

Careers Conference Starts Monday

Festival Begins This Week

Five Speakers Highlight First Day of Talks

Accounting and Economics fields will present five speakers Wednesday for the opening Careers Conference sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi.

INCLUDING seventeen speakers, the Careers Conference scheduled for the Tech Union Ballroom will run for three days. The conference is open to all persons interested in business careers.

From 8-10 a.m. Wednesday, the accounting division will feature three leading men of the field. Hugh S. Thomas, C.P.A. for Merriam and Thomas in Brownfield will speak on governmental accounting.

PUBLIC accounting will be presented by Dewey J. Berglund of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co., Dallas. Lionel E. Gilley, financial vice president of Producing Properties Inc., Dallas, will guide the private accounting session.

The Economics division will be held from 10 a.m.-noon, featuring Frank P. McGowan, executive director of the Southwest Edition of the Wall Street Journal, Dallas division.

McGOWAN has been with the Wall Street Journal since 1937. He has served as the New England representative, the Washington representative, assistant to publisher and is now in his present position. A member of the Foreign Trade Committee, he is past president of the Dallas Advertising League, a member of the National Better Business Bureau board of directors and many others.

Also speaking on Economics is Robert B. Lindsey, chief of Employment Services of the Texas Employment Commission in Austin.

MARKETING, advertising and finance will be taken up Thursday. Friday's topics include secretarial administration and business education and management.

Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising fraternity, is assisting with the conference. Phil Orman, ADS president, is in charge of the advertising division.

ACCORDING to Dean George Heather, business administration dean, instructors are being urged to excuse the students who present them an attendance card, which will be handed out at the conference sessions.

Cheerleaders Chosen

The freshman class chose six students from more than 70 candidates to serve as cheerleaders for frosh athletic contests this year.

NAMED to cheerleader posts were Beth O'Quinn, San Antonio; Ginger Gilbert, Amarillo; Sandra Allison, Levelland; Ken Bailey and John Appleby, Dallas, and Jim Isham, Lubbock.

For the first time, names of frosh cheerleaders weren't announced at the election — each candidate was given a number for identification.

"THIS WAS done to make sure students voted for quality of performance rather than for a well-known name," said Dennis McCarty, freshman publicity chairman.

Competing against each other, each candidate lead a few yells. As the candidate performed, he was given a number, and the ballot had each number printed on it. The voter encircled six numbers.

WOMEN candidates performed in groups of four, and men candidates performed in groups of three.

La Ventana editor, Billy Ellis, announces that today at 5 is the deadline for all organizations to have their page contracts signed, not fees paid, as was stated in the Saturday announcement. Organizations have all semester to pay for the pages. Representatives can contact Phil Orman at J101 to reserve pages.

Today is also the last day to make arrangements for class pictures. Appointments are being made in J211.

KTTC MEET SET FOR WEDNESDAY

All persons who are interested in working on station KTTC, Tech's radio station, should meet with the staff Wednesday, according to Don Denton, program director.

The meeting will be in the Speech Building at 6:30 p.m.

ABOUT FOOD

Representatives Discuss Problems

Measures to improve flow of information between students on one hand and food representatives and dietitians on the other were discussed at a meeting of the dorm food representatives and Bill Hassler, Assistant Dean of Men.

MEETING MONDAY night, several measures were discussed by the eight representatives and Hassler.

"We considered setting up a regular meeting time with the dietitians," said Ken Cook, food representative of Dorm 6.

MINUTES OF such meetings would be posted on the bulletin boards of the different mens dorms.

"We will also meet with Hassler at least twice more this semester," Cook added. "A meeting with the dietitians is planned for today at five."

Providing a special mailbox in each dorm for food representatives was considered.

"STUDENTS could put suggestions and complaints in the mailbox, and the food representatives would then have a way of knowing student opinion," Cook said.

The third and final measure discussed was setting up of conference hours for food representatives.

McCullen To Speak On Truth

Dr. J. T. McCullen of the English department will speak at 4:00 p.m. today in Tech Union Ballroom in connection with the Fine Arts Festival currently in progress.

"TWO QUESTS for Truth — King Oedipus and Wineset" will be the topic of Dr. McCullen's lecture.

Tech Union is sponsoring the festival, with cooperation of the music, speech, allied arts, applied arts, women's physical education, English and foreign language departments.

Also highlighting today's program will be a performance by the Modern Dance group at 8:00 p.m. in the Aggie Auditorium. The performance will include primitive, folk, modern and modern jazz types of dance.

OPENING Wednesday's events will be the showing of "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," Grand Prize winning film at the Cannes Film Festival, at 4:00 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. The film is a combination of the pre-war comedies and those of the Chaplin slapsticks.

At 8:00 p.m. tomorrow the music department will present a concert of orchestral and choral music in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

THE CONCERT will feature the Tech Orchestra under the direction of Mr. P. R. Ellsworth and the Choir and Singers directed by Mr. Gene Kenney in a presentation of the Faure Requiem.

Highlighting Thursday's program will be a concert of progressive jazz by the Tech Stage Band under the direction of Mr. Keith McCarty. The concert will be at 4:00 p.m. in Union Lounge and is also sponsored by the music department.

ALSO ON Thursday speech department will present Jean Anouilh's "Antigone" at 8:15 p.m. in the Livestock Pavilion. Reservations should be made at the Speech Building. Admission is $1.00 and Tech students need only to present their I.D. cards for admittance.

The film "Julius Caesar" will begin Friday's program. This full length sound film version of the Shakespearean play will be shown in Union Ballroom at 4:00 p.m.

ALSO ON Friday, "Subida al Cielo" (Mexican Bus Ride) will be

Meeting to Set Speech Series

Plans for the annual all-campus speech tournament will be formulated Thursday afternoon as Tech organizations prepare to vie for the sweepstakes plaque and eight divisional trophies.

JAMES E. BRENNAN, speech instructor, asked all organizations to elect a representative to appear at the council meeting Thursday at 5 p.m. The council will make rules, set dates and determine events and fees.

A series of five or six contests are planned for the year, with nine winners to be announced in the spring. Brennan said that individuals may enter the all-campus event without the backing of a participating organization.

PHI GAMMA DELTA, social fraternity, has won the event for two years enabling them to keep the sweepstakes trophy. A new plaque will be offered the grand winner this year.

Pikes Honor Recent Pledges

New pledges of Pi Kappa Alpha were honored at a breakfast in the reserve room of the Cliff-house Sunday morning at 7 a.m.

AFTER THE MEAL they were given an orientation program by the members of the fraternity.

The meeting was climaxed by singing the fraternity's traditional songs. Later the group attended the services at the First Baptist Church.

RECENT PIKE initiates are John Petty, Lanny Maedgen, Dan Thompson, Richard Wiesen, Phil Ice, Wesley Masters, Tommy Schmidt, Larry Campbell, Bob McGough, Butch Baynes, Howard Jones, Jerald Lindsley and Wiley Doran.

PLEDGING TIME — a potential pledge examines an active's pledge pen as he waits to become an official pledge. This scene was repeated many times, as more than 150 men were pledged to 10 Greek fraternities.

Dating Tables Turned As 'Twirping' Starts

A not-too-common sight this week will be girls opening the doors for boys, the fair sex calling males for dates and other niceties toward males.

The reason? Monday marked the first day of the annual week long Twirp (The Woman Is Requested to Pay) Week sponsored by and for the Texas Tech Rodeo Assn.

Engineers Plan 'Brainstorm'

"Brainstorming" will be the featured attraction at the meeting of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers November 4 at 7:30 in room 225 of the West Engineering Bldg.

"BRAINSTORMING" is the process of rapid idea extraction. This method will be used to get new ideas for the contest that La Ventana is sponsoring for the best original layout for each organization's section. Ideas are taken from different individuals, combined for purposes of improvement, and the final sketch is made.

Election of vice president and secretary will also take place at this meeting. Field trip information about the Dallas-Fort Worth trip will be discussed.

Twirp Week concludes Saturday night after the Tech-Arizona game with a Sadie Hawkins Dance in the Rec. Hall. The dance begins at 8:30 p.m. for those who don't go to the game.

DURING TWIRP Week, the girl must make the date, arrange for transportation, pay all date expenses, be prompt for all engagements and extend the courtesies to the "oft-mistreated" male which are usually extended to the girls.

A special point system, based on the number of events to which the girl takes her "date," has been established. The boy and the girl with the most points at the end of the week will be awarded a trophy.

A booth in the Union has been set up to sell the Twirp licenses. Rodeo Assn. members must have licenses, according to John Schlittler, president of the Rodeo Assn.

Seniors Meet Today To Elect Sponsor

A class sponsor will be elected at today's meeting of the senior class at 5 p.m. in room 260 of the Ad Bldg.

Also on the agenda are the appointment of committees and the discussion of a gift for the college, Jay Dunlap, senior class spokesman, said.

'Luau' Parties Offering Prize

Charlie Fleming, Tech representative of the Student Marketing Institute, is planning a series of Hawaiian "Luau Parties" on campus.

THE "ORCHIDS OF HAWAII" organization, to further interest in Hawaiian statehood, will send social chairmen of organizations giving the best 10 parties in the nation on a one-week all-expense paid trip to the Hawaiian Islands via United Air Lines.

"Orchids of Hawaii" will plan the whole party and arrange for the food to be served as part of the program.

THE PARTIES can range from authentic "Luau Parties" with grass skirts, sarongs, poi, fiesta hats, etc., to regular campus socials with orchid leis for the

Missionary To Speak At Luncheon Thursday

The Rev. James T. Magruder, missionary from Japan, will speak to the Presbyterian Student Association at a noon luncheon Thursday in the Ballroom Lounge.

REVEREND Magruder is visiting colleges and universities for the Student Volunteer Movement to discuss the nature of the Christian mission in the world today and student participation in the mission.

RESERVATION for the noon luncheon may be made by calling PO 3-4392 before 10 a.m. Thursday. Anyone who wishes to attend the lecture but not the luncheon may do so.

Reverend Magruder will be available for private consultations in regard to missions, vocations and life of the Church by appointment on Thursday. Contact the Presbyterian Center, 2414 13th.

Contest Prize Will Be Shown

The first place prize in this semester's Philip Morris Inc. "Save-A-Pack" contest, a golden toned Hi-Fi set, will go on display later this week in the Texas Tech bookstore.

THE HI-FI, complete with a Stereo speaker hookup, will be given to the fraternity or sorority that saves the most flip top boxes or soft packs of Marlboro, Parliament or Philip Morris.

You have to get up mighty early... to give the kind of service that's building America's second largest telephone system.

When it comes to service we aim to deliver the goods. Result: we're growing fast! For in Gen Tel Territory, America is finding the room the overcrowded big cities can no longer supply. New homes, new stores, new factories are springing up fast.

And so is the need for up-to-the-minute telephone communications. That's where Gen Tel comes in big. To meet the growing need for telephone service, we're installing 750 new phones each day, investing almost 4 million dollars each week in new facilities.

At Gen Tel we're working overtime to develop new uses for the telephone to keep ahead of the growing need for better and more complete communications. That's one reason we are America's second largest telephone system.

No doubt about it, America is on the move. And Gen Tel is moving with it—moving up.

Fine Arts Festival Is Tech Highlight

ANOTHER CHAPTER in the development of Tech is being written as the first Tech Fine Arts Festival unfolds this week under the sponsorship of Tech Union.

Representing three years of planning by the Union, the festival, under the direction of the Fine Arts Festival Committee, employs the talents of allied arts, applied arts, English, foreign language, music, speech and womens physical education departments.

Kicking off the festival Sunday afternoon was a talk entitled "What is Fine Arts," by Richard Tracy, allied arts.

During the week, Techsians will be treated to a performance by modern dance groups of womens physical education, lectures, the speech department's version of Anouilh's "Antigone," music department's concert of orchestral and choral music and a fine arts potpourri featuring Tech Opera Theater and the modern dance group.

This festival is designed to fulfil a definite Tech need for more interest in fine arts, and students should plan to take advantage of this fine opportunity. Each student should try to arrange his schedule for this week so that he may enjoy as much of the festival as possible.

Tech Union and participating departments have done a fine job in preparing for the festival, and are to be commended. It is our hope that Fine Arts Festival will become a permanent feature of Tech.

PROPAGANDA

Editor,

Speaking of propaganda! Paragraphs four, five and six of your Thursday's column were a prime example of it. Where did you get your expert views on integration? Out of "Newsweek" or "Uncle Tom's Cabin"?

I am a strong segregationist and my strongest argument is on moralistic concept. You are implying that all segregationists are sinners, atheists, or immoral persons.

That sounded like the half truth.

J. H.

Editor's Note:

First, I did not get the idea from where you suggested, or from any other written material. I cannot conceive of a person basing segregation on a moralistic view, but if you say you do, that's all right with me. Many people separate segregation from an idealism, religion or moralistic view, as pointed out in my second point, and neither you nor I can say a person is a sinner, atheist or immoral being.

What About It

by TOMMY SCHMIDT

I'm sure everyone is aware of the proximity of nine weeks exams, and with them the half-way mark of the fall semester. But for the benefit of the freshmen, a few lines of information may be helpful.

For they are the lowly "fish" who have, along with many other people in a variety of departments, helped establish a "first" at Texas Tech. They have completed the first nine weeks period without the benefit of the earlier freshmen progress reports.

So, I imagine that right now there are many a lost fish at Texas Tech (grawdise, that is); and, at the same time, several anxious parents at home.

But be glad, for the omission of the reports probably saved many hours of grief among these same mothers and dads.

Instead of rushing to mom and dad the first hour quiz grades, which are often times not a true evaluation of the first four weeks work, the college faculty decided to give students extra time to up their grades.

This is an attempt to counterbalance orientation effects on new Techsians as well as to accustom them to the whims and techniques of individual teachers.

Actually freshmen students are quite lucky this year. But now, with nine weeks approaching, the low grades will have to be redeemed. One slip can be remedied, but to bring two low grades up to a respectable average is next to impossible.

Now, that my weekly mercenary mission is done, I can turn to events prominent to the older Tech students, the ones over 21.

A warning has been issued to Techsians, (and I suppose the faculty, too) that the Texas Liquor board members in Lubbock are enforcing a "long forgotten section" of a state law relative to possession of liquor.

The state Liquor Control act provides that no person may possess or consume liquor in a public place between 1:15 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Sundays or between 12:15 a.m. and 7 a.m. any other day. The act also permits seizure of liquor in public during the hours, and sets up a fine of $50 or less on conviction.

When was it? Last summer, I believe, that Rafael Trujillo, the Latin American millionaire from the Dominican Republic, came to the United States. Before his departure he had bestowed upon Hollywood beauties Zsa Zsa Gabor and Kim Novak, luxurious late-model automobiles, one of Mercedes-Benz make. Well, don't you catch?

I hear a real live skunk was found running around in Bledsoe Hall last week. It supposedly gave the dorm advisors a nerve-racking time. In fact, I heard one of the advisors was afraid he might be left holding the bag.

Oh yes, I hear Sneed Hall had a remarkable turnout for breakfast Thursday morning.

Madame Is In the Tub

by JOE NICHOLSON

The concierge timed her arrival on the sidewalk so as to be sweeping off the far end of the cobblestoned area when Marie came around the corner with her flower cart.

"Well," she said as Marie laboriously hoisted the rear of the cart to its customary place on the sidewalk. "Well, I suppose this morning we shall have a little excitement, eh?"

Her only answer was a grunt as Marie anchored the cart wheels and with her fat, greasy hands began arranging the flowers.

"I suppose," said the concierge, "that it does not excite you to know that any moment that handsome commissioner of police will without doubt be in my apartment house, eh?"

"No, it does not," said Marie, but her little hands paused in their work with the flowers.

"Why should this be anyway?" "Well, because that dolt of a medical student who rooms with me and directly above Monsieur Clement, has got it into his empty head that there has been foul play in Monsieur Clement's room and has gone for the police without his breakfast."

"Hah," said Marie, "this is crazy, for M. Clement has been gone thirteen days to the country and has not bought a flower for his lapel, and I know for I have missed him every morning. Thirteen mornings."

"Yes, it is crazy," agreed the concierge, and she leaned one garbled hand on the broom and wagged the other in Marie's face, "but my medical student says he smells dead bodies and he cannot study. I smell nothing and I clean the hall every day."

Marie was thoughtful. "The medical student cannot smell. He always buys the weekend flowers, proving he cannot smell."

"Anyway," said the concierge, "I hope that M. Clement will not be angry for going into his room with the police. He was upset when he left for his vacation."

"That was because Felicie had left for the vacation eleven months early. He was very much unhappy because his lover was gone. Everyday she was gone he bought the white flower. Oh, these old people know how to love. It is good they never married and lost the love."

"Of course," said the concierge. "I too know how upset M. Clement was. Didn't I say his mind was wandering, eh? Didn't I tell you the time the two ladies came to see Felicie who had gone to the country and M. Clement said, 'Madame cannot be disturbed. She is in the bathtub.'? It is good to see a man such a lover in his old age."

Presently, the police came up the street. The medical student, very excited and waving his arms. The handsome commissioner of police, with the mustache, and his lieutenant.

At the door to M. Clement's room the commissioner of police turned to the concierge while she was fumbling for the pass key.

"Listen," he said, "this fellow, Clement; what business was he in."

"Oh," bubbled the concierge. "M. Clement was in the perfume and soap business. A very good salesman."

"Not so very good," said the medical student, "only lately have I seen him bring home samples he could not get rid of, whole gallons of samples."

"Never mind, never mind," said the commissioner, "quickly now, get the door open."

When the door was opened, they entered a very neat little apartment. Everything was in order except that M. Clement was lying on the couch with his wrists and throat slashed, and a bullet hole was in his temple.

There was very much blood; all over M. Clement and the couch, and too, M. Clement had been dead for thirteen days. The concierge turned very white and was immediately sick on the pink wallpaper with the little blue flowers. She turned and ran downstairs and was sick twice on the way down.

"My God!" said the medical student.

The commissioner turned to his lieutenant, "Look into the other rooms, see if all is in order . . . but, obviously the old man has done this to himself."

"He had done a thorough enough job," said the medical student.

"Christ yes! He certainly didn't leave anything to chance." The commissioner opened the double windows on the far side of the room.

While they examined the corpse, the lieutenant returned somewhat glassy-eyed and perhaps, under the ruddy tan, a little pale.

"Listen," he said, "his mistress didn't go to the country eleven months ago."

"No," said the commissioner. "No, she is in the bathtub under an old mattress and two pieces of plywood . . . she is floating, at least the biggest parts of her are, in several gallons of Eau de Cologne."

The lieutenant glanced at the rotting corpse of M. Clement and turned up his nose. "You know," he said, "it smells somewhat better in the bathroom."

Concluding Friday's activities will be another presentation of the play "Antigone" at 8:15 p.m. in the Livestock Pavilion.
A final presentation of "Antigone" Saturday will begin at 8:15 p.m. and will complete Tech's first Fine Arts Festival.

STUDENTS ARE reminded of the noon entertainment which is provided daily in the Union Snack Bar. Entertainers include The Impressions, a jazz quartet and the KD Combo.

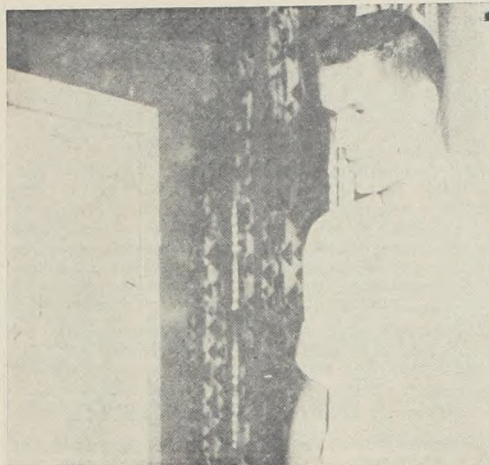

Exhibits by the various departments connected with the Festival will be on display in the Tech Union throughout this week.

THE FESTIVAL opened last Sunday and was designed, according to Dr. Truman Camp, English department head, "to help students realize the value of fine arts in a well rounded education."

PHOTOGRAPHERS MEET

Kappa Alpha Mu, photographers fraternity, will meet at 5 p.m. Tuesday in the Journalism Building reading room.

Union Displays Art Collection

IVAN REIGNS SUPREME — James Wiley, junior student from Lubbock, looks at one of the paintings by Ivan Majdrakoff which are currently on exhibit in the Tech Union. The exhibit is sponsored by the Music and Exhibits Committee and is being shown as an added attraction of the Fine Arts Festival.

"Reclining Nude," "Migration" and "California Summer" are three paintings in a collection by Ivan Majdrakoff now being shown in the workroom of the Tech Union.

THE PAINTINGS are part of a contemporary line for which the California artist is famous. Numerous exhibits by Majdrakoff and his wife, Julia Pearl, have been obtained by colleges throughout the country. Most of the couple's exhibits include painting, drawings and jewelry.

The current showing is a collection of black and whites. Other picture topics include the "Flood," "Evolution," "Torso," "Patrol" and "Agitation."

Tech Hosts Area Hi-Y—Tri-Hi-Y Conference

More than 50 high school delegates are expected to attend the 12th annual Hi-Y-Tri-Hi-Y Youth and Government Pre-legislative Conference at Tech Saturday.

DELEGATES FROM an area extending from Wichita Falls to El Paso will converge on the campus armed with legislative bills which they have prepared.

The conference is, in reality, a laboratory exercise in democracy which will include group discussion of proposed legislation.

Bills will be read, discussed and debated in legislative committee meetings. A nominee for youth governor will be selected to represent this area at the Legislative Conference in Austin Dec. 14.

Three permanent officers have been allocated to the West Texas area including sergeant-at-arms, calendar clerk of the house and clerk of the senate.

TOWNS IN the area may nominate a candidate for each of the offices. Dick Gingery, YMCA secretary from El Paso, will head the election committee which will narrow the nominations down to two. Delegates to the conference will decide the final election of officers.

DR. S. M. KENNEDY, assistant dean of Arts and Sciences, will welcome the conference delegates to Tech. The Haleokala Hi-Y Club, Sweetwater, will lead the devotions.

Following the devotions, H. J. Blanchard, state representative from Lubbock, will address the meeting on legislative procedures at 10:30 a.m.

LAST YEAR'S nominee for youth governor, Morris Sheats, Lubbock, will speak on "What Youth and Government Can Mean to a Hi-Y or Tri-Hi-Y member."

Serving as bill clerk during the discussion meetings will be Miss Ruth Cowart, government instructor here. She will be aided by several Tech freshmen who will classify the bills and send them to one of the eleven legislative committees.

President of the Lubbock YMCA, George Gilkerson, will greet the legislators on behalf of the YMCA board of directors at 2 p.m. The Ad-Lib Combo, under direction of Hank Hunt, will provide entertainment following Gilkerson's address.

"THE PRE-LEGISLATIVE conference is a joint responsibility of Tech, the Lubbock YMCA and the Southwest Area Council of YMCA," said Fred Pearson, YMCA coordinator.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in the Tech Union.

Towns expected to be represented include: Odessa, Pampa, Big Spring, Vernon, Lubbock, Abilene, Amarillo, Borger, Sweetwater, Midland, Cisco, Plainview, El Paso, San Angelo and Wichita Falls.

Dr. Camp Talks About Camping

"Camping in Europe in the Summer of 1958" was the subject of an informal talk given by Dr. Truman Camp at the Public Library Monday evening.

DR. CAMP, head of the English department recounted his travels on the Continent to a group of the Friends of the Library.

His three-month tour of Europe by car, a Volkswagon which he brought back with him, included countries from Denmark, to Austria, to southern Europe. Supplementing his talk were color slides he made en route.

"I HAVE no preference to countries," he stated. "I would like to visit them all again." Dr. Camp has made two previous trips to England.

Charm School Meets Monday

Charm School, sponsored by Texas Tech's Home Economics Club and Phi Upsilon Omecron, will have its next meeting November 10.

FOR THOSE who missed the first meeting and still wish to enroll, the classes missed may be made up.

Mrs. Beth Rothman, former model of John Powers Modeling School is presenting the course she taught at the Powers School in Dallas.

ADVANCED classes meet from 4-6 p.m. on the scheduled days and the beginners meet either from 10-11 a.m. or 6-8 p.m.

Scheduled classes will be November 10, 17, and 24, and December 2. Cost of the course is $15 for the ten hours of instruction.

Memorial Fund Set For Tech Graduate

A living memorial fund has been set up for Malcolm Young, a 1958 Tech graduate, who drowned last Saturday while hunting on the Mississippi River near La Crosse, Wis.

YOUNG WAS the son of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Young, 3305 45th St. Dr. Young is head of the Tech agronomy department.

Young's parents have asked that, instead of sending flowers, contributions to the memorial fund be sent to them at their home address.

Either an Alpha Tau Omega scholarship or an Optimist Club service project will be products of the fund. Mrs. Young said that both might be started.

While at Tech, Young was president of Alpha Tau Omega, social fraternity, and was a member of Alpha Pi Mu, honorary fraternity for industrial engineers.

AFTER GRADUATING with a degree in industrial engineering, Young had been employed by an air conditioning firm in La Crosse.

He was also the first president of the Monterey Optimist Club after it was founded in Lubbock in 1957.

A 1950 graduate of Lubbock High School, Young had played football for the Westerners.

THE 26-YEAR-OLD man was born in Knoxville, Tenn., but had received all of his education in Lubbock. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services will be Friday at 3 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church here.

Survivors besides the parents include his wife, the former Annette Bowden of Fort Worth, who had also attended Tech, and a 2-year-old daughter, Demetri.

Pearce Attends History Congress

Dr. William M. Pearce, history department chairman, left yesterday to attend the Second International Congress of Historians of the U.S. and Mexico at the University of Texas in Austin.

THE MEET is scheduled through Thursday.

Scholars are expected from Spain, France, Great Britain, Australia, Canada, Argentina and Brazil.

DR. PEARCE is serving as co-chairman with Silvio Zavala from Mexico for the morning session Wednesday on "Mexican and American Conceptions of the Frontier."

HONORARY INITIATES THREE

Jean Schepers, McGregor; Jean Elliott, Houston; and Kathy White, Lubbock; were initiated Sunday into Phi Epsilon Omecron, national home economics honorary at Tech.

The Texas Tech freshmen, although ragged in spots, overcame their mistakes and roared back for a great second half and a 31-20 win over the West Texas freshmen.

The Picadors were quick to take advantage of mistakes, converting two third quarter fumbles into scores. In the first half, however, it was quite a different situation as Tech lost the ball four times — three within the first ten minutes.

Combined with the bobbles and several cutting penalties the freshmen trailed at halftime 14-7. But Tom Hamm's first-year men came back strong in the third quarter, scoring 18 points. Then they traded touchdowns in the final period and held on to the victory.

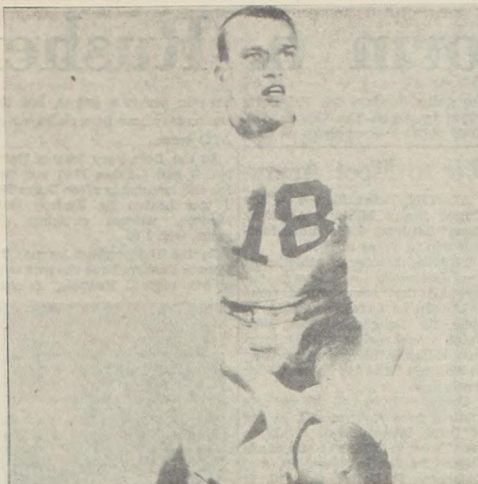

Tech's defensive play in the second half was superb. The Calves were able to gain but 87 yards on the ground and 31 in the air.

Two Tech backs — Fullback George Fraser and Halfback Dickie Polson — were especially impressive. Fraser scored twice on runs of five and eight yards while Polson tallied once on an eight-yard scamper. The latter was all over the field on defense and should make the Raiders an able hand next year.

Quarterback Billy Ryan was also impressive. He threw one touchdown pass, a 17-yarder to end Freddie Thompson, and worked the option and keeper successfully.

It was also a pleasure to watch some of the men up-front work on the Calf offense. The Picadors looked ready, willing and able — even if they did make plenty of mistakes.

LEADS ATTACK — SMU quarterback Billy Dunn teamed with Don Meredith Saturday to lead the Ponies to a 26-10 win over Texas. Dunn hit 7 of 14 passes for 102 yards while Meredith connected on 6 of 12 tries for 112 yards.

Texas Tries Baylor Bears

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 4 — The University of Texas invades the lair of the Baylor Bear Saturday afternoon to face the Southwest Conference's most-feared one-two offensive combination.

Quarterback Buddy Humphrey and Fullback Larry Hickman give the Baptists from Waco a topside-inside combination which is the envy of every SWC team. Humphrey, an outstanding upback in his senior year, handles the Bear overhead game superbly and is probably the best running quarterback in the conference.

A lack of team depth has kept every Saturday from being good for Baylor this season, but when things are going right for the Bears, no opponent is safe. Texas learned long ago not to take the Baptists lightly, but as late as last season the lesson was being repeated.

Phis, Dorm 6, Rushers Top 'Murals

by JOHN LEWIS

As the intramural touch football season draws to a close, the battles are still raging. In the Fraternity touch football league, Phi Delta Theta continues to lead the League with a 6-0 record. In the game Sunday, the Phi Deltas edged by Alpha Tau Omega, 1-0. They didn't look as sharp as they

TU to Meet Army

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 4 — The United States Military Academy signed Saturday for another football trip to Texas in 1964.

Ed Oile, director of athletics at the University of Texas, announced that Army would come to Austin on October 3, 1964, to meet the Longhorns. The West Point school makes its first invasion of Texas this week, traveling to Houston Saturday to meet Rice Institute.

Consistently one of the nation's football powers, Army will be one of three intersectional rivals to face Texas in 1964. The others are Tulane in Austin, Sept. 19, and Oklahoma in Dallas, Oct. 10. It will be Texas' first competition against Army in intercollegiate athletics.

have in previous games, but the reason may have been an improved ATO team.

In the Dormitory league, Dorm No. 6 and Gordon Hall are tied for the leadership after Dorm No. 6 was beaten by Bledsoe Hall. Bledsoe, winless entering the game, won 1-0.

In the Independent league, the Roman Rushers have the lead with a 5-0 record. Running a close second to the Rushers is the Church of Christ team with a 4-1 standing.

This week's games could decide a few champions with Kappa Sigma going against the league-leading Phi Deltas, Delta Sigma Pi trying for an upset against the Roman Rushers, and Gordon Hall and Dorm No. 6 going against Dorms 5 and 7.

Play-offs are set for Nov. 10 and 16. The dorm and independent champs will meet first with the winner tackling the fraternity champion in the finals.

Raiders Drill Today

Still scratching their heads over Saturday night's 27-0 loss to Tulane Texas Tech's coaches will send their charges through another tough drill today.

This Saturday the Raiders entertain Arizona here.

Halfbacks Floyd Dellinger and Ronnie Rice continue to lead the Raiders in ball-carrying. Dellinger has 153 yards on 45 carries for a 3.4 mark while Rice has 137 yards in 50 tries for a 2.7 record.
