WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The Big Three were reported today to be debating ways of saving Europe from economic and possible political chaos next winter.

Soviet Money Aid Is Bargain Point

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—A possible $5,300,000,000 financial aid program for Russia was counted up in congress today as one of President Truman's most potent talking points for Soviet cooperation of international problems under discussion at the Big Three meeting.

The president let it be known he expects something in return for financial help.

Report Work Going Ahead With Much Serious Business

By DANIEL DE LUCE
POTSDAM, July 21 (AP)—The Big Three victory conference reached the end of its first week tonight and American officials expressed satisfaction with progress already made in problems ranging from the interallied rehabilitation of Europe to the destruction of Japanese resistance.

President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin held their fifth, three-hour meeting today and an announcement from the American compound said: "The work of the conference is going ahead and much serious business has been done."

The continent's three greatest coal-producing areas are the Ruhr, Saar, Silesian and Don River coal regions and of those, officials here report, the least damaged by the war is the Silesian area.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—This government officially told the Japanese today that unconditional surrender offers the "only way by which you can make possible the salvation of Japan."

Japs Say New Weapon For Use In Invasion

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21 (AP)—Japan's technological leader admitted today that Nippon's once proud fleet and air power were unable "to grapple" with Allied might beyond the confines of the homeland and that the final battle must be fought there.

General Tada declared that the secret weapon was "new in every sense of the word" and that, when operated by the "special attack" suicide corps, would have a "double sure hit, sure death" effectiveness.

While describing no new ground action on the island, MacArthur said U. S. army 13th air force and Royal Australian air force planes were continuing to bomb and strafe enemy rear areas, communications lines and fuel dumps.

House Begins Longest Vacation Since 1938

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—House members took off today for their longest vacation since 1938 after a listless final session in which they boosted the pay of a group of legislative employees and discussed the palatability of horse meat.

Japs Say New Weapon For Use In Invasion

Japan's government, exercising its recently acquired decree power ordered the country's 400,000 communications workers mobilized into an "actual fighting corps" for the "coming mainland" battle.

Jap, Allied Dead On Agreement Reached Borneo 11-1 Ratio On Collective Trials

MANILA, July 22 (AP)—Enemy dead counted in all Borneo operations now total 4,306, with 441 captured, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today as Australian troops continued mopping-up operations in recently captured territory around the Sambodja oil fields.

The American delegation was led by Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief United States prosecutor, British and French officials accompanied the inspection party.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Five hundred and thirty-seven combat veterans of the 44th division have been assigned to the first "sleep-shift" train, made up half of coaches and half of pullmans, scheduled to leave Camp Kilmer at 9 p. m. tomorrow for Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Two Pilots Killed In Plane Crash

Two pilots were killed instantly at 12:30 p. m. Saturday when their single engine training plane crashed 15 miles south of here while on a routine training flight, it was announced by Col. John K. Nissley, commanding officer of the Big Spring Bombardier school.

Japan Burned Out By Incendiaries

GUAM, Sunday, July 22 (AP)—American fighter pilots returning from roof-top sweeps over Japanese cities reported today previous Superfort raids had left vital industrial areas "well burned out."

Tokyo radio unwittingly seconded the Yank reports with the statement that Japan's stock of scrap iron, badly needed for war production, had "increased considerably in the war-damaged areas and we have been able to get all the scrap iron we want and need."

Nimitz Claims No Resistance Met In Fleet Attack

GUAM, July 22 (AP)—American cruisers and destroyers which bombarded the entrance to Tokyo bay Wednesday night and early Thursday morning met no enemy resistance of any sort—either air, surface, shore or submarine, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today.

That seems obvious, for certainly the mighty force isn't going permanently into retirement. But thus far there is no indication where the next shells and bombs may hurtle onto the enemy.

Japanese broadcasts, meanwhile, are concerned mainly with the American surface bombardments which seem certain to be resumed. The enemy radio explained today that there had been no air attacks against the great fleet because the Japanese plan was "to offend the enemy and confuse him."

Both were stationed at Big Spring Bombardier school. Neither of the pilots was married.

Rain Brings Hope To Fire-Fighters

PORTLAND, Ore., July 21 (AP)—Welcome rain was falling today over the blazing 90 square miles of northwest Oregon—but the still unquenched fire continued to roar ahead.

"Corn Is Green" Tells Story Of Learning

The stage play by Emyln Williams, in which Ethel Barrymore scored a great triumph several seasons ago, has been translated into a motion picture that commands respect. Its story is uncommon on the screen, but it is cast with a group of excellent performers led by Bette Davis and including two young players making their screen debuts with the air of veterans. It shows at the Ritz today and tomorrow.

The story deals with knowledge and the thirst for it. Told in terms of a teacher and her pupil, the drama develops in the clash of their personalities and backgrounds rather than in romantic love. If this is a theme of doubtful box office value, the name of Irving Rapper, the treatment is restrained—a bit too much so at times—but always interesting. It has a good deal of humor, some emotionally moving scenes and the picturesque background of the Welsh countryside at the end of the last century.

But it is above all a performance piece. Miss Davis, as the teacher from England who tries to bring learning to a small mining town and finds one pupil who will take all she has to give, has the commanding role and plays it with suitable authority. She is a woman who forces her will on others and learns too late that understanding would gain a less costly victory.

As her pupil, John Dall starts his screen career impressively. He makes the young miner, torn between old, familiar ways and new learning a sympathetic and believable figure. The most striking role, that of a Cockney girl whose contempt for books is matched only by her sure knowledge of her own charms, is handled brilliantly by another newcomer, Joan Lorrington. She and Nigel Bruce, who plays the fatuous local squire, share the comedy between them and make the most of it. In brief, Rhys Williams, Rosalind Ivan and Mildred Dunnoek give fine support.

Max Steiner's music captures the spirit of the bare and misty country, and the plaintive folk songs by a mixed chorus of young voices are important and delightful adjuncts to the entertainment, as is the low-keyed photography of Sol Polito.

Jack L. Warner and Jack Chertok have done a creditable job in production.

What We Need—Griffin Prefers Small, Local Industry

An important suggestion that John Griffin, Big Spring resident for 12 years, would like to see done after the war, is to encourage the location of small, local industries rather than make an effort to secure branches of large corporations.

Griffin believes that one talking point for his idea is that if a person lives in the town in which he has his business he's more interested in civic affairs and more anxious to see the town grow and

Hermann Scowls At Lessening Sedative

MONDORF, Luxembourg, July 21 (AP)—Reichsmarchal Hermann Goering's diet of sedatives is being gradually reduced in the infirmary of the Palace hotel, where he is being held—and the former leader of the Luftwaffe is miffed.

Col. B. C. Andrus, commander of the enclosure, said Goering was taking 20 times the normal dosage of paracodeine when he arrived here to join Joachim von Ribbentrop, Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz and 49 other high-ranking Nazis.

Sgt. Robert Bock of Milwaukee described Goering's reaction to the cut in drug rations: "Yesterday he scowled. He held the pills in his hand, counted them. He threw them into his mouth, washed them down with a glass of water and, still scowling, said: "Every day they get less and less."

Years after Buffalo Bill's time, the buffalo bones were gathered and sold to make fertilizer, buttons, chicken feed, knives and other tools. It is said that more than $2,000,000 worth of these bones were taken out of Kansas in 10 years.

Huge Flying Boat Retires To Play Nursemaid To Fleet Of Monsters

By JAMES J. STREIBIG
AP Aviation Editor
NAVAL AIR STATION, Patuxent River, Md. — The Mars, burden "old lady" of the Pacific, has quit carrying war cargoes between San Francisco and Pearl Harbor for a teaching job in southern Maryland.

TURTLE'S EYE VIEW — The Mars being docked in the U-shaped berth prepared for her at the training station in Maryland.

In its new assignment, the 70-ton flying boat is a training plane for crews to man the giants spawned from Mars blueprints and experience. These are the 20 cargo ships, designated JRM's by the Navy, to be built at the Glenn L.
Martin plant at Baltimore.

The first JRM is scheduled to fly in a month or so. As they become available, Mama Mars will have prepared the pilots, engineers, radiomen and navigators for check-out flights in the new design.

The JRM will gross around 20-000 pounds more than the Mars, will have a single tall instead of twin rudders, and a redesigned interior to improve loading. It is expected to carry a heavier load than the Mars.

The Mars design was conceived in 1937, when the Navy sought a long-range flying boat bomber.

With a change in bomber thinking the seaplane was converted to a transport.

The big plane, easily the most talked-about and pointed-at ship on the Alameda — Pearl Harbor Naval Air Transport Service (NA-TS) route, retires with an excellent record.

Just before being turned over to NATAS in November, 1943, the Mars made a 32-hour-17-minute test flight. Immediately after being accepted by the Navy it flew non-stop from Patuxent to Natal, Brazil — 4,250 miles. One leg of the return flight it carried 35-000 pounds payload.

On one flight the Mars left the water with a gross load of 148-500 pounds, which the Navy says is the heaviest ever lifted by wings. On a trip between California and Hawaii it carried a payload of 27,181 pounds.

The Mars made 136 scheduled trips, flying a total of 345,690 miles. It carried 3,000,000 pounds of war cargo, average percentage of which was whole blood destined for Pacific battle areas, and 2,500 passengers.

The plane made 62 trips this year without being beached for major overhaul or repairs. In March alone it made 20 Pacific crossings with a total of 419,332 pounds of cargo and 473 passengers. The average load on the 2,400-mile flight was 20,966 pounds of cargo and 23 passengers.

The Mars was not withdrawn from the Pacific because it was too tired to fly. It is likely to get a more severe beating in the frequent takeoffs and landings during crew training.

Only One Case Heard In Municipal Court

Only one case was heard in city court Saturday morning, bringing the week's total up to 58.
Twenty seven drunks appeared in court during the week, and 11 drivers paid traffic fines. Six persons were picked up on investigations, two of which resulted in the apprehending of two prowlers.
Five persons were arrested for thefts, and five vagrants were jailed. One VD check was ordered, two persons were held in connection with burglaries and one driver was fined for driving without a license.

Additional Checks In Dairy Program

Additional checks have brought the total dairy production program payments to $7,010.54 since July 1, it was announced at the county AAA office Saturday.
There were 29 checks in the amount of $562.24, according to records. These were paid on 138 cwt of whole milk and 997 pounds of butterfat sold in April and 237 cwt of whole milk and 2,062 pounds of butterfat sold in May and June.

Rumors Spread In Germany Even With Communications Breakdowns

By DON WHITEHEAD (Substituting for Kenneth L. Dir-on)

FRANKFURT, (AP)—Communications in Germany are in a chaotic condition but grapevine is spreading a great many rumors which military government officers believe are inspired by Nazis and Nazi sympathizers.

"The wilder the rumor the faster it spreads," said Lt. Col. R. K.
Phelps of Saginaw, Mich., commander of the Frankfurt military government detachment.

Here are a few of the rumors and comment by the military government:
"Marriage will be forbidden among Germans for a period of five years." No such regulation is being considered.

"German universities will not be permitted to open for many years." Plans are being considered to open universities as soon as teaching staffs and text books can be de-nazified.

"Hermann Goering is well treated by Americans because he was a traitor to Germany and sabotaged the Luftwaffe." There will be a trial but it will be only for show." Here is the old line of
"we were betrayed but not defeated" that gave Nazism its start.
The best answer will be what happens to Goering.

"Rudolph Hess is and will continue to be well treated because he was a traitor to Germany." The answer to that is the same as for Goering—wait and see.

"Military government officers at Hananau and other United States army officers are in the pay of the Russian government. These officers grant only small rations to the German people in order to produce discontent so that the people will be driven to communism."
Their rations are smaller because the Germans no longer can rob other countries of food, transportation has broken down, and there is not enough food on

Old Grapevine Trail—

farms to feed the people as they are accustomed to being fed.
The Germans haven't begun to feel the hunger they forced on other peoples, but they will unless they produce more of their own food.

"A military government officer at Hanau permits agitators to continue their actions because it benefits communism." Investigators found this was the result of objection to individuals who were within their rights of free speech as guaranteed by military government proclamations. Germans, unused to free speech, interpret every utterance that is not suppressed as having government support.

"American soldiers in Frankfurt have been ordered to enter apartments of Germans for the purpose of throwing out furniture and burning it." All furniture removed from German homes is inventoried and held for the owners.

"German soldiers released from American prisoner of war camps are forced to swear that they will not reveal mistreatment which they received." Coming from people who are past masters at mistreatment—as photos of Dachau and many other camps so amply prove—this is a little hard to take.
"Hereafter only paper money bearing a bank's stamp will be honored." This rumor backfired to the benefit of the military government since it resulted in an increase in bank deposits. There is no basis for it.

Truman, Churchill Believed To Seek Russian Entry In Jap War

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press News Analyst Attention remained closely focused on the Churchill-Stalin-Truman conversations in Potsdam at the week end despite provokingly meagre official word from the Big Three conference as to the nature or progress of its deliberations.

Such intimations as did reach the press, however, only served to heighten expectation on this side of the Atlantic that decisions affecting the duration of the war with Japan would be reached.

The titanic combined Anglo-American sea-air attack on Japan that continued unabated throughout the week heightened that expectation. City after city, both coastal and interior, in Japan was withered by bomb blasts or incendiaries, and by naval guns.
There was no effective reaction by the foe of any sort except for a horner's nest of anti-aircraft fire stirred up by carrier planes which located and attacked hide-out, Japanese warcraft at the mouth of Tokyo Bay.

The essential fact of the week, outside of what undisclosed understandings may have begun to take shape in Big Three discussions, was for a week or more American and British warcraft of all categories including the most modern and powerful battleships afloat, roamed up and down the Japanese Pacific coast unchallenged by sea or air.

Only the vast combined carrier fleets remained far out at sea to launch their air flotillas and receive them again to be fueled and armed for further attacks.

There is no parallel in history for such bold inshore naval operations against a maritime power. Prior to the naval battles of the Philippine Sea Japan certainly still rated as third naval power in the world, surpassed only by Britain and the United States. After Pearl Harbor she undoubtedly stood second in sea power afloat.

The long or even short range effect of that fact on the Japanese public will continue the useless fight is yet to be assessed. Its effect on Russo-Japanese relations already strained by Moscow denunciation of the otherwise self perpetuating Russo-Japanese peace pact is also yet to be learned.

It should not be overlooked that before the Big Three finally began their talks in Germany press advices from American correspondents accompanying President Truman reflected their expectation of developments relating to the war with Japan. They stressed particularly, whether on information or belief, that both Mr. Truman and Mr. Churchill were primarily concerned with ways and means of cutting the casualty cost of ultimate victory over Japan and were likely to seek Russian participation as the most effective way of insuring that result.

The ancient Greeks had an approximately correct idea of the size of the earth, and it is believed they had computed circumference within less than five per cent of error by 150 B. C.

Second Antelope Hunt In 42 Years Planned

SAN ANGELO, July 21 (AP)—Game Commissioner Frank Jones of Texas confirmed dates for Texas' second antelope hunt in 42 years as they meet here Friday with department aides.

The wily antelope will be hunted on six days, Oct. 1 and 2, 4 and 5, and 8 and 9, in the range country west of the Pecos where ramrods killed 290 last fall. "Special permits will be required."

The commissioners retained the six-day Trans-Pecos deer season, Nov. 19-24, inclusive; revised the quail season west of the Pecos to Dec. 1-Jan. 18, and banned the killing of meanness or crazy quail.

Fifth Cracks Records In "Spaghetti Bowl"

FLORENCE, Italy, July 21 (AP)—A powerful Fifth army team, favored to win the second annual Mediterranean theater allied track and field championships, called the "soldiers' Olympics," cracked most of the meet records at "Spaghetti Bowl" today but the defending North African zone team took the lead in points at the end of the semi-finals.

This paradox occurred when the North Africans bagged first and second in the gruelling 5,000 meters—only final event of the day—while the Fifth army went pointless in the event in which only seven of 14 starters finished the grind in 97 degree heat.

desire for international peace, but stressing German armed equality with the rest of Europe as an important basis of that peace.

While Hitler, three years from power, ranted about tearing up treaties, the German ambassador in Washington complained about Germany's military inferiority imposed by the Treaty of Versailles. At that time, he didn't get to the point of demanding revision of the Versailles arms clauses, however. He took the stick by the other end and pressed for disarmament by everyone else, stating that Germany's policy was "equality through disarmament."

A state department release described American relations with other countries in 1930 as "cordial and little marred by tension or controversy."

Red Cross Swimming Courses Postponed

Red Cross life saving and swimming classes, scheduled to have started here Monday, will be postponed pending an instructor replacement, it was announced Saturday.

Hapold Holmes, who was to have instructed for the boys' classes, resigned as swimming pool manager to be with his wife, who is ill.

The pool will reopen Monday with Hugh Cochran as manager, it was announced by the city.

Gallorotte Steps Ahead Of Favorite

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—W. L. Brann's giant filly, Gallorotte, stepped into the three-year old picture today by winning the $50,000 Empire City handicap after having watched the colts and geldings beat each other week after week in the races that decide the division title.

Favot, William Jefford's juvenile champion of a year ago and today's favorite despite a miserable showing a week ago, set all the early pace and still was a head in front at the field of 11 hit the head of the stretch.

Gallorotte was taken to the outside of the leader on the turn, got to the front and reached the finish line three-quarters of a length in front to reward her backers among the 42,760 spectators with $8, $3.50 and $2.90 across the board. The time was 1:56 4/5.

Joseph Di Giorgio's Post Graduate moved into third place before the mile and three-sixteenth test was half run and held it all the way home.

Farmer Fails To See Why He Can't Find Wife To Answer Ad

GRANTSBURG, Wis., July 21 (AP)—Life on a western Wisconsin farm became lonely for Arthur Birnstengel so he advertised for a wife.

Modestly listing his attributes of health, strength, regular habits and average good looks, he inserted the following in the Burnett (Wis.) County Journal:

"Wanted: Maid, widow, grass or sod, who is free to love and marry, rule her own life, who understands children and would make a successful farm wife; she must be under 42 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighing 180 pounds; who is healthy, truthful, frank, industrious, democratic, of good habits, even temper, intelligent, with an open mind, understanding heart full of love and likes home and children. "I have a boy of 4 (now 5) who needs a mother, and I need a partner and a pal."

That was last September, and since "I haven't found the right party yet," Birnstengel wrote his congressman (Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski (R)).

In the letter made public today, the 43-year-old farmer inquired, "I read where there were 2,300,000 women between the ages of 20 and 34 without a Chinaman's chance of marrying. If that is so, where are they?"

Birnstengel still is wifeless but it's not for lack of enterprise. He wrote O'Konski, "I have tried matrimonial clubs and papers—but they are after the mazzama, or you get a list of women who want city life."

Tropical Storm Dies Down In Intensity

NEW ORLEANS, July 21 (AP)—The weather bureau said tonight that the tropical storm in the Gulf of Mexico had decreased in intensity and was attended only by fresh winds and a few scattered squalls. All storm warnings were ordered down.

Carrying winds estimated at 35 to 45 miles per hour near the center, it should strike the Texas coast Saturday night in the area between Port Aransas and Palacios, the U.S. weather bureau at New Orleans said in a 3:30 p. m. (CWT) advisory.

"Precautions should be continued against heavy squalls, reaching as high as 55 miles per hour from Port Aransas to Port O'Connor. Tides will be considerably above normal in the area where warnings are displayed," the advisory said.

At Aransas Pass, on the mainland across Corpus Christi Bay from Port Aransas, boats moved into storm harbor, and other storm precautions were being taken. At 3 p. m. a northeast wind with a velocity of 24.2 miles per hour was recorded at Port Aransas on Mustang Island. The tide was increasing and the barometer reading of 29.88 was falling. The barometer at Aransas Pass recorded 29.85 and was also falling. At 1 p. m. a wind velocity of about thirty miles an hour was reported at Aransas Pass and the tide was medium high.

PARIS, July 21 (AP)—A summary of U. S. divisions being shipped to the United States for leaves and ultimate redeployment to the Pacific war theater:

Second and Fifth Infantry—some units have landed in the United States, the rest are on the high seas.

13th armored—on the high seas. Ninth army headquarters—advance units sailed from Le Havre today, the main body is at the port for July shipment.

20th armored—advance units sailed from Le Havre July 14, the main body is at the port for shipment July 24 and 25.

28th Infantry—advance units sailed from Le Havre July 14, the main body is at the port for shipment July 24 and 25.

Kansans Launch Drive To Build Ike Memorial

ABILENE, Kas., July 21 (AP)—Proud Kansans from near and far today launched the Eisenhower memorial foundation movement designed eventually to erect here one of the principal shrines of World War II, honoring General of the Army Dwight D. "Ike" Eisenhower, and American armed forces.

An integral part of the foundation's memorial will be the Eisenhower home where General Ike and his five brothers grew to manhood, filling the adjacent acre of ground for pin money in their youth. The home still is occupied by Mrs. Ida Eisenhower, 83, the general's mother, and she will occupy it for the remainder of her life, when it goes by gift of the five living brothers to the foundation.

The state charter, for "the national foundation to honor General Dwight D. Eisenhower and the United States armed forces" was filed today at Topeka, the principal offices here. The sponsors are Kansans widely known in public life in New York, Kansas City, Lawrence, Topeka and Abilene.

The sponsors reported that General Eisenhower had promised to give the foundation all his war souvenirs for a museum here, and others will be accepted. Plans are for a war memorial, museum, meeting place for veterans and a small auditorium. The Eisenhower home will be accepted as it stands, including the furniture used by the family for more than fifty years.

The organization's purpose is described as studying ways to improve world nutrition.

Senator Austin (R-Vt) assumed the job of steering the resolution to passage. Senate democrats sat back and left the whole discussion to the republicans.

Austin said the resolution accepts no obligation except contributing to the fund.

Senate Approves US Navy, ODT Irked By Army Travel

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The senate heard today that both the navy and the Office of Defense Transportation are irked with the army and complaining that the return of soldiers from Europe has been speeded up without advance notice.

Swamping of transportation facilities was alleged. Chairman Mead (D-NY) of the senate war investigating committee said ODT Director J. M. Johnson had testified the army "brought 100,000 more than they told him they would."

Mead also said Secretary of the Navy Forrestal "told us that he was not informed and that he thought it was some of his business."

Both ODT and the navy declined to comment on the matter today.

At the war department it was recalled that the army said yesterday:

"To assist the railroads in planning their schedules well in advance, the war department is keeping them advised of its estimated monthly load as far ahead as March, 1946."

They are notified immediately of any changes in the estimates. On individual troop movements the railroads receive at least 72 hours notice, and in most cases they are given five to 12 days notice."

The matter developed into quite a debate in the senate.

from Moss Creek lake, which is only a few inches from the service spillway. During that time the lake level actually has gained for the reason that water is still running down the draw and out of Moss Springs at around 1,000 gallons a minute. That means about a million and a half gallons a day intake.

City officials said Saturday that no official word had been received concerning a request from the Veterans Administration for the hospital site. However, the matter has been turned over to the VA real estate section, and it is being pushed for early action.

The Howard County Free Library has experienced plenty of use during the first six months of the year. Registered readers averaged eight books during that time—which isn't bad at all. It would be better to broaden the number of registrants. Right at the moment the difficulty is finding new books for constituents, both young and old, to read.

Worshippers Undaunted By Noises Of Okinawa

By RICHARD CUSHING
OKINAWA (AP) — A shrieking wind — the edge of a tropical typhoon — whipped through the open sides of the tent as the chaplain's voice lifted in prayer: "O Lord, that we may be strong in the tasks ahead."

Driven rain and sand stung faces and bared heads of the 60 U. S. Army Air Corps men standing reverently in rough pews, fashioned from pickup lumber.

A chugging bulldozer clanked by on the coral road outside as the chaplain finished and announced "hymn 54." The wind shrilled in rising fury. A seabed dynamite blast shook the ground.

Above it all the air men sang, accompanied by the chords of an old upright piano—"Hear thou the prayer I make on bended knee..."

The hymn ended, they knelt and prayed for strength, for their loved ones and for their country. They prayed for peace.

This was inaugurated the new chapel of a bombardment group on Okinawa. Protestant chaplain, Capt. Marion O. Smith of Galesburg, Ill., was filling in for Maj. Howard J. Johnson of Fort Worth, Tex., ill with yellow jaundice caught while preaching at the front lines on Luzon in the Philippines.

At the piano was Pvt. Tom Snook of Fort Wayne, Ind. Before the war he studied classical piano in Chicago.

About 50 feet long and 20 wide, the chapel stands among three grey stone Okinawa tombs. It was built in six days, largely under the direction of Pfc. Don Lence of Carbondale, Ill., a radio operator who doubles as Major Johnson's assistant. The floor is dirt. A small altar holds a golden cross and two candles. Placed upon red felt covering two stacks of "C" rations. Over the altar billows a white silk parachute.

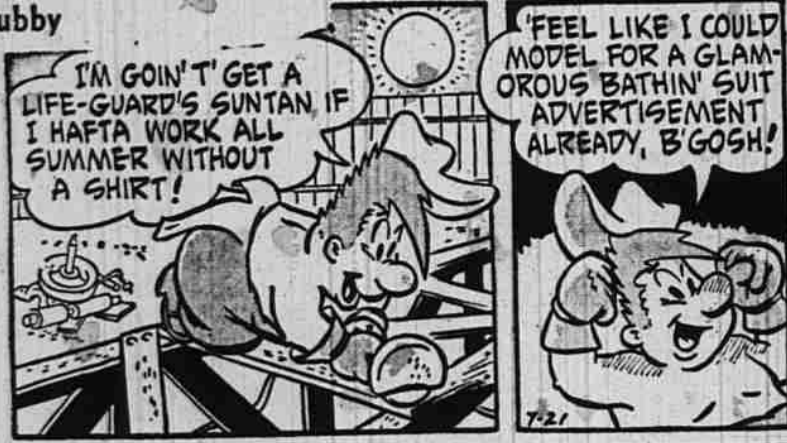

Protestant services are held Sunday morning. Catholic services are held Sunday evenings. Jewish services are read on Friday nights.

Men at the front seek solace in religion, says Chaplain Smith. They often ask shyly how he, a man of God, can condone war, even participate in it.

To this Chaplain Smith answers, in effect:

"You are fighting to place your life as a dike against the flood of worldwide destruction. Christ died willing to stop sin. The new testament says others may give their lives as the ransom for man. We come over here to help free the world from recurring war and devastation and suffering. We can fight, with our soul at peace."

What It Means—

Stray Corners Of Europe Have Been Haggled Over For Centuries

By HERMAN R. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—As peace conferences and border settlements approach we are going to hear a lot about stray corners of Europe over which two or more countries have been haggling for years—if not for centuries.

One of these is the district of Teschen, a patch about 30 miles square (area 852.6 square miles) at the point where pre-war Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia came together. It has been a bone of contention ever since World War I, when both Poland and Czechoslovakia were set up. It had been part of Austrian Silesia.

Both countries wanted it then. It was finally split between them. In 1938, just after Germany had occupied the Czech Sudetenland, Poland took over the rest of Teschen with the blessings of Hitler and Mussolini.

Recently Polish troops have been reported active in the district again, but the Czech government announced that apparently the Poles were simply moving up to their pre-1938 line. So all is quiet in Teschen—for the present.

Historically, Teschen was an independent duchy. It was fought over by the kings of Bohemia and Poland from the ninth to the seventeenth century, when the Bohemians won out. Later it was absorbed into the Austrian Hapsburg domain.

The ancient kings wanted

Teschen for its rich farming district east of the Olsa river. The modern prize is industrial—coal and iron.

Both Poland and Czechoslovakia, naturally wanted all of Teschen after World War I. The Allies decided to hold an election to let the people decide which country they wanted to join, but feeling was so intense that the election was cancelled. The question was put up to the Allied Council of Ambassadors.

The ambassadors awarded the western two thirds to Czechoslovakia, including the important north-south railroad, called the Oderberg line, and the Karwin coal-producing area.

Poland, however, got the city of Teschen and the agricultural section east of the Olsa. The city of Bielitz in the Polish area is an important textile manufacturing center, populated heavily by Germans. It is tied economically with Biala in Polish Galicia. Czechoslovakia got the western suburb of the city of Teschen, called Czech Teschen.

As far as nationalities go, the ambassadors seem to have drawn a questionable line.

Dr. Isaiah Bowman, now a State Department adviser, included a map in his book "The New World" which shows the Polish speech boundary as well to the west of the ambassadors' line. The Encyclopedia Britannica says that in 1921 Poles made up more than three fourths of Teschen's 145,000 population. Czechs were only 3 per cent, according to the Encyclopedia, and the rest were Germans and Jews.

It was this speech and population situation which the Poles claimed as justification for occupying all Teschen in 1938. The next year Germany conquered Poland and gave Teschen to its puppet, Slovakia, formerly part of Czechoslovakia.

The Karwin coal mines supplied Czechoslovakia with more than half its fuel before the war. They produce the only good bituminous coal in Czechoslovakia. It is inferior to the bituminous produced in Poland but good enough for both gas and coke, essential in smelting iron. Teschen iron ore is good, but the Czechs always had to import more.

The Karwin area also produces "brown coal," or lignite, suitable for heating but not smelting.

Wedding Vows Repeated Saturday By Elizabeth Moody And Lt. L. E. Vessel

Miss Elizabeth Frances Moody became the bride of Lt. L. E. Vessel in vows exchanged at the post chapel at Williams Field, Ariz. at 9:30 a. m. Saturday

Mrs. Vessel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Moody, Big Spring, and Lt. Vessel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Vessel of Keewatin, Minn.

The bride was attired in a white brocade street length dress, designed on princess lines, and wore an off-the-face white flower hat. Her accessories were white.

For something old she carried a hand-made lace handkerchief belonging to Mrs. R. L. Evans. Something borrowed was a string of pearls of Mrs. C. W. Deats. The Bible of her grandmother, the late Mrs. L. T. Deats, was topped by a bridal bouquet. Attending her was her cousin, Mrs. Chester D. Matheny, who also was attired in white.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Alfred W. Moody, attended the wedding which was solemnized by the Rev. V. T. Hovermann, chaplain.

Mrs. Vessel was graduated from the Big Spring high school in 1941, attended the Northwest Texas Hospital at Amarillo for nurses' training and for the past year and a half has been associated with the Big Spring Hospital.

Lt. Vessel is a 1937 graduate of the Robert L. Downing high school in Keewatin and was employed in the planning department of the Cane Co. at Chicago, Ill., before his entry into the army air corps in January 1942. He trained at Kelly Field, Randolph Field, Ellington Field and received his commission at the Big Spring Bombardier School with class 43-4. Lt. Vessel was assigned here until recently as a bombardier instructor.

The couple will be at home in Mesa, Ariz.

Demonstrations To Be Continued By Clubs In '46

The same three major demonstrations being carried on this year by Howard county home demonstration women's clubs will be retained as objectives for 1946.

This decision was reached Friday afternoon at a meeting of the yearbook committee under the direction of Mrs. Ray Swann, Coahoma, chairman. The demonstrations will be on fruit production, yard improvement, and clothing.

The committee also voted for individual clubs to draft "second meeting" programs, that is programs for the meeting of each month when the agent will not be present, and to turn them in to Mrs. Swann by Sept. 15.

General outline of the yearbook was discussed. It is due to go into production late in November.

Attending the meeting, held in the office of County Home Demonstration Agent Rhea Merle Boyles, were Mrs. Swann, Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel and Mrs. A. J. Wirth, Coahoma; Mrs. Frank Wilson, Fairview; Mrs. J. M. Craig, Forsan; Mrs. J. J. Phillips, Mrs. Floyd Phillips, and Mrs. E. G. Overton, Overton; and Mrs. Akin Simpson, Luther.

The meeting of the reporters association, set for Saturday at Miss Boyles' office, was postponed for lack of a quorum.

Cadet Dance Planned

All cadets, their wives and all hostesses have been invited to a supper-dance Sunday evening in the Cadet building at the local bombardier school.

Refreshments will be served and the cadet orchestra will play. The interior of the building will be decorated.

Hours will be from 6 to 9:40 p. m.

TRY THIS AMAZING BARCEL RECIPE TO TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Right in Your Own Home, You Can Lose Pounds of Excess Weight Without Starvation Diet or Strenuous Exercise

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcel Concentrate. Pour this into a bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain a more graceful curves; if you lose pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Perhaps you are overweight due to over indulgence in food or the wrong kind of food. With the Barcel home recipe method, you do not have to starve yourself or go hungry. Just follow the simple instructions given on the label and you should get satisfactory results quickly. The very first pint you make up should show results.

LOSE UGLY FAT WITH BARCEL

Why not slim down your figure without a lot of fuss and bother? Try the Barcel way. Wear your streamlined frocks and slacks gracefully. Remember, if the very first bottle of Barcel doesn't show you the sensible way to lose weight, your money will be refunded. (adv.)

Dear Judy,

What say, chum — been doing anything exciting lately? It's been fairly quiet in these parts. A crowd of us went canoeing up the lake the other night and had a Scotch picnic (everybody brought own grub).

Oh, yes, Mary had some friends here from Nashville, Tennessee, and they wanted to see the Rockettes, so we took 'em to the Music Hall — and were they spellbound! It was a very cute stage show this week — set as if it were in toyland. A big box opened on the stage to reveal the girls all set in rows and dressed like dolls in pink, blue and yellow. Then they did a doll dance. It was really terrific.

All the gang are getting costumes together for a big afternoon barn dance to be held in Central Park. It isn't pos necessary to dress-up but most of the kids are inxious to.

The hep cats certainly mowed the lawn the other night. We had a big party over at Ann's and she asked each guest to bring his favorite platter and what a variety we had. That S. O. S. Kay, brought Frankie's "Homesick" and "A Friend of Yours," Edith had a Benny Goodman "Gotta Be This or That" on both sides.

But the two platters that clinched had everybody in an uproar. One was the new Sinatra record of songs from the Broadway musical "Carousel" — "If I Love You" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." And the other, Crosby's "On the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe." It wound up with no threads broken but it certainly was a laugh. If Patsy is still interested in a fashion career she might like a book I got for my birthday. It's "Fashion is Our Business" by Beryl Williams. It describes the careers of 12 of America's top designers and tells how they got that way. Some of them had quite a struggle, so tell Patsy not to despair.

By the bye, Angie has a new hair comb. She still has her log bob, but something new has been added—bangs. It's a cute idea — maybe it will start a fad when she gets back to school.

She called yesterday and talked for hours on the telephone. Her father has threatened not to let her use it at all because she takes it in the closet, sits on the floor and closes the door. Doesn't that frost you?

But, it seems like all the parents are ganging up against the kids phoning. Of course you can't blame some of them because some of the droolers get pretty sill. Ruth's brother, for instance. He always must answer with some kid's cool like "Coomes Sanitarium" or "New Haven Zoo" "Cell No. 1287" or "Jack's Juice Joint." It takes 15 minutes to get him to make sense.

Then on the other hand, Angie's brother, answers Indian fashion... all he does is grunt. That's all square.

Quadrille, Square Dance On Horseback Planned

The Howard County Quadrille, which scored a hit in its first appearance here last year, will be featured in the annual rodeo here Aug. 2-5.

Headed by Mr. and Mrs. Rice as the lead couple, the mounted square dancers will have five couples going through lively maneuvers to the tune of early-day folk tunes.

Stock for the rodeo is to be brought here the last of this week for conditioning for the show. Jack and Earl Sellers, Del Rio, are contracting the animals and some of the specialty performers for the four shows this season.

Plans for the rodeo indicate that the programs may be bobbed and better organized so as to move off faster and with a maximum of action crammed into the shortest possible time. Ray Lackland, Del Rio, has arrived here to assist in preparation for the 12th annual show. He is directing supervision of four new corrals and seven riding chutes to expedite the programs. Lackland also will announce the show.

Events will include bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, bull riding, steer wrestling and the cowgirls' contest. In addition to $2,200 cash prizes, entry fees will be added to swell earnings of participants.

In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Rice, other couples in the quadrille will be Louise Anne Bennett and Joe Simmons, Jean Murphy and Monroe Tumlinson, Mrs. Annabelle Taylor and Kelly Brown, Colleen Davidson and Junior Hayes and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Choate.

Box seat tickets are now on sale, said Ira Driver, secretary of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion, sponsor of the event. The advance sale of tickets is to start in a few days and committees from the American Business club will start work Monday to solicit orders for store front decorations for the show.

Proceeds from the show go back into the show fund and no individual stockholders may share in any profits from the venture, rodeo association officials said.

After his second return to America last February, the colonel served as deputy base commander at the Midland army air field, key refresher station for returned bombardiers.

Col. Helton Made Training Director

Col. Elbert Helton, veteran combat pilot of both the South Pacific and Europe, has been appointed director of training and operations at the bombardier school.

The appointment was announced Saturday by Col. John K. Nissley, commanding officer of the base. Col. Helton's major responsibilities will include the training of all air force bombardier students, all pilots undergoing transition training, and all returned combat personnel in continuation training.

Lt. Col. Albert W. Satterwhite, who has been acting director in the absence of Lt. Col. Gerald F. Keeling, will be Col. Helton's assistant. Col. Keeling is on temporary duty at another station. Col. Helton, a native of Clifton, Tex., trained and commanded a heavy bombardment group in the Eighth Air Force in Europe last year. Previously he served as a squadron commander in the South Pacific area, flying 21 missions against the Japanese when they had the edge in air power.

After his second return to America last February, the colonel served as deputy base commander at the Midland army air field, key refresher station for returned bombardiers.

County Farmers To Observe Safe Week

Howard county farmers, along with millions of others over the nation, will be asked to join in observing July 22-28 as National Farm Safety week.

President Harry Truman has issued a proclamation setting aside this as a special week because farm skills are desperately needed to meet 1945 production goals and because loss of manpower can be ill afforded in the face of critical labor shortages.

Records show that 1,400 fatalities and 25,000 injuries occur monthly on farms in the United States. Last year approximately 17,000 people were killed through mishaps on American farms.

Removal of working hazards, the making for safer machinery, adoption of safer working practices as well as instituting a program of safety in and around farm homes is being stressed.

Howard county 4-H club boys are being urged to compose essays during the week, telling what they have done to promote the cause of safety around their farm homes. The best essay, said County Agent Durward Lewter, will be entered in the national contest, winner of which will be given a free trip to Chicago.

Sweet Ship Of Sugar To Dock In Houston

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—A ship bringing 85,000 100-pound bags of Cuban sugar to relieve the shortage in Texas and Oklahoma is due in Houston "this week-end," Office of Price Administration officials said today.

Of the total, 65,000 bags are of granulated white sugar and 20,000 a commercial type. All but a small portion of the white sugar will be allocated to Texas, the OPA said. OPA spokesmen added that none of the 65,000 bags arriving this week-end would be shipped aboard.

Salt Water Disposal No Longer "Buggy"

AUSTIN, July 21 (AP)—University of Texas geologists, engineers and bacteriologists concur that after extensive joint research no serious "bugs" remain in the present method of salt water disposal in the East Texas oil fields.

The investigation, headed by Dr. F. B. Plummer, the bureau of economic geology, was undertaken at the request of and with the financial backing of the East Texas Salt Water Disposal company which operates the field-wide salt water reinjection system.

Services Held For Livingston Editor

CONROE, July 21 (AP)—Funeral services were held here today for Emmett H. Whitehead, owner and editor of the Livingston News, who died here yesterday following a heart attack. Whitehead was visiting friends at Conroe at the time of his death. He was head of the Montgomery county chamber of commerce for four years until last January.

Reno's Males Return To Adam's Fig Leaves

RENO, Nev., July 21 (AP)—Reno's ales today turned to the wearing "fig leaves."

That's the name of the newest undergarments now offered for sale in local haberdasheries. They are substitutes for men's shorts, of which in Reno there are none.

What makes the problem worse—local laundries today announced no bundle deliveries for two weeks.

The "fig leaf" demonstrated by a store clerk was a sort of gearing with long straps fore and aft, running from the shoulders downward, and fastening with four snaps. It is put on over the head.

Even Ailing Golfers Want To Play Tam O'Shanter

JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO, July 22 (AP)—Every body wants to get into the $60,000 act at Tam O'Shanter course next week and that includes those ailing warriors of the fairways—

Byron (Bucks) Nelson and slamin Sammy Snead — not to mention long inactive Lt. Ben Hogan of the army air forces.

The lush all-American tournament, golfdom's richest meet, is expected magically to heal Nelson, who skipped the current St. Paul open to rest a wrenched back, and Snead, nursing a fractured hand since mid-June.

Defending Champion Nelson, with $81,600 war bond winnings and nine straight tourney triumphs already chalked up this year, and some 139 envious colleagues will shoot for the $13,600 (war bond value) winner's slice of the all-American open.

The 72-hole, medal play open lasting from Thursday through Sunday is the main act in a three-ring circus which promoter George

S. May has developed into golf's greatest spectacle. The show also includes an all-American amateur meet and an all-American women's open, running concurrently with the main event.

Preliminary firing opens Monday with 18-hole qualifying competition for amateurs, followed by test flights for women Tuesday and non-exempt pro Wednesday.

The return of Lieutenant Hogan from the inactive ranks and Snead's test of a fractured hand should give Nelson a little snapper competition than he faced in roaring off with the Montreal open, the Philadelphia open, the Chicago Victory National, and the P. G. A. championship since the start of the summer tour.

Bombardiers Beat Squadron F 10-8

In a practice game that provided both squads with a first-class workout, the Bombardier school baseball team beat Squadron F's Bombers 10-8 at the post Friday night.

Lt. Edward M. Gibbens, manager, worked out two post pitchers — Sgt. Pete Zmitrovich, formerly with the Big Spring city team, who hurled five innings, scoring two strike-outs and allowing two hits; and F-O Don Dunbar, a newcomer, who whiffed one and permitted six hits.

Pfc. Minor Hudson, hurler for F, allowed seven scattered hits, and struck out three. Both Gibbens and Cpl. Elmer Henderson, F's manager, shifted players frequently to give everyone a good workout.

After another four or five days of practice, the post squad will go to Liberal, Kan., next weekend to take on the post team there in a doubleheader.

Transition, Fifth Platoon To Meet

The first round of the intramural softball finals at the Bombardier school will be completed today at 7:30 p. m. in the city park, with Transition playing C Squadron's Fifth platoon.

Both teams qualified for the finals in the "National" league, Transition placing first with eight wins and two losses, and the Fifth second with eight and three. The extra game came in playing off a second-place tie.

Pfc. Charles E. Sims will pitch for the Fifth, while Lt. Robert Raske, who has been playing short stop, may be put on the mound for Transition.

VISITS AIR SCHOOL

Brig. Gen. Victor H. Strahm, commander of the 34th Flying Training Wing, Saturday completed his second visit at the Big Spring Bombardier school, one of five in his command. Gen. Strahm, whose headquarters are at the Midland Army Air base, made the inspection accompanied by Col. John K. Nissley, who assumed command of the Big Spring base last Sunday.

DERRINGER TOSSES 5-3 VICTORY FOR CUBS AFTER SIEGE OF FLU

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP)—Veteran Paul Derringer, hospitalized with influenza earlier this week, went back to the mound today and turned in one of his best performances of the season as he pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 5-3 victory over Philadelphia.

Big "Oom" Paul" stopped the last-place Phils with two hits for seven innings, and, until Vance Dinges doubled in the sixth, only two balls had been hit out of the infield.

In the eighth he eased up and three hits, combined with an error, gave Philadelphia all its runs.

In all, Derringer gave up but six hits as he won his tenth victory of the year before a crowd held to 6,509 by a morning rainstorm, and threatening weather. The victory temporarily boosted the Cubs' National league lead to four games. Second place St. Louis plays a night game today.

Phil Cavaratta, who up to today had gone hitless in 19 straight trips to the plate, paced the Cubs, ten-hit attack on Dick Mauney, who went the route, logging his fourth game of the year.

PITTSBURGH, July 21 (AP)—Nick Strincevich yielded six hits as he pitched Pittsburgh to a 3-1 win over Boston's Braves in the second game of a doubleheader today, after the Pirates dropped the opener 5-1.

CINCINNATI, July 21 (AP)—Van Mungo held the Cincinnati Reds to nine scattered hits to register his 10th victory as the New York Giants triumphed 6-3 today. The win enabled the Giants to move back into the first division.

Devalue Scores Big Upset In Handicap

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP)—Devalue, a 7-year-old thoroughbred owned by a Chicago housewife, scored a terrific upset in Arlington's $58,100 Stars and Stripes handicap at Washington Park today by defeating the 3 to 5 favorite, Thumbs Up, by a nose.

The winner is owned by Mrs. James Nemecek, whose husband is a tailor's manufacturer. She wasn't even present to witness the triumph.

Devalue had won only $5,850 in one victory out of six starts this season, compared to the lump of $110,245 earned by Thumbs Up, winner of the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap three weeks ago. Devalue never before had won an important stake.

Devalue, trailing last in the field of ten on the back stretch, made his winning move running down the middle of the track right at the end of the race.

Eddie Stevens Hits Homers For Montreal

Eddie Stevens, former first baseman with the Big Spring Barons here in 1941, is playing in that position with the Montreal team in the International league, a step below major leagues, according to a clipping from a Montreal newspaper.

Playing in the Fourth of July game at Buffalo, N. Y., Stevens banged in three homers, accounting for five runs and bringing his total number of home-runs for the season to 13.

Clown Prince Of Pros Leading In St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 21 (AP)—Leonard Dodson of Kansas City, the nonchalant "Clown Prince" of professional golfers, continued to lead qualifiers at the end of the second round of play in the St. Louis Open today.

Dodson carded a 70 today which, with his Friday 67, gave him a 137 total for the two days. Five pros with 139 totals pressed close on his heels.

Tigers And A's Battle Five Hours, 24 Innings

PHILADELPHIA, July 21 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics and the Detroit Tigers tied a 39-year-old American league endurance record as they battled almost five hours through 24 innings without any decision reached.

Empire Bill Sommers called the game at the end of the 24th inning with the score tied 1-1.

The Athletics and the Boston Red Sox in 1906 played 24 innings to set an American League record which has never been equaled or broken until today.

It was the longest major league game of this season and came within two innings of tying the all-time major mark of 26 innings, set in 1920 by Brooklyn and Boston of the senior loop.

Detroit's Les Mueller, a right hander with a fast ball who was recently discharged from the army, outlasted three other pitchers used in the game. He pitched 19 and two thirds innings and was relieved by Paul (Dizzy) Trout after he had walked two men.

Russ Christopher, seeking his 12th victory, hurled 13 innings for the A's and was followed by Jittery Joe Berry.

Empire Sommers called the game on account of darkness.

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Alex Carrasquel pitched seven and one third innings of 9 2/3 out ball in a relief role today to give Washington a 7-4 victory over Cleveland.

BOSTON, July 21 (AP)—With Nelson Potter allowing only six hits and the Browns scoring three runs in the first on one hit, St. Louis beat the Boston Red Sox today 4 to 1.

Rice Ex-Serviceman To Handle Tackling

HOUSTON, July 21 (AP)—Rice Institute has but one ex-serviceman on its football squad, but he has enough ribbons to make up for several. He is Theo Chmelik, husky griddler from Richmond, who was a squadman with the Rice Owls before going into the service in 1941.

He was a captain in the air corps, a bombardier on medium bombers. He had 55 missions over enemy territory, and won the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with nine clusters.

Despite the fact that he has not played football in four years, he is expected to play quite a bit of tackle for Jess Neely this fall.

Services of more than 40 skilled trades are required to build a Liberty ship.

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—Aided by three home runs off the bats of Hershel Martin, Bud Metheny and Nick Etten, the latter's grand slam wallop, Ernie Bonham coasted to his second victory of the season today as the New York Yankees trampled all over Chicago's White Sox 12-3.

Service Despite Handicaps

Not many people properly appreciate the work done at the Big Spring State Hospital during the past four years under the direction of Dr. C. A. Shaw...

It is to the discredit of the state that even in normal times it paid its eleemosynary institution employees sub-standard wages...

This has confronted heads of these institutions with doubly heavy responsibilities, for they not only had the task of caring for increasing patient loads but of dealing with the most troublesome operational problems they likely ever will face.

Despite these difficulties, the Big Spring State Hospital at one time cared for 552 patients, 148 patients more than listed capacity, or about 36 per cent overload.

Yet the work has been carried on in a creditable manner even with the professional staff cut to half the normal number, not to speak of turnover in other personnel.

Busy Place On The Farm

A week ago L. H. Thomas, chairman of the county AAA committee, estimated damage to Howard county crops and land at half a million dollars on the basis of a precursory survey.

Notwithstanding, we still may come out with a good crop over-all with the bulk of it in feed. The farms certainly will be busy places in the interim.

Fishing For Fishermen

The Weekly News has called attention to a clamor from sportsmen for the restocking of Moss Creek lake. We hope that the city commission will give due consideration to this at its next meeting.

Mirrors Of Austin--

Taxing Public Property

By PAUL BOLTON
Fire engines and electric generating equipment differ. If you don't think so, read a supreme court opinion handed down recently in the Lower Colorado River Authority case.

It may be that the full impact of that difference between fire fighting equipment and power generating equipment has not yet been felt. Some attorneys contend that the opinion marks one of those "landmarks" you've heard about in law.

Section 9 of Article 11 says that properties of countries, cities and towns, owned and held only for public purposes such as public buildings and the sites thereof.

previously mentioned, such as public buildings, public grounds, fire engines and the like. The power generating, transmitting and distributing facilities of the LCRA, the court went on, "is revenue producing property. It is used for commercial purposes."

Now it had been assumed that that phrase, "devoted exclusively to the use and benefit of the public," covered practically everything used or useful to one of these political subdivisions. But when the LCRA case came before Chief Justice James Alexander, he pointed to another section of the constitution, Article 8, Sec. 2, which says, "the legislature may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes."

Carrying this opinion to its logical conclusion, it's also possible for the legislature to levy a tax on municipally-owned utilities.

Applying the rule of eludism generis. Applying the rule of eludism generis, "it will be seen that the framers of the constitution meant all other property of the classes

Invitation To War

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer
We use aggressive means to wipe out or curb predatory animals. We vaccinate against smallpox, diphtheria, hydrophobia, yellowjack and typhoid.

We decontaminate the breeding grounds of mosquitoes, put screens on our windows and doors to keep out the flies, and exercise the most careful inspection of food handlers to prevent the spread of infection.

As a further precaution, we quarantine against the pink bollworm, the foot and mouth disease and the Japanese beetle.

But when it comes to making a nation safe from enemies without, we mount our several hobbles and ride off in all directions, whooping and hollering--and winding up right behind the eight-ball as always.

Before we have decided what we're going to do with Germany, and while locked in a life and death struggle with Japan, we've already broken out with a rash of proposals to engage in another strip-tease act called disarmament.

The GOP leader, Rep. Joseph Martin, wants us to throw in with the Japs, the Germans and everybody else to put a permanent ban on compulsory military training in peacetime.

Has he forgotten that military training and everything in the form of aviation except kite-flying was forbidden to Germany after the first world war? Germany's warlords found more ways of getting around this ban than a dog has fleas.

After the naval conference which fixed the Anglo-American-Japanese ratio of battleships at 5-5-3, Japan put on its coat and went home--to build battleships faster than ever. It claimed it was a deadly insult to place her in a special small-time category by herself.

We have tried disarmament, thank you--and it was just an invitation to our enemies to start swapping butter for bullets.

They found it profitable to rearm for conquest because we had so weakened ourselves it looked like a cinch--and it very nearly was.

If it's an armament race they want, why not accommodate them? They couldn't hold the pace if we really turned on the heat.

The way to discourage them from trying again is to make our armaments so formidable that even a half-wit Nazi dictator or a power-mad Jap warlord could see the folly of trying to overtake us.

Germany is destroyed, and Japan will soon be destroyed too? We heard that one in 1918. If we swallow it again we will deserve the doom that awaits us.

The Thrill That Coms Once In A Lifetime

Mouth-Watering Speech In House

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON -- Your Capital in Wartime:
Rep. Bartel J. Jonkman, R-Rapids, Mich., republican, is inclined to cruelty, I'm sure, but his little one-minute verbal didos on the floor of the House have a lot of members drooling.

Maybe it's the years Mr. Jonkman put in as Kent county prosecuting attorney that make him like to ask those harassing questions.

The other day his one-minute speech ran like this: "In my district, the town of Conklin produces a high-grade dairy butter, which we know as Conklin butter. In the district, we are able to get very little butter and such as we do get is 48 cents a pound. A constituent of mine informs me that he went to Windsor, Canada, and bought Conklin butter at 38 cents a pound, which was stamped 'Lend-Lease'."

Not only that, but butter seems so plentiful there that they offer a discount of 2 cents a pound if you buy three pounds. What has Canada got that we haven't got?"

Not satisfied with that puzzler Rep. Jonkman comes back the next day with a gleam in his eye, and a Canadian newspaper in his hand. Announcing that it advertised "the land of plenty," he started right in reading and interpolating:

"Pork shoulders, for which in my district we pay 28 cents, are advertised for 15 cents in Canada. Grade A plate boiling beef, for which we pay 20 cents, Canada gets for 10 cents."

"And listen to this -- beef sausage, 12 cents a pound; pork

Washington Merry-Go-Round--

Mysterious Peace-Feelers From Japan

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON--It's being kept very hush-hush, but something important is brewing behind the scenes regarding peace with Japan. Highest officials won't say a word about it, not even to some of their cabinet colleagues.

However, peace feelers which have come from the Japs have been much more than feelers--despite Secretary Grew's denials. One of them was debated by the combined chiefs of staff for more than a week. It proposed that the Japs withdraw from Korea and Manchuria and all China if (1) they could keep the emperor, and (2) they would not be invaded.

Meanwhile, Joe Grew and the army and navy have prepared a directive outlining the minimum terms we would accept from the Japs. This is one of the most highly guarded documents in the government. However, it can be stated on high authority that the Grew peace plan would permit the Japs to retain Emperor Hirohito. It can also be stated that there is considerable difference of opinion inside the administration regarding the Grew memorandum, and some of his colleagues inside the state department, including Assistant Secretary Will Clayton and Assistant Secretary Dean Acheson, are vigorously opposed.

The whole situation is in a state of flux, and anything can happen overnight.

Mrs. Truman's Troubles
Some people were of the opinion that Mrs. Roosevelt was unique in her tendency to get involved in negro controversies. However, Mrs. Truman, though First Lady for just three months, already has experienced an official record of racial embarrassment.

The doors of the summer White House at Independence, Mo., have not been opened to a single representative of press or radio since Mrs. Truman and her daughter arrived early in June.

But not long ago, Mrs. Truman graciously made an appointment with representatives of the All-American Newsreel company of Chicago, a negro organization, to enter the summer White House and take pictures of Vietta Garr, the colored cook. They wanted color shots of her working in the summer White House kitchen.

When this leaked to local newspapers, however, they put up such a wall that Fred Canfil, U. S. marshal, appeared at the summer White House at 9 o'clock on the morning the pictures were to be taken, and had a talk with the First Lady.

In addition to being the chief federal official in those parts, she had arranged for a group "when such travel has been arranged by a travel agency or by any other person, who for compensation, has made arrangements in advance for obtaining by the persons in the group of meals, lodging, or recreation incident to such travel."

The order, "is designed to curtail civilian passenger train travel which is unrelated to the war effort, in order that passenger train equipment may be made available for troop movements with the least possible interference with travel on regularly scheduled passenger trains by men and women on furlough and by civilians engaged in essential travel."

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) -- The Office of Defense Transportation today banned organized group rail travel, effective immediately.

It also prohibited sale of railway tickets for space on trains to travel agencies. Such agencies will not be permitted to reserve, purchase or acquire any rail tickets of space.

Actors Must Now Be Musicians

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD -- Cary Grant is back at work again.

"It's been about a year since I've worked in a movie," he said. "The last one was 'None but the Lonely Heart'."

"A year ago is a long time. What did you do in the meantime?"

"Hospital tours, radio shows--I managed to keep busy."

At present Cary is busying himself with portraying Cole Porter in "Night and Day," the biography of the smart set composer. And it is keeping him plenty busy because he has to imitate Porter at the piano.

"I started playing the piano years ago, but I haven't been near one in a couple of years," he said. "So to get back in shape I have been working my fingers down to stumps. I practice at home all the time. And every time they see me fiddle in my dressing room, they grab me and put me down at a piano to practice."

Just at that moment a man from the music department sidled in and suggested that Cary do a little practicing. The two of them went next door to another sound stage and sat down at two pianos.

They went through one of the early Porter numbers, "You've Got That Thing," and the actor attempted to keep up with his teacher. Luckily Grant can read music, but several times he got the fingering all balled up and he stopped and cursed slightly.

"The trouble is," he said, "this number was written for the 1914 style of piano playing, which is a lot different from the way I learned it."

He returned to the music and the music department man tried patiently to synchronize Grant's playing with the way the tune was scored.

This is another symptom of Hollywood's attempt to forestall any squawks of inaccuracy from moviegoers. It used to be that an actor could pound a piano any music on the sound track sounded like. But now the actors have to appear to be actually playing.

Cornel Wilde had to memorize all the Chopin pieces he was pictured as playing in "A Song to Remember." Wilde, who formerly could play nothing on the piano, can now play nothing but Chopin.

Bob Alda, who plays George Gershwin in "Rhapsody in Blue," was no player either, but he caught on fast. For some of the intricate passages, mirrors were used to picture his body and an expert pianist's hands.

That meant that Alda had to swing to the right of the keyboard to play the low notes, so that his reflection would appear to be trying.
Try that on your old piano.

Dallas Ravaged By Crime Gang Spree

DALLAS, July 21 (AP) -- Nearly every serious crime in the books except murder was committed in a gang spree here which started last night and continued well into this morning, Chief of Detectives Will Fritz said today.

The spree ended with two men in jail, two seriously wounded by gunfire and another with a fractured skull, Fritz reported. Police reported the men responsible for automobile theft, attempted criminal assault, assault to murder, resisting arrest, carrying weapons, attempting to abduct a female and aggravated assault.

Civilian Meat Fare To Drop To Prewar Average This Year

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) -- Civilian meat supplies will drop to the pre-war average this year for the first time since 1941.

Figures supplied by the agricultural department show that the civilian supply for 1945 will be about 16,245,000,000 pounds. Consumption averaged 16,303,000,000 for the 1935-39 period.

Despite large military and lend-lease requirements, civilian consumption in previous war years was above the 1935-39 average. It reached a peak of about 19,400,000,000 pounds in 1944 -- when meat rationing was suspended for several months.

Civilian supplies have been kept at or above pre-war levels by a sharp expansion in production which took care of war needs. The apparent shortage in civilian supplies reflects a record purchasing power.

Bow Ties make a man feel almost as young as Tarkington's Penrod. And it's surprising how many of our customers are coming in asking for bows . . . men of every age and size. Even the fellows who never could master tying a bow can wear them now. These are ready-tied by experts and clip on in a second, others you tie yourself as easily as tying a shoestring.

well along, management of the R. & R. theatres said Saturday.

A new marquee has been installed at the Ritz and a big block letter sign bearing the theatre name is to be centered over it. The present sign will be moved to the rear of the building. A new sign is to be installed at the Lyric. Considerable interior work has been completed, including installation of new air conditioning equipment.

Press Chooses Dramatic Moment, Yeaden Recalls

The press chose a dramatic moment to appear on the scene at Spittel, Austria, Lt. Hubert Yeaden, for three months a German war prisoner in a hospital at that place, recalls.

Yanks had swarmed all over the region and German resistance was collapsing, so much so that the Nazi commandant had yielded command of the hospital camp to an English officer.

Available personnel had been lined up on the parade grounds, the German flag had been hauled down and the Stars and Stripes were being arised to full staff when the jeep bearing a group of Allied correspondents drove on the scene. They were immediately engulfed by cheering Allied men. It was through an Associated Press correspondent at the scene that Mrs. Yeaden, the former Colleen Moore of Forsan, learned that her husband had been liberated.

Lt. Yeaden's plane was shot down while on a raid and he and all members parachuted to safety. One was wounded by civilians firing as they descended, and Lt. Yeaden suffered a broken leg when he landed barefooted. His flying boots jerked off when his parachute opened.

Cotton Prospects Are Uncertain

The almost constant roar of tractors continued over Howard county Saturday as farmers rushed emergency plowing and planting.

By the forepart of this week, most operators will be "over the hump" on the work, but there will be little surcease. There are still low areas over which tractors could not move at the weekend, and as a general practice a second plowing will follow on the heels of the current work.

At the moment, crop prospects are difficult to appraise. It is universally agreed that with reasonable weather, Howard county will produce an all time record feed crop this year, for well over 100,000 acres will go into maize and grain sorghums.

Cotton is the big question mark, and as things stand today, guesses range from 10,000 to 20,000 bales—and either extremity might prove a good estimate depending on the weather factor.

Early cotton appears almost certain to make and has excellent prospects of bumper yields. Already it is loading in several sections of the county. The tight land sections seem to have the advantage for cotton in these areas has rallied rapidly following heavy July rains.

That in the sandy territories, however, is uncertain. Even some of the early cotton shows effects of too much water. June cotton is a puzzle. Much of it is turning brown and yellow and is making no change.

Should continued hot and dry weather bring this out, and should there be a late frost, the county's yield might be high. Otherwise, it looks like a crop of red bolls for late cotton.

Ranges have made an almost miraculous recovery. Since July 1 grass has made amazing growth and in some flats has even seeded in that space of time. Tanks are full and water is no problem. Cattle in many sections are thriving on a record mesquite bean crop.

Okinawa Rapid Transit Does Rushing Trade

S/Sgt. W. H. (Herbert) Feather, former Herald advertising manager, is back in the states after a tour of duty on Okinawa as a L-5 observation plane pilot.

He is to report to Ft. Sill, Okla., on Aug. 1 for field artillery school. Currently he is with his wife at Oklahoma City.

Describing his experiences, he said that he had been on ship so long that he was even glad to make the initial landing. A foxhole was his first chore and it came in handy that night when the Japs "put on a welcoming exhibition."

The next morning he saw his first enemy plane go up in flames and "when he started down we all had to give 'em put with cheers . . . as if we were watching a good football game."

Once the L-5 planes were ashore, they were assembled on continuous shift with time out for air raids. The unit tackled up some ads for the "Okinawa Rapid Transit." After flying observation assignments to correct marine artillery fire, they were put to work ferrying wounded. The Japs "didn't seem to want us around and plenty of our ships got hit but made it back safely."

When the evacuation of wounded was handed over to the Okinawa Rapid Transit, the landing area was a road 12 feet wide, lined by deep ditches. The landing gear was eight feet wide so it was a tight squeeze. All the time Japs were lobbing over mortar shells. Later a small piece of landing strip was seized, but Japs would infiltrate into the cane field nearby, necessitating daily patrols by marines to make good Nips out of naughty ones, wrote Sgt. Feather.

One of his cases involved a marine with a head wound. He kept ripping the bandage away so an aide had to be put into the plane which was designed to carry only two. In addition, low flying was necessary because of the nature of the wound and after getting back the aide told Sgt. Feather he "could have dunked my feet in the ocean if I could have got them out of the cockpit."

High praise went from Sgt. Feather to the medical corpsmen and doctors. "You can't imagine how patient these corpsmen are in handling the wounded," he said. "They are in danger, too. In fact, one of the first wounded marines I flew out was a corpsman who was shot while bringing an injured marine from the front."

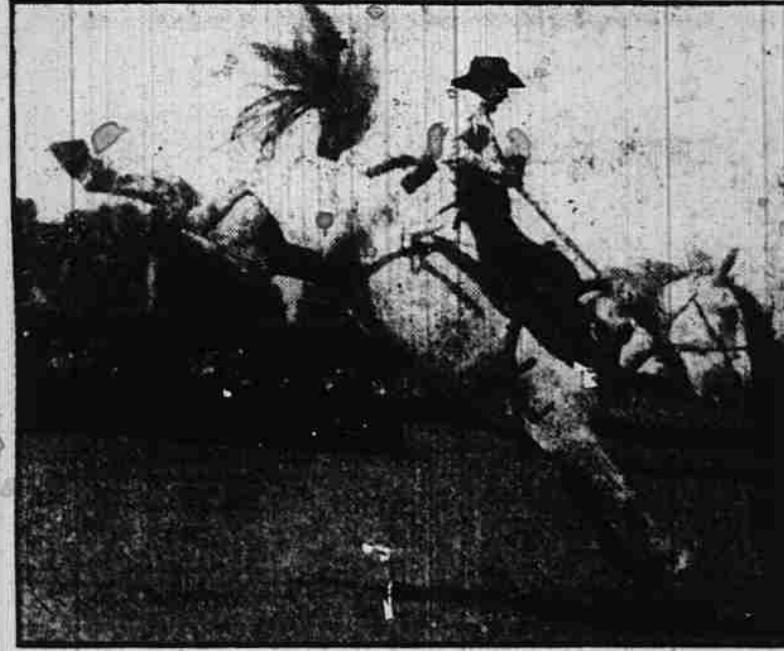

Haile Urges Parole Board Reforms

AUSTIN, July 21 (AP)—Elster M. Haile, chairman of the board of pardons and paroles, said today he believed the "parole system should be strengthened" and thought it would be "wholesome and helpful if all departments of law enforcement would study the problem."

His comment stemmed from a story in today's Houston Post which said Harris county and Texas law enforcement officials protested against the rising number of paroles; and at a meeting of the Texas Police association and Sheriffs association Thursday, appointed a committee to study clemencies in relation to a sharp war-time increase in crime.

"The board is following the Texas law which permits a man to come up for parole consideration when he has served one-third of his time. We have been more lenient during wartime because many men wanted to go into service, and about 1,000 have been paroled directly to the army and navy," Haile explained. He estimated only about seven per cent break parole, which he considered a very good record.

Single Privateer Bombs Jap Troops

MANILA, Sunday, July 22 (AP)—A single naval Privateer plane bombed and strafed Japanese troops near Swatow, China, on Thursday while Marine planes sank three enemy sea trucks off Hong Kong and strafed 14 cargo-laden junks north of Hainan island, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today as adverse weather caused air operations to slacken.

Fifth air force reconnaissance patrols were maintained over Formosa, however, while a navy Liberator shot down an enemy plane over Khota Bharu, Malaya, and Privateers strafed the Kuantan shipyards in Malaya.

U. S. army 13th air force medium bombers hit Itu Aba Island in the South China Sea, while in the East Indies the same force, in cooperation with RAAF fighters, destroyed Limboeng barracks in the southern Celebes, ranged over the lesser Sundas and damaged transport and fuel supplies in the Halmaheras.

Action On Fuel Issue: Chop Off Extra Floor

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 21 (AP)—Mrs. Bess D. McConnell has the answer to the fuel shortage. She's just had a contracting firm shear off the third floor of her large brick residence settling the original roof on the second floor.

Patriotically switching to coal from oil several years ago, Mrs. McConnell found there wasn't sufficient coal available to heat her large home, so she decided to do without the third story.

The work is expected to cost about $2,500, according to the building permit.

Cpl. Newman Clings To Life With Hope

FORT WORTH, July 21 (AP)—Corp. James E. Newman, near death from multiple diseases resulting from three years in a Jap prison camp, clung to life today but his condition showed no sign of improvement.

At his own suggestion that it would make breathing easier, he was to be placed in an oxygen tent. For lunch he was able to take no nourishment except a little broth.

Although the disease-ravaged survivor of the hardships of Cabantuan prison camp in the Philippines had lost most of the gains made since his arrival home nearly three weeks ago, his family reported that he "still has fight left in him." They said they detected a slight improvement in his condition early today, but that he made no further progress during the day.

Showing a spark of the spirit that has characterized his desperate fight for life, the soldier remained cheerful in spite of his loss of ground.

Modern surgery began when Joseph Lister performed the first antiseptic operation in 1865.
