Gene Compton announces candidacy for district attorney

GENE COMPTON

Gene Compton of Borger announces that he is the Republican candidate for the office the 84th Judicial District Attorney.

He has held the previous offices that he feels qualifies him for the office of District Attorney: assistant district attorney, Dallas, Texas one year; district attorney, Amarillo, 47th Judicial District, 1967-69; senior judge, corporation court, Amarillo, 1966; and city attorney for Borger, 1970-73.

He has practiced law for over ten years in Borger, is a member of the State Bar of Texas and the Borger Bar Association, having served as president of the Borger Bar Association in 1971.

Compton feels the most important issue facing the Hutchinson and Hansford County areas is the increasing crime rate. He feels the most effective way to reduce the crime rate is by complete cooperation of the District Attorney's office with other law enforcement agencies. Compton stated "In the event I am elected to serve as the 84th Judicial District Attorney, all law enforcement agencies, can be assured of my complete cooperation." There are enough laws on the books to assist in dealing with habitual offenders, and he will use these laws to the fullest in handling this problem.

Compton stated that he would like to hold the office of District Attorney because of his past experiences and his concern to improve this community by reducing the crime rate.

Compton is a University of Oklahoma graduate and received his legal education from Southern Methodist University.

RANDY HOLLIS

Randy Hollis, local Spearman boy, is the new butcher at Ideal Grocery in Spearman. Randy invites everyone to come in and visit with him this week and look over his Ideal meat department.

Ideal Grocery is now running advertisements regularly in the Spearman Reporter. This newspaper joins in welcoming Randy Hollis and invites our readers to check the beautiful double page ad each week in our newspaper.

This large tree was blown across the Borger Highway at 5 p.m. Sunday evening when 58 m.p.h. winds struck the Spearman area. Big John Sutterfield and his Big John Tractor pulled the large tree off of the highway, enabling motorists to get through Sunday evening. The tree was located 1/2 mile from the the South City Limits of Spearman.

A trailer and pickup were blown over 8 miles South near the Worley Smith farm at about this same time Sunday. One boy was riding in the trailer and was injured, but is doing fine as we go to press.

Thrift Shop to reopen

We want to thank everyone for being patient in waiting for the Thrift Shop to be re-opened. We are ready to take items from you now. We also plan to be open Saturday.

Commissioners have budget hearing

County commissioners met in regular session Monday, June 11, 1984 in the Deliberation Room of the Hansford County Courthouse, Spearman.

Routine matters were completed and the treasurer's report received.

Discussion was held on a child-parent counselor for the Family Service Center. The area Family Service Center board is composed of four counties, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb and Hemphill and the board is seeking a full time counselor for severe mental problems for residents in the area. No action was taken by commissioners.

They held a budget hearing, with little public interest shown.

They passed a Sesquicentennial Resolution that will be sent to the Texas Sesquicentennial Commission in order for the county to be sanctioned as an official member.

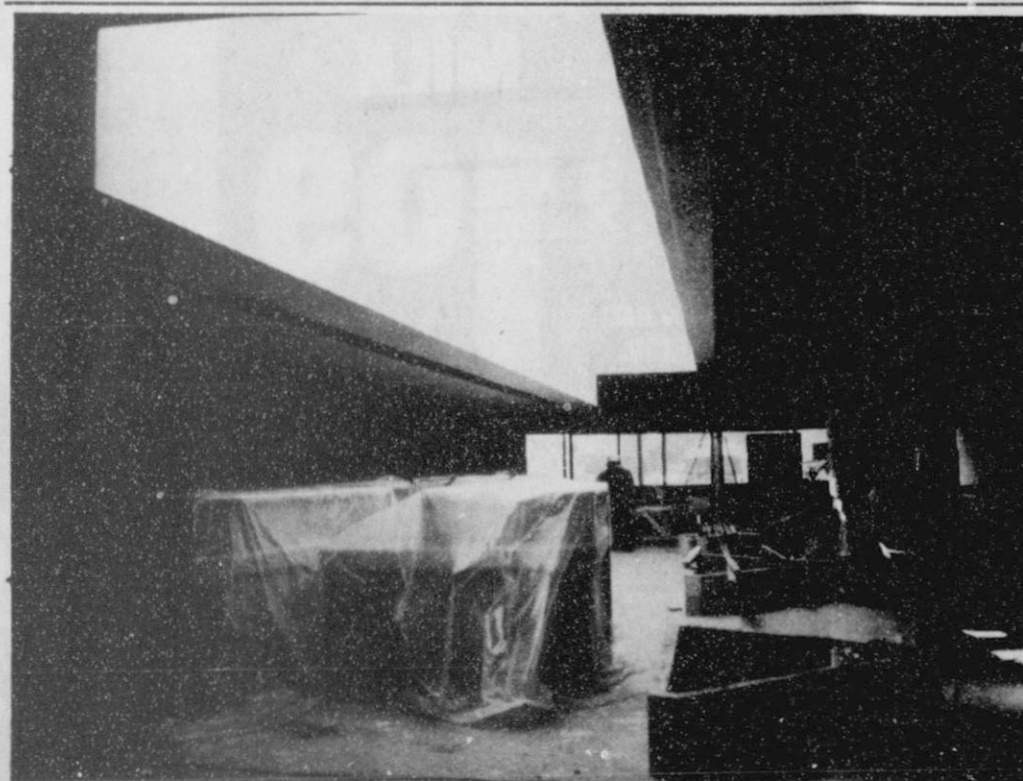

The Home Demonstration Building committee had asked for more funds for upkeep of their building. Commissioners granted them $750 plus painting and minor repairs to the building.

BETH KERBY

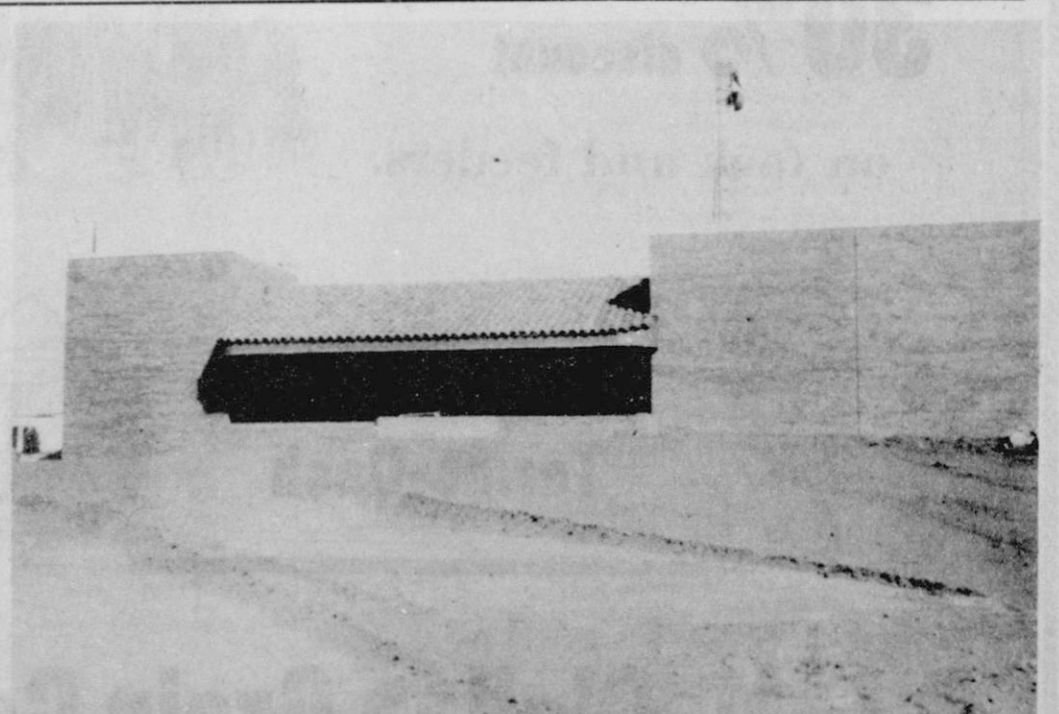

Beth Kerby, TG&Y manager since late in April, came here from Dimmitt. She is a native of New Mexico and has been with TG&Y stores for 10 years.

Both invites everyone to check the TG&Y ads appearing in the Spearman and Gruver newspapers. Make TG&Y your headquarters for Father's Day gifts this week.

Workers installed the special tinted glass skylight cover for the First State Bank Tuesday morning. Jim Shirley, President of

First State Bank is looking forward to a mid-July opening for the beautiful new building.

This is a scene from the East side of the new bank. Top soil has been moved into position, the tile roof is finished, and all of the outside work is nearly done on the new building.

Shirley stated that the new Pulse cards for the bank should be ready for delivery to the customers at the time of the opening of the new bank.

The forty-fourth annual American Legion Boys State sponsored by the State of Texas American Legion, and held on the Campus of The University of Texas at Austin last week as 962 high school boys from all parts of Texas participated. State Commander Charles E. Sonntag, Jr., of Texas City announced.

Attending from Spearman were Kevin E. Slaten and Mack M. McLain.

They were sponsored by the Spearman High School Student Council and Nazareth Post American Legion.

Following registration, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties, the Nationalist or Federalist. Each citizen then functions as a member of his party, he attends its precinct, county and state conventions and votes in its primary.

Boys State helps to develop civic leadership and pride in American citizenship. This program arouses a keen interest in the detailed study of our government. These civic workshops stress the importance of maintaining our form of government and bring about a better understanding of our national traditions and beliefs to the more than 28,000 young men throughout the nation who are participating this year.

In Boys State, the American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has an opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing."

Speaker highlights included an address by General Robinson Risner on June 4 and an address by Legion Commander Charles E. Sonntag, Jr. on June 5, both in Hogg Auditorium. Friday, June 8, at 11 a.m., Governor Mark W. White, Jr. addressed the entire Boys State Delegates assembled in the House Chamber.

Hansford Unit ACS meets

County cancer donations exceed $7500

Members of the Hansford Unit of the American Cancer Society met for a noonday pizza luncheon at the B&B Hospitality Room Thursday, 7 June 1984. Following the delectable pizza and summer dessert served by the Spearman group, a short business meeting was held conducted by Mrs. Gus (Clemintine) Renner, vice president.

Officers elected for the coming year include Mrs. Elmo (Mozelle) McClellan, Jr., president; Mrs. DeWayne (Mary) TeBeest, vice president; Mrs. Gus (Clemintine) Renner, secretary; Mrs. Jim (Arbeta) Nobles, treasurer; Mrs. Pat (Georgia) Holt and Mrs. Irwin (Betty) Davis, Crusade co-chairmen; James Dorman, Education Chairman, Gruver, and Mrs.

Newell (Dickie) Allen, Spearman, Education Chairmen; Mrs. Coy (Faye) Palmer, Road to Recovery Chairman; Mrs. Dill (Fran) Maupin, Publicity.

Introduced at the meeting was the new ACS District Representative Georgette Pond from Amarillo. She explained a few of the new developments for the Unit and a 20 September noon meeting was set up.

Announcement was made of the total for the 1984 Crusade which was co-chaired by Mrs. Holt and Mrs. Davis. A total $5,326.43 was recorded for the residential drive; $1,605.00 for the business portion; $380.09 for special events; $261.14 was contributed through memorials for a 1984 total $7,572.66.

This compared favorably to last year's total of $7,373.22. Added to last year's total was monies gained from chances sold on the oil painting contributed by Mrs. Clarence Yanke in the amount of $261.14. Each volunteer and each who contributed is appreciated so very much toward helping to fight cancer.

Figures for Hansford County compiled by District Representative Sandy St. John this Spring emphasize the importance of fighting with every available means to overcome cancer. In Hansford County with an estimated 6,000 populations, an estimated 60 people are alive, cured of cancer; an estimated 31 persons who have cancer and are under medical care in 1984; an estimated 10 will die of cancer in 1984; 19 new cases are estimated in 1984; 7 persons are estimated to be saved from cancer in 1984; 1,680 are estimated to eventually develop cancer in Hansford County; and there will be an estimated, 80 people who will die of cancer if the present rate continues.

These awesome figures indicate the importance of contributing to the fight against cancer. Hansford County people should be commended for their support of the American Cancer program, 1984.

Water exercises

Water exercise classes for women will be offered on Wednesday and Fridays from 5:30-6:30. They will be $10.00 for "Y" members and $17.50 for non-members. There will be about 24 sessions. It is not necessary to know how to swim to take these classes as students will never be in water over their heads. The class will consist of calistenics (against the pull of the water, these are very effective) for the arms, waist, hips, thighs and legs and a segment for cardiovascular fitness. These are especially good for people with feet and leg problems who can't jog, etc. The teacher will be Wanda Archer and they'll start Wednesday, June 6. They are cool, fun and you're guaranteed not to sweat!

Water rates about average

With the dry weather residents begin to water their lawns. Water rates in Spearman are about average as compared to Panhandle area standards.

Cities of Dalhart, Spearman, Canadian and Dumas are all in the range of $11.40 to $12.65 per 10,000 gallons. Pampa charges $15.40 for 10,000 gallons and Canyon's rate is $23.60 for 10,000 gallons; and Borger rates are $20.75 for 10,000 gallons.

Perryton is the lowest with $9.28 per 10,000 and Amarillo, second lowest with $10.27 per 10,000 gallons.

Cities producing their water from wells are cheaper than transmission cities, with the exception of Amarillo.

In sewer costs, the average of Spearman, Canadian, Dumas, Perryton and Dalhart is $4.65 a month. Pampa, Borger, Canyon, and Amarillo have an average of $5.51. Perryton is lowest with $2.60 and Canyon charges $4.00. Borger is high with $8.25.

In the area of garbage rates the average is just over $5 among area cities.

In this mini-survey a sampling of tax rates was made also. For a $50,000 home, a homeowner would pay these amounts in ad valorem taxation: Spearman, $360 Canadian, $370; Perryton $262.50 Dalhart $200; Pampa $306; Borger $280; Canyon $255 and Amarillo, $245.

Spearman residents pay the second highest tax rate in the area.

Did you know that Reaction time for the motor skills, such as driving, is reduced by 42% after smoking one joint, by 63% after smoking two joints of marijuana. The Chemical People--"We care enough to help"

Now is the time when all good men who fled to Florida for the winter come back north to get unthawed.

Put clippings in dumpsters

City manager Jim Murray asks that residents put their grass clippings and small tree limbs, from 3 to 3 1/2 ft. long in the dumpsters in the alleys.

This helps the city trash department since they do not have to send out a city flat bed truck and personnel to pick up the debris.

Also, Murray wishes to remind residents that if they have a big cleaning job, the city will park a flatbed truck at their property so that it can be loaded and then city personnel will dispose of the trash.

There is no charge for this service.

Swimming pool available

The Spearman Swimming pool will be available for the following: Family Night Thursday 8:30-10:30 p.m. Teen-night is Tuesday 8:30 p.m.-10:30 p.m. Come enjoy the cascade plunge in Spearman's beautiful swimming pool.

Remember the grass is green, and the park at the swimming pool is beautiful. Come out and have a hamburger fry and swim anytime.

County farms decrease since 1978

Preliminary reports of the 1982 Census of Agriculture show that the number of farms in the county decreased from 355 to 315 since the 1978 census. All land in farms totaled 584,953 acres in 1982, an average of 1,857 acres per farm. The Census Bureau defines a farm as any place from which $1,000 or more of agricultural products were sold or normally would have been sold.

Land from which crops were harvested increased to 203,607 acres since 1978.

The county's farmers sold $194.7 million in agricultural products according to preliminary reports from the 1982 Census of Agriculture. The 1982 sales figure represents an average of $617,940 for each of the county's farms.

The census reports that $26.6 million or 14 percent of total sales were for crops, while $168.1 million or 86 percent of the total came from the sale of livestock, poultry, and their products.

Preliminary data indicate that expenditures for feed for livestock and poultry were $42.3 million; total farm energy costs were $8.2 million; fertilizer costs were $2.8 million; and seed costs were $1.2 million.

Of the total farms in the county, 150 had gross sales of $100,000 or more; 43 reported sales of less than $10,000. Farms operated as sole proprietorships represented 80 percent of the total. In 1982, the average age of farm operators was 48.2 years. The proportion of operators reporting farming as their principal occupation remained essentially unchanged at 77 percent since 1978.

Data in the report for 1978 and 1982 are directly comparable for acreages and inventories. Dollar values have not been adjusted for changes in price levels.

Preliminary reports can be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

A Centerpiece

Seems that summer has finally arrived with hot winds and blowing dust but no rain and the dry-land wheat is burning badly. Surely it will give us moisture soon—we hope.

Ladies came in Friday and enjoyed games and refreshments. It was a fun afternoon.

On Sunday we had quite a wind storm with a shower, not big, but we're thankful for anything we receive. My family and I went to Dodge City, Kansas to visit relatives. It was a beautiful cool day there and we enjoyed visiting as well as the scenery as we rode along.

The volunteer quilting ladies came Monday p.m. and accomplished more work on two quilts we are making at this time. The Mexican Star is ready for binding and the Lone Star is all designed and marked and ready to go in the frames for quilting. This one is a beauty also, in shades of orange, yellows, beige and browns and I always think each new one is prettier than the one before. These ladies are almost professionals, their work is really great.

To repeat again, if you haven't been to the Center lately, do drop in, see these quilts in the making and enjoy some coffee, tea and cookies with us. Also look over the articles we have left from the Bazaar. You might find just what you're looking for.

Do hope by next week we will be able to report a good easy rain. Just a nice steady rain, no storms please.

Doll making is program theme

The Dahlia Flower Club met at the home of Nellie Albrecht, June 11, 1984.

The meeting was opened by the members repeating the Pledge Alligiance to the Flag, led by the president Nelle Evans.

Roll call was answered with a doll I remember.

The program on making dolls was given by Evelyn Thiele. She will also conduct classes on doll making this summer.

The next meeting will be at the Home Demonstration Club Room June 25-84. The program will be given by Irene Keating of Amarillo.

Delicious refreshments were served to members; Nellie Albrecht, Louise Archer, Nelle Evans, Karen Hurruff, Sada Hoskins, Hazel Loftin, Ora Sanders, Margaret Shodeck, and Ruth Mary Whitson and three guests Janet Hart, Dollie McWhirter and Evelyn Thiele.

The all-time champion literary pedestrian probably is William Wordsworth, who had walked 10,000 miles by the time he was 65.

In one second, the sun radiates more energy than man has used since the beginning of civilization.

Julius Caesar conquered the Netherlands in 55 B.C., when it was inhabited by Celtic and Germanic tribes.

The original Indian name of Puerto Rico was Borinquen, in the Arawak language.

The United States today has more than 750 million acres of forest land — three-fourths of what existed when Columbus discovered the New World.

Two-Bit Sermons

Two Bit Sermons
by James D. Jones, Pastor
Fellowship Baptist Church
Preaching

A Converted Hindu woman suffered much at the hands of Her unsaved relatives. One day a missionary asked Her, "When your husband is angry and persecutes you what do you do?" She replied, "I just cook the food better and sweep the floor a little cleaner. When he speaks unkindly, I answer him softly, trying to show him in every way, when I became a christian, I also became a better wife." Though that husband had resisted all the sermons of the missionary, he could not withstand the practice preaching of his wife. The Holy Spirit used her life and testimony to win him to Christ.

Now, May I ask a question? How long has it been since your church grew because of your life or testimony. It seems that we should seek to duplicate the testimony of this lady of Her Lord.

Mark Guthrie selected for leadership class

Mark Kent Guthrie

Mark Kent Guthrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Guthrie of Spearman and a 1984 graduate of Spearman High School is among ninety-two outstanding high school student leaders that have been selected for the University of Oklahoma's 1984-85 President's Leadership Class—a program designed to cultivate their proven leadership abilities and put them in positions where they can further their promise.

Each class member receives a tuition fee waiver of $600 but, more importantly, the incoming freshmen are given a year of leadership training and the opportunity to meet leaders of the university, state and nation.

The class meets once a week, and students become more knowledgeable about the university and leadership techniques. They have the opportunity to meet and talk with leaders in such areas as business, politics and government. Each year the class meets with the governor, state legislators and Oklahoma Congressional representatives.

Class members also participate in a fall weekend leadership retreat at OU's Biological Station at Lake Texoma and represent OU at recruitment and alumni functions throughout the year.

The students, nominated by their high school principals, are chosen by a committee of members of the Office of High School and College Relations, the divisions of University Affairs and Students Affairs and former PLC members.

GRILLED CHICKEN

Place broiler-fryer chicken halves or quarters skin side up on grade set about 6 inches from charcoal briquettes that have reached the light gray ash stage (or a red glow at night).

Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Brush with Fresh Tomato Barbecue Sauce. Cook until tender, turning and brushing with sauce occasionally.

Allow 1 to 1 1/4 hours total cooking time depending on weight of chicken and degree of heat. To test for doneness, leg should twist easily out of thigh joint and pieces should feel tender when probed with fork.

World War II Friends Visiting Europe

West Texans To Explore Battle Sites Of 40 Years Ago

By GERRY BURTON
 Avalanche-Journal Staff

WAR MOVIES SHOW the tanks rumbling into battle, foot soldiers fighting from shelter to shelter.

Forgotten, for the World War II scene in Europe, is the fighting man who got there first.

Before tanks rolled, combat engineers cleared their route of mines. And they moved ahead of the infantry with bulldozers, building half-dugouts with logs to protect soldiers from mortar fire.

Engineers worked in advance of the army, repairing roads and replacing bridges destroyed by retreating Germans. When American forces were retreating in the Battle of the Bulge, the engineer blew up what he had built.

"We had a jeep, a bazooka, rifles and mines," Norman Igo of Lubbock recalls of the patrols engineer teams made ahead of advancing armored vehicles and infantry.

For 40 years, Igo and a buddy, Robert Skinner of Spearman, have been reminiscing twice a year about their joint adventures as combat engineers.

For 30, they've been planning to go back over the ground they covered then. This turned out to be the year.

With their wives, Igo and Skinner headed for Europe May 11 to reverse the path and stand, on D-Day, on Normandy Beach.

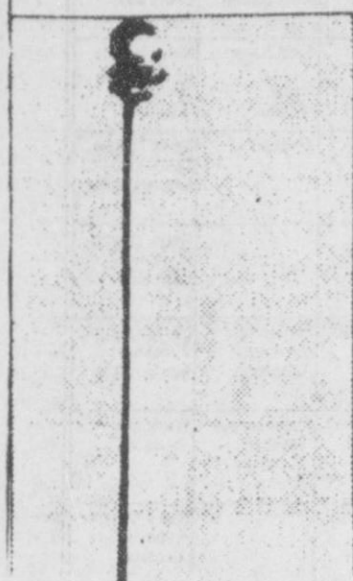

They didn't make that June 6 landing. They were still in England, attached to the 3rd Army, which was to land after the 1st Army had cleared the beaches and provide armor to break through the hedgerows.

The pilgrimage will miss points now behind the Iron Curtain but will touch on most of the others.

Not on the agenda is the spot now in East Germany where the two helped build "walkways, roads and latrines for a mobile hospital, a field hospital just like "M.A.S.H.," where Skinner met the American nurse who was to become Mrs. Skinner.

Included in the list of moust are the castles on the Rhine from which the enemy was shooting at engineer teams crossing the river; Luxembourg, where they kept careful count of trees downed to build protection areas for the infantry; and Bastogne, where they filled combat trenches until the 101st Airborne Division could replace them; and sites in between.

West Texans Visiting World War II Battlegrounds

at Texas Tech, where Igo and Skinner graduated in 1943 through the ROTC program.

After Officer Candidate School the pair was assigned to the 35th Engineer Combat Battalion. "They were all seasoned veterans and we were 90-day wonders, shavetail lieutenants," Igo recalled.

After a taste of winter maneuvers in Oregon, they tried to transfer to the Army Air Corps, but are glad now they couldn't.

France brought another strange experience, bombing and strafing while wearing the ties Gen. George S. Patton, 3rd Army commander, ordered his troops to wear. "He was trying to instill esprit de corps, but we didn't know it. We wore them for two days, but it seemed silly to wear ties while being bombed."

When Patton swung around and headed east across Europe, Igo went with the group that liberated Brittany.

Near Luxembourg, Igo operated a sawmill to get timbers for bridges and a rock quarry to crush rocks for roadwork as a part of the job of keeping the Army rolling.

"Armor always was fearful of mines," Igo noted. "We would go ahead, clear mines and booby traps and post signs saying mines were cleared by the 35th engineers."

It was near Luxembourg that Igo had to ready all of Skinner's personal effects for shipment home. Skinner wrecked his jeep in another zone, and although he was hospitalized there his own unit feared that he was dead or had been captured.

While Skinner was trapped in Bastogne, Igo retreated in the Battle of the Bulge, fighting delaying actions with explosives and bulldozers. Orders came down not to let the Germans cross the Mewse River, and Igo retreated there ahead of the Germans to be among those readying the bridge for demolition if that were necessary.

It was not "Patton came up from the south and broke through," he said.

The usual combat engineer routine was to push a pontoon bridge across a river to allow troops to cross. But at Moez the two West Texans made an assault crossing in the face of fire.

There were three engineers and 10 to 17 infantrymen to a boatload. When the first wave of boats failed to survive enemy fire and return Skinner took across a second wave, an action that later was to win him a Silver Star.

The buddies split again for reconnaissance to check on two roads and Skinner was captured by a German unit. "But," Igo recalled, "we were going so fast then that we recaptured him in two or three days."

Igo was in Paris on V-E day, part of a milling crowd singing and laughing, and recalls a visit to the French Riviera where he joined in the crush of a crowd seeking a glimpse of one of the first bikinis.

The few days as a prisoner of war gave Skinner the points necessary to go home, but Igo, was assigned to the Pacific war.

"The day we sailed the war was over," he said. "We hadn't gone through the Panama Canal so we went straight to New York. I beat everybody home."

Over the years, Igo pointed out, he has forgotten the bad things, remembering only the good. "How can you describe coming down a street with people hanging out of windows waving American flags?" he asked.

"Hospitality. I've never seen anything like it. When we got past the Rhine, the Germans were very receptive to Americans. When we started to pull back, they began to weep and cry."

"They didn't want us to leave and we didn't understand why. They asked why we didn't go on and fight the Russians... that we would have to fight them someday."

Among the souvenirs Igo keeps is a Nazi armband from a captured Navy group and a rifle a sniper used to potshot his team.

And there's the little calculator he found in a bombed out factory; he used it until 1956.

Igo hosts Skinner once a year at Tech's homecoming and visits in Spearman each year. It has kept their friendship close and that bond is being manifested now in their idyl back to the battlefields they shared during World War II.

PAT BOONE WILL BE IN AMARILLO SAT. JUNE 23rd

Singer/Entertainer Pat Boone will be appearing in an Amarillo fundraiser for Republican congressional nominee Beau Boulter.

The fundraiser, called the "Old-Time Republican Rally" will be held at the Tri-State Fairgrounds (Rex Baxter Building) on Saturday, June 23, at 7:30 pm. Tickets for the fundraiser, including both the western style buffet, entertainment and door prizes, are $20.00 per person. There is limited seating and advance ticket purchases are recommended.

George Strake, Chairman of the Republican Party of Texas, will be the Master of Ceremonies.

Of the top recording star during the rock-and-roll era, Pat Boone has remained among the top three. Pat has sold more than 45 million records, has thirteen gold discs, two gold albums and a platinum record. He has starred in some fifteen motion pictures and numerous television specials. In 1981 he appeared at the Inaugural Ball for longtime friend President Ronald Reagan.

More recently, Pat Boone has been a leader in President

Reagan's effort to give public school children the right to voluntary prayer and to give Christian student groups the right to meet on public school campuses just like any other student group. He has also expressed concern for runaway federal spending, the ever-increasing federal budget deficit and the effect it will have on our children and grandchildren.

In addition to singing, Pat Boone is expected to give his endorsement to Beau Boulter as Congressman from the 13th Congressional District of Texas.

Pat Boone stated: "Besides voting for President Reagan in November, the most important contribution you can make locally for our cause is helping Beau Boulter. That's why I'm coming to Amarillo to help his congressional campaign, because Beau's election is so important to our struggle for a return to traditional values in our government."

For ticket information contact Boulter's Amarillo Campaign Headquarters at (806) 359-9403 or his Wichita Falls Campaign Headquarters at (817) 696-1933.

Etling recalls WW II bombings

BUDDY ETLING

Buddy Etling recalls D-Day June, 1944.

I made it in England in 1944 while I was in the 8th Air Force.

On D-Day plus one, June 7, 1944, a German JU 88 fighter, similar in capability with the British Mesquito, followed our bombers back to England from their raids on the Normandy beach-head area. On that evening, this JU88 shot down three of our B-24's. The B-24 had a nose, tail, and top turret gun, but no belly gun, and was thus vulnerable from the bottom side. Though these planes returned from the front at 200 ft above the English Channel for protection of that vulnerable belly, three were fatally attacked. Our B-17, Flying Fortresses, had the additional belly gun and thus were more of a threat to fighters.

One of these B-24's crashed in our living site with three dead aboard. I watched it, on fire, in its last 3 minutes of flight. As it crashed, explosion and fire engulfed a city block area, and its motors rolled through several of our quonset type barracks.

From the windshield of this crashed plane, I salvaged enough plexiglass to make this model of the P-51, and the base on which it stands. The P-51, was my favorite of our fighters. The model sits on a 50 Cal. machine gun bullet hull, like those used by our bombers, and fighters, which has been cut into to house a cigarette lighter. The top of the cigarette lighter is a British coin with the head of King George, and soldered to the outside of the shell, is a crown from a British soldier's uniform.

That JU88, flew over our living site at about 75 ft within easy rock throwing distance from me, though from a ditch and behind a large tree, I didn't have that in mind. The pilot didn't see me, nor was I able or desirous of seeing him.

Our base was a fighter base located at Wattisham, some 80 miles North of London in the County of Suffolk. Called the 4th Strategic Air Depot, it was in the direct path of the buzz-bombs that were targeted on London. I've seen many at night at 100 ft of altitude, and our safety was the farm drainage ditches, 6-8 ft deep.

It was from our area, East Anglia, that pre-D-Day strategic bombing was done on Hitler's Reich. Many times I've seen 2200 bombers, and later 7000 fighters as escorts attack German cities, in daytime, destroying, cities, factories, oil storage, material, and German Morale. The British bombed at night with their Lancaster bombers since they had no armor and needed the cover of darkness for safety. They carried large pay loads. I knew one of these crews that had made over 300 'sorties' or missions, and got to fly with them, locally. Though young, these men had the looks and nerves of men 20 years older.

Before our heavy bombing, and the Russian destruction of a large part of the German army, terrible German raids on English cities was endured, and I witnessed one air raid in London, as well a raid on our base. I well remember with elation as Hamburg was destroyed in 24 hours by our bombers.

Prior to D-Day, the Luftwaffe, had been weakened, but the V-2 rockets were a terrible morale factor on the British. These too, were launched largely from Holland, but unlike the buzz bomb which could be intercepted by fighters, though rarely, there was just no defense for the V-2, only surprises of devastation from the war-head.

Once D-Day came, and the beach head was established, Hitler's reign had limited days, though he was not initially convinced. Never in the history of the world has there been assembled, with continual build-up and supply, a force of this magnitude of volume material, naval vessels, aircraft, innovative sea breakers, docking facilities, and dedicated manpower. The sacrifice of life and limb was beyond realization, even I wonder, by those in that invasion. One of our famed generals said that never in his career, had he asked so much from his men, as in that invasion. However, Americans, who have never seen war, death and devastation on U.S. soil, or did not participate in this, or any other war, may well take note, that the price of freedom and liberty has never been cheap, nor will it ever be. Though I saw devastation and danger, I know little about the extreme hazards and bloodshed required of those that faced the enemy on D-Day on the beaches of Normandy, since I did not wear their 'shoes'.

The income tax became the major source of federal revenues around the time of World War I, according to a Conference Board analysis. Previously, the federal government depended on tariffs, excise taxes and customs duties for its income.

History of THDA

The Texas Home Demonstration Association was organized in 1926. This was a very loosely organized group made up, not of clubs, but to women attending the Farmers' Short Course at Texas A&M. The purpose was to provide an educational fund for a deserving 4-H Club girl, to give training in parliamentary procedure and to have the women help with the short course by presiding at meetings. This organization was supported by a contribution of 5 cents per capita contribution from each club to pay its own expense and to maintain a College Scholarship Loan Fund.

In order to increase interest and to give a large number of women an opportunity to participate in the activities of the organization, district meetings were arranged in 1930.

Progress means changes. In 1931, under the direction of Maggie Barry, the THDA was reorganized and a new constitution and bylaws adopted. In the spring of 1933 in the midst of the depression, the THDA made a valuable contribution, not only to the Extension service and A&M College, but to all higher education in Texas. As a result of Severe Economic Depression, the Texas Legislature proposed budget cuts of 25 to 41 percent. THDA president, Mrs. Ben Anthony from Smith County, wrote to each county council chairman and suggested that resolutions protesting this action be sent to the State Representatives and Senators. More than 1,800 women, led by Mrs. Anthony, marched into the capitol where she gave her speech to the Legislature in behalf of the Agricultural Extension Service. The Legislature decided not to cut the Appropriations Bill more than 25 percent. In the early 1950's there was consolidation of rural schools; some schools were sold for community buildings and remodelled by homemaker club members. After World War II, membership in HD grew rapidly and peaked at 42,000 when clubs were organized in many rural communities.

The early 1970's brought about many changes. The Civil Rights Act of 1964, the emphasis on Countywide Program Building and more Leadership Development Programs caused membership to drop. Recruitment for new club members was almost at a standstill.

In the early 1970's, Club Membership had dropped to 13,000. County Homemakers and Agents began working together to organize new clubs in both rural and urban communities.

One of the first changes made was to change the name from HD clubs to Extension Homemaker Clubs. Emphasis once again was placed on Learn-By-Doing training Programs.

With County Extension Agents and Extension Homemaker Club Members working together, women have been able to fulfill the promise made in 1917 to "Pass on to others that which has benefited." New clubs are now being organized and young homemakers, like their mothers, grandmothers, and great-grandmothers are finding that Extension Homemaker Clubs still offer Education, Inspiration, and Recreation.

They are learning valuable tools for living from their Extension Agent in Health, Membership, Young Homemakers, Legislative, Family Life, and International Understanding.

Texas Extension Homemaker Clubs are gaining in membership. They have made some changes--some men are now members and some couples meet at night. Some Homemakers meet at 9 a.m., others at 5 p.m., after work. But they all develop a closeness of friendship and loyalty.

Because of women like Edna Trigg, Maggie W. Barry, and others, 23,000 Texas Homemakers can look forward to better homes, better families, and better communities because they are Extension Homemaker Club Members.

Pampa plans 'Pioneer Day'

Pampa, Tx. (Special): Saturday, June 16 marks Pampa's First Annual Pioneer Day, which is to become an annual fund-raising event sponsored by the Gray County Chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD). The "western-flavored" activities will all take place at the National Guard Armory in Pampa.

A cowboy bar-b-que is scheduled to be served between the hours of 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. During the day, entertainment will include: performance by country/western singer, Ballan Grant; traditional country music group.. The Lightning R Wranglers; cowboy trick-roper Mike Lowrie; the Calico Capers Square Dancers; a wagon train consisting of several types of American horse and mule drawn vehicles from the past; hourly drawings between noon and 5:00

The American Cancer Society, which in former years has sponsored screening of individuals for colon-rectal particularly, has revised their screening policy and changes should be noted. Following is the screening Policy of the American Cancer Society as of May 1984.

The American Cancer Society, as a basic principal, supports efforts to screen individuals for cancer by use of proven diagnostic methods and feels that the optimum screening situation is that which occurs as part of an ongoing patient-physician relationship.

However, we recognize the need for demonstration screening programs which may be used to focus community awareness on a particular cancer site or screening procedure. These programs may be undertaken with ACS support in the form of screening materials and funds for lab fees if the following criteria are met.

1. Screening clinics may only be held be certified ACS Units.
2. Screening program receives approval from the Division Medical & Scientific Committee.
3. Screening program receives local Medical Committee and Board approval.
4. Program has written approval of local county medical society. (If applicable, district dental society.)
5. Program is an identifiable ACS project, i.e., developed by ACS volunteers. Co-sponsorship with other agencies is possible, but ACS must be the primary sponsor.
6. Arrangements for laboratory readings must be secured in advance with the laboratory taking responsibility for notifying patients of examination results.

7. Adequate follow-up must be planned by arranging for notification of patient's physician of examination results and the development of a local plan for follow-up of patients without personal physicians.

8. All participating volunteers must be advised that the ACS does not have malpractice insurance and that they must have their own adequate coverage.

9. A report of the screening program must be submitted to the Division Office upon completion.

These criteria do not preclude us from supplying literature and other Public Education materials to non-ACS screening programs. These criteria are solely for clinics which request screening materials or funding for laboratory costs from the Texas Division.

Home health care available

A new home health agency opened recently in Pampa.

Owned and operated by two nurses, Kay Trimble, RN, and Meg Parsons, R.N, Agape Health Services, Inc. and Auxiliary Services, Inc., offers a variety of home health services.

They include home visits by Licensed Professional Nurses during an illness and after dismissal from a hospital. Such visits are usually paid by Medicare or any of several private insurance companies provided certain conditions are met.

Nursing care is also provided by RN's and LVN's for individual visits or 24-hour care.

Agape Health Services, Inc. and Auxiliary Services, Inc. offers rental or purchase of medical equipment, including hospital beds and wheelchairs.

Personal care, such as bathing and meal preparation by bonded, professionally-trained attendants is offered.

A 24-hour telephone service for all clients and anyone who feels he may require such services, is available.

Medicare eligibility requirements for services provided by Agape Health Services, Inc. and Auxiliary Services, Inc., require that a patient by homebound, have a need for skilled nursing services relative to illness or injury, and have services offered by a physician.

Services are provided to all qualified patients without discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, religion, or handicap, in compliance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Camping Family Style

BY ANGELA AND FORD BOTHWELL

Q. I bought a camping stove that appears to be defective. The gas doesn't feed properly to the burners. I took it back to the store where I bought it, but they said I had probably damaged it myself and refused to give me my money back. Is there anything else I can do?

A. If you bought a quality brand name stove, yes. Since this question comes up from time to time, let's review the rights of consumers when they buy a product.

First, you should always buy camping gear manufactured by a company whose name you trust. And you should purchase only from a reliable dealer. Both should assure you satisfaction, even if you bought it on sale.

If the item you buy has a warranty registration card, fill it out and mail it right away. Sometimes it's the dealer's responsibility to file the warranty card with the factory. In such cases, the customer receives a temporary warranty, which is valid until the regular warranty card is returned from the factory.

In the event of a problem, go to the dealer first, bringing with you your warranty card and your sales slip. Most problems can be resolved at this level.

If you're still not satisfied, many companies have regional service centers where you can go for help. Again, take your warranty and sales slip, and tell them how you tried to use the item you bought, the troubles experienced and dates of previous correspondence with the company, if any.

If you're still not satisfied, contact the consumer affairs specialist at the manufacturer's home office. Supply the above information, including the model number of the product and the serial number, if any.

State your case calmly, whether you do it over the phone or by mail. While service people are trained to deal with irate customers, they don't like abuse. Make the person you are asking for help an ally, not an adversary.

What kind of luck will you have? Probably good, if your claim is legitimate and reasonable. Consider that marketing studies show it costs a company five times as much to get a new customer as it does to retain an existing one. So it's in a company's best interests to have satisfied customers.

My Visit With Anne and Lindy

By Mrs. W. J. WHITSON

Any lady who keeps house, cooks for a husband and a couple of children, feeds the chickens, and a dog with five new puppies, will lend me a sympathetic ear, I know.

Here I was with my hair slicked back behind my ears wearing my oldest and most faded house dress with one sleeve all but torn out. With a pair of shoes on that were old before the depression was heard of, and with a "blue" Monday groan on my face, I answered a knock at my front door. A most polite and pleasant voice said, "Good morning. Would it be all right with you folks, if I park my plane in your pasture for a while? We are short on gas, do you have a telephone? My wife is with me, could we have a drink of water? The sight of a windmill always makes me thirsty."

And all I could do was stand there with my mouth open and stare. For who wouldn't recognize Lindy after seeing his picture in the paper almost daily.

At last I came to and gasped "Yes, no, yes and yes," and lead the way to the barb wire fence that separated us from Mrs. Lindbergh and the plane.

I crawled thru the fence between the bottom and second wire and now Lindy stared. He said: "Well I wondered how you were going to manage that," and laughed as if he had heard a good joke. I resolved to be more dignified in the future.

Now I had a real surprise when Lindy presented me to his wife. She held out her hand in the most cordial greeting I have ever received. All this we hear about both of them being so aloof and uppish is the bunk. She is reserved and rather quiet, but he is talkative and full of curiosity. He asked questions about everything in sight. Particularly was he interested in our car, which had recently burned.

While Lindy walked across the pasture to inspect a possible runway, Mrs. Lindbergh and I sat in the Monocoupe and talked. She told me all about the different instruments on the dash board and the controls. Then we discussed housekeeping in this dusty country and she was all sympathy for the housekeeper.

I told her about my two children, my husband's occupation, how many chickens I raised this year and about canning a cow.

She spoke of her baby and how anxious she was to see him. She told me of their trip west and what a nice time they had with the people with whom they stayed at Woodward, and about a yatching party they were on this spring when the wind was unusually high.

She remarked that she thought Western people were the most courteous and hospitable people that they meet.

When Lindy returned to the plane he asked her to hand him a small canvas bag behind the seat. He opened it and of all the junk I ever saw, it was there. It reminded me of my little son's pockets. He took out a small cotton rope and tied the controlstocks together. "To keep her from flipping," he said. I suppose he meant the plane.

And then people began coming by the car loads. So Mrs. Lindbergh got out of the plane so she might speak to the people, she explained. She seemed really glad to meet everyone who came up.

I had told her, that I had sent word to town to have my children come out to meet them. And when they were a long time coming, she said, "I do hope your children got to see my husband, perhaps we can wait a few minutes."

She doesn't seem to think that she matters at all, but you can tell she thinks Lindy is something special. She always spoke of him as my husband, with a sort of a caress in her voice.

They are both very nice looking. Lindy has breezy, good natured smile on his face all the time. He looked more like a college boy than a famous aviator.

Mrs. Lindbergh is very attractive but there is a sad wistful expression in her eyes, that reminds you of the deep sorrow she has known.

She was dressed in a crocheted wool swaggar suit of navy blue, that her mother had crocheted two years ago. It is the most convenient and serviceable garment in her wardrobe she said.

With it she wore a navy blue felt hat, with up turned brim, blue canvas ballet slippers and wool hose. She carried a black and white wooden head bag.

RIVETING '40's FASHION; With Goldie Hawn's new movie "Swingshift", one of the hottest looks this summer will be influenced by World War II factory grab, like this comfortable jumpsuit and matching soft bag from Staples in an easy-care knit of Kodel polyester and cotton.

LINDBERGS REFUEL PLANE IN SPEARMAN

Famous Fliers Visit With Mr. And Mrs. W. J. Whitson and Many Other Spearman Folks

Lindbergh landed in Spearman September 24, 1934

Pictures of the Famous Lindberghs' Visit to Spearman Thru Courtesy of W. J. Whitson

"Lady, may I park my plane in your back yard," were the words of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, when he dropped in unannounced at the home of Mrs. William J. Whitson at ten minutes to eleven o'clock Monday morning, after bringing his plane to a successful landing in the pasture which adjoins the Whitson home one mile southwest of Spearman.

Entirely too busy and preoccupied with the task of assembling her household effects in preparation to moving from their country home to Spearman to hear the motor of the plane when it landed near her home, Mrs. Whitson was literally dumbfounded when asked the simple question by the tall, smiling young man who respectfully awaited the answer to his query. Spearman's most envied lady finally collected her wits, and gave a willing, but not enthusiastic consent to the request.

Thus started an acquaintanceship that ripened into a real friendship in less than two hours time, while Mrs. Whitson, wife of Postmaster W. J. Whitson entertained the nation's most loved and respected young couple, "Lindy" and "Ann". During this time the young couple awaited supplies and refueled their plane for their next hop on their Eastern journey, enroute from a vacation in California that was cut short by developments in the East demanding their presence and attention in New Jersey.

According to information carried in daily papers Lindbergh had left Winslow, Arizona early Monday morning, and it was generally supposed that he would make a refueling landing at either Amarillo or Wichita, Kansas. However the famous flyer has shown a truly American independent disposition in the past, and his selection of Spearman for a refueling station was characteristic of his past action, and in line with his determination to avoid as much publicity as possible.

Tried Landing Field First

Col. Lindbergh stated that he had sufficient gasoline in his plane to carry him a hundred miles further on his trip before making a landing. However, he stated the motor developed a miss and he decided to make Spearman his refueling station and at the same time check his motor. His first attempt at landing was made at the regular landing field just at the North edge of the city. Here the popular flyer found it would be dangerous to land on account of cows in one section of the field and the goal posts for Lynx field in the eastern half of the landing field. He circled the city and selected the pasture adjoining the Whitson home to bring down his plane.

Unprepared For Visitors

Clothed in her most serviceable and plainest house dress her furniture assembled near the door for moving, clothes stacked in convenient piles ready for transportation action floors bare, home disorganized, Mrs. Whitson, from the conventional standpoint, was ill prepared to entertain. However the Spearman young matron soon found out that the Lindberghs were just "folk" and that they enjoyed the sincere hospitality that was offered them.

Discovers National Hero

Mrs. Whitson was not at first aware of the identity of the visitors. Col. Lindbergh, after his first simple request, informed Mrs. Whitson that he was accompanied by his wife, and asked for a drink of water. The water at the Whitson home is not piped into the house, and buckets having been previously packed for moving the hostess invited Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh to the "well house" under the windmill. She suggested that she would run back to the house for glasses, but the Col. and Ann insisted on drinking out of the tin cup that serves all who desire to quench their thirst. An awkward pause followed this formality, then Lindbergh tactfully suggested that he would show his plane to the hostess. Enroute to the plane, Mrs. Whitson finally found courage to ask the visitor if he was not Lindbergh. A laughing admission broke the ice, and when America's No. 1 flier learned that Mrs. Whitson was a friend of "Pete" Johnson, deceased, former classmate of the visitor for three years, they established grounds for real friendship.

Inspect Lindbergh Plane

Shown all the attention and consideration that high aircraft officials would receive, Mrs. Whitson inspected the famous Lindbergh plane. She listened carefully to the technical explanation of the various features that the famous flier delighted in telling.

First Spearman Visitors Arrive

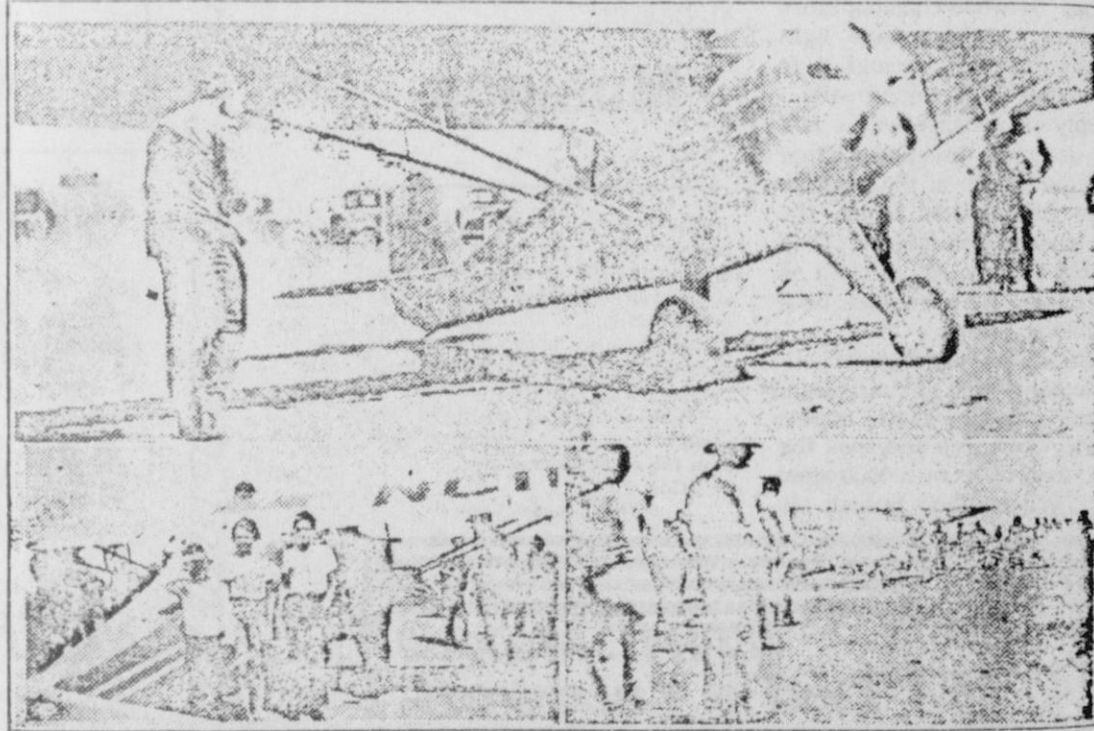

By the time a thorough inspection of the plane had been made, visitors, attracted by the landing of the cabin plane, made their appearance at the temporary landing field. Pete Allen, L. C. Wilson and Marion Close were the first to arrive at the field and gladly agreed to go back to Spearman to order supplies to service the famous fliers plane.

Conoco Products Used

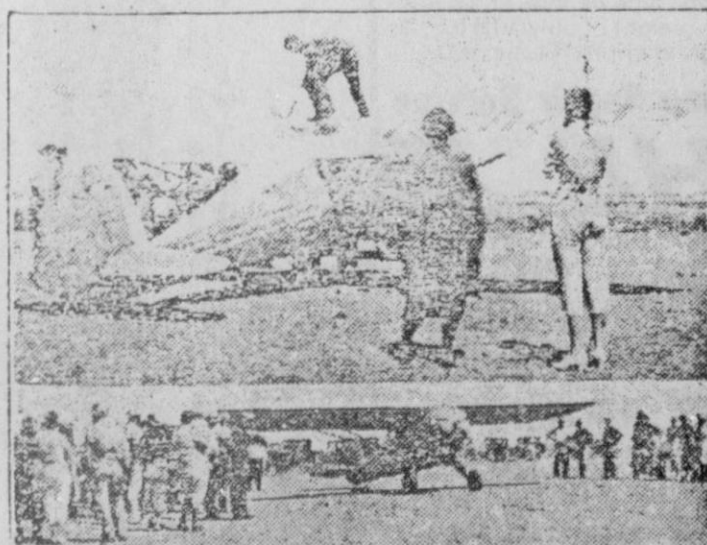

Alvino Richardson, wholesale dealer for Continental Oil Company serviced the plane with Conoco Bronze gasoline and Germ Process oil in response to the request of the visiting flier.

Visit In Whitson Home

When the Spearman visitors were sent back for supplies, Mrs. Whitson managed to send word to her husband to get the children out of school and come home to help entertain the Lindberghs. The famous couple came back to the Whitson home to await the supplies for their plane, where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Whitson and many other Spearman citizens who came to the landing field when they learned of the arrival of the celebrated young couple.

Karen's Kooky Corner

Hansford County Extension Agent

Despite its need for constant cleaning, most of us enjoy the rich golden color of brass in hardware, lighting fixtures and furnishings. With little time to clean, however, it's important to prolong the effect of a polishing job and to keep brass looking good.

Solid brass is a fairly durable alloy of copper and zinc, while brass plating is a thin layer of brass bonded to a steel base. Solid brass can take much harsher cleaning than plated brass. Use a magnet to test for plating. A magnet will stick to the steel beneath plated brass, but not to solid brass.

Tarnish doesn't harm brass, and can create an "antique" look. But tarnish tends to darken with time, so if you want to see detail or have a lighter look in your brass, polishing is necessary.

First remove the old protective coating. Brass is usually sealed with clear lacquer, varnish or epoxy. Where the coating nicks or wears away, it tarnishes from oxidation.

Since you typically won't know which sealer was used, experiment. Chemical strippers or acetone (nail polish remover) may do the trick. Wear rubber gloves, work in a well ventilated area and use very fine steel wool to remove the coating without scratching the brass. Traces of residue left by the stripper should be removed with detergent and water.

For less harsh lacquer removal, make a bath from household products. Dismantle the piece before soaking in a mixture of the following:

1 part ammonia to 2 parts hot water, or 1 part vinegar to 2 parts hot water, or 4 tablespoons baking soda to one quart boiling water.

For polishing solid brass, you can use a commercial brass cleaner in liquid or paste form. Liquid cleaners containing a very fine abrasive do a good job on the tarnish, but may leave residue in joints or carved areas if not completely removed. Both types of cleaner require elbow grease where tarnish is heavy.

Brass polish can damage wood finishes. So when cleaning brass hardware in place, tape light cardboard snugly around it to protect the wood underneath.

Apply all polishes with a soft cloth in one direction, either along the length of the piece or in the direction in which it's been turned. Continue to polish with clean parts of a cloth so tarnish won't be rubbed back into the brass.

Homemade concoctions of ammonia, lemon, or a mixture of vinegar and salt will also remove tarnish. Submerge and soak the piece, then work with 0000 steel wool. When the tarnish is completely removed, polish with a soft cloth and a fine polish.

Brass plating is usually coated with a clear protective sealer which must be removed. The same stripping solutions for solid brass can be used on brass plating, they don't contain abrasives.

Since the thin coating of brass is easily removed from plated brass, don't buff, use vinegar and lemon, or use abrasives, like steel wool. Many mild commercial polishes may work on brass plating, but do a test patch when using anything stronger than detergent and water.

Use tung oil, commercial brass wax or lacquer to prolong and protect the polishing job. First make sure the brass is clean and free of fingerprints, polishing compounds and other substances. Since fingerprints will show up under the finish, wear rubber gloves when handling the piece. Use lacquer thinner to remove traces of polish and greasy finger prints.

To apply a tung oil finish, place the brass in a 150 degree oven for 20 minutes before applying the oil with a soft cloth.

Let the pieces dry at least four hours. Apply commercial brass wax the same way.

Lacquer can diminish the brilliance of brass, but it may be worth the sacrifice to protect it worth the sacrifice to protect it. Brass may be either dipped or sprayed with lacquer. Do the job on a clean day when humidity is low. Speed up drying time by lamp or hair dryer before lacquering.

For lacquer dipping, make a 50-50 solution of lacquer and thinner. Dip the brass, hand, and let it dry five to 15 minutes. Once you have lacquered a piece, avoid brass polish or ammonia-based cleaners. Instead, clean with a mild detergent, rinse, wipe dry and take a break from polishing.

Musings

Paul tells the Corinthians to eat anything that is sold in the shambles, the meat market. This occurs after Peter's vision of all kinds of beasts that the Lord commands him to kill and eat. When Peter says he has never eaten anything common or unclean, he is told not to call common what God has cleaned.

"Whoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience sake."

Star-spangled recipe

Fourth of July is the top summer event throughout the country. Normally it is an on-the-road day when friends and relatives drop in for home-cooked specialties.

Hikers, bikers and boaters all relish their red-white-and-blue specialties for this all-American holiday.

This year start with a basic "anywhere" picnic. Add other dishes to suit a block party, a cycling event or a Fourth afloat.

FRESH TOMATO BARBEQUE SAUCE
4 pounds fresh tomatoes, peeled and chopped
1 cup chopped fresh onions

2 cloves garlic, minced
1 cup packed brown sugar
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 cup chili sauce
¼ cup Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard

Combine all ingredients in large saucepan. Bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer uncovered 1½ hours or until thickened. Use with meats and poultry. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 1 quart.

Visited by Columbus in 1492, a French colony after 1677, Haiti attained independence in the 1804 rebellion begun by Toussaint L'Ouverture. In 1811, Henri Christophe proclaimed himself king in the north — while the south continued as a republic. The nation was reunited in 1820.

SHINY ALERT — What could be more beautiful than glass displayed at a sunlit window? However, in the summertime, heat can cause glass objects to shatter. A liquid-filled glass bottle or vase, placed where hot sun can pierce through it, can generate and transfer enough heat to leave marks and streaks on carpet and/or furniture. So, check and move glass from windows until Fall.

BOTTLED DRESSING — Add vinegar and oil to the almost empty cat-soup bottle. Swish it around and add some dried onion flakes, chopped parsley and Italian seasonings. You'll be amazed at how much good tomato salad dressing will come out of the bottle before you pitch it.

DRUG SURE — Keep drugs and medications of all kinds in their original containers, keeping bottles tightly sealed and following directions for safe storage. Don't transfer contents from one container to another even if containers are identical. Many drugs are sensitive to heat, moisture and light and will lose potency quickly.

RECORD SURE — Use the summer months to assemble new and better record files on each of your children. Keep birth certificates, immunization records and health data in files and they'll be handy when the new school year begins and such records are needed.

PROBLEM SOLVER — A free booklet, "The Difficult Consumer Problem," offers advice on how and where to go to solve tough consumer problems. It lists organizations that handle gripes and/or publish free consumer aid and education materials. Write for "585M to: Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, CO 81009.

"Restaurant" was originally the name of a soup invented in 1557 by a Frenchman named Palissy. The soup consisted of finely-minced fowl and broth highly spiced with cinnamon and coriander. In 1765 a tavern was opened in Paris under the title "Restaurant" for the purpose of supplying this soup.
