Public favors buying bank for City Hall, Council says

Public sentiment is running 80 percent in favor of the city purchasing the present First State Bank building for a new city hall, city councilmen concluded at a special session Saturday after comparing results of individual polls each had been conducting.

The councilmen met in an emergency, called session at B & B Farm Industries to discuss the possibility of buying the First State Bank building and to contrast this possibility with the proposed renovation and fire damage repair on the old city hall.

Mayor C. Ralph Blodgett asked the councilmen to each report results of a poll of the citizenry they had been conducting to get the people's reaction to the possibility of the city buying the bank building.

Blodgett said, "It is of vital interest to the city...for us to determine where we are as of today" on the proposal to buy the bank building as a new city hall and police station.

Alderman Wilson McClellan said that among those he had polled on the possibility of buying the bank, he had "one flat no," and several others indicated they would be in favor of whatever the majority decided, but that about 80 percent of those polled "are favorable, so far."

Mayor Blodgett said he had polled 120 citizens and that the big majority favored the plan to buy the bank building.

He said he was a little surprised at the positive reaction of the retired people—those with fixed incomes—to whom he had talked.

"I rather expected retired people to be against it, but most of them seemed to be for it. They told me it would be worth the difference, just to be able to get into the place," Blodgett said.

The temporary city hall presently in use is located in cramped quarters with limited parking on the front edge of a grain elevator lot. The old city hall now under consideration for renovation after heavy fire damage, has limited parking capacity and no drive-in windows.

Councilman Bob Pearson said he had interviewed 17 people on Friday and that by a big ratio most felt purchasing the First State building for a city hall would be a good move.

Pearson said the "Weirdest" suggestion he got from one of those he polled, was that the city and appraisal district buy the bank building and share its use and the use of its drive-up windows.

Several of the councilmen then spoke out, saying they would not favor sharing the building with the appraisal district, that it would be operationally unwise to do so.

"I'd a whole lot rather the appraisal district buy the old city hall then to share the (bank) building with us," Alderman Burl Buchanan remarked, and Pearson agreed that "we've got a pretty good thing going—I'd hate to upset the mix." Buchanan said he would like to see a comparison of the total square feet of the old city hall with the square feet available in the bank building and an estimate of how much it would cost to remodel the First State building to meet the needs of a city hall.

In response to Buchanan's question, Jim Murray said there was from 2,400 to 2,600 feet of floor space in the old, fire damaged city hall, another 2,000 feet or more in the fire department bays area and another 700 to 800 feet of space in the police department. In all, he said the old city hall had approximately 5,000 feet of total space.

Alderman Jim Nicholson said the question most asked by those he polled was "How much is it going to cost?"

Although the councilmen agreed they had heard no firm, official offer by bank officials to sell the city the bank, the aldermen did mention a figure in the neighborhood of $300,000 to $350,000 as a possible purchase price.

Nicholson said he understood purchasing the bank would not cause the city to have to raise taxes, and that he told this to those he polled. Pearson said that the city could not guarantee at this time, that it would not have to raise taxes, although the purchase of the bank for a city hall by itself would not cause such a raise.

City Secretary Donna Thomas was asked to report on the telephone survey the city staff had conducted. She said 228 people were contacted and of these, 77 percent were for buying the bank for city hall, 10 percent were against and 11 percent were for "whatever the majority wanted."

She said one woman favored building a new building and another said she would "like to see us move back into the old city hall."

Pearson agreed with the mayor that "the biggest deal" to those he talked with, was the easier access the location, ample parking and drive in windows the bank building location would give as a city hall.

Prior to considering the First State Bank building as a possible site for city hall, the councilmen had considered renovating and repairing fire damage at old city hall. They had received three base bids from Amarillo firms, the lowest for $178,516, with drive in windows to cost extra. In fact, the council voted to accept the apparent low bid for the renovation at their June 14 meeting but held up on awarding the contract at that time. At their next meeting they again held up on awarding the contract.

No arrests, no wrecks, no nothing.....

That's how Hansford County Sheriff R.L. McFarlin summed up the Fourth of July weekend in the county.

McFarlin said the Fourth holiday weekend was exceptionally quiet, "probably the quietest Fourth of July in my memory, in my 17 years as a peace officer."

Dr. and Mrs. Peter Takhar

Dr. Peter Takhar, M.D., and his wife Karen arrived in Spearman to set up medical practice here Monday, culminating a year-long effort by local medical and civic leaders to secure another doctor for the community. A second generation doctor, Takhar studied medicine in his native India, interned in India and did three years of residency in family practice in Austin. He had a private practice in Trinity, Texas before coming here. Dr. Takhar will be assisted by his wife in his medical practice here. His office will be opened Thursday with an entrance on the east side of the Hansford Clinic, 720 S. Archer and will be open Monday through Friday and Saturday mornings. Watch Sunday's Hansford County Plainsman for an interview profile on Dr. Takhar who has a very fascinating background.

Spearman folk enjoy All-American Fourth

It was about as American as you could get without baseball and apple pie—there were even hot dogs—at the Fourth of July celebration in Spearman.

That there was a big turnout—there wasn't until the big fireworks display at the stadium Monday night—nor a lot of pomp, pageantry, patriotic speechmaking or the like.

But there was freedom to do just what the individual wanted to do, or not to do, in the way of good clean wholesome fun at the swimming pool park, where most of the events took place.

The festivities kicked off with the three and five mile fun runs from and back to the Pains Shopping Center, and drew people who like to run in such events from throughout the area.

At the swimming pool park, the independence Americans enjoy was evident. Many youngsters competed by age groups in such contests as sack race, water balloon toss and innertube races.

Others preferred to not participate in the festivities but swim instead at the city pool adjacent to the park. Some did both—swim and participate.

Some adults got involved in such events at water balloon toss and rolling pin throw. The rolling pin throw drew as might be expected, a fair number of lady entries, but it was the men who captured the first three places in the event.

Some preferred to just look on and watch the fun, some of them at the same time enjoying family picnic lunches in the shady areas. The hot dog, chili dog, drinks and snow cone stand did a steady business as some preferred to eat and drink.

Children too little to compete, enjoyed the "freedom" of running about the park having adventures of their own, and some were treated to see-sawing and swinging by parents or big brothers or sisters.

Three men, two old and one young, sat talking together looking up from time to time to see the others at play. And nearby, one young woman exercised her freedom by sitting quietly nearby reading amidst all the fun and games.

Winners in the Fun Run included: 5 Mile: 19-26, 1st Place—Rafael Flores, Dumas, 39:01; 27-34, 1st Place, Clark Jett, Guymon, 33:44, Second Place, Bobby Barnett, Perryton, 40:25; Third Place, Doug Hale, Perryton, 40:26; 35-44, 1st Place, Bobby Richardson, Dumas, 33:15; Second Place, Howard Hammerbeck, Perryton, 45:06.

MX FUTURE

The Reagan administration told Congress recently the Soviet Union would have to dismantle part of its nuclear force—perhaps including its "most lethal" ICBMs—for the United States to scrap the new MX missile.

STILL GROWING

The gross national product is growing at a strong 6.6 percent annual rate in the April-June quarter for its best quarterly showing in more than two years, the government reported recently.

First National Bank arranged the long-term loan for the Skate Center. Working with the Bixlers and their realtor, we came up with a location. Then we came up with a way to finance their plans. Our community needs quality, family recreation, and we're proud to make it happen.

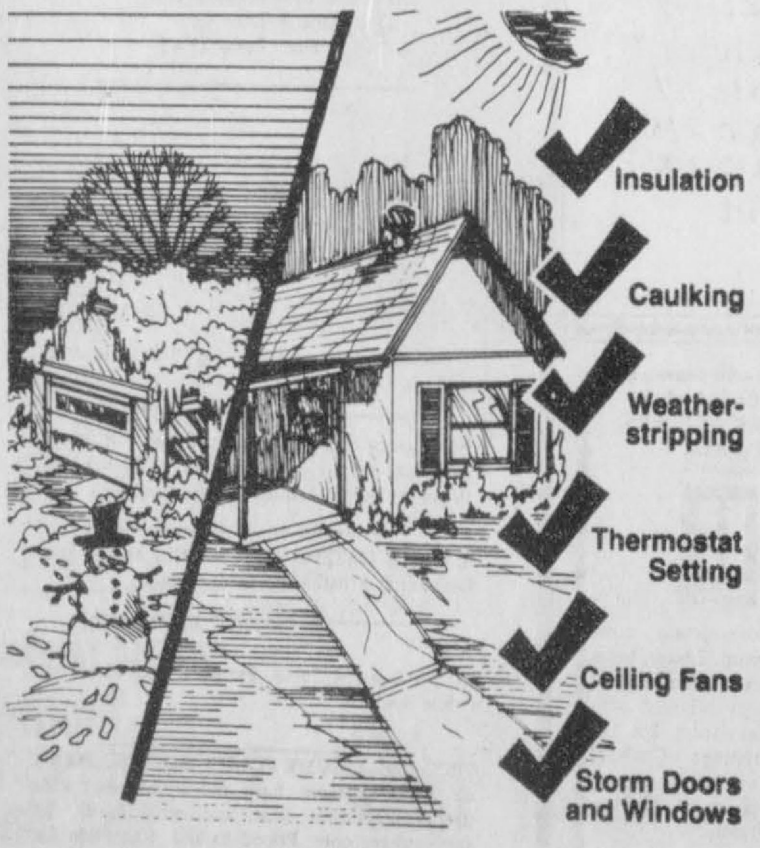

The Center will feature a computerized music and lighting system, snack bar, free skating lessons, and a pro shop to buy skates and

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective August 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

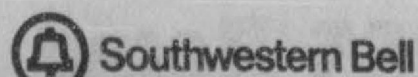

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

As a result of the settlement of a lawsuit brought by the U.S. Department of Justice against AT&T, Southwestern Bell, on January 1, 1984, (or as otherwise ordered by the United States District Court) will no longer be a part of the Bell System, but will be owned by public shareholders. Under the terms of the settlement, Southwestern Bell has identified 15 areas in the state within which it may provide service, and the federal court with jurisdiction of the settlement has tentatively approved these areas, called LATAs (Local Access and Transport Area). On or about January 1, 1984, Southwestern Bell can not provide service between these LATAs, and in addition, must transfer to AT&T customer premises equipment that it leases to customers.

Southwestern Bell has filed a proposed revised rate schedule with the PUC reflecting these changes. These rates would become effective August 1, 1983, if they are not suspended by the PUC; however, it is expected that they will be suspended and that the rates ultimately set by the PUC will become effective on or about January 1, 1984. If the rates were to become effective as filed, they would produce a 48.2% increase in Southwestern Bell's unadjusted test year revenues (or a 76.36% increase in Southwestern Bell's test year revenues adjusted to reflect the effect of Southwestern Bell's divestiture from AT&T). Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in rates for intraLATA interexchange toll services, any change in those rates could also affect customers of other telephone companies. Southwestern Bell is proposing changes in the structure of the present private line and foreign exchange services. Changes in these rates may affect customers of other telephone companies. Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of other telephone companies.

TIPS ON ZIPPERS

Zippers provide a fast and easy means of getting in and out of clothes. Over time they have become much lighter, and virtually invisible in the garment.

As you choose a zipper and application technique, consider the hang of your garment as well as the care and location of the closures. The length and type of zipper needed will be indicated on the pattern envelope. But you may decide to use different length zippers because of body proportions or convenience. A longer opening lessens the strain on the zipper as you get in and out of the garment.

There are many techniques for inserting a zipper. Follow the directions that come with the zipper package or check directions in your favorite sewing book.

Here are some additional hints on improving the look and ease of inserting zippers in home sewn clothes:

- Always close the zipper before drycleaning or laundering.
- Pre-shrink the zipper if it will be used in a washable garment.
- Stitch the zipper opening edges directionally in the seam allowance according to the pattern.
- Extend seam allowances of the zipper opening in your garment with added seam binding if they are less than 5/8 inches wide.
- When pinning the zipper in place, work from the top downward.
- Plaids or stripes should match at the zipper closing as well as at the other seams. With a regular zipper, baste the closing shut, matching the pattern of the fabric; with an invisible zipper, mark the zipper tape with lines corresponding to the pattern of the fabric.

• Always sew both sides of the zipper in the same direction, preferably from bottom to top. This eliminates puckering.

• Use the sewing guideline that is woven into some of the regular zipper tapes to give you a straight line of stitching.

• To stitch past the slider, leave the needle in the fabric, raise the foot, and move the slider up or down.

• Bias seams or stretchy fabric will require stabilizing before inserting the zipper. Cut two strips of seam binding the length of the zipper opening, and baste it to the wrong side of the fabric along the seamline in the seam allowance.

While there are no fool-proof methods of applying a zipper, methods have improved considerably over the years.

Skin cancer caused from over-exposure to sun

The fisherman, the farmer and the bathing beauty have something in common—the danger of skin cancer from prolonged over-exposure to the sun.

"It's that time of year when we must remind people to use sense in the sun to avoid over-exposure which can cause skin cancer. Cancer of the skin is diagnosed in over 120,000

Americans each year," said Mrs. Patsy Hunt of the Hansford County Unit American Cancer Society. She explained, "Most skin cancer is caused by excessive exposure to the sun. People who occupation places their work outdoors—for example a lifeguard or construction worker—should be very careful. So should fair-skinned, fair-haired people. Senior citizens form another group advised to take care in the sun." Since skin cancer occurs more frequently than any other type of cancer, it is important to know its early warning signals: a sore that does not heal; change in size or color of a wart or mole. "If a symptom appears, the person should not try to wish it away or 'doctor' it himself. Patsy Hunt stated. "See your physician as soon as possible. Skin cancer is highly curable if detected and treated in time." "That's why it is so tragic that about 5,000 people are expected to die of skin cancer this year," Patsy Hunt added, "They will be victims of a disease that is largely preventable and highly curable." The American Cancer Society has available skin cancer leaflets and an educational film entitled, "Sense in the Sun." For further information contact the ACS office at 1500 Wallace Blvd. Suite A, Amarillo, Texas 79106 or call 353-4306. Mrs. Hunt said, "At this time of year the ACS advises people in Spearman, Gruver, and Waka: Take sunshine in small doses; Wear a broad-brimmed hat and long-sleeved shirt; Use a beach umbrella; Apply a screening lotion or cream.
