Good news and bad

School board hears of losses; State money helps tax

Spearman school board heard good news and bad at their regular session Monday night.

Orville Latham, the school district's business manager gave the trustees the bad news—that Spearman ISD can expect to lose almost $15 million in tax revenue valuations.

He tempered this information with good news—that, thanks to $400,000 in extra state revenues, the school district should be able to operate as planned in the 1983-84, even with the approved 4.6 average pay increase for all ISD personnel.

One of the trustees asked Latham whether school taxes would have to be raised to compensate for the sharp loss in tax valuations. Latham cautioned, "You understand, all these figures right now are preliminary figures." He said the figures were based on statistics from the Oil-gas outlook better

Spearman Independent School District Business Manager said Tuesday morning that the loss in school tax revenues may not be as severe as he described to the school board at a meeting of the trustees Tuesday night.

"I talked with the tax people again this morning [Tuesday] and it now appears we may not lose quite as much in oil and gas valuations as had been anticipated earlier.

Based on information supplied by the board of equalization, Latham told the school board Monday night that an estimated $12 million in oil board of equalization which met last week, and were meant as data to keep the school board abreast of and gas valuations would be lost.

He said, however, that the estimate is being revised and that it looks like the loss in the oil-gas valuations and other valuations are just that—estimates—and "I'd hate to tell the public that everything is all right, that there will not be a tax hike, when these figures are at best just preliminary estimates."

He said he presented the estimates to the school board trustees "because I feel it is part of my job to keep them abreast of where we stand right now, as best as can be determined."

developments rather than a final prediction as to operating funds that will be available.

He did say that as far as can be determined at this time, the $400,000 from the state "looks like it may pull us out of the hole" to where the ISD would come up just $11,000 short on its budget. After discussion, it was estimated that the $11,000 that could be compensated through adjustments without raising the current property tax rate of 78 cents per $100 valuation.

Latham told the trustees the equalization board estimated the school district would be losing $7 million in rural personal taxable values. He said another anticipated $2,700,000 in taxable value would be lost because of a Supreme Court ruling some two weeks ago exempting personal federal securities held by banks.

The biggest loss in tax revenues, Latham told the trustees, would be from the estimated $12 million decrease in oil and gas valuations.

He said the $400,000 from the state, provided to school districts to offset some of the expected losses they would have, would leave the school district the estimated $11,000 short on budget.

Latham said it was too early to tell for sure, but it looked as though the ISD could get through the year without a tax increase or at the very most only a cent or two one way or the other.

He told the board that 98.7 percent of the property taxes on the 1982 tax roll had been collected through the month of May.

Trustees approve hikes; buy students insurance

In a series of votes, the Spearman school board raised the pay of all non-classroom teaching ISD personnel an average of 4.6 percent during a regular session of the trustees Monday night.

The raises include, in cases applicable, the state step increase for these school district employees, plus the local increment above the state base, to bring them in line with the 4.6 percent average pay increase already approved for classroom teachers.

The board also did some "bargain shopping" for student accident insurance, deciding to switch insurance companies to get accident insurance coverage at school activities for the entire student body for little more than it had cost to just insure the football team the year before.

The trustees first voted for the average of 4.6 percent increase for administrators—the superintendent, business manager and three school principals—on a motion by Kent Guthrie and seconded by trustee Charles Goodknight.

Next they approved the increase for non-contract or auxiliary personnel such as custodial and cafeteria help on a motion by Shieldknight and seconded by Tommy White.

Then the same percent of pay hike was okayed for teacher aides on a motion by board member Jim Davis and seconded by White.

The board voted unanimously to pay $3,000 to National Federal Student Protection Trustee company for accident coverage at school and school sponsored activities for the entire student body, whereas in the past just athletes had been insured by the school district.

Orville Latham, ISD business manager, told the board members it had cost the school district $2,700 to insure just the football players with Keystone Insurance Company last school year.

When asked about reliability of the National Federal insurance company he said the company was new in the state. He said Dallas ISD was the firm's only Texas customer last year and that Dallas is renewing again this year. But he added 155 Arkansas school districts took out coverage with the company last school year and that 190 from that state have signed up this year. And, he said, 17 Panhandle area schools have signed up so far for the upcoming school year.

The coverage will be up to a maximum of $10,000 per student, but only during the school day at school, to and from school in school provided vehicles and at official school sponsored events.

In addition, the school trustees decided to buy catastrophic insurance to cover students in case of serious injury costing more than $10,000, and also decided to offer families desiring it the chance to buy 24-hour around the clock coverage for their school children.

The trustees also voted to add speech communications, and a required third year of math to Spearman High School's curriculum upon the recommendation of high school principal Eddie Clemmons.

Clemmons said the speech was added to take advantage of a newly acquired speech teacher, and that the math course was added to meet future requirements expected from the state.

The board also set the curriculum so that students would be required a minimum of 20 units to graduate instead of the current 18, again in anticipation of upcoming state requirement for 20 hours.

As approved, the curriculum requirements now will be four units of English, one of U.S. history, one of world history, one of government-economics-free enterprise, three of math, 1 1/4 of physical education, one-half of health, one-half of speech communications, and 5 1/4 in electives.

Clemmons said a course we want to add this year would be a special study skills for seniors to prepare them for college work.

Superintendent James Cunningham gave a report on an institute for Development of Education Activities week-long seminar he attended last week. He said that the seminar was very informative and rewarding but that the eight hours a day spent there were fatiguing because of the desire to learn as much as possible for the outstanding array of experts who lectured.

Bertha Nava services held

Memorial services were held Tuesday, July 19, 1983 at 3 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church for Bertha S. Nava, 63, who died Saturday in Amarillo.

Rev. Steve Lara of St. Mathews United Methodist Church of Amarillo and Frank Buzzard of Spearman officiated. Burial was in Hansford Cemetery under the direction of Boxwell Brothers Funeral Directors of Spearman.

Mrs. Nava, born in San Diego, Texas had lived in Spearman since 1963. She married Henry Nava in 1944 in Alice. He died in 1970. She was a member of the Methodist Church in Alice.

Survivors include a son, Richard of Amarillo; three daughters, Esmerelda Renteria of Gruver, Mary Lou Nava and Esther Vargas of Spearman; three step-sons, Henry of Oxnard, Calif.; Solomon of Indio, Calif., and Cenrado Jr. of Coachella, Calif.; two stepdaughters Sylvia Ramos of Indio and Frances Nava of Corpus Christi; three brothers, Florencio, Florentino and Lorenzo Soliz of San Diego; and 11 grandchildren.

OFF TO WHALE TALE--Bull's Country staffers prepare a shipment from the Spearman based manufacturer of Whales Tale, a shop in Ketchikan, Alaska. This is the first order from Alaska according to Mrs. Roy Bulls. She said they thought the order came from Arkansas 'until we looked closely at the zip code.' The Alaska firm joins outlets from virtually every state in the U.S. to offer products from the Spearman company. Staff members pictured include [from left] Connie Gibson, Angie Salgado, Shelly Friemel, Diane DeLaRosa, Mrs. Bulls, Olivia Renteria and Rudy Alvarado. Bull's Renteria is featured in the Woman's World magazine now on the newsstands, the second of three times it will be featured in the magazine.

Programs for elderly hearing on Monday

PRPC--Residents of the Spearman area will have a first-hand chance to hear about regional programs for the elderly during a hearing scheduled for Monday, July 25, 1983 from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the Golden Age Center, 105 E. Broadway, Gruver, Texas.

The hearings are being held in five area towns to acquaint citizens with the Panhandle Area Agency on Aging's operating plans for 1984.

The budget year for the agency begins October 1 of this year and runs through September 30 of 1984.

The hearings are required by the Texas Department on Aging so that private citizens can comment on the Panhandle agency's two year plan, now beginning its first year. The agency receives $920,637 from the state aging department. Over $705 thousand of that goes directly into services in the region. The remainder is used to finance administration of the programs.

These types of programs are funded in conjunction with senior citizen centers: transportation, information and referral, homemaker services, emergency response system, adult day care, legal services and congregate and home delivered nutrition services.

Sales tax rebate down again

The City of Spearman received a check for $3,583.91 from State Comptroller Bob Bullock for the period ending July 8, 1983.

This payment is down from the $10,457.14 payment for the same period last year.

Payments in 1983 to date total $107,328.03, compared to 1982 payments for the same period of $113,881.94. These figures reveal a 5.76 decrease in sales tax for the year.

Our neighboring city of Gruver received a check for $666.31 for this period compared to $749.42 last year. Gruver's sales tax rebate is up 23.27% over 1982 payments to date. 1983 payments to date are $19,883.25 as compared to $16,130.38 in 1982.

Gruver is among the few Panhandle towns showing an increase in their sales.

The City of Perryton sales tax rebate is off 29.81% from last year and the City of Borger is off 19.87% from last year. In Hutchinson County Fritch shows an increase of 10.74%; Sanford up 33.59 and Stinnett up 19.91.

The July checks were for taxes collected on sales made in May and reported to the Comptroller by the end of June.

Bullock said total payments to cities so far this year are still running about one percent behind last year. Bullock said most major Texas cities are beginning to show higher tax receipts than last year, but the border and oil and gas producing areas are still substantially behind.

Tooth News

Millions will be happy to know that new dental processes often eliminate the necessity for grinding teeth, for expensive metal fillings and bridge work.

Broken teeth can now be bonded back together. Chipped and discolored teeth can be bonded and cleaned. The resin used transmits light better than porcelain caps, and can be shaded to match any color.

Bonding, moreover, is simple. It was pioneered--the etching technique used just prior to the actual bonding--by Dr. Michael Buonocore of the Eastman Dental Care Center in Rochester, N.Y. Buonocore also used bonding to seal children's teeth and found such sealing reduced cavities by ninety percent! Work continues at the Rochester center.

The new techniques are not practiced by many dentists, especially those who have not had the latest training. Some will, no doubt, human nature being human nature, depreciate them. But they are available for those who look hard and long enough.

Not Oldest

One news item which attracted much attention in recent years was the claim that the southern Appalachians were the world's oldest mountains.

Not true--says one of the best qualified experts in North Carolina. Dr. Paul Fullagar, chairman of the geology department at the University of North Carolina, estimates the age of the Appalachians at about a billion years. Using the technique of measuring the age of rocks by the amount of radioactive material they contain (radioactive uranium decays into lead, as one example, and there are other products which evolve as radioactivity diminishes), Fullagar thinks the Appalachians were much flatter just 60 or 70 million years ago.

He believes the Appalachians have risen and fallen several times in the last billion years and that the world's oldest rocks may be in Minnesota, Greenland or Australia. This goes for the Blue Ridge Mountains as well as the Appalachians--which are also still young at heart, relatively speaking.

In the last article we mentioned foods that are in purines. These purines, we explained, are converted into uric acid--and when too much uric acid accumulates in the blood, it can't be held in solution--and crystals are formed.

These crystals are needle and rod shaped, and they have favorite places to accumulate.

It should be noted, however, that they can accumulate in any joint, although it's most commonly the big toes, fingers, ankles, wrists, elbows and knees.

Today we will discuss the consequences of this clumping or amassing of uric acid crystals in the various joints. Naturally, an excessive buildup of needle and rod shaped crystals would be expected to cause trouble--and that it does!

The result is an inflammatory reaction that produces redness, heat, steady pain, and acute tenderness to pressure or weight bearing (if the affected joint is on the foot, of course).

BUSINESS OUTLOOK
By Edward Thorlund

Will August--which marks a year since the bull market began--see the beginning of more broad profit-taking in the stock market? That's a current topic among brokers.

Some with nice profits who like to wait a year for capital gains tax benefits will be eligible in August for lower rates, and profit-taking could become a factor in the market trend.

Yet almost all brokers have been predicting a higher Dow-Jones average by the end of the year. On a recent "Wall Street Week" program (probably the best financial half hour on TV), most forecasts were for a market above 1300 by December 31.

True, many broker forecasters expect corrections in the market between now and then, but see averages higher by year's end.

One of the reasons for this, according to these experts, is that the public has entered the stock market in a big way for the first time in a decade. That's why recent corrections have been somewhat blunted, even when large institutions sold heavily.

As long as it appears Ronald Reagan is likely to be in the White House five more years, the only fear is too much federal borrowing (big deficits) and the effect this might have in pushing up interest rates and inflation.

White House chief economic advisor Marty Feldstein admits there's about a one-third chance federal borrowing could push up rates. The Federal Reserve Board might, however, prove sympathetic enough with recovery to avoid any such tightening of money as was seen in 1981-82.

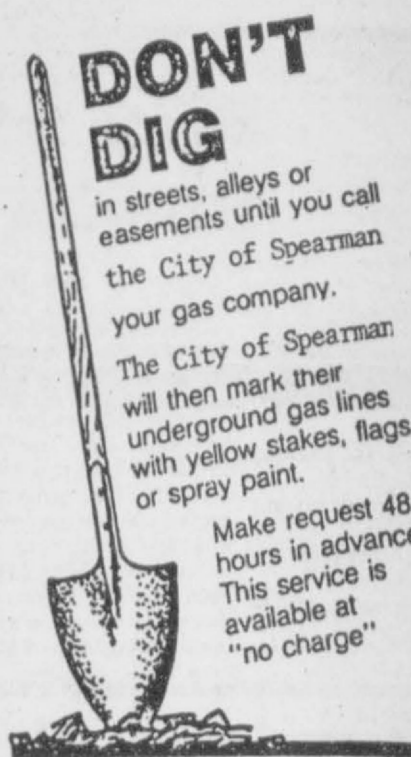

Most business and economic indicators remain strongly positive. That's another reason for brokerage-house forecasts of a higher stock market average by year-end.

GENDER GAP

The leaders of two national women's groups assailed President Reagan's old-fashioned attitude toward women and warned the "gender gap" will loom as a major factor in the 1984 election.

PUBLIC NOTICE

At the request of the Office of the General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission, the Commission has established Docket No. 5113 to inquire into pressing issues involving the entire telephone industry in Texas. Docket No. 5113 will deal with many issues resulting from the impending divestiture of American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Additionally, Docket No. 5113 will deal with the issues arising from the Federal Communications Commission's Final Order in Docket 78-72 (the Access Charge Docket) as they impact all telephone companies, including General Telephone Company Of The Southwest. It is anticipated that Docket No. 5113 will be evidentiary in nature. RATES FOR GENERAL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF THE SOUTHWEST MAY BE DETERMINED BY THE COMMISSION IN OR AS A RESULT OF THIS PROCEEDING. Isn't it funny how loud voices dominate a conversation regardless of the intelligence exhibited?

People who become emotional when someone disagrees with them overwork their emotions.

Don't expect everyone to agree with you; variety of opinion makes the world interesting.

One of the dangers of looking ahead is that we see things that never happen.

A little less selfishness would go a long way toward solving some of the world's problems.

Life is largely a matter of persuading others to work, if you operate a business.

The Bible can solve more of your personal problems than you might suspect; read it.

At the end of this happy life, the man with the most money will find it means very little.

When you get right down to it, most people have their own little racket, well camouflaged.

It is surprisingly easy to improve the conduct of other people, if they follow your own expert advice.

Most speakers would be more careful of what they say if they knew someone in the audience would question their statements.

Something Proud is Happening in Perryton

The Whirlybird Skate Center

The Whirlybird Skate Center is a family roller skating facility owned and operated by Paul and Terry Bixler. The Bixlers are father and son from Alva, Oklahoma. When it opens in late July, the Center will offer 14,000 square feet of recreation fun and exercise to families and young people in this area. It is located on the south loop road in Perryton.

The Center will feature a computerized music and lighting system, snack bar, free skating lessons, and a pro shop to buy skates and supplies. The Bixlers and their manager, Larry Johnson, will make special reservations for school groups, parties and church groups.

First National Bank arranged the long-term loan for the Skate Center. Working with the Bixlers and their realtor, we came up with a location. Then we came up with a way to finance their plans. Our community needs quality, family recreation, and we're proud to make it happen.

Call Roy Lynn Stollings for ways to finance your proud idea.

Ceiling fans might make you think of steamy island hideaways or "Casablanca." But they can also help you have a more comfortable summer right in your own home. From ornate brass to pastel plastic models, ceiling fans are back in style.

You don't have to have a 12-foot ceilings that are at least eight-feet high, since the blades are at least one-foot from the ceiling. For cathedral ceilings, an extension pole can be used to place the fan at the desired height.

Choose a ceiling fan based on the size and shape of the room. Most fans range from 36 to 56 inches in diameter. The 36-inch fan is useful in narrow spaces like kitchens, porches and sunrooms. The 52-inch fan is generally used in larger areas requiring a wider, more uniform distribution of air movement.

As you shop for a fan, notice that some have metal housing and hand-rubbed wooden blades. Other models are housed in plastic with either metal or plastic blades.

Metal blades are potentially more dangerous than wood or plastic. Any sharp-edged or thin blade can injure your hand if it accidentally touches the moving fan. So as a safety precaution, select units with blades no less than 3/16 inch thick at the tip.

If you want a fan with variable speeds, be prepared for a little noise. Some ceiling fans with speed control make a noise that sounds similar to the hum from a faulty fluorescent light.

Ceiling fan lights range from small fluorescent tubes to ornate globes. Carefully choose a place for a fan with a light. For example, a fan with a light fixture suspended from an eight-foot ceiling will probably be too low.

A fan hanging low over tables or furniture may not present much of a problem. But in traffic areas, the light could become an obstacle. Some manufacturers offer a low-profile model light for such areas.

Ceiling fans range in price from $50 to over $1,000. Higher priced models are often primarily decorative accessories cast of solid brass or finished with highly ornate trim, stenciling and hand-crafted detail. But the majority of models are in the $100 to $400 price range.

Installing a ceiling fan requires either an electrician or a competent do-it-yourselfer. The easiest form of installation is to use existing wiring from an overhead light fixture.

Don't install a fan near curtains that might become entangled in the blades. Also, keep it away from areas where people change clothes. A low fan can harm a person raising his arms to dress.

Although a ceiling fan should produce years of reliable service, check the manufacturer's warranty. Most makers guarantee the motor for five years, but be sure to ask about servicing. Some manufacturers supply a toll-free number to answer consumer's questions, others; have a network of service centers, and some neglect to mention service. So before you buy, ask the dealer what type of service is available.

With the wide variety of style, features, and prices available, you should be able to find a ceiling fan to suit your needs both for style and comfort.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of Socio-Economic level, Race, Color, Sex, Religion, Handicap or National Origin.

Teresa Kirk is delegate to conference

Teresa Kirk of Spearman will be delegate to La Leche League's Ninth International Conference in Kansas City, Missouri. The three day conclave will feature actress Mariette Hartley, educator Dr. Burton White, The Side Tracked Home Executive authors Pam Young and Peggy Jones, and pediatric allergist, Dr. William Crook. All phases of parenting will be discussed in more than one hundred sessions. La Leche League provides information and encouragement for those interested in breastfeeding; this International Conference affords the opportunity for members to hear doctors, researchers, educators, and parents discuss new, as well as tried and true ideas about parenting.

La Leche League has been serving the Spearman area since 1980 and helps approximately 50 mothers annually. Internationally, there are groups in 44 countries reaching 2,160,000 mothers with information in 28 languages. Teresa Kirk has volunteered her services to La Leche League of Spearman for three years as Group Leader which involves leading meetings and administration. Breastfeeding is recommended by the American Academy of Pediatrics and the World Health Organization, which proclaims that it should be encouraged in all countries. Research reveals that breast milk is the "perfect infant nutrition" containing everything the baby needs. The cash savings can be as high as nine hundred dollars for the first year.

Meetings are held in members' homes to acquaint those interested with the practical, physical and psychological aspects of breastfeeding. If you would like more information contact Teresa Kirk at 659-2794.

It's time to top off your tanks!

Are you ready for a busy harvest season? Fill up now!

Once the harvest starts you're going to be mighty busy. And you are going to be using diesel fuel and gasoline in huge quantities, depleting your supplies fast. We do the best we can to give you extra fast service when you need it during harvest, but sometimes we have to face the fact that we can't be everywhere at once.

That's why we urge you to check your diesel fuel and gasoline storage now. Let us top them off if there is the slightest chance you could run low during harvest. It's better to be safe than to sweat it out during the most important time of the year.

So, check those tanks and give us a call today if you need us. Top 'em off now and you'll be ready for harvest when your crops are ready.

New bank plans kindle Gibner memories

Clay Gibner, as he appeared shortly after the opening in 1960 for the current First State Bank building which has now been sold to the City of Spearman for a City Hall.

The historic moment was past-Clay Gibner, Chairman of the Board of First State Bank of Spearman, and Spearman Mayor C. Ralph Blodgett had just signed the necessary papers sealing the agreement for the City of Spearman to purchase the present First State Bank building for a new city hall for $350,000.

After a brief exchange of compliments between the mayor and the head of the bank, at the signing last Friday, Gibner leaned back in the chair at his desk. He commented on selling the bank building to the city, and mention plans for a bigger, better First State Bank facility. Then he reminisced on the history of banking in Hansford County.

Gibner told Mayor Blodgett the city was getting a fine facility for city hall, one that people of the community would be proud of for years to come.

"I'll bet you," he said, "that this (building) couldn't be built today for twice what you paid for it."

He added that selling the bank building to the city, also benefitted the bank, making it easier for the bank to proceed with plans to build its new facility.

Gibner could not give many details on the new banking facility First State Bank is planning to erect other than to say, "It'll be something marvelous."

He could give no dollar figure cost for construction, and no details as to size and design of the structure.

"It's too early—all that has to be worked out," he said. He did reveal that Chick Lee and Associates of Denver, Colo. have been retained as architects for the bank, which will be constructed on the Northeast Court Place property recently purchased by the bank. The property takes up an entire block and is bounded by North Bernice, East Kenneth, North Endicott and East Avenue A. It is the grounds where travelling carnivals and circuses frequently set up their shows, just north of Hansford County Courthouse.

Gibner said that when the present bank building was constructed in 1960, bank officials felt they had a facility adequate to meet the banking needs of the community for many years to come.

But by 1975, the bank had grown to such an extent—had added employees to where elbow room was needed, so an addition was built.

"Now we're crowded again," Gibner said, explaining in part why First State is going to build a new building.

Today, Gibner said, the bank has deposits totalling "close to $45 million," and he remarked the bank had prospered because "I feel we've been taking care of the banking needs of the community."

But Gibner can also remember less prosperous times for banks and bankers, and for good reason. He has been associated with banking in Hansford County since his high school days.

The Guaranty State Bank of Old Hansford was less than two years old when the banker got sick and asked Gibner who had just finished high school and was looking for a job to fill in at the bank.

That was in 1910 and the "fill in job" became a permanent one—Gibner has been in banking ever since.

Gibner likes to say that certain oldtimers claim he got his start in banking as a janitor, and with a little grin he admits this is not too far from the truth.

"I guess you could say this is true—as the junior member of a two man staff. I did the sweeping and many other necessary tasks as well as working in banking.

But Gibner did not stay long with the Guaranty Bank, forerunner of the present day First State Bank. He recalled, "I started work at the bank for $30 a month," but that he stayed with the bank only five months, being lured away to the competition, the First National Bank, also located at that time in Old Hansford.

"The National Bank offered me $75 a month, I was looking for the big money, so I went to work for them."

While Gibner was working for First National in Old Hansford, the Guaranty Bank was moved into the new railhead center of Spearman in December 1919, and first located in a frame building on the site where Transpetco is now located. The building was later replaced with a brick structure.

Gibner said he stayed with First National and when the bank was also moved to Spearman in December 1919, he was promoted to cashier of the bank in October 1925.

In 1926, the owner of the Guaranty State Bank changed its name to Fidelity Bank of Commerce, but in 1930, when a local group—J.R. Collard, P.B. Higgs, Walter Wilmeth and H.B. Hart purchased the bank, they changed the name to its present title.

They also hired Gibner away from First National to serve as vice president under Collard who was president.

Gibner served in that capacity until Collard died in 1952 and he was elected president. Gibner remarked, "I had the best bunch of directors in the world. When they began to pass out of the picture, they wanted me to have the bank (as chairman) and they made it possible for me to get it."

Gibner can remember the ups and downs of the times in the banking business, when the Guaranty Bank was founded in 1917 taking over assets of Hansford County Bank, an unincorporated firm, assets totaled $47,698.30. There were $18,782.89 out on loans and discounts and only $15,386.83 on deposit, a far cry from today's figures.

Gibner can remember the eras of drought and depression, of rain and bumper crops, of cattle market collapses and oil boom, and of the coming of irrigated farming and the boom in banking it brought.

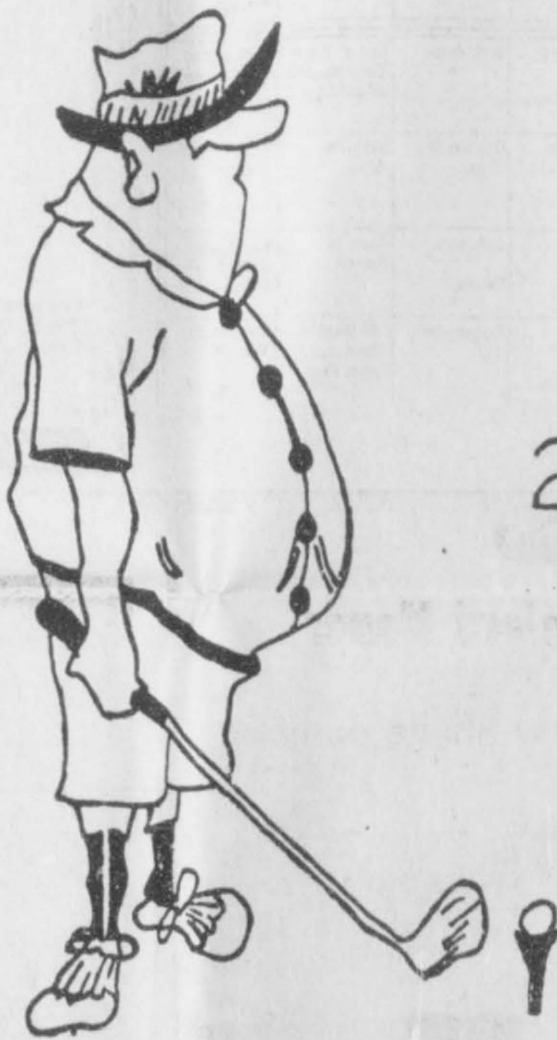

He said oldtimers will tell you the depression years were not the worst for Hansford Countians. He said, "1925 was worse than any time in the '30's". He said that was when the cattle market crashed, eventually leading to conversion to wheat farming throughout much of the era.

As for the depression, he said he can recall Fred Hoskins and I running the bank in 1930. He said times were so hard, it wasn't hard to run the bank. All we had to do was to open up, make change and close up. Whenever somebody did come in for something else, it was to renew an existing loan, with renewal interest added on."

He said business began to pick up by 1935, and First State Bank bought out the First National Bank, by then located in a brick building across Main Street, and moved across the street to the larger facility. There the bank remained until it was moved into its present modern facility in 1960.

Now Gibner is looking forward to another era in for the bank, when it will move into its new to be constructed facility, probably before Dec. 31, 1984.

City seeks grant from Parks & Wildlife

The Gruver city council met in special session, July 15.

Among items discussed was the building of a Pony League baseball field and an outdoor swimming pool to be built near the school. They are seeking a grant from the Texas Parks and Wildlife department to pay half of the cost. The Gruver Lions Club has agreed to pay half of the money needed for the project after the grant and another individual would pay for the other half.

Estimated cost of the project is $150,000 for the pool and $60,000 for the baseball field.

The council voted to join the Texas Municipal League in the fight against Southwestern Bell Telephone rate increase. The cost of joining the league to help fight the rate increase will cost the city $48.64 which is 4 cents per capita.

Councilmen discussed trash pickup during bad weather and decided that the pickup would be delayed when it is muddy in order not to have the alleys all torn up by the garbage trucks.

Other business conducted was the reading and approval of the last meeting and approving bills submitted.

Tri-state Twosomes have picnic

The Tristate Twosomes, Mother of Twins Club, held a family picnic at Thompson Park, Guymon, Okla. on the evening of July 10.

Debbie Breuer and Jim Smith of Guymon brought the twins, Nick and Doug, age 4. Alice Conner of Elkhart, Kans. had her whole family there, twins Jeremy and Jerome, 9 months and their brother, Keith, 4 years, plus husband David.

Chris and Melyn Johnson of Gruver, Texas brought their whole family, 2 year old twins Luke and Missy and their brother Justin, 3 years old. Melyn's mother, Paula Grantham of Denver, Colo. also attended.

Connie Slemp and three sons were there in full force.

The club plans on having a psychologist out of Amarillo speak at the September meeting.

Brad and Jason are 9 years old and brother Michael is 5 years old.

Highlight of the picnic for Alice Conner was when Brad Slemp pushed Jerome and Jeremy in their stroller for over 30 minutes. Everyone really enjoyed the picnic and the kids were especially happy when Debbie Breuer brought out a watermelon.

Tristate Twosomes will not have an August meeting but if anyone is interested in hearing about the club contact Melyn Johnson, 806-339-7109. Fathers and grandparents are also welcome to attend at anytime.

Dear Editor

Dear Editor,

On November 2nd and 9th concerned Americans will be asked to take part in a monumental community campaign combining the power of television with people-to-people action. PBS television stations across the country will air a two-part special on drug and alcohol abuse, "The Chemical People". First Lady Nancy Reagan, along with numerous other celebrities, will participate in the unique TV event aimed at the creation of community groups to combat the substance abuse problems confronted in every community. The television program, based on a successful project that brought over 12,000 citizens together in the Pittsburgh area in May 1982, hopes to go beyond drug and alcohol abuse education to help establish permanent task forces to fight the chemical problems in the United States.

In the Texas Panhandle plans are being made to organize town meetings to view "The Chemical People" and to take whatever action is necessary to fight local drug and alcohol abuse. On July 22nd at 2:00 p.m. at the Pavilion Auditorium, representatives from around the area will meet to make preparations for those town meetings. We need your help. Please discuss this all-important program with others in your organization, and select a representative to attend our July 22nd session at the Pavilion Auditorium at 7201 Evans. For more information please call me at 374-4892, Larry Barber at 374-6688 or toll-free 1-800-692-4165, Shirley Dyer at 359-4761 or Terry Hockenberry at 372-7791. Through community efforts such as "The Chemical People", our drug and alcohol abuse problems can be solved.

Cordially,
Monica Augustine
Operation Drug Alert Director

Drug Statistics

While the use of many illicit drugs is declining from peak levels attained in the 70s, substance abuse in America is the highest of any developed country in the world.

Roughly two-thirds of all Americans try an illicit drug before they finish high school. Over one-third have illicitly used drugs other than marijuana.

One in 16 high school seniors smokes marijuana on a daily basis.

34% of high school seniors regularly abuse drugs.

About one in 16 drinks alcohol daily; 41% regularly abuse alcohol with most of them starting chemical use between the ages of 11 and 14.

Another study cites drunk driving as the leading single cause of death among 15 to 24 year olds.

While the statistics are grim, through education, intervention, prevention and treatment, substance abuse can be curbed. "The Chemical People" seek to do just that.

Moose plan 2 Top fashion consultant to speak in Amarillo man scramble

The Spearman Moose Lodge No. 2212 is sponsoring a 2 man scramble tournament Saturday and Sunday, July 23 and 24, at Hansford County Golf Club.

Entry deadline is 5 p.m. Thursday, July 21. Entry fee is $30.00 per person, and there is a 50 team limit. Players will be flighted after first day.

Golf carts will be limited. To register and reserve carts call 659-2233.

A special prize, a new golf cart, will be given for a hole-in-one on any 3 par. There will be trophies given. A putting contest will be held Saturday along with a target shoot #7, and hamburger fry Saturday night for participants and wives or girl friends.

There will also be free refreshments during the two day event.

One of the nation's leading consultants on fashion for men and women and the part fashion plays in their success in life will be a featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Extension Home Economists. The meeting will be held August 1 through 3 at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo.

Suzie Woodward of Palo Alto, Calif., president and executive director of Images by Suzie, a consultant service, will present a three-hour seminar at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 3.

Because of the availability of this outstanding authority and the interest of Panhandle citizens in clothing and the personal image it reflects, the Extension home economists are opening this presentation to the public, explained Cheryl Brewer, Ochiltree County Extension agent for home economics.

A limited number of tickets for the seminar, costing $5 each, may be purchased in advance from county Extension agents in the 20 Panhandle counties, Brewer said.

If any tickets remain the day of the seminar, they will be sold at the door, said Kathy J. Gist, Carson County Extension home economist and Panhandle District director of the state association. But she cautioned that the number of seats will be limited because of the number of home economics agents from across Texas who will be at the meeting.

Among the topics Mrs. Woodward will cover in the Aug. 3 seminar are: communicating through appearance, the seven-part cycles of fashion, five-year fashion periods, clues to predicting fashion cycles, cues for clothes-a-holics, and using accessories to update a wardrobe.

She has been involved in the fashion industry as a model and consultant for almost two decades. Mrs. Woodward has written a book discussing wardrobe strategy and she travels to business and fashion centers of the world to keep her material current.

She has presented fashion training for such companies and organizations as the Bank of America, IBM, Hilton Hotels, Trans World Airlines, Hewlett-Packard, Wells Fargo Bank, the mechanical engineering department of Stanford University, National Association of Secondary School Principals and the Texas Education Agency.

She has been a guest lecturer at Amarillo College, Tyler Junior College, Texas Women's University and many other campuses.

'Texas' cast experienced

Canyon, Texas - The 1983 "Texas" cast is anchored by four veterans and spiced by four newcomers in leading roles. Paul Green's drama, which plays nightly except Sundays in Palo Duro Canyon has already played to more than 30,000 patrons this summer and the company is hoping for full houses the rest of the season.

Kevin Knapp plays the leading man, Calvin Armstrong. Although he has been a member of the company for three years, this is Kevin's first season to play the lead. Kevin is a graduate of Amarillo's Caprock High School and West Texas State University in Canyon. He is currently employed at Berneta Productions, Inc. of Amarillo where he is their West Texas Marketing Representative and Producer.

Wryn Anderson-Best returns to the role of Elsie McLean after an absence of two years. Wryn graduated from the University of Utah in 1981 and enrolled at Texas Tech to earn an all-level teaching certificate. While at Tech, she was a graduate teaching assistant in the music education department.

Jerry Williams has performed the role of Tucker Yelldell more than 950 times in 15½ seasons of "Texas." Jerry is an actor, certified speech pathologist, potter and businessman. He works with the hearing impaired at the Amarillo Speech, Hearing and Language Center and the Regional Education Program for the Deaf. As a sideline, Jerry does personal buying and appraising of fine arts and antiques for a growing clientele. As a potter, he produces his own line of handcrafted stoneware and raku pottery.

Myrtle Dersheimer, Kate Lucas, is no stranger to "Texas," although this is her first summer on the stage. Myrtle served on the costume crew for five years, and worked with the hospitality crew for one year before that.

CAUSE OF CRIB DEATH IS STILL A MYSTERY

The mother of an apparently healthy infant lays her child in his crib. An hour later the mother discovers that the sleeping child has died, a victim of sudden infant death syndrome, or SIDS.

A scene similar to this one occurs 8,000 times each year in this country, says the Texas Medical Association. That means one of every 500 live births.

The death is unexpected and the cause unknown. SIDS itself was unknown until the 1960s, when the phenomenon was given its name. It was the mid-1970s before SIDS, also known as "crib death," was used as a cause of death on death certificates.

Now it is the most common cause of death in infants 2 weeks to a year old, accounting for a third of these deaths. Several groups have responded with funding for research, information distribution, and parental counseling.

From what is known, SIDS is not believed to be hereditary. It is not contagious, although a viral infection may be present. SIDS occurs most frequently in the third or fourth month of life. The incidence is higher in infants born prematurely or living in poverty. SIDS occurs more frequently in boys than in girls and in winter more than in summer. Most infants with SIDS die in their sleep, with no signs of trouble and no crying out.

Autopsies show that SIDS has nothing to do with suffocation caused by, say, a blanket. There may be minor inflammation of the upper respiratory tract, but this is not the cause of death. Sleep apnea, a temporary inability to breathe, may be a contributing factor.

Theories aside, a true SIDS victim dies of unknown and unexplained causes. This can have a destructive effect on a family. With nowhere to place the blame, parents may accept themselves, each other, or other family members. The loss of a child to a disease or an accident can be understood, but not the loss of a baby to an unknown.

For this reason, support groups help families of SIDS victims to adjust to the death and to understand that no one is to blame. Two of these groups are the International Council for Infant Survival (phone: 202-833-2233) and the National Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Foundation (301-450-3388). Both groups can provide information on the nearest local chapter.

Chapel bells ringing at WT

WTSU - A tradition which has been absent at West Texas State University for six years has returned with the sounds of bell-ringing.

Each day the new chime system at Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel heralds the hour with hymns and other musical selections.

A Chronobell system made by the Maas-Rowe Carillons company of Escondido, Calif., was installed July 5.

Raising funds to purchase a new chime system for the campus chapel was begun as a special project last spring semester by members of Buffalo Belles, a campus spirit organization. Individuals and other campus organizations have donated almost $1,000 toward the purchase.

During the May meeting of the WTSU Board of Regents, Patty Scott, a graduate student from Fritch who is Student Government president for 1983-84, told board members about the project. T. Boone Pickens, Jr., of Amarillo, board chairperson, suggested that board members underwrite the cost of the project to allow the purchase and installation of the bell system before the beginning of the fall semester.

Other board members agreed and the system was purchased. The campus fund-raising drive will continue this fall to collect the purchase price of $4,570.

The system, similar to a compact home stereo system, is enclosed in a box measuring 41 inches high by about 23 inches wide. The purchase price included five tapes of recorded gospel hymns, Christmas and Easter selections, a swinging bell tape with the sound of a single bell and a tape which will be recorded with patriotic songs, the WTSU fight song and alma mater.

Dr. Gary Garner, professor of music and director of WTSU bands, wrote the melody line for the WTSU songs which are being recorded with bells at the company.

"It's like an eight-track tape," said Cindy Pearce, coordinator of residential living and a sponsor of Buffalo Belles. "When it finishes all the songs, it goes back to the first song."

The system allows a different song to be played each hour. The chimes are set to ring on the hour from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. each day. Tapes also may be set to play for an extended period by time or by the number of songs, said Pearce.

The automatic system also includes a clock timer which was rebuilt from the clock in the former system, also manufactured by Maas-Rowe. Pearce said the university also traded the speakers for a credit of about $400.

The system will shut down automatically when power fails and can be manually reactivated. Five speakers may be accommodated by the system, but only two are in place, said Pearce, because of the proximity to the nearby residence hall and classroom building. Since the chapel was dedicated at Homecoming in 1950, the small building located among trees between Cousins Hall and the Science Center on the southeast corner of campus, has become the scene of numerous occasions. The chimes also were dedicated in 1950 by members of Delta Zeta Chi, a campus sorority.

The chapel was dedicated as the Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel in 1952 to honor the second president of WTSU whose memorabilia are preserved in a case in the chapel entry hall.

Two recent WTSU presidents have desired a return to tradition and reactivated the chimes. Dr. Lloyd I. Watkins, fourth president from 1973-77, requested that the chimes ring again three times each day in 1976. The five sets of songs were played when a punch tape was activated. Max Sherman, fifth president from 1977-82, requested that music again chime the hour the following year. The chimes were reactivated from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Sunday. The revived tradition was discontinued each time.

The university does not receive state funds for the chapel and the lack of locally-generated funds has prevented consistent maintenance of the chapel and the chimes. The fund opened by the Buffalo Belles members also will provide money for maintenance of the chapel, said Pearce.

New tapes and music were purchased by members of the Sheffy family of Canyon in the late 1960s. Mrs. L. F. Sheffy, wife of a now deceased WTSU history professor, had served as Delta Zeta Chi sponsor in the late 1940s and early 1950s when the chimes were dedicated.

The Belles group, which has 50 members, was organized in 1978 as a Christian spirit group. Although the "Christian" has been dropped from the group's charter, said Pearce, members concentrate on building spirit and inspiration for the university.

Members are initiated during ceremonies at the chapel and attend Christmas and Easter services. Members of the group's pledge class last spring recovered the chapel's song books as a project.

"It's a special place to them and they wanted to do something to be lasting that shows attention to WTSU. This fits with the spirit theme," said Pearce.

"We've already had some calls from people saying how nice the chimes sound and asking if they will continue," she said.
