combines. Other dealers are ready for the rush, and repair shops all over the city are awaiting to do their turn in making ready machinery for the harvest.

Two One-Act Plays At H. S. Auditorium Tuesday Night May 15

The Holt Curtain Club will present two one-act plays at the High School auditorium in Spearman next Tuesday night May 15th. They have selected two of the finest one-act plays available by making special royalty arrangements with Longmans Green and Company of New York. The first play that will open the evening's entertainment will be "The Valiant" which is one of the best works of Holworthy Hall and Robert Middlemass. It is intensely dramatic, being a prison play and the action takes place in the Warden's office, where the hero of the play, a prisoner is waiting for his execution. It is the belief of the Warden that the prisoner is innocent of the murder charge for which he is being held, but he finds it impossible to get a statement from him as to whether he is guilty or not. It is a pathetic story of a brave prisoner who prefers death rather than to make his identity known.

The other play is a rollicking one-act comedy containing a thousand side splitting laughs that will bring tears to the audience's eyes. It is the well known Booth Tarkington play titled "The Trysting Place."

Perhaps no other club can boast of such talent as is found in the Holt Curtain Club and the entertainment for Tuesday night promises to be one of the best of this year. Cecil Kirk who has a degree in the work from the University of Chicago is directing the play and is playing the lead role in the first play.

The admission price for hot plays will be 10c, 15c and 25c. Special in between act feature are being arranged by Clyde Winder, Leo Smith and Willoughby Spark.

COMPULSORY CROP CONTROL

We shall watch with a great deal of interest the experiment in compulsory curtailment of crops, under heavy penalty, provided for in the Bankhead cotton control act, which is now the law of the land. Under this law each cotton grower will be given an allotment of the number of bales he may market. If he grows or offers to market any more than his allotment he will have to pay a penalty tax high enough to take whatever profits he might have made from the sale of his quota.

The theory of limiting production is, of course, to get a higher price for the producer for what he does raise. That is what lies back of the wheat, corn-hog and tobacco control measures, which, however, are voluntary agreements on the part of the growers. No man needs to join up unless he wishes to, and he gets his compensation for limit production out of a processing tax paid by the handlers. In practice, we have wondered whether this method would ever be successful, human nature being what it is.

We think the principle behind the Bankhead law is, in some respects, preferable to the bonus system under the other control laws. In the long run it is better for any human being to get his profit as a direct result of his own labors rather than as a bonus. If the cotton plan works, the price of cotton will go high enough so a bonus will not be needed, and the process tax need not be levied. That is all to the good. Anything which eliminates any form of taxation is always good. And, except for the first compulsion, it leaves the cotton farmer with more of his personal independence. What he does and earns does not depend upon what his neighbors do.

In a perfect world everybody would cooperate voluntarily and completely in every program for the common good. But that presupposes complete agreement as to what is really for the benefit of everybody, and the utter absence of greed and desire to take an unfair advantage. When mankind has reached a stage when everybody agrees on what is right and makes no effort to overreach his neighbors we won't need any crop control laws nor any other kind of laws. Unfortunately, we haven't got to that stage yet; and we shall be much interested to see by what means and at what cost the Bankhead law is enforced.

THIS WEEK IN WASHINGTON

Your correspondent had the privilege a few days ago of talking and listening to the three most important men in the Administration on three successive days: President Roosevelt on Thursday, General Hugh Johnson on Friday and Professor Rexford Tugwell on Saturday.

All of them talked freely, though much of what they said was not for publication. Nothing that the President said can be quoted, but it is entirely permissible to express an opinion on his state of mind and the direction in which he is heading, deduced from what he said. The talk with him lasted nearly two hours, with General Johnson nearly as long and with Dr. Tugwell nearly an hour.

Certain conclusions are incapable; they are noticeable in what all three men said.

Five Conclusions
 First, a definite sensitivity to criticism of the "New Deal," amounting almost to thin-skinnedness.

Second a definite effort to dispel the idea that there is something "radical" about the New Deal.

Third, a definite purpose to slow down on government borrowings and substitute the government financing of private business, new means to stimulate investment of private capital.

Fourth, a definite intention to resist any further inflationary measures, especially such as contained in the effort to compel the President to remonetize silver on the 16-to-1 or any other basis.

Fifth, a definite, deep-rooted conviction that what the Administration is doing is "right." On that point a high Federal official recently compared the written Constitution to the old wooden man-of-war Constitution, so lately rehabilitated and sent on a tour of the nation's seaports. It was a fine ship in its day, and everybody reveres it and respects it for the service it did in the war of 1812, but nobody would think of sending it to sea to fight again.

Righteous Aim
 There is a fine fervor, almost religious in its tone, when some of the New Dealers talk about the necessity for social regeneration by government dictum and financial aid.

Taking up the points enumerated in their order, the tone rather than the words of all three of these Administration leaders indicated that, although criticism has been invited, it was not relished. Indeed, one of the mused words "wicked" in discussing certain attacks upon Administration policies. Professor Tugwell was especially sensitive at the use of the word "regimentation" in connection with the organization of business industry and agriculture.

He thought it a wrong use of the word: it was a word he would use to describe the conditions under which men employed in industry worked. The same day he said that the President signed the Bankhead cotton restriction bill of which Senator Bankhead and his nephew, Representative Bankhead, were the sponsors. It put a heavy penalty on any cotton grower who grows more than his quota of cotton this year. The President took pains to explain that it had been agreed to in advance by more than 90 per cent of the cotton growers who had answered the government's questionnaire.

Johnson and NRA
 General Johnson was insistent that the government had no purpose to impose harmful restrictions upon business and industry. All that NRA was trying to do was to get business interests into cooperation for the common good. He was distressed at the idea that anything like force was being used or contemplated, and the notion that small business men are getting the worst of it under the NRA was entirely wrong, he said. He did not think the government had been moving too fast in imposing the codes, because any of them could be changed over night if it proved oppressive or didn't work. The purpose of speed had been to try to get men back to work quickly.

The next big effort to put men back to work will be in the building trades, by means of a plan which will not involve any expenditure of government funds, but which is expected to put a lot of idle capital at work in repairing existing homes and building new ones. It is a far reaching plan. Along with that will go other plans to encourage the Federal Reserve Banks to lend capital funds to industry.

Tugwell Stops Critics
 Nobody discounts Professor Tugwell his immense mental ability and his thorough understanding of the principles of business and industry and what has been wrong with the industrial system in the past. The opposition has tried to discredit him with the public and with the President on the ground that he is a theorist who does not understand the human difficulties of making men behave according to a fixed plan, but he took the wind out of that the other day when he declared that no police force could be created large enough to make Americans do what they do not want to do, and he was interested only in programs that met with general public acceptance.

Opposition to the New Deal is now being largely focussed upon the allegation that what the Administration is doing, in many of its aspects, is not and never was any of the government's business. This is particularly directed at such projects as the Tennessee Valley development, the proposal to put more land under irrigation in various regions and move farmers off poor land, and to move people out of the cities on to subsistence homesteads.

One man very high in Administration circles has predicted a great reduction in the population of many large cities as a result of the New Deal.

At the San Juan Bautista Mission, in California, 126 year old pear trees are still producing fruit.

S. J. Easton of Midland, Texas, is owner of a chick, hatched with only one leg, which possess a sense of equipoise that enables it to move about with ease.

The largest gold coin in the world is the Japanese oban which is five inches in diameter and weighs 4 ounces.

The dog and cat cemetery established at Columbus, Ohio, 10 years ago, has approximately 750 graves.

The Italian Government has established night schools for the instruction of youths in the handling of machine guns.

W. E. Lucas, of Cincinnati, Ohio, found the entire second story of his frame house afire when his pet dog awakened him by leaping upon the bed and licking his master's face.

It was a great record of leadership that Chevrolet made in 1933. . . . And this year, it's even greater. Sales are already thousands of cars ahead of last year. ## Let Us Rebuild and Repair Your Trucks and Tractors

The rain of the past week has placed the farmer facing the necessity of preparing his machinery for the coming harvest. Half the wheat producers of this section started the week with check up on their machinery.

We are in a position to do you guaranteed work on your TRUCKS and TRACTORS at prices that will justify your giving us an opportunity to bid on your work.

One of the best equipped repair shops in this section of the state, and we will please you if you will give us an opportunity to repair or rebuild your power farming machinery.

We Are Prepared For Your HARVEST NEEDS

It may be a little early for you to think of replacing your worn out power farming machinery, but we believe when you get to checking over repairs this week that you will find the good sound logic of buying NEW TRACTORS and TRUCKS.

We anticipate the needs of this section for new tractors, and have received a carload shipment of the new 15-30 McCormick-Deering Tractors. These power farming units are direct from the factory, and include the very latest improvements available to make them more efficient and serviceable.

You Can't Beat This Tractor For Heavy Duty Work, McCormick-Deering 15-30

This big McCormick-Deering is a strong, tough tractor for heavy duty farm work. It pulls four plow bottoms and operates other large capacity equipment and has ample reserve power for particularly hard going. The 15-30 features the mechanical refinements that are distinctive to McCormick-Deering Tractors, including unit construction, replacement cylinders, ball-bearing crank-shaft, one-piece frame that forms a dust proof, oil-tight housing for all working parts, generous use of ball and roller bearings, positive lubrication system, etc.

If your work calls for a tractor of this size, the McCormick-Deering 15-30 is the one we recommend. Others in the famous McCormick-Deering line are the O-12, W-12, W-30, 10-20, three sizes of Farmalls, and crawler type tractors—Models T-20, T-40 and Diesel TracTractors.

Last Sunday afternoon some 30 leaguers went to Texhoma to the district meeting of young people. Our League led all the other Leagues of the district in the greatest number present. We were delighted with their goodly number—and thanks to those who furnished car for the youngsters. Many leaguers are planning to attend the Summer Assembly at McMurry College, Abilene, Texas the first of next month. The local league plans to send about a dozen leaguers. At the meeting plans were made for a district Christian Culture Institute this summer to be held at N. T. N. park or some other place wherever the locating board sees fit. This year will be filled with schools and institutes for the young people of Perryton district—hence we expect many credits to be taken by our leaguers.
Sunday will be Mothers' Day. We are expecting a good program at the Sunday School hour and special services and songs at the preaching hour. It would be fine for the families to sit together at the services. It would be a good time for the parents to have their babes christened and dedicated to the Lord at that hour. Several have expressed themselves as to uniting with the church—this would be a glorious time to do that. Nothing would please your Christian parents more than this. We have several names whose church certificates will be announced Sunday. Lets make this a great day—one that will be remembered because of the spiritual blessing derived.
A hearty welcome awaits all members, visitors, and friends at the Methodist Church Sunday.

WARNING
to EXPECTANT MOTHERS

If you have ever been a patient in any hospital, you are probably familiar with the advantages of a liquid laxative.
Doctors know the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can thus be controlled to suit your individual need.
The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have now learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without discomfort at the time, or after. Dr. Caldwell's long experience with mothers and babies, and his remarkable record of nearly three thousand births without the loss of one mother or child, should give anybody complete confidence in any prescription which he wroted.
But most important of all, a gentle liquid laxative does not cause bowel strain to the most delicate system, and this is of the utmost importance to expectant mothers and to every child.
Expectant mothers are urged to try gentle regulation of bowels with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a delightful tasting laxative of fresh herbs, pure pepsin and active senna. Not a single mineral drug; nothing to cause strain or irritate the kidneys.
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved preparation and kept ready for use by all druggists.

them or at least sought to betray them. Suddenly, as he drove home across Forlorn Valley, a thought occurred to him with such force that he jammed on his brakes and stopped in the middle of the highway so suddenly that a car coming behind him smote his car in the rear and skidded it off the right of way into a ditch. Babson emerged from the wreckage unharmed, but frightened and exceedingly angry, just in time to come face to face with a young man emerging from a limousine driven by a liveried chauffeur. "What's the matter with you?" he cried furiously. "Can't you stay on your own side of the road?" "I'll answer your question with another, sir. Why did you stop so suddenly, without giving the legal warning by thrusting your hand out? My chauffeur is not a mind-reader."

"You wrecked my car, d--n you and you'll pay for it."
"I'm not wishful to argue that point." The young man's tones were crisp and unaffracted. "I got out solely to see what damage has been done to my car. Very little, I observe. Bumper thrust back on the frame and twisted a little, that's all." Then to the chauffeur: "Well, stop in at a garage in Valley Center and have it repaired. Lucky you had most of the speed off the car or we'd have knocked this peculiar person over into that alfalfa field."
"This peculiar person wants your name and your license number," Babson shrieked.

"I'll give you my card, sir; help yourself to my license number. You will furnish me with your name and address, of course."
"My name is Babson, and I'm a responsible and reputable citizen."
"Ah, Mr. Silas Babson. I didn't recognize you. My name is Nathan Tichenor and I, too, am a responsible but, alas, disreputable citizen—at least in these parts."
"I beg your pardon, Nate. I didn't know who you were."
"Your excuse is a sound one and your apology is accepted. Sorry we couldn't avoid hitting you, Mr. Babson. However, since we've set you about some six miles from Valley Center, we'll not desert you. Hop in and I'll take you home. You will have to send a wrecking car back for that mess."
"Thanks," Babson stepped in. "Well, well," he began unctuously. "you've changed, Nate. I should never have recognized you. Back in Eden Valley to stay?"
"Perhaps. How are things with you, Mr. Babson?"
"Fair, fair! Forlorn Valley, like the rest of the country, is recuperating gradually. The bank's had to carry this dogged valley since the post-war depression struck us."
"Well," Nate soothed, "you'll soon begin to get your loans in. Beef's coming up. The cattlemen have certainly taken a bad licking, but those who have held their breeding stock intact will make a clean-up within three years. I was saying as much to Lorry Kershaw recently. Old Rance's estate is in a bad way and Miss Kershaw was feeling a bit downhearted."
"Well, she's light-hearted today," Babson was pleased that his host had opened this subject of conversation and little dreamed that Tichenor had purposely done so. "She's sold four thousand acres of worth less land her father gave her to the Mountain Valley Power company. Must have got at least three hundred thousand dollars for it. Cleared up the mortgage and paid old Rance's notes." He glanced slyly at Tichenor. "Unless you close in on her I reckon she'll work out of the hole she's in."
"I think so, too. No sense crowd-ing her, in that event. She's a capable girl and will make good if given a chance. So I'm going to give her that chance."
"By the way, I hear you've sold your dam site to the Mountain Valley Power company," said Babson.
"Yes, they made me an offer—I might as well offer, in fact, and I couldn't see any profit in rejecting it. . . . It is a Delaware corporation, capitalized at two million dollars, with a license to do business in California. The corporation plans to erect a dam, impound the flood waters of Eden Valley creek after they have passed over the Circle K and the Bar II ranches and use the water for the production of power."

Babson now remembered the dazzling thought that had operated to wreck his automobile. "You may have noticed the large number of gasoline-driven pumping plants, Nate."
"I did, and guessed the reason. The water tables are receding and the lift is increasing; hence more power is required to pump. I hear the power company's rates are pretty high, so I suppose the farmers are trying out a cheaper method of pumping, although since gasoline is cheaper than electricity, I suppose the gasoline farmers must have had their power cut off because they didn't or couldn't pay their bills to the power company."
"You've gone straight to the milk in the coconut, Nate. I wonder if it wouldn't be a good idea for the farmers of Forlorn Valley to organize an irrigation district and make a contract with the Mountain Valley Power company to sell it water for surface irrigation?"
"A good idea for the farmers but a bad idea for the company. Of course in years of unusually heavy freshet it might be glad to divert its excess water to Forlorn Valley, but in subnormal years, such as we have been experiencing the past three winters, the demands of Forlorn Valley might lower the water in the reservoir to a point below the power company's ditch and operate to close down its power plant."

"You seem pretty sure of your premise, Nate. How do you know that?"
Tichenor smiled a present little smile. "Because I'm the president of the Mountain Valley Power company. In fact I'm the entire company."

For the remainder of the trip into Valley Center, Babson was glum and silent to such a degree that Nate Tichenor noticed his preoccupation, saw that Babson's hands were trembling. "For some reason or other," Tichenor decided "that was a direct hit. I'll have to figure this out."
On his part Babson was thinking confusedly. "As yet the Mountain Valley Power company exists on paper only. It has its charter from the state of Delaware, its permit to do business in California, a dummy board of directors and the lands it has recently acquired. If this wretch I am riding with should die suddenly, the Mountain Valley Power company might die with him."
Babson's wild thoughts took possession of him. "This fellow is liable to ruin me. He's no mean enemy. He may have more money than we have. He'll fight as the power company and he'll fight us privately as a riparian owner. But if he should die, who are his heirs? He's the last of his line, so far as I know. His executors would not be able to carry through his plans for the Mountain Valley Power company. . . . The scheme would die with him—and we might be able to buy the company with all its assets. He'll have to do some tall financing just the same. His executor might not be capable of the financing—damnation, what am I thinking of? But he may ruin me. . . . We've got to have that water. . . . We to have it."
The phrase hung like a hammer in his brain.

CHAPTER VIII

NATE TICHENOR'S action in admitting to Silas Babson that he was the sole owner of the Mountain Valley Power company had not been predicated on a desire to shock the banker.
Tichenor was merely in a position where he could not afford to promise Babson to enter into negotiations to sell Forlorn Valley water for irrigation. Before deciding to acquire Lorry Kershaw's lake site and proceed to the vast expense of building his dam and power station he had found it necessary to make certain of a market for the power he proposed generating, for the Mountain Valley Power company was not in position to enter the field in competition with the P. G. & E., the company that already controlled the market in northern California, with a dozen large plants scattered through the mountains. In order to consolidate his position therefore, he had already had the Mountain Valley Power company enter into negotiations for a contract with the P. G. & E., whereby that company was to purchase all the power Tichenor's company could deliver. While this contract did not restrain his company from selling water for irrigation, and Tichenor had hoped to sell water for that purpose, he dared not consider that proposition until quite certain he could do so without threat to his production of power. Instinctively cautious, he declined to commit himself even to a half-way promise to Babson.

Other than the knowledge that Babson had organized a raid to ruin Lorry Kershaw, Tichenor had no cause to dislike the man, indeed, the knowledge that he, Tichenor, had always been in position to frustrate that raid, had operated to dull the edge of his resentment. He knew the world was quite filled with Silas Babsons; indeed, during his busy years in New York he had met more than one of them, had crossed financial swords with them, had defeated them and been defeated by them. Such men were all in the day's work for him, and such irritation as he had felt against Babson was solely out of sympathy for Lorry Kershaw.

If the impending disaster appeared to affect Babson only, he would have dismissed all thought of him. Certainly he would not have wasted any sympathy on him. But, without water, eventually hundreds of people in Forlorn Valley would be reduced to poverty. And with the collapse of the Bank at Valley Center, the absolute ruin of the valley would be hastened and completed.
Nate Tichenor, ostracized as he had been by the people of Forlorn Valley in his boyhood—ostracized as all of his people had been—had not unreasonably acquired a fierce resentment against these people who looked to him for succor. But his resentment faded now before the realization of the tragedy they faced.

His heart welled with pity for them. "I'll have to do something about this," he decided. "I'll defer signing the contract the P. G. & E.'s counsel is preparing; I'll defer building the hydro-electric plant until after I've experimented with

RECORD SPORTS EVENT FOR ALL PANHANDLE DUE

Away goes BERGER toward the city's greatest baseball tournament, to begin June 30th.
A $30,000 gross is the objective from the financial standpoint and the promoter, J. C. Phillips, manager and editor of the Berger Daily Herald, is confident conditions in the booming Berger district are right for at least that sum.
At a final meeting last night it was agreed between the Alamo Athletic Association, owner of Alamo Stadium, and J. C. Phillips, that he should sponsor, manage and otherwise control the tournament. The contribution of the Association will be the finely equipped and lighted baseball plant.

The tournament will be personal promotion of Phillips, and the Berger Daily Herald will not be connected with it, except to push it and drive it as hard and as fast as it can from the publicity standpoint into a crackerjack 10 or 12 team event, to last about 10 days. The objective is 12 teams and three game elimination.
At the height of the world's greatest business and industrial depression—in the summer of 1932—baseball fans of the Berger district produced a tournament gross of $2184. Now, as the district booms under vastly increased employment because of the NRA, increased wages, and record output of refinery and Carbon Black plants, it is considered to be a cream homer over the center field fence that the gross will reach at least $3,000.

Under the terms of the agreement reached last night 60 per cent of the gross receipts will go for prize money and 40 per cent for tournament expenses and promotion costs. The Association and Phillips will share alike in responsibility for producing the greatest sports event in history of the Panhandle. The objective is to produce that kind of tournament—and not essentially to produce profits.

Berger is the Panhandle's greatest baseball city—far and away the greatest. Population of the district now is estimated at 15,000 people. Seating capacity of Alamo Stadium is more than double what it was in 1932.

Inviting prize money and fast teams—that is what is wanted for the tournament. It is anticipated that there will not be a bit of trouble in obtaining 12 teams of real class to compete. The fans are hungry for the tournament. What is wanted now is the first 12 teams to come here and try for the money.

Bill Burran, Thaddeus Hardin McMurry and Wm. A. Wilbanks attended the picture show in Per-ryton Sunday afternoon.

Firestone LEADERSHIP

"The Ultimate Test of Leadership is Performance"

Firestone has maintained its leadership in tire development by producing a new tire for 1934 with a wider tread, flatter contour, deeper non-skid, greater thickness, more and tougher rubber, which gives greater non-skid safety, more traction, greater blowout protection, and more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

These achievements are made practical by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, providing greater adhesion between the plies of the high stretch cords and between the Gum-Dipped body of the tire and the tough, massive non-skid tread. It also provides greater strength, longer flexing life, and greater protection against blowouts.

Gum-Dipping made it possible for Firestone to design, develop and put on the market the first successful balloon tire in 1923. This tire was the pattern used by all others and completely revolutionized the tire industry and set new standards for the automobile industry.

Firestone also developed the first all-rubber non-skid tire, and has always been first to give motorists the benefits of new discoveries in non-skid design, providing more traction and greater non-skid safety.

For fourteen years leading race drivers have driven to victory on Firestone tires, built with Gum-Dipped high stretch cords. They have trusted their lives to Firestone Leadership—as they know that the patented Firestone construction features provide them with greater safety—longer mileage—and greater blowout protection.

Protect yourself and family by driving in today and replacing your smooth, thin, dangerous tires with the new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934.

SPEARMAN TEXAS

...shook her raven head. "No, I don't. Partings are little and we start our cutting tomorrow. There are only men on the payroll who can call by the hind legs and climb to the fire. The others are neck ropes; so I have a hand at the branding corral myself. Got to get the brand-ings quickly."
A face brightened. "If you'll bring a horse and a rita I'll stay a few days and help you. It's long since I've worked in a branding corral—and I ought to try my hand in."
They sat down on the running board of Lorry's new car and chatted. Mrs. Tenny called them to dinner, served them and discreetly retired to the kitchen. For a long time Lorry was silent, then, the impetuosity of her nature, she returned to the subject nearest her heart.
"Why do you have to go away, Lorry?"
"Got a couple of deals on and I'll handle them from here."
"If you're coming back in the morning," she suggested, "you should let the Bar II place put in order. It's fallen into decay; it smells neglected. It isn't a nice place for you to live, even with capable servants care for you."
"I had thought of that. Indeed, one of the reasons I have to go to Eden Valley. Got to engage an architect to draw plans for a new house, new barns, four-carriage, kennels, and such. Got to engage a smart gardener to put in nice lawn around the new house and plant flowers. Got to grade a new gravelled road from the main Eden Valley highway to the ranch house and plant a border of trees. I wish you'd sort of superin-

"I'll Remember and Charge Accordingly, Coyotes!"

...for off. Well, one day you'll come asking me for a favor, and when you do, by god, I'll remember and charge accordingly. Coyotes!"
Silas Babson next morning drove over to Gold Run, to interrogate the county recorder, from whom he ascertained that a deed to a quarter-section in Eden Valley from Nate Tichenor to the Mountain Valley Power company and another deed for four thousand acres, from Lorraine Kershaw to the same company, had just been sent over by the First National bank to be recorded.

Well, he had been thwarted by this interloping power corporation, just as he had feared would be the case. Well, no matter. The Mountain Valley Power company could not thwart him in his plan to secure from the Department of the Interior permission to erect a diversion dam in the Handle and dig a canal from Eden Valley creek down beyond the western buttress of Forlorn Valley. They might have influence, but not with the congressman and senator whose constituency included Forlorn Valley.
His first step was to create public interest in the proposed irrigation district—not at all a difficult task, since the Valley Center Register was the only newspaper in the valley and its editor, Joe Brainerd, had financed his venture largely on money borrowed from the Bank of Valley Center. Brainerd would see his duty and do it nobly. He must attack the power company and pay the community's respects, in no uncertain terms, to those two Eden Valley outlaws who had betrayed

Last Sunday afternoon some 30 leaguers went to Texhoma to the district meeting of young people. Our League led all the other Leagues of the district in the greatest number present. We were delighted with their goodly number—and thanks to those who furnished car for the youngsters. Many leaguers are planning to attend the Summer Assembly at McMurry College, Abilene, Texas the first of next month. The local league plans to send about a dozen leaguers. At the meeting plans were made for a district Christian Culture Institute this summer to be held at N. T. N. park or some other place wherever the locating board sees fit. This year will be filled with schools and institutes for the young people of Perryton district—hence we expect many credits to be taken by our leaguers.

Sunday will be Mothers' Day. We are expecting a good program at the Sunday School hour and special services and songs at the preaching hour. It would be fine for the families to sit together at the services. It would be a good time for the parents to have their babes christened and dedicated to the Lord at that hour. Several have expressed themselves as to uniting with the church—this would be a glorious time to do that. Nothing would please your Christian parents more than this. We have several names whose church certificates will be announced Sunday. Lets make this a great day—one that will be remembered because of the spiritual blessing derived.

A hearty welcome awaits all members, visitors, and friends at the Methodist Church Sunday.

WARNING
to EXPECTANT MOTHERS

If you have ever been a patient in any hospital, you are probably familiar with the advantages of a liquid laxative.

Doctors know the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can thus be controlled to suit your individual need.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have now learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without discomfort at the time, or after. Dr. Caldwell's long experience with mothers and babies, and his remarkable record of nearly three thousand births without the loss of one mother or child, should give anybody complete confidence in any prescription which he wrote.

But most important of all, a gentle liquid laxative does not cause bowel strain to the most delicate system, and this is of the utmost importance to expectant mothers and to every child.

Expectant mothers are urged to try gentle regulation of bowels with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a delightful tasting laxative of delightful action, made of fresh herbs, pure pepsin and active senna. Not a single mineral drug; nothing to cause strain or irritate the kidneys.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved preparation and kept ready for use by all druggists.

Clarence Gill Home On Few Days Furlough

Clarence Gill left Tuesday of this week for San Francisco, California, after spending a few days furlough from the Navy with his parents who live east of Spearman. Clarence has been in the Navy 21 months, enlisting in August of 1932.

When he reaches San Francisco he will sail with his company on the U. S. S. Chaumont in a few days for Shanghai, China. During the time he has spent in the navy he has travelled widely, having been to the Philippines, Hawaiian and Honolulu Islands and visited the West Indies, Gaum, Panama, Cuba and Wake Island in the Pacific.

In an interview Mr. Gill stated that he was most interested in Honolulu but the island of Wake was the most mysterious. He claimed that this island located in the tropical waters of the Pacific is very small, probably 4 miles wide and 2 miles long. There is no life on the island with the exception of fowls, no beast or other life is found there due to the fact that no fresh water is available. Upon their recent visit to the island he said that it was necessary to drop anchor about a half mile from the island and row to it in small whale boats and wade to shore when the water became too shallow for the boat to float. A machine gun was taken with the crew in the whale boat for protection from sharks that infested the water.

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

FOR MAY 15

General Topic: Christianity and Patriotism, temperance and good citizenship. Scripture Lesson: Matt. 22:15-22, 34-40.

15. Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might ensnare him in his talk.

16. And they send to him their disciples, with the Herodians, saying, Teacher, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, and carest not for anyone, for thou regardest not the person of man.

17. Tell us, therefore, what thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?

18. But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why make ye trial of me, ye hypocrites?

19. Show me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a denarius.

20. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image of supercription?

21. They say unto him, Caesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's.

22. And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him, and went away.

34. But the Pharisees, when they heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, gathered themselves together.

35. And one of them, a lawyer, asked him a question, trying him:

36. Teacher, which is the great commandment in the law?

37. And he said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38. This is the great and first commandment.

39. And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

40. On these two commandments the whole law hangeth, and the prophets.

Golden Text:—Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the great and first commandment.

And a second like unto it is this, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. —Matt. 22:37-39.

Time:—Tuesday, April 4, three days before Christ's crucifixion.

Place:—The temple of Jerusalem.

Parallel Passages:—Mark 12:13-40. Luke 20:9-47.

INTRODUCTION

The two chapters of Matthew which constitute our full lesson chapters 22 and 23, complete the public teaching of our Lord. In them we see him in the temple, assailed by one delegation after another of his foes, men ordin-ily hostile to one another, but united on this occasion in their determination to put down the teacher from Galilee and discredit him with the people, who were following his lead rather than his own.

His teaching in Chapter 22 begins with a parable in which Christ pictured the abominable character of his opponents. God had set forth a great feast, as a mighty king summoning his people to a joyful repast; but they had scorned his invitation and even murdered his messengers. Therefore the Divine King would invite to his feast the poor and lowly, even the outcast.

The application of this parable to the theme of our lesson is plain. Every community, every nation, is made up of those who range themselves on the side of God and right or on the opposite side. There is no question which side will conquer in the end. There is no question about the fate of the evil citizens, the selfish extortioners, those swollen by pride of money or power or caste, the friends of the saloon and all debasing influences.

The Pharisees, v. 15

"Then went the Pharisees." The Pharisees were the Jewish legalists. They prided themselves on the most accurate observance of the laws, and they heaped up minute regulations, form upon form, until their religion became nothing but the observance of trivial rules and empty ceremonies.

"And took counsel how they might ensnare him in his talk." They did not go to Jesus in search of truth, for they believed themselves to be the fountain of righteousness. They were hecklers. They tried to put Jesus into a dilemma, to trap him in some admission or statement that would ruin his influence with the people.

Their approach to our Lord was that of many an infidel today, who reads about Christianity only to ridicule it and scans the Bible only to hunt up passages that may be made to seem contradictory.

A Crafty Question, v. 17

"Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?" "Caesar" was the official title of the Roman emperor, originating in Julius Caesar (who was not an emperor). "Kaiser" and "Czar" are forms of the same word. The Caesar when Christ was born was Augustus, the first Roman emperor.

The Caesar at this time was Tiberius, whose reign began in A. D. 11. He was a tyrant and now an old man. "Tribute" was the taxes paid to the government of the Roman conquerors, the very essence of the Jewish subserviency to the Romans. The question amounted to this: "Is it right for the people of God to pay tribute to an earthly monarch? Should Israelites, the chosen race, help to support an alien and Gentile empire, a heathen state?"

"We see that the question asked here was designated to put Christ in the wrong whichever answer he gave. To say no would give his enemies a handle to denounce him before Roman Justice. To say yes would alienate the people, who bent unwilling necks to Roman yoke."—Prof. Hugh Black.

The Tribute Money, v. 19

"Show me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a denarius." The "shilling" of the King James Bible, a Roman silver coin worth about seventeen cents, equivalent in purchasing power to about two dollars in our money, as it was the ordinary day's wage of a common laborer. The coin stood for the benefits received from the Roman government—protection from enemies, the preservation of order, just laws, fair administration of them, splendid roads and aqueducts. Roman taxes were payments for these benefits.

Obedience To Law, v. 21

"Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." "We owe obedience to the laws of the state. This obedience should be rendered with a hearty loyalty. Loyalty in the modern state means obedience to its laws. The state is a divine institution. It has its divinely allotted place in the world, for the defense of the community, and the administration of justice.

The First Commandment, vs 37-38

"And he said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart (the emotions, affections), and with all thy soul (spiritual powers, will, purpose), and with all thy mind (intellect, thought, mental ability.) Strength the physical powers, is added in Mark and Luke. Note especially that we are to love God with all our mind: Christianity is a reasonable religion. But never forget that love stands first. We are to use our heart, soul, and mind in order to love God more ardently and completely. This is the first and great commandment.

Hitching Up Again

4,729 MILES ON A TOTAL FIVE QUARTS OF OIL!

THE "HIDDEN QUART" PRINCIPLE OF PENETRATIVE LUBRICATION PROVES GREATLY SUPERIOR IN COMPETITION WITH FIVE NATIONALLY KNOWN MOTOR OILS

CONOCO has a New and Improved Germ Processed Motor Oil. Its many advantages were so evident to us, that we arranged with the Contest Board, American Automobile Association, to test five other widely advertised and nationally known motor oils along with Conoco's new and improved oil in a daring "Destruction Test." By letting the results speak for themselves, we are able to present to America's motoring public for the first time proved facts of superiority, not empty claims.

These six oils, with a single fill of five quarts, with no more oil added in six strictly new stock cars, were driven until the motor in each car was destroyed from lack of lubrication. Here are the results: the first oil failed at only 1713.2 miles; others failed in rapid succession. The best of the competing oils went only 3318.8 miles . . . while New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Oil completed 4729 miles . . . more than 3000 miles farther than the first oil to fail . . . and more than 1400 miles farther than the second best oil! The "Hidden Quart" had proved superior again!

Conoco wrecked these motors to show you which oil has the lowest consumption and true economy. Drive into a Red Triangle Station, drain and fill with this new and improved oil. Whether your car is new or old, you need this extra margin of economy and safety.

Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative brings a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative; effective for all ages, and may be given the youngest child. ### MOTHER'S DAY

"Who is it knows just what to do
When things go wrong and life looks blue?
Who is it sings amid her care
And smiles when shadows bring despair?
Who is it through her changeless

Unchanging goes her faithful way?
Who is it through the light and the Still sweet how'er her love may

Audience Cheers "Lady For A Day"

The outstanding picture of the season and one that s given four stars by Liberty Magazine and proclaims as "extraordinary" comes to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday May 13 and 14th.
This picture is distinctly in a class by itself as regards motion picture entertainment and possely a story so universally appealing that it is impossible to predict anything but outstanding success for it. "Lady For A Day" the Columbia super-production starring Warren William with May Robson, is being greeted over the nation by large audiences.

"Lady For A Day" is like the fantastic fairy tale yet is real and human. Its appealing humor and touching dramatic scenes make the laughs and tears blend wholesely with an emotionally agitating effect that is at once overpowering and heart warming.
A revelation to picture audiences will be the magnificent performance of May Robson as "Apple Annie". The complete cast, from the star down deserves the highest praise for matchless, inspired performances.

reveals his genius in comedy and drama. He has taken the brilliant story by Damon Runyon, which appeared in Cosmopolitan as "Madame La Gimp", and has even more brilliant screen drama.
Robert Riskin's adaption is excellent.
