

TOOTHLESS — Someone is walking around minus a toothy smile. He or she may be smiling, but it isn't a toothy smile. The person in question is the one who lost his "upper plate" of false teeth at the Tech-Arizona game Saturday. If you see anyone who refuses to grin — or does so without the aid of teeth — direct him to the Tech Athletic Office.

Fan Loses 'Uppers' Who Lost 'Lowers'?

Spectators at Saturday's football game nearly dropped their teeth when the announcement was made that an upper plate of a pair of false teeth had been found.

Apparently an enthusiastic fan literally dropped his teeth during the Baylor-Tech football game Oct. 18. A janitor found the teeth while cleaning the stands after the game.

About four years ago, a lower plate of false teeth was found. Jimmy Wilson of the Tech athletic department kept them until last summer when he decided that the owner was not going to claim the teeth.

If he had kept the first lost plate, they would have made a complete set of false teeth when combined with the recently lost plate.

Anyone feeling a slight vacancy in the area of the mouth usually occupied by teeth, which might lead him to believe that he has lost his "uppers", go by the athletic department at Jones Stadium and see if the teeth will fill the void.

LEDWIG, GRAVES

Pair Attends SCONA

Gordon Graves and Don Ledwig have been chosen to represent Texas Tech at the fourth Student Conference on National Affairs to be held at Texas A&M December 10-13.

Student leaders will consider "Sources of Tension-National and International" at the conference.

One hundred and fifty students from the United States, Canada and Mexico will attend the Conference.

The central idea around the Conference is that better informed young people today will be more responsible citizens of tomorrow. It is believed that these student

Beauty Contest Set For December 5

Following the Miss America theme, the selection of the top ten La Ventana beauties will take place Dec. 5 at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

According to La Ventana Editor Billy Ellis, the various organizations on campus have a better chance to publicize their candidates through this contest, under sponsorship of Tech Men's Press Club currently petitioning for affiliation with Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity. Each organization may prepare for its contestant a sash, ala Miss American style, bearing the club name.

There is no limit on the amount of entries; however, there is a $1 entry fee. The deadline for entries is Dec. 1. Entry blanks may be picked up at J101 anytime before that date.

The girls will be judged in bathing suits and formals. The top ten beauties will not only receive a full page picture in the "all new" La Ventana, but will also be guests of the publication at a winter resort where annual pictures will be taken.

Admission for the night of judging at the Municipal Auditorium will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

Phi Mu Admits 65 In Colonization Here

by FRANCES TAYLOR

Sixty-five girls will become pledges and charter members Thursday as colonization of Phi Mu, Tech's newest social sorority, ends.

CONTINUING through Wednesday morning, personal interviews are available in the Union Anniversary Room.

An invitational party is slated for Wednesday evening in the Rebb Harrison home at 3401 37th, from 7 to 8:30.

Preference cards will be signed in the Union under the direction of the Dean of Women's Office, at 8:30 p.m.

"INVITATIONS to this party should be picked up at the Counselor's office in the dorms Wednesday," according to Assistant Dean of Women Jacqueline Sterner. She added that bids will be delivered to town girls.

REPLIES to this party should be made by phoning the Dean of Women's Office before 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Invitations to pledge will be picked up at the Dean of Women's Office between 10 a.m. and 12 noon Thursday.

A SEATED TEA was held Sunday for prospective pledges of Phi Mu in the Union Ballroom. First national president Mrs. Elliott spoke and recalled earlier days of Phi Mu.

National Panhellenic Delegate and past national president of Phi Mu, Mrs. Landon Freear, Fort Worth, was moderator of a panel which discussed different phases of Phi Mu.

Mrs. L. H. Carver, Lubbock; Mrs. James Porter, San Antonio, district president; and Miss Shirley Welchel, traveling secretary, spoke on the alumnae relationship with the sorority, of collegiate chapters around the country, and of colonization and charter membership at Tech.

Tech Promises Exes Fun at Homecoming

Many activities will be waiting for Texas Tech exes when they arrive for the 29th annual homecoming, Nov. 21-22.

HIGHLIGHTING homecoming will be coronation of the homecoming queen, a parade, luncheon, Tech-Arkansas football game and a dance.

In addition to the main features, there will be receptions, teas, parties and class reunions. Crowning of the homecoming queen at 7 p.m. Nov. 21 and dedication of Saddle Tramp Circle will precede a pep rally.

The appearance of Bob Hope in Lubbock Nov. 21 will attract many exes and students.

The homecoming parade through downtown Lubbock will begin at 10:30 a.m. Nov. 22. Floats will be classified in three groups — fraternities, sororities and all-campus organizations. A sweepstakes winner and first and second place honors will be awarded in each division.

EX-STUDENTS Council, including officers, chapter presidents and district representatives, will meet at 10:30 a.m. Friday. New general officers will be elected, according to exes' president, Curtis Sterling.

Class reunions Friday include the '26 through '38 classes at 9:30 p.m. in the Caprock Hotel; '39 through '49 classes at 8:15 p.m. in the Faculty Club and '50 through '58 in the Rec. Hall.

A LUNCHEON for exes will be in the old gym beginning at 11:45 a.m. Saturday. After the game between the University of Arkansas Razorbacks and the Red Raiders at 2 p.m. in Jones Stadium, a homecoming ball for exes at 8 p.m. in the Lubbock Hotel will close activities.

Hope Show Is Nearing Sell Out

Tickets for the "Bob Hope Show" which will be in Lubbock Nov. 21 are moving at a rapid pace. Some sections are reported nearing the sell out point.

Tickets may be obtained in the lobby of the Auditorium-Coliseum box office from 9 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Miss Ann Mason, a 21-year-old performer known among Las Vegas audiences, will add her singing-dancing talents to the all-star show.

Other featured attractions are emcee Pete Pedersen and Russ Gary's Orchestra.

Tickets will be $2 for Tech students and personnel and are located on the main floor and main south end. The two hour show will immediately follow Tech's Homecoming pep rally at 8:30 p.m. in the Coliseum.

QUEEN ENTRIES DUE FRIDAY

All entries for homecoming queen should be turned in to Gerald Myers in West Hall by Friday. The nominee must be a junior or senior, and no one may be nominated by more than one organization.

If any organization has nominated a girl that had previously been nominated by another organization, it is urged to notify Gerald Myers in West Hall or Ted Ferguson Bledsoe Hall by Friday.

BAND SWEETHEART — Jill Jost, junior from Marlin, reigned Saturday as Tech's band sweetheart. Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech President, placed the crown on Miss Jost's head. She was elected sweetheart in a popular election of band members, defeating Deana Ward and Charlotte Caskey.

KTTC MEETS

All persons interested in working on the KTTC staff must attend a meeting Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in the Speech Building. Electrical engineers are urgently needed to work on the engineer staff.

THE CAVEMAN

Good morning, record fans — You're probably sitting in Economics 0123 trying to shut out the wonderful wisdom of Aristotle by reading the Toyletdor.

I can't blame you though, I'm trying to write this column so I can hop down to my favorite disk-store, (and everyone knows which one that is) to buy the album that has been the best seller for 21 consecutive weeks in Lubbock; none other than the Kingston Trio's Album which features some treeman by the name of Tom Dooley.

I came out of my cave the other day and found out that Wayne's is all set album wise — with such new albums by Nat (the King) Cole, Shearing, Montoya, Prima and Jonah Jones. For all of you bullfight lovers who can't afford to go to Mexico every weekend, Wayne's has a new album, "The Music of Mexico," by Percy Faith and his little bull-fighters.

Wayne's has the hottest records out in many a caveman moon, with such disks as "Well All Right" by Lubbock's own Buddy Holly; Chuck Berry's "Joe Joe Gun," and Jimmie Rodgers, "You Understand Me." Tommy Sands, the singer who came and conquered Tech has a hot new one out called "Bigger Than Texas," we wonder if its bigger than our pet dinosaur Archibald?

For all of you cavemen who are tired of carrying cigarettes around in your pocket, Wayne's has the answer, The Transistor, a transistor radio the size of a package of cigarettes.

That's thirty for today, I have to go beat my woman. Be slaying you at Wayne's.

Kidnappers At Large!

Time — 6:45 a.m. Sunday morning

Place — Freshmen Dorms
INVESTIGATION PROVED the crime to be kidnap — mass-

UNCERTAINTY — Even Tech's first lady, Mrs. E. N. Jones, had an anxious moment about Raider football fortunes in the opening moments of Saturday's game, as Arizona's Wildcots drove into Raider territory. The Raiders, however, stifled the Wildcat attack and mounted one of their own, and Mrs. Jones was all smiles again.

kidnap of almost 30 pledges of Alpha Phi. Evidence at the scene indicated that the culprits had stolen into the pledges rooms, and taken their victims from sleep.

An immediate search was conducted and some of the guilty parties turned up. Several Alpha Phi members were found with their hostages on the outskirts of town.

Following the culprits searchers found the whole gang, eating breakfast at the Chicken Shack.

Jan Farris, president of the sorority confessed the motive behind the action of the Alpha Phi actives. "We wanted the pledges to know their Big Sisters better."

MISS FARRIS also presented to the pledge class a pot of ivy, the sorority's symbolic plant, "to grow as a symbol of their sisterhood in Alpha Phi".

Punishment for the crime — one breakfast for the victims to be paid for by the culprits.

Group Elects Techsan President at Meeting

Dr. William R. Pasework, head of business education and secretarial administration, was elected president of West Texas Business Teacher Assn. at a recent convention in Amarillo.

DR. PASEWORK received his B.S. and M.A. from New York University. He has studied in Europe. He received a Doctor of Philosophy in 1956 from New York University.

Dr. Pasework will preside at the association's convention in Lubbock next year.

Methodists Host Morning Watch

Plans for all-campus Morning Watch on Nov. 26 will be made at the Student Religious Council meeting Thursday at 6 p.m.

The meeting will be at the Methodist Student Center where the college department of St. John's Methodist Church will be the host.

Pair Given Twirp Awards

Climaxing the Rodeo Association's Twirp Week was the presentation of trophies to the boy and girl with the most points at the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance Saturday night.

JODY COOK was the girl with the most Twirp Week points. A trophy was also presented to the boy, Harry Miller, for the largest number of points.

Runner-ups Joan Veitch and Bill McIlvain were also recognized by John Yarbrough, vice president of the Rodeo Association.

Dairymen Meet at Tech For 3-Day Short Course

A three day short course for Dairymen is being conducted in the Aggie Auditorium.

George M. Clark, executive vice-president of Dairy Products Institute, opened the course Monday by discussing dairy industry's public relations needs.

Dr. G. M. Trout, Michigan University, discussed trends in the dairy industry.

Other speakers during the three day period are Dr. J. E. Edmondson, Missouri University; Dr. Percy R. Ellsworth, Milk Industry Foundation representative; Dale Seiberling, Klenzade Products, Inc.; and E. R. Jarman, Tech Dairy Industry Department.

A cottage cheese and buttermilk clinic will close the course Wednesday morning.

Wiley Will Speak

Dr. D. O. Wiley, Tech Band director, will be guest speaker at the Crosbyton Band Appreciation dinner.

The dinner will be in the auditorium Pioneer Memorial Building in Crosbyton at 7 p.m. tonight.

Newmans Acclaim Speaker After 'Integration' Talk

Bishop John L. Morkovsky stood before a hushed crowd in the ballroom of the Tech Union Sunday night after announcing the subject of his address would be "Integration."

The "Integration" on which the newly installed Bishop spoke was not that of races but rather of personality. He urged that the collegiate strive to become "a complete person" by making "a great love for God the center around which all his other activities would orbit."

A CROWD of approximately 150 Newmanites welcomed the Bishop with a standing ovation before and after his speech following the club's initiation banquet.

The Reverend Morkovsky, also of Newman membership, pointed out the advantages available to the Catholic college student and congratulated Miss Betsy Donovan on receiving the John Newman award.

ANYONE FOR FOOTBALL?

When Pancho Sigafoos, sophomore, pale and sensitive, first saw Willa Ludowic, freshman, lithe as a hazel wand and rosy as the dawn, he hemmed not; neither did he haw. "I adore you," he said without preliminary.

"Thanks, hey," said Willa, flinging her apron over her face modestly. "What position do you play?"

"Position?" said Pancho, looking at her askance. (The askance is a ligament just behind the ear.)

"On the football team," said Willa.

"Football!" sneered Pancho, his young lip curling. "Football is violence, and violence is the death of the mind. I am not a football player. I am a poet!"

"So long, buster," said Willa.

"Wait!" cried Pancho, clutching her damask forearm.

She placed a foot on his pelvis and wrenched herself free. "I only go with football players," she said, and walked, shimmering, into the gathering dusk.

Pancho went to his room and lit a cigarette and pondered his dread dilemma. What kind of cigarette did Pancho light? Why, Philip Morris, of course!

Philip Morris is always welcome, but never more than when you are sore beset. When a fellow needs a friend, when the heart is dull and the blood runs like sorghum, then, then above all, is the time for the mildness, the serenity, that only Philip Morris can supply.

Pancho Sigafoos, his broken psyche welded, his fevered brow cooled, his synapses restored, after smoking a fine Philip Morris, came to a decision: Though he was a bit small for football (an even four feet) and somewhat overweight (427 pounds), he tried out for the team—and tried out with such grit and gumption that he made it.

Pancho's college opened the season against the Manhattan School of Mines, always a mettlesome foe, but strengthened this year by four exchange students from Gibraltar who had been suckled by she-apes. By the middle of the second quarter the Miners had wrought such havoc upon Pancho's team that there was nobody left on the bench but Pancho. And when the quarterback was sent to the infirmary with his head driven straight down into his esophagus, the coach had no choice but to put Pancho in.

Pancho's teammates were not conspicuously cheered as the little fellow took his place in the huddle.

"Gentleman," said Pancho, "some of you may regard poetry as sissy stuff, but now in our most trying hour, let us hark to these words from Paradise Lost: 'All is not lost; the unconquerable will and study of revenge, immortal hate, and courage never to submit or yield!'"

So stirred was Pancho's team by this fiery exhortation that they threw themselves into the fray with utter abandon. As a consequence, the entire squad was hospitalized before the half. The college was forced to drop football. Willa Ludowic, not having any football players to choose from, took up with Pancho and soon discovered the beauty of his soul. Today they are seen everywhere—dancing, holding hands, nuzzling, smoking.

Smoking what? Philip Morris, of course!

Business Firms Discriminate

RECENTLY, and in the past year or so, several Lubbock business concerns have refused, on sight, to allow certain Tech students to patronize them.

Although the exact number of these incidents isn't known, since they all aren't reported, we know only that too many have occurred.

The latest occurrences happened Friday and Saturday nights at a local drive-in restaurant. Two Tech foreign students were in a car, awaiting service. As the car hop approached the car, she stared and then passed by. They didn't get to place an order that night.

Saturday night, the same two went back. Their order was taken this time, but after about a thirty minute wait, no food was brought to them.

They went in to see the manager, and he told them, "We don't serve Mexicans here." They told him they were foreign students at Tech, and then he, disgruntledly, told them they could eat.

Two other such instances occurred last year, at local movie houses. On both occasions, the students asked to see the manager, and both times they were allowed to enter after they assured the manager they weren't "Mexicans," but foreign students at Texas Tech.

Only stupid, narrow-minded proprietors allow this type of thing to happen. In the first place, it is against the American concept of equality not to allow a person, whether he is black, brown, pink or gray, to patronize a place open for the public.

The "businessmen" say, "Why, I don't want any ragged old 'Mexicans' hanging around my place." Well, brother, if you are going to discriminate (which is a very narrow-minded thing to do), you should do it on personal appearance alone, not the type nationality of a person.

Also affected by this type of sorry dealing are several Tech students who are generally called "Mexicans," but who are as American as anyone. Just because their ancestors may have come from Mexico several generations ago doesn't spell a thing; most of the rest of ours came from other countries.

Having the title "Mexican" (as it is meant when referred to the laborer) tagged on them is a distasteful thing to the foreign students, and to the Americans mentioned above. They are students at TEXAS TECH, and should be regarded as such.

Remember—Foreign students go back home, and the impressions their people get are the ones the students take back. If the city and college they attend doesn't make a favorable impression, what will?

The result of the type of action described above can clearly be seen in the case of an Arabian student who attended the University of Texas. While he was at the University, he was constantly tagged with the name "Mexican."

After he got back to his homeland, he worked with the oil business, and soon became in charge of the whole operation in Arabia. Do you think he is favorable toward the United States? —No!

★ ★ ★ ★

Lubbock business firms and other Tech students should try to get to know foreign students instead of discriminating against them. If other types of discrimination as described in this editorial occur in the future, and are reported, the names of the firms will be printed as having done so.

Editor's Note:
The title of this column has been changed. It originally was "What About It," but was changed because the writer of the column didn't particularly like it. The writer stays the same.

You know, one of the most interesting sections in this newspaper (based on readership, of course) is the letters to the editor section, Techsans Talk Back.

In this section — usually located in the lower corner of the editorial page — students send in views about various aspects of school life or criticisms of previous articles by the editorial staff.

But not only do the Techsans talk back, they often get away with the last word—a word which is frequently as illogical as it is senseless.

Future Engineers Need Fundamentals

With the impact of the past decade on technology, more stress must be placed on fundamental phenomena to train the engineer of 1965 or 1970, according to E. W. Kopp, Florida University's assistant engineering dean.

"THE FUTURE ENGINEER must have more information in the areas of science, mathematics and the humanities," asserts Dean Kopp.

Continuing, Dean Kopp pointed out that reviewing of curriculum is done regularly in all competent engineering schools in the country.

"Major recommendations for changes usually culminate at four-year intervals," he said.

PROPOSALS BEING evaluated by Florida University's engineering staff call for 19 hours in engineering fields other than the student's major, 14 hours of general physics, 19 hours in various engineering fundamentals, and offering advanced math courses earlier in the study program.

Should a senior be exempt from finals?

CLEMSON COLLEGE'S Student Committee for Scholastic Improvement recently completed a study on this subject. Findings were based on 19 replies to 25 questionnaires sent out.

Of the 19, nine didn't exempt seniors, but two of the nine, Ohio State and Stanford, had early examinations for seniors.

Two of the nineteen, Georgia Tech and Maryland, exempted seniors with no requirements.

THE FOLLOWING schools have a grade average basis for exemption: Lehigh, an "A" average; North Carolina State, Pennsylvania State, Fordham and Kentucky, a "B" average; Harvard, Colorado and Michigan State, a "C" average.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., is using resident advisors for the first time in freshman dorms.

GRADUATE STUDENTS used as advisors will spend 25 hours each week counseling students. The advisors will be given room, board, tuition and $100 each year. Their graduate work will be limited to nine hours a semester.

Peru - Pirura - Sechura - ancient civilizations — these words might seem fantasies to the average American, but to Dr. David H. Kelley, Texas Tech assistant professor of anthropology, they are realities.

DR. KELLEY has just returned from a year of research work on the northern coast of Peru. He was a Fulbright Scholar working on part of a three year project studying Peruvian archaeology.

Dr. Kelley worked in an area where it is believed that only one other archaeologist has ever worked before.

PURPOSE of his work was to "try to find out to what extent this area was like the rest of Peru and how the local developments were alike."

Action was centered in one of the larger towns, Piura. From Piura to the coast, 50 miles away, is desert. Then from Piura to the mountains there was "about as much vegetation as there is on King's Ranch," Dr. Kelley said.

"EXCEPT FOR the last 800-900 years, this region seemed different from the rest of Peru," he continued "There wasn't any clear sign of Inca occupation although they did have some control over the area."

Some characteristics of the people's advancement were metal fishhooks and ornaments. None of the groups in the Piura district showed large groups of population until the 1400s, the archaeologist said.

EVIDENCE OF habitation by sea mammal hunters in earlier periods was found in excavated sea lion bones. Later deposits of shells showed that some groups had been dependent on shellfish such as mussels and clams. Signs of agriculture in the coastal area were also found.

Dr. Kelley called on present Peruvian city, Sechura, "a town straight out of the Middle Ages." He found no electric lights, running water or paved streets in this town located 50 miles from Piura, a modern city.

THE TECH assistant professor is also interested in field work in Mexico or Guatemala and wants to continue a study of Mayan hieroglyphics. "It is possible to read in a rough way the contents of about one-third of the writings," he commented.

This is Dr. Kelley's first term of teaching at Tech. He received his Ph. D. at Harvard before traveling to South America. He is a native of New Hampshire.

Funeral Services Held For Student

Funeral services were conducted for a former Tech student, Van D. Brookshire, last Friday at the First Methodist Church in Tahoka.

BROOKSHIRE, who had been seriously ill since March, died at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Big Spring Veterans Hospital.

He was a business administration major and was to have graduated in May.

SURVIVORS are his father and seven brothers: Preston, Post; Price, Plains; Melvin, Denver City; James and Charles, both of Tahoka; Dan, Brownfield and Benny, Lubbock.

Opera Troupe Plans Local Performance

Opera with all its magnificence comes to Lubbock Friday when the New York Opera Festival Company, the only professional touring opera company in this country, presents a one-night performance of Verdi's "La Traviata."

TICKETS for the star production are on sale in the Lubbock Auditorium box office in the lobby. Seats are available to Tech students at the special price of $1.00. These are center section balcony. Sales are reported going fast with good seats still available.

The company of 75 will present the opera accompanied by full orchestra, chorus, and colorful scenery and costumes.

"La Traviata" which was a failure at its first performance has since become a favorite with opera audiences everywhere. The compelling story of lovers becomes even greater with the music of Verdi.

Tech Has 66 Valedictorians

Are today's freshmen smarter than last year's crop?

THE ANSWER is yes, according to figures released by Dr. Floyd D. Boze, Dean of Admissions and Registrar at Texas Tech. There are 66 freshmen enrolled in Tech this fall who were graduated from high school as valedictorians, with the boys outnumbering the girls, 34 to 32.

Last year, Tech had 55 freshmen valedictorians.

Dr. Trout Speaks At D. I. Meet

A change in the eating habits of America and technical advances toward more quality milk products make for a bright future in the dairy industry, Dr. G. M. Trout of Michigan State University declared at Texas Tech's Dairy Industry Short Course Monday.

"Today Americans are eating more fruits and vegetables and 30 per cent more dairy products than they did nearly 50 years ago," he said.

"In a time when many dairymen act almost ashamed to admit that butter is a by-product of milk, the butter industry today is approaching a billion dollar market," he added.

He said there is no need for dairymen to lose customers between the ages of 15 and 65 — a time many persons turn to other beverages.

"American youth wants good sweet milk," he emphasized. The Michigan professor pointed to the great desire of returning World War Two servicemen for good milk and ice cream as proof that milk is a good salable product.

Christian Science Sets New Date

The Christian Science Organization has changed its meeting time from Sunday afternoon to Monday at 5:15 p.m. in Room B of the Tech Union.

Phi Delt's Battle SAEs In Showdown

By JOHN LEWIS

Sigma Alpha Epsilon meets Phi Delta Theta Wednesday in a game that should decide the fraternity league intramural touchfootball championship.

Should SAE defeat the Phi Delt's it would tie them for the title and there would then be a play-off game.

Few surprises developed out of the games played Sunday.

The Phi Delt's victory over Sigma Nu, 20-0, was no surprise to anyone. The Phi Delt's looked good and seemed to be practicing for the game against SAE.

SAE won their game Sunday 12-0 over Kappa Sigma. The Kappa Sigs didn't give the SAE's as hard a time as was anticipated. The SAE team was never in real trouble and had full command of the field.

The big surprise of the day came when Delta Tau Delta won its first game of the season over a spitting Alpha Tau Omega team 20-6. The ATO's could not control the Delt passing attack and lost their sixth game of the year against three wins.

In other games played Sunday, Pi Kappa Alpha defeated Sigma Chi, 12-0, and Phi Gamma Delta beat Phi Kappa Psi, 1-0.

Dorm 6 Tops Roman Rusher

Dorm No. 6 unleashed their passing attack and handed the Roman Rushers a 13-7 defeat in the play-off game between the Independent and Dormitory Leagues yesterday.

DORM NO. 6 scored early in the game on an intercepted pass and held a 6-0 lead until four minutes left in the game when the Rushers scored to make the count 7-6. On the kick-off return the ball was carried to the Rushers 20 yard line and on the first play from scrimmage, Dorm No. 6 scored on a pass to beat the Rushers.

This win means that Dorm No. 6 will meet the winner of the Fraternity League, Sunday, to decide the All-College championship title.

SATURDAY ACTION — Ronnie Rice (45), Tech halfback, moves out against Arizona. An unidentified Arizona player throws a shoulder into Rice, knocking him off-balance, while Arizona halfback Billy Overall (27) hurries up to help secure the tackle. Tech won 33-6.

Dibenedetto Dies

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Lawrence Dibenedetto Sr., former national president of the National Amateur Athletic Union and one of the founders of the New Orleans Sugar Bowl, died Monday after a long illness. He was 75.

Dibenedetto, who also served as secretary-treasurer of the Southern AAU since its inception in 1906, was hospitalized a year ago. He returned to work, but went back into the hospital several weeks ago.

Best Since TU — Dee

With their spirits somewhat lifted, Texas Tech's Red Raiders returned to the practice field Monday to begin work for Saturday's clash with the powerful Tulsa Hurricanes in Tulsa.

Coach DeWitt Weaver was among those who felt much better following Saturday's 33-6 win over Arizona, Tech's third win of the year.

"I FEEL a lot better—we did a real good job," Weaver remarked. "Dellinger played his best game. Ronnie (Rice) looked much better and Gurley played well. Our defense was real fine—we kept leverage. This wasn't out best defensive game. A&M was. But our defense was tough. We played today like we did earlier in the year. It was our best effort since Texas. We felt real fortunate," he added.

When questioned about reports of a prospective Tangerine Bowl bid Weaver laughingly remarked that "all I've heard is what I've read in the papers."

THE RAIDERS came out of the game with a minimum of injuries. Floyd Dellinger bruised a leg and Bob Witucki was shaken up a bit but the injuries were considered minor.

It was the best offensive output since the West Texas game. Halfbacks Gurley and Rice led the way. Gurley carried six times for 82 yards and one touchdown while Rice picked up 69 yards in four carries. Witucki tallied three times on a pass from Floyd Dellinger and two from Jerry Bell. Dellinger picked up the other tally on a one-yard dive.

RICE HAS NOW taken the total offensive leadership away from Dellinger. Ronnie has 206 yards on the ground and 46 in the air for a total of 250. Dellinger is only three yards behind him at 247, having gained 43 yards on passes. Both are tied with 206 and a 3.8 average for rushing honors.

Witucki's three scores Saturday places him at the top of the scoring leaders with 18 points. Quarterback Jerry Bell is still the leading passer with 15 completions in 39 attempts for 142 yards.

DAN GURLEY

Outlook

By BILL DEAN

The Red Raider dressing room was a scene of satisfaction following Saturday's 33-6 win over Arizona.

"We made up our minds to hit and we did," barked Jerry Bell. "Our off tackle and wide plays worked the best. Our blocking was exceptional."

"Yes, Hunsaker is a good boy. I rate him behind Pettibon and Mustead and about even with Humphrey. They have a good big rangy team. We just wanted it a little more than they did today," he concluded.

Yes, all the players made their minds up about this one. The results spoke for themselves.

There were many others I stopped to question. One thing tackle Phil Williams said seems to stick in my mind—"I think we showed everyone today that it's not the coaches, it's the players. We have the boys and if they will play as they are capable of playing, we can win. It's not the coaches, it's the players."

There were differences of opinion as to who was the best Arizona player, although everyone agreed that Hunsaker was a fine quarterback. Williams felt like Bill Christensen, Wildcat right guard, gave him the most trouble while tackle Jim Henderson pointed to second team center, Nick Balich, as the toughest lineman.

End Bob Witucki, who gathered in three touchdown passes, commented that, "Hunsaker throws a good ball, but not as sharp as some I've seen." Witucki was 'real happy' to catch the three scoring passes. "End is my first love and I'm sure happy to be back there," he added.

Dan Gurley, the little halfback who carried six times for 82 yards and scored the second touchdown, was scared to death at first, but, "with the good blocking I got I just couldn't go wrong." Commenting on the touchdown, his first score since coming to Tech, Gurley remarked that, "I sure was happy—just real tickled."

So was everyone else.

Raider starting left tackle Saturday, Roger Nesbitt, is a native of Tuscon where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Timmens live now. Nesbitt went to junior college at Compton, California and wanted to go to Arizona but they didn't want him, mainly because he was a junior college transfer.

Lubbock High School seems to have found a Coolidge who does choose to run. His name is Coolidge Hunt who gathered 156 yards in the leading the Westerners to a 41-6 win over Pampa Saturday night and upped his yearly total to 1047 yards. The strange thing about it is last year Hunt was an end and was shifted only last spring to fullback. He is also a terrific middle linebacker on defense. Anyone listening?
