

RAIDERS TAKE H-SU

Texas Tech won its sixth straight basketball game by defeating Hardin-Simmons University 70-55 last night at H-SU's Rose Fieldhouse in Abilene.

In a preliminary game the Tech freshman team lost their first game of the season to the H-SU Bufftons 65-64. High point man for the Pleadors was Gerald Myers with 18. Carl Knight paced H-SU with 20.

I. D. Cards Ready In Ad. Bldg. Foyer

Wednesday is the final day to pick up Identification cards in the east foyer of the Administration building, Rollin Herald announced today. After Wednesday, cards may be obtained at Herald Photo, 1405 College Ave.

Students must present spring semester fee slips to get their I.D. cards, according to college regulations. Students who paid the Activity fee last fall for the entire year must show either last semester's I.D. card or fee slip.

Students are required to pick up their own I.D. cards.

If the spring semester I.D. card is lost, a duplicate may be purchased from Herald Photo for 30 cents.

Cass To Head 'Girl Crazy' Cast

ROSS CASS: Danny

KAY ADKINS: Molly

Ross Cass, no stranger to Tech musicals, will carry the lead role of Danny in the forthcoming Varsity Show production of "Girl Crazy," Director Jack Pruitt announced late yesterday.

Supporting Cass in the western musical will be Kay Adkins, Billie Sue Gregory and Don Armstrong, playing Molly, Patsy and Gieber respectively. Other cast members are Marianna Wilson, Flora; Janet Wright, Tess; David Pool, Slick; Buck Johnson, Lank; Lyle DeWitt, Pete.

Sylvia Dietering, Kate; Bob Lapham, Sam; Dan Creson, Jake; and Jess McIlvain, Eagle Rock. The total singing and dancing cast includes 70 persons.

Cass has carried a leading role in many of Tech's major musical productions, beginning with the part of John P. Wintergreen in the 1954 music department production of "Of Thee I Sing." He portrayed Col. Fairfax in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Yeoman of the Guard," the department's 1955 production, and last fall had the featured role of Feste the clown in the Speech Department's presentation of Shakespeare's comic "Twelfth Night."

The junior speech major is from Plainview. He is a member of Tech Choir and Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Miss Adkins is a freshman music major from El Paso, and Miss Gregory is a freshman from Spur majoring in home economics. Armstrong, a sophomore, is a music major from Amarillo.

The George and Ira Gershwin musical, a long-time Broadway favorite, features such songs as "Embraceable You," "Bidin' My Time" and "I Got Rhythm."

Rehearsals started last night and will be held five nights a week until the show's performance April 9 through 11 in Tom S. Lubbock High School Auditorium.

DON ARMSTRONG: Gieber

BILLIE GREGORY: Patsy

Junior Class 'Frolics' Feb. 15

Talented Techsians will parade at 7:30 Wednesday night in the Student Union Ballroom at the junior class talent show, "February Frolics." Proceeds of the variety hour will be used to bring the Four Freshmen to the Junior-Senior Prom.

All greek letter organizations on the campus have been invited to enter the show, which will follow the theme of "February Frolics." The acts, each scheduled to be five minutes long, may include any type of skit or performer the organization wishes.

First and second place winners will receive plaques, according to Doris Wampler, junior class secretary.

Any organization which has not yet turned in the name of the leader of its act is asked to do so by Wednesday, Miss Wampler said.

Tickets will be on sale at the door for 50 cents, and all proceeds will be used to finance the Junior-Senior Prom.

NAOMI JOHNSON

Rites Held Sunday For Tech Coed

Funeral services were conducted at 4 p.m. Sunday for Naomi Johnson, 18-year-old Tech freshman who died Friday morning of bulbar polio. She was in Methodist Hospital from Nov. 7 until the time of her death.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren B. Johnson of Lubbock, she was an Arts and Sciences major living in Drane Hall.

Miss Johnson was first admitted to the Tech Infirmary Nov. 5. As the illness advanced she was moved to St. Mary's Hospital. Nov. 7, she transferred to Methodist Hospital and was put in an iron lung.

Miss Johnson was a native of Lubbock and attended Tom S. Lubbock High School where she was a member of the Student Council and the band. She was a member of Central Baptist Church where she was active in the choir and Church school.

Rev. John Dugger of Central Baptist Church officiated at the funeral, which was under the direction of McDonald Funeral Home. Burial was in City of Lubbock Cemetery.

RALLY TO USHER OUT BASKETBALL SEASON

A 30-minute pep rally is being planned for the Feb. 27 basketball game with New Mexico A&M in the Tech Gym. The game will be the final regularly-scheduled contest of the season for the Raiders.

Plans for the rally include short talks by Dr. J. W. Davis and DeWitt Weaver, introduction of the players and coaches of both teams, and music and yells furnished by the Tech band and cheerleaders.

Ronnie Averyt, student representative on the athletic council is in charge of arrangements.

NEW BUILDINGS WILL DOUBLE CAPACITY

$4 Million Approved For Dorms

Housing accommodations for Tech men will be doubled with the addition of approximately $4 million in dormitories approved by the school's Board of Directors Saturday.

The board, meeting in the office of President E. N. Jones, also authorized specifications for a new gymnasium, and an estimated $100,000 bookstore addition.

Expected to be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1, 1958, the new dorms will be located on Tech Freeway southwest of the Auditorium-Coliseum and will house about 1,400 men. The services of three Lubbock architectural firms, Stiles, Roberts and Associates; McMurry and Associates; and Schmidt and Stuart, will be obtained for the buildings.

April 4 was set as the date for receiving of bids for work on the new gymnasium, so that the bids may be considered by the Board at an April meeting in Dallas.

The bookstore is to be enlarged by approximately 8,000 square feet, the board decided.

Other items approved Saturday

Ag Chemical Conference Underway Here Today

New horizons in scientific farming are expected to take shape today through Thursday at the third annual Agricultural Chemicals Conference underway here.

Eight specialists from five states and the nation's Capitol will speak during the meeting, sponsored by Tech, Texas A&M College and the West Texas and Lubbock Chambers, of Commerce, include repairs for the Chemistry Building, Sneed and Drane Halls; renewal of the contract with Humble Oil and Refining Co. for exclusive broadcasting of Tech football games; and changes in curriculum.

'Life Put In Boxes' Says Religious Emphasis Speaker

By NITA HEDLESTON
(This is the first in a series of articles designed to acquaint Techsians with panelists who will participate in Religious Emphasis Week, Feb. 27 through March 1 in the Union ballroom. Departing from its usual practice of providing one guest speaker for a series of religious evaluation lectures, the Student Religious Council, sponsor of RE Week, has this year arranged for a panel composed of Lubbock ministers and Church laymen to answer student's questions. ED)

"Faith should be something normal and not a freakish part of a man's life," says Roy Bass, prominent Lubbock attorney and Baptist layman, who was chosen as one of five panelists for Tech's forthcoming Religious Emphasis Week.

The lawyer feels that "the average guy, particularly at college age, often compartmentalizes his activities, 'putting his social life in one box and his religious life in another.'" "Faith should be spread evenly through all parts of his life," he states.

Bass

Baptist Church, and teacher for a downtown Bible class, Bass says he has always been interested in Church work. He is also treasurer and a choir member at First Baptist.

A native of Waco, Bass received his A.B. and L.L.B. degrees from Baylor University. He moved to Lubbock in 1940 and served as a naval officer during World War II. In 1950 he was recipient of the annual Jaycee award for "outstanding young man of Lubbock." From 1946 to 1955 he was a government lecturer at Tech.

The young attorney is active in the Lubbock Kiwanis Club, of which he served as president in 1950. The next year, he was made Lt. Governor of Division VII of the Texas-Oklahoma District of Kiwanis International. At present he is a director of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Bass is married and has three sons, whom he describes as "all future presidents."

He will serve on the RE Week panel each of the four evenings (Feb. 27 through March 1), and will moderate a discussion on "Purposeful Being." Other topics to be discussed by the panel are Worship, Thinking and Morals.

THE CARE AND FEEDING OF ROOM-MATES

Today we take up room-mates, a delightful phenomenon of American college life. Having a room-mate is not only heaps of fun; it is also very educational, for the proper study of mankind is man, and there is no better way to learn the dreams and drives of another human being than to share a room with him.

This being the case, it is wise not to keep the same room-mate too long, because the more room-mates you have, the more you will know about the dreams and drives of human beings. And that's what we're all after, isn't it?

So try to change room-mates as often as you can. A recent study made by Sigafos of Michigan State shows that the best interval for changing room-mates is every four hours.

Now let us discuss how to go about choosing a room-mate. Most counselors agree that the most important thing to look for in room-mates is that they be people of regular habits. This, I say, is arrant nonsense. What if one of their regular habits happens to be beating a great gong from midnight to three a.m.? Or growing cultures in the tooth glass? Or reciting the Articles of War? Or peanut brittle?

Regular habits indeed! I say that beyond quibbles, far and away the most important quality in room-mates is that they be exactly your size. Otherwise you will have to have their clothes altered to fit you, which can be a considerable nuisance. In fact, it is sometimes flatly impossible. I recollect one time I roomed with a man named Tremblatt Osage who was just under seven feet tall and weighed nearly four hundred pounds. There wasn't a blessed thing I could use in his entire wardrobe—until one night when I was invited to a masquerade party. I cut one leg off a pair of Tremblatt's trousers, jumped into it, sewed up both ends and went to the party as a bolster. (Incidentally, I took second prize. First prize went to a girl named Antenna Wilkins who poured molasses over her head and went as a candied apple.)

But I digress. Let us get back to the qualities that make desirable room-mates. Not the least of these is the cigarettes they smoke. When we borrow cigarettes, do we want them to be harsh, shoddy, and disdainful of our palates? Certainly not! What, then, do we want them to be? Why, we want them to be gentle, delicately-reared, and designed to suit the tempo of today's broader, easier life! And what cigarette is gentle, delicately-reared, and designed to suit the tempo of today's broader, easier life? Why, Philip Morris, of course! (I'll bet you knew it all the time!)

To go on. In selecting a room-mate, take great pains to find someone who will wear well, whom you'd like to keep as a permanent friend. Many of history's great friendships first started in college. Are you aware, for example, of the remarkable fact that Johnson and Boswell were room-mates at Oxford in 1712? What makes this fact so remarkable is that in 1712 Johnson was only three years old and Boswell had not been born yet. But, of course, children matured much earlier in those days. Take Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart who wrote his first symphony at the age of four. Or Titian, who painted his first masterpiece at five. Or Hans Otto McGrath, who was in many ways the most remarkable of all; he was appointed chief of the Copenhagen police department at the age of six!

(It must be admitted, however, that the appointment was less than a success. Criminals roamed the city, robbing and looting at will. They knew young McGrath would never pursue them; he was not allowed to cross the street.)

The makers of Philip Morris, who sponsor this column, cordially invite you and your room-mate to try today's new, gentle Philip Morris. It's always welcome!

'Poor People Of Paris' Is New Hit

By GLORIA WALLER
Before we start off on new records, here's an easy quiz we picked up in "Seventeen." We thought maybe you would like it.

1. She is the exciting singing star of NBC-TV's "Tonight." Sang with Tommy Tucker and Tex Bencke. Her disc "Come Home" was the first release on the new record label, ABC-Paramount.

2. Born on July 4, 1900 in New Orleans, he blows one of the greatest hot trumpets ever heard. He played on a Mississippi riverboat. Now has Decca disc "Moments To Remember."

3. She started as a dancer, then decided to become a singer. Her M-G-M record "Why Don't You Believe Me?" was an immediate smash. Now has a fine recording of "You Are My Love."

4. Taking his nickname from his home state, he began as an announcer. Now is a top Western singer with his own show on NBC-TV. Big Capitol folk-song-type record: "Sixteen Tons."

5. She is married to a famed orchestra leader. Sang with Tommy Dorsey till she recorded "Make Love To Me." She's in top form on Columbia's sentimental "Suddenly There's A Valley."

6. He recorded "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing" with his Third Herd. He plays a really great clarinet with a jazz beat. Recently recorded "Skinned" and "Skinned Again" on Capitol.

7. His Dot record of "Ain't That a Shame?" sold approximately a million copies. Young and good-looking, he has the same last name as that of a celebrated American frontiersman.

In the way of records, "Poor People of Paris," an instrumental by Les Baxter, has stolen our heart. Out for just a few weeks, it is already number four on the Lubbock hit parade.

"Pitty-Pat Band" by Dori Anne

Gray on Mercury is making a hit around here, too. The lively tune and the lively singer add up to a really cute song.

The Four Lads' "No Not Much" is a disc that evidently appeals to quite a number of people, judging from the number of spins it receives daily on the Lubbock radio shows. And it's no wonder, either, because the recording group has a good listenable style. The sentimental mood probably helps sell it, also.

"Speedo" by the Cadillac has more than received its share of plays in this area. Here's hoping the Cadillac come out with some more like it in the near future.

New releases out that are worth listening to are "That's the Trouble with Harry" by Les Elgart (this one seems to catch on better after hearing it a few times); "Lipstick and Flowers and Rubber-Soled Shoes" by Julius LaRosa; and "Nina, the Queen of the Teeners" by Lou Monte.

Bobby Scott's "Chain Gang" on ABC-Paramount and Guy Mitchell's "Ninety-Nine Years" offer good listening if you still care for the "Sixteen Tons" type.

Answers to the quiz: Eddie Gorme, Louis Armstrong, Joni James, "Tennessee" Ernie Ford, Jo Stafford, Woody Herman, and Pat Boone.

Raiders Face Texas Tonight

By FLOYD WOOD
Toreador Sports Editor

Coach Polk Robison's Tech cagers, securely ahead of the Border Conference pack, step from conference action to tackle the University of Texas Longhorns tonight in TUS Gregory Gymnasium.

Tonight's action marks the second Southwest Conference game for the Red Raiders. Earlier this season the Techsans disposed of the TCU Horned Frogs.

Score comparison — which is usually little basis for measurement — gives the Longhorn's the favorite's role, especially in the friendly confines of the home gymnasium.

Both Tech and Texas played West Texas State in Canyon. Tech dropped a 72-71 game to the Buffaloes, who later lost to Texas by an 86-79 score. On its own court, Texas defeated West Texas 85-73 while the Raiders fared better with a 101-76 victory.

Texas managed a split with the Oklahoma Aggies, winning 59-56 and losing 61-58, whereas the Red Raiders lost to A&M by a top-heavy 65-47. Texas also split with TCU. Tech won against the Frogs 76-64.

Complicating Tech's chances for a good showing against the University of Texas is the fact that the Red Raiders faced arch-rival Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene last night in a Border Conference clash and must complete their 400-mile bus trip from Lubbock on the day of the game.

Going into its Texas game Tech is 10-9 for the season and leads the remainder of the BC teams with a 6-2 record.

Lubbock fans will have an opportunity to hear the game over radio station KFYO with sportscaster Jack Dale on the mike.

Many Tech fans are still abuzz about Friday night's 101-76 victory over the front-running West Texas team. Tech's victory bolted the Raiders into undisputed first place with five games remaining on their schedule.

Tremendous Jim Reed's 37 points topped all the scorers for the night. Du-Wayne Blackshear, Gene Carpenter and Ned Underwood also hit in the double figures for the winners.

WT's big guns, Ray Burriss and Rookie Rogers, were unusually silent. Burriss, hampered by four quick fouls, gained only five while Rogers made only nine.

Buzz Warren Becomes Third Coach To Leave Red Raider Athletic Dept.

Athletic Director DeWitt Weaver has announced the resignation of two more assistant coaches at Texas Tech.

Wyatt Posey, Tech assistant coach since 1951, has resigned to accept a similar position with the University of Georgia, and Buzz Warren, backfield coach for the past four years, tendered his resignation with no definite plans set for the future.

Warren, along with Posey and Dee Andros, brings to three the number of coach resigning in the past few weeks at Tech. Andros accepted a position with the University of Nebraska.

The resignation of Warren was not entirely unexpected and Coach Weaver stated, "He'll be missed. Buzz has done a very fine job of coaching our backfield the past four years. We want to wish him all the luck in the world. Coaches and players will miss him a lot."

Coach Weaver said of Posey, "I hate to lose him. He's done a fine job for me the past five years. I've never had anyone who worked harder or more faithfully for Texas Tech than Coach Posey. We certainly wish him all the luck in the world in his new job."

Posey and his family are expected to leave Lubbock shortly for the new position in Athens, Georgia. However, there is no indication as to what Coach Warren's plans are.

Weaver had no immediate announcement about replacements to fill the vacancies, but said they would probably be filled before spring training.
