TUESDAY PARTY

Mrs. Van Earl Steed was the charming hostess for an afternoon of Contract Bridge, at her lovely home South of Waka Tuesday of last week.

A color scheme of green and white was used in the place cards and table decorations. High score was won by Mrs. Frank Cotterton.

The traveling prize for the afternoon entertainment was awarded to Mrs. Lloyd Campbell. A delicious salad plate was served.

Mesdames J. W. Ewing, Ottobine, John Williams, Bill Chambers, Mrs. T. E. Hart, H. N. Elmer, S. S. Wainard, Roy E. Johnson, W. J. Miller, E. C. Lee, Lloyd Campbell, the hostess.

HAPPY HOUR CLUB

A MESSAGE TO THE THINKERS

These are times when mature thought is given to all important transactions. — times when genuine merit receives its just recognition.

There must be a good reason for the continued increase in membership in the Churches of Christ everywhere. The Kingdom is indeed spreading. Why not be as particular in your religion as in everyday commodities. Let us urge you to be sure the organization with which you are affiliated is the church that Christ asked his blood for. Does it practice the same things that the new testament church practiced — that's the test. Do the members assemble themselves together on the first day of the week. Do they commemorate the Lord's supper every Lord's day?

These and many more commands are essential to your christian life if you are governed by the bible and the Bible alone.

Next week we will endeavor to give some side lights on Christian Unity. Study with us.

an ideal—a man great, brave, strong and true, in whom all mankind might be blessed. Out of his reverence for this legend, Ernest held communion in his innermost being with the Great Stone Face, and began a hopeful and expectant waiting for the arrival of the prophet. Never for once did his faith falter, for to him the benign features of the hillside bespoke confidence and patience.

When a native son of this peaceful little village returned after years spent in amassing a fortune of gold, he was heralded as the legendary prophet. Ernest suffered disappointment for in Mr. Gathergold, he could find none of the qualities that he expected of the prophet. Surely no man whose greed had seared his soul to the needs of his fellowmen, could bear a marked resemblance to the firm but gentle features of the Great Stone Face. So the years passed and Ernest grew to young manhood, with the familiar image constantly before him. Subsequently a great soldier, wearied of the rigid life of the army, likewise returned to spend his reeling days amidst the peace and quietude of the hills. The people made ready with banners and drums to welcome the conquering hero, and word spread that at last the prophet had come, for who was mightier than old Blood-and-Thunder, the greatest general of his day? Here again was disappointment for Ernest. One so hardened by the experiences of war and trying life of a soldier could scarcely be expected to show the mercy and understanding that was suggested by the kind features of the face of stone. The years continued to roll by and the people awaited the arrival of the prophet; when suddenly a great orator, and statesman, so numerous were his friends and admirers that he was nominated for president. Upon his return to the little valley its throngs welcomed Old Ston Phiz as the fulfillment of the prophecy. His countenance did show the same massive brow, and his other features were strongly hewn, but the sublimity and stateliness, the expression of divine sympathy that illuminated the visage of the granite image might here be sought in vain. Once again there was sorrow in Ernest's heart for in this political paragon he could not see the fulfillment of the prophecy. Ernest continued his daily study and had come to acquire a rare knowledge and understanding of the trials and tribulations of his fellow-man, and in ministering to the relief of the needy in body and spirit, he found his greatest satisfaction. Gradually he came to be recognized as an inspiration to the weary as in his simplicity and sincerity he gave freely of his time and talent to those less fortunate than himself. Never a day passed but found this man in lofty meditation — surely the prophet must come, and in him the people would find the realization of a cherished dream. But it remained for a stranger—a poet who had the power of discovering the fine and noble in mankind, to kindle in the hearts of the people a appreciation of Ernest's greatness and to find in him the likeness of the Great Stone Face, the answer to the prophecy. Here in their own midst had grown a boy, now an old man, grey with the frosts of many winters, who quietly achieved greatness thru the invaluable services that he had rendered so freely and unselfishly to all he met.

How applicable is this story of Ernest and the Great Stone Face to every one of us tonight. We either consciously or unconsciously set up for ourselves a goal. As this man grew from childhood he had constantly before him an ideal, and never for a day did he cease to strive for realization of that ideal. So great was the force of this impulse that he ultimately developed a physical likeness to the Great Stone Face. The visible effect of this force was inconsequential when compared to the spiritual development of the man—for he emulated in thought and action the pattern he had set for himself as the fulfillment of the prophecy. We then can attain what we will if we but set our very being to the task. The overcoming of almost insurmountable obstacles is merely the result of long and persistent effort. So then, members of the seventh grade, choose for yourself an ideal. Set a goal for the future but bear in mind that if success is to crown your efforts you must, like Ernest in the story, keep in your every fiber the consuming desire to attain your goal. Sincere and conscientious efforts seldom go unrewarded. Furthermore, from this story we find that the mass of people do not realize the presence of greatness when they have been in intimate contact with it. For greatness must be observed in its true proportions. A prophet is not without honor save in his own country. We should then be open minded and give to all our associates the credit that is justly theirs, for even the most humble and insignificant character has admirable traits from which we can all profit. Fortunes of gold and silver quickly vanish, and nothing remains to speak of the greatness of riches. Honor of war are not in themselves a lasting memorial to one's valor or love of country. The most enduring and most desirable monument that one can leave to posterity is the influence that is radiated through the ages by a life spent in useful service to mankind. For the greatest measure of real satisfaction and true success we should equip ourselves to serve our fellow-man. You can do what you will but the will must be cultivated to insure patience, understanding sympathy, sincerity and service. Then make this in reality a beginning, determine to make the most of the advantages and opportunities that are to be yours during the next four years.

The poet has said:
 "One ship drives East another drives West
 With the selfsame winds that blow
 It is the set of the sail and not the gales
 Which tell us the way they go.
 Like the waves of the sea are the ways of fate
 As we voyage along thru life
 It is the set of the soul which decides the goal
 And not the calm or the strife."

BID A BID

Members of the Bid-a-Bid Contract Bridge Club were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J.

Class Prophecy

By Joe Atherton

Last night as I sat alone in my study enjoying the twilight and my own most wonderful thoughts, I heard a soft rustling behind me and turning I saw near my chair a queer little creature which I could not classify. It wasn't like anything I had ever seen before. Before I had time to ask any questions he asked in a mighty voice, "Are you the student who has been selected as the prophet of the class of Spearman High School?" "If you are, I see by your face that it is necessary that I help, and as there are others who need help, I must hurry." "I will be the president of the U. S. Commission on the subject of 'girls job'." "Buster Kirk is to become a famous biologist and will discover some of nature's deepest secrets, for example, why an oyster is not a tadpole, and similar never before solved problems." "R. B. Archer is to be an artistic milliner. He will sell his hats one hundred per, each." "Mildred Neilson will become an architect, and will design a tabernacle for Billy Sunday, which will be the eighth wonder of the modern world." "Philip Jenkins will run a large steam laundry in Chicago." "A washer woman with all his talents," I groaned. "Certainly" was the stern reply. "Don't interrupt me again!" "Branch Sheets will run a large soap factory in Philadelphia, as Philadelphia is supposed to be the cleanest city in the world, therefore it must be kept clean." "Genevieve Chammess will be a railroad president. She will marry Sticker Thorne, who will be a truly domestic man, and they will live in everlasting bliss." "Mary Reimer and Vernie Black will be married 21 years after their graduation from this school." "The little man paused for a second. He seemed to be meditating in just what would be the fate of the next person." "Edna Buchanan will be the most successful and most noted ball coach at the University of Southern California." "As I see this, Tim Easley will develop a process whereby banana oil can be extracted from coconuts for hair tonic and an intoxicating drink." "He will have a successful business career along this line. Doctor Mack will be his assistant." "Roy Wilmet will win with his bedside manners, the place of one of the world's greatest nurses." "C. E. Owens, who has been the best student of English, will continue working with English until he will be noted as an instructor of this branch of teaching. He will teach in several of our leading colleges." "Bernice Vernon will be general caretaker and grave digger of Old Hansford grave yard." "Lucille Womble will divorce Noel Womble nine times and finally they will be reunited and live together for many years, because they will run out of money to hire a lawyer." "Virgil Mathews will become the most famous teacher of toe dancing in America." "Joyce Wilbanks has already gained much favor as a girl who can iron more clothes in one day than can any other person, and will continue ironing as a profession." "Merle Baggerly, who has had need for step ladders most all this year, will become a manufacturer of portable step ladders." "Robert Newcomb will become the general manager of the Great Western Junk Co., at Lord, Texas." "Willoughby Sparks will demonstrate a new line of electric refrigerators to the Eskimos at the North pole." "Pearl Caldwell and Ottomay Reimer will form a partnership business in which they will make and sell fly swatters that will automatically kill all insects within the house." "As the little creature turned to open the door and leave, I asked "Now, just how about my good fortune?" "Alas! that is too sad to relate," the creature said, so with a wink he was gone, and I was alone in the twilight.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT First Grade

We are hearing the end of this school year. It has been a very pleasant year indeed. The children have not grown so tired this year as usual, due to the cool weather. They are just as full of pep as they were earlier in the year. We are very proud of the record our children have made and hope they will continue this record as they pass on up. It is true that some have not accomplished as much as some others, but this is mainly due to absence from school. We have one in the first grade who has not been at school tardy during the school year. He is Irvin Davis, and he has received a certificate of Perfect Attendance. We hope Irvin will continue this record through all the years of his school life. We have had out of the "green" record book now call...

High School Classes' News

SENIOR GOSSIP

The best Senior class that has ever entered Spearman High school bids a final farewell to the faculty and student body. We wish to take this opportunity to thank all the teachers for their undying patience in helping us become dignified Seniors. We sincerely appreciate their efforts. We have greatly enjoyed having Miss Lucille Maize and Miss Vera Lawrence as our sponsors. As a last act of gratitude, we leave all our many good points and few faults to the oncoming Senior Class of next year, (which we hope will be just as good as we are.) We hope for them the greatest measure of success and happiness in their Senior year.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors have enjoyed the school very much this year, and we are looking forward to being Seniors next year. The Seniors of 33 may have been all right but the Seniors of 34 are going to be ten times better. We have enjoyed having Miss Crittenden and Mr. Finley as our sponsors, and we think Mrs. Clark is the best room mother in school. We wish to thank all of the teachers for their efforts in trying to be "human" to us, (confidentially it isn't possible.) The Juniors have been active in all sports and they have had as well, some very smart English, history and math students. The Juniors also took an active part in the Interscholastic League Meet, and helped win it. Last week the Juniors went on a picnic with the Sophomore class. We wish to report that it was the best picnic of the year. We enjoyed being with the Sophomores very much as they are almost as peppy as the Juniors. (Says the reporter of the Junior news.) The Juniors have really been burning the mid night oil last week and this week. If anyone does not believe this, just wait till he sees those A's coming in. For once we are getting all our work in. We wish to bid the Seniors good bye and to tell them that we are sorry they are leaving us. Happiness during the summer. We were glad to have Mrs. Gerber and Mrs. Goodwin visit our room Tuesday afternoon and later attend P. T. A. meeting. The children who took part in the Dutch program had their pictures made and received them last week. Now that school is about over we are all working harder to finish up our years work. Of course most of us are hoping to be promoted.

SECOND GRADE

We have had a very pleasant year in school and everyone is now looking forward to a happy summer vacation. We are very sorry that little Buddy Broekus has been ill the past week. We hope he will be able to be with us again very soon. Mrs. Schedeck, our room mother surprised the children one day last week with a nice candy treat.

THIRD B GRADE

The Third B are both sad and glad that this is the last week of school. Some have made this school year successful; while others have not done so well. Even tho there are only a few more days, they are working harder than ever. Ruby Lelia Lamb gets a certificate for being neither absent or tardy this year. Ruby has something to be proud of. Spring fever may have attacked some people this year, but certainly not the pupils of the third grade A. They are still just as lively as they were when school started, and are very glad to report that there has not been a single failure in their room this year. They have been working very hard for the past two weeks taking a general review of the year's work. They also take this opportunity

FIFTH GRADE

The fifth grad pupils are preparing for their final examinations Tuesday and Wednesday. They all are glad school is going to be out. Marvin Lee, Jr. is back in the school after an absence of a few weeks. We are very glad he is back. We enjoyed a class party Friday, May 14. We had a very nice time, and are hoping to have many good times next year. We were sorry that Miss Ballentine had to leave us this year, but we enjoyed having Miss Reeves for our teacher. of thanking their room mothers and parents for the splendid cooperation given this year, and we wish everyone a happy vacation.

SIXTH GRADE

The sixth grade wish to thank Mrs. Archer and the other ladies for the splendid picnic they planned for us. We went to the Palo Duro creek and had a wonderful time. We think that our class officers need some mention in the final report. They have served us well this year. They are president, Brice Driskill; vice president, Alice Hazelwood; reporter, Martha Delon Kirk and Dixie Ruth Buchner; and secretary J. D. Tumlinson. Those pupils who have not been absent or tardy this year are: Eileen Davis, Rue Sanders, Alice Hazelwood, Perren Lyon and J. D. Tumlinson.

SEVENTH GRADE

Thirty five pupils are graduating from the seventh grade this year. They are as follows: Henry Bruce, Donovan Clark, Floyd Close, Craig Davidson, Dennis McClellan, Bill Russell Jr., Joe Womble, Maybell Horn, Cleo Leverton, Catherine Lyon, Georgia Lee Maize, Elou McClellan, Mariella Newcomb, Marie Parker, Helen Richardson, Lena Lee Sheets, Oleta Sumrall, Eileen Tompkins, Roberta Towle, Julia Wilbanks, Lola Holton, Dorcia Main, Owassa Sparks, D. C. Boland, Ray Converse, Howard Flint, C. D. Haines, Jack Monroe, Victor Ooley, Paul Robertson, Hubert Uptergrove, and Carl Edd Wilbanks. Henry Bruce was the class valedictorian, having made an average of 94 1/2 in all his work. Cleo Leverton was next with an average of 90. In the 7 B section Alma Harison made the highest average of all the girls and Victor Ooley made the highest for the boys. Certificates for perfect attendance were awarded to four members of our class. The pupils winning these have not been absent or tardy.

GRAMMAR REPORT

The fourth A has been working very hard this year. We shall soon get to rest for a little while and we shall be very glad. We have enjoyed the years work. One of the things we enjoyed most was a class party given Friday of last week at Mrs. Dick's home. We had had several programs in our room during the year. We were glad to have many of sides one that we gave in chapel. Our mothers visit us during the year. Mrs. R. L. Baley was our room mother and Mrs. W. L. Russell our assistant room mother. We love them very much for the nice things they have done for us. We had only one pupil who had a perfect attendance this year, that was Ernest Sheets. Mrs. Dick was our room teacher and we like her so well we hope she will be here again next year.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Of course the Freshmen are glad school is nearly out and we all have the satisfaction of knowing that we will be Sophomores. (MAYBE). We have enjoyed being Freshmen this year. The best sponsors in school have been ours. Some times we feel sorry for Mr. Jarvis and Mrs. Wendt for having to be so closely associated with us but we have enjoyed this year and we hope they have.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

We had our picnic Wednesday, and it was enjoyed very much by the members of our class. We all regret very much that school will be out Friday. We are all too busy taking exams to write very much news. We hope to report later that the entire Sophomore class will be Juniors next year.

Mary Martha Circle

The Mother's Day luncheon, given by the Mary-Martha Circle of the Methodist Woman's Missionary society, is reported to have been a very gratifying success, financially as well as socially. "We are most grateful," said Mrs. Charles Chambers, chair of the circle, "to the generous people of this community for their splendid cooperation and encouragement, unflinchingly extended even in times of distress like the present, to aid our civic undertakings, which proves again that of citizens unselfishly can forgo personal needs, to share, one with another, for the common good."

JUNIOR GARDEN CLUB IS ORGANIZED

The junior committee, composed of a member from each of the three garden clubs, organized a junior garden club among the grade school children this week. The senior clubs will sponsor contests in both vegetable and flower gardening for children, and will award prizes for the best gardens late in the summer. Vegetable gardens for the contest may be any size and will be judged according to neatness and arrangement, variety and quality. Flower gardens will be judged according to quality of flowers, tasteful arrangement and general appearance of the bed. The flower beds must be six by three feet and must contain peninnias, anemones and phlox. The children must do all of their gardening themselves - except spading or plowing. Flower seed or flower plants will be furnished to children unable to get their own. Those who want seed or plants should apply to one of the committee, either Mrs. J. C. Womble, Mrs. E. K. Snider or Mrs. A. F. Barkley. Names of the members of each junior group will be published next week. Scientists announce death of a great due to heart failure. But that's not what's killing off the taxpayer. They are selling more steel on the prospect of beer. The supply of bungstarters must have run out of school that the latter honor has been won. Twenty-nine members of the Seventh grade entered the contest for declamation this year and nine of them went to the semi-finals in our school. Not only has our class excelled in literature activities but in the athletic events as well. We have four boys in our class: C. D. Haines, Hubert Uptergrove, Henry Bruce and Floyd Close who show promise of being real high school and college athletes. These boys had great deal to do with the winning of the Junior track meet at Gruver. Our class has had several parties this year. And May 12 we had our annual class picnic. We went to the Palo Duro creek north of the city, and besides our teachers, Mr. Gunn and Miss Pearson, we were accompanied by Mrs. Monroe, Mrs. Converse, Mrs. Perry and Mr. Grandon. Most of this class has been together since primary days, and it is to be hoped that they will continue their educational progress on through high school. Great things are expected of the Seventh grade, for if they continue the same good work they have been noted for in the past we shall have reason to be proud of them in the future.

OLD HANSFORD NEWS

Quite a large crowd attended the party at the C. A. Robinson home Saturday night. Everyone reported a splendid time. Mrs. Clark and son of Amarillo are visiting in the home of her daughter Mrs. Charlie Rosenbaum. Mr. and Mrs. Crumrine and little son of Gruver were Sunday visitors in the valley. Mrs. G. C. Mitts and son Lewis and Miss Opal Sparks attended the graduation exercises at Niles, Oklahoma, Friday. Miss Grace Mitts returned home with them. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rosenbaum were Amarillo visitors one day last week. Mesumma, Hendricks and Williams were Wednesday visitors to the Ben Maize home. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Richardson were Sunday afternoon visitors to the valley. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Todd underwent tonsil operations in Amarillo Saturday. A noted physician of that city did the operating. Idros Maize spent two days last week visiting Juanita Hendricks. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Morton and family were Sunday visitors to the S. B. Hale home. Mrs. Chester Mitts visited Mrs. Josie Hays, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Buster Cator and baby spent several days the past week in the Chester Mitts home. Marlan Todd spent Saturday night visiting Reta Roach. Among those who were present at the Hendricks home Wednesday were; Mesdames Pat Neilson, Ben Maize, Moe Maize, Earl Pittman and Mattie Sheets. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lowe Sr., of Colorado City, Texas, are visiting in the Curtis Lowe home. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Mitts were visitors to the Hendricks home one night last week. Everyone is rejoicing over the fine rain which fell last week. But we were not so glad to see the Palo Duro get so high. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Mitts visited Mrs. Elmer Myers, Sunday. Mrs. Paul Roach and Hoskins were visitors to the Todd home on Tuesday. Mrs. Curtis Lowe and father-in-law, Curtis Lowe Sr., are visiting in Canyon this week. Chicago teachers have been working since last June without pay. But it doesn't sound habit-forming, now, does it?

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future. Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it. Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office. And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can. The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

A TRIBUTE TO THE BLUE THE GREY THE KHAKI

MEMORIAL D/Y MAY 30

To those brave men of the wars of the past, we pay tribute. In their memory our doors will remain closed all day, May 30th.

We Rever Memory of Nation's Deceased Service Men

—It is fitting that our nation have an annual Memorial Day so that fitting tribute can be paid to deceased veterans of our wars.

—This Memorial Day custom developed as a tribute to veterans of the Civil war, and we are glad that despite the passing of these ex-servicemen that the Nation still observes the day.

Memorial Day has now grown beyond a mere military observance. Today we join in Memorial day in honoring all of the deceased.

club... Delon Kirk as toastmaster... Mr. Delon Kirk as toastmaster, who cleverly provided laughter and merriment for the guests, by griding them of their outstanding ambitions and frailties, exhibited during the club functions of the past year.

Attuned to the reverberations of the introduction, Margaret Sangster's "A Mother's Prayer" was read by Mrs. Robert Douglas, referred to by Mrs. Kirk as club's "warbler".

As the evening drew to a close, the president warmly greeted and felicitated the incoming president, Mrs. R. V. Converse... and thus the elaborate celebration happily was ended.

Guests present were: Mesdames J. H. Buchanan, G. F. Buzzard, Chas. Chambers, H. E. Campfield, R. V. Converse, C. J. Dally, Robert Douglas, C. A. Hitt, F. Hoskins, Delon Kirk, P. A. Lyon, R. W. Morton, E. C. Comble, Sam Gillispie and Bill Miller.

"Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to well together in unity" (Psalm 133:1)

Unity is a subject about which a great deal has been preached by religious organizations. Time and space does not permit us submitting a long treatise on this subject, even if we were capable of doing so, but if we follow Bible references and thoughtful questions will cause us to be honest persons to think and investigate the bible teaching on this subject our purpose is accomplished.

It is prayed that all the brethren of the church will find that in the church established on the day of Pentecost that the brethren are one heart and one soul.

For more specific comments on the early church see the passages quoted below:

Be ye of the same mind one towards another (Romans 12:16)
(That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God) (Romans 15:6)

(Now I beseech you brethren by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing and that there be no divisions among you, but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment) (1 Cor. 1:10)

In the light of the passages quoted above may we submit the following thought questions for your consideration - study each one carefully.

1. Is it possible for over 200 different religious organizations to teach and practice as many different creeds and doctrines and all be right?
2. Is a union meeting, as conducted today the kind of unity that is spoken of in the New Testament, and the unity for which Christ prayed? If it is and denominations can worship together in an acceptable manner for a month at a time why not continue to worship in like manner all the time.
3. Has God given men authority to write regulatory creeds for their standards of worship? How can such written doctrines be justified when, and if they cause divisions?
4. Should people all agree to strive for the unity that existed in the New Testament church—on that grounds could this be accomplished?

When people are willing to accept the Bible and the Bible alone as their standard of truth, Amos said, (How can two walk together except they be agreed) Be with us Sunday.

HOWERTON - WINDOM
Miss Cleo Howerton and Clyde Windom were quietly married at the Methodist parsonage here Saturday evening, May 20th, at 15 by Rev. H. A. Nichols. Both girls are well known here and their many friends will extend their best wishes to the young couple. They left Sunday on a return homeward to Clovis, New Mexico and McLean, returning Spearman Tuesday.
