Here Are Some Reasons For Being Careful With Your Sugar

Every time a 16-inch gun is fired, it sets up the distilled product of a fifth of an acre of sugar cane. A thousand field pieces in an hour's firing burn up as much sugar as could be refined from a field two-thirds of a mile square.

When you have saved nine-tenths of a pound of sugar, you have saved the equivalent of enough sugar alcohol to make, together with nitric acid and ordinary gun-cotton, a whole pound of smokeless powder.

Sugar is refined from cane sugar molasses. Cane sugar molasses is one of the best sources of first-class ethyl alcohol. We make smokeless powder from ethyl alcohol.

Sugar alcohol is used for other military purposes, too. It's used in compounding "dope" for use on airplanes with fabric-covered wings. A very important use is in making "Detonating Agents." A detonating agent is super-sensitive and explodes very easily. It is used to light the bulk of less explosive powder which forms from the shell's bursting chamber.

To make detonating agents, sugar-alcohol is combined with mercury to make fulminate of mercury. We used a lot of alcohol—183,500,000 pounds—to make fulminate of mercury during the last war, but the absolutely vital use of alcohol then, as now, was in the manufacture of smokeless powder.

Major General William Crozier, who had charge of munitions for the U.S. Army in 1917-18, called smokeless powder "the best single measure of strength which is afforded by all the materials of war." Our consumption in that fight totalled 380,000,000 pounds, and we'll need much more this time.

Smokeless powder of the nitro-cellulose type is made by treating cotton linters, or short fibres, with nitric acid and dissolving the resulting gunecotton (pyro-cellulose) in a mixture of alcohol and ether. Cellulose from wood pulp may be used instead of cotton in a similar process.

Gunecotton, alcohol and ether make a jellylike mass and this mass is formed into grains of various sizes and shapes depending upon the purpose for which the powder is to be used.

Pull the Trigger on Constipation, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on discomfort after meals, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those laxy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease in your stomach. For years, medical doctors have given patients prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even sickly children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin, as directed on label or as your doctor advises, and feel your bowels better. Get genuine Dr. Caldwell's.

Miss Laneous Notes

By MARY WEALEY

It has always been said that Americans were wasteful people but nobody ever made much of an attempt to figure out just what they were wasteful about. But if you want to see something that will prove the point, take a gander in the catchalls provided for old shaving tubes and tooth paste containers. It's amazing!

In nearly every tube that is turned in, there is at least another three days supply of tooth paste or shaving cream. Multiply that by the unteens million people that live in America, and you can see why some people walk while others ride.

Since the country is so wastefully minded these days, seems like folks ought to have a lesson in how to make that shaving cream or tooth paste last longer. Folks ought to learn the tricks that can stretch the using power of the creams for several days.

Our method, which we like the best, we offer to those who care to use it. First begin pinching at the bottom of the tube and as the cream is used, fold the bottom over one lap at a time. When you get down to the very last of the tube you can squeeze sideways, up and down and finally use the heel of a shoe to pound out the last smidge.

Maybe this isn't a very scientific method such as approved by the Office for Emergency Management but, by golly, we've been using it for years and it really works. Besides, it is sort of a challenge to your inventiveness to see how many more days you can keep running on that without tube of tooth paste.

AUSTIN, April 21 (UP)—A two-hour motion picture program, intended to instruct and entertain air raid wardens and other civilian defense workers, will be shown in every Texas city of more than 10,000 population, State Police Director Homer Garrison announced today.

Furnished by the office of civilian defense, the film titles include "The Bombing of the Marshall Islands," "Air Raid Warden," "Fighting the Fire Bomb," "Gopher Trouble," "Mr. Proudfoot Shows a Light" and "The Warning."

The initial schedule of showings covering the next two weeks includes the cities of Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, Orange, Galveston, Bryan, Angleton, Wharton, Bay City, Corpus Christi and Victoria. Ranger W. E. Naylor will be in charge and bookings can be arranged with highway patrol captains.

Town Gets Own Fire Engine

POWELL, Va.—This town of 1,400 persons, which since pre-Revolutionary days has depended on nearby Williamstown, Mass., for fire-fighting equipment, soon will have its own apparatus. Voters at their town meeting have appropriated $5,600 to equip their new fire station.

Hoyt's Restored Feeling To Hands And Toned System

Was Nervous, Had Indigestion and Constipation, Hands Were Numb Says Mrs. George King of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. George H. King of 1219 North Third Street, Wichita Falls, Texas, states: "I have been troubled for several years with nervousness, acid indigestion, constipation and kidney misery. When I would wake up from sleep, my hands and fingers were numb and I would have to massage them to restore normal feeling. "Since taking Hoyt's Compound I do not have sour stomach, gas or bloating, my nerves are much better and I do not have to get up at night. My bowels are normal and I do not have that numbness in my hands. Hoyt's has helped me more than any medicine I have taken."

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Collins Bros. Drug Store and by leading druggists in this entire section.—adv.

Church Building Plans Dropped By Knott Baptists

KNOTT, April 21.—The Knott Baptist church met in its regular third Sunday services Sunday and in conference voted to abandon church building plans for the present due to the government ban on building materials. The members decided to drop negotiations for new land for a building site and use the land now occupied by the basement if such is available when it is possible to build. The building fund of $2,297.57 will be used to buy war bonds until such time as the building plans can be reopened.

Glen Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hayes, left last week to enlist in the army. He has been attending school at T. C. U. and hopes to be assigned in the engineering force.

Mr. and Mrs. Hermon Puckett and baby are moving from the P. O. Hughes farm to the John Anderson place where he will be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Merrick spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hayes. Merrick will graduate from an electrical school and after the exercises on May 6 he will be employed at Pittsburgh, Pa. Mrs. Merrick will remain with her parents until he is located.

The Knott Baptist Women's Missionary Society will meet Wednesday afternoon at the church for the regular Royal Service program instead of on Monday since several members attended the Bible Training school at Big Spring Monday and Tuesday. The monthly study course book taught by the pastor, Rev. Cecil Rhodes, will be held on Friday, May 8 and members of the Prairie View Baptist church will be guests to study the book and their pastor, Rev. Blair Morris, will assist with the teaching.

Miss Delaney Of Colorado Dies

COLORADO CITY, April 21.—Never fully recovering from shock and a heart attack suffered when she received news that her nephew, Wilson Wyatt of the United States Navy, was missing in action, Miss Lenora ("Hon.") Delaney died at her home in Colorado City Monday morning.

Miss Delaney, 72, was born in Bell county, Jan. 13, 1870 and had lived in Colorado City for the past 62 years, having come here with her father, the late John Delaney, early in 1880. She had been a member of the Baptist church for 60 years.

Funeral services were held from Kiker chapel Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock with the Rev. A. E. Travis, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. Burial took place in Colorado City cemetery. She is survived by one brother, Green Delaney, a sister, Mrs. B. F. Wilson, and a step-sister with whom she made her home, Miss Neal Mills, all of Colorado City.

"Here's how advertising WORKS"

"You hear a lot these days about what advertising means to people...how it brings them better goods at lower prices, and makes life more comfortable and more enjoyable. Well, advertising does all that, of course, but I'm more interested in what it does for me as a retailer..."

1. "I'm in business to sell goods, and I've learned about advertising right here at the store counter where results are what count. I've seen how advertising works with my own customers and, believe me, I've got all kinds..."

2. "There's Mrs. Stockbridge, for instance, the banker's wife in that big house up on the hill. She's one of my best customers, and so is Mrs. Brickley, whose husband is a foundry foreman. Both these families have been trading here for years."

3. "I don't know whether Mrs. Brickley and Mrs. Stockbridge read the same magazines or listen to the same radio programs. But I do know that they both read the local newspapers and the ads in them...my ads and my manufacturer's ads."

4. "That's the way it works with all my customers. No matter where or how they live, they all read the local papers. So you can see why newspaper advertising by the manufacturers of the products I carry means more sales for me."

This retailer, like other successful dealers everywhere, knows from his own experience that newspaper advertising is the one medium through which manufacturers can reach all his customers and prospects. That's why manufacturers produce more sales for their retailers...and themselves...when they advertise in local newspapers.

Steer Hopefuls Meet New Coach, Get Set For Spring Rehearsals

45 Boys Turn Out For First Grid Session

The Big Spring high school Steer football hopefuls and their new mentor, John Dibrill, had a look at each other Monday night; and today, if the weather man doesn't queer the deal, they'll know something about working together on the gridiron.

It all adds up to the start of spring drills. Big Spring is a little behind other schools in the area, but Dibrill means to put his charges through the regulation 30 days of work.

Some 45 youngsters turned out Monday night to get acquainted with the new coach, and equipment was issued. Dibrill, who comes here from Colorado City, indicated he hoped to get into fundamental work without delay, because along with the equipment last night, he issued some play formations.

There's no telling what the spring rehearsals will turn up, but the new mentor isn't encountering an over-abundance of tried material. Only three letters from the 1941 squad will be on hand—Brown and Boykin at tackle and Blount at an end. There are several squadmen, however, and some likely leading lads from the junior high ranks that Dibrill hopes to fashion into a working combination.

He plans to put the squad through several tests, making some shifts if necessary. He's happy about having two tackle to anchor his line, and there's a good supply of end material on hand. Some of the boys reporting for the wing positions may get a trial at other posts. The backfield is a question mark until practice actually gets under way.

Two grid prospects, Blount and Bostick, are on the track squad, and will remain in the ranks of the thinly clad until after the intercollegiate league meets. Then they'll get into the mole skins. Dibrill for the time being is starting his afternoon workouts at 4 o'clock. He didn't specify any quitting time.

Baker Wins 15th Victory In Track

BALDWIN, Kas., April 21 (AP)—Little Baker University has racked up its fifteenth consecutive dual meet victory. The Baker track and field squad won eleven first places as they dominated Washburn College yesterday, 24 to 46.

Thanks for the Tanks, Tank

The More Dollars You Save in Defense Bonds . . . The More "Axis-Crushers" Our Army Will Have

AMERICA must produce 45,000 tanks this year! 60,000 planes! 20,000 antiaircraft guns! Altogether, $6 billion dollars worth of fighting equipment to smash the military maniacs attacking us!

That's why billions of fighting dollars—your dollars saved for Defense Bonds and Stamps—are needed and needed now!

That's why every American man, woman and child must put every dime and dollar not into auto tires but into automatic rifles—not into luxuries, but into tanks—not into spending for the pursuits of happiness, but into Defense Bonds for the relentless pursuit of our enemies!

An important part of America's job, your job, this year is to spend less and save more—to invest in safety with perfect safety! Not only does the U. S. Government guarantee your money, it guarantees to give you $4 for every $5 you save in Defense Bonds when you hold the Bonds to maturity!

Make up your mind right now to save for Defense Bonds—regularly. Set aside as much as you can. Make every pay day Bond day!

You Get a $25 Bond for Only $14.75

How much do they cost?	How many do they give?
$14.75	$25.00
$37.50	$50.00
$75.00	$100.00
$150.00	$200.00
$375.00	$500.00
$750.00	$1,000.00

When it matures? Ten years, but you can cash the Bonds at any time after 60 days from issue date. Naturally, the longer you hold Bonds, up to 10 years, the more money you'll get back. But you'll never get less than you put in.

What's the interest rate? When held to maturity, the Bonds yield 2 1/2 percent per year on your investment, compounded semi-annually—over 24 cents for every $4. This is guaranteed by the United States Government.

Monty Stratton To Make A Serious Try At Mound Duty With Lubbock Club

LUBBOCK, April 20 (AP)—Monty Stratton is expected to make his second pitching appearance of the season today, this time for a little serious hurling as he attempts to show that a man with an artificial leg can do something in baseball except direct the team from the bench.

The former Chicago White Sox pitcher, whose big league career was cut short several years ago when he lost the leg in a hunting accident, tried hurling last week but mostly for the benefit of photographers. He started cold and didn't do so well against the North American Aviation team of Dallas but today as his Lubbock Cubbers play the Amarillo Gold Sox Monty is due to really put himself to the test.

P. E. Program Is Broadened

SEATTLE, April 21 (AP)—Boyhood chinning contests are going to be the style again for University of Washington upper classmen.

Prof. Henry Foster, director of men's physical education, today announced faculty approval of a program of physical fitness for all men students. All upper classmen, heretofore exempt from physical education, must prove their muscular fitness each quarter by passing a medical examination and doing a specified number of chinning and push-up exercises.

Students who fail to pass the exercise test must take a prescribed course of chinning, rope climbing, jumping and running.

Gets Job Because Navy Rejected Him

EUGENE, Ore., April 21 (AP)—The University of Oregon athletic board moved Freshman Coach John Warren to the head grid coaching job after he assured them he was navy-proof.

When Tex Oliver resigned to join the navy, the board elevated Assistant Vaughn Corley to the position. A week later Corley enlisted in the navy.

Warren also tried to enlist, he admitted, but was rejected because he was over weight.

Weather Puts Hex On Texas League Games

The Texas league, plagued by bad weather at the start of last season, has run into the same trouble this year.

To date eight games have been postponed, meaning almost one-fourth of the schedule for the nine days since the campaign started.

All four games were put off last night. Two were postponed Sunday, one Saturday night and one last night.

Today's schedule:

Shreveport at Houston 2 (night).
San Antonio at Beaumont (day).
Dallas at Oklahoma City 2 (night).
Fort Worth at Tulsa (night).

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLESTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, April 21.—Latest fuel for the baseball fires comes from Jersey City's opening day ticket sale . . . Jimmy Powers of the New York News nominates Mayor Frank Hague to succeed Jurg Landis as baseball czar, claiming that anyone who can sell 55,000 tickets in Jersey City should be recognized as baseball's greatest promoter . . . Byron Hollingworth of the Tampa (Fla.) Times forwards an editorial from his paper suggesting that Landis should investigate the methods of selling those tickets . . . Pick your sides, boys.

Bob Montgomery Wins Decision

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP)—Bob Montgomery hammered his way to a unanimous 10-round decision over Mexican Joe Peralta last night to regain part of the prestige he bootied in his sorry showing against Lightweight Champion Sammy Angott last month.

Dallas Withdraws Bid For AAU Meet

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Bids for the 1942 national AAU outdoor track meet were re-opened today with arrival of formal notice that Dallas had withdrawn its sponsorship.

Secretary-treasurer Daniel J. Ferric said New York and Chicago were in the running for the meet, which probably will be held the last week in June.

Today's Guest Star

Jimmie Murphy, Canton (Ill.) Daily Ledger; "Now that the major league all-star games have been arranged, why not arrange to play the 1942 game in Tokyo?"

Shelby (N.C.) high school won a baseball game from Cliffside the other night, 40 to 4, batting around in every inning, and Bob Brooks of the Shelby Daily Star wants to know if you've heard of a score that beats it . . . After watching Van Lingie Mungo pitch a few innings, Manager Tom Sheehan of the Minneapolis Millers asked: "How can you keep a guy like this down here?"

Higher Education

Sammy Byrd tells one about the time when he and some of the other Yankees spent most of a year perfecting the old "trapped ball" trick . . . In an exhibition game against Yale, the collegians got men on first and second, and the Yanks decided it would be a good time to try the play . . . Byrd came racing in for a short fly, pretended to make the catch, dropped the ball then quickly picked it up and fired to second . . . Instead of a double play, he discovered the Yale boys hadn't gone back to tag up so one was sliding into third, another was safe on second and the hitter had reached first . . . The play went right back into mothballs for the season.

AP Membership Rules Relaxed

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Further changes in the by-laws of the Associated Press were up for consideration today by members who yesterday liberalized requirements for admission to membership in a move to meet altered conditions in the newspaper field.

On the recommendation of the AP board of directors, member publishers approved yesterday the following changes as they opened their 42nd annual meeting at the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria:

Elimination of the historic right of protest of original AP newspaper members in the same field (morning, evening or Sunday).

Substitution of payments to the original members by the new members under a formula designed to reimburse the former on a basis of the value of their AP membership.

Whitaker Nag Loses Backing For The Derby

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Signs that the bettors and the bookies of the Whitaker's Requested are weakening on the little fellow's Kentucky Derby chances came today in a couple of developments that were anything but polite way to treat a "hot horse."

While Altab, all alone as the Derby future-book favorite at 4 to 1, was on a train pulling into Churchill Downs, Requested was shipped to Jamaica for Saturday's Wood Memorial in a surprise move to see if he could show any more in that "prep" than he did in the Chesapeake last Saturday when he faded to third in the stretch.

At the same time, the odds-layers dropped him from co-favorite with Altab to the second slot at 5 to 1, hooked up with Warren Wright's Sun Again.

If Owner Whitaker and Trainer Blackie McCool had been anywhere close to satisfied with Requested's Derby possibilities off the Chesapeake, he would have been on the train with Altab as originally planned. At the same time, if the betting play had continued to pour in on him, the bookies are not so charitable that they'd be offering an extra point on his chances.

The new line, placing Altab on top in spite of his second-place finish in the Chesapeake— and dropping Requested and Sun Again was announced by the New York commissioner, Frank Shannon.

Back of the first three were William Woodson's Apache at 6 to 1, Payne Whitney's Devil Driver, both unbet as three year olds, hooked up at 6 to 1. Col. Ed Bradley's Bless Me, no ball of fire in his 1942 debut, slumped to 8.

At Brooklyn, the Dodgers got a seven-hit pitching performance out of Kirby Higley who chalked up his first triumph of the year, and slammed three Boston pitchers for 11 blows.

At Pittsburgh, Max Butcher of the Pirates and Jake Mooty of the Cubs hooked up in a tight pitching duel for seven innings, but the Chicagoans exploded for a half dozen runs in the eighth, putting both Butcher and the game away.

The Philadelphia Phils depended entirely on home runs to generate all their scoring for the second time in three days and lambasted the New York Giants on their own field, 4-3.

At Clevelands homer with the bases loaded in the fourth followed a two-run four-master by Danny Litwiler in the third.

The Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals had an open date and rested for their series opener today.

At Boston, Jack Wilson returned to haunt his former Red Sox mate and pitched the Senators to victory with a five-hit job.

The Red Sox gave Joe Doherty a 4-1 lead through the fourth inning, but he weakened in the fifth and departed at the end of the following frame after dishing out ten hits and six runs.

Ken Keltner and Oris Hockett led Clevelands' ten-hit attack on Denny Galehouse, but it was Jeff Heath who drove in the winning run.

Evangeline League Is Opening Today

LAFAYETTE, La., April 21 (AP)—The Evangeline league, a strong class D loop, will open its season today with six teams in the fold.

The lineup Tuesday will find Lake Charles at Lafayette, New Iberia at Port Arthur and Alexandria at Natchez.

Local Firm Gets Sweetwater Job

Taylor Electric Co. of Big Spring has been awarded the contract for installing wiring and electrical facilities for the British training unit to be installed at the Sweetwater airport.

Work on the job is to start today, said Elton Taylor, head of the local firm, which also holds the contract for installing port lights on the Sweetwater job. Work on putting in the contact lights, said Taylor, is about half through. The new job will require about three months to complete.

Dodgers, Red Sox In Full Control Of The Top Spots

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Boston Red Sox were all alone at the head of the major league pennant parade today, having earned their positions with the help of the Chicago Cubs, the Cleveland Indians, and some of that stuff the weather bureau says is not to be mentioned.

The Dodgers bounced the Boston Braves out of a three-way partnership in the National league with a 9-3 assault, while the Cubs took care of the Pittsburgh Pirates, third member of the triumvirate that shared first place before the start of yesterday's games, 5-2.

In the American league, the Red Sox dropped a 10-4 decision to the Washington Senators but clung to the lead by half a game over the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Browns.

The Yanks missed their chance to pull even with the Red Sox when their scheduled tussle with the Athletics at Philadelphia was postponed by conditions which must remain a military secret. Similar conditions possibly saved the Red Sox from further embarrassment, since a second game with the Yanks had to be called off.

On top of that, the Cleveland Indians ruined the St. Louis Browns' chances of gaining the top spot by tripping the Browns, 6-4.

At Brooklyn, the Dodgers got a seven-hit pitching performance out of Kirby Higley who chalked up his first triumph of the year, and slammed three Boston pitchers for 11 blows.

At Pittsburgh, Max Butcher of the Pirates and Jake Mooty of the Cubs hooked up in a tight pitching duel for seven innings, but the Chicagoans exploded for a half dozen runs in the eighth, putting both Butcher and the game away.

The Philadelphia Phils depended entirely on home runs to generate all their scoring for the second time in three days and lambasted the New York Giants on their own field, 4-3.

At Clevelands homer with the bases loaded in the fourth followed a two-run four-master by Danny Litwiler in the third.

The Cincinnati Reds and St. Louis Cardinals had an open date and rested for their series opener today.

At Boston, Jack Wilson returned to haunt his former Red Sox mate and pitched the Senators to victory with a five-hit job.

The Red Sox gave Joe Doherty a 4-1 lead through the fourth inning, but he weakened in the fifth and departed at the end of the following frame after dishing out ten hits and six runs.

Schlitz And Cosden Tied As Bowling Race Nears End

Schlitz stormed down the stretch last night to completely overhaul Cosden, leader of the men's bowling loop, and thus make the race for honors in the remaining two weeks of the league a dog-fight of the most heated variety.

Cosden went into the evening with a comfortable three-game lead. The Oilers were lucky to get off with their hides. While their shooting wasn't up to par, Schlitz managed to lay them in the pocket for wins of 50 to nearly 200 pins margin.

Wheeler of Schlitz was high with 603 for series and 210 for game, and Hanson of Cosden was close behind with a 591 and a 397. Schlitz was high on game with a 593 that broke Cosden's back at the start and on series with 2,620.

Hanson secured his third place position by trimming Clay's Cosdeners in three straight duels. Hanson slipped another cog when Big Spring Motor clipped the team for two out of three.

Local Poloists Trim Lamesa

Big Spring's poloists had another scalp to tie to their mallets this week, having cleaned up on a Lamesa aggregation in a tilt at Lamesa Sunday afternoon. The count was 7-4, and the locals were pretty proud of it because they beat a team that included such ace riders as Gus White, Sr., Sol Cleveland and Spencer Barron. The Lamesa White team was without the services of Eric Barron, and had Elmo Smith and A. C. Woodward as subs.

M. H. Bennett, Rip Smith, Gus White, Jr., Lewis Rix and Lloyd Watson made up the local team.

The Lamesas want the locals back up there for a game this Sunday, and there's an invitation open from down San Angelo way. There's no definite decision yet on the program for the coming weekend.

Made Hole In One That Didn't Count

MIAMI, Fla., April 21 (AP)—Billy McWilliams made a hole-in-one after 20 years of trying but the Miami golfer isn't very happy about it. The ace didn't count, because McWilliams made it on his second drive from the same tee. He was practicing for a tournament at the time.

Whitaker Nag Loses Backing For The Derby

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—Signs that the bettors and the bookies of the Whitaker's Requested are weakening on the little fellow's Kentucky Derby chances came today in a couple of developments that were anything but polite way to treat a "hot horse."

While Altab, all alone as the Derby future-book favorite at 4 to 1, was on a train pulling into Churchill Downs, Requested was shipped to Jamaica for Saturday's Wood Memorial in a surprise move to see if he could show any more in that "prep" than he did in the Chesapeake last Saturday when he faded to third in the stretch.

At the same time, the odds-layers dropped him from co-favorite with Altab to the second slot at 5 to 1, hooked up with Warren Wright's Sun Again.

If Owner Whitaker and Trainer Blackie McCool had been anywhere close to satisfied with Requested's Derby possibilities off the Chesapeake, he would have been on the train with Altab as originally planned. At the same time, if the betting play had continued to pour in on him, the bookies are not so charitable that they'd be offering an extra point on his chances.

The new line, placing Altab on top in spite of his second-place finish in the Chesapeake— and dropping Requested and Sun Again was announced by the New York commissioner, Frank Shannon.

Back of the first three were William Woodson's Apache at 6 to 1, Payne Whitney's Devil Driver, both unbet as three year olds, hooked up at 6 to 1. Col. Ed Bradley's Bless Me, no ball of fire in his 1942 debut, slumped to 8.

Editorial — Navy Relief Fund Meets Emergencies

A young American, unhesitatingly answering Uncle Sam's call for fighting men, joins the navy, draws his assignment in the fleet and sails off to save this country from its enemies. He leaves behind a lovely young wife and a fair-haired tot of three or four years. Perhaps there's a family helping wife and child a little with living expenses—but the baby gets sick, and somebody has to help meet an emergency.

Multiply these cases—and there are like them—by the thousands, and you'll quickly see that among the problems of war is that of seeing that service men's families are relieved in hardships.

Who takes care of these things? Well, there's the long arm and the strong heart of the Navy Relief Society, a functioning organization that for years has had funds to help these people. Wartime has boomed the needs, for there are so very, very many more families caught in the backwash of conflict.

The Navy Relief Society wants to help every one, and to do so, it must have contributions from the American people. That includes you, and you and you.

This is Navy Appreciation Week, during which time the Navy Relief Society is carrying on a campaign for necessary money. Allotments have been made for states and counties, and Howard county has been asked to contribute $810, a very small sum for such a great cause.

Shell out 50 cents or a dollar right away—it won't take much more than that, if every American does what he ought to do—and be proud that you have the opportunity to help. There are Howard county boys, remember, on the ships and in the subs and in the planes, who will fight a lot better fight in knowing that the folks back at home are not forgetting their families in time of an emergency.

We can never pay those boys the bill we owe them, but we can make a start in the right direction. A contribution to the Navy Relief Society is such a start. Won't you do your part?

Hollywood Sights And Sounds — Crosby - Hope On Morocco Road

HOLLYWOOD—There are perils as well as hours along "The Road to Morocco." Bob Hope and Bing Crosby are being chased by villainous-looking natives through the sumptuous palace set. Natives with knives, spears, and scimitars headed by sheik Anthony Quinn.

The camera finds them today in a peculiar room, a hall occupied by half a dozen white pedestals, each surmounted by a life-like, turbaned waxen head, all heads nodding in unison. Arabian yes-men.

"What's this?" asks Bing as they dash in, remove two of the heads, and take their places behind the end pedestals.

"The king's conference hall," slips Bob. "He's never lost a decision."

The heads of Hope and Crosby, as the Quinn gang comes in and bears things up in the search, nod with the waxen ones. Behind the camera, timing them, is Jim Cottrill, the prop man, likewise nodding. Behind Jim is David Butler, the director, likewise nodding unconsciously. It is catching, for 1 count five others around there, all solemnly nodding in time.

Butler tells me about a gag he just decided to use. One of the waxen heads, when Bing and Bob join the line, will turn slowly and gaze at them, in astonishment.

"It's crazy," he says, "but in this kind of picture anything goes."

He has directed Bing before, and the Bob, but this is his first shot at the two of them together. He is bearing up fairly well, though their constant gum-chewing has him baffled.

"They keep it," he says sadly, "even during dialogue. Bing swags without parking it. Where they hide it I don't know, but it's always in their jaws somewhere."

For awhile, she lay frozen in the grip of her imagination, her slim body shivering convulsively. Then finally young vitality revolted and tears came—a hot tide that spent itself in the depths of her pillow and helped her stand the shock.

And when, hours later, a full moon appeared from behind clouds, she slipped quietly out of bed, crept to the window. Then, cheek resting against the sill, she tried to believe that Kurt was still alive, that somehow, someday she would see him again.

EGYPT: Powerhouse In Africa

By CLAYTON J. IRWIN
Wide World Features Writer

"A land, sea and air bridge equivalent to half the distance around the world, is pouring millions of tons of war materials into the strategic Middle East for the United Nations' impending battle against the axis.

America's contribution to the effort started shortly after President Roosevelt, on Dec. 27, 1940, told the nation that it must become "the great arsenal of democracy."

It has roared along in force since a few days after Pearl Harbor, when authorities permitted the disclosure that American engineers and skilled craftsmen are busy in Eritrea, British-held Italian colony stretching 870 miles along the Red Sea on the route to Suez.

IMPORTANT: Cairo, in the land of the Pharaohs, takes on greater importance as the distribution point for American supplies jamming into the Middle East. Many cargoes are taken by airplane to Cairo from the African west coast.

Problems Increase

In other remote parts of Africa, in Egypt, and even in Palestine, American technicians are at work. The battle of supply gains strength despite the elements of distance and danger, multiplied since the United States entered the war.

Airplanes have sliced weeks, and months, off the time required for shipment of vital materials to the war area. But for the transport of heavy machinery and equipment, cargo vessels continue in a stream through the Atlantic, and truck trains rumble day and night across the expanses of Africa desert.

Britain's loss of control of the Mediterranean—excepting the eastern end and the area flanking the Italian-held Libya and Suez—put the main problem of Middle East supply up to the United States. While emergency convoys, heavily protected by the British fleet, are able to move in a restricted area of the Mediterranean, British now must depend mainly on the "round-Africa" route, 11,600 miles from London to Suez.

The problem is one of ships, planes, trucks, men—and implements of war from American farms, shops and factories.

Foremost among the routes is the air line from east coast ports to Brazil, thence to the African west coast. Here, blazing a new sky trail, big American planes loaded with vital machinery parts cover in days the distance for which the fastest cargo ships require weeks.

Water Route Takes Months

At the other extreme is the long, all-water route from the east coast through the Atlantic around the Cape of Good Hope and then up the African east coast to the Red Sea. It's about 14,000 miles, and an average vessel can make no more than three round trips a year.

Combining land, air and sea is

Danger Abounds

Danger, real and potential, lies along every mile to the supply routes.

Ships face the attack of submarines and surface vessels. These attacks would gain in intensity if the axis gained control of the Vichy France island of Madagascar off east Africa, or if Japan pushed more strongly into the Indian Ocean on the route to the Red Sea.

Overland truck trains may be bombed; Fort Lamy, in French Equatorial Africa, already has been attacked from the air.

Along these far-flung supply lines, carrying the components for victory, may yet come some of the bitterest fighting of the war.

BIG: There's a large American population in this Eritrean city of Massawa now—technicians and engineers working on Middle East supply problems. Eritrea was wrested from the Italians by the British during the African campaign.

Liquor Control Men Active In District

The Big Spring district of the Texas liquor control board was one of the more active in the state during March.

A total of 27 cases were filed, 34 persons were convicted and eight received jail terms. 12 cases were dismissed but none acquitted, and fines collected totaled $4,820, the fourth largest district figure in the state.

The Lubbock district saw great activity, followed by Abilene and Beaumont, in that order.

SECRET ORDERS By ELEANOR ATTERBURY

Chapter 14
Waylaid

Conditions at Titan seemed perfectly normal. Stephanie spent the remainder of the night and part of the next day in the plant office doing typing for her father, reading, sometimes napping on the old leather-covered couch.

It was dusk before her father returned from his detailed inspection of the entire plant.

"Everything seems under control, chicken," he said, stamping the dust from his shoes. "Maggie's thought of everything. Guess we can beat it back to town."

Refreshed from her nap, Stephanie slipped under the wheel while her father settled himself under a robe on the back seat.

"Great to have a good chauffeur," he said, sighing wearily. "I don't know when I've been so tired."

He was asleep before they left the extensive plant grounds and turned into the highway. Stephanie breathed deeply of the moist night air, turned her collar up against his sharp coolness. Winter twilight fell quickly before the onslaught of darkness and a tulle fog crept up from the marshes.

Driving wasn't going to be a cinch tonight, Stephanie realized as she slowed to a moderate pace. Fog made distances so deceiving. "Gee, I'm hinky if they made town before midnight."

Clouds of the thick fog swept across the highway intermittently now, obscuring everything. Stephanie pulled the car down to a crawl.

"What's the matter? Guy roused himself in the back seat."

"Fog. Visibility is practically nil."

"Take it slow. You'll be all right."

Then they saw the car ahead. Parked diagonally across the highway's right lane. The yellow ops of a flashlight winked at them. "Look! Someone's in trouble," Stephanie said, her foot touching the brakes.

"Step on it!" Guy snapped from away back.

"That—that man is signalling us—shouting something—"

"Step on it! Quick!"

Stephanie responded instantly. The car leapt forward, bearing down on the parked automobile. She turned the wheel. Tires crunched and there was a moment's sickening lurch as she pulled around to the left and two wheels skidded in the soft shoulder. Hands clamped on the wheel, feet firm on the accelerator, Stephanie brought the car back into the highway as the fog lifted momentarily, long enough to show her a straight stretch ahead of five hundred yards.

"What in the world do you suppose—"

Shots in the Dark

She had her answer before she'd finished the question. The sharp report of a gun.

Stephanie glanced at the rear-view mirror. "Dad! They're shooting at us!"

"Damn right! Those birds mean business. Thank God they're bum shots."

Three more shots in rapid succession. Stephanie urged the car to swift flight.

"There," she gasped as a curve took them out of sight of the bandit car. "Was that a hold-up, Dad?"

"Doubt it"—still peering through the back window. "Probably something to do with the plan to sabotage the plant. The average hold-up artist wouldn't bother to come this far."

"Could it be the same car that followed us in last night?"

"Possibly," Guy laughed dryly. "Somebody wants my scalp all right. Wish I'd had time to get the number of that car. We'll stop up here at Greenbriar and report it."

The stop at Greenbriar delayed them so that it was after midnight before Stephanie drove into the gravelled driveway at 578 Bonna.

"Looks as if we had company," Stephanie said as Guy pulled open the doors of the erstwhile stable and her light picked up the luminous bulk of Aunt Allison's town car.

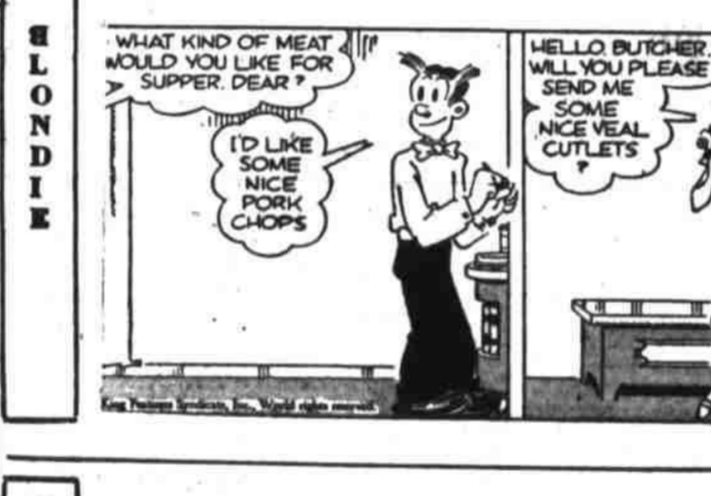

Guy chuckled. "Bet Al got the jitter over that blackout we had. Something like that would scare her stiff."

"Certainly we were frightened, Guy," Allison admitted a few moments later as, trailing an extravagantly luxurious negligee, she met them at the head of the staircase. "And for Victoria's sake as well as my own we decided the only sane thing for us to do was to come here with you until this ghastly business is over."

Guy grinned, patted her shoulder. "Glad you did. And I hope you brought your other shirt because I've an idea this 'ghastly business' is going to last a spell."

"Oh, it can't possibly. It's unthinkable!"

It was unthinkable, Stephanie agreed silently as she undressed in the dark to avoid waking Vicky in the other twin bed. But it was perfectly possible that the thing

OAKY DOAKS

D-DID YOU HEAR WH-WHAT I HEARD, SCOTTY?
Y-YES-- IT S-SOUNDED LIKE THAT TREE WAS TALKING TO US!

IT WASN'T THE TREE, BOYS-- IT WAS ME!
WELL, I'LL BE-- IT'S MR. MERLIN!

OAKY, I'VE COME TO ASK YOU TO DO ME A FAVOR--
GEE! SURE, MR. MERLIN--

I WANT YOU TO FIND THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH--
THE FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH?

MEAD'S fine BREAD

HEY, YOU JUST A MINUTE--WE HAVE A LITTLE MESSAGE FROM A JUDGE ADDRESSED TO "DOCTOR" OLIVER
THIS IS A WARRANT FOR YOUR ARREST FOR PRACTICING MEDICINE WITHOUT A LICENSE
BUT, GENTLEMEN, THIS IS A MISTAKE
THAT'S WHAT THEY ALL SAY
OUR JOB IS TO BRING YOU IN--YOU CAN EXPLAIN THE MISTAKE TO A JUDGE AND JURY
I WILL OFFER NO RESISTANCE-- AFTER ALL YOU GENTLEMEN ARE MERELY DOING YOUR DUTY
OH, HANNA... LOOK! TWO POLICEMEN ARE TAKING MR. OLIVER TO JAIL!

ANNIE ROONEY

SEE, CAPT. YOU MEAN THAT I AM GOING TO BE SHOTIN' 'TIL I DIE FOR SMOOTIN' THAT TORPEDO? I'LL NEVER FORGIVE MYSELF, JUST IN THE SAME!
I'M JUST BURNIN' UP TO DO SOMETHIN' TO HELP MY COUNTRY-- IF I WAS HOME, I'D KNOW JUST WHAT TO DO-- TO COLLECT WASTE PAPER--
"AN' THINGS 'N' GORRUBBY NEEDED AN' TO HELP MY COUNTRY-- I'VE GOT TO BUY UNITED STATES DEFENSE BONDS!"
I'VE BEEN HEARD OF YOU SAYING THAT, DICKIE! BUT YOU'VE GOT TO HELP YOUR COUNTRY, RIGHT NOW?
...I'D SAY... SOLD, SIR!

SCORCHY SIMTIE

THE SLIMY CREATURE! SCORCHY, BRINGING WHAT DID HE DO TO YOU?
SCORCHY! HE STILL! YOU'RE HURT!
I DON'T THINK SO... I DROPPED JUST AS HE SHOT AND MY HEAD HIT THE GROUND! KNOCKED ME OUT!
I'D ALMOST SAY IT WAS WORTH IT TO WND UP LIKE THIS!
BUT HE HADN'T A MINUTE TO LOSE! GET ME OUT OF THIS STRAIGHT-JACKET, YEAH, AND LET'S GET THE FOSSE MOVING!
FOSSE! ARE YOU DELICIOUS?

...and Electric Power is Speeding the Output of Workers!

Behind every American fighting unit, behind every tank, airplane, ship, jeep and truck are hours of work by American factory workers whose output is multiplied and speeded by electric power. Because of the power of government, factories were ready and able to produce war goods in a real job when the supreme test came. Providing power to these industries and churches, hospitals, schools and homes is the job of Texas Electric Service Company. C. S. BARNETT, Manager
