The Spearman Classroom Teachers' Association (CTA) sponsored its annual dinner honoring the Spearman Independent School Board members, school teachers and employees on Tuesday, April 18, in the high school cafeteria.

Outgoing CTA President Dwayne Mitchell reported approximately 140 guests at the banquet, including several retired S.I.S.D. teachers. "The entire staff of all three schools is also invited to this annual event," Mitchell said, "and the main order of business is thanking the school board members for their service and giving out special service pins to teachers and other school employees who have been working for five, ten, fifteen or more years."

Allen Alford, current business manager for the Spearman schools, was recognized for his 30 years of service. Alford has spent his entire career as a professional educator in the S.I.S.D., beginning as a fifth grade teacher in 1958. In 1963, he assumed the position of elementary principal, which he left last spring to become business manager for the school system. Alford was given a special 3-year pin with a diamond stone, inscribed with the words "Service and Loyalty."

The Spearman Classroom Teachers' Association (CTA) announces a "Meet the Candidates" Forum to be conducted Thursday, May 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The purpose of this forum is for voters in Spearman to meet the seven candidates on the election slate for the Spearman Independent School Board. This election will take place on Saturday, May 6 at the high school.

The seven candidates vying for the three school board positions include three incumbents: Tom Latta, Dennis Nelson, and Charles Shieldknight. The four other candidates are: Carolyn Gresset, Linda Jarvis, Randy Kirk and Craig Schumann. School board members serve a three-year term once elected.

Each candidate will have the opportunity to present his or her platform of ideas at the May 4 "Meet the Candidates" Forum. The Forum is open to the public.

The school board election will follow on May 6. Voters can come to the high school to cast their ballots between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. on election day. School board election results will be announced on Radio Station KRDF later that evening after the polls close. Absentee voting can be done in the business office at the high school between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. from now until May 2.

Round-Up for pre-schoolers announced

Spearman Elementary School will be having Pre-School Round-Up for next fall's kindergartners on Thursday, April 27, 1989. All 59 pre-enrolled kindergarten students and their parents are invited to this special day.

Children will spend their Round-Up time in the kindergarten classrooms while their parents attend a meeting with Mr. Gage, elementary principal. This year there will be two Round-Up sessions for the first time. Parents received letters in the mail explaining which session to attend with their child and enclosing a colored name tag the child should wear to Round-Up.

Children who will be morning kindergartners in the fall will attend Round-Up with their parents from 9 a.m. to 10:15 a.m. on April 27. Morning kindergartners have birthdays after Dec. 1, 1983. Children who will be afternoon kindergartners next fall, who have birthdays before Dec. 1, 1983, will attend Round-Up from 1 p.m. to 2:15 p.m. that same day.

"We went to the two-session approach this year as the meeting won't be so big and last so long," Gage explained. "The teachers Lance Swan (left) broke the district meet record in discus at Panhandle with a throw of 175'. Matt Tucker (right) set a shot put record at the district meet with a throw of 60'5 1/4". These boys will participate in the Regional Meet at Abilene on April 28 and 29.

will have fewer children at once in the classroom, too."

The goal of Pre-school Round-Up for prospective kindergartners is to acquaint children with the teachers, classrooms, school building and other personnel such as the principal, school nurse and speech teacher. Paula Butler, kindergarten teacher, said the in-classroom activities will include "reading stories, reciting nursery rhymes and doing some coloring."

Parents of pre-kindergartners will meet personnel and have the opportunity to ask questions and express concerns to Gage and other school personnel.

Caboose comes home to Spearman

by Clementine Renner

As I recall it was 22 years ago--1967--that I became an adult. I wondered who would want me to work for them.

It was not long before I saw men looking at me and asking questions. This was an indication I would soon have a job. And, sure enough, I was chosen by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad. I proudly displayed their name and was given the number 999156.

I was young and anxious to see the United States. This I surely did. I traveled thousands and thousands of miles from Coast to Coast enjoying every minute of it. My bosses were kind to me.

The years passed by so quickly because I was happy and doing a good job. But, like everything else, there comes a time when we must give up and settle for retirement. I was not alone. We all had to go. A caboose was just not needed anymore.

I retired in San Bernadino, Calif. One day I was told I was needed to complete a Santa Fe complex together with a depot and stationmaster's house already located in the Texas Panhandle. I thought about it for awhile and realized I had been there. I would enjoy renewing my friendship with the depot and becoming acquainted with the stationmaster's house. I asked to go to Spearman, Texas and was given permission. In a short time I was ready to go and started out. I rested several days in Amarillo.

But, to my surprise, instead of proceeding to Spearman, I was on my way south to Brownwood. It had been a mistake.

Once more I was headed back north to the Panhandle. However, I had to lay over in Shattuck to wait for a train going to Spearman. This time I made it, arriving in Spearman on March 16. It was good to be back. The Stationmaster's House Museum Committee welcomed me and promised within a month they would have a permanent place provided for me. In the meantime, a gracious lady--Catalina Espinosa--removed the smoke film from my walls and ceiling. Now I am showing off my light green color. She did a good job. To cap it all off, I had a steam bath on the outside. I am proud.

On the gorgeous afternoon of April 16, volunteer employees of Baker-Taylor gently lifted me up with two winch trucks and a fork lift. I was swinging in space. When I arrived at my destination, people had gathered around with cameras of all descriptions. It was quite a sight.

The track had been prepared as promised by three men of the Museum Committee. It was beautiful and I knew I was at home with friends in the great State of Texas, in Spearman and in the Panhandle. Already, people are admiring me and I look forward to a lasting friendship.

I am now resting on the B W and R Railway--initials of the three men--(namely, Irwin Boyd, J.D. Wilbanks and Gus Renner) who had prepared my final resting place. I am happy again. Come see me! I extend a Texas welcome.

WTSU hosts teacher jobs, career fair

The West Texas State University office of career planning and placement will host a Teacher Job Fair Monday, April 24 in the Activities Center Ballroom. Representatives from more than 90 school districts and four states will be available from 2-6 p.m. with information and applications.

"The job fair is extremely important to area teachers this year because of the budget cuts in Amarillo," Gene Parker, director of career planning and placement, said. "They are having to cut several million dollars out of their budget, and of course the biggest expenditure of any district is personnel."

"Anyone looking for a teaching position, whether it be entry level, relocation or because of a layoff, needs to take advantage of this excellent opportunity."

According to Parker, individuals seeking employment at the job fair should bring multiple copies of their resume and should dress as if attending an interview.

The Teacher Job Fair is open to the public.

For more information, contact the office of career planning and placement at 806-656-2345.

Diseases can be reduced by diet

Individuals can substantially reduce risks of heart disease, cancer and other chronic diseases through specific changes in eating habits, according to a national report released recently.

Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said a National Research Council committee has offered this prescription for lowering chronic disease risk:

-Eat less fat and more fruits, vegetables and carbohydrates. Sweeten said the committee, which included Texans, completed its three-year study earlier this month.

The report complements the Surgeon General's Report on Nutrition and Health released last year, and is the only other comprehensive scholarly attempt to examine simultaneously all known dietary associations with chronic disease in an attempt to provide recommendations for reducing health risks.

Sweeten said the committee recommended that the public:

-Reduce total fat consumption to 30 percent or less of calories, saturated fatty acids to less than 10 percent of calories, and cholesterol to less than 300 milligrams daily.

-Eat five or more servings of a combination of fruits and vegetables, especially green and yellow vegetables and citrus fruits. Also, eat six or more servings of starches and other complex carbohydrates daily to bring total carbohydrates to more than 55 percent of calories.

-Maintain only a moderate intake of protein. Meet the Recommended Dietary Allowance (RDA) for proteins each day, but in doing so do not exceed 1.6 grams per kilogram of body weight, which is twice the RDA guideline.

Sweeten said the committee report advised people to balance their food intake and physical activity to maintain appropriate body weight.

"Individuals will need to devote more time and attention to their daily diets, and professionals will need to provide guidance to the public in diet planning," she said.

The Allen brothers, land speculators who founded Houston, encouraged Sam Houston to establish the capitol of the new republic in their own town. Houston "was, predictably, enchanted with the idea of a capitol city named after himself." The Allen brothers even promised to build the capitol at their own expense, so Houston City was named capitol of Texas in late 1836. The first boatload of goods headed for Houston was brought up Buffalo Bayou in January 1837 by New Orleans merchant Frank Lubbock. He missed the site entirely and continued upstream until he ran out of bayou. He backtracked until he found the landing, which turned out to be a narrow path leading up the bank. When the first legislature convened in May, 1837, the capitol was still unfinished and carpenters lashed tree branches to the roof for shade.

McWhirter honored

At the annual White Violet awards banquet of the Baylor chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha held Saturday, April 8, at the Brazos Inn in Waco, Miss Kellie McWhirter of Spearman was named Most Active Pledge for the 1989 Spring pledge season.

Chosen from the group of 54 pledges, McWhirter received this honor because of her active participation in all pledge activities while working part-time and still maintaining her 4.00 grade average. During the banquet, the new initiates performed a program entitled "Sing Out." McWhirter also served as co-chairman for that program.

McWhirter is a 1987 graduate of Spearman High, and the daughter of Steve and Sheri Benton of Spearman and Lloyd McWhirter of Denver, Colo. Mr. and Mrs. Benton attended the awards banquet, and were very pleased to see Kellie receive the honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy D. Brown announce the engagement of their daughter, Qynn-Marie Brown, to Michael Anthony Lopez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lopez, Sr. The couple plans to be married July 8 in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Miss Brown and Mr. Lopez are both graduates of Spearman High School. Mr. Lopez is now attending Texas Tech University in Lubbock where he is majoring in Physical Education and plans to graduate in 1992. Miss Brown works at the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office in Tele-Communications.

Poultry industry to present new products

Look for 1989 to bring an array of new poultry products aimed at consumer "convenience."

"Convenience" seems to be the driving force behind the success of many food products, and poultry products are certainly no exception, said Dr. David B. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Ease of preparation, microwaveability, finger foods and grazing are terms that seem to go with successful new products," Mellor said. "Of course, it also helps for those products to be economical, nutritious and versatile."

According to Mellor, the turkey and broiler industries have been forerunners in providing innovative food products to consumers, and that trend is likely to continue in 1989.

"Look for some new products as well as adaptations of present products, such as making a product microwaveable or adding the flavor of mesquite, lemon or honey," said the specialist.

Mellor said that certain new products may come from ideas or systems that were introduced in 1988. These include egg white as a fat substitute, an ultra high temperature pasteurized aseptic package, liquid egg and a process for removing most of the cholesterol from liquid egg yolk.

"The poultry industry is continuing to work on two negative forces--cholesterol and Salmonella would likely boost individual brands or products and, at the same time, would chalk up another 'plus' for the poultry industry."

While convenience is a major force in the success of new poultry products, profitability is a key consideration for retailers, said Dr. Richard Edwards, an Extension economist.

"Most poultry and egg items do not carry a high profit margin," Edwards said. "Therefore, they have to fight for that most precious commodity, shelf space. Over each of the last two years, manufacturers have introduced more than 9,000 items a year which have had a fight for shelf space. Many of these offerings have a life of less than six months."

So, convenience of the new product must be tempered with a dash of economic reality as well, said the economist.

Town and Country Extension Homemakers met April 18 in the home of Jeanie Laughlin.

President Darrie Francis called the meeting to order. Delinda McLaughlin gave the devotional.

Janie Kunselman reported on the District TEHA Meeting, which was held in Dumas.

This week's program was given by Dixie Smith, on "What is Dietary Fiber."

After the program, members then painted note pads, that Charles McIver cut out.

Those who attended were: Darrie Francis, Annetta McIver, Laura Mackie, Janie Kunselman, Jeanie Laughlin, Dixie Smith, Daleyne Baker, Delinda McLaughlin, and Carma Dorton.

The Golden Spread Center is pleased to announce the establishment of The Clay Gibner Endowment Fund. The fund was created through the generosity of the late Clay Gibner by a bequest from his estate, in addition the bequest was matched in loving memory of Clay by his family.

The fund will be administered for the benefit of the Golden Spread Center by the Amarillo Area Foundation, a non-profit organization which administers numerous similar funds, both in Amarillo and throughout the Panhandle. The Foundation invests the money in the fund and distributes to the Center only the earnings of the fund, retaining in perpetuity the principal. In this way, Clay's endowment, as well as the matching gift of his family will continue always to give support to the Golden Spread Center.

The Golden Spread Center members and Board of Directors want to thank the Gibner family for this most generous and meaningful tribute to Clay. This farsighted and thoughtful gift will help enable Golden Spread Center to continue to enrich the lives of Spearman's Senior Citizens perpetually.

A father said, "When you're bad, son, you add another grey hair to your father's head." "Wowie!" cried the boy, "by the looks of Grandpa's head, you must have been a very bad boy."

Badness may not add a grey hair to your father's head, but it will add grief to his heart. Young people, the Bible says, "Honor your father and mother." Father and mother, you must be worthy of their honor. You're their copy book. You're what you make them.

A child isn't likely to find a Father in God, unless he finds something of God in his father.

Every child has a right to God-honoring, Bible-reading, prayer-practicing parents.

Better Hearing Through Professional Care

I'm qualified to help "MAKE THE BEST BETTER"

My name is Linda H. Jarvis and I am a candidate for the Spearman school board. I was born and raised in the Spearman area. I received my high school diploma from Spearman and earned a degree in education from Southern Methodist University. I am married to Britt Jarvis and we live south of Spearman. We have three children. Will and Anne Marie are graduates of Spearman and are attending Texas A&M, and Bonnie is currently a junior at Spearman High School. Because of my life long involvement with the Spearman Independent School District, I want to help our outstanding school system become better.

My family's contact with the Spearman schools began long before I was born. My grandparents and Britt's grandparents were some of the first settlers to come to this area to homestead. They worked hard, and devoted a great deal of time, energy, and money to establish some of the early schools in the area. Many of mine and Britt's family have taught either at Holt, before its consolidation with Spearman, or in the Spearman system itself. My parents graduated from Spearman, as I did. My children are or will be graduates of Spearman, and Britt and I have a new granddaughter who we hope will be raised in the Spearman schoolsystem. So, as you can see, I have a deep past, a present, and future interest in making the school of this community, the best that it can be. I would like to continue the family tradition being active in the education of our youth by serving on the Spearman school board.

I have been an active participant in our farming and cattle business. I also hold office in other family enterprises. I feel that I have enough business background that I will be able to understand and contribute to the business duties of a board member. I also feel that having a degree in education gives me some insight to the "Other side" of education. I am familiar with the parenting side, having reared or nearly reared three children.

Education is a "hot" issue right now, every where you turn articles are available. Barbara Walters had a recent special. There is an article in April 17, "Newsweek". There have been numerous articles about how our students don't measure up to the Japanese. Whether we like it or not, an education revolution is at hand. If we at the grass roots level are willing to work, we have an opportunity to shape the change. I do not feel that the answer lies in longer hours or school all year round, but in developing a desire to learn and a thirst for knowledge. Educators do not know at this point how soon or how widespread the change will be, but there will be change.

I would like to work and study to help our school system stay on top. I have the time, and energy to devote to this project and am not afraid of hard work. Vote for me, LINDA H. JARVIS, May 6, school board candidate.

Among the Neighbors

by Helen Fisher

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cornelius spent a few days last week in California, west of Sacramento at Clear Lake. Now, whether this was their second honeymoon, or just a continuation of their first one, they observed their 50th wedding anniversary while there. Mostly they celebrated by just enjoying the lovely weather, scenery and beach. However, they were delighted with the unexpected arrival of a huge, beautiful basket of fruit sent to them by a friend who remembered. Also they enjoyed the company of a friend since their high school days from Pennsylvania who now lives in San Diego.

Henry and Mary were married on April 8, 1939 at Erie, Penn. They had three children- Dell Rumley, now of Quanah; Edwin of Galveston, and Sam. All finished high school here. Sam, a Major in the Air Force, was lost over Cambodia in June, 1973.

The Cornelius' have five grandchildren. Henry is retired from Diamond-Shamrock where he was production superintendent for many years.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Harbour have been his sister, Jerry and C.W. Johnson and son Clinton. They are from Lynchburg, Va. and were enroute to Oakland where Clinton has accepted employment with United Air Lines as an airline mechanic.

Other guests of the Harbours for the weekend were long time friends, Alvin and Willa Fay Fitzhugh of Chromo, Colo.

Helen Gibson is back at home now from High Plains Baptist Hospital. Helen, well-known for her thoroughness on any undertaking, always doing more than her share, went in to the hospital for three coronary by-passes but doubled up by having six!

She is recovering but is unaccustomed to be idle and welcomes callers.

Word is received from the Country Reporter that the segment showing the windmills of J.B. Buchanan is tentatively set for April 30, at 12:30 on Channel 7.

The Tri-State High School Rodeo held in Claude this weekend lists the following winners: Clint Patterson 3rd in calf roping and 5th in ribbon roping; Mark Eakin, 8th in calf roping; Marty McCloy, 8th in ribbon roping and 6th in team roping with Randy McIntire.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harruss of Dalhart were guests in the home of their daughter, Karen Babitzki during the weekend.

Karen and Buford are almost settled in their lovely new home at 1100 Walter Wilmet Drive. Part of the pleasure in having a new home is to share it and show it, and Karen and Buford invite their friends to stop by.

On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. R.L. McClellan attended the funeral of her cousin, Chet Nash, in Guyton. Accompanying them were Elaine and Don Floyd of Lubbock, Peggy Culp of Amarillo and Donita Lusby.

Another event occurring on Friday for the McClellans was the arrival of grandsons, Mark and Kevin Madison. Since there was a school holiday in Amarillo, they spent the weekend here. Their parents, Becky and James Madison, were in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Reed and Tatum Rice and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Pearson attended the College Rodeo at W.T.C. at Snyder this weekend.

Hadley Reed, Travis Patterson, Mark Pearson and Bryan Caison all participated. Hadley from Stephenville University placed 2nd in saddle bronc. Bryan, freshman from Clarendon College in team roping, placed 2nd in the average and 3rd in the short go.

An unusual combination of a reunion and get acquainted gathering was that of Verna Jarvis and her cousins on Saturday, April 15 in Spearman. Members of Verna's mothers family had known of the family relation and had had some contact, but many had never actually met.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodville Jarvis hosted the event but due to many other commitments, several were unable to attend.

The day was filled with reminiscences, seeing old pictures, making new pictures and video records and studying genealogy.

In addition to the host couple, others attending - all of Missouri - were Dr. Lawrence and Sarah Graham and son, Larry, Cameron; Bill and Ruth Green, Kansas City; Jeff and Katie Green, Independence; Sam and Myrle Blakely, Fayette; their son, Sammie Blakely, St. Louis.

Local family members were Wesley Jarvis, Holly and Lee and Neil and Carol Pack.

All the neighbors share in the pride of Cecil and Ellen Reynolds when the announcement was made recently that their daughter, Becky Hall, was awarded a scholarship for her excellence at TSTI. She had received a 4.0 average last quarter in her very difficult courses of Laser Technology. Becky attended school here but is now living in Amarillo.

The Reynolds have been enjoying guests from San Diego the last week. Leaving here Monday were James and Sammy McNulty who had visited other relatives and old friends also. They both attended school here and she will be remembered as the former Sammy May.

Another guest of the Reynolds was Katherine Coventry of Salina, Kan., another daughter.

Angela English has mixed feelings about her four weeks visit here with her mother, Betty Pugh, and friends. Angela was enjoying all her associations when she became ill and had to be hospitalized. She was released from Hansford Hospital on Tuesday morning and has had to seek further medical care in Amarillo. Angela reports that she and her husband have been enjoying their

Times have
... but not our spirit!

It took rugged individuals to tame Hansford County and the Panhandle of Texas. Our frontier ancestors arrived to this great land on horseback, prairie schooner, and on foot. Making their homes on the High Plains, they had to overcome a variety of adverse elements. Their independent spirits were often bent, but never broken.

As our Round Up celebration gets underway, we are reminded again of our proud heritage. The heritage lives on via the spirits of freedom . . . the spirit of pursuit . . . the spirit of choice . . . the spirit of try, fail, and try again until we meet our goals. First State Bank encourages everyone to join the Hansford Round Up and the rest of the county in celebrating our proud past and bright future.
