NEEDED A CITY PARK

There are few things that help a city more than city parks. The plains are confronted continuously with the problem of afforestation. The plains is not a natural habitat for trees. But, with the proper care, trees grow bountifully.

Spearman needs a city park badly. Of course it is impossible to have an attractive park next year or the next, but we should begin to plan now so that in a few years we would have a public place like that to beautify our city and to offer recreation to our citizenship.

There's plenty of ground on the outskirts of the city that would be suitable for a park. It would be well for the city at this time to take an option on a tract of land, get some trees right away and plant them with the thought in mind to improve the grounds in time to time. It would be something that every resident would be proud of in years to come.

We have an abundance of water, plenty of ground and plenty of folks who would like to see the work start on building something of this kind. It would strengthen civic pride and help in many ways. The Lions Club and the Spearman Chamber of Commerce would be limited in building a park. What is to keep us from starting on it now? Everybody seems to be ready. Why wait?

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

FOR NOVEMBER 1, 1931

General Topic:—The Progress of Temperance Reform.
Scripture Lesson—Galatians 5: 13-26.

Gal. 5:13. For brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.

14. For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

15. But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16. This I say then, walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

17. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

18. But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these. Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness.

20. Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulation, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies.

21. Envy, murders, drunkenness, reveling and such like; of which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22. But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith.

23. Meekness, temperance, against such there is no law.

24. And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.

25. If ye live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26. Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

Golden Text:—Be not drunken with wine, wherein is riot; but be filled with the Spirit.—Ephesians 5:18. (Revise Version.)

Introduction

Of first rank in interest and importance among our public questions is prohibition. It ought to be kept above the lines of political parties and partisan expediency. Let men face this question on its own merits as a social movement and the issue will be soon determined. To that end let Christians face it in the light of the moral and social teachings of the New Testament, an example of which we study this week in Paul's epistle to the Galatians.

Liberty and Love

Among the fundamentals of Paul's faith was the belief that Christians were "called for liberty." But like every great principle, liberty is capable of abuse and needs careful interpretation. He who called us for liberty also called us for love. He put his stamp of approval upon the command, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." And liberty must be found inside, not outside, the principle of love. Christian liberty is not unprincipled liberty, but liberty regulated by love. "Personal liberty" that is Christian is also conscious of social responsibility, and is ready to yield rights to obligations.

Spirit and Flesh, v. 17

All of us have to be on guard constantly against the temptation to us our freedom selfishly and sinfully. There is within us a force that leads to our moral and spiritual undoing which social and physical disaster also. Paul calls it "the flesh," and whether or not we know what it is, all of us know that it is. And what are we to do about it? "Walk by the Spirit and ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh." v. 16. God has given us his Spirit to dwell within us, to contend with the forces of evil and set us free. The flesh enslaves; the Spirit sets free, by producing those fruits which we that are in full accord with the will of God.

The Work of The Flesh, vs. 19-21

In order to re-enforce his exhortation that men should walk by the Spirit, Paul describes the works of the flesh and the fruit of the Spirit. Let us notice some of the things that appear in lives surrendered to the flesh. After naming fifteen, Paul says there are others like them. These fifteen are but examples of the manifoldness of sin as it invades the life. Two of those mentioned are sins of sensuality (fornication and lewdness); two of them are connected with religious worship (idolatry, sorcery), eight of them have to do with our social relations (enmities, strifes, jealousies, wrath, factions, divisions, parties, envyings, and evil brood, destroying unity and peace; and the last two (drunkenness, carousing) belong to base appetite which opens the door wide for every other form of sin.

In every case they bear the marks of selfishness and destructiveness. They are in every respect the antithesis of Christian love and reverence and righteousness. "They who practice such things shall not inherit the Kingdom of God." Whatever our Christian freedom may mean, surely it is incompatible with these things that in themselves are of such a nature as to wreck the life here and close the gates of heaven upon us.

The Fruit of the Spirit, vs. 22, 23

In verses 22-24 Paul gives a positive argument for walking in the Spirit. Nine attributes are set forth, "all the fruit of the eternal Spirit, all capable of being exercised in everyday life by all classes of society and in every nation under heaven." Read them over and compare them with the works of the flesh. They are unselfish and constructive. The very first one—love—is the negative of the entire catalogue of sins mentioned above. And following love comes the others in beautiful pairs: Joy and peace, filling the soul with God's sunshine, freeing the soul from the dark shadows of fear and strife; longsuffering and kindness, equipping the soul with patience and sympathy which uplift and heal goodness and faithfulness, keeping the heart pure and steadfast in its loyalties and its tasks; meekness and self-control, fortifying the soul against the suffering an temptations incident to the struggle against the flesh.

"Against Such There Is No Law"

—These, said Paul, are not only answers to the soul's needs, but "against such there is no law." They meet the approval of God and man. And they are within our reach. They are the fruit of the Spirit, all growing at once in the heart of those who belong to Christ.

Having made his argument, Paul again exhorts us to walk by the Spirit. Thinking of our place in the world, of our responsibility for others, surely we shall not try to use God's gifts in self-indulgence, but rather pray for those graces which sanctify life, and energize it for the task of making humanity better.

Prohibition and "Personal Liberty."

The wets are constantly and loudly asserting that prohibition interferes with their "personal liberty." "Whose liberty is most

Navy Team's Captain

Here is the man who hopes to lead the navy colors to victory on the gridiron this season. Midshipman M. H. Tuttle, of Lenoir, N. C.

New German Threat

Germany has developed a new deathton star who is expected to cause much embarrassment to America's versatile track and field stars in the 1932 Olympic games to be held at Los Angeles, Calif. His name is Kurt Wels, and he is here seen hurling the discus.

Chip Off Old Block

Page, Jr., son of one of the university of Chicago's most famous football players of the past, is playing halfback on this season's team while he may not equal the record of his dad, he is doing well.

WOMEN: watch your BOWELS

What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor would know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of a family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowels.

It is true for children, too. They owe it to life. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their kin is sore. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients. When you're a sick headache, and at the times when you are most likely to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all drug stores keep it ready in big bottles), and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative for a million women!

important—a man's right to drink what he pleases or his family's right to a fair share in his inheritance? The consequences of drink cannot be confined to the drinker, or even to the drinkers home; they spill over into the community where the rights to peace, safety and quiet are of greater importance than a man's right to drink. Those who claim the most personal liberty would be in hot water all the time were it not that others give up much personal liberty even for their sake.

"There is no such thing as personal liberty to do wrong or to violate law. All individual rights give way to social obligations. One-way streets, traffic rules, speed limits, ordinances that cover the distribution of ice, milk, meat, and other food stuffs are all in point.

"Prohibition is the same general idea extended to include all of us in its prohibitory provisions. Even the much advertised plan of the wets to have liquor sold under government control interferes with the personal liberty to buy what one likes, where one wishes, and when one wills. Their proposal would fix the alcoholic content, also, Hours of sale, quantities to be sold or bought, are dictated. Even the place where the stuff may be bought is fixed by law!

"The Volstead Act does not do more than that. It merely does it to more people."

The Future Progress of Temperance Reform

Even though we have Prohibition written in our national constitution and upon our statute books, temperance reform is not completed. What kind of reform is now needed? Is it not first, a Christian interpretation of "personal liberty" in the light of social effects of drunkenness? Is it not, again, to enliven Christian patriotism in the support of law enforcement? And still further, to make

A. Outlines Work For Year

The P. T. A. executive committee was held Thursday at 4 p. m. in the building, for the outlining of the Lyceum term 1931-32.

Mr. Speer, president of Morse School, presided over the meeting.

Mr. Speer discussed and decided on the first number to be given on the evening, October 11, 1931.

Mr. Speer directed the games of basketball, the fat and lean men, long vs. short men, and standing entertainment.

Mr. Speer was appointed to select the clowns or other respective team.

Mr. Speer was appointed to select the booths as follows: Mrs. Roscoe made candy, Mrs. J. Advertising, Mrs. J.

the basketball game athletic stunts to be given on the evening. Awards to the best contestants to be an admission for adults outside of, and 5c for high and children above.

set for each lyceum school term, which was for Thursday, November 10, 1931, under the direction of J. B. Speer, Jr., February 26, directed by J. Norman; and Friday, April 22, under the direction of Mrs. H. S. Durham.

Mr. H. S. Durham decided that an admission of 10c would be charged for each play.

Twister Does Some Damage at Morse

The twister that hit Morse Sunday and Gruver did some damage at Morse by demolishing the Huffaker blacksmith shop, and completely smashing some other small structures. The building that was used through the past harvest season as a blacksmith shop was now being used by Jim Roberts for a garage. It seems that the west entrance was open when the storm struck for an eyewitness stated that the structure swelled to an enormous size and then burst into bits. Mr. Huffaker and Dr. Sechrist who were standing near by barely escaped injury when pieces of planks from the building fell between them.

FIRST GRADE ENTERTAINS AT CHAPEL

The first grade, with Mrs. Speer the teacher, as director, furnished the chapel program Monday. The numbers were taken from actual class work and demonstrated the progress made thus far this year. The program was as follows:

Good Morning to You—Orchestra—Lenten Batic, director. Reading—Merle Johnson. Story—Rena McNutt, Donald Sangster, Zola Mae Sheets, James Ray Jones, Lavern Henderson. Reading—Willie May Utley. All those interested in these program are always welcome. Mrs. Mack Dortch, Mrs. Roy Womble, Mrs. E. J. Norman, Mrs. Coker and Miss Bibbs were visitors Monday. The second and third grades, under the direction of Miss Lonie Hunt, will have charge of the program next Monday at 9:45.

Morsing Musings

Two-bits will purchase the most hilarious hour of fun that you will ever have a chance of buying, next Friday night at the school house when the Frenzied Fighting Fats meet the Lanky Lightning Leans. And this is going to be rich because both camps are divided into a male and female division. It will be a double-header, with the gentlemen holding forth first and then followed by tussle between the ladies. For certain political reasons we had better refer to the latter encounter as the game between the plumps and the slenders. Of course it means the same as something else, but we all believe a lot in the way a thing sounds. The point is bring your quarters for the old folks and nickels for the youngsters and enjoy an evening of real entertainment. And one more thing, and that's something lots of us worry about these days, and that's where the money goes. It goes to the ladies ### of the Parent-Teacher Association.

And that gives us another lead. The Parent-Teachers ladies. This little doubt but there must be one of the best and most active Parent-Teacher organizations in the Panhandle of Texas. Everybody knows, in spite of the fact that we like to keep a stiff upper lip, that schools are suffering during the present era of Hoover prosperity as well as other businesses, maybe a little more in some cases. The way the Parent-Teachers are working to help the Morse school stay in high gear is worth commendation, and Morse school is in high gear, and will continue to be until the wheels run off.

Now that Morse has a golf club and a golf course, many people in the community have grave fears about the final outcome of it all. In the first place the course runs about all over the town section, and some of the fairways run perilously close to some people's back yards. So far the only hazard to speak of is Mr. Green's bran lot. In case some of the Green chickens start setting of a sudden, it might be well to investigate the nests. It probably will be found that the hens, with the best of ### intentions, had misaken golf balls for eggs.

In the second place, Doc Vaughan, who was one of the main heads behind this golf scheme, is so proud of the course that he is willing to play anybody in the country at two-bits a hole. Of course anybody who knows anything about golf and who has seen Vaughan's technique on the well stay at the soda fountain and mix Dr. Poppers. And in the third place, an dthis is just down right awful. Some of our most prominent citizens have been bitten so hard by the golf bug that the business set up of the town is liable to betorn down. As yet Prof. Speer has not taken any time off from his classes to shoot birds, but I think the trustees should start keeping watch before long. And now worst of all, Mr. Cline, our mail carrier, has gone after golf like a fly after molasses. He still condescends to play an occasional game of croquet with the boys down by the barber shop, but it is the general opinion that unless he recovers soon, he will drive past the croquet grounds without giving the boys as much as a look.

Now I ask you, what will croquet be without Mr. Cline? Somebody must stop this golf business, that's all.

Tech Will Meet Colorado School of Mines Oct. 23

Lubbock, Texas, Oct. 22.—The Tech Matadors, after several days of rest from the last game, Oct. 13, are ready for the first intersectional contest here at home when the Colorado School of Mines, one of the fastest stepping teams in the Rocky Mountain Valley conference shows up for a game, Oct. 23.

Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith, Tech coaches were pleased with the Matador's showing in their first intersectional tilt at Dallas, Oct. 13, when they held the Haskell Indians to a 8 to 0 ### score in a sea of mud and water.

Since the return from Dallas, the Matadors have been going through strenuous workouts getting in trim for the conflict with the Colorado school.

The game Friday marks the first contest of a Rocky Mountain conference team in Texas and is expected to draw a crowd of fans from all over West Texas.

The game is to be played at night if weather conditions permit.

With the exception of star end, Bill Teal, who was carried off the Fair Park gridiron with a broken leg during the Haskell Indian contest, all of the Matadors are in good shape for the next game. Reports from the School of Mines'

camp indicates that their line-up is in good shape with no injuries or members on the sick list.

The game is a test game and Cawthon hopes to carry away a victory to assure a permanent contract with teams from the Rocky Mountain conference.

A Weatherford banker recently spun the thread and wove the cloth for the material out of which a local tailor made the banker a suit of clothes. Only thirty-five cents worth of cotton was used.

Lynx In Hard Practice For Follet Game Friday; Effort Directed To Win District

The Spearman high school Lynx led its routine of careful practice this week under the direction of Coach Billy Jarvis and assistant Coach Elmer Gunn, for game with Follett in that city Friday to decide winners in northeast unit for district honor.

Injuries to the team serve as a serious handicap. Vernon, star back of the Lynx squad had a bad sprain of the knee for the past two weeks with an injured shoulder. Archer powerful guard is wearing a wrenched knee. Big Joe Werton suffered a badly sprained elbow in the game with Elkhart Saturday.

Follett is strong. Follett's team is ragged. It lacks football fitness. But they have a set of backs that are speedy and shifty, that can pass, punt and carry a ball. The defeat they handed the strong Perryton team last Friday clearly demonstrates that they can play a good game of football. Despite the fact that Elmore, star back for Follett carried the ball 60 per cent of the game during the game, their running attacks, defensive and offensive football will stack up well with any class B football team on the north plains.

Football Plays Ought To Pick Farmers For Fathers

Fort Worth, Oct. 29.—Any boy who has an ambition to play football for Texas Christian University would do well to pick out a farmer for his father.

An investigation into the occupations of the fathers of the 1931 Horned Frogs discloses the fact that 12 out of 40 of the players came from farm or ranch.

Among the various other occupations engaged in by the players' fathers are: Lawyer, salesman, minister, jeweler, hotel operator, real estate agent, civil engineer, grocer, city official, mechanic, fireman, etc. Five of the Horned Frogs' fathers are not living.

The father of the heaviest man on the squad is a dairyman. The father of the smallest is a jeweler. Six fathers are professional men. Fathers of three players work for the Santa Fe railroad. The plumbing trade is not represented, which led one member of the squad to observe that this is why no Frog has ever gone to football practice and forgotten to take along a football.

Many Varieties Sorghum Are Now Being Tested

Goodwell, Okla., October 29.—In spite of the fact that agricultural authorities maintain on community should grow more than about four varieties of sorghum as for grain, hay, forage and broom corn there are 63 varieties on test at the Panhandle Agricultural Experiment Station this year. "The reason a small number of sorghum varieties is advocated in any particular community," H. H. Fennell, Director of the Station said, "is because sorghums cross so readily and make it difficult to maintain pure and highly productive seed where many varieties are used."

When asked if he thought the Experiment Station was setting a good example for farmers by growing 63 varieties Fennell said that one of the station's jobs was to learn what not to do by doing it if possible before the farmers did and giving them warning.

Sorghums are very particularly adapted to certain soil and climatic conditions and many varieties which produce well in other localities make a rather poor showing when brought to the High Plains. Plant breeders, amateur professional, are challenged to produce a sorghum that is really more productive than the old fashioned yellow milo. It is not new varieties but better varieties which are needed according to Fennell. Newness does not recommend a variety anywhere. A record of the experience of the past 20 years shows that the mere fact that a variety is a new one has given odds of about four to one that it was not as good as the old standard variety.

300 Delegates Expected At Federal Club Meet

Lubbock, October 29.—Three hundred or more delegates are expected for the thirty-fourth annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs here November 9 to 12. Mrs. Wm. Dingus, general chairman of local committees estimates.

These delegates will be busily engaged from the time of their arrival until the close of the convention, Thursday evening, November 12.

Monday, November 9, the opening day, the delegates will be in the charge of local committees. A luncheon honoring the board and all delegates who have arrived, will be held at noon and the official welcome addresses on the part of the City Federation of Lubbock, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and other city officials will be made.

Tuesday, a business luncheon at noon and the annual pioneers' dinner in the evening will be held. The seven district presidents and the highest scoring club of each district and the fine arts department will report Tuesday.

Wednesday, another business luncheon will be held at noon and in the evening, the Lubbock Chamber Commerce will entertain with an old time chuckwagon feed. Real cowboys will be on hand to assist in serving the "western chuckwagon grub." The evening program will be under the direction of the American Citizenship department, celebrating the bicentennial birth of George Washington with a massed chorus of patriotic songs, assembly songs and addresses.

Thursday, the final day, includes another business luncheon, and climaxing the entire convention will be the Texas Dinner with "Texas Under Six Flags" featured in song and story in a pageant under the direction of Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the Speech arts department of the Texas Technological College.

NUTTY NATURAL HISTORY

BY HUGH MUTTON

THE SIBERIAN WHIPPERSNOOP

Great herds of these beasts roam the frozen tundras of the north coast, feeding on the lingslax that springs up between the great blocks of spongecake. The Russians prize their meat highly, and capture them by calling out the letters of the alphabet. The poor whippersnoops understand only Sengulose, and, being puzzled, draw near and are easily caught.

You'll find, if you look closer, that it's nothing but a big Brazil nut and a Gilbert head. His pop eyes are out of popcorn, but grains of rice with spots of ink, and all he has for horns and feet are cloves. He's simply all stuck up with little pieces of chewing gum.

Cooperation—All the Time

At a time when leaders in the agricultural and business world agree that farmers' cooperatives are the practical way to solve many farm problems on a business basis, it is interesting to read an editorial in the San Francisco Chronicle which illustrates how difficult it is to get farmers or any other group of people to adopt and stand by measures which are in their own interest. The Chronicle says:

"Farmers' cooperatives have to struggle with human nature. This is perhaps their biggest problem, bigger even than extending markets. The trouble reported in the raisin pool is an illustration."

It seems that the raisin grape crop has been short and prices picked up. As a result, according to executives of the pool, many member growers try to evade their contracts and speculate on the open market. This has been too often the experience of the past in California and other states where cooperatives have been run on the shoals in the same manner.

Too many humans look to cooperative action only when they are in trouble.

With lack of support in good times, a cooperative cannot acquire the strength to deal adequately with bad times.

"Cooperation," says the Chronicle, "is a noble idea—if only it were not so hard to get human beings to cooperate through the thick as well as through the thin."

Such situations are object lessons which impress upon farmers the fact that cooperative action in any industry must be continuous and not spasmodic, to get results. Successful cooperatives in different parts of the country have demonstrated this and their members have profited accordingly, year in and year out.

College Head Says Don't Know If College Safe Place

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 29.—"Perhaps one of the most difficult things in our American life is to be moral and yet not be narrow minded. It is this that our college graduates achieve. President E. M. Waits of Texas Christian University told delegates to the international convention of the Christian Church held here recently. President Waits' subject was "The Disciples and Higher Education."

"I am frequently asked," he said, "Is the college a safe place for our American youth? I don't know that it is. The only really safe place for the young man, or old, is the grave. But a college is a good place in which to grow, and growth implies danger, since it means the possibility of growing worse as well as better. I believe that the Christian college, in spite of its faults, is our best American institution."

"The sooner the critics of modern college youth learn that their offspring are no better, no worse, no wiser and no more foolish than they are not different except in the amount of publicity they get for overstepping the bounds than their parents back home, the sooner we will arrive at a sensible prescription for our modern foolishness in general."

He Knows Old Man River's Every Twist and Turn

IT TAKES a veteran river man to pilot his craft up or down the Mississippi river at any time, and that is especially true when the river is at as low a stage as it is this autumn. Our illustration shows one of the best of the veterans, Capt. George O. Rogers, in the pilot house of the towboat Herbert Hoover, approaching the great Iads bridge. His craft is the largest towboat in the world, is powered with Diesel engines and makes regular trips between St. Louis and New Orleans.

Captain Rogers, who is sixty-seven years of age, knows "Old Man River" like a book and can point out every one of its crannies and nooks, some of them dangerous and others safe. He has spent a lifetime learning the Mississippi, but because of its frequent changes of channel his "studies" are never completed. Every trip there may be something new to learn in the way of twists and turns of the mighty stream. Readers of Mark Twain's tales of Mississippi river pilotage will appreciate this.

WANTED TO PART TEACHING

Target... he learn... ways are... right is... David says... O'Lord... not only... His work... as we find... For the world... and all his... find that Christ is truth. Jno. 1:14 states, "And the word was made flesh and dwelt among us (and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the father) full of grace and truth." In John 14 we find Jesus speaking to His disciples, "I tell them He is going to prepare a place for them. He tells them that they know where He is going and they also know the way. Thomas then told Jesus that they knew not where He was going and asked how they could know the way. In the sixth verse Jesus answered him saying, "I am the way, the truth and the life, No man can come unto the father but by me."

from their sins. Jno. 8:32 states, "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Christians are told in Jno. 7:21 to worship God in Spirit and in truth. We are also to serve God in truth. Every Christian is admonished to bind truth as truth. We are taught by God's word to love truth and peace, rejoice in truth, speak to one another in truth and mercy about the love of Christ and to write it upon the tables of the heart. Christians should observe very closely the teachings of God's word, not only those who are taught but those who do the teaching. Ministers are told to speak and teach in truth. If we should please God we would be truthful.

In Proverbs 12:22 we are told that "Lying lips are abomination to the Lord but they that deal truly are His delight." Truth draws a dividing line between Christ's disciples and the wicked. For we are taught in 2 John that truth abides continually with saints and in 2 Tim. 4:4 we find that the wicked turn away from the truth. The following poem written by W. D. Ingram gives some beautiful thoughts on truth: Truth, great and noble truth! That which should thrill the hope of youth! While bold error has not any wrath, But is blight and curse of earth. The charms of truth I do adore, Error I hate it's works deplore; Truth stands for honor bright and true, While error is as blight of dew. The truth will live where error dies; It's blessings will live when error dies; I love you truth, you I aspire You're my hope, you I admire.

are most contented. It is the one where unit costs of production are lowest. Every accident, no matter how small, extracts a direct financial toll—in lost time, in interruption of a job, in medical and legal attention, in insurance compensation. Added to this are the "hidden costs" of accidents which are shown to be even far greater than these apparent costs. Accident prevention, in short, is the best kind of business. It is time every industry, whether it has two employes or thousands, realized this, and realized, as well, that a large percentage of accidents are easily preventable. Industry has made a fine record in recent years in reducing both the frequency and severity of accidents—each year should see this record bettered. One hundred and thirteen miles of new railroad are under construction between Childress and Pampa, Texas, estimated to cost five million dollars when completed.

the ornate, glistening railing above, the lush foliage nearby, and the two attractive figures approaching the bridge—he staidly jauntily, she seeming to lag a little. He looked at her eyes, seeming to search his face now with a question hanging in the air. "You know," he interpreted her glance innocently, "I have the peculiar feeling that you think you know me." She gave him a quick look. "I mean—you think I'm someone else." "Why do you fancy that?" "The way you spoke to me—at the gaming table." "I was just amazed at your recklessness. You must be quite rich." "On the contrary, I'm quite poor—except for one thing." "What?" "The capacity for excitement." He grinned at her almost ingenuously. "That's what I like about you. You excite." They had gained the bridge now and lingered there, gazing down idly at the water. She leaned forward over the railing, poring moodily over the moon's image in the water. "Don't like me too much," she half whispered, looking away. Uncertainly she began twisting her handkerchief in her hands, taking a deep breath. A rattle swept the shrubbery nearby, and her eyes roved toward the noise. His eyes followed hers, but his unruffled expression did not change. The sound of that pursuing taxi seemed to have stopped with the halting of their vehicle. "Do you know," he said, more as if to make conversation than for any particular object, "that was very amusing this morning." "What was amusing?" "When you stepped on my foot." The words were uttered mildly, with no apparent awareness of their pregnant import. She flashed a startled glance at him. He knew—he had known her all along. Yet he had been undismayed. He had even jested—been a little sportively patronizing toward the woman who was fixing him to his doom. Brave, beyond a doubt. And it seemed that he was not entirely unwitting. "Might I ask," he said in the same even voice, "just what conclusive evidence you can submit? Even a court martial must have that." "Those roulette chips," she said. "I smeared a little substance on them, so that your finger prints would register. I palmed my own, and gave you those. And now they will show that those impressions are the same as the fingerprints of Rittau—that note you left me at the front." "Very clever!" he smiled. "I thought you might have some such plan, when you tossed those chips back to me. So I palmed off on you the second time a couple of chips from the gentleman next to me. It's prints you now have." He added, "Forgive me the deception but I couldn't resist it." For a moment she was taken aback when she gathered her wits together. "You've only convicted yourself, that little trick," he said. "I know—but you'll have to indulge me for trying to appear prewider than you. And let me be first to congratulate you on the new medal you'll win—for services of the highest value to the government of a secret nature." Her gaze wavered, and the corners of her mouth drew down wryly. "I'm sorry—but it's my work." Her tone was strained—almost sullen, seeking to justify her. "My dear lady," he said gently, "where does the pot get off, calling a kettle black?" He raised her head with what he called a restless toss at fate. "Why didn't I have been someone else?" he breathed, more to herself than to him. "Thank you," he said, his voice

Cheaper to Prevent All Accidents

W. H. Cameron, managing director of the National Safety Council, recently pointed out that the strength of the organized safety movement in the United States lies in the fact that "it is cheaper to prevent an accident than to pay for it." As a rule, we look on accident prevention activity as being a humanitarian work—as a savor of lives. And that, of course, is the first need. But it likewise pays for itself, time and again, in plain dollars and cents. The safe establishment, as the records of hundreds of great industries of all kinds can show, is the efficient and profitable one. It is the one where morale of the workers is highest, and where they

Churches and Society

Presbyterian Church

Sunday school each Sunday at 10 a. m. Every member of the church should boost the Sunday school by attending every Sunday.

Sunday, November 15, we will begin a week of special services. We had hoped to have Dr. Moore of Vernon, to preach for us, but he was not able to give us a date this year, so we have secured Robert S. McKee of Clarendon. McKee is a consecrated man and a forceful speaker. Please make your arrangements to attend these services, and seek a blessing for yourself and your community. "Ask and it shall be given you, seek and ye shall find." "Ye have not because ye ask not."

B. W. Baker, Pastor.

Church of Christ

The meeting begins Sunday. Are you prepared for it? Let us assure the general public that it is the truth which we aspire to know and teach. If we do not know the truth—then we do not have the assurance of freedom from sin, because Jesus said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." If you have the truth and we do not have it, you will be injuring us, yourself—and especially the cause of Christ if you do not attend this meeting and inform us of this error when we invite you to do so. You have the privilege of asking any bible question.

We are expecting visitors from Borger, Pampa, Perryton, Texhoma, Guymon, Dumas and many other nearby places.

Methodist Church

Sunday school at 10 a. m. Preaching at 11 a. m. League at 7 p. m. Evening worship at 7:30. Stewards meeting Monday at 7:30 p. m. W. M. S. Wednesday 3 p. m. Choir practice Wednesday night 7:30.

Make an effort to be at all services Sunday. This Sunday and the next will close the conference year. We are working for a full report on all financial lines. It can be done if each individual member and friend does his part—let's do that thing. All benevolences are to be paid by the first of November. We have had a fine response and believe we can go "over the top." We are depending on you to make this possible—so fail us not.

H. A. NICHOLS, Pastor.

First Christian Church

The first Sunday in November, 1926, acting as District Evangelist, I began a meeting at the Union Church which resulted in the organization of the First Christian Church of Spearman. The congregation has continued to grow in number and fellowship and now holds a worthy place in the community life. Sunday, November 1, will be observed as Anniversary Sunday. It is our birthday and we are planning special fetes. The ladies are preparing a noon hour lunch and we want all our members and friends to come. Sermon, music and other features appropriate to the day will enter into the program. We also plan our Promotion Day program for the Sunday school. The Christian Endeavor Society has been organized and a fine group of young people are its officers. Our Sunday program then will be Sunday school at 10, Anniversary sermon and fellowship in Communion at 11, lunch at noon, Christian Endeavor at 7, and evening sermon at 7:30. We invite you to come and be with us.

Jasper Bogue, Minister.

T. E. L. Class Social

The T. E. L. Class of the Baptist Church was delightfully entertained with a Halloween social Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. V. Main, with Mesdames Robertson, Hitt, Babb and Main as hostesses.

The house was decorated in Halloween designs. The social hour was spent in Halloween games and fortune telling. Mrs. F. C. Sumrall, our visitor, won the prize in the bean contest. After the social hour a business meeting was held. The next social will be at the country home of Mrs. Marvin Lee.

Refreshments consisting of Pumpkin pie, whipped cream and coffee was served to the following: Mesdames O. G. Collins, R. H. Prewitt, D. P. Tice, E. F. Jones, D. W. Holland, J. B. Cooke, J. H. Richards, W. T. Smith, F. C. Sumrall, J. M. Thompson, S. E. Gillispie, J. L. Lee, Marvin Lee, Virgil Floyd, H. B. Towe, Raymond Keith, and Miss Zoe Denman and the hostesses.

Mesdames Hays and Kirk Joint Hostesses to Le Jeudi Club

The Halloween motif was attractively carried out in the tallies, score pads, refreshments and prizes when Mrs. J. L. Hays and Mrs. Delon Kirk were hostesses to the Le Jeudi Club, October 22, at the home of Mrs. Hays.

Score awards went to Mrs. Marvin Lee for high and Mrs. M. D. Jackson low.

Guests were Mesdames W. G. McNabb, W. S. McNabb, Charles Jones and Lynn Pack. Members attending were: Mesdames Marvin Lee, R. E. Lee, W. W. Merritt, J. W. Jones, Max Lackey, W. L. Russell, Wm. J. Whitson, J. M. Thompson, D. W. Holland, R. H. Prewitt, M. D. Jackson, E. C. Womble, R. W. Morton and S. B. Hale.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. R. W. Morton, with Mrs. Morton and Hale as hostesses.

Happy Hour Club

The Happy Hour Club met at the home of Mrs. R. C. Bennett, Wednesday, October 21. An afternoon quilting was spent by the following: Mesdames L. M. Buchner, Clarence Clark, Clyde Harbour, E. K. Bannister, Archa Morse, Ed Howerton, H. M. Shebeck, Bert Keith, Cecil Crawford, G. C. Newcomb. Mrs. Dennis Jones of Spearman attended the meeting as a visitor.

Several projects were discussed for future meetings. The members adjourned at a late hour after delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. and Mrs. Claude Blue and little daughter, Dorothy, of Amarillo, spent the week-end here with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hutchinson. Mrs. Blue is a sister of Mrs. Hutchinson.

Entertained With Party

Miss Gladys Van Burkleo was charming hostess at a party given to her many friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Merritt Monday evening of this week. A color scheme of black and orange, softened by subdued lighting effects, was carried out in the reception rooms, and the Halloween motif was effectively carried out in the tallies, score pads and table covers.

The evening hours were whiled away at bridge in which Miss Maudie Holt and Herbert Campbell were awarded first prizes, while other prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Chambers. After prizes were awarded delicious refreshments were served. Those participating in the pleasures of the evening were: Misses Opal Cline, Myrtle Holt, Maudie Holt, Reba Barkley, Jaunita Wilmett, Lois Bailey, Lorene Morton, Vera Campbell, Willie Helen Lamb, and Mary Wilbanks; Mesdames J. B. Cooke, and Marvin Chambers; and Messrs. Tommie Wynne, Selden Hale, Wright Hale, Bill Burran, Thaddeus McMurtry, Gene Richardson, Herbert Campbell, J. B. Cooke, Rex McRee and Marvin Chambers.

Birthday Party

Mrs. W. M. Glover entertained Friday afternoon with a party in honor of her son, Billy Jack, on his second birthday. The house was decorated with Halloween colors, black cats, goblins and other Halloween features.

The little guests came at three o'clock. Games were played and various forms of entertainment was enjoyed. Each guest was presented with a whistle and balloon as favors. Billy Jack received many gifts.

Refreshments of orange slices, cake and cocoa were served to the following little guests: Lora Ann Dodson, Robert Irvin Hazelwood, Robert Leitner Jr., Anita Jo McCain, Wanda B. Towe, Dolores Ann Allen, Sally Talley, Billy Bob Lee, Gene Austin Kern, Bobbie Jack Howell, Phyllis Charlene Chambers, Donald R. Cook, Sadie Ruth and Winnifred Hoskins, Barbara Mae Buckley and Billy Jack Glover.

Mrs. J. W. Jones Entertains

Mrs. J. W. Jones delightfully entertained with bridge at her pretty country home, Tuesday evening, October 20th. Halloween decorations were used in the rooms and the motif was carried out in table appointments.

The guest list included Messrs. and Mesdames D. W. Holland, M. C. Lee, Max Lackey, R. H. Prewitt, W. W. Merritt, Wm. J. Whitson, John L. Hays, W. L. Russell, Lynn Pack and R. A. Bergin.

A novel idea was used in the first course of the refreshments. Each guest ordered from a menu consisting of Chip off the old block, fried butterfries, a chilly Irishman, overflow of Boston, spring offering, lump of gold, downfall of Eve, two pigs in a blanket, girls delight and a boys favorite.

Score awards went to Mrs. Max Lackey, high for ladies; Mrs. Wm. J. Whitson, second high; to W. L. Russell, high for men and Marvin Lee second high.

Local Musicians Broadcast Over Station JIM Sunday

Several musical selection were broadcast over station JIM last Sunday afternoon by local musicians. Bert Briley playing violin, Cal Oldham, guitar; Ross Oldham, mandolin and Arthur Roberson, mandolin. Many phone calls requesting umbers, were received during the program. #### Vester Hill Goes To Hospital At Shattuck Vester Hill, of Hill Bros. Grocery, who became quite ill this week after a cold infection, left Tuesday for a hospital in Shattuck, Okla.

Although Hill was suffering with a swollen condition about his face, his physician here, Dr. J. E. Gower, said he did not think his condition serious.

CAT'S EYE

Spearman plays Follett Friday at Follett, Texas. Follett beat Perryton last week 6 to 0 and Spearman beat Perryton the week before by the same score, so it looks like Spearman and Follett are going to be well matched. The Cat's Eye and the rest of the band are going to Follett to furnish the spirit for the occasion, not liquid, but the old school spirit, that puts the fight into those Lynx cats. The band is going over in full uniform dressed for the occasion, to show their true nature which is "hicks." We are all supposed to dress to that end. It is the easiest thing in the world for the Cat's Eye. All he will have to do is get out his Sunday suit for it carries out the "hick" motif perfectly.

Bert Briley was in the office yesterday and said that his Daddy-in-Law, W. L. Barnett is down here again from Shattuck eating up all of his beans. That's a poor way for a man to feel about his daddy-in-law. Wouldn't it be so bad if it were a mother-in-law. It seems to be an old American custom to talk about mother-in-laws. It happens in the best of families.
