By HONEST BILL

Newspaper columns are a habit. If one loses out for a couple of weeks, one loses the habit.

For the past two weeks the revenue of this newspaper has been so low that the number of pages printed were limited to FOUR. . . . Something had to be left out. The comics, cartoons, and "Don't Name It" took the rap.

One thing that might be of some benefit to readers is information about renewing their subscription. Bill Miller of the Reporter represents the Amarillo News Globe as one of their agents for Hansford county. He receives a commission for every subscription he sends in . . . and he is giving this commission to Hansford citizens to apply on their Reporter subscription. Bear in mind however, there are two separate and distinct transactions. The rules of the Audit Bureau will not allow clubbing of these two papers for a combination bargain rate. However, it is none of the audit bureau's business if Bill Miller wants to make a present of his commission to any of Hansford county's citizens.

As the guests arrived, they were served coffee and cookies by Margaret Gross who sat at the head of the table. Betty Ruth McClellan and James Lowe pulled the wagon heaped high with gifts to the bride.

LIBRARY BOARD DIRECTORS CHANGE RULES

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Spearman City Library, held at the city hall Wednesday afternoon, several slight changes in the rules governing the corporation were made. The directors voted to issue a blank card for a maximum rental charge of 25 cents for two months. This will entitle an individual to receive as many books as he or she desires for the rental of 25c for two months. However, only one book can be taken out at that time. The board also decided to allow the present librarian, city manager Robert Douglas the right to issue books to readers in the rural district at a specified rental of 5c per week.

The board accepted with thanks the offer of city manager Robt. Douglas to take care of the checking in and out of books. This leaves the library open every day of the week available to readers and does not limit the days to Saturday and Wednesday, as per the previous arrangements. The board voted to purchase new books this month, and to arrange to purchase as many as 3 or 4 new books each month. A check up on income revealed that perhaps the amount of books purchased will average 3 to 5 per month in the future with large shipments occasionally when some of the sponsor organizations make sizable donations.

R. V. CONVERSE SAYS—

Colby M. Chester of General Foods Corp., made a survey to determine the opinion of the next generation of housewives and released some of the figures. He found that of the women between the age of 18 to 25 years that are single 56 percent choose ice cream and pie for dessert, 54 percent thought 20 to 30 dollars was the minimum on which a couple could get married.

The Treasury Dept., reported that the influx of foreign capital into the U. S. for the first half of this year amounted to over 900 million dollars and was the largest in history. It must be that the foreigners think the U. S. under Roosevelt will be the last one to go into war.

Now that it has rained around Spearman it will be hard to find a man who will not be wearing a smile. This rain should make lots of pasture and bring thousands of dollars into Hansford county. And it is reported that prices of cattle are not expected to drop much until early next year when the Government officials and backers agree that the feeders and farmers will have their lots full of fat cattle that have consumed a large amount of the bountiful corn crop now being harvested.

Yours, R. V. Converse.

Gruver Visitors Present Vital Information About Moisture Conservation

Supt. Frank P. Wilson, of the Gruver Schools, assisted by two of his seventh grade students, Misses Mary Alice McClellan and Ada Joyce Spivey, were responsible for one of the most interesting and instructive programs ever presented at the Spearman Lion Club. The meeting under the program leadership of Lion Fred J. Hoskins, held Tuesday noon, gave Lions most interesting information regarding the conservation of moisture in Hansford and adjoining counties. Supt. Wilson has made an exhaustive study of the subject the past two years having written his thesis for a masters degree at Lubbock Tech, on the subject.

In presenting their brief program the Gruver visitors distributed rain graphs for Hansford county, graphs for the Amarillo area and moisture graphs of rainfall in Hansford county by months, presenting the average rainfall each month over a period of 55 years.

Wilson referred to the more scientific references to prove that Hansford county was ending up a "dry" cycle, which according to his estimation should end in 1940 and his information is to the effect that when we enter our next so called "wet" cycle there will not be another drouth before 1976.

A study of the graph of Hansford county as prepared by the Gruver seventh grade under the supervision of Supt. Wilson, reveals the fact that the highest peak of a wet cycle recorded was in 1885 when the annual rainfall measured near 39 inches. By 1890 the graph shows a sharp decline in moisture with the graph line falling some 4 inches below the normal annual measurement of 20.17 inches moisture. From 1890 to 1905 the record indicates a wet period with the high of 35 inches moisture reached.

A comparison of the graph of Hansford county with that of Amarillo weather station indicates that the weather is largely the same in this area. Both graphs indicate we are on the down swing below normal and in a "dry" cycle at the present time.

Some of the interesting information brought to the attention of Lions at the meeting was the fact that in a "dry" cycle we have "wet" years. However, one years moisture is not sufficient to insure crop production. In "dry" cycles the rainfall is spotted, hardly ever recording a general rainfall even in so limited an area as one county.

In the graphs showing the rainfall by month over the 55 year period the month of May is shown to record the greatest rainfall with August as a close second.

Feature Articles By Supt. Wilson of Gruver To Be Printed By Reporter

A series of feature articles prepared by Supt. F. P. Wilson of the Gruver schools will be carried in the Reporter beginning next week. Wilson has studied moisture and land and moisture conservation over a period of two years. He has read practically every available reference along this line, and is perhaps the best versed layman in the Panhandle plains country, to discuss the subject of moisture-land conservation. Instead of teaching students historical facts about places unknown and teaching his pupils to build graphs regarding dry unimpressive subjects, he has interwoven the study of moisture and land conservation into the work of the school system. The Hansford county educator stated Tuesday that it was rather difficult to teach the elders the scientific facts he has gleaned in his study, but he is encouraged in leaving with the coming generation practical, scientific information, that may be of vast importance to them as they take over the duties of seniority in years to come.

Graphs of the rainfall and other interesting information will be presented from time to time in the series of articles by Wilson.

ASKED TO CONTACT BONDHOLDERS WITH COUNTER PROPOSAL

Dave Hester, Lee McClellan and Edgar Womble, were elected citizen committeemen representing tax payers of Spearman, cooperate with the board of commissioners in effecting a tlement of the present bonded indebtedness of the city. The committee was elected at a meeting of some 60 local tax payers together with representatives of Santa Fe R. R., several large of town corporations, and members of the Spearman board of commissioners, held at court house Tuesday evening this week.

Instructions to the committee were:

- 1. To get an extension of time to work out the details of a satisfactory bond settlement. 2. To contact bondholders to obtain an expression from them alternative propositions, namely: a. to reduce the interest rate proposed refunding bonds so that as large an amount as possible the current tax collections could be paid on the debt. b. To find out at what price the present holders of the bonds would be willing sell them for cash, so that the proposed new refunding issue could be made on the market value of the bonds.

The committee was empowered to use its best judgement in settling any matter cooperating, course, and subject to the activity of the Spearman board of commissioners . . . or in event the desired, the issue of a call for public meeting to discuss anew the bond situation.

The Tuesday meeting was the outcome of a proposed settlement made in contract form by Raymond and Davidson, Bonding-house of Wichita, Kans., who alleged their petition that they represented some 80 percent of the bondholders of Spearman bonds.

A careful analysis of the proposed contract settlement of the bonded indebtedness, via means a refund issue of bonds, would leave Spearman in the same condition in 1976 that they are at the present time, some present at the Tuesday meeting stated. The increasing rate of interest suggested in the proposed contract settlement of the bond question, would take all the current taxes to liquidate the interest would not leave any money in the sinking fund to liquidate the indebtedness at the term expiration of the bonds in 1976. Most taxpayers present Tuesday night were emphatic in their opposition to the proposed settlement suggested by the bonding firm and the committee for Spearman citizens was elected with the hope that they could cooperate with the city officials and work out more practical and satisfactory settlement.

had gone to look for. The ones who sought thistles saw no flowers, while those who went seeking the good and beautiful saw nothing ugly or offensive.

I think this writer came with preconceived notions and went away with them confirmed. He simply did not try to change his mind while here. Did he see no fields, no flowers, no cattle worth the name, no fruits, no gardens, no meadows? If seen why did he fail to mention them? Is it all wind, dust and desolation here? What are we to think of the reliability of the writers for Collier's if this is to be the measure of their worth in accuracy and fair play? Whatever publicity this effort may have brought him elsewhere his reputation has certainly suffered here; so has the circulation of Collier's until amends are made for this article which so many of our dust bowl folk call a rant insult.

Personally, Mr. Davenport, I have lived on the plains 45 years. I like it. My parents were pioneers. I know what it is to be buffeted by storms, by winds, by dry weather, by short crops, by bad roads, poor markets and all the trials incident to a new country and I want to tell you that this generation in The Dust Bowl is as true and brave and courageous and long-suffering as any generation before it. No wonder then that they become incensed at your article which they call untruthful and unfair.

If Mother Nature chastized us we took it good naturedly. We rubbed the sore spots. While smiling thru our tears we wrote, the following lines which have not only been published in several papers, but have been broadcast. After reading them tell us honestly if you think we are whipped.

THE DUST BOWL
Why growl about these clouds of dust
Which blight the daylight fair?
Why sit in gloom and fuss and fume,
Un-Christian-like and swear?
At 68 I'll simply state
To young folk who have fears
That we pulled thru a drouth or two
Which lasted fifteen years.

Why hope and sigh because 'tis dry
And gardens will not grow?
We have no showers to cause the flowers
To deck the earth below:
At eighty-three what fun 'twill be
If I be still alive
To tell how bad the times we had
Way back in 35.

So cheer up folks and crack some jokes
When dirt obscures the sun,
It might be worse, why should we curse
Instead of having fun?
At Ninetytwo if I pull thru
I'll tell to lass and lad
When years were dry and dirt rose high
What a hell of a time we had.

ROMANTIC BIG BEND

Interest continues to grow in the movement launched some weeks ago by the Brewster County Chamber of Commerce to raise by private subscriptions a fund of one million dollars to purchase land that would be included in the proposed Big Bend National Park. Newspapers of the State are cooperating in the movement and urging their readers to "buy an acre of Big Bend Park" by contributing one dollar or more each to the fund. This campaign already has had one worthwhile result: it has spread knowledge of the wonders of the Big Bend area throughout Texas—throughout other states as well.

A most interesting article on this subject is found in the current issue of Sports Afield, a national magazine. This article, published under the title "Land of Romance and Mystery," was written by Monroe H. Goode, independent oil operator of Texas. It is the story of a "Love-game hunt staged in the Big Bend country. But it is more than that. In setting the stage for the story for the first time, Mr. Goode gave a five-minute description of the Big Bend area which places before the reader a graphic picture of this last frontier of the Southwest. Interesting is the narrative of the men who set out to find—and find—big game, the word picture of the ruggedly romantic setting is perhaps even more interesting. Probably Mr. Goode was primarily interested in telling a good story, and he did that. At the same time he wrote a vivid and appealing description.

It is nearly time for the 1938 model automobiles to be shown. We have no special advance information about any of them, but of one thing we are sure. They will be better cars than last season's offerings. We do not expect more speed from the 1938 cars. The cars are speedy enough now. It is indeed questionable for the mounting toll of highway tragedies. But as for inexperienced and the careless who are responsible for the ... to offset that the car builders every year ... cars safer. All-steel bodies safety glass better and more efficient brakes all make for less risk of serious accidents. Without having seen them, we are assured that the new cars will be more economical to operate, easier to drive more comfortable to ride in; more room for passengers and luggage. They will be more graceful in proportions and more pleasing to the eye in color and fittings.

It speaks well for the steady improvement in an industry when things such as we have set down above can be said of its new products before one has seen them. We would like to add that the prices of the new cars will be lower. That has also been a steady trend, which may not hold good this year. It would be surprising if automobiles were the only commodity which did not go up in price.

UNANSWERED QUESTIONS

So many people have been discussing economic topics in the past few years that almost everybody has an opinion on almost every subject affecting the general welfare today. We all realize now, what not all of us did before, that conditions which impair the incomes or depreciate the investments of any considerable proportion of the people affect the incomes and the investments of the rest of us. And contrariwise, whatever improves the economic condition of large groups or numbers of people works out, in the long run, for the benefit of everybody.

So far almost everybody is in agreement. Where we disagree, often violently, is on the methods to be employed to equalize economic conditions and make everybody prosperous. If that can be done, all agree, the United States of America will be in reality what we are all fond of saying that it is, the greatest country in the world. But how are we going to do it?

Has any better way been found yet than to remove every obstacle that tends to impair any person's opportunity to make the most of his own life, within the limits of his own ability? Or is it the duty of the social order, the Government or anybody else, to give preference to one class or group over another? Should we make it easier for the less able, harder for the able, to enjoy the comforts of life? Or should we spur the lazy members of the social organization by withholding benefits which they are willing to accept rather than to earn them?

THE JAPANESE PUZZLE

It is never safe to assume that the standards of conduct which control our own actions are the same as those which are accepted and acted upon by someone else. That assumption is often wrong as between individuals, usually wrong as between nations. Things that seem utterly inhuman and barbarous by the standards of a Christian people may be regarded as highly honorable and praiseworthy by those of a nation reared under a different concept of morals and religion.

Therein, it may be, lies the answer to the conduct of Japan in waging relentless warfare upon the defenseless civilian population of China. The bombing from the air of a single town might have been an accident to be apologized for. But when community after community is destroyed, thousands of women and children slain, peaceful fishing boats sunk and their crews left to drown, some further explanation is needed.

The Christian world has treated Japan as if it were a civilized power, its people motivated by the same respect for human life as the rest of the world professes. The Japanese people are intelligent and industrious, and speedily learned to practice the outward manners and customs of the white people's world after Commodore Perry forced the Mikado to open the doors of Japan to the world, eighty years ago. But it would seem that the rest of the world has not learned enough about the Japanese mind. We took it for granted that a nation of barbarians had completely changed its spirit in less than a century. Now Japan seems bent on proving that it still is a barbarous state.

suggestion ... Mooney, writer for The Texas Weekly outstanding Peter Molyneux publication," remarks the Mt. Vernon Optic-Herald, "when he says that Texas towns should get rid of the idea of 'securing' small industrial enterprises from some magic source but should build them from within. He points out that too often small towns look outside their own limits for the men and women with which to establish their enterprises when they have the ideal men right in their midst. He suggests a building program and not 'boosting' propaganda to show that Podunk is a 'better town' than Bulgaria."

That's the way, agrees the San Antonio News, to construct soundly based industries. "While this State is bidding for new industries which might utilize its abundant natural resources, employ idle men and women, increase its wealth and enrich its culture, it should not overlook the 'little man,'" warns the News. "In its campaign to arouse the citizens, and particularly the businessmen's, interest in such development, The Texas Weekly emphasizes that principle ...

"Perhaps the community—and through it the State—may profit more from a multiplicity and variety of small plants than from one towering enterprise. Several factors must be considered, as a rule. In the industrial East, the Middle West and the Southeast are numerous towns and some good-sized cities which virtually depend on one big industry ... for a livelihood ... In some respects specialization is an advantage, but the arrangement has its drawbacks. The community has all its eggs in one basket. Another consideration ... is that the small industries in the aggregate make up 84 per cent of the nation's total investment."

PROMISE

There will be wind and the cold stars shining
Over the hillside darkened with graves—
A field where fate, serenely sitting,
A story of men, slowly engraves.

We shall lie down with these the waiting
And follow the hand as it writes;
We shall find beauty far in the shadows
And peace in the deathless nights.

MOST LITTLE TOWNS

Most little towns are smug and neat
With their prim dresses starched and clean;
And watchful eyes which guard each street
With a content grown old and lean.
I do not like a town like these.

Christian Science

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson - Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 17.

The Golden Text is: "God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord" (1 Cor. 1:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to him himself by Jesus Christ, nad hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation" (2 Cor. 5:18).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the alw of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit,—the law of divine Love" (page 19).

Stolen ... An Open Letter; Dust Bowl

The exact location of the dust bowl is getting more comment out in California it seems. Here's a clipping from the Los Angeles Times, Paducah, Texas referred to in the letter is only a short distance from my home town, Floydada, and Wally says he thought of me when he read it. You'll get a kick out of the letter. It seems that Bob Burne failed to keep an engagement and the letter was the result.

(An Open Letter)

Mr. Bob Burns,
Bazooka Player,
Hollywood, Cal.,
Dear Bob:
For shame Robin!
Here I drove to Pomona Friday night oozing perspiration at every pore just to hear you at the County Fair-Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet, as you were the main advertised attraction.
And you didn't show up. They did have a Motion-Picture Academy Award winner who is an organizer for the Girl Scouts or the Lancerettes or something a fellow named Victor McLanglen. But he had no bazooka.
Now Bob as one southern guy to another, you hadn't ought to have done it. A date is a date, even if it is just at the County Fair. You really ought to have gone, no matter what the discomfort.
Why, I remember my Uncle Poopy down in Texas, Uncle Jopy Hickenlooper. There was a man that never fell down on a date.
Uncle Joopy lived in a little town way up in the Dust Bowl, called Paducah. Not ... Irvin S.

Cobb's Paducah, Ky., but Paducah, Tex.
Uncle Joopy was an awful sociable man. He loved company. He sang tenor, too, and his favorite song was "Mother Machree."
And one time he got an invitation to go to the annual Ice Cream Social of the Reformed Lutheran Church, and sing.
He was tickled to death.
He lived about five miles out in the country and on the night of the ice cream social he got all dolled up in his white pants and everything and said to his wife, "Don't forget to milk the cows and put 'em in the barn because a dust storm is coming up," and away he went in the spring wagon with a two horse team. And he hummed "Mother Machree" in his fine tenor voice.
But boy, did that dust storm come up quick.
The wind began to blow like the devil was on its tail. The sand came surging up like a big red cloud shot with black. It got dark as the inside of a banker's heart.
But my Uncle Joopy wasn't going to break his date.
He whipped the horses and on he went. The sand blew in his eyes and down his throat. It cut his face and stung his hands.
And then a big gust came and blew the wagon right out from under him. Uncle Joopy just held onto the lines and clucked to the horses to go on.
Then the big bay mare blowed right out of the harness.
Old Billy, the plowhorse kept right on a-going though, with Uncle Joopy right behind him. But Old Billy got picked up by the next flurry and blowed over

International Sunday School Lesson

By Dr. J. E. Nunn

General Topic: - Christian Words and Works.

Scripture Lesson: - James 3:1-13.

James 3:1. My brethren, be not many masters, knowing that we shall receive greater condemnation.

2. For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3. Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths that they may obey us; and we turn their whole body.

4. Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very little helm, whither so ever the governor listeth.

5. Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great matter a little fire kindleth!

6. And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity; so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

7. For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind.

8. But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil full of deadly poison.

9. Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10. Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My Brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11. Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter?

12. Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olives and berries, either vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13. Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom.

Introduction The author of this epistle was the brother of the Lord Jesus, and is referred to directly only twice in the Gospels (Matt. 12:46; 13:55; Mark 6:3. Cf. John 2:12; 7:3, 5). He was, of course, a Jew, brought up in the strict teachings of the Jewish synagogue, devoted to the law of Moses, zealous in living a righteous and godly life. His was probably the first epistle written in the early church. It is remarkable how little about Christ there really is in this epistle, and how much of the Old Testament is interwoven with its teachings. In fact, it might be called the New Testament interpretation of Old Testament righteousness. "It has to do with the outward life for the most part, and the life it pictures is that of a Jew informed with the spirit of Christ."—D. A. Hayes. We might say that the epistle of James is to the New Testament what the Book of Proverbs is to the Old Testament. It is perfectly natural in such a writing that the most extensive teaching regarding the control of the tongue to be found in the New Testament should be given. His epistle has much in common with the Sermon on the Mount, and there have been traces of other sayings of Jesus.

Be Not Many Teachers, James 3 Be not many teachers, my brethren, knowing that we shall receive greater condemnation." v. 1. This is a strange warning, that members of the early church should not seek to be teachers. In Jewish synagogues it was the custom that anyone who was inclined to do so might come forward to teach, and St. James is here warning his readers. In teaching others they were in danger of forgetting to teach themselves; to possess faith and to do nothing but talk was but to increase their own condemnation; for it was to place themselves among those who are condemned by Christ by "They say and do not" (Matt. 23:3). Every one of us sins, but those of us who are teachers will receive a heavier sentence than those who are not such, for our obligations to live up to the law which we know, and profess, and urge upon others are far greater. Heaviest of all will be the condemnation of those who, without being called or qualified, through fanaticism, or an itch for notoriety, or a craze for controversy, or a love of fault-finding, push themselves forward to dispense instructions and censure.

The Importance Of Controlling The Tongue "If a man stumblenth not in word, the same is a perfect man, able to bridle the whole body also" v. 2. Here James means, that if a man has his tongue under control, i. e., his speech will thereby keep under control all the organs of his body, which will lead him into sin if not mastered, just as a horse naturally would run wild, instead of being of any value, would really be a danger, unless guided with a bridle in its mouth. "How trivial the bit seems, yet how effective! So is the human tongue small in itself, but so powerful as to arouse the heart; or it can stimulate to high endeavour, instill the loftiest aspirations, and fill the soul with the most steadfast courage and patience." Wm. G. Morehead.

The Tongue Is A Fire v. 6. How often we read of disastrous fires, in cities and in forests, caused by tiny sparks thrown away by a careless smoker. It is an illustration of the immense harm constantly done by those who do not speak soberly, advisedly and in the fear of God. The tongue like fire is a good servant but a bad master. The figure now changes to spring and the fig-tree, v. 12, which do not produce both good and bad products for man's use. You can depend upon them, but the tongue is fickle, sometimes giving blessings and sometimes giving cursing.

The Tongue Can No Man Tame A not uncommon fault is the tendency to make cutting criticisms or jesting comments with a sting in them. The victim of the rudeness may pass it off with a laugh, but he is not drawn toward the owner of that tongue. Special Lessons. Teach your child to hold his tongue, he'll learn fast enough to speak. Better the feet slip than the tongue.—Herbert. Wisdom and goodness are twin born, one heart must hold both sisters, never seen apart.—Cowper. "Discretion of speech is more than eloquence." Bacon. "I can easier teach twenty what were good to be done, than what the twenty to follow my own teaching."

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

PAPER WADS Lynx Take Their First Conference Game

—by Edwin Reed

Miss Graham better duck, or this paper will hit her right between her eyes.

Anyway, Miss Graham is a good mechanic; between her, Perren and a can of oil they took the squeak out of the piano.

The Lynx showed up a little better Friday than they have before.

The staff wishes to thank Craig Davidson for writing the "Texas Tattlers".

Craig is majoring in journalism his year at Texas Tech and will receive credit on his subject for writing this article.

I wish to thank all the people who have complimented our Lynx page; we are trying to improve it in every way each week.

Have you heard? The Seniors are giving an Amateur contest Oct. 21 in the auditorium.

SNOOPER

Is everybody happy? I hope so, 'cause I am. Six weeks' exams always put me in a good mood, you know.

Two students jumped out of a high school window but no one was hurt and nothing was damaged.

Mr. Gunn stood up when he thought he heard the National Anthem being played by the band but when he discovered the tune was "America" he suddenly decided he would resume his seat.

Perren and DeKota sang a solo, a duet, and a trio at the Senior picnic.

Rue Sanders has acquired a new coat. It has rather feminine lines, and resembles one worn by Mary Fern Terry.

Martha Delon, Elsie, Rosa Lee Eileen, Louise, R. L. and Harlan Terry seem to have a great taste for watermelons.

Frances Hoskins taught the first grade last Tuesday afternoon.

The shorthand class has been having a little "harmony" or "hominy" from J. D. Wilbanks on Tuesdays.

When the Home Ec 3 class went to Amarillo, they went through the packing house there but somehow they don't remember much about it.

Jay Smith seems to be quite a ladies man. He dated four girls in two days.

The Boys' Glee Club is still king at becoming songbirds. We have everyone outdoors in Brannon, the instructor seems to be giving his voice to different notes.

Freshmen News

The freshmen have been studying hard this week for their six weeks' examinations.

The freshmen girls decided to become nurses or doctors. At the Bakery we watched them weigh dough and form it into loaves, slice and wrap the bread.

We watched a scout from M. G. M. giving a screen test in the Paramount theatre.

Each of the girls feel that she profited greatly by the trip.

Senior Class is going to an Amateur Program in the auditorium, Oct. 21.

Among the numbers already signed they have that funniest of comedy teams, the Kirk and Jones combination and those would be opera singers, Elsie Porter and Billye Hitchcock.

Rex Sanders and Pal Lyon Entertain Lynx With Steak Dinner

Last Saturday night at 8:15, the entire Lynx squad enjoyed a steak dinner given them by two of their most loyal backers, Mr. Rex Sanders and Mr. P. A. Lyon at Burl's Cafe.

After every one had finished eating, Coach Wilkins thanked the hosts for the banquet.

The banquet was thoroughly enjoyed by all the boys, together with Mr. Gunn, Mr. Finley and Assistant Coach Hugh Snodgrass.

Home Ec 3 Class Explores Amarillo

Wednesday of last week the Home Ec 3 class motored to Amarillo to go through the different industries and see different places of interest.

The Pickney packing house was very interesting to all. We enjoyed watching them make lunch meat and chili.

At Borden's creamery we saw the churning and wrapping of butter. We also watched them pasteurizing and bottling milk.

The process in which Coca Cola is bottled was absorbing. While we were enjoying a bottle of Coca Cola, the guide explained the way the syrup in the drink is made.

One place of greatest interest to all was the children's home. There are 47 children in the home seven of whom are of pre-school age.

At 12:45 we listened to the broadcast from Cal Farley's program. Several of us were disappointed in Stuttering Sam, when we found that he was only the announcer.

The hospital was the most interesting place we visited. We were shown the operating room, Laboratory, maternity ward, x-ray rooms, nurses' home and doctor's lounge.

We visited the lobby and the messanine floor of the Herring Hotel.

We watched a scout from M. G. M. giving a screen test in the Paramount theatre.

Lynx To Tangle With Higgins Friday

The Lynx will play their second game this season away from home next Friday Oct. 15, with Higgins. The Lynx expect to win the game after a long hard fight.

Mr. Snider, former Spearman school head, is now head of the Higgins school. This is a good reason for the team's making a showing against the Higgins team.

Shattuck beat Higgins by a score of 47 to 0; Spearman beaten by Shattuck by a score of only 13-0. So it looks like a victory for old Spearman Hi.

Buster Kirk is very popular with everyone here except the fish; however no upperclassmen is popular with the fish, especially at night.

John H. Campbell, Jr., familiarly known to the students of Spearman High as Junior, was born Dec. 11, 1921, at Mangum, Okla.

Willard Davis pulled the typical fish trick the other day. He went to class and as usual, went to sleep. Eventually he woke up and was practically scared to death when his closest neighbor said, "Como esta usted".

LYNX GROWLS

Your mascot's purring again, if these boys keep on playing such scrumptious football, I'll have to call the column the Lynx Purrr. The boys get the right encouragement from their coach and it really helps when the going gets tough.

Add Wisdom: Mr. Gunn in checking up closer on study halls Friday. Have you entered the Amateur Hour yet? If you are too bashful to enter be sure and come.

Kyble sure puts the power behind it when she yells "Lee-on." Eula Faye, is there a drugstore in town that furnishes you enough straws.

When I hear "Strawberry Sundae" I know Louise Linn is just around the corner. Seen after the football banquet Maxine Allen and Jay Smith in Serious Conference.

What handsome football hero did a fine job of eluding local girls Saturday night? Loree, these cream colored cars and occupants certainly register with you, don't they?

The Spearman Lynx were victorious over the Canadian Wildcats last Friday in the first conference game of the season.

Canadian opened the game with a 48-yard kickoff received by Neilson and was run back 30 yards. Having gained nothing in the next 3 plays, the Lynx punted to their 30 yard line.

The Lynx opened the second quarter with a 15 yard penalty for holding. The remainder of the quarter was of no great importance with the exception of a 15 yard penalty against Canadian for holding.

The Spearman team opened the half with a kickoff for 25 yards. Canadian, after being set back 9 yards, punted to Spearman then, with the aid of a penalty for Canadian advanced the ball for a penetration on Canadian's 15 yard line.

The last quarter opened with the ball in possession of the Lynx who gained 9 yards and the ball went over. The Wildcats took the ball for a 20 yard loss and fumbled. Spearman gained 7 yards and the ball went over. Canadian carried the ball for a 5 yard gain and punted. Spearman took the ball and in the next two plays, gained 21 yards. At this point Canadian was penalized 21 yards for unnecessary roughness. Spearman carried the ball for to within 3 yards of the goal line but went no further in the remaining plays. Canadian punned and the game ended after settlement. Lynx failed to complete a fourth down pass.

So far the Lynx are the victors of the conference and represent won the first conference game of the season.

Forty-Five Seniors Enjoy Picnic Monday

Monday evening, Oct. 11, at 6 o'clock, the Seniors departed for a long-promised picnic. About 40 seniors enjoyed this event; the current things really started to interest the seniors.

Upon arrival the excitement of building a fire was their opportunity. After this was done, they settled down to consume with gusto, a fine thing that was eatable.

This led to a game of "Deep" with Miss Graham as the one getting the worst end of the thing. When everyone was exhausted another was started but school teacher rudely interrupted by party host Elsie and Dakota trying to play "Three Blind Mice".

Everyone proclaimed a very enjoyable time was the farewell all, and the picnic broke special affair. Guests of the Seniors on course dinner were: Mr. Finley, me of Mrs. J. Mrs. Rex Sanders and Mr. home of the Lyon and the sponsor Mr. ridge. Those as Grahams, Lois Ba, Evelyn Ro, Margaret D, Lain Lois B, wrens, Mary G, Ruby Englan

COURT HOUSE "GANG" HOLD SECOND "FANWELL" FEED

Apparently the membership of the courthouse "gang" is growing smaller each week. Thursday Sept. 30 the members entertained with a farewell banquet for Mrs. Paul Wright. Last Thursday Oct. 7 the membership of the mythical organization gathered around the festive board extending the compliments of the party to Mrs. Cap Richardson. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Roach, and aside from the many complimentary things said about Mrs. Richardson by her associates, the program was limited to presenting the honoree with two gifts. The first gift was a bit of "fun" at the expense of Mrs. Richardson. It represented a box of candy, presented her with all the eloquence and sincerity as though it represented the farewell token from among the "gang". Mattie Ruth, believing this represented their expression, wanted to take the candy home. Her friends insisted on "passing around the box." All the candy except three pieces were devoured by the group. When the affair ended a second presentation of gifts was made, this time Mrs. Richardson was presented a beautiful silk house dress and house slippers. Those present were: A. F. Barkley, Fred Hoskins, Hix Wilbanks, J. B. Cooke, Joe Hatton, Richard Sewell, Arnold Ferguson, Frank Wallin, Buster Cator, Mrs. J. B.
