New Pavement to Connect With Old—Engineers Are on the Job; Actual Construction Within 45 Days—Home Labor Only

Acting on a petition from property owners the city commissioners of Spearman on Wednesday of this week contracted for the construction of 12 to 15 blocks of pavement in Spearman. The exact amount of this work is not definitely known at this time. However, Collard street, better known as Elevator Row, will be paved; Bernice street will be paved and Kenneth street will be paved. This means that the Elevator Row will be paved from end to end, and is highway No. 117; that Bernice street, running from a point just west of the Porter elevator to the court house square, will be paved; that the present pavement will be extended from Main to Bernice, between the First State bank and postoffice buildings; and that the present pavement will be extended on Kenneth street from immediately north of the E. K. Snyder residence to a connection with Collard street and Highway No. 117.

completed Spearman will have more than twice the amount of paving that it now has. The paving program is the result of a steady and consistent effort on the part of the city commissioners, the chamber of commerce and many other interested parties, but an admit that it should have been under way three months ago. Better late than never. Let's keep on keeping on.

State and County Aid Is Expected

Mr. Bailey, division engineer of the state highway department; Mr. Johnson, construction engineer of the state highway department, and Mr. Dyant, resident engineer of the state highway department, met with the city commissioners Wednesday afternoon, and assured this body that the state would pay its portion of the cost of paving elevator row. The proposition has not been submitted to the commissioner's court of Hansford county.

City Commissioners Accept Offer of Power Company

The city commission of Spearman at a recent called session, accepted the offer of the Texas-Louisiana Power Company, to reduce the rate of electric current for domestic use in the city of Spearman. The new rates became effective as of January 1, 1931, and are given in the following correspondence between the Texas-Louisiana Power Company and the city commission of Spearman:

January 13, 1931.

City Officials, Spearman, Texas.

Gentlemen:

We are herewith proposing for your approval a revised domestic rate to take place of all domestic rates now in effect in Spearman. This proposed rate is as follows:

Minimum bill $1.00 per month, which allows the use of 3 kw; Next 22 kw per month at 10c. Next 75 kw per month at 4c. Excess kw per month at 3c.

We believe that this rate is so designed that customers can use as much electricity as they wish at a cost which will be satisfactory.

The rate is based on an examination of 30,000 domestic accounts, which took six months to complete. At the present time we are making a similar study of commercial lighting rates, and are using every effort to complete this work as rapidly as possible. Until

Legion Withdraws Pig Club Offer

The American Legion feels that this was a very much needed and worthy enterprise and hopes that some arrangement will be made to carry it out successfully. The Legion has decided not to engage in this case of promotion this year.

Radio Singer Succeeds Wandering Minstrel

Taylor Buckley

All my dreams I dream of you. You're the one I spend my days in thinking love of.

New Order Lends Security to Songster Profession

New York City.—The minstrel and singers of olden times who wandered from castle to castle seeking their audiences, dependent upon the chance mood of a king, or the whims of a nobleman for their daily bread, homeless and always travel-weary, would be astonished could they view the security and comfort with which the modern singer earns his living.

Radio has revolutionized the life of the professional singer. Songsters of our own day, who before the advent of the radio, traveled great distances from town to town in order to earn a living, are still a little awestruck at the change radio has brought to their profession.

He Commutes
Taylor Buckley, famous radio singer, representative of the new type of professional singer, commutes from his home in Trenton, New Jersey, to New York, sings on an average of once or twice a day to a nation-wide audience and is as sure of his income as any business man.

The radio has brought a new type of man into the singing profession," declares Mr. Buckley. "Many men who had fine voices formerly would not give up the joy of a home, a wife and children and a steady income for the uncertainty of the trouping singer's profession. Therefore they entered a business or some other profession."

"But today the radio makes it possible for a singer to market his talent with profit, and still live a happy normal family life, keep his children in school and his insurance paid up. The result is a far superior type of man in the profession today.

Now Secure
"The middleman songs also have come along with security. A singer does not have to do either operatic or street songs. He now sings the favorite songs of the great mass of the people, and they quickly say what they like, and what they dislike. Right now the clamor is for the Spanish type songs, like 'Querida,' a Spanish serenade and a true Latin love song done in modern American rhythm.

"Radio has done wonders for the middle class man and his family in the way of entertainment. It has given them the opportunity to hear what they want."

McCormick Reaper Centennial Celebration and Power Farming Day

This is the year that marks the centennial of the reaper, that famous machine invented by Cyrus Hall McCormick in 1831. As a fitting means of commemorating this unusual event, Spearman Hardware, local McCormick-Deering dealer, has arranged a full day's program for Wednesday, February 4, at Spearman. This entertainment is for the enjoyment of every farmer and his family in this community.

A full-size working reproduction of the original 1831 reaper will be on display. Seeing this machine would in itself be worth a great deal for its educational and historical value. But there will be much more of interest to you. There will be thousands of feet of mighty interesting motion pictures, short talks on subjects of interest to every farmer, and a free lunch at noon for everyone.

As a special feature of the centennial program, a five-reel motion picture, "Romance of the Reaper" will be shown. This picture was especially filmed to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the invention of the McCormick reaper.

"Romance of the Reaper" is not a "staged" picture taken on an imaginary lot with built-up scenery. It was actually filmed on Walnut Grove Farm, the old McCormick homestead, near Steele's Tavern, Virginia. Scenes showing the building and assembling of the world's first reaper were taken inside and outside of the log forge shop; the bellows and forge, and the old equipment used 100 years ago are shown. The homestead pictured was actually the home of the McCormick family, built by Cyrus' father in 1822. The building is still in excellent condition. Many of the characters are Virginians—direct descendants of the families who were neighbors of the McCormicks, witnesses of the development and testing of young Cyrus' reaper. Carriages used in the picture are old carriages that were really in use in 1831. As near as it was possible to determine, the scenes showing the first public test of the reaper were taken in the identical location where the original machine proved its worth to a doubting crowd of onlookers.

Following the testing of the first reaper is an epilogue picturing the evolution of modern grain harvesting machines, from McCormick's reaper to the harvester-thresher of today. You will see the old self-rake reaper, the Marsh harvester wire binder, the twine binder, the modern tractor binder, and a fleet of harvester-threshers harvesting 540 acres a day! Never before has so much real history been packed into a single film of this kind.

From the first scene to the last "Romance of the Reaper" is authentic. It is interesting and educational; it is romantic; it is thrilling.

Spearman Hardware invites all farmers and their families to spend the entire day as their guests. A full day's entertainment has been planned—a morning meeting, noon lunch, and afternoon program.

WHAT THEY TALK ABOUT

"What shall I write about?" a cub reporter once asked of his editor. He had no assignments and could think of nothing interesting.

"Get out on the street," said the blue pencil artist, "and listen. If people are talking about something, they want to read about it in this newspaper."

Much of the street conversation, if printed, would belong to that class of things that lead editors to leave town in undignified haste. However, not all the conversations of the streets and meeting places is of that kind.

"When I was a boy," remarks one of our older men, "I used to spend much time listening to the workmen talk as they ate their noon lunches. Frequently they discussed Congress and the Legislature of Texas. Those men were watching their lawmakers, and were determined to have their state go ahead."

What do people talk most about now? One guess would be sports. Also about things to eat. Pessimists may say that drinks do not go wholly unmentioned. Among the younger element, their best girls. Politics? Now and then, of course. But if mentioned more frequently, non-achieving officials would not so often get by.

If it is felt the men have become more frivolous, what do the women talk about? Fashions largely? That was the old idea. But it may not be so now, when women are so active in business and sports and club life and politics. One guess would be that much of their talk relates to making better cities, improved schools and government generally.

Much of the talk of the streets and social centers is mere trifling. But it reflects the life of the people. It is the fertile field in which seeds of action are germinating. The effective newspaper worker listens much to it. He there gathers a rich harvest of information, thought and news.

Farm Earnings Depend on Lower Production Costs

Farm earnings have never before depended so much on lower production costs as they do today, according to the McClellan Grain Co., local dealer for the J. I. Case Company. It is their firm belief that farmers can do more towards securing a satisfactory profit by using efficient machine methods to reduce the cost of their crops than by any other method.

"Everyone knows that price alone does not determine profits," says Mr. McClellan. "It is the difference between the market price and what it costs to produce a crop that counts. For instance, it costs some farmer 60c a bushel to produce wheat. Others grow it for 40c or even less. There is no question as to which farmer makes a profit even when the price is low."

"No less an authority than the United States Department of Agriculture tells us that on the average, 60 per cent of the cost of producing a crop consists of power and labor. Fortunately these items are largely under the control of the individual farmer, while the other 40 per cent cannot be changed very much, if any. And the secret of reducing power and labor costs, lies largely in efficient use of present day farm machinery."

Mr. McClellan pointed out that a farmer can cover more acres per day with one of the new Case tractors because of their fast speeds and ease of handling. He can get into the fields earlier, due to the unusually light weight of these machines. He can get every job done on time with the best results. Greater capacity for work and low upkeep are the things that turn the trick for him.

Throughout the Case Full Line, from walking plows to combines, original improvements have been made, and many new machines brought out after prolonged development. Case has also built tandem hitches for pulling harrows behind plows and drills behind disks to properly apply power and increase working capacity per man.

Many local farmers are taking advantage of the new features of Case machines which make possible faster and better work with less labor and lower costs. Real progress is being made by some farmers in this locality toward assuring a profit in 1931. The McClellan Grain Co. would be glad to explain the cost reducing methods that have been found effective by these men. In an advertisement found elsewhere in this issue, they are extending a most cordial invitation to visit their store before completing plans for 1931.

Citizens Military Training Camps

The coming summer will mark another year of the Citizens Military Training Camp. All indications point to a greater number of American Boys enrolling than ever before.

All boys of Hansford county who have passed their 17th birthday and are anxious to make a good start in life, should plan to spend a month this summer at the camp nearest their home.

Your expenses on the trip to camp will be paid by the government. You will receive your uniform free when you arrive, and the 30 days will be at the expense of the United States government.

The purpose of the camps is to train good healthy Americans to carry on the Nation's work and perpetuate its institutions; develop young men who will hold their heads high and take honored places in the community, and who will spread the doctrine of healthy, democratic Americanism by their daily lives.

How to Apply For Training
To obtain information regarding the Citizens' Military Training Camps or to apply for admission to one of the camps, see Maynard L. McLain, McLain Bldg., Spearman, Texas.

A Correction

There seems to be a tendency on the part of some people to always be ready to hear rumors and to enlarge them as they pass them on, when down in their own hearts they know them untrue. This leads me to further state that there has lessy turned down one 70.

been a rumor going about that the Welfare Association, and especially its chairman, has cruelly, heartlessly, mercilessly turned down one applicant. It is the rule of the association to investigate and pass on, by at least three of the executive committee, and if the case is worthy and absolutely needs its aid, it is granted. This case referred to above was passed on and no help given. It was also stated or rumored that the chairman would not consent to help unless the person were Methodists. Let me say that no one member of the Methodist church has been helped—so that accusation is absolutely false. A person's church or political affiliation is not considered in the disposition of food, clothing and fuel. The thing the Association desires to do is to be able to render service to those who are worthy and in need—whether he is a church member or not.

makes no difference with the association. Every lodge order, auxiliary, P. T. A. and four of the six churches of the city have thrown their forces together, believing in this way they could serve the community in a better and larger way. Not one of them cares where the glory goes, if there be any, but the only thing they care for is that we can be of some help to those who need our assistance. We want you to understand and know that we are here to do the very best we can for you and don't hesitate to call on us.

H. A. NICHOLS,
Chairman, Welfare Association

The Key to Greater Farm PROFIT IN 1931

Faster Work . . . Less Labor . . . Lower Costs

If you are to be assured of a more satisfactory income, the difference between the cost of producing your crops and the price you get for them must be greater. The only way to make sure of this is by lowering your operating costs.

There is a Case machine for every farm job that will enable you to do this. For instance, you can cover more acres per day with one of the new Case Tractors, because of their fast speeds and easy handling. You can get into your fields earlier, due to the light weight of these machines. You can get every job done on time for best results. Greater capacity for work and low upkeep are the things that will turn the trick for you.

Come in and see the Case line of modern farm machines—tractors, plows, harrows, drills, cultivators, binders, special tandem hitches for pulling two machines and performing two operations at the same time—in fact, every machine required to grow and harvest farm crops more efficiently and at lower costs.

Be sure you have the proper cost-reducing equipment so that you will be ready to tackle your work when the first warm days of spring set in. Start now by getting complete information as to the operation and most profitable use of Case machines.

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

FOR FEBRUARY 1, 1931

General Topic—Jesus the Great Physician.

Scripture Lesson:—Luke 4:38-44; 5:12-16.

Luke 4:38. And he rose up from the synagogue, and entered into the house of Simon.

Luke 5:12. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she rose up and ministered unto them.

Luke 5:13. But he said unto them, I must preach the good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

Luke 5:14. And he charged him to tell no man: but go thy way, and show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

Luke 5:15. But so much the more went abroad the report concerning him, and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed of their infirmities.

Luke 5:16. But he withdrew himself in the deserts, and prayed.

Golden Text:—Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows.—Isa. 53:4.

Time:—Most of the events of our lesson took place in May or June, A. D. 28, the second year of Christ's ministry. Levi's feast, in the turn of the same year.

Place:—Capernaum.

Introduction

The passage of Luke which we are to study contains a number of other matters, but it is chiefly occupied with accounts of Christ's miracles of healing.

The first instance was the cure of a demoniac. The fearful disease of demon-possession was connected with sin, either that of the sufferer or that of his parents.

The second instance was the healing of the demoniac healed on the Sabbath.

The third instance was the healing of the demoniac healed on the Sabbath.

The fourth instance was the healing of the demoniac healed on the Sabbath.

him sad, fevered with sin, yet desiring healing we touch him and he touches us, and we are cured of that plague.

Healing a Multitude. Luke 4:40-44

"All they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him."

And when it was day, he came out and went into a desert place, and the multitudes sought after him, and came unto him, and would have stayed him, and he would not go from them.

But he said unto them, I must preach the good tidings of the kingdom of God to the other cities also: for therefore was I sent.

And he charged him to tell no man: but go thy way, and show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

A Leper Healed, vs. 12, 13

"Observe that, while St. Matthew and St. Mark describe the suppliant as 'a leper,' St. Luke, 'the beloved physician,' has 'a man full of leprosy,' and this is no mere rhetorical embellishment; it is medical language indicating the seriousness of the case.

Unusual Combinations Give Zest To Citrus Beverages a la Doran

BY MRS. JAMES M. DORAN

Mrs. Doran is the wife of the federal commissioner of industrial alcohol who recently was federal commissioner of prohibition. The unusual interest created by her campaign in behalf of fresh fruit beverages was the inspiration for her book, "Prohibition Punches."

Many persons have expressed delight and surprise over the unusual citrus fruit beverage recipes involving the use of honey, maple syrup, cream, ice cream and even coffee, in my book, Prohibition Punches, which was written to convince American hostesses that it is possible, and even fashionable, to fill their wine goblets and high-ball glasses with drinks that are legitimate as well as refreshing and palatable.

These recipes came to me from women who are socially and politically prominent, and although they seem quite comprehensive, I am convinced there are many untried and unpublished combinations of unfermented fruit juices which would tickle the palates of connoisseurs. The healthful and refreshing qualities of the juices of oranges, grapefruit, limes and lemons are well known, and there is a place for one or the other of them at every meal.

It is not always possible or convenient to spend more time than is necessary for the squeezing or pressing of these fruits in preparing them for daily table beverages. However, they may be given interesting variations, without extra effort, by mixing equal portions of orange and grapefruit juice, or adding a dash

Major General Smedley D. Butler, well known warrior of the United States Marine Corps, is interested in Mrs. Doran's movement to make fashionable the serving of non-alcoholic high-balls and cocktails. He likes lime juice in his favorite beverage, the recipe for which he contributed to Mrs. Doran's book.

In preparing citrus fruit beverages, hostesses should always bear in mind that orange and grapefruit juices lose some of their fine aroma and delicate flavor if allowed to stand too long before serving. (For the benefit of my "wet" friends, perhaps I should say that they lose some of their kick.) So, prepare such beverages as soon before serving as may be convenient. If you can serve them immediately after the juice has been extracted, your prestige as a hostess who serves a good drink should be increased.

In selecting oranges for beverages, weight should be of first consideration; the heaviest oranges are always the juiciest.

Hundreds of excellent recipes came to me when it was known that I was preparing my book, and I regret that it was not possible to use them all. Here is a good one that had to be squeezed out because there weren't enough pages:

Crush chopped mint leaves into 1/4 cup of sugar with a potato masher. Add to this 1 pint of carbonated water, the juice of 5 grapefruit, add 1 cup of shaved ice. Frost well and serve with a sprig of mint and a green minted cherry in each glass. This will make 6 portions.

My answer to those who scoff at Prohibition beverages as something for women is that General Smedley Darlington Butler, U. S. M. C., one of the greatest heroes men with us today, has a recipe for publication his favorite beverage. It's a good one, too, and the strongest ingredient in it is cold tea.

of lime or lemon to either. Many find it interesting to alternate between straight grapefruit juice and straight orange juice for their morning eye-opener. Honey lends zest to some citrus fruit beverages. For guests, and for special occasions, we like to prepare and serve legitimate beverages that are different. The light of pleasure that gleams in the eye of a guest when he tastes a beverage that has a new and interesting taste is worth more than all the pains it took to prepare.

Stop! Think!

Vote against the $65,000 school bonds. Why vote more bonds when the people are paying twice as much in taxes as the school uses? Why should the outlying districts build Perryton more schools and suffer for the lack of them themselves? Be not deceived! The taxes or the valuation will have to be raised if the bonds carry. Let Perryton give the little schools a square deal before asking help to build more houses. Why not send a lot of children back to New Hope? The building is largely unused. Why not refuse to take students from places where school is available? Let Oklahoma furnish schools for its citizens. Perryton should not take Oklahoma students when the school is crowded. The Perryton school board discriminates against the smaller school. Why support the bond issue? Interest on the proposed bonds will amount to $3,250 per year. VOTE THEM DOWN!
