Lincoln Knew

The words which he uttered over half a century ago are as true now as then, and should be an inspiration to all Americans. Ponder well what he said in addressing the Workmen's Association

"Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

Work and Save

There has never been such an opportunity for remunerative saving as now; when a few dollars, spent, will buy so little, and if saved and invested will yield such large returns. When you are tempted to buy something, ask yourself if you can do without it.

"A party of archeologists have been camping near here the past ten days. They have been exploring the ancient ruins along Cottonwood and Tarbox creeks. The party is composed of Mass., who has carried on work of this kind for thirty-five years; Prof. J. B. Thoburn, secretary of the Oklahoma Dillow and Miss Ruby Smith. Historical Society; Eldridge Johnson, of the University of Pennsylvania; the Tower Painting Company, received Ralph Dorr, scout and guide from Maine; George MacEwan, Norwood Eldridge, and Sam Handley of Texas. These men have been out about six weeks and have found upwards of 100 stone foundations of ancient buildings and many graves. Professor Morehead stated that it is thought that the ancient people who lived here were the ancient ancestors of the Pueblo Indians. They have taken many photographs, dug up numerous skeletons, pottery, knives and other relics. They found about three hundred Indian pictures cut in rocks along the Cimarron river in Oklahoma. The party camped on the Archie King ranch in Roberts county, where there are about sixteen of these old buildings. When they finish there they will cross the Canadian and come back to Antelope creek in the southwest part of Hutchinson county, where they expect to make some very interesting discoveries."-Panhandle Herald.

A TERRIBLE BADGER FIGHT

Who would have thought that in this good year of 1920 there could be found a 100 per cent American citizen who had never seen or heard of a badger fight? Such a man was found in Spearman last Sunday, and the boys quickly arranged a fierce fight for his special benefit. A bad badger was captured just the day before and it was no trouble to find a dog with a fighting pedigree as long as well rope. Much money, land, cattle, wheat in the field, in the bins and yet to be put in the ground was bet. The betting ranged about three to five on the badger, but the backers of the dog seemed to be possessed with unlimited means and unfaltering nerve. The total amount bet on the outcome of this battle between man's best friend and a badger would make General Wood's campaign managers look like two-bit pikers. After preliminary work sufficient to pull a fake prize fight, and when it seemed that nothing could postpone the great life and death struggle another moment, it was discould be found to pull the badger and springle stain. mother's son had backed his judgment

Englishman Victim of Unusual Circumstances.

Reduced to Penury Through the Operations of Man Who Resembles Him With a Fidelity That Must Be Remarkable.

Somewhere in England flourishes a brilliant scoundrel who is committing fraud after fraud in the name of Herbert Leslie Perkins, an impoverished herb seller of Wolverhampton, writes a foreign correspondent of the Kansas

He'is said to look exactly like Perkins, even to a tendency to stoop. He dresses like him, has the same mannerisms and voice, and is sufficiently familiar with Perkins' past to assume his identity before acquaintances-but he cannot write like him.

For this theft of his personality Perkins has paid painfully. He has been imprisoned five times, being acquitted each time at the subsequent trial. Four warrants are now out for his arrest, and a cloud of suspicion hangs over him that may result in other warrants. His savings of $500 have been spent to earn his freedom, and most of his furniture and his wife's keepsakes have been sold to support his family of six children while he has been in jail.

He was first arrested October 15, 1919, for fraud at Gloucester. Five days after his release he was arrested again and taken to Chesterfield, in Derbyshire, where he was remanded for trial on the declarations of four persons that there could be no doubt he was the man who had defrauded them. Yet he never had been in Chesterfield before in his life. At the Derbyshire assizes he proved that on the day of the fraud he was at the Uttoxeter market in Staffordshire. Fourteen old specimens of his handwriting were produced. None of them was anything like the criminal's.

The jury promptly acquitted Perkins. While his friends were congratulating him in the courtroom a policeman pressed forward and arrested him for other alleged frauds. They dragged him off to Hull police station, where Perkins says he lay that night wondering if he was "mad or only dreaming." In Hull he was again positively identified, and he had to remain 18 days in Hull prison before his trial. This time he had 14 witnesses to prove his presence at various markets distant from Hull on the dates that the frauds were committed.

"I could have produced sixty witnesses," said Perkins, "but it took my last cent to pay the fares of the four-

The operations of the "slick" double hurt the police nearly as much as Perkins. They have four warrants for his arrest for a number of other frauds committed at Burton-on-Trent, Peterborough, Bristol and Leicester. The warrants are pigeonholed for the time being. The police are ruminating.

Penniless, Perkins busily is digging up his berbs again and trying to sell them, but after 27 days in jail and with the shadow of prison bars still hovering over him he has little peace of Future Rapid Travel.

Mr. Lindsay Bashford, writing in the Edinburgh Review, foreshadows a London to Calcutta journey by rail in a fortnight.

"The Bagdad railway," he says, "begins at Konia, in the heart of Asia Minor, where, by means of the Anatolian railway, it connects with Constantinople. From Constantinople to Aleppo the distance is some 850 miles. From Aleppo, the line proceeds to Je ablus, on the Euphrates, and thence by Nisibin to the important center of Mosul on the Tigris; thence center of Mosil on the Tigris; thence southwards to Bagdad and to Basra. The distance from Aleppo to Bagdad is about 650 miles.

"Carry the imagination further, and we may reasonably octure, under the new political arrange ments between Great Britain and Persia, the extension of the Revised releases to Tax Confector High Michael School County Treasurer MRS. J. H. BUCHANAN For Tax Assessor H. R.WALDROP sion of the Bagdad railway to Teheran, and thence to Quetta and India. That done travel 'overland' between London and Calcutta should be a matter of less than a fortnight."

The Newspaper Man's Way. A Dallas newspaper man is buying a $6,000 home on which he is making payments four times a year. Each month he puts a certain amount of his salary in War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps and thus has the money ready for each payment date. He finds it easy to save the W. S. S. way and he finds he won't spend the money if he puts it in Savings Stamps. Three years from now that home will be completely paid for the W. S. S.

Keeping Up The Insurance. A Sulphur Springs, Tex., insurance agent has shown his friends how they can always have their insurance policy premium money ready by putting up a War Savings Stamp or a few Thrift Stamps every pay day. Those who have been trying this way of having their life insurance money ready have not had any trouble in meeting their premiums each year since they have been trying this plan.

Five Per Cent Saved In the Boyd Clothing Store at Dension every clerk puts five per cent of his weekly salary in War Savings Stamps. "It's easy," they say. Some of them are paying for their homes

"Save a Quarter" Way Effective. Every time she spends a quarter for something she does not have to get, a Plainview, Tex., woman fines herself a quarter and gets a Thrift Stamp. She is $60 ahead of the game and she has been playing the savings game only five month. It pays, she

These people are not "trusting to the future," they are getting ready for the little fellow's education now. Farmers' Thrift Shoats Three farmers who live in Upshur county each have a "Thrift shoat." When the pigs are sold this fall, they will put the money they bring in War Savings Stamps.

$100-REGISTERED TREASURY SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

They are the newest and most attractive savings security in the world. They are issued by the U. S. Treasury Department and backed up by the resources of the whole United States.

Among their attractive points are four per cent interest, compounded quarterly; registration against loss by theft, fire or in any way whatsoever; convenlence in size; payable only to owner; cashable on demand at purchase price plus earned Interest.

They make saving and investing easy. They can be gotten only at banks and United States Postoffices. The price of one of these money-saving Government bonds is only eighty-odd dollars this month. They earn interest at the rate of nearly a quarter every month and on January 1, 1925, the date they mature, they can be cashed for $100. Of course they can be cashed before that time if the owner needs his money.

A dollar saved today will have the buying power of about three dollars in three or four years from now.

The postmaster and the banker have these attractive $100 Registered Treasury Savings Certificates on hand.

How They're Salting It Away

Last month, the people of Joshua, Texas, invested more than $2.00 per person in Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates at the postoffice. That's safely salting it away.

Denison has 17,000 people. In May the people there tucked their money away in compound interest-bearing War Savings Stamps and $100 Registered Treasury Savings Certificates at the rate of more than 37 cents for every man, woman and child.

People at Utley, Texas, a tiny, but fast-growing town in Bastrop County are showing the world how to save. Since the first of the year they have invested in W. S. S. at the rate of more than $20.00 per person.

Things to Look for—

WHEN you buy a tractor, be sure that it has all the features essential to allround service, efficiency and economy of operation. For instance, look for-

A kerosene engine so that you can use cheap fuel, thereby doing your work at the lowest possible cost;

A throttle governor to regulate the fuel to the load variations, insuring uniform speed of both tractor and driven machine in addition to fuel economy and saving one man's time when engaged in belt work;

A drawbar with a wide range of adjustment both ways, so that the tractor will pull any machine or implement on the farm with equal advantage;

A friction-clutch pulley with wide face and broad diameter to insure full power-delivery to the belt-driven machine; a pulley so placed that the belt doesn't rub against any part of the tractor or drag on the ground;

A rear platform and full length fenders for the opera-tor's comfort and convenience—also "safety-first" features.

You will find these and other interesting features on the Titan 10-20 tractor — the tractor that we offer the farmers of this community because we are convinced it is the best buy of any tractor on the market. Come in and see us when you are in town.

1909-1920 A Remarkable Record of OilPull Performance

HIS eleven year OilPuli record merits the thorough consideration of every tractor buyer. It provides a basis for judgment of tractor values—founded on facts—that is worth many dollars to any prospective purchaser of a tractor.

At the start of the tractor industry eleven years ago the first OilPull tractors were built, and during this time these pioneer machines, such as "Old Number One" in South Dakota, Nos. 6 and 8 in North Dakota, No. 9 in Kansas, No. 11 in Michigan, and others, have built up a record of dependability, economy and long life that is unequaled in the tractor industry.

The outstanding feature of this OilPull eleven year record is that it is based—not on the work of one or two machines that might prove exceptional values, or on a few years' performance—but upon the work of hundreds of these first OilPulls extending over a period of many years. This record proves beyond question that long life and constant, dependable service is the rule and not the exception when applied to OilPull tractors.

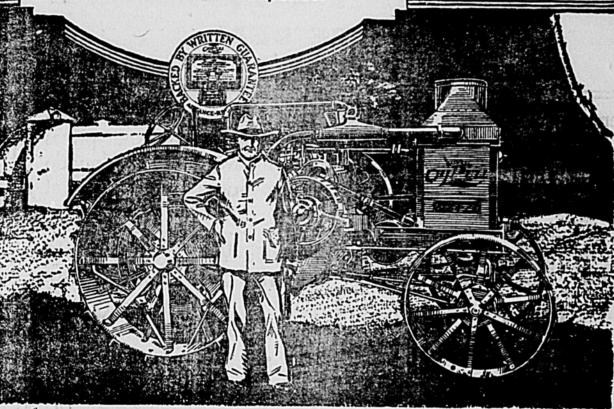

In these eleven years OilPull tractors have not only proved their remarkable ability to work steadily and constantly hour after hour, day after day, but they have also established the OilPull unbeatble record of economy. Economy of operation—being real kerosene burners and the only tractors guaranteed in writing by the makers to burn kerosene under all conditions. Economy of upkeep—there being hundreds of cases like that of the first OilPull built, and still in se, whose owner vouches for the fact that in eleven years his repair bills have not exceeded $200.

This is the kind of a tractor that the farmer demands today-one that he can be sure will give him dependable, constant service—one that he can be sure will cost him least to operate—one that he can be sure will serve him not one year or two years, but year after year, for many years, and give him the greatest return on his investment.

There are four sizes of OilPull tractors-12-20, 16-30, 20-40 and 30-60 H. P., a size to fit your need.
