Three Power Conference In Moscow Starts

British, American Delegates Arrive; Talks To Last Week.

MOSCOW, Sept. 29 (AP)—The three-power conference which is to formulate a program for United States and British aid to the Soviet Union in the war on Germany opened today with Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav A. Molotov presiding.

The full American and British delegations, headed by W. Averell Harriman and Lord Beaverbrook, were present. The chiefs of the missions had conferred with Joseph Stalin more than three hours at the Kremlin last night.

The Soviet press displayed commensurate announcing arrival of the full missions and Stalin's reception and gave prominent place to photographs of Vice Premier J. V. Vishinsky and Copastanin Umanzky, ambassador to the United States, welcoming the delegations at an airport.

The British and American delegations were given a warm welcome by the highest Soviet officials, and the importance, with which the Kremlin views the talks was stressed when Joseph Stalin quickly received the mission heads, Lord Beaverbrook and W. Averell Harriman.

Talks are expected to last a week. Harriman declared "we are here to find out in detail the Russian needs now and in the future and to make present and future plans to supply them as far as possible. I think America will make a very strong contribution to Russia and an increasing one. We expect to work very fast as time is so important."

Officers Probe Two Burglaries

Two burglaries, with total losses estimated at around $90, were being investigated Monday by officers.

Hardest hit was the Frank Powell service station at 3rd and Austin streets where $66.54 was reported missing after a back window had been smashed sometime during Saturday night. The sheriff and police departments investigated.

Head of the city the sheriff's department was looking into the burglary of Slim Lane's Cow Head cafe. Apparently thieves had forced the back door and had robbed the juke box till. Operators guessed that between $12 and $14 was in the machine.

In neither place was anything save the money bothered.

Mexican Section Shows Activity As Cotton Money Flows

Officers needed no calendar to tell them that the harvest season has arrived, for their activities during the weekend told them that.

In the Latin-American quarter, where cotton picking money was beginning to run freely, officers experienced more activity, although the arrests and fines were only slightly above normal. Two Mexicans were jailed for drunkenness, two were reported for affray and three for vagrancy. In the latter case, one Mexican woman's case was dismissed, one was fined and the third was turned over to the constable's office on another case.

Whites, however, still led the parade with three jailed. Two negroes were indicted into the mysteries of jail life for drunkenness and disturbances.

There were reports of two weeks, a sleeping child looked up in the Queen theatre, a couple of burglaries, a purse snatching near the Black Cat cafe, and a full docket of routine calls. Otherwise it was a quiet weekend.

Germans Proclaim Civil Emergency In Czechoslovakia

BERLIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—The tight curb of a state of civil emergency and the arrest of General Alois Elias, premier of the German protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia, on charges of premeditated treason have been interpreted by the Czech press as Germany's last warning to the Czech people, Dienst Aus Deutschland declared today.

(The Czech government in exile reported in London that six persons, including General Josef Bily, former military commander of Bohemia, and General Hugo Vojty, deputy commander of the seventh army corps at Bratislava, had been executed among the first of the German suppressive moves.)

The German public and foreign correspondents in Germany knew no details of the developments in the protectorate beyond the announcement that Reinhard Heydrich, ace trouble shooter of the German secret police, had General Elias arrested and ordered the state of emergency within 24 hours after taking over the post of reich's protector there Saturday.

Heydrich relieved 68-year-old Baron Konstantin von Neurath who was said to have asked for temporary leave because of ill health.

No details were released on measures to be taken under the state of emergency, but it generally includes a curfew, closing of theaters and other public gathering places, summary executions, exceptionally heavy prison terms and confiscation of property for acts regarded as offenses against the order and security of the state.

General Elias, who was trained in the Austro-Hungarian army and became premier of the protectorate

New Flood Threat Appears On Pecos

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 29 (AP)—Flood advisory warnings for the second time within a week went out today to the sodden Pecos valley city of Roswell as rains lashed anew over the entire state of New Mexico.

Roswell, some lowland districts still covered with waters from a flood last week, faced the prospect of another inundation tonight or tomorrow from the rampaging Honda, which flows past the city to a junction with the Pecos.

The U. S. weather bureau said a general inundation was to be expected by tomorrow, with a flood of proportions which might equal last week's inundation of more than 200 blocks over the western section of the city.

Meanwhile, the forecast was for quickly clearing conditions after a weekend period in which an average of two inches of rain fall was recorded throughout the state with ensuing flood damage in both the south and west and in Arizona and Texas.

Downriver from Roswell, the City of Carlsbad was reported in no danger from flood crests moving down the Pecos from last week's flood. Retention dams above the city were holding all waters easily with the spill slackening.

Some 10 persons were still missing from last week's disastrous cloudburst conditions over the eastern slope of the state, with eight bodies recovered — four at Carlsbad where a dozen persons lost their lives, three on the upper Honda, and one to the north on the Vermejo river.

Texans Praised For Brave Spirit In War Maneuvers

WITH THE 36TH DIVISION IN LOUISIANA, Sept. 29 (AP)—Texans participating in maneuvers which ended yesterday came in for praise today for feats performed in the war games.

When army officials called for realism, Lt. John H. Eisenberg of Amarillo and Thomas A. Spiva of Troup, of the anti-tank company, placed a literal interpretation on the order.

Unwilling to accept a delay in performing an assigned mission, the junior officers led their men in improvising a stream crossing, which enabled a battalion of 142nd infantrymen to seize important road junctions and keep open a route for the 36th division's rapid advance against the Red second army in the final phase of the war games.

Leading a patrol, the officers encountered a bridge which had been demolished, according to the umpires, and could not be repaired for six hours. Heavy overnight rains had raised the stream to flood stage. Valuable time would be lost.

Stripping off their clothing, Lt. Eisenberg swam the 80-foot width of the fast-flowing stream with two axes. Lt. Spiva followed. They selected a mycena tree with a three-foot diameter and started chopping. Six of the tree made reinforcements necessary to prevent delay.

Famed Woman Golfer Slain, Mother Shot

Police Question Employes Of Ky., County Club

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 29 (AP)—Police questioned employes of the fashionable Lexington country club and several other persons today as they sought the gunman who killed Marion Milley, 57, nationally known golfer, and critically wounded her mother, Mrs. Elsa Ego Milley, 90 in their apartment at the club yesterday.

Chief of Police Austin B. Price said, however, there were no suspects under surveillance and that "we haven't gotten anywhere so far."

Mrs. Milley, who was shot three times, was in a critical condition after an emergency operation yesterday to remove the bullets.

Chief Price said a money bag containing approximately $200 had been found in a locked closet in her bedroom.

Mrs. Milley, manager of the club, had told police before she lapsed into unconsciousness that she was in a critical condition after an emergency operation yesterday to remove the bullets.

Chief Price said a money bag containing approximately $200 had been found in a locked closet in her bedroom.

Search for the slayers was spurred by the posting of a $1000 reward by the club for information that would lead to their capture and conviction.

Earlier Detective Captain Joe Harrigan said police were "stumped" in their effort to trap the slayers.

Harrigan called the crime "probably the most sensational murder case" on record in the Bluegrass, while Investigation Superintendent Guy W. Maupin termed the tragedy "a plain case of robbery," possibly committed by amateur bandits.

The Philadelphia born Miss Milley was shot through the head and chest, and her mother, Mrs. Fred Milley, 90, was hit three times in the abdomen, after being roused early yesterday morning by two robbers at their country club apartment demanding location of the money.

Mrs. Milley, club manager stumbled through the darkened white-columned building to a sanatorium 300 yards away from where police were called. She was taken to a hospital where the three slugs were removed. She fell into a coma shortly after giving police a sketchy account of events.

Patrolman John Doyle, first to reach Mrs. Milley's side, said she told him she was awakened by the efforts of two men to break down her apartment door.

When nine-year-old Robert Delgado was a very little boy, his father, the Rev. Pablo L. As a result he has committed to memory long Bible passages and stories.

British, Italians Swap Blows In Violent Sea, Air Fighting

Nazis Claim Destruction Of Red Divisions

Neither Side Claims Major Gains In War On Russian Front

BERLIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—The destruction of three Soviet divisions (about 45,000 men) northeast of Dnepropetrovsk in the lower Ukraine was officially claimed today, and the official German news agency observed that the Nazi southern armies now were knocking at the gates of the Donets river industrial district.

The communists announcing a vast victory northeast of Dnepropetrovsk said 13,000 Red prisoners were in hand, according to incomplete reports.

It said the Russians were caught in a swampy district and suffered heavy and bloody losses.

The high command also reported that strong formations of the German air force attacked railways in the Donets Basin and in the Moscow area with good results.

The communists, issued from the headquarters of Adolf Hitler, said the German bombers also scored hits on a Soviet cruiser around Kronstadt, the Soviet naval base guarding Leningrad's sea approach.

MOSCOW, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Red army announced today that it had routed two Rumanian infantry brigades in fierce fighting on the southern front, and reported the invaders had left more than 2,500 dead on the field of battle.

Approximately 300 Rumanian officers and men and quantities of war material, including 67 pieces of artillery, were said to have been captured in the action, which the Russians declared was still continuing.

Heavy fighting also was reported on the northern sectors of the far-flung front throughout the night, where the Red army was said to be more than holding its own against the German invaders.

Winter Prevue Brings Cold

Big Spring, along with most of West Texas, shivered today from a preview of winter.

Half a month ahead of last year's first wintry blast, a continental polar front rode in here Sunday on the wings of a stiff north wind and by Monday morning had whittled temperatures down to 49.6 degrees, the coldest weather recorded here since a flat 49 degrees on May 3.

Spotted precipitation resulted as the cold front slid under a thin layer of moisture laden air, and the U. S. weather bureau at the airport gauged .09 of an inch from Sunday night showers. Monday the Big Spring area was enshrouded in autumnal mists that slowed cotton picking.

Last year the initial advance of winter put in here on Oct. 15 with temperatures tumbling to 42 degrees.

Magnesium Plants In Southwest Planned

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Representative Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) said today that the Defense Plant Corporation would back a $13,317,000 magnesium plant with units to be located at Austin, Texas, and Carlsbad, N. Mex.

The units would be built and operated by the Union Potash Co., he said.

Middle East War Position—Germans said 665,000 battle of Kiev (1). Moscow countered that thousands of Germans fell in Crimea (2). British announced they would build docks at Alexandria, Turkey, (3). Iran (4) may become corridor for British aid to Russia. Kurd revolt also was reported flaring in that kingdom.

Deporting of Harry Bridges Suggested

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Deportation to his native Australia of Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader, was recommended to Attorney General Biddle today on the ground that Bridges was a member of the communist party and that the communist party "advocates and teaches the overthrow by force and violence" of the United States government.

The recommendation was made by Charles E. Sears, retired Buffalo, N. Y., jurist, who presided as a special immigration service inspector at a ten-weeks hearing in San Francisco to determine whether Bridges was deportable under the immigration laws.

At the same time, Sears denied a request by Bridges to reopen the deportation case to hear evidence that the FBI allegedly tapped the wire of a New York hotel room in which Bridges allegedly joined the San Francisco hearing ended.

Sears held that after Bridges entered the United States in April, 1920 he became a member of the communist party and the Marine Workers Industrial Union.

In his findings of fact with respect to Bridges' membership in these organizations, Sears held: "That the communist party of the United States, from the time of its inception in 1919 to the present time, is an organization that believes in, advises, advocates, and teaches the overthrow by force and violence of the government of the United States."

The inspector also found that the Marine Workers Industrial Union which Bridges allegedly joined after coming to this country in 1920 was "a part of the communist party" and as such, "advocated and taught" the overthrow of the government.

In a report of 185 pages, Sears concluded at one point that Bridges was connected with the communist party by stating that the "Waterfront Worker," a local newspaper, was "an instrument" of the communist party and the MWIU, and that Bridges was an editor of the paper.

"I conclude," Sears said in part, "that the alien's (Bridges) association with the 'Waterfront Worker' demonstrates his affiliation, with both the MWIU and the communist party, if not actual membership in either or both of these organizations."

A few hours later her car crashed into another in Big Spring. Officers investigated, found illicit whiskey aboard.

Today she was fined for driving on the wrong side of the road—cause of the wreck—in justice court, and sentenced to a day in jail in county court for the liquor offense.

Fascists Say Six English Ships Sunk

RAF Makes Raids Of Record Size On Italy and Sicily

ROME, Sept. 29 (AP)—In a sudden burst of violent air and sea fighting, Italian torpedo planes have sunk three British cruisers and at least three merchantmen in a nine-hour attack on a Mediterranean convoy and the British have answered with an all-out bombing offensive against Italy, the high command reported today.

Wave after wave of Italian planes pounced on the British convoy sailing eastward from Gibraltar Saturday, keeping up the attack on it despite fierce sky fighting, in which six British planes were shot flaming into the sea and eight Italian planes were lost, the high command said.

The British, it said, raided four cities on the Italian mainland, four in Sicily and three on the North African coast last night, one of the most intensive air raid incursions the Italians have experienced.

A special communique gave this score for the battle which, it said, churned the waters of the Mediterranean from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. Saturday with Italian torpedo planes striking repeatedly at the aircraft carrier, battleship, cruisers and at least 10 destroyers guarding the British convoy.

(An admiralty communique in London earlier said that a British Mediterranean convoy which was attacked by Italian planes had reached its destination with only one merchant ship lost and one destroyer damaged.)

(The admiralty had no comment to make on these later Italian claims.)

(The merchant ship was damaged too badly to continue and was sunk by the British themselves, the admiralty communique said, and the destroyer's damage was not sufficient to impair its fighting capacity.)

Two of the merchantmen were torpedoed by light Italian war vessels, the communique said, one in the narrow pass between Sicily and the African coast, and the other off the Algerian coast. The two sunk by air-launched torpedoes were said to have gone down to have aggregated 25,000 tons.

In the furious air battles, the special communique acknowledged, the colonel commanding the Italian operation and three squadron commanders "must be considered as having fallen at the head of their formations."

The raids on Italy and Sicily killed 11 persons and injured 23, while 12 casualties were caused at Rhodes, where bombs fell on a hospital and civilian residences, a communique declared.

In addition, 10 persons were reported injured by splinters from Italian anti-aircraft shells on the mainland and two others were killed in traffic accidents — apparently the result of blackouts.

The Italians said one British raider was shot down over Italy and four over North Africa, while two others were reported destroyed over the central Mediterranean by Italian fighters.

The fascist air force, meanwhile, carried out another night attack on the oft-bombed British Mediterranean stronghold of Malta, the high command declared.

The targets of the British bombers in Italy were Turin, Genoa, Spezia and Savona Marina—all in the north.

(Dispatches from Bern said large numbers of foreign warplanes passed over Berlin on Sunday night, indicating that the bombers which attacked northern Italy made the long journey from Britain.)

LONDON, Sept. 29 (AP)—The RAF has opened an all-out offensive against Italy, slaying at least 11 northern industrial and military centers with the heaviest possible bomb loads from bases in Britain and insular cities from Britain's Mediterranean bases — an assault which informed quarters said might be the start of a "bomb Italy out of the war" campaign.

Four-motored Stirlings which carry the heaviest cargoes of explosives of any aircraft now in RAF operation, skimmed the Alps with a swarm of twin-motored Wellingtons likely to smash at the northern cities of Genoa, Turin and other points. Baging five were reported left at Genoa.

RAF Fliers Walkout On Dirty Ship

OTTAWA, Sept. 29 (AP)—A thousand Canadian-trained empire airmen stalked off a transatlantic transport recently because of conditions they found aboard, and the air ministry here, acknowledging they had room for complaint, promised today "there need be no fear of any repetition of the unfortunate incident." Canadians, New Zealanders and Australians were involved in the affair, which came to light when Air Minister C. G. Power announced that all but "a couple hundred" of the airmen reboarded the ship and now have arrived overseas. Those left behind, he said, caught another ship a short time later after being nominally disciplined with a reduction in pay. "The first airmen who went aboard didn't like what they saw," Power said. "They found the ship dirty, they objected to the sleeping arrangements, they doubted that the food would be good. "A number of them walked ashore again and spread the word among those who had not yet gone aboard. Some listened, and some didn't. In the end, not 1,000 but a couple of hundred airmen were left on the dock when the ship sailed at the scheduled hour with more than two-thirds of the contingent aboard."

Man Kills Himself After Finding That Daughters Smoked

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29 (AP)—A 55-year old widower, who had reared three daughters, killed himself last night, Detective Daniel O'Mahoney said, because he saw the girls smoking cigars. The father, Ella Taddi, was found dead of a bullet wound in the heart in his home. A pistol lay nearby. O'Mahoney said the daughters, Rose, 24, Adeline, 22, and Dolores, 20, whom Taddi had reared through their teens, related their father had been distressed when he saw them smoking yesterday in a store. "He never suspected we smoke," one of the girls said.

Jap Losses Heavy. Chinese Declare

CHUNGKING, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Japanese have lost at least 20,000 men out of the 80,000 with which they launched their drive for Changsha, and the Hunan province capital still is in Chinese hands, an army spokesman declared this afternoon. (The Japanese army announced at Shanghai Saturday that Changsha had been captured after hand-to-hand fighting and has reported since that the attacking forces have pushed through the city and about 25 miles further south.) The battle for Changsha still is raging in full fury, with the Japanese being held about seven miles from its limits, the Chinese spokesman reported.

WOMEN helped 2 ways!

Some find they need only start taking CARDUI 3 days before "the time," as directed, to relieve periodic pain due to functional causes. Others find CARDUI, used as a tonic, helps stimulate appetite and improve digestion through the increased flow of gastric juice. So it assists to build up their strength and thus to relieve periodic functional distress such as headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain. Try CARDUI. Used 61 years!—adv.

Don't Buy This— It's Not Advertised!

It's a doubtful product. It bears no trade name! It might be any one of the many things you buy or use every day. A refrigerator, perhaps... or a radio... nail polish... chewing gum... kitchen soap... a correspondence course.

But the promoter knows its claims couldn't stand the intense scrutiny of the American buying public. And so he prefers to dispose of it as an unbranded article. That's why you won't find his advertisement here.

How different from the other advertisers in this newspaper! Proudly they tell you of their latest product or service. Eagerly they announce special values, improvements, new features.

These manufacturers and merchants have confidence in what they offer. They realize that while advertising may make the first sale—it's the quality and value of the product that makes the second, third and fourth. And that's what they're after!

It's worth while, reading the advertisements! You can believe in them!

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (Herald Special News Service)—Going way out on an overloaded limb, this dept. hereby picks Louis to knock out Nova in 10 rounds or less... All right, maybe Joe has slipped a little, but in 54 fights the only guy that ever stiffened him was Schmeling and the only one who has come near to licking him lately was Conn... Nova isn't a Conn or even a Schmeling when it comes to defending himself, so even if Joe can't toss a punch quite as fast as he used to he's going to hit Lou and hit him hard... That's usually enough... If it isn't, Joe isn't bad at avoiding a sock on the lug and we don't think he'll take enough of them to go down before Nova does.

No Increase In Cost To You-- Just A Simpler Method Of Computing --- By The Word!

EFFECTIVE OCT. 1

(Ads Placed On That Date And Thereafter)

For your convenience, The Herald on October 1, is changing the method of computing Classified Ad rates to a word-count basis.

COSTS ARE NO HIGHER. The Line Rate heretofore used sometimes is confusing. Now you can figure by the wordage, just how much your Classified Ad will cost you. There will be a 20-word minimum (corresponding to the line minimum which has been in effect), but Herald Ad-Takers always will be happy to assist you in wording your message in the most effective manner.

The Herald feels that this new method will be of better service to its Classified Users. You can easily compute your own cost. The charge remains low, with the same big discounts for two-day, three-day, and six-day insertions.

You still will find no cheaper, more effective way to send out your message, whether you are buying, selling, renting, trading, employing or seeking employment or exchanging services.

THE NEW SYSTEM

Table with 3 columns: Duration (One Day, Two Days, Three Days, One Week), Rate (2c, 3c, 4c, 5c per word), and Minimum (20-Word Minimum).

Mrs. Phillips Defeats Mrs. Farmer To Retain Golf Title

Mrs. Griffith Wins First Flight Honors

Combating blustering winds throughout, Mrs. G. I. Phillips made a successful defense of her Country Club ladies' golf championship Sunday by defeating Mrs. J. R. Farmer, 3 and 1.

Mrs. Hayden Griffith took first flight honors, downing Mrs. Dave Duncan, one up on 20. Mrs. Tommy Jordan pulled an upset victory over Mrs. A. Swartz, 3 and 1, to over championship consolation, and Mrs. H. W. Smith bested Mrs. Matt Harrington, 5 and 4, to take first flight consolation.

In the championship round, both women displayed excellent tee shots but wind kept their work around the greens from holding up to their wood shot standards.

Up to the last three holes of the 18-hole battle, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Farmer were on a nip-and-tuck affair, with Mrs. Farmer holding a slight advantage.

Through the first six holes, the card was halved. Then, Mrs. Farmer went one up on the seventh. Mrs. Phillips parred the count to even-step on the eighth, but Mrs. Farmer moved one ahead on the ninth. Again, Mrs. Phillips put on the pressure and the tally stood even-all on the tenth.

Mrs. Farmer shoved ahead of Mrs. Phillips on the eleventh but Mrs. Phillips chopped her opponent's one-up lead to even-up on the twelfth.

On the thirteenth and fourteenth the count was halved. Then, with increasing winds playing havoc with divotting efforts, Mrs. Phillips shot one over par on the fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth holes to sack up the tournament championship.

The engagement between Mrs. Duncan and Mrs. Griffith was an up-and-down affair. Mrs. Griffith led at the turn but the final decision was a toss-up throughout.

Mrs. Jordan's consolation win over Mrs. Swartz came as a surprise. "Don't know what I'm playing for... don't have an outside chance," Mrs. Jordan declared before the match got underway.

An added feature of the Country Club ladies' annual meet, ping pong, was won by Mrs. Shirley Robbins.

Stanford, Minn. U. Again Bid For Top Nat'l Grid Honors

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Put down Minnesota and Stanford in your football book once more as potential champions, and, even at this early date, figure on keeping close watch on Tulane, Duke, Texas, Navy, Georgetown, and Notre Dame. And don't waste any tears on Harmon-less Michigan.

Defeat for some of these may be no farther away than this week but the finger points to them on the basis of their exploits on the first big program of the new season.

Faced with the sternest test of all are Wallace Wade's Duke Blue Devils. Victorious over Wake Forest, 45-14, the Blue Devils now must face Tennessee at Durham in the game that may decide whether or not Duke is to finish with a perfect slate.

Minnesota, rated the No. 1 team in the country last year, started off a new campaign last week by whipping Washington's Huskies, Pacific Coast power, 14-0.

Minnesota will be idle this week but Stanford, which just got past tough Oregon, 19-15, thanks mainly to all-America quarterback Frankie Albert, will play U. C. L. A.'s Bruins. U. C. L. A., a tough lock team a year ago, beat Washington, 7-5, in its opener.

Dana Bible's Texas Longhorns, who brushed aside Colorado, 24-0, may find Louisiana State's Tigers harder to digest although the Tigers were beaten by Johnny Origan and Holy Cross, 19-13.

Fordham, virtually certain to be a championship factor in the east, makes its first start against Southern Methodist.

Highlights of the week's program otherwise: SOUTHWEST—Arkansas and Texas Christian meet in the first conference game as Rice and Texas A. and M. meet warm-up opponents in Sam Houston and Texas A. and I. respectively.

Lookin' 'em Over

WITH JACK DOUGLAS

Dr. W. B. Hardy isn't gloating but he might have cause to, judging from the surprise package that has been opened by Coach Pat Murphy. Doc is one of the few who opined that Big Spring's Steers might be a potent factor in the district 3-AA football setup this season. Of course, later events may prove that he was overly optimistic in his predictions, but right now it looks as though he must, take a temporary stand at the head of the football-guessing class.

Since Hardy has hit pretty close to the right target thus far, perhaps more of his crystal-gazing results should be aired.

First, he figures that Big Spring will have to put on a heavy show of strength but will, in the long run, take the highly touted Sweetwater Mustangs. Abilene looms in his mind as the outstanding threat against Big Spring. Also, he views Lamesa with a great deal of suspicion.

One thing, injuries, now stands as the Big Spring gridsters' bugaboo. That one item, more than anything else, can put the Big Springers in the cellar on the shortest notice.

The Ired Irishman has on hand a powerful lineup of starters but his reserves are shot full of inexperience. He can stand to make one, maybe two, replacements in the backfield but if he goes further than that he is likely to run into trouble. His reserve strength has a potential value — next year he may have a bumper crop of experienced ball-handlers — but, this is the '41 roundelay.

As for the line. It's a rugged appearing machine. In fact, this season's forward wall is showing more stuff at this stage of the race than did the one last year. There is no reason to doubt that Line Coach Mule Stockton's charges will show even more strength as the weeks roll by.

The Old Fat Man of the Concho Bottoms declares that the San Angelo Bobcats looked better in a defeat by Lubbock, 22-0, Saturday night than they did in a 46-0 victory over San Antonio Tech last week. Maybe so, but show us the person who ever won any money on a horse with only good intentions.

Obit in The Sporting News: "Doug Perry, veteran news and sports photographer, died of injuries suffered in an automobile accident at Big Spring, Tex., September 15. . . ."

When questioned Monday morning, Mr. Perry refused to divulge further details concerning his demise. He did contend that there were certain inaccuracies in the report. This department does feel it should take issue with Mr. Perry, since he failed to acquaint us with the fact of his passing when in the office a couple of days ago.

Moanin' Matty Admits SMU May Shine

Pony Mentor Returns To Gloomy Attitude When Viewing Rams

By The Associated Press
Moanin' Madison Bell, praying mantis of the Ponies, wiped his tears today and smiled briefly as he surveyed the 54-0 wreckage his Southern Methodist eleven caused when they were in collision with North Texas Teachers Saturday.

"Fair—well, pretty fair," mused the Moaner. "First team looked good—well, pretty good. They knuckled well—well, pretty well." But the optimism—a somewhat foreign atmosphere for Mr. Bell—was shortlived as he glanced at the calendar.

Saturday the Mustangs play the top team of the east, Fordham, in New York. The Rams, studded with veterans of that great 1936 team that shoved Texas A. and M. around quite a bit in the Cotton Bowl last New Year's before losing 13-12, are laying for another whack at the Southwest.

The Rams came out of the Cotton Bowl with the conviction that they had the better team when they played the Aggies. Reports from New York say they are ready to take it out on S. M. U.

Bell praised the spirit of his team against the Teachers and singled out for mention the performance of backs Dick Miller, Preston Johnston and Horace Young and linemen Jim Wright and Joe Pasqua.

Back from the Rockies came Dana Bible and his Texas Longhorns after a decisive 34-6 win over Colorado in Boulder. . . .

Two other teams of the perfect list will tangle with each other when Goose Creek and Orange square off in a conference game in District 14.

There are 18 title struggles on the schedule, involving eight districts.

Amarillo journeys far Friday, playing Brackenridge at San Antonio in a top interdistrict clash.

Brackenridge has long been rated a leading team of South Texas, although the Eagles' prestige as probable state power suffered last week in a 13-7 defeat at the hands of San Jacinto (Houston). San Jacinto had been trampled 41-0 by Lufkin.

There are 24 interdistrict games but, for the first time this season, not a single inter-sectional clash is carded.

District 2 opens the conference drive with Quanah at Wichita Falls and Childress at Burkburnett while four more teams swing into action in District 3.

Colorado City, crushed by Odessa 20-0 last week, meets powerful Big Spring. Odessa engages Lamesa. San Angelo takes on Midland.

The El Paso district also starts championship play with Austin (El Paso) entertaining Yelita. In District 5, Bonham and Denison crack open the title drive.

More conference games are scheduled in the Fort Worth district and Central Texas continues its race with six of the nine teams seeing action, but top-rated Waco and Temple are idle and Corsicana, ranking contender, has an interdistrict game.

District 11, which already has opened the race with Tyler's victory over Athens, has a couple of titles scheduled on the conference calendar.

Districts 14 and 15 start the title campaign with Orange at Goose Creek in the former and Laredo at Jefferson (San Antonio) and San Antonio Tech at Kerrville in District 15.

But Ted took his cuts. Saturday he got only one hit and his average dropped below 400. Yesterday in a doubleheader he came through — six hits in eight times at bat for a season's average of 406.

The greatest swatman, of course, was little Hugh Duffey, who fashioned that eternal 458 average the hard way. They wanted Hughie to quit to protect his stupendous mark but the "Duff" said "No" and went up and took his cuts. He didn't hurt the average and it's secure in every baseball record book.

Ted Williams, the willowy wallop of the Red Sox and the pride and joy of that same Duffy, boasted a .405 average as the Boston master.

Louis Slated To Meet Near Equal In Scrap With Lou Nova Tonight

Field Of Unbeaten Schoolboy Elevens Dwindles To 32

By The Associated Press
The ranks of the unbeaten and untied in Texas schoolboy football looked like a tree under the first stiff puff of autumn today.

The field of 106 class AA teams had dwindled to 32 with only two full weeks of the campaign behind.

As they turned toward October, Amarillo's Golden Sandies, with 16 consecutive victories, headed this group along the precipitous trail: Lubbock, Pampa, Abilene, Big Spring, Odessa, Sweetwater, Denison, Gainesville, Paris, McKinney, Masonic Home, Paschal (Fort Worth), Sunset (Dallas), Adanson (Dallas), Cisco, Hillsboro, Temple, Waco, Gladewater, Marshall, Livingston, Lufkin, Jeff Davis (Houston), John Reagan (Houston), Lamar (Houston), Conroe, Goose Creek, Orange, McAllen, Corpus Christi and Harlingen.

As far as the number of games is concerned, this is something of a slack week but there are enough scheduled to insure cutting the list of perfect teams down to 25.

Top tilt of the state will be at Dallas where Adanson's husky Leopards battle Gainesville. Not only will it match undefeated, untied teams but it will show whether those stories about Gainesville being the team to beat in North Texas are the real word.

Two other teams of the perfect list will tangle with each other when Goose Creek and Orange square off in a conference game in District 14.

60 Thousand Gate Due To Turn Out

NEW YORK, Sept. 29 (AP)—Joe Louis, of the blasting fists, and Lou Nova, a rugged, courageous specimen from California, clash at 9 p. m. CST tonight at the Polo Grounds in a 15-round heavyweight championship fight that promises to leave 60,000 spectators limp.

This is one battle that scarcely can miss. Opinion is divided sharply on the probable winner, but there seems no doubt in anyone's mind that it will be a crucial, spectacular engagement while it lasts.

This is one of the few times that the big negro, Louis, has met a man his equal in physical equipment, fighting heart and absolute confidence since he won the title from Jim Braddock in 1937. Off-hand, only Max Schmeling among the many who have challenged Louis and taken their beatings appeared on the surface to have as good a chance as Nova against the famous bomber.

Nova belongs in there tonight on his record. He knocked out Max Baer twice, among other things, and had Tommy Farr on the verge of a knockout in the closing rounds of their scrap. Only some peculiar interference by the referee saved Tommy, who only shortly before that had breezed 15 rounds against Louis.

The one time Nova ever was beaten as a professional was the night he climbed into the ring, a sick man, against Tony Galento in Philadelphia. He got it good that night, what with his illness, Tony's rough tactics and a referee who looked on with amused tolerance.

The bookmakers do not share Nova's confidence in his destiny. At last check-up they were offering a bonus of 13 to 5 that he catches a licking from Louis. Anyone wanting to bet on the champion was asked to put up $15 to win $3. It is one of the biggest betting fights, they say, since the days of Jack Dempsey.

Since the baseball classic does not get underway until Wednesday, the sports spotlight was turned on tonight's heavyweight title fight between Joe Louis and Lou Nova at the Polo Grounds, right across the Harlem river from Yankee stadium.

But the champions of the National and American leagues went about the business of preparing for their own world's championship struggle. Both teams scheduled workouts at the stadium, and the Dodgers arranged to ride in a late afternoon parade in Brooklyn as the borough officially and elaborately celebrated the Brooks' first pennant in 21 years.

This monster demonstration was expected to excite the Dodgers' fabulous followers to such peaks of enthusiasm that the entire squad of Brooklyn players moved into a Manhattan hotel last night in order to get some rest and relaxation before the big show starts.

All games will start at 1:30 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) except the Sunday contest, which will not begin until 2 p. m. because of New York law.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— Common People Want Escape Stories, Screen Writer Says

By HAROLD LAMB
(The historian and screen writer, author of "Genghis Khan," "The Crusades," and currently, the screenplay of "Gwangi," writes a column for vacationing Hobbits Coons.)

HOLLYWOOD—Lewis Carroll wrote his Alice in Wonderland stories to amuse children. His was a the a magical world works are no more than old printed paper today, but Alice has been cherished by the mass of English-speaking human beings. We escape from reality in the same way within Treasure Island and with Harold Lamb Mr. Pickwick. American motion pictures supply an escape to the people overseas. Our films give new frontiers of imagination. I've seen Persians in Ispahan lost in an American comedy, even while a reader at the back of the house had to explain the written captions as the story went on. And once in Baghdad one of our films was stopped for a few moments because some devout Arabs scrambled into the aisles to pray, when they heard a musician call to prayer on the screen. Such audiences seldom laughed. The picture provided them with a wonderland in which they lost themselves. Even Mickey Mouse had a magic touch about him. Our westerns offered people like the Swiss an escape from routine. They could ride after cattle thieves—explore new plains and mountains. And escape is just as vital now to Americans as it is to the Far East.

The escape story is the real heritage of the common folk in any land. It dates from the post of Homer's time, who chanted their fantastic yarns of Troy, and the story-tellers of the bazaars and minstrels of the days before books were printed. And the great mass of human beings hold more closely to this heritage of the escape story than we realize. They want to be caught up by a film and carried out of themselves.

In the same way, Americans have welcomed a film of the Persian tribes, leading their herds over the mountain passes, or Esquimaux managing to keep himself alive on the ice. Or a boy who grew up with elephants.

We can't escape through propaganda or problems, or sophistication. Our studio heads might take a leaf from the reaction of those foreign audiences who wanted "just a story." Why not explore the Seven Seas, with old ships? What has happened to the Flying Dutchman and the spirits of Cape Horn? What about the Indians who lived in a new world before the coming of the white man with his politics?

There are more stories in the American Navy than have ever been told, and they remain a closed book to us. Where are the lost horizons of our own land? Or that adventurous sailor from China who may have been the first discoverer of America? Our sea captains have their stories, almost unknown. John Paul Jones in Russia, for instance. Once we built a Panama Canal, and found our way through the snows of Alaska.

There are prehistoric life in these United States at which we have almost never glanced. One studio (RKO) is filming a story of ordinary cowboys who encounter that unknown prehistoric world in the desert badlands, as I happen to know, having had a hand in writing the story.

Why should we lose the spirit of the Americans who explored beyond the horizon and found new frontiers?

Manhattan's Aquarium To Leave Shrine

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—The decision of Park Commissioner Moses to move the Aquarium from Manhattan to the Bronx was bad news for most New Yorkers. The old land mark has been a point of pride for decades, and transferring it from the city's best known borough to its least glamorous precinct may be the beginning of the end for a relic of a bygone age in New York.

For the Aquarium was once Fort Clinton, built by the citizens as a defense against the sea-borne invaders. . . . Years after this it became Castle Gardens, a point of social festivities, and Jenny Lind made her first American appearance there. Later it was turned into a home for rare fishes and, as such, has delighted thousands of people each week who come to New York and tarry by its glass walled exhibits.

Commissioner Moses says he has no objections to the building remaining where it is if the city wants to put up the $12,000 necessary for its restoration as a fort. It is probable that no such amount will be forthcoming, which means, in the end, that one fine morning the wrecking crews will bear down on the old Battery Park scene and the cranes and sledgehammers of Manhattan's demolishers will succeed where the guns of enemy ships more than a century ago failed.

In rambling about the streets of New York for almost a decade and reporting its activities I have received communications from people in almost every one of the 48 states. As a rule, these writers were potential tourists to New York. Scores have asked about the Aquarium—what admission was charged, was it easily reached by subway or trolley, what were the hours—but no one soul has ever asked me "What about the Bronx?" The Bronx is one of the five boroughs of this city. It is the home of the Bronx Bombers—the New York Yankees—and Joe DiMaggio, and it is also the home of the Bronx Zoo. Commissioner Moses wants to put most of the fish and the marine exhibits at the Zoo temporarily. Why he wants to touch them at all is a question that many people would like answered.

The Aquarium is not the first of New York's curios to be banished. Civic Virtue, that odd piece of sculpture which for years riled some of our sensitive citizens—probably because it represented a man with his foot on a woman's neck—has been exiled to Queens, a sister borough of the Bronx. For years old "Civic" hung around City Hall and inspired both awe and delight in hundreds of thousands of citizens and visitors.

Now the Aquarium is to be evicted, and I am beginning to wonder whether Liberty, on her island in the harbor, or U. S. Grant, in his cupola tomb on Riverside Drive, may not be next. If the old general's shade continues to hover at the scene, it might be a good idea to drop Bob Moses a little note, and forestall, perhaps, one of those impromptu journeys that seem to be the new order around here. The note might say, "Dear Bob, drop in at the Tomb, and see me the next time you're up this way. I want to have a little talk with you. Nothing very important, but I like it fine up here on the Drive. After all these years, I sure would hate to wind up in some place like Far Rockaway, or Coney. Y' Obd't Svt., U. S. Grant."

him off when he would have swept her into his arms. "I said friends, Jerry," she said. "Just friends." "Then it will be my task to make you forget ever having said such an impossible thing," he lifted her hand and kissed the tip of each finger. "The thing that bothers me now," he said, "is how I'm going to entertain you as I'd like to. Love can't quite make up for being completely broke, can it Pam?" he asked.

But as the days passed Jerry learned that life can be very pleasant with surprisingly little money. He learned ways to happiness and enjoyment that were decidedly inexpensive. Pam had known those ways for a long time and found a special sort of joy in showing them to Jerry.

Thursday evenings found them listening to the band concert at Bay Park, watching with fascination while Manuel Camera beat his bass drum. Afterwards there might be a dish of soursup ice cream, but nothing more extravagant.

There were sunsets to watch from the pier on Duval Street, glorious, ruddy-gold moments when the sun seemed to be drowning in a golden ocean.

Dorothy Thompson Says— German Terrorism Violates All International Ethics

By DOROTHY THOMPSON
Since totalitarian war became the first item on the agenda of the totalitarian state, the world has come to accept without protest the theory that anything is fair in war.

A young person, not familiar with the history of civilization, might take it for granted that in all wars there has been no limit to brutalities. But, actually, there always have been limits—there have been codes of international practices outlawing outrageously unjust actions. Even in a war to the death, some concessions were previously made to the conscience of mankind, and the customs of peace.

The International Red Cross was but a nineteenth century manifestation of the eighteenth century "law of nations," which sought to remind men that even in war they should do as little damage as possible to civilized institutions and practices. Thus, hospital areas were not to be bombed; prisoners of war were not to be executed; ambulances bearing wounded were to be respected.

In this war, to have a Red Cross anywhere about is to invite a Stuka bomber.

These remarks are elicited by the reports that have been appearing regularly in the newspapers of the shooting of hostages by the German armies of occupation. Not a single nation, or group in any country, has protested against this. The Christian church has not protested. The free universities of the democracies have not protested. As far as I recall, the press has not protested. The president or congress of the United States has not protested.

It will be said that protest would be totally ineffective. It probably would be, for all the influence it would have on the Nazis. Nevertheless, that protest should be registered, as a matter of record of the point of view of civilized human beings and as assurance to the people in the occupied countries that their fate is not a matter of indifference.

And I beg the congress of the United States, which represents a nation that stands for freedom under law, to pass a condemnation resolution and present it to the German government in the name of humanity, decency and a morality that transcends even mortal strife between nations.

The German army begins this practice of mass murder of the innocent in the last war, when French and Belgian franc-tireurs, which is war language for entrapment, took shots at German soldiers and officers of the armies of occupation.

But nothing done by the Germans in the last war is comparable to what is being done now. A dispatch on September 21 says that twelve French hostages were executed for the assassination of Captain Scheben. Hostages are daily being shot for acts of espionage and sabotage committed by unknown persons. In Serbia, as many as fifty hostages have been shot for the murder of a single German. Recently a German was shot from a hotel, and a squad immediately entered the restaurant of the hotel, took out the first twenty men at hand, and shot every other one of them. Actually eleven died because one collapsed of heart failure.

In this shooting of hostages is the complete breakdown of any sort of law whatsoever. No connection is established between the hostages and the crime—the hostages are shot purely as an act of terror to quell the population.

Five, ten, twenty, fifty innocent men must die, by arbitrary selection, for the apprehension of someone else. A Serbian bridge is blown up, and fifty Serbian peasants are collected from the nearest fields and strung up to their own fruit trees, without any attempt at investigation or trial.

The practice is not only admitted by the German authorities—they brag of it. It is the only efficient way, they argue, of keeping order. Apparently this is the German method. Other armies of occupation in conquered countries have not resorted to such methods.

Germany, itself, after the last war, was occupied by French, British and American troops. The German population committed acts of sabotage and terror against those armies of occupation. The guilty were usually apprehended and if the act was particularly heinous, they were executed. One of them is regarded as a Nazi hero: Leo Schlageter. The Nazis, who are so piously outraged by the behavior of the French, erected a monument to him!

Schlageter blew up a railroad bridge at Dulburg, and the allied armies of occupation executed him. But never, never, did they execute innocent people in order to terrorize the population.

There was, of course, a reason for this. The British, French and American governments and armies were defending due process of law, in national and international relations. They know

Editorial -- Let's Make Industry Cut Prices Too, If Farmers Get Too Much

This business of yapping about farm prices, now that they are up, has started afresh, and from the quarters one should expect it—the industrial north and east.

Latest to call for a reduction of agricultural prices is the Brookings Institution, which contends that a reduction of prices of important agricultural products is the most important single step that might be taken to avert a further general price spiralling. The instrument suggested, naturally, is the release of a portion of the crops now stored in government warehouses.

Wholesale prices, the report of the Institute said, have increased 21 per cent since 1938, a condition which attributed primarily to "the great rise" in farm prices and increasing labor costs.

Then, this further observation: "Business profits might show some increase in consequence of stabilized prices of raw materials and wages, coupled with expanded output."

The Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, in a discussion of "the wartime position of agriculture," smiles upon agricultural price advances, admitting that "farm income is one of the most important factors in the general business outlook." But it frowns upon the whole deal because of a lack of "permanence or anything of ultimately beneficial character to the farmers themselves." This is based upon the premise that the agricultural situation today is dependent to a large degree upon government action.

What these two reports have to say may be true, and admittedly agricultural prices are the result of government action. We could agree with the position if everybody else will be put in the same boat with agriculture.

Frankly, we don't care if cotton is five cents or 25 cents a pound so long as it will buy as much consumer goods at five cents as it will at 25 cents. Cotton and other farm products are due a parity price, and when industrial interests start screaming about price increases because they possess the element of instability or because they prevent other price advances, we want to remind them that if there ever was a class of American economic life that needs private justice, it is the agricultural bloc.

Sure, let's reduce farm prices, but let's first knock the economic stilts of tariff out from under many other things first and get them down on the level with cotton, wheat, corn, etc. If we are going to make agricultural produce on an open market and sell in a closed one, let's also make business in general follow the same pattern.

We're ready for farmers to lick the log when big business will lick right along side, but not before.

FOR THE LOVE OF PAM

By VIVIEN GREY

Chapter 26
BRUCE CONFESSES

It was the night of the hospital benefit. The Blue Goose Arena was crowded with spectators. In a ring-side seat, beside Leo Shore, sat Pam, lovely as a flower in her gay summer print.

The main bout was due. The referee scrambled out of the ring. An announcement was made: "Our imminent townsmen, Ernest Hemingway, will referee the next bout!" Everybody sat up and took notice. Hemingway climbed into the ring. Little Joe Mills and his opponent started jabbing each other, with Hemingway dancing after them. Joe Mills, who worked for the Key West Electric Company, was too fast for his opponent that night.

Mills, Leo explained to Pam, had done some pretty big-time fighting at one time.

And then it happened. A young man in the white uniform of an orderly stood for an instant searching the arena until his eyes picked out Doctor Shore. He hurried toward Shore. Leo saw him and was on his feet in the aisle.

"You're needed, Doctor Shore," the young man said in clipped tones. "That seaman brought in this afternoon has taken a turn for the worse."

Shore turned to Pam, but before he could speak a young man just back of them bent over and said:

"Doctor Shore, let me take care of Miss Quallerton. I'll see her home. May I, Pam?"

Pam looked into the face of Algor Bruce. She wasn't especially anxious to stay. Fights didn't interest her at all. She had gone only because it was a benefit which practically all of the town supported and because Leo had asked her. She was about to say she would go home alone when Algor broke in urgently:

"Please, Doctor Shore? And will you, Miss Quallerton?"

Leo looked doubtfully from Pam to Algor, and then Pam, sensing something anxious about Bruce, said:

blundered like an idiot in telling you of that bet at Antoine's party. I've got to make that right."

"Just a minute, Algor. Did Jerry send you to me?" Pam asked coolly.

"No, Jerry has nothing to do with this. Can't you give me credit without to do it before. I know how a girl would feel if she thought a fellow was dating her up just on a bet, and I want to tell you the straight of that Jerry didn't start that bet business."

"I was one of the boys in the group when it was done. I came up just after you'd gone, so I didn't recognize you. But Jerry got himself trapped into it. No fault of his own. The other fellows were the aggressors. I don't know whether I'm saying the right things or not, but what I'm trying to do is make you see Jerry wasn't actually a party to it. It was sort of handed to him. Good heavens, Pam, when a bunch of fellows are at you, you couldn't expect a man to back down, could you? Now could you?"

Half Persuaded
Algor talked on and on. Pam answered in monosyllables that gave no hint of her real feeling. But Pam was beginning to regard Jerry with a certain pride since learning that he had not told all of the circumstances that might have put a better face on the matter for him.

She knew, too, that part of her temper in her last quarrel with Jerry had been roused by Lenore's appearance, reminding her of Vin, his beautiful song and his talent that Lenore was treating so shoddily.

"I don't think you should hold that against Jerry," Algor was saying. "He was just trapped, that's all. Jerry's crazy about you—he was then."

When no answer came from her, he went on: "And all of the other fellows felt the same way about you. No one could blame us for that, Pam."

"A right," she said finally. "I'll try not to."

It was the next day that Pam called Jerry. She had always been quick to make amends if she felt she had been in the wrong. And Jerry had, if nothing else, shown something fine when he didn't try to shield himself by blaming the other boys for starting the bet. Pam liked that.

She wasn't sure she was ready to accept him on the basis he had wanted. But at least she wanted to amend their last bitter quarrel. It would be childish, she felt, to do otherwise.

Jerry and Blaise arrived breathlessly and on foot. Another evidence, she noted, that he was trying to spare his father. He used his no more than he had to, and had been talking of selling it, if he could find a buyer.

"Are we going to be scolded and then made to do penance?" Jerry asked blithely.

"No, Jerry," she said. "We're going to be friends. But she held a little shocked at his daughter. He had known Lenore was vain and selfish, but he hadn't thought her vicious and vindictive.

"I'll think that, Lenore," he said quietly, "until I have reasons for believing otherwise of the girl. I believe in people until I have reason to not. It might help you to do that, too."

"I've made up my mind about her. You're just blind because you want to be. Why, it's as plain as the nose on your face. Jerry's going to wake up in a nice mess one of these days!"

"Then he'll have to get out of it," Winthrop said quietly. "That's my new attitude toward you kids. You're living your own lives from now on. You're on your own."

Lenore paled. Bert Winthrop passed, a question in his mind. There had been something vaguely disturbing about Lenore's apparent fright.

He said nothing, however, but went on his way. It was time his children learned to do without the influence of the Winthrop money and name. That had been his big mistake, previously—allowing them to think they had protection of everything, a sort of magic aura, which nothing could penetrate, no matter what they did.

Capt. Perry C. Eucher, aviation cadet officer for the El Paso district recruiting office, will be here Tuesday to advise with Sgt. Troy Gibson concerning a proposed "refresher" course for young men interested in applying as aviation cadets.

Preliminary steps have been taken here toward organizing such a class, which would put high school graduates in a position to qualify as cadets as well as giving those with college experience an opportunity to brush up on basic requirements.

If and when 10 men are enrolled in the class, it can begin, said Capt. Eucher in his advance letter to Sgt. Gibson. An examining board can be dispatched here when as many as five apply for the course, according to the sergeant.

Among those expressing a desire to take the course if it is offered are Awill C. Clark, Delmo M. Pierce, Harvie C. Hooser, Odell B. Womack and Garland T. Land, said Sgt. Gibson. The refresher course would be sponsored by the chamber of commerce and several other civic organizations.

Monday the sergeant reported the enlistment of Elmer E. Robbins, LaFollette, Tenn., who has been working in this area, and his assignment to the coast artillery in the Hawaiian Islands.

Floyd M. Cole, 19, who was reported killed in a mishap in the Hawaiian Islands Friday, is the son of Frank A. Cole of Combs, the U. S. army recruiting office reported here Monday. Cole enlisted here on March 13, 1940 and was assigned the following day at Fort Bliss to the infantry in the Hawaiian Islands. No word had been received here as to whether the body will be returned for burial or interred in the islands.

Not that he did, but W. L. Nowell had a perfect right to be moping up his parcel post deliveries during the week-end. A son, W. L. Jr., was born to him and Mrs. Nowell at their home at 1200 E. 5th street Saturday morning. The baby weighed six and a half pounds at birth.

Twelve members of the Soil Conservation Service staffs in this area were here Monday for a range conservation parole, according to Dudley Mann, in charge of the local office. Range conservationists and engineers from the offices in the Martin-Howard and the North Concho districts were here.

O. E. Bryan, supervisor for the Caprock Electric Cooperative, writes in to say that he and Mrs. Bryan are having a grand time in Washington where he has been attending a REA superintendent's meeting. They were guests at the Texas congressmen's luncheon.

The period within which returns of capital stock for the year ended June 30, 1941 may be filed without assessment of penalties for delinquency has been further extended until Oct. 29, 1941, according to the collector of internal revenue. The period within which payments of capital stock tax for the year ended June 30, 1941 may be made without interest accruals thereon, as extended to Sept. 29, 1941, is further extended to Dec. 29, 1941. In any case, however, where a notice and demand for payment of capital stock tax for the year ending June 30, 1941 is issued and payment is made on or before Dec. 29, 1941, such payment shall be considered timely only if made within 10 days from the issuance of the notice of demand. If the tax is not paid within such 10-day period, interest shall be accrued thereon by law.

"Don't kill the rooster," Evangelist E. B. Matthews advised his listeners Sunday evening at the Church of the Nazarens revival which continues through Sunday.

He used the rooster as a symbol of conscience because it was the rooster that awoke the slumbering conscience of Peter after his denial of Christ. From the scriptures, the Rev. Matthews classified consciences as good, guilty, elastic and dead, the latter a type that can and should be awakened, he said.

Texas University Enrollment Drops

AUSTIN, Sept. 29 (AP)—Enrollment at the University of Texas has declined sharply this year, a check disclosed today.

At the end of Saturday, last day for final registrations, the total was 9,268, 783 less than at the same time a year ago, or a decrease of 9.2 per cent.

E. J. Mathews, registrar, attributed the decrease to the drafting or volunteering of young men for defense training and the greater opportunities for young people to work.

Napoleon vs. Hitler

Napoleon's horse and buggy legions traveled the road to Moscow in exactly 83 days. Hitler's mechanized army is still en route after three months. This is a bird's-eye view of the two trips, one in 1812, the other in 1941.

1812

Napoleon's international army, paced by the cream of French forces, fought 50 miles into Russia, reaching the city of Vilna.

June

Two columns moved perceptibly toward Moscow, one fighting at Vilna, the other battling defenders on the southern flank.

July 1-15

French legions pulled on seven league boots, battled toward Moscow to a point more than 275 miles inside the frontier.

July 16-31

With one-third of his army lost, Napoleon reached Smolensk's outskirts and began a desperate battle for the city.

August 1-15

Smolensk went up in flames before the French army. Russian troops broke into a hurried and disorganized retreat.

August 16-31

Napoleon, checked briefly at Borodino, smashed on to Moscow, soon captured the city. He found it burned and useless.

September

The German army, gobbling up ground in the Ukraine, hit a stone wall on the front before Moscow, stopped in its tracks.

New Taxes -- New Members Of Taxpayer's Club Will Pay 40 Millions In Dues

(First article of a series) By LUCRECE HUGHES, AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON—In 1942 Uncle Sam is going to take the equivalent of 97.08 cents from every man, woman and child in the country. On top of that, state, county and municipal tax collectors will take an additional 99.62 per person.

That's the way things would be if the estimated 22 billion dollar tax bill for 1942 (counting the new federal tax of three and a half billion and the expected state and local levies) were divided equally among the population.

The Treasury expects the national income next year to be 90 billion dollars. But before we can begin jingling this around in our pockets we're going to have to turn over about one quarter of it to the various branches of government.

No Longer So Exclusive

The Income Taxpayers' Club, otherwise known as the Society of Perpetual Gripe, will welcome 2-250,000 additional members into the organization next March 15. Congress has considerably reduced exemptions in order to permit these additional citizens to share the fun.

A slight initiation fee of $40,000,000 will be charged these new members, which is approximately the price of 100 new super bombers. Bringing the figures down to earth, we little fellows can understand them, the picture fits together something like this:

If you are a single man or a career girl earning $30 a week, you now pay Uncle Sam a mere seven and a half cents a week. In 1942 you'll have to cut 41 cents out of the budget pie every week and serve it to the government.

Taxes As A Budget Item

If you are a married man with no dependents, earning $40 a week, you never before had to worry about income taxes. But your day has come, oldtimer. In 1942, every week you'll have to set aside for the federal tax collector 81 cents, or enough money to keep you in cigars.

If you are married, have two dependents, and net $60 a week, you, too, are a newcomer to the Income Taxpayers' Club and your fee will be $1.12 a week.

You may think it would be nice to have a million dollar annual income, but at $19,230 a week you would have to kick back $14,098 to

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull told his press conference today he favored modification rather than repeal of the neutrality act.
