

LYNX

against Stratford just two weeks ago. Both WT and Panhandle are 6-1 on the year.

Spearman has had its own problems in building a 4-1-1 record, being upset by supposedly weaker teams in Sunray and White Deer. And, they have yet to face the calibre team such as West Texas will field Friday evening.

Running out of a slot I offense, the Comanches come into the season ranked fourth in the state of Texas among class AA teams.

Last year they finished as district runner-ups and, with the win over Panhandle, have perhaps the best shot at taking the 1-AA crown if they can get by Spearman.

Following the game against the Lynx this Friday, the Comanches will play Gruver and finish regular season play with an open week.

Defensively, West Texas runs out of a split-6 formation which has proven more than effective for the Comanches from Stinnett.

Bolstered by the addition of players from Phillips and Plemons in a 3-way school district consolidation, West Texas has proven formidable, boasting as much size as the Lynx have gone up against this year.

Leading the offense for the Comanches is 3-year starter Clayton Smith, a 165-pound senior who has proven an excellent all around athlete.

They are further bolstered by returning All State tight end Chad Willimon, a 205-pound senior who has played varsity now for four years and who had made all district three of those.

Running out of the tailback slot will be Casey Boyer, a 170-pound senior who is as good a running back as the Lynx have seen all year long. Boyer also plays linebacker on defense.

The Comanches like the I formation because of fullback Cory Lynch, a 190-pound junior who provides solid blocking when he's not carrying the ball himself.

Adding speed to the Comanche backfield and trading out time with Boyer is Tucker Stroud, a 145-pound junior tailback who provides WT with a strong outside running threat and a player who can breakaway from any spot on the field.

Their defense is anchored by Billy Delung, a 180-pound junior linebacker who has proven devastating to opposing offenses when he blitzes.

There are no easy answers for the Lynx throughout the remaining district contests. In order to make the post-season fray, they must win their remaining games.

A loss to either West Texas or Panhandle could eliminate Spearman from even a shot at the runner-up spot.

Panhandle plays White Deer this week, then will host Spearman the next week and will end regular season play against Gruver.

West Texas has only to get by Spearman before meeting Gruver and finish regular season play with an open date.

Their post-season fates lie firmly in their own hands and the Lynx will have to be in their best frame of mind and will have to utilize their abilities to the maximum to attain the goals they set out for themselves in 1987.

VOTERS

published by the League of Women Voters. Information is non-partisan and factual, gathered from a variety of sources.

The guide is a basic source to shed light on issues addressed in each amendment.

First on the list is a constitutional amendment that provides for the surety from public funds of a fund to protect farmers and others who deposit grain in public warehouses.

The Legislature would be permitted to guarantee a self-insurance fund up to $5 million. Money for the fund would be deposited by grain-buying and grain storage operators.

Arguments for the amendment point out that state and federal regulations require storage companies to provide insurance coverage for their customers and the premiums have become unaffordable.

Proponents of the amendment claim its passage would allow the Legislature to authorize the fund, thereby providing Texas farmers with grain storage at an affordable price.

On the other hand, says the anti-amendment faction, the state should not be called on to provide surety for industries that become poor insurance or bonding risks.

There is nothing in the amendment to provide for oversight of the fund to eliminate abuse, a negative say opponents.

However, with such a fund, elevator and storage companies could obtain the needed bonding, assuring their customers of reasonable storage prices and insurance.

Amendment Two on the ballot testing her talents in a wide variety of fields -- and it would appear that her talents have been passed on to her two daughters as well.

"My oldest daughter's son has a great deal of talent," Doris remarks. "This past summer he came up and we sketched alongside the road and he enjoyed that a lot...so did I."

She attributes her talents to her mother and Doris notes that she has two sisters who also enjoy painting. In fact, one sister has had art shows in and around Lubbock for some time now.

But her active pace is something she enjoys as much as her painting.

would have no effect on the Panhandle of Texas but has a great deal of interest in heavily populated areas.

The amendment would allow rural fire prevention districts to assess an ad valorem tax to a maximum of six cents per $100, on approval of voters.

The amendment would permit additional revenue to be raised through taxation for such districts to provide adequate fire protection say those in favor.

Negative reaction from opponents is based on economics and a belief that such districts could contract at cheaper rates.

Amendment Three on the Nov. 3 ballot has significant meaning to a particular segment of the population. It proposes to limit school tax increases on the residence home-stead of a survivor's spouse if that spouse is at least 55 years of age.

Purpose of this amendment is to extend protection against school ad valorem tax increases on home-steads that have the 65 or older exemption, as long as the surviving spouse continues to reside in the property.

Those in favor of the amendment believe that the 55 age cutoff is justifiable while opponents argue that it gives special consideration to homeowners age 55 to 64.

The ballot's Amendment Four issue would authorize the Legislature to provide assistance to encourage economic development in the state.

The Texas Constitution now contains specific prohibitions against providing public funds for private purposes, but the amendment would permit the Legislature to foster programs.

Entities wishing to take advantage of special programs would be required to get approval of voters before issuing bonds for any project, a strength of the proposal, say those in favor.

Arguing against the amendment are those who believe the scope is too broad and that there is danger in the attempt to circumvent constitutional provisions now in force.

Amendment Five is lengthy and applies, primarily, to high population centers where turnpikes, toll roads and toll bridges might be feasible.

Approval of the proposal would allow the state highway department to make agreements with the Texas Turnpike Authority and for toll facilities.

One of the arguments in favor of the amendment is that using bond

Opponents of the amendment claim that the ballot language is

FRED ISN'T MUCH OF A GAMBLER — HE LOST $37.50 IN THE ICE MACHINE

The hot topic nowadays is finance. Everybody is trying to second guess the stock market. That's because the answer to the first guess is "guess again."

Reminds me of the pile of human bones discovered in a secluded area. No foul play, death appeared to have been by natural causes. The victim was finally identified and at the same time declared official winner of the 1948 hide-and-seek contest.

I feel sort of like that guy when it comes to financial investments. The bust times don't worry me. I lost everything in the boom.

Most people get their advice from people like H. Ross Perot. My brokers name was C. Will Cheatham.

I would have been better off listening to Mother Teresa.

At least I would have given my money to poor, wretched souls.

Some of my relatives could have benefited.

All my relatives could have benefited.

Instead, C. Will Cheatham lived up to his reputation. He advised me to invest in a foreign car firm. I got 100 shares of Chrysler of Cambodia, Ltd.

The Ltd. stands for "Liberate their dough."

My broker just won the Johnson Grass Award for 1987, named after a dull type of hay.

I asked how he learned inside trading secrets and the dark side of economics. he said he went to night school

He wonders about things like the cause and effect of bear and bull markets and if Darwin's birthday should be a religious holiday for apes.

Of course, he would be the first one to admit his faults if he thought he had any.

I mean the man is dense. he goes around giving investment seminars to hospital patients. What a rotten thing to do to people already in pain.

Speaking of pain -- as I look at my modest, but pathetic, portfolio of investments -- I am filled with emotion. The same kind of emotion I get from an IRS audit.

So, unless you are an expert on Wall Street, my advice is to stay out of the stock market. I stood on the edge of an echo canyon. Everybody else who yelled "Hello" got an answer. "Hello, Hello, Hello," I yelled. "Dow Jones," the answer came back. "Jump, Jump, Jump."

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Top Texas politicians continued their early display of interest in the 1988 and 1990 elections, with some interesting moves occurring last week, including:

- Vice President George Bush unveiled his Texas presidential committee and appears to have locked up the support of most Texas Republicans, including all three '86 gubernatorial candidates.
- Former Democratic Gov.

Mark White said he might try to retake the Governor's Mansion in 1990, but wants to concentrate first on paying off a $1 million campaign debt and getting a Democrat into the White House, and,

- The three railroad commissioners, unable to elect a chairman, announced they would be rotating the gavel with each taking monthly turns.

Bush Supporters

Bush listed Gov. Bill Clements' wife, Rita, and Kent Hance, one-time Clements opponent, as co-chairs of his Texas organization. The announcement was made by former Congressman Tom Loeffler, also a Clements opponent in 1986.

The list named all six Texas GOP state senators and 46 of 56 GOP House members.

For the record, the governor remains neutral, but the fact that his wife has signed on to co-chair Bush's Texas team speaks for itself.

Republican Unity

As Texas heads toward the Super Tuesday primary, less than six months from now, the Texas Republican Party is demonstrating unprecedented strength and unity, as exemplified by the Bush team.

In contrast, Texas Democrats appear more interested in fighting amongst themselves, and divvying up the spoils of the 1990 election, despite the number of Democratic presidential aspirants who come to Texas seeking votes and contributions.

Since no Texas Democrat is running for president, it is understandably excusable that Democrats cannot match the Republican posture of unity while the GOP rallies around Bush, its adopted Texan. But the Democrats' internal feuding, fueled by ambitions, grudges, jealousies, and overtones of party disharmony, now smells in public.

In short, with Super Tuesday, top Texas Democrats appear more concerned with their own individual whims than with the opportunity of using the super primary to advance their state.

Among the Neighbors

By Helen Fisher

Butch "Jack" Lasater is recovering at the home from severe burns received a week ago Sunday.

He was having some difficulty with his truck between Stinnett and Sanford Dam and was priming the carburetor with gasoline when it was blown onto his clothing and ignited.

He was taken to Amarillo High Plains Baptist hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Brad Beedy flew to El Paso on Sunday to greet their newest granddaughter, Kyle and Shelley Beedy are the parents of Ashley Hope.

She arrived at 9:08 A.M. weighing 6-pounds and 4-oz. and 19-inches long, and is the first child of the Kyle Beedys.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Brad Beedy, Spearman, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hinton of Dumas.

Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lew bruni, Stratford, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy, Floydada.

Jimmy and Phyllis Kirkland were in Leveland this weekend to attend the Scholars' Luncheon at South Plains College.

This is attribute luncheon given to honor a group of students for outstanding academic and leadership abilities and achievement.

One of the recipients of the honor was Brent Kirkland, their son. He is a freshman and is attending on a Smallwood Academic scholarship.

Micheal and Martha Moeder, pastor of the Church of Christ of Auburn, Ne. is visiting in Spearman this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt biles are hosting the couple, although they are visiting a number of members of the local congregation.

The Auburn church is a mission church of the Spearman Church of Christ.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gosner of Farmington, N.M. and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Nichols of Granite Shoals, Tx. are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Schumann this week.

The ladies are sisters and, needless to say, there is considerable conversation.

Coming by to greet the guests on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Craig Schumann and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Pipkin and families.

A Sunday evening dinner was the birthday observance for Allen Varnon in their home last week. Those enjoying the evening, other than the Varnons and their family, were the Gregg Purcells of Stinnett, The Richard Gaines and the Owen Pendergrafts.

THE SPEARMAN REPORTER

Raymond Sparks is back at home now recuperating from surgery at High Plains Baptist hospital.

Freeman Barkley brought him home last Friday, assisted by amateur nurses -- Elsie Mathews and Jane Meek. He will be confined to his home for awhile and welcomes visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Day spent a few days last week in Midland. They were visiting her mother.

Donita and Danny James and children spent the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Greene. The James live at Childress.

A belated birthday for Darlene Howell was the occasion for a pizza supper on wednesday evening.

Those attending were the Phil Jenkins, Owen Pendergrafts, John Pattersons, Raymond Kirks, W.E. Sparks, and Maudine Patterson, Wesley Jenkins and the honoree.

Darlene indicated that it was her 39 birthday -- again.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bailey and family enjoyed weekend guests, her mother, Mrs. Edna O'Neal of Pampa spent the entire weekend. His Parents, Jap and Alice Bailey of Mobeetie, came over Sunday.

The Jap Baileys are retired and live on their ranch near Mobeetie. They have fond memories of coming to Spearman more than 20 years ago when they were members of the Rolling Plains Mule Train.

They made several long trips with it and those trips are among the most pleasant in Johnny's memories.

The Baileys also visited old friends while here, among them the Earl Rileys.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Pendergraft attended the monthly meeting of the Wheat Belt good Sam Association at Cimmaron, Kan.

They went by Tyrone and picked up Mrs. Lillian Ottway and Mrs. Vera Gray at Ulysses, Kan.

On Sunday following their return, the George Colwells stopped by for an overnight stay. They were enroute from Steamboat Springs, Co. to Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Fewell, Ernestine Gray and Wilma Lackey returned Monday from an interesting trip into the Ozarks in Missouri and Arkansas. They report perfect weather and beautiful foliage.

They attended the Passion Play at Eureka Springs, and the Shepherd of the Hills and other attractions at Branson.

They also visited in Mt. Vernon, Mo. with John and Becky Roller, former residents of Spearman.

Getting the VIP treatment befitting an only granddaughter, Little Katie Michelle Sherlock was the center of attention during the weekend.

Both sets of Grandparents from Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cline and Mr. and Mrs. Gail Sherlock, as well as Aunt Debbie and Kirk Ryan from Grand Prairie were guests in the home of the Gary Sherlocks over the weekend.

It has been a notable week for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dossett. Their son, Buddy and Becky Dossett of Harling, Tx. flew in to help them observe their 55 wedding anniversary on October 15.

It was a quiet observance, but they are grateful for the opportunity. Lawrence and Sarah were married in Las Vegas, N.M. in 1932 and moved to Spearman in 1933. Their two sons, Buddy and Bernard, and daughter Diane were born and raised here.

On Sunday both families drove to Pampa to the 50 wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tinsley, who are the parents of Becky.

On thursday and Friday, Mr. Dossett's nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Dossett of McPherson, Kan. visited them. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Frantz.

At this writing family members report that Lois Gibner is still

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1987 undergoing tests with nothing definite to report.

She is in I.C.U. in High Plains Baptist Hospital where she was taken Friday from Ochiltree General Hospital

Revival services begin Sunday at Union Church

Evangelist Troy Boulware will be the guest of the Union Church in revival services beginning Sunday and running through next Wednesday.

Sunday services will be at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. with week day services at 7 p.m.

Troy Boulware is from Webb City, Mo. He is a graduate of Evangel College in Springfield, Mo. and Midwest Bible Institute in Houston, Tx.

He also has attended Christ for the Nations Institute; Southern Arkansas University; and West Texas State University.

Thousands of people across America, Honduras, and even Haiti have received this young man's message of Help, Hope, and Heaven.

Pastor Steve Rogers extends an invitation to attend these special services. A nursery will be provided.

Land owners urged to cover abandoned wells

Imagine walking across a field and suddenly finding yourself plunging feet first down an abandoned or unplugged irrigation well. With attentions still focused on the Jessica McClure incident in Midland, little imagination is actually required.

And the possibility is very real, says Ned Turner, Hansford county

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1987

Water District board member. Turner estimates that on the Texas High Plains alone, some 75,000 large-capacity irrigation wells have been drilled since the late 1930's. Many of these wells have been abandoned or currently are not in use.

Those that have not been properly plugged or capped pose a serious safety hazard for animals, children and adults.

They also provide a direct conduit for possible contamination of the Ogallala aquifer.

State law and water district rules require such wells to be covered at all times, Turner notes. A well is considered an open hole even when the pump has been pulled for repairs.

Wells are considered properly covered when the cap can support 400 pounds and extends at least three feet into the casing.

The surface should be large enough to assure the hole remains covered if the cap is shifted to the side.

NEWS FOR INVESTORS

Money Myths That Miss

There are two myths about investing that could cost you money.

- One is that it takes a lot of money to invest.
- The other is that investing is expensive.

One of America's largest groups of volunteers is dedicated to helping individuals start successful investing programs with little money and at little cost. Known as the National Association of Investors they have persuaded a group of corporations to make their stock available in a program where individuals can buy stock on the installment plan for as little as $20 a month.

To make things even better the corporations in most cases have agreed to pay the commissions so all the investor's money is invested and none of it is required to pay expenses.

Investing a sum of money regularly over a long period of time as this program makes possible is considered one of the soundest and most profitable ways of investing. It's a method called dollar-cost-averaging by professionals and is used by both skilled and unskilled investors.

As word of this easy, cost-saving investing plan gets around, thousands are taking advantage of it. For a free brochure, write: Department L.C., National Association of Investors, P.O. Box 220, Royal Oak, Michigan 48068.

One-third of the people in the U.S. — particularly those living in or near any major city — are breathing polluted air. The solution could be a natural: natural gas.
