Revival Services At M. E. Church In Progress

Revival services at the Methodist church are being held at 10
a. m. and 8 p. m. daily, with Rev. Orion W. Carter, pastor of the Methodist church of Memphis in charge of preaching services and Rev. Leroy Brown, local pastor, in charge of the choir.

Rev. O. W. Carter

Much need of intensifying interest in the soul winning campaign is evidenced, according to Rev. Brown. Attendance is not what it should be, and interest of christian people must become greater if a real revival can be expected. Rev. Brown said. He handed the Reporter a newspaper clipping that we present below.

It occurs to me that there is a lesson in the experience of Peter and Cornelius which the people and the world need to learn.
They had been far apart, but they came together and forgot their differences. One was a Jew and the other was a Gentile.
One was a centurion in the Roman army and the other was a fisherman who had been lodging with a tanner. Peter was expressing his attitude toward the Gentiles when he said, "I have never eaten anything that is common or unclean." The peoples of our world need to learn what it was that brought them together and see if it is not possible for us to meet where they met.

FEDERAL AID FOR HOPPER WAR IS CUT IN HALF

Information at the office of county agent Joe Hatton received from Washington this week states that the Federal appropriation for the coming war on hoppers has been cut in half. Original figures which called for 1,463 tons of poison for Hansford county revised call for approximately 700 tons. Hansford officials believe the best possible campaign now is to concentrate the campaign on the early extermination of the pest during their hatching period. All wheat producers and ranchers are urged to get their mechanical poison spreaders in shape for immediate use.

Funds available from last year give the hopper committee the money necessary to employ help for location of hopper beds on range land. However, the cattlemen and owners are urged to cooperate to the fullest extent and report any hopper beds that can be located in the county.
Wheat producers must report to committeemen the location of hatching beds on their land.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Jenkins were shopping in Spearman Monday.

and Gruber last year by the above company and the Gruber speaks the popularity of this revolutionary farm implement.

According to the McClellan

troduced for qualifying for the

FOUR CHARGED WITH LIQUOR VIOLATIONS

County officers of Hutchinson and Gray and a state liquor control agent early today arrested four men for alleged violation of the state liquor laws in a raid on a night club near Stinnett.

Deputy Sheriff Dale Lane said that one had two charges levied against him for selling whiskey on beer premises and two charges of selling whiskey on Sunday. Two others face charges to declare their place a common nuisance.

Officers confiscated about two truckloads of beer, wine and whiskey, which they locked in the sheriff's office vault in the county courthouse at Stinnett.

The place, situated near the north boundary of Hutchinson county line was raided about 2
a. m. today, Lane said.

Charges were filed before the county court.

the local Lion membership.

Following the program and banquet several of Spearman Lions stayed over for a stag party held at Mayor W. L.

has been with the Spearman her grades at the State meet showed a straight 'A' with one exception which called for a 'B'.

This is considered outstanding at a state contest.

Letter From Con. Marvin Jones

In response to a telegram from the Spearman Chamber of Commerce asking for information regarding the status of Lake Marvin Jones in Hansford county, Congressman Jones says: "Dear Friends: This will acknowledge receipt of your message of recent date.

As you know, I am very anxious to have the lakes and dams program continued, and recently went before the sub-committee on Appropriations and urged that full provision be made for continuing this program in all the states which constitute the Great Plains Area.

You of course have noticed that there is a disposition to limit the provision for a great many of the activities. This makes the matter more difficult, but you may rest assured that I shall do everything I can to have the program continued, as I feel that economies could better be effected along other lines.

"Thanking you for your interest, and for your thoughtfulness in wiring me, I am, with best wishes, cordially yours, Marvin Jones."

Shall We Fight?

European countries have been tearing each other to pieces for centuries, and will continue to do so for centuries to come. Our participation in the last great war, should be proof to the sceptical that there is nothing we can do to stop their never-ceasing quarrels.

As we all know, another periodic European row is now—and has been for some time—in the making, and may come to a head, or not, depending largely upon our attitude. If we promise to back England and France with our army and navy—there will probably be war. If we promise to help them with arms, money and munitions—there may be war. If we definitely convince the world that we will keep our hands off—there will, in all likelihood, be no war.

There is too much to stake here to allow our feelings of friendship, or our emotions to over-rule our common sense, so let us—as do other nations—look at this matter cold-bloodedly.

England does not weep at the plight of the Czechs nor will she shed tears over the Ukrainians. England worries lest the acquisition of Czech and the Ukraine may make Germany so self-sufficient that that country will become the strongest nation in Europe and thereby shift the so-called Balance of Power which Britain has controlled for so many years.

The talk about Hitler's world conquest is just so much ballyhoo.

What will happen to America if Hitler conquers England and France, one hears on the tongue of the propagandist. The answer is—nothing. For the first place—whether we like to admit it or not—Hitler is a strategist not a fool; and no one but a fool would in his position at-

CONSIDER AMERICA FIRST

In a world so filled with terror and confusion as has been brought about by the steady advance of Germany and Italy toward control of all Europe it is hard for Americans, so far removed from the center of world events, to come to sound and sane conclusions as to what the effect of the world disturbance is likely to be upon ourselves and our nation.

A great variety of opinion as to what we ought to do or ought not to do, is being expressed by statesmen and near-statesmen, in and out of Washington. Our greatest danger is that the idea may take possession of the American people that it is our national duty to go to the help of the 'friendly' nations of Europe if their security is threatened.

There seems little doubt that a great deal of propaganda, emanating from British and French sources, is being set on foot in America to influence public opinion. That is a dangerous thing.

Just that sort of stimulated public opinion got us into the last great war. We came out of it 'holding the bag'. We sacrificed the lives of 50 or 60 thousand young Americans to make the world safe for democracy, and hardly got even a thank you from the peoples and governments we were supposed to be saving.

We lent them billions of dollars, not only for war purposes but for rehabilitation after the war was over, and they haven't even paid us the interest on the debt.

And neither our efforts nor theirs made the world safe for democracy.

There is a lot of tommyrot in

What will be our feelings after the next war when we realize, for the second time, that we have been 'used' again; when our sons return to us, wounded, crippled or dead; when—our country bankrupt and prey to every known 'ism'—poverty and misery become the order of the day in place of the happiness and comfort which are our due. Would we receive the same 'gratitude' as when we 'Saved Democracy' before.

The best way to really save Democracy is to stay at home and protect it in the land which gave it birth, and when the shooting is over in Europe, and havoc reigns supreme, Democracy will stand firm in America to prove to the tottering dynasties of the Old World that Government of the People, for the People and by the People, is the most perfect system of administration yet devised by the mind of man.

Our representatives in Washington will do as we wish them to do, but we must not expect them to be mind-readers. We must write them and tell them what we want.

This Week In Washington

—Almost every move that is made in Congress, practically every action or utterance of the President or any member of the Administration, is carefully calculated in the light of its possible effect on the Presidential campaign of 1940.

Washington lives politics, thinks politics and plays politics all the time, but when the next Presidential campaign less than a year and a half ahead, the political activities at both ends of Pennsylvania Avenue are becoming more and more sharply focussed on the question of who will be the next President of the United States.

There is more political experience and wisdom concentrated in Washington than in any other spot in the world. It is not all confined to politicians, either.

The soundest political judgment on national political issues is that of the five hundred or more special correspondents of the important newspapers and press associations who chief job is telling the folks back home what is going on here, and why.

Most of these correspondents were political reporters in their home cities and states before they came here; many were managing editors of important daily papers. They know politics and political personalities from the ground up, and an honest cross-section of their opinions is the best possible guide to the probable future course of political events.

Your correspondent has lately sounded out a hundred or so of the most experienced and least partisan of the corps of correspondents as to who will be the Presidential nominee of the two great parties, so far as present conditions give indications.

Don't Expect Third Term
All the talk about friendship between nations. No nation has any friends except those which want to get something out of the friendship for themselves. The essence of national interest is and must be self-interest.

Before we even think of taking part in any war except in self-defense we must consider our own interest first. Nobody else will consider them.

There is practical unanimity that President Roosevelt's chance of being re-nominated by the Democrats is growing less. Nobody can be sure that he wants or expects to run for a third term. If he does, and can get the nomination, the best opinion is that he can be re-elected.

The bitterest inter-party struggle in recent political history is going on, more or less behind closed doors, to prevent Mr. Roosevelt's re-nomination, by building up the candidacy of Vice-President Garner.

There are a dozen receptive personalities around whom the beginnings of an organization are being set up; but the combined judgment of the Washington observers who know their way about is that all of those movements will fall to the ground when the Democratic National Convention meets and it is demonstrated that "Cactus Jack" Garner has a block of delegates pledged to him large enough, if not to nominate himself, at least to prevent the nomination of anyone whom he does not endorse.

The Garner boom has come out into the open with the passing of a resolution indorsing him for President, by the Texas legislature. Mr. Garner modestly retired from the presiding officer's chair in the Senate when the Texas resolution was being read, but there is no doubt that it was highly pleasing to him.

Also pleasing to the bush-eyed-browed Vice-President was the recent exchange of letters between the President's son, Elliot, and his brother-in-law, John Boettiger. Elliot Roosevelt, who is now a citizen of Texas, came out in enthusiastic terms in favor of Mr. Garner as his father's successor, while Mr. Boettiger thought his father-in-law ought to run again.

May Choose Candidate
Underlying all the talk about the Garner boom, which seems to be growing rapidly all over the nation, runs the question whether the 70-year-old Texan really wants to run for President himself or to hand his delegates over to the candidate of his choice.

There is still a strong belief that Mr. Garner's real candidate is not himself but Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri. But there is a definite conviction that he is bent on preventing Mr. Roosevelt's re-nomination, or the nomination of any candidate picked by the President, at whatever cost. The consensus of opinion among the experienced political observers here as to the Republican Presidential possibilities is that, as things stand now, that party's best bet is District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

That opinion is based upon Mr. Dewey's record, rather than upon his personality. He has never been in Washington enough to make the personal contacts which enable the correspondents to size up a man's personality and character.

Taft Stands Out
Among the Republicans who are personally known in Washington the belief here is that Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio stands out as having a good chance for the 1940 Presidential nomination. Mr. Taft knows politics thoroughly. He lived in the White House when his father was President and served twelve years in the Ohio legislature, two years as speaker of the lower house.

Since coming here he has disclosed himself as a forceful, incisive speaker with a keen though not boisterous sense of humor, and with an outlook on public questions much more than that of many other in his party.

Circumstances may change the whole outlook, but the Presidential election of 40 looks today like a thing to remember the action of utterance in public office, from Summer of 1940, on, more guarded in the light of or intended effect upon year's Presidential cam

THE TIME HAS COME when winter lubricants in your car should be drained and flushed, and replaced with summer oils and greases.

New Diamond 760 is a solvent-refined oil . . . made by a patented X-TRA process which removes all elements of the oil that might sludge, break down or carbonize in the hotter, higher speed new automobile engines.

Keep 'em CLEAN Keep 'em TIGHT and Keep 'em OILED!

These are the 3 laws that must be observed in running any kind of machinery—if you neglect any one of these LAWS your machinery suffers whether it is a wrist watch, a battle ship, or an automobile.

You can't keep 'em tight, if you don't keep 'em oiled; and you can't keep them properly oiled if you don't keep 'em CLEAN. Of all the different kinds of machinery on the face of the earth, none comes in contact with so much dirt, dust and grime as does your automobile. Stoop down and see for yourself someday, what the underpart of your car looks like after several months of driving. That thick coating of dry grease, sand and grit that you see, is more than likely making for inefficiency, by interfering with lubrication—it is helping to cause excessive wear and overheating of your motor.

New Diamond 760 is an all-petroleum product—free from "dopes." It retains the heat-resisting properties and all of the other superior qualities which made the original Diamond 760 famous. It is, in fact, this former oil now "refined extra fine."

For more efficient and safer lubrication, and for increased gasoline mileage, drain and refill with New Diamond 760. It lasts longer, costs less to use. Sold on a money-back guarantee.

WHY it's "Basin

1939 Krause Standard Basin Digger. Sizes 8-ft. 10-ft. 12-ft and 15-ft.

called a Digger"

Instead Of A Dammer

Because, as the name implies, it Actually Digs a Basin or hole out of the Hardpan from 2 to 4 inches deeper than the Depth being plowed, while a Dammer merely pushes together loose plowed dirt forming dams and Basins above the Hardpan.—WHY A BASIN DIGGER IS BETTER? In digging a hole or basin out of the hard earth below the plowing depth, the first water or moisture caught can immediately begin penetrating the hardpan deep into the subsoil, WHILE moisture caught in basins formed by pushing up loose dirt must soak thru this loose dirt to get to this hard earth. Any farmer can see the logic of this statement as moisture WILL NOT penetrate nearly so deeply in loose dirt or MULCH as it will when it comes in contact with the hard firm earth. — ALSO basins formed by digging holes out of the hard earth will not wash nearly so quickly as basins formed by pushing together loosely plowed dirt.

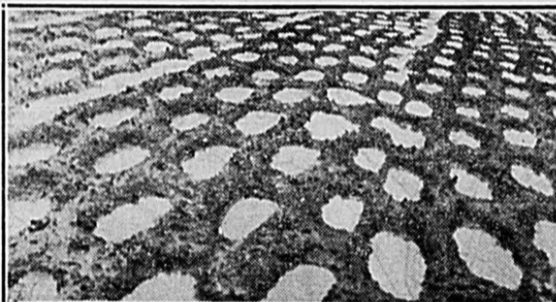

BASIN DIGGER IN ACTUAL OPERATION

BASINS FULL OF WATER

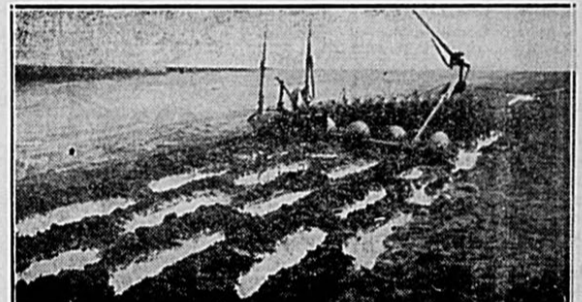

HOLES FULL OF WATER BEHIND PLOW

Basin Digger in actual operation behind one-way plow.

This picture taken last week after 2.30 inches of rain had fallen on land that was just freshlyplowed and dammed.

ELIMINATES MUDHOLES

The basins will hold the rain where it falls and thus prevent it from running off into the low places in your field. This is of special value in rolling or hilly country.

ELIMINATES SIDE-DRAFT

When the Krause Basin Digger is used behind a one-way it eliminates all side-draft because it pulls in the opposite direction. Thus the plow pulls no harder with a basin digger attachment, and in many cases it will actually pull lighter.

STOPS SOIL BLOWING

Every time a basin is dug new dirt is brought to the surface to keep land from blowing. When one part of the field starts to blow after wheat has been sowed the erosion can be easily stopped by running over affected area with the V-type digger.

CAN RUN TRACTOR OVER BASINS

The basins are small enough that a tractor can be run over them without difficulty. A large number of small basins are less expensive to work down and level out. In fact, it is possible by setting the Krause Basin Digger for a narrow basin to drill wheat right over the basins.

FULLY ADJUSTABLE

By adjusting the length of the drawbar and thus changing the slant of the shaft the width of the basins can be changed. As the basins are made wider the dies dig in deeper. Also by sliding the dies on the shaft the basins can be made as close together or as far apart as desired.

GUARANTEE

All parts are guaranteed against defective material or workmanship for a period of 12-months. On both Basin Digger and 1-Way Plow.

CONSERVES MOISTURE

The Krause Basin Digger produces so many small basins that they actually hold as much water per acre as large lister dams. The dams are not formed by pushing together loose dirt, and consequently do not break out during a rain.

1939 Krause V Type Basin Digger (Can be obtained mounted on wheels) Sizes 16 ft, 20 ft, and 24 ft.

USED BEHIND DIFFERENT MACHINES

Not only can Krause Basin Digger be used behind a one-way, but behind any tillage implement except a lister. It has been used with moldboards, cultivators of all kinds, tandem discs, rod-weeders, and many other such machines.

WHAT OWNERS AND USERS SAY

I have three Krause Basin Diggers, and have run each over 1,600 to 2,000 acres of ground and have never replaced a bearing and the bearings are still in good shape—I am very high on Krause Basin Diggers. —Rex Sanders.

I have two Krause Basin Diggers and they proved absolutely satisfactory in every respect—it will cut holes or basins in any ground that a One-Way can plow, regardless of weeds, heavy trash or stubble—I cannot recommend it too highly. —Homer Allen.

I had my land plowed last year after harvest with a One-Way Plow with a Krause Basin Digger attached—As a result I have the best wheat on this land I have ever had—will require anyone plowing my land in the future to use a Krause Basin Digger. —Mrs. Gwenned Lackey.

I used a Krause Basin Digger behind a One-Way on 200 acres of land last year—it did everything I could expect it to do and never gave any trouble in any way. All my neighbors who have Krause Dammers are well pleased with them. —Mearl Beck.

I purchased a New Krause Basin Digger last week and used it on one of my One-Ways. I was using another type dammer on my other one-way on the same land just before the big 2 1-2 inch rain. The land dammed by the Krause caught all the water, while other land dammed lost much of the water. In my estimation there is no other type dammer that will compare with the Krause.—E. E. Walker.

KRAUSE "LIGHT DRAFT" ONE-WAY PLOWS

LIGHT DRAFT

There is no one-way that pulls lighter than the Krause One-Way. Actual tests have shown that it pulls 20 to 30 percent lighter than most one-ways. Here is why: the Krause One-Way is perfectly balanced and the end thrust is equally distributed along the cylinder.

PERFECT BALANCE

The Krause One-Way is perfectly balanced to the center line of draft and the center of ground suction. This eliminates much of the side-draft and reduces pulling weight. Although not a heavy plow, the Krause One-Way will plow hard ground because it depends upon ground suction instead of mere weight to put it in the ground.

EQUALLY DISTRIBUTED END-THRUST

When all the end-thrust is on one rear bearing, any one-way is more likely to kick out of the furrow. That is why the Krause One-Way is designed so that each bearing is an end-thrust bearing, carrying the same amount of weight. With the end-thrust equally distributed along the entire disc cylinder it turns easier and makes pulling much lighter.

Among users of the Krause One-Way it is the general opinion that this plow pulls easier and penetrates hard ground with less weight than any plow they have used.

15-ft., 25 disc Krause One-Way

We have on hand a 15 ft. one-Way and several 12 ft. models. These big plows have the lowest delivered price of any other make of same size. See them at work!

A PROVEN PRODUCT

This plow comes to you as the result of years of experimental work in designing a plow that will meet the varying requirement of the farmer. The KRAUSE ONE-WAY has been manufactured since 1928 in Hutchinson, and hundreds have been sold throughout Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma and Colorado. Wherever the plow has gone it has been sold because of its outstanding merits and because of the excellent work it does.

UNIVERSAL HITCH

One of the reasons why the KRAUSE ONE-WAY is such a universal plow is to be found in the hitch. It can be adjusted to almost any width of tractor and the plow can thus be made to follow perfectly. When you hook onto this hitch you are pulling from the center line of draft and the center of ground suction.

CAN CHANGE SIZE OF PLOW

Here is something about the KRAUSE One-Way you will find to be a real advantage. Any number of disc blades can be removed from the plow to suit the load to your tractor. These discs are slipped off the rear of the disc cylinder and the large rear casting is moved forward on the frame. This makes it possible for you to cut the size of the plow down for heavy plowing and increase the size for light work.

THE EXES

Most of the exes were running around town during the Easter holidays. We, however don't see any use of writing about them.

Since Chester despises publicity, we are not going to mention his many pranks.

We positively refuse to mention Ruby Ruth, Cleo, Frances, and a few others who had a marvelous time at a certain Roy Lee Jones' house Saturday night. Wayne, of course, was another of the alumni there, but he was thinking of his coming date with a beautiful blonde at Goodwell Sunday night so we won't say anything about that either.

Elizabeth Ann wouldn't like it if we said anything about her moonlight tennis games, and since her father is one of the bosses of the Lynx staff well—

R. L.'s dashing personality worked on Polly and Vera Beth better than anyone it seems like it wouldn't be news to say that Louise Linn gets along swell at PAMC cause she always does get along swell.

Some people would think that all the Lynx staff does is snoop if we said R. E. and Perren, the car's a beauty was excelled only by the beauty of the two blonds and a red head it held, or Bill, let by genes be bygone.

We could say that Nolan is interested in one of the girls he had a bad rush on in high school or that there are other members of the alumni set who are quite interested in their ex-girl friend or boy friends.

We could say that Maxine is having a "swellegant" time at Amarillo, but she wouldn't like that, cause she is trying to give the impression that she is going to school to get a business education.

JUNIOR

The juniors finished taking their six weeks exams and are ready to receive their report cards.

The juniors will spend this week and next week decorating the gym for the Junior-Senior banquet, which will be the 22 of April.

We are proud of the showing the band made at Plainview last week. The juniors in the band reported a very good time. Several of the junior boys reported for spring practice.

Some of the juniors will participate in the district meet at Pampa this week end. They are Janelle Womble, Melvin Schell, Estelle Baley, Virginia White, Beuna Vernon and Ledru Jacobs.

Official Routes to The New York World's Fair

NEW YORK—Approved recently by Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York City and Grover A. Whalen, President of the New York World's Fair, this map is designed to be of special use to those motoring to the exposition. A comprehensive system of handling Fair traffic has been developed. Information booths will be found at bridge and tunnel approaches to New York. According to Mr. Whalen, out-of-town motorists will be able to thread their way through the city to the Fair grounds "as easily as they now go from home down to Main Street."

Band Wins First Rating In Plainview Contest

Last week-end the Spearman band went to Plainview and entered in the band contests held there. The Spearman band won a first division rating both in concert playing and marching. This means that the band is eligible to enter the national contest at Abilene which is to be held the last week in this month. All the band members are hoping that the band goes to this contest.

Verna Gale Allen and Totsy Horn both won a first division rating in baton twirling so they are eligible to enter the national contest at Abilene. H. L. Meers won a first division rating playing a cornet in the junior high division. Bruce Douglas and Edward Bradford both won a second division rating playing baritone in the senior high school division.

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

Mrs. Caldwell doesn't think so much of Ernest's new fad and well might she be justified in her opinion, since it is to wear shoes on the head.

I make a motion that A. F. wear bright colored socks in the senior play since he has to remove his shoes.

LOOKING AROUND

Last week the General Science class studied electricity. Mr. Finley is instructor of this group. They also studied dry cells and wet batteries and electric currents. As projects this class connected and tested a dry cell battery. They also made two electric motors.

This week the Science class is studying cells, foods, and vitamins. They are viewing food materials and animal and plant cells under the microscope.

I visited the Manual Training class today and saw the boys working on projects. Among these projects is the walnut piano bench which has been finished and is in the auditorium. Mr. Platt is building a Modernistic walnut end table. Some boys are finishing tall trees, while others are working on end tables.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Ec. 1 girls have been preparing breakfasts. They gave two company breakfasts. At one of the meals Miss Hawkins was guest and at the other Supt. Finley. The families were divided into members such as every family has. There was a father, mother, older girl, a boy about twelve. A small child, and the guest. All of the students in both classes helped prepare the meal. Then they all cleaned up afterwards. We think they were a success and hope we can go home and prepare some just as well. We are going to start preparing luncheons this week.

FIFTH GRADE

—Jean Hill
We completed our English and Spelling six-weeks test Friday. A 99 was made in English and several 98's were made. One 100 was made, one 99 and several 98's in spelling. We have started the study of verbs.

One more six weeks and school will be out. Some are glad and others are not.

We haven't had many visitors and we want some badly. Everyone is making a chart of some kind on white cardboard in Social Science. Robert Heard and Willis Sheets are the first to complete theirs. It is a pretty ranch. We have started some very interesting projects and charts for the spring exhibit.

CHORUS WORKING ON SPECIAL SONGS

The chorus has begun work on songs for the baccalaureate and commencement exercises. The chorus will sing "Prayer Performed" and "Summertime" from the Danube by Strauss. Along with these numbers much time has been spent on "Smiling Through" and several other songs.

SOPHOMORE GRADE

The sophs are taking their 6-weeks test this week. Merrilyn Snider and Emmett Sanders are going to Pampa on the typing team and Vance Prutsman is going in track.

The basketball girls got their jackets Friday. Francis Sheets and Colleen Kelly were the only sophomore girls to letter.

The sophs band members reported a very nice time in Plainview. The sophs are very proud of the band and would like to see them get first place at Abilene.

SAMPLINGS

USING DESPAIR

"Despair lames most people, but it wakes other fully up." The average man in his despair thinks that the world is against him. He gives up entirely. Despair means for most people the very bottom of one's feelings. One has been going down in his own opinion until now he is despairing his lack of energy or whatever it would have taken to succeed.

The man who is most likely to succeed takes his despair and uses it to improve his mental disposition. "All great men at one time know defeat." If a person sees in his despair the chance for improving and the opportunity to improve, he will succeed.

COSTUMES CHOSEN FOR OPERETTA

Miss Gantt and her boys and girls have been getting along very well with their operatta, "Down Among the Fairies." The costumes are almost completed and rehearsals are to continue until April 28, the date of the performance. The operatta will be presented in the high school auditorium and everybody is expected to come, for from what we heard from Miss Gantt and her players, it's going to be a very good operatta.

Spring Football Practice Begins Last Monday

Fourth Grade

The fourth grade is still ining on their unit about New Friday of this week the grade plans to go to Camp visit the museum. The of the fourth grade are ing on the operatta.

making no definite decisions at week-end, it looked like this session will turn pension tax amendment has for weeks. The Senate vote of 21 to 4, engrossed national resolution submitted to the people the question of levying a combination of natural resources finance social security.

two busy nights spent last week, one each two houses. On Wednesday, the Senate passed out and uncontested bills, the House on Thursday passed 63 bills. Veterans' some of the most of this session sometimes during the fast consideration of local and uncontested bills got by Thursday when a measure cut tailor shops from the inspection law got by unanimously.

interesting to note that outstanding critics of O'Daniel of the week of Whartno and Saturday of Cass County, vote. Most of last week for the back was that would raise the legislators to $3,000 a month. The final vote on that bill on the 60. It is in the form of a resolution and is to be voted on by the horse bill is evident for this season, having to muster enough votes to get from being tabled. The change of the pre-administration of the old is being held in abeyance action on the tax. Appropriation bills starting toward the house now, it will be a busy five balance of this session.

Mr. Harrell of the Palms, hopes to get opening week along this time. General Mann, assistant Ben Woodul, in district court asking permission to Attorney Paul Holt Austin loan sharks. At the time, the attorney general plans to start a campaign on Dallas sharks against their lines. The money charged with failure to comply with the state's statute, disregarded money lenders all over the finest and most in Texas a real pioneer old school who has edited his own paper continuously for more than half a century the Hon. J. E. Cooper of Georgetown, publisher of the Williamson County Sun, has the following pointed remarks regarding State politics in his paper this week: "The members of the Legislature were elected in 1938 to enact a pension law, and provide means for meeting the expenses of the State government. They were not elected to pass on a democratic presidential nominee to be selected in 1940. They have no hope of securing the nomination for him, but they went Texas to instruct for him so they can withdraw his name in the national convention at a convenient time and barter the 40 votes of Texas for some anti-New Deal candidate."

"The politicians are trying to use him as a stake in convention manipulations and they think the people are so dumb that they can't see through the scheme."

"Last Tuesday a few members of the Legislature took up about $600 worth of time abusing the Governor for his Sunday morning speech. The time of the Legislature could be better utilized in trying to solve state problems than in listening to harangues from members who have more tongues than brains."

Editor Cooper goes on to add this refreshing comment: "The best speech Gov. O'Daniel has made since commencing his Sunday broadcasts was delivered on Sunday morning last. It was dignified, straight forward, plain statement of his position. He was not dogmatic nor was he unreasonable critical of the legislature or those who oppose him. He did state, in polite language, where he thought the opposition had failed to meet the issues fairly. The governor of the state is entitled to respectful treatment and every citizen, whether agreeing with him or not, should insist that he gets it."

Many other editors over Texas are becoming more like Editor Cooper, expressing themselves as weary of the howling of a few legislators who so far have done little more than vote to increase their own salaries."

It is most interesting to note from various records that the big chain stores with headquarters in New York and other eastern points loom in the background in the fight against the fair-trade and anti-discrimination bills, which have passed the House and are now pending business in the Senate. So much has been printed and published tending to show that big manufacturers are behind the two bills that it is most interesting we repeat, to find the great A & P Co., one of those which also fights for repeal of the Texas chain store law. The Dallas unit of this great chain on March 25th sent out letters to various wholesale firms over the state calling attention to the five members of a sub-committee which has the Pope repeal bill in its hands now, with the idea these wholesalers might help the big chain bring pressure on the committeemen. And these consumers leagues. The south-wide Association of Consumers, headquarters in Dallas, has enlisted leading clubwomen to work for them gratis but many of these women dislike various aspects of the organization and have resigned. Such a league in Houston is headed by a group of clubwomen, some of whom are connected indirectly with a big drug chain. And these consumers leagues make the big howl against allowing a fair-trade law to be enacted to protect the independent druggist and retailer in our small towns all over Texas. Yours, Zeke.

R. V. CONVERSE SAYS.....

It has been said "Your Eyes are the windows to your soul but do not forget your mouth is the front door."

From private information it seems that the feeling among the experts in the Dept. of Ag. is that sooner or later we will have to resort to strict Government control limiting acreage, parity prices to the farmers, a differential subsidy to exporters and still we have those who think we can exist without a program.

There is to be 200,000 dropped from the relief rolls by May first this year, and it is a sad thing to the ones that are dropped, 200,000 added to the unemployed millions to take up the march in search of a job, many men out of jobs make low wages and low wages means scant food for the family this brings sickness and deaths, and this condition makes one wonder if we have gone adrift after the golden calf.

More negroes have been employed by the government during this administration than any other. And yet the trend seems to be back to the Republican column for 1940. There is some fear of the Garner boom among the negroes.

The boys in Austin can not see a transaction tax as anything beneficial. And the day may come soon when the people cannot see that they should return any one so blind to the state legislature.

The war scare in Europe is still acute and with Great Britain and France taking sides with the smaller countries against Germany's expansion. It seems that Germany will have to get along with what she has. This will be hard on the Germans as they need new markets in order to keep themselves employed and when unemployment starts in Germany Hitler's popularity will wane and then it will only be a short time until he will loose his power. Yours, R. V. Converse.

Farm Security Loans Help The Needy

Arguments on behalf of the Farm Security Administration by its officials, meeting recently in Fort Worth were most persuasive at a time when the problem of relief assails the entire country and centers around the cities. These speakers pointed out that the FSA is the last line of defense to stop the rusto f needy persons from the country into the cities.

Poverty in rural communities, when it drives the indigent into the larger centers of population is a double evil. It saps the vitality of people at the source of labor supply and tends to national disintegration pouring into cities an excess of unassimilable saved even when he is considered selfish by the residents of cities.

The emergency aid both to the farmer and to the city, oppressed already with a heavy relief load is obvious. If some skepticism is felt that low-income farmers, even with government loans, can not make a go of it because agriculture is an unprofitable field today even for the smart experienced farmer, such doubts point to another problem that will arise in the future. It hardly could be more serious than the problem that would arise from the overcrowding of cities with relief clients from the country.

Rep. Max Boyer, stated this week that all efforts to repeal the gasoline tax refund law have failed and that little likelihood existed that such a measure would reach the floor of the House. ## NO. 6

There are many things in our day that tend to keep people apart. They are suspicious of each other. The people of one nation feel that the people of another nation cannot be trusted. They are afraid of each other. Nations are arming and are hedging themselves about with fortifications and battle ships. The peoples of the world seem to be traveling roads that are constantly leading them farther apart. That is true nationally; it is true racially, it is true religiously.

The peoples of the world are kept apart by a sense of superiority. There was no common meeting-place for Peter and Cornelius until they got rid of that feeling of superiority.

The peoples of the world are separated by their theories and interpretations. There are political and economic theories that are dividing the world into hostile groups. The relation is strained because the adherents of each theory believe it is the only one which can be trusted for the future and that the others are in opposition to it.

It was in Christ that Peter and Cornelius came together. It was the spirit of his Master that had convinced Peter that God is no respecter of persons. It was to preach good tidings of peace by Jesus Christ that he was in the home of a Gentile. Peter was a new man when he crossed the threshold of the home of that Gentile. Cornelius moved up to the higher level when he invited that Jewish fisherman, who was lodging with a tanner, to come to his home and tell him about the one who went about doing good. —The Front Rank.

Number 8

man begins to settle down and assume some sort of dignity by their report on weather. Most everyone in the country have been claiming credit for the recent excellent moisture...either that or taking up your time telling you how they predicted the rain and snow. For the first time Bruce Sheets comes along with a bit of fiction to the effect that he can tell by the amount of frost that forms on the soda fountain just when and how much it will rain or snow. He declares he only missed the recent moisture .05 inch. Joe Hatton comes back from a trip to the dry country with the claim that he only left so it would rain in Hansford county. Boys it won't work. I tried it for 5 years. Everytime I went fishin we received a gully washer in this county, but never have the wheat producers of this county offered to send me (expenses paid) on a fishin trip.

What a Band...what a director...what band students we have in Spearman. They won most every honor available at the state meeting held at Plainview the past week end ... and now are ready to go to Abilene to win national honors for ole Spearman Hi. The school board has exhausted all the expense money in the budget available to send the band to Abilene. We citizens of Spearman must get behind the band and see that they have the opportunity to make the trip for the national band contest. We are fortunate that the contest will be held so near our county. So far as we can learn this is the first time the National convention has
