HOUSTON (AP)—Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., chosen Tuesday to command the first Apollo mission, at 44 is dean of America's spacemen, but he says he's nowhere near "hanging up his spurs."

Schirra, dashing commander of two space missions, will team with rookies, Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele Jr., 36, and civilian Walter Cunningham, to get the U.S. man-to-the-moon program off the ground with an orbital flight early next year.

THE THREE HAD BEEN backup crewmen for Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom, Lt. Col. Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee, who died in the Apollo 1 spaceship fire Jan. 27.

Schirra, a native of Hackensack, N.J., has been in the man-in-space program since it began, as one of the famed original seven Mercury pilots. He flew a Mercury mission in 1962, and Gemini 6 in 1965.

"We don't need supermen or athletes to fly these things," Schirra once said in an interview. "You must be in high tune, but you're not going into a boxing ring or into the Olympics."

He said the pilot himself, not how old he is, is the best judge of when he should stop flying, "if he's honest with himself."

"THIS BUSINESS IS TOO important to me to just have personal pride and keep on going until I might stumble," Schirra said. "I'll have to learn myself when to hang up my spurs, and I haven't reached that point yet."

Schirra, Eisele and Cunningham have been training as a team since early last year when they were originally assigned to fly the second in the series of Apollo missions. Then, in a shuffle before the Apollo 1 fire, they became backups for the three that died.

Cunningham and Eisele became astronauts at the same time, in October, 1963.

Eisele, a native of Columbus, Ohio, graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy and took a commission in the Air Force. "I was more interested in flying than I was in ships," he said.

Dr. Murray to review Code parts

Part of the revised Code of Student Affairs will go to President Murray for additions, deletions or approval as it stands, reported Dr. W. M. Pearce, executive vice president.

MEMBERS OF THE EXECUTIVE committee, consisting of Pearce; Dr. S. M. Kennedy, vice president for academic affairs; Marshall Pennington, vice president for business affairs; Bill Parsley, vice president for development; Presidential Advisor and Coordinator R. C. Goodwin; Presidential Assistant Roy Wells and Executive Presidential Assistant Jean Baker, will send their comments to Dr. Murray with the code.

The revised code is also being reviewed by Dean of Men Lewis N. Jones, Dean of Women Florence Phillips and Dean of Student Life James G. Allen.

Teaching awards to be given

The Standard Oil (Indiana) Foundation, Inc. has provided funds for three distinguished teaching awards of $1,000 each. The awards will be granted to full-time members of the faculty, including department heads, at Tech.

The awards will be granted on the basis of teaching excellence, primarily in undergraduate courses. Intellectual impact on students and colleagues, scholarship, concern for individuals, professional integrity, innovations in teaching and evidences of previous recognition for teaching (promotions included) will be considered in the selection of the awardees.

FULL-TIME FACULTY members or full-time undergraduate and graduate students may make nominations for the awards. The nomination consists of a letter addressed to the office of the vice president for academic affairs providing the necessary supporting data including the extent of his personal knowledge of the nominee.

Deadline for nominations is May 20.

The selection committee, composed of faculty and students, will report during the summer.

THE LATE DATE SCENE—A Tech couple leaves one of the women's dorms well-equipped for a late date as new dorm hours went into effect Tuesday. The new provision, passed by the Women's Residence Council and the Association of Women Students and approved by Dean of Women Florence Phillips, gives upperclassmen an 11:30 curfew and midnight for senior women on Monday through Thursday, all coeds 1 a.m. Friday and Saturday, and midnight on Sunday.

War tribunal labeled 'smear'

NEW YORK (AP)—Two American radio executives expelled from Bertrand Russell's international war crimes "tribunal" in Stockholm, Sweden, charged today that the trials were "a fantastic smear campaign against the United States" and could lead to a prolonging of the Vietnam war.

The men said the "inordinate space" the trials were receiving in the European and Asiatic press is "giving Hanoi a mistaken idea of its world support in the same way that the so-called U.S. peace marchers have contributed also to a misunderstanding by Hanoi."

"IT'S A KANGAROO court conducted by Communists, for Communists and it is intended to attempt to poison the minds of all people who read about it or are in contact with it," said Gordon McLendon, owner of a group of independent radio stations in Dallas, San Francisco, Chicago, Buffalo and Houston.

McLendon and Donald Burden, president of Star Stations Inc., based in Omaha, Neb., said they were "physically evicted from the trials and our press credentials destroyed by tribunal security and police guards, who gave as their reason that 'you are not in sympathy with our cause.'"

"We view the trials as irresponsible exercises in frivolity and personal international theatrics by Bertrand Russell and Jean Paul Sartre that could very well prolong the war in Vietnam by contributing immeasurably to world misunderstanding," they said.

McLendon SAID THE tribunal also could disrupt the "traditional friendship and understanding" between Sweden and the United States. He said President Johnson has sent a note of protest to Swedish President Tage Erlander.

Speaking at a news conference, Burden said, "Possibly 90 per cent of the Swedes are very much opposed to the mock crimes trial."

McLendon said most Swedes were "embarrassed" by the tribunal and told newsmen that "90 to 95 per cent are

Ex urges continued name-change effort

Tech ex Russell Bean, a long-time principal of the name-change movement, told students Tuesday there is little hope for a name-change this session of the legislature and urged them to organize for next fall.

The 1933 Tech graduate, chairman of the now inactive Joint Name-Change Committee which supports Texas State University, spoke to about 150 students at a session in the Tech Union Ballroom sponsored by the Student Senate at noon Tuesday.

"There is a slight chance, about one in a thousand, that the Board-appointed name committee could re-convene and come up with a name this spring. But the legislature is loaded down with bills and it adjourns in less than three weeks. It doesn't seem likely that the Board of Directors will meet before then," Bean said.

He pointed out that Board chairman Roy Furr's wife is critically ill and that vice-chairman C. A. Cash, also chairman of the Board's name committee, is in Australia on a business trip. "It's highly unlikely they will meet without these two men," he said.

"THE MEMBERS OF THE Board are working on good faith on the matter," he said. "I believe they deserve our support. The only way the committee could have selected a name would have been to come up with one so repulsive they all would have hated it."

Bean called for two plans of action: (1) organization of a Student Name-Change Committee which would serve as a "clearing house" for student activity on the name-change and (2) participation by this year's graduates in ex-students' chapters after graduation.

Bean both applauded and chided recent student demonstrations on the name-change, saying in a question and answer period that another demonstration or rally "could just step on the wrong toes."

"If the purpose of the rallies was to show the desire for a name-change now, then I'm sure the message got there. I wish I could tell you the demonstrations would help push this through now, but it doesn't look that way at this moment," Bean said.

HE USED SATURDAY night's demonstration at the Lubbock chapter of the Ex-Students Association as an example of rallies "which cannot accomplish much."

He described the Lubbock chapter as "one of the few friendly groups among ex-students you have. Many of the stickers plastered on exes' cars there were paid for by the very persons attending that (exes') meeting."

Bean also suggested that any future rallies be kept on campus. "If you get out on the streets of Lubbock, the people don't understand the issue and we receive unjust criticism. The people on campus do realize the reasons for a change and a name such as 'Texas State University.'"

The proposed Student Name-Change Committee, Bean said, could carry on an educational campaign both on campus and off campus. "The fact that only one-fourth of the student body voted in the referendum last month indicates education is needed on campus," he said.

HE SUGGESTED THE committee use such devices as bumper stickers and free distribution of a pamphlet which would explain why Texas State University is the students' choice, list compromises and explain why certain names wouldn't be appropriate.

He called on 1967 graduates to become members of ex-students' chapters because "a handful of exes control most chapters, and as a result, stands (on the name-change) voiced by many chapters are unrepresentative. Seniors now leaving can control the vote if they will join," Bean said.

He said the Joint Name-Change Committee had more signatures of exes who favored Texas State University than are active members of the Ex-Students Association.

Bean also said there is little possibility of a name-change being enacted should a special session of the legislature be called next year, apparently leaving the job to the 61st Legislature which convenes in 1969.

In response to a question, Bean said "I don't think the exes have any business being involved. They've got their degree. But since they are involved, I am willing to join in, too. The only thing to do now is to work on the exes and become exes next year or whenever you graduate."

Permanent name issue group ready

By CAROLYN DAWSON
Staff Writer

The ad hoc Name Change Committee, formed following Saturday's protest demonstration, Tuesday appointed a permanent committee to plan and promote student interest in the name-change issue.

The committee, appointed by Max Blakney, president-elect of the Student Association, with the advice of David Beckman, associate justice of the Supreme Court, consists of the following students:

Tom Burtis, Ronnie Brown, John Scovell, Chris Griffin, Keith Strain, Scott McNutt, Barbra Worley, David

Senate meeting called

A special meeting of Student Senators-elect and present Senators will be held today to discuss the current name-change issue.

The meeting, called by retiring President Bill Beuck, will be held at 7 p.m. on the Tech Union Sun Porch.

McDougal, Calvin Brints, Mike Anderson, Suzy Crain and Bryon Snyder.

The appointees to the committee are pending until approval by the newly elected Student Senate at Tuesday's meeting.

The committee will meet at 5 p.m. today in Tech Union.

The committee was appointed following last night's Name Change Action Committee meeting. Beckman, temporary chairman of the committee, said the new committee will not meet until after Friday's installation of the new Student Association officers.

Blakney, head of the new committee, said he was "willing, able and ready to work to get the name change." He added that he has been working behind the scenes, talking to Board members and to President Murray to get the situation sized up.

Student Senator Jim Hayter announced at the public meeting that he has a resolution to present to the Student Senate to call for a new committee to work on the name change.

The present name change committee announced last week that it could not come to an agreement on a new name.

Dr. Robert Lawrence, associate professor in the government department, said that he was "impressed with the students involved so far." He added that as long as the students continue a non-violent campaign, they have a good chance to accomplish their objectives.

He said the students should try to get more students involved and not worry about the Tech exes.

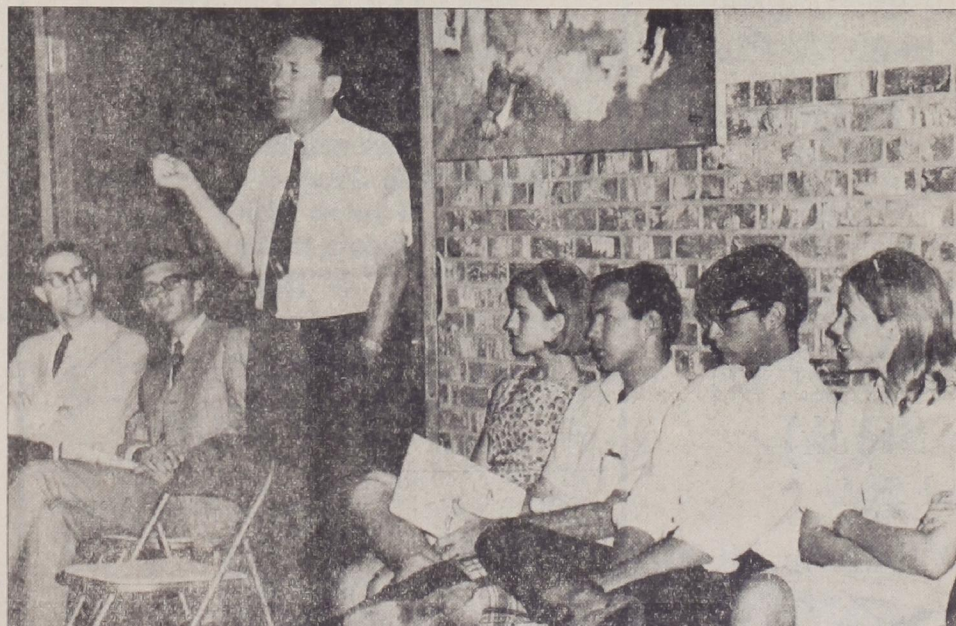

Lubbock Avalanche-Journal reporter Wain Miller, also present at the meeting, gave an apology for his story which appeared in Sunday's A-J. The story gave Saturday's demonstration and march down Broadway the connotation of being "a bunch of juveniles out for a good time with no real purpose or plan."

He suggested the new committee take a positive approach instead of a negative one and said this would "get a lot of people off the committee's back."

Funds were collected to provide printed material for following demonstrations and to purchase additional Texas State University stickers for cars. The funds are being collected by the Joint Name-Change Committee until the new committee has its first meeting.

Students to get new $ help next semester

Two new financial assistance programs will be available for Tech students next fall.

They are the Federal College Work-Study employment and the Educational Opportunities Grant.

THE WORK-STUDY program was designed to make more on-campus jobs available to students who need financial aid, Tom Stover, student loan and fraternity advisor, said.

Tech is one of 1,693 colleges and universities to apply for the $68.8 million federal program.

Tech applied for $300,000 for the next academic year, Stover said. "We have received approval on $116,809 for Sept. 1-Dec. 31, and approval is pending on the remaining $183,191 for January through June."

"APPLYING FOR A JOB with the loan office is not to be confused with the Placement Service," Stover pointed out. "Students applying for a work-study job must be eligible for financial assistance."

Beginning Sept. 1, the federal funds will pay 75 per cent of the students' wages and the college or university will pay 25 per cent.

The other federal program, the Educational Opportunities Grant, is one that is not repayable.

"Like a scholarship, the grant is based on financial need," Stover said. "It is based on the number of dependents in a student's family and how much the parents can contribute toward his education. The grant is not set up for students to apply for. If a student is eligible for financial aid, he can be awarded the funds."

IF A STUDENT has applied for a certain amount of aid, and he is awarded the grant, the federal grant pays half and the school pays half. The federal grant is gratis but the institutional money must be repaid, Stover said.

Tramps are planning a fall reunion

The Saddle Tramps are planning a reunion of ex-members in the hope of initiating a program which will encourage athletes to come to Tech.

THE PURPOSE of the reunion is to give those who attend a revitalized interest in Tech.

The reunion which is scheduled for Oct. 14 during and following the A&M game is a first for Tech. Future reunions may be held every three or five years.

The Tramps have a list of 1,700 ex-members but they need help in obtaining addresses for notification purposes.

Anyone who knows the name or address of an ex-Tramp may write: Saddle Tramps, Box 4263, Tech Station, Lubbock, Texas 79409; or call Butch Frazier, PO2-4247, or Ext. 3141.

Mortar Board sends request

Members of Mortar Board, Tech honorary for senior women, reported today that a letter has been sent to C. A. Cash, chairman of the Name Change Committee, urging that further attempts be made to arrive at a new name for the university before Texas legislators go home May 29.

The committee, composed of representatives of Tech Exes, the student body, faculty, board and administration, reported last week that they could not reach agreement.

THE COMMITTEE recommended "further study" on the issue, thus delaying action until at least the special legislative session in 1968 and probably until the regular 1969 session.

Any new name must be submitted to the School Board for approval and then to the legislature, which has the final say.

THE LETTER FROM Mortar Board was signed by 23 members of the organization, all officers in student organizations or members of the Student Senate. Copies were sent to Dr. Grover Murray, and Roy Furr, Harold Hinn, Clifton H. Cummings, William E. Oden and William Beck, members of the Name Change Committee.

The letter stated that the members who signed were in favor of the name "Texas State University" or "some derivative thereof."

Phi's win girls' duel

After wheeling a few live barrows, delicately catching raw eggs and "gatering" across the lawn, Phi Delta Theta fraternity was awarded first place in the Monmouth Duel Fraternity Olympics held Sunday afternoon in front of Drane Hall.

FOR THE SECOND YEAR in a row, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Pi Beta Phi sororities have joined forces to commemorate their common origin in Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill.

Winning the second place plaque was Phi Gamma Delta, while Sigma Alpha Epsilon was recognized for outstanding sportsmanship.

Included in the list of competitive activities was a balloon pop in which boys blew up balloons, knotted them, ran to the end of the field, sat on the balloons, and ran back. Another contest, arousing much enthusiasm was the gater race, involving wriggling stomach-side-down all of the way to the end of the field, turning over, and wriggling back-side-down to the starting place.

Other featured events were the tug-of-war, the wheel barrow race, the egg toss, the dizzy lizzy and the piggy-back race.

Miss Topflight selected

The nominees were Diane King, Dorothy Dove, Betty Field, Chris Adrian, Donna Johnstone, Gail Hawes and Mollie Marcum.

The theme of the ball was "This was the Wing that Was." The junior cadets presented a satiric skit utilizing various imitations of officers and name similarities.

MISS JOHNSTONE is also a member of Angel Flight, Alpha Lambda Delta and the Sweetheart of the 820th wing.

The Air Force ROTC will also present an awards ceremony Thursday in the Tech Union and a retreat ceremony May 18 in recognition of all veterans, particularly those of Vietnam.

Matter of preference

Announcement that Sigma Alpha Mu, a predominantly-Jewish fraternity, is attempting to establish itself on the Tech campus has brought up the cry of "discrimination" and opposition from the administration, but on both counts we feel review is needed.

The Sammys, as Sigma Alpha Mu is often called, do not restrict their membership to Jewish students, having changed their constitution in 1953 to admit "any male student who attends any university . . . at which is located a chapter." No person is forced to join, nor is any one prohibited from joining because of religious belief.

Granted, the fraternity undoubtedly would be predominantly Jewish, but this is because of preference of the individual. Many Jewish students are now members of other fraternities, and would continue to be so. Other students would rather affiliate with members of their own faith, and if they desire to do so, they should be able to join an organization such as the Sammys. It is a matter of personal preference, and the student should be allowed to exercise his preference.

We fail to see how such an organization would further a Greek-independent split. In a sense, any organization which has membership requirements is discriminatory, because not everyone can join. This includes the Sammys.

Any student, either Jewish or non-Jewish, should not be denied the privilege of joining such an organization on the basis of "discrimination" and refusal to admit it to the campus, for to do so is to deny him his personal decision.

Unfortunate omission

Failure of the 1966-67 Student Senate to continue with the Course and Instructor Evaluation begun last spring is an unfortunate omission, for a second attempt assuredly would have been more productive than the first.

The Senate seems to have neglected the evaluation this spring because of the many headaches involved, and the dissatisfaction expressed by some in connection with last year's "honor roll." The Senate will improve upon its efforts only by giving it another try, perhaps with the help of an authority in statistics.

The Course and Instructor Evaluation could provide an informative, solid and useful report which would aid both students and profs if only the Senate would take the bull by the horns, so to speak, and do so.

No 'misnomer'

If such an "overwhelming majority" of the ex-students of this university desire a misnomer for the official title of our institution, then perhaps the name of this school should be changed to Texas Technological University. In order that even the members of the Ex-Students Association may understand the logic behind our agreement with their proposal, we stated our argument very simply:

—TEXAS TECH ex-students support the name "T. T. U."

—The name "T. T. U." is an obvious misnomer.

—People who support an obvious misnomer cannot possibly be educated from a true university.

—People who are not educated cannot possibly have graduated from a true university.

—Most Tech ex-students graduated from Texas Tech.

—Therefore:

—Texas Tech could not possibly be a true university. And what, may we ask, could be more appropriate than to give a university, which is not really a university, a name which is not really a name? Thus, we shrewdly select the misnomer, Texas Technological University.

However, if we really want a name which is "truly descriptive" of our whatever-it-is, then we suggest the simple name, "Regurgitech."

This name reveals the most distinguishing feature of our whatever-it-is, that being the fact that students may actually graduate without ever having digested the academic diet served by our institution.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Defends serviceman's position

This letter is in response to a letter to the editor that was published in the University Daily, Saturday, April 29, 1967. The author of said letter, a Terry Thompson, implied gross brutality on the part of U.S. troops toward Southeast Asian peasants. He said, and I quote:

"I'm sure the damage done to the tank is minor compared to the damage done by the U.S. Army to Asian peasants, who more than any of us, understand the consequences of a roaring tank driven by an American soldier proud of his profession."

Being the son of an American serviceman now completing 28 years in the Marine Corps and who is presently in Vietnam, I can only regard this statement with extreme disgust. The serviceman above all others fears wars and scorns the warmongers, for it is he, who in times of war, must pay the highest price. It would behoove us to remember that is the Viet Cong who, before charging American positions, push those "helpless peasants" before them to draw fire.

It was the late and revered Gen. Douglas MacArthur who once eulogized the American man at arms by referring to him as "one of the world's noblest figures; not only as one of the finest military characters, but also as one of the most stainless."

If Mr. Thompson means by his statement, that our servicemen are proud of the destruction and mutilation that comes as a result of war, he's dreadfully misinformed.

If, however, he means that said servicemen take pride in the job they do, he's damned right. It was Plato who said that "only the dead have seen the end of war," and the serviceman realizes this and also the fact that in war there is no substitute for victory, that if we lose, our nation will be destroyed.

Discrimination

I recall reading a statement made by IFC a few days ago concerning discriminatory fraternities. According to the IFC the only "discriminatory" fraternity at Tech is the Catholic fraternity.

IFC members, examine yourselves and your own membership lists and tell how many men of Mexican descent or Negroes are on them. Also recall any fraternity discussions your fraternity has had concerning fraternal integration, then come down off your so-called "pure" records and tell us more about discrimination.

Frat wants on

In regard to the article dated May 4, concerning fraternities on the Tech campus, I would like to clarify statements made about Sigma Alpha Mu. As president of the proposed Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity, I feel that the true facts in the case of Sigma Alpha Mu have not been stated. Granted, Sigma Alpha Mu is composed mainly of Jewish students, but is not restricted to them alone. They do not have any clause in their constitution which even implies one must be Jewish to be a member.

DEAN STOVER'S statement that "it will probably never be the policy to admit special discriminatory groups to the campus" was a farce. I propose Dean Stover look over the list of fraternities already on campus. Can he prove that they do not have any "selective" membership clauses? How about the White, Christian clauses that some of our fraternities have.

Does Tech desire the fraternity system to grow? On a campus of nearly 20,000, the eleven fraternities which we now have cannot adequately serve the student body. The administration allowed the IFC to organize an expansion committee to see the feasibility of more fraternities on campus.

Hatfield of Oregon

Senator wants volunteer Army

Guest column by U.S. Sen. Mark O. Hatfield (R-Ore.)

THE TIME HAS COME to end the military draft. That bald declaration will startle many. But when all the facts are in, and all the current and projected needs for military manpower have been taken into account, it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that America is overdue in bringing to an end this drastic invasion of the lives and liberties of her young men.

Congress is now beginning to debate President Johnson's legislation to extend the draft another four years. In years past Congressional examination of this issue was perfunctory. This year things are different.

Thanks no doubt to the heightened awareness of America's young people, whose lives the draft so seriously affects, many in Congress are now for the first time rethinking the premises upon which the draft is supposedly based. An increasing number of them are finding it sadly out of step with both our nation's traditions and with its military manpower needs.

We must never allow ourselves to forget that however pressing the circumstances, the draft is involuntary servitude. It is legitimate and constitutional when Congress, exercising its power to raise and support armies, has no reasonable alternative. But conscription must always be the last desperate resort for meeting military manpower needs, not the cheap and easy expedient.

THE ONLY REAL ARGUMENT for having an involuntary draft is that the nation could not reasonably afford to raise and retain the needed military manpower without it.

There is no numerical shortage of manpower for filling military ranks. Each year nearly four times as many men as the military needs enter the draft age pool. With more realistic service qualifications, and sharply increased wages and fringe benefits, and with an enhanced status for military careers, we can attract the 500,000 men we need each year, even at Vietnam buildup level.

All we have to do is make up our minds that we are going to stop exchanging precious liberties for false economy—false because, when the total economic costs of the draft system are taken into account, including civilian wages foregone by draftees, we may well be saving nothing at all.

How do we get from the present draft to the volunteer army?

FIRST, WE MUST UNEQUIVOCALLY reaffirm our commitment to the goal of voluntary armed forces. The draft should be extended for one or at the most two years. During that time the Defense Department should embark on a program designed to make the draft increasingly unnecessary. A special joint committee of Congress—Independent of the Defense Department and the Selective Service System—should be set up to make recommendations for a phasing out of the draft, and to maintain a continual review of the Defense Department's progress toward that goal. And military pay and fringe benefits should be raised substantially, starting now.

It is time we made the firm decision to put an end to inequity, put an end to uncertainty, put an end to inefficiency, and regain for our young people the liberties the draft has taken from them.

Props big concern of theater finale

Designing costumes, devising lighting and hunting properties were the concern of undergraduates and graduate students working on "Desire Under the Elms," the University Theater's last production of the year.
The costumes were designed by graduate student Ramona Peebles. The costumes were designed not only to indicate the antebellum period, but to reflect farming New Englanders, and the somber and tragic mood of the play.
THE OLD Testament fire of the father is strengthened by his black, Puritan-like clothing; the sons, dressed in work clothes and floppy hats, represent their relationship and function in the play. Also on the costume crew are Winky Crowe and Beth Thompson.
LIGHTING is the project of Laurie Stepanian. She must simulate both indoor and outdoor light, night and day. The play calls for sunsets and sunrises, lighting on two levels, as well as conventional problems of setting mood and achieving plasticity with lights.

WORKING with Miss Stepanian is Elizabeth McAninch and Jim Gibson. Gordon Stevens, a student volunteer, is in charge of properties. His job is to find objects essential to the play — period furniture, rare musical instruments and weapons. Other properties will include an old dinner bell, a whiskey key, a period stove, an antique pump organ and a pre-Civil War pistol.
The fruits of their work will be seen with the opening of "Desire Under the Elms," a play by Eugene O'Neil, Friday and playing through Monday.

Pre-Law Society will meet at 7 p.m. today in room 214 of the Social Science Building. Officers will be elected and plans will be discussed for the spring picnic.

Animal Husbandry gets grant to study bean meal

Texas Tech's animal husbandry department has received a $2,200 research grant from the Plains Co-op Oil Mill in Lubbock to study the use of castor bean meal in livestock rations.
The grant of both funds and feed was awarded for further research by animal husbandry Prof. Robert Albin and Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, animal husbandry professor and university veterinarian, Dr. Dale Zinn, head of the department, is a co-worker on the project.
DR. ALBIN said the initial phase of the research would deal with experimentation to determine the amount of ricin in castor bean rations that livestock can ingest before harmful effects occur.
"Ricin is a component of castor beans and is supposedly poisonous," Dr. Albin said. "We intend to find out if it really is, and, if so, how much."

Quade named new vp assistant
Texas Tech Physics Prof. C. R. Quade has been named Assistant to the Vice President for Academic Affairs, S. M. Kennedy announced Tuesday.

Youngsters crowd star team

DALLAS (AP)—The All-Southwest Conference baseball team has seven juniors and two sophomores, indicating that 1968 should be a fine season indeed.

Only five of the 14 players who landed on the team are seniors.

EIGHT players got the full vote of the coaches although two of them were picked at more than one position. These were Bill Rainer, Southern Methodist outfielder, who was named to center field in four ballots and to right field in two, and Mickey Yates of Texas Christian, picked in right field by five and to utility outfielder in one.

There were only six coaches doing the voting.

Unanimous choices at their regular positions were pitchers Mickey McCarty of Texas Christian, Tommy Moore of Texas and Mike Livingston of Southern Methodist; first base Bob Snoddy of Texas, Donnie Denbow of Southern Methodist at third and Pat Brown of Texas in left field.

JOE STAPLES of Texas A&M and James Scheschuk of Texas are the catchers, Don Johnson of Texas is at second base, Parke Davidson of Texas Christian at shortstop. Rusty Clark of Baylor got the utility outfielder spot and utility infielder is Ricky Head of Baylor.

Back next year will be staples, McCarty, Livingston, Snoddy, Denbow, Head, Brown, Rainer and Clark.

Denbow was picked as player of the year and Moore pitcher of the year.

SPELEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Officers for next fall will be elected at the final meeting of the Tech Speleological Society today at 7 p.m. in room 48 of the Science Building.

Tournament set for title fights

NEW YORK (AP)—A tentative four-bout schedule for an elimination tournament to determine the successor to heavyweight champion Cassius Clay was outlined Tuesday by Michael Malitz, president of a new promoting firm to be known as Sports Action, Inc.

In the meantime, there were reports that Clay wants to fight at least three contenders outside the United States while under indictment on a charge of refusing to be drafted into the armed forces.

MALITZ SAID previously that seven of eight contenders listed by the New York State Commission and the World Boxing Association had agreed to participate in the tourney. Only Joe Franzier of Philadelphia was uncommitted.

According to Malitz, a guiding force in many of Clay's closed circuit television bouts, the tentative schedule would read like this:

July 15—Floyd Patterson of New York vs. Oscar Bonavena of Argentina at Houston Astrodome.

Aug. 4-5—Ernie Terrell of Chicago vs. Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., site to be determined.

Sept. 16 or Oct. 7—Karl Mildenerger, West Germany, vs. Thad Spencer, San Francisco, in Frankfurt, Germany.

ACCORDING TO Malitz, the first round matches would be followed by semifinals, hopefully Oct. 21 and Dec. 2 with a final championship bout in late January, 1968. No actual contracts have been signed.

Malitz said the first six fights probably would be carried on home television on the American Broadcasting Company's Wide World of Sports. All would be held late Saturday afternoons to fit the schedule or would be held Friday night and taped for television.

Clay said in Houston Monday he would like to fight Chuvalo, Patterson and Mildenerger to finance his court fight.

There were other reports that Clay was considering boxing Leotis Martin of Toledo, Ohio in Stockholm and possibly Spencer in Tokyo. If Clay wants to fight outside the country he will have to get permission to leave the country from a federal judge.

Special film set today

A special showing of Jules Dassin's film, "He Who Must Die," is slated at 3 p.m. today at the Continental Fine Arts Cinema.

The film stars Melina Mercouri (star of "Never on Sunday"). The story is set in a Greek village during the Turkish conflict of 1915. The Greek Passion Play is the central plot element.

The villagers prepare to give a passion play, and then refugees from another village arrive, asking for protection. As the conflict of accepting or refusing the refugees arises, the decision of who will act out the parts in the play becomes the central question.

The film was previously featured at the Fine Arts Cinema along with the Danish movie, "17." It was removed from the program due to little or no business. At the request of a group of Tech students, today's special showing was scheduled.

Next year, the theater will offer subscriptions for foreign films and art films.
